FOR PRESIDENT,
STEPHEN ARNOLD DOUGLAS,
OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
HERSCHL V. JOHNSON,
OF GEORGIA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING—JUNE 27, 1860

Editor.

The charge of dianction against this bold movement in the South, many engaged in it will deny with indignation. It is to deny it. The popular intuition is sagacious, and naturally suggests the question, to what other destination are they going?

They are on the road which leads nowhere; the vanguard is commanded by men who disown their banners. They proclaim an ultimatum which the country will infallibly accept. They know it as well as we do, and what we know about it.

With their delegates in Congress, with that body as they waited upon the Convention and Baltimore's Convention. After all these demonstrations, do they propose to submit at last? They would scorn the word now. Their issue, or nothing, in the Union, is the stand of their leaders. The mass of the people will, therefore, very naturally conclude that the movement means disunion, if it means anything intelligible and manly. If the end is not disunion, it is stark folly and absurdity. What do sensible men mean by climbing so high, if they intend to climb down again? Will they, "with twice thousand men, march up the hill, and then down again?" Shall we suspect Yancey, Breckinridge, Lane & Co., of a design to accomplish such an exploit? With many, indeed, the motive is revenge. It is no better than the motive of Van Buren in 1848. He would not forgive the friends of General Cass; they defeated his aspirations in 1844, and he resolved to defeat Cass four years afterward. Some bolds, like Douglas; and if it beats the rest, will beat him. Their object has this extent, and no more. All this clamor about the rights of the South is in effect, it's cheap capital. They can sell it, and make a good clerk; but his politics are scarcely of the right kind to entitle him to it, in a political contest made for the office.

Now a CANDIDATE.—There is no doubt that Hon. Jas. Gwinne, who was the shaker of the Kentucky Democracy in the Presidency, is a man of considerable influence, that I am bound to repeat your call. I congratulate you and the whole country upon every thing successful to date. The last year would not be elected, and joined the Seceders; the former cannot want office or honor, for he has most effectively presented his success.

The Northern Squatter Sovereign has been squating on the paving of the track, and is below, awaiting the arrival of the Union locomotive.—Journal.

If he is "paving the dirt," certainly your Party North is the one he is battling, as there, it is said, to be principally "free soil."

Douglas, as a debator, is never so great as in replying to questions put to him by opponents.—Low Journal.

We differ from your candidate. Well, we expect, is greatest in our reply to your questions. If he has nothing to say, how can you expect him to answer for President?

The Chicago Tribune says that Mr. Lane does not deserve the laurels, but his opinion places him under the ban of the Northern Democracy. So, dear old Joe, you are no half Joe, but you are a real bad Joe.—Low Journal.

Right for this time. It is no half Joe, because the people will not have Joe.

The Westchester Jeffersonian comes with a selected article as to the proper mode of burying "Dead Mummies." We are anxiously expecting another article from the same source, as we wish to know how to inhumate those live mummies—Bell and Everett.

There is a good deal of curiosity to learn who our delegates from Kentucky acted in the Baltimore Convention. We publish the information this morning. We now want to know who of them went into that Bogus Convention, and who sent them.

Major Breckinridge has repeatedly declared that he did not wish to be President in the next four years, and has proved his consistency by taking the most effectual step to prevent his possibility in all time. He is safe now.

A Mr. Hinman, of Arkansas, bet $100,000, at Baltimore, that Douglas would not get a electoral vote. Hinman will be pretty certain to win.—Arkansas.

If Hinman did make such a foolish bet, it is, most decidedly, not up with the news. It is a B-kind man.

Duty to the Democratic party leads him to the Black Republicans, and here they have a double alliance, and have a strong example. He has reason to congratulate himself. He is the pioneer, and history will assign him an honorable position. His tribe of Janes were in advance, and he ought, in justice, now to stand at the head of the column.

There is an unfortunate letter from Major Breckinridge to Illinois, against the Banister, written in 1856. He preferred Douglas to Lincoln. He didn't know that he would lead the whole United States column of Janes in two short years. Ike Cook & Co. must now forget that blunder in the Major. He didn't foresee as far as they did.

Remember, however, the fate of the first Banister. It failed. The present one on an expanded scale will fall in like manner; but whilst it lives and lasts, Cook & Co. must be held in exalted honor. Ike ought to be declared as chief manager. He is the old Banister chief, and has experience that will be valuable and profitable. We suggest this for Ike's benefit, and he ought to thank us for it. He is not at once taken into high favor, injurious will be done him; that's all.

A Cockney friend, who has read an article headed, "A Few Hints on the Horse," by R. Ray, says he once had a wiser son from the horse itself. It was to get off, and he took it "precipitately."

General Lane used to be a good Democrat; but he has turned. He can't be long a candidate. It is a long lane that has no turning.

The nomination of Douglas was received with unbound enthusiasm at Columbus, Ohio.

The friends of the Southern Pacific Railroad will be glad to learn that a contract has been made by the Company, with De Graff & Smith, for the gradation and crossings for fifty miles of the road, on terms satisfactory to the Company. This road will be made. Its completion is only a question of time, and energy and skill will hasten it. It is in safe hands now, and all its means will be well applied. We have the information from a letter to the Messrs. Burkhardt, from President Thompson.

In 1846, Van Buren, from a sense of duty, bolted the nomination of the party that had once honored him with the highest office in the world. Mr. Yancey, at the same time, felt it duty to denounce and oppose General Cass. Van Buren was successful, but Yancey failed; although a willing helper of the Northern traitors in another and opposite field. It is now Mr. Yancey's turn to lead the formidable delegation and win the laurels Van Buren won in that all.

Some friends of the Southern Pacific Railroad, while meeting at Baltimore, agreed to accept nominations made by that unheralded mass meeting at Buffalo. So Van Buren felt it duty to accept the nomination of the Buffalo Convention in 1850, in order to heat Gen. Cass.

Mrs. Breckinridge and Lane feel their duty to accept nominations made by that unheralded mass meeting at Baltimore. So Van Buren felt it duty to accept the nomination of the Buffalo Convention in 1850, in order to heat Gen. Cass.

We learn, from the Louisville Courier, that "Breckinridge is Kentucky's own favorite." What is the word, has become of Mr. Gwinne, who, a week ago, was "Kentucky's own favorite?"

Hannibal Hamlin, Black Republican candidate for the Vice Presidency, is said to be principally remarkable for wearing dirty shirts. He is not in practice a free-seller.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SHERIFF OF JEFFERSON COUNTY.

W. A. ELLIS.

CLERK OF COURT OF APPEALS.

R. R. BOLLING.

Louisville, Ky.

TUESDAY MORNING, 7:30 A.M.

Changes in the Vice Presidency—

Senator Fitzpatrick Declines—Ex-

Governor Johnson of Georgia,

Nominated in his place.

Special Report to the Daily Democrat.

Ex-Governor Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia, was unanimously nominated for Vice-President, to supply the place of Fitzpatrick, at the unanimous instance of Southern delegations. Mr. Johnson has just as capably in person, great enthusiasm.

The Nashville Banner insinuates that the glorification goes up in that city, ostensibly for Breckinridge and Lane, was quite as much for Douglas.

The Journal has insinuated that the celebration, Saturday night, was a mixed affair. The only enthusiasm manifested was for Douglas and non-intervention. No national celebration took place. The Journal is a gay deceiver, and should correct its statement.

The Hopkinsville Press says: "We're re-learned that Maj. John S. United States Marshal, while approaching a farm house one day last week for the purpose of taking down the names of the family in the census register, was attacked by a dog and severely mangled."

The following is a correct statement of what the Kentucky delegation acted on Saturday: Winklow, Quisen, Green, Leach, Kendell, Caudill, Dabham, Johnson, Beck & McKee. Declined to vote—Caldwell, Williams, Bradley, Young, Butler and Field. Voted for Douglas—WHITE, MASON, MORROW, WOOD, SHARP, SPAULDING, READ, SPEED and HELM.

General Cass was nominated for President by the Democrats in 1848, under the rule that he had received two-thirds of the vote actually cast. He did not get two-thirds of all the Electoral College, and the President of the Convention, Andrew Stevenson, of Virginia, a prominent statesman, one of whose sons now represents the Covington (Kentucky) District in Congress, ruled that it was not necessary to have more than two-thirds of the vote given.

TERRELL.—There was a grand ratification of the nomination of Douglas and Johnson at Cincinnati last night. At Lexington the Breckinridges men fired 100 guns. The steamer Ohio has arrived from Liverpool. The Great Eastern will sail for New York on July 10th. Garibaldi is fully successful. The Neapolitan troops continued leaving Sicily. The annexation of Savoy was consummated.

We are informed that an affray of a serious nature occurred on Monday at the Post Office House, in Harrodsburg, Ky., in which a young man named Miller was shot through the body by the clerk of the Post Office, whose name is Davis. It is thought that Miller will not recover. Several shots were fired by other parties, but no further damage was done.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE FEMALE AND MALE HIGH SCHOOL.—The closing exercises of the former school will take place on Wednesday, the 25th instant, in the large hall of the Masonic Temple, corner of Jefferson and Fourth streets, when the honors of the school will be conferred by the President of the Board of Trustees upon the graduating class.

The exercises will consist of original essays, selected readings, and vocal and instrumental music.

The three front rows of seats, the width of the hall, will be reserved for the Mayor and the Board of Trustees.

The school will commence punctually at 8 o'clock p.m.

Male High School.—The commencement exercises of this department will take place in the Masonic Temple Thursday, 26th inst., commencing punctually at 8 o'clock p.m.
