AN OUTLINE OF
CONCENTRATION IN THE SUPPLY OF CLASSICAL RECORDS

Introduction

The degree of concentration in the supply of recorded music is much greater than is indicated by the variety of record labels (see page 908). The fact that two of the principal suppliers, Polydor (Deutsche Grammophon) and Phonogram (Philips) are under the same ultimate ownership increases the effective concentration still further. Ownership by major record producers of specialist outlets throughout the United Kingdom is a further factor influencing power in the market place.

The Polygram subsidiaries

Records sold under the Philips and Deutsche Grammophon labels (and associated labels indicated on page 859) are produced by subsidiaries of the Polygram group, incorporated in Western Germany. Polygram GMBH is jointly owned (50% each) by Siemens AG of Germany and Philips Gloeilampenfabrieken NV of Holland. Both partners are major multinational companies in the supply of electrical and electronic equipment.

Total sales of the Polygram group in the world as a whole amounted to about £400 millions in 1976; this total included popular music recordings as well as sheet music, television films and video cassettes. Details of sales in the United Kingdom are not available at the time of the writing of this report.

An associated company of the Polygram group (via its investments in Capella B.V. of Holland) is Chappell and Company Ltd. This firm distributes sheet music and, both in its own name and via a number of subsidiaries is a specialist retailer of gramophone records.

E.M.I. Ltd.

This is a British based company with interests in electronics and radio equipment; a wide range of leisure activities and commercial television as well as records, tapes and sheet music. In the year ended 30th July 1977, sales of music (including records and tapes) amounted to £430 millions, 51 per cent of total company sales turnover.

EMI is a multinational company - only about one-third of group sales are from United Kingdom activities. EMI companies have 230 retail outlets (in various countries) selling mainly records and tapes. In some provincial towns in the United Kingdom, the EMI outlet (usually the HMV Record Shop) is one of the main sources of classical records.

Decca Ltd.

This is a much smaller company with 1976 sales of records, tapes and reproducing equipment of around £85,000. The firm is also a leading producer of navigational aids, radar and associated electronic equipment. About 60 per cent of sales of recorded music are within the United Kingdom.

Decca has financial participation in Teldec Telefunken-Decca Schallplatten GMBH (Germany). Records produced by Telefunken are imported into the United Kingdom and distributed by Decca with reciprocal arrangements in other European countries.

Market shares

None of the principal companies publishes data from which shares of the classical record market can be derived. Even the value of total record sales is generally combined with those for sales of sheet music, tapes and even reproducing equipment. Attempts to secure a more detailed breakdown of sales do not lie within the terms of reference of this survey but, in the absence of such a breakdown, we do not propose to estimate shares of the total record market, or for classical records. For certain individual works, we have derived estimates of market share in the course of our own survey of retail outlets. These appear in Part A of this report.

In 1970 the Commission initiated a research programme on the evolution of concentration and competition in several sectors and markets of manufacturing industries in the different Member States (textiles, paper, pharmaceutical and photographic products, cycles and motorcycles, agricultural machinery, office machinery, textile machinery, civil engineering equipment, hoisting and handling equipment, electronic and audio equipment, radio and television receivers, domestic electrical appliances, food and drink manufacturing industries).

The aims, criteria and principal results of this research are set out in the following documents:

- 1) "Methodology of concentration analysis applied to the study of industries and markets", by Dr. Remo LINDA, (ref. 8756), (English version), September 1976.
- 2) "A study of the concentration price and mark ups in the distribution of food products: Volume 1: General Approach and Methodology for the Analysis of Price Structures" by Dr. Remo LINDA, December 1978 — Evolution of Concentration and Competition Series 1978, No. A/24.

This particular volume constitutes a part of the second series of studies, the main aim of which is to present the results of the research on the evolution of prices and margins for the classical records for the United Kingdom.

Similar volumes concerning the structures of the distributive systems and the evolution of prices and mark ups have been established also for the other Member States.
