Christmas Tree Lighting Ritual Slated By Lions

Club Asks Residents To Attend Ceremony, Sing Holiday Carols

The tall evergreen that stands on borough-owned land near the southeast corner of the intersection of New Providence rd. and Rt. 22, Mountainside, will turn into a Christmas tree tomorrow evening when the Mountainside Lions Club conducts its fourth annual lighting ceremony. Festivities will begin at 8 o'clock.

The club president, Lafayette Fisher, and Mayor Frederick Wilhelms will share the honor of turning on the switch that will flood the hundreds of colored bulbs with holiday splendor.

All residents of the borough are invited to attend the ceremonies and to join in the singing of Christmas carols, a traditional part of the tree-lighting ritual.

Fisher expressed the hope that the lighted tree will make Christmas "brighter and more festive for the residents of Mountainside and the surrounding communities."

The tree was decorated last weekend by members of the Lions Club. Electrical know-how, including the central wiring of the huge evergreen, was supplied, as in other years, by Walter A. Christoffers.

Students Spread Christmas Spirit With Toy Drive

A mammoth toy drive, designed to spread Yule joy to underprivileged children, is being carried out this week and next at Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights. The drive is sponsored by the Student Council.

All students and interested residents of the community are urged to bring used toys in serviceable condition to the high school. Boxes designated for their use are placed near the entrances to the school. All toys must be at the high school on or before Dec. 17.

The Student Council will deliver the toys on Dec. 18 to the Berkeley Heights VFW Post for distribution to needy children.

Bernard Yannotta, chairman of the drive, reports that many toys in excellent condition have already been donated to the drive. The students have shown great enthusiasm for the project which is aimed at "bringing joy to less fortunate children," Yannotta said.

Among those serving on the committee are Lloyd DeVos, Jeanne Reel, James Testa, and Claudia Houry.

Holiday Deadlines

In order to have news published in time for the Christmas and New Year's holidays, particularly careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday deadline is advised for the issues of Dec. 23 and Dec. 30. All organizational and social news items should be submitted by Dec. 17 for the issue of Dec. 23 and by Dec. 24 for the issue of Dec. 30.

MIDDLE CLASS' MEMBER, Charles Larkey of Mountainside, does a little practicing for his appearance in a concert Saturday night in Summit High School. The concert, the first in a coast-to-coast series, was scheduled to coincide with the release of "Free As The Wind," the first record cut by a five-man combo of 18-year-olds called the "Myddle Class."

Larkey In 'Myddle Class' Borrowed Instrument, Taught Self

Charles Larkey of Mountainside, a self-taught bass guitarist, will appear with "The Myddle Class," a mop-headed quintet of 18-year-old musicians, Saturday night at 8 in a concert in the auditorium of Summit High School. The concert will mark the opening of a coast-to-coast personal appearance tour scheduled to coincide with the release of the Myddle Class' first record, "Free As The Wind."

"Free As The Wind" comes out under the new Tomorrow label, owned by Gerald Goffin and Carole King, the husband-and-wife songwriting team which turned out "Herman's Hermits," "The Locomotion" and other hits. It is being distributed nationally by Atco, a division of Atlantic Records. On the flip side of "Free As The Wind" is "Gates of Eden" by Bob Dylan. Dylan, who gave the Myddle Class some hints on the arrangement of their song, was asked what he thought of the Class' effort and said he didn't understand it.

Dylan is not alone in his reaction to the unclassified Myddle Class. Their manager, Alfred C. Aronowitz, a former contributing editor for the Saturday Evening Post, cannot quite define the group's style but he reports that disc jockeys and other names in the music business define it as couldn't play the bass guitar (he had played guitar before) and he couldn't read music. His method of learning was simple. He borrowed an instrument from a friend, then locked himself in his room with records and tapes of all the top men on the bass guitar. He listened, he copied and he

Walsh Sworn In To County Post

John G. Walsh, a member of Mountainside's Board of Adjustments, was recently sworn in as a member of the Union County Park Commission. Walsh, who succeeds Gilbert G. Roessner of Summit, was appointed to the post by the Union County Board of Freeholders on Nov. 16.

Walsh, a Mountainside resident for five years, also serves as the Board of Adjustments' representative to the Planning Board.

He is president of Plastic Extruded Products Co. of Elizabeth and vice-president of Pecco Realty Corp., also of Elizabeth. For the past five years, Walsh has served on the Union County Shade Tree Commission and was president of that body last year.

He lives with his family at 1603 Rising way.

Residents Urged To PTA Meeting

The Mountainside Committee of the Union County Psychiatric Clinic this week urged residents to attend tonight's meeting of the Mountainside PTA which will feature the child study team of the school system. The meeting is scheduled to open at 8:15 in Deerfield School.

A spokesperson for the local committee pointed out that the PTA meeting will give residents an opportunity to learn how this newly-established unit is helping prevent and detect problems which affect the emotional well-being of the children and how it seeks to aid students in their adjustment to school and family.

The film "The Angry Boy," will be shown and discussed by the team including Mrs. Diane Oberlin, school psychologist, Miss Marianne Beckers, social worker, Mrs. Jeanette Turley and Mrs. Mary Jasper, remedial reading instructors, and George Pierson, speech therapist.

Rezoning Action Set Monday For Planning Board

Plan Caucus Session So Measure Can Go To Council By Dec. 21

Mountainside's Planning Board has set a special meeting next Tuesday night to attempt to take action on the controversial rezoning ordinance which was originally introduced by the Borough Council last July. The meeting will not be open to the public, according to Robert Garrett, board chairman.

The ordinance in its amended form, deleting the Corrine tract and leaving only the Wilson tract to be rezoned from residential to preferred commercial "A" classification, was remanded to the Planning Board by the Borough Council at a special meeting on Oct. 26.

Action on the measure was postponed by the Planning Board last week after two of its members discussed the possibility of reintroducing the Corrine tract into the rezoning bill.

Garrett said Tuesday that in all probability both the original ordinance including the Corrine tract, and the amended ordinance would be considered by the planning body in its deliberations.

The board "will attempt to arrive at some decision" Tuesday night, Garrett said, so it can "submit it (the ordinance) very promptly" to the Borough Council.

At last week's meeting of the Planning Board, Mayor Frederick C. Wilhelms asked the board to time the special meeting so that the matter could be referred back to the Borough Council for action at its next meeting on Dec. 21.

Award Contract For Police Cars To Summit Dealer

Contracts for the purchase of two police cars were awarded to Colonial Pontiac of Summit by the Mountainside Council Tuesday night. Colonial's net bid of $3,325 was $175 lower than that submitted by Queens-City Pontiac of Plainfield, the only other bidder. Two traffic-ins, one 1965 Pontiac and one 1964 Pontiac, were involved in the deal.

Colonial's bid on maintenance for the year was $240 less than the $1,440 figure submitted by Queen City.

A resolution to advertise for bids for gasoline was adopted by the Council. Sealed bids will be received Dec. 21 at 8 p. m. at Echobrook School. Bidders are asked to supply prices for approximately 18,000 gallons of premium grade gasoline, to maintain a 550-gallon U. G. tank and to supply and maintain an electric dispenser pump.

A request for a subdivision submitted by Charles A. Collins of Mountainside and a request for a minor subdivision submitted by Edna E. and Ethel L. Clements of Mountainside were both approved by the Council. Both actions had been previously approved by the subdivision committee of the Planning Board.

The Council also approved a resolution returning a cash security bond of $1,143 to Sylvan Green Development Co.

DEAN'S LIST AT DENISON
Harold R. Sydnor of Mountainside has been named to the dean's list for the 1965-66 academic year at Denison University, Granville, O. Sydnor, a junior at Denison, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto G. Lindberg of 114 New Providence rd.

School Board Announces Three-Pronged Program; Calls Echobrook Obsolete

The Mountainside Board of Education this week officially announced the obsolescence of Echobrook School. The Board of Education also announced Tuesday a closing of Echobrook as a three-pronged program which will lead to the eventual closing of Echobrook School. The plan calls for additions to Beechwood and Deerfield Schools, the purchase of additional land at each of those sites and the acquisition of future needs.

PLANS FOR DARBY AREA

Freeholders Move To Supply $62,000

The Union County Board of Freeholders last Thursday night authorized the execution of an agreement which will make $62,000 available to the Borough of Mountainside for the improvement of storm drainage in the Summit rd.-Darby lane area. The work must be completed before the county funds are released to the borough.

The $62,000 county contribution for storm drainage work is available from funds included in a bond issue passed in 1961 by the County Freeholders.

Approval was granted based on plans submitted by the borough for storm drainage work on Summit rd., Ledgewood rd., Sunny View dr., Sunny Slope dr. and Elston dr. The plans were prepared by Killam Associates and dated April 1964, according to the county office.

Move Ahead

The action by the county board indicates that the Borough Council is getting ready to move ahead with storm drainage work in the borough. Councilman George Coughlin, who heads the public works department, said at the November meeting that he hoped action on the storm drainage proposals would be taken at the Dec. 21 meeting. Such action, he indicated, would hinge on whether or not the plans submitted by the public works committee were approved at a closed meeting with the Borough Council scheduled Nov. 22.

Residents of the Darby lane area have appeared at public meetings of the Borough Council several times in the last few years to demand that some corrective measures be taken in their area which they claimed is often flooded with water and debris after heavy storms.

Mayor Frederick Wilhelms said at one meeting that no action would be taken in any section of the borough until the "needs of the whole community" were studied and evaluated.

Slate Christmas Tea For Mission Society

The annual Christmas team of the Woman's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Westfield will be held next Thursday at 1 p. m. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Rollin Wildin.

Special music will be presented by the Trio, composed of Lois Alpaugh, Bonnie Hammar and Alice Shill. Tea will be served by Circle 4 under the leadership of Mrs. C. Ray Crispin. Baby-sitting will be provided.

The Council also approved a resolution returning a cash security bond of $1,143 to Sylvan Green Development Co.

Linguistically Skilled Learning Chinese In Regional Classes

Twenty-eight students at Governor Livingston Regional High School have been chosen on a basis of linguistic scholarship to participate in a special course in the Chinese language. The 28 girls and two boys in the group stay after school each Tuesday to attend the once-a-week class which runs for 45 minutes.

The course was started through the efforts of Tina Tripodi, a Spanish teacher at the regional high, with the cooperation and approval of the Union County Regional District I Board of Education.

Mrs. Albert F. Chen, a native of China, is teaching the course. She is assisted by Miss Tripodi, who is classified as a studying teacher.

The establishment of the course was sparked by Miss Tripodi's interest in Oriental languages, an interest awakened three years ago when she traveled in the Orient. After her return using tapes and books, she started to teach herself Chinese.

The Board said it would offer Echobrook School and property to the Borough of Mountainside before considering other disposition. This is in line with the master plan prepared by Herbert Smith Associates which recommended that Echobrook School be vacated for educational purposes and that borough facilities be relocated on the tract.

The surprise in the announcement was the plan to acquire a replacement site south of Rt. 22. Previous releases from the school board had indicated that any third school site, purchased as an eventual replacement for Echobrook, would be located north of the highway preferably in the vicinity of Deerfield School.

No Cost Figures
No cost figures are available, yet, the board reported. Public meetings will be held by the Board in the near future to explain the overall plan in complete detail.

The planned additions to Beechwood and Deerfield Schools would enable those two units to accommodate a capacity of 1,350 children, the figure the Board's projection forecasts through 1975. Enrollment this year in the three schools is 1,306. The board's forecast charts for this school year predicted 1,370 school population, a figure reached at the end of the 1964-65 school year.

The third school site would be acquired to allow for possible future expansion of the school population. Present plans call for no building on the site.

According to the plans as announced by the Board, Deerfield would be basically divided into two kinds of schools, an elementary school for kindergarten through grade five and a Middle School for sixth through eighth graders. Beechwood would be a complete elementary unit, kindergarten through grade five, having a population of about 560 compared to the present 440. The population at Deerfield would increase from 625 to about 750. The plan would reduce transportation effort since more children would be going to their neighborhood schools.

The expansion at Beechwood would include a kindergarten, six classrooms and a large group instruction room. The library would be enlarged to accommodate storage and work space. The expansion at Deerfield would include ten classrooms, a shop, a home economics room and a cafeteria. At Deerfield facilities for the elementary school children and the Middle School students would be segregated. Traffic problems at Deerfield would be eased by

SCHOOL EXPANSION

Hours today, tomorrow and next week Monday through Friday and on Dec. 20 in the Westfield office will be from 7:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Hours this Saturday and on Dec. 18 will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The normal schedule, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., will be resumed in Westfield also on Dec. 21 through Christmas Eve.

In order to qualify for the grant, a school must have a qualified teacher and a studying teacher. Last summer, Miss Tripodi took an accelerated eight-week course at Yale. Two weeks ago, Mr. Tsu of South Hall located the qualified teacher, Mr. Chen. Books have been provided by Seton Hall.

Music Student
In addition to qualifying as a linguist, Mrs. Chen studied music in Shanghai and at the National Conservatory of Music in Nanking, where she was selected to study under Vladimir Shushin, a well-known Russian teacher. She came to the United States in 1948 under a scholarship awarded by the Fontbonne College of St. Louis University, where she was graduated in 1952 with a bachelor of music degree.

A Folkways recording artist, Mrs. Chen has four children, all of whom are at the Preparatory Division of Julliard School of Music.

ECHO PROFILE - - - Col. Jacob Elsen

COL. JACOB EISEN

A legislator from North Dakota recently introduced a bill into Congress that would limit the amount of children's aspirin offered for sale in any package. The bill is designed to save lives of children, hundreds of whom die annually from overdoses of flavored aspirin.

Col. Jacob Elsen, now completing his second year of a three-year term on Mountainside's Board of Health, is a strong supporter of that bill. In fact, he is credited in many health circles with helping to awake public interest in the need for such a bill.

Back in March of this year an article written by Col. Elsen and entitled "The Reasoned Proposal to Save Children's Lives" appeared in the N.J. Journal of Pharmacy. In it, the colonel, a pharmacist and retired army officer, warned that since the advent of flavored aspirin many children have died or become seriously ill from consuming overdoses of the powerful "candy" tablet. He recommended that such aspirin be packaged in quantities not to exceed 25 tablets with each one sealed with an aluminum disc to make it more difficult for little ones to secure the powerful salicylate.

The colonel, a tall, distinguished looking man with a head of silky gray hair, is careful to state that aspirin is a beneficial drug but like all such things it has a potential for harm. The reduction of the number of tablets in a package to 25, a relatively safe level, would greatly reduce the danger of aspirin poisoning for children, he claims.

Eisen is science editor of the N.J. Journal of Pharmacy; a consultant on prescription for the N.J. State Pharmaceutical Co. and a past president of that group.

Scouts Receive Badges, Awards

Four members of Boy Scout Troop 76, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Mountaintop, received merit badges recently. Mark Kinak was awarded badges for stamp collecting and reading, Tim Williams for swimming and Tim and Jeff Williams, both for basketball.

At the recent district camporee held at Watchung, several of the members received medals for properly defining the various points of the scout badge. They are: Pat Ricciardi, Ken Matyssek, Mark Keating, Mark Lesslaver, Billy Fleming, John Barry, John Bushmann and Greg Keleh. Jeff Williams received a first place award for fire building at the camporee.

Eighth in a Series TOURING ENGLAND
Do you need a baby-sitter? Let Shakespeare help you. SHAKESPEARE?

Yes. In the Shakespeare house in Stratford-on-avon there is a device known as the "baby-sitter." Tourists invariably and laughingly call it the original baby-sitter and you are free to copy the idea.

In the middle of one room of the lovely quaint old house there is a wooden pole from floor to ceiling. A few feet from the ground there is another pole extending out from it about three feet long with a loop at the end which goes around a baby like a belt under the arms. This entire pole pivots around the mid-post so that when the baby is placed in the loop, and the pole is adjusted so his feet just reach the floor, he can walk backward and forward without being held or watched. There is just no where he can go—except around.

The Shakespeare house is in the middle of what is now a very touristy town. It is built right "on top of the sidewalk" and has a garden and lawn only in the rear. The Hathaway house, on the other hand, is almost in the countryside about half mile away and has a typical English flower garden all around it. It looks like a Hansel and Gretel house. Inside, the antiques would make a collector drool, and outside, the bursting blooms would make a garden-clubber green. With envy.

THE FIRST OVERNIGHT stop in England for our National Newspaper Association Study Mission Group was Liverpool. We arrived after 300 miles of riding from Glasgow coming down through the Lake District. The hotel in Liverpool was one of those elegant, gracious hotels with marble baths and 1-a-r-g-e rooms, and it was marvelous.

The mayor of Liverpool was top. We met Alderman David Conley, J.P., the Lord Mayor of Liverpool, and several officials at the Town Hall at a briefing and luncheon.

Questioned about the Common Market and the Beatles at the briefing, two sensitive subjects in England, the mayor humorously said at the luncheon, "Well, you woke us up with that (the Common Market) one," and on the Beatles, he claimed they have reduced juvenile delinquency and are a good example to youth. "They are having such a good time themselves, the others can't help enjoying themselves too," he said.

Lord Mayors in England wear a massive gold chain-and-medal-necklace worn wide on the shoulders, and when Lord Mayor Conley was asked if they were solid gold and how they were kept in place he merrily answered "yes" and "with safety-pins."

Liverpool, besides its famous port, has a tunnel much like our Holland and Lincoln Tunnels. Theirs is called Mersey and it rhymes with Jersey. It is three and a half miles long and it costs 18 cents for a passenger car and $1.25 for a bus to travel through it.

BIRMINGHAM, the second stop for us, is about 120 miles from Liverpool, and is really living up to the signs found all through England. "Keep Britain Tidy" the signs very typically say, and Birmingham really has taken it seriously. Entire blocks of shabby old buildings, entire old-fashioned sections, and in fact, almost the entire city, has been torn down to make room for new buildings, shopping "rings," modern apartments and "ring" highways. It is the most ambitious tidy-ing you ever saw.

Actually, Birmingham is under a massive urban renewal program and has been since the end of the war. Its pride and joy are the ring roads which circle the inner part of the city, the middle part and the outer part with roadways up to six lanes in width. When these highways are totally completed there will not be one traffic light or one cross road on either the Inner Ring, the Middle Ring or the Outer Ring Road. Underpasses and over-passes will eliminate the need.

The city's tallest building presently is 22 stories high but the building's greatest fame lies in the fact that it is round. Birmingham seems enamoured with circles.

ANOTHER impressive building, but this time not round and not in Birmingham, is the great cathedral at Coventry. Coventry was extensively bombed during the war for it had been an automotive center and became an airplane motor center. Almost the entire city was destroyed and even the cathedral was a charred ruin by war's end.

But the re-building architect did not remove the bombed cathedral. Neither did he build one to match the style it had once been. Sir Basil Spence built instead, a poignantly beautiful modern structure artistically blended with the jagged ruins of the old structure. The result is magnificent whether you admire "modern" or not.

But to understand the message of Coventry Cathedral, its Provost says, "you must start where all the ideas built into the architecture and art and ministry of the new cathedral were born—in the Sanctuary of the Ruins." Here are the physical reminders of what evil can do, but here also are the marks of faith and goodness.

The old cathedral is not simply an historical monument; it is still a church. At the altar in the ruined sanctuary Communion is celebrated on Easter and Whit Sunday. Rising beyond the altar is the Charred Cross made of timbers from the mediaeval roof destroyed in an air raid of 1940. And cut into the wall above the altar are the words, "Father Forgive."

During the summer months, 2,000 people per hour pass through the cathedral and one day in September, Head Verger John Wickens escorted 85 of our Study Mission members through it also—and then we went through Oxford.

GOING THROUGH Oxford is easy—if you walk through, and we did it that way. We got no degrees but we got atmosphere. Everyone took off in different directions and saw different colleges, but everyone, I am sure, heard Old Tom. Old Tom is a famous bell in Christopher Wren tower, and although it rings throughout the day, it is a tradition at Oxford that every evening at 9 Old Tom rings out 101 tolls, and supposedly by the time it finishes, all the students must be in their rooms. The whole thing is in honor of the original 101 students of one of the original colleges, Merton, but every night there must be many students who wish it had been 1,000,001.

Currently, there are 21 colleges and three private halls in Oxford. The earliest are Merton, University College, and Balliol. The best known are Exeter, Queens, Magdalen, Corpus Christi, Christ's Church and New College Trinity.

THE COUNTRYSIDE near Oxford, Stratford, Warwick, Banbury and much of the north and west through which we rode, consists of lovely rolling green land with age left in and wildness left out. Little villages dot the landscape and some are museum pieces with thatched roof houses, quaint buildings, narrow streets and little shops. The woods, meadows and fields are seldom left to wilderness and are under cultivation or use of some kind—or support one of those Stately Houses.

By the time we had seen all this and reached London, we had traveled some 550 miles on the motor coach in two days, and some 1,000 miles through Ireland and Scotland in the ten days before that. It had been an interesting and beautiful trip, but as one of our fellow travelers succinctly put it, "we really were the Dead End Kids" by then.

ECHO PROFILE

Research in ophthalmology which he and Professor Linnal- one of Rutgers University conducted resulted in the development of a pure solution base to which any medication can be added without danger of spoiling. This means, Col. Eisen explains, that the medication will remain usable for an indefinite period; the base acts as a preservative without in any way effecting the medication.

News of their work was published in the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association and Col. Eisen reported on it at the drugists' national convention a few years ago.

He and Harold Kushel, editor of the N.J. Journal of Pharmacy, recently wrote a text book for interns on how to write prescriptions. It was a book badly needed, Eisen says a little wryly, one man doctors could use.

He has had many papers published in national and international journals. His work has been recognized and honored in many quarters. Typical of that recognition was his election four years ago as an honorary member of the Royal Society of Health of England.

BORN AND RAISED in Newark, Col. Eisen obtained his degree in pharmacy from Columbia University. He bought his own drug store shortly after graduation — "a little hole in the wall on a Newark side street" is the way he describes it. He, his brother and his brother-in-law later developed a chain of stores—Schwarz Drugs—that amounted to 10 at one time. However, the last few years, mostly because of manpower problems and "our aging and tiring legs," they have been consolidating their holdings and now have only three.

Col. Eisen and his wife, a nurse, were married in 1927. They have one son who was recently discharged from the Army after completing two years of service.

Eisen picked up his army rank the hard way. He entered the service 30 years ago, spending many of those years on active duty, the balance in the reserve until his retirement in 1960.

Assigned to the medical corps, he was on active duty in the Pacific all through the long years of World War II. He remembers, with a touch of sadness, that his son, only an infant when he left, was five years old when he came home from the war.

"I missed all his babyhood, all those first years. He didn't even know his father," he shakes his head regretfully.

BUT THOUGH HE regrets the lost years with his family, Col. Eisen has proud practiced — endlessly. His explanation for his dexterity on the instrument (Goffin says he is the best man on the bass guitar that he has ever recorded) is simple.

"I didn't get their sounds just right — I play by ear — and somehow I came up with my own style."

IT'S A style, combined with that of the four other group members, Myke Rosa of Berkeley Heights, drummer, Rick Philp, lead guitarist, Dave Palmer, vocalist, both of Warren Township and Danny Mansolino, organist, of North Plainfield, that their manager predicts will take them to the top.

"Cashbox," one of the two "Eibies" of recording industry agrees with him. This week it picked "Free As The Wind" as one of two records of the week headed for the top sales.

The boys of the "Myddle Class," who say they picked that name because they can't spell, expect to make so much money "that people will have to call us The Upper Class."

and glowing memories of his war service. He was executive officer of a 2,000-bed army hospital that moved from Guam over to the Marianne Islands, to several islands in the rear of the major battle scenes of the bloody conflict.

"We were often set up in tents—but we always gave them the best care," he states proudly.

Military hospitals administer the best care available, Eisen says emphatically. Some time back he had to undergo an operation and his biggest regret was that he could not have the surgery done in a military hospital. Military hospitals, he is careful to explain, are not veterans' hospitals—they are military hospitals, run for the military by the military.

Eisen enjoyed the military life. His walk still has a military stride, he stands erect and straight.

But his voice has none of the harsh cadences usually associated with the professional military man. It is soft, gentle, persuasive rather than commanding.

He still goes to work every day in his Newark store. In addition to his editorship of the state journal and his work with the Board of Health, he does a great deal of translation work. Proficient in German, he has prescriptions in that language sent to him regularly for translation.

In addition, he studies constantly. A pharmacist must, he points out. There are so many new drugs—so many powerful ones. A good pharmacist must learn all he can about them.

Course Offered In Area Church

The third annual group premarital counseling course will open Dec. 27 in the Presbyterian Church of Westfield. All engaged couples and married couples are welcome to attend the three-session course which is conducted in cooperation with churches in the area.

Each of the three sessions, which will run from 8 to 10 p.m., will be held in the Lounge Annex of the Parish House, 140 Mountain ave., Westfield. The other sessions are scheduled Dec. 28 and 29.

The Rev. Ace L. Tubbs, pastor of the host church, will lead the sessions. He will be assisted by resource persons from the area.

Those couples interested in attending may do so by sending their names, and addresses and telephone numbers to the Presbyterian Church in Westfield. A fee of one dollar per person should be enclosed. Fees will be used to cover costs of materials used in the counseling course.

Area ministers are invited to refer couples who plan to be married next year to the course. Further questions may be answered by calling Mr. Tubbs during the morning at 233-0301.

Women Receive Pilot Certificates

Several female members of the Watchung Power Squadron received certificates for completing small boat piloting courses at the Christmas gathering for squadron members and their families held recently in the Mountainside Inn, Mountainside.

The presentations were made by Commander Charles J. Clauer of Coxsack River and Norris N. Hilsberg of Westfield to those members who had successfully completed one of the small boat courses, offered by the Watchung Squadron in the adult education programs of various high schools in Union County.

Two color movies, "The Bounding Maine" and "Maine Parks," were shown by William Pfaffle of Westfield.

Another free course in boating, sponsored by the squadron, will begin in February in Westfield High School. Further information may be obtained from Robert B. Simpson, 1320 Stonybrook lane, Mountainside, AD 3-1812.

Book Fair Proceeds Will Benefit Student

A senior in Governor Livingston Regional High School, one who plans to enter the teaching profession, will reap the profits of the successful book fair held recently in Deerfield School under the sponsorship of the Mountainside Teachers' Association.

Proceeds of the fair, held annually by the teachers' group, will go toward a scholarship for a Mountainside student now in his (or her) senior year in the regional high school. The winner will be announced later in the school year.

Helping to make the three-day sale a huge success were Harry and Wende Devlin, local author and artist husband and wife team. The Devlins spent one day at Deerfield School autographing copies of their recently published book, "The Knobby Boys." A spokesman for the Teachers' Association said that it was particularly gratifying to have the local audience participate so actively in the sale because of their long association with the school system. Four of the Devlins' children, Harry, Wende, Jeffrey and Alexander, have been graduated from Deerfield School and their three younger children are still in the school system.

The teachers emphasized that through the sale of the books, chosen to appeal to children from kindergarten through teenagers, they hope to promote an interest in reading that will lead to a lifelong enjoyment of books.

Mrs. Mary Mooney of Beechwood School was in charge of a cake sale held in conjunction with the book fair. She was as-

N.J. Economy Benefits By Prime Government Contracts

New Jersey's advancing economy benefited by prime government contracts totaling $41,262,587 awarded to 139 firms throughout the State during October, the Department of Conservation and Economic Development reported this week.

Bergen County led the awards list with contracts aggregating $9,204,437 followed by Essex County, $7,060,960; Passaic County, $5,101,924; Camden County, $4,576,589; Hudson County, $3,125,444; and Union County, $3,097,663. It was Essex County, however, which had the greatest number of firms — 25 — awarded contracts; Bergen was second with 17; Monmouth third with 15; Union fourth with 14 and Camden, fifth with 13. Hudson and Passaic each had 12 firms awarded contracts.

Curtiss-Wright's Aeronautical Division of Wood Ridge received the greatest dollar awards with 11 contracts amounting to $4,421,513 for aircraft engines and data. Two contracts totaling $3,078,709 went to Aerospace Group of Little Falls with hydraulic actuation systems named as the major items.

Other substantial awards and the major products named included nine contracts totaling $2,843,352 to RCA's Defense Electronic Products Division of Camden for radio receiving sets and equipment; six contracts amounting to $2,662,509 to the Bendix Corporation's Eclipse-Pioneer Division of Teterboro for adaptors applicable to service aircraft; three contracts totaling $2,032,101 to Eastern Tool and Mfg. Co. of Belleville for projectile assemblies and three contracts aggregating $1,933,084 to Eisen Bros. Inc. of Hoboken for projectile assemblies.

Garden State food products or food processed items named as major items on the awards list totaled $2,500,578. Sizeable awards in this category included three contracts amounting to $683,270 to United Instant Coffee Corp. of Paterson for instant powdered coffee; three contracts totaling $368,798 to Thomas J. Lipton, Inc. of Clementon for dehydrated soups; a contract of $227,790 to Farmland Fairlawn Dairies of Fairlawn for milk; and two contracts amounting to $227,253 to Theobald Industries of Harrison for canned shortening compound.

Awards for constructions and related services totaled $778,313. These included a contract of $280,000 to RCA of Somerville for VHF power transmission structures; two contracts to N.Y. Shipbuilding Corp. of Camden for overhaul of the USS Blackwood; and a contract of $43,376 to Bethlehem Steel Corp. of Hoboken for repairs of the USSN Lt. George W. G. Boyce.

Sixteen of the State's counties were represented on the awards list which also included 20 "indefinite" contracts to 19 New Jersey firms.

Named as major products in the indefinite awards were lubricating oils; pipe cutters; paints; enamel; lubricating compounds; shears and scissors; paper fastening staplers;

fabricating materials; wood dowels; laundry waxes; type cleaners; acoustical boards; rubber hoses; office machines and steel bookends.

The listing of prime government contracts awarded to New Jersey firms each month is compiled by the Research and Statistics Section of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

No Change In 1965 Tax Laws; Few Differences In Tax Forms

Newark, New Jersey Tax Assistors in Internal Revenue Service offices in New Jersey said this week that taxpayers are generally confused about the effective date of changes in income tax law which were part of the Medicare Bill.

The only change which affects 1965 income tax returns which must be filed by April 15, 1966 is the one which adds physicians to the other professional and business people who must pay a self employment tax along with their income tax. This allows them to qualify for social security benefits.

All the other changes are not effective until the tax year which begins on January 1, 1966. These include the increase in the maximum amount of wages subject to social security taxes, the increase in social security taxes to provide for hospital coverage and other medical benefits, as well as the new provision on the reporting and payment of social security taxes on tips.

The maximum amount of wages subject to social security taxes for 1965 remains at $4800. Taxpayers who worked for more than one employer during the year and had more than $174 in social security taxes deducted from their earnings may claim the excess as a credit against income tax due. A taxpayer who worked for just one employer and had more than $174 in social security taxes deducted should obtain a refund from his employer.

Because there have been no basic changes in income tax law, you will find few differences in the tax forms which will be sent to you in December. The form has been redesigned to make it easier to read and made more attractive by using more modern type and a less cluttered arrangement.

Spaces have also been provided for entering the name of your current employer and for listing the names of your dependent children.

All taxpayers are reminded to be sure to keep the tax instruction booklet which will be mailed to them late this month. It contains a pre-identified income tax form. Internal Revenue asks that each taxpayer use this form for his tax return because of this identification.

If this form cannot be used for any reason, the top part of the identifying label should be peeled off and used on the return which is filed with Internal Revenue. If someone else prepares your return for you, be sure to give him the form mailed to you so that he may use it or the label.

November Rainfall At Record Low, Meteorologist At College Reports

Rainfall in November totaled 1.68 inches, which is 2.18 inches below the estimated normal of 3.86 inches, Harold Duffocq, meteorologist at the Union Junior College Meteorological Station, Cranford, said in his monthly report to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

November's total precipitation of 1.68 inches was the lowest since the U.I.C. Meteorological Station was opened in 1950. The greatest November rainfall recorded at the UJC station was 7.12 inches in 1963.

Rainfall in 1965 from January 1 to November 30 totals 27.73 inches, as compared with 33.19 inches during the same period a year ago.

Temperatures in November ranged from a maximum of 69 degrees on November 4 to a minimum of 24 degrees on November 3 and 25. The average temperature was 44.4 degrees—.8 degrees below the estimated normal temperature of 45.2 degrees.

During November, 617 degree days were recorded, bringing the total for the heating season which began September 1 to 1,032 degree days.

The warmest days were November 1, 4 and 7 when the daily average temperatures was 55 degrees.

Fog occurred on five days—November 8, 13, 16, 21 and 22. Thunder was heard on November 23. There were eight clear days, 11 partly cloudy days, and 11 cloudy days. The prevailing wind direction was southwest.

BBB Warns Public On Yule Shopping

The season of giving, the Better Business Bureau of Bergen, Passaic and Rockland Counties cautioned the public this week, can unfortunately also be the season to be taken.

To protect the gullible, the unsuspecting, or the just plain careless, the BBB offers these "do's and don'ts":

Do your Christmas shopping at a firm—whether it be a large store or a little shop up the street—about which you have some knowledge. Many problems—exchanges, refunds, guarantees, damaged goods—can be avoided or adjusted if you deal with a reliable, responsible firm.

If you receive unordered merchandise through the mail (Christmas cards, ornaments for the trees, ties, belts, etc.) the BBB advises that you are under no obligation either to acknowledge their receipt or to return them. After a reasonable period of time, these items may be discarded as you see fit.

If you receive solicitations from charitable organizations, make sure that they are legitimate before making any contribution. While most solicitations will be from worthwhile sources, there are certain charities with high sounding names which provide little service in relation to the amount of money collected.

Professional promoters are the main beneficiaries—while the needy remain in need.

It's a practical idea to examine merchandise, particularly items like toys which have to be assembled, soon after delivery. The frustration of discovering only three doll carriage wheels in a carton on Christmas Eve can be avoided by an advance inspection.

Don't sign a contract to purchase anything priced beyond your means to pay. And if you pay a deposit on the "lay-away plan," make sure that you can and will go through with the purchase. Otherwise, you may forfeit your deposit.

If you lose your credit card, notify the company immediately. You could be liable for purchases made in your name.

And, do your Christmas checking early. You owe it to yourself and those on your Christmas gift list.

State Highway Department Ready For Winter's Snow

The New Jersey State Highway Department has issued a report outlining its plans for keeping its 2,000 miles of highway clear of snow and ice during the coming winter.

Snow plows are ready; rock salt, calcium chloride, sand and other abrasives are stockpiled; state highway snow-removal crews are set and prepared for the first storm, the report said.

A Highway Department spokesman said that overall control of snow-removal activities is accomplished through the Department's network of 425 two-way mobile radios and 10 base radio stations. The "command post" for state-wide operations is located in the Department's Trenton headquarters.

The Department's snow-fighting plan goes into action when advance warning of threatening weather conditions is received at Trenton headquarters. These warnings, provided by the federal weather bureau and a private weather service, alert the snow control staff and keep it informed of changing weather conditions, the spokesman said.

Approximately 2,000 pieces of mechanical snow-and-ice-removal equipment, and about 2,900 men are on standby alert. This includes more than 600 privately owned trucks, loaders and graders fully manned, hired only when, and if, needed by the Highway Department to supplement its own forces in an emergency or severe storm, he said.

Stockpiles of salt and abrasives, located strategically throughout the State, have been brought up to adequate levels, based on the experience of past winters.

For this winter, the stockpile includes 27,000 tons of rock salt; 48,000 cubic yards of abrasives including sand, cinders, stone grits, and crushed slag and 6,000 tons of calcium chloride, the report said.

The rock salt will be spread to melt the ice and snow, the abrasives will provide traction and the calcium will keep the stockpiles from freezing solid.

This year the Department purchased 25 heavy-duty snow plows; 25 tailgate spreaders, and 10 spreader bodies, bringing the total to nearly 1,200 pieces of snow-removal equipment ready to roll and keep the 6,160 lane miles of State Highway System clear this winter.

In addition, snow crews have erected more than 256 miles of snow fence at strategic locations to prevent or minimize drifting. Until the season closes, the Department's Landscape Section continues to plant shrubbery as living snow fence.

According to the spokesman, even-with all this, the snow crews' big problem is not snow and ice, but the unthinking driver who is unprepared for snow storms and uninformed about proper driving techniques. He identified this type of driver as the one who runs out of gas during a snow storm, skids or stalls on highways and ramps, or drives in the wrong direction in a selfish attempt to avoid his own delay.

Every motorist can help reduce driving hazards at this time of year, the spokesman noted, by driving with extra caution and caution and courtesy, and by having his vehicle functioning properly and equipped for emergencies.

The Department has distributed more than 200,000 copies of "Year Round Driving Hints," a pamphlet which explains many safety precautions to be observed for safe operation of a motor vehicle, and what equipment should be kept in the vehicle for emergency use. This folder is available free by writing the New Jersey State Highway Department in Trenton.

In general, the Department advises motorists always to give snow plows and other snow-removal equipment the right of way; put chains, snow tires, or stud treads (authorized for use on highways from Nov. 1 to April 15) on rear wheels to avoid getting stuck in snow; take curves and corners with caution; maintain a safe, even speed, avoid accelerating or braking rapidly, and eliminate "tailgating" by driving well behind vehicles ahead.

Emergency equipment should include tire chains, sand, a shovel and flares kept in the car trunk; non-perishable food and a flashlight in the glove compartment or console, and a blanket for warmth when in a traffic tie-up, instead of keeping the motor and heater running.

Returns On 'Fox' After Deployment

USS DOUGLAS H. FOX—Interior Communications Technician First Class John Mueller, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Mueller of 1028 Drake ave., Roselle, has returned to Norfolk, Va. after a five-month deployment to the Mediterranean and Red Seas, and the Persian Gulf aboard the destroyer USS Douglas H. Fox.

While operating with the U.S. Sixth Fleet's Middle East Force, the destroyer participated in the evacuation patrol off the coast of Pakistan during the recent crisis there.

During the deployment, he visited ports in Italy, Spain, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Mallorca.

Air Force Recruiter Reports Enlistments

They are Richard McCarthy of 135 W. Seventh ave., Roselle, who enlisted for the general aptitude area, and Robert Hewison of 47C Colfax Manor, Roselle Park, who enlisted for the mechanical aptitude area.

COMBAT BADGE GOES TO HUNT IN S. VIETNAM

ROSELLE — Pfc. Don R. Hunt, husband of Gloria Hunt of 1019 Chandler ave., Roselle, has received the combat infantryman's badge in recognition of his "meritorious service in armed conflict with the Viet Cong" in South Vietnam. Hunt, who attended Abraham Clark High School, is a member of the 101st Airborne Division.

SCIENCE TOPICS

DEEP-SEA cameras have solved the mystery of strange animal burrows and tracks that appear on many photographs of the Pacific ocean floor. The animal responsible for the tracks is a "giant" enteropneust, or acorn worm, Columbia University reports. A photograph of the ocean bottom nearly three miles below the surface shows the acorn worm making the marks.

WHISTLING SWANS, Canada geese, snow geese, mallard ducks, pintail ducks and the double-breasted cormorant are unlikely villains, but the Federal Aviation Agency has warned pilots to be particularly alert for these and other migratory waterfowl during the spring and fall. Because of their size, large population and their habit of flying in dense flocks, they are a hazard to aircraft. The FAA urged pilots not to fly directly below migrating flocks because they tend to dive when approached by planes.

SELF-ADMINISTERED home permanents are an increasing cause of lymph node swelling in the necks of Negro men, according to the American Medical Association. Hair-straightening treatment is the chief cause of the trouble. When it is done by a competent barber it is a relatively harmless process, says the AMA. THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA has received a $538,150 grant from the National Science Foundation for support of a biological sciences research facility. The building will be the first unit of a planned life science complex.

USE OF NITROGEN, once a virtual waste product of air separation processes, will soon equal that of oxygen, predicts Chemtron Corporation, Chicago. New uses of nitrogen include transit and in-plant refrigeration, refining of non-ferrous alloys and producing glass and processing chemicals.

ANTARCTICA, the only continent still in the grip of an Ice Age, has an area of 5,500,000 square miles—one and one-half times the area of the continental United States. The ice sheet is 9,000 feet thick in some places, says the Geological Survey, Department of Interior. TROPHY-SIZE ANTLERS up to 12 points are growing on one-year-old male deer used in nutrition experiments at Pennsylvania State University.

Gift Project For Viet Nam GIs Called Success By N.J. Legion

The New Jersey American Legion's fund-raising project for Christmas gifts for U. S. servicemen in Viet Nam has proved to be a great success, according to William R. Huggard, State Legion Commander, this week.

"The response to our appeal which began on Nov. 7 has been tremendous, not only from our own Legion-Auxiliary Posts and Units, but also from individuals and organizations throughout the state," said Huggard, when he announced that with some $60,000 in hand and pledged, the total would undoubtedly reach $100,000.

Plans for shipping 150,000 gifts to Viet Nam by Christmas have been completed. Plastic bags, each containing grooming kit with nail clipper and file, comb, razor blades, cigarettes, airmail stationery, ballpoint pen and greeting card, will be assembled and packed at the Dumont, N.J. High School on December 11th and 12th, by several hundred students, through the cooperation of the Board of Education and the Superintendent of Schools.

On Monday, the assembled packets will be transported to McGuire Air Force Base by Oneida Motor Freight of Carlstadt, in truck trailers donated by the company. Some 16 tons of gifts will go to Viet Nam by air via Travis Air Force Base, California, through arrangements made with the Air Force by Brigadier General William C. Doyle (NIARNG), Chairman of the Legion's drive.

Huggard pointed out that contributions continue to reach Legion Headquarters at Trenton in large and small amounts, including monies collected by Legionnaires who have solicited funds on the streets, in shopping centers, and from New Jersey industries.

In addition to Community Bus Lines of Clifton, N.J., who donated the entire receipts, including their drivers' wages, derived from transporting protestors of government policy in Viet Nam to Washington, D.C. on November 27th, numerous important donations have been made by:

SIZE OF FUSES

Never use a bigger fuse than the electrical system in your home calls for, the Insurance Information Institute warns. The proper size provides a safety valve that breaks the circuit before an overload can start a fire.

Residents Asked: Join Fight On TB

With less than three weeks remaining until Christmas, Robert M. Crane of Cranford, treasurer of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League, this week issued two reminders to all Union County residents.

The first is to use Christmas Seals on all letters and packages and in holiday gift and home decorations to help carry the message that the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases can be won by the concerted effort of many people. The second reminder is to send a contribution to the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League so that League board of directors can plan next year's schedule of projects to advance the control of tuberculosis in Union County. The amount of work that can be carried out next year depends upon the response to the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

The Tuberculosis League this week is mailing brief reminders to people who have not answered their Christmas Seal letter, Crane said.

URGES STIFFER PENALTIES

Air Pollution Called 'Critical'

New Jerseyans are "sitting ducks" as pollution creates an aerial sewer" over the Garden State, Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (N.J.-Sixth District) warns in the current issue of the New Jersey Education Association's monthly magazine, the "NJEA Review."

"Air pollution is on the verge of overwhelming us," the Elizabeth Republican believes.

"Fresh clean-air — essential to life, health and happiness — is notoriously in short supply, especially in the heavily populated regions of the state."

The situation is "bad" in industrial areas generally, she cautions, and already "critical" in northeast New Jersey.

"Yet we have hardly begun to attack this threat to the lives and safety of our people," Mrs. Dwyer writes. "In the face of overwhelming evidence, we are doing little more than testing."

Polluted air can cause death, disease and disability among humans, Mrs. Dwyer writes. It damages crops, livestock, plants, flowers, clothing and is responsible for "corrosion of metals, deterioration of buildings, and layers of dirt and grime everywhere." In dollars and cents, the "economic costs" of air pollution exceed $18 billion a year, she estimates.

Mrs. Dwyer names industrial discharges, auto exhausts and trash disposal as major causes of air pollution.

New Jersey is particularly vulnerable to polluted air, Mrs. Dwyer writes, because "the bulk of our pollution and industry is concentrated in the small, six-county northeast corner of the state. The land is flat and invites the dangerous air inversions which trap fumes, gases and particles under a layer of warm air and turns the area into a vast aerial garbage heap."

Air pollution laws are weak and insufficiently enforced, Mrs. Dwyer writes. At the same time, sources of contamination are increasing.

"We cannot make headway," Mrs. Dwyer warns, "until we move faster and farther than the growing rate at which we pollute the air."

New Jersey and the federal government are doing too little to control the spread of poisons through the air, the Union County congresswoman says. She suggests:

"We need more research to find better ways of identifying, measuring and controlling pollutants. We need higher standards for clean air, more inspectors, stiffer penalties. We need to replace urban traffic jams with modern mass transit facilities. We need more effective regional and interstate cooperation."

Congress has passed laws to curb auto exhausts and disposal of wastes, Mrs. Dwyer writes. "It's only a beginning. Unless it quickly becomes much more, we shall only cause a slight delay in our otherwise inevitable flight to disaster."

Mrs. Dwyer's article is the third in a series by which the NJEA magazine is alerting teachers to major economic and social problems in the state.

Legislators Speak To Employers' Unit

A broad-based tax, reappointment, needs for higher education, and Congressional redistricting — these will be major areas of concern in Trenton next year, according to five state legislators who addressed members of the Employers Legislative Committee of Union County last week.

Speaking last Thursday at the Committee's luncheon meeting in Springfield, State Senator-elect Mildred Barry Hughes (D, Union) expressed doubt that the legislature's "lame duck" session on Monday would provide any solution to New Jersey problems. The next year, she said, would pose a "terrific challenge" to New Jersey's Democratic governor and his new Democratic legislature.

Also attending the luncheon were Union County Assemblyman Nicholas St. John LaCorte and Assemblymen - elect Henry F. Gavan, Robert E. Henderson and Joseph J. Higgins. Union's other two state legislators, Senator Nelson F. Stamler and Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott, could not attend because of prior commitments.

The Employers Legislative Committee of Union County, a unit of a state-wide organization, was established to work constructively for a better business climate, to provide a forum for discussion on legislative matters, and to foster good relations between members of the Committee and the legislature. Current chairman of the E.L.C. is Donald P. Taylor of Merek & Co., Inc.

PRECAUTIONS URGED

Christmas Trees Can Be Fire Hazards

Christmas trees can present definite fire hazards unless precautions are taken, the New Jersey Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers pointed out this week.

Chapter representatives predicted that "many thousands of home fires will result this Christmas season because people were careless with Christmas trees and decorations." They issued the following safety suggestions:

Pick a fresh looking tree that has firm needles. Saw off the butt at an angle an inch or more above the original cut. Keep the tree in water until it is brought into the house, and keep it in water until it leaves the house. Check water level at least once or twice a week; a tree will absorb several glasses of water while indoors.

Support the tree firmly. Keep it well away from sources of heat such as radiators, stoves, fireplaces. Don't locate it where either upright or fallen, on fire, it might block escape. Don't keep the tree up until it becomes excessively dry.

DRIVER TRAINING

Most insurance companies, the Insurance Information Institute reports, grant discounts on automobile liability and collision insurance for young drivers who have successfully completed recognized driver education courses in schools.

Don't rely on self-applied chemical coatings or solutions to "flame-proof" a natural tree; none is completely effective. Only commercially treated trees using UL-listed compounds are effective.

Artificial trees can also be a fire hazard. Plastic, paper and metalized plastic trees can burn. Metal trees (aluminum or other metals) are not a fire hazard but may be a shock hazard. Only indirect lighting should be used on these trees. If lighting strings short on a metal tree, it may become "charged" and dangerous.

Don't allow smoking amidst gifts, decorations and wrappings placed under the tree. Supervise small children playing near the tree. Keep matches, lighters and candles out of their reach.

Don't use candles on or near trees; they are highly dangerous.

Check lighting sets and cords for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Discard old or broken wiring sets. Use only UL-listed lights. Those not listed are probably cheap and unsafe.

Limit the lighting circuit to 15 amperes. Check the fuse in the fuse box to assure it is not over this limit.

Most important, turn off all tree and other indoor holiday lighting before retiring or leaving the house.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter

Your Living Christmas Tree

Now, about that living Christmas tree you expect to enjoy indoors this holiday season and then plant outdoors.

It's an idea that's catching on, and you can look forward to watching your tree grow, year by year, to remind you of a merry Christmas, 1965, if you treat it right.

You'll buy your tree balled and burlapped, of course, and the first thing to do is wrap the moist ball in plastic film to hold the moisture in. Then place the tree in a decorated tub or box.

Don't overlook this first simple step. It's a trick that really works, according to Don Lacey, extension specialist in home horticulture at Rutgers.

Plants in the Rutgers exhibit at the New York flower show have survived two weeks of hardship because of this kind of preparation for the rugged Manhattan life.

Only Few Days Indoors

But it's best not to keep your living Christmas tree indoors any more than a few days because home conditions could be even more unkind than an exhibition hall climate.

The danger in keeping an evergreen indoors too long is that it will break its dormancy. New growth may start. Then, when you finally take it outdoors it can't stand the shock of January cold.

Naturally, you'll arrange your string of lights so that bulbs can't touch the needles.

Moist And Sheltered

So let's say you have untrimmed your tree a few days after Christmas and you're ready to take it outdoors.

Experience has proved it to live to see even one more Christmas, according to Lacey.

Rather, choose a well lighted protected place, sheltered from the drying north wind. An unheated garage often is ideal, or a sheltered corner of the house, or a porch.

Then take off the plastic and put the roots, still in their burlap, into a tub, and fill around the balled roots with peat moss or leaves. Dampened, this material will help the roots moist until spring. Add a little water if you have to.

Not Too Wet

But don't let water stand in the bottom of the tub or you'll be as bad off as if you left the plastic around the roots, to collect water. Too much water will make the roots rot.

Now let's skip ahead until the end of March. By then you can decide exactly where you want to plant your tree, and digging the hole for it will be a lot pleasanter.

Maybe you'll want this tree to be your outdoor Christmas tree in the years ahead so you can string lights on it. All the more reason to pick the right spot.

Christmas In Future

Remember that although your tree is small now, you expect it to grow, and grow a lot, so it'll pay to plant it where it will serve your purpose and not get in the way.

These are forest trees, really, and even under our civilized conditions may grow six inches a year. A Colorado-blue spruce may grow to be 30 feet tall; a Norway spruce, 50 or 60 feet; Douglas fir, 50 feet; Scotch and Austrian pine, 30 to 40 feet.

Any of these will need a long string of lights in 1985.

Candlelight Service Set At Springfield Methodist

A Christmas candlelight service will be held Tuesday night at the Springfield Emmanuel Methodist Church.

The service, to begin at 8 p.m., is being sponsored by the Women's Mission Circle of the church.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Wilma Schenack, Evelyn Schenack, Mrs. Irene Kirchner and Mrs. Lydia Schneider. All Springfield women are invited to attend, the group stated.

The church's Women's Society for Christmas Service will meet earlier in the day, at noon, for its annual covered dish luncheon in the Florman Park.

A talk entitled "Pictorial Loop through New England" was given by Clayton F. Smith, who has taken many colored slides from his historical album. The chapter vice-president, Richard G. Swain, presided at the Christmas celebration.

One hundred and thirteen members and guests attended the Christmas party of the Foothill Club held recently in the Mountainside Inn.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Marie Shepherd, lyric soprano and concert comedienne. Over 80 Christmas gifts, selected and wrapped by club members for patients in the John Runkles Hospital, were on display. Mrs. Richard Kapke and Mrs. Thomas Morris will deliver the presents to the hospital.

Christmas decorations and individual corsages for board members and hostesses were made by a committee headed by Mrs. Rap Kapke.

Five new members, Mrs. Edgar Morrison, Mrs. Leslie Peronette, Mrs. Thomas Root, Mrs. G. W. Simpson and Mrs. V. A. Verra, were introduced by the membership chairman, Mrs. Fred Schoemer.

The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Albert Eisenhauer, urged members to keep open the dates of Feb. 15, when the club will hold a card party, and April 23, the evening of the dinner-dance.

Mrs. Donald Laugannan, social activities chairman, announced that tentative plans have been made to hold a mystery bus ride in the spring. She also urged members to participate in the various social activities included in the club program.

Herbert Buchalter, a registered pharmacist from West Orange, will speak on "Drug Abuse" at the Jan. 6 meeting of the club. The program is being arranged by Mrs. Leo Palumbo.

The president, Mrs. John Suski, gave holiday greetings to all present.

MEMBERS TO SEE DEMONSTRATION OF FACE MAKE-UP

The Suburban Deborah League of Deborah Hospital will hold its regular meeting one week early, next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m., at Temple Beth Ahim in Springfield, it was announced by Mrs. Robert Feld of 40 Newbrook lane, League president.

The program vice-president, Mrs. Robert Ramus, has arranged for a presentation entitled "Clair's Total Look in Beauty." Featured will be two consultants of the Clair Company, who will demonstrate a new concept in face make-up on three League ladies: Myrna Miller, Joan Corey and Alice Blake, all of Springfield. A question and answer period will follow.

Notice On Engravings For Social Pictures

This newspaper does not maintain its own engraving plant and finds it necessary to charge a fee for engravings of photographs to appear with wedding and engagement stories. There is no charge for stories; they will be published whether or not a photograph is desired.

An engagement engraving, always one column in width, will cost $3. The fees for wedding engravings will be $3 for one column or $5 for two columns.

Evening Group At Church Plans Christmas Chorale

Musical selections by a group of students at Madison High School, under the direction of John H. Bunnell, will highlight the December meeting of the Evening Group of the First Presbyterian Church, Springfield. The Presbyterian Parish House will be the setting for this special program on Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

Bunnell is music director for the local church, as well as director of the music department of Madison High School. The group of students who will perform have all taken lead parts in the various musical productions held at the Madison school. They will present a program of sacred and secular advent and Christmas music.

Traditional Scripture readings and carol singing will add to the seasonal tone of the meeting. In place of exchanging tokens gifts among themselves, the members of the Evening Group are making a contribution to a Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem, N. C., so that youngsters there will have a Christmas party.

Women To Hold Annual Program

All church women are invited to come to the assembly room of Community Presbyterian Church next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. for the annual Christmas meeting of the Women's Association and Church Circles.

The theme of the meeting, "The Meaning of Christmas," will be carried out in story, carols and readings. Music will be directed by Mrs. Arthur Olson, with her autoharp, and Mrs. Eleanor Hechle, piano accompanist. Mrs. Walter Young will lead the devotions. Mrs. Ray Hyers is chairman of the program.

New officers will be installed by the pastor, Rev. Elmer Talcott. Mrs. Robert Kubli will conduct the business meeting. The tea table will be arranged by Mrs. Henry Langheinz' circle. Each person attending is asked to bring 10 of her favorite Christmas cookies and the recipe for each one.

Overheard

By EFFIE

My neighbor remarked, "I always think November is sort of a drab month—after the beautiful foliage in October. The one thing that seems to add a bit of color to the rural landscape are the pumpkins either in the field or on the road-side stands. Now that Halloween and Thanksgiving are over we'll miss that." To which her listener added: "You forget the traffic cops and their orange gloves!"

The following conversation was overheard in a bus. One woman said, "Do you know, I surely had a break this Thanksgiving? First time in years that I hadn't a big dinner to cook. At the last moment sickness prevented my family from coming. So George and I went out." To which her companion replied, "It usually falls my lot to have our gang here. But one of the couples had a wedding to attend and the other two couples had tickets for a football game in a distant city. So instead of spending hours in the kitchen, Hal and I used the time very profitably—we addressed nearly all our Christmas cards." Some folks think that the commercial "There's nothing like a Lark" should have a few qualifications—for instance: "If one doesn't squander the pay check." "If one doesn't get drunk." "If one can still drive sanely." "If one gets home before friend wife is annoyed." (And others equally apropos.)

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

SERVE VEAL FOR VARIETY

Veal offers meat variety as well as good eating. Oftentimes it is overlooked. This year, with veal supplies more plentiful than last, is a good time to treat your family to a tasty veal dish.

What veal dishes might you serve? Veal Scallopini is currently popular and delicious. But this dish calls for cutlets, one of the more expensive choices. Veal hamburgers are liked by many. These are served more frequently in Australia and other countries. Veal Pie and Veal Goulash are flavorful, hearty dishes for cold weather. For both you can purchase either shoulder or shank. Veal chops from either the loin or shoulder make very good eating. Stuffed breast of veal uses one of the least expensive cuts when price per pound is considered. But veal breast contains a high proportion of bone and waste.

Four types of veal roasts prevalent locally.

Several different cuts aside from breast of veal are available for veal roasts. Most local markets offer leg, rump, and boned and rolled shoulder veal roasts:

The boned and rolled shoulder is easy to carve but may contain numerous seams that cause the cooked meat to "section" into pieces after slicing.

The leg roast is a meaty piece containing only a small round bone. Usually sold with bone in, this roast may at times be offered boned and rolled. Rolled leg roast has less tendency to "section" on carving than the rolled shoulder roast. The shoulder contains more bone than the leg and so must be cut more to remove the bone before the meat is rolled into a roast.

The rump contains more bone than the leg. In some stores rump is marketed attached to the leg, but in others the rump and leg are sold separately.

Veal breast contains a high proportion of bone. To form a pocket for stuffing, you may cut the roast between the bone and outer covering or ask the butcher to do this for you.

At current prices, veal roasts vary from slightly over 20 cents to slightly over 30 cents per serving, very few fresh meats cost less than 20 cents per serving. These costs are determined by dividing the retail price per pound for each type of roast by the number of servings of cooked lean meat provided by each pound as purchased. The breast of veal for example contains considerable bone and yields only two servings per pound, while the boned shoulder roast yield 3½ servings per pound. This means that you could pay three fourths more per pound for boned shoulder than for veal breast, bone in, and the cost per serving of the two roasts would still be similar.

Leg roast, bone in, yields about 2½ servings per pound and is currently a more expensive choice than either the breast or shoulder.

Deadline Announced For Coast Guard OCS

Dec. 24 is the deadline for application from college seniors and graduate students for the U. S. Coast Guard Officer Candidate School at Yorktown, Va. The class begins on Feb. 13. Coast Guard officials said qualification tests will be given at several locations, including the Third Coast Guard District, U. S. Customhouse, New York, N.Y.

ONE MILLION BLIND

"Although there are over 35,000 totally blind people in the United States, if the term 'legally blind' is applied, which means the inability to read news print with the aid of glasses, then the number of blind persons would be closer to a million," so says M. Robert Barnett, Executive Director, American Foundation for the Blind.

HOLIDAY DEADLINES

In order to have news published in time for the Christmas and New Year's holidays, particularly careful adherence to this newspaper's Friday deadline is advised for the issue of Dec. 23 and Dec. 30. All organizational and social news items should be submitted by Dec. 17 for the issue of Dec. 23 and by Dec. 24 for the issue of Dec. 30.

the grand adventure of Christmas! He trapped a fierce tiger's stripes on a fur-ish bedspread

... chased leopard and pony spots on a wild toss of pillows ... caught a raccoon for a cuddle-up coat ... unearthed an ostrich and made a handbag ... wrestled a crocodile for a pattern on boots ... wrapped an umbrella in a lizard's style ... out-foxed a fox for a big, fluffy bonnet ... took a mink's pretty tail for the cuff of a glove ... even met the wiles of a tigress in perfume! Feel adventurous? Like a safari?

Come see what our big game hunter has bagged for you—and everyone on your gift list!

McKay Has Lead In Paper Mill Play

Scott McKay has replaced Barry Nelson as Betsy Palmer's co-star in "Mary, Mary" which opens at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, Dec. 28.

Nelson relinquished the part to open on Broadway in "Cactus Flower," a new play by Abe Burrows, author of the current hit at the Paper Mill, "Guys and Dolls."

When Joan Fontaine opens at the Paper Mill in February in the British mystery "Dial M for Murder," she will wear the first Yves St. Laurent original ever on the Paper Mill stage.

Efforts are being made to move "Guys and Dolls," which closes at the Paper Mill Dec. 19, to Broadway if costs are not prohibitive. Starring in this production are Vivian Blaine and Sam Levene.

Junior Auxiliary Unit Lists Hospital Work On Agenda

The Junior Auxiliary members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Connecticut Farms Unit No. 85, Union, are actively engaged in volunteer hospital work this season, participating in unit projects and County Junior activities programs.

Mrs. Robert Wacker, junior activities chairman has reported that the members conducted their semi-monthly meeting at her home, 634 Colfax ave., Kenilworth, Friday evening. The group conducted a mass cookie-baking project, for cookies to be donated to the Senior Auxiliary for the unit's Christmas party, Tuesday.

The girls have collected 896 assorted coupons for the unit, 72 pairs of discarded nylons and nine pairs of eye glasses for various hospital projects. They donated canned goods toward the Thanksgiving Dinner basket and for the Christmas basket (to be delivered to a needy family).

Junior activities chairman Miss Eileen Walsh, and junior activities vice-chairman Miss Lynn Walck, each served 12 hours of voluntary duty at the East Orange Veterans Hospital during the month of November. Miss Walck also participated in the Veteran's Day parade in Elizabeth.

The Juniors are currently taking part in the junior activities county program, making articles to be donated to the East Orange V.A. Hospital.

The Connecticut Farms Juniors will join other groups from the county to attend the Union County Junior Activities meeting and Christmas party tomorrow at the American Legion Highway Post Home, Mrs. Robert Garguilo, county chairman, Mrs. Robert Wacker, the unit's junior activities chairman and Mrs. Calvin Walck, county auxiliary president, will accompany the juniors to the meeting.

It was announced that the club erroneously stated in a previous news release that Junior Activities treasurer Miss Laura Wacker was the recipient of a second prize winner ribbon for her stuffed "Raggedy-Ann doll" in the department of New Jersey's rally, Nov. 13 in Flemington. Miss Wacker actually won the Blue Ribbon award for a first prize entry. She also was the recipient of a gift from the department. The stuffed toys were distributed to children's hospitals.

Berlin Academy Friends Organize

Rabbi Benjamin Finkelstein, Rabbi David Freedman and Rabbi Leon Yagod, all of Irvington, are serving on the newly formed North Jersey Friends of the Rabbi Chaim Berlin Rabbinical Academy, it was announced yesterday by Rabbi Louis Weller, of Newark, general chairman.

Also serving on the organization are five laymen active in Orthodox religious endeavor, David Lechter, Irving Alper and Max Orenberg, of Irvington; and Herbert Lewis and Jay Binstok, of Union. Lechter is one of the lay co-chairmen of the Friends.

The Academy, which was named for a noted Orthodox spiritual leader and scholar, originally was established in Manhattan nearly six decades ago. Several years ago it was relocated at Far Rockaway, N.Y. In addition to a seminary for training of Orthodox rabbis, it also maintains a Jewish day school, a four-year high school and a department of post-graduate studies. It has a total enrollment of more than 1,100 pupils and students.

The North Jersey Friends, who comprise laymen and rabbis interested in Jewish education, will seek to aid the Academy through scholarship funds and other media.

Counselors Plan Area Interviews

Admissions counselors from a group of colleges will interview applicants in Newark, on Dec. 13 and 14. High school seniors and juniors may make appointments with admissions officers from one or more of the colleges.

In recent years, individuals and groups of students from both public and private schools have traveled great distances to take advantage of this opportunity for interviews, college officials said.

Parents and guidance directors may also interview as many admissions counselors as they wish. The colleges included in this cooperative plan cover a wide area of the country — Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

This plan enables prospective applicants to learn more about colleges, universities and technical schools from various parts of the country. Small, medium-sized, and large colleges are represented.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Hey, pop — how about giving me a boxing less . . . . er, skip it."

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: "I am a very worried girl. I am in the eighth grade and go to a small school. I have always been considered a pretty cute girl. I used to be very popular and could get any boy I wanted, but something has happened! I am hardly popular any more. What could I have done? Tell me what to do! Do you think boys like girls who walk right up to them and start talking? One girl does that and she seems to be pretty popular. I'm stumped!"

OUR REPLY: There is nothing wrong with a girl walking up to a boy and starting a conversation—if she knows the boy and she has something to say. What she talks about is important, because she will appear foolish if she has nothing on her mind but a lot of nonsense.

You should be able to determine for yourself why your popularity sagged. Did you become too sure of yourself? Were you haughty? Do you treat everyone you meet with consideration? Are you friendly to everyone, or do you speak only when you feel like it?

All things being equal, the most popular girl is the one who is friendly and pleasant. Rate yourself.

Hospital To Give Review Course

Newark Beth Israel Hospital will participate in a new state-wide program designed to solve the nursing shortage by giving a special free refresher course for inactive graduate professional nurses at the beginning of the new year.

The course will start Jan. 24 and will continue for eight weeks on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This state-wide program of nursing recruitment announced by Governor Richard J. Hughes is being conducted with a $300,000 federal grant under the Manpower Development and Training Act. Newark Beth Israel will receive a proportionate share of the grant, along with other participating hospitals.

There are 4,320 job vacancies for registered nurses in hospitals and related facilities, according to New Jersey Hospital Association estimates. With Medicare going into effect shortly and continued population growth, even more nurses will be needed, Association officials said.

Area Performances Planned For January

The New Jersey Symphony and the Metropolitan Opera National Company have scheduled performances in the area for January.

The Symphony, under the direction of Kenneth Schermerhorn, will give concerts in the high schools in Millburn and Montclair on Jan. 19 and 22.

Four students matinees will be included in the week of performances to be given by the Metropolitan Opera National Company at Symphony in Newark from Jan. 4 to 8. New Jersey singers appearing with the troupe are Ellen Berse, mezzo soprano from Westfield, and Vern Shinal, baritone from Fort Lee.

Memorial Program Scheduled At Hospital

Babies Unit of United Hospitals at 15 Roseville ave., Newark, will hold an open house this Sunday, noon to 2 p.m., to describe a new program—"Journey to Health through Recreation"—planned as a memorial to Dr. J. Herbert Rabinowitz, Newark pediatrician who died in 1963.

The project will include supervised group play, individual play therapy for bedridden youngsters, movies, parties and a daily "mail service." The project also may include a recreation director, additional equipment, toys and supplies, a spokesman said.

E.D.D.
Senior County Home Economist
By MARY W. ARMSTRONG
Having the prefix "Mrs." attached to your name brings many new and varied responsibilities. Not the least of these is food shopping and preparation.

One June bride recently wrote thanking an aunt for the gift of a cook book, "The way to a man's heart is definitely through his stomach and like (her husband) is no exception."
New housewives often learn by trial and error at some unnecessary cost in money and emotional stress. The past example of mothers, in some cases, provide essential know-how. Too often, however, the job held by the bride-to-be, to say nothing of her clothes, wedding plans and just having fun, occupy most of her time and thoughts before marriage.

Unfortunately, it takes a lot of experience to make the proper food selections in the market, especially of fresh produce. There are no set rules or easy-to-learn instructions for the uninitiated. But shopping for fruits and vegetables can be fun, especially in the summertime.

In buying fresh fruits and vegetables, the customer should always ask herself "Is this the best for me and for what I want to use it?" If not, it is not a good buy no matter how cheap it is. Generally speaking, the excessive waste in preparation and inferior taste of wilted, immature, overripe or deteriorated products make the best quality actually your best buy.
For example, bananas may sell for only five cents a pound, but if they aren't eaten within a day or two, they aren't worth anything.
A low price, however, might mean that there is a lot of this item available. Look for items in season and for fruits and vegetables that are grown locally. With no shipping charges, these should be less expensive.
But don't buy more than what is needed, or more than can be stored. A waste of food is also a waste of money.
Union County is well situated in regard to produce supplies because of the availability of fruits and vegetables grown in the Garden State. South Jersey products, which are ready for the market one to two days ear-

Cherry Nut Round Bread Good Eating At Christmas

By ANNE L. SHEELEN
County Home Economist
Time-saving to mix and convenient to bake is the theme for this festive Cherry-Nut Round Bread.

Taking advantage of your electric mixer and the recently introduced instant blending flour results in a delightful Christmas bread that takes only about one minute to beat.

Convenience in baking results from using emptied No. 303 cans, rather than a traditional bread pan. Using this method, the bread will be evenly shaped with attractive round slices when it is cut.

Serve this bread as a glamorous touch to holiday meals and entertaining. It can also be attractively wrapped and given as a gift to the person who has everything.

Your freezer can also come to your rescue with the preparation of this bread if you anticipate a heavy schedule right before the holidays. Simply prepare and bake the bread as it is stated in the recipe, cool it thoroughly, and securely wrap it in freezer wrap.

can for freezing, but you will have to loosen the sides of the cake with a thin knife when you remove it from the can after it is frozen.

- Cherry Nut Round Bread
2 cups instant blending flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup drained maraschino cherries
2 eggs
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup chopped nuts

Grease three No. 303 cans. In large mixer bowl, combine all ingredients except nuts and cherries. Blend 20 seconds at lowest speed of mixer. Beat 1 minute at low speed. Stir in nuts and cherries. Spoon into cans. Bake at 350 degree F. for 40 to 45 minutes. Cool 10 minutes.

Remove from cans. Cool on wire rack. If you like, frost with confectioners sugar glaze and decorate with nuts and cherries.
Yield: Three round loaves.

Sewing Holiday Outfits Can Give Satisfaction

Special occasions call for festive outfits. Home sewers can fashion elegant outfits from lace, velvet, or brocades at a minimum of cost and maximum satisfaction, notes Carolyn F. Yuknus, county home economist.

The first step for any elegant fabric is to select only the simplest of patterns with few construction detail in the design.

Both lace and brocade require matching the design so a little extra time is required in cutting out the pattern. All three fabrics, mentioned above, have a one-way direction, and all pattern pieces must be laid in the same direction to prevent shading.

Velvet has the most noticeable direction in its nap. If the pattern is cut with the nap running up toward the face, the true color will be evident. If the nap is reversed, the color will have a grayed appearance.

For lace fabrics an underlining, lining, or slip, must be considered as part of the total outfit. Of the three possible additional materials to use under lace, an underlining is perhaps the best. This technique requires that the major pattern pieces be also cut from taffeta or other suitable underlining material.

Matching pieces of underlining and lace are stay-stitched together and treated as one piece of fabric. This eliminates the problem of seam finishes that will show through the lace.

The facings for lace can be of tulle to avoid distorting the lace design in the collar or down the front opening. While facings for velvet or heavy brocade should be of a lighter weight material, such as taffeta, to avoid excessive bulk.

Machine made buttonholes are perhaps the easiest and most successful for any of these materials. Although closures of snaps or loops may be considered for a dressier look.

Velvet may pose some problems in stitching. Test stitch a double thickness of a scrap of material first to make certain the stitching line will not look puckered. Hold the stitching line slightly taut as you stitch to improve the appearance.

HOME OF THE WEEK:

Cedar Ridge At Washington Valley Scene Of Historical Encampment

Ranch model at Cedar Ridge at Washington Valley. Homes are built on deeply wooded lots and are priced from $23,500.

During the American Revolution, General Washington's army spent two winters secure in a peaceful valley nestled among the gentle hills of Somerset County. In the past decade, Somerset's Washington Valley has been the scene of considerable homebuilding activity. The confluence of two major interstate highways nearby and the relocation of many nationally-known firms in the area are the chief reasons for its growth and popularity.

Bridgewater Township, in which the valley and its surrounding hills are located, has a history going back to colonial times. Today it has become a residential community, which in the near future will be only a half hour's drive to the New York Metropolitan area. Despite its growth pattern: the valley still maintains all of its former rural peace and beauty.

Situated on the valley's southern slope is Cedar Ridge at Washington Valley Estates. Here are deeply wooded lots with homes spaciouly set among the trees. Now in its fourth section, Cedar Ridge features five models all in Colonial architecture, and priced from $23,500. Buyers may choose from 16 variations of the five basic models. All homes are built on 1/4 acre lots with 100 foot frontage.

Watchung Hills Realty Associates, sales agents for Cedar Ridge, report Section IV is 25% sold and some 28 lots still available in Section III. Brisk sales activity has been attributed to "convenient yet 'in the country' location and exceptional Bridgewater schools". The community is within 1 1/2 miles of access to Route 287 and Route 78, now under construction.

Currently shown at Cedar Ridge at Washington Valley are the "Somerset" ranch, the "Washington" bi-level, the "Saratoga" split-ranch, and the "Williamsburg" 2-story Colonial. The latter three models all feature four bedrooms. In addition, a new U-shaped ranch has recently been introduced with three extra-large-sized bedrooms.

Builders are Somerset Valley Estates, Inc. who have been active in the area for many years.

Driver Receives Two Summonses In Mountainside

Angel Alvarez of Bound Brook is scheduled to appear in Mountainside's Municipal Court next Wednesday night to answer charges of careless driving and driving while on the revoked list.

Patrolman Joseph Mazur issued the summonses to Alvarez last Friday after the Bound Brook man struck a utility pole on the westbound lane of Rt. 22.

Alvarez told police someone had cut him off causing him to lose control of his car. Alvarez was taken to Overlook Hospital with head and facial injuries. He was released the next day. Teodosio M. Rosario of Hartford, Conn., a passenger in Alvarez's vehicle, suffered bruises on both knees.

Cadettes Selling Holiday Cookies

The Girl Scouts of Cadette Troop 46 of Mountainside will sell homemade Christmas cookies this Saturday at the J. & M. Market in the borough's business center. The Scouts have been busy for some time baking and decorating the holiday goodies. They will also offer tins of candy for sale.

The cookie and candy sale is one of several fund-raising projects the Cadettes are carrying out this year to help finance a bus trip to Washington, D. C., in the spring.

Mrs. Henry Tonigan of 1499 Fox trail and Mrs. Leonard Farrell of 1170 Foothill way are troop leaders.

Cadettes in Troop 424 are planning to make Christmas wreaths and corsages as part of their fund-raising projects for the trip to the national capital.

Mrs. William Shalleross of 301 Old Tote rd. and Mrs. L. N. Parent of 1467 Woodacres dr. are leaders of this troop.

Five Records Set In Bowling League

Mountainside Luncheonette was swept out of first place in the Men's Bowling League last week, a spot it has held all season, by the Blivise Liqueur team in a hot session during which five new records were set for the season.

Paul Meade of the Blivise team set a new high individual series gross mark by rolling a lousy 737. Paul had a net series of 599 including a 231 game and sparked his team to the sweep victory over Luncheonette. Blivise also set a new team series mark for the year with a 3132 total.

Two new records were set by Howard Gillespie of the Westfield National Bank with a 268 net game and a 300 gross. The fifth new mark was made by Air-Con, Inc., last year's champs, who came up with a 1137 team game for their only win of the night against Benninger-Tansey.

NEW ORGAN MAKES DEBUT

Christmas Concert Set At High School

The stereophonic, electronic organ, installed recently in the auditorium of Governor Livingston Regional High School, will be used for the first time publicly next Thursday night at the sixth annual Christmas Concert of the school in Berkeley Heights. Curtain time is 8:15.

The concert, which will present the four vocal groups of the school, will be directed by Albert Dorhout, new vocal music instructor at the school. Anna Stewart will play the organ and Gail Schefelbein will provide the piano accompaniment.

The four ensembles, the Chorale, the Festival Choir, the Concert Choir and the Beginners' Chorus, will join in two numbers, "Gloria" by Antonio Vivaldi and "Alleluia" from the Mount of Olives.

The Chorale, the top vocal group in the school, will sing "Ave Maria" by Tomas Louis D. Victoria, "How Unto Bethlehem," a traditional Christmas spiritual, and "Ya Vien Laveia," a traditional Spanish spiritual.

Members of the alumni of the regional high school, who usually attend the Christmas concert in large numbers, will be invited to go up on the stage to join the choir in singing the benediction at the close of the program. This participation of the alumni is a tradition at the Christmas concert.

Adult and student tickets are now on sale at the school. They may also be obtained at the door on the night of the concert.

The affair, sponsored by Mountainside's Recreation Committee, is open to all borough children of that age group. Festivities will begin at 8 p.m. and run until 10:30 p.m.

"The Villagers" includes Craig Marks on the lead guitar, Dennis Ryan, drummer, Al Rodee, organ, Mac Ramsey, guitar, and Rick Hutchison, vocalist. The boys, all 14 years old, are now freshmen in Governor Livingston Regional High School.

Soccer Team Closes Season With 7 Wins, 1 Loss, 2 Ties

The soccer team of Deerfield School, Mountainside, wound up the season recently with a 1-0 victory over Watchung Hills. The victory raised the borough team's record to seven wins, two ties and one defeat.

Highlights of the season, according to Coaches Oliver Deane and Kit Carson, were the 1-0 victory over Cranford and a 2-2 tie with Ho-Ho-Kus. The only loss was to Garwood, a 3-2 defeat that came just a week after Deerfield had trounced the same Garwood team 4-0.

Captain Doug Rau, the only starter from last year's undefeated team, scored seven goals during this season. Rau, who played an inside right last year, filled the center forward position this year. Dick Doeringer, a speedy outside right, and Bill Ruff, outside left, scored three goals each.

Other players who distinguished themselves during the season are Mike Spain, center halfback, Ken Kakol, right halfback, the smallest player on the team and the strongest kicker, and Guy Groves, the goalie.

Ninety-eight boys, more than one-third the male population of the school, turned out for the first day of soccer practice early in September. After two weeks of drill and fundamentals the coaches picked a squad of 30 boys for the school team. The others were put into an intramural program directed by Coach Fred Moebus.
