DEXIS PLATINUM DIGITAL RADIOGRAPHY SYSTEM

Introducing the new DEXIS Platinum Sensor — a breakthrough direct-USB digital X-ray solution. The unique single-sensor concept has been refined and made even more portable, and comfortable. And, with the new PureImage™ technology, the image quality is now even more remarkable.

- PerfectSize™ Sensor

The ability to take vertical AND horizontal bitewings AND all periapicals with a single sensor eliminates the cost and inconvenience of using multiple sensors of different sizes.

- Direct USB Connectivity

Image capture and processing electronics have been fully integrated into the sensor itself, replacing the need for a separate adapter or docking station— simply “plug-n-ray.” DEXIS is the first to offer gold plating on the sensor’s USB connector for better durability.

- TrueComfort™ Design

To maximize both patient comfort and ease of use, DEXIS has enhanced its own great sensor housing design by refining the curvatures, redesigning the cable exit, upgrading the materials, and giving it a slimmer profile. Four beveled corners and a smooth, rounded casing ensure there are no sharp edges against the palate or soft tissue. The smaller, angled dome makes precise placement in posterior regions easy.

- PureImage™ Technology

The ability to see subtleties in X-ray images is crucial to diagnosis, collaboration, and patient communication. Through a combination of advanced hardware and software technologies, including a Caesium iodide scintillator, fiber optics, high resolution CMOS sensor, enhanced quantum efficiency, and image enhancement tools, the DEXIS Platinum sensor is able to deliver clinically meaningful images that are extremely clear and highly detailed.

- Simple To Use Software

The DEXIS software is highly automated, intuitive, and easy to use. Its “1-Click Full-Mouth Series” makes it possible to reduce a 25-minute FMX procedure to 5 minutes from start to finish.

Benex®-Control Professional (BBEPR) Root Extraction System

The Meisinger Benex®-Control Professional (Root Extraction System) are ideally suited for the extraction of roots and root fragments. Due to the innovative construction of the extractor, the root can be removed very easily and in an extremely controlled manner without causing injury to the bone. The best possible vertical transmission of the power requires the existence of a right-angled plane to rest the extractor on. The newly developed quadrant support offers such a right-angled plane for positioning the extractor.

Establish Your Own Standard of Excellence

From enhancing biopsy guidance and helping to determine the appropriate excision margins to identifying subtle changes in the mucosa, fluorescence visualization can be a valuable source of input to aid in your clinical decision making. A recent study of routine patients by the University of Washington highlighted the potential benefits complementing standard oral-soft-tissue-examination with a fluorescence visualization device. The VELscope Vx system is the next generation of the fluorescence-based VELscope technology that's used in combination with traditional head and neck exams to detect abnormal mucosal areas that may not be visible to the naked eye, including oral cancer and premalignant dysplasia. Give yourself the clinical insight of VELscope Vx and know for sure that you're doing everything in your power to protect the oral health—and the life—of your patients.
