De Gaulle in Algeria
 The ever-ambitious character Premier de Gaulle who operates with mystic words people have a tendency to believe because they think they recognize his own self-leasance and because the words do catch close to something in their own hearts has followed up his referendum victory in Algeria, in which the people of that country did respond to his call to vote for the new French constitution for the launching of his own climactic effort to end the Algerian war.

He has gone to Algeria and made the speech he hopes will begin to do the trick. He delivered that speech to an audience which was largely hostile, since it was dominated by French colonists who want to accept nothing less than the full integration of Algeria with France. This audience was an honorable one, but de Gaulle's speech was almost equally hostile, because he did not promise complete independence.

What he did do was to refuse to talk specifically and precisely about the future political relationship between Algeria and France.
 And he did this, he left this out, in the obvious belief that he could be persuaded by other things he did say that what might be asked could be an fine and wonderful that it would render the technical details of what had what sovereignty unimportant.

"Why will de Gaulle ask "You should make people live. Why desire? It is your duty to build.
 Why hate? What is needed is cooperation. End these absurd concepts and immediately hope with his own once more through the land of Algeria.

"Prisons will empty and we shall see the opening of a future big enough for everybody, but especially for you."

He did not define any precise label for the future relationship between Algeria and France, but he did throw out some specific instances of the kind of things it would contain.

He decreed that, within five years, wages and salaries in Algeria must be raised to a level comparable to that in France itself.

He decreed the new distribution of land in Moslem in Algeria, and the provision of schooling, at least for the children of Algeria.

In all this, he was, as some of the Algerian rebels themselves charged, trying to "buy" their nationalities, although not even they could tell specifically just how far short of outright independence he wanted the future status of Algeria to be. He was trying to buy at least a portion of these nationalities. He was trying to buy with a vision of something good enough, generous enough, fair enough, and respectful enough enough to engage all the energies of both France and Algeria to the point where the precise legal details of the relationship between them, when it came to that, would be relatively unimportant.

This is regarded, by hard-boiled observers, as an attempt to buy effort on the part of Premier de Gaulle, given the extreme sentiments of the French colonists, and given the fact that the Algerian rebels have just taken the most likely irreversible step of formally creating their own provisional national government. They think de Gaulle will buy in left field, that the laborious setting such specific programs in motion, so that their potential attraction can keep extending itself into the minds of both Frenchmen and Algerians.

 But de Gaulle's method of operation has been short and before, and has nevertheless availed up one obstacle after another, else he would never have come to the moment, and our choice is still the Yankees to take five out of nine.

NEPH Week
 Employers throughout America this week are being asked to examine their consciences and minds for evidence of a prejudice against certain classes of their fellow citizens. It is not the kind of prejudice that gets headlines. Indeed, it is one that even the most fair-minded employer would have trouble in finding in himself. Yet, like any other prejudice, it is one that leaves the minority affected with a sense of bitterness, frustration and defeat.

The prejudice is one that leads to discrimination against hiring a worker, not because of race, religion or national origin, but because of a physical handicap. And prejudice by the state and local communities that have been created to aid the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped in carrying out its mission of creating a climate of opinion favorable to the hiring of workers with disabilities.

These NPHC committees have been active for several years now, and they have accomplished much.
 But with full and equal job opportunities for all handicapped workers remaining as their goal, the NPHC committees still have much to do. Some industries still have unreasonably stringent physical requirements for employment. Some employers still believe the handicapped worker lacks the flexibility to be transferred from one job to another. And others continue to entertain the idea that the handicapped worker cannot produce as well as an able-bodied employee.

These employers have not yet accepted as valid the findings of government studies that tell us that handicapped workers can, if necessary, be trained to perform new jobs that their production records are better than those of able-bodied workers, and that the absenteeism and turnover rates are not greater than those of anyone else.

Discrimination against a worker because of a disability, then, is dis-offensive, and offensive, as discrimination for any other reason.
 And, like any other form of discrimination, it should be ended.
 It is not only the minority but the majority. For handicapped workers possess a pool of skills and talents that should be tapped for the benefit of us all. This is the fact that gives meaning to the NPHC committees' slogan, "It's good business to hire the handicapped."

The NPHC committees also have a job to do with regard to the handicapped workers themselves.
 Some, particularly those recently disabled, have become discouraged to the point of believing they can never do a job. Yet, vocational rehabilitation, which is available through the State Department of Education, has performed wonders in the way of training, handicapped workers to do a variety of useful and important jobs. And it is the task of the local NPHC committee to get this message across to disabled workers.

Both employers interested in hiring a handicapped worker and persons with disabilities who are looking for a job or who want job counseling should check with the local office of the State Employment Service, 808 Main St. The office is ready and able to help both.

Anti Mortems
 There comes a moment in all struggles for equality when there is little that can be done and little to be said. We feel that we have done our best for the cause involved, and that it may not have been good enough. But we cannot rest, in advance of the final outcome, a few speculative anti-mortems.

It seems to us that the Yankees have been a bit of a stick in the pantomime position if Stengel had had a platoon system in left field to use in another of his last at-temptations, didn't he write instances in place of Stengel?

The Republicans, we think, could have gone into today's decision on judgment with somewhat more confidence if they had taken the same to meet six months ago, the Board of Directors.

Again, it seems to us that, at least, the Yankees were acting in a way as if they were trying to give the judge of prolate a month ahead of time.

Such errors in strategy and performance might perhaps have been prevented. Yet, it could have been that Casey got special permission to play. Mahoney, Powell and Burke in left field, that the Yankees succeeded in rigging in Burdette and Aaron and Bruton, and that the row would still have been setting wrong for somebody.

 But anti mortems, like postmortems, are still nothing more than advice, and it becomes the observer of loyalty and conviction,
 and has nevertheless availed up
 Yankees to take five out of nine.

A Thought for Today

An organist was practicing at

 workers with disabilities.

 and they have accomplished much.
 But with full and equal job op-
 workers remaining as their goal,
 one job to another. And others con-
 the handicapped worker cannot pro-
 ployee.

 greater than those of anyone else.

 crimination for any other reason.
 And, like any other form of discrimination, it should be ended.
 majority. For handicapped work-
 benefit of us all. This is the fact
 committees' slogan, "It's good busi-

 handicapped workers themselves.
 able through the State De-
 message across to disabled workers.

 ment Service, 808 Main St. The
 both.

Britons Ask Tough Tactics on Cyprus

Paul Henri Spaak bid to call a round-table conference on Cyprus and representatives of the island's Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot communities — should meet to discuss a compromise solution.
 Neither Britain nor Greece now is likely to be willing to go far along the road to compromise.
 NATO's permanent council was called into special session this afternoon to discuss the dispute between Britain and Turkey on the one hand and Greece on the other.
 All are NATO members.

In Athens it was reported the government had set conditions to Greek participation in a roundtable conference, which it believed Britain would find impossible to accept. But if the Greek terms are rejected at today's meeting of the NATO Council, the government of Greek Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis likely will recall its ambassador to Britain and withdraw its military staff from NATO headquarters and possibly even sever diplomatic relations with Britain.

Britain has said it would attend a round-table conference but only on condition its side-visit partnership plan for Cyprus is allowed to run through unimpeded. This would mean that Britain and other opponents of Chamoun used against the island, but Athens has rejected it.

The club-swinging women and children of the Phalangist faction turned out in force early today in an effort to retrace the highway leading into the Beirut suburb of Marjayoun. On some sections of the highway security forces frightened them away with repeated machine gun fire up deserted slopes. But the women and children gained control of that end of the highway.

The Mamlouk government stood firm against demands that wives and families of British servants be brought home from Cyprus. The Conservative Daily Telegraph probably expressed the government's attitude in an editorial yesterday.

BEKKA would suit it in an immediate reaction were to be the evacuation of service families, for that would acknowledge a new phase of total war and destroy all hopes of reconciliation among the Cypriots and Greeks who are desperately longing for it.

To step up the drive against the extremists, the government ordered two of Scotland Yard's toughest detectives to fly to Cyprus to help in the war on BOKA.

It was the 15th day of the Phalangist-enforced general strike and the majority of shops in Beirut were closed.

The U.S. Army, meanwhile, continued its withdrawal of troops from Lebanon, waiting for the next transport ship to arrive. The date of its arrival was not disclosed.

Military sources, however, said the bulk of the troops will be loading aboard ships Oct. 16, leaving only 1,500 soldiers in Lebanon.
 But these are expected to be out before the end of October. Currently 5,900 are still in Beirut.

Efforts to mediate Lebanon's political-sectarian strife continued today with new neutralist President Chéhab conferring with various leaders.

Phalangists Push Demands in Beirut

Greek Orthodox Bishop Yaoum yesterday led a rally in the Bekaa valley which, papers said, was attended by 20,000 Greek Orthodox Catholics, Maronite Catholics and Protestants. Afterward, Greek Orthodox priest was sent to President Fuad Chéhab urging him to reunite the country.

The phalangists are attempting to enforce the general strike with terrorism and sniping. They are supporters of former President Chamoun, a Maronite Catholic, and are trying the same tactics that Adani and other opponents of Chamoun used against
 rejected it.

Even experts can find no difference in color, pattern, texture or feel of the fabric... involved, and that it may not have been good enough. But we cannot rest, in advance of the final outcome, a few speculative anti-mortems.

It seems to us that the Yankees have been a bit of a stick in the pantomime position if Stengel had had a platoon system in left field to use in another of his last attempts, didn't he write instances in place of Stengel?

The Republicans, we think, could have gone into today's decision on judgment with somewhat more confidence if they had taken the same to meet six months ago, the Board of Directors.

Again, it seems to us that, at least, the Yankees were acting in a way as if they were trying to give the judge of prolate a month ahead of time.

Such errors in strategy and performance might perhaps have been prevented. Yet, it could have been that Casey got special permission to play. Mahoney, Powell and Burke in left field, that the Yankees succeeded in rigging in Burdette and Aaron and Bruton,

Sense and Nonsense

A wise man gets learning from those who have none themselves.

Ruby—Ladies, how much is that lawyer going to charge you for handling your divorce suit?

Lucille—Oh, he's not charging anything! You see, he's an old friend of my husband's, and he's doing that as a favor to him.

When the meeting was called to order and the purpose stated, one old farmer who had all his planting by the rains, got up and said: "Brethren, there ain't no use to pray for rain until the moon changes."

Mrs. Smith—Very bad form, I call it to ring me up during church hours.

Mrs. Smith—Very busy, but she might have had the decency to assume that I do.

Braves Could End Worst Series Today

Once Mighty Yankees Ready to Take Court

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—This could be it. The World Series could end today. The once mighty New York Yankees appear ready to take the court. They've never been as "down" as they are right now. It would appear that Manager Casey Stengel would have to be a miracle man to get them up again.

The stage appeared set, for the pitcher the American League has a respectable 100 but is ready to stay alive in that old Yankee-baiter himself, Lew Burdette. All he needs so far is that the Yankees four-for-four in the first inning.

The Yankees dropped their third in four games to the Braves on Tuesday. The loss was in the pattern of the pair that lost in Milwaukee, Burdette's hitting and fielding.

Yesterday the Yankees were led in two hits by Warren Spahn, the brilliant southerner. The day before, they managed four hits to their only winning game. Their only winning game was a 10-0 victory over the Braves on Tuesday. Their only winning game was a 10-0 victory over the Braves on Tuesday.

Three Down and One to Go

New York—Three down and only one to go! That's the way the 1938 World Series stood today with the Milwaukee Braves in the driver's seat. Yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 71,665 at Yankee Stadium, Warren Spahn pitched a brilliant two-hitter as the National League champions defeated the Yankees, 3-0. Milwaukee, a team which needed the full limit of seven games to win last year, held a commanding 10-6 game lead after the first two games. The fifth was scheduled for today. The Braves were back to Milwaukee again this afternoon.

Spahn, who had to go 10 innings, pitched a perfect game. He struck out 11 batters and walked only one. He pitched for 100 minutes, a record for a pitcher. He pitched for 100 minutes, a record for a pitcher. He pitched for 100 minutes, a record for a pitcher.

Siembren's Loose Play Added Notes Set Up All Three Runs

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—There were 12 runs in the second game of the World Series today. There were a couple of 'em. If the Yankees had been a little tighter in the field, they could have had more than three runs.

Siembren's loose play added notes set up all three runs. Siembren's loose play added notes set up all three runs. Siembren's loose play added notes set up all three runs.
