

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

135TH COMMENCEMENT

THURSDAY, MAY 5, 2022

TIME TO FLY

Welcome

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations!

Today, we celebrate you, your families and the many dedicated faculty and academic advisors who had the pleasure of educating and championing you.

If Temple's founder, Russell Conwell, were alive to see your collective achievement, he would be proud of the hard work, personal grit and determination of this class. In 1884, he planted seeds that have grown and matured into one of this nation's great urban research universities. It is now your turn to carry forth that legacy; you have the preparation, readiness and network to excel. I expect each of you to make an impact.

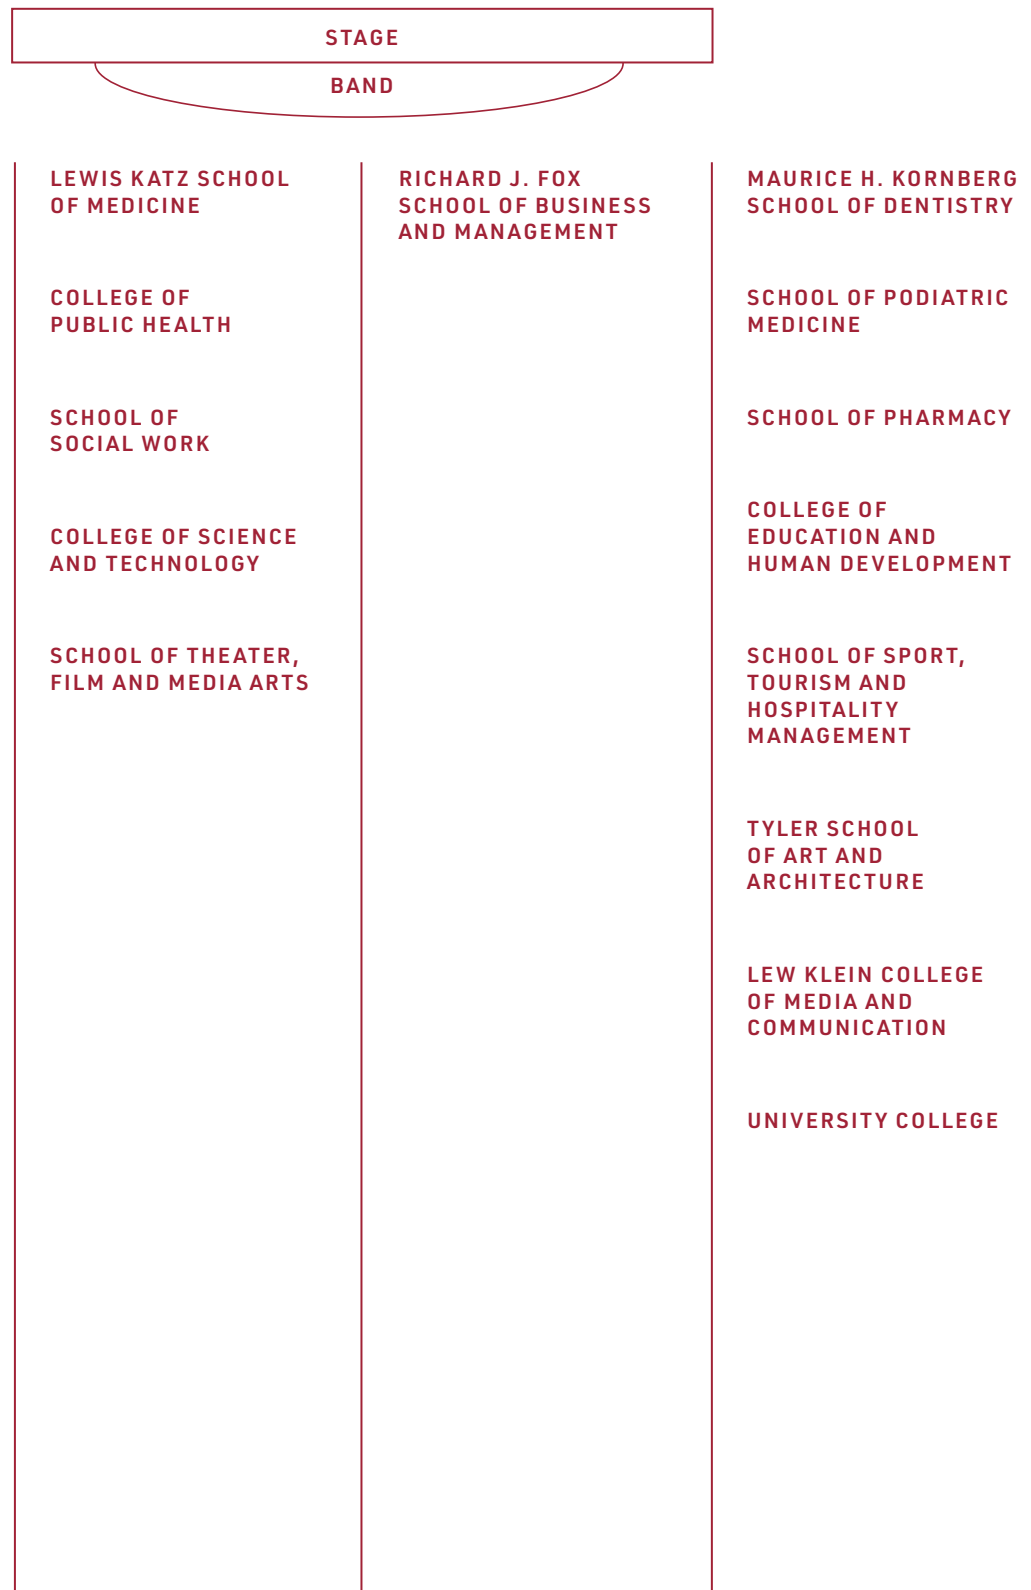

Regardless of your professional path, we will be tracking your progress and applauding your accomplishments here at the "Nest." Remember to represent the Owl wherever you go. Show the world what it means to be Temple Made.

Sincerely,

Dr. Jason Wingard
President

Academic Ceremony and Regalia

PROCESSION

The academic procession is a vestige of medievalism in modern university life. The somber gowns and colorful hoods are similar to those worn by scholars and church men as early as the twelfth century. The garb had an element of utility. The robes were warm; the hoods could be drawn up to protect against drafts in unheated buildings.

Traditionally, the hood's silk lining was the color of the university, and the color of the bordering velvet indicated the special area of study, still used today. White represents arts, letters and humanities; dark blue, philosophy; light blue, education; yellow, science; brown, fine arts; mustard, business; purple, law; dark green, medicine; lilac, dentistry; olive, pharmacy; pink, music; orange, engineering; citron, social work; sea foam, podiatry. The color of the tassels on the "mortar boards" or caps of the candidates for degrees corresponds to the velvet borders of the hoods.

Gowns representing the bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees vary in style. The bachelor's gown has long pointed sleeves; the master's gown, longer, narrow closed sleeves, which extend below the knees; the doctoral gown, with full bell-shaped sleeves and three bars of velvet opens in the front with wide velvet bands in either black or the color indicating the area of study.

Stoles and sashes represent a student's affiliation with an organization or group such as student athletes, study abroad, international, Greek organizations and other student service or academic organizations.

Cords are worn by students who excel academically and are reserved for Latin Honors, university honors and other honors programs and honor societies.

The tassel on the mortar board is customarily worn on the right side before the degrees are conferred and shifted to the left at the moment the degrees are awarded.

Leaving the Ceremony

To avoid excessive congestion when leaving the Liacouras Center, guests in sections 102–104 and 112–114 should use the 15th Street exit; guests in sections 105–111 should exit through the Main Lobby onto Broad Street.

To ensure everyone's safety and reduce overcrowding, please refrain from taking photos near the Broad Street exit of the Liacouras Center. Here are alternative locations:

1. Liacouras Walk between Norris Street and Polett Walk;
2. Founder's Garden between 13th Street and Liacouras Walk;
3. Bell Tower on Polett Walk between 12th and 13th Streets; and
4. Park Mall between Cecil B. Moore and Montgomery Streets.

Honors and Distinction Symbols

 summa cum laude	+ distinction in major
 magna cum laude	++ distinction in double major
* cum laude

THE CHAIN OF OFFICE AND THE MEDALLION

The chain of office and medallion are symbols of the office worn by the president on official and ceremonial occasions. The front of the medallion bears a replica of the official seal of the college, which includes the university's name and date of incorporation, a Greek temple, and the motto "Perseverantia Vincit" (Perseverance Conquers). The back of the medallion bears an image of Temple University founder Russell H. Conwell, along with the words "Knowledge with Honor" and "Wisdom Through Diligence." The chain is imprinted with symbols representing the university's original schools and colleges.

THE MACE

The Temple University mace, a highly ornamental staff, was created by Stanley Lechtzin, who is a professor of design at the Tyler School of Art and Architecture. Commissioned in 1964 by then-President Millard Gladfelter, the mace was one of Lechtzin's first major commissions. It traveled to Rome for the 35th anniversary celebration of the Temple University Rome campus.

The mace is 40 inches high and 6.5 inches in diameter, and is made of sterling silver, enamel and cherry wood, with an accompanying cherry wood stand. The top has a stylized "T" with an enameled Temple University seal. The mace is a gift from the Class of 1966.

Judith R. Faulkner

DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS, HONORIS CAUSA

Judith R. Faulkner is a renowned healthcare software pioneer and philanthropist. As the founder and CEO of Epic, Faulkner has dedicated her life to creating software that helps people get well, stay well, and future generations become healthier. This software allows healthcare organizations to securely exchange health information wherever the patient goes, enables the possibility of novel medical discoveries through the study of EHR data, and helps our heroic healthcare organizations not only take better care of their patients but also grow and thrive.

Faulkner founded Epic in 1979 with no venture capital and two half-time assistants in a basement of an apartment house in Madison, Wisconsin. She is unique among major electronic medical record (EMR) leaders in having built the company from the EMR code she wrote. Without ever taking the company public, she grew Epic from its modest beginnings as a clinical database to the nation's leading provider of integrated healthcare software. The top 20 best hospitals and top 20 best medical schools for research in the U.S., according to U.S. News & World Report, all use Epic. The company has introduced several health technology firsts, including the first successful graphical user interface-based electronic medical record (EMR), integrated patient portal and comprehensive health record (CHR) integrating healthcare, mental health, social care, specialty pharmacy, genomics, dental, payers, retail medicine and workplace health. For the past 12 years consecutively, Epic has been named the overall best software suite by KLAS, the leading Health IT research firm.

Faulkner's dedication to quality health care and the integrity of her company has attracted accolades. Faulkner was named one of 50 Memorable Contributors to Healthcare IT by the Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society, as well as one of the 50 Most Powerful People in Healthcare, 40 of the Smartest People in Healthcare, and, her favorite, 26 of the Most Controversial People in Healthcare by Becker's Hospital Review. Modern Healthcare lists her in their 100 Most Influential People in Healthcare, and she received the inaugural lifetime achievement award from the College of Healthcare Information Management Executives. In 2021, Forbes named Faulkner second on their list of American Self-Made Women and America's Top 50 Women in Tech.

Faulkner was born in Philadelphia. Faulkner's parents inspired her early interest in helping others; her father was a pharmacist, and her mother was the director of Oregon Physicians for Social Responsibility. She was raised in Erlton, New Jersey, and graduated from Moorestown Friends School in 1961. She earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics, magna cum laude, from Dickinson College and a master's degree in computer science from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Faulkner serves on the University of Wisconsin Computer Science Board of Visitors and is a member of the National Academy of Medicine Leadership Roundtable and the Aspen Health Strategy Group.

In 2016, Faulkner signed The Giving Pledge, committing 99% of her assets to philanthropy. Faulkner's goal through her pledge is to help others with roots—food, warmth, shelter, healthcare, education—so they too can have wings.

Kenneth C. Frazier

DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS, HONORIS CAUSA

Kenneth C. Frazier is a visionary leader who has dedicated himself to justice, public service and making the world a better place. As a widely respected attorney, business executive and philanthropist, he currently serves as the executive chairman of the board of directors of the international biopharmaceutical company, Merck & Co., Inc. He also serves as the chair of health assurance initiatives at the venture capital firm General Catalyst, where he advises on partnerships and provides mentorship to founders building companies that are well positioned to transform the healthcare industry through collaborative and responsible innovation.

Frazier often refers to the influence on his life of growing up in a modest home in North Philadelphia near Temple's main campus. His father, a custodian, had little formal education but instilled in his children its importance. Frazier's experiences in the Philadelphia public schools during the introduction of school desegregation had a profound effect on him. Following graduation from high school, Frazier earned his bachelor's degree from The Pennsylvania State University and a JD from Harvard Law School.

After graduating from law school, Frazier proved to be a rising star in litigation, achieving partnership at the firm now known as Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP. He developed his business law acumen and reputation while retaining a devotion to ensuring the fairness of our justice system. As an attorney, he handled pro bono litigation cases, including what he refers to as his greatest accomplishment as a lawyer: helping to exonerate death row inmate James Willie "Bo" Cochran.

Frazier joined Merck in 1992 and held positions of increasing responsibility, including general counsel, before becoming president and CEO in 2011. In his leadership positions, Frazier helped the biopharmaceutical company deliver life-saving medicines and vaccines that provide far-reaching benefits to society. During his tenure at Merck, Frazier launched Merck for Mothers, the company's $500 million global initiative committed to creating a world where no woman has to die while giving life.

Among his many humanitarian achievements, Frazier is co-founder and co-chair of OneTen, a coalition of leading corporations and organizations across the country committed to upskilling, hiring and promoting one million Black Americans into family-sustaining jobs within 10 years.

Drawing on his community roots and his father's lessons on the importance of education, Frazier and his wife, Andréa, made a generous gift through their foundation to create a partnership between Temple University and Thomas Jefferson University to bring stroke prevention care to Philadelphia's underrepresented communities.

Frazier is the recipient of numerous national awards including CEO of the Year from Chief Executive magazine, the Anti-Defamation League Courage Against Hate Award, the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund National Equal Justice Award and the National Minority Quality Forum's Lifetime Achievement Award, to name a few. He is also the first recipient of the Forbes Lifetime Achievement Award for Healthcare and was twice named one of TIME's 100 Most Influential People.

Dawn Staley

DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS, HONORIS CAUSA

Dawn Staley is one of the most revered female athletes in history. She is an American basketball Hall of Fame player and coach, three-time Olympic gold medalist, and former professional basketball player. She is also a humanitarian, committed to creating a path forward for the next generation, particularly those in her North Philadelphia hometown.

From the playgrounds of North Philadelphia to Dobbins Technical High School, Staley was a standout basketball player and was named USA National High School Player of the Year. She began her college career playing for the University of Virginia, where she helped lead her team to three Final Fours, including one title game, and became a two-time national player of the year. Though she never earned a national championship as a player, her talents on the court were recognized around the world. In 1999, Staley was drafted into the WNBA, where she played professionally for seven years before retiring in 2006. While still playing in the WNBA, she was recruited to be Temple University's Women's Basketball head coach in 2000. During this same time, she also played for Team USA and won multiple gold medals. She also became the first person in USA basketball history to earn the title of USA Basketball National Coach of the Year and USA Basketball Athlete of the Year. During her Temple coaching career, she led the Owls to six NCAA appearances and four Atlantic 10 titles.

Staley left Temple in 2008 to join the University of South Carolina as head coach of their women's basketball team, where she built the program from the ground up. She has led the Gamecocks to six SEC regular season championships, six SEC tournament championships, eight Sweet Sixteens, four Final Fours and two NCAA National Championships.

She has had a stellar career as both a player and a coach, having received many accolades for her athletic achievements. In addition to being named College Player of the Year and College Coach of the Year multiple times, Staley was also named a six-time WNBA All-Star earning her a spot on the 2011 WNBA 15th Anniversary Team which recognized the top 15 players in WNBA history.

Born and raised in a modest home in North Philadelphia, Staley has never forgotten her roots. She created the Dawn Staley Foundation which features an afterschool project and scholarship program for underrepresented youth to develop leadership, teamwork and social skills and grow into responsible and productive citizens.

Local and national organizations have recognized Staley's humanitarian efforts as well as her professional success. She received the 2020 Jefferson Award for Outstanding Public Service and the Order of Palmetto, the highest civilian honor for significant achievement and service to the state. Following South Carolina's National Championship, both of Staley's hometowns renamed streets in her honor. In 2017, then-Columbia Mayor Steven K. Benjamin renamed several blocks Dawn Staley Way. That same year, Philadelphia named the two-block path from Staley's childhood home to the recreational center where she began her basketball career, Dawn Staley Lane.

A Message from the Temple University Alumni Association

To the Class of 2022,

Congratulations!

We are excited to welcome you into the Temple University Alumni Association (TUAA). As you step out into the world, know that you are not alone. There are over 340,000 fellow Owls worldwide excited to see you take flight. Owls are everywhere.

As you go beyond Broad Street, we encourage you to capitalize on all of the resources and benefits available to you as new graduates, including:

- Owl Network: Temple's Online Professional Networking Platform
- Regional Chapters: 20 Alumni Regional Chapters connect alumni where they live
- Temple University Young Alumni: Programs, events and resources for alumni 30 and under.
- Schools and Colleges: Each school and college has their own Alumni Association
- Special events like Homecoming and Temple Made Days

Visit alumni.temple.edu to learn more about all the resources, information and engagement opportunities—both in person and online—we offer to connect and serve our alumni and university community.

We wish you the very best of luck as you begin this exciting phase of your Temple journey.

Go Owls!

A Message from the Temple University Career Center

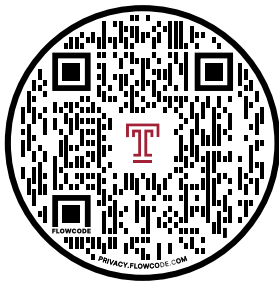

Dear Class of 2022,

You made it—congratulations! We hope you take this time to revel in your accomplishments and reflect fondly on your time here at Temple.

The University Career Center and Career Network partners within our schools and colleges are grateful for the opportunity to support and guide your professional development thus far. Now, we want to know where you land!

Whether you are figuring out your next move, starting a new job, continuing your education, or whatever comes after the nest—please share with us on the First Destination Survey. Understanding the paths of Temple graduates helps the university understand how we can better serve our students and can influence support for future Owls.

Complete the First Destination Survey:

We also know you might still be figuring out your next step and that your plans may change in the future. We are here to help now, and in the coming years, as you navigate your career path. You can schedule an appointment with a career coach in the Career Center or your college or school for continued support.

We are confident that you will go on to do great things and have a fulfilling career because you are Temple made!

Congratulations,

Kristen Gallo
Executive Director of Career Services
