Lieut. O. F. Heslar, George B. Kumpf and party caught a dozen weak fish that averaged eight pounds.

Paul Rider and James Horner found a school of blue fish late yesterday afternoon and landed about 25 weighing 5 and 6 pounds each and a 35 pound channel bass.

Capt. Ernest Smith had 21 weak fish in his catch yesterday that tipped the scales at 108 pounds.

Other big strings have been brought in and anglers are enjoying the sport every day. The fish was found to be unfit for consumption after having been held in storage more than a year. AKEHURST TO BE BASE FOR

From what little can be picked up is understood that Lakehurst is to be the operating base of the navy's fleet of huge dirigible ballons, or blimps, which it is purposed to build at once. The reports further state that ten of the enormous ballons, are to be built in the next five years, if Congress can be coaxed into suplying the money, as they will cost at least a million and a half each.

The following, from the New York Evening Journal, will be of interest: Ten rigid dirigibles, none smalle than the gigantic British ship R-34, will be built for the Naval Air Service before 1925, according to an announcement just made by the Navy Department. These airships are i addition to the non-rigid and semirigid ships, and an equally compreensive building program for other lighter than air craft, including kite tion, will incorporate such improve ments as the trans-Atlantic flight of the R-34 suggested, as well as a number of advanced ideas originating with the Bureau of Construction of

Matrimonial Adventure of an Arkansas Traveler

FOT SPRINGS, ARK.—This city is taking on airs over the wedding of Lieut. Learning of Lieut.

The lieutenant and his fiancee were naturally considerably perplexed, not knowing any one in Edinburgh. Then Lieutenant Hiles conceived the brilliant idea of bribing two hotel porters to swear they had been living in Scotland 21 days, and the first marriage was performed. The lieutenant and Mrs. Hiles prepared to return to America, and even got as far as a steame but in the meantime the trivial matter of bribery had been discovered and stern officers of the law arrested Hiles and his wife on the boat and dragged him back to Edinburgh, where he was sentenced to a month's imprisonment. The marriage was declared null and void.

But the friends of the two got busy, and even the smug tory London paper, the Globe, printed a stinging leader declaring that the action of the Edinburgh authorities was insulting and a blot on the fair page of Anglo-American Washington.-Ecce homo! Behold, the bureau from an army camp, and the man!

"Get me this man's name so that I can report definitely on the status of his insurance."

That, together with a slip bearing the memo, "James Hall, (3,721,505) McCall, South Carolina. Beneficiaries: Mrs. Ella Stalks (wife), Mrs. Fannie Stalks (mother)," was handed to a file searcher in the bureau of war risk insurance.

The man's name was given as Hall, while those of his wife and his mothe were given as Stalks, Patently, what was wrong, however, was not so the error was, was the Job.

Finding the error somebody else made is always the job of the war risk index file searchers, and it's a tough job if they fail to get at the

This, clearly, was a case for the use of that specially nimble wit and fine deductive faculty which has character ized much of the work of the search, ers of the index mes, and given them a process of procedure which might be used to add a leaf to the book of the Burnses, the Pinkertons and the Flynns, "Well," remarked the girl charged

And sure enough, it turned out that his name was "some kind of a Stalk." Cabbage stalks, in fact, and his index card was duly changed to read:

"James Cabbagestalks, (3.721,505) McCall, South Carolina; beneficiaries Mrs, Ella Cabbagestalks (wife), Mrs. Fannie Cabbagestalks (mother).

the letter with instructions to secure the man's policy number that certain information requested as to the stand-ing of his insurance might be furnished him. The name of Divis Spruce could not be found in the files. Then came the time for imagination and deduction. No matter how the name was split to make some other plausible name, the files could not produce results. Finally the young woman decided o address a letter to the man at Hastings, Pa., requesting him to furnish information about himself. In due time the letter was returned to the bureau as unclaimed. This did not put an end to the search by any means. Imagination and deduction again were brought into the case, and a further study of the original letter was made.

Divis Spruce, Spruce Division. Of course! The Spruce Division! The Spruce division was a part of the American army.

Miss Blue Sweater secured a roster of the Spruce division from the war department and searched through the nearly 40,000 names for a man who lived at Hastings, Pa.

In this she was rewarded. The list fil of the bureau is far greater than showed only one man from that town. He was Herman Miller. With this information the young woman had no difficulty in finding the card of Herman Miller, (policy number 1,877,155; serial number 866,255) of Hastings, Pa. This man was furnished the information he desired, and in thanking the bureau he admitted he had forgotten to sign his name to the letter.

Searchers From All Sections. Girls from every part of the country are employed as searchers. If a complex case arises involving a man's identification, and his home is in Maine, a girl from that state is assigned to run down the mystery and she near ly always does. There is never a season when some form of the graceful and generally becoming tam is not in vogue and this will be the case this season as in all wash fabrics have been made to serve others. There is one style especially attractive, a between-seasons tam on new lines and interestingly developed, of taffeta and soutache braid in two colors, to say nothing of an effective feature trimming that lends the last note of smart fashion to this timeestablished model.

One excellent quality of the tam shapes is that almost every woman can wear one, all young girls can and most women of more mature years, provided they select the right model. Strikingly unusual is a hat of velert with trimming of glycerin ostrich in a sort of shower effect over the upturned brim. This may seem an exreme model, not so much in shape as in this arrangement of a popular trimming. And while not every woman can wear this hat or want to never theless it portrays a certain new and interesting feature of autumn millinery that you should be glad to note.

The shops are really alluring in their display of overblouses in fabrics and styles suitable for summer wear. It is perhaps an interesting thing that so admirably for these blouses-fo there was a time when it seemed that only chiffon and georgette and soft repe would do for them.

But now linen, organdie, batiste, ratine-lots of ratine, too, which is another of those interesting evidences of a return to favor of a fabric or style that has seemingly gone by-all these and other summer fabrics, heavy, homespun, crashlike-looking things, are sed for the overblouse.

One thing that marks many of the louses is little tassels and hanging buttons and fringe. There are all sorts of these pendant decorations, from sleeve ends and hems and just hanging down from any other part of the blouse itself.

Hagaman Should Be Supported

state began to return to a peace basis, and is from the New Jersey Courier: and folks turned their thoughts from war to the questions that concerned them at home, the Bencon, seeking to be of service to the people in this section of Ocean County became inter-ested in the matter of representation at Trenton in the next legislature. I had this in mind long before a candidate for any office was in the field.

This being my home town, and hav-ing spent my life here, I feel that I some extent acquainted with the people in this section-know some thing of their trials and difficulties their joys and sorrows, have seen and ne acquainted with many of their hardships and struggles under the burden of unnecessary odds and unjust laws, more particularly the baymen, gunners and fishermen—the men who depend on the bay and their daily wage for support.
With the knowledge that one of the best means of getting a square deal for the home folks is good representation at Trenton, and that Ocean County requires particularly strong men men of ability and bull dog tenacity to get things done, I started to closely observe conditions and watch for a man of this caliber who would consent to enter the maelstrom of Ocean County politics in the race for Senator at the Primaries on September 23d with the interests of the people uppermost in his mind.

After many trips thruout the county and at Trenton last winter, after careful inquiry among leading men from nearly every town, I was thoroughly convinced that Assemblyman Harry T. Hagaman was the man for the job. This fact was brought forcibly before the people by his excellent record at nton during his three terms in the House of Assembly, especially the past year when he blocked the efforts of the Fish and Game Commission to put thru several laws that were detrimental to the people in this end of the county.

My decision was made after careful consideration of all Uncerned and the only excuse is taking an active interest in this fight was that it might be of braefit to the people along the

During Mr. Hagaman's administra-tion in the Assembly he has taken an active interest in the gunners, baymen, farmers and fishermen and has fought valiantly for their interests and thru his excellent ability to carry to a finish that which he undertakes he has won the admiration of men thruout the entire state.

In forming conclusions as to Mr. Hagaman's qualifications as a representative as a Senator, among other numerous favorable opinions, I have the testimony of a Tuckertonian who watched every move that he made in the Assembly last winter, one who was in a position and did attend every session of the Legislature, and witnessed his work and failed to find a single instance where he lost a fight that he attempted for the people this end of the county.

It might be said here that Mr. Hagaman put forth unusual effort to find out what was needed in every section of the county and in his endeavor to look after the people's interests, his work has carried him to Washington, Canada and to numerous meetings and inspection trips all over the coun-his career is the fact that he has always consulted the people on matters of interest to them, believing this to be a better course than to always be advised by "professional politicians." During his last term in the Legislature, his work not only attracted the attention and won the admiration of his colleagues and men of affairs, but brought forth many favorable comments from the press. In referring to his work the Philadelphia Record of April 17, said:

Mr. Hagaman has been one of the most capable and industrious members of the Assembly, win-ning a number of noteworthy battles against heavy odds. The Pleasantville Press, of which

Assemblyman Bertram E. Whitman, who served in the Legislature with Mr. Hagaman, is connected, in its issue of April 26, has the following to

Among the early entrants for political honors at the coming Fall election, we note that Hon. Harry T. Hagaman, of Lakewood, who has so ably represented Ocean County in the House of Assembly for the past three years, is a candidate to represent that County in the State Senate. We have had the pleasure of Mr. Hagaman's acquaintance for the past eight years, and thru our business dealings with him and later more intimate acquaintance thru close association in the legislative halls of Trenton, we have found him to be every inch a gentleman and scholar. He holds the distinction of being one of the best and most conscientious workers for his County and State that has represented the County of Ocean in the legislative halls at Trenton within the present generation. That Mr. Hagaman's service to his party, to his county and to his State will be rewarded by his elevation to the upper house seems a foregone conclusion, for Ocean has a habit of recognizing merit and faithfulness upon the part of those whom it chooses as public servants.

Mr. Hagaman's work in its issue April 26, said:

April 26, asid:

Editor Harry T. Hagaman, of the Lakewood Citizen, has announced his candidacy for the State Senate, on the Republican ticket, at the coming September election. Mr. Hagaman has served the County of Ocean as an Assemblyman for the past three sessions, and his record in the lower house of the legislature has been one of a constructive nature. He is recognized as one of the State's leading law-makers, his untiring efforts in the interest of his county and State having won for him the esteem of all parties. To elevate him to the Senate would only be recognizing the merit of the man, and we believe that the voters of Ocean County will reward this faithful servant of the people.

The following comes from his home county and is the opinion of a news

Soon after the war closed and the paper man from the town in which affairs of the community, county and Mr. Hagaman was born—Toms River

He is a successful business man, succeeding in a field where there are five failures to every one success. Too often we elect, men to do the public business who have made failures of their own, out of sympathy for them. The man who can start with his own savings, and no outside help, and make a go of a newspaper as Mr. Hagaman has, surely has the qualities that Ocean county wants in the legislature.

He is an Ocean county man, born of its soil, and knows its people. His ancestors on both sides have resided in the county for two centuries. Too often we send to the legislature ambitious men who have just moved in among us, and with all regard for their ability in other lines, without the intimate knowledge of people and conditions that a legislator should have for his county.

He is not unschooled in politics. As a boy, his father was a township official and he worked on a countyseat newspaper from the age of 15. His father was made Sheriff before he was of age, and shortly after he was himself in the newspaper game in Lakewood. A man who knows men and the political game is needed in the legislature every time.

He is a graduate of the university of hard knocks—the only university whose scholars are worth their salt. What he knows, he has gained in the world's hard school of practical everyday life. And, if he left school at fifteen to start life on a country newspaper, he is now, thirty years afterward, better equipped to grapple with everyday problems, than the average university graduate would be were he to live to be a hundred.

He is a fighter; he has tenacity as well as pugnacity; and what he wants he goes after hard, and keeps on going after till he gets it. That is what a man must have to succeed in Trenton. It means, of course, that he has enemies, as every fighter has, but even an enemy has respect for a man who fights hard, and fights source.

He is a ready, but earnest, talker, can think on his feet, deade torcibly, and make an impressive speech. Ocean County is not often represented in either house by a man who can make himself heard and felt on the floor.

A man who is well acquainted with Ocean County politica and has been in many of its political battles and now associated in National affairs said of Mr. Hagaman, when questioned by a representative of the Beacon:

He has been one of the best years. Having known Mr. Hagaman for a imber of years and with the above information obtained, I am convinced that he should and justly deserves to be sent to the Senate. He only consented to become a candidate bivalves will be ample to satisfy after the earnest solicitation of desires of every one until the e men from every section of the of the season on April 30. county, his record is a satisfactory ecommendation for advancement and why should he not be given the oppor-tunity in this, the first time he has

If we, the people of Ocean County, expect to support good men for office and start them in on the lower rungs of the ladder, watch them become a success in their efforts, and at the time of a deserved advancement, retire them, where will it lead to?

As I have said before my only excuse for supporting Mr. Hagaman, is that I believe it is for the best interest of all concerned, and with these facts laid before the concerned and with these facts laid before the people it is for them to decide.

Gives Greatest Value at Lowest Cost Make Your Own Comparison

BIGGER—BETTER—MORE POWER—concisely describes the 1919 Velic Six. Bodies have been enlarged and made more comfortable. The chassis has been bettered by the use of improved Timken axles and disc clutch. The Red Scal Continental motor gives more power with even greater efficiency and economy than that enjoyed heretofore.

But entirely apart from the superior mechanical features are found qualities totally unexpected in a car at such a price. A grace of line and curve, and a wealth of refinement in those little details which please and satisfy, and which experience only can produce.

The Model 38 Touring Car is strikingly different in appearance. The radiator is higher and deeper, with the hoodline almost horizontal back to the sloping shield, while the roll of the body sides continues unbroken from the rounded nose of the radiator to the rise of the back seat. Square doors of unusual dimension further emphasize the straightline effect.

Both front and rear seat backs are higher and more deeply cushioned. The seats themselves tilt comfortably and are upholstered throughout with real leather over curled hair in French-plaited effect. The extreme width of the cushion, always so desirable, is fully retained.

The windshield is made rainproof by overlapping glass. The top is lower, of Drednaut waterproof material bound with nickel moulding, and provided with curtains and brackets which readily attach to and open the doors. There is a plate-glass window in the rear curtain...The side curtains are stored in an envelope overhead.

The rigid oak framework and heavy steel panels of the Velie body is well worthy of the mirror" finish placed upon it. Forty days of handwork and the best of paint and varnish are required to produce the lustre for which Velie cars are famous. Careful comparison will reveal the painstaking effort which has entered into the creation of the new Six.

In fact, the Velie manufacturing experience of half a century has found greatest expression in the Model 38.

Ask for a demonstration. Let your Velie dealer prove to your own satisfaction the better values found in the Velie Six. Have him show you its power, its flexibility and speed. Try it out for genuine comfort, for easy riding and simple control. You can but agree after actual comparison that the Velie Six gives greatest values at lowest cost.

Don't Overlor

Now it is asking: "Why not a na-tional park right here, instead of half way across the continent?" For there is not a scenic national park worthy of the name between Rocky Mountain :n Colorado and Lafalyette on the coast of Maine.

So Indiana, Illinois and Michigan want a national park, and they have picked out the dunes as the right place for it.

How they are going to bring about its establishment is a big question. The proposed park area is all under private ownership and is held at spec ulative prices on the chance of a second Gary being built at the head of Lake Michigan. Even at actual values it would cost about $2,500,000 to buy the 13,000 acres most desirable for park pur-The scenic parks of the West were taken from the national forests and the public domain by congress.' To date there is no precedent for the appropriation by congress of funds to purchase a national park area. Lafayette was presented to the government for national park purposes by the owners of the property.

Congress has no national park policy. It dillylallies with national parks as it does with most other things. It is now generous with appropriaand again niggardly; for instance, it gave Zellowstone $334,000 and Yosemite $255,000 in 1219 and kept Rocky Mountain, with twice as 72any visitors as both parks, down to $10,000. Politics enters largely into all national park legislation. In the Sixty-fourth congress the interior department supported the bill to enlarge Yellow-stone and the bill to add to Sequola and change its name to Roosevelt. The agricultural department, because the proposed additions would be taken from national forests, and therefore from its control, opposed both bills, beating the former in the senate and the latter in the house. So there is no telling what congress will or will not do in the matter of national park legislation. Can congress be induced to appropriate money for the purchase of private holdings for national park purposes?

This question has been put squarely up to gress by two bills introduced at this session. One calls for the appropriation of a million dollars or so for the purchase of Mammoth cave, Kentucky, and its environs for a national park. The other provides for the establishment of the Mississippi Valley National park on both sides of the Mississippi in southwestern Wisconsin and northeastern Iowa. Here the two states own the land under the river, the federal government controls its navigation, part of the proposed area is a Wisconsin state park, some of the land will be donated and the land to be purchased by the government has been appraised at a very moderate price.

Can congress condemn private holdings for na-Nobody seems to know. Most lawyers would say off-hand that the state of Indiana can condemn the dunes for state park purposes. And presumably the state of Indiana could transfer the land to the federal government. The national park service has been looking into the question of condemnation. It is advised that the government car condemn private holdings inside of national park boundaries-in fact, a bill is pending to condemy 160 acres in General Grant National park which the owner will not sell for a reasonable price. As to the condemnation of patented land outside of a national park the national park service is ver Condemnation of the dunes has been advocated by private individuals and by the press The creation of Lafayette National park has established this precedent: The federal government will accept suitable land presented to it for national park purposes. So, while other questions are being thrashed out, the Indiana, Illinois and Michigan tederations of the General Federation of Women's Clubs are engaged in a campaign to raise sufficient money by subscription to purchase the dunes and present them to the government for

TAKE MICHIGAN DESTROYER AND BUILDER

There is no question that the Indiana dunes are worthy of national park honors. October 30, 1916, a public hearing was held in Chicago by the interior department in pursuance of a senate resolu-tion. In September, 1917, a printed report by Director Stephen T. Mather of the nation service was issued. This report eliminated from consideration all of the dune country except a strip along the shore of Lake Michigan about a mile deep between Miller's in Lake county and Michigan City. After describing the dunes with considerable enthusiasm, Director Mather says

"Assuming, without further description of actual conditions in this dune country, that the sand dunes of Indiana are equal to those in any other section of the country; that they are the most accessible dunes; that they possess extremely interesting flora and fauna; that they offer unparalleled opportunities to observe the action of the wind and its influence on the sand and plant life; that the Lake Michigan beach is beautiful and offers bathing facilities for a multitude; that the recrea tional uses of the region are myriad, should they, or a large section of them, be preserved for present and future generations? If they should be preserved, are they worthy of inclusion in a national park? And if they are worthy of consideration as a possible national park, would it be practicable establish them as such a park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people?"

He answers the first two questions emphatically in the affirmative. He says this region should be preserved to the people for all time and that it is worthy of national park honors. As to the third question, he thinks it one of legislative policy to be determined by congress, inasmuch as the dunes are not public lands, and private lands have never been purchased for national park purposes thinks the park should contain from 9,000 to 13,000 ncres, extending 15 or 20 miles along the lake. He finds that options secured by speculators vary between $350 and $600 an acre, with one tract of 2,300 acres held at $1,000 an acre.

"Manifestly," says Mr. Mather, "none of these lands are actually worth $350 an acre at this time. A figure less than $200 an acre probably represents the actual value of the average tract of land not under the influence of urban values, due to prox-imity to cities. Practically all of the larger holdings must be purchased in their entirety. I believe that 9,000 to 13,000 acres of dune lands can probably be secured for park purposes for approximately $200 an acre. The purchase price of a park of size suggested would therefore be between $1,800,000 and $2,600,000."

The proposed Dune National park is really a wonderful place. In the first place, the dunes are an uninhabited wilderness. The fact that there is an uninhabited wilderness within a few miles of the center of population—in 1910 at Bloomington, Ind.—and at the very doors of Chicago, the second city of the nation and the fourth city of the world is in itself a marvel. Incidentally, the dunes are within a few hours by rail and automobile of 20 000,000 people. This makes them unique as a pub-

Again: The dunes are a different world from the monotonous flatness of the Chicago plain. They are a country of hills and bluffs, gullies and There are all sorts of interesting variations: Little lakes, streams, bogs, meadows, bluffs above the beach are imposing. The beach itself is a wonder-broad, smooth, clean. free from gradually into deep water. There is probably no finer freshwater bathing beach in the world. Don't think of the dunes as heaps of bare sand in a desert. They are exactly the reverse. They have water, trees, shrubs, vines, flowers, grass, birds and small wild animal life. The truth is that the dunes are a great natural propagating garden with a most astonishing array of trees and plants and flowers. This garden is packed full of flora from the Lake Superior region, the Atlantic coast, the middle South and the western prairie. seems to have almost everything in the plant line from cactus to cranberries and from pines to tulip trees. A list of only the most characteristic and rocks and stones and quicksands, sloping very important plant species numbers 208.

To the ordinary visitor probably the spectacle of the "walking dunes" is the most interesting. Here he sees land in the making. Here today is a towering dune crowned with flowers and plants and trees; tomorrow it is gone and where it was is great blow-out of glistening sand, with its steep ides strewn with dead trunks exhumed from an ancient graveyard of a previous forest. Today there is a deep gash in the bluff; tomorrow its place is taken by a very lofty heap of white sand that has come up, grain by grain, out of the lake, on which grasses and plants and shrubs and treelets are already struggling for a foothold. Today stands a forest on the edge of a shallow pond; tomorrow it is a cemetery, with even the tops covered by sand marching in from the beach.

The accompanying map and diagram shows whose the material that builds the dunes is coming from and how it gets there. Lake Michigan has been taking material from the west shore and depositing it at the dunes for a period reckoned at about 5,000 years. Previous to this period the club is really very old you snails will level of the lake was 50 or 60 feet higher than now know all the rules and regulations and the discharge was toward the Mississippi at which Lionel and myself and our fama point near where now are the dunes. When the liles now know. But you'll be good ice-gorge or glacer which prevented the discharge of water into the St. Lawrence was removed and the lake drained into the Atlantic instead of the gulf, the level dropped, the present lake currents set in and the building of the dunes was begun.

Public land surveys made in 1835 and soundings of Lake Michigan furnish the data for these estimates: During the last 5,000 years the water of the lake have washed away about 500 square miles of land from the shore extending from th Indiana state line northward into Wisconsin. Where this land was is now water from 30 to 60 feet deep. The old shore line extends out from three to nine miles; then there is an abrupt drop of several hundred feet.

This is an unparalleled erosion; it is accounted for by the softness of the shore, which is largely composed of material that was ground very fir by the glaciers that deposited it. It is estimated that 7,000,000 tons of soil is taken yearly by the from the shore north of Chicago. So there is plenty of material for building operations at the dunes.

These facts suggest this interesting question

What will happen to the dunes when the supply of building material stops?

And stop it will, and that comparatively soon For the shore north of Chicago will in a few years pretty solidly settled by people who have money to spend to prevent further erosion of the shore In fact, erosion has already been stopped over long stretches, and in many places the shore has been built out. The time is coming when the west shore will be protected from erosion by piers and breakwaters. The supply of building material for the dunes will presumably stop. Perhaps then the dunes will stop "walking."

Let us hope that long before that time the Dunes National park will be a people's playground, dedicated to public recreation forever,

Monuments, Headstones and Markers Finished and Ready To Letter and Erect Immediately

Now is the opportunity to purchase a cemetery memorial. We have over 500 completed monuments, headstones, markers, corner costs, etc., in our wareroom and show yards in Camden and Pleasant-ville, the largest and the finest stock we ever carried. We manufactured these goods prior to the present advance in price of material and labor and are selling them much less in price than we can manufacture them to-day and because of this these goods are being sold rapidly. Call at our yards in Pleasantville or Camden and make your

We are equipped with every labor-saving device to letter and contemporary. We have the electric crane, surface-cutter politing mill, pneumatic tools, plug drills etc., and can manufacture most arithms you want in special work, as we also have a large supply of each stock on hand for this purpose.

Call and purchase now. The sooner you call the better display ou will have to select from.

The war and recent epidemic have created such a demand for goods in our line that for a long time it is going to be very difficult to supply the demand. This, coupled with the shortage of granite cutters, caused by the terrible losses in the World War, will tax all the monumental dealers to the limit to fill orders promptly.

O. J. HAMMELL CO.

To The Voters Of Ocean County And Especially, At This Time, The Republican Voters.

After very carefully studying conditions in this county, and ster talking with many tax payers and voters, I herewith announce myself a andidate for the General Assembly at the coming Primary Election.

Some of my reasons for so doing are as follows: That it this time Ocean County does not have one live industry within its borders. Its agricultural conditions, which is the backbone of our entire country, are the most backward of any county within the State. While it contains one of the best fruit, vegetable and berry growing sections of the United States, yet it produces the least of any county in the State of New Jersey. The soil of this county ranks second to none in the whole State, yet it produces the least.

Now, fellow tax payers and voters, just ask yourself the simple question "why?" Is it that this county has been used from year to year and year by year as a political buffer to barter, or is it that the people are not willing to have their county rank as one of the leading counties of this Grand Old State? I believe the people are willing should they get the proper leaders.

I am offering myself to you and my services are yours should you give me your votes, which will not cost you one cent to give, and should I be nominated and elected, I assure you that nothing shall ever be neglected to help work out a good, prosperous future for Ocean County.

There are other things which should be remedied to more fully satisfy the people of the county and which they are entitled to have, among which are the game and fish laws. That the game and fish laws of the State seem to be at the present time "Class Legislation," should be so remedied and remodeled that they would suit the masses as well as the classes, and that zone laws governing the migratory birds should be established thruout the United States.

That the question of the deer roaming at large, ravaging the crops of the cural farmers should be remedied and the proper protection given the farmer.

The building of "good roads," which coming very rapidly before the tax payers should be worked out very carefully and economically that the rural districts, as well as the main thoroughfares should be made a part of the entire system, and that all toll bridges and toll roads should be eliminated and made free for travel.

The over-burden of taxation growing from year to year, should be remedied. That the geographical location of Ocean County is ideal, midway between New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and within easy reach of the most populous section of the whole United States, should make it one of the most attractive places for advancement and what we need from this day on are men who "Will Represent this County" and place it among other prosperous counties of the State. With our many thousand acres of land lying idle, undeveloped and unpopulated, producing nothing, not even enough to pay its taxes, should be put to some practical uses whereby its value would increase many fold and by so doing would help reduce the heavy rate of taxes which are being imposed on the people of this county at the present time.

That while automobiles, which are of the greatest necessity for travel and traffic, should be taxed for a reasonable and proper amount, there should not be a tax burden placed on them as it is at the present time.

That I may be put in a position whereby I could render the best service to the people of Ocean County, I earnestly ask your support at this coming Primary Election, assuring you, should I be nominated and elected, I shall promote such legislation whereby Ocean County as well as the whole State would benefit from such, and that this county may be advanced to a prosperous position among other counties of the State.

Appreciating your valued support which I believe you will give me at the coming Primary Election, I again assure you I shall at all times, work for your interests which are the interests of the entire County.
