Niles Library head receives $15,000 settlement

Library Board ousts McKenzie

By Eileen Hirschfeld

Attorneys for trustees of the Niles Public Library District and Administrator Duncan J. McKenzie hammered out an agreement made public Wednesday, Nov. 15, but resulting in the firing of McKenzie as of Nov. 10. Board members agreed to pay McKenzie $15,000, in nontaxable funds, within 10 days of the date that the board ratified the agreement. According to rumor, McKenzie asked for a considerably higher sum to be awarded for personal damages allegedly resulting from the board's actions. In early October, library trustees Continued on Page 41

Lippert named Director of Niles Parks

by Nancy Keraminas

The Niles Park District Board of Commissioners announced the appointment of Thomas Lippert as new Director of Parks. Some board members predicted the appointment would be popular with employees and the community but the decision was unpopular with two of its board members.

The full board met in executive session until late Nov. 21, finally voting 3-2 to appoint the 35 year-old former park employee.

Lippert contacted Board President Elaine Heinen at 4 p.m. that day to accept the offered position.

He will work in his current position in Deerfield until the end of the year or risk losing over $3,000 in accrued vacation pay.

He will assume his new duties in Niles Jan. 9, with a 1 year $50,000 contract expiring Jan. 9, 1991.

"He's a top quality person that's going to do a good job," beamed Vice President Walt Beusse. Heinen also praised Lippert's past efforts as superintendent of the Continued on Page 42

Anniversary party marks 35 years of Park service

by Nancy Keraminas

The Niles Park District culminated a year of anniversary celebrations with a down home barbecue bash and invited everyone. The Sunday afternoon party brought together park officials past and present, Niles village officials, park employees and a few old-timers, along with families and friends of all.

Attendees were treated to unlimited food, sunset hayrides around Tam Golf course and a welcome respite from long speeches marking the park's 35th Anniversary.

Not that there wasn't any talking. A yellow-striped circus tent was set up and heated especially for the occasion. The sounds of reminiscing and laughter in the tent all but drowned out the music.

The free party was a bargain for park district tax payers also with most of the hamburgers, hotdogs, corn-on-the-cob, chips, beer, wine, baked goods and condiments donated by well-wishing park district suppliers, such as Miller, Old Style, Budweiser, Jays, Coca Cola, Niles Pastry and Minnelli Brothers.

According to Park Board President Elaine Heinen, 500 sandwiches were consumed.

The Nov. 19 event corresponded to the exact date when the park district was created in 1954, 65 years after the village of Niles was incorporated.

The park district's origins began with a 1947 decision by then Mayor Frank Stankowicz who appointed a Niles Recreation Board. That group purchased the park's original 3 park sites, where Jozwiak, Grennan Heights and Oakton Manor Parks are now situated, funded by proceeds from Niles Days.

In 1952, what would become the first park district building, the Grennan Heights fieldhouse, was erected by the Grennan Heights Improvement Association and the Niles Recreation Board, at a cost of $20,000. The fieldhouse became part of the park district in 1955.

The new park district board, headed by Walter Zalud, held its first meeting Dec. 9, 1954. The park used only part-time workers until 1957 when, on a motion by Park Commissioner Chuck Giovannelli, it hired its first full-time park attendant for $1.75 per hour.

The job description for the 7-month position consisted of maintenance of equipment and paid $2.50 per hour. Nico, Point, Courtland Manor, Kirk Lane and Oak School parks had been added by 1958 but it wasn't until July 1963 that the park district had its own swimming pool. The 308,000 gallon

Z-shaped pool, the first aluminum pool in the Midwest, opened at the site of the Rec Center, built the year before. The total price tag of the project at 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. Continued on Page 41

Niles Police launch anti-drug program

by Nancy Keraminas

The Niles Police Department began its PRIDE drug program last week at Niles Elementary School South. Kindergarten through fourth graders at the District 71 school were visited daily for a week by two police veterans armed with grade-appropriate drug information. In addition, Sgt. Dennis McEnerney and Sgt. Dean Strzelecki ate lunch with the students and refereed school yard kickball games outdoors in an effort to get to know the youngsters.

Teachers and children were equally enthusiastic about the department's new effort, with the children sending drawings and fan mail addressed to "Sgt. McEnerney and Sgt. Dean." The police officers will visit 12 other area elementary and high schools with Niles students throughout the school year.

PRIDE is an acronym standing for Positive Response in Drug Education and is Niles' own program. McEnerney, Strzelecki and Sgt. John Fryksdale did their homework, studying curricula from other programs, attending drug education seminars statewide and receiving additional training in St. Louis this past summer.

Fryksdale recently injured his back and is on leave following surgery.

Based on the officers' research, the department decided to visit kindergarten through twelfth graders, rather than concentrate on older students. Said McEnerney, "We're starting at the youngest level."

According to the department, the weeklong individualized PRIDE program is the most effective way for Niles police to conduct a drug awareness and prevention program for the diverse student population in the village.

McEnerney, while respectful of other drug education programs, said "I am special." Continued on Page 41

New District 70 board delays school addition

by Linda A. Burns

The Morton Grove District 70 school board unanimously voted Monday to suspend further action on the proposed addition to Park View School, 6200 Lake St., until the board can assess the situation. The board also voted to appoint a committee to look into doing a demographic study involving future student enrollment in the district.

These issues were among the first confronting new board members Jim Quinn, Linda Ertan, Harry Dreiser, Anny Burns and District President Danny Miletic.

Provoked by the Dist. 70 school board decision to sell Borg School and its surrounding property, the group ran as write-in candidates and defeated five incumbent board members up for reelection Nov. 7. The money from the sale of Borg to the Muslim Management Group for $1.835 million could finance the addition to Park View which Continued on Page 42

MG cars hit by BBs

Police are keeping a special watch over a northern section of Morton Grove after a rash of car vandalism hit the area. Between Nov. 12 and 15, car windows in the neighborhoods north of Beckwith Road and Church Street on either side of the forest preserve, were peppered with BB-type projectiles. Police have no suspects.

The projectiles mainly damaged driver's side windows, but Sgt. Frank Panteleo, Police Investigations Commander, said the gunman may have been on foot. The cars were parked on the street, in drives, and, in one case,

Car rolls over after hitting deer

After striking a deer near 6000 Golf Road, Morton Grove, the morning of Nov. 17, a car driven by a Glenview woman ran into a roadside ditch and rolled over.

Maria Zajac, 39 of Glenview, hit the animal when it sprang from the woods that border both sides of the road. Morton Grove Firemen responded at 6:37 a.m. and paramedics transported Zajac to Rush North Shore Hospital in Skokie, where she was treated and released.

Firemen, under the direction of District Chief Norman Ruth, assisted in righting the overturned vehicle.

Meeting set on Wells emissions

by Nancy Keraminas

Officials from Wells Manufacturing will meet with representatives of the Village of Morton Grove, Skokie, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (I.E.P.A.), School District 219, and members of a citizens anti-pollution group on Nov. 30 in order to review results of emissions tests performed on equipment and smokestacks and to discuss the company's efforts to control potentially hazardous emissions from its plant located at 7800 N. Austin Ave. Nearby residents and Niles West High School students have long complained of odors attributed to the resins used in Wells' manufacturing process.

Robert Hanrahan, chairman of the STOP citizens group, expressed the opinion the state may not elect to renew Wells' expired permit for much of its foundry operations until the company meets air quality standards. "I don't think they'll get their permit renewed until they (Wells) meet criteria," Hanrahan said in a Nov. 21 interview. The STOP spokesman indicated the group is not trying to put Wells out of business but merely wants the company to be a good neighbor.

Library board interviews for trustee

By Eileen Hirschfeld

Board members of the Niles Public Library District at last Wednesday's meeting interviewed three applicants to fill the vacancy left by Charlene Wagner.

Wagner and her husband, Frank, former Niles Village Clerk, recently moved from the area.

In executive session, they interviewed Judith Besterfeldt, Dr. David Laske and Dr. Paul Warnick. Also interested in the job but not present were Maggie Kohls and Minna Shields.

Besterfeldt formerly served as head of children's services at the library. Laske teaches econometrics at Triton College and Warnick is an optometrist.

In other business, Board President Margaret Rajski said, two remaining banks were removed under a site formerly occupied by a Shell Oil station at Oakton and Waukegan which is being developed as a second parking lot for the library.

State requests extension in case of accused teacher

by Sheilya Hackett

The State asked for more time to process evidence in the case of the Maine Township science teacher charged with allegedly raping a 14 year-old girl in the forest preserve near Dee Road and Devon Avenue, Park Ridge, two years ago.

The girl, now 16, recognized her alleged attacker when she entered her first science class in August.

Assistant States Attorney Kathleen Crowley on Nov. 17 asked Circuit Court Judge Robert F. Nix for an extension of time for the processing of laboratory tests and that a photo of the teeth of the defendant, Scott Welty, 39, of Chicago be retaken because of a problem with the film. The State reportedly asked for the photo because the girl noted her alleged assailant's one broken tooth in her description.

Judge Nix granted the time extension to Dec. 21 and also agreed to the defendant's request for permission to leave Illinois for Indiana for the Thanksgiving holiday. Prior to the hearing, the tall, bearded Welty, accompanied by a middle-aged brown-haired

Nursing home provides dedicated care

The aging of America has created a need for professionals in the long term care industry to carefully plan to provide a nurturing and caring environment for individuals requiring 24 hour care.

At Norridge Nursing Centre goals have been established to provide an opportunity for each of the residents to reach their maximum potential according to their individual needs.

Norridge Nursing Centre has been serving the community since 1976. This dedication to provide a wide variety of programs and services has been enhanced by the devotion of a core of faithful and caring employees who have assisted with providing an unusual continuity of care at the Centre.

Families of Norridge residents find it comforting to know that Gloria Kas, R.N., has been nursing the residents since her employment in 1977. Gloria is currently the Centre's weekend Nursing Supervisor.

Physical Therapy is emphasized for residents who have suffered debilitating illnesses. This department has made it possible for many individuals to reach their potential. The planning and encouragement provided by Edna Smith-Collins since 1978, and Gertrude Ciofani since 1979 has been respected and appreciated by many successes.

Another important area of therapy is in the Nursing Centre's Restorative Feeding Program. Under the guidance of Joyce Zyda, residents in need of encouragement and re-training are individually instructed to resume their independence. Joyce has worked in areas concerned with encouraging residents to help themselves since the Centre's origin in 1976.

Director of Social Services, Diana Evanson, is responsible for helping new residents settle into the Centre's daily culture. Diana has been providing support to new residents and their families since 1978. In this capacity she works closely with staff from the departments of Nursing, Rehabilitation, Activities and Dietary. This continuity of care is supervised by the Care Plan Coordinator, Claire Bondi, who has been employed at the Centre since 1979.

The continuity of care of Norridge Nursing Centre residents is especially appreciated by the physicians and nurses who rely upon accurate information contained in each resident's individual medical record. Stella Cook has been employed at the Centre since 1978 and takes pride in her carefully organized responsibilities of supervising the Medical Records Department.

Other loyal staff providing stability and friendship to the residents for many years are Delia Dial (1977), and Aurora Igloria (1978) from the Dietary Department. Another important service is provided in the laundry by Edwarda Kuosnica-Siedlecka who has been employed since 1978. Employed since 1979, Apolinar Barrera and Emelia Morales-Sotelo, have provided house-keeping services in all areas of the facility. Performing the duties of an orderly, under the supervision of the nursing department, is Eduardo Araos who has been employed at Norridge Nursing Centre since 1979.

The Norridge Nursing Centre staff of over 200 includes many more dedicated and caring employees who take pride in providing the residents an opportunity to live a fuller and comfortable life.

Seniors view 'Christmas Carol'

Maine Township Seniors can enjoy a musical adaptation of Charles Dickens "A Christmas Carol" at the Paramount Arts Theatre in Aurora Sunday, Dec. 10.

This all-time holiday favorite will be preceded by a full-course mid-day meal at the popular Milk Pail Restaurant.

Buses will leave from the Farmer's Market Parking Lot, Lee and Perry, Des Plaines at 11:30 a.m. and return about 7 p.m. Cost of the trip is $29 for members. Guest reservations at $34 will be accepted on a space-available basis after Dec. 1.

For reservation information, contact the Maine Township Seniors Department at 297-2510. Seniors can create peppermint candy snowman wreaths at one of two holiday workshops at 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11, in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Rd., Park Ridge. The seniors' new assistant, Jan Christiansen, will help them make these holiday candy wreaths for gifts and decorations. A $7 fee covers the cost of materials. Participants should bring a pair of sharp scissors.

Santa will make his annual visit and the Maine West Chorale will provide seasonal musical entertainment at the Seniors' holiday luncheons.

Members can choose one of two luncheons at 1 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 17, and noon Wednesday, Dec. 20, both at Brigante's Banquets, 2648 Dempster St., Des Plaines.

Cost of the luncheon is $7.50 for members. Due to the popularity of these luncheons, no guest reservations will be accepted. Seniors are asked to bring donations of canned goods or non-perishable packaged items to fill food baskets for the needy.

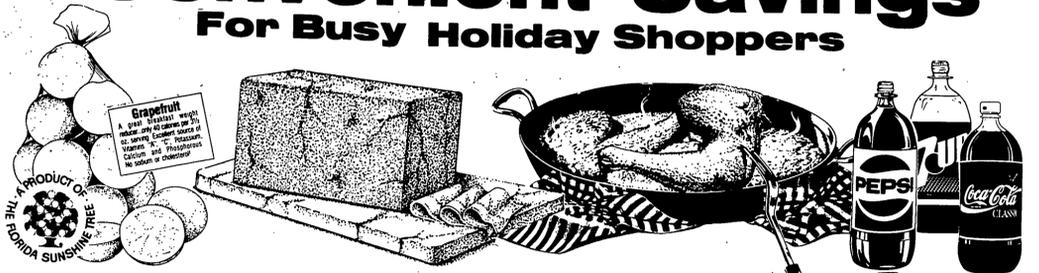

Members are invited to attend the Seniors' monthly bingo game at noon Wednesday, Dec. 6, at the Des Plaines Leisure Center, 2222 Birch St. A 50-cent fee for coffee and sweet rolls will be collected at the door.

Seniors can also get "On Track" again for the winter season with a continuation of the popular indoor walking program at 7 a.m. Monday and Friday at Maine West High School. Members who participated last season may come to track in the school's basement at 1755 S. Wolf Rd., Des Plaines. New participants must call the Maine Township Seniors' Department, 297-2510, for registration information.

More than 2,800 residents are enrolled in the Maine Township Seniors. Most activities are limited to members and new members are always welcome. Applicants must be 65 or older and provide proof of residency.

Mail boxes on display for Historical Society

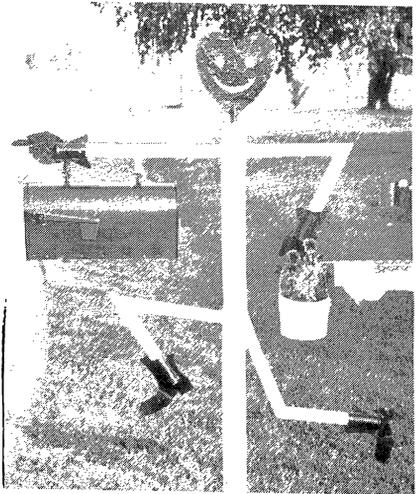

"What's Holding Up The Mail" is not a criticism of U.S. Postal Service. It's the topic to be addressed through a slide presentation of Rural Mail Boxes to be presented at Niles Historical Society at its next regular monthly meeting, Monday, Nov. 27 at 8 p.m. at 8970 Milwaukee Ave., Niles. The public is invited, and refreshments will be served.

The speakers at the program will be Mildred and Clint Heckert of Elgin, who have been taking slide pictures of rural mailboxes across the country while on their vacation trips. They enjoy finding pieces of farm equipment being recirculated as mailboxes and the use of creative art for mailbox bases. Sometimes a mailbox depicts the owners' trade, occupation or hobby.

Currently on display at Niles Historical Society is a collection of cut glassware and various ethnic costumes representing the different nationality groups contributing to Niles' current population, beginning with the Pottowattami Indians to later immigrants from Germany, England, Poland, Bohemia, Italy and, most recently, the Orient.

The Society is currently preparing for a "Twelfth Night" Open House Sunday, Jan. 7 at which time the Niles Senior Center Choral Group, the "Golden Notes" will entertain.

Also planned in the future is a card and game party to be held at the Trident Senior Center Feb. 16. The Museum is open to the public Wednesday and Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on the first and third Sunday of each month from 2 to 4 p.m.

HAVE A Happy Thanksgiving

Rotary hosts Israeli students

The Skokie Rotary recently hosted a lunch for the Israeli high school students from the Northern Israeli city of Ramat-Gan, a suburb of Tel Aviv.

The students are in the United States as part of an exchange visit co-sponsored by their high school and Niles Township High School District 219. They arrived in Skokie and visited sites in Chicago and suburbs. They visited the Holocaust Museum run by the Holocaust Memorial Foundation of Illinois and the Skokie Village Board meeting. The students and their teachers presented President James Carlson with flags of Israel and Ramat-Gan and the Skokie Rotary Club presented the students with the Skokie Rotary flag.

The exchange is one of many that the Skokie Rotary Club hosts for students from all over the world.

Art guild sees airbrush demo

At the net meeting of the Skokie Art Guild, at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 28, an airbrush demonstration will be given by Leonard Baer at the Skokie Library, 5215 Oakton St., Skokie. He will show the step by step procedure of producing an airbrush illustration, and explain the methods and materials for airbrushing.

A commercial and fine art for many years, Baer is currently teaching Airbrush and Painting/Drawing for the Skokie Art Guild. He has exhibited widely in the Chicago area, working in oils, watercolors, airbrush and pencil. He has attended the Art Students League in New York, the Los Angeles Art Center and the Kahn Institute in Los Angeles.

The Skokie Art Guild meets the fourth Tuesday of the month, on the second floor of the Skokie Public Library. Refreshments are served. Free parking is available. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

Metra extends family fare

Metra will get into the holiday spirit by extending its discounted "Family Fare" plan to include the day after Thanksgiving and the two full weeks during the Christmas season.

To accommodate families traveling downtown for holiday outings, shopping or the annual Christmas parade, Metra's "Family Fares" will be in effect Friday, Nov. 24 and every day from Saturday, Dec. 16 through Tuesday, Jan. 1, 1990.

Under the "Family Fare" program, up to three children ride free when accompanied by a fare-paying adult, and all youths age 12 through 17 ride for half price. "Family Fare," regularly offered by the Metra commuter rail system on weekends and holidays, are available on all lines except the South Shore.

Trains will run on a normal weekday schedule Friday, Nov. 24, with extra coaches added during the mid-morning and afternoon to handle traditionally large crowds of shoppers. Ticket agents will be on duty at several major Metra stations that morning.

For information, call Metra Passenger Services, 322-6777, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays. At other times, call the Travel Information Center, 836-7000 from Chicago, or 1-800-972-7000, from suburbs.

Cub Scout Pack 45 two mile hike

Cub Scout Pack 45, sponsored by the Niles Park District, went on a two mile hike on Sunday, Oct. 15, in Ryerson Woods Conservation Area in the Lake County Forest Preserve District of Deerfield.

On Sunday, Oct. 24, they held their annual Bowlation at Classic Lanes. This is a major fundraiser for the pack, and over thirty scouts and their families raised money while enjoying themselves.

Pack 45 celebrated Halloween at Pack Night on Tuesday, Oct. 31. Everyone wore costumes and marched in a parade. There were games, a pumpkin decorating contest and refreshments.

The Skokie Photographic Society, after more than ten years of Sunday morning sessions, has changed its regular meeting time to the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

At the same time, the club has shifted its meeting place to the Skokie Village Hall, 5127 W. Oakton St., Skokie. The Society was formed to bring together men and women who are interested in photography as a creative pastime. Visitors are welcome at meetings.

The major requirement for membership is a desire to improve photographic skills. Club activities include monthly programs at meetings as well as showing of member's slides and prints; photo field trips; exhibits at local libraries and other institutions.

Information about the Skokie Photographic Society may be obtained from the membership chairman, Julius Smith, 674-5883, or the club secretary, Julian N. Jablin, 674-4692.

Letters To The Editor

Bravo: Mr. Besser:

I refer to your "From the Left Hand" column in last week's Bugle.

I was truly impressed by the eloquent way you presented my case, and all those other "Seniors and Working People" in our district.

I am a Senior. I worked through the Great Depression when I could find work. I didn't serve in the Armed Forces but paid my dues in other ways. I was too young for World War I. In World War II I worked in a war factory, procuring and expediting materials going into gun loaders, tanks, and torpedos. I worked long hours, seven days a week, and rarely saw my wife and children, so you might know how hard your column hit me.

But I wonder if your words haven't hit upon deaf ears? Won't they get their money anyway?

Sincerely,
Herbert L. Shipman
8407 Normal Ave.

Niles P.S. I'll be looking forward to the time I can place my vote in the next election.

Thanks to supporters

Dear Editor:

After having served as Founding Chairman of the Board of Oakton Community College, and been involved in every aspect of growth and development of the college for 20 years as a Board officer and member, it was a thrill to have been re-elected for another six year term.

Obviously, one doesn't get re-elected on his record alone, but by the efforts of many. I want to thank the 21,700 who voted for me, my board colleagues who all supported and endorsed me, the many friends, neighbors, organizations, and college personnel who worked on my behalf, the elementary school PTAs, professional organizations, and college internal family who invited us to their candidate forums, and the media that endorsed us, and conveyed information on the candidates.

The large vote for the incumbents, Bill Spaulding and I, as well as the large vote for the non-incumbents, who had nothing but good words for our college programs, certainly reflects a "stamp of approval" on the way the college is being operated.

We appreciate your support and will endeavor to continue to minimize taxes and tuition, and provide equitable compensation for our college personnel and academic excellence at Oakton Community College.

Ray Hartstein
Founding Chairman
Oakton Community College

Objects to challenge of Raffe

Dear Editor:

It is a total outrage that Phil Raffe, the Maine Township Republican Committeeman, is being challenged in his bid for reelection in March.

For the last 14 years Phil Raffe has been a most capable and dedicated Republican leader and township committeeman. He is admired and loved within his organization and much respected elsewhere among other party leaders. He has been a trusted advisor, mentor, father figure and friend to his members.

Why on earth should anyone want to support a challenge to this fine man who does his job so well? It becomes even more ridiculous when we consider that his challenger is not an active member of the organization, rarely attends a meeting, donates no time and no funds to the organization, and could not possibly be sensitive to the needs of the members since he is personally unknown to most of them.

Is this not an outrage?
Carole Tucker

Fire chief thanks voters

Dear Editor:

I feel that this is the most appropriate way to express the appreciation of the Trustees, Officers, and members of the North Maine Fire Protection District and its members to provide the ultimate in Fire Protection, Emergency Medical Service, Fire Prevention, and Public Education to each and every one of the great people who live and work in our Fire District.

Ours is not an easy job, but it is a lot easier knowing that the people we serve and protect appreciate and support our efforts.

Elected thank supporters

Dear Editor:

Thank you, thank you, thank you - to all our friends and workers who passed out flyers, made phone calls, wrote letters, organized meetings, and stood out in the rain and cold at polling places. Non-partisan elections could not function without volunteers and we were very fortunate to have so many fine ones helping us.

Many thanks also to the voters for getting out to the polls, recognizing the real issues, and showing your support of the District 219 Board of Education by electing the incumbents. We pledge to all of you further Stability for our district, great Achievements in all areas, and as always, our Willingness to put in long hours to do a good job.

Our sincere thanks,
Gail Stone

Cragin chairman addresses women in finance

In his speech to Financial Women International this week, Cragin Federal Bank chairman Adam A. Jahns praised the thrift industry as "a vital business" that will survive recent adversity and new reform legislation that threaten the role of S&Ls as the nation's leading home mortgage providers.

Jahns represented the thrift industry's healthy savings and loans during the recent meeting of the trade association's Chicago chapter. He was invited to address the impact of the 1989 Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act (FIRREA) on the savings and loan industry.

Speaking on behalf of Cragin Federal Bank and other profitable S&Ls, Jahns said that the thrift industry will continue to play a crucial role in the U.S. economy as long as it remains focused on residential mortgage lending.

Jahns also outlined the standards that will allow individual thrifts to survive under the strict requirements of new federal legislation.

"Capital is the most important determinant of an institution's chance for survival," Jahns explained. Cragin's capital position far exceeds the new federal standards. The Chicago-based thrift currently has three times the federal requirement for core capital and five times the requirement for tangible capital.

Jahns said about 2,400 institutions, representing more than 80 percent of the thrift business, should be able to weather recent thrift industry reforms. Approximately 1,600 of these institutions already meet the stricter federal capital requirements and as many as 800 more institutions could remain in business by restructuring investments and raising capital.

According to Jahns, a relatively small number of troubled S&Ls created the problems that have damaged the image of strong institutions and created the need for industry reforms.

Jahns said that the FIRREA legislation essentially directs the focus of S&Ls back to home lending, which most thrifts never abandoned, and that the industry is supportive of government's intentions to preserve and strengthen savings institutions.

"We're taking the (Bush) administration and Congress at their word," Jahns concluded. "If the legislation works as it is designed, the thrift industry will have a bright and prosperous future."

Video store files complaints

Niles police reports had a temporary surge Nov. 15 when a local video rental store filed theft of service complaints against 14 area residents who have not returned the company's movie and Nintendo cassettes.

The offenders owe more than $4,000 in replacement costs and late charges for approximately 30 tapes. None have responded to Diaco Video's phone calls, letters and certified mailings requesting return of the merchandise.

Diaco, located at 8037 N. Milwaukee Ave., does a large volume business. It routinely checks up on wayward cassettes but has not done so in a while. "It's part of the procedure," said Frank DiAfrica, owner of the store, indicating that a tiny minority of patrons are this forgetful.

Recently, a newly-hired manager went through the records to catch up on the backlog. He contacted those with overdue tapes. Fourteen still have not returned the outstanding tapes.

The store intends to prosecute if the tapes aren't returned and the past due charges settled.

Named in the complaints are men and women from Niles, Morton Grove, Des Plaines, Glenview and Mt. Prospect.

Police capture suspected purse thief

A 17 year old Chicagoan followed a Niles nurse from the Kennedy expressway to her Carol St. home in the early morning hours of Nov. 17. He was captured along with two accomplices in a stolen car in Rogers Park hours after accosting the 54 year old woman and grabbing her purse.

Niles police Sgt. Dennis McEnerney interviewed the suspect at 24th District headquarters. McEnerney later expressed frustration that the accused, who had been 1-bonded from Cook County Jail 4 days previously following an earlier auto theft, was charged with a Class A misdemeanor rather than a felony robbery charge.

"It's highly upsetting," McEnerney said in a Nov. 20 interview. "We worked on that case for 8 hours." McEnerney indicated that the state's attorney's office did not agree that the suspect used force to take the pocketbook, a prerequisite for the more severe charge.

"How do you define force?", the sergeant asked rhetorically. He related how the suspect and his two associates, all from Chicago, told police in written statements they spotted the woman before she exited the expressway in her car. They followed her to her Niles home, intending to rob her as the suspects said.

Curfew violations

Eleven young men and women who went to Niles police headquarters at 11:55 p.m. to protest the curfew arrest of ten of their friends Nov. 17, themselves were arrested for curfew. They refused to heed Niles police who warned them they were violating the law and should go home. The original ten curfew viola-

Thefts from autos

The owner of a 1981 Monte Carlo reported the theft of $409 worth of stereo equipment from the vehicle Nov. 14. The car was parked in the 8300 block of Oketo Avenue.

A 1973 Olds parked in the 8600 block of Osceola Avenue was burglarized during the same night. Stolen was a $300 in-dash stereo, a $300 set of golf clubs, and a $300 air compressor.

According to reports, the victim is employed at Michael Reese Hospital. She was apparently unaware she had been targeted for robbery until 2:47 a.m. when she arrived home. The six foot one inch suspect, dressed in a black hooded sweatshirt, approached her and accosted her in front of her residence. He forcibly took her brown satchel purse from her, and escaped in a white car driven by another man.

She called Niles police immediately, and they detained one suspect within a half hour of the call. When the woman could not identify the detainee, who also was driving a white car, he was released. Chicago police arrested the three involved in the Niles robbery at approximately 9:30 a.m.

In addition to the nurse's handbag, which was recovered with all but its money contents, McEnerney indicated the three also had in their possession a purse stolen in Rogers Park the same day. The stolen car belonged to an elderly South Side Chicago man, who earlier was forced from the car with the keys in the ignition.

The 17 year old was given a $1,000 bond and will appear on the misdemeanor charges Dec. 11. The driver of the car faces auto theft charges as well.

Television stolen

Officials at Alert TV, 7658 N. Milwaukee Ave., reported the Nov. 16 theft of a 27 inch television valued at $1,000. An estimated $800 damage was caused to the front window. The store's burglar alarm did not activate when the window was shattered. A screwdriver recovered at the scene may have been used to break the window.

Aluminum missing from Edison plant

An estimated half ton of aluminum was reported missing from the Commonwealth Edison substation, 8160 Golf Rd. According to David A. Mehner of the utility, the piping and miscellaneous metals, more than $1,000 worth, may have been stolen as early as Nov. 15, when a gate was discovered unlocked. At that time, no one noticed if the metal was missing.

Car stolen

A 1984 Cadillac convertible, scheduled to be shipped to Poland to join its owner, was stolen between Nov. 12 and Nov. 13 from a repair shop at 6901 N. Milwaukee Ave. according to reports.

NILES POLICE REPORT

Column

by Lt. Jerry Sheehan
Niles Police Department

In a matter of days we will be into the start of the Holiday shopping season. Every year we take police reports during this time from people who have had their wallets, purses, or gifts stolen. For those of you who will be wading through the masses of humanity and enduring the hustle and bustle of this year's holiday shopping season, here's some advice.

1. Don't take large amounts of cash with you when you go out shopping. Credit cards and checks can accomplish the same goal. You can put a stop on stolen or lost credit cards or checks, but the cash will be gone forever. And speaking of credit cards, it would be a good practice to take your credit cards out, write down the card numbers and the phone number of that particular store so if you become the victim of a theft or lose your wallet or purse, you can expedite the process.
2. For those of you with purses, keep them close to your body and in view and also keep them buttoned or zipped so that no one is tempted to dip their hand in and remove your wallet; it happens! Don't leave your purse unattended in a shopping cart, on a counter or car seat because that is also inviting trouble.
3. Don't overburden yourself with so many packages or bags that make it difficult to realize your purse or wallet are being removed.
4. Do not leave your packages on the seat of your car where they can be seen; lock them in the trunk.
5. When using your credit card, make sure you get it back after the transaction; don't let it sit on the counter, and tear up the carbons from the credit card receipt before throwing them away.
6. Most importantly, if small children are accompanying you, make sure to instruct them that should they become separated from you in the store, to go to a cashier and say that they are lost. Tell them not to go into the parking lot looking for you.
7. Try and park in a well lighted portion of the parking lot when you go shopping at night.

With a little foresight and caution, you can avoid the type of mishaps that you certainly don't need at this time of year.

The Niles Police Department will again be manning a trailer which will be located near entrance #2 at Golf Mill Plaza (southeast corner of the plaza) for those of you who may need some type of police assistance. There will be an Officer in the trailer during the evening hours Monday - Friday and from noon till closing on Saturday and Sunday, beginning the day after Thanksgiving. We will also have additional Officers walking the various shopping plazas after 5 p.m. at night during the week and after noon on the weekends. We hope that you have a safe and enjoyable Holiday Season!

Suspect hospitalized

A mentally ill man, suspected of stealing a shot gun and shells from a Niles home in the 8100 block of Prospect Avenue Nov. 16, was involuntarily committed to Elgin State hospital Nov. 17. The 32 year old man reported conversations with his long deceased father and otherwise exhibited bizarre behavior to his mother. After he was taken to Lutheran General Hospital by paramedics, a hospital doctor expressed the opinion he was dangerous and should be committed. According to police, the stolen shotgun has not been recovered.

DUI arrest Dealer's cars vandalized

Niles police arrested a Chicago man who was clocked at 78 mph in a 35 mph speed zone in the 8100 block of Milwaukee Avenue Nov. 19. The driver fell out of his car after he was stopped and the arresting officer noted the smell of alcohol on his breath. Following his failure to pass field sobriety tests and a breathalyzer test in which he registered a .16, the man was charged with DUI, speeding and a BAC of over .10. He will have a Dec. 11 court appearance.

Several cars at Champion Ford, 6200 W. Touhy Ave., were reportedly damaged before Nov. 14. A 1989 Ford Taurus had $800 damage caused by a sharp object, a 1990 Ford Probe had a left side scratch estimated to cost $300 to repair and a 1989 Mustang had a right rear dent, estimated at $1,000 damages. Officials do not have a suspect. On Nov. 16 a 1989 Ford Escort was also discovered with $400 damage.

Criminal damage to home

The owner of a home in the 7500 block of Nora Avenue reported $600 damage to a front window of the residence Nov. 19 when rocks were thrown at 1:11 a.m.

Diamond bracelet missing

A woman, whose home in the 8700 block of Stolling Avenue has been listed for sale, discovered her $4000 white gold bracelet with 15 diamonds missing. The woman said the bracelet may have been stolen by a house hunter during an open house.

Police News

Woman tricked by car thief

A 65 year old Des Plaines woman, who put her trust in a man who told her her tire was flat, reported the theft of the 1980 AMC Concord Nov. 14.

The incident happened in the K-Mart parking lot at 8830 W. Dempster St. when the victim was approached by the man, reportedly of medium height with brown hair and a beard. The woman allowed the man to accompany her into K-Mart where she purchased a tire inflator to make an emergency repair. After injecting the substance into the tire, he reportedly told her to drive to the northwest corner of the lot to rotate the tire.

The man then got into the empty car and drove east down an alley escaping with the car with the woman's purse containing her i.d. and $50 cash.

Truck burglarized

Niles police recovered a screwdriver possibly used to break a passenger vent window in a Peterbilt truck at 6977 W. Oakton Ave. Reportedly the truck's radar detector, CB radio, speakers and cassettes were stolen.

Cleaning supplies stolen

Officials from Arby's Golf Mill restaurant reported the theft of $150 worth of miscellaneous cleaning supplies from a rear storage area. The theft occurred between Nov. 10 and Nov. 13.

Internal theft

Officials at Omni have asked the help of Niles police in investigating a $700 theft from a cash register. A store employee who has not come to work since the cash disappearance Nov. 16 is suspected.

Obstructing an Officer

Two Morton Grove police officers tried to serve an arrest warrant on an Evanston man, 20, the night of Nov. 16. The officers identified themselves, gained admittance to the man's residence and advised him of the warrant. The man resisted while being taken into custody.

A woman and three men, objected to the man's arrest. The woman blocked the door. She advised the three friends to call Evanston police, since she didn't believe the Morton Grove officers were actually police. The woman finally let them pass when warned she, too, might face arrest.

The officers attempted to place the man in a squad car. The three friends pursued the police, and one blocked the squad car door, holding the officer back. At that time, Evanston police arrived and saw the officer and the man struggling at the car door. Both the arrested man and his friend were taken to the Evanston police department where a computer check revealed the arrested man had an outstanding warrant. His friend's record was clear. Both were returned to Morton Grove.

The man originally arrested was charged with a deceptive practice warrant, two charges of theft warrant and an additional charge of resisting arrest. His friend was charged with obstructing a peace officer and battery.

Peeping Tom

Police arrested a 35 year old man Nov. 19 who was twice seen peeping into a partially open window in the motel in the 9400 block of Waukegan Road, Morton Grove. The second time he peeped, the male occupant of the room chased and apprehended the man in the motel lot. The peeper told police he was looking for a woman he had visited in the room another time. The man was released without charge.

Retail theft

Two men in their late thirties ran from a grocery store in the 5700 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, the afternoon of Nov. 19. Leaving the store without paying, the men pushed before them a cart of groceries, among which were three cases of baby formula, a box of diapers and a case of pop. They loaded the groceries into their car and tried to leave the parking lot, narrowly missing a store employee who tried to stop them. The employee, a Chicago woman, 28, was able to get the vehicle license number which checked out to an '89 Toyota owned by a Chicago man. The loss was $63.

A security agent in the clothing store in the 6800 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, saw a man put a pair of black men's shoes into the front of his clothes and leave the store without paying. The man, 72, of Skokie, was held until police arrived.

MG Police join Project Red Ribbon

The Morton Grove Police Department will be participants of Project Red Ribbon, a holiday awareness campaign, through Jan. 1. A red ribbon tied to the left car door mirror, antenna or to any visible place on their car, serves as a reminder to anyone entering the car, not to drink and drive. Officer Tim McCloskey #105 (left) and Chief Larry Schey make preparations for the awareness campaign. This campaign is conducted by Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD) chapters nationwide.

Township allocates funds to agencies

The Maine township Board Monday, Nov. 6, unanimously approved $408,000 in allocations for 1990 to 21 nonprofit agencies that serve Maine Township residents.

This was an increase of $9,000 over last year's allocations of $399,000. Twenty-four agencies applied to Maine Township for a total of $559,130 in funding for 1990. The township budget, however, set a maximum of $410,000 for nonprofit agencies that serve Maine Township residents.

Maine Township Supervisor Joan B. Hall said, "All of the agencies that applied perform worthwhile services for the community. But obviously, the board was not able to fund all of them or grant all of their requests in full. We carefully weighed all of the requests with particular attention to services to Maine Township residents before reaching our decision."

"Many of these agencies previously had received township aid from federal revenue sharing funds. Since the termination of Federal Revenue Sharing in 1986, the Maine Township Board has attempted to help its residents by allocating a limited amount of local property taxes to nonprofit agencies that provide essential social services."

The 1990 allocations are: Blare House, $8,000; CEDA Northwest, $11,000; Center of Concern, $3,000; Center on Deafness, $500; Clearbrook Center, $10,500; Des Plaines Senior Center, $3,000 and Glenkirk, $10,500.

Also, the Harbour, $12,000; Housing and Shelter Program (HASP), $7,000; Life Span, $9,000; Maine Center, $145,000; Maine Township Council on Alcoholism, $113,000; and North Shore Senior Center, $2,000.

Others are Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded, $22,500; Northwest Suburban Day Care Center, $19,000; PRC Paratransit Services, $15,000; Park Ridge Senior Center, $3,000; Resource Center for the Elderly, $1,000; Salvation Army, $5,000; Shelter, Inc., $3,000 and Suburban Primary Healthcare, $5,000.

Link Up Illinois phone program begins

Illinois Bell and other telephone companies in the state have begun mailing informational brochures to 560,000 low income residents, informing them of a federally-funded program that will waive half of telephone service installation charges up to $30.

The new program, called Link Up Illinois, will begin Dec. 1.

Link Up Illinois is a federal telephone assistance program that is known across the United States as Link Up America. The Illinois program was developed by the Illinois Commerce Commission in cooperation with the Illinois Telephone Association, which represents 56 companies that provide local telephone service throughout the state, and consumer organizations. It has been certified by the Federal Communications Commission.

The program, which has been endorsed by the Consumer Federation of America and the American Association of Retired Persons, is supported by interstate telephone rates.

Link Up Illinois will waive $27.50 of the $55 service installation charge for Illinois Bell customers. In addition, eligible new subscribers will be given up to six months to pay the balance, interest-free.

Customers would be responsible for their monthly telephone bills once service is established. Link Up Illinois does not reduce regular monthly phone bills.

Individuals qualify for Link Up Illinois if they meet the following criteria:

- The recipient is not claimed as a dependent for federal income tax purposes, unless the applicant is more than 60 years of age; and
- The individual or household qualifies for at least one of the following:
 - Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC);
 - Aid to the Aged, Blind, and Disabled (AABD);
 - General Assistance (GA, City of Chicago only);
 - Refugee/Repatriate Program (RRA);
 - Food Stamps (FS);
 - Medical Assistance (including aid to the medically indigent, excluding medical extension cases and spend down cases)

Only one phone line per household can be installed through Link Up Illinois, and the service must be in the name of the eligible individual.

Illinois Bell has established two telephone numbers that residents can call to receive service under Link Up Illinois—1-800-338-3600 for Chicago residents.

1-800-828-0167 for residents outside Chicago in areas served by Illinois Bell.

Although residents can begin placing service orders immediately for Link Up Illinois, new service cannot be installed until Dec. 1.

Edison eases fees for reconnection

With winter approaching, Commonwealth Edison is extending an offer of help to residential customers whose electricity has been disconnected for non-payment.

The company has mailed letters to more than 12,000 customers, explaining how they can have service restored by paying as little as 20 percent of the total amount due and 20 percent of any security deposit required.

Normally, a substantially higher partial payment would be required to restore service. The remainder of either amount can be paid over a minimum of the next four billing months, and future bills must be paid by the due date. Customers also can make payment in full.

The reconnection offer is available to all residential customers whose electric service was disconnected between Dec. 15, 1988, and Oct. 15, 1989, provided no meter tampering has occurred. The offer of 20 percent partial payment will be available until March 31, 1990.

Edison is urging all such customers to take advantage of the reconnection offer by calling or visiting their local Edison office listed in the white pages of the telephone directory.

Special weather related rules governing disconnections are also in effect. The rules, provided by Illinois law, prohibit disconnections if electric service is necessary to heat the dwelling and the 24-hour weather forecast or weekend or holiday forecast indicates that temperatures will be 32 degrees or lower.

Retired admiral named to Com Ed board

Commonwealth Edison Company today named retired Vice Admiral Lando W. Zech, Jr. to its board of directors. Admiral Zech served as chairman of the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) from July 1986 until June 30, 1989. He became a commission member in July 1984.

Admiral Zech's last assignment before joining the NRC was Chief of Naval Operations for Manpower, Personnel and Training. A 39-year Navy veteran, Admiral Zech is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and George Washington University.

North Maine holds fire drill

The North Maine Fire Protection District's Training Officer, Deputy Chief Rande Short, held the third and final "High Rise Drill" at Golf Towers recently. Golf Towers is located at 9001-9009 Golf Road in unincorporated Des Plaines.

The drill was held in cooperation with several surrounding community fire departments. Providing support to North Maine's Engine and Ambulance 1 were Niles Fire Department's Truck 2, Engine 2, Ambulance 2, and Command Unit 202; Glenbrook Fire Protection District's Engine 7; and Des Plaines Fire Department's Truck 81, Engine 61, Ambulance 71, and Command Unit 90. The drill was under the supervision of Deputy Chief Rande Short, and the fire ground Command of Captain William Karye in North Maine's Command Unit 102.

The drill was completed in 2 hours. Before the drills, several meetings explaining the purpose of the drills were held with the residents and management of Golf Towers. The purpose of the meetings was to answer any questions residents might have, to plan for management cooperation, and to enlist the assistance of several residents in allowing the Fire Department to use their apartments as part of the drill.

The actual drill simulated a real fire in a sixth floor apartment. Artificial smoke was introduced into one of the two stairwells, as well as the sixth floor.

The use of artificial smoke provoked for a more realistic situation.

Deputy Chief Short was rescued from the balcony of an apartment, while interior attacks on the simulated fire were made by members of the North Maine and Niles Fire Departments. Firefighters from Glenbrook entered the building with the purpose of shutting down the ventilation system. This is done so that smoke and fire are not spread throughout the entire building. The Des Plaines Fire Department conducted the rescue of Chief Short with assistance from members of the Niles Fire Department.

Fire Ground Command was under the authority of North Maine's Captain Karye and Lieutenant Batey. Forward Command was handled by District Chief Ron Durbin of Niles Fire Department, and observed by Training Officer Lt. Lundberg of Glenbrook Fire Department along with members of other departments. All were key players in the execution of this important drill.

The "High Rise Drill" was the second such major exercise to be conducted by the North Maine Fire Protection District in this complex. It was the first time the North Maine Fire Department conducted such a realistic drill using the M.A.B.A.S. (Mutual Aid Box Alarm System) involving Niles, Glenbrook, and Des Plaines.

The intent of this drill was to simulate a real fire situation, and expose the firefighters involved to a realistic atmosphere. This type of training is necessary to familiarize all departments with the building itself, problems that might be encountered, proper use of equipment, coordination efforts by all departments, and the use of common radio frequency.

Future drills for North Maine will include a simulated disaster at Ballard Nursing Center in the spring of 1990.

Glenview residents win service awards

The Glencairn Award for outstanding civic and community service has been awarded to two Glenview residents, Donald E. Alan and J. Ralph Synnestevedt, Jr. (posthumously).

Alan, a landscape artist for Brickman Company, has overseen the care of the grounds of the New Church in Glenview for many years. Synnestevedt was a staunch supporter of church and community uses, serving on church and school boards. This international award is given annually to members of the New Church in recognition of achievements in various fields. Each recipient receives a medal and a monetary award.

Social Security appoints payee for beneficiaries

While most adults who draw Social Security are able to manage their own benefits, some beneficiaries are paid through another person who acts as a representative payee, Thomas A. Curin, Social Security manager in Des Plaines, said.

A representative payee is someone authorized by Social Security to receive and use payments for the well-being of a beneficiary who is unable to manage benefits because of mental or physical impairments.

Once it has been determined that an adult needs a payee, the Agency tries to find the most qualified person for the task. The preferred payee is a relative who lives with the beneficiary. If none can be found, a friend who shows strong concern for the beneficiary, an organization, institution, or other qualified person may be appointed.

Social Security exercises the utmost concern in choosing the best payee, Curin said. Beneficiaries who need a payee are further protected because Social Security requires payees to file yearly reports showing how benefits were used.

For information about representative payees, call Social Security at 1-800-234-5544, 24 hours, 7 days.

Camp Fire holds Camporee

The Hutani region of Camp Fire, has clubs in areas from Edison Park, Park Ridge, Skokie, Evanston, Morton Grove, and Niles. This past month, they held their Fall Camporee.

Ten area groups, spent a weekend in Blue River, Wis. sleeping at "Eagle Cave".

The weather was perfect, and allowed for many hikes, compass trails, horseback riding, and hayrides. The highlight of the weekend was exploring inside the cave itself. Some of the groups had been to the cave on last year's trip, but this year a fair-share of little night creatures, -- bats, attended also. Already, the girls are looking forward to going back next year.

Zoo marks holiday season

Holiday festivities soon begin at Brookfield Zoo with the annual tree trim Sunday, Nov. 26.

From noon to 3 p.m., representatives from 60 suburban communities will place handmade ornaments on 7-foot trees located on the south mall.

Decorations will set the scene for Santa's 5:30 p.m. arrival Friday, Dec. 1. Santa will arrive at the south gate in a wagon pulled by the Brookfield Zoo Clydesdale horses. Watch Santa throw the switch that will illuminate more than 200,000 miniature white lights strung in trees throughout the grounds. The Clydesdales will then transport him across the zoo.

Santa's arrival marks the beginning of Brookfield Zoo's Holiday Magic Festival, held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Dec. 1-3, 8-10 and 15-17, and on Thursday, Dec. 21, and Friday, Dec. 22. This is the only time of the year the zoo welcomes evening visitors.

During festival hours of 5 to 8:30 p.m., visit with Santa and Mrs. Claus, Brookfield Zoo Bear, Frosty the Snowman, and the zoo's costumed characters. Watch ice sculpture demonstrations and enjoy magic moments with mimes, musicians, storytellers, jugglers and magicians.

Hot chocolate, hot cider, holiday cookies and a selection of food items will be available each evening.

The Snowball Express, the zoo's heated shuttle bus service, will provide free transportation throughout the zoo.

Admission is $2.75 for adults,

Brookfield Zoo costumed characters ring in the season at Holiday Magic Festival, from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 1 to 3, 8 to 10 and 15 to 17 and Thursday, Dec. 21 and Friday, Dec. 22.

$1 for children and senior citizens. There is no charge to Brookfield Zoo members or to children under 3 years old. Discounts are available for groups of 20 or more. Park in the northwest (31st Street) parking lot. For more information on these holiday events, call (708) 485-0263, ext. 320.

Swedish museum holds bazaar

A Swedish Christmas Bazaar, Julmarknad, will be held Dec. 1, 2 and 3 at Swedish American Museum in Andersonville. Daily events include arts and crafts vendors, live entertainment, special demonstrations, storytelling, Santa's workshop, Swedish Cafe, and Kids Krafts and play corner.

Fest hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Swedish American Museum is located at 5211 N. Clark, near Foster, in Chicago. Adult admission $1 and children admitted FREE. Call for information, 728-8111.

This annual event celebrates an old-fashioned Swedish winter tradition of music, family and handmade crafts that Swedes have been famous for over the centuries.

Dance company presents holiday musical.

The Northwest Performing Dance Company, a non-profit organization, presents its annual "Holiday Musical" with the Kassel Dancers, Garfield Goose and Santa Claus. The production, under the direction of Sharon Kassel, will be held at Buffalo Grove High School Theatre Dec. 2nd at 3:00 p.m.

Admission is $5. Call 253-5642 for further information.

Write to Santa

Santa Claus will be picking up his mail at the Niles Park District Recreation Center, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. Friday, Dec. 15.

Write to Santa at the Recreation Center, and be sure to include return address, so Santa can write back.

For more information, call the park district, 824-8860.

Golf Mill holiday memories

When you give a gift, you're giving a memory. Golf Mill will be creating "Memories of the Present" this holiday season. Golf Mill's theme for the holiday season is "Memories of the Present" which will begin Friday, Nov. 24th. There will be many events taking place throughout Golf Mill including visits from Santa, as voted on last year by Chicago radio listeners. Pictures with Santa are also available. Children who visit with Santa will receive a special Golf Mill storybook. Santa will be at Golf Mill until Dec. 24.

Golf Mill will help shoppers create a "Memory of the Present" by offering a specially designed holiday ornament. Shoppers will be invited to have their photo taken and inserted into the ornament. These ornaments will be available while supplies last, starting Friday, Dec. 8th. Further details can be obtained at Golf Mill.

The Giving Tree will return to Golf Mill again this holiday season. Shoppers can pick out names of needy children from the surrounding area and purchase a gift for them to make the child's holiday a special one.

The holiday season just wouldn't be right without everyone's favorite holiday carols. To accomplish this, Golf Mill once again will be hosting carolling from area schools and choir groups. The carolling will begin Friday, Dec. 1st and continue through to Dec. 23rd.

Old Orchard hosts ice sculptors

Old Orchard welcomes the National Ice Carving Association Singles Competition, featuring Chefs and Artists from Chicago's finest hotels and restaurants.

Winners will qualify for National Ice Carving Championships. The sculptures created that day should last two to four weeks if cold weather prevails. Part of the art of ice sculpture is to design with meltdown in mind.

See the experts in ice sculpture create spectacular wonders Sunday, Nov. 26, at Old Orchard Center, Skokie Boulevard and Old Orchard Road, just east of Edens Expressway in Skokie.

MG chamber collects food

The Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce and Industry in cooperation with the Women's Club of Morton Grove, is having a food drive through Monday, Dec. 11. Non-perishable food items to be distributed to needy families in the area are being collected.

Items may be dropped off at Dot's Hallmark, 6737 Dempster St., or Century 21 Marino Realtors, 3800 Dempster St. Anyone interested in sending in a monetary donation, may send it to the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce and Industry, 6101 Capulina Ave., Morton Grove, IL 60053.

For more details call the Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce and Industry at 965-0330.

Y scuba club collects clothes

The Leaning Tower Family Y Sea Lancers Scuba Club is helping to make Christmas a little warmer for needy kids by providing them with an article of winter clothing - gloves, hat, sweater, etc.

The club has contacted both Niles Township and Maine Township general assistance offices. These agencies have lists of families who live in the communities served by the Leaning Tower Family Y whose children are in need of winter clothing.

To help keep needy children warm this winter, Rich Miceli, Sea Lancer co-ordinator is asking anyone who would like to be part of this effort to bring wrapped gifts of warm clothing to the Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy, Niles. All packages must indicate on the outside the size and whether the item is for a girl or boy.

The gifts will be distributed to the Niles and Maine Townships in time to make the holidays a little warmer for the needy children in our community.

For additional information, contact Laurie Guth, Leaning Tower Family Y, (708) 647-8222 or (312) 774-8515.

Card sale benefits hearing impaired Bank sponsors decorations competition

Each year the International Creative Arts Festival asks a winner to design a holiday card to be sold as a fund raiser to promote the arts programs at the Center on Deafness. The purpose of the festival is to enrich the quality of life for hearing impaired children, adolescents and young adults and to demonstrate that the arts are vital to human development.

This year's card depicts the quiet hush of a winter's scene done in shades of blue on pale blue parchment with matching envelopes. The message, "May the quiet beauty of this season be yours throughout the coming year," is printed inside along with a special season's greetings in finger-painting.

Cards come packaged 20 to a box and cost $9 per box, plus additional costs for imprinting (optional) and shipping. All proceeds benefit talented children who participate in the Center on Deafness' International Arts Festival.

Bank of Ravenswood is aware of the festive decorations which welcome the holiday season in Sauganash, Edgebrook and Lincolnwood, and takes pride in the community spirit this effort reflects.

This holiday season, residents of these communities can earn prizes for their creativity and, at the same time, help benefit The Neediest Children's Fund as part of Bank of Ravenswood's "Home for the Holidays" decorations competition.

Residents can enter their outdoor holiday decorations in the bank's "Home for the Holidays" contest through Dec. 8 by stopping into the Sauganash branch at 4145 W. Peterson Ave., at Rogers, in Chicago. A $5 donation to benefit The Neediest Children's Fund will be accepted with all entries.

Prizes will be awarded for creativity and originality, with a panel of community and business leaders selecting the top three entries Friday, Dec. 15.

First prize winners will be a weekend for two at the Claridge Hotel on North Dearborn Parkway in the heart of Chicago's Gold Coast District. The weekend will feature Saturday night tickets for two to the winner's choice of Chicago theatrical productions as well as Friday night VIP passes to The Funny Firm. Dinner for two at J.P.'s at the Claridge and complimentary continental breakfasts at the hotel are also included.

Dinner for four at Monastero's Restaurant will be awarded the second place winner, with a $100 gift certificate from Happy Foods given for third place.

Edison offers tips on fireplace safety

As temperatures drop and the holiday season approaches, thousands of fireplaces will be lit by homeowners and apartment dwellers, seeking warmth and savings on their heating bills. While these are two good reasons for lighting a fireplace, caution must be taken to avoid accidents.

Each year an estimated 6,000 people receive emergency care treatment for injuries sustained while working around fireplaces, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. Most of these injuries are cuts and bruises caused by handling wood, irons and other equipment. The more serious injuries, however, are burns sustained by children. Some suggestions for avoiding mishaps include:

- Before lighting a fireplace, check to see if it was constructed for use as a fireplace or merely for decoration. Also, have the fireplace inspected to determine whether it has all the necessary linings and clearances.
- Avoid the use of flammable liquids to rekindle a fire. The liquid vapors can cause an explosion traveling the length of a room.
- Always keep the damper open while the fuel is burning. This provides for efficient burning and prevents the accumulation of explosive gases.
- Avoid using coal, charcoal or styrofoam packaging in a fireplace, because they can produce deadly quantities of carbon monoxide.
- Avoid stacking artificial logs, made from sawdust and wax, on top of one another, as with wood logs. If artificial logs are stacked on top of each other, they can cause an explosion.
- Keep the telephone number of a physician and/or the nearest Poison Control Center nearby. If any of these possible hazardous substances are consumed, call for help immediately.
- Before starting a fire, remove all holiday decorations from the area and open the flue.
- Always keep a screen in front of the fireplace whenever a fire is burning.
- Never use the fireplace as an incinerator for burning trash or other debris. Gift wrapping paper and evergreen boughs can burn suddenly and rapidly, throwing off sparks. Dispose of wrapping paper immediately.
- Homeowners and apartment dwellers across Commonwealth Edison's northern Illinois service territory will enjoy the warmth and good cheer of a fireplace this fall and winter season. Following the suggestions mentioned above will make this a safe as well as pleasurable experience.

Great 'Tomte' at Swedish festival

Christmas Eve in Sweden is highlighted by the arrival of the Swedish Santa or tomte, as he is called in Sweden. Legend has it that the bringer of gifts rides on a straw goat, JUL BOK. The Jul Bok will arrive in Chicago Dec. 2, at Varblomman Children's club's Lucia Concert and Dance at the American Serbian Hall, 5701 N. Redwood Dr., Chicago, just south of the Kennedy Expressway between Canfield and Cumberland.

The concert begins at 7 p.m., but doors open at 6 p.m. with a homemade bake sale, and aazaar filled with items from Sweden. Prizes to be awarded include a weekend at the Embassy Suites, or a pair of Jul Boks from the Sweden Shop on Foster Avenue, Chicago, among other items.

After the concert, refreshments are available. Music for listening or dancing pleasure will be provided by the Wayne Speis Orchestra.

Varblomman is a 35 member Swedish children's club located on the Northwest side of Chicago at Gompers Park Fieldhouse.

This year's Lucia Queen is 14 year old, Lisa Infelt, of Chicago, a member since 1981. She has performed with the group twice for the King and Queen of Sweden; for the Prime Minister, Ingvar Carlsson; Mayor Byrne; State Senator Bob Kustra; among others in Illinois and the surrounding states. Lisa is fluent in Swedish and traveled with the group to Sweden, Norway and Denmark in the summer of 1988.

For further information on Varblomman or the concert, call Joy Hamrin at (312) 777-5906.

PTA sponsors Christmas play

The Niles Elementary Parent-Teacher Association's Cultural Arts Program is inviting the cast of Unicorn Theatre Company to present the Christmas classic: O'Henry's "THE GIFT OF MAGI" Wednesday, Dec. 13.

This is a live theater production featuring two castmembers recounting one of America's best-known short story writer's classic Christmas tales of ago, about Della and Jim, poverty-stricken new-layers who want desperately to give each other a meaningful gift for Christmas.

Last year, students, teachers and parents were delighted by the Unicorn Theatre's production of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol". This Dixon, IL, based live theater group includes spontaneous audience participation.

Performances will be at Niles Elementary South, 6935 W. Touhy at 10 a.m. and at Culver Middle School, 6921 W. Oakton at 1 p.m. All are invited.

Memberships available for community concerts

The Community Concert Association of Maine Township presents the second concert in the 1989-90 series. The Broadway Marionettes performing A Christmas Carol, Sunday, Dec. 3, Maine East High School Auditorium, 2601 Dempster, Park Ridge at 3 p.m.

A close up demonstration of the art of marionettes will follow the performance for anyone who would like to stay.

The Community Concert 1989-90 season series presents four concerts at Maine Township East and West High School Auditoriums on Sunday afternoons and evenings. Available immediately and effective for the Dec. 3 concert, the Community Concert Association announced a special Christmas membership offer.

This offer will provide membership admissions to the final three concerts for the cost of $18 for individual memberships, $9 for student memberships and $45 for family memberships. Tickets are not sold for individual concerts and admission is by membership only. Call 825-2982 or 824-0405 for information or memberships.

The two remaining Community Concerts are Quintet of the Americas, Feb. 11 at 3 p.m. at Maine East and Leonid Kuzmin, pianist, will perform April 8 at 7:30 p.m. at Maine West.

Share holiday play with children
All good memories of past Christmas joys are brought to the stage in "A Child's Christmas In Wales," to be presented at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 6, at the Rialto Square Theatre.

This new holiday musical is a fond, often comical remembrance of the Welsh tradition. Based on the story/poem by Dylan Thomas, it brings to life the wonders and beauty of Christmas through the imaginative eyes of a child.

Set in a small Welsh sea-coast village, it is the story of one Christmas day from its quiet, magical beginning full of thrilling expectations, to a happy and fulfilled child at bedtime. It is Christmas the way it used to be and the way it is.

Tickets are $14, $12 and $7, available at the Rialto ticket office, 102 N. Chicago St. in downtown Joliet. To charge by phone call (815) 726-6600 or Ticketmaster, (312) 902-1500. Sponsored by Mobil Foundation.

The Broadway Marionettes will be featured in "A Christmas Carol" presented by the Community Concert Association in its 1989-90 series, Sunday, Dec. 3 at 3 p.m. in Maine East High School Auditorium. Call 824-0405 or 835-2082 for information and membership. Christmas membership offer is available.

Regina Christmas concert

Regina Dominican High School will hold its annual Christmas Concert at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3 in the Regina Auditorium. Suzanne Senese, Glenview, is music director.

The program will feature traditional and madrigal style carols and excerpts from Benjamin Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols" by the Chamber Singers with Mary Petro, Glenview, as soprano soloist.

The Swing Choral will sing traditional carols along with updated arrangements of "Steigh Ride," "Let It Snow! Let It Snow!" and some rock and roll carols. The debut performance of the newly formed Regina Singers will feature traditional and contemporary carols. All groups will combine to perform some new contemporary Christian rock selections. Jennifer Lee and Kristi-

St. Isaac hosts magician

All students and their families are invited to attend "The Magic of Christmas" by Dave Mayer Monday Dec. 4. Mayer incorporates audience participation in the form of a magical drama. Children are chosen from the audience to play specific character roles that tie in with the theme of the routines. On stage, they see miracles happen right in their very hands.

Theater presents 'Willy Wonka'

The Orchard Theatre welcomes everyone to share an adventure with "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory," a one hour musical fantasy with humor presented at the Orchard Theatre, Old Orchard Country Club, corner of Euclid and Rand Road in Mt. Prospect.

Tickets are $5. Reservations are required. The performance is through Jan. 31 and will be presented every Wednesday at 10 a.m. In December, the play will be presented Wednesday at 7 p.m., Friday at 10 a.m. and Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

For more information, please phone 259-4840. The "Willy Wonka" cast includes twelve adult professional performers from the greater Chicago area who will playfully portray spoiled brats, greedy, naughty children and miniature "oompa-loompa" elves. All, because of their misbehavior, eventually turn into a chocolate river or meet with some strange fate.

These characters enjoy tormenting and distracting the benevolent, but slightly bizarre, Willy Wonka who, because of his passionate love of chocolate, ingeniously invents secret recipes for the delicious chocolate "Wonda bars" and everlasting "gobstoppers."

The good-hearted Charlie, in the end, gets to enjoy the rewards from discovering the last of the five golden tickets.

"Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory" is educational as well as entertaining with lots of lively dances, meaningful riddles and rhymes and tuneful music such as, "The Candy Man" and "Pure Imagination."

"Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory" musical is an adaptation from the story book of the same title by Ronald Dahl and is presented by the Pappi Players. Additional lyrics are by Ronald Combs and music by resident accompanist Jane Kenas of Chicago. Editing is by Kevin Peterson, who portrays "Willy Wonka."

Cragin collects toys for needy

The Cragin Holiday Toy Box to benefit underprivileged children will continue through Dec. 16. Sponsored by Cragin Federal Bank, the toy drive is a company-wide effort by all of Cragin's 24 branch locations.

Brand-new toys for children of all ages are needed as well as cash donations. Toy contributions should be delivered to the Cragin offices unwrapped.

All toys and monies collected will be given to the Salvation Army, which will distribute them to homeless families, children of prisoners, and shelters for needy families in the Chicago area. The Salvation Army's toy drive theme is "Sharing is Caring."

Donations can be made at the following Cragin offices during regular business hours: Fullerton/Laramie, Diversey/Central, Belmont/Oconto, Belmont/Harlem, Belmont/Menard, Cumberland/Lawrence, Montrose/Austin, Diversey/Kimball, Milwaukee/Menard, and Six Corners. Toys will also be collected at Cragin's suburban locations in Des Plaines, Itasca, Park Ridge, Schaumburg, River Forest, Mt. Prospect, Niles, Wheaton, Carol Stream, Lombard, Glen Ellyn, and Norridge.

For more information, call Kathleen Schuessler at 889-1000, ext. 361.

The award is given to the student who has the best record of academic achievement, lab performance and attendance, and is a means of encouraging excellence and initiative.

Holiday Gift Guide

Keep pets from holiday hazards

The holidays are times spent with family and friends. Some members of the family may need a little special consideration that might be overlooked at this busy time of the year.

Keep companion animals away from mistletoe, holly or poinsettia plants; all are poisonous. Make sure that the Christmas tree is steady and secure so that it can't be knocked over. If anything other than plain water is in the tree stand, cover it, so dogs or cats cannot drink from it.

Don't let pets chew on tinsel, string, ribbon or angel hair as these products can cause choking, or, if swallowed, intestinal blockage. Also, be aware that sharp pine needles, bits of broken ornaments and ornament hooks can cause internal as well as external injuries.

When entertaining, post a sign on both sides of the door so that everyone is careful to close it securely. A dog or cat can easily slip out and not be missed during the confusion. Consider keeping the pet in a quiet room during the festivities.

Don't give an animal as a gift. Having a companion animal means a daily commitment to that animal for its entire life. Becoming a companion animal guardian is a personal decision that should never be made by someone else. To offer the companionship of a dog or cat to a friend, give an Anti-Cruelty Society gift certificate instead.

Y offers school's out program

The Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy Ave., Niles will hold a school's out program Friday, Nov. 24, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for children 6 to 12 years. Extended care is available for working parents from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Fees are $6 for members and $12 for non-members; extended care fees are $2 for a.m. or p.m.

Qualified instructors will lead children through activities including swimming, arts and crafts, games and movies.

Bake holiday treats

Learn to bake taste-tangling, mouth watering holiday treats. At the Morton Grove Park District create cakes, pies and breads at classes to be held Dec. 12 and 14 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Prairie View Community Center.

The cost for this program is $45. Call 965-7447 for more information.

Santa calls Niles kids

Santa has made special arrangements with the Niles Park District to call boys and girls at their homes. To receive phone calls, register at the Niles Park District, 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. or the Ballard Leisure Center, 8320 Ballard Rd. by Friday, Dec. 15.

Phone calls will be made on Thursday, Dec. 21 between 6 and 8 p.m.

Parents must fill out a short questionnaire to assist Santa with his calls!

For more information, call the park district at 824-8860.

For more information call 965-7447.

Holiday Gift Guide

Keep the life of the party alive

Always serve food with alcohol. Tasty snacks are not only a delicious addition to any party but also can slow the rate at which the body absorbs alcohol.

High-protein foods such as cheese and meats are especially good because they stay in the stomach longer.

Have several jiggers at the bar, so mixed drinks can be measured. At an informal party, guests will probably mix their own drinks. If a jigger is handy, they may use it rather than pouring what seems to be the "right amount." Also, inexpensive self-measuring one-ounce spouts can be purchased and placed on bottles. Guests will be less likely to drink to excess if standard measures for drinks are used.

When serving an alcoholic punch, make it with a non-carbonated base. Alcohol is absorbed by the body much faster when combined with a carbonated mixer such as gingerale. Fruit juice or tea is a preferable base for party punches.

Have non-alcoholic beverages available for guests. It is very likely that some guests will not wish to drink an alcoholic beverage. Also persons taking certain medicines should not consume alcohol. Have soft drinks, coffee, or non-alcoholic drinks for them.

Don't force drinks on guests.

Under normal circumstances, the body can absorb about one drink an hour. Although everyone wants their guests to enjoy themselves, don't let them overdo it. Don't rush to refill their glasses the minute they become empty. Many guests accept drinks they really don't want to avoid appearing rude to the host.

Stop serving alcohol about an hour before the party is to end. During the last hour of the party, have coffee or some other non-alcoholic beverage available and top off the evening with a special food feature such as pizza or quiche Lorraine. Neither coffee nor any other drink will help sober anybody up. Only time can do that. But by emphasizing non-alcoholic drinks toward the end of the party, guests are offered extra time for their bodies to absorb the alcohol they have consumed. With a low alcohol content in their blood, it will be safer for them to drive home.

If you observe a guest who is drinking too much, engage him or her in conversation to slow down the drinking.

Offer food which will also slow down the rate at which the body is absorbing alcohol.

Offer to mix the next drink and make it a light one. Mix it with water rather than a carbonated mixer.

Cablevision airs wrestling series

Who will survive what has become a World Wrestling Federation tradition? It could be the Hulkmaniacs or possibly the Rude Brood. But, who's ever unlucky enough to be labeled the turkey...the Survivor Series will be an unforgettable Thanksgiving Pay Per View event.

Cablevision brings subscribers the Survivor Series - LIVE - Nov. 23 on Channel 24 at 7 p.m. (1-800-885-HIT1). For $21.95, viewers won't want to miss Andre the Giant, Ravishing Rick Rude, Ultimate Warrior, Hulk Hogan and many more as they make their annual holiday "pilgrimage" to the ring. As an added bonus, two additional survival matches have been scheduled: 4X4 vs. The King's Court and The Dream Team vs. the Enforcers.

An encore performance of the Pay Per View Survival Series will be broadcast again at 10 p.m. Nov. 23 (1-800-885-HIT2).

Pay Per View allows cable customers to pick and choose from a monthly line-up of special movies, concerts and events.

Theatre presents opera for children

Chanticleer Opera Theatre will present two one-act operas for children in grades K-12 and their families Nov. 26 at Skokie Public Library.

The first show, at 3 p.m., is Malcolm Fax's Sid, the Serpent Who Wanted to Sing. Sid is the story of a performing serpent who leaves the circus to pursue a career as a singer. On his journey around the world, he meets a barbershop quartet in England, an opera diva in Rome and a rock star in New York.

Before the performance an educational workshop is led by the company. Children in grades K-6 will have a chance to meet the cast, learn the songs from Sid and try on stage make-up and costumes. The workshop begins at 2 p.m.

The second opera begins at 4 p.m. The Face on the Barroom Floor will appeal to older students but is still appropriate for all ages. Henry Mollicone's contemporary score is set in a present day saloon and the same saloon one hundred years earlier.

The audience is invited to stay after the performance. An informal session will give older students a chance to meet the cast and find out how an opera is staged.

Admission is free to the workshop and performances. The Library is located at 5215 Oakton St. in Skokie. For more information, call 673-7774.

"Only An Orphan Girl" at Maine East

This year's second Actors' Studio performance at Maine East will be the old-fashioned melodrama "Only An Orphan Girl," performed December 7-9. Tickets are $3 per person. Actors' Studio productions are only one aspect of National Forensic League activities. This year's officers are (l-r) Steve Futterman of Des Plaines, Jon Kusner of Park Ridge, Cris Madrideo of Morton Grove, and Galena Shabadash of Des Plaines.

SJB hosts battle of bands

St. John Brebeuf Youth Ministry presents its sixth annual Battle of the Bands Friday, Nov. 24, in the parish gym located at 8307 N. Harlem, from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

The battle this year features music from the bands called "Shattered Image," "Leviathan" and "Avatar."

"Shattered Image" featuring Eugene Ash, Jason Baer, Bryan Gabonton, Richard Manelis and Quinn Scott will play from 7:40 p.m. until 8:30 p.m.

"Leviathan" featuring William Bhullar, Bill Frank, Peter Murray, Justin Schweig and Glen Weinberg will play from 8:40 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. "Avatar" featuring Adrian Dinu, Peter Hussey, Ricky Lyons, Zahed Siadjoloh and Phil Young will play from 9:40 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

From 10:30 p.m. to 10:45 p.m. the audience will vote, using their ticket stubs, for the band they felt was the best. The band collecting the most votes will receive first prize.

The winning band will then come back and play the last set, from 11 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Tickets for the Sixth Annual Battle of the Bands are $5 at the door.

Telethon raises funds for students

WCTU-TV Channel 26 will host the Crusade for Education Telethon "Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 23 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m."

In its sixteen year history, the Crusade for Education Telethon, sponsored by the Knights of Da-Browski, has been an important source of revenue for financial aid programs for needy and deserving college and graduate school students. The telethon has provided local entertainers, musicians and singers an outlet to feature their varied talents. The telethon also showcases prominent leaders, media personalities and the people that make up the community.

The Crusade for Education, call (312) 792-1800, for information.

Area woman featured in play

Ann Singer of Northbrook is a featured performer in Theatre II's current production of "The Odd Couple" at Saint Xavier College, Chicago. The women's version of Neil Simon's classic story of confrontation between an obsessively meticulous person and a slob is being presented on stage at the College, 3700 W. 103rd St. through Nov. 26.

Directed by Ron Mark, "The Odd Couple" can be seen Thursday through Saturday at 8 p.m.; Sunday at 2 p.m. Tickets are $9 Friday through Sunday, $8 senior citizens and students.

Singer is making her Theatre II debut in "The Odd Couple." She came to Theatre II with a BFA in Theatre from New York University. Her credits at NYU include "The Ghost Sonata," "Sister Carrle," and "Camino Real," among others, but her favorites were Goldie in "Hello from Berthe," and Mrs. Erylne in "Lady Windemere's Fan."

Professor discusses musical theater

Join Patrick Casali, professor of Humanities and International Studies at Oakton Community College, for an enlightening discussion on the great moments of the American musical stage in a Passages Through Life lecture from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 28, in room 112 at Oakton East, 7701 N. Lincoln Ave., Skokie. Casali will read excerpts from popular American musicals from its early days to Les Misérables.

A $1 donation will be collected at the door. For information, call 635-1414.

East Senior a master at magic "Presto, Magic!" These words are often associated with Houdini or Blackstone, but senior Danny Makower has his own methods of magic.

Makower, who is often referred by entertainment agencies, amuses audiences at weddings, sweet sixteens, and birthday parties. He has also worked at Bennigan's and Oliver's, dazzling restaurant crowds with his magic.

His favorite trick is the Power Ring Flight. In this trick he borrows a ring from someone in the audience. The rings seem to vanish from sight and then reappears on the key ring in his wallet which he pulls from his back pocket. The ring is amazingly in the middle of the many links of the key chain. "This trick seems to amaze people the most because it is their own ring and not a prop," said Danny.

The Maine East senior started practicing magic when he was in the fifth grade living in Skokie with his family. He purchased his first trick in a store and from then on he has been self-taught. He reads books on magic and purchases some of his tricks in shops.

His favorite magician is the NBC-TV judge on "Night Court," Harry Anderson, but Danny is still uncertain if he would like to follow in Anderson's footsteps and continue magic as a profession.

When asked if he does or ever will reveal his secrets, Danny replied, "Sometimes I do, but magicians are not supposed to tell their secrets."

The Maine East senior, who resides in Morton Grove, entertained students and faculty during the all-school Homecoming assembly and at recent V-Show performances.

Opera group ends season

The Skokie Valley Chapter of the Lyric Opera of Chicago will conclude its series of opera lectures at the Morton Grove Public Library with a presentation of the opera "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss Sunday, Dec. 3, at 2 p.m.

The speaker will be Anita Kallman of the Lyric Opera Lecture Corps and a member of the Skokie Valley Chapter.

Refreshments will be served, following the program and the public is invited, free of charge.

Pianist entertains Culver students

Horizon enriches Dist. 207 students

From physics to Shakespeare and running to jazz, Horizon has brought more than 50 enrichment programs to students in the three Maine Township high schools during the past eight years. As it begins its ninth year as a District 207 enrichment program, Horizon presentations have addressed all academic and elective years.

In the early years of Horizon, the focus of the program was to provide enrichment experiences for accelerated level students. During the past several years however, the program has expanded its vision to allow Horizon funds to be used to offer enrichment experiences to students at all instructional levels.

Horizon Committee members this year are Kenneth Faulhaber, David Jeffers and Leona Laouras from Maine East; Cliff Armo, Kenneth Rexkiewicz and Patricia Schreiber from Maine South; and Eric Edstrom, Paul Leatham and Paul Stofcheck from Maine West.

Registration open for OCC spring classes

Registration is open at Oakton Community College for spring 1990 credit courses which begin Tuesday, Jan. 16. Registration can be done in person or by touch-tone telephone.

Walk-in registration hours at Des Plaines and Skokie are 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday. The hours for touch-tone telephone are the same as walk-in and also from 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturday. No telephone or walk-in registration will be accepted on holidays.

Students who were enrolled at Oakton in the spring, summer or fall 1989 terms may register without reapplying. Others must submit their applications to Des Plaines or Skokie before they will be allowed to register.

For registration assistance, call (708) 635-1700, Des Plaines, or (708) 635-1400, Skokie.

Niles school holds open house

Niles Elementary School will host an Open House for parents to view classes in session Tuesday, Nov. 28. The Open House will run between 8:25 a.m. and 12:25 p.m. allowing parents to see the morning academic classes and to eat lunch with their children if desired.

The format for the Open House is informal. Teacher lessons and schedules will be those of normally followed. The goal for the day is that parents will gain a real feel for the activities and subjects of a regular school day.

Parents are asked to make their own arrangements for babysitting young children.

This Open House is for the South School only. The Culver Middle School will announce the date of its Open House at a later date.

William Cunningham
 Marine 1st Lt. William R. Cunningham, son of John M. and Mary E. Cunningham of Skokie, recently reported for duty with 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, Okinawa, Japan.

Culver students sleep over

Niles District 71's Culver Middle School hosted a sleep-over recently for the Outdoor Adventure participants.

As a culmination of seven weeks of work by these students, they tried their outdoor skills in cooking, map and compass reading, as well as star gazing. The fifth through eighth graders also designed their own T-shirts, participated in a late night sing-along, accompanied by Principal Tom Ray on guitar...and slept in sleeping bags on the floor of the gym.

This was the pilot program designed by Math/Science teacher Terri Kimura. The main objectives were to teach students to get along with one another and to become more aware of ecological problems in the environment. Earlier projects included nature walks, environmental clean-up along the river, and community services such as after school care of children and visits to the elderly.

The impact of the Outdoor Adventure Program was shared by students and faculty. One student, Boris Sigal, commented that "It helped to improve my self confidence and to know other students...and even have a better outlook on teachers." Frank Silvio said "I know if I'm lost, I can use a map and compass to find my way."

All students agreed, "It was so much fun!"

Regina hosts prospective students

Regina Dominican High School, 701 Locust Rd., Wilmette, will provide a second opportunity for prospective students and their parents to visit the school on Wednesday, Nov. 29 from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Guests are invited to tour the school facilities with student hostesses and enjoy refreshments with current Regina parents in the school cafeteria.

Administrators, counselors, teachers, and students will be on hand to welcome and answer questions about Regina's college preparatory program, which includes advanced placement and early college credit in 12 subject areas. Currently, 100 percent of Regina's graduates go on to college.

Elmhurst college holds registration

Registration for Spring Term Evening Session classes at Elmhurst College will begin Nov. 27 with classes scheduled to start Saturday, Jan. 27.

The Evening Session, which was established in 1951, provides educational opportunities primarily for the working adult.

Undergraduate degrees are offered in 24 majors during the Evening Session. The majority of the 1,200 evening students are completing a degree in professional and preprofessional majors such as business administration, computer science, education and R.N. degree completion. Second degree students and non-degree students who are upgrading career skills comprise the remainder of the Evening Session student body.

Part-time, year-round study is available through accelerated terms during the month of January and in the summer, as well as the traditional fall and spring semesters.

Courses are offered on the Elmhurst College campus Monday through Thursday evenings and on Saturdays. Evening courses are also available at several off-campus locations. Rolling Meadows High School, located approximately one mile east of I-290 and the Woodfield Shopping Center, is the northwest suburban off-campus site. The College of DuPage in Glen Ellyn serves as the west suburban off-campus site. Glenbrook South High School in Glenview and Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge are the north suburban sites, and Christ Hospital and Medical Center in Oak Lawn serves as the off-campus location in the south suburban area.

For additional information and to receive a spring schedule of courses, call the Elmhurst College Evening Session at (708) 617-3300 or (708) 617-3500.

Good Counsel lists honor students

Good Counsel High School, 3900 W. Peterson, announced student First and Second Honor Rolls recently.

Of the 1,025 students in the school, the following achieved honors status from the Sauganash, Edgebrook and Lincolnwood communities: First Honors, Carolyn Caporusso and Michelle Veith; Second Honors, Griselda Cabrera, Natalie Cale, Katherine Jeske, Diane Konowinski, Linda Kunz, Beth Napoli, Patricia Skolowski, Yolanda Vargas, Anne Wiet and Michelle Woods.

Skokie man joins bank

Frank L. Mahan, a Skokie-area resident, has joined Burling Bank as executive vice president and cashier. The new stated-chartered bank is located in the Board of Trade Building in Chicago's South Loop. Previously, Mahan served as chairman of the board at Suburban Computer Service and Utility Remittance Corporation. He also was vice president of operations at Suburban Bancorp. Prior to that, he was executive vice president and cashier at First Chicago Bank of Mount Prospect for 23 years.

Bank appoints officer

Catherine Drews Popp, a resident of Morton Grove, has been appointed Banking Officer at Lake Shore National Bank in Chicago. Ms. Popp will continue her current responsibilities as banking department coordinator.

Accountant gives IRA advice

Savers have been told countless times that a 10 percent tax penalty will be incurred when money is withdrawn from an individual retirement account before age 59-1/2, unless funds are withdrawn because of disability or to roll the funds into another account.

However, there is a little known, and perfectly legal, way around this rule, suggests Joan C. LeValley, a tax accountant with offices at 841 Touhy Ave., Park Ridge.

Simply arrange to have the IRA distribution paid out in equal, periodic installments, at least one per year, as "life annuity". The amount of the withdrawals will be based on life expectancy under the IRS tables.

Once age 59-1/2 is reached and distributions have been received for at least five years, the amount and/or frequency of payouts can be changed without incurring any penalty.

For answers to your IRA questions, call your accountant or LeValley at 708/825-3857. She is a member of the Independent Accountants Association of Illinois.

Realtors collect for the needy

RE/MAX Alliance Realtors, 4035 W. Main St., Skokie, is supporting the North Side Real Estate Board's annual "Make Chicago Smile Food Drive" for the hungry and homeless. Donations of canned and non-perishable food items can be dropped off at the real estate office through Dec. 19 during the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 9 to 5 Saturday and Sunday.

RE/MAX Alliance is also a sponsor of the Marine Corps Toys for Tots Program. Donations of new and like-new toys are requested for needy children. Contributions can be made during the hours listed above through mid-December.

Sheraton executive named world hotelier

John Kapiolotas, chairman, president and chief executive officer of The Sheraton Corporation, has been named 1989 Corporate Hotelier of the World.

The designation by Des Plaines-based Hotels and Restaurants International Magazine is considered a major hospitality industry honor.

The award is presented annually to the hotel chain executive who has done the most to improve the international hotel industry and set the highest standards of hotel performance.

Kapiolotas will be feted at a ceremony in Paris this month and then again in November at New York City's Sheraton Centre.

Area companies compete for award

Nine North suburban companies are among the 50 finalists for this year's Chicago Area Small Business Award, sponsored by Arthur Andersen's Enterprise Group and the office of Entrepreneurial Studies at the University of Illinois-Chicago.

The award recognizes an area company for its sales growth, market share, employment generation, and leadership in the small business community. The nine finalists from the Northern suburbs are: Bernard Food Industries, Inc., Evanston; Jules F. Bernard, President/CEO; Continental Electrical Construction Co., Skokie; William Witz, President/CEO; GenDerm Corporation, Northbrook; Dr. Joel E. Bernstein, Chairman/CEO; Johnson & Quinn, Inc., Niles; David R. Henkel, Chairman/CEO; Latex Glove Company, Inc. (Saf-T-Gard International), Northbrook; Norman Rivkin, Chairman/CEO; Motivation Media, Inc., Glenview; Frank Stedronsky, President; Pin Dot Products, Inc., Niles; Michael Silverman, President; Smart Data, Inc., Lincolnwood; M. H. Etzkhart, President; and Zebra Technologies Corporation, Northbrook; Edward J. Kaplan, President/CEO.

IRS matching reported income

A series of special letters from the Internal Revenue Service is being mailed.

The letters are part of a computer program that every year matches up financial information. The letters say that some of the information on a person's 1987 tax return does not match with corresponding information sent to the IRS.

When banks and other businesses send their customers a letter or form showing income earned, such as interest or dividends, a computer tape of that information is sent to IRS so the income can be verified against the tax agency's computer tapes made from individual tax returns. If a person forgets to put interest, dividends, or other types of income they have on their tax return, that will show up when the tapes are matched.

The letter asks that an individual's personal records be checked against the information that was reported to IRS. If income has been overlooked, then additional taxes, plus interest and, in some cases, a penalty, will have to be paid, the IRS said. If the information the tax agency started out with was in error, or the income was reported elsewhere, a reply is needed to correct the records. Tele-Tax, IRS' automated system of prerecorded tax information, can help with replies to these letters. Call toll-free 1-800-554-4477 and request tape number 505.

Mid-City one of safest banks in state

Mid-City National Bank of Chicago, an affiliate of the First National Bank of Morton Grove, has been rated one of the 100 safest banks in the U.S.

Mid-City was the only Illinois bank with assets of $50 million or more to qualify for the rating compiled by Veribanc, a banking industry research and consulting firm.

Veribanc's criteria for a "safe" financial institution is based on equity-to-assets ratio, which indicates a bank's ability to absorb potential losses. The finding were published in the October issue of Money Magazine.

"First National of Morton Grove operates under the same sound principles as Mid-City," said president Charles H. Lengfeld. "We're proud to be associated with the safest bank in Illinois."

Mid-City and First National of Morton Grove are part of Mid-Citco, Inc., which also includes the Bank of Elmhurst and Union Bank & Trust of Oklahoma City. Total assets of Mid-Citco, Inc. exceed $775 million.

Chicago's 40th Ward. Staackmann must file his statement of candidacy with the State Board of Elections in Springfield between Dec. 11 and Dec. 18 to be eligible for the March 20 primary. He needs 300 signatures of registered voters to file. If he wins the primary, his next hurdle would be the Nov. 6, 1990 general election.

Democrat Louis Lang, currently the state representative of the First Legislative District, said he also plans to run in the March 20 primary. Lang was appointed to the position in 1987 after former Representative Alan Greiman became a judge. Lang was elected to the post in 1988.

Thirty-four-year-old Staackmann said the timing is good for him personally to run for this office now.

Although he had no formal statement prepared, Staackmann did say the property tax issue intrigued him and he would like to see elementary school district consolidations.

Staackmann works in the service department at Conor Dodge in Glenview and owns Staackmann Automotive, a car repair shop in Morton Grove. He has been on the board of directors of both the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club in Morton Grove. He was also a past president of Morton Grove Days. Staackmann has been on the park board since 1987.

In other Morton Grove park business, a dedication ceremony was held Nov. 18 at Mansfield Park for the newly installed playground equipment there.

Joyce Lipner and Sandy Wiczer from the Park Partners, a group of resident volunteers helping to raise funds for park improvements in the village, presented a $1,072 check to members of the park district staff, to help pay for a newly installed tripod tire swing. Lipner said the Park Partners are continuing to raise money to pay for the swing. Wiczer said she thinks it is wonderful the community can participate and can assist the Park District get the apparatus. She said she has seen much cooperation between neighbors and small businesses in the area who have contributed to the project.

In addition to the tire swing, two pieces of climbing apparatus, baby and adult swings, a seesaw and a space shuttle play apparatus are all new equipment at the playground.

Other improvements slated for Mansfield Park which should be completed in the next five to ten years, according to Gary Baling, administrative manager of the Park District, include a jogging path, an upgraded basketball court, concrete walkways, a new baseball diamond, new drinking fountains, an upgraded drainage system, a drop off zone on Church Street, new fencing, and a handicapped accessible entryway for the fieldhouse.

The park board also announced there would be an ice skating rink at Harter Park this winter. The board allocated $6,000 into the 1989-90 budget to cover maintenance expenses and for guards at the rink. Hockey playing will not be allowed.

Signs will be posted on the rink indicating whether the rink is open or closed. Before the ice can be used, there must be three consecutive days of weather at 15 degrees or less followed by at least five days below 32 degrees.

tees conducted an evaluation of McKenzie resulting in a resolution that they had serious concerns about his continued employment.

According to the agreement, board members will answer any queries from prospective employees regarding McKenzie only with information regarding his length of employment and achievements at the end of this article.

To be considered valid, the agreement had to be signed by McKenzie before 3 p.m. last Thursday. The agreement includes the following provisions:

After Nov. 10, McKenzie will have no duties with the Niles Public Library and will receive no pay, compensation or benefits from the district.

He will cooperate with the board to effect an efficient and businesslike transition in the administration. McKenzie will retain the title of Administrator of the Niles Public Library for six months or until he procures another position.

fense. Wheaton drove to the three, but quarterback Jeff Thorne threw an incomplete pass on fourth and goal.

When the Dons took over, they drove to the five. Grillo came in and nailed the 27 yarder to give the Dons the victory.

For Grillo, it was the chance to vindicate a 42 yard attempt in regulation play with 17 seconds left. He also had a 32 yard try blocked in the first half.

The first half was scoreless, with Notre Dame taking a 3-0 lead with about a minute left in the third quarter when Grillo kicked a 23 yard field goal.

Wheaton tied at 3 in the fourth quarter. A welcome home rally will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 25 at the Notre Dame High School gymnasium.

25, of Des Plaines, noticed one of three occupants of a Ford car removing tools from a lock box on the back of an open yellow pick up truck and putting them into their car.

Suspicious, Kaschul and Gieser attempted pursuit, following the Ford as the driver started to head east on Golf, but were deterred by heavy traffic. Frustrated in an attempt to get help on their car phone, the pair returned to Builders Square to call police at 4:12 p.m.

Niles Police gave chase and radioed ahead to Morton Grove. At 4:23 p.m. word came back that the Ford, carrying two men and a woman, was stopped at Dempster Street and the Edens Expressway in Morton Grove. Kaschul and Gieser were brought to the scene for identification, but it proved difficult because the two fleeing men had changed clothes.

A search of the Ford interior uncovered a bag containing four hypodermic needles. The car truck held the carpenter's tools, including a circular saw, power drill, power sander, screw gun and jig saw, all of which she valued at $500.

The Ford occupants, in their twenties and early thirties, reside in Chicago. They are charged with theft and possession of stolen property and possession of hypodermic needles.

Mary Kaschul, wife of Tom, said her husband and Gieser are always helping someone, adding, "Whenever they're late, I know they're doing something."

was $470,000. The Rec Center pool, which must now be replaced due to metal fatigue, was described by Commissioner Carl Panek as the "cadillac of pools" in its time. In 1970, Washington Terrace Park was purchased.

The park district added a second pool in 1971 at the Sports Complex at Ballard Road and Cumberland Avenue. The construction of an ice rink on the site the following year eventually moved ice skating out of the parks and indoors.

"Little Tam Golf Course" linked up with the Niles Park District in 1971. Steve Chanercki, who was Park Board President between 1962 and 1967, was elected again from 1975 to 1982. He recalled the years preceding the 1970 acquisition of the 9-hole, 37-1/2 acre course, when owner George S. May decided to sell the course to developer J. Emil Anderson.

Part of the championship course became an industrial park but the Park District eventually purchased the remaining acreage for $1,300,000. According to Chanercki, the park district paid for the course in annual $100,000 installments, and the course has long since paid for itself.

One of Tam's ironies is that water from the Chicago river has been pumped on the course to water the greens during droughts; the same waterway causes thousands of dollars of damage to the links in flood conditions.

Jonquil Terrace Park was purchased in 1972 with funds approved by a 1968 referendum.

A variety of events have been held under the roof of the ice rink, which was an open air facility until 1972. Flea markets, baseball card, antique shows, and punt, pass and kick demonstrations have been featured there. Ballard Sports Complex was also the summer home for miniature golf and batting cages, until 1986, when the new 18-hole mini-course, designed by Supt. of Recreation Deborah Nelson was built. The pro shop at the ice rink opened up the same year.

A fire damaged the concession stand at the rec center in 1987. A man and two juveniles were arrested for setting the fire which caused an estimated $50,000 damage. In 1979, a fire destroyed portions of the Ballard Sports complex.

Notable tournaments sponsored by the park district have ranged from the aromatic wicker races and smelly sneaker contests in 1983 to the artistic snow sculpture and poster competitions. A 5K and 10K race was held in connection with the 1987 All American Festival.

Other activities have included bowling, basketball, ping pong, archery, chess, horseshoes in 1961 and flower arranging. Over the years fishing derbies have been held both at the Rec Center pool and at Fishermen's Dude Ranch in unincorporated Des Plaines. Speed skating in 1965 and oriental cooking in 1979 attested to the park district's responsiveness to everchanging recreational needs and interests.

Many of the activities now absent from park programs are available at other facilities such as Oakton Community College's Monnacep program but new activities appear annually.

The Park district dedicated its new maintenance garage at Tam Golf course and began revitalizing all its playgrounds in 1989.

In 1990, it will make decisions relative to a new pool at the Rec Center.

At least one commissioner favors building an indoor pool, noting the health benefits of swimming to all age groups, and possibly building a more encompassing rec center facility with expanded offices. The Park District, rich with 200 acres of property, may have to dig deep into its reserves and go to the taxpayer in order to upgrade its facilities in the 1990's.

grams such as DARE, STAR, Snowflake and WAR, indicated that the department's program has received a positive response from public and private school administrators. The Niles program will supplement school programs. DARE is a 16-week intermediate grade course used by 17 other area departments including Morton Grove, Lincolnwood and Skokie.

Some felt the one week saturation preferable to a longer program which might conflict with other educational efforts.

The PRIDE officers will visit younger classrooms first, getting to know the children before talking about self-esteem, personal safety, and comparisons between various types of drugs.

Fifth through eighth grade instruction will be tailored for older needs, providing more "hard core" information, according to McEmerney.

The officers will visit high schools such as Notre Dame School for Boys last. In addition, based on information provided by the administration at each school, presentations will differ somewhat from school to school.

Police Chief Raymond Giovannelli notes there are financial advantages to PRIDE in addition to its reaching all grades and its flexibility. Citing the relatively low first year price tag of $7,500, the chief remarked that the department, in this instance, finds it preferable to solely fund a drug education program. A government grant might mandate a curricula that is not appropriate for Niles' population. The Department is not facing widespread drug abuse in the schools and materials from another program might not be as relevant for the village's needs.

The police intend to keep PRIDE for as long as it's needed. "This is the first year. We're going to build on this," said Giovannelli. "I'm really enthusiastic about it."

NORTTRAN Route 210 adds morning service

NORTTRAN's Route 210 will provide additional morning service during the weekdays beginning on Monday, Nov. 20. NORTTRAN Route 210 has added a Northbound trip which will leave the Western CTA "L" Station at 6:14 a.m. and will arrive at Glenbrook Hospital in Glenview at 7:12 a.m. Among the important locations served by Route 210 are Kraft, Inc., and Glenview Naval Air Station, both in Glenview, and the Sears Catalog Center in Lincolnwood.

NORTTRAN Route 210 travels from Glenview through Niles, Skokie, and Lincolnwood on its way to Michigan Ave. and the East Loop. The route operates during the weekdays from 5:50 a.m. to 7:40 p.m., and on Saturdays from 6:50 a.m. to 6:55 p.m.

Maintenance Department in 1981, saying: "He turned the whole park system around. Our staff is going to be delighted." Commissioner Bud Skaja noted, "People came out in droves on his behalf with letters to the district. Tom, in my estimation, is the best candidate."

After Heinen made the announcement early in the regular Nov. 21 meeting, Commissioner Carol Panek asked for an affirmation vote in which she and Commissioner Jim Pierski voted "no." Panek then read a prepared statement into the record saying at the beginning of the five month search process last June she was "ecstatic when so many outstanding qualified candidates applied." She went on to say, "...after a period of time (there were) ...voting trends which caused me now to believe, I'm almost convinced, the search process was flawed from the very beginning. We lost the most qualified candidates by board action." Panek then noted what she viewed as a "conflict" because Lippert's resume listed Beusse and Heinen as references.

Pierski did not elaborate on his own rejection of Lippert's candidacy while at the meeting but Nov. 22 said he was opposed because "there was a pre-conceived notion before Bill Hughes was let go" that Lippert was going to become the next director. Pierski described Lippert as a "very bright, aggressive, articulate, ...personable, ambitious, professional, sincere and very hard-working young man...but he's not the right man for this job at this time in my opinion." Pierski went on to say "I voted no but I will most assuredly support Tom and give him every chance to succeed. He has my full cooperation and support from this point on." Pierski also praised the staff who he described as doing "double and triple duty."

Panek also expanded on her "very difficult decision" to make public the reasons for her decision, saying, "I owe it to the people in the district to speak out."

The commissioner explained that her reservations about Lippert himself were based on what she believes to be his relative inexperience compared to other candidates. Noting that Lippert has been Superintendent of Recreation in Deerfield for less than one year, Panek said she favored the other candidates because of her desire for "a former or current director or someone with expertise at a golf course or with swimming pools...someone to bring expertise into the district...It's awesome for someone to come in and not know anything."

Panek indicated there were hopefuls "who had received awards in parks and recreation nationwide who were overlooked from the very beginning" by the board.

Indeed, according to Panek, another candidate had first been offered the Niles position but turned it down. That vote also was split but the commissioner could not reveal the breakdown.

Panek felt the district would not be hurt by Lippert but that progress would be slowed down until he learned more. Heinen noted board members' right to dissent, saying "We're not puppets...We'll have to give the man a chance to work at it...I hope we can all say in a year or two that we did pick the best man." Skaja defended the selection process saying members proceeded "with utmost honesty."

Two employees at the meeting concurred with the board's choice with one explaining that Lippert is a known commodity "He loves the people of this town...a good man" and another saying "They made a good decision...He's a big asset to the community...why wouldn't they want him back...why would you take a chance on someone you don't know?"

The board will have decided on two key financial issues prior to Lippert's assumption of duties. First, the board will meet Nov. 27 at 5:45 p.m. relative to a non-referendum bond issue to finance a new swimming pool to replace the aging Rec Center pool.

Panek invited the public to give their input as to whether or not to replace the 27-year-old leaky pool with an enclosed one. "There's been a whole change in society (since the pool was installed) on recreation...the family participates together." Heinen estimated replacement costs for the pool at $2 million.

In addition, the district's Truth in Taxation public hearing will be held Dec. 12. Adoption of the new increased levy will be discussed Dec. 14. Heinen noted she has received 600 letters protesting the new assessment.

Park Counsel Gabriel Berrafatto attributed the huge real estate tax increases to Cook County rather than individual boards. "Some of the boards are being blamed for raising rates and that's not the situation."

The proposed levy ordinance is available for inspection on the second floor of the Rec Center at 7877 N. Milwaukee Ave. Former Commissioner Val Engelmann addressed the board at the visitors portion of the meeting regarding the question of increased tax assessments relative to budgets and the quadrennial reassessment.

Commissioner Pierski announced the Silver Stick Hockey Tournament to be held at the Sports Complex the first two weekends in December. During the tourney, Niles skating tokens will be honored at Park Ridge's Oakton Sports Complex. Pierski announced a Dec. 28 Winter Ice Derby as well.

Panek delivered the park's Santa update with a Dec. 8 registration deadline for the Park's Dec. 16 Santa Breakfast. Residents have until Dec. 15 to request a phone call from Santa on Dec. 21 or write to receive a letter from Mr. Claus. The commissioner also announced the Dec. 20 registration for Session II of the Pre-School and Dec. 13 as registration for the Ladies Choice trip.

Panek also gave board members an update on the status of M-NASR's search for a new director with announcements posted to five associations and bulletins. Dick Wild will become interim M-NASR director Jan. 1 with interviews for six or seven applicants to be held Jan. 9. M-NASR expects to have a new director in place by mid-February, according to Panek.

Commissioner Skaja reported additional swings and safety rails were added to Chesterfield Park and later drew a laugh from the board when he combined his golf course and vandalism reports, categorizing turf damage by raccoons or skunks as vandalism. The creatures tear up Tam's grass in search for grubs.

The meeting adjourned at 9:15 p.m. after the commissioners expressed Thanksgiving greetings.

"We don't want to stop due process. We want to stimulate them to start looking into ways to alleviate the problem," Hanrahan asserted, adding, "There is technology to alleviate 99 percent of the odors." Asked if there have been any costs projected for this equipment, Hanrahan replied, "...

Attorney Albert Hofeld Oct. 19 filed a $20 million suit on behalf of Iris Shalin against Iverson and Hoffman Enterprises, Limited, operators of the Morton House restaurant, 6401 Lincoln Ave., Morton Grove. The suit charges that Iverson, while a patron at the restaurant, allegedly "...became intoxicated." It implicates Hoffman Enterprises because "...by and through its authorized agents and employees, ...sold or gave liquor to the defendant Myron Iverson..."

The suit states "...it should have been obvious to the bartender and other employees...that (Iverson) was becoming extremely intoxicated." The suit also asked for a $20,000 judgment against Iverson for medical, hospital and health care expenses and funeral expenses for the deceased officer. According to an associate, Shalin and his wife had been married about five months.

In other business, the board interviewed and hired Ellen O'Brien as part-time librarian and Judith Zelter as chief of adult services.

The position of Administrative Assistant Gayle Barr was terminated by the board. Rajski said,

When charged with criminal sexual assault by Park Ridge police in mid-September, Welty was suspended with pay, but subsequently assigned to non-teaching duties with full pay and benefits. Nearly 100 students and teachers have attended school board meetings in his support.

Oct. 3, a Cook County grand jury indicted Welty on two counts each of aggravated criminal sexual assault, armed violence, aggravated unlawful restraint and unlawful restraint.

Board President Marlene Aderman said Alper, who was chosen from among five highly-qualified candidates, will benefit the board because of his expertise in accounting and his experience as an elementary school board member.

In the community, Alper is also involved with Lincolnwood Youth Baseball, Lincolnwood Girls Softball, the Lincolnwood Parent Teacher Association and the Niles Township Legislative Coalition.

At the Nov. 13 meeting, the board also re-elected the 1988-89 officers to fill the same roles for the 1989-90 school year. The officers are Marlene Aderman, a president; Gail Stone, vice president; Florence Sutker, secretary; and John Lartz, secretary pro-tem.

Rajski said the district notified the State Fire Marshal's office, Shell Oil Co., as well as the station's former owners. The library is proceeding with environmental tests by Randolph and Associates, an environmental engineering consultant.

In a public statement, Rajski said, "We intend to comply with all applicable environmental laws and also to hold the responsible prior owners strictly accountable for all costs, expenses and damages, if any, resulting from this discovery."

Trustees also agreed to the expenditure of $2,900 to install a fence along the sidewalk as part of the parking lot project.

Board member Irene Costello reported the "Friends of the Library" made about $700 in its book sale Nov. 4 and the group is scheduling another sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26 and Saturday, Jan. 27.

Costello encourages other patrons of the library to join the group.

The board committee will look into the feasibility, the costs involved and the mechanics of doing a quick demographic study on student enrollment trends. Erton and Dreiser volunteered to be on the committee.

The Save Borg Association had hoped to invalidate the sale of Borg last month in part by proving in court no feasibility or demographic studies had been done prior to the school board's decision to sell the school last April. The group was unsuccessful and the sale was finalized Nov. 3.

A feasibility committee, under the direction of the Morton Grove Park District board, will examine the possible uses the park district could have for Borg School and the options for purchasing it. Park Board President Dan Stackmann announced the seven members of the committee last week.

Members of the committee are park district staff members Gary Balling, administrative manager, and Ken Swan, superintendent of finance, park board commissioners Andrew Demonte and Doug Steinman and Morton Grove residents Jacki Dewickiel, Karen Gubbins and June Gordon.

The committee will meet once or twice a month and will report back to the park board monthly with a progress report. The committee is not allowed to spend any money without board approval. Park district attorney Gabriel Berrafatto said he will provide legal advice to the group.

After being presented at its Oct. 17 board meeting with the Save Borg Association petition with nearly 3,000 signatures on it, the park district agreed to form the feasibility committee.

"If we don't have an administrator, we don't need an assistant," McKenzie was terminated as of Nov. 10 in a document made public Wednesday.

However, Barr told the Bugle she had many duties including putting out the library's newsletter.

Board members consented to purchase an additional theft detection unit to cost $12,000 for installation at the south entrance. The south entrance will be opened to the public as soon as courtyard repairs are completed in front of the area.

UNLOCK THE EQUITY IN YOUR HOME THE SENSIBLE WAY.

Finally, here's a way to take advantage of the equity in your home and enjoy the TAX BENEFITS without the risk of rising interest rates or the fear of having to refinance your mortgage.

First National Bank of Niles presents the SENSIBLE HOME EQUITY LOAN. Compare our benefits:

- Fixed interest rate for the life of the loan.
- Repayment of BOTH principal and interest.
- No application fee.
- No annual fee
- No points

(There is a nominal charge which includes costs for title search, recording fees and appraisal. Loans can range from $10,000 to $50,000 for up to 10 years. You may borrow up to 75% of the appraised value of your home less the outstanding first mortgage principal.)

Now you can borrow money for home improvements, college education, investment opportunities, a new car, a boat—whatever you want—without the fear of overextending yourself. It's the smart and safe way to unlock the equity in your home.

To learn more about our SENSIBLE HOME EQUITY LOAN, call or visit Ron Raucci or Larry Callero in our loan Department.
