Ex-cellmate: Man talked of Nearly a year has passed since Frederick Morris of Canton Township was charged with murder in the killing of his former boss, Charles Piper of Westland. The charges in the case — if proven — could put Morris in prison for the rest of his life.

A man who once shared a jail cell with Frederick Morris claims that the Canton Township man talked about killing his former boss, Charles W. Piper of Westland, a prosecutor said Wednesday.

Bradley Topham is prepared to testify today as the murder trial of Morris, 34, enters its fourth day, said assistant Wayne County prosecutor Michael Reynolds. Topham told his story in a pre-trial hearing at which Recorder's Court Judge David Kerwin ruled Topham could testify as a witness for the prosecution, Reynolds said.

Morris is accused of killing Piper, 53, on the evening of Jan. 5, 1992, at Piper's business, Chuck's Cycle Service, in Wayne. Piper, shot in the face and at the base of his skull, was found lying face up on his shop floor about 5:30 p.m.

Following an investigation, Wayne police arrested Morris and charged him with first-degree murder, felony murder, armed robbery and a felony firearms violation. He is accused of killing Piper and stealing a cash box containing about $3,000.

Morris has pleaded not guilty. His trial began Monday before Kerwin.

Topham and Morris shared a cell in Ottawa County after Piper's killing, where Morris was jailed in a case unrelated to Piper's death, Reynolds said. But defense attorney Donald Johnson said Wednesday he will try to refute Topham's claims by suggesting that he is testifying against Morris to benefit himself. Topham, a habitual offender for such crimes as armed robbery, has already succeeded in get-

Everybody's preparing to take a hit, but nobody knows exactly how much the recent tax increase proposals from the White House will eventually affect their families.

While most residents are concerned, some are downright angry.

The U.S. Congress is expected to move ahead in implementing President Bill Clinton's plan, which calls for tax increases for couples who have a taxable income of more $140,000 per year and singles more than $115,000, plus other tax impacts on taxpayers who make as low as $30,000.

Clinton made the proposals during his economic State of the Union address to Congress Feb. 17. He offered a four-year proposal to cut the deficit by about $500 billion and included plans for both new taxes and spend-

Kirk Najarian, owner of Najarian Electronics in Redford, said he worries about the future of small businesses that may have to shoulder additional taxes and costs, including the cost of a nationalized health care

"All the speech was, was class warfare - beat up on the rich. Those people with that expendable income are floating the economy and helping businesses like mine. If we put more of a burden on them, they aren't going to have the money to Najarian said he was also concerned Clinton's plan would "ruin the economy" and that increased taxes won't be applied to reduce the deficit. Other residents in the Observer & Eccentric area echoed his concerns.

Farmington resident and local salesman David Merrill expects a new gas tax to hit his one-income family hard, and said any increase would also eat into disposable income.

"I'm looking for three-four times a month I can't take my wife out that's what it will mean to me," he said. Merrill, who voted for George quently, and one worker at Chuck's Cycle Service told prosecutors that he overheard Piper fire Morris during the summer of 1991, Reynolds said.

That differed from testimony on Tuesday in which Morris' girlfriend. Sharon Broughton, said Morris quit his job because he had been offered a better one.

Reynolds also suggested that Morris needed money and that he was upset over a lawsuit that Broughton had filed against him and Piper. In the still-pending suit, Broughton claims that her 12-year-old son, Frank, suffered burns on his face and body three years ago when he accompanied Morris to Chuck's Cycle Service. Broughton claims that flames burst from a motorcycle carburetor and burned her son.

On Wednesday, Reynolds suggested that Morris had been upset with Piper for refusing to settle the case out of court.

Piper's body was found after he failed to come home from work, and Wayne police were contacted by his fiancee, Sharon Piper. The two had the same last name but were not yet married.

Testimony has indicated that Morris got a pistol from an acquaintance, Robert Sikes.

E Piper's body was found after he falled to come home from work, and Wayne police were contacted by his fiancee, Sharon Piper. The two had the same last name but were not yet Authorities are trying to link the bullets from Piper's body with other bullets that Sikes fired from the gun into a pile of brush at his Sumpter Township home. In court Monday, forensic expert John Stanton of the Michigan State Police post in Northville indicated that the same gun 'could" have fired the bullets.

However, Johnson said the bullets fired at Sikes' residence were badly disfigured because of the brush they struck — and that prosecutors can't prove they were fired from the same gun that killed Piper.

On Monday, Reynolds said Morris told conflicting stories about leaving town on the same day Piper was killed. Morris told some people he was going to northern Michigan, but told others he planned a trip to Kentucky, Reynolds said.

On Wednesday, testimony indicated that Morris' fingerprints were found on a wine glass at a cottage in Gaylord. The cottage belongs to Charles and Anna Gowan, friends of Morris' girlfriend.

Both the Gowans said they hardly know Morris and that they never knew of him to visit their cottage.

Reynolds also indicated that a 1983 Jimmy truck that belonged to the Gowans had been used at the cottage in their absence. Charles Gowan testified that he noticed his truck had been moved, though he said Morris had never been given the keys.

When asked by Reynolds why Morris' fingerprints would be on the wine glass inside the cottage, Gowan replied, "The only way it would be is if he was in there, I materialize, or that they will be inadequately distributed and thereby create insurmountable losses for this district," the trustees said.

Jack Kirksey, former Livonia lawmaker and the district's spokesman for legislative matters, called Engler's plan a "fast-track" proposal that the district must reject outright until it knows for sure money lost will be replaced.

"They alluded to a funding mechanism to replace lost funds, but there's no evidence of the source of these funds," Kirksev

Marinelli estimated Engler's plan would cost Livonia schools $6.9 million the first year, $17.5 million the second year, and $26 million the third year.

Engler's plan is one of five major property tax cut and/or school finance reform proposals now being aired by state leaders and school officials.

School officials support one of the five plans — the O/K proposal, named after its architects Olmstead and Kearney. That plan would require the state to pay 50 percent of school costs, plus money from the state lottery. District tax rates would gradually fall to 30 mills.

(One mill is $1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.)

The district already has lost $12 million in state revenues in the past two years, the trustees said. This loss has led to cuts in programs and the layoff of 102 employees, they said.

"We've done nothing but taken hits over funding," said trustee Richard McKnight. "The only thing they haven't done is haul teachers out of the building, like was done at Lafayette Clinic.

"If you think there's any way we'll get the 20 percent lost in school property taxes, you're whistling 'Dixie.' It looks like they're doing something for taxpayers, but it's a boondoggle.'

City man bound over in sex assault on boy

BY BILL COUTANT STAFF WRITER

According to his attorney, Gerald Joseph Bauer Jr. is the victim of an ugly lie.

It concerns charges of sexual abuse against Bauer brought by an 11-year-old boy distraught over the recent loss of his grandparents and his parents' ongoing marital difficulties, defense attorney David Gorcyca.

But Pamela Maas, assistant prosecutor and unit coordinator for child sexual assault for Oakland County, said the Farmington Hills boy came forward because 'he didn't want to feel bad any-

Judge Fred Harris, in a preliminary exam Monday, found the boy's testimony sufficient to bind Bauer, 31, over for trial in circuit court on one count of first degree criminal sexual conduct and two counts of second degree CSC.

Bauer, a Westland resident and teacher at St. Paul's Elementary School in Northville, will be arraigned before Judge Denise Langford-Morris on March 8. He has taken a paid leave from the school.

Gorcyca, the Southfield attorney representing Bauer, painted a picture of a man who knew the alleged victim's family as a friend for several years and became a convenient scapegoat for the child's frustrations.

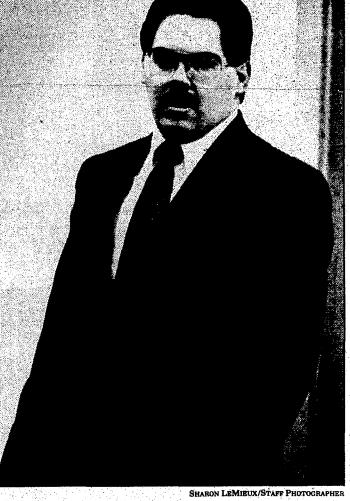

"It's a question of (the boy's) credibility," Gorcyca said after his client's exam in 47th District Court in Farmington. "If there was something occurring before, why did he (alleged victim) wait until now to come forward?

Gorcyca produced a hand-made card from Bauer's 6th-grade students supporting him in his court

"He's been around students of (the boy's) age for a long time,' Gorcyca said.

Maas said although Bauer had not been implicated in any similar incidents, the boy had mentioned during Monday's testimony that there were other occasions of sexual abuse by Bauer.

The court found the child's testimony credible," Maas said.

Day in court: Gerald Joseph Bauer Jr. appears at his preliminary examination Monday at 47th District Court in Farmington.

"There was some testimony to indicate that there had been other assaults before the one in Januarv. It had made him feel uncomfortable. And he didn't want to feel bad any more.'

Bauer was arraigned on Feb. 12 for the alleged assault. At the time of the alleged incident on Jan. 15, Bauer had been visiting relatives in Farmington Hills.

Maas stipulated and Gorcyca

"He is pretty young," Harris said. "In some cases, I'll hear testimony like that in my chambers.

Pedestrian hit by truck, killed

By Darrell Clem Staff Writer

A Westland woman may have been walking home when she was struck by a motorist and killed Friday in the city's southeast end, police said.

Sharon Ann Mullins, 49, was about a mile from her Powers Street residence when she was killed at 2:39 a.m. Friday while walking west on Van Born, just west of Inkster Road.

Mullins was hit by a westbound Ford Ranger being driven by a 24year-old Wayne man, who apparently had been drinking at the time, Westland police officer James Dexter said.

Westland police were awaiting results of a blood-alcohol test to determine if the driver was drunk, and it wasn't known Tuesday if he would be charged, Dexter said.

Mulfins was walking "in the roadway" when she was hit, Dexter said.

The driver, who stopped at the scene, didn't appear to be speeding at the time, based on the eyewitness account of a Wayne County sheriff's deputy who was patrolling the area, Dexter said.

The speed limit on Van Born is 45 miles per hour. The deputy estimated the man was driving no faster than 40, Dexter said.

Police removed a headlight from the driver's vehicle and checked it to see if it had been illuminated during the night accident, Dexter said. The test showed that the driver's lights "were on," he said.

Police weren't immediately able to identify Mullins, who suffered multiple injuries. But her identity was learned the next evening after In the driver, who stopped at the scene, didn't appear to be speeding at the time, based on the eyewitness account of a Wayne County sheriff's deputy who was patrolling the area.

relatives enotified the Westland Police Department and reported that she was missing, Dexter said.

The description provided by family members matched that of the woman who was struck and killed, and Mullins' identity was confirmed at the county medical examiner's office on the evening after the accident, Dexter said.

Earning for learning

Students find reading has value

BY MARY LOU SONG STAFF WRITER

For students at P. D. Graham Elementary School in Westland, it pays to read — literally.

About 370 students participate in the "Accelerated Reader Program," which awards students points for reading. Through the program, students read a book, take a test on a computer and earn points for their scores. The points can be spent as money in the school bookstore.

"The children love it, they hover at it," said Cheryl Dell, a learning consultant. "You'd think we were giving away candy."

The program is relatively new, but principal Sigvard Dietrich said he knows of a few schools in Michigan which are also using the program.

Dell came across the concept last spring in a magazine published by Advantage Learning Systems Inc. The Wisconsin company develops the computer tests. After the PTA made funds available to the school to purchase books, the faculty decided to start the program.

The majority of the program's expense is in the books. According to Dell, about 600 new books have been added to the school's library specifically for the program. As the reading list expands, more books will be needed.

Luckily, the school did not need to purchase new computers to accommodate the program. Students have access to two computers in the library to take their morning and they go off in the afternoon," Dell said.

The program is aimed at thirdthrough sixth-graders. But a few first- and second-graders are also participating. Besides points for the bookstore, children have other incentives for reading and scoring well on the tests.

The class that earns the most points will win a pizza party at the end of the year. Students that earn a 100 percent on a test join the 100 Percent Club.

Dell said the aim of the program is to encourage children to read and to improve a child's reading comprehension.

"It increases a child's critical thinking and problem solving skills," Dell said. "As they are reading, they are needing to comprehend."

Books range in reading levels and are assigned varying readabilty points. But the reading list is teeming with children's classics like "Charlotte's Web" and 'Cricket in Time Square." Series of expository books are also avail-

Dell said the program has been

A parent recently told Dell until the program, her child only read comic books.

"The child becomes accelerated because he or she is using the program," Dell said. "It gets what we want - children reading more and better books.

Livonia woman calls plan 'shell game'

By Casey Hans Staff Writer

There is some spirited talk around the Buech dinner table in Livonia these days.

Much of it surrounds President Bill Clinton's economic proposals and the future of the country. Represented are the staunch conservative views of Joan Buech, tempered by a more moderate view from her husband, Fred. Joan's mother, Ruth Huse, arrived for a visit the day of Clinton's address, so also has added her opinion to the family forum.

Joan Buech, called Clinton's plan a "shell game."

The government little by little takes away our freedoms. To say that taxation is contribution that's putting it mildly," she said.

"I'm angry, I'm incensed about it. Until he tells me what these cuts mean, it means nothing. It means diddly squat."

Unlike some Wayne County residents who might support Clinton but oppose his plan, or others who want to give his ideas a chance, both Buech and Huse are vehemently opposed to Clinton and what he stands for and they make no apologies for it.

"It was hard for me to believe in him — you had heard him so many times before," said Huse, a senior who lives in Illinois, about 50 miles south of Chicago with

She said a straight tax on everybody would be the fairest way to approach the federal deficit. "They shouldn't pit one group against another," she added. "To me, if they've had the incentive to get ahead, I don't think they should pay more for it.'

The Bueches live in the Six Mile/Levan area with their 17year-old daughter Linda and 14year-old son Patrick, and survive solely on Fred's salary from Ford Motor Credit. Linda will be going to college next year, and Joan Buech said she is already planning on a family austerity pro-

It seems more and more people have become involved in politics lately," Buech added. "If nothing else happens in this mess, maybe it's getting people involved.

●ptometrist was pioneer in area

One of the area's first optometasts, Dr. George Marston, died Saturday at age 75 in Botsford Hospital, Farmington Hills.

Born in Detroit, Dr. Marston graduated from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry in 1939 and became the first optometrist to practice in Livonia when he opened his practice on Aug. 15, 1940, on Plymouth Road. He practiced there for more than 50 years, the last 12 with daughter

A member of a suburban Rota-Club, "Doc Marston" had more han 44 years of perfect attendance. He recently was honored for his lifetime contributions when the club's newly established andowment fund was named after him — the George M. Marston Fellowship.

Marston was an active member of numerous professional organizations. He was a past president of the Wayne County Society of Optometrists and was named a Key Person of the Michigan Optometric Association.

He was instrumental in the establishment of the Optometric Institute and Cinic of Detroit, and of the College of Optometry at Ferris State University where he coordinated fund-raising efforts for the MOA Gold Room - a reading and reference room at Marston retired from the U.S. Army as a lieutenant colonel following four years of active duty and 19 years in the Army Reserves. Recently he was active in the Military Order of World Wars and was instrumental in establishing a new chapter in Lans-

He also was a member of the Fr. Daniel Lord Council of the Knights of Columbus, a member of St. Michael Catholic Church in Livonia, and a member of the church's ushers club.

Funeral services were held in St. Michael Church with burial at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield. Arrangements were made by Manns-Ferguson Funeral Home. Livonia.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Marston Rotary Foundation, P.O. Box 2421, Livonia 48151.

Survivors include wife Genevieve; sons Blaine and Joseph; daughters Nancy Nowak and Dr. Carol Marston-Foucher, and four grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a brother, Stanley.

Pilots: Mettetal an asset terminal at Joy and Lilley, in a

By Kevin Brown Staff Writer

Mettetal Airport is a source of wonder to kids and an asset to western Wayne County, the airport's most active pilots stressed in a presentation Monday. "I know what it means to bring in 500, 600 people for a pancake breakfast on a Sunday, what it means to give scholarships," said Doug Shumard, vice president of the Mettetal chapter of the international Experimental Aircraft Association.

Pilot Bill Kern, who has flown handicapped kids and Boy Scouts for their merit badge program, said getting kids involved at the airport doesn't automatically lead them to aviation.

"But it shows an interesting life awaits if you rise to challenges," Kern said. "There's challenge in the world for them to en-

Some airport opponents also showed for the presentation, telling pilots they didn't want to see minway expansion. They said they also fear that the federal government will condemn surrounding property for clear approaches or expansion.

Business flights account for roughly 25 percent of Mettetal's activity, some pilots estimated.

Garden writer had local following

BY TOM BAER STAFF WRITER

Betty Frankel, the longtime hewspaper garden writer who died Teb. 21, will be fondly remem-Dered by her many area friends.

"I think many of us may not be able to see flowers without seeing Betty Frankel," said Nancy

Mrs. Frankel, a victim of cancer at age 69, had been the garden writer for the Detroit Free Press the past 24 years. Before that, she wrote a column on gardening and landscaping for the Observer Newspapers.

Her Observer column was very popular, recalled Leonard Poger. an Observer editor who worked with Mrs. Frankel in the late-1960s. "Her columns always generated a lot of phone calls and let-

Tim Richard, another longtime Observer employee who knew Mrs. Frankel, said of her, had a thorough knowledge of her subject, and she always met her deadlines.

"She was a very sweet person," Richard said. "She was easy going and gentle . . . just a very sweet

Mrs. Frankel and husband Richard, owners of R&B Stamp Vending Machine Co., lived in a house on six acres of natural oldgrowth forest in Farmington

"She enjoyed living in Farmington," said Richard Frankel. "She was very happy here."

Joe Derek, a naturalist who served on a beautification committee with Mrs. Frankel, said:

"She was my gardening idol. For years I collected her articles. I still have them. Her articles were the reason I bought the paper. It was a pleasure to walk with her and learn about wildflowers.

Mrs. Frankel will be remembered for the many classes and talks she gave on gardening and landscaping, her friends said. She was a founder of an Oakland naturalist club.

Survivors, in addition to husband Richard, include: son, Edward of Rancho Cucamonga, Calif.; daughters, Martha Stern of Jerusalem, Israel, and Barbara Wedler of Creve Coeur, Mo.

A memorial service for Mrs. Frankel will be held at 10:45 a.m. on Saturday, March 6, in the auditorium of Harrison High, 29995 W. 12 Mile Road, Farmington

McNamara outlines reforms, vows action

BY SUSAN ROSIEK STAFF WRITER

A year of innovation and taking chances. That's how Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara described 1993 as he outlined an ambitious agenda for change Wednesday in his state of the county address.

The executive, said Wayne County's world-class problems crime, poverty, a poor tax and business climate - call for some world-class solutions.

"The way I see see it, we have two options. Take action or abandon ship," said McNamara.

The solutions include Metro airport expansion, reforming the county's welfare system by asking the state for control, offering health care to all residents, attacking the crime problem, simplifying the tax structure, reasonable environmental regulations, a rational liability system and a business-friendly climate for employers.

a "In the 1990s, skyways will be as important as highways and Wayne County will be ready,' said McNamara

McNamara said he intends to seek support from Gov. John Engler and state legislative leaders and will ask them to "cut us some slack and allow us the freedom to experiment."

He was referring in part to his plans for welfare and health care reform, wetlands protection and getting rid of property taxes and replacing them with a sales, or income tax.

McNamara also outlined plans to revitalize the county parks system and step up road repairs.

A new bike path that will stretch from Northville to Dearborn will open this year. This summer more than 60 miles of roads in 42 of 43 communities will be paved, repaved or improved.

Deputy County Executive Michael Duggan said after the speech a new managed health care program for 150,000 of Wayne County's "working poor" will be unveiled in the next few who listened to the speech downtown generally praised McNamara's proposals.

"It's a comprehensive, common-sense approach to prob-lems," said Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, whose district includes Plymouth.

However McCotter and commissioners Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, and Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, said their suburban constituents are more interested in the "nuts and bolts issues" like roads.

Sheriff Robert Ficano of Livonia liked McNamara's "overall positive tone." He also liked the executive's emphasis on safety.

"We have to make sure the crime problem is resolved or else people won't bring their business to Wayne County," said Ficano.

Plymouth City Commissioner Dennis Shrewsbury said he liked McNamara's emphasis on health reform and education.

"I wish everyone in the suburbs understood the concept of paving now or paying later," said Shrewsbury, who called the speech "very gubernatorial."

IMPORTANT

No doubt you're aware of just how important the United Way is to this community. You're aware of the vital services provided by the 145 charities supported by the United Way. But you're probably not aware that we need $5 million more to meet our needs this year. 1.8 million people in Southeastern Michigan are counting on you, and they simply can't afford to go without. That's why we're asking you,

PLEASE join us in an unprecedented effort to raise the needed funds. If you've already given, thank you. But during this difficult time, please consider giving a little more. If you haven't pledged yet, please

CALL our toll-free hotline. Unless we raise the necessary funds, many of the charities that we support will be forced to cut back their efforts that help the elderly, the abused, the homeless and the handicapped. So please call

The Baby Bells are clawing their way into the 21st century by offering the Federal Communications Commission a deal they hope cannot be refused. Local cable companies, however, are hoping the FCC will pass over the proposal.

In an attempt to pursue business in all realms of telecommunications, Ameritech executives announced Monday a plan to reorganize their corporate structure and a proposal which would call for full competition in the telecommunications industry.

Ameritech's chairman and chief executive officer William L. Weiss announced that they will open Ameritech's local telephone network to competition in return for the freedom to compete in both its existing and currently prohibited services and the lifting of ceilings on telephone company earnings.

Weiss made the announcement from the Chicago headquarters for Ameritech and the press conference was simultaneously heard by reporters in the Detroit headquarters of Michigan Bell, part of Ameritech.

Ameritech's top executives will submit their proposal to the FCC early next month asking for regulatory reforms that include removing the long-distance restriction on local service providers and the cable TV/telephone cross ownership rules which restrict Ameritech from participating in

More competition

"We view this proposal as a breakthrough solution for our region that would mark an end to turf battles that have stifled the communications industry, hampered economic expansion and limited the growth of consumer options and services," Weiss said.

"The result would be a fully competitive marketplace wherein the consumer would be the ultimate beneficiary because companies would have to keep prices competitive and quality high in order to succeed."

If regulators find an "even playing field," cable companies may be willing to play ball. If the telephone companies are not required to meet some of the same qualifications as cable companies, then there will be a brawl, local cable operators say.

"The FCC has never been able to come up with a plan that places the same restrictions we face on the telephone companies interested in providing cable service," said Lisa Boland, general manager of Omnicom which services Canton and Plymouth.

Cable concerns

Cable companies are required to operate as franchises and must have studio space. Cable companies also pay a fee for use of telephone poles, a fee phone companies would probably not be assessing themselves.

"The phone companies, like Ameritech, are also much larger and could offset losses in the cable portion of their operations with profits from phone services," Boland said. "Even if this practice were restricted, there would be no way of policing it."

Boland is certain that FCC regulators won't fall for a plan that would be too one-sided.

"It isn't really fair that would have to compate with the phone companies," said Carol Gibson, general manager of MetroVision in Livonia. "They already have all the equipment in place while we had to start from the very beginning and we continue to pay a fee for having our equipment on telephone poles."

"There is a lot of speculation in the industry about what will happen next," said Gibson. "It's generally a politically safe issue that affects everyone in the congressional district."

Gibson explained that while cable affects most everyone it does not "affect gender, race or religion and therefore does not require an offensive position by government leaders.

Gibson expects the cable lobby to fight the Ameritech proposal.

Neither U.S. Rep. William D. Ford nor U.S. Rep. Joe Knollenberg had seen the Ameritech proposal and declined to comment.

Ford, a Democrat, represents Garden City, Westland, Plymouth, Canton and part of Livonia. Knollenberg is a Republican who represents Redford Township, part of Livonia and many communities in southern and north Oakland County.

The government generally wants to see competition in the industry so we are optimistic," said Robert Hurst, president of Michigan Bell.

Weiss maintains that by opening the opportunities in the area of telecommunications, the consumer will benefit with services once considered science fiction.

Advanced Universal Access, a name given to Ameritech's vision for the telecommunications industry, could result in a transformation of the nation's education and health care system providing greater access to information through the telephone wires, as

Benefit planned: Michelle Elswood enjoys programs sponsored by the Easter Seal Society which will hold a telethon next month to raise funds.

5-year-old won't let 2 disabilities slow her down

Michelle Elswood likes swimming, biking and playing in area parks during the summer as well as enjoying meals at fast-food restaurants. She doesn't let two disabilities slow her down.

BY MARY LOU SONG

When she is awake, Westland's Michelle Elswood is as rambunctious as any other 5-year-old.

She is infamous for leaving the TV set on while running from room to room. She loves swimming, biking and playing in the park during the summer. Sledding and bowling during the winter.

She also likes eating at McDonald's and Little Caesar's. And having her fingernails painted bright pink by her mom.

Once you meet her and look into those gleaming brown eyes, it's easy to forget that she has disabilities.

"Nothing bothers her," said Connie Elswood, Michelle's mother. "She always wakes up in a good mood. Even when she's running races, it doesn't bother her that she comes in last. She thinks she won.

At six months, Michelle was diagnosed with both cerebral palsy and epilepsy. She has been in therapy since she was 9 months old. On a sleepy afternoon last week, Elswood talked about her daughter. Michelle snoozed, not so quietly, in her mother's arms.

Michelle is a special child, said her mother, but coping with the disabilities has still been challenging for the

"You go through stages," Elswood said. "You think you're coping with it and everything's OK. She turns 3 and you think, 'OK, she's getting over it.'

But then she turns 5 and you realize it's always going to be a battle. You realize she's always going to be a little

"It's so hard," Elswood said. "I don't want her to fall behind just because she's mainstreamed.

Like many others, Michelle gets help from the Easter Seal Society of Michigan. She attends speech therapy sessions. Last summer she learned how to swim and went on a boating "I like the programs," the mother said. "For the amount of time that they had, they did an excellent job. All the work that they put into it and all the feedback we got was great." Elswood said that even at programs with area hospitals, most therapists do not offer feedback to parents.

But Liza Greene, special events coordinator, said that programs and services are aimed at everyone — not only for people like Michelle, but any person who might have a disability at any point in their life.

Fine wine business: How sweet it is

By LEANNE ROGERS STAFF WRITER

When Kevin McKay started drinking wine, he leaned toward a nice sweet wine — a lambrusco or maybe some Blue Nun.

Your name and phone number

Seventeen years later, McKav's palate prefers a cabernet sauvignon and his knowledge of wines is much more developed as evidenced by the selected wines offered at his business, McK's Wine Shop, on Inkster Road in Garden City.

Take that bottle of 1912 Chateau Lafite Rothschild in the display case, for instance. One of the most popular wineries and vintages, McKay said that wine is no longer available. That pushes the price to $3,500 for a single bottle.

If that's too pricey, McKay also has a 1970 Chateau Mouton Rothschild with a Picasso label at $450. "The price doubled after Picasso died," he said.

Someone used to drinking the $8 lambrusco might wonder who spends a month's rent or better on a bottle of wine.

"I have people who make the rounds calling stores to see what is around," said McKay. "If I sell out of the cabinet once or twice a month, I'm happy. There are some I don't like to part with, but this is a business.

About half the customers of expensive wines are buying as an acquisition rather than a beverage, he said.

'The 6-litre bottles of Mum's or Dom Perignon (champagne) are usually for a celebration like an anniversary," McKay said. The good French wines usually are keepers. Your better red wines from France and California appreciate with age so it's kind of an investment. McKay has been working at the store, a family business, for the Ken handles the liquor stock, McKay specializes in wines.

Over the years, he said he has attended probably 100 wine tastings and visited the wine regions from northern Michigan to California's Napa Valley, to Germany, France and Italy.

"I do a lot of reading. I read magazines like the Wine Spectator," McKay said. "I go by word of mouth at tastings. I keep up with the crops and stock up if it's a good year. It's like Dom Perignon. They don't make it every year. It depends on the vintage."

When he first began working at the store, McKay said people were drinking a lot of French wines. Today, he said California wines have come into their own and are taking over the market.

'In France, the California wines used to not be carried, now they are world wide," McKay said. "The oldest California vintage is a Sebastiani cabernet from 1940. Then look at the French wines that go back to the 1700s."

Probably half the store's wine customers ask for suggestions in selecting a wine, he said.

"I ask them if they want white or red, dry or sweet. I love cabernet but all palates are different," McKay said. "To some people it might seem tart to them. I suggest drinking a glass of wine when you are out eating. It enhances the flavor of the food. People advance as they get into it."

The store, which was remodeled three years ago, offers a wide selection of wines at a range of prices as well as beer and liquor.

"The remodeling really helped. Our business has been up when others have been down," McKay said. "The remodeling showed our commitment. You do it before the place runs down.

Melodrama

School debates: no end in sight

he state legislative struggle over trying to cut property taxes and boost state support for local K-12 schools resembles a political soap opera.

One problem is that two distinctly separate value systems are on a collision course. And the sorry part of the melodrama is that the participants don't realize it.

At the same time, Gov. John Engler, whose views on school aid and property taxes were published in last week's Observer, shows that he just doesn't get it when it comes to making public policies on the two related problems.

Until state officials agree on what course is their first choice, local taxpayers and students will have to wait a long time for the problem to

The Lansing dispute conjures up a family discussion in which one spouse wants to buy a new car while the other wants to reduce expenses.

On a larger, public policy basis, state leaders are doing the same thing — failing to agree on a single goal.

Over the years, one side wants to improve the state's financial support of public education and narrow the financial gap between rich and poor districts.

At the same time, Gov. John Engler wants to slash local school property taxes to promote economic development.

The reason the twin goals can't be met is that they can't be done at the same time.

What Lansing has to do — and soon — is to pick one goal or the other.

State leaders should work to adopt their first priority, then start work on the other.

If they don't settle on one thing at a time, they are confusing the public, including local ■ There will be no progress on the on-going school finance/property tax feuds until our state leaders agreed first on which is the most important: helping low-valuation school districts or cutting school district officials, as well as parents who are being asked regularly to vote for school tax rate increases to provide more revenues.

Another dimension of the problem is that Gov. Engler's published comments on the issues clearly show that he either doesn't understand school finance and the impact state actions have on local school systems, or he is misleading the public.

For example, he blames local assessors for helping local school boards raise revenues through increased property assessments.

But the governor apparently doesn't understand that for in-formula districts, such as Wayne-Westland and Garden City, increased assessments and local revenue doesn't mean a net increase in dollars for the local district, because the state's share is reduced proportion-

When it comes to higher levels of spending, Engler blames the local school boards for being too generous in approving increases in salaries and fringe benefits for teachers.

If the governor is serious about that part of the school finance problem, he should lead the fight to repeal the 1964 state law which requires local officials to negotiate with teachers' unions.

But in the meantime, the debate on school finance will continue in Lansing for more years because each side of the dispute can't agree on which goal to adopt first.

Make park assets a priority ichigan's state parks system, once second to none, is slipping. Unless steps are taken soon, some of the state's most beautiful areas — and perhaps its most precious resource - could be unalterably dam-

The system includes developed parks and rustic recreation areas. In 1980 the state paid 70 percent of their operating cost. Since then, the state has shifted the burden to user fees, now a hefty 80 percent of the budget. The state puts up only $5.6 million of the parks' $28 million budget.

Daily vehicle entrance fees have gone from $2 in 1980 to $3.50; annual permit fees, from $7 to $18: and camping fees, from $2-$6 to $6-$14. Both Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature and the executive office are to blame.

As fees soar, however, visitors get less for he norke division has lost no a third of its staff, 25 rustic campsites face closure as they are neglected into oblivion, and many park roads are blocked to winter use because there is no staff to plow them.

There are no statistics, but any visitor can see damage by erosion, off-road vehicles, poachers and vandals.

There is talk of "privatizing" some state parks. Private campgrounds and theme parks are part of the state's recreation picture, but businesses must turn a dollar at every opportunity. Business can't replace government as protector of a natural resource.

Although parks aren't primarily an economic resource, they do generate $100 million to nearby grocers, gas stations, restaurants and tourist attractions.

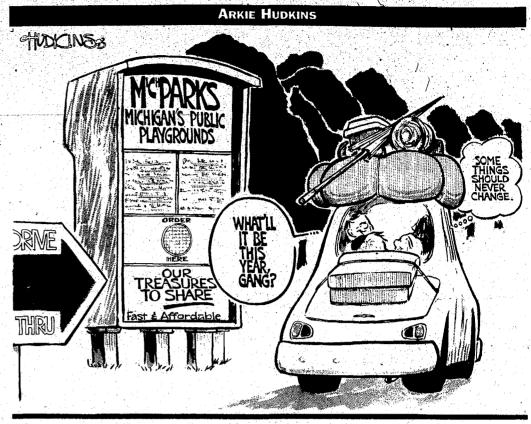

■ in 1980 the state paid 70 percent of their operating cost. Since then, the state has shifted the burden to user fees, now a hefty 80 percent of the budget.

A Citizens Committee on Parks, spearheaded by Michigan United Conservation Clubs, is offering a ballot proposal: a one-cent increase in the sales tax for one year. The $700 million revenue would be invested to produce $15 million income annually for the parks. That would be a steep, long-term increase in the parks budget and could restore them to their former glory.

But let us be politically realistic. Other important state obligations — schools come to mind — also are looking at ballot proposals. It's poor policy to earmark special taxes for special funds. It would be far better if our legislators and the governor faced their obligation to protect the natural resources that our state parks embody from the general fund budget.

In 1872 the National Parks Service was created and opened Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming. But land-hungry developers didn't go away. And in 1916 the parks service served notice that its policy would be "to conserve scenery and the national and historic objects and wildlife therein and to provide for the enjoyment of the same in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for future generations."

Michigan should do as much for its future

What's going on in Lansing

n Feb. 16 I attended a meeting in Lansing and had a chance to witness our tax dollars and elected officials at work. And guess what? (As if you didn't know) nothing's working. If I was the boss (actually I am, after all I do pay taxes and I'm a registered voter) I would fire them all! Why do I say that? you say. Because instead of dealing with the difficult issues, and there are many up there, they are all still involved in the great paper chase, color that paper green please. Especially the Republicans. Forever trying to kneel at Little John's feet for his eternal favor. The biggest war on now involves SB146 which we all know is (Proposal) C minus, the same one that failed at the ballot box. Come on now if the people said they mean No! Read this: no does not mean yes John, no means no and that means C minus or any other proposal you try to pass that will hurt the children of this state! And that also goes for state representatives that originally opposed SB146 but suddenly became weak kneed and started backing off.

A bipartisan proposal (is) currently referred to as the BLT proposal. What is that you say sounds like a sandwich? Well it isn't. It's a property tax plan that is real and effective. It would roll operating mills back to 17 (16 after 1994), all this collected through a newly created school finance authority and other revenues collected by raising the state income tax to 6 percent from 4.6 percent. There are other goodies but I am only going to stick to those you might want to hear. The other carrot on the stick and it's a good one (great with potatoes) is this: The income tax personal exemption would be increased from $2,100 to $3,000 for a $300 million

Now all this makes sense to a normal person right? Well you have to remember this is Lansing, folks, not Kansas. The Governor is cracking the whip on his Republican children to fall in line with him against the people of this state. You know, the ones who pay taxes and vote. And guess what else! These children are starting to fall in line behind the governor. Many of their districts voted down Proposal C. I guess they don't know who's the boss. Well it's time we showed them who is! As one of those bosses I felt you should know what is really going on.

How many will die?

ere is a when, how, why, where, what, who for you and me.

When will the shedding of innocent blood stop? What percent of our sons and daughters die for the sake of convenience, career, pride, money, escape from a wrong choice,

How many unborn sisters or brothers or grandsons or nieces will die?

Why is murder legal for the innocent? Why do we never hear of the grieving and sorrow these women and men should feel after the death of their child?

What about the wombs that have been torn or punctured, cervices that have been damaged. the baby parts still left in the womb, the miscarriages afterwards, and yes, even the deaths of the women caused by abortion?

Where does the baby's body go after the head has been crushed and arms and legs have been dismembered? What does it feel like for a fivemonth-old unborn baby to have his or her skin burned with salt, saline poisoning, and what does it feel like to the mother undergoing the murder of her child? Does this affect the women, or boyfriends, or husbands, or our society at

When will we as a people love our neighbor? When will we not solve a problem with a death of a baby? When will we not hide the truth?

Who will be strong and start to do what is kind and righteous? I suggest, me included, to seek, knock and ask a lot harder of the one who died for all of our sins, Jesus Christ, the Lord of Life for kindness of heart, forgiveness and for truth, for our country is polluted with the blood of our innocent unborn babies.

Lucille A. VanZandt, Ann Arbor

ith a 62 percent vote against Proposal D in last November's election, the voters of Michigan made it abundantly clear that they did not want their current automobile no-fault benefit system changed. So why is the state legislature trying to chip away at our insurance system? (House Bill No. 4156). This bill would lower the amount of personal injury protection (which pays medical bills) from the presently unlimited protection to a maximum of $1 million. Once that $1 million was exceeded, the burden of care would be put upon the Medicaid system, and we all know how overburdened that system already is. We can pay now, toward our insurance premiums, and receive complete care, or we can pay later, into increased taxes to support increased Medicaid costs, and receive substantially less care.

A $1 million cap will increase lawsuits. The intent behind the original no-fault law was to eliminate the need of a lawsuit to receive reasonable and necessary medical care. At $1 million, people will be forced to sue in order to obtain the medical services they need. Increased lawsuits and attorney fees will drive insurance rates much higher within a matter of two or three years.

I am opposed to House Bill 4156, just as I was opposed to Proposal D. We have the finest no-fault system in the country. If it isn't bro-

POINTS OF VIEW

Tax plans ignore state's varying economies

ere is a central fact about Michigan's economy that advocates of school tax plans have failed to grasp:

The price level in the tri-county area of southeastern Michigan is 22 percent higher than the rest of the state.

If you fail to understand that fact. you can do suburban schools a lot of harm in the name of "reform."

A hospital association put together a study of 16 costs a few years ago that

Home construction in the tri-county area costs 22 percent more than outstate. These costs drive our property tax assessments

Public education: 22 percent more.

■ Hospital care: 18 percent more. ■ Dental care: 19 percent more.

Residential rent: 44 percent more. What are the chief costs of public school districts? Salaries and health

In addition, we pay 55 percent more for home insurance, 44 percent more for trash collection, 34 percent more for auto repairs, 32 percent more for auto insurance — and so on. The only break we get is to pay 6 percent less for gasoline.

Teachers here must pay those costs, too. Understandably, they want compa-

Most politicians don't grasp that.

Gov. John Engler is pushing a plan to reduce school property taxes 20 percent. The state would reimburse poorer districts, through the school aid formula. But suburban districts in the metropolitan area — mainly out-of-formula — would take the loss on the chin.

I asked Engler about this region's 22 percent cost differential, and the man from Mount Pleasant replied: "That is an excuse, not an answer. And it certainly isn't an explanation. They (suburban school districts) have negotiated the contracts that they're now having difficulty affording."

Engler's advice to these districts:

TIM RICHARD

"Stop giving double-digit pay increases over a period of two or three years."

A snappy answer, but unrealistic. Are we going to tell teachers in (say) Farmington who pay 34 percent more for auto repairs and 44 percent more for rent that they should be content with the wages of Saginaw or Engadine?

I floated the same question past a member of Team 14, the bipartisan group of legislators proposing a $4,700 per pupil "equity" in school resources. She said she had heard the same kind of argument from Detroiters, who want all sorts of compensatory money because of their problems. Again, a snappy answer that failed to address economic reality.

Michigan has two economies. If both Sturgis and Livonia schools have $4,700 cash per pupil, Livonia has only $3,852 in "real" terms, to use Adam Smith's phrase, because of the price differential.

Novi, Northville, Plymouth-Canton, West Bloomfield, South Redford, Bloomfield Hills, Southfield, Troy, Rochester and a few I've skipped will get a royal shaft — the shaft of economic ignorance - under these plans.

We come to the Michigan Education Association plan. You might guess a reform plan espoused by a teachers union would be self-serving, and you would be right.

MEA would consolidate 562 school districts into 14 duchies called "finan-cial districts." But there is a dirty trick here. What happens to the most expensive tri-county area? Wayne County winds up in a district with Monroe, Oakland with Lapeer and Genesee, and Macomb with the farmlands of the Thumb.

Thus, MEA would try to use justifiably higher wage levels in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb to increase wages in the outstate economy. It's the backwards version of Engler's idea of evening out costs.

To be fair, any tax cut and school reform plan must take account of economic reality. Everybody has to pay more for nearly everything in southeastern Michigan. Our school boards must have leeway and tax tools to deal with that reality, not be forced into artificial molds.

Parents will balk over MEAP test design in '97

UESTION: When I reviewed our MEAP test scores this year, I concluded our school district is going backward. For years our math and reading scores were in the 89 to 94 percent range on the MEAP test. Now our MEAP math and reading scores are in the 30 and 40 percent range. Some of the poorer school districts in Michigan have scores of 15 and 20 percent on the MEAP. One poor district had a score of 10 percent in math. My neighbor is desperate. Her son, a "C-plus" student, did not pass the MEAP and may not get a state endorsed diploma. How can a C-plus student not pass a basic skills test? Is it true that failure to pass the test after '97 means a student won't even get a diploma?

ANSWER: The easy out, for me, is to tell you the new MEAP is different than the old MEAP basic skills test. It is no longer a test of basic skills but an essential skills test that measures students' higher level thinking and problem solving skills.

At this point I should drop the subject, because if I attack the test, it will sound like the same old teacher/educator syndrome, making excuses for poor student achievement. But I won't drop the subject because there is something irrational going on!

One school district in this readership area in which I was a central office administrator had MEAP scores in or above the 95 percent range prior to the

Now in 1992-93, their MEAP scores are in the 40 to 50 percent range. That means only 40 to 50 percent passed the 10th grade "essential" math and reading skills sections on the new MEAP.

Yet that same district has about 75 percent of its graduating class accepted each year for college and university admission, and most of their students are in college/universities that require high SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test)

This doesn't add up. How can 75 percent of a quality school district's student population score high enough on a tough college entrance test and yet not pass a 10th grade basic skills (essential skills) test? Something is

The new MEAP is a product of the leadership in The National Council of Teachers of Math, the National Reading Association (and their state affiliates), college professors and some Michigan teachers. These are professionals who made a tremendous leap of faith that says all kids in a country that advocates a mandatory education system will be higher level thinkers. It's not going to happen.

Sometimes I think these leaders have been in the ivory tower too long. or have been teaching advanced math classes at the high school level too long to remember who shows up for the remedial, slow learner classes

It is common knowledge that the once nationally respected Department of Research and Evaluation and Testing in the Department of Education has been dismantled. What was left are curriculum people (as I was) who dream of the ideal.

'Bubble' mentality lacks real world knowledge hile I jog in the evenings, I like to listen to National Public Radio's evening news show, "All Things Considered." It stimulates the mind while the running pumps up the heart.

A while back I listened to a story about a woman who was appointed head of the welfare department in New York City. First thing did was go out and pretend to be a person in need of welfare. She went to the various offices, filled out all the different forms, got abused and ignored by the assorted bureaucrats.

She learned a lot about what it feels like to need welfare. And she is now changing - big time — the policies and practices of the welfare department she was appointed to run.

The story got me thinking.

First, it demonstrates perfectly why most of the people who run the government and make the laws are badly out of touch with the realities of ordinary folk. They are much too much "in the bubble," all of them. And this fact accounts for much of the disconnect between political and governmental elites and ordinary folks that plagues our politics so badly.

Second, it seems to be that much of the mainstream news media, too, are in the bubble. Often, the only people reporters and editors regard as legitimate news sources are heads of governmental departments, legislators or other "news makers.

Only rarely do reporters -- especially ones in Washington or Lansing — ever talk with ordinary people who are on the receiving end of governmental indignities and inefficiencies.

These two factors are important in the rise of talk shows and so forth, "real media" as distinguished from elite media.

They should also be important to community newspapers like this one. If we are doing our job as good community newspapers, we can never allow ourselves to get trapped, by habit or choice, in the bubble.

We ought to be talking with ordinary people in the communities we serve, finding out from them what it's like out there. Were the streets on the west side really plowed after the snowstorm last weekend? What's it really like to be a business owner in search of a building permit? Go into real classrooms and see what real teachers do with real kids.

That's real community journalism. Sometimes we do it, and sometimes we don't. But we must realize why it's so important to do better.

Remember the famous legend of the good emperor of China? Recognizing that he was irredeemably trapped in the bubble by his mandarinate's bureaucracy, he regularly donned a disguise and went out into his country. In taverns and inns, by the side of streets and in hovels, he discovered what his government was doing to his subjects and what they felt about Whether true or not, this legend has persisted in China for more than a thousand years, testimony to the power of the myth and the analysis.

There are a lot of office holders and elected officials (not to mention folks who work for this newspaper) who could learn a lot from this story. Years ago, when Bill Milliken was governor of Michigan, he had a rule for all his top appointees: Get out of Lansing at least one day a week. He learned. And he was a fine governor for our

Most in local poll say: 'Cut more, don't raise taxes'

Observer readers offered some strong opinions on President's Bill Clinton's economic plan. Thirty-five callers responded earlier this week on our reader hot-

Some believe Clinton is moving in the right direction and should be given a chance. However, most callers want to see more spending cuts before any new tax increases are passed.

- Here are some of your comments:

"I think Bill Clinton's plans are great." said a Livonia woman. "We have to do something get this country back together to help our children and grandchildren in the future. And, if we have to sacrifice then we have to do it."

"He's right on target," said a Livonia resident.

"Someone's got to get us out of this mess because we can't continue on the same course we're going."

I'm very much against Clinton's plan," said a Livonia man who is retired and living on a fixed income.

"I'm going to pay over $1,500 more (in taxes). President Bush found if you tax people more they don't have money to buy more cars and clothing. It's a bad, bad

"Clinton's plan is ridiculous," said a Plymouth woman.

The plan will cost me more money but it's for the good of the country," said a Canton Township man.

'It's the right start in the right direction.'

"I don't like the idea he'll increase our taxes," said a Livonia woman. "I do like his planned spending cuts. But he should do the spending cuts first before he decides to raise taxes."

"Bill Clinton's plan stinks," said a Livonia man.

"I don't believe they'll cut spending. What they should do is cut for two years and then see if they need to raise taxes. I just don't trust those people in Wash-

"'I'm against Clinton's plan-it's another example of the Democrats tax and spend policy," said a Redford Township man. "Democrats are the problem because they've controlled Congress for so

B"Before taxes are increased our government must prove it can work together," said one Livonia woman. "They need to cut spending and waste and work together instead of pursuing their own economic interests."

A Livonia woman called for a spending freeze.

"Government is too big and spends too much money. Where will it end? Do they want 60 percent of my pay?"

Another Livonia woman said she's not ready to go along with Clinton because "it's the same old tax and spend."

"Freeze spending," she said. adding "in my situation he's going to tax us into being a twoincome family."

A Redford Township woman said "the BTU tax is a clever way to disguise the tax hike because it will show up in all consumer goods. How dare they ask us to sacrifice." "The plan is flawed," said a Plymouth Township man. "How about 10 percent in spending cuts across the board." "Freeze or cut more before raising taxes," said a Redford Township woman. A Livonia man who previously worked for the state of Michigan said "Clinton's stimulus package will actually create very few jobs.

A Garden City man said Clinton's plan to cut Medicare "is a farce.

Livonia Stevenson (boys swimming) and Livonia Churchill (volleyball) hope to win their third straight WLAA championships.

The swim competition concludes Friday with the finals at 6 p.m. in the Salem pool. The No. 7 Spartans will be challenged by No. 8 Salem and No. 9 Northville.

Churchill will attempt to defend its volleyball crown Saturday on its home court. The one-day tournament begins at 9 a.m. The final is expected to start in the early evening.

The WLAA basketball playoffs begin Friday, too. Walled Lake Central is the defending champ. Salem, Glenn, Canton, Farmington Harrison and North Farmington are among the contenders.

Wayne continues mastery of neighborhood foe Glenn

Kevin Claypool's game-high 18 points wasn't enough to prevent Wayne Memorial from beating neighborhood rival Westland John Glenn for the 11th-straight year, 51-48, in a raggedly-played game on Tuesday.

BY NEAL ZIPSER STAFF WRITER

The year was 1983. Ronald Reagan was president. The Philadelphia were the NBA champions. M*A*S*H was the most watched television program. And Westland John Glenn beat Wayne Memorial in boys basketball.

Wayne's 51-48 lackluster victory the host Rockets Tuesday marked the 11th-consecutive year the Zebras have beaten their intra-district rivals. Perhaps it's Wayne's dominance over Glenn that took away some of the excitement of the game, but more likely, both teams were looking forward to their "bigger" games later in the week with their defense of the Wolverine A Conference championship on the line. Wavne is tied for first place with Belleville.

Glenn (11-6) opens the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs Friday when it hosts Northville.

Both coaches, however, continued to reiterate the importance of the rivalry after the game.

"This game is important anytime," said Wayne coach Chuck Henry. "Anytime you get two schools in the same district playing each other, it's going to be big, But I didn't make this game a pie in the sky. We need to

Unbeaten Reeves stalks 2nd title

By BILL PARKER STAFF WRITER

Observerland will be well represented this weekend at the Class A individual regional wrestling tournament at South Lyon. No less than 20 area wrestlers qualified for the regional by placing in the top four of their respective weight classes at Saturday's District 5-A tournament at Walled Lake Western.

Westland John Glenn's Mike Reeves kept his unbeaten record intact as he stormed through the 160pound bracket. Reeves, 34-0 and the defending state champ at 152, outclassed South Lyons' Jason Brown (29-6) with a 13-4 decision in the championship match. Reeves held a 4-2 lead entering the third period then used a series of takedowns and back points to secure the win. He earned pins in his first two matches (1:41, :30) and recorded a 10-2 decision in the semifinals.

Reeves has his eyes set on a repeat performance at the state meet, March 12-13 at Battle Creek.

'I'm a year older now and the experience helps," said Reeves, who has been wrestling since he was in seventh grade. "I've been there once and I know what it takes to get there

The guys seem a lot stronger at 160 than they were at 152. But I like to eat so I just try to out-technique them. I do what I have to do to win. It's a job.

Reeves leads a group of four regional qualifiers from Glenn. Anthony Underwood placed third at 112, Gerry Simoneau was fourth at 152 and Brian Kolb was fourth at 171.

Garden City's Jason Peterson rolled through the heavyweight division with a pair of pins and a 9-2 decision. Peterson, a district and regional champion last year, wasted little time defending his district crown. Peterson took down Plymouth Salem's Ryan Giuliani (26-14) at the opening whistle and pinned the Rocks wrestler just 32 seconds into the match. Peterson opened the tournament with a pin over Glenn's Shaun Arbogast in 25 seconds and earned a 9-2 decision over Howell's Kevin Matie in the semifinals. Peterson hopes his experience will help in his quest for a state crown.

"Last year I was coming from out of nowhere. I was extremely overwhelmed at state," said Peterson, who stands 37-2 on the year. "I've been there now and I know what it's all about. I've put in a whole lot of Peterson will be joined at the regional meet by teammate Mike Bullard, who placed fourth at 145.

North Farmington senior Dave Orow won the first district championship of his career when he earned a 7decision over Howell's Matt Schroeder (22-9) in the championship match at 125 pounds. With the match tied at 4-4 after two periods, Orow

OU tankers eye Division II title

Stop us if you've heard this one before: The Oakland University men's and women's swim teams each won Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships last weekend . . . stop.
Of course you've heard it before.

For the men, who outscored their nearest competitor (Ferris State) by 358 points Sunday at Saginaw Valley, it was their 16th straight GLIAC title. For the women, who beat second-place Northern Michigan by 44.5 points, it was their fourth title in five years.

"It would be nice to have more competition," said OU men's coach Pete Hovland. "I wish we'd get more of a challenge. I think we really need it at this time of the

What the league meet has become for Oakland is a measuring stick, a final chance to qualify swimmers and gauge its potential for the NCAA Division II Championships, which will take place March 10-13 at the C.T. Branin Natatorium in Canton, Ohio.

"It was a good meet in a sense that we got three more swimmers qualified," Hovland said. "Those guys are keys to our success at the nationals. We needed them desperately and they came through." The men, who last won the Division II title in 1980 and have finished either second or third in 11 of the last 12 years, will send 10 swimmers to the nationals. The women, who are seeking their fourth straight Division II crown, will send 10 swimmers and

No guarantees for women Lady Pioneers' coach Tracy

Huth, who was voted women's coach of the year in the GLIAC, likes his talent heading into the nationals, but not his numbers.

"Last year we had 13 swimmers and one diver qualify, so from that standpoint, we're down." he said. "We won't have the advantage depth-wise like we've had. But talent-wise, we're at least as strong, if not stronger."

Of the Lady Pioneers' six firstplace finishes at the GLIAC meet, four were claimed by freshmen. Debby Nickels won both the 1,650-yard freestyle (17:51.47) and the 400 individual medley (4:45.95). Diver Becki Bach won both the one-meter and threemeter events.

Junior Amy Comerford won the 100 backstroke (57.34) and OU took the 200 freestyle relay

Of OU's 12 national qualifiers, five are freshmen: Nickels, Bach, Ellen Lessig, Kristen Nagelkirk and Molly Cliffel.

"That's the key," Huth said. "If those people can perform under the gun, we'll be OK."

Also qualifying for nationals were: Comerford, senior Laura Fischer, junior Angie Johnson, sophomore Danni Lentine, sophomore Jodi Parker, senior Beth Surowiec and senior Shannon Taylor.

"There will be four or five to win (the nationals) on the last day," Huth said. "Whoever wins will have to swim a great meet."

Huth likes the Lady Pioneers' chances.

"I thought we've been progressing extremely well," he said. "It is a situation where all our swimmers are progressing at the same level. That's a good sign."

Men still 3rd best

Hovland will take two defending champions (seniors Doug Allen and Carl Boyd), six other swimmers who currently rank among the top five in the nation in 10 events, three relay teams that rank No. 1 and two others that rank No. 2 to the Division II nationals.

OU won all 18 swimming events, losing only the two diving events. Freshman Chris Zoltak (Tulsa, Ok.) was named male GLIAC swimmer of the year after he won the 100 butterfly (51.33) and 100 backstroke (51.64).

Other two-event winners for Oakland were junior Sean Peters (100 free in 46.16, 200 free in 1:43.56), sophomore Steve Traube (500 free in 4:41.53 and the 200 butterfly in 1:57.01) and senior Van Norman (200 breaststroke in 2:10.68 and the 200 individual medley (1:56.80). Senior Enos Pritchett qualified for nationals and set a GLIAC record with his 20.87 clocking in the 50 free. Peters and senior Jon Stump also gained their qualification at the GLIAC meet.

Here are the 10 swimmers who will represent OU at the nation-

■ Doug Allen, defending champ and currently ranked No. 5 in the 200 IM. He is also ranked No. 5 in the 400 IM. ■ Carl Boyd, defending champ and currently ranked No. 3 in the 100 backstroke. He is No. 2 in the 200 free and 200 back. Adric Arndt, freshman, No. 4 in the 200 breaststroke, also qualified in the 200 IM, 400 IM and 100 breast.

Morgan Bailey, sophomore, No. 1 in 100 free, No. 3 in the 50 free and No. 4 in the 100 back. Eric Newton, sophomore, No. 6 in 1.650 free.

■ Peters, No. 3 in the 100 free, No. 5 in the 50 free.

Prichett, No. 4 in the 50. ■ Stump, No. 2 in the 50, No. 5 in the 100 free. ■ Van Norman, No. 2 in the 100 breaststroke.

Zoltak, No. 2 in the 100 back, No. 3 in the 200 back, No. 3 in the 100 butterfly and No. 6 in the 100

Farewell Dana: Dana Hudson (15) played her final game for Schoolcraft Monday night. She scored 17 points in the Ocelots' 72-56 loss at Highland Park. Hudson averaged 18.9 points per game this year, which should rank her among the nation's top 20.

for the Schoolcraft women's basketball season — a season that put Murphy's Law to the test.

'We should have known we were in for trouble right from the start." said Coach Jack Grenan, after his team's season concluded Monday with a 72-56 loss at Highland Park in the first round of the state tournament.

Grenan and his team showed up at Highland Park Community College only to find a sign that read: "Game moved to high school."

When they got to Highland Park High School, they found all the doors to the gymnasium

"So I go to the receiving door and ring the bell about 10 times,' Grenan said. "Finally a guy comes to the door and says, 'Didn't you see the door I left open with a screw driver?"

There were two more surprises. One, the two teams had to share a locker room. Two, sophomore Michelle Ernst became ill and spent half of the game vomiting.

"Basically, we played them with six and a half players," Grenan said. And the Ocelots played Highland Park tough, trailing by just six with 1:30 left in the game.

Their front line goes 6-1, 6-1 and 6-0 and about 170 pounds. We go 5-11, 5-9, 5-5. But we really hung Sophomore Dana Hudson closed her career with a 17-point effort. She averaged 18.9 points per game and should gain a spot among the NCJAA's top 20 scoring leaders.

Angie Cerne added 11, Becky Piotruchowski and Lori Murphy each scored 10.

Tamika Broomfield scored 17 and Latrice Scott 15 for Highland Park (17-6).

Schoolcraft ended the regular season at home last Saturday with a 75-68 loss to Delta. Hudson scored 23 in that game.

The Ocelots finish 4-10, tied for fifth in the Eastern Conference with Oakland Community College, and 11-13 overall.

'It was a rollercoaster season,' Grenan said. "We started out 4-0. and looking for a national ranking. Then we lost our point guard and center to knee injuries and won just one of our first nine league games. But we came on at the end and won three of our last four to make the playoffs.

"I just couldn't ask for any more from seven players. In that respect, the season was satisfying, more than satisfying.'

Delta dusts S'craft men

The Schoolcraft College men's basketball team ended the regular season Saturday with a 118-102 defeat at Delta College.

The Ocelots finished 6-21 overall and 2-14 in the Eastern Conference. They are idle until next Wednesday when they play in the Region 12 national tournament at Macomb Community College.

SC didn't have much of a chance against Delta — a playoff qualifier from the Eastern Conference — trailing 65-44 at halftime.

"It could have been real ugly (in the second half) but the kids fought real hard," Schoolcraft College coach Dave Bogataj said.

Mohammed Abdrabboh helped the Ocelots stay competitive, scoring 28 of his game-high 42 points in the second half. Abdrabboh was 14-for-23 from the field with four three-pointers.

Good point: OCC men's basketball coach Lynn Reed pointed the way to victory Monday, as OCC bested St. Clair, 104-94, in the state playoffs. Knight was 5-of-6 from the figures, led by Troy Coleman's 20 points. Mark Galbraith and Willie Payne scored 14 apiece, Bill Knight and Craig Martin 12 each,

Ray Moreland 11. The 6-foot-7 Knight (center), Payne (6-3 forward) and Galbraith (6-5 forward) shot high percentages and effectively controlled the boards.

29 points for St. Clair.

CC advances 7 to regional mats

Thanks to some gutty performances, the dream of winning a state championship is very much alive for a number of area wrestlers.

A total of 23 area wrestlers, including seven champions, moved a step closer to that coveted goal Saturday in District competition at Troy High. The host Colts led the way with nine regional qualifiers. highlighted by a district title performance from Chris Kretschmer, and Redford Catholic Central followed with CC's Phil Bache won the 135-pound weight class with an 11-10 win over Troy's Carl Barnes in one of the more physical matches of the day.

"I beat him here (in the district) 7-3 last year, so I knew he would be out for revenge," said Bache, who improved to 15-3 after missing part of the season with a knee injury. "The knee slowed me for a while, but it's coming along fine. I still have my No. 1 goal of getting to state."

In addition to Bache's heroics, CC had two others emerge as champions. Bill Lamb moved his season mark to 27-3 with a 10-2 decision over Jerrid Schalk of Ferndale in the finals at 103, and Jason Krueger blanked Lance Sanders of Kimball, 13-0, at 171.

Other CC wrestlers qualifying for Saturday's individual regional tournament at Hazel Park included: Steve Borke (third at 130), Mike Madden (third at 140), Dan Krueger (third at 160) and David Gardner (fourth at 125).

Saad tale: Spartans sunk

The Livonia Stevenson boys basketball team has seen enough of Ali Saad.

Both of them.

Dearborn Fordson has a pair of cousins who go by the same name — Ali Saad — and on Tuesday night they combined for 38 points in a 76-65 non-league victory over

One of the Saads scored 22 points, including six threepointers, and the other Saad scored 16. Fordson led 26-22 after one quarter and 47-37 at halftime. then made 14 of 15 free throws in the second half to seal the win.

Fordson made 21-28 free throws for the game and Stevenson was 7-14. Stevenson, which made as many field goals (14) as Fordson, fell to 5-12 overall. Fordson is 9-8.

"The difference was their free throws," Stevenson assistant coach Tim Newman said. "Their penetration in our zone allowed them to get to the line. The kids played a lot harder than they did last week (against Plymouth Salem)."

The loss spoiled a big effort from Stevenson senior forward Adam Roy, who scored 28 points, including a trio of three-pointers. Junior guard Kevin Szcembara added 16 points.

CHURCHILL 75, REDFORD UNION 45: It was survival of the fittest Tuesday as ooth teams deployed full-court pressure from start to finish.

"We've been switching groups of five every four minutes for a few games now to keep everyone fresh," said Churchill coach Tom Lang. "The kids have been working their tails off and it's paying off. We are getting some victories where we weren't earlier in the year."

The Chargers were obviously fresher in the final quarter when they put RU to rout with a 23-6 run. Junior Bill Morris scored 15 to lead Churchill (5-12). Seniors Darrell Wiscok and Jason Renkiewicz contributed 13 and 11, respectively.

For RU (2-14), Dar Collins scored 13 and Sheridan Mattson added 11.

CLARENCEVILLE 63, LUTH. WESTLAND 41: Four players scored in double figures Tuesday for host Livonia Clarenceville, an easy winner over Lutheran

The Trojans, who scored the first 15 points of the game, are 9-7 overall, 6-5 in the Metro Conference.

Senior guard Ryan McEwen led Clarenceville with 16 points, eight in the third quarter. Junior forward Mark Ka laj and junior guard Mark Skrelja scored 14 points each. Junior guard John Kalaj added 11.

Lutheran Westland, which trailed 17-4 after one quarter and 34-17 at half-time, fell to 1-15 overall and 0-11 in the wider margin but only made nine-of-21

ST. FLORIAN 66, ST. AGATHA 51: The effort was consistent, the execution was not. And for underlog Redford St. Aga-tha, that spelled a 66-51 defeat to top-seeded Hamtramck St. Florian in the Catholic League C-D semifinals Tuesday night.

"We played a good game, much better than we played against them earlier in the season," said Agatha coach Jim Murphy. "But they just overpowered us in the second half."

Florian, 11-0 in the league and 14-2 overall, took advantage of 33 Aggles turnovers. Mike DiCiacca led Florian with 25 points, including four 3-pointers. Tyree Jackson added 15.

Florian and Mount Clemens Cardinal Mooney will battle for the C-D title Sunday at U-D Mercy's Caliban Hall.
For St. Agatha (4-12), Shelton Ricks ored 19 points. Eric Sanders added 14 and Paul Parsell 13. The Agries lost the services of starter Jay Williams in the second quarter. He injured his ankle.

took control in the final two minutes and scored an escape and a take down to secure the win.

Orow, who stands 32-4 on the season, earned a technical fall over Novi's Tim O'Sullivan in the semifinals.

"I lost in the districts last year so this really feels great," Orow said. "Last year I didn't motivate myself enough. This year I'm not letting anything stop me. I trained real hard over the summer. I'm not psyching myself out any more.

Raider Jared Lawrence will join Orow at the regional meet after finishing third at 160.

Plymouth Cantons' Nick Spano was the only other Observerland wrestler to capture a district championship. Spano opened the tournament with a pin over Garden City's Tim Sayn in 4:43, then stuck Livonia Stevenson's Jeff Kosola in 1:45. He earned a default victory over South Lyon's Mike Muccino in the semifinals and edged Walled Lake Central's Frank Lovio (32-4), 6-5 in the fi-

Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem will each send three wrestlers to the regional. Spartan Chris Mullett was second at 145. Scott Goldman placed third at 140 and Craig Martin suffered his first loss of the season when he dropped an 8-3 decision to Howell's Jason Steinacker in the championship match at 189.

Stevenson coach Don Berg was pleased with the success of his wrestlers. "We've got three qualifiers, they're all sophomores and they're all captains," he said. "I'm real happy for the guys."

For Salem, heavyweight Ryan Giuliani placed second, Scott Hughes placed third at 103 and Phil Mitchell was fourth at 130.

Other Observerland regional qualifiers include: Livonia Churchill's Scott Doer and Ali Ramlawi, third at 145 and fourth at 171, respectively; Harrison's Brian Atkinson and David Gloetzher, fourth at 103 and 189, respectively; and Franklin's Adam Hill, third at 130.

"It's good for the school district and the kids to have a good, healthy rivalry like we have." said Glenn coach Mike Schuette, who coached Wayne's junior varsity team for two years - one year under Henry.

The Zebras used strong freethrow shooting and rebounding to pull away from the Rockets after entering the fourth quarter tied 33-33. Wayne converted seven-ofeight free throws and outrebounded the taller Glenn squad 10-5.

Still, Wayne had to fend off senior guard Kevin Claypool who erupted for 16 of his game-high 18 points in the second half and kept the Rockets within striking range with several spectacular driving layups.

Basketball has a way of creating heroes, and he was doing a good job with his dribble penetra-" Henry said.

'Kevin is playing better and better each game and is showing good poise," Schuette said. After a Claypool foul shot gave Glenn a 40-38 lead with 5:14 left, Wayne went ahead for good when Antonio Dodd nailed a triple and Courtney Howard scored on a break-away layup. A baseline jumper by Jason Overton gave Wayne a 45-40 lead.

A Claypool banker cut the lead to three, but Andre Graves' two throws extended Wayne's lead back to five. Claypool narrowed the margin again with a layup, but Overton countered with a layup to put the game out of reach with :27 remaining.

nal points. Romej led a balanced Wayne attack with 12 points. Ten of 11 Zebras who played scored. John Miller and Ken Taylor added 11 and nine points, respectively, for Glenn held Wayne scoreless for the game's first five minutes but could only build a 4-0 lead. After Henry inserted five new players into the game, the Rockets took the lead behind consecutive three-pointers by Romei.

The second and third quarters saw both teams sharing the lead. In the two quarters alone, there were nine ties and seven lead

The Zebras were able to pull out the win despite shooting only 29 percent from the field (18-of-62). Glenn converted 42 percent of its shots from the floor (21-of-49) and from the foul line (three-ofseven).

'We shot seven-of-34 in the first half and not too much better in the second half," Henry said. "When you shoot that poorly, you force your defense to play well. We'll have to work on our offensive execution for Thursday."

Graves, a junior guard, returned to the Zebras' lineup after missing Friday's 76-67 loss to Belleville when he suffered a hip injury in a car accident the day before. Graves was in obvious pain after the game.

long virus. Goins was held to four

Lefty Byrd TKOs Darnell in 9th round

By Steve Kowalski Staff Writer

Left-handed super middleweight hoxer Steve Darnell received a taste of his own medicine Saturday night in Fargo, N.D., facing another southpaw for the first time as a professional.

Darnell, who grew up in Livonia and lives in Westland, probably could have used another taste of medicine after the fight for his aching head.

A stubborn Darnell took all he could handle from Antoine Byrd, a lefty from Cleveland, before losing on a ninth-round

Darnell, 26-3-2 as a professional, agreed with the decision to stop the fight and now knows how tough it is to face left-handers. Byrd, the former United States Boxing Association champion who lost the Inworld title to Lindell Holmes, Darnell and interim manager Bradd Lally agreed to fight Byrd late last week after an earlier bout against Steve Collins, scheduled for Feb. 20 in London, England, was canceled.

Darnell had been training to fight against Collins, a righthander, so the transition was difficult.

"Now I know why I've got an advantage," said Darnell, who required four stitches to close a cut below his eye. "I never thought it was a big deal, but now, after facing a lefty, I see why there's all those complaints. I didn't lose to a bum, but the bottom line is if he would have been right handed.

The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds and Lally said he was ready to stop it after the seventh. But Darnell persevered and fought perhaps his strongest round in the eighth, hurting Byrd near his own corner, before tiring again in the ninth and getting TKO'd.

"There's been questions before about his heart but he fought a hell of a fight," Lally said. "He showed me he can hang with a world-class boxer. Steve took a fight on a short notice and he took a lot of pun-

Lally said he was glad the fight finally ended because he was worried Darnell would get seriously hurt.

"It's not the first shot you're hit with that that hurts, it's the one you don't see coming - when you're hurt," Lally ternational Boxing Federation said. "I could never live with one of my fighters getting Darnell would like to get back into the ring within a few months and he wants Lally, who also trains and manages his brother Brett Lally, in his corner again.

"I really enjoyed Bradd, he's an excellent cornerman," Darnell said. "He tells what you're doing wrong, looks you in the eye, motivates you and knows what's going on.'

Churchill spikers heat up

Perhaps after the season, the Livonia Churchill volleyball team will send a thank-you note to Livonia Franklin. It seems that Franklin's upset victory against the Chargers on Feb. 15 sounded a wake-up call.

"We've played much better since then," said Churchill coach Mike Hughes.

Certainly Plymouth Salem and Walled Lake Central will attest to that. The Chargers bopped Salem, 15-1, 6-15, 15-7, 16-14 last Thursday. Salem was in third place overall in the Western Lakes. Then they beat Central, 15-10, 3-15, 16-14, 12-15, 15-9 last Monday. Central had been tied for first with Livonia Stevenson.

Last weekend, the Chargers defeated Grosse Pointe South, Grosse Pointe North and Carlton Airport in taking second at the Temperance-Bedford tournament. Burton Atherton beat Churchill in the finals, 15-12, 13-

Junior setter Aimee Cousino triggered Churchill's success against Central. She made just two bad sets in five games. The beneficiary of those passes were Andrea Zawislak (10 kills) and Krista Laidlaw.

Hughes also praised the efforts of Chrissy Daly (serving) and Nancy Granzow (passing and de-

Spartans out-ranked

Livonia Stevenson lost in the quarterfinals Saturday at the 15team South Haven Invitational, which featured 11 state-ranked teams.

Comstock, the No. 1-rated team in Class B, bounced the Spartans, Comstock had two very good hitters and played good enough defense to get the ball to those girls," Stevenson coach Lee Cagle

In pool play, Stevenson beat South Haven (15-4, 15-10) and Bay City Centerl (15-8, 15-12), while losing to Portage Northern, the state's top-ranked team in Class A (15-3, 15-9), while splitting with St. Joseph (11-15, 15-4).

Julie Martin led Stevenson with 45 kills on the day. Karen Groulx contributed 13, while setter Patty Diamond had 63 assists and seven kills.

'We missed a lot of serves (29) on the day and we were not pass-ing well, we got aced quite often," Cagle said. "Our passing let us down and forced us to become an outside hitting team, and we're just an average team then.

"You can't be average against teams like Portage Northern and Comstock because they're just going to whomp on you. I wish we could could have passed better and stayed in the tournament."

On Tuesday, Stevenson topped Livonia Franklin, 15-6, 15-10, 15-

6, in a Western Lakes match. Groulx (13 kills) and Martin

(10) led the Spartans' attack. Stevenson is 10-1 in league play, 36-7-2 overall.

Pats spike Western

Livonia Franklin gained an 8-15, 13-15, 15-6, 15-7, 15-7 victory last week at Walled Lake Western as sophomore Andrea Green served 10 straight points in Game No. 4 to erase a 7-0 deficit.

Greer had 18 digs and seven kills on the night (.421 hitting percentage).

Junior Lenay Truchan led Franklin with 24 kills and 29 digs.

She made good on 18 of 19 serves. Junior Sonja Hluschenko contributed 19 assists, while senior Nancy Noechel collected seven kills and 17 digs.

Wayne stalls Tractors

Wayne Memorial evened its Webserine A mark to 6-6 with a 15-4, 7-15, 15-2 triumph against Dearborn Fordson Monday.

Chris Vasely (six aces) and Maureen Wilson (four) were strong from the service line. Lateefa Moore (five kills), Kim Morrow (four) and Dawn Corwin (three) were the team's leading hitters.

Blazers rule Friendship match

The Livonia Ladywood volleyball team won the Operation Friendship championship Monday, 15-9, 15-7 over Detroit Cass Tech at Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

The Blazers, who won the Catholic League crown four days earlier with a victory over Dearborn Divine Child, improved to 28-6-2 overall. Cass Tech was the Detroit Public School League champion.

Liz Gunn led Ladywood with eight kills. Anne Poglits had six kills, Mary Jo Kelly five and Andrea Putti and Tara Overaitis had four each.

returning last year, said he must get stronger to win as a CC. Rice icers tie Redford Catholic Central and Birmingham Brother Rice played to a 1-1 tie Saturday in a Michigan Metro Hockey League game at Redford Ice Arena.

The Shamrocks, who are 12-5-4 overall, had 24 shots on goal to Rice's 16. The game was unlike the first matchup between the two teams, Feb. 5, when CC beat Rice 3-0 despite being outshot 38-13.

After a scoreless first period, CC took a 1-0 lead at 5:38 of the second period on a goal by Jeff Lachapelle, assisted by Jason Ballinger. Rice tied the score at 10:31 with a power play goal by Tim Karrumi, with assists to Josh Fryer and Matt Riker.

The Shamrocks tried to break the tie in the second period but Chris Gonzalez hit the goal post on a breakaway and Jon Heady hit the side of the net on a good opportunity, according to coach Jack Gumbleton.

The third period didn't feature much offense with CC taking only five shots on goal and Rice two.

Colorful patches of cloth, stitched together with tender. loving care, brought pioneer women together and offered them comfort on the lonely plains of America. Trinity House Theatre offers a glimpse of what it must have been like to live on the frontier during their presentation of "Quilters," by Barbara Damashek and Molly Newman.

'Quilting was one shared experience that joined the lives of many of our ancestors who settled the plains and hills of the frontier," said Sarah Hedeen, artistic director of Trinity House Theatre.

It is the focal point of "Quilters." Stories in the play unfold around 16 blocks of a legacy quilt being stitched by a mother, Sarah, for her seven daughters.

Michael Flores of Bloomfield Hills quilted all the quilt blocks used in the play, and the legacy quilt that the play is built around.

Hedeen portrays Dana, one of Sarah's daughters. As each block in the quilt unfolds, the audience experiences through drama, the lives of hundreds of characters, mostly women.

'One block is a story about a fire that destroys someone's log cabin," said Hedeen. "Each story is built around a traditional quilt block. For example, the Double Wedding Ring quilt pattern is the story of a young woman's quest to find a husband." Music and dance are woven throughout the dramatic and often comedic stories that tie us to our American heritage.

Such themes as childbirth, baptism, marriage, parenting and schooling are addressed. Using both narrative and interactive scene work, the play touches many aspects of the lifestyle of the pioneers.

"One of the most interesting stories is Secret Drawer. It's the story of a woman who learns she's pregnant for the 14th time, and goes to her doctor for help," said Hedeen. "Some of the stories are very funny. Several blocks show what childhood on the prairie

LSO presents enjoyable, upbeat concert

By Linda Ann Chomin Special Writer

The second Series B chamber style concert this season by the Livionia Symphony Orchestra featuring guest guitarist James Lentini on Feb. 19, was an enjoyable intimate evening of music with an upbeat theme.

The scaled-down orchestra under conductor/music director Francesco DiBlasi opened with the Overture to Beethoven's only ballet, "Die Geschopfe des Prometheus" (The Creatures of Prometheus). A definite plus to this series is the addition of DiBlasi's informative commentary between selections.

Gracefulness and charm filled the LSO's second selection, the first movement of Schubert's "Symphony No. 5 in B flat major."

Kristen Williams, oboe; Colin Lord, clarinet; James Poe, bassoon and Carl Karoup, horn were featured in the nearly flawless "Symphony Concertante" by Mozart. Beforehand, DiBlasi kidded the audience that this was his arrangement of the work, and as such had very few repetitions.

The piece was light and airy. If you closed your eyes you might have imagined you were listening to a European band concert.

After intermission, Lentini took center stage for the premier professional performance of his "Concerto for Guitar and Strings (1981)." The contemporary piece in three movements had an underlying classical flavor which showcased Lentini's proficient guitar work - his hands flying across the fret work. The guitar and violin strings sang dark and sweet in the second movement.

Assistant professor of composition, and director of the electronic studio at Wayne State University in Detroit, Lentini evidenced that he has performed extensively as a recitalist and

He completed the concerto while studying at Wayne State University. It was performed as a work-in-progress in 1981, and then set aside until 1992 when he made minor revisions to the orchestrations.

Lentini holds degrees from Wayne State University and Michigan State University, and a doctorate in composition from the University of Southern California. His compositions include works written for orchestra, chamber ensembles, voices, electronic and solo instruments. He won first prize in the Atwater-Kent Composition Contest for his "Music for Brass" in 1985, and the McHugh Composition Prize for "A Distant Place" in 1988.

After a toe-tapping rendition of Joplin's "Cascades" featuring orchestra members Williams, Lord, Poe, Karoub and flutist, Teri Sankovich, Lentini returned to the stage for solo erformances of "Here's That Ra Day" by Van Hensen, and a soulful Gershwin's "A Foggy Day."

The concert ended on a rousing note with dramatic music from Rossini's "Guillaume Tell," (William Tell)

Concert, plays focus on children

Folklorist and children's recording artist Ella Jenkins will appear as part of the "Sat-urday Fun for Kids" series 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre-in Rochester Seating is reserved. Tickets are $6 each and available by calling 377-3300. The concert will last about one hour, and is not recommended for children under the age of 3. Doors open 10:30 a.m.

A regular guest on "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood," Jenkins has been praised throughout her 55 years as a performer for her emphasis on active participation and multi-cultural education. She knows songs, chants, rhythms, games and dances from many lands, and encourages audience participation at her concerts.

She has performed for children on all seven continents, including Antarctica. In 1988, she traveled to Hong Kong and the People's Republic of China as part of an exchange program of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

In 1989, she traveled to the Soviet Union and performed for the children of Moscow and Jenkins spends as much as 200 days a year on the road. Only half that time is spent performing, the other half is spent holding workshops at universities and children's agencies.

To each performance she carries a bag of small portable instruments, including maracas, clave sticks, castenets and harmonicas.

"Saturday Fun for Kids" series also includes an April 3 presentation of "Hansel and Gretel" by the International Puppet Place.

Here are some other children's events in the area.

By Isabelle Johnston Smith Special Writer

A near-capacity audience of over 350 hardy souls braved snow, sleet and cold Sunday, Feb. 21, to witness the American Artists Series world premier production of singer, composer, librettist Susan Botti's work-in-progress chamber "Wonderglass," at Kingsopera, wood Auditorium on the Cranbrook campus in Bloomfield

"Wonderglass" is based on the whimsical improvised stories gentle Oxford Don Charles Dodgson (Lewis Carroll) related to the three children of his Dean (among them his favorite, Alice) to while away their lazy weekend afternoons picnicking on the banks of the Thames River in the 1860s. However, Botti's 20th century evocations of the "Queen of Hearts," the "Mad Hatter," "March Hare," "Mock Turtle," the "Ugly Duchess" and Cook rely more on sharp wit and biting satire — and musical references to jazz, show tunes, choral reading, recitative, scat, folk and ethnic idioms.

Full of dissonances, minor keys, unresolved chords, atonalities complicated rhythms harmonic 4th and 7ths, and sudden strong, dramatic shifts in scale, dynamics and tempi, this is a semphisticated, but fairly melodic-wonderland, indeed.

When 9-year-old Carly Baruh's "Alice" asks — "would you tell me please where I ought to go from here? and the Chesire Cat answers — "that depends a good deal on where you want to get,' Botti is summing up her concept for "Wonderglass" — a concept which explores the boundaries of the 20th century imagination using Lewis' 19th century characters and dialogue as vehicles.

What results is a work full of irony, wit, humor and (some-times) tenderness. Notable among the songs are: "Which Way?," "How I Love to Play Croquet," "Soup, Beautiful Soup," "The Mad Duchess' Aria," "Off with their Heads," "The Jabberwock," and the folk tune-like conclusion "The Old Man at the Gate." Albeit most of these and Gate." Albeit most of these are not immediately "hummable."

The two short films of Dodg son's (Carroll's) 19th century photos by California filmmake Phil Denslow, which were used as a prologue and near the end, alsd added immeasurably to the production.

As the narrator intoned at the conclusion — "Mark this day with a white stone!" and a red letter! And bravos! This was, in fact, a "brillig" afternoon.

Isabelle Johnston Smith of Birmingham, a former professional singer, serves on the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Hall Volunteer! Council Board of directors, and on the boards of other area arts organizations.

fore gauging an impact.

But he had a preliminary thought.

Cutting payments to providers in order to save money certainly is a strategy, but it will work only if the demand for services is like-wise controlled," Killian said. "As long as we address reducing payments without addressing demand, it will only lead to more escalation.

money to run their business they make commercial or consumer loans at higher interest rates.

By contrast, "equity assets' imply ownership of an asset. One can own many things that can increase in value: real estate, pieces of companies (stocks), a personal business, gold. The hope and expectation are that the asset will go up in value, but it may also go down. With equity investments, there are no guarantees.

The distinction is important. In general, the equity assets provide significantly greater long-term rates of return but at the expense. of short-term stability. The debtbased assets are more stable but at the expense of average returns.

Table I shows the long-term rates of return of specific debtbased and equity-based assets. The difference between the two categories is substantial. For example, over a 15-year-period, the 5-percent bond rate would double your money; the 10-percent rate provided historically by stocks would result in a quadrupling of your money. The difference becomes even more dramatic over longer time periods.

Everybody should have assets in both categories; some in the debt-based area and some in the equity-based assets. The single most important question in asset allocation is the balance between the two tors such as retirees should have a greater proportion of assets in the debt-based area for greater stability. But they should still retain some equity assets to provide for growth and inflation protec-

Those who are accumulating money for a number of years to achieve a long-term goal should have the majority of their money is equity assets. But even the most aggressive investor should have an emergency reserve and some other debt-based assets to balance the portfolio.

The percentage of assets in these two areas will shift over time. For example, a couple in their 30s and 40s may have 70 percent of their assets in the equity-based area for more rapid growth. As they move through their 50s, they might choose a good time to liquidate some of the equity assets to lock in past profits. By the time they reach 60, they might have perhaps one-half of their assets in the debt-based and one-half in equity-based assets. As they move toward retirement at 65, they might further re-

Business braces for Clinton's specifics

■ It's apprehension on the part of some, anticipation on the part of other business owners and managers as they gauge their economic future.

By Doug Funke Staff Writer

Some businesses would appear to fare better than others when it comes to applying President Bill Clinton's proposed economic recovery plan.

Apparent winners include building contractors and community colleges. Potential losers include defense contractors and hospitals.

But appearances can sometimes be deceiving. Expectations can be buoyed or dashed depending on how the details eventually shake out, business leaders said. They responded to the following Clinton excerpts:

We must create a new unified worker training system, so that workers receive training regardless of why they lost their jobs," Clinton said in his economic address. "We will offer people on welfare the education, training . . . they need to get back on their Bullding boost: Mason Kevin Buford is hoping President Bill Clinton's call for increased spending in construction will materialize in added jobs for his company.

PRESIDENT'S Impact on business

"We train people who are laid off or economically disadvantaged," May "Our programs were basically filled. We have a waiting list, but it isn't a big list."

The Pontiac Center trains about 250 people annually in such areas as heating and cooling technology, machine tool technology and business information systems.

'We now try to do training to specific employers," Sweet said. "We're canvassing all employers in our district with more than 25 employees to see what their needs are over the next five years.

"We have two job developers and their job is to meet with businesses to see what kinds of jobs they have available," May said. "We train them, then it's incumbent on the employer to employ them."

"To create jobs and guarantee a strong recovery, I call on Congress to enact an immediate jobs package of over $30 billion. We will put people to work right now and create half a million jobs, jobs that will rebuild our highways and airports, renovate hous-

There's a wide-range of opinion on what this proposal will mean locally. Drop in the bucket?

"I don't see the proposals the president made will make a tremendous impact on the building trades," said Fred Capaldi, a Rochester residential builder and president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michi-

His reasoning - if it cost upwards of $20 million just to put in water and sewer lines for the redeveloped Victoria Park Subdivision in Detroit, how far will the money go?

"The amount of money needed to be spent in the inner cities would be a tremendous amount," Capaldi said. "I don't know if the federal government is up to that."

Joe Malloure, president of C.A. Hull, a Walled Lake contractor and president of the Michigan Road Builders Association, projects that Michigan will receive only $76 million under Clinton's plan.

"You're not going to see the state all torn up over $76 million," he said.

Balance key in asset allocation

Second of three parts

By Daniel Boyce and ALAN FERRARA SPECIAL WRITERS

Last week we discussed the importance of maintaining adequate liquidity (accessibility) and diversifying investments into several different categories. Before we proceed with the discussion of asset allocation, it is important to define the categories among which investments can be allocated.

A broad distinction must first be made between interest-bearing assets (debt-based assets) and ownership assets (equity assets). Within the two broad categories, there are several sub-categories. The debt-based assets contain three sub-categories: cash equivalents, guaranteed contracts and bonds. Equity-based assets include the sub-categories of stocks, real estate, tangibles and other. Some definitions of each:

■ Cash equivalents: Interestbearing assets with ready accessibility. They include savings accounts, money market funds, Treasury bills, short-term savings goals, and for defensive investing when nothing else looks attrac-

■ Guaranteed contracts: Higher interest rates, but with some restriction on accessibility. They include retirement plan and 401(k) plan guaranteed accounts, deferred annuities, and long-term certificates of deposit. These assets provide moderate rates of return and provide an anchor to any portfolio. They never decline in value. Frequently, tax deferral is an added benefit of investments in this category

■ Bonds: A fixed interest rate is locked in for a long period of time. They include assets such as municipal bonds, treasury notes and bonds, and bond mutual funds. They primarily are held for steady income. Bonds may be liquidated prior to maturity by selling the ands to snother sale price may be higher or lower than the original purchase price (prices will tend to vary with interest rate moves).

■ Stocks: Represents ownership in companies. They include stock options, stock mutual funds and foreign stocks. These offer growth and liquidity but will have significantly greater fluctuations in value in the short term. As a result, the investment time horizon should ideally be five years or longer, though they may be sold sooner if conditions change.

■ Investment real estate: includes investment property, partnerships, real estate investment trusts but does not include personal residence. Real estate is an illiquid asset that typically provides some income along with potential appreciation (growth).

■ Tangibles: These assets tend to do well in inflationary times, but they can be highly volatile. They include precious metals and collectibles (coins, stamps, oriental carpets, artwork). They tend to increase in value when bonds and stocks are not performing well and can therefore help stabilize a portfolio.

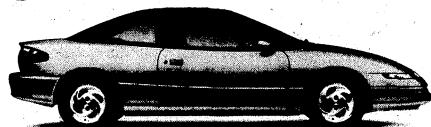

Other: Includes private businesses and exotic investments. This is a catch-all category and is always optional in a portfolio.

Next we'll examine a useful framework for our asset allocation model. It is helpful to divide a portfolio into the debt-based assets and the equity assets. Interest bearing assets are debt-based because the money is in effect being loaned to various organizations — the bank (savings or CDs), the U.S. government (Treasury bills or bonds), a corporation (corporate bonds) or other entity. The borrowing organization then uses this money to maintain a business or other equity asset.

For example, when you open a savings account, you are lending your money to the bank. In return, the bank agrees to pay you a specified rate of interest for the use of your money. They use your

What you do keeps parents coming back

What keeps parents coming?

That's a subject I addressed in an article published by the National Association for the Education of Young Children in May 1992. And what was said then is still applicable today.

The first thing that keeps parents coming back is being reliable. Parents need a provider who is dependable. This means you should:

(1) Do what you say you're going to do; (2) Do it when you say you will;

(3) Do what it takes to organize before it's time to open your doors to the families.

But there's more. You also have to be credible. Quality is worth paying for if parents have peace of mined knowing you provide a viable, productive and safe program in a peaceful, loving environ-

Parents and children can sense sincerity and readily draw conclusions about you as a professional person and your business program. When parents chose to use your services, it is most likely that they are choosing you the person rather than your big slide, although the equipment is very im-

A new start?

Family programs gladly 'heed' the call

The call to action was issued in President Bill Clinton's State of the Union address. Programs like Head. Start and Women, Infants and Children are on his list for increased funding, much to the delight of those who administer the programs.

BY DOUG FUNKE and CASEY HANS STAFF WRITERS

President Clinton's call for expanding the Women, Infants and Children's (WIC) nutrition program and reaching more children in the Head Start preschool program drew praise from caregivers involved at the local level.

While they weren't sure of exactly what direction the "improvements" would take, they see a need for more involvement.

Some 7,100 WIC clients are currently served in Wayne County communities outside of Detroit, said Carrie Nelms, county WIC coordinator.

Pregnant and nursing women plus children under 5 years of age at medical or nutritional risk now receive food coupons to supplement their diets.

"We think we could serve another

1,000 people — but that would mean an additional allocation of federal money," Nelms said. "We are overal-tional money. We never turn anyone away, but it may take time to get an appointment." The food coupons, exchanged at area markets, average about $50 monthly per person who qualifies and are administered through the county health departments.

Even communities perceived as affluent are touched.

'I'm not surprised," Nelms said of the WIC needs in wealthy Wayne communities like Plymouth Township, Canton and Livonia. "Health needs of people span the whole geographic area.

Specific numbers weren't available by community.

Nelms, a 15-year veteran of WIC. notes the program's results.

We've seen babies born to moms on the WIC program with (appropriate) birth weight increases, and we've seen children with iron deficiency anemia decline."

The out-Wayne County Head Start program currently serves about 2,800 children outside of the city of Detroit, said Patricia Horne-McGee, associate director. Head Start includes education, immunization and nutrition services for children in underprivileged families.

Sometimes, there is a waiting list at the beginning of the school year, but children on that list usually eventually are admitted due to family moves and other dropouts, she said.

Programs in all areas

"We tell people we have participants in Dearborn and Livonia, and people around the state say, 'Not really?' Yes, there are pockets of poor within all of our cities.

Horne-McGee and her staff are in the process of assessing needs to possibly expand Head Start to several school districts that don't have it currently - Crestwood, Southgate and Allen Park — and measuring whether those that do are fully covered.

"Head Start impacts on the family. It changes direction on self-sufficiency and moving toward self-sufficiency," Horne-McGee said.

Expanding the program will carry a higher cost to local communities that are expected to provide 20 percent of the budget, Horne-McGee said. Most provide in-kind services like classroom space, she said.

Tax help

In another area mentioned by the president, the working poor would stand to benefit from Clinton's call to expand the earned income tax credit. The figure being bandied about raising the ceiling from the current $22,370 to $30,000.

"Definitely more people would be eligible and I'm going to make an assumption dollars would increase as well," said Elcy Maccani, public affairs specialist in the Detroit IRS off-

Growth Works mends families' fractured lives

By James Radebaugh Staff Writer

Fractured families, materialism and a hectic pace of life are taking a toll on the young people. So say several adults who were honored this month by Growth Works Inc. for their efforts on behalf of troubled teens. "I think the pressures are getting worse, I don't know why," said Rita Lowenstein, who volunteers as a mentor for teens involved with Growth

tein and her husband Glenn got in-Lower volved with Growth Works five years ago when their son got into trouble with drugs and alcohol. Though she's completing requirements for a law degree and Glenn is a top-level business executive, they've found time to give back to an organization that helped when their family was in crisis.

Each week, Lowenstein meets for an hour with a young person enrolled in Growth Work's Youth Assistance program. She's there to listen, to bolster self-esteem and to guide the young person toward more responsible behavior. The program is for first-time offenders who are sent to Growth Works as an alternative to the courts. Some, but not all, are chemically dependent.

Lowenstein believes the pressures of early sex, drug use, the need to wear the right clothes and old-fashioned pressures such as school work have combined to make being a teen tougher today than

Jim Young, who, like the Lowensteins, is a Canton resident, also is a Youth Assistance mentor. He says too much comes too easily to young people today, while at the same time kids have less and less contact with adults.

'Kids are really like on an island more than at any time in the history of man," he said.

Nic Cooper, a counselor in the Plymouth-Canton Schools, blames advertising for bombarding kids with the message that drinking provides all the things adolescents want: friends, good times, acceptance. He said that use of alcohol and mari'Kids are really like on an island more than at any time in the history of man.'

juana are as strong as ever among teens and that use of inhalants is growing

Like others, Cooper thinks the Just Say No push of the past 12 years has been largely ineffective in steering young people away from drugs. Cooper said that while the Just Say No message is as fine as far as it goes, it is a simplistic solution to a complex problem. What's needed, he said, are programs that identify and treat young people with chemical dependencies.

Cooper, in conjunction with Growth Works, ran such a program from 1977-87 for the Plymouth-Canton Schools. The program, Learning Options, was discontinued in a cost-cutting effort.

"That's the kind of thing that was lost during the Reagan years," he said.
"We find ourselves with fewer options, and that's kind of sad."

Growth Works, located in Plymouth, provides children and adults with a variety of services ranging from drug counseling to job placement. The non-profit organization was founded in 1971 and now employs seven full-time staff members and nearly 50 volunteers. It receives funding from United Way, local governments and its own fund-

Cooper, Young and the Lowensteins were honored earlier this month at Growth Works' annual award dinner. Carol Haas and Madelon Hudson were also honored. Haas is a nurse in the Wayne-Westland Schools and a two-year Growth Works volunteer. Hudson, a Plymouth resident, serves one day a week as a volunteer secretary.

Club observes milestone with a century of service

By James Radebaugh Staff Writer

One way of tracking some of the not-necessarily-quaint developments in American history is to take a look at the Woman's Club of Plymouth. The club, which celebrates its 100th anniver-sary March 4, has been through some of the thick of it. Club members aided the push for Prohibition and for women's suffrage, they helped out during two world wars, and, on a local note, they helped build the Plymouth Library and develop Kellogg Park.

Today's writer is a gregarious woman who enjoys people from all walks of life. Her restless nature requires constant variety in her activities. Her interests are often short and fleeting. She is not above a little social climbing to mix with people who have special appeal for her.

This is an independent person, one to whom freedom is paramount. A routine existence holds little attraction for her.

When she wrote this letter to me she was very busy. She has so many irons in the fire that her energies are being scattered. She might find it helpful to sort out ner priorities and extricate herself om some of this involvement.

This is a person of intelligence and refinement. Seemingly she thinks of herself as being somewhat different, possibly marching to a different drummer. At times she may also feel that she is in possession of special insights.

She comprehends quickly and can take a direct route to problem solving. She is able to cut away unnecessary steps and move right to the heart of a problem. Creativity is freely expressed. A good memory is another asset.

Heavy pressure suggests her purposeful drive. However, her fleeting interest in so many things may interfere with her concentration on a prolonged endeavor. On the job, she wants good equipment to facilitate her work.

She is not reluctant to take a risk to get what she wants from life. Material interests are strong. doubt if we'll ever hear her say, "but this is the way we have always done things."

Sensitivity rides on the loops of her small T's and D's. Often she anticipates criticism when none is intended. She enjoys praise.

Her inflated lower loops suggest many things . . . fantasy and vivid imagination are among them. Other interpretations are incorporated throughout the analysis. She tends to distort what she sees and hears without realizing it. This prevents her from basing her judgments solely on facts.

En their head writing tables in appearance. U I now that we letties wint upude - down of meter has oney I men the your -1 freez? It is the same in other worry, him appose hand withing their ges as we age and

She is somewhat self-involved. Currently something is causing her to entertain negative thoughts that verge on depression. Without samples of handwriting done at other times. I cannot be certain if this is temporary or not. With her love of nature, physical exercise out in the beauty of nature could go a long way toward lifting her spirits.

Although emotional by nature, she keeps her feelings somewhat controlled in social interaction.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful. Objective feedback is always welcome. Time does not allow Lorene Green to mail out personal replies.

"We rarely track proposals," Maccani added. "This is Bill Clinton talking. It's still going through Ways and Means and Senate Finance (committees). It's subject to the normal battering.'

The maximum credit this year is $2,151 for one child, $2,211 for two or more.

A credit is better than a deduc-tion because it's a direct offset of tax due

Some 359,000 families in Michigan received earned income benefits totalling $273.4 million in the 1991 filing year, Maccani said.

We estimate in the state of Michigan, that 50,000 more families could be eligible (now) for the credit, but they're not aware of it

"The credit is available to anyone filing joint, head of household or single as long as you had a job and earned income and had a child live with you at least half a Maccani said.

'It's aimed at lower-income families with children. It's designed to help them out and put more money in their pockets.

"I don't think we've ever seen a rofile. I believe there would be a lot of single parents and a lot of families. This is just a personal opinion, with the large number of single families in the country

Classes available for lupus patients

The Michigan Lupus Foundation will offer a five-week patient education series about the disease, beginning Thursday, March 4.

The workshops are designed for lupus patients, their families and friends. It will be at 7:30-9:15 p.m. Thursdays at St. Alfred Parish, 9500 Banner, Taylor.

Dr. Luis Torregrosa, a rheumatologist will be the physician speaker. He will discuss diagnostic tests, treatment, variables of lupus and selfmonitoring.

Other speakers will be Virginia Ladd, discussing what lupus is, and Peg O'Flynn, who will lead discussions on the emotional reactions to chronic illness, with suggestions on how the patient and family can

All material will be presented in easy-to-understand terms.

Lupus is a chronic, inflammatory autoimmune disease in which the body's defense system that is meant to protect malfunctions produces antibodies directed at the body. The cause and cure are currently not known.

The symptoms include joint pain, low-grade fever, chest pain, unusual swelling and sometimes a sun-sensitive Advance registration is required and can be completed by contacting the Michigan Lupus Foundation at 26202 Harper Ave., St. Clair Shores 48081, or by calling 775-8330.

You also need to be attractive. Appearance may be deceiving, but many times people draw a lot of conclusions about you and the quality of services that will be offered on the basis of what they see. Anything the parents and children can see, feel, touch, hear and even smell concerning the physical environment can shape

Put your best foot forward and make a special effort to present a first class image — not only in the physical environment but yourself as well. It's not at frivolous expense, it's an investment. What can you lose? Hopefully not a potential customer.

As a provider you also have to be responsive. To be responsive is to be accessible, available to the children as well as to the parents. Take care of minor concerns or complaints before they get out of hand. Be available at designated times to discuss various issues with parents. Don't be too busy to listen or be "tuned in" to certain situations.

To be responsive also means having the ability to know when to and how to act upon a certain issue in a timely manner.

Be empathetic. Everyone wants to feel special. Each family has its own unique personality and needs. That's what makes a family day care home truly wonderful. Why? Because each family represents a branch on your family day care business tree.

So be patient with the families and empathetic. Treat each family as a special part of the tree.

Help accommodate their various needs as much as possible. Try to put yourself in their shoes and experience their points of view.

After all be happy. You chose them . . . they chose you.

Family gathering: When Estelle Tucker, 94, of Livonia gathered with her family for the holidays, it was a celebration of note. On hand was her son, Richard C. Tucker. 68, of Westland, her granddaughter Carol Heldt, 45, of Grand Rapids, her great-grandson Lawrence Brennan, 27, of Omaha, Neb., and her great, greatgranddaughter Micalah, age four months.

Kast and Hodak star at Northville Town Hall series

Tickets are still available for the remaining two lectures of the Northville Town Hall Series, now in its 32nd season.

The series is held at the Holiday Inn-West, 17123 N. Laurel Park Drive, Livonia. The Monday, March 8, guest speaker will ABC News correspondent Shielah Kast, while local TV notable Jerry Hodak will be the Monday, April 12, guest speaker.

Kast has covered a wide range of beats for ABC News, moving to Congressional beat in 1989 after a four-year White House stint.

A former financial reporter with the Washington Star, she authored a book, "Cut Your Own Taxes," a how-to-book covering the 1981 and '82 tax law changes. A native of Indianapolis, Ind., she is a graduate of the Catholic University of America and attended the Catholic University Law Hodak is a veteran reporter and weathercaster. A local Emmy Non-Profit Homes Association P.O. Box 93, Northville 48167.

Award for his series on Medicare costs, a special mention award for his medical story on a cancer pump and a 1983 public service award from the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

A graduate of Wayne State University, he got his start at WDET-FM on campus. He joined WXYZ-TV in 1977 and moved to WJBK-TV in 1992.

Proceeds from the series benefits charities in Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Livonia and South Lyons through the organization's Board of Awards.

The 1993-94 Town Hall series lineup will be announced and tickets will go on sale at the April gathering. In addition to the Town Hall lectures, there are luncheons at noon at the Holiday Inn available for season ticketholders.

Most assume that the word "world" in this verse necessarily means: "the entire human race." However, the Bible often uses the word "world" to refer to a specific group of men within the human race. Note these verses: Luke 2:1; John 12:19; John 15:19. The "world" of men that God loved were those that God chose and gave to Christ for salvation (Eph 1:3-5; John 5:39).

Ministry offers wives of non-Christians 'promise

By Sue Mason Stafe Writer

Eleanore Oosterveen can remember when she "felt lonesome in the crowd." A born-again Christian, she wanted to participate in church activities but found herself feeling "left out" because activi-ties were geared for families, senior citizens or youth.

She had a family, but here was different. She practiced her faith without her husband, a non-Christian.

That was then. Now she doesn't feel so alone. She has Wives of Promise, a ministry for women married to non-Christian men or men belonging to different religious denominations.

Oosterveen is the founder of Wives of Promise. She started in 1980 after a lot of prayer and arguing with God.

I wanted to be a part of church activities; I wanted to feel like I belonged," she said. "I prayed about it for a long time and felt that God talked to me, telling me to do something. I argued with God for three months before I decided to do

Wives of Promise got its start at the Zion Evangelist Temple in Clawson and the group met there for 12 years. Two years ago, "when the Lord spoke to us," Wives of Promise incorporated as a nonprofit group.

The change is an indication, according to Oosterveen, that the group isn't a ministry of a particular church.

Word of mouth

By word of mouth and small blurbs on the radio and in newspapers, the ministry has slowly grown in size. Women come from throughout the tri-county area; Livonia, Farmington and St. Clair Shores are among the cities represented. They also come from as far away as Flint to participate.

There isn't an official membership, although 94 women showed up for Wives of Promise's Christmas lunch. Other meetings may have 16-30 women in attendance; more tend to turn out when there's a lunch, Oosterveen said.

"Because of the nature of the ministry, husbands may object," she said. "There's such a need. When I'm in church, I see how many women are there and they're there alone. I understand their need to share their faith."

Those attending have discovered that Wives of Promise is more than a social event. The meetings include a service with songs of praise and worship, as well as a guest speaker and fellowship.

"I feel it's important for women to get to know one another," Oosterveen said. This isn't a place to come and have a pity party; it's a place to come to bond.

Wives of Promise meets twice a month - at 9:30 a.m. the first Monday of the month and 7 p.m. the third Monday. Meetings generally run three hours, sometimes longer because "the women want to stay and talk." There is a different topic and different speaker at each meeting and offerings are accepted to support the ministry.

This is strictly supported by people who share one vision," Oosterveen said. 'We're dedicated to have the marriage restored and the marriage held together."

Hard adjustment

Oosterveen's husband was an agnostic at the time she founded Wives of Promise. While he has yet to commit. himself to God, she knows he now believes there's a God and that one day he will join in her faith. She has also encountered women married to Islamic men, as well as Buddhists or Shintoists. The differences are a hard adjustment, she said.

"So often we look at ourselves and see we're with Christ and understand God, so why can't they be with Christ and understand God," she said. "We try to have the women see the men's point of view.

"Quite often women don't understand where men are coming from; it's because she has changed and given herself to God. He wants to know what's happened to his fun partner.'

Members are encouraged not to get angry with their husbands when they don't understand, rather consider where their husbands are at. The Lord, she tells the women, "wants us to live in peace."
"We want them to understand and reach out and take the grace God gives us to have the best marriage we can have," she said. "We have to trust totally in God and his wisdom and his understanding of our situation.

Wives of Promise continues to meet at Zion Evangelistic Temple, 700 Elmwood, between 14 Mile and 15 Mile, west of Rochester Road, but Oosterveen has dreams of establishing chapters throughout the metro area and beyond, making Wives of Promise an international ministry.

The need is so great for these women to find peace, joy and fellowship," she Positive labels can shape person's sense of self-worth

REV. KATE THORESEN

The kids bounced through the This is a crucial moral issue becity youth club met. They had just the fourth and graders told the teachers all about their good grades.

But one fourth grader silently stormed into the excited setting. His gray woolen hat was pulled over his forehead almost to his eyebrows. His lower lip stuck out as his chin was set in anger. He kept his coat on and sat with a thud at the tables. He was mad.

One of the helpers sat next to him. Fortunately, he was still young enough that he would accept a hug and let the helper sit close to him. Pretty soon the bottom lip started to quiver and tears welled up.

'You wanna tell me what's happening?" the helper gently asked. He nodded. Then the words tumbled out.

"Everybody ALWAYs gets better grades than me! Sometimes they even call me a dummy.

The teacher let the impact of his hurt feelings and bruised ego affect her. She tried to imagine how she would feel in such a situation and remembered the positive effect of encouraging and comforting words that others shared with her in similar circumstances. Then a thought occurred and she said to her young friend, "Hey, in God's sight you are ALWAYS

The issue here is not to question our grading system. It is important. We need to have measures of excellence and to recognize achievement in education. Most of us would agree on that. The question here has to do with the budding self-concept of chil-

How can we intentionally foster positive feelings of self-worth in a variety of settings? This is a crucial moral issue because of the relationship between violent actions and low regard of the worth of oneself or of others. Would teenagers kill another kid just for a $400 jacket if they carried within themselves positive, affirming images of their own unique importance - and the unique importance of other individuals?

Human life has become cheap in the minds of many discouraged youth and adults.

Consider the worth of every human being. For a while scientists stated that if you extracted all the chemical elements of the human body and sold them, they would bring around 98 cents on the mar-But new discoveries have taken place. Scientist have found that the body contains rare elements like gotten their report cards. Proudly, violent actions and low regard of the wonder drug interferon which is worth several thousands of dollars an ounce. They have also estimated that there is enough atomic power in every pound of our body to create 11 million kilowatts of energy! The average person, therefore, really has the chemical and atomic worth of some $58 billion give or take our current market! When you look in the mirror in the morning, do you see this incredible $58 billion wonder? Most of us don't. But what would happen if we did start to view ourselves with this kind of intrinsic worth? And what would our attitudes be toward other human beings, if we saw them as unique one-of-akind billion dollar designs?

And, if the human body is worth this much, how much more is the treasure housed in the body that the human soul and spirit that is ALWAYS Aplus in God's sight?

It is imperative for the health of the children in metropolitan Detroit that caring adults guard their dignity and basic sense of self-worth. They can do this through one-on-one interaction, positive reinforcement, avoiding demeaning labels.

Teach children to value themselves and others for their own unique abilities. Share affirmations for excellence achieved, but also encouragement for good solid efforts that may not measure up to others. Foster a sense of self-acceptance. One does not have to be gifted in all areas, nor interested or involved in all activities in order to be a person worthy of respect.

It is a good preventive medicine and a safeguard for the growing well-being of a city. This basic foundation that shapes a person's sense of self-worth may deter acts of violence and aggression and inhumane treatment of others later on in life.

Some labels can harm. But positive labels can heal and encourage us to soar to new heights and to care for the well being of others. After all, we are $58 billion works of art by a Creator who shapes our spirits for a unique destiny here and now!

Prayer the '90s way means the rosary on cassette tape

The ancient Catholic tradition of praying the rosary has met the age of consumer technology.

A foursome of Michigan Catholics has produced a cassette tape that mixes recitations of the resary with traditional and contemporary music.

"The Joyful Mysteries in Meditation and Song" is meant to help Catholics keep their place while repeating the prayers, said Bill Gildenstern, one of the producers. It also offers opportunities to meditate during moments of inspiration-came up with the idea while commuting between Detroit and his home in Saginaw, he said in a press release. He took comfort in saying the rosary during the long drive but found that he kept getting lost (in the prayers, not on the road).

"I thought, wouldn't it be neat if I had a tape to keep me on track," he said.

The cassette includes renditions of the traditional pieces "Ave Maria" and "The Nativity" and original compositions by Gildenstern and his partner, John Giaier. Their aim is to appeal to the young Def Leppard fan as much as to the 75-yearold Sinatra fan.

How well they succeeded is a matter of taste, although the quality of the recording and the musicianship is more than respectable.

Gildenstern, formerly an owner of an advertising agency, and Giaier, a Troy resident who writes advertising jingles for auto dealerships, were joined in the project by their respective wives, Kelly and Debra.

During the last couple weeks there has been a young raccoon at the bird feeders of the Independence Oaks Nature Center where I work. Raccoons, skunks and opossum do not hibernate like some winter residents, but they do remain dormant during most of the winter. When temperatures rise and the sun shines, it's not unusual to see one of these animals roaming the neighborhood in search of food.

Last fall, the animals ate extra amounts of food to add fat, which is what they use as a source of energy during their winter dormancy. If the animal has a chance during warm winter days to add to that fall fat reserve, they will take the opportunity. As the winter progresses the fat reserve is depleted and any opportunity to supplement that dwindling reserve is welcomed.

In the case of the young raccoon coming to the feeders, I suspect it never really developed an adequate fall fat reserve. This raccoon was probably orphaned last summer when its mother died of distemper. Oakland County has seen a high incidence of this disease during the last two years.

When the mother died, the young were left to fend for themselves. Those young that learned to avoid the fox and stray dog survived, if they knew what to eat and could find enough of it. I suspect that this young raccoon did not find enough food to put on a good fat reserve, but it should feel lucky to be alive.

It's possible the young raccoon did put on an average amount of fat to see it through winter, but because the mother died and other litter mates died, it would not have had any companions to huddle with in a tree hollow.

You May Not Be

Getting Any Younger.

But It's Easy

10 Feel Like

You Are.

Without any companions to share body heat, the young raccoon lost more heat and thus had to use more fat energy to stay alive.

Depleting the fat supply before spring can cause the animal to search for food during winter when other hungry predators are also searching for food. Hibernating animals that do not have enough fat may not survive either heir show is judged, not juried. "We don't eliminate anyone," said Livonia artist Yvette Goldberg, co-chairing Livonia Artists Club's spring fine art show and sale in April at the Livonia Civic Center Library. "Our club is a little more relaxed than some of the others. What our judge does is award prizes.'

BOB SKLAR

Livonia Artists Club to show member work

The 32nd annual event will run 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 3-4, in the Atrium of the library, Farmington Road and Five Mile. The mixed media show averages 125 framed pieces plus some unframed works.

The 47-member club will showcase the best of its membership. Framed artwork will be done in oil, watercolor, pastel, acrylic, collage, monoprint, pencil, and pen and ink. Prices will range from $100 to $600. The club keeps 10 percent of each Unframed works, some selling for less than $100, will be set up in the Michigan Room just off the Atrium. Free refreshments will be served in that room.

'There's no dominant theme," said Farmington Hills artist Lorraine Whitacre, club president. You'll find portraits, landscapes, florals, still life and abstracts at the show. We've got a nice variety of artistic styles.

The judge, Oak Park artist Rhea Schaefer, will award Best of Show, first, second and third place and a few honorable mentions. Cash prizes will range from $10 for honorable mention to $50 for Best of Show.

Schaefer also will present the Grumbacher Award for best use of color. The winner earns an engraved award.

Schaefer, a Chicago Academy of Fine Arts graduate, teaches drawing and watercolor. She works in a variety of media, including egg tempera on canvas. She does portrait commissions, graphic design and photography.

Varied skill levels

Livonia Artists Club members range from professional to beginner. They come from around Observerland. Many belong to the Visual Arts Association of Livonia or the Farmington Artists Club. Camaraderie, inspiration, reinforcement and criticism make up their collective palette.

The club meets at 7:30 p.m. the third Monday of each month in the Livonia Civic Center Library.

Dues are $15 a year. Meetings typically include a group critique, a guest demonstrator or an instructional video. The informal sessions are a great way to overcome insecurity or uncertainty. Credentials aren't what's important: desire is.

"We're a real friendly group," Whitacre said.
"We learn from each other — discussing ideas, sharing experiences. We talk about new paints, new colors, new techniques and new classes in an atmosphere of mutual support and mutual criti-

"The contacts you make with other artists you just can't make when working in your studio alone," said Redford Township artist Ruthann Platt, co-chairing the show with Goldberg. "It's just good to get together to mingle and talk over what we do and where to show.'

'Real dedication to art'

Livonia artist Al Weber brushes abstract elements into his realistic watercolors of classic cars, live models, flowers, landscapes and animals. His work has appeared in shows or galleries interna-tionally as well as locally. Five Weber watercolors are on exhibit in the IRS Data Center in Detroit.

A Livonia Artists Club group critique leader, Weber says "we stay in this club and keep it going because it's a small group. It's less formal, less concerned about rules, yet the quality of the work is pretty good. Some members exhibit nationally. We have a good interchange of ideas. There's a real dedication to art."

Whitacre also creates abstract art but "right now," she said, "I'm on a kick of modern realistic tropical flowers. My son lives in Hawaii and he sends me flowers, so I paint them."

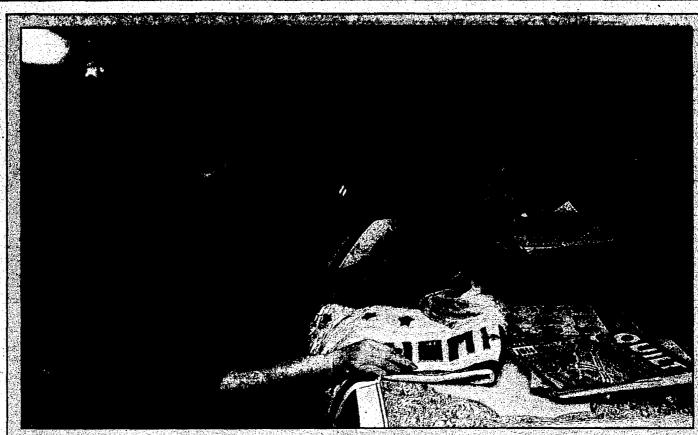

Goldberg works in collage and watercolor. For her, the club provides an escape. "I get to be with artist friends, which gives another dimension to my life. We're always learning from and encouraging one another. I work full-time and can't take formal art classes."

Platt paints floral gardens in watercolor. "I do drawings based on actual flowers, then pull a garden setting from my imagination."

One painting she'll have in the spring show is a large (18- by 23-inch) closeup of a rose she's doing as part of a three-piece commission. "A large closeup is kind of unusual for me. I usually do a garden scene with many flowers. So this is a de-

For Platt, art is something she feels she has to do. "It's a mental thing. Just the act of mixing paint, applying it to water and seeing what hap-pens on paper is always a surprise. Watercolor runs and drips on its own. It's never the same twice. It's kind of an adventure."

The handiwork of Livonia's Kathleen Mayo made the pages of "Blue Ribbon Quilt" magazine and earned an honorable mention in a nationwide quilting contest. For Mayo, the challenge is creating the design.

Mayo's family ever got a look at her handmade quilts until recently. Her latest one, a Victorian design of children's silhouettes, can be seen in the current issue of "Blue Ribbon Quilt," an annual magazine that announces the winners of Quilter's Challenge,

More comfortable quilting than talking about her work, Mayo of Livonia says, "I'm thrilled the judges liked my design," which earned $200, an honorable mention and a five-page spread in the magazine.

This entry was different because of the silhouette design," said Sandra Hatch, editor of "Blue Ribbon" Quilts" and a contest judge. "Some-times, we find new designers through the contest and often the people we recognize are encouraged enough to send us more of their work. But the fun of the competition is recognizing people whose work sometimes isn't seen by others."

This year, more than 300 crafters entered Quilter's Challenge, which is sponsored by three quilt maga-zines. The contest's theme was optional, but quilters were required to submit an original design using at least two fabrics contained in the contest kit and no more than two of their own choice. Points were awarded for design, workmanship and use of fabric.

From start to finish, Mayo spent about 200 hours designing her win-ning pattern, deciding how to use the contest fabrics with her own choices and making the 30- by 33inch appliqued block, which required hand and machine stitching.

Her entry, called "Sharing Victo-ria Elizabeth," shows the full silhouettes of two girls in ruffled dresses sharing a doll. From the kit, Mayo used a green print and mauve stripe for background, a black floral print for ribbon garland and a peach check for bows. Her own fabric choices included a small black print for the girls, solid pink for background and rose backing. She finished the piece with a black selfmade binding and flowers embroidered with gold metallic thread.

"I've never used black before, so when I opened the contest kit I thought, 'What'll I do?' "said Mayo, mother of five children, Age paintings primarily of animals have been incorrectly theorized as possessing magical and religious connotations.

"This was early cinema," he said in an interview at his Plymouth studio. "They invented cinema with the paintings coming alive in candlelight. The paintings were showing the way of life and what it meant to become an adult. This was (where) a group of children were brought in. We know this because we can see the foot- ductions from photographs, slides prints.

"They were meant to be an uplift, very positive and supporting, giving confidence to a new generation. With the glaciers, there was a challenge to gather food when their whole world was freezing over. With everything gray, they brought the colors to the walls and they brought that positive message to the walls.

Aimone rendered near-exact repro-

In the library's first-floor window display area, Observerland artists Susan Argiroff, Sharon Lee Dillenbeck, Julie Giordano, Carol Lynn McCreedy and Norma McQueen are showing watercolors, acrylics, oils, charcoals and marbling through Sunday as part of their "Women of Ar-' exhibit.

Library hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday and 1-4 p.m. Sunday.

M HOSPITAL BENEFIT

Hawthorn Center, a children's psychiatric hospital in Northville, will benefit from a juried craft show 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, in the Northville Community Center, 303 W. Main, one block west of Center (Sheldon) Road.

Hawthorn Center Association, a nonprofit group of past and present employees, will host the third annual show to aid emotionally impaired children and their families. Dealers will come from Michigan, Ohio and Canada.

Admission is $1.50 (seniors $1, children younger than 12 free). Proceeds will go into the association's general fund to support educational scholarships for needy children and educational programs in the area of child welfare and to help cover general hospital expenses.

Computer programs organize, compare properties

BY GERALD FRAWLEY STAFF WRITER

"It's definitely a plus," according to Diane Howard, assistant manager at Real Estate One in Plymouth. "I've gone on listings where I've had competition and won because of it.

"A lot of the advantage in it is how the information is put together," she said. "It is very professional looking, and the more professional you look, the better off you're going to be."

"It" is Real Estate One's new computer software designed to assist sellers, buyers and real estate

Called MarketPower, the new programs aimed at making the job of selling and buying a home easier, said senior vice president Stuart Elsea.

"This system is designed to help organize and compare properties.

The first component, Elsea said, is Sellmore."What we wanted to do is simplify (the process) and make it easier to understand," Elsea said.

One of the first responsibilities of the real estate agent is to establish an asking price for a home, he said, which begins with an analysis of similar properties and what they sold for.

'If you've ever looked at a multiple listing form (a main tool of real estate agent), you'll know what I'm talking about," he said. Sellmore produces a comparative property analysis in minutes, he said. "Instead of two hours, it's only 15 minutes for these."

In addition to simple price relations, the comparable market analysis includes graphs, selling and listing prices of similar sold properties, maps, examples of un-sold properties, and a graph on the expected days a house is likely to be on the market.

Other features include an analysis on price per square foot, a sales estimate of proceeds and costs, information on the importance of intelligent pricing and tips the real estate agent and seller can use to improve a house's chance for sale.

Selling a home is only half the job; someone has to buy it, Elsea said.

Anyone who's ever bought a home knows it can be overwhelming, he said.

ShowPro, the second component of MarketPower, helps the buyer to organize, he said. ShowPro begins with a property request profile filled out by the buyer listing basic wants, key amenities, financial profile and any financing comments, he said. The profile is used to develop a property list with an agent rating, a tour map, individual property analysis, and property analysis

Many features included in Sellmore are in ShowPro.

Finally, there is Easy Flyer, Elsea said. Easy Flyer is a computer program that generates sales fliers used by real estate agents so take after a home tour. "Some agents pay printers hundreds of dollars for fliers," he said. "This program lets them do it themselves.

lookers have something they can

Fliers, which include informstion like amenities, price, the real estate agent's name and other pertinent information, can be generated with formats provided by the program, or they can be done

Carol Yost, of Real Estate One in Troy, said MarketPower is a tremendous time saver. "I've been in this business for 20 years and I've never been more excited about a new program."

'With this, the consumer knows from day one the real facts he's dealing with," Yost said.

The computer program also gives much more detail than a typical agent is likely to, she said. "I typically include a cost per aquare foot analysis," she said, 'but a lot of other Realtors don't. This does it automatically.'

Condominum maintenance translates to quicker sales

ROBERT M MEISNER

I have read recently about difficulty in sellling condominiums in many locations. I believe that a good part of this is because board many members are not willing to spend the necessary funds to maintain the condominium project or to otherwise operate the condominium association. How do I get my board to see the light?

There are many in the condominium industry that share your view. The penuriousness on the part of association boards has created a situation where condominiums are not as saleable as single family homes. Much of this stems form the notion that directors are to save money at all costs as opposed to hiring the quality of personnel necessary to assist the board of directors in operating the affairs of the condominium.

Penny pinching in regard to the retention of first class professional management, competent and experienced lawyers, accountants and insurance consultants, it is argued, contributes to this malaise. Show this article to the board of directors and point out to them they are not doing their members or themselves a service by penny pinching.

Our condominium documents were drafted in the mid-'50s. They gave little latitude in regard to terminating the membership of a co-op member when he is in default. The cooperative has been reluctant to spend the money to make the changes. Any suggestions?

I can tell you from experience that it becomes inordinately more expensive for a cooperative to terminate the membership of a tenant member when he or she has violated the cooperative documents if the bylaws and proprietary lease are not explicit on the rights of the cooperataive association vis a vis the tenant. It would be much less expensive for the cooperative to have the remedies available in the documents than it would be to have to resort to extended litigation to resolve a problem. Urge your cooperative board members to retain counsel to come up with an up-todate set of cooperative docu-

BUILDING SCENE'S NAMES & PLACES

Bonadeo honored

Professional Builder & Remod eler magazine has named James Bonadeo winner of one of seven professional achievement awards for his involvement in setting De troit as a Homearama site. It was the first showcase of homes to take place in a major city.

With the opening of Victoria

Park on the near east side in June, Detroit saw its first new subdivision developed in some 30 Bonadeo years. The project quickly sold out. When completed, it will have 157 houses ranging in price from $80,000 to $145,000.

Bondaeo is president emeritus of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, Homearama's main sponsor, and president of the Plymouth building company that bears his name. He was chairman of the Detroit Homearama.

The magazine cited Standard Federal Bank, based in Troy, as another organization key to Victoria Park's success for making construction loans and assuming the end mortgages.

Theater development

Mike Ilitch Jr. will discuss the theater district development plan when he addresses ESD's Construction Activities Committee luncheon beginning at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, March 9, at the Rack-ham Memorial Building, Detroit.

Ilitch oversees the human resource center and works on special projects for Little Caesars.

Tickets are $22 for members, $25 for non-members. For information, call 832-5400.

ESD's construction committee was established to foster improvements in the construction industry. Members include design professionals, owners/users, contractors, suppliers and support service providers.

Landscape show

The sixth annual convention of the Metropolitan Detroit Landscape Association will take place March 17 and 18 at the Novi Expo Center, Novi

It will feature management programs, technical seminars, classroom instruction and pesticide applicator recertification preparation and testing. All education programs except testing are included in the admission price.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. March 17 and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 18. Pre-registration is $10 for members, $15 for non-members. For on-site registration, add $5. For information, call 646-4992.

Expansion by DeMattia

A July completion date is scheduled for the 92,000-square-foot expansion of Shuert Industries by R.A. DeMattia, Plymouth.

Shuert is a thermal-former manufacturer of plastics in Sterling Heights. DeMattia is an architecture/engineering, design/build construction and development company.

Argos groundbreaking

The Argos Group is a design/build subsidiary of Barton Malow, Southfield.

Masonry seminar

The Masonry Institute of Michigan will sponsor its ninth masonry certification seminar at daylong sessions April 23 and 24 at its offices, 32080 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

The seminar exposes candidates to five areas of instruction: clay and concrete masonry units, mortar, grout, engineering and workmanship. Participants are required to score 70 percent on a test at the end of the seminar to become MIM certified.

The course is aimed toward design professionals, engineers and architects, mason contractors. bricklayers, building officials, inspectors and supplier representatives.

Cost is $175. For information, call 458-8544.

Building code published

A joint effort of the American Concrete Institute, the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Masonry Society has resulted in the publication of building code requirements for masonry structures.

Subjects covered include permits and drawings, quality assurance, materials, placing embedded items, analysis and design, strength and serviceability, flexural and axial loads, shear, details and development of reinforcement, walls, columns, pilasters, beams and lintels, and an empirical design method applicable to buildings meeting specific location and construction criteria.

Copies can be purchased from the American Concrete Institute by calling 532-2600.

Housing for older suburbs

■ Builders face new challenges when they look back to older, developed communities for building sites.

By GERALD FRAWLEY STAFF WRITER

If society is going to stop paving cornfields for housing development, developers are going to have to turn to established communities and consider redevelopment.

Bernard Glieberman, president of Crosswinds Communities in West Bloomfield, is doing just that with Main Street Square in Royal Oak.

This isn't Glieberman's firstencounter with redevelopment; he was part of Victoria Park, last year's Homearama in Detroit. He's also done remodeling projects. Long known for his ability to develop and build top-notch, affordable housing in communities like West Bloomfield, Westland, Ypsilanti and Oakland Township, Glieberman is tackling a new frontier - redevelopment.

This is the most significant redevelopment project he's been involved with.

So far, reaction has been extremely positive, he said. "I can honestly say we have had more interest in this development than anything I can remember.

"The challenge in a redevelopment project is you go into an area that is on its way down and you help turn it around — that's satisfying.'

124 units in 12 buildings designed in traditional-style Georgetown architecture.

Located between Main and Washington to the west and east, and Kenilworth and Allenworth to the north and south, the 3.7acre project is expected to have a base price of between $80,000 and $100,000 per condominium.

Redevelopment is not without its obstacles. For example, land costs are extremely high. You have to be creative (to make it pay

Most communities object to high density projects, which make redevelopment more difficult. "(But) I think when you're talking Royal Oak, it fits in well."

Another hurdle in redevelopment, he said, is working within the constraints of an existing community. Site size, he said, is limited and therefore on-site storage is virtually non-existent.

"That makes scheduling difficult - we'll have to have materials delivered almost on a need ba-

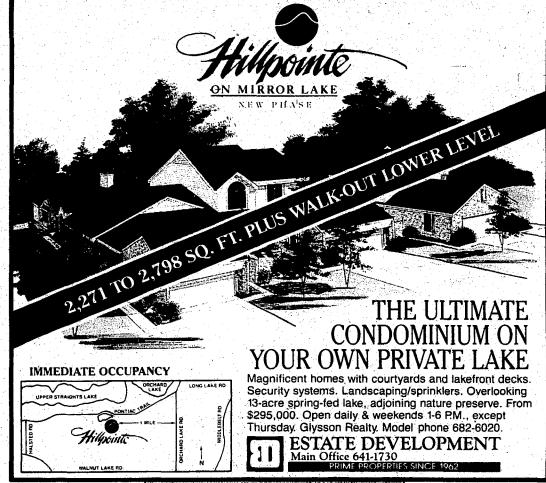

Building within an existing neighborhood will also pose a challenge for the developer who is used to building in an open area. "We're going to have to be good neighbors, no doubt about that.

'(Delivery) trucks will have to be careful not to disturb the people who are already there.

Architect Tom Barton, president of Barton and Associates in Philadelphia, said his goal was to design a development that would fit into an already established

"We wanted it to be on a pedestrian scale," he said, explaining that much of Royal Oak was laid out with people in mind. Housing is dense; it is inviting rather than imposing from the street, and sidewalks encourage walking.

"Basically, cute homes in a nice neighborhood," he said. "We wanted to develop a project with a little more of an urban character."

Townhomes like one might find in Philadelphia or Boston were chosen because they maintain an urban feel and density-levels.

Density, Barton said, is not always bad. "High density does not necessarily mean a three-story walk-up apart-Garages were moved to the back and townhomes were pushed toward the street to eliminate the impression of "a parking deck that you often get in high density projects.

As people walk by and around the finished development, it should seem as though they are walking through part of the project, not isolated from "It should be nice from street

At the same time, with proper placement of buildings, use of landscape, and project elevations, Main Street Square achieves a strong sense of public and private space.

An interior courtyard for townhome owners is separated from the outside, and green spaces at the fronts of the townhomes are slightly elevated above the sidewalk level. "There will be an obvious separation — if someone is where they aren't supposed to be you won't have any problem identifying it."

Project manager Terry Stamper said Main Street Square is to be the first part of the much-heralded Royal

Bernard Glieberman

Oak multi-use redevelopment northeast of the I-696 and Woodward Avenue interchange.

The overall project resulted from construction of I-696. During the 1980s, Royal Oak seized the chance and began to purchase and, through condemnation, assemble small parcels into a single large tract.

"That was the hard part," he said. If redevelopment is to succeed, land assembly will have to be done by municipalities who then sell the property to developers.

After years of struggling to amass the necessary land and counter community objections, the economy soured and the project has been on

Now that the economy is picking up again, the project is beginning to pick up as well.

Burton Katzman Development Co. of Birmingham is the lead developer for the entire redevelopment project that will eventually incorporate hotel, office, commercial and residential

Burton Katzman executive vice president Laurence Goss said the area has always been planned for residential use - it just needed the right developer. "This is obviously an integral ingredient in the overall develop-ment," he said. "We hope this (Main Street Square) will be a catalyst for the rest of the project. 'We're very excited about this we think it's a home run," Goss add-

Main Street Square is going to act as a buffer for the project; separating the existing neighborhoods from the office, hotel components to the south. That's good, sound planning.

The project would not have been possible without the patience and foresight of Royal Oak, Goss added. By assembling the property, the city was making an investment in its fu-

If further redevelopment is to succeed, other communities will have to take Royal Oak's lead, he said.

Stamper of Crosswinds Communities said judging by the number of phone calls received from interested buyers, it's possible the entire project could be sold out within a year.

Stamper said a sales office will be open in March, construction should begin in April and the first townhouses could be ready as soon late

"This is the perfect project for this area," he said. Royal Oak is centrally located for young professionals who work north in Birmingham, west in Novi, or east in St. Clair Shores.

Insurance key ingredient before remodeling begins

So you've hired a contractor, picked out paint and carpet, and set the date for your remodeling work to begin. Remodeling Ideas magazine suggests adding one more item to your "to do" list: Give your insurance agent a call to make sure your homeowner's policy will keep up with your remodeling improve-

'Contact your agent when you begin to do anything to your home that's going to add val-ue," advises Bill Anderson, a certified property and casualty underwriter and vice president of education for the Independent Insurance Agents of America. By checking your needs before the work begins, you can be sure your project will be insured during construction, as well as after.

Here are some questions to ask your insurance professional, along with a discussion of coverage under a typical homeowner's policy. Check the specifics of your own policy with your agent or insurance company:

Do I need to increase my coverage?

If you're making major improvements, the answer to that question is probably "yes." Typical homeowner's insurance is based on the cost of replacing your home if it's destroyed. When you add space, upgrade to luxury finishes, or convert an unfinished area to living space, you make your home more costly to rebuild. As a result, you need to increase the value of your policy.

On the other hand, you may not require increased coverage for changes that are basically cosmetic - freshening up the kitchen with new countertops, flooring, and appliances, for example. To the insurance company, the cost of replacing laminate countertops is the same whether they are brand new or a holdover from the 1950s.

"If there's any question, contact your agent," says Anderson. "It's important that the agent have the opportunity to say either, 'we don't have to worry about that,' or, 'we do.'" You want to be certain that your home remains insured for at least 80 percent of its replacement value, including the value of the improvements. Below that threshold, most policies will not reimburse you for the full replacement cost of your home should it be

I'm planning a major renovation that will take months to complete. Do I have to pay for increased coverage from the first day of construction?

Ask your agent if you can buy what's called an "endorsement for a dwelling under construction." This type of policy increases the value of your homeowner's policy from the start of construction, but gives you a credit for a portion of the premium once the work is complete.

I'm going to have a lot of building materials stacked out in my yard. Are they covered?

With a typical policy, materials intended for use in your remodeling and stored on your property are covered for the same perils as the rest of your home. Again, check with your agent to be sure.

■ Am I covered for the special extras I'm putting in my home?

Maybe you've commissioned a stainedglass window for the master bath or purchased an antique English brass chandelier for the breakfast room. To protect your investment, purchase separate insurance for such out-ofthe-ordinary materials.

The advantage of insuring such items individually is that you, not the insurance company, specify their value. "If they are lost or damaged, the policy says exactly what they are worth, and that's what you are paid," says Anderson. "If you leave them under the homeowner's policy, you are at the mercy of the people adjusting the insurance claim.'

The value of antiques and fine arts is especially subject to dispute.

■ I'm moving out during construction. Does my coverage stay put?

A typical homeowner's policy doesn't cover theft from an unoccupied building, so check with your agent if you plan to be away during construction. A few days' stay in a hotel shouldn't affect your coverage, but an extended stay might. Be prepared for the worst case.

In addition to protecting your improvements, you also need to insure yourself against another type of risk — the damage to people or property as a result of your remodel-
