A NEWER-ENDING WAR
Ordinary rules of sanitation in the home and by municipalities are saving the lives of thousands of Americans annually and making virulent epidemics almost unheard of.

How many people a few years ago knew that malaria germs were spread by the mosquito and that many disease germs were carried broadcast by the common housefly? No greater number than these were those who realized the efficacy of screens, covered garbage cans, clean yards and the elimination of stagnant water in exterminating the mosquito and the fly.

A fly in the house is a sign of careless housekeeping in this era of swat-the-fly. It is only in the poorest tenement districts and the squalid homes of the mountaineer that the housefly is still given free reign to taint food and carry disease germs from person to person. Neither is the mosquito permitted to inject his malaria germs into the veins of every sleeping human.

To successfully combat the fly and the mosquito the campaign should be launched early in the year. The municipal spring clean-up was designed to rid the houseyard of the winter's accumulation of debris so these fly and mosquito breeding places would not be present when the breeding time arrived. The careful housewife also repairs and installs her window and door screens before the spring debut of the fly and mosquito.

But the battle against summer's pestiferous conveyors of disease must not stop with preventatives. Debris must not be permitted to accumulate, garbage cans must be closed tightly at all times and screens must be kept tightly closed and carefully repaired. And the fly swatter must be kept in daily use.

WHAT NEWSPAPER ADS DID

It was only a few years ago that the retail stores in towns and the smaller cities did the bulk of their week's business on Saturday. While the other five business days might have paid expenses the merchant depended upon the Saturday sales for the major portion of his week's profit. Needless to say the average merchant would have been exempt from excess profits taxes in those days.

This is only one of the many services performed for business by newspaper advertising. It is irrefutable that a great part of the increase in business experienced by the retail stores generally in recent years has been created by newspaper advertising. Newspaper advertising has been the "Aladdin's Lamp" of the retail merchant. There are still isolated towns where one may see for himself what "might have been" the nation over if newspaper advertising had never been.

Apprenticeship System
The custom of requiring a beginning worker to serve a period of preliminary training and learning before being permitted to follow his trade or craft reaches back at least as far as the sixteenth century. In the reign of Queen Elizabeth it was enacted that no person should work at any trade without serving an apprenticeship of seven years.

Of Ancient Origin
Some authorities believe the origin of the term "Pig and Whistle" as applied to coffee houses to be a corruption of "Peg and Wassail." "Peg" is from the low German "pegel," meaning a measure of liquid capacity, such as was marked by pegs in a "peg tankard." "Wassail" is an old expression of good wishes, also the liquor used for drinking healths.

Ancient Ceremony

The oldest ceremony that has been handed down from ancient times to the present day is that by which the corporation of the city of London pays its rent to the king for two pieces of land by the presentation of horseshoes and horseshoe nails, and by the cutting of faggots with a billhook and a hatchet.

You can do it better in the Gas Oven

Much has been said in the last few years about oven cooking, its convenience and economy. Here are the real reasons why you should let a good gas oven shoulder more of your kitchen work.

The heat of the gas oven can be perfectly regulated for any type of cooking.

The cheaper cuts of meat can be made tender and delicious by oven cooking.

An entire meal may be cooked at one time—a real economy in the gas bills.

Oven cooking is the most satisfactory means of using up left-overs preparing them in a palatable, appetizing way.

Oven cooking with the regulator is not only saving of gas but is also saving of food; rarely is anything overcooked.

Peggy's Holiday Guest - By L. A. ROSE

WHAT do you think about asking Mrs. Jamieson? "She's no Peggy Everett doubtfully. "She's no Peggy Everett except for that piece in the world," she says up there that never shows up. "She's no Peggy Everett except for that piece in the world," she says up there that never shows up.

The holiday party had been Peggy's idea. "It must be dreadful," she had said. "To be so old and spend all your time with people not of your own generation. Sometime I'm going to get all the old ladies together and have them talk of days gone by. The girls had fairly outdone themselves in preparation. They had all arrived but one, and that one Mrs. Jamieson when the telephone rang. Peggy, with a glance at Belle which said, "I knew she'd be late at the last minute," flew to answer when she came back her face was flushed.

"Oh, she's coming," she whispered to Belle who was giving the final touches to the attractive table. "But she's bringing a guest! I didn't quite catch the name, but some relative from abroad who just dropped in." "As it happened, Peggy was busy in the kitchen when Mrs. Jamieson arrived, and it was Belle who received her and her guest. Two minutes later, Belle had flown out to Peggy, with startled eyes. "Peggy, darling, what shall I do? It's—It's Paul. I'm sure he doesn't know! Nor his aunt, of course. She's having the loveliest time, as friendly as can be with everyone!"

"Why—why—why that our absent hostess! He heard some one say— "Her hand at her throat, Peggy lessed forward, straining to hear. "She thought, Paul," she ventured. "Aunt Harriet! This is impossible. You spoke of it, Peggy—oh, I wonder—where is she?" Two minutes later Paul faced Peggy across the empty dining-room table. "There can be nothing to say," Peggy was saying sternly. "But—oh, listen!—pleaded Paul. "I accepted your note—the time as inevitable but lately I have wondered if I came back, there would be a chance."

FOR TOWNSHIP CLERK As stated in my opening announcement made in last week's issue of The Standard, I have gone into the race for the office of Township Clerk at the insistence of a large number of friends who have been, and are, satisfied with the conduct of the office I have been filling. If you believe the office has been satisfactorily filled during my term, then it is only fair to ask you to support my candidacy at the election on Monday, April 4.

MICHELIN TIRES

With 24 chances out of 100 of getting more mileage from Michelin tires families wouldn't have to spend so much time looking for things if they used Michelin's.

But Horace I'm sure the children couldn't have taken the nut. It's probably under the car somewhere.

This statement is based on facts. We picked at random 1500 motorists who were testing Michelin tires opposite other makes. 84% said Michelin's proved themselves better.

No matter what other makes of tire you are using we promise you more mileage if you will buy Michelin Tires of us.

CHANGE ADVOCATED BY COUNTY BOARD

Declaring that it is an economic measure of first magnitude to Wash-tenaw, members of the board of supervisors are advocating an affirmative vote on the proposition to change the system of appointing members of the board of auditors so that one of this body may act as county purchasing agent. The amendment will be submitted to the people at the election Monday, April 4.

Under the present system, members of the auditing board are appointed by the supervisors for a term of three years, each and serve only part time, meeting about three days each month to pass on claims against the county. The supervisors desire to change this system so the chairman of the board also may act as county purchasing agent and work full time on a salary basis. Under the new act, two members would serve for two years each and the chairman for one year.

The supervisors are advocating this change, which must be approved by the people, on the grounds of economy. It is their claim and the claim of the board's legislative committee, especially, which has made a study of the situation, that the county is in need of someone to have charge of and be directly responsible for miscellaneous expenditures.

Miscellaneous expenses, they find run into thousands of dollars yearly and a lack of supervision over these items was partly responsible, at least for running the county in debt about $50,000 over a period of years, they assert.

When they made up this deficit by taking $50,000 from the money to be used for the construction of roads, the board of supervisors appointed one of its members, L. O. Cushing, first ward, Ann Arbor, representative, to watch over these various items. Balked by court action from carrying on the work in this manner, the board finally selected Mr. Cushing temporarily purchasing agent until the local acts of 1917, under which the board of auditors is created, could be changed. It is this change upon which the people will vote next Monday.

TO THE PEOPLE OF WASHTENAW COUNTY

In order that the voters of the county may fully understand my policy with reference to rural school supervision I wish to submit the following statement of principle and fact which define my position upon this question:

1. The County Commissioner is required by law "to promote by such means as he or she may devise, the improvement of the schools in the county, and the elevation of the character and qualifications of the teachers and officers thereof."

2. Governed by the successful experience of other counties and the request of rural patrons and organizations, supervision was chosen as a means of fulfilling the above duty.

3. The detailed plan of supervision was submitted to the board of supervisors, the legal representatives of the people, who authorized the employment of helping teachers for those schools which might request their services. The vote on this proposition was:

City supervisors for—8.
Rural supervisors for—11.
Rural supervisors against—9.
4. All rural teachers and school officers of the county were offered the opportunity to participate in the supervisory program. This offer was voluntarily accepted by seventy school districts.

5. I am confident from letters and public statements that this program has been satisfactory to the teachers, parents, and other school patrons of the supervised schools. I am likewise confident that this will be equally satisfactory to other school districts if it should be tried by them. It has not been, it is not, and will not be my disposition or purpose to urge unduly this policy or any other policy upon any school of the county against the wishes of the people of the district. It is, however, my earnest purpose to provide in so far as I am able this supervisory program for all districts which desire it.

Respectfully submitted,
Florence V. Esseey,
County Commissioner of Schools.

Curiosity Has Played Big Part in Progress

From this immemorial women have been branded as being more curious than men. Now we are told by a London clergyman that men far outnumber women in the inquiries they address to him during the 'Question Hour' he has instituted at his church.

Hares and Rabbits

The most of hares and rabbits is the hare. Both live entirely upon the flesh of the hare. The hare and rabbit try in comparison to the hare, which is in some respects superior, but more savory and more agreeable.

WHY THE COUNTY SHOULD HAVE PURCHASING AGENT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Mar. 4, 1926. To the Voters of Washtenaw County: The Board of Supervisors of the County of Washtenaw, after nearly two years' investigation, have discovered that a great saving can be made to the taxpayers of Washtenaw County by a change in the Board of Auditors and by providing for a purchasing agent for said county.

The Legislature of the State of Michigan has passed an enabling act providing for the election of a purchasing agent for the county, and therefore we are asking the voters of the county to pass the amendment which has been approved by the Legislature and the Governor of the State, enabling the Board of Supervisors to appoint a purchasing agent and auditor for the county.

This is very important for the county. It will save the taxpayers thousands of dollars. The amendment is attached to this statement. In order that the voters may know the result of the investigation of the committee of the Board of Supervisors, we submit the following, which demonstrates clearly that there should be a purchasing agent for the county, as well as a county auditor, putting in full time, the county auditor and agent being one and the same person.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes entries like 'On March 1st, 1926, the general fund was overdrawn $78,508.14', 'Total saving to the County for the six months 13,492.66', and 'Total saving for the county since the purchasing agent took charge $29,045.76'.

All material and improvements for the county buildings have been purchased by competitive bids, and this has saved many hundreds of dollars for Washtenaw County. Many persons who were well able to pay for hospitalization have now been compelled to pay. Previous to the administration of the Purchasing Agent they got in free.

We urgently request the voters to look into this matter carefully and vote YES on the amendment creating the Board of County Auditors. By so doing the voters will save for the taxpayers thousands of dollars each year.

Approved by the entire Board of Supervisors. J. D. LARLE, JOHN LAWSON, GILBERT MADDEN, Committee of the Board of Supervisors for Washtenaw County.

Nation's Faith in God Expressed on Coinage

"In God We Trust" first appeared on the coins of this country in 1864, and owes its presence very largely to the increased religious sentiment in the dreaded crisis of the Civil war. S. P. Chase, then secretary of the treasury, having received a number of appeals from devout persons throughout the country suggesting and urging that the deity be recognized suitably on our coins in a manner similar to that commonly found on the coins of other nations, addressed a letter to the director of the mint, at Philadelphia, stating that "no nation would be strong except in the strength of God or safe except in His defense. The trust of our people in God should be declared on our national coins." He ordered that a device be prepared without unnecessary delay, with a motto expressing in the fewest words possible this national recognition. Various mottos were placed on coins in 1862 and 1863. The first ones bearing "In God We Trust," however, were coined in 1864.

Seemed Something of an Odd Combination

He didn't really want to bring the two cats home from Colorado, but what good is the argument of it there now against those of a wife, three children, and a mother-in-law? So the family started home last week with the cats enthroned in a box on the back seat of the car. He was somewhat ashamed of the ugly yellow pair anyway, and his mortification was complete when he was forced to ask a garage owner, in the town where they spent the first night, for cellar space in which to park his car.

Watch Elimination!

Retention of bodily waste in the blood is called a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement. Ask your neighbor!

Beaten Path Monotonous

Our associations are greatly responsible for our lives. Happiness or otherwise follows upon the heels of our companions. The mighty help us to prevail. The great create an atmosphere for us. Train the heart and mind to be at home in the great places and to live on the broad plains. The superlative alone can give us cheer. Get away from the humdrum and regular. Sometimes have courage to depart into the country unknown. Remember, if a rolling stone gathers no moss, a fixed one gathers little else. It is earthbound.—Exchange.

Sharp

"Oh, doctor," cried a wild-eyed man, "I am dreadfully afflicted. The ghosts of my departed relatives come and perch on the tops of the fenceposts all round my garden when dusk is falling. I can look out onto the gloaming any evening and see a couple of dozen spooks sitting on top of the posts, waiting, waiting, waiting! What shall I do?" "Sharpen the tops of the posts," came the cool reply.

Humming Birds

In regard to the materials used by humming birds in constructing their nests, I wish to say that no hair or feathers are ever used. The nests are built of lichens and attached to the limb which is as nearly as possible the exact color of the lichens used, hence the difficulty in locating the nests of humming birds with the human eye. The nest is never hidden but merely cunningly camouflaged.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Carefree

An old man seemed so serene that a philosopher working for the uplift asked him for his motto. The reply was a trifle disconcerting: "Nothing matters."
