Stay connected: USPS National Emergency Hotline

If your community is facing local emergencies or incidents or extreme weather — like hurricanes, flooding, tornadoes or wildfires — and you need to know whether your facility is operating as usual, the Postal Service has a nationwide number you can call to find out.

The USPS National Emergency Hotline is your information lifeline. Call 888-363-7462 to check on facility closings, reporting time changes and other workplace information.

Because it's national and outside your immediate area, the hotline works even if local facility phone message systems are down because of power failures or other storm-related damage.

This dedicated toll-free system proved itself during Florida's back-to-back hurricanes in 2004, and last year during the Gulf Coast's double-whammy of Katrina and Rita.

When you call, you'll be asked for the first three digits of your work ZIP Code. Then you'll hear your district's operating information.

Deaf or hard-of-hearing callers can use their state Telecommunications Relay Services (TRS) toll-free number, and the TRS operator will handle the call.

Keep this number handy: 888-363-7462. It'll help keep us all on our appointed rounds.

USPS governors propose price adjustments, "forever stamp"

The USPS Governors proposed a "forever stamp" as part of a broader rate adjustment plan that would go into effect next year. Customers would be able to purchase a special First-Class Mail stamp that would be good for any future single-piece First-Class letter mailing, no matter how prices might change beyond 2007. On the broader plan, the governors cited increasing costs for fuel and healthcare as among the reasons for the filing with the independent Postal Rate Commission for price adjustments next year. The plan includes a 3-cent increase in the price of a First-Class Mail stamp. The annual effect is well below $6 for the average household.

95% on-time delivery

The Postal Service attained a 95 percent on-time performance score for overnight delivery of First-Class Mail, the agency's consumer advocate told the Board of Governors during its meeting in Washington, D.C. The assessment is measured independently by IBM Consulting Services. The Board also heard that for the second year in a row, Americans rated the Postal Service as the number one agency they trust to protect their privacy.

Combining weight with shape lets businesses reduce costs

The Postal Service has unveiled proposed new pricing incentives that would effectively reshape the future of mail and provide benefits to both business customers and USPS. Current pricing relies primarily on a weight-based system. The new plan combines weight with shape to allow USPS to better align prices with processing costs. That will ensure every type of mail covers its costs. Price changes would not occur before May 2007.

VOE surveys due soon

If you're among the 25 percent of Postal Service employees who recently received a VOE survey in the mail, remember that it's due May 24. Be sure to complete your survey — on the clock — and send it back before the deadline. The surveys help the Postal Service identify workplace issues that need to be improved — and that helps employees and customers alike.

Let your voice be heard. Return your completed VOE survey for receipt by May 24.

New Orleans PDC celebrates re-opening

New Orleans Mayor's representative Don Hutchison, center, presents a thank you proclamation to all New Orleans postal employees. Accepting on behalf of the Postal Service are New Orleans Postmaster Alan Cousin, left, and Postmaster General Jack Potter.

The New Orleans Processing and Distribution Center (PDC) — devastated when more than 14 million gallons of water from Hurricane Katrina flooded the basement and wiped out its electrical grid — officially re-opened April 28, and Postmaster General Jack Potter was on hand to speak with employees, customers, special guests and members of the news media.

"In the days and months since the storm," said Potter, "we have seen repeatedly the one thing that could not be conquered by even this unprecedented storm — the human spirit. Today, we are here to re-open this plant because the human spirit could not be stopped."

New Orleans Mayor's office representative Don Hutchison presented a proclamation expressing the city's thanks for the efforts of all New Orleans postal employees.

The New Orleans PDC encompasses more than 466,000 square feet of space and offers the latest in automated mail processing technology. Depending on which tour they work, employees attended an appreciation dinner Thursday evening or a breakfast Friday morning.

USPS issues The Art of Disney: Romance stamps

The Postal Service issued The Art of Disney: Romance stamps during the kickoff of the 13th annual Epcot International Flower and Garden Festival at Walt Disney World Resort. The third stamp pane in the Disney series, these stamps feature four famous couples:

- Mickey and Minnie Mouse.
- Cinderella and Prince Charming.
- Beauty and the Beast.
- Lady and the Tramp.

"The commitment of Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse to each other over the years has taught us to play by the heart," said Great Lakes Area VP Jo Ann Feindt, who dedicated the stamps.

Joining Feindt were Al Weiss, President of Worldwide Operations for Walt Disney Parks and Resorts, some classic Disney characters featured on the stamps, and larger-than-life, seven-foot topiary images of the stamps made from fresh flowers and plants.

Local LiteBlue Web site brings 24/7 access

The Spokane Performance Cluster (PC) has given employees more convenient access to postal information than ever before by launching its own district Web site on LiteBlue. It was just the third PC in the nation — and the first in the Western Area — to do so. There now are nine districts with sites on LiteBlue.

"The site generated 140 incoming e-mails in its first week," said Information Systems Specialist Dave Shuman, one of Spokane's four LiteBlue editors. "And that feedback was very positive."

LiteBlue gives employees 24/7 access to postal information from any computer with an Internet connection. LiteBlue is packed with information on career development, employee benefits programs, revenue and service performance, employee deals, national postal news and more.

Check out all our district sites at liteblue.usps.gov. Have your employee ID and USPS PIN handy to log in. Your employee ID is the 8-digit number printed by your name on your earnings statement. Your PIN is the same 4-digit number you use for PostalEASE.

World Philatelic Expo opens in May

Ever wonder what that box of stamps your grandmother tucked away in the attic is worth? It's definitely worth a little, but you just might have a real gem like the 1918 Inverted Jenny Biplane stamp that recently sold for $2.9 million. You can see the Jenny, along with $40 million worth of other rare stamps, at the world's largest stamp show, the Washington 2006 World Philatelic Exposition, running May 27 through June 3, at the Washington, DC, Convention Center. Admission is free.

“It’s a fun and educational activity the entire family can enjoy,” explained Postmaster General Jack Potter. “We look forward to seeing parents and children, teachers and students, collectors and non-collectors at the Washington 2006 World Philatelic Expo to sample the pastime of a lifetime.”

For complete details, visit www.washington-2006.org.

Safety posters

Two new safety posters were mailed out beginning May 8 to all postal facilities on the “Safety Depends on Me” distribution list. The posters also are included on pages 61 and 73 of this issue of the Postal Bulletin.

One poster deals with drinking and your uniform: “Off the clock? You might be, but your postal uniform never is. Don’t give anyone the wrong impression. Don’t drink in uniform.”

The other poster has a checklist for vehicle, keys and driver’s license, with the following message: “Always carry a valid driver’s license when driving on postal business. Is yours suspended? Tell your supervisor.”

Be sure to display these posters in areas where all employees can see them.

POSTMASTERS

CUSTOMER RELATIONS COORDINATORS

SUBJECT: Good News Benjamin Recognition Program Publicity Kit

Employees of the U.S. Postal Service make important contributions to the communities where they work and live. A day rarely goes by without a Postal Service employee coming to the rescue of someone trapped in a fire, getting help for heart attack or stroke victims, feeding the hungry by sponsoring food drives, or reaching out to the underprivileged during the holidays.

Good deeds lead to the kind of news everyone likes to hear or read about — human-interest stories. Unfortunately, editors and reporters often don't hear these stories or when they do find out it's too late to report.

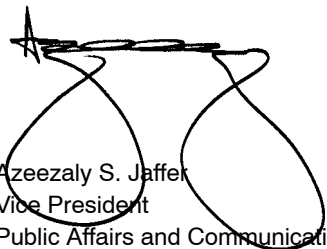

The more your community knows about you and your employees, the more likely they will appreciate the service you provide. Moreover, if a customer has a complaint, they'll be more likely to talk with you rather than with the media.

The Good News Benjamin Recognition Program provides all postmasters, managers, supervisors, and customer relations coordinators with the opportunity to achieve recognition for their efforts in promoting good news about the Postal Service and our employees. And, as we deliver results through transformation, there are more opportunities than ever for "good news" stories.

To help raise awareness about the many positive things you and your employees do in your communities, we're enclosing the program guidelines in this updated publicity kit for postmasters, managers, supervisors, customer relations coordinators, and others. This kit will help get positive messages to local organizations, local press, and the entire community. The kit includes:

- Guidelines.
- Submission tips.
- Submitting news tips.
- Suggestions for generating publicity.
- How to make it happen.
- Sample media advisory.
- Sample fact sheet.
- Submission form.
- Suggested speech to a community group.
- Field Public Affairs and Communications managers contact information.
- Government Relations contact information.

The Postal Service is the finest postal system in the world. Use the materials in this kit as often as you can. When you do, you will enhance the standing of your Post Office within your community and demonstrate to your employees how proud you are of the "everyone, everywhere" effort they put forth every day.

What is the Benjamin Award?

As the Postal Service's highest public relations honor, the Benjamin Award recognizes postmasters, managers, supervisors, and customer relations coordinators for conducting the greatest number of community outreach activities and/or for obtaining the greatest amount of positive news coverage. We regularly post these stories in the Daily News Digest, a daily compilation of news stories, which is read by many throughout the organization, including the Postmaster General™. The Benjamin Award is a non-monetary award that is administered by Headquarters Public Affairs and Communications.

How Do I Get Started?

- Learn as much as possible about our public policy and transformation efforts.
- Have a Postmaster's Steering Committee be an overall driver of "grass roots" efforts.
- Develop internal communication strategies to create a more informed workforce that presents the Postal Service™ as a valuable part of the community.
 - Keep employees informed about the real issues with competitors.
- Identify opportunities to leverage existing key events and interaction with the public:
 - Stamp ceremonies.
 - Relevant local historical events.
 - New facilities and major improvements.
 - Open houses and postmaster installations.
 - Positive aspects of relevant stamp issues, such as health and social topics.
- Identify important and influential public groups such as:
 - Newspaper publishers.
 - Large accounts.
 - Local schools/universities/colleges.
 - Congressional delegations.
 - State legislators.
 - Environmental organizations.
 - Senior citizens.
- Participate in national initiatives such as:
 - National Association of Letter Carriers Food Drive (May).
 - Marrow Donor Campaign: Delivering the Gift of Life (ongoing).
- Dog Bite Prevention (May).
- National Stamp Collection Month (October).
- Stamp collecting programs in schools (ongoing).
- America's Looking for Its Missing Children (ongoing).
- Letters to Santa program (late fall).

What Qualifies as "Good News?"

- Writing a weekly postmaster's column in a local newspaper.
- Giving a speech built around postal issues at a community group.
- Holding a customer appreciation day/week.
- Recognizing employee heroes.
- Coordinating local stamp ceremonies.
- Partnering with local schools, rehabilitation centers, hospitals, nursing homes, etc.
- Celebrating milestones, safety goals, service levels, years of service.
- Giving interviews on television or radio about Postal Service issues.
- Providing Post Office™ tours.
- Volunteering (community outreach).
- Working with activities that enhance the image of the Postal Service in the community such as the beautification of a Post Office.
- Promoting products and services, i.e., stamp program, Click-N-Ship® service, Carrier Pickup™ service, USPS.com®, passports, etc.

All newspaper, magazine, and newsletter submissions for the Benjamin Award must mention the participant or their Post Office by name. Do not send Postal Service publication articles taken from USPS News Link, Area Update, or a local Postal Service newsletter.

What Doesn't Qualify as "Good News?"

- Syndicated stamp columns.
- Obituaries.
- Associated Press, Reuters, or other wire stories not locally generated.
- Paid advertisements.
- Cartoon articles.
- A Postal Service employee's name in a list of local marathon times.
- An employee's appearance as a disc jockey.

- An emcee at a college reunion.
- Newspaper columns on non-Postal Service issues.
- Postal Service publication articles.
- Holiday extended hours or closing.
- Employee fraud or theft stories.
- Mandatory stand-up talks.

How Do I Get Involved?

Participation is by self-nomination only. The program is open to postmasters, executive and administrative schedule (EAS) managers, supervisors, and customer relations coordinators.

A submission must involve the activity only of the participant, not the participant's manager or employee. Participants must submit their own material from their own offices.

Send all submissions directly to:

GOOD NEWS
COMMUNITY RELATIONS
475 L'ENFANT PLAZA SW RM 10541
WASHINGTON DC 20260-3100

When Can I Participate?

The annual Good News Benjamin Recognition Program starts June 1 of the current year and ends May 31 of the following year. A participant's nomination must occur within 30 days of an event or media coverage.

How Are Winners Selected?

The Point System

Winners are determined by a cumulative point system. Each documented and qualifying activity, event, newspaper clipping, or Postal Service appearance will count as one point, as noted in the Good News examples starting on page 11. Headquarters Public Affairs and Communications will monitor and verify entries. When more than one radio or television station airs a story, the participant will receive one point for each station. If the radio or television station runs the story more than once in the same day, it counts for one point total. If you submit a weekly postmaster's column, it is one point. Because this is an award for individual recognition, only activity participants will receive points and not their employees, co-workers, or supervisor.

The point system evaluates participants on six levels divided into two categories, postmaster and non-postmaster. To qualify, participants must meet the minimum points required for their category and level. The following table shows the six-level point requirements.

Category	Minimum Point Requirement
Non-Postmaster
EAS managers/supervisors	25 points
Customer Relations Coordinators	55 points
Postmaster
Postmaster, level 16 and below	35 points
Postmaster, level 18 and 20	45 points
Postmaster, level 21 and 22	55 points
Postmaster, level 24 and above	65 points

Final Selection

Within each area, participants with the highest number of points in the six levels will be selected as winners. Each area may have one winner per level and so may have up to six winners. Headquarters notifies district managers of all winners before it notifies the winners directly. All decisions are final.

How Many Times Can a Person Win?

A participant, who has received the Benjamin Award three consecutive times, is not eligible to compete for the two consecutive years immediately following the third win.

How Are the Awards Presented?

The awards are presented at the national conventions of the League of Postmasters, the National Association of Postmasters of the United States (NAPUS), and the National Association of Postal Supervisors (NAPS). If a winner is not scheduled to attend one of these conventions, Headquarters will send the Benjamin Award to the field Public Affairs and Communications manager, who will coordinate a presentation ceremony with the appropriate officials.

Who Administers and Monitors the Program?

Headquarters Public Affairs and Communications administers and monitors the program. We will provide updates through the Postal Bulletin and other internal communications. The program will be evaluated each year and is subject to revision. We will notify district managers of winners. This notification must concur before individual notification. Headquarters Public Affairs and Communications will make decisions pending the district manager's approval. If you have questions or need clarification, please write to the Benjamin Award Coordinator at the Good News address provided on page 18 or send an e-mail to us at goodnews@usps.gov.

How Do I Prepare a Submission?

Participants must submit entries that are local and pertain to the area in which they work. Entries must be either clippings or narrative descriptions, plus contact information. Entries must mention participants by name or their Post Office and clearly must show that they are promoting the Postal Service. For newspaper articles, participants must submit either the original or a copy of the article mounted on plain bond paper using clear adhesive tape, and always including the date, name, city, and state of the newspaper. Submit clear documentation showing that the participant is promoting the Postal Service. For appearances at the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, and similar meetings, participants must provide a point of contact and phone number for verification.

All entries must include a submission cover sheet, which can be obtained from Headquarters Public Affairs and Communications via fax, e-mail, or by calling 202-268-2898 (you may photocopy the one found on page 18 of this kit). You must complete the information requested on the top of the sheet, including the level of office. An incomplete submission sheet will disqualify a nomination. Please use only one submission sheet for multiple entries sent in one envelope. Do not place submissions in a notebook or photo album. Submissions must be submitted within 30 days of the event and/or within 30 days of media coverage.

Submissions dated later than 30 days after the event or coverage will be ineligible. Please submit only the appropriate article; do not send the entire newspaper. Please do not send videos; however, you may send transcripts from the local TV news story. Because submissions may be used in the Daily News Digest and as information for other Public Affairs and Communications materials, they must be timely.

Submission Tips

To help us accurately track your points, please use the information shown below:

- Always include a cover sheet. This packet contains a cover sheet that you may photocopy, or you may request a copy by e-mail, fax, or by calling 202-268-2898. You may also create your own computer version, but it must include all the information contained on the submission form on page 18 of this kit.
- Use one submission form for multiple entries. If there is not enough room to summarize your activities on one submission form, include a summary sheet behind the submission form with numbered and dated entries divided into categories. Your submissions must be timely (received within 30 days of the event or media coverage date) or they will not be considered.

- Summarize your activities on your submission form. To summarize events, please number and date each activity and include a very brief description.
- Get into a weekly reporting habit. Send a submission form every week to keep your entries timely. Also, this helps you to review your outreach projects in a series of steps so you won't forget to report them. Submit only information for events that you actually were involved in or participated in. We will not accept an event that occurred in your area in which you had no involvement or did not participate.
- Alert us to any ZIP Code changes. Your ZIP Code™ is used as your reference number, and changes can disrupt our tracking capability. Notify us of changes to your address and position, but put your old ZIP Code on the top of the submission form so we can transfer your points to your new ZIP Code.
- Write your name as you would like it to appear on any official correspondence. Please write your name exactly as you would like it to appear. If your name changes, write your former name as well as your new name on each submission form.

Submitting News Tips

You play an important role in creating a positive media environment for the Postal Service. The news clippings you generate are important to us. Each work day, examples of national and local news efforts are reflected in the Daily News Digest, which is distributed to the Postmaster General, senior vice presidents, vice presidents, members of the Board of Governors, district managers, area vice presidents, Post Office operations managers, managers, and others. Though only a fraction of our news coverage appears in the Digest, the media clip you send from your local newspaper could be included. To give your clip the best possible chance of being printed in our internal communications, please follow these simple tips:

- Keep it timely. There's little value in "old news." As soon as you see your article or letter to the editor in print, clip it and send it to the address listed on page 18.
- Daily Digest. To ensure that your clips are included in the Digest please fax to 202-268-5392 or e-mail to: christine.m.rice@usps.gov.
- Give us the source. At a minimum, we need the name of the newspaper, the city where the paper is published, the date the article appeared, and the page number and section where it appeared. Include other information, such as your name, title, and Post Office as well.

- Tape it up. Newspaper clips are easier to handle if you cut them out of your paper and attach them to a sheet or sheets of regular bond paper, typing or printing the necessary information (above the newspaper clip) at the top of each page. To attach the clips, use regular cellophane tape on the top and bottom edges, or on the corners. Do not place tape across the print.
- Make clear copies. If you send a copy, please make sure it is clear. Some newsprint and most newspaper photos do not copy well unless adjustments are made to the copier's resolution. If you can't make a clear copy with available equipment, please send the original.
- Send everything. Though only positive, locally generated news counts toward the Benjamin, we appreciate being kept informed about all stories. If a problem is brewing, we can often work with local management to calm the situation. In most cases, we can work to fix it if we know about it soon enough.

How Can I Generate Publicity?

National radio and television networks, wire services, and big city newspapers rarely run stories about the everyday contributions Postal Service employees make to the communities they serve. But what's not news in major media outlets may indeed be news for media covering the suburbs, medium-sized cities, and small towns. Some of the employee contributions that could be news in your community include:

- Service anniversaries.
- Beautification of office or grounds.
- Safety award winners.
- Promotions (within your office or another office).
- Customer compliments.
- Heroic acts.
- Volunteer service. (Consider giving "Volunteer of the Year" recognition to an employee who volunteers time to make your community a better place to live. If you have several outstanding volunteers, make this a semi-annual, quarterly, or monthly recognition.)
- Successful blood drives.
- Holiday activities (toys for tots, coat drives, adopt-a-family).

- Environmental efforts.
- Involvement in career day at local schools.
- Book donations to the local library.
- Youth educational packages.
- National Association of Letter Carriers sponsored food drives.
- Marrow Donor Campaign: Delivering the Gift of Life.
- Dog bite prevention.
- Talks at schools on preventing dog bites.
- National Stamp Collecting month.
- Stamp collecting programs in schools.
- America's Looking for its Missing Children program.
- Making children's dreams come true by responding to letters sent to Santa.
- Five Star awards.

Note: There may be other opportunities to highlight individual employee or group achievements. However, because some employees may not want public recognition, it is a good idea to discuss the matter with the employee(s) first.

Don't be shy. Tell the world, or at least your neighborhood, about your heroes and hard workers. Good news — the people stories — is important to community newspapers and local radio stations. The key is to develop a relationship with your local print, broadcast, radio, and Internet media.

Write a News Release

Let's say this week an employee at your office has volunteered to speak to students about stamp collecting, or another employee rescued a child from an attacking dog. Write a short note on your office letterhead (if available) to your local media about this event and include as many of the elements of a news story as possible (who, what, when, where, and why). At the top of the page type the following:

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
CONTACT: (YOUR NAME)
(LIST YOUR TELEPHONE NUMBER)

See sample media advisory on page 16.

Mail, e-mail, or fax the release to your local media outlets. Address it to the assignment editor or the person at the station responsible for reviewing news releases. If you're not sure, call the station to ask. If it's a local, weekly paper, address it to the editor.

A news release is a good way to let your local media know about safety award winners, promotions, and the employee of the month, if the employee agrees to media attention. To increase the likelihood of the release being used, be sure the information will still be news if it gets published a week after you mail the release. For example, write a release a week or so before you make a presentation so the news will be fresh when it is printed. This is especially important for weekly newspapers.

Send a News Tip

Send a newspaper editor or a reporter a note with a news tip or a copy of a memo complimenting your staff. Just put it in the mail and address it to the person to whom you would send a news release.

Pick up the Phone

Sometimes a news story is so timely and important that an editor will want it immediately. For example, a story about a letter carrier or other employee who has helped a family escape from a burning building or saved someone who stopped breathing by administering CPR. Your local media will want this kind of story immediately.

In this case, just pick up the phone and call the editors of your local media. Tell the editor what happened. The editor may immediately assign a reporter to cover the story.

In small towns, you should also call the normal contact person in the position of assignment editor for television, radio, and print.

Suggested Speech to a Community Group

- Thank you for that kind introduction.
- Everyone knows the Postal Service. Over seven million customers come through our Post Office doors every day, in every community in America.
- At the same time, more than 240,000 carriers, including the [Number of Carriers From Your Office] from [Location], visit more than 144 million homes and businesses all across the nation.
- And we move a lot of mail — we deliver more than 212 billion pieces of mail each year — that's almost half of all the mail volume in the world. And we do that without any tax dollars! The United States Postal Service® — the world's best postal system — operates on the proceeds from the sale of our products and services.
- With more than 700,000 employees and more than 37,000 Post Offices, the Postal Service covers a lot of territory, literally. We are part, and, if you'll pardon the pun, parcel, of every city and town in the nation.
- We don't just deliver for America, we are America. Our employees are your friends and neighbors. Not only are we proud of the service we provide to every community, we are proud to be members of those communities.
- There are many ways we exhibit that pride.
- Through the 2005 Combined Federal Campaign, our employees pledged nearly $39 million to support local charities and community organizations.

Recipients include the American Cancer Society, the American Heart Association, Habitat for Humanity, and many other community-based service groups.

- Since 1985, we have partnered with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and ADVO in support of the America's Looking for its Missing Children program. Every week, our letter carriers deliver ADVO's "Have You Seen Me" direct mail cards to more than 85 million households. Thanks to these efforts, we have already safely recovered more than 141 missing children (as of March 2006).
- We also help America's children through our Safe Havens program. And we look after our nation's senior citizens with our very successful Carrier Alert program.
- Through our cooperation with the National Association of Letter Carriers annual food drive, we collected more than 71.3 million pounds of food for food banks and shelters in 2005.
- We are also the nation's single largest group of blood donors. And more than 27,000 of our employees have joined the marrow donation registry — with more than 50 Postal Service employees having already donated marrow to save a life.
- We take the term "public service" very seriously. The proof is in the numbers — Postal Service employees believe in serving the local community all across the nation, in many different ways.
- Right here in [Insert Community Name], our employees are continuing that proud tradition.
- We have donated more than [Amount] gallons of blood to [Local Blood Donation Organization].
- [If possible, mention other local employee volunteer efforts — like amount of food collected in food drive, or mention employee who performed heroic rescue or provided exceptional life-saving assistance.]
- [If possible, mention volunteer work done by you or your employees. For example: I am a member of [Local Community Organization]. [Name and Job Title of USPS Employee] serves on the town school board... or volunteers as a coach at [Local League]... or volunteers on the local Crisis Center Hotline... etc.]
- The Postal Service is very proud of our tradition of linking communities together for more than 225 years. We are proud of the public service we provide — in all its many forms — for the local communities we serve, and live in.

- Thank you for giving me the opportunity to share that pride with you today.
- I'd be happy to answer any questions you may have.

SUBJECT: Purple Heart Stamp Reissue

The United States Postal Service will reissue the Purple Heart postage stamp on May 26 at The Women in Military Service for America Memorial in Arlington, Virginia. This definitive stamp was originally issued on May 30, 2003, to honor the sacrifice of members of the United States military who have been killed or wounded in action. With thousands of men and women serving in Afghanistan and Iraq, this stamp continues to be of significant importance.

The Postal Service is working with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to promote this stamp. Veterans Affairs operates 150 Veterans facilities across the country, and the VA's National Cemetery Administration manages 122 national cemeteries. These locations can provide tremendous opportunities for special dedication ceremonies. Both organizations have shown great interest in hosting special dedication ceremonies nationwide commemorating the Purple Heart stamp and celebrating the VA's 75th anniversary. You may be contacted by a VA Public Affairs officer concerning a special dedication ceremony.

These attachments can help you plan for a successful event:

Purple Heart Stamp Facts and Suggested Talking Points

- The Postal Service™ will reissue the definitive Purple Heart stamp (at the new First-Class 39-cent rate) commemorating one of the oldest military decorations in the world, and honoring the sacrifices of those who served as well as to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the VA on May 26 in Arlington, Virginia. The stamp will be a nationwide issuance.
- The Purple Heart is awarded in the name of the President of the United States to members of the U.S. military who have been wounded in combat or to the next of kin of those killed in action.
- According to the Military Order of the Purple Heart, an organization for combat-wounded veterans, the medal is "the oldest military decoration in the world in present use and the first award made available to the common soldier."
- 50 million stamps will be printed initially.
- The stamp image features a photograph by Ira Wexler of one of two Purple Hearts awarded to James Loftus Fowler of Alexandria, Virginia. Fowler was a Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Marines and was serving as battalion commander of the Third Battalion, Fourth Marines, when he received this Purple Heart in 1968 following action close to the Ben Hai River on the border between North and South Vietnam.
- The original 37-cent stamp design was unveiled in Shreveport, Louisiana, at a Purple Heart luncheon at Barksdale Air Force Base on April 26, 2003.
- As with all of our stamp subjects, the ideas and suggestions for stamps come to the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee (CSAC) from American citizens. CSAC carefully reviews every one of the 50,000 recommendations they receive each year against a long list of criteria. The subjects they select then go to the postmaster general for final selection. CSAC and the Postal Service are interested in providing a diverse stamp program to the American public that appeals to a wide audience of varied interests and best represents the people, events, and accomplishments that have shaped our nation.
- Stamp collecting is a fun activity for the entire family that helps children learn about the world in which they live.

- Customers can get information about stamps and other Postal Service products by calling our toll-free number (800-STAMP-24) or by going to our Web site at www.usps.com.

Sample Postmaster's Speech

The following suggested speech segment is for use at local ceremonies and events to support and promote the Purple Heart stamp. Feel free to customize it to fit your local event and community.

Good [insert "Morning/Afternoon"]

I'm [insert name of postmaster/district manager/MC] and it's a tremendous honor for me to represent the United States Postal Service today as we unveil the second issue of the Purple Heart stamp.

At a time when our military service members continue to serve in Afghanistan and Iraq, it is appropriate that the Purple Heart stamp be reissued at the new First-Class rate. It is also appropriate that this stamp is being reissued as the Department of Veterans Affairs — the VA — celebrates its 75th anniversary.

We are proud the Purple Heart stamp has re-entered our gallery of significant events in American history as part of the Postal Service's 2006 stamp program, which celebrates the people, events, and history of our nation. Many Americans are inspired to find out more about the stamp subjects they see on their letters and packages, and thousands more become collectors every year.

Stamps are unique reminders of the amazing, triumphant, and spectacular accomplishments that shape the world in which we live, and clearly show that the Postal Service does more than provide mail service — the real power of the Postal Service is our ability to connect people.

This stamp continues to honor the sacrifices of the brave men and women who were wounded or killed while serving in the U.S. military.

In 1782, during the Revolutionary War, General George Washington issued an order that established a badge of distinction for meritorious action. The badge is known to have been awarded to three sergeants from Connecticut regiments.

Known as the Badge of Military Merit, the award was distinctive because it was available to the lower ranks at a time when only officers were eligible for decoration in European armies. "The road to glory in a patriot army," Washington wrote, "is thus open to all."

Now it is the Postal Service's turn to continue Washington's patriotic tradition. When you use this stamp, I hope it will remind you and all Americans of the courage of our men and women in uniform, and the price they have paid so that all of us can enjoy living in this great country.

I would like thank all of you and all of our guests for joining us here today.

Now, would [Insert names of unveiling participants if applicable] join me in unveiling the Purple Heart stamp!

Domestic Mail

DMM REVISION

Sack Labels

The Postal Service™ is in the process of replacing mailing sacks with two new semiclear plastic sacks. The new sacks will eventually take the place of all sacks used by mailers for presorted mailings.

These new semiclear plastic sacks (USPS® items EIRS 01VM and EIRS 03VM) use a Velcro strap to secure the contents and have a 2-inch label holder on the body of the sack. As a result, effective May 11, 2006, we are revising standards throughout the Mailing Standards of the United States Postal Service, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM®) to clarify that during this transition period mailers may use 2-inch labels with sacks that contain 2-inch label holders. The use of 2-inch labels in these new sacks is important to ensure that the label does not fall out of the label holder during transportation and processing.

Many customers who use presort software have been able to produce either 1-inch or 2-inch labels for some time. Customers who do not use presort software can obtain 1-inch or 2-inch labels from many major Post Offices™ using the Passport or Atlas system.

As we transition to these new sacks, we encourage mailers to work closely with their local Post Office, Business Mail Entry Office, or Business Service Network to obtain the correct sack for the size of label they will use for a particular mailing.

In addition, we are eliminating the requirement to use “zebra codes” on barcoded labels because it is no longer needed operationally.

DMM REVISION

Authorized Sacks for Periodicals Mail

The Postal Service™ is introducing two new semi-clear plastic sacks for presorted mailings (see the related articles on pages 37–42 of this Postal Bulletin). These new sacks will eventually replace all mailer sacks, including the brown sacks used for Periodicals mail. We are revising Mailing Standards of the United States Postal Service, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM®) to allow mailers to use either brown sacks or the new plastic sacks for Periodicals mail prepared as flats or parcels. Mailers may continue to use the brown sacks until inventories are depleted.

NOTICE

Modification to 01V and 03V Sacks

The Postal Service™ is modifying the 01V and 03V sacks — 20 million of them. The modification is the inclusion of a “target area” located to the left of the label holder. The target area is to be used to affix the distribution and routing (D&R) tags.

Exhibit 1 shows the currently used sack without modification. Exhibit 2 shows the modified sack with the added target area. Exhibit 3 (see next page) shows the modified sack with a D&R tag affixed to the target area. We developed the new target area because the D&R tags were not adhering to the sacks. The modified area has been tested to ensure that the D&R tags will adhere.

The Equipment Inventory Reporting System (EIRS) number for the modified 01V sack is 01VM. The EIRS number for the modified 03V is 03VM. The tare weights (0.37 for the 01VM and 0.27 for the 03VM) include the target area.

During the next 6 to 12 months, the Postal Service will replace all Postal Service mailbags with the modified sacks, except for the EIRS 09 registered pouch and the 18G security liner.

When using the modified sacks:

- Ensure that the hook and loop strap are completely closed around the neck of the sack.
- Do not load sacks above the fill line (identified by a dashed or solid line about 3 inches below the hook and loop strap).

Overfilling the sack will make the sack difficult to close and susceptible to opening in transit and processing. Sacks with spilled contents cause reworking of the mail [see “Notice: Postal Service Develops Two New Semiclear Plastic Mailbags,” Postal Bulletin 22146 (1-20-05, pages 75–77), for instructions on proper use]. Weight limits noted in the article are suggested maximums.

Mailers may continue to use 70 pounds for the 01VM and 03VM sacks for determining presort levels and for soft-ware purposes. The Postal Service will no longer require a 35-pound weight limit for the 03VM sack.

Overseas Military Mail

Mail addressed to military post offices overseas is subject to certain conditions or restrictions of mailing regarding content, preparation, and handling. The APO/FPO table below outlines these conditions by APO/FPO ZIP Codes™ through the use of footnoted mailing restrictions codes (see the Restrictions page following the table).

Acceptance clerks should use the table with the integrated retail terminal (IRT) or POS ONE terminal to determine which APO/FPO ZIP Codes are active and which conditions of mailing apply. Acceptance clerks may contact the Military Postal Service Agency with any questions regarding APO/FPO ZIP Codes, toll free, at 800-810-6098, Monday–Friday, 0730–1630 ET.

For Express Mail Military Service (EMMS) availability, all acceptance clerks must refer to the local hardcopy EMMS directory.

The entries under “Changes” appear in bold in the APO/FPO Table starting below.

Missing Children Poster Display Instructions

Please display this poster prominently on bulletin boards in retail lobbies of main Post Offices™, classified stations, and branches. Operators of contract postal units may display this poster at their option.

Companion posters, authorized for display on bulletin boards maintained by employee organizations, appear periodically in The Postal Record, a publication for members of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

This poster is published in cooperation with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, the United States Department of Justice, and the National Association of Letter Carriers. Information appearing on this poster is selected solely by the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC).

In addition to Postal Bulletin updates, NCMEC distributes information via broadcast fax. Notification of newly reported missing children is sent to designated district "Missing Children" coordinators at fax numbers provided by district managers. Within 24 hours of receipt of a facsimile Missing Children poster, district coordinators should distribute copies to all Postal Service™ facilities in their districts. Missing Children posters are to be displayed for 30 days in Post Office lobbies, workroom floor areas, and other Postal Service facilities, unless notification is received (from NCMEC) to remove a particular poster sooner. The broadcast fax network is used to distribute posters and information in only the most urgent cases of missing and exploited children. This system supplements, but does not replace, the missing children information in this Postal Bulletin.

Missing Children posters are available to the U.S. Postal Service® only as described above. If Postal Service employees are contacted by individuals or local agencies about displaying a sign or poster of a missing child in local Post Offices, the individual or agency should be politely informed that the U.S. Postal Service displays only those posters provided by NCMEC, because it has been designated by the U.S. Department of Justice to be the national clearinghouse and resource center for missing and exploited children. The individual or agency should then be referred to NCMEC at 800-843-5678.

If you have any information, or for free prevention tips, please call 800-THE-LOST (800-843-5678).

- Last Monday in May: Memorial Day Observed (see note 2 below).

- If displayed on the same flagstaff, place it below the U.S. flag.
- If displayed on a separate flagstaff, place it at the same level or lower. If displayed at the same level, place it on the U.S. flag's left.

When flying the U.S. flag at half-staff, fly the POW-MIA flag (and any other flags) at half-staff also.

Migratory Bird Stamp Destruction

The following information contains the deadlines by which offices and philatelic retail units must return unsold migratory bird stamps for destruction.

District customer service and sales offices must establish a schedule for postal retail units to submit all unsold migratory bird stamps for destruction based on the dates provided below:

- Unsold bird stamps in stamp credits must be returned to the unit reserve by May 15, 2006.
- Unit reserves must return all unsold bird stamps to the stamp distribution office (SDO) or stamp services center (SSC) for destruction by May 31, 2006.
- Use PS Form 17, Stamp Requisition/Stamp Return, to return all unsold migratory bird stamps.

Notes:

1. Philatelic retail units and offices designated as philatelic retail units served by SDOs and SSCs must submit unsold migratory bird stamps more than 2 years old to the stamp destruction committee by May 31, 2006.

2. Philatelic retail units and offices designated as philatelic retail units are the only outlets that should have a beginning migratory bird stamp inventory as of June. These offices should maintain a detailed accountability for their migratory bird stamp inventory locally.

Additional instructions can be found in Section 427.4, Unsold Bird Stamps, Handbook F-1, Post Office Accounting Procedures, in the online version accessible on the Postal Service PolicyNet Web site:

- Go to <http://blue.usps.gov>.
- Under “Essential Links” in the left-hand column, click on References.
- Under “References” in the right-hand column, under “Policies,” click on PolicyNet.
- Then click on HBKs.

HAZMAT

NOTICE

Mailability of Articles Containing Fuel

With the arrival of spring, many of us are preparing for outdoor activities, such as yard work, camping, and other hobbies. These activities may involve items (e.g., camping stoves, lanterns, lawn equipment, and toys) that use flammable material as fuel. Frequently, these items need to be mailed to be repaired or to be sent to a friend or relative. Spring is a good time to review the Postal Service™ policy for mailing items that contain or once contained flammable materials.

The Postal Service only accepts hazardous materials that are properly packaged, marked, labeled, and declared as specified in the Mailing Standards of the United States Postal Service, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM®). Mailing flammable and combustible liquids is extremely limited due to their ability to catch fire and burn easily. For items that exhibit flammable or combustible properties, mailers are required to follow the procedures stated in section 601.10.13 of the DMM and in part 343 of Publication 52, Hazardous, Restricted, and Perishable Mail.

Many commonly used items contain material considered hazardous by Postal Service standards. Some fuel-containing items commonly found in the mail include:

- Chainsaws.
- Lawn trimmers and edgers.
- Small motors and engines.
- Used fuel tanks (motorcycles, lawn mowers).
- Small generators.
- Camp stoves.
- Gas lanterns or lamps.
- Model cars or aircraft.

Each of the items listed above is potentially mailable but only under one of the following conditions:

- a. The item has never contained fuel, or
- b. The fuel and all vapors have been completely purged from the item.

Note: If the item emits a fuel odor or if any residue is present on the outside or inside of the item, then the item is not completely purged.

Items containing fuel or fuel vapors are not mailable under any circumstances. Simply removing the fuel from an item does not make the item acceptable for mailing. Fuel tanks containing only vapors can have a greater explosion risk and thus become more hazardous than tanks that are full or partially full of fuel. The fuel must be removed, and all vapors must be purged to allow these items to be safely mailed.

- To ensure that parcels containing flammable materials move safely through the mailstream, Postal Service employees should do the following:
- At acceptance, ask the question, “Does this parcel contain anything liquid, fragile, perishable, or potentially hazardous?”
- Look out for parcels with items that could potentially contain fuel, and advise mailers of the mailing limitations (see Exhibit 1 below).

Exhibit 1

Parcel With Possible Fuel-Containing Items

- When accepting parcels, look for oil or fuel stains on the outer packaging and fuel or petroleum odors (see Exhibit 2 below).

Exhibit 2

Parcel With Oil or Fuel Stain

- If a mailpiece has markings or labels denoting a flammable or combustible material, verify the contents with the mailer and with available references that all mailability requirements have been met.
- If you encounter a fuel odor, find liquid stains, or hear liquid sounds while handling parcels, move the parcel to the HAZMAT storage area or notify your supervisor.

If you have questions about the mailability of an item or the steps required of customers for preparing an item for mailing, contact your local Business Mail Entry office.

stamps. Automatic distributions to SDOs began April 15, 2006, and were completed April 26, 2006. SDOs must not distribute the Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation stamps to Post Offices before May 26, 2006.

SDOs requiring additional quantities of Item 332100 or Item 332200 must requisition them from a designated accountable paper depository (APD) using PS Form 17, Stamp Requisition/Stamp Return.

Post Offices. To allow postmasters to be able to order the 2006–2007 Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation stamps in quantities approximating customer demand, there is no minimum ordering quantity for either format. Postmasters should review their previous year's sales records to determine the appropriate number of the 2006–2007 Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation stamps to requisition.

Postmasters must immediately send a separate PS Form 17 to their SDOs for a sufficient number of Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation stamps to last until April 28, 2007. Post Offices served by Stamp Service Centers (SSCs) must follow their established ordering guidelines.

If the initial stamp supply is exhausted before April 28, 2007, postmasters must requisition additional quantities. Retail units with authorized philatelic centers should order both formats of the stamps and have them available to meet philatelic demand. All postmasters/station managers must ensure that Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation stamps are available to meet public demand.

Hunting Regulations Pamphlets

The Department of the Interior does not automatically distribute pamphlets on hunting regulations because migratory game bird laws vary by state. Direct all inquiries about hunting regulations to your state fish and wildlife agency or your state department of natural resources. Do not forward your inquiries to the U.S. Department of the Interior's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Pictorial Postmarks Announcement

As a community service, the Postal Service™ offers pictorial postmarks to commemorate local events celebrated in communities throughout the nation. A list of events for which pictorial postmarks are authorized appears below. If available, the sponsor of the pictorial postmark appears in italics under the date. Also provided, as space permits, are illustrations of those postmarks that were reproducible and available at press time.

People attending these local events may obtain the postmark in person at the temporary Post Office™ station established there. Those who cannot attend the event, but who wish to obtain the postmark, may submit a mail order request. Pictorial postmarks are available only for the dates indicated, and requests must be postmarked no later than 30 days following the requested pictorial postmark date.

All requests must include a stamped envelope or postcard bearing at least the minimum First-Class Mail® postage. Items submitted for postmark may not include postage issued after the date of the requested postmark. Such items will be returned unserved.

Customers wishing to obtain a postmark should affix stamps to any envelope or postcard of their choice, address the envelope or postcard to themselves or others, insert a card of postcard thickness in envelopes for sturdiness, and tuck in the flap. Place the envelope or postcard in a larger envelope and address it to: PICTORIAL POSTMARKS, followed by the NAME OF THE STATION, ADDRESS, CITY, STATE, ZIP+4® CODE, exactly as listed below (using all capitals and no punctuation, except the hyphen in the ZIP+4 code).

Customers can also send stamped envelopes and postcards without addresses for postmark, as long as they supply a larger envelope with adequate postage and their return address. After applying the pictorial postmark, the Postal Service returns the items (with or without addresses) under addressed protective cover.

Team Makeover: Step Three – Complete it Now

Since completing its Team Makeover, the Hawthorne, NY, Post Office™ has seen an increase in walk-in revenue for Express Mail® service of 13.5%, Priority Mail® service of 7.3%, and ReadyPost® products of 27.9% vs. the same period last year!* If you've registered for Team Makeover, it's time for Step Three: Completion.

In Step Two: Checklist, you assessed the seven zones of your Post Office and determined "Action Needed" items. Use that checklist to address every "Action Needed" item. To achieve Step Three: Completion status, every line item must have "No Action Needed" or "Done" selected. Your efforts will pay off!

After your team has completed, go online to blue.usps.gov/advertising, click on Retail Standardization, then Go To Team Makeover Post Office Edition. Log in under "Return users" on the left navigation bar to complete, save, and then submit your checklist. While you're online, e-mail your success story and any before-and-after photographs to the Retail Standardization Headquarters Team. From Outlook, start a new e-mail message and type in "Retail Standardization" in the "To:" field.

If your location doesn't have access to the Internet or has any questions about Step Three, call your district retail specialist. Go Team!

Team Makeover FAQ

Q: "How do I submit the office assessment checklist? I marked all of the items that needed action, but the 'Submit' button will not work."

A: The "Submit" button will not appear until either "No Action Needed" or "Action Needed" has been selected for EVERY line item. Then, you must save the assessment checklist. When you save the assessment, line items that have been checked are crossed out. Review the checklist. Any line items that have not been crossed out need to be checked. Note: this means that you can save the checklist and go back later if you need to before submitting it. After all the line items are checked, save the assessment and the "Submit" button will appear.

USPS/eBay Ship It, Win IT Sweepstakes is coming!

Get ready for the Ship It, Win IT Sweepstakes! This promotion, which runs May 24 – June 30, 2006 in select offices, leverages the power of the eBay "IT" campaign to deliver the value of Priority Mail® flat-rate boxes to our customers. Radio spots, online ads, POP, and in-store displays will drive customers to pick up a flat-rate box and entry form. Customers will enter online at shipitwinit.com or mail in their entry for a chance to win the Grand Prize of $10,000 to spend on eBay!

The Ship It, Win IT Promotional POP Kit will arrive before May 24. Look for a shipment of Priority Mail flat-rate boxes to arrive separately from the POP. Follow the Promotional POP Kit Signage Instruction Guide — make sure all elements are properly displayed on May 24.

Help promote this program. Tell customers to take a flat-rate box and entry form (while supplies last) to enter the sweepstakes. Even without an entry form, customers can still enter the sweepstakes by visiting shipitwinit.com after May 24. While USPS® employees and their family members are not eligible to participate, look for a special Post Office™ contest to be announced soon. Learn more about this exciting USPS/eBay promotion — visit the Advertising Web site at blue/advertising

Two New Postcards From Dilbert and Cathy

Thanks to our Dialogue direct mail campaign, millions of business and residential customers are getting a postcard every month, each with a Dilbert or Cathy cartoon and a helpful USPS message. This month's Dilbert postcard, aimed at business customers, informs them that with Click-N-Ship® online service and Carrier Pickup™ service they essentially have Post Office convenience at their office. The postcard details how they can print shipping labels and postage, schedule free Carrier Pickup service, and manage their shipping online.

Managing your mail is the subject of May's Cathy postcard targeting residential customers. Premium Forwarding Service (PFS), Change-of-Address service, and Hold Mail service make managing mail easy. Customers learn that by choosing PFS they can forward mail to another address during an extended time away from home.

The Dialogue direct mail campaign stimulates many questions for retail associates. Be prepared. To learn more about Click-N-Ship and Carrier Pickup, visit usps.com/clicknship and go to usps.com/deliveryoptions for details on Premium Forwarding Service. Each question creates an opportunity to provide solutions that better serve customers' needs — as the dialogue flows, the revenue grows!
