

THREE VILLAGES TO VOTE MONDAY

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 26

This date in 1861 was the birthday of Christopher Marlowe; in 1802 of Victor Hugo; in 1846 of William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill); and in 1928 the Moffat Tunnel in the Rocky Mountains was completed.

KAISER-FRAZER to lay off 3600 men on March 1... spokesman for company does not deny that the withdrawal of Otis & Co. from the underwriting syndicate for the marketing of 1,500,000 additional shares of K-F was the real cause for curtailment... First Boston company has been engaged to sell remainder of the issue.

CLARENCE S. CAMPBELL, president of the National Hockey League, has sought the aid of Governor Sigler to unearthen player-gambler hookup in National Hockey.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA is suffering a drought which has curtailed hydro-electric power.

THE POLITICAL UPHEAVAL in Czechoslovakia threatens to blow the lid off secret Soviet-American wartime arrangements for liberating that country.

EX-KING MICHAEL of Romania will visit this country soon with a retinue of ten for about a month's stay.

MAYOR VAN ANTWERP is reported to have approved a budget for Detroit this year which will raise taxes $4.75 per thousand of assessed valuation... new rate would be increased to $33.33, producing a revenue of $116,500,000.

CONGRESS APPROVES A BILL which will place a lid on rents for thirty days from Feb. 29... bill will be in President's hands today.

THE COMMUNISTS in Czechoslovakia forced their regime on President Benes by threat of a general strike which would have paralyzed the nation.

WRITERS IN SOVIET RUSSIA are threatened with the same ideological purge which overtook the music composers.

MR. AND MRS. LEO DU-ROCHER (Laramie Day) are going to adopt a four year old girl in Fort Worth, Texas.

HENRY FORD II is helping his wife buy clothes in Paris.

Friday, Feb. 27
On this date in 1807 Henry Washington Longfellow was born; Ellen Terry, famed English actress in 1848; and in 1823 President Harding set aside 35,000 square miles in Alaska for Naval oil reserves.

ALFRED KURNER, the tipoff man in the Hooper murder case, and his companion Stanley Wrobel, who escaped from a prison farm two days ago, were arrested early today in Detroit and started on their return to Jackson Prison.

THE REDS have asked the Finnish Government to sign a mutual assistance pact with them as quickly as possible... feared the request forecasts a coup by communists within Finland, applying the tactics of the Czechoslovak group.

GUATEMALA joins the pack yelping at the heels of the weakening British Empire... wants British Belize, on the plea that Britain did not build a railroad into their country as it claims she had promised to do... Britain has a cruiser on the way... Chilean-Argentinian claims on the Falklands and now a petty central American state in the same move portends more trouble for Uncle Sam in maintaining intra-American composure.

FRED EMICH, of Chicago, a former automobile dealer wins a verdict for triple damages, amounting to $1,236,000 against General Motors in an anti-monopoly suit, alleging he was coerced into financing his auto sales through General Motors Acceptance Corporation, a subsidiary of G. M.

THE UNITED STATES, GREAT BRITAIN and FRANCE take mutual action in condemning...

It takes time to change the name of an old established thoroughfare. The Farms has officially changed the name of Oak street to Muir road, but it may be years before the shift is fully accomplished. Delivery men and strangers looking for the old street might be confused, hence the two names, which will be left on the sign posts for some time to come. The same thing was done when Seven Mile road was changed to Morross some years back. Eventually, the Oak street will be eliminated, but now it's an acorn trying to grow up into its new name.

Divorce Settlement Lures Bandit to Pointe; Nabbed With Aid of Smart Cabbie

Taxi Driver Makes Date with Robber after Holdup at Pointe Drug, Then Tips Off Police; Captured in Detroit

Thanks to the quick wit of an honest taxicab driver and the instant action of the Detroit police, the bandit who held up the Grosse Pointe Drug Store at Kercheval and St. Clair on the night of Feb. 24 was captured and placed behind the bars less than 24 hours after the crime.

The bandit was Charles Patrick McGuire of Erieau, Ont. He had given his name in some quarters as George Raymond. The general description given of him by the police is that he was a white man, about 35 years of age, with a mustache and that he had greatly underestimated his weight. He is said to weigh about 270 pounds.

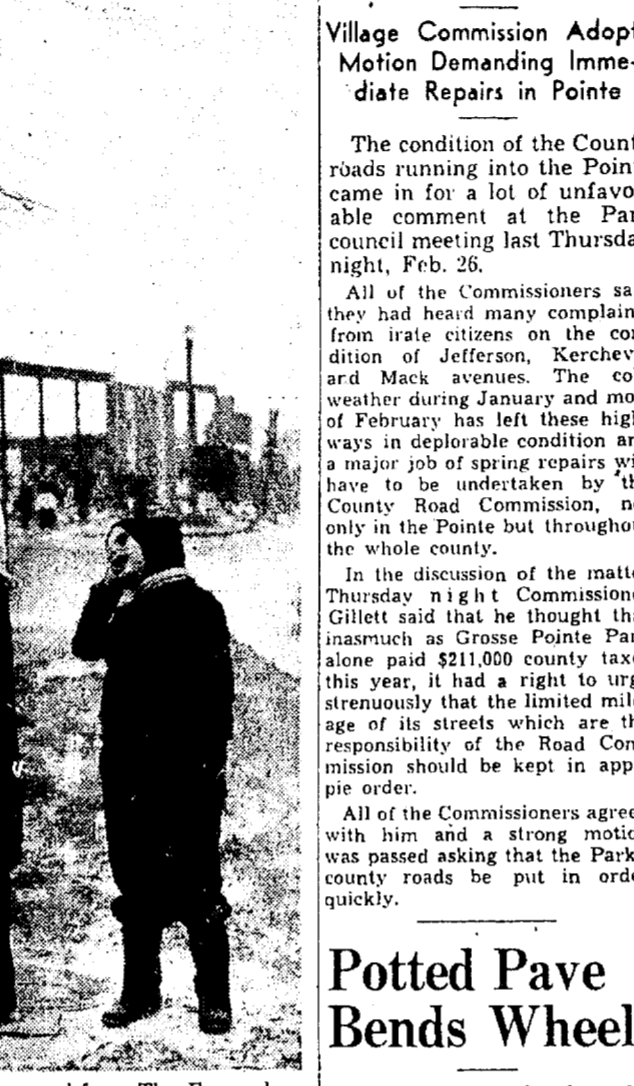

The taxi driver whose information given to the Detroit police led to the arrest, was Baldessore Victor Gusmano, of 2917 Belvedere, Detroit. He told the police that he had picked up McGuire as an ordinary fare who directed him to drive out to Grosse Pointe.

Two Furnaces Blow Their Tops
Two gas heating furnaces exploded in the Farms on March 1. The first, in the home of Elton W. Bamford at 359 Hillcrest, did damage estimated at $200. The second occurred in the home of Earl W. Saloman at 482 McKinley. There the damage was largely to the furnace itself. The farms firemen responded in both cases.

Owners of Dogs at Large All Set for "Fine" Time

While dogs running at large are outlawed in all of the Pointes, individual wars were launched against the canines this week by both the Farms and the Park. Police Chiefs Walter Hoyt and Arthur Louwers have announced they aren't fooling. Both police departments have been subjected to more than the usual number of complaints from this source during the last few weeks. The blotters in headquarters are loaded with items of dogs running at large, dogs eating birds' suet, dogs racing through shrubbery and across soft lawns, dogs traveling in packs and barking, etc., etc., etc.

Oak Street Back in Acorn Stage

It takes time to change the name of an old established thoroughfare. The Farms has officially changed the name of Oak street to Muir road, but it may be years before the shift is fully accomplished. Delivery men and strangers looking for the old street might be confused, hence the two names, which will be left on the sign posts for some time to come. The same thing was done when Seven Mile road was changed to Morross some years back. Eventually, the Oak street will be eliminated, but now it's an acorn trying to grow up into its new name.

Cut Probable In Lakefront Property Tax

Township Believed Considering Reducing Assessments Despite Activity

The lakefront property owners may yet get some relief on their township assessments, despite the losing battle they carried through the Supreme Court to compel Carl Schweikart, the Township Supervisor, to cut them down.

When Fred Behr, the attorney representing the lakefront owners, demanded a reduction in the assessment, he threatened to compel the township to cut them down, if it had to be carried to the highest court in the state. The township would not cut it down and the property owners did carry it to the highest court, and lost out.

It is stated now on rather reliable authority that at the time Behr made his demand, Schweikart was then actually considering making some reduction, but that Behr's threat threw a monkey wrench in the works.

The new assessment is made beginning on April 1 and when Schweikart was asked by the NEWS on Monday what his position on the lakefront assessment issue was to be this year, he said he would continue to approach the matter with an open mind.

Park Resident Reports Attack

Donald E. Bleakley, of 1006 Whittier, went into the Park police station at 2:55 a.m. on Sunday, Feb. 29, and reported that he had been set upon and beaten up by two men at Lakepointe and Charlevoix. There was no doubt about the beating, as his face bore the evidence. He thought that he knew one of the men but was not positive. Before the police made any further investigation he wished to do some sleuthing himself and promised to report to them the next day. Up to press time the police had not heard from him.

Park Blasts Condition of County Roads

Village Commission Adopts Motion Demanding Immediate Repairs in Pointe

The condition of the County roads running into the Pointe came in for a lot of unfavorable comment at the Park council meeting last Thursday night, Feb. 26.

All of the Commissioners said they had heard many complaints from irate citizens on the condition of Jefferson, Kercheval and Mack avenues. The cold weather during January and most of February has left these highways in deplorable condition and a major job of spring repairs will have to be undertaken by the County Road Commission, not only in the Pointe but throughout the whole county.

In the discussion of the matter Thursday night Commissioner Gillet said that he thought that inasmuch as Grosse Pointe Park alone paid $211,000 county taxes this year, it had a right to urge strenuously that the limited mileage of its streets which are the responsibility of the Road Commission should be kept in apple pie order.

All of the Commissioners agreed with him and a strong motion was passed asking that the Park's county roads be put in order quickly.

Potted Pave Bends Wheel

As an instance of what the broken pavement on Jefferson means to an automobile, Charles V. Berry, of 23157 Dorcas st., St. Clair Shores, reported to the police last Friday afternoon that he had struck a rut in the pavement with his car and had bent one of his wheels.

Hettler Reports On Bus Service

At the Park Village Council meeting on Feb. 26, Village Attorney Pierre V. Hettler made a report on the result of his negotiations with the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc., for the improvement of the service between the Pointe and downtown Detroit.

He stated that when the arrangement on fares and service was concluded with the Coach lines about three months ago, everybody was left with the impression that with the operation of the ten new busses which were then promised, there would be a more frequent service, particularly during the rush hours, which, on Grosse Pointe service are normally placed at 8 to 9:30 a. m. and 5 to 6:30 p. m.

This, however, had not eventuated and he said the new coaches now in service had only resulted in providing slightly more seating capacity with no increased frequency of runs. The new busses had been used merely to take the place of ten old busses which had been taken off.

When the arrangement on fares had been made, which granted a raise from ten cents per ride to two rides for 25c. it with the understanding that at the end of three months there might be a re-examination of the finances of the company to determine its ability to restore the old rate of 10c. Mr. Hettler said the village was not ready to make any recommendation at this time on the fare issue and recommended that the three months period be extended for another three months without prejudice to the village's position.

This recommendation was unanimously adopted by the Board of Commissioners.

Mr. Hettler said he would also communicate the Commissioner's action to the other municipalities as they had been parties to the original agreement, to assure uniformity of position with all of the Pointe municipalities on the question.

Mr. Hettler said that no definite statements or commitments could be expected from the bus company until Walter Schweikart, its president, returns from Florida.

Hottest Fight Expected in G. P. Farms

Administration is Challenged by Better Government Association

Elections are scheduled to be held in three of the five Pointe municipalities next Monday, March 8, all of them for village offices. Indications are that the hottest fight will take place in the Farms where a complete slate is running against incumbents for all offices. The other two elections will be in the Park and the Woods.

There has been more pre-election activity in the Farms than has been seen in years. The Grosse Pointe Farms Better Government Association is seeking to unseat the present administration. Its campaigning has forced friends of the administration to organize with the result that a concerted drive has been carried on to get all eligible voters out to the polls.

James K. Watkins, who has served as president of the village for the last five years, will be opposed by John R. Sutton, Jr., a former trustee. Sutton is endorsed by the Better Government group but he denies any affiliation with that organization. Joseph Snay, who served as a trustee for 21 years and ran unsuccessfully against Mr. Watkins for president in 1943, has given his support to the incumbent.

Richard L. Maxon, George L. Schlaepfer and Neil McEachin are the present trustees seeking re-election. They will be opposed by Irving T. Winkler, Horace E. Farmer and Harry R. Dey of the Better Government group. Clerk Harry Furton will be opposed by Fred T. Kuehl. Francis J. Hock seeks election against present Village Treasurer Alonzo J. O'Connor. Russell A. Labadie, incumbent, has the support of the Better Government Association for assessor. The administration is backing L. M. Reeves for this office.

There will be only one polling place for the Farms election, at the Municipal Building fire house at 90 Kerby road. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

In the Park a Village President will be elected and three commissioners. The candidates are for president, Homer C. Fritsch, who has no opposition; for Commissioners, John Bloodworth, (incumbent); Peter J. Koenig, (incumbent); Karl B. Goddard, a former Commissioner and a former incumbent of the village; J. Willard Carpenter and Frank Landeman, former Pointe justice.

Howard P. Parrshall, the retiring president of the Park decided not to be a candidate for reelection. Mr. Fritsch, who will succeed him, is the senior member of the Board of Village Commissioners. No issue, other than the election of village officers, will appear on the Park ballot.

In the Woods the political atmosphere is all cluttered up with candidates. The voters will elect a president and three commissioners and they are going to have a wide field for selection. Besides this the voters will have to pass on three other major items. The candidates are for president, Alois A. Grosvenor, the present incumbent and E. C. Molan; commissioner candidates, of whom three are to be elected, are George W. Gardner, (incumbent); Arthur Post (incumbent); Leon Ratcliffe, Arnold Diering, who served as a village commissioner some years ago and was later an unsuccessful candidate for village president; Howard Webb, Jeremiah McCarthy, Henry C. Pratt and John MacPherson.

Pratt came to local prominence through his leadership of the residential group in the neighborhood of the theater parking lot who were dissatisfied with the type of green border which Sol Sloan and the theater people intended to build.

The other items which will appear on the ballot are the requested authorization for the Board of Village Commissioners to sell the land on Mack avenue which had been acquired for a park and municipal center; a charter amendment which will provide for paying the village resident an annual salary of $600 and the Commissioner's $400; and the authorization of a bond issue of $400,000 in addition to the municipal building on Mack avenue.

Pointe to Launch Campaign for War Memorial Tonight

Big Attendance Expected At Rally in High School To Formulate Plans For Drive For Funds To Build New Library

Preparations for the meeting tonight, Thursday, March 4, in the High School Library to effect an organization of the Memorial Library project, have been moving at a fast tempo in recent days. As already stated, former Governor Wilbur Brucker will make the keynote address sparking the campaign.

Under date of February 24, Norbert P. Neff, the corresponding secretary of the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association, sent out the following letter to a wide range of organizations and to some individuals.

"The Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association is holding an organizational meeting in the Grosse Pointe High School Library at 8:30 in the evening of Thursday, March 4th, and you, your officers and any individuals of your organization are urged to be on hand.

This meeting is to discuss various ways and means of accomplishing this spring's drive for funds for our Grosse Pointe War Memorial Library. This will be a big job and if we are to succeed, we will need the help of all the organizations in the community. This at least is one thing that we can do in memory of those who so gallantly fought and died that we might continue to enjoy our way of life in our Grosse Pointe. Governor Brucker will keynote the meeting.

Please be sure to be on hand to give us the benefit of your advice. This meeting will start promptly at 8:30 p. m.

Very truly yours,
NORBERT P. NEFF,
Corresponding Secretary

The organization committee is most anxious that this meeting be understood as a community wide affair. Some individuals, and possibly even some organizations which the committee is most anxious to have present, may have been overlooked in this general invitation. Any man or woman in the Pointe community who is moved by this project will be welcomed at the meeting.

Last Wednesday Alger Sheldon, the President of the Honor Roll Association, made a quick flight to Florida, to contact certain members of the Grosse Pointe Florida colony in the interest of the movement. He returned to the Pointe on Sunday.

Police-Shy Dog Leaves Evidence

The Park police received a complaint of a stray dog at 1246 Kensington on Feb. 27. When they investigated they saw the dog all right but he was police shy and jumped over the fence.

However his harness caught in the fence and ripped off, so the police took that back to the station as a souvenir of the chase. The harness had his license number attached so it was not difficult to serve a ticket on his owner for permitting his dog to run at large.

UNLOADING MISHAP

Kathleen Young of 423 St. Clair, told the Farms police that a rear fender of her car was damaged when Harold J. Baumgarten of 734 Rivard boulevard ran into it while passengers were getting out of her car on the night of Feb. 25. The mishap occurred in front of 357 McKinley road.

Parking Banned On Mack Avenue

Two days after the new theater opened on Mack avenue near Moross road the Farms police posted "No Parking" signs all along Mack avenue and on La Belle.

Two Babies Cheat Death After Drinking Cleanser

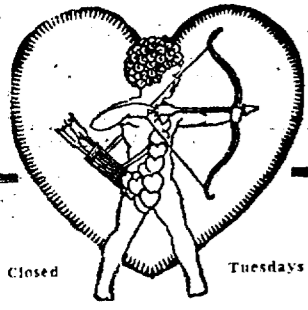

Two infants who got hold of a bottle of bleaching fluid in their home in Grosse Pointe Farms, had a very narrow escape from death on Feb. 25. Each drank some of the liquid.

The children are Ruby Carr, 13 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr of 218 Lakeview; and Robert Carr, 21 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carr of the same address. It is not known how much the babies consumed. By the time Mrs. Charles Carr discovered the accident, their dresses were steaming and little Ruby was bleeding from the mouth.

An emergency call was sent to Farms police headquarters and Officers Dhaveloose and Roberts rushed the stricken youngsters and Mrs. Carr to Cottage Hospital.

Bandit Nabbed With Help Of Intelligent Cab Driver

ing his mouth shut and took the twenty with apparent satisfaction. Later on the robber said "meet me at the Hotel Detroit tomorrow night at 10 o'clock and I'll have some more for you." This arrangement also seemed highly pleasing to the driver.

A few minutes later he discharged his "fare" at French road and headed directly to the nearest Detroit police station. On the way there he saw an officer in uniform who turned out to be Detective Rodgers of the Seventh precinct. Rodgers took him to the holdup squad at headquarters and from there on Sergeant Johnson took over the case.

They arranged for Gusmano to keep the appointment with the bandit and told Gusmano he needn't be afraid as there would be lots of company with him. About 10 o'clock Wednesday evening they grabbed McGuire.

Shortly thereafter Prosecutor James McNally called up Chief Tom Trombly of the City and told him they had the bandit. He was kept down town Wednesday night and the next morning Chief Trombly and Detective Flannagan went down to the Prosecutor's office, taking Gladys Dearnley, the drug store cashier, with them. She positively identified McGuire as the holdup man.

He was brought out to Grosse Pointe and locked up. On Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock he had a hearing before Judge Leslie Young and was held under $10,000 bail. He asked for an examination and that was fixed for 24 hours later. At the examination he waived examination and was locked up down town to await trial in Circuit Court.

McGuire's trial was complete as to his movements and has been verified by the police in every essential detail.

His story is: He lives in Erieau, Ont., where he has a wife and four children. During the war he carried the Canadian mail between Sarnia and Chatham. While doing this he got a license to carry a pistol. After the war he tried running a restaurant both in Chatham and Wallaceburg. Both of them failed and he was desperately hard up.

He recently determined to pick up some easy money by stickups. He had no mapped out plan of operation. He came over to Detroit on Tuesday evening, with the same pistol he had had as a mail carrier and which was legally registered both in Chatham and Wallaceburg. He went to the 509 Club on Woodward where he spent $12 on drinks. There he happened to read in a Detroit evening paper that a Mrs. Hadley of 677 Lake Shore road had had a recent divorce settlement with her husband, and thought she might have some money at that moment with her in her home.

He hired a taxicab, telling the driver he had an appointment at 677 Lake Shore. They drove out and went into the driveway. He went to the door with the pistol in his pocket but instead of a woman coming to the door it was an able-bodied man, who told him Mrs. Hadley was not in. He lost heart about tackling the house with a man inside and went back to the cab telling the driver his party was not at home.

They then started to drive back to Detroit but as they entered the village an inspiration came to him to hold up any place that happened to be open. He had the driver stop at the Grosse Pointe Drug telling him he wanted to buy a pack of cigarettes, and he should keep the door open and the engine running as he would be out in a moment.

The man has no previous police record in Canada or any other place the police can check. The Mrs. Hadley he named lives with her mother, Mrs. W. H. McKigan at 677 Lake Shore.

Tax Cut

If he believed that any property was entitled to a reduction he would make it without any hesitation.

Schweikart has always maintained that by keeping the assessments on lakefront property where it was, he was protecting the owners of smaller homes in the rear.

The much more active market in Grosse Pointe real estate in the last year however has presented a new angle to the township assessment issue. There have been many active enquiries on lakefront property, particularly vacant lots. A big stumbling block to deals has been the relatively high assessment which these properties carry.

There is reason to believe that the township authorities are now inclined to the opinion that if a reasonable reduction in assessments would make these properties more readily available for home construction and thereby add substantially to the total of the assessment rolls, the gain in tax revenues from new buildings might well offset the assessment reductions.

The press for sites for new home construction may well upset many tax policies which have obtained for many years in the Pointe.

Tax Assessors Suggest Change

At the meeting of the Michigan Assessors Association held in Ann Arbor early in February, a motion was adopted recommending that paragraph B of Section 9 of the Michigan tax law be amended so that the state personal property tax on household goods might be stricken from the list of taxable items. This refers not only to such items as rugs, furniture, pianos, etc. but to fuel in storage in the house.

The experience of the assessors, of whom more than 100 were present from widely scattered points throughout the state, was that these items are most difficult to assess and even more difficult to collect. The law has long been regarded as a nuisance both by the assessors and the householders. The result is that the proportionate collections have been negligible.

The attitude of the assessors on the proposed removal was indicated by the fact that on the motion to recommend the striking off, only three assessors out of the more than a hundred present voted against the recommendation.

Students Attain All 'A' Average

Twenty-four students at Grosse Pointe High School and Brownell Junior High attained an all "A" average in their studies during the first semester of the school year.

In the graduating class Lucy Hynds, Lorne Norton and Robert Trees received top honors.

Among present 12A's Mary Grazer, George Kennedy, Mary Olier, Pat Rossiter, Dale Stevenson, and William Webb are the all "A" students.

John Chase, Harry Eason, Peter Roil, and Joseph Henrion, now 10A's, and Judy Rice, 9A, received "A's" as last semester's marks, as did Lilah Binney and Donald Paquette, 11B's.

Among 8A's receiving "A" credit are Sue Armstrong, Don Corey, Robert Foley, Carol Ford, Robert Messner, and Cynthia Nettling.

Martha Smith and David Teris are the "A" students in the current 7A class.

Shores Studies Pension Changes

The Grosse Pointe Shores Employees' Retirement System Commission had its annual meeting on Feb. 25 for a review of the year's work and to make certain recommendations to the Village council.

Some time ago the retirement board made a recommendation to the council which the council has since adopted, which provides for the payment of disability pensions to its policemen. The approval or rejection of the measure will be voted upon by the citizens at the May election. The Shores' retirement system as now existing does not provide for disability pensions.

The Retirement board also recommended that the optional retirement age for its uniformed employees shall be 55 instead of 60 as at present, and that compulsory retirement shall operate at 60 instead of 65 as now.

This proposal will go before the Council on March 8 and if approved then, it also will go on the ballot for electorate approval in May.

Service Clubs Seek Clothes For Needy in Netherlands

Grosse Pointe is having its first community-wide clothing collection in three years. Rotary International has undertaken the drive on a national scale for the needy in Europe, as a movement of its international community service, and the local club is doing the work for Grosse Pointe, aided by members of the Grosse Pointe Optimists Club.

Rotary clubs in Europe will attend to the distribution of the clothing when it reaches the agencies, but they were still desperately in need of clothing.

He said that knowing the normal well-being of the Dutch some might hesitate to send them cast-off clothing, but he assured his audience that clothing which might appear too worn or shabby to be worn here would be welcomed with fervent thanks by these unfortunate people.

Bearing this out he read a letter he had received from the Lutheran minister of the village, thanking him for some clothing he had sent. It was deeply appreciative.

The other speaker was Tom Angott, a former Army Air Corps flyer. With a crew of nine in an army bomber he was shot down just off the Holland coast as they were returning from a mission over Germany. Five of his crew were killed but the other four were able to bail out.

He was rescued by villagers who had seen them fall and his story from there on, how he was nursed back to life and secreted and moved from village to village and out to farms, to keep him out of the hands of the Germans, is filled with thrills equal to the best hair raising fiction. He eventually joined the Holland Underground and participated in the work of this organization until after the German surrender. He spent a period in Percy Jones hospital on his return to the U.S.

The pith of his story for his audience was that in the course of his shunting about in various hideouts he spent two weeks in hiding in the same little village of Nijmegen. His story of the kindnesses shown him by the warm-hearted people of this stricken community was heart-warming enough to make any Grosse Pointer wish to take the clothes off his own back to send to these people. Angott himself is a Detroit boy.

Donate Now

The clothing drive for Nijmegen is now on. Donations of all kinds of clothing will be received at the Mondry Cleaners, either at 375 Fisher road or 17005 Kercheval avenue. Do not send new clothing. If impossible to bring your donations to either of the above places, pickup trucks will be sent around to your home on phone notice. The drive ends on March 14. Send in your donations NOW.

other side and the plan as arranged by the international organization is that each local club will send its collection to a certain specified club over there. The Rotary club in Nijmegen, Holland, will be the recipient of Grosse Pointe's collection, which assures that the clothing sent from here will find welcome users in the Netherlands.

The contribution of the clothing and its final use is in no sense restricted to members of Rotary. Only used clothing is to be sent, as new clothing would be subject to customs and cause endless embarrassment in getting into use on the other side.

The appeal is made for all kinds of clothing for men, women and children, including shoes and hats, except women's hats. It will not be necessary to have the clothing previously cleaned, as Dave McCarran, a member of Rotary and proprietor of the Mondry Cleaners, will attend to the cleaning. Their establishment on Fisher road is the repository of the clothing. Donors are asked to leave their contributions there.

The collection is now under way and will end on March 14. Many households in the Pointe have been giving discarded clothing regularly to such organizations as Salvation Army, Good Will, etc., but as no systematic collection has been carried on in the Pointe for several years it is believed a large amount of wearing apparel can be obtained in this drive.

The clothing drive was given a great spiritual boost by two talks the club members listened to at their meeting on Monday in the Whittier.

The first was given by Adrian Heybower, a former president of the Borden creamery company, now retired. Mr. Heybower was born in the village of Nijmegen, Holland, but came to American as a young man 41 years ago. He has two sisters still living there and gave the listeners a vivid picture of the hardships the people of Holland endured during the years of the German occupation.

He was cut off from all communication with his family during the war, but as soon as it was possible to get packages over to them after the war, he sent many personally.

He said that the people of Nijmegen had had to exist on practically a starvation basis. The loss of weight of the average adult had been fifty pounds, and many had died of actual starvation. The food situation has been somewhat relieved by the residents own industry and the help of allied

Baha'is Arrange Public Meeting

The Baha'is of Grosse Pointe are inviting the residents of the Pointe to their first public meeting to be held in this community, in the auditorium of the Gabriel Richard School, Kercheval and McKinley, Friday evening, March 12, at 8:15 p. m.

A special feature of the meeting will be the showing of colored slides of the Baha'i House of Worship near Chicago. This building is considered one of the architectural marvels of the world, and is the first entirely new architectural form to appear in the world for many centuries.

The House of Worship was dedicated about 30 years ago by the renowned son of the Founder of the Baha'i Faith, and since its erection, thousands of visitors from all parts of the world have come to marvel at its unique and meaningful design.

The guest speaker is one of the hundreds of volunteer teachers who have traveled widely to bring the Baha'i Message to all parts of the world.

"Many times a year the people turn to the Red Cross—once a year the Red Cross turns to the people; that time is now."

Statement by President Truman in March, 1947

Now...once again it's Red Cross Time!

Out of human suffering the Red Cross was born:

At the scenes of human suffering the Red Cross takes its place:

Emergency is its call to service: The unpredictable disaster—the uncontrollable flood and raging fire, the stealthy epidemic—when these strike, your Red Cross quickly reaches the victims, to comfort, sustain and restore:

The Red Cross must be prepared to spring instantly into action, any time, anywhere:

And the Red Cross will be ready: It will be ready because your generous dollars always have made possible its merciful work:

For the sake of the unsuspecting thousands who will be stricken this year... for the sake of those destined for injury and anguish... the Red Cross now turns to you:

It's March—and Red Cross time: This is the annual appeal the Red Cross makes so that your humanity may be spread throughout the coming year, among all—irrespective of race, color or creed:

You'll help again, won't you?

IT'S YOUR RED CROSS... KEEP IT GOING

With all the magazines and New York papers blossoming into spacious paens of praise, honoring Katharine Cornell on her fiftieth birthday, two thoughts keep haunting our meandering mind. The first is that, while not hitting the half-century milestone herself, it brings the realization that we have known her for at least a quarter of a century. And the second is a mingling of amazement and admiration that any actress—even The Queen of the Theater, as Newsweek crowns Katharine Cornell—should so openly celebrate the fact that she is fifty.

Actresses age, as a rule, a matter of secrecy and speculation. And when the ages are dusted off from the archives, they become as subject to change as the weather. Take the quaint case of Miss Lynn Fontaine who, according to the Burns Mantle chronology simply loped off ten years back in nineteen twenty-eight. The birth recorded in our Burns Mantle "Best Plays of 1927" records Miss Fontaine's natal year as 1882 in London, England; whereas the next volume of Best Plays of 1928 records it as 1892 in London, England. And ever since then Miss Fontaine has been growing young gracefully.

It is however, expressive of the integrity of our top actresses—Katharine Cornell and Helen Hayes—that their birthdays remain on the record. Miss Hayes, having been born in Washington in 1902 has a few years on the sunny side of fifty.

Thinking of Katharine Cornell, that word "Integrity" pops naturally on paper, it being a word that often entered her conversation as a very young actress, back in her Bonstelle Stock Company days in Detroit. In fact, her credo then as now was her potent phrase—Never Compromise! In the intervening years, when the critics were doing fabulous pieces on the flowering of her "Art," we never heard her refer to her acting as anything except her "Work." And when her life story was first printed her first choice of a title was Twenty Years of Hard Work.

Today, at fifty, Katharine Cor-

The Green Hat when in bed with laryngitis and unable to speak the lines. We think of her, putting on Antigone—her most fabulous failure—with the lines: What one can do, one must do—and what one must do one CAN do.

But most of all we like to think of Katharine Cornell, being cued in her play by a handsome young man as they sat one summer night on a bench in Grand Circus Park. And later, upon being asked precisely who was the lucky young man, her reply was typically Cornell: "He's Guthrie McClintic, the world's most wonderful stage director and—I hope—my future husband."

So the handsome young man and the girl who is fifty now are still Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie McClintic. Because, you see, Katharine Cornell never Compromises!

Park's Council Okays Pool Plan

The Park village's plans for the swimming pool worked out by Village Manager Lane were approved by the Council on February 26.

The cost of the piping and fittings, including the pump and chlor-o-feeder was estimated at something under $5,000. On motion of Commissioner Gillett a top lift was placed on these items at that figure. It was also stipulated in Mr. Gillett's motion that all of this work at the pool should be finished in time for the opening of the swimming season this summer.

On March 11 bids for the dredging and sand fill at the pool will be opened. The estimated cost of all of the work is between $8,000 and $9,000.

District-Wide Circus Planned by Cub Scouts

The East Side cub pack will meet on Monday evening, March 8, in Denby High School to discuss plans for a district-wide cub circus to be held this spring.

Originally a Denby community project, the success of the circus in the past has led to the proposal that this activity be expanded to include all cub packs in district 3.

The representatives are invited to participate in the discussion at this meeting, which will be held in Room 202 beginning at 8 p.m. Mr. Leonard Galbraith, chairman of last year's circus committee will preside.

Dearborn Seeks Help from Park

A communication was read at the Park council meeting on Feb. 26 from the City of Dearborn, asking the cooperation of the Park in a move to bring about an amendment in the state constitution, which now prevents insurance companies from owning real estate, other than that which they use for their own purposes, for longer than ten years.

Many communities in Michigan desirous of having low cost housing projects erected are unable to have insurance companies build them wholly with their own funds and holding them for more than ten years.

In states where there is no such prohibition, vast housing projects have been erected by insurance companies, who own them and operate them for indefinite periods. An example of this is the immense project put up in New York by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Park Village Attorney Pierre V. Hefter said that probably in the early days of the state when this provision was inserted in the constitution, the fear existed that unless this was done, great corporations would eventually come to own and control vast holdings of real estate, contrary to the general welfare.

The request of Dearborn was sympathetically received and the Park went on record as favoring such an amendment.

Passengers Hurt In Park Crash

An auto accident involving personal injury happened at Vernor and Maryland on Feb. 27. A Ford panel truck driven by Irene Courley of 1305 Bedford, struck a parked car unoccupied at the curb, owned by Sam Maceri of 1303 Lakepointe.

Nora Nubarack of 1253 Three Mile and Mable Courley, riders in the truck, sustained bruises. They were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment and then discharged. Irene received a ticket for reckless driving.

Compulsory Military Training

The power to defend holds many a friend Force oft shows clear the right The surest lease of comfort and peace Is a sturdy strength to fight

The present much discussed universal compulsory military training proposal is not the involved or complicated procedure that it appears to be to many. Neither does it imply a great change in our national attitude towards defense.

A fact that many have overlooked is that national defense on a total scale was clearly intended when the Founding Fathers placed a provision in the Federal Constitution which declares every male in this country becomes automatically a member of the "unorganized militia" on reaching the age of 18 and continues in that status until he is 45. This is the age-old basis of our whole national defense scheme. It is this provision which makes it relatively easy for Congress, when the emergency arises, to pass quickly and without having recourse to a nationwide campaign of public education, a simple and effective act which implements a basic law that has been in the constitution for a hundred and fifty years.

The responsibility of the young manhood of the nation for its defense is clearly established. The real issue now is whether they should be drafted and pitched into the army without any previous training, or, in justice to them and for the better and instant defense of the country, have had some basic preliminary training. Plain justice to these young men, on whom the country must rely in time of danger, says they should have had this training.

Any father would rather have his son possess some rudimentary military training when the day of his draft comes around. Those who oppose it are usually those who coast along on the more comfortable assumption that there will be no more war. Unhappily the present state of our foreign contacts does not warrant this confidence.

A nation which has accepted great responsibilities, such as we have fallen heir to, is guilty of a supreme folly in neglecting its defense.

While the cause of national defense must remain the chief purpose of this peacetime training, there is also the sound argument of imparting to the younger generations just emerging from boyhood into manhood, a physical training and character building of incalculable value to the country in the years ahead.

The scars left by juvenile delinquency, which grew like a poisonous germ in the social body during and after the war, would be largely removed if these boys were compelled to undergo a period of physical training and moral and mental development and discipline.

The fear expressed by some, that taking these boys at an age when it meant an interruption of a year or thereabouts in their school life would be a handicap for them in life's battle later on, is already largely disproved by the experience just being unfolded in the cases of the student G.I.'s. At the time this program was opened it was commonly expressed that it would be a fruitless task to remold them into the groove of mental training that had been interrupted by the war emergency. The exact contrary result has appeared. These young men have almost universally exhibited a better appreciation of the advantages and necessities of a better education. They have generally shown a higher scholastic rating than the youngsters for whom life was easy and pleasant. The very maturity given them in the war has been the chief contributor to this result.

It is significant also that all the veterans' organizations are whole-heartedly behind this compulsory training movement. These men know out of their own experience what previous training would have meant. They also are experts in their judgment of what discipline and character-building in the formative period of their lives signifies for the nation in the coming generation of men.

The argument advanced by some that compulsory military training breeds a will for war among the people, can be dismissed as utterly unsound. We know that the lack of it has resulted in our being catapulted into two great wars wholly unready and unprepared for the ordeal, with the result that the price to us in life and treasure was needlessly high.

The possession of strength in being has never invited attack. Weakness, apology and appeasement has, as we know out of our own experience. Germany in World War I and Japan in World War II both calculated they could defeat us before our vast potential for war could be brought into play. It was simply a bad guess on their part. We were lucky enough to have friends then who were able to hold the line until we could organize our strength. There is now no capable friend in sight and we are facing a powerful and ruthless potential enemy alone.

To ignore this threat by failing to prepare to meet it is a folly that might be our last.

Now, if ever, we should adopt the advice of Theodore Roosevelt to "speak softly but carry a big stick."

Pointe's County Roads

Since complaint was made several weeks ago about the condition of Jefferson avenue and other county roads in the Pointe the County Road Commission has made a gesture of making some piffling repairs.

When this matter came in for some spirited comment in the Park village council meeting last week, Commissioner Gillett observed that inasmuch as the Park village alone paid $211,000 this year in taxes to the county it would appear not unreasonable that the county streets here should be kept in decent condition. This is a matter of immediate importance. It has nothing to do with the long ranged plan to widen Jefferson avenue and put down a high class pavement. That may be a long time in coming.

The City and the four villages have made commendable progress in keeping in order the streets which are their own responsibility and they have a right to demand that the County government, to which all Pointers are such heavy contributors, should see to it that its own streets out here are put in good condition and kept that way.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"I have a secret garden, Where flowers bloom at night And languish in the daytime, Too tender for the light. They are but ghosts, those blossoms That live in tears of dew, But with what dreams the garden teems And memories of you."

Everything comes to this catch-all desk sooner or later. This week we have a list of old advertising cards and booklets to be had from a hobby market in Connecticut. Among the things that intrigued us most, were: "a set of 4 H.B. Lanning Semi-comics; a Gerivan Corn Remover, (hold to light type); Clenching Screw Fastened Boots and Shoes (unique comics); Several cards . . . Mrs. Pott's Cold Handled Iron; Mrs. President Cleveland . . . Sulphur Bitters . . . large; Pacific Guano Company of Boston . . . Fertilizer; and Moveable card . . . message from under umbrella . . . very unusual item." The latter intrigues us no end but the whole works sound like Greek.

The "Power of Suggestion" is no idle saying . . . at least there is one local woman in our midst who believes in it whole heartedly. Recently, neither she nor her husband had been sleeping as well as usual . . . so one night, Papa came home with a crate of Ovaltine. He said he'd been hearing and reading about how good it was in promoting sleep and by George, gad and gum he was going to try it on both of them. That night they went to bed at the usual time . . . and in the morning, Ma, who had had a good night's sleep for a change, mentioned the fact at the breakfast table. Her husband said, "I slept well too . . . first time in weeks . . . told you that Ovaltine was the answer." What Ma didn't have the heart to remind him of . . . was the fact that they had forgotten about the Ovaltine, therefore hadn't taken it at all! Maybe the makers of Ovaltine would like to know that their stuff is so potent you have only to buy it and leave it in the pantry overnight . . . and presto sleep . . . sleep . . . sleep . . . sleep . . .

Listening to the radio the other day (for a change), we found we had to take some bicarbonate of soda after hearing the announcer tell about what good we would get out of a certain type of bread that he was advertising. It seems that ONE slice of Biah-blah bread is equal in vitamins to 4 slices of liver, two bottles of beer, a pound of cheese, a half dozen eggs, a carload of spinach, a quart of ice cream and a picture of the chef in tights. We'll take a slice of bread that's equal to a slice of bread . . . that is if no one minds.

Hearing that blurb, reminded us of the time we took up bowling. We were going great guns, (so we thought), and boring everybody in sight with what good exercise bowling was and yak, yak, yak. That winter, we went to Florida and headed for a bowling alley on the first sunny day. The alley we ended up in was a very elegant one and we started out like a house afire. While waiting for our companion to bowl, we looked around and spotted a large sign on the wall, happily advising the patrons of bowling that they were REALLY accomplishing a lot of exercise in one full swoop. It said, roughly, that bowling ONE game was equal to hiking 12 miles; walking up and down stairs 40 times; running around the block half a dozen times and sweeping the whole building. Needless to say we went right home and went to bed for 24 hours and haven't bowled since. Why do those statisticians have to stay awake nights thinking up things to spoil our fun?

As long as we aren't going to win the Walking Man contest, we don't mind letting you in on WHO the walking man is . . . and if the winner happens to be a Grosse Pointe News subscriber . . . we want half the take. It is . . . JACK BENNY. If it isn't . . . we'll jar your grandmother's preserves. Our little Leprechaun tells us these things. Remember what we said a couple of months ago about Citation in the Kentucky Derby? Been watching him lately? Ho-Hum!

The Waters of Michigan

Everyone who loves the lakes and streams of Michigan should breathe a deep amen! to the spirit contained in the bulletin sent out to the Michigan Manufacturers Association by its general manager, John L. Lovett.

He wants the State to enact a new Streams Control law, one with teeth in it. He recognizes that the enactment and enforcement of such a law will tramp hard on the toes of some of the members of his own group; but he also knows that if the fish life in these waters is to be preserved and if the future use and enjoyment of Michigan's unrivalled waters are to be held for future generations, drastic action must be taken now. This is not a problem that can be passed along to those who come after. If neglected by us now this generation will only be damned at a later day for its slothfulness or cowardice.

Michigan's waters are a priceless asset. The preservation of their purity and the safekeeping of the fish life which they harbor transcends any momentary consideration of private profit, important as these seem now.

This matter is being ponderously considered by the American and Canadian governments. The best assurance that the movement will not be too slow is an aroused public sentiment.

In our own tiny segment of this problem, we are in constant agitation over the potability of our drinking water and its safety for swimming.

Grosse Pointe should be a unit supporting this movement.

Another Wallace Cure

Henry A. Wallace wants to avoid war with Russia. So does everybody else. This is about the only point of common agreement between him and the rest of his fellow citizens. On every other major issue he is 10,000 light years away.

His latest step in the opposite direction is to propose that certain industries in this country should be nationalized. He doesn't name the industries. He avoids specific details and confines his observations to generalities, and generalities are Mr. Wallace's forte.

Will not some smart arranger in the Government, and Washington is crowded with smart arrangers, kindly tell us the difference between the goal at which Mr. Wallace aims and the one at which Communist Russia has already arrived, in toto, and towards which Britain under its socialist Government has so largely advanced? A smart fellow like Mr. Wallace should have no difficulty in clearing up this cloud that besets many of his simpler minded Americans.

But maybe Mr. Wallace doesn't believe in free private enterprise anyway. If he does not, let him have the courage to stand out and say so.

But of course private enterprise in the production of hybrid seed corn would be an exception in his overall program.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

Well, GIRLS, I've got the skirt situation finally ironed out. Word comes straight from THE HORSE. Dined last night with BARON GEORGES DE CRAMER, one of the three MOLYNEAUX partners. He said that the confusion about the skirt length comes directly from the gasoline shortage in PARIS. Since there is such a lack of gas, the ladies of fashion haven't a car at their beck and call as they had formerly.

Therefore when they go about their duties and shopping in the city streets, they go by bus and Metro. For those chores the ladies wear "the leetle shopping habit" and the skirt of this leetle habit is fourteen inches from the leetle dirty street. Also the ladies do not wear the great, wide, five yard skirts about the city. For cocktailing and dining, when PAPA comes home at dusk with HIS CAR, the ladies go to town. THAT is when one sees the long flowing gowns we wear in the subway.

BARON DE CRAMER is over here to push MOLYNEAUX perfumes. He said that all the great houses like PATOU, LELONG and the others, keep going on their perfumes these days rather than the meagre profits from the gown department. BARON GEORGES was in prison during the German occupation for two years—in solitary confinement. This is what that means. He never saw his wife, never had a cigaret, had no way of telling the time in the gloom of his five foot cell, couldn't read and wasn't allowed to write. Couldn't shave; was allowed a shower once in three months to remove what fleas, lice and bedbugs hadn't dug into his flesh. For five months he lived on water and a half a loaf of bread a day. Each dawn about twenty-five men would be taken away for interrogation or to be shot. He never knew what dawn his number would come up. He said the German police who guarded the prisoners were humanitarian compared to the cold, inhuman brutality of the S.S. and the GESTAPO. The GESTAPO had a favorite torture they loved to use on the women. The victim would be placed in a tub of cold water and her head held below the surface until she became unconscious. Then she would be taken out and revived. As soon as she was fully aware of what was happening she would be immersed in the tub again. BARON DE CRAMER said one wretched victim took ten hours to die.

Report out here was that Clark Gable had been approached by the Theater Guild for a "flesh appearance" in a play it was contemplating next fall. . . . Gable denies any such offer, and also tells friends he hasn't the slightest desire right now to go through the grind of rehearsals for any play. . . . Some of the gals out here, I noticed, wear velvet rings, very effective and, of course, cheap at any price.

Mike Curtiz has a script entitled "Forty Niners." It's about gold mining. He was telling a group it might be too expensive to film. Eddie Moran piped up: "Horace McCoy and I have a story about silvermining. How about doing that one?" Night club business has been so bad around here that in one spot, the other night, there were more local communists than patrons. . . . Which reminds me, Danny Thomas' agent, in negotiating with the film companies who seek his services, gently reminds them that their inducements must be high because Danny can command $7,500 to $8,000 a week in night clubs. Probably the first time a night club was held over the heads of a film studio.

Ether Williams, in a flaming red tight-fitting bathing suit, dived into the hotel swimming pool here while a camera ground away and a few of us lowly males watched and gaped. One of us, in a bathing suit, finally summoned up enough courage to approach her and remark innocently: "I don't suppose you remember me, Miss Williams?" The comely bunk of shapeliness stared uncertainly, and then said: "O yes, yes. Only I didn't recognize you with your clothes off!" June Allyson will be heard but not seen in her hubby's new flicker . . . "The Pitfall." June was waiting around the set for Dick Powell to finish off, when the director announced he needed an off-stage voice to call out to him: "There's a man waiting out here to see you." June said she would oblige. It becomes her first movie chore for which she will receive no screen credit.

MME. ROMAN and I had lunch the other day with TED MAY and WARREN ADAMS—two staunch opera fans. STELLA wore a new spring bonnet trimmed with a long spear of hollyhock flowers. WARREN said it should be set on fire and brought in on a sword like shashik. STELLA talked about her son who recently arrived in this country for the first time, to study at the UNIVERSITY OF CHINCHINATTI— as STELLA called it. She said she wanted him to be as well dressed as the best on the campus, so she bought him fine handpainted neckties, made-to-order shirts, five suits, and a sixty dollar, imported Borsalino hat. She also stocked up a liquor closet with whiskeys, wines and liqueurs. Then she sent the proud young man off to the campus of the UNIVERSITY OF CHINCHINATTI. Two weeks later he phoned her. He said he had disposed of all his fine clothes. He said he now possessed a pair of loafers, two pair of slacks, no Borsalino hat and three cans of beer. STELLA couldn't understand it.

The next time you get to New York, beg, borrow or steal a ticket to see MISTER ROBERTS. I think it is the RIGHTEST play I've ever seen. It has everything humor, heart jerks, loyalty, good nature, affectionate satire, good taste, bawdiness—it has everything. If you read the book, the play is better. Don't miss it— but don't break your neck to get here—MISTER ROBERTS will be around for a long, long time.

New York Cavalcade

By LOUIS SOBOL

HOLLYWOOD POTPOURRI

There I was, quietly gnawing away at Mom's roast chicken, while Pa was pouring some red soda into my glass, when it happened. First a chair slid over toward a table and banged it and then the little figurine on the mantel-piece began to edge quietly toward what seemed inevitable doom over the precipice. The doors and windows rattled for a quick second—and it was all over. My first California earthquake—and what a disappointment! I've had more fun and more action, believe me, at a couple of seances I have attended. There, the chairs and tables really did some moving—and down—and not this silly sliding. Nevertheless, having been through the Great Snow of 1947, it is only fitting to add this mild earthquake of 1948 to my list of credits.

I'm told there's a sign in a Third Avenue, N. Y. upstairs dressmaking salon which reads: "Walk Up and Save . . . Barbara Sears did!" . . . Major discussion in these Hollywood circles centers, of course, about the Academy Awards . . . disappointments because such a star wasn't named . . . such a picture wasn't nominated . . . Many say they would like very much to see Loretta Young capture the Oscar for her performance in "The Bishop's Wife" . . . although the consensus is Rosalind Russell will win out . . . Groucho Marx says it is ridiculous to give Warners credit for the first sound movie. The first sound, he insists, was heard when popcorn was installed in the lobbies.

With kind regards, I am Sincerely yours, K. B. Goddard.

Letterbox

Dear Mr. Edgar:

I want to express my appreciation of the article that appeared in the Grosse Pointe News some three weeks or so ago, concerning my candidacy at the coming election for the place on the Village Commission, and the kind remarks you made concerning my past service on the Commission. However, the statement made suggesting that incorporation of the Village of Grosse Pointe Park as a city may have been an impelling reason attracted my attention. My reasons for again seeking office on the Commission did not particularly include the subject of City Incorporation, which while an interesting subject, is a highly controversial one in my judgment. I think it might possibly be of some interest to you if I state my reasons which are as follows:

In the first place, I don't think anyone who is privileged to serve in the government of a community in which he lives ever entirely loses his interest in public affairs. Certainly, I have not lost mine.

Secondly, with the exception of the first 8 or 9 months of my first term as President of the Village, I served entirely during war time, with the consequent difficulties so far as any public improvements were concerned. It was a case of merely maintaining the status quo during the war and forgetting about necessary and desirable civic improvements.

I would now be glad of the opportunity, if elected as a Commissioner to serve a term in time of peace, when it is possible to tackle some of the things I would like to have done or had some opportunity in bringing about, during my previous terms of office but which were then impossible.

With kind regards, I am Sincerely yours, K. B. Goddard.

To the Editor:

In case you would like some little information on the voting on Village elections in Grosse Pointe Farms for the past several years. I have noted the following: first the total registration is approximately 4,000. In 1940 when Mr. Paul H. Deming was opposed for president as well as the trustees, 1,475 voted. In 1943 when Mr. Watkins was opposed for president, 1,493 voted. Since that time the vote has been as follows: 1944, 423; 1945, 592; 1946, 850; 1947, 1,255.

The latter two years showed more people voting, however in both years there was a substantial campaign for the office of trustees. This year is the first time in my 12 years of having run for election that every office for which someone is to be elected, has opposition. It would appear that this election should set new records. I estimate that more than 2,000 persons will vote. The Village of course has only one voting precinct which is at the Municipal Bldg., 90 Kerby road. Therefore every step is being taken to handle the large number of voters in as efficient and expeditious a way as possible. HARRY A. FURTON, Village Clerk.

Rabbi to Speak To Rotary Club

Next Monday noon the Rotary Club will listen to an address by Rabbi B. Benedict Glazer of Temple Beth El. Rabbi Glazer's subject is "Peace Begins in Your Home." Rabbi Glazer has delivered this speech several times in the Detroit area and has deeply impressed his listeners. The burden of his talk is that it is hopeless to strive for peace between nations until the various creeds and races learn to live in neighborly friendliness and respect in the same society within the nations themselves.

OPEN DOOR INVITES THEFT

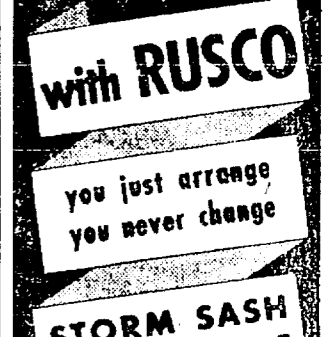

There was a burglary Sunday night, Feb. 29, at the home of E. A. Cucihi at 1408 Wayburn. When the family returned late in the evening they found the house had been ransacked. Thirteen dollars were taken and numerous small articles. The family had forgotten to lock the front door when they left.

Physicians Can Prevent Diphtheria

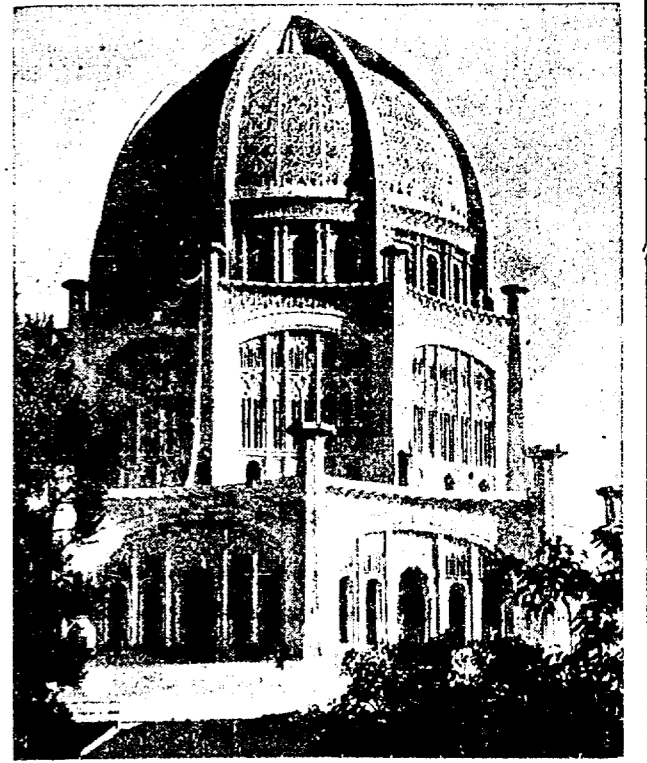

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H. The causes of Diphtheria have not disappeared from our environment, it is only through immunization and the necessary Schick test that this dreaded disease has been checked. The well meaning parent who neglects to have his child immunized not only exposes his child to the disease, but endangers society and retards the progress of medical science. A physician is always prepared to immunize, but he must have the cooperation of the parent to "make sure" that children have this protection. Working closely with the physician is the skilled pharmacist who supplies the life-saving serum.

Patricia Teetzel, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Teetzel, Jr., of 290 Merriweather road, escaped with a bad bump on her head when she fell in front of her home on Feb. 25. She was taken to Deaconess Hospital, where it was at first feared she had suffered a fractured skull.

Editor-in-Chief

JOHN I. SHIELDS, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shields of 582 Neff road, has recently been elected to be Editor-in-Chief of the Rutgers University undergraduate literary magazine, "The Anthologist."

This magazine, which has a circulation of 4,200, is published five times a year and contains the best literary efforts of Rutgers' students as well as articles pertinent to student interest.

Mr. Shields, who is in the class of 1949, had previously served on the magazine staff for one and a half years and was promoted from the position of Managing Editor. Now a student of American Civilization at the university, he had previous publishing experience on seven army newspapers. On three of these papers, including the "Ludwigsburg Sentinel" which he founded, he had served as Editor-in-Chief.

Besides working on "The Anthologist" Mr. Shields has participated in varsity debating at the university and during the last summer, he and his wife, Kitch, illustrated H. E. Hamilton's recently published book of poetry, "Through the Moongate".

Mrs. Bogle Host To Beta Chapter

Mrs. Henry C. Bogle opened her house on Lakeland avenue Sunday afternoon for a meeting of Beta chapter of Delta Omicron, national music sorority.

Jean Blakely and Betty Bogg were in charge of arrangements. Mary Grace Haidt, soprano, Olga Merchut, pianist, and Doris Yoder, violinist, provided the entertainment.

The sorority welcomed Dr. Henry Colby and Miss Stracey Edwards as new patrons. Other Beta patrons are Mrs. Bogle, Mrs. Helen Burr-Brand, Mrs. Wilber Brucker, Dr. Karl Krueger, Benderson Netzorg, Mischa Kottler, Dr. Fowler Smith, Paul Green, Dr. Harry Seitz, William C. King, Dr. Cyril Barker, Willoughby Boughton, Edward Werner, Cameron McLean, Mrs. Paul Voorhies, J. D. Runkle, and Margaret Mannebach.

First experiences as cooks and hostesses are provided for Grosse Pointe girls by Scouting. Troop 377 is working on the Cook Badge and Hostess Badge in groups of six. Three girls, (hostesses), plan and execute a luncheon, inviting three other troop members, (guests). The hostesses must do the shopping, cook and serve the food, wash dishes afterward. The next week the same six girls change places (the 3 hostesses become guests; the 3 guests become hostesses) and do everything all over again.

Mothers who have aided by offering their homes for these 11 and 12 year olds to practice culinary art include Mrs. Henry Giltner, Mrs. Sidney Morgan and Mrs. Wesley Robinson.

Leader Mrs. Earl Genthe reports that her Troop 303 recently invested 21 girls in ceremonies held in Maure School. Brownie Troop 655 attended, watched the traditional flag ceremony and heard the new Scouts repeat the Scout laws. Mothers also were present. Refreshments were served.

Troop 201, the Woods, has two new members, Joanne Hargis and Ann Webster.

Girls of St. Paul's Troop 579 are learning to make a variety of useful articles out of leather, such as change purses, wallets and comb cases. The leather was contributed by Mr. A. Limberg, whose daughter is a member of the troop.

Troop 579 also has invested three new girls, Merilice Johnston, Janet Kubitsky and Catherine Marick.

Scribe Badges have been awarded Charlotte Klein and Elaine Limberg.

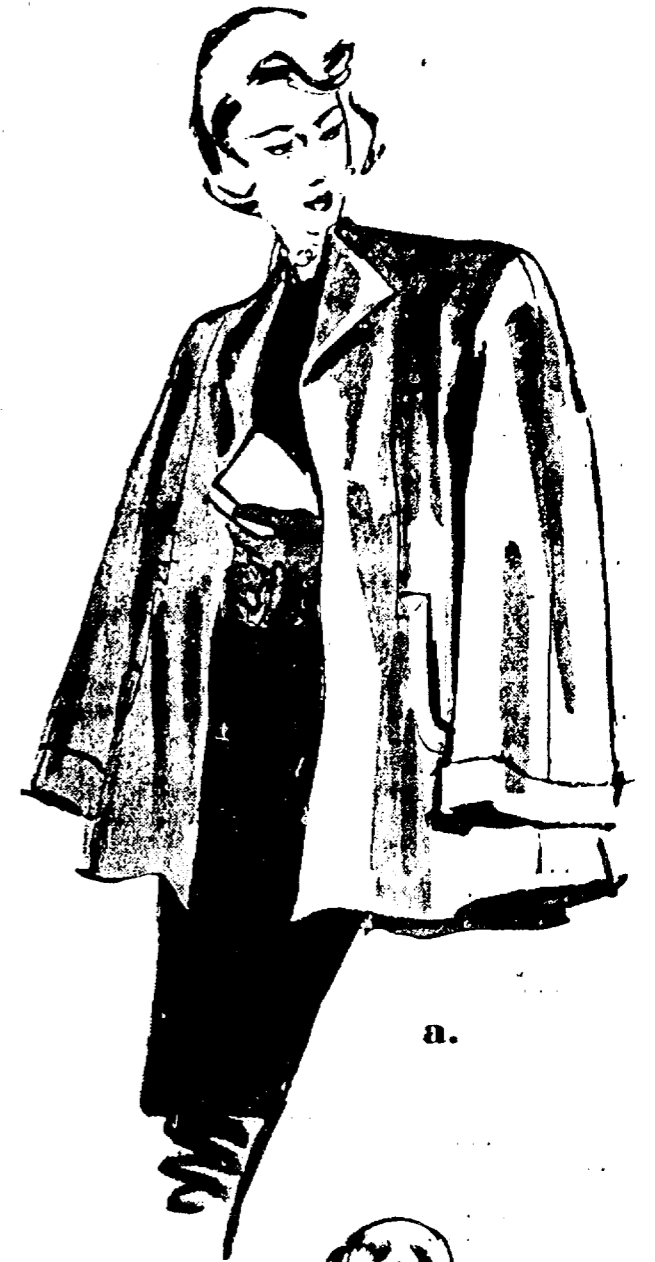

Lillian Marick has received a Scribe Badge and a Photographic Badge.

Library Board Plans Old Fashioned Party

Many Pointers Taking Prominent Part in Event Being Sponsored Tonight in Garden Center on Belle Isle

Tonight at 8 is the time chosen for the party to be given by the Library Board of the Esther Longyear Murphy Memorial Library. An old fashioned evening in an old fashioned house with old friends and books will be enjoyed by those who will be present at the White House in the Detroit Garden Center on Belle Isle.

The Board, sponsored by the Detroit Garden Center and the Michigan Horticultural Society, wishes to acquaint the people of Detroit with the wealth of resource material on gardening in the Esther Longyear Murphy Memorial Library.

Chairmen of the event are Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann and Miss Ruth Barnes. The program, under the direction of Dr. John R. Jackson, chairman, will include: Early History of the Belle Isle White House, by George Stark; Ann Campbell, reading poems, old fashioned garden; The Four Counts (Barber Shop Quartet) singing old fashioned songs, and the story of the founding of the Library from its earliest beginnings to present time, by Ruth Mosher Place.

Tentative plans for future housing of the Library will be explained by Mrs. Henry P. Newman. Exhibits of gift books and prints from the Library will be arranged by Mrs. Carl Baller, librarian; Walter Kaiser and John T. Cochrane. Victorian flower arrangements are by Mrs. Longyear Palmer. Miss Judy Bosson is in charge of "A Still Life of Old Fashioned Hats" with suitable flower arrangements. The hats are from the collection of the Detroit Historical Society, courtesy of Miss Marion L. Hrebek.

Hosts will include: Mrs. Longyear Palmer, Mrs. Lynn McNaughton, Dr. Hugh Stalker, Mrs. Lloyd Hughes, Mrs. Wendell K. Wheelock, Mr. Robert Esseg, Mrs. G. Colin Stover, Mrs. George I. Bouton, director, the Detroit Garden Center; and Mrs. E. G. Grunau, executive secretary of the Michigan Horticultural Society. Miss Florence Severs and Mrs. C. C. Groves are in charge of invitations.

Gardeners to Be Guests of Mrs. Joseph Crowley

The March meeting of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Grosse Pointe branch, will be held at 2:30 p. m. on Monday, March 8, in the home of Mrs. Joseph J. Crowley of 243 Lakeland avenue.

Richard Gearhart, assistant chief of the Michigan Department of Conservation, will be the speaker.

Junior League Workers Feted

Thirteen Junior League volunteers were honor guests Thursday when the Cancer Society gave a luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Dr. Hugh Mahoney, medical director of St. Mary's Hospital, thanked the volunteers, who had each given from 60 to 70 hours of service at St. Mary's Cancer Detection Center. Mrs. Albert M. Mackey, vice president of the Society which sponsors eight detection centers in Detroit hospitals, also spoke.

According to Mrs. Gilbert S. Currie, chairman of the volunteers, 1,294 persons received free physical examinations at St. Mary's center in the last year. Two volunteers are on duty at the center which is open each Tuesday and Thursday morning.

Pointe volunteers who were honored include Mrs. Currie, Mrs. Angus Goetz, Mrs. Grace Willis, Mrs. Carsten Tiedeman, Mrs. Frederick Kammer, Jr., Mrs. John B. Hartzell, Mary and Nellie Tiedeman, Ann S. Lilley and Joan Stringer.

Luncheon Honor Flattery Sisters

Honoring the Flattery sisters, Sally, Suzanne and Patricia, Mrs. Frank Ware entertained at a luncheon and linen shower Saturday in her home on Lakeland avenue.

The three honorees are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flattery. Suzanne Flattery and Alvin G. Sherman, Jr. will be married Saturday, April 10. The Wares arrived from New York Thursday to spend the week at their Pointe home.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. William B. Hurley, Mrs. William L. Hurley, Mrs. Flattery, Corinne Clements, Mrs. E. J. Greening, Mrs. Gerry Kahler, Mrs. Carlyle Long, Jackie Kay, Caroline Dillon, and Mrs. J. William Berns.

St. Joan Mothers' Club Plans for Two Events

Members of the Mothers' Club of St. Joan of Arc School, St. Clair Shores, will discuss two events on their spring program when they meet this afternoon. Mrs. Julia Broughton is to handle arrangements for the Easter Saturday Bake Sale to be given in the school auditorium on March 27.

Club members will also make plans for the fashion show and card party which they will sponsor Thursday evening, April 8. General chairman for this affair is Mrs. C. J. Sutton.

Heads New Bridal Salon

MISS JESSICA CHARIOT has been named head of the new bridal salon which will be opened in Jacobson's Kercheval avenue store on Saturday, Feb. 6. The new shop will carry everything for the bride from the wedding gown to lingerie and going-away costumes.

Parties Honor Jean Campbell

A series of pre-nuptial parties last week honored Jean Campbell, daughter of the Clarence D. Campbells of Harvard road, who was married Saturday to Arthur Compton Beaumont, Jr.

Mrs. Carl Thrasher gave the spinster dinner Thursday, to which she invited Mrs. Leslie Bechtel, Mrs. Stewart Hanger, Mrs. William Ludwig, Molly Lester, Sue Campbell, Connie Long, Maria McKnight, Mrs. William Bridge, Mrs. Sheldon Strong, and Mrs. Edward Thomas.

The Glenn Coulters entertained the bridal party and guests at cocktails Friday evening, preceding the rehearsal dinner in the home of the senior Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont on Merriweather road.

Students Enjoy Skiing Weekend

A group of Grosse Pointe High School students found Chet Sampson's three station wagons waiting when they filed from classes Friday afternoon. Eager sports enthusiasts poured into the cars and set out for a week-end at Grayling.

Among those who made the trip were Ted Laitner, Ted Ostus, Bill Beardslee and Calvin Purdy. Pat Rastier, Janet Woodruff, Barbara Gregory, Pat Ford, Edith Waldbott, and Peggy McCarten were the girls who made the jaunt and stayed in private Grayling homes.

There are no intellectual difficulties where there are no moral defeats.

Newcomers Club Has Full Month

An afternoon tea highlighted the February activities of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club. It was held February 24 in the home of Mrs. James Dodge, 1108 Audubon road. Hostesses for the afternoon were the members of the executive board, Mrs. Robert Schaller, Mrs. Howard Poppen, Mrs. George McCall, Mrs. Hugh Delfs, Mrs. William Hunt and Mrs. Dodge.

Presiding over the tea table were Mrs. Clifford Lundgren and Mrs. Bennett Burgoon, wives of former presidents of the club.

Earlier in the month, members enjoyed a square dance in the Neighborhood Club, with the popular callers, Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, in charge. Decorations and refreshments carried out the Valentine's Day theme, and all who attended praised the efforts of the committee headed by the Lester Elliotts, assisted by the Ed Dullis, Russell Nears and Homer Swanders.

About 50 members turned out for the monthly bridge in Memorial Church on Feb. 29. Unusual methods for finding bridge and supper partners featured the evening. Mr. and Mrs. David Moore were chairmen of the party, assisted by the Tappan Collins, Ketchel Mariens and Owen Taggart.

The Newcomers Club is open to couples who have moved to Grosse Pointe within the past two years. If interested in further details, please call Mr. or Mrs. James Dodge, TUxedo 1-1016.

Federation of Women's Clubs to Hold Program

The Adult Education Day program of the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Thursday, March 11, at the Federation clubhouse, 4811 Second boulevard.

A special invitation is extended to Federation members and their friends to attend this program which is the last of the season. Sessions will begin at 10 a. m. and continue through 7:45 p. m.

Campbell-Beaumont Nuptials Solemnized

Daughter of Clarence D. Campbells of Harvard Road Becomes Bride of Arthur Compton Beaumont, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Compton Beaumont, Jr., left on a honeymoon trip to Chicago following their wedding Saturday in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Mrs. Beaumont is the former Emily Jean Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Campbell of Harvard road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Beaumont of Merriweather road.

A gown of white slipper satin was the bride's choice for her wedding. Hand-appliqued lace touched with seed pearls bordered the yoke of illusion net, and the nipped waistline fell into a court train.

The fingertip veil of illusion fell from a modified tiara of lace and pearls. Her flowers were white camellias and freesia.

Suzanne Campbell, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore apple green taffeta with cape sleeves and white elbow gloves. The four identically gowned bridesmaids were Cornelia Long, Mrs. Sheldon Strong, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Edward Thomas, of Lexington, Va., and Mrs. Carl Thrasher. The attendants carried pink delight roses with camellias.

Best man for his brother was Donald Beaumont, Donald Sicklestele, Edward Thomas, Carl Thrasher, Robert Bridge, William Bridge, and Joseph Beyer seated the guests.

Mrs. Campbell selected a sea-foam pebble satin gown for her daughter's wedding. She wore a tiara of matching satin and dusty pink illusion and her corsage was of pink camellias.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of champagne-colored lace with turban of matching blue satin. With it she wore a lady slipper orchid.

After a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the bride donned a beige wool suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white camellias for the honeymoon to Chicago.

Methodists Plan Alaska Program

The March general meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, will be held in the home of Mrs. Paul T. Van Ness, 75 Renaud road, on Wednesday, March 10, at 8 p. m.

The program will be on Alaska and Mrs. Paul G. Halmhuber, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service at Westlawn Church, will show Kodachrome slides of a recent trip to Alaska.

The women, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Francis Shaw, 19020 Chandler Park drive, are collecting coats and sweaters to be sent to the Jesse Lee home in Seward, Alaska.

A cordial invitation is extended to all members of friends of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church to attend this meeting. Mrs. Virgil L. Walling, 327 Kerby road is program chairman for the Society.

Statements Issued by Both Sides in Farms Elections

In a statement to the NEWS, the Grosse Pointe Farms Better Government Association stated its aims, purposes and endorsement of candidates for election to Village Offices at the polling Monday, March 8.

The statement, released by Gerald Trembley, secretary of the association is as follows:

"It is the purpose of the Grosse Pointe Farms Better Government Association to promote and sponsor better government in Grosse Pointe Farms. We are all citizens, home owners, and taxpayers of the Village, and we feel that our interests are your interests. It is our desire to serve all the people of Grosse Pointe Farms—not a special group or class of residents, as has been the custom in the past.

"Here are a few pertinent questions for every citizen to consider:

"How long do the citizens of this Village propose to put up with the 'public be ignored' attitude in our Village government?

"How long must we put up with periodic Village labor troubles resulting in the necessity of burying our own garbage, carrying it to a Village pit (one resident fell in), and disposing of your own rubbish?"

"The manner in which the present administration handles the Village is a disgrace to any community in this country of ours. Let's rid ourselves of these conditions. Let's clean house. Let's do it at the polls on Monday, March 8, by electing a new Village President, three new Village Trustees, and a new Clerk and Treasurer.

"Grosse Pointe Farms residents are fortunate indeed to have as a candidate for Village President a man of the caliber and experience of John R. Sutton, Jr., who is a candidate for that office. Although not affiliated with the Grosse Pointe Farms Better Government Association, Mr. Sutton measures up to every requirement demanded by our Association, and we strongly urge your support of him. Mr. Sutton has long been a resident of the Farms and is a former Village Trustee, and former Commissioner of the Police and Fire Departments. He withdrew from the Council, because he could not stand "under-the-table" politics. He felt that the public had no opportunity to actually find out what was going on in the Village government. He realized that, as a minority trustee, he had little or no opportunity to correct conditions, and desiring no longer to be a party to the type of government practiced, withdrew from it. Mr. Sutton finally responded to the urgent requests of public spirited citizens who urged that he run for Village President. If elected, Mr.

Sutton has promised to put all Village business on the table, and to deal with groups and individuals who bring proposals before the Council in a neighborly and friendly manner.

"Now, let's take a look at a newcomer to Village affairs, Trustee candidate Harry R. Dey. He has been a Farms resident for thirty years, is familiar with our current problems, and has taken a special interest in our labor situation. Everyone knows something about the Village Employee strikes or at least some of the results, but many may not know the cause. In our opinion it all goes back to an unrealistic and stubborn attitude on the part of the "elected" Village officials. Mr. Dey is a recognized authority on labor and personnel problems, having acquired his experience as Personnel & Employment Manager in one of Detroit's largest corporations. There is not a man on the present Council with such qualifications. Mr. Dey is particularly recommended for Trustee, because we must have at least one Trustee who is qualified to deal with our labor problems as they arise.

"We of the Better Government Association promise that if our men are elected, Council meetings will be held openly and in a proper manner. Any citizens appearing before it will be accorded respectful and courteous treatment."

Candidates endorsed by the Association include John R. Sutton for Village President; Irving T. Winkler, Horace E. Farmer, and Harry R. Dey for Village Trustees; Fred T. Kuehl for Village Clerk; Francis J. Hock for Village Treasurer, and Russell A. Labadie for re-election as Village Assessor.

Winkler, Farmer, and Dey were nominated in the Primary of February 9th. There was no Primary held for the offices of Village President, Clerk, Treasurer, or Assessor, as there was only one opponent for each incumbent in these posts, the runoff to occur March 8th.

Officers of the Association include Phillip Moran, 184 Moross road, president; Gerald Trembley, 325 Kirby road, secretary; and Martin A. Minicky, 469 Touraine, treasurer.

citizen or group of citizens has not been given careful consideration by the Village Council, nor I venture to say can the Secretary. Some of such suggestions were, in the opinion of the Council, "unsound" or "ill-advised", and it is perhaps not merely a coincidence that such suggestions were usually proposed by a member of this group which announces that it is for "better government".

It is true that during the present administration certain village employees once chose to go on strike. That hardly constituted "periodic Village labor trouble". The present administration does not recede in the slightest from the position it then took—namely, that governmental employees have no right to strike.

The Secretary thinks our manner of handling Village affairs is a disgrace. But, Mr. Secretary, in what respect?

Our police and fire departments are honestly and efficiently operated. Our streets certainly compare most favorably with those of our neighbors. Our garbage collections are regularly made. Our water department is well run. It is true that with the growth of the Village our sewer system needs additional capacity, and despite the fact that the proposed bond issue to raise funds to pay for this increased capacity was defeated, this administration is proceeding with the work as rapidly as possible. Our recreation facilities are constantly being improved and increased. Citizens receive courteous and intelligent consideration of their appeals and inquiries.

With it all, our taxes are no higher than those of the other Grosse Pointe communities, and as to some, substantially lower.

What is so disgraceful about that? As for "under the table" politics, again the Secretary is delightfully vague. The meetings of the Council are open to all, and I challenge the Secretary to cite a single instance of what he calls "under the table" politics. He and his group have announced their support of my opponent as one who withdrew from the Council because of "under the table" politics. But my opponent flatly denies that he withdrew for this reason.

The plain, simple fact is that this so-called Better Government Association is sponsored by a group of malcontents who know little or nothing about our government and who periodically attempt to make trouble and stir up discontent. At the time of the recent special election on the proposed bond issue certain of their membership circulated by word of mouth an utterly untruthful story that I and two other officials had caused our residences to be grossly under-assessed. I challenged one of them, Mr. Minickey, on the matter at a Council meeting. He admitted that the story had been circulated, that they had made no effort to determine the facts although the assessment rolls were open to them, and that they had learned after the election that the story was untrue. This is typical of the methods of the so-called leaders in this "better government" group.

I earnestly urge every citizen to go to the polls on Monday,

March 8. I believe that your present administration is doing a good job, and deserves your support. But I am certain that you owe it to yourself to exercise your franchise on Monday, March 8. I shall be pleased if you will publish this letter in your issue of March 4, 1948. Thank you.

JAMES K. WATKINS, President, Village of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Two Cars Tangle At Mack-Warren

Damage was slight when two cars collided at Mack and Warren at 6:10 p.m. on March 1.

Thomas F. Steiner of Gaukler, St. Clair Shores, was driving his 1946 Dodge east on Mack when it tangled with a 1942 Dodge turning left into Mack from Warren. Christian Stockman of 413 Belanger was the driver of the second car.

Total damage was about $60 and both drivers were given tickets by Farms Officers Roberts and Beaupre.

WANT CLEAN STREETS

The construction foreman at the site of the new Kerby School, Kerby and Beaupre, was ordered by Farms police to have his truck drivers clean up all dirt spilled in Kerby road before they quit their work at night.

Lubrication

COSTS NO MORE

So why accept less than the best? Your car is a big investment and must be properly protected. Correct lubrication is the first line of protection for your car.

A lubrication is more than changing the oil and grease. It's a job of lubricating and greasing many points that are subject to wear. Knowledge of these points, knowing how and what to do, having the proper equipment, materials and experience, make the difference between ordinary lubrications and factory specified lubrications.

Ray Whyte Chevrolet Company features expert lubrications at surprising low prices. Ray Whyte's lubrications cover the following operations: Lubricate and change oil, pack front wheel bearings, pack rear spring covers, fill shock absorbers, change axle and transmission grease. To The Editor, Grosse Pointe News:—

I read with interest the "pertinent question" posed by the Secretary of the Farms Better Government Association and his accompanying comments as published in one of the local papers last Thursday.

The gist of his remarks seems to be "Throw the rascals out" and, of course, put in the candidates of the Association. But although he says "How long? How long?", he fails utterly to point out any fact which in any way indicates that his plaintive question are really "pertinent".

He asks, for example, how long our citizens propose to endure the "public be ignored" attitude of the present Village government; but he cites no instance of any such attitude. I can recall no case in the past five years when a suggestion or request from a

Absentee Ballots Available in Farms

Those expecting to be out of the village on Monday, March 8, Election Day, can still obtain Absentee Voter's Ballots and cast their vote in Grosse Pointe Farms. Clerk Harry Furton announced Wednesday. The ballots are available in the clerk's office on the second floor of the Municipal Building at 90 Kerby road. When the NEWS went to press more than 60 absentee ballots had already been cast. It will be possible for absentee voters to vote up until Saturday noon.

We need an ideology more compelling than communism—more creative than mere anti-communism.

Voters League To Hold Meeting

The League of Women Voters of the 14th Congressional District will hold a meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, March 8, in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake Shore road. "Economic Problems Concerned in the European Recovery Program" will be discussed under the leadership of Mrs. J. C. Bley, chairman. All interested women are urged to attend.

Hits Two Parked Cars on Mack

At 9:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28, Charles R. Hawkins of 3909 Cadieux, driving a '47 Buick east on Mack near Devonshire, struck a car parked and unoccupied on the south side of Mack, belonging to Fred W. Figer of 160 McMillan. His car then careened over and struck another car parked on the north side of Mack. The accident was seen by the Detroit police of the 15th Precinct who turned the case over to the Park.

PTA at Defer Meets Mar. 16

The Defer PTA will meet Tuesday, March 16 at 7:30 p.m. The speaker will be Dr. Lyndon Babcock, whose subject will be "Mental Hygiene of Parenthood." A question and answer period will follow and refreshments will be served.

Shubert Books Two Big Stars

The accent is on comedy in George Oppenheimer's play, "There Goes the Bride," which comes to the Shubert Lafayette Theatre, Detroit, for two weeks beginning Monday, March 8, starring Ilka Chase and Robert Alda and featuring Harold J. Kennedy. Under its former title of "Here Today," the script was called a "constant joy" by Broadway critics. Ilka Chase, who plays the role of a witty, albeit somewhat zany playwright, is equally famous for her acting abilities and for her literary endeavors. She has not only starred in many plays in New York, but has authored three best-sellers and a fourth book which will hit the book stalls within the month.

Schedule Talk By Clare Luce

Clare Booth Luce, Broadway playwright and former Congresswoman, who is regarded as one of the most attractive women in America, will close the nineteenth consecutive season of Detroit Town Hall at Fisher Theatre, the morning of March 10. She will speak at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Luce will come directly from Hollywood for the occasion. Her subject is "What is Right With Congress?"

Mrs. Luce gained national reputation as a speaker during the Presidential campaign of 1940 when she toured the country in support of the Republican ticket. She served four years in Congress as a legislator and member of the House Military Affairs Committee, and her two-term career in the House was marked by the introduction of legislation that reflected the wide scope of her travels and observations.

After war began Clare Luce went to Europe and The Far East as a correspondent for Life, Fortune and Time magazines, traveling more than 75,000 miles in 12 months. Upon her return she published "Europe in the Spring." The former Congresswoman plans to return to Hollywood after her appearance at Fisher Theatre to write and direct a movie. Already made into pictures are her plays, "The Women," "Kiss the Boys Goodby," and "Margin for Error."

Pointers and Sculptors Plan Annual Exhibition

The Detroit Society of Women Painters and Sculptors will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday, March 5, at the Detroit Institute of Arts. After the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Agnes Lindemann, Mrs. R. D. Williams, the program chairman, will present Professor Donald B. Gooch in the third lecture of the course, Design and Painting, that is being presented to the Club members this winter.

A large number have attended regularly, and at the final meeting there will be illustrations of assignments in painting made by the members.

The entire membership is now looking forward to the 44th Annual Exhibition which will be held at the Scarab Club sometime next month. At this time it is expected that each member will exhibit.

TOOL SHED ROOF BURNS
A fire on the roof of a tool shed at the construction site of the new Kirby School was extinguished before the Farms firemen reached the scene on the morning of Feb. 26. Damage was slight.

Grosse Pointe Farms Voters: IMPORTANT!

VOTE NEXT MONDAY, MARCH 8TH

Annual Election • At Village Hall • 90 Kerby Road

In order to maintain the continued good management of Village affairs at low cost (your Village tax bill due July 1st each year) we earnestly urge you to vote for the candidates named below. Each has served the Village faithfully and well. Messrs. James K. Watkins, Richard L. Maxon, Neil S. McEachin, and George L. Schlaepfer, have shown themselves willing to accept civic responsibility by their constructive action as members of the Village Council. This is evidenced by Village records.

We request the candidates named below to file for election; they are not committed to any group; they have no "special interests." We ask you to examine carefully all information reaching you in support of opponents to those we recommend.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR PRESENT ADMINISTRATION

We the sponsors of James K. Watkins—For President, Richard L. Maxon, Neil S. McEachin, and George L. Schlaepfer—For Trustees, Harry A. Furton—For Clerk, Alonzo J. O'Connor—For Treasurer, L. M. (Joe) Reeves—For Assessor, for election at the Grosse Pointe Farms election next Monday, March 8th, point with pride to the facts listed below from the Public Village Records since the election of President James K. Watkins in 1943.

1. Tax Rate—In the face of rising costs we find the following tax rates per $1,000. of valuation:

1943 -	$12.12
1944 -	11.92
1945 -	11.52
1946 -	12.56
1947 -	13.33

2. Bonded Debt—Since 1943 the general fund debt has been reduced from $693,000 to $477,000—a reduction of $216,000.

3. Special Public Works—During this period your Village expended $74,895.00 principally on new sewer installations.

4. Recreation—During this same period the Village spent $106,498.49 for recreation. Of this total $15,387.95 was used to improve the new 7 acre recreation field at Kerby and Chalfonte, and the Pier and Park at the foot of Moross.

5. Reserve For Public Improvement—In the last five years your administration has set aside a reserve of $80,599.20 for planned improvements. This sum has now been earmarked to meet a portion of the cost for the enlargement of the Sewer Pumping Station at Kerby and Chalfonte. This action was taken as a result of the recommendation of Hubbel, Roth & Clark, Inc., an impartial concern of recognized consulting engineers specializing in this field.

Any information you may desire regarding your Village affairs and how it is run may be obtained any time at the Village Clerk's Office, 90 Kerby Road.

Tankers Far From Cinch To Win State Swim Title

Coach Banach Must Rely on "Pluggers" To Produce All-Important Points If Blue Devils Are To Come Home Victorious

It is the general belief around the Pointe that Grosse Pointe High School's Border Cities League championship swimming team need only put in an appearance at the State Class A swimming meet Saturday, March 6, to win the title. Let's get a few facts straight before this rumor goes too far.

It is true the Blue Devils are one of the best dual meet teams in the state and stand a fair chance to come off with top honors next weekend providing Dame Fortune smiles her approval.

Let's remember that on three previous occasions the Blue Devils have gone undefeated during the dual meet season and won the B.C.L. title outright, only to wind up in the also-ran spot in the state meet. The best any Blue Devil team has done in state competition is second place.

State meets are a different story than dual meets where one team competes against the other.

In state competition a team, in order to win, must have all around strength in order to capture enough points from twenty or more schools entered.

Usually only the best swimmers from each school are entered by the coaches.

For example I know of one case this year where the coach is only taking three boys from his entire team because he is positive, from the times turned in, that the other members of the team don't stand a chance of even qualifying. This is true of most coaches around the state.

Grosse Pointe has its star performers who can be depended upon to capture a certain number of points, but not enough to win by themselves. Just one of these boys has to become sick and the Blue Devils chances will go right out the window.

The Pointers have a sturdy band of "pluggers." This source of points is questionable but if the "pluggers" come through, Grosse Pointe can boast of being the only school in the B.C.L. to ever win a state meet.

Don't figure the Blue Devils in the driver's seat yet. Wait until next Sunday when the final tabulations are in before you hail Grosse Pointe as the best in the state.

Coach Banach has his fingers crossed and is hoping and praying but is not filing an application to the Optimist Club yet.

St. Paul Five Nears End of Court Season

Will Conclude Campaign With District Tournament This Weekend

St. Paul cagers will conclude the basketball campaign with the coming district tournaments at St. Charles this weekend. Friday they will meet Annunciation after drawing a bye in the first game. The game will start at 7 o'clock at the St. Charles gym.

If St. Paul wins Friday they will play in the semi-finals Saturday night. Annunciation finished the season in first place.

St. Paul won one out of three games last week. All games were exhibition games. Tuesday they dropped a 22-17 game to St. Francis DeSales and Thursday downed the same team in the second of a home-and-home series, 44-36. Sunday afternoon the local cagers lost to St. Mary's of Mt. Clemens, 32-29.

In Thursday's game St. Paul was forced to come from behind in the final period. Chuck Wyllie and Paul DuRocher featured the St. Paul victory with 16 and 14 points respectively. DuRocher bagged 12 points in the last half. St. Mary's of Mt. Clemens was forced into two extra overtime periods in order to win 32-29. The score stood knotted at 27-27 at the end of regulation time.

In the first three minute overtime period St. Mary's scored first and held the 28-27 lead until seconds were left. Guard DuRocher took a long desperation shot just as the gun sounded and sank it, tying the score at 29-29 and forcing another period.

In the extra period St. Mary's went ahead. Jim Law and Jerry Hollerbach, both of St. Paul, were taken out because of fouls and Chuck Wyllie and O'Brien of St. Mary's were removed from the game because of fighting in the final overtime period.

DUS Five Wins One; Drops One

DUS drew its 1947-48 schedule to a close last Friday night by trouncing New Baltimore, 29-24, on the local court. It was well to end the season with a win, especially after taking a beating from Northshore High at Chicago, Saturday, Feb. 21, by a score of 59-27.

It was unfortunate that the trip to Chicago was so long and tiresome. The traveling cagers were on the floor ready to start the game thirty minutes after arriving.

D.U.S. was behind at the half-time 23-13. Merritt Jones was high scorer for D.U.S. with 11 points. Jack Foster tallied 8. In the game with New Baltimore, the Red and Blue held a substantial lead throughout. Tony Stever, playing his last home game for D.U.S., scored 9 points as high man. Jack Foster and Bill Fisher also ended their D.U.S. careers by accounting for 4 and 5 points respectively.

Krajenke Team Takes Lead

"Van" Tumbles Overboard; Lands in Sea of Matrimony

By FRED RUNNELLS

This is Fred (call me Winchell) Runnels confirming a report of a year ago that George Van, popular yachting editor, finally fell into the sea of matrimony last week when he married the pretty Marg Leachman in Nassau.

It was just year ago that I predicted George, president of the River Rat Bachelors, would be married before the spring of 1948 if he had a long, cold winter.

For years Van has engineered many yachting trips such as the Mackinaw race, Barthel series, Mills race, the Inter-Lake Regatta at Put-In-Bay, and salt water races too numerous to list. In other words Van has come and gone pretty much as he pleased throughout his career.

Will Van be able to make all those yachting events in the future? If he does it will be a good trick for the little round sailor.

"Fiddler's Witch," a catboat of renown and for years Van's first love, will probably receive her divorce papers come spring.

"Royal 10" Hops Back Into Lead

The "Royal 10" team hopped back into the lead in the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Bowling League on Feb. 25, with three other teams just a few points behind and still very much in the running.

Weins and Warner had the high individual games for the night with 221's. Nelson was next with 219. Pety went back into the lead for high average for the year with his 163 in 63 games.

St. Paul Wins 5th Straight In Neighborhood Club Loop

By FRED RUNNELLS

St. Paul's amazing basketball team extended its winning streak to five straight when it upset the league leading Hansen Chevrolet quintet, 39-35, in the first game of a twin bill in the Neighborhood Club league last Monday night, March 1.

The loss in no way threatened Hansen's hold on first place in the standings, but it did prove that Hansen is not invincible and has raised the hopes of its remaining opponents.

Bob Van Tiem led the St. Paul attack with 12 points to annex high point honors. Bill Hansen and Glenn Holt, of Hansen, tied for second place honors with 10 points each.

In the second game of the night the Francois Bulldogs bounced back from a discouraging overtime defeat of a week ago to nip Gabriel Richard in a nip and tuck battle, 39-36.

The Bulldogs led all the way and held a 19-17 half time advantage despite the great efforts of George Verdonck, who scored 23 points to keep Richard in the ball game.

For the third week in a row Tom Willson and Lee Guaresimo led the Bulldogs' attack with 12 and 11 points respectively.

On Tuesday February 24 the Amvets defeated the Defer Cagers, 51-41, to keep hot on the trail of the league leaders. Charlie Doemer, the league's leading scorer, added 17 more points to his already overwhelling total to win scoring honors in this game. Joe Higgins of Defer was only a step behind Doemer with 15 points.

One of the most unusual games of the season was played by the Apaches and the Swishers on Saturday, February 28, at the club.

The game ended in the Swishers' favor, 26-25, and the Apaches went to the dressing room believing they had lost their first game of the season. Suddenly the referee burst into the locker room and informed the Apaches that the scorers had forgotten to count one of their foul shots and the game had ended in a tie.

Both teams redressed to play a three minute overtime period to decide the contest. The Apaches finally won, 30-28, for their ninth straight victory to remain on top of the Minor division standings.

Jim Thayer of the Swishers took scoring honors with 9 points.

Marv Weaver, Grosse Pointe cager, is the most popular player on the team. Every time Marv scores a basket the whole gym gives him a tremendous ovation.

Marv, after a two year absence from sports, has worked his way up from the bottom in both football and basketball. Weaver started on the intramural squad in football and worked his way to the varsity and a starting position in several weeks. In basketball, with no previous experience, he worked his way to a regular position.

Weaver injured his hand in the Monroe game and missed a week of practice, yet he played the majority of the Wyandotte game.

Barry Munro, another cager, was shifted to guard from forward after Weaver's injury. He started the Wyandotte game and scored two baskets in the first few minutes before he sprained an ankle. He injured the ankle several weeks ago and had it bandaged for this game.

In Border Cities League games last weekend Monroe upset Fordson 33-30 and Highland Park defeated Royal Oak, Friday night.

Fordson will meet Wyandotte in a battle for first place. Fordson has a record of 6-3 and Wyandotte 7-2.

Am Vet Meeting Set for Monday

An invitation is extended to honorably discharged veterans to attend the next meeting of the AmVets, Grosse Pointe Post 127, on Monday, March 8, at 8:30 p.m., in the Rathskeller Cafe, Mack and Nottingham. Movies will be shown.

Whirlwind Start Enables GPHS to Beat Wyandotte

Blue Devil Basketball Team Racks Up Nine Points Before Down River Five Scores; Munro Sparks Local Attack

By Fred Runnels

The fast moving Grosse Pointe Blue Devil cage team struck early and often to defeat the league leading Wyandotte Bears, 36-33, last Friday night on the Bears home court to win its fifth league victory in nine starts and its eighth win in twelve games.

The Pointers looked unbeatable during the first four minutes of the initial quarter due to an experiment by Coach Wernet. He started Barry Munro at guard for the first time this season. It was a gamble by Wernet who has been searching for a boy to replace Guaresimo, who graduated at mid term.

Munro sparked the club before retiring half way through the first quarter due to an aggravation of an old ankle injury. He and Vince Schoeck paced the Pointers' early attack with two field goals each.

The Blue Devils racked up a nine-point lead before the Bears even got a smell of a score, that coming on a free throw by Jakiuk after two and a half minutes of play.

After Munro left the game the Pointers' attack slowed down considerably. Grosse Pointe held a first-quarter 14-10 advantage and managed to protect its four point lead through the second period.

Wyandotte was strictly a three-man team throughout the first half with Rybicki, Jakiuk and Palmer scoring all of the Bears' points.

Grosse Pointe's scoring was more evenly divided with each Blue Devil scoring at least once in the first half.

Half way through the third period Wyandotte knotted the score at 25-25 but Schoeck put the Pointers out in front for good on a one-hander from side court and the Blue Devils moved out to a four-point, 30-26, lead going into the final period.

Only a nice bit of stalling by the Blue Devils kept the ball away from the frustrated Bears in the final minute of play. It was the Dotted second league defeat. The Bears' only other loss was administered by the lowly Monroe Trojans, 31-30, who gave the Pointers quite a tussle a week ago before going down to a 44-40 defeat.

Rybicki and Palmer of Wyandotte tied for high point honors

Fly Tying Class Offered Anglers

A class in Fly Tying will start Monday evening, March 8, at the Grosse Pointe High School.

Kendrick Stoke, well known fly fisherman and a recognized authority on fly tying will be the instructor.

The many fundamentals of this interesting hobby will be emphasized, such as: 1—The choice of thread, how to use and treat it; 2—The use of wool silk floss, chenille, quilts, hair and fur for bodies; 3—How to spin fur; 4—The use of finsel; 5—Methods of anchoring to eliminate twisting, turning and whipping out of the materials.

After the fundamentals are presented, class members will be able to work on either wet or dry flies or bugs.

Mr. Stoke will demonstrate the tying of several of the best flies for Michigan use.

Make reservations at once as enrollment will be limited. Call Niagara 2000, Extension 25.

with ten points each. Vince Schoeck, for the third week in a row, led the Pointers in point production with nine. Jerry Allen and Bob Hays tied with the Bears usually high scoring center, Jakiuk, at six points.

Grosse Pointe opened wide the door of opportunity for the Fordson Tractors to move into a tie with Wyandotte for first place but the Tractors couldn't grab the "brass ring" because the Monroe Trojans slipped them a surprising, 31-30, pasting to become the number one candidate for the title of "giant killer" in the league.

Both of Monroe's victories were over the two top teams in the standings. Fordson's loss also set the stage for a dilly of a ball game down Wyandotte way next Friday night when the Tractors and the Bears tangle. The outcome of this game can greatly affect the Pointers inasmuch as they can tie for second place in the league if Wyandotte wins. That is if the Blue Devils can hang a collar on the Royal Oak Accorns the same night on the local court.

A loss by the Pointers and a win for Highland Park would create a two-way tie for third place between the two teams.

Reserves Lose To Wyandotte

By JOE FROMM

The Grosse Pointe High School reserve cagers lost their sixth game of the season Friday night to Wyandotte, 26-25, on the latter's home court.

The score at the end of the initial period favored Wyandotte 9-5 and at the half 18-14. Grosse Pointe pulled up to a 20-20 tie at the end of the third period.

Wayne Peterson sank a free throw for Grosse Pointe at the beginning of the final period to put Grosse Pointe in the lead for the first and only time of the game.

Wyandotte came back strong. Grosse Pointe trailed 26-25 for the last 80 seconds and had several opportunities to score, but lost the ball each time.

Dick Lowery, Grosse Pointe forward, annexed top honors with nine points. Shummur led Wyandotte with eight points.

Approaching Spring Arouses Gardeners

Pointers to Have Very Active Part in Arranging Special Exhibits for Annual Flower Show in Convention Hall

The first hint that Spring may really be on the way comes from the garden clubs which are fast moving into action, with the Michigan Horticultural Society sponsoring two events in the near future.

This evening at the White House of the Detroit Garden Center on Belle Isle, members of the Library Board of the Esther Longyear Murphy Memorial Library will present an old fashioned garden discussion. The Garden Center is cooperating in the presentation of this program.

Divisional chairmen are also hard at work on plans for the garden show at Convention Hall March 13-21, in which clubs and classes will compete for honors.

On the schedule committee for the garden show which opens next week are Mrs. George Villeroi, Mrs. Alan Beebe, Mrs. Hansel Dwight Wilson, Mrs. Longyear Palmer and Mrs. Frederick Campbell.

Reproduction of famous paintings are among the unique floral arrangements which will be shown. One member of the Junior League Garden Club, Mrs. George B. Hefferan, will create artistic living pictures with the assistance of Mrs. Oscar Buhr. Another Junior Leaguer working on the project is Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr.

Mrs. George E. Villeroi's entries will represent both the Grosse Pointe and Village garden clubs.

Mrs. W. K. Wheelock and Mrs. William R. Hamilton are preparing a room for "Tomorrow" for the Grosse Pointe Garden Club. Mrs. Lawrence Buell, Jr., and Mrs. Alan Beebe are cooperating on a room of "Today."

A Miami Beach vacationer is MRS. A. BUEL QUIRK of St. Clair avenue.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES S. HOLDEN of Washington road are in Punta Gorda, Fla.

SUE HOFFMAN, daughter of MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM S. HOFFMAN of Beaconsfield road, paid visits last week to two Michigan campuses. First, she was JEAN GREGAR'S guest at Michigan State College in East Lansing; then, she dropped in to renew acquaintances at Alma College where she was formerly a student.

Chairman for the day when 600 women attended the monthly bridge breakfast at the Detroit Yacht Club last week was MRS. ARTHUR J. PEACOCK of Cadieux road.

MRS. LOUIS F. MEIER and baby daughter, SUSAN, of Westchester road returned with her mother, MRS. EDWARD A. ALDRICH, from visiting the latter's daughter, MRS. JAMES HOWARD OBEY, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Feb. 20 birth of ANN LEE RIEGLER is announced by her parents, the EDMUND G. RIEGLERS of Allard road. Mrs. Rieglers was MARGARET HANSEN before her marriage.

Aboard the SS Santa Paula, MR. AND MRS. JOHN B. MAAS of Washington road and their daughter, MARJORIE, sailed from New York last week on a cruise to the West Indies, Venezuela and Columbia.

In Clark's Summit, Pa. this week as the guests of her son-in-law and daughter, MR. AND MRS. CHARLES F. HIBBARD III, are the E. HOWARD BINGHAMMS of Harvard road.

MRS. J. FRAZER WHITEHEAD entertained at a bon voyage luncheon in her residence on Cloverly road Sunday in honor of a Pointe trio who boarded the Constellation that same day for Florida. The three, who will be joined in Boca Raton by MRS. GEORGE BLACK, JR., are MRS. HARRY W. FROST, JR., MISS FRANCES M. BOOTH, and MRS. JOSEPH BAYNE.

Patriotic Conventions Attract Three Pointers

Pointers who will attend the 49th annual Council of the Michigan Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, to be held in Lansing on March 12 and 13, include Mrs. Henry B. Joy of Lake Shore road, Mrs. Erich A. Jastrow of Westchester road, and Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith of Grand Marais boulevard.

Mrs. Joy will officiate as state parliamentarian. Mrs. Jastrow is librarian and Mrs. Smith is honorary president-national.

Mrs. Smith will also preside at a state board meeting of the Michigan Chapter, National Society, Dames of the Court of Honor, in Lansing on March 13. She is state president of that organization.

Henkel Repeat Winner In Oratorical Contest

Edward Henkel, Jr., 1668 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, won second prize in the annual Kenyon College oratorical contest this week for his well-documented speech entitled, "Freedom and Equality for All Men." He analyzed the report of President Truman's Committee on Civil Rights and pointed out the vast differences between American ideals and practices.

Ed won first prize in last year's oratorical contest. This year he will represent Kenyon as an extemporaneous speaker in the Ohio intercollegiate oratorical contest.

Another magnificent "first" will be the display sponsored by the Mt. Clemens growers who were persuaded by their Board of Commerce to exhibit together.

Speaking of tropical gardens, the City of Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation will have a tropical garden display.

Among the more spectacular displays will be a tremendous bed of thousands of varied colored tulips over which there will play constantly changing colored lights.

Neighborhood Club News

The girls' basketball team is weighing ways and means of procuring uniforms for their Tuesday evening court clashes.

Stimulated by the Club's promise of financial aid, the basketballers are exploiting devices for amassing a portion of the estimated two hundred and fifty dollars needed to purchase a dozen shirt, shorts and jacket combinations.

The club sextet is the solo entrant in the ten team Detroit Parks and Recreation League.

Tentative capital raising plans stress card and cartoon parties, the latter to be accompanied by refreshments and appropriate prizes.

The uniforms would be housed at the Club, available to each successive team during the basketball season.

The resilient St. Paul girls bowed to the Grosse Pointe six in a non-league clash last Thursday. Score 35-24. Guard Dorothy Mainhout, who arranged the game, reveals that a sequel is forthcoming on the St. Paul court.

Next Tuesday at 7 p. m., it's Grosse Pointe vs. the Unionettes at Eastern. The admission is free.

ARCHERY

Would you like to learn techniques of making high-grade archery tackle and how to properly use it? If enough people register an interest in this activity, a class will be arranged under the expert instruction of Willard R. Backus.

Mr. Backus has available seasoned wood for making the bow and will also show how with proper use and care, arrows can be used time after time.

STONE CUTTING CLASS

A new class under consideration, requested by many jewelry making hobbyists, is one in stone cutting and polishing. This art combines nicely with workers in silver.

Informal entertaining brought a number of small groups to the Detroit Athletic Club last Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Wilfred Harrison were hosts to Dr. and Mrs. Don S. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Buck and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fuller at dinner and dancing at the club, after entertaining the group at cocktails in the Harrison home on Balfour road.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Rosier of Moran road gave a dinner to honor Mr. and Mrs. Glen Goodrich, of Dover, O., who were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Goodrich, also of Moran road.

At early dinner at the club were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Genter of Yorkshire road, with Dr. and Mrs. Charles Husband and Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Smith.

This group continued on to the civic opera performance, "Music in the Air," at Masonic Temple.

The sky was the limit Saturday when Jeanne Whittaker invited eight gardeners from DUS and Country Day to come to a buffet dinner in her home on East Jefferson, dressed in costumes which they had made themselves.

A dignified Spanish hostess, gowned in lace mantilla and black velvet floor-length skirt greeted her costumed guests.

Country Day girls who stitched artistic gowns for the occasion were Sally Schemm, Anne Schreiber, Pam Shepherd, Judy Mann, Susie Joy, and Paula Sutton.

Others were Molly Chalmers, Faye Fitz-Simons, Jean Bahr, Katrina Krueger, Betsy Wheat, Barbara Fruehauf, Susan Richardson, Karl Behr, Eunice Heffner and Alexia Angell.

Among the DUS boys present were Dick Bingham, Stan Phelps, George Johnston, Rusty Muirhead, Freddy Duffield, Chuck Endicott, Jim Lafer, Allen Ledyard, Joy Buell, Howard Knaggs, John Standish, Bob Howenstein, and Dick Phillips.

Christian College is the oldest college for women west of the Mississippi River, having been founded in 1851.

Membership in Phi Delta Delta is limited to those students who have done superior work in art.

Miss Joan Elaine Bauman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Bauman, 282 Merriweather road, Grosse Pointe Farms, has been selected for membership in Phi Delta Delta, national honorary art society for junior college students at Christian College, Columbia, Missouri.

Christian College is the oldest college for women west of the Mississippi River, having been founded in 1851.

On March 10 at 1:15 the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will sponsor a Book Review in the home of Mrs. Fred Hicks, 1398 Hollywood.

The Eliabeth Scheinfeld, Mrs. William Boyer will be hostesses for the afternoon. Her committee includes Mesdames L. T. Morse, Roy Nelson, D. Roller, Alva Ingram, A. H. Bennett, W. T. Bloomfield, V. C. Seller, A. A. Ghesquiere, and Arthur Hirt.

Democracy, free from the dictatorship of selfishness, will have the answer to dictatorship of every kind.

Red Cross Drive Workers Needed

Mrs. Forman Johnston, Grosse Pointe chairman of general solicitation in the Red Cross 1948 Fund Campaign, has asked the Grosse Pointe News to appeal for volunteer workers in the areas of Grosse Pointe Woods and Grosse Pointe Park.

Women from these sections are needed to canvass their neighborhoods in order to send Grosse Pointe over the top in this year's Red Cross drive.

Anyone who can give time to this work should call Mrs. Johnston at Niagara 3446 for work assignments.

Siegel's Caters To Diminutives

Diminutives—spring fashions designed especially for the girl of 5'5" or less in height are highlights of Milady's 1948 wardrobe at the B. Siegel Co. Martini creations, the "Diminutive" dresses had a three day showing this week at Siegel's.

Just as enchanting as Martini's gay print series, currently featured in the March issue of Vogue, are their names—from the "Family Album," reminiscent of grandmother's day, to the subtle sophistication of "So Red the Rose."

Soft wools, pastels and light-hearted summer dresses are also included in the "Diminutive" line.

Two New York representatives of Martini, Designer Shannon Rodgers and Jerry Silverman, were on hand early this week to introduce the newest styles for "Diminutives" at the three-day fashion show.

Kiwanians Plan Party for Youth

The Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club is cooperating with the Allied Youth organization in sponsoring a party for all Pointers aged 15 to 30. The event will be held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake Shore road, at 8:30 p. m. on March 13.

George Gardner, president of the local service club, announces that the affair is one of the organization's projects for the youth of the community. Justice and Mrs. Don Goodrow will be among the chaperones.

Pointe Again Given Chance To Win Sweepstake Trophy

By JOE FROMM Grosse Pointe High School Journalism Student.

Grosse Pointe High School's sports show case is filled with trophies.

This trophy, which is awarded to the school with the best sports record during the school year, was first introduced by the newly formed Border Cities League in the fall of 1933.

The Border Cities League schools then included Grosse Pointe, Wyandotte, Fordson, Royal Oak, Monroe, and Mt. Clemens. The latter dropped from the league in 1943, and her place was taken by Highland Park in 1946.

Grosse Pointe has captured the trophy in five of the ten years it has been awarded. The "sweepstake" was not awarded during the years of World War II because of curtailed transportation between schools.

Fordson and Monroe are the only other schools besides Grosse Pointe who have won the trophy. Fordson has won it three times and Monroe twice.

Only basketball, swimming, tennis, and track were included in the initial race for the trophy in 1933. Football and baseball were not included until 1934.

Under the present ruling 30 points are awarded for first place in every sport, 25 for second, 20 for third, 15 for fourth, 10 for fifth, and 5 for sixth.

Grosse Pointe took second in every sport to capture the "sweepstake" for the first time in 1937-38.

The trophy was won in 1937-38 again without a first place, the football squad that year won three, lost one, and tied one to finish in second place.

The cage team also finished in second with eight victories and two defeats. The swimming team finished up in fourth place and the track team tied Wyandotte for third.

Golf was included in 1940-41 when Grosse Pointe also won the trophy. The golf squad took third place. The local teams captured first places in baseball and tennis with nine wins and one loss each.

A historic event took place on April 22, 1941 in Monroe. The Monroe tennis squad defeated Grosse Pointe, 5-4, for the last loss suffered by Grosse Pointe in tennis until 70 meets and six years later when Monroe defeated Grosse Pointe, 5-4, at Monroe again.

The lone baseball defeat that year came in the last game of the season against Fordson. In other sports the football team won three and lost two to tie for second with Royal Oak and Fordson.

The basketball team captured seven and lost three for third place and the swimming team won six and lost two.

In 1945-46 Grosse Pointe became the first school to win the "sweepstake" four times. The only first place went to the tennis squad, which completed its fifth season with an unblemished record.

Gridders captured third place with a record of one win, one loss, and two ties. The cagers won five and lost three and the swimmers won six out of eight to finish with the track team in second place.

The local athletic squads captured the largest number of firsts in 1946-47 to take the trophy for the fifth time. The tankers, cagers, and netters each placed in front.

The swimmers went undefeated, cagers won eight and lost two, and the tennis team lost only one, on May 6, 1947, the first loss since that day in 1941.

The gridgers took third with three wins as against two defeats and the track squad tied for second.

This year Grosse Pointe has an equal chance to capture the trophy again. The gridgers finished the season in third place behind Fordson and Wyandotte who tied for first.

The football squad in winning three, losing one, and tying one defeated Fordson for the first time since 1932, when Coach Ed Werner was still a player.

At present the swimmers, coached by Frank Banach, are on top of the league with an undefeated record to date. The cagers, under the direction of coach Ed Werner are entangled in a mad race for second place.

Bad Drivers Pay Fines in Court

Park Police Court on Wednesday, Feb. 26 had a full session. Judge Don Goodrow dismissed three of the cases as not guilty but the following drew various sentences:

Orval J. Lehman, of Mt. Clemens was fined $10 and $6.10 costs for stop law violation. Russell J. Kranz, of 6435 Mack paid $20 fine and $5 costs for speeding on Mack.

Richard J. Towar, of 251 Hamilton Court, G.P.F., paid $5 and $5 for speeding on St. Paul. Alois Joseph Maes, of 4417 Lakepointe paid $5 fine and $6.10 costs for turning into moving traffic on Charlevoix resulting in an accident.

Mark Ernest Fambrough, of 10638 Charlevoix, was fined $5 and $10 costs for a stop law violation. The costs mounted up when the police had to send for him to appear at court.

James M. Northrup of 11513 Rossiter, Detroit, paid $5 and $5 for a stop law violation. Harry Jensen, of 1790 Elven Mile, Roseville, paid $5 and $5 for speeding on Mack.

John E. McDonald, of 7133 Brimston, Detroit, answering to a hit and run charge involving property damage, paid $25 fine and $5 costs. He also had his driver's license revoked for 60 days.

Recruiters Move Into East Side

The U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Service moved into the east side to open operations in the Harper and Gratiot Unemployment Compensation Bldg. at 6590 Hurst St.

S-Sgt. James W. Bradley of 24408 Lambrecht St., East Detroit and Sgt. Harry C. Collins of 6331 Theodore St., also an east-sider, welcome all men who want to enlist, or are seeking information regarding the Army or Air Force. This service is gladly given, and puts no one under obligation.

Opportunities are open for all young men and former service men to enlist in the branch of their own choice, or direct overseas assignment. Former service men still have a chance to re-enlist in grade if the MOS is open.

A chance to earn, learn, and travel awaits all men who enlist in the service TODAY. So don't pass it up, it may be too late TOMORROW.

Motion Picture Council Lists Suitable Movies

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council lists the following films as suitable for children's programs: "Driftwood," "Last of the Red Men," "Thunder in the Valley," "Last Roundup," "Ghost Town Renegades," "Keeper of the Bees," "Fun and Fancy Free," "Code of the Saddle," "Law of the Lash."

The following are films suitable for teen-agers: "My Wild Irish Rose," "Bachelor and Bobby Soxer," "Secret Life of Walter Mitty," "Road to Rio."

Odd Fact

If your wallpaper bulges in spots, eliminate them by slitting each bulge with a razor blade. Then insert flour and water paste, thinned to a creamy consistency, with a knife blade, and flatten the bulge with a stiff brush. Use only a very little paste.

Of Interest To Veterans

Veterans are advised to take a good look at wills and powers of attorney drawn up while they were in the service, and rescind those which are outdated and do not represent their current desires.

In many cases, servicemen and women executed wills and had them witnessed by people who were not even casual acquaintances and who have since become widely scattered. Ten to fifteen requests were received daily by the Army for help in locating witnesses. If witnesses cannot be located, wills usually cannot be admitted to court.

In many cases where a veteran executed a power of attorney giving an immediate member of the family or a friend the power to dispose of certain property owned by him, the veteran would now prefer to revoke such power of attorney and resume control of the property.

However, many of these powers of attorney are still in force and have either been forgotten or dismissed with the thought that they are no longer binding.

The legal rights of veterans owning property might be seriously impaired by the attorney-in-fact under outstanding powers of attorney if exercised after the veteran's return to civilian life.

Six rules pertinent to wills are:

1. Have a good will.
2. Know where it is kept.
3. Know it carries out the wishes of the executor.
4. Avoid useless guardians for minor children.
5. Have proper witnesses who are known and can be found.
6. Make sure the will will be recognized in the state where there is property.

credits and collections, and employee relations.

A complete list of the books available is in the hands of all veterans' counseling centers, or the information may be secured by writing to the U.S. Department of Commerce, Detroit District Office, 1038 New Federal Building, Detroit 26, Michigan.

Veterans Administration receives hundreds of letters, applications and other documents daily without sufficient identification.

The failure on the part of veterans, schools, training establishments and others to include the claim number, insurance number or other identification makes it difficult for VA to give prompt attention to the claim involved.

VA urges every person who contacts VA by letter, or in person to always use a claim or insurance number. If these numbers are not known, sufficient identification such as service serial number, date of birth, full name and address, service rank and organization, and date of discharge should be included.

Motion pictures of the 1947 Army-Navy football game are being shown to hospitalized veterans in each of the 10 Veterans Administration hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky.

Governor Kim Sigler, now an avowed candidate for re-election, believes that Michigan must renew its efforts to "sell Michigan."

In a Lincoln Day address at Muskegon, Sigler warned that the state faced industrial and tourist competition from the South. It would pay Michigan people, he said, to be "mindful of that which has made us great."

The South's competition for industry which has no state income tax, no state sales tax, no tax on homesteads under $5,000 valuation, no state really tax and no state bonded debt.

Veterans planning to establish and operate their own businesses should avail themselves of the assistance offered by the Detroit District Office of the U.S. Department of Commerce. This office maintains a library of valuable statistics, reports, pamphlets and publications. It is, in fact, a comprehensive record of results of the fact-finding facilities of the Department of Commerce.

Available to any veteran for a nominal fee of from fifteen to fifty cents each are manuals on establishing and operating small businesses. These manuals serve as guides in establishing and operating small businesses and service establishments in a number of fields. In businesses requiring mechanical skills, it is assumed that the prospective businessman is a thoroughly experienced skilled worker. Therefore, in this series of manuals, the mechanical side of the business is not covered except as it applies to management, organization and management of the business, operating costs and record keeping, getting business, financing, buying, arrangement and display, pricing.

These fortunate and attractive safeguards will be maintained," observed the Tampa Florida Morning Tribune recently, because overwhelming public sentiment will prevent the imposition of any new taxes.

The same newspaper points out that Florida has the third greatest increase in individual income in the nation during the period 1940-1947 and that its population gain was 18 per cent, exceeded only by 10 states.

Governor Sigler visited Florida prior to his return to Michigan, following a month's rest in the South.

It may be assumed that Governor Sigler, during the 1948 campaign, will express his current views on the subject of taxation.

Dull as this topic traditionally is, it is pertinent to the future of industry in Michigan. Burdensome taxes, levied by a legislature seeking its way out of the sales tax diversion dilemma, could readily speed up the decentralization trend voiced recently by Henry Ford II. Ford thinks the company employs too many people at River Rouge for production efficiency.

One year ago Sigler was opposed to imposition of new taxes. Instead, he favored repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment, an accomplishment now conceded to be very difficult to attain.

The 1947 Bonine-Tripp labor act, a state companion law to the federal Taft-Hartley act, may prove to be a deterrent to industrial migration from Michigan.

If either or both of these laws discourage costly labor strikes and encourage friendly labor-management relations, much will be accomplished. Michigan still has a bad reputation, like Chicago for gangsters, of being the hotbed of labor agitators. People still remember the sitdown strikes in Michigan.

Nature richly endowed Michigan with natural resources, readily transported by water or railroad to be processed into consumer and capital goods. Man can safeguard this blessing by assuring freedom from discriminatory taxes, freedom to work, and freedom of competition. Surely these are among the reasons why Michigan enjoys its present greatness.

During the war, 7,234 combat types and 1,000 non-combat types of Naval ships were used, a total of 8,234. These do not include 60,000 small boats, minor landing and district craft. Those ships steamed a total of 420,000,000 miles.

MASON SCHOOL

A recent guest in Mason School was Miss Anna Lisa Hasselblad, a teacher from Gothenburg, Sweden. The students tried to show her as much of the program of an elementary school in Grosse Pointe as time permitted.

She saw reading classes, looked at text books and other materials of instruction, visited a gym class, heard a group sing some of their favorite songs, had a snack with a kindergarten group, and even watched the cat, Salt, make herself at home in the building.

A very interesting illustrated lecture was enjoyed by the children of Mason School recently. James Nettle, the lecturer, has been a student of nature for many years. He has photographed many birds and flowers with color film.

The lecture, entitled "Isn't Nature Wonderful?" included pictures of birds with imitations of their songs and pictures of wild flowers.

The Mason School children are busily engaged in activities which help unfortunate people in other lands. The Mason School Council, a student organization, which fosters better citizenship, is leading this all-school project. Representatives from all classes attend the weekly meetings with their reports from their groups.

These reports contain ways of stimulating interest and desires to help CARE. The 3A grade has arranged a bulletin board in the upstairs hall on which pictures are displayed which illustrate needs of children in other lands. The 4B grade made posters which are reminders for children to save for CARE. These posters have been placed in the halls.

This week the council reported a collection of approximately forty dollars and decided to send food packages to schools in Greece, Norway, Poland, and England.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

M. WOOLSEY CAMPAU pacing the Grosse Pointe gentlemen with tricky neckwear... chose a muted gold thread design woven on a dull red background... giving the effect of lovely old brocade... worn with a handsome soft-toned gray plaid suit.

DR. NEIL J. WHALEN... was gloomingly recently wearing a light-hearted palsyie tie with his good-looking gray herringbone tweed suit. The active yellow design was effective with a background of tomato red.

EMMETT F. CONNELLY... presided at a Red Cross meeting in dark blue broadcloth... his tie had a copper background with a fine coral figure running through the material... nice color relief. Veddly Sukka-ish.

HERBERT B. TRIX... who is nearing Nassau sun on a holiday as we go to press... is another Pointer who favors the conservative dark blues for business wear. On the boulevard the other day, he accented his navies with a navy silk tie, splashed in figures of stark white and deep red.

DAVID GILLIS... dining with the lovely Mrs. G. was in a blue business suit and wearing a tie of neat, quiet navy blue, figured in white dime-sized irregular circles, centered with a tiny white design... Very def, what the young exclusive should wear!

ALVAN MACAULEY JR... arranging a business luncheon... made his telephone calls in a navy blue suit with polka dotted tie. But no ordinary polka dotted cravat, this! On a dark blue background, the small dots were colored in off-white and cobalt blue.

PILFERINGS

This is neither a democratic story nor a republican gag. It happened when an Italian was being examined for naturalization as a United States citizen.

"Who is the President of the United States?"

The foreigner answered correctly.

"And the Vice-President?"

Again he answered correctly.

"Could you be President?"

"No, no."

"Why not?"

"Mister, you 'scuse please. I vera busy. I got da pushcart."

From your British friend, Punch:

"Drink more water and you won't get stiff in the joints," advises a doctor. The trouble is that some joints don't serve water."

Criticizing an amateur production of "THE GONDOLIERS," an East Anglian paper says that the orchestra played too loudly for the singers. After all, it was Gilbert AND Sullivan—not VERSUS.

At the moment both Hedda Hopper AND Louis Untermeyer are being credited, in different books, with the story about the late John Barrymore.

Visiting a haberdashery in Hollywood, John selected a number of things, ordered them sent out and started to leave.

"And your name," asked the clerk.

"Barrymore," was the cold reply.

"Which Barrymore, please?"

John look at the fellow disdainfully and barked:

"Ethel."

Pointer of Interest

MR. EMMETT CONNELLY OF RIDGE ROAD

By Kitty Carney

A prominent Grosse Pointe resident and former high-ranking official of the "cloak and dagger" brigade today heads the 1948 campaign of the American Red Cross in Detroit.

Emmett F. Connelly, chairman of the Detroit chapter Red Cross, served as a colonel with the Office of Strategic Services (nicknamed the "cloak and dagger") from 1943 to 1945 during the recent war. Before entering the O.S.S., Mr. Connelly was chief of field operations for the War Department, in which capacity he recruited men of business experience for the government.

The switch to O.S.S. was not difficult then, for Mr. Connelly took charge of personnel activities there—but it was far from being a mere desk position. In the early stages, O.S.S. personnel numbered 1,800, and this gradually increased to 12,000 men from the Army, Navy and Marine Corps parachuting behind lines and working undercover in every part of the globe.

THE COLONEL'S JOB

The Colonel's job? He had to know "where every one of them was, why he was there, and if he was doing a good job." In so doing, he flew the Atlantic four times and the "Hump" twice, covering more than 100,000 air miles on his overseas missions. India, Italy, England, wherever O.S.S. men were operating, Col. Connelly dropped in for a visit.

A number of movies were made about this important branch of the secret service, and in Mr. Connelly's opinion, the one entitled "O.S.S." was not particularly good. Jimmy Cagney's "House on 92nd Street," however, was near the top of his list for accuracy and realism.

"Were you in a great deal of danger?" was the next question which came to mind.

"In just as much danger as anyone else who stayed in London during the buzz bombing," was his smiling reply.

RED CROSS IN ACTION

During his service abroad Mr. Connelly saw Red Cross men and women working under pressure in many theaters.

"In the heat of Persia and the cold of Cassino, I saw Red Cross in action," was his way of expressing it. "The services they rendered were of the highest order... many risked their lives and many lost them. The collection of blood for soldiers and sailors saved countless lives. Over 90% of the wounded and injured in the Armed Forces recovered, and this high percentage of recoveries can be attributed to the success of the Red Cross blood banks. Their canteens and mobile units were also of inestimable value in keeping military morale at a high pitch."

UNITED FAMILIES

"However, death, sickness and misfortunes annually deprive the campaign of previous givers, and it behooves all Red Cross workers energetically to solicit all possible contributors. The ideal is for every man, woman and child in the metropolitan area to give to the drive, making them a united family in 100 per cent contributions.

"During the war years there were approximately one million contributors to Red Cross in Detroit; last year, this number took a drastic drop. With the cooperation of every citizen and worker, we can hope again to approach the higher figure and achieve our quota in 1948."

FISHING FAN

Born in Adrian, Mich., Mr. Connelly was graduated from the University of Michigan and then made his home in Detroit. One of the founders of the First of Michigan Corporation in 1933, he was its first president until he entered his country's service in 1943. At present, he is chairman of the board.

With Mrs. Connelly and their three children, Richard, Cullom and Molly, he lives at 185 Ridge road, Grosse Pointe Farms. Twenty-one-year-old Richard served as a sergeant in the Air Corps during the same years his father was in government service.

Besides his Red Cross work, Mr. Connelly finds time for a variety of other activities. He is a member of the advisory board of the University of Detroit, a director of Junior Achievement, which is a nationwide boys' movement, and was for seven years a Grosse Pointe Farms trustee.

Despite this busy schedule, the Red Cross chairman snatches a few days each year to indulge in his favorite hobby—trout fishing—with the Beaver Dam Club on Black River.

Odd Fact

While shaving in front of a kitchen mirror, a New York man stepped back, lost his balance, and sat down on a hot stove, setting his clothes afire. Dashing to the street, he extinguished the fire by throwing himself into a snowbank.

CATHOLIC THEATER

For its eighth annual Lenten Drama, the Catholic Theatre of Detroit has selected Father Daniel Lord's dramatic allegory, "A Fantasy of the Passion," to be given four evening performances, March 10, 11, 12 and 13, Wednesday through Saturday, at the Art Institute Auditorium.

HOUSING FOR HANDICAPPED
By Mrs. Nelson McCormick

Everyone knows from personal experience, reading or hearsay, about the housing problem, the difficulties of finding any type of housing accommodation. When one takes that problem and adds to it loss of sight, and sometimes even the problem of children, life becomes fairly difficult. It means finding someone to read the newspaper advertisements, the phone numbers which they carry, or the house numbers, if you should find something that you wanted to follow up. It also means a second-hand description of the rooms if you are lucky enough to find them. What landlords are prejudiced against blind tenants, fearing fires or accidents.

In an effort to help the individual who is blind and has this problem, the Detroit League for the Handicapped started a new service this year. The League made a registry of accommodations where blind persons will be considered as possible tenants in the event of a vacancy on the basis at least equal to those who can see. The worker in charge of this registry contacts prospective landlords, follows up all newspaper advertisements attempting to persuade the owners that blind individuals are capable of taking care of themselves and make good tenants.

In six months the worker contacted 392 landlords and 101 have agreed to take blind people when a vacancy occurs. During this time 27 blind people have been placed in new living accommodations and four have been placed in two times. This does not sound like much of an accomplishment for six months, but when you realize that some of these single blind people would have had to go to Wayne County General Hospital to live if they had not had help in finding living quarters, you can see how important this service is.

Now about another form of housing which has been made available to a different group of handicapped people. During the summer the Detroit Hearing Center, at the corner of Cass and Elizabeth, was opened. Over a period of years, the Detroit League for the Handicapped has been aware of a need for services for hard of hearing people, which could be located in one center. With limited finances and much trepidation, because of the two societies for the hard of hearing which we were hoping would make use of the center, had not co-operated with one another over a period of 15 years, the center was opened. The hearing aid testing service, which had been at the League, was transferred to the center, and in addition classes in lip reading, speech correction and public speaking were started.

This is the first time the League has had a formalized educational program for handicapped people during its entire history. There is a recreation program also, partly planned by the Detroit League for the Handicapped, with bowling, pool and ping pong at the center. If you could drop in some time and see 156 hard of hearing people having dinner at the center, you would know how much this housing facility was needed.

YOUR coat is something you're going to get a lot of attention to this Spring, for coats are Sooooo different. JACOBSONS are featuring winners... Kraus originals—in their coat and suit salon.

We fell in love with a Kraus original using Forstmann's heavenly Josela... a soft, suedelike material... It was white with enchanting patch pockets (nice detail—white button on each pocket), the coat had a wide collar, turn back cuffs (ah, Harper's Bazar) and the waistline was flattering with a wide gold figured, scarlet belt.

Another Kraus of scarlet Josela featured a fitted back, lush-flared skirt with navy taffeta lining. Button and pocket detail were also carried out in navy. Had to stop a minute, too, to admire a black coat of Kraus. The material was soft, fine, double tuill weave. Shoulders had the new, rounded look and a Peter Pan collar finished the neckline. Turn back cuffs and three rows of gold and black buttons (three buttons in each row), were interesting on the front of the coat. Again the lining was dashing... this time of pink, black and white striped taffeta. Much swish.

The same marvelous detail and high style found in Kraus coats are repeated in the suits JACOBSONS are showing in the same salon. There's loads of dash in the navy Charmeen gabardine suit with ballerina skirt and trim, slim jackets. Buttons trimming the jackets, (which has a smooth, wide and round neckline) are centered with gold bowknots.

For ladies with a tweedy turn of mind, we'd recommend Kraus' soft black and white check suit... ballerina skirt—turn back cuffs and patch pockets on the jacket which is finished in jet buttons braided in gold. Remember, the Kraus originals are at JACOBSONS.

FOR those particular about dash in their accessories, it's very definitely TITUS DRUGS over there on Kercheval at the corner of Fisher. You'll find real conversation pieces (very practical at the same time) in the chrome plated combination lighter and cigaret cases. The case part holds a full pack of cigarets. And there is no federal tax, so this natty item is yours for $12.50. There are all manner of compacts to complete your new look this Spring, also at TITUS DRUGS. Square or round, you'll find the compact you want here. There are oblong cigaret cases to match, in gold and silver tones. Zipper bags hold the sets which keep them from scarring when they fall against the other articles in your handbag. The compact, cigaret case sets range from $1.50 to $15. No federal tax on these either.

THOSE wonderful "additional pieces" for your Towle Sterling have made their first appearance since the war at the silver center of the Pointe, PONGRACZ JEWELERS. One look, and you'll know you can't go on another minute without some of the rarer Sterling pieces which give your table the perfect finishing touches so dear to the heart of any hostess.

In five of the famous Towle patterns PONGRACZ now has iced beverage spoons for tall tinkling glasses... the little spoons for fragile after dinner coffee cups... the flat, broad-tined cold meat fork (an important adjunct to your Towle Sterling set)... a salad fork and spoon for serving your crispy green salads... a wide, flat perforated spoon for serving tomatoes and cucumber slices... gravy ladies... sput spoons... preserve spoons... lemon forks... butter knives... supar spoons... roast or steak carving sets AND cheese servers and pie servers.

Increase your renown as a hostess, and delight your own appreciation of lovely things, by augmenting your silver at PONGRACZ today.

THIS is so definitely hot cross bun time of year that we knew HAWTHORNE HOUSE, always on its toes to whet your appetite would place these goodies in their bakery. Sure enough the hot cross buns are there... done to a turn by a special HAWTHORNE HOUSE recipe... complete with just enough icing and hint of citron!

Naturally, you know all about the elegant meals but don't plan to lunch or dine there on Mondays, for HAWTHORNE HOUSE is always closed on Mondays.

THAT WALTON PIERCE look is being achieved this Spring with: dreamy shantung two piece frocks. Crisp smartness in one with a navy, box-pleated skirt and an anemored red top. A fresh white ascot, marked with navy arrows, ties at the neckline. The silk faille navy coats, fitted. (Also navy wools which tie at waist) these make smart redingotes with ballerina skirted frocks of paisley design.

Soft neutral gray bolero suits. One with a high waistline was trimmed in silver buttons. The suit had ballerina skirt, brown and white checked taffeta blouse buttoned down the front. Three piece suits. Especially a beige tweed WALTON PIERCE are showing. The fingertip length coat is tres chic and the jacket of the suit is horizontally striped in lines of hunter green and royal blue stitch effect.

And of course in the famous WALTON PIERCE hats... the most delightful Spring nonsense. Veils under the chin if you want to be ultra feminine... berries trimming feathers on a navy sailor... huge ribbon bows... chapeaux for any costume in your wardrobe, and WHAT chapeaux!
