Preface

Prior to 1976 collectors of U.S. 19th century material tended to neglect the 1869 Pictorial Issue and the re-issues of 1875 and 1880. Then, a separate 1869 section was added to The Chronicle of the U.S. Classic Postal Issues.

The year before the 1976 international stamp exhibition in Philadelphia, INTERPHIL, a group of enthusiastic specialists interested in the 1869 Issue formed an association called the 1869 Pictorial Research Associates. The 1869 PRA, Inc., as it is called, produced a loose-leaf book for release at INTERPHIL, called the 1869 Pictorial Research Associates INTERPHIL 1976 Publication. It contained 16 articles on various subjects, ranging from how the 1869 Issue was made to a discussion of the high value 1869 stamps on original cover.

This latter article by Richard Searing, Ph.D., the co-editor of this book, was the beginning of the census of all 1869 covers, which has consumed thousands of man hours during the past ten years. Searing updated his lists and corrected the data in subsequent articles, which appeared in both the Chronicle and the quarterly publication of the 1869 PRA, Inc., called 1869 Times. Searing concentrated on the 24¢, 30¢ and 90¢ values.

In 1978 the 1869 PRA, Inc. published its first hardbound book, The 1978 Register. Included among its eight articles was the following: "The Type I 15¢ 1869 on Cover: A Census," co-authored by Jonathan W. Rose and Elliott H. Coulter, a specialist in covers of the 1869 Issue and re-issue and current outgoing chairman of the Philatelic Foundation. This listing of Type I 15¢ covers was revised and expanded. An updated list and analysis of the covers it contained appeared in an article in Chronicle 108: pp. 254-260 (November, 1980), written by Rose with the help of Coulter.

By 1980 various collectors were working individually or in two-man teams gathering data on covers franked with all values of the 1869 Issue. Since then lists have been compiled of covers of each value, 6¢ through 90¢. Specialists also formed lists of re-issue covers and those mixed franking covers with one or more 1869 value.

At least six years ago it was decided to published cover census data and articles on as many 1869 covers as could be recorded by the time of the international exhibition in Chicago, known as AMERIPEX '86. The following work is the result.

No 1¢ cover list is contained in this book due to computer problems and lack of sufficient cover data. Nor are there lists for covers with 2¢ or 3¢ 1869 stamps. Estimates of the number of 2¢ covers range from 5,000 to 25,000, and of the 3¢, at least 116,000.

Many, many collectors and dealers have supplied information which goes into these pages. To all of them the editors of this book, the directors of the 1869 PRA, Inc. and collectors everywhere say thanks. Eight writers and editors contributed to this work. Each is a specialist in his own right in one or more areas of 1869 philately. Each realizes that cover data is missing and that some informed suppositions must be made until additional information is obtained.

In some cases, as we saw, there are no lists, and forming such a list will be a formidable task—for the 2¢ and 3¢ values in particular. In other cases, many covers are not listed which could be with renewed efforts. The 12¢ value is an example. Some of the lists are near completion, the 15¢ Type I, the 24¢, 30¢ and 90¢. The lists of re-issues on cover (29 examples) and mixed franking covers (87) are reasonably complete, we feel.

The list of 10¢ covers has reached a state of near completion, thanks to the more than 20 years of efforts of Michael Laurence. He lists more than 1,000 examples of 10¢ covers in this book.

The editors felt that this book should contain both color and black and white illustrations of some of the more interesting and spectacular 1869 covers. You will find more than 40 color illustrations and more than twice as many black and whites. It is the hope of the editors that this work will be expanded and revised and that a second edition will be forthcoming. In the meantime, the 1869 PRA, Inc. would like to produce a specialized catalogue for 1869 issues and re-issues. Your help is solicited in this effort.

The One Cent 1869 Issue on Cover: An Analysis

By John Birkinbine II
PRA #1

The United States Post Office Department issued a circular, dated March 1, 1869, stating that “At an early day, in the regular course of business, the Department will issue to Postmasters stamps of new designs.” These new designs could not be specially requisitioned by postmasters, and were not to be ordered until the old designs had been used up. And the department would not supply new designs until its stocks of the older issues were exhausted. Thus, it is likely the new 1869 stamps were not immediately placed in circulation.

The 1869 issue was normally produced with grills, a small waffle-like impression into the paper, which allowed cancelling ink to soak into the paper fibers. In addition to the normal grill, the 1¢ stamp is known with double grill, with split grills, and with no grill. These varieties occurred during the production process.

The 1¢ 1869 depicts the head of Benjamin Franklin, the 1737 postmaster of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Colony, the deputy postmaster general of the British North American Colonies from 1753 to 1774, as well as the first postmaster general of the United States in 1775. The engraved likeness is copied from a bust of Franklin executed by Cerrachi, and placed in the middle of the stamp. This is the only 19th century United States postage stamp to have a framed circular design.

Although the officially announced color is Roman ochre, collectors now categorize the color in various shades of buff, brown orange and dark brown orange. Some of the printing ink components are extremely sensitive to light and to soaking in water. Thus many of the shades encountered today are due to this fugitive property, and are not as originally issued. While Dr. Carroll Chase felt the dark brown orange hue was scarce, this writer has noted no distinct scarcity among the three main colors in fresh unused copies or in fresh copies on cover.

Stanley Ashbrook’s records indicated the earliest usage he know of for the one-cent stamp was May 2, 1869. Scott’s U.S. Specialized lists March 27, 1869 as the earliest known date for the 1¢.

The most common cancellation ink appearing on the 1869 issue is black. The one-cent stamp is also known with the following colored cancels: blue, gray blue, ultramarine, blue green, green, red, orange red, purple, and magenta. A true green is the rarest, with this shade being described by many specialists as “apple green.” The color resembles that of the green pippin apple found in grocery stores, and it is this shade which Scott recognizes and prices in the specialized United States catalog.

Most of the cancellations encountered are common cork killers, but there are some attractive fancy designs known used on the 1¢ stamp. At the time it was against postal regulations to cancel the stamp with the town name device. Stamps of the 1869 issue struck with such a marking are scarce and highly prized among specialists. One of the most unusual examples is the octagonal town strike of Lexington, Michigan.

The 1869 stamps were issued in smaller format than had been customary. The lower, single-color denominations were released in panes of 150 stamps. As a result of the smaller size, the poor quality gum, and to some extent the unexpected pictorial designs, the general public raised quite a fuss over these “nasty” new bits of postal paper—as evidenced by the many detrimental articles in the publications of that day. Consequently, it was not long before the government arranged for another issue of stamps more in keeping with precedents. Thus the length of time the 1869 stamps were in general use was comparatively short. The earliest listed date of the new 1870 Bank Note 1¢ stamp, which succeeded the 1869 issue, is April 12, 1870, indicating the 1869 1¢ issue had an average life span of 54 weeks.

The number of 1869 1¢ covers surviving today is minimal when compared with contemporary 1¢ issues. During a conversation with the writer in his Philadelphia Walnut Street office in 1948, Philip H. Ward, Jr. observed that he felt there were more single-stamp 10¢ 1847 covers extant than single-stamp 1¢ 1869 covers. He was right! The census lists 73 such covers reported thru 1985. It is the writer's present opinion that between 500 and 700 single-rate, 1¢ 1869 covers exist today in collections, with perhaps an equal amount represented by covers having more than one copy, or in combination with other stamps.

A study of classic United States postal history collections might validate the apparent scarcity of 1¢ 1869 covers. For example, the Emmerson C. Krug collection, auctioned in 1958 by Robert A. Siegel, contained 18 1¢ single domestic 1869 covers. This compares with 31 10¢ single domestic 1847 covers. Krug was a careful and knowledgeable buyer at a time when postal history was not generally appreciated. The above comparison not only indicates the scarcity of 1¢ 1869 covers, but also Krug's awareness of this fact in the relatively large number he acquired.

It is unfortunate that the 1¢ cover census is not complete enough to permit publication in this book. Perhaps the romance, the fascination, and the scarcity of the 10¢ thru 90¢ 1869 denominations promote a greater degree of attention to these stamps, leading to a feeling they are more important. One-cent census input from philatelists to date has not been adequate to provide a satisfactory perspective of this particular denomination. Thus informative conclusions cannot be presented with any degree of accuracy at this time. However, certain general observations may be made from the data on hand; and some very interesting specific covers can be described.

The intended domestic usages for this denomination were the one-cent drop rate where there was no carrier delivery, and the one-cent unsealed circular rate for three ounces or less. Since drop letters often did not contain messages of tremendous import, most were discarded. Even fewer advertisements, notices, and other printed circulars were preserved. Most were thrown away. It is this general lack of sentimental and/or informational value of the contents of the envelope that caused it not to be saved. This created a scarcity of surviving specimens on cover relative to the number of stamps issued. Brookman states that 16,605,150 one-cent stamps were issued (Vol. II, p. 158). It is the writer's present estimate that 1,200 to 1,300 covers survive, bearing approximately 2,000 1¢ stamps.

Both personal observation over 38 years and the sparse census data indicate that approximately half the surviving 1¢ covers consist of the single 1¢ drop rate or unsealed circular rate. The single unsealed circular rate is scarcer than the drop rate by a margin of three to one, according to the admittedly incomplete census data. It just makes sense that advertising circulars and the like would be thrown away more frequently than personal and commercial letters, the latter being the usual contents of the drop rate covers.

One interesting but not uncommon usage of the drop rate is the 1¢ cover from Salt Lake City, Utah Territory, having the corner return address of the Internal Revenue Service. The contents necessitated preservation for record purposes.

The nicest examples of the unsealed circular rate are the occasional instances where the stamp was placed directly on the circular, and sent without being enclosed in an envelope. Two are medical journals; and there is an insurance company annual report, a savings and loan report, and a government tax notice.

Three 1¢ stamps in place of a three-cent stamp on normal first class mail appears to be the next most frequent category. Normally found in strips of three, this usage is also known in an “L” shaped multiple of three stamps.

The cover with what is believed to be the greatest number of 1¢ stamps shows no town of origin and is addressed to Ann Arbor, Michigan. Twelve stamps are spaced along three edges of the envelope, each cancelled with a fancy black geometric design. This item also contains the largest intact multiple on cover to date, a horizontal strip of five 1¢ stamps. Larger multiples were used, as evidenced by Lester Brookman’s statement that he saw a very heavily cancelled block of 54 1¢ stamps off cover. See Color Plate 2 for 9 copies of the 1¢ on 1 cover from New Orleans to New York City.

Scarcer than plain one-cent 1869 denomination stamps on an envelope, according to the census, are domestic covers showing a combination usage of this stamp with another different stamp to make up the three-cent first class rate. So far we have recorded such combinations with the 1863 issues of the 2¢ Black Jack stamp and with the 2¢ Black Jack embossed envelope. In the 1869 issue, combination uses with the 2¢ stamp are noted several times, plus one example of three 1¢ stamps used with a three-cent stamp to make a double first class rate. Combination usages with the 1870 Bank Note stamps to make first class rates include a cover with one 1¢ 1869 and two copies of the 1¢ 1870 issue. The 1¢ 1869 stamp combined with the 2¢ Bank Note is also known. Three 1¢ 1869 stamps used with one 3¢ Bank Note stamp make up a double first class rate on another cover. The most interesting domestic combination usage is a 1¢ 1869 stamp with a 2¢ orange United States Internal Revenue stamp, accepted for postage. This was an error by the postal clerks, since revenue stamps were not valid for postage.

Covers showing combinations of different stamps are prized both for their scarcity and beauty. Perhaps the most important domestic rate 1¢ 1869 combination cover shows five different issues on one envelope. In 1949 Philip Ward viewed this cover in the stock of New York stamp dealer Y. Souren, and stated this was the first and only small cover he had seen with that many varieties. This cover consists of a 3¢ 1864 Nesbitt embossed envelope, franked with an additional 1¢ and a 3¢ 1869 stamp on the front. On the reverse are another 1¢, a 2¢, and a 10¢ 1869 stamp. The cover is slit on three sides and opened to show this fascinating franking which totals 20 cents. The cover was sent from Oxford, Miss., to Pontotoc, Miss., probably by registered mail, although there are no markings to that effect.

The registry rate as of January 1, 1869, was 15¢ plus 3¢ first class postage, or 18¢ for a single rate letter. There is no definite explanation for the 20¢ rate on this cover. One possibility is that either the sender or the postal clerk at Oxford was placing stamps on the envelope, and from force of habit was thinking of the old 20¢ total rate in effect to January 1st, 1869. The two extra cents were allowed to remain on the envelope. Another possibility is that this cover represents a late usage of the 1869 issue. On January 1, 1874, the registry rate became 8¢. Thus a four times first class rate totaling 12¢ plus registration of 8¢ would total the twenty cent rate used on this cover.

The 1¢ 1869 stamp was used in combination with other denominations to make up foreign rates. Some examples can be seen in the listings of higher 1869 denominations later in this book. Of particular interest is an 1870 usage of five different 1869 denominations on a cover to India. Offered in a 1973 Edgar Mohrmann auction, there are a 1¢, 3¢, 6¢, 10¢, and 15¢ Type II stamp, making up a 35¢ rate. Most of the foreign destinations were to European countries, with a few to South American and Asian nations. Examples of 1¢ covers to Germany and Argentina are illustrated in Figures 1 and 2 below.

Foreign rates made up only of lower denomination 1869 stamps make an interesting study. Presently recorded is a cover with three 3¢ stamps and a 1¢ stamp to make the 10¢ rate to New Granada (Colombia). A similar franking pays the 10¢ rate to Canada. A cover having a 1¢ stamp plus two 3¢ stamps pays the 7¢ direct rate to Germany in effect July 1, 1870. One cover shows the 3¢ and 1¢ 1869 stamps making up the partially paid 4¢ rate to France via England. See Fig. 3 below and Brookman Vol. II, p. 158. This same usage is also known with the 3¢ Banknote stamp. The partially paid double 4¢ rate to France is known with horizontal pairs of the 1¢ and 3¢ stamps, a very scarce usage. See Fig. 4 for a double 4¢ part paid by two 1¢ stamps and a 6¢ 1869. A most colorful cover combines the 1¢ with two 3¢ 1869 stamps on an 1864 3¢ Nesbitt embossed envelope, the 10¢ rate to France paid to the frontier.

Figure 1. A 1¢ 1869 and two 3¢ 1869s pay the 7¢ direct rate by North German Union, Bremen, to Germany, June 2, 1871.

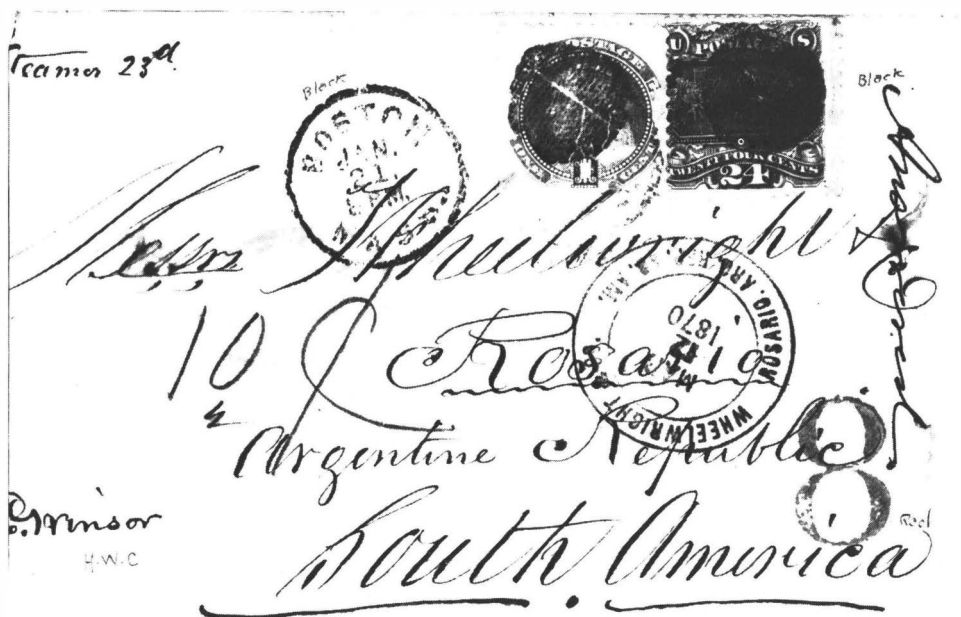

Figure 2. A 1¢ and a 24¢ 1869 pay the 25¢ rate to Argentina, Jan. 21, 1870. Normal carriage after Jan. 1 was by American packet to Rio de Janeiro, then by British packet to Buenos Aires. "8" Credit to England. Wheelwright correspondence.

Figure 3. A 1¢ and a 3¢ 1869 pay the 4¢ part-paid rate to England (1/2 oz.). Sent Apr. 29, 1870 from Trenton, NJ, to Paris, France. Note squiggly line 5 decimes French due marking (about 10¢).

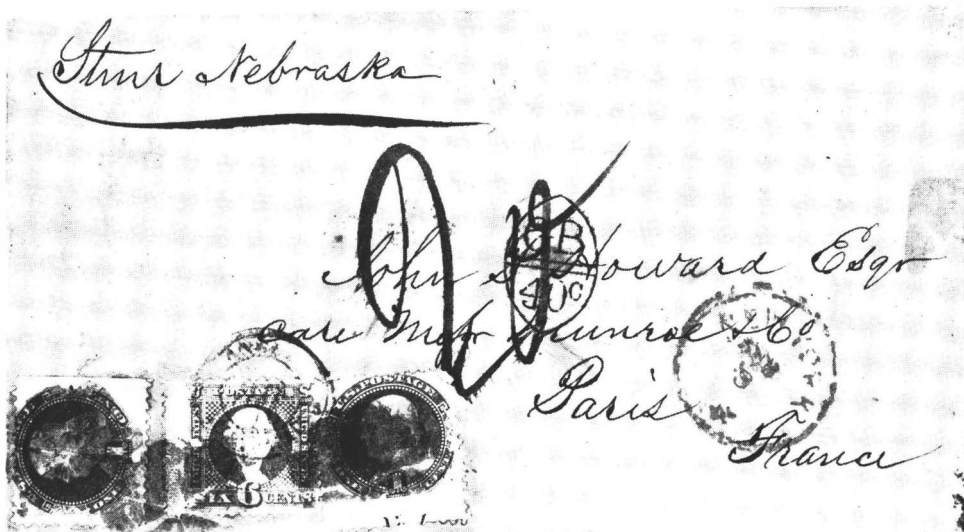

Figure 4. Two 1¢ and a 6¢ 1869 pay the 8¢ double part-paid rate to England. French authorities struck cover with 20 decimes (40¢) quadruple weight due marking. Sent Feb. 9, 1870 from New York City.

One of the scarcest foreign usages shows only 1¢ stamps making up the foreign rate. Two examples recorded so far show four copies of the 1¢ 1869 stamp paying the 4¢ partially prepaid rate to France via England. One cover has the added attraction of a marginal plate arrow on one stamp. See Color Plate 1.

Fancy cancellations on the 1¢ 1869 stamp on cover are scarce, due to the small number of 1¢ covers surviving. A rosette geometric is known from New York City. From Watkins, N. Y., comes the straight line year date, "1870." Heart cancellations are recorded from Adams Centre, N.Y., and from Guilford, Conn. A beautiful top hat cancel is known from Bridgeport, Conn. From Waterbury, Conn., we find a rosette, holly sprig, a shoe, arrowheads, a woman in a bonnet, a rose, a chrysanthemum, and an acorn.

One of the most famous and publicized cancellation covers in philately is the "running chicken" from Waterbury, Conn. See color plate 1. This has a vertical pair and a single of the 1¢ 1869 stamp. The cancellation was carved by a Waterbury post office clerk, John W. Hill, in the form of a running bird, which for years was thought to be a running chicken. Then, in the late 1970's, a reasonable theory was advanced that the bird was actually a turkey running for its life, prior to Thanksgiving dinner. Weight of opinion today says the bird is a chicken.

This cover was originally sold in 1916 by an unidentified youth to New York stamp dealer, J. Murray Bartels, for the princely sum of one dollar. Bartels upped the price to $10, quite a sum in those days for a mere envelope. Philatelists visiting Bartels' office balked at buying this item at his price. The famous collector, Senator Ernest R. Ackerman of New Jersey, was among those impressed, but apparently unwilling to part with the $10 for this gem. However, he did finally add the running chicken cover to his famous collection. After Senator Ackerman's death Elliott Perry broke up the collection, and sold this cover to Edward S. Knapp, who prized it highly. Judge Robert S. Emmerson was quite taken by the cover and offered $1,000 for it, later increasing his offer to $1,500. But Knapp would not sell.

In 1941 after Knapp died, the cover was sold at auction for $1,400. Thirty-eight years later it was sold at auction again, after passing thru three more collections. But this time it went for a record $240,000 plus auctioneer's and agent's commissions, for a total of some $275,000.

Despite the publicity given to huge prices realized for philatelic pieces, their real value lies in the pride of ownership.

In 1875, and again in 1880, the 1¢ design was re-issued by the United States post office department. It is the only 1869 denomination to be re-issued twice. Information regarding covers franked with these re-issues may be found in a later section of this book.

The Two-Cent 1869 Stamp on Cover: A Sampling & Analysis

By Jon W. Rose, Editor
PRA #47

Full and accurate compilation of data on all 2¢ 1869 covers may be a chimera. I say this although there may be as few as 5,000, but no more than 25,000 2¢ covers extant.

My list now numbers 750, up only 300 covers during the past six years. A progress report in Times 21: pp. 9-11 (November, 1980) was based on 450 covers.

Of the 750 covers listed, about 358 or 48 per cent represent single stamps on cover, usually paying the drop plus carrier charge or the second class circular matter rate. [See Fig. 1] Relentless, concerted efforts to locate and list the thousands of remaining covers not on the census list would turn up thousands of additional single uses, many on undated (no year date) covers, of which some would lack places of origin or destination.

Because so many carrier-drop and circular covers were destroyed, it is unlikely an additional 17,500 2¢ domestic usage covers would be uncovered. (Of the 750 covers recorded now, about 70 per cent are domestic.) This would represent the undiscovered quantity, if 25,000 is correct for the number of extant 2¢ 1869 covers. Also, the current market for nicer 2¢ covers would bring out hoards held by dealers or holders.

Alternatively, we can look at the foreign destination quantity, which today is some 222 covers used abroad, or about 29.6 per cent. By extrapolation we can project that if the universe of 2¢ 1869 covers totals only a very conservative 10,000, that would mean that there exist 2,960 2¢ 1869 covers used to foreign countries.

In more than eight years of searching and compiling, we have discovered only 7.5 per cent of this total. So 2,960 seems very unlikely a figure. I suspect that even the minimum estimate of 2¢ covers (10,000) may be high, barring the discovery of large caches.

Note that other studies of classic covers indicate that the survivor ratio is about one to four covers per 10,000 stamps issued. There were 57.4 million 2¢ 1869 stamps issued, so the number of surviving covers would run between 5,740 and 22,960.

A very tentative conclusion, then, is that there might be no more than 5,000 2¢ covers left, assuming the 2¢ cover census compilations have not concentrated too heavily on the more exotic foreign usages to the neglect of the domestic ones.

Fifteen covers are of foreign origin, and nine of these were destined for a foreign city, chiefly in Spain, China or Japan. (See Fig. 2, a Hiogo, Japan, to Yokohama cover, showing interconsular use). Two-cent covers were mailed from the following foreign cities: Havana and Juniata (?), Cuba; Victoria, B.C.; Honolulu, Hawaii; Nagasaki, Kobe and Yokohama, Japan; St. Thomas, D.W.I.; and Ulm, Germany.

Figure 2. A vertical strip of three 2¢ 1869s pay the double interconsular rate from Hiogo to Yokohama, Japan.

Twenty covers show mixed franking of US and foreign stamps, notably those of Cuba, Hawaii, France and England.

Two-cent 1869 covers are known used to the following 32 foreign countries: Argentina, Austria, Bavaria, British Columbia, Canada, Ceylon, China, Cuba, Denmark, England, France, Hawaii, Holland, Hong Kong, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Natal, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Peru, Saxony, Seychelles, Sicily, Singapore, St. Lucia, Sweden, Switzerland, and Trieste.

Of these destinations the commonest are France, German states, Peru, Canada and provinces, Italy-Sicily, England and Spain. Two-cent covers used to such far-out locations as St. Lucia in the Caribbean and Ceylon and the Seychelles [See color illustration, plate 8] in the Indian Ocean are of course rare. But so are 2¢ covers to Hong Kong, Sweden, Denmark, Norway and even Switzerland, most of which are represented in other 1869 cover lists with three or less covers.

Finally, there are no 2¢ covers known to this writer used to such countries as Finland, Poland, Luxembourg, Brazil or Uruguay, to name a few. Indeed, I note on the lists none used to Belgium or Portugal, either.

In addition to the exotic foreign destinations, the 2¢ cover sampling includes 28 bisect uses [See Fig. 3 below], including horizontal, vertical and diagonal. (For an update on 2¢ bisect covers refer to Opinions III, pp. 52-55). There are the 20 mixed frankings and another 225 combination covers, i.e., in the latter case, the 2¢ used with at least one other U.S. issue adhesive (other than 1869 set) or embossed stamp.

These combinations include all other 1869s except the 90c; Bank Note stamps, including the 1¢, 2¢, 3¢, 6¢, and 10¢ values; and 1¢, 2¢, 3¢ and 10¢ values in the 1861 or 1867 (grilled) definitive issues.

Only about 16 registered covers are known used with the 2¢. The variety of auxiliary markings known used on 2¢ 1869 covers is fairly wide, but not so varied as on 3¢ 1869 covers. Auxiliary markings found on 2¢ covers include:

Returned to Writer (especially Detroit usages), Short Paid, Held for Postage, Not Called For, Paid Only/To England, Illegal Stamp, Not Prepaid, Bring This Envelope With You, Forwarded, Drop, Due 1 and Due 2.

Two-cent 1869's used on wrappers are rare (three observed), either with a 2¢ Jackson embossed or alone. [See Fig. 4 below.] Presumably these were trashed to an even greater extent than envelopes.

More than 130 covers are of the illustrated type, most with advertisements. About four valentine 2¢ covers are listed. If 18 per cent seems high for the illustrated usages, remember that these were more likely to be saved by collectors than ordinary plain envelopes.

There are few large multiples usages of the 2¢ 1869. The most spectacular showing of the 2¢ post horse and rider stamp on a single cover known to this writer is the cover illustrated on color plate 3. It includes a two by five vertical block of ten, a pair and a single stamp overpaying by 6¢ the 20¢ rate via two oceans from Kobe (Hiogo), Japan, to Siegen in Rhenish Prussia.

Next is the cover illustrated here in Fig. 5 [See below], showing eight somewhat overlapping copies of the 2¢ with a 24¢ 1863 (#78), used from Shanghai to New York City [See 1869 Times 23, p. 3]. The cover is illustrated below. The 40¢ in postage pays the four times 10¢ Transpacific rate. This cover passed through Yokohama where it was transferred from a branch line steamer to a Pacific Mail Steamship Co. vessel. This is perhaps the earliest known usage of 1869 stamps from Shanghai.

There are several covers known used to the British Isles franked with six copies of the 2¢ to pay the 12¢ rate in effect until Jan. 1, 1870. At least one of these is a strip of six. And there are a handful of quintuple 2¢ usages to Germany, paying the 10¢ direct rate, one example being an irregular block of five. A cover showing five copies to Germany from the writer's collection once was part of the John David Baker Collection [See Robert Siegel, Baker Sale 526, Apr. 4, 1978, lot 185].

I list one block of four on cover and 80 pairs, of which 53 are horizontal.

Many of the 2¢ domestic covers are sent to small towns, often from businesses in cities such as New York, Philadelphia and Boston. In fact, some 20 per cent, about 150 covers, originated in New York City; another 55 in Philadelphia; and 32 in Boston. Among the diverse small towns noted as destinations are Pewaukee, Wisconsin; Camilla, Georgia; Hills Ferry, California; and what appears to be Recklesstown, New Jersey (or possibly New York).

The Three-Cent 1869 Issue on Cover: An Analysis

by R. H. Stever

As the reader can see, there is no census of 3c 1869 covers appended to this article. If it were possible to compile such a listing with a degree of completeness comparable to that of the high value lists, the result would be an unwieldy set of ten or more volumes of dubious practicality.

The 3c stamp is a special case, primarily because its principal use was to pay the domestic postage rate for a single-weight letter. For that reason, there was an enormous (by 1869 standards) printing of 386,475,900 stamps. How many of these survive on cover?

Most dealers and collectors of classic US covers are aware of the fact there are many, many 3c 1869 covers. But no one had ever attempted a serious investigation into the number of extant 3c covers until John Ginn's in-depth statistical analysis published in the February, 1983 issue (#28) of 1869 Times. Ginn concluded that between 0.0003 and 0.0006 of the issued stamps exist today on covers. In round numbers this translates into a range of between 116,000 and 232,000 covers.

Ginn's study was based on some factual data that has been preserved, plus some reasonable but nevertheless speculative assumptions. Quarterly deliveries of 3c stamps to postmasters were reported in the postmaster general's annual reports. This data, along with "Statistics of Manufacture," derived by John Luff from the stamp agent's weekly ledger sheets, formed the basis for calculations by William K. Herzog (See The Chronicle, February, 1976, pp. 30-43) and later by Ginn. The latter estimated 3c 1869 stamp sales and proceeded to give a breakdown by state and territory. This study clearly shows highest usage in the populous northeastern states plus California, moderate usage in the southern states and minimal usage in the sparsely populated territories. For example, the low (0.0003) estimate ranges from more than 26,000 New York covers to only three Alaska covers. Obviously, the margin of error is small for New York and much greater for Alaska. Actually at least six Alaska covers are known to this writer.

It is worthwhile to reproduce here Ginn's final chart (No. 1), showing his state-by-state estimate of existing 3c covers. One suspects that the percentages of postage sold for each state and territory may be roughly true for all 1869 denominations, not just the 3c stamp. The percentage of postage sold in each state was multiplied by the total number of 3c stamps delivered to postmasters. When these results are multiplied by the low and high survival rate estimates, 0.0003 and 0.0006 respectively, an approximate number of surviving covers per state or territory is obtained.

Obviously, where the rub comes is in the decimal survival rate figure. Richard Searing, Ph.D., in an article in The 1976 Register, estimated 0.0002 for the high value 1869's. Jon Rose and Elliott Coulter, in a 1978 Register article, thought for various reasons that the survival rate of 15c Type I covers should be between two and three times the Searing rate, i.e., 0.0004 and 0.0006. Ginn reasoned that plain, ordinary 3c 1869 covers had less attraction than 15c Type I covers, and would therefore be less likely to survive. He adopted the 0.0006 high estimate, but thought the 0.0004 low factor was probably too high and settled on 0.0003 as the survival rate.

As a student and collector of the 3c stamp for more than ten years, this writer's hunch is that the true survival rate must be closer to Ginn's low estimate. This is based on a continuing study of 3c plate number stamps on cover. Every sheet printed (300 stamps) contained four plate number stamps, or one for every 75 stamps. This could be a good yardstick because the sample is much smaller, five million compared with 386 million stamps. However, it hasn't worked out that way. Only one in 10,000 plate number stamps are recorded on existing covers. Reasons for this are threefold.

First, many plate number covers are not recognized as such because the plate numbers are printed on the selvage, which was usually removed. For the most part, only the "capture" copies, resulting from a poor job of perforating, show any of the plate number. Second, many "plate dot" covers have not been identified. Finally, a larger percentage of plate number stamps than ordinary 3c stamps were no doubt removed from their envelopes by philatelists.

The conclusion is that 30 times the number of plate number stamp covers now known would be necessary even to equal Ginn's low estimate of cover survival. Thus, while the existing plate number covers are perhaps not a proper diagnostic criterion, they indicate the 0.0003 survival rate is the more realistic figure. This doesn't mean that 116,000 is the exact number of extant 3c covers; but rather that this is a ballpark estimate, probably closer to reality than the higher estimate of 232,000 covers.

Where are these surviving covers? Probably the greatest percentage is in the holdings of PRA members. The membership, roughly half collectors and half dealers, owns the major 1869 collections as well as stocks of the largest dealers and auction houses in the country, and many smaller dealer stocks. True, many 3c 1869 covers are owned by non-PRA collectors whose interests lie in advertising covers, fancy cancels, rate studies, thematic subjects and various local area postal history studies. Some covers are in the hands of other non-PRA (Pictorial Research Associates) foreign collectors. Others are in collections that have been donated to universities and museums. There are some in family or company correspondences that have not seen the philatelic light of day. Should several H. B. Shaw or Carrol Hoy-size holdings turn up, the survival rate figures might have to be revised.

PERIOD OF USAGE

As with other 1869 denominations, the 3c stamp was used primarily during 1869 and 1870. The earliest known date of use is generally accepted to be March 27, 1869. This is the date reported by Luff, Brookman and others, and is the date listed in Scott. However, the date recorded for first deliveries to the Stamp Agent is March 19. Rumors of 3c covers dated between March 20 and 27 persist. No such cover has at present been validated, but it is certainly within the realm of possibility. A 2c cover exists used on March 26.

With the appearance of the Bank Note Issue in the spring of 1870, use of 1869s began to taper off. They are seldom seen after 1873. A non-philatelic usage of a regular issue 3c is known as late as August, 1891, and what is probably a "philatelic" usage as late as August, 1921. Probably there are even later uses.

DOMESTIC USES

Domestic uses represent probably 90 per cent of surviving 3c 1869 covers. Without a doubt the most common use was to pay the 3c postage for a single-weight letter (half-ounce). This group would also include those covers whereon a 3c was added for forwarding postage on both domestic and incoming foreign mail.

Many overweight domestic letters have more than one 3c locomotive. Covers are known with a pair, strip of three, strip of four, strip of five, strip of six, strip of seven, strip of eight, block of four, block of six, block of seven, block of nine (See Fig. 1 illustrated here), and up to as many as 20 random copies. Illustrated below is a cover with 13 3c 1869s, consisting of singles and small multiples (See Fig. 2).

Another important usage is on registered covers. The domestic registry fee in the 1869 period required an additional 15c postage. This was sometimes paid with five locomotives in the form of singles, strips or blocks and other times by various combinations, including 1867s, other 1869 denominations and Bank Notes. There are many interesting and colorful covers on which a 3c locomotive pays the 3c rate, and the registry fee is paid by a single 15c 1869, a 12c and second 3c 1869 or the like. See Fig. 3 where six 3c 1869s pay the 3c plus 15c registry fee.

Covers bearing legitimate bisects of the 3c locomotive are very rare. Records of the American Philatelic Society and Philatelic Foundation show only one submission to be genuine, a vertical "two-thirds" used to pay the local 2c carrier delivery fee. See Fig. 4 below. However, Scott's 1986 Specialized Catalogue of United States Stamps lists both one-third and two-thirds bisects on cover. Whereabouts of the cover with the one-third 3c bisect, if genuine, is unknown.

Several 3c bisects were used on tax notices mailed at Luray, Virginia, in the spring of 1870. These are not exactly what one thinks of as a "cover," but are well-known items of 3c 1869 philately. Apparently, the supply of 2c stamps at the Luray post office was exhausted in late March, and bisects of the 3c stamp were utilized thereafter. Still in existence are one complete five-page tax notice with a vertical two-third bisect, one complete front page with a similarly bisected locomotive, and a handful of tax notice pieces, some with two-third bisects and others with two one-third bisects (trisects), joined at the perforations.

The locomotive is also known used on a document in place of a revenue stamp and on cover in combination with revenue stamps. Again, these are scarce.

FOREIGN USES

If, as stated previously, nine out of ten surviving 3c covers are domestic uses, then the tenth cover falls in the foreign destination category. I estimate a minimum 11,000 covers were sent to foreign destinations. We know 1869 covers are recorded to at least 60 countries (See: 1869 Times, May, 1983). Covers to 34 of the 60 are known to this writer to have 3c stamps. Whenever postage to foreign countries could be paid using multiples of 3c, covers often bore the requisite number of 3c stamps simply because a sender was most likely to have in his possession the common three-cent stamp. Otherwise, a 3c stamp had to be combined with other denominations to make up an unusual foreign rate. It sometimes happened that a sender didn't have the proper stamps on hand to pay a particular rate. Fig. 5 is an example. Here, the 10c rate to Brazil by American packet from New York was paid by a block of four locomotives. This letter, which originated at Fort Gaines, Georgia, is thus a 2c overpayment.

Figure 5. A block of four 3¢ 1869s on Aug. 16, 1869 cover from Georgia to Rio de Janeiro overpays by 2¢ the 10¢ rate to Brazil.

The most common foreign destination was to Canada or a province where the 6c rate was often paid with two locomotives than a single 6c 1869 stamp or other combination. Likewise, locomotives were used on covers to the British Isles, four copies paying the 12c rate in 1869 or two copies paying the reduced 6c rate in 1870.

Covers to France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Italy, where routings required 15c postage, are known with five locomotives.

Several other destinations required odd amounts of postage that could not be paid solely with 3c stamps. Many of these beautiful combination covers, bearing at least one locomotive, are listed in the census tabulations of higher denominations in this volume. See Fig. 6 below, a cover with 1c, 3c and 6c 1869s, an 1870 post-treaty usage to France. These paid the 10c direct rate to the French frontier, but it actually travelled open mail through England. So 4c would have been sufficient franking.

The foreign registry rate during 1869 and just after was 8c. Registered covers to foreign countries are uncommon. Most of those covers which bear a 3c stamp are combinations with other denominations, such as a pair of 10c 1869s plus a 3c to pay a 15c postage rate plus the 8c registration fee.

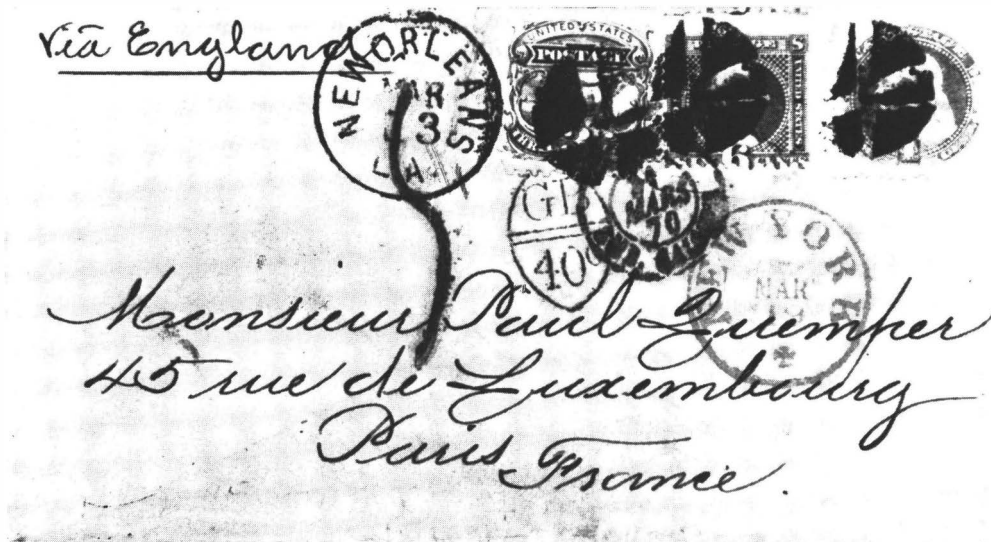

Figure 6. Copies of the 1¢, 3¢ and 6¢ 1869 pay direct rate, March, 1870, to France. Transit, however, is open mail through England (4¢ rate). The 5 decime due marking applied at Calais, French entry port.

Following are some examples of unusual foreign destination covers with a 3¢ 1869 stamp. The first is a cover to India via Southampton underpaying the 22c rate with a locomotive and a 1c 1857, the latter having been demonetized but accepted (See Color Plate 4). The addressee paid the equivalent of 31c, which included the correct postage, plus a 6c fine and 3c for forwarding within India.

Figure 7. A strip of four 30¢ 1861, a 10¢ F grill Washington and a 3¢ 1869, all on 3¢ pink on white Nesbitt pay four times 34¢ rate from Holmes Hole, MA (19 Aug. 1869) to Tumhez, Peru, British mail via Panama. U.S. credited 40¢, remaining 96¢ for Br. sea postage, Panama transit and Peruvian inland charge.

The second is an August, 1869 cover to Peru with $1.36 postage—quite a bit for 1869. In this case four times the 34c rate was paid by a strip of four 30c 1861s, a 10c 1867 and a lonely locomotive on a 3c entire (See Fig. 7). Third, a pair of locomotives on a folded letter paying the 6c interconsular rate between Nagasaki, Japan, and Shanghai, China (See Color Plate 6). Fourth, is a 15c Lincoln and a 3c 1869, paying the 18c quarter ounce (via American packet) rate to Rosario, Argentina, July 21, 1869. See Fig. 8 below for this Wheelwright correspondence cover.

Figure 8. A 3¢ 1869 and a 15¢ Lincoln pay 18¢ rate to Rosario, Argentina, via American packet, out of Boston, July 21, 1869.

CONCLUSIONS

To sum up the foregoing discussion by simply stating there are probably still in existence more than 116,000 covers with 3c 1869 stamps is inadequate. This stamp and its covers have been a collecting favorite for many years. For what may otherwise be an ordinary cover often has other things going for it.

Collectors like locomotive covers which bear color varieties of the 3c stamp; covers which show stamp printing varieties, such as the “triangle over 0” and gray paper; and covers with the well-publicized “fluttercrack” variety. Also, covers with grill varieties (split, end-roller); covers with paper creases, ink smudges, double transfers, misperforations and other evidence or poor quality workmanship by the National Bank Note Co.; and, of course, covers with stamps showing plate markings, such as arrows, numbers and imprints.

Philatelists seek the many handsome 3c 1869 advertising covers. Some desire cancellation varieties, colored cancels and fancy cancels, such as the Waterburys, or the many auxiliary markings found on these covers (See 1869 Times, May, 1985, No. 32, pp. 3-9). Covers posted in the 10 territories are interesting and collectible.

Express covers, both eastern and western, are sought-after items. Some collectors want railroad or steamship uses; others collect valentines. Foreign usages, with their attendant routings, transit markings, currency markings and the like are especially desirable.

All of the factors above have contributed to the popularity of 3c 1869 locomotive covers.

The Six-Cent 1869 on Cover: A Census and Analysis

By Millard H. Mack
PRA #10

Figure 1. Three 6¢ 1869s and a 2¢ 1869 pay double 10¢ rate to France from New Orleans, Feb. 21, 1870, and via French packet from New York City.

A total of some 420 covers are listed in the 6¢ 1869 census. There are in all between 1,300 and 1,400 6¢ covers, estimates Richard Searing, Ph.D., cover census coordinator.

Of those listed about 67.5 per cent (286 covers) were sent to foreign destinations, while 32.5 per cent (138) were directed to domestic points. About 4.7 per cent of the covers (20) were registered. This is almost 15 per cent of the domestic uses listed.

Lester G. Brookman states that the normal use of this stamp was for double domestic rate letters and for single rate letters to Canada and Great Britain (See Brookman Vol. 2, p. 167). This is born out by the following statistics:

Twenty per cent (85 covers) of the covers listed (29.6 per cent of the foreign destination covers) were sent to Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island.

Twenty-seven per cent (115) of all covers listed (40 per cent of the foreign destination covers) were sent to the British Isles. In all, then, 69.7 per cent of the foreign destination covers were sent to the British Isles or to British North America.

Thirty per cent of the covers to England (29) are addressed to B. F. Stevens for forwarding to various parts of the world. Almost all of these are forwarded to various parts of the world. Most are from three correspondences. These are the Gillett letters from Evansville, Ind.; the Walker correspondence from Cambridge, Mass.; and the Haines letters from Great Falls, N.H.

About 18 per cent of the covers to Canada are from the Brindley correspondence, Oak Park, Ill., to Montreal. Some one-third of the covers to Nova Scotia are Jesse Hoyt letters, care of the Arcadia Coal Co., Pictou, Nova Scotia.

There are six mixed frankings (covers with stamps of two or more countries). The foreign stamps were used to pay forwarding charges or postage due, arising from inadequate payment.

A cover to a foreign destination other than the British Isles or British North America is uncommon. Even covers to France are scarce. (See Fig. 1, showing three 6¢ 1869s helping to pay the two times 10¢ rate in 1870.) The following list shows those destinations to which there are five or more usages recorded:

Canada	57

Italy	15
Germany	14
France	12

Use of a 6¢ 1869 to any foreign destination not on the above list is scarce. Such areas would include Austria-Hungary, the Scandinavian countries, and any of the Asian and Latin American lands. See Figures 2, 3 and 4 illustrated below:

Figure 4. A 2¢, 6¢ and five 12¢ 1869s (strip of four and single) pay double 34¢ rate, Port Chester, Mar. 4, 1870, to Lima, Peru. Davis correspondence, British mail via Panama. British collect "24" indicates double 22¢ rate was all required (44¢). Rate reduction from 34¢ to 22¢ occurred on Feb. 16, 1870, prior to this mailing.

Figure 5. A 1¢, 3¢ and two 6¢ 1869s on a die 3 Jackson on buff Nesblitt envelope pay 15¢ registry and 3¢ letter rates, May 2, 1870, Duxbury to Woonsocket, Mass.

There is a 38 per cent chance (163 examples) of a 6¢ 1869 stamp being used with other 1869 stamps—the 2¢, 3¢, 12¢ and 15¢ denominations being the most common. Use with 1¢, 10¢, 24¢ or 30¢ 1869s ranges from uncommon to rare, for the higher values. See Fig. 5, showing a domestic cover franked with 1¢, 3¢ and two 6¢ 1869s.

Figure 6. Three 6¢ 1869s and a 3¢ green Bank note pay the 15¢ registry fee and double 3¢ domestic letter rate.

There is an 18 per cent chance of the 6¢ being used in combination with stamps of other issues or with postal stationery (See Fig. 5 above). Figure 6 below illustrates a registered, double rate domestic usage, 21¢, paid by three 6¢ 1869s and a 3¢ green Bank Note. Statistics show there is a 13 per cent chance (56 examples) of more than one 1869 6¢ stamp being used on a cover.

These multiple 6¢ uses range from two copies (40 covers) to six copies (See Fig. 7 below). The following table has the breakdown:

The 10¢ 1869 on Cover: A Census and Analysis

By Michael Laurence
PRA #7

More than 1000 covers are recorded bearing the 10¢ 1869 stamp. The complete listing, as of Mar. 10, 1986, consisted of 1,038 covers, though the number of covers in the data that follow may vary slightly from that, reflecting last-minute additions and deletions. Whatever the final number, it represents more covers than any other 1869 value represented in these censuses.

In the late 1950s, as a college student, I set out to develop a specialized collection of the U.S. 10¢ 1869 stamp. A few years later, I began a haphazard listing of all the 10¢ 1869 covers I could find out about, to learn what might be available for collecting and to provide me with some sense of price history when desired items came onto the market. In time, this led to a fairly thorough search of the auction catalogs of yesteryear; and gradually brought me in touch with other collectors who owned 10¢ 1869 material. Sometime prior to 1965, I began assembling the information that was to grow into this listing of 10¢ 1869 covers.

Because I have been tracking these covers for almost 25 years, the 10¢ listing is more complete than the listings for the other lower value stamps in this volume. Here I am referring specifically to the 6¢ and the 12¢ covers. The compilers of these listings have done a heroic job, given the time constraints placed on them and the absence of specialized collections to draw upon.

The data in this book would suggest that the 6¢ and 12¢ covers are considerably less common than 10¢ covers, but I think that in years to come, as data gathering continues, the record for all three values will tend to even out. My observation is that 10¢ covers are no more common than 6¢ or 12¢ covers. Catalog prices historically have borne this out.

The most striking characteristic of 10¢ 1869 covers is the diversity and abundance of their international uses. Less than 40 10¢ 1869 covers survive showing fully domestic use—that is, with both origin and destination within the borders of the United States as it existed in 1869. The vast preponderance of 10¢ 1869 covers, something like 96 per cent of them, travelled in the international mails. No other 1869 stamp, and perhaps no other stamp from any series, shows a higher rate of foreign-mail use.

Virtually all the expected destinations are represented. In fact, the only major destinations that have not been found so far on 10¢ 1869 covers are Russia, Portugal and Luxembourg. Actually, a 10¢ 1869 cover to Portugal exists; but it is interred, perhaps forever, in the basement of the Swiss Post Telegraph and Telephone (PTT) Museum in Berne. For completeness' sake, it is included in this listing, as are other covers that are held in institutions.

A 10¢ 1869 cover to Russia also exists, but it was never mailed. This addressed envelope, bearing a 10¢ 1869 stamp and several Bank note stamps, all uncanceled, was sold at a Florida auction in 1985. Such items are not included in the accompanying listing, since they do not qualify as postally used covers.

Stamps “on piece” have also been excluded. In order to merit listing, a cover had to be whole—or at least, a whole front. The objective has been to create as full a cover listing as possible, for statistical and historical purposes, as well as to provide a check against future tinkering. For that reason, covers from which one or more stamps are missing are also included, with the missing stamps so noted. Also included are covers whose condition is so ratty as to make them virtually uncollectible.

By far the most common destination is Germany (See Fig. 1 below). More than 250 10¢ 1869 covers—just about one fourth of the recorded universe—were sent there. France is the next most common destination, with about 175 covers [See Fig. 2, double 15¢ rate]. The remaining destinations for which 10¢ 1869 covers survive in double digit quantities are (in descending order): Cuba, Switzerland, U.K., Italy, Peru, Mexico, China, Denmark, Sweden, B.N.A., Spain, Japan and India.

For all other destinations, fewer than 10 covers are recorded. See Fig. 3 double rate 10¢ cover to New Zealand. A dozen or so destinations are unique. I leave to the dedicated reader the task of locating these in the data that follows.

Figure 2. Three 10¢ 1869s pay double 15¢ rate to Paris from Philadelphia, September, 1869.

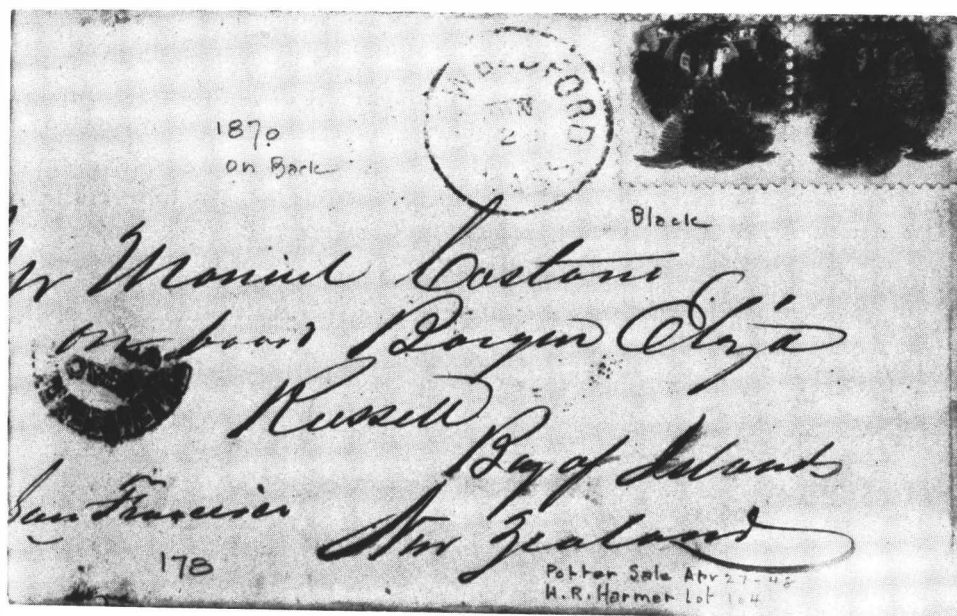

Figure 3. A pair of the 10¢ 1869 pays the double 10¢ rate, June, 1870, from New Bedford, MA., to Russell, New Zealand.

The listing nomenclature is roughly based on the world as it existed in 1869-70. Germany had completed unification process by 1870, so the old German states are not considered as separate destinations, even though many covers were still so addressed. Aspinwall is in New Grenada; the Republic of Panama did not come into existence until decades later.

The origin of a cover is deemed to be the point at which it entered the mails. Thus, a cover bootlegged from Canada to New York and thence posted to Germany is listed as originating in New York.

Approximately 15 percent of the surviving 10¢ 1869 covers show the stamp “used abroad”—that is to say, applied and posted at a location outside the U.S. (See Fig. 4, Shanghai to England.) While I have not done any research to confirm this, I cannot name another U.S. stamp for which 15 percent of the surviving covers were posted outside this country.

For the record, I count 157 “used abroad” 10¢ 1869 covers, which break down as follows: 60 from China (See Fig. 4 above); 25 from Japan; 8 from Hawaii; 50 inbound Brazil Line covers from St. Thomas and other places in Carribean (See Fig. 5, Christiansted to New York); 8 inbound P.M.S.S. covers from Panama and points south; 5 from British Columbia; and one from Bermuda. There may be more such uses in the data that I have overlooked.

Not surprisingly, such a preponderance of international uses, in both directions, resulted in occasional multiple country frankings. At least 26 covers are recorded on which the 10¢ 1869 stamp is accompanied by one or more stamps of foreign nations. These include Baden, British Columbia, Danish West Indies, England, France, Hawaii, India, Peru and Wurttemberg (See Fig. 6). No other 1869 stamp boasts more mixed frankings.

While we call it the 10¢ 1869 stamp, the accompanying data reveals quite clearly that the 10¢ typically was used in 1870. For 920 10¢ 1869 covers, for which a month and year date could be assigned (this was the entire dateable universe as of May, 1985, when this particular analysis was prepared), chronological dispersion was as follows:

Year	Numbers of covers	Percent of total
1869	246	26.7%
1870	571	62.1%
1871	69	7.5%
1872	16	1.7%
1873	7	0.8%
1874-On	11	1.2%
Totals:	920	100.0%

Based on this same universe of covers, but ignoring uses after 1871, the bar chart in Figure X depicts uses month by month, beginning with the appearance of the 10¢ stamp in April, 1869. The bell-shaped curve should warm the hearts of statisticians.

The Figure X chart shows that the 10¢ 1869 stamps saw their greatest use in the first four months of 1870, peaking with 96 covers recorded from April, 1870. In fact, more 10¢ 1869 covers survive from the first four months of 1870 than from all of 1869. The typical 10¢ 1869 cover, if such a thing existed, would be a single rate cover to Germany posted in early 1870.

I suspect that this pattern of 1870 usage will be found to prevail for other high value 1869 stamps, reflecting the fact that from most post offices, stamps moved out slowly. And the higher values were replenished infrequently at best.

The pattern of 1870 usage might even hold for the lower value stamps. However, this would be difficult (perhaps impossible) to prove, because of the absence of year date information. Covers used domestically tend not to bear year dates. Covers in international mails usually show year information. When they don't, it can often be extrapolated from rate and sailing data. This is especially true for the 1869s, whose short life bridged a period of frequent rate reductions in international correspondence.

For the vast majority of surviving 3¢, 2¢ and 1¢ 1869 covers used in domestic mails, it is not possible to assign a year date. Given the short lifetime of the stamps, collectors have tended to assume that any cover showing 1869 stamps, at least for the months of April through December, was posted in 1869. The data presented here suggests this may be a faulty assumption.

The largest 10¢ 1869 multiples to be found on full cover are strips of three, usually horizontal. More than 20 such covers are recorded. Pairs on cover are fairly common; probably 100 or so exist. I have a strip of six "on piece" in my collection. It originated in St. Thomas, probably on a parcel wrapper. This is the largest recorded used multiple. As noted, such items aren't included in this study.

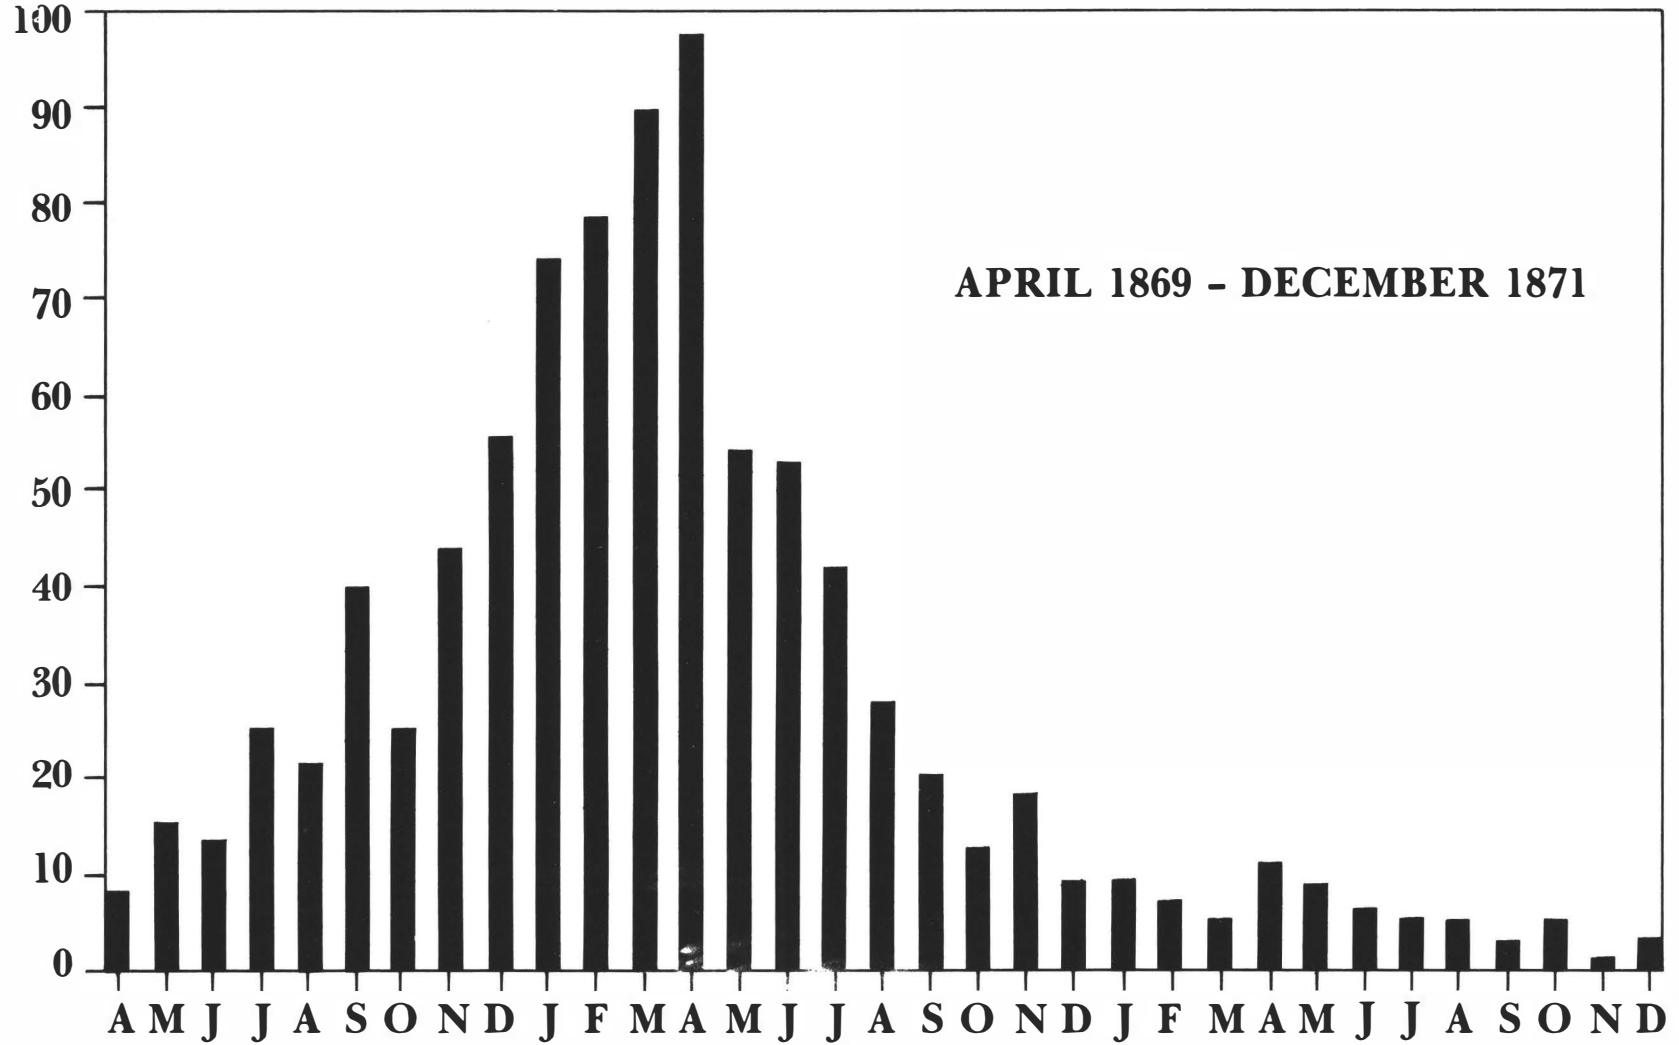

About one-fourth of the covers show 10¢ 1869 used in combination with another stamp (or stamps). (See Fig. 7, showing 2¢, 3¢ and 10¢.) The 10¢ 1869 stamp can be found on cover with all the other 1869 stamps except the 15¢ Type I, and of course the 90¢. Combinations involving other than the 2¢ or 3¢ 1869 are scarce.

Covers are recorded showing 10¢ 1869 in combination with the 1¢, 2¢, 3¢, 5¢, 10¢, 15¢ and 24¢ stamps of the previous (1861 and 1867) stamp series; and with 1¢, 2¢, 3¢, 6¢, 10¢ and 12¢ Bank Note stamps. The stamp can also be found on a wide variety of government embossed envelopes. See Fig. 8 where a 10¢ 1869 and 1¢ Reay embossed pay the 8¢ registry fee plus 3¢ domestic postage, May 31, 1874.

As one who has maintained a specialized collection of 10¢ 1869 for more than 25 years, I am not totally objective. But I do believe that this stamp—particularly in the uses that it shows—is as interesting and as challenging as any U.S. stamp ever issued.

The 12¢ 1869 Stamp on Cover: Analysis and Census

By Richard M. Searing, Ph.D.
PRA #66

This is the first time that a cover census has been conducted for the 12¢ 1869 stamp, so we have only the preliminary listing presented in 1869 Times 30:p. 17, et seq., as a reference. At that time I had record of 372 surviving covers. In the intervening 14 months, an additional 60 covers have been recorded to bring the total to 432 covers. In his analysis of the Stamp Agent's reports for 1869 (Chronicle 89:43), William Herzog computes that 3,012,700 12¢ stamps were delivered to post offices. This number represents slightly more than 10,000 sheets of 300 in two panes of 150 each.

Based on the issued number of stamps, experience with other classic issues indicates that between 1 to 4 covers survive per 10,000 issued stamps. Therefore, for the 12¢ value, we expect between 300 and 1200 covers still exist. My own belief, based on the 1030 covers recorded for the 10¢ value, is that a considerably smaller number than 1000 12¢ covers may actually survive, for reasons given later. With 432 recorded, my guess is that probably less than 60% are now listed in the census. The question is where are the missing covers?

The present census listing is a combination of Jim Schreiber's (PRA #85) records, my own research, and the auction listings compiled by Frank Levi over the past 30 years. I have not had the time, nor originally, the intention to research thoroughly the 12¢ auction listings, as I have the 24¢ and 30¢ values. Therefore, the present census list for the 12¢ covers represents only the beginning of a long and continuing task. Whether we are missing 175 or 375 covers at the present time is a matter of conjecture. But the fact that the census listing of the 12¢ 1869 covers is preliminary should be incentive for us all to locate and record the missing covers.

The 12¢ 1869 stamp is listed in the Scott Catalog as being issued in late March of 1869. This appears to correlate well with the now earliest recorded date of April 1, 1869 to Palermo, Italy. This fine cover was illustrated and described in the first John Juhring sale as lot 807 [See Fig. 1 below.]

For those who may be unfamiliar with the Juhring collection, it was the largest known accumulation of 1869 material ever assembled by one person. The collection was dispersed in four major auction sales between 1978 and 1981, and portions of the collection grace almost every major 1869 collection presently known.

The latest usage of the 12¢ stamp occurs with a 1¢ F-grill of the 1868 grill issue on a cover to Rochester, NY, August 28, 1878. Someone was using up some old stamps on that one. The census shows 276 covers used in 1869, 97 used in 1870, and 20 used later. Thus, almost 2/3 of the covers were used in the 8 month period before 1870.

The primary purpose served by the 12¢ stamp was to pay the single rate to Great Britain during 1869 [Fig. 2 below, 12¢ to Edinburgh, Scotland]. This is substantiated by 190 or almost 50% of the recorded covers going to Great Britain in 1869. Contrast this volume with the 7 recorded covers to Britain during 1870. The main reason for the drastic decline is that beginning in 1870, the single letter rate to Great Britain and Ireland was reduced to 6¢. The 12¢ stamp was then required only on double-weight letters. This reduction of the postage rate to the British Isles and the resulting decline of mail volume leads to the possibility that fewer than the upper limit of 1200 covers with the 12¢

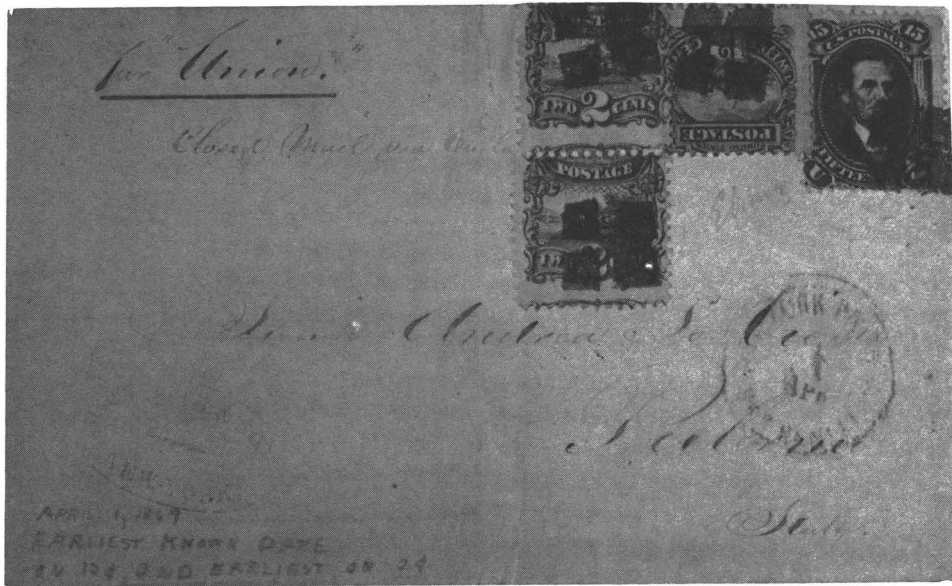

Figure 1. A vertical pair of the 2¢ 1869, a 12¢ 1869 (earliest known usage) and a 15¢ F grill Lincoln overpay by 1¢ the double 15¢ closed mail direct via England rate to Palermo, Sicily. Sent April 1, 1869 from New York City, arrived Palermo via Milano, 20 April.

value may actually survive. The reason: the postal rate reduction to the British Isles in 1870 removed the prime reason for existence of the 12¢ stamp.

In sharp contrast, the opposite occurred with the 10¢ 1869 stamp. In 1870 the reduction of the French and German rates from 15¢ to 10¢ actually increased the demand for the 10¢ stamp. Thus, one might conclude that the expected number of surviving covers would be weighted in favor of the 10¢ value over that of the 12¢. The large difference between the recorded numbers of the two stamps on surviving covers supports this conclusion.

The largest single concentration of 12¢ usages is from three correspondences addressed to the US Despatch agent B.F. Stevens in London, England for forwarding to US Navy personnel on sea duty around the world [see Fig. 3]. The story of Benjamin F. Stevens is told in some detail in the 1977 Register: p. 43. Of the 38 such covers recorded, 24 originated in Cambridge-Boston, Ma, and are addressed to Cmdr. J. G. Walker who was assigned to the US frigate "Sabine". Another 11 covers were sent from Evansville, Ind. addressed to Lt. Cmdr. S. P. Gillett on the US Flagship "Franklin". The remaining covers are scattered among several origins and addressees. These covers are generally distinguished by a bright red oval cancel "UNITED STATES DESPATCH AGENT B. F. STEVENS, LONDON" with the date received.

Next to Great Britain and Ireland, the next most common foreign destination of 12¢ covers is Peru, to which no less than 32 covers were sent. Sixteen of these uses are from the Davis correspondence to Lima, which surfaced in the early 1960's (Register 82:p.76) [See Fig. 4 below]. After Peru, ranks France with 30 and Italy with 15. Twelve covers were sent to Ireland. The remaining foreign uses are dispersed among more than 20 other countries.

The Davis correspondence to Peru is noted for the many covers bearing multiples and combinations of 1869 stamps. Before February, 1870 the single letter rate to South America was 34¢ per half ounce. After that date, the rate was reduced to 22¢ per half ounce. Since many of the Davis covers show multiple rates, many interesting and rare combinations of stamps are found. The most striking of these showing the 12¢ usage is the triple 34¢ rate cover, originally with 9 copies, but now bearing only 8, including a strip of 5. Two other Davis covers show uses of 5 copies of the 12¢ stamps, one with the 10¢ [See double 34¢ rate cover overpaid 2¢ below as Fig. 5.] and the other with the 2¢ and 6¢ 1869 stamps.

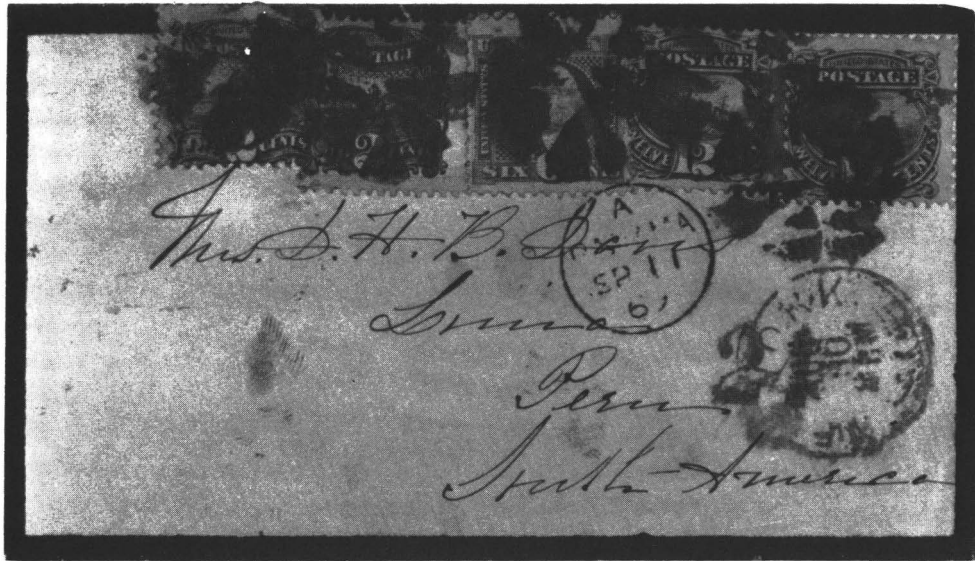

Figure 4. Two 12¢, a 6¢ and two 2¢ 1869s pay the 34¢ per half ounce rate to Peru. Red "24" credit to England. This Davis correspondence cover appears to have Aug. 30, 1869 origin.

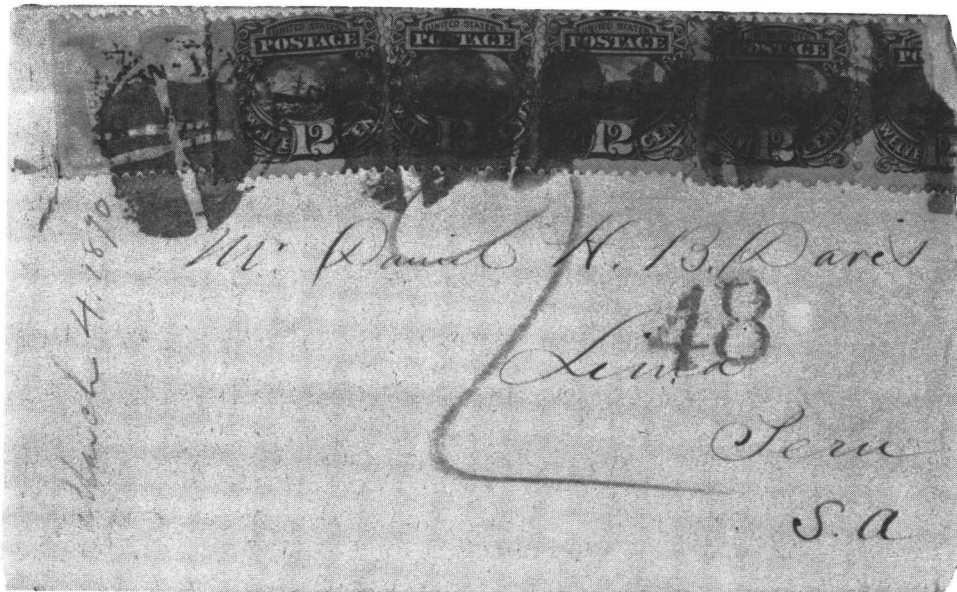

Figure 5. Five 12¢ and a single 10¢ 1869 overpay by 2¢ the double 34¢ rate to Lima, Peru ("48" credit to England) on this Davis cover. Unlike most Davis covers which are addressed to Mrs. D.H.B. Davis, this one is addressed to Mr. David H.B. Davis.

In all, 42 recorded covers show multiple usage of the 12¢ stamp. [Fig. 6, two 12¢ 1869s and 1¢ pay 25¢ rate to Argentina.] One of these is a large piece of wrapper showing 7 copies of the 12¢, 4 of the 6¢, and one each of the 2¢ and 3¢ 1869 stamps on registered mail to England. However, the most spectacular multiple use of the 12¢ stamp is clearly the 13x15¢ rate to France from Ft. Cummings, N. Mexico Territory paid with no less than 16 copies of the 12¢ plus a 3¢ 1869 stamp. This marvelous usage, mailed on Sept. 25, 1869, is illustrated in color in the book of the Ishikawa Collection (The United States Stamp 1847-1869).

Of the 432 covers now recorded in the census, 25% (109 covers) originated from New York City, while second place goes to Boston, with 21 recorded covers. It is interesting to note how a single cover find can distort statistical ratios. Due to the Davis find, more 12¢ covers originated in small Port Chester, NY, than such large cities such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, etc. Clearly more mail originated in these larger cities, but that which survives gives a much distorted image after nearly 120 years.

As expected, the 12¢ stamp is most commonly used in combination with a 3¢ value on 54 covers. This may reflect the 15¢ registration fee in effect during this period, or the ready availability of the 3¢ stamp at all post offices. The next most common combination, with 33 examples is, surprisingly, the 6¢ value, followed by the 2¢ and 10¢ stamps, appearing on 20 and 18 covers, respectively. The most common combination usage with non-1869 stamps is the 12¢ 1869 and 3¢ 1870 Bank Note stamp, primarily on domestic registered mail. A total of 77 covers show the 12¢ 1869 stamp used in combination with 25 different US stamps from other issues. The earliest stamp noted is the 1861 1¢; the latest, the 1876 5¢ Taylor.

Figure 6. Two 12¢ and a 1¢ 1869 pay the 25¢ per half ounce rate by American packet to Rosario, Argentina from Cambridge, MA, on this Wheelwright correspondence cover. Sent Feb. 21, 1870. American packet NY to Rio de Janeiro, thence by British packet to Buenos Aires, effective 1/70. Prior, second leg was by French packet at 25¢ rate (to 1/70). Cover rating may thus represent a 7¢ overpay, as rate by British packet was 18¢.

RUNNING CHICKENS — Three sharp strikes of the rare Waterbury, CT., “running chicken” cancel tie a vertical pair and single of the 1¢ 1869. Most famous Waterbury cover, has quarter million dollar price tag.

PART PAID — One of two known 4¢ part-paid covers to France (from Boston, Jan. 18, 1870) franked by four 1¢ 1869s (two pairs, far left stamp with margin arrow). 5 decimes French due mark ties.

Plate 2

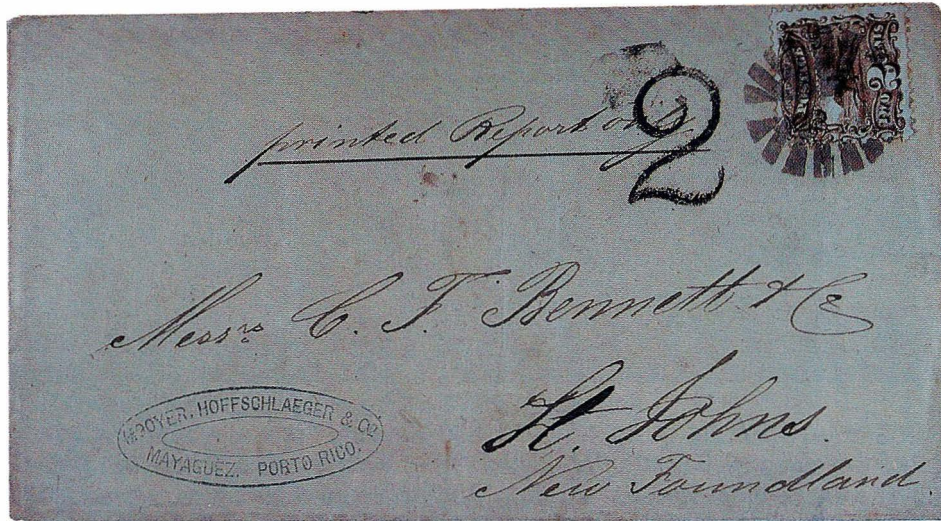

NINE ONES — Nine copies of the 1¢ 1869 pay triple rate domestic cover postage. Sent Aug. 18, 1870 from New Orleans to New York City.

CLOSED MAIL — A 1¢, 3¢ and 15¢ Type II 1869 pay the 19¢ rate to Rome, Italy, closed mail via England, then through North German Union. Sent Feb. 16, 1870 from Dunkirk, NY. NGU Wfr for "paid beyond" marking lower left.

Plate 3

CARIBBEAN CIRCULAR — A 2¢ 1869 pays the second class circular rate from Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, to St. Johns, Newfoundland.

Plate 4

UNDERPAID TO INDIA — A 1¢ Typ. V 1857 Franklin (demonetized) and 3¢ 1869 pay open mail portion of postage from Northampton, Mass., to London. Cover went to India via Southampton. Addressee paid 10 annas, 4 pies (31¢ US) collect postage. India charged 22¢ rate from US, 6¢ for insufficient payment, and 3¢ for inland forwarding. Cover sent Sept. 9, 1870.

OVERPAID? — The British mail rate to Hong Kong via Marseilles in 1869 was 42¢. But "PAID ALL" marking indicates this July 27, 1869 cover went via San Francisco, which would have required only 10¢ postage. So some or most of franking was wasted: 15¢ Lincoln, 30¢ F grill, 6¢ and 2¢ 1869s. Transpacific 10¢ carriage would be an America packet.

Plate 5

PATRIOTIC — One of the few “red, white and blue” Patriotics known franked with a 3¢ 1869, used from Suffield, CT, to Guilford, CT. U.S. Grant and Schuyler Colfax were winning running mates in 1868 election.

RARE TERRITORIAL — Less than ten 3¢ 1869 covers like this are known used from Alaska Territory. June, 1869 (?) usage from Sitka, Alaska, to Oregon.

Plate 6

INTERCONSULAR — A pair of the 3¢ 1869 pays the 6¢ interconsular rate from Nagasaki, Japan, to Shanghai, China, probably 1870, Pignatel correspondence.

SIX-CENT BISECT — This vertical bisect of the 6¢ 1869, used from Mechanicsville, NY, on July 5, 1870, is the only known genuine example.

Plate 7

HEAVY MAIL — A strip of six 6¢ 1869s and a 3¢ National Bank Note stamp pay the 13 times 3¢ rate to carry legal documents from Greensboro, Ala., to Demopolis, Ala., in 1870.

TO SYRIA — This is one of a handful of French international mail service covers bearing 1869 stamps. Three 10¢ 1869s pay 30¢ quarter ounce rate to Syria, via HAPAG Line. Markings include "18" French credit (3¢ direct to France, 15¢ beyond borders), remaining 12¢ to U.S. (3¢ inland, 9¢ sea transit). Dennis correspondence, sent via Marseilles.

Plate 8

TO SOUTH AFRICA — A 10¢ plus 12¢ 1869 and a 6¢ Bank Note pay the 28¢ rate, British Mail via England, to Cape of Good Hope. This rare destination cover shows red “24” credit to Britain, sent Aug. 3, 1870.

TO THE SEYCHELLES — A pair of the 2¢ 1869 and two 10¢ 1869s pay the 24¢ rate to Mahe, Seychelles Islands, in the spring of 1870. Cover went via Marseilles with 20¢ credit to England, 4¢ to U.S. One of the rarest destinations.

Plate 9

JAPAN TO CANADA — Higo, Japan, to Quebec, Canada, the 16¢ rate paid by three 2¢ 1869s (lowest one restored to cover) and a 10¢ 1869. Sent October, 1870. Rate breakdown: 10¢ transpacific, 6¢ US to Canada.

BISSELL COVER — A 10¢ and a 12¢ 1869 pay the 22¢ rate to India by British mail via Southampton on this Rev. Bissell cover. Red "18" is credit to England; "1d" is India internal rate. Backstamps: July 20, 1870 "SEA POST OFFICE" and red "AHMEDNUGGAR CAMP," Aug. 20, 1870 arrival marking.

Plate 10

EARLIEST — This 34¢ British mail rate cover to Shanghai bears 10¢ and 24¢ 1869s. This is earliest known usage of the 24¢. Route is via Southampton, cover left New York April 7, 1869.

TO QUATEMALA — A four times 10¢ rate to Guatemala from New York City, paid by a 20¢ and a 10¢ 1869. "4" is four reales internal postage. Cover went via Colon, year date unknown.

Plate 11

TO CHILE — Two 12¢ and a 10¢ 1869 pay the 34¢ rate to Valparaiso, Chile, via British Mall. Red credit "24" to England.

DOUBLE RATE — A pair of the 12¢ 1869 pays the double 12¢ rate to Dublin, Ireland, from Boston, Sept. 7, 1869.

Plate 12

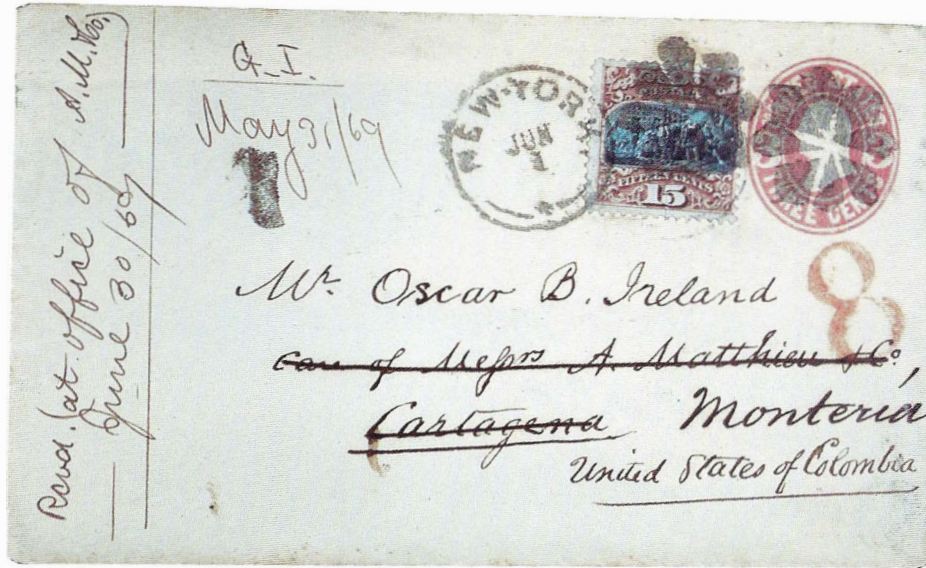

COLORFUL — One of three covers known showing the 12¢ and 30¢ 1869s used in Combination. This is a 42¢ rate British mail cover from New York, July 3, 1869, via London and Marseilles, to Hong Kong and then on to Yokohama, arrival on Aug. 31, 59-day trip.

TO MANILA — A 12¢ 1869 and a 30¢ F grill 1867 pay the 42¢ British Mail rate to Manila, the Philippines, via Marseilles. Rate breakdown: 10¢ to US, 24¢ credit to Britain for sea postage and 8¢ French fast transit. Covers shows red "32" credit to England, "2" reales internal due and "1d" credit to Hong Kong transit post office. Cover sent Aug. 13, 1869; arrived Hong Kong, Oct. 7; Manila, Oct. 18.

Plate 13

GULF ROUTE — A Type I 15¢ 1869 on a 3¢ pink on white (U58) pays 18¢ British mail rate to Cartagena, Colombia, then forwarded to Monteria, Col. Rate break down: 10¢ NYC to Colon; 3¢ Royal Mail to Colombia.

TRIPLE RATE — A rare combination of the 15¢ Type I and 30¢ 1869 pay the triple 15¢ rate from New Orleans, June 14, 1869, to France on British packet through Calais.

Plate 14

TRIPLE RATE — Three copies of the Type II 15¢ 1869 pay the triple rate (3/4-1 ounce) to Paris Dec. 29, 1869. Note NY Paid "18" credit and Calais receiving mark for French mail.

TO BURMA — A pair of the 15¢ Type II 1869s pay the 30¢ British mail rate to Moulmein, Burma, from Lancaster, PA., via Marseilles. Red "26" credit to England. Moulmein CDS to left to stamps.

Plate 15

TO ARGENTINA — Two copies of the 2¢ 1869 and a 24¢ bi-color combine to pay the 28¢ rate to Buenos Aires, Argentina. May 31, 1870 departure, via England, with arrival on June 22. Red “24” credit to England.

PACIFIC COAST ROUTE — A 24¢ 1869 and a grilled 10¢ Washington (1867) pay the 34¢ rate from San Francisco, July 30, 1869, to Lima, Peru. American packet (10¢) to Panama, then by British Royal Mail to Peru, 24¢ credit to England.

Plate 16

INCOMPLETE — Only the 24¢ 1869 remains on this six times 22¢ rate cover from San Francisco to Tacna Arica, Peru. One supposition is that another 24¢ and a 90¢ 1869 are missing, to make up a $1.32 rate, a 6¢ overpay. Red “72” credit to England, 1870 usage.

COMBINATION 30¢ DOMESTIC — A rare usage (one of eight recorded) of the 30¢ 1869, here used on twelve times 3¢ cover with two 3¢ green Bank Note stamps to make up 36¢ rate.

Plate 17

ID: RARITY — A seven times 10¢ rate cover from the Shanghai consular post office, Jan. 14, 1871, to Pennsylvania, franked with a pair of the 30¢ 1869 and a 10¢ yellow. A second, similar usage was discovered recently. Received San Francisco Feb. 17, this cover weighted 3-3½ ounces.

UNIQUE — Although the exact status of this cover is currently unknown, it is the only proved genuine 90¢ 1869 cover discovered. The 90¢ 1869 plus 10¢ and 12¢ National Bank Note stamps pay the four times 28¢ rate to India via Brindisi. Known as the Bancroft "Ice House" cover. The 90¢ was torn in opening the cover; the 10¢ is probably a replacement stamp.

Plate 18

ILLUSTRATED RE-ISSUE — A 10¢ 1875 re-issue plus 2¢, 3¢ and 5¢ Bank Note Stamps pay 10¢ registry fee and double 5¢ UPU rate to Modena, Italy, on Holton Mulready facsimile.

RE-ISSUE COVER — A 24¢ re-issue and a 3¢ embossed overpay by 2¢ the 10¢ registry fee and triple 5¢ UPU rate to Berlin, Germany. Note N. Seebeck advertising collar around 3¢ Washington embossed.

Plate 19

DOUBLE FORWARDING — A Type I 15¢ 1869 and 30 centimes French Napoleon III, brown on yellowish, pay, respectively, rate to France and forwarding charges. Cover was forwarded by Monroe & Co. to Switzerland, then back to Paris. Sent June 5, 1869.

FROM GILBRALTAR — The "A 26" killers indicate this cover originated in Gibraltar. Transit fully prepaid to US by 1d rose red 1864 and 10¢ red brown. Two cents sea postage credited at London (PAID transit mark Oct. 25, 1869). Received New York City, Nov. 5, and Owego, NY, Nov. 7. Green Owego markings applied and forwarded to Annapolis, MD., with 3¢ 1869.

Plate 20

DOUBLE MIXED FRANKING — Six U.S. stamps (a 2¢ 1869, three 3¢ and two 10¢ Continental Bank Note Co. issues) pay the 31¢ unpublished rate from Havana, Cuba, via New York City to Barcelona, Spain, July 3, 1875. The 50 centavos blue green Cuban stamp, upper right, pays the internal fee. This cover is one of the 12 similar ones in Quadraga correspondence.

TRIPLE MIXED FRANKING — Sent Oct. 22, 1870 from Callao, Peru, via Panama City (Oct. 30) to New York City, arrived Nov. 12, on to Nashville, Tenn. Cover bears Peru 1 dinero green, Great Britain 6d bright violet (1869) and a 10¢ 1869, paying Peru internal and British and US transit rates. The 10¢ 1869 did not originate, as New York steamship marking is of type used on in-bound mail without pre-payment, and is the due marking.

LARGEST PIECE — Thirteen copies of the 2¢ 1869, including a vertical block of ten (2x5), overpay by 6¢ the 20¢ rate from the consular post office at Hogo, Japan, to Rhenish Prussia In 1870. Rate breakdown: 10¢ transpacific, 10¢ NGU from U.S. to Prussia.

RECONSTRUCTION — These three stamps might have been used to pay the six times 22¢ rate to Tacna Arica, Peru, in 1870. Now, only the lower 24¢ remains affixed. Such a reconstruction as here would represent a 6¢ overpay. Ultraviolet light footprints show two other stamps were once on cover, probably including a 90¢ of some type.

The Type I 15¢ 1869 on Cover: Analysis and Census

By Jon W. Rose

Figure 1. This cover shows the earliest known usage of the 15¢ Type I 1869. Mailed April 2, 1869 from New Orleans via New York City to Bordeaux, France. Stamp pays quarter ounce rate.

The 15¢ Type I stamp on cover is at the same time both exciting and dull.

Exciting because there are so few examples, and they are sometimes hard to spot. Dull because far more often than not this stamp is found alone on a somewhat prosaic cover mailed to Western Europe.

This writer, assisted chiefly by Elliott Coulter, former chairman of the Philatelic Foundation in New York City, and Richard Searing, Ph.D., co-editor of this book, has been tracking Type I 15¢ 1869 covers for nine years. To date I record just 133 examples believed to be genuine.

The first definitive census of Scott's #118 covers appeared in The 1978 Register, when Coulter and I listed 105 covers, of which 94 were believed genuine, and 11 were questionable or proven fakes.

Then, in Chronicle 108 (November, 1980, pp. 254-260), I enlarged the list to 114 covers believed genuine and seven fakes. During the past six years, just 19 additional genuine covers have been added. Since 1978, 39 covers have been added to the census.

With the facts known to me now, I would estimate that 150 is probably the top number of surviving Type I 15¢ 1869 (hereafter called "Type I") covers. This assumes no discovery of a hitherto unknown correspondence or horde. The Type I on cover is very scarce. It is not quite so scarce as the 24¢ airmail invert, Scott #C3a (whereabouts of 96 copies established of 100 issued, cataloging $110,000), nor even close to the 30¢ on cover (about 58 known) or the 24¢ (about 72), much less the unique (?) 90¢ cover, illustrated later in this work.

In comparison with all lower values of the 1869 on cover, the Type I is very uncommon. .

The Type I was issued on or about April 1, 1869, although printing by the National Bank Note Co. was completed in March. The earliest known usage on cover is still April 2, New Orleans to Bordeaux, France. This cover is pictured in Brookman, Vol. II, p. 174. (See Fig. 1 above.) Between April 2 and Oct. 1, 1869, at least 104 and as many as 110 additional covers are known used. After Sept. 30 only 25-30 covers were sent with Type I, as enumerated in the census below.

Almost 60 per cent of the Type I covers were mailed to France. Another 15 per cent are domestic usages. One is illustrated here with a pair of 15¢ Type I stamps. Oddly, exactly 23 15¢ Type I covers of domestic origin are recorded, exactly the same number as 24¢ 1869 covers. Only four 30¢ 1869 covers are known used within the United States.

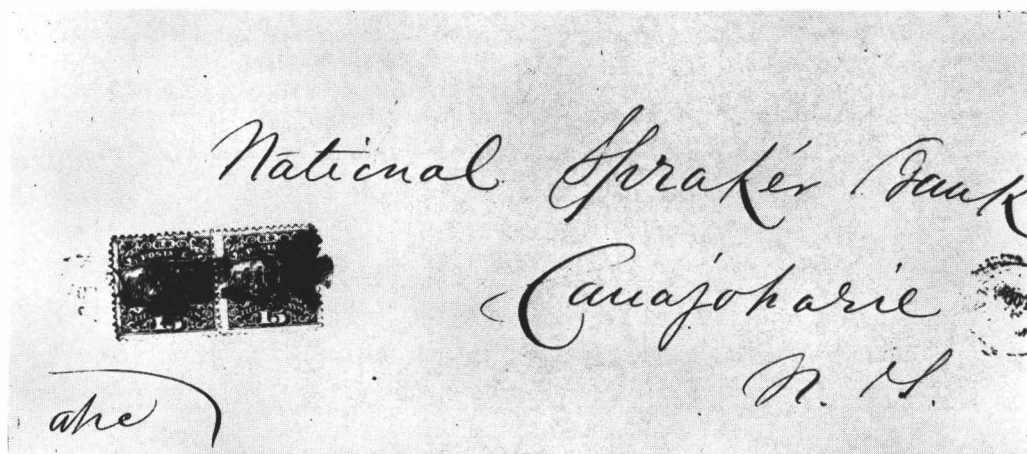

Figure 2. This horizontal pair of the 15¢ Type I pays the ten times 3¢ rate domestically from New York City to Canajoharie, NY, Oct. 6, 1869.

New York and New Orleans business houses, primarily, are the originators of an incredible 75 per cent of the Type I covers, another explanation for their relatively high (compared to 24¢ and 30¢ 1869) preservation rate. (See Fig. 3, cover to Italy.) In fact, 108 Type I covers originated in just three US cities, New York (63), New Orleans (36) and Washington, D.C. (9).

However, domestic destinations total 20 different of 23 usages. This seems to show that the 15¢ stamp was the one of choice for registered mail—the majority of the internal usages are registered. However, this applies only during the short period from the middle of 1869 to the late winter of 1870, about eight to nine months. The 15¢ Daniel Webster Bank Note stamp supplanted the Type I in the spring of 1870.

The 15¢ registry rate continued until 1874. And one Type I 15¢ 1869 is known used as late as 1871.

Spectacular Type I covers? A few. There is a rare triple Type I to France, paying the three times 15¢ (one-half to three-quarter ounce) rate. Seven covers are known used with two copies each, three domestic, three to Western Europe, one to Peru. Two covers are known with the 30¢ Franklin, one #71 (no grill), underpaying the 60¢ rate [See Fig. 4]; the other a 30¢ grilled, properly paying the 45¢ rate.

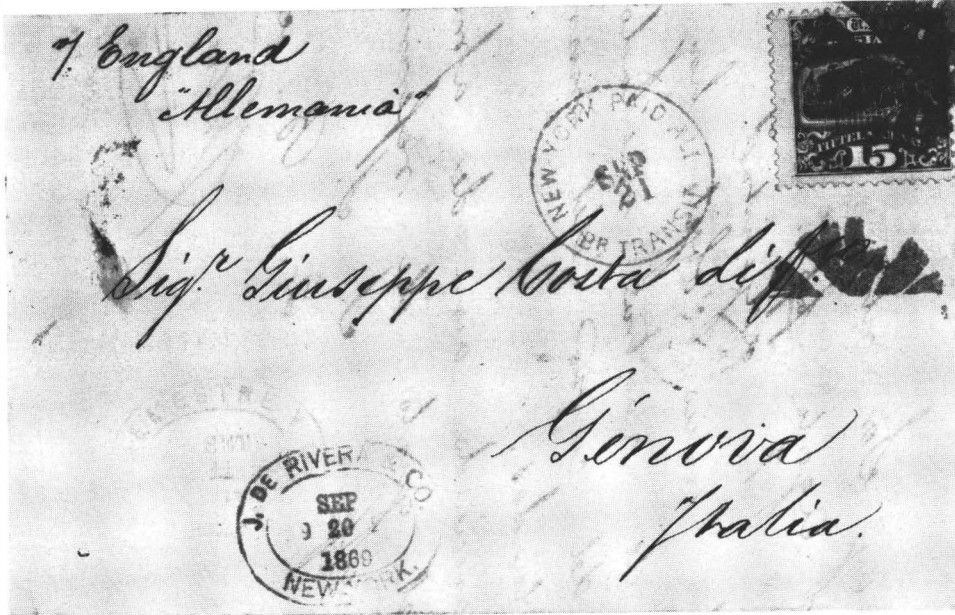

Figure 3. A 15¢ Type I 1869 pays the direct closed mail via England rate to Genoa, Italy, from New York City, Sept. 21, 1869. Typical New York business house mailing.

Figure 4. A 30¢ ungrilled Franklin (Scott #71) and 15¢ Type I 1869 (one 15¢ believed missing) underpay by 15¢ the 60¢ quadruple rate (3/4-1 ounce) to France, Aug. 23, 1869.

A gem cover is franked with examples of both types of the 15¢ 1869, plus two 2¢ 1869's, paying the single 34¢ rate to Peru in early 1870. This "Davis correspondence" rarity is pictured on p. 77 of The 1982 Register. It reposes in the "flesh" in the Swiss PTT Museum in Berne, part of the Charles A. Hirzel Collection.

The most colorful Type I covers are the three examples known used with the 30¢ 1869, all paying the triple 15¢ rate to France, two originating in New Orleans. A combination cover to France is illustrated [See Fig. 5].

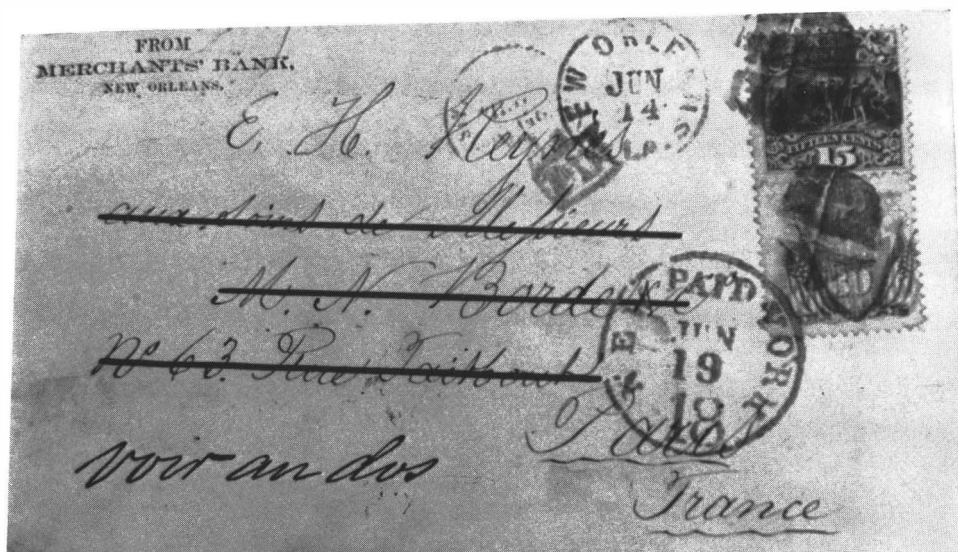

Figure 5. A 30¢ 1869 and Type I 15¢ pay the triple 15¢ rate to France from New Orleans, June 14, 1869. Three covers known showing this combination, all to France.

Figure 6. A 15¢ Type I 1869 pays the 15¢ rate to Zurich, Switzerland, US-Swiss service, closed mail via England, in August, 1869.

Cover data fits with what we know (And we don't know everything by far) about production quantities and issue dates for both Type I and II stamps. We know that 1,438,840 15¢ 1869 stamps were issued (Luff and William Herzog in Chronicle 89, p. 40). Lack of definitive printing records and issuance and withdrawal-destruction data preclude us from determining how many Type I or II 15¢ 1869 stamps were issued, taken separately.

Michael Laurence, then 1869 section editor in The Chronicle, wrote in 1869 Times (No. 7, May, 1977, p. 4) that an estimated 140,000 Type I's were issued. Because Type II 15¢ covers may have been used as early as May 1, extrapolative data used by Laurence could lead to the conclusion that as few as 120,000 or so Type I's were issued.

In any case the Type I had a short life. It suffered from design and printing problems. The revised Type II design features a reworking of the framing about the vignette of Columbus' landing. Colors tend to be sharper on Type II than on Type I in my experience.

I would leave the reader with five conclusions to ponder:

1. An estimated 120,000-140,000 Type I 15¢ 1869 stamps were issued.
2. Only 133 known covers survive.
3. Most surviving covers were used prior to Oct. 1, 1869 (Only 18 after Dec. 30, 1869).
4. The Type I cover survival rate is much higher than for 24¢, 30¢ and 90¢ covers.
5. Catalog prices for Type I 15¢ covers appear to be ludicrously conservative, at least compared with 24¢ and 30¢ 1869 covers, not to mention the 10¢ 1847 and other classics.

The 15¢ Type II 1869 Stamp on Cover: Analysis and Census

By Richard M. Searing, Ph.D.
PRA #66

As in the case of the 12¢ stamp, this is the first cover census conducted on the 15¢ Type II stamps, and the only precedent is the earlier preliminary census (Times 32:p. 19) of May, 1985. In the preliminary list, 323 covers were recorded; this has since grown to 425 covers, due to the response to the first article.

Based on his analysis of the Stamp Agent's reports for 1869-70, William Herzog calculated that 1,438,840 stamps of the 15¢ denominations (both types) were released to post offices by the stamp agents. How this total is to be split between the Types I and II is still a matter of conjecture. If we take the ratio of surviving Type I (133) and Type II (425) covers as a rough magnitude for the division, then about 75% of the 15¢ covers are Type II and 25% are Type I. Therefore, based on this split, approximately 1,080,000 stamps issued were Type II which leaves nearly 360,000 stamps as Type I.

Brookman (Vol. 2, p. 175, 8) estimates the split is more like 7:1 instead of the 3:1 ratio indicated by the above computed cover ratio. In a 1977 article, Michael Laurence argues for a 9:1 ratio between the types (Times 7:p. 4). If we examine the cover survival rate based on 360,000; 200,000; and 140,000 issued Type I stamps, we find that 133 covers yield rates of 3.75, 6.75, and 9.65 out of 10,000 respectively.

Referring to observed survival ratios for other classic stamps such as the 90¢ 1861 (Chronicle 58:66) and the 90¢ banknote issues (Chronicle 88:244), any ratio greater than 4 in 10,000 appears to be an overestimate. Therefore, using this figure as our model, we assume that 350,000 is a realistic estimate of the actual 1869 15¢ Type I stamps originally issued, and estimate 1,100,000 stamps were issued of the Type II variety.

Using this model, we conclude that most of the 15¢ Type II covers are already recorded in the census, and perhaps 450 covers may actually exist. On the other hand, if Laurence is correct and approximately 1,300,000 Type II stamps were issued, then we may expect approximately 550-600 covers to survive. I am personally inclined to a figure of around 500 covers, which is more attuned to Brookman's estimate that 1,238,000 Type II stamps were issued.

Most of the 15¢ Type II cover data was compiled from the extensive auction records of Frank S. Levi, Jr. for the past 30-40 years and my own research notes. As with the 12¢ value, it was not my original intention to do this, but I had little choice under the circumstances that developed. The list of 15¢ Type II covers is considered preliminary, but I hope that it represents a good start on the total project.

The 15¢ Type II stamp was not issued with the remaining 1869 stamps since it came about as an attempt to improve on the earlier 15¢ design. Placing a frame around the vignette made it easier for the printer to match the relative positions of the two printings, and may have helped mask any serious misplacements which are generally so prominent on the Type I stamps. In any event, the Type II stamp did not appear until May, 1869.

The present earliest recorded dated usage is a cover from New Orleans to France mailed on May 23, 1869. The latest recorded use occurs on a domestic cover from Madison, Georgia to Alum Rock, Texas on April 28, 1873. The census shows 166 (39%) covers used in 1869, 179 (42%) used in 1870, and 28 used 1871-1880. The remaining (52) covers cannot be year-dated. Note the lack of a drastic drop in the 15¢ usage in 1870 as was recorded for the 12¢ value.

The primary purpose of the 15¢ stamp in 1869 was to pay the single rate to France, Germany, Switzerland, and Italy [See Figs. 1 and 2 below]. In 1870, the rate to France and Germany was reduced to 10¢, but the others remained unchanged. Thus, we record 133 (31%) covers to France and Germany, mostly in 1869, and 106 (25%) covers to Italy and Switzerland, fairly evenly distributed between 1869 and 1870. Nearly 130 (30%) covers show domestic usage (See Fig. 3 below, 9x3¢ rate), predominantly registered mail (3¢ + 15¢). Most of the unknown year uses are also domestic mail.

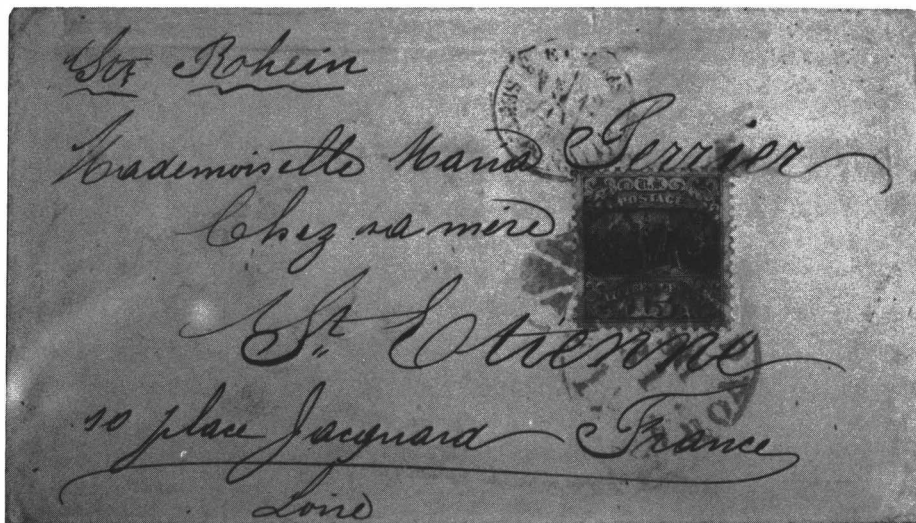

Figure 1. A 15¢ Type II pays the 15¢ prepaid quarter ounce rate to France on Dec. 31, 1869, last day of the rate. Red NY exchange office postmark shows 12¢ credit to France; blue Calais receiving mark.

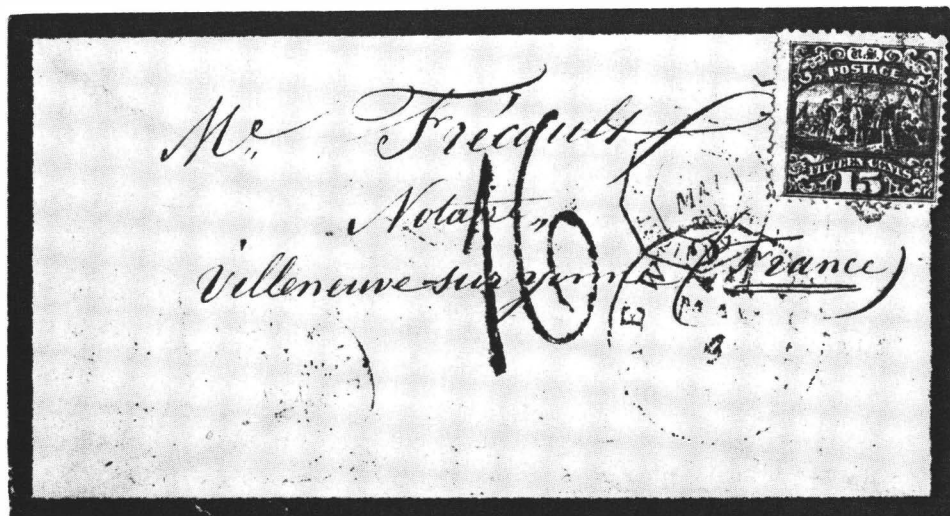

Figure 2. Early usage of 15¢ Type II to France on a mourning cover. Cover is rated 16 decimes due and has black New York "24" debit marking. The underpayment of 15¢ not recognized.

Figure 3. A 15¢ Type II, 10¢ and 2¢ 1869 pay the nine times 3¢ domestic letter rate Sept. 3, 1869 from New York City to Canajoharie, NY.

The largest single correspondence using 15¢ stamps is to the famous H. B. Shaw in Alfred, Me. This hoard of letters (more than 150,000) was uncovered in the early 1900's by Sterling Dow (Times 5:p.7). Today, I record 17 covers from the Shaw correspondence with the 15¢ Type II stamp. As stated in his article, sometime around 1910 Mr. Dow personally removed more than 1000 15¢ stamps from their covers and thousands of lower values as well. Probably less than 300 of the original 150,000 original covers are available to collectors today.

Who was H. B. Shaw? The late John David Baker in his book, The Postal History of Indiana wrote:

“The correspondence of H. B. Shaw of Alfred, Me., was not limited to Indiana, but can be found from many states throughout the United States in the 1860's and 1870's. After some digging and the help of the Sanford-Alfred Historical Society, it was learned that H. B. Shaw was Miss Harriet B. Shaw, whose business was obtained from advertisements in inexpensive little magazines that circulated to farm and home readers across the country. She offered bargains, such as a steel engraving of the President for $1, for which a postage stamp was supplied, or a sewing machine for $1, providing a little rack to hold needle, thread, scissors, and the like. She was said to be beautiful, had a nice home, and was a meticulous housekeeper.”

Harriet Shaw was also a pioneer American business woman, before it was fashionable for women to be independent; and one of the early dispensers of patent medicines to the general public.

The next most common foreign destination is Peru, primarily due to the famous Davis Correspondence from Port Chester, NY to Lima. Nine covers are recorded from the Davis find bearing one or more copies of the 15¢ with other 1869 stamps. These include one cover with six 15¢ (one lost) stamps, another bearing 5 copies, and still another with 4 copies used. This heavy usage of multiple 15¢ stamps lends further support to the premise that the 30¢ stamps were generally unavailable at smaller post offices in the country. The Davis cover saga is told with illustrations by Elliott Coulter in The 1982 Register: p.71-86).

The remaining covers are pretty evenly distributed among 15 other foreign destinations. The most exotic destinations include Burma, Egypt, Norway, Hungary, and South Africa. [See Figs. 4, 5 and 6 below.]

As expected, 140 or nearly 33% of the covers originated from New York City in contrast to 33 from New Orleans, 10 from Philadelphia, and 15 from Port Chester, NY (Davis correspondence). Due to the heavy French population in New Orleans, I would have expected more covers to have originated from this city than reflected in the census. In comparison with the 15¢ Type I covers, 36 originated in New Orleans compared to 62 from New York City. However, those towns showing less than 5 usages apiece account for nearly 40% of the total covers recorded. Many of these are domestic registered mail.

Figure 4. A 15¢ Type II and 3¢ 1869 on this Mar. 21, 1870 cover from Washington, D.C., pay the 10¢ direct rate to Hamburg and 8¢ registry fee on to Hungary.

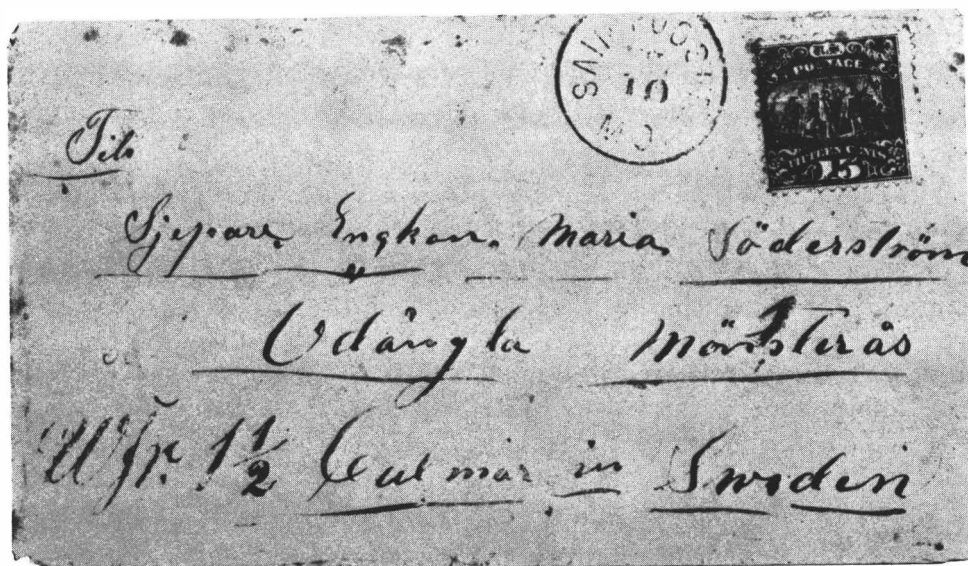

Figure 5. A type II 15¢ 1869 overpays by 1¢ the 14¢ per half ounce rate to Sweden closed mail via North German Union. Sent July 10, 1870 from St. Joseph, Mo.

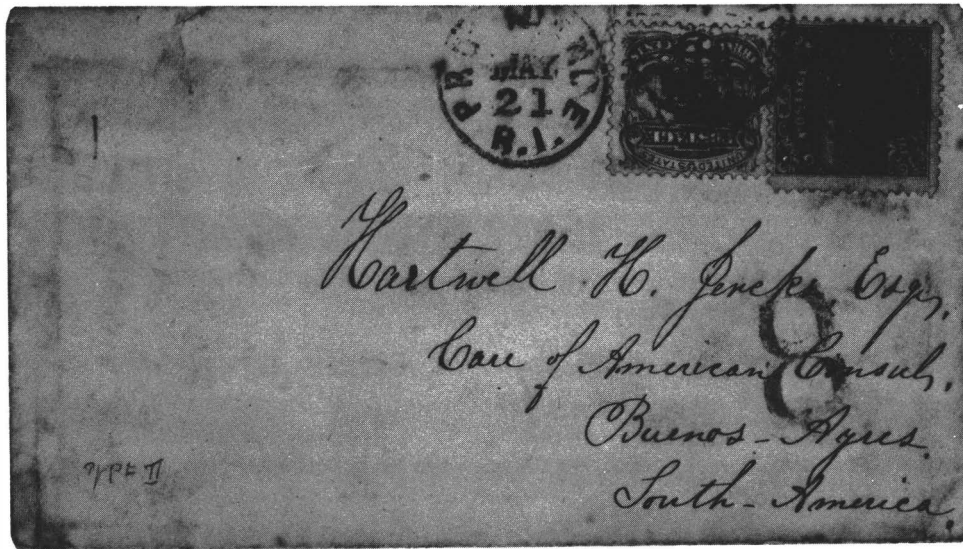

Figure 6. A 3¢ and a Type II 15¢ 1869 pay the 18¢ rate by American packet (to Rio de Janeiro) and British packet (Rio to Buenos Aires) to Argentina. Sent May 21, 1870 from Providence, R.I. Red "8" credit to England.

Among the domestic mail uses, 113 or nearly 90% pay the 15¢ registration fee on single and double weight letters. The remaining 14 covers show heavy multiple rates. Two of these covers stand out, due to the use of 3 different 1869 stamps. One cover is a registered rate used within Kentucky, while the second cover a 9x3¢ rate paid with a 2¢, 10¢, and 15¢ stamps from New York City to Canajoharie, NY (See Fig. 3 above). Several other multiple rate covers bear banknote stamps.

The honor of being the rarest cover bearing the 15¢ Type II stamp is probably divided between the unique combination of the Type I and Type II 15¢ stamps on a Davis cover to Peru and the inverted frame stamp on a unique cover to Sweden. The former is shown in the Davis find article in The 1982 Register: p. 77, and the latter cover is shown in The 1977 Register, p. 57.

The invert was removed from the cover at one time and placed in an album, but I have been informed that it has been restored and the cover remains as pictured. Since less than two dozen inverts survive off cover, the existence of this cover must be classed as miraculous. The cover pays the 28¢ rate to Sweden and bears 10¢ and 3¢ 1869 stamps in addition to the invert.

There may be some doubt about the rarest cover bearing the 15¢ stamp, but there is a clear choice for the most colorful cover, two examples of five different 1869 stamps. Two covers are known used to India in February and March, 1870, which show the 1¢, 3¢, 6¢, 10¢, and 15¢ Type II values, with shades of blue, yellow, and brown in various combinations (See Fig. 7).

Several covers from Davis find show colorful combinations. One cover shows the 2¢, 3¢, 15¢, and 24¢ stamps paying the 2x22¢ rate. Other covers show combinations of the 2¢, 12¢, and 15¢ stamps and 2¢, 6¢, and 15¢ stamps paying various rates. Similar combinations show up in the Gomez find to Cadiz, Spain. These include 3¢, 10¢, and 15¢ stamps paying the 28¢ rate [See Fig. 8 below] and one cover with 12¢, 15¢, and 24¢ stamps paying a double rate.

Three other combination covers in the Fleming correspondence from Pittsburgh to France show three 10¢ plus the 15¢ paying the quadruple "phantom" rate of 40¢. This unlisted rate is discussed further in connection with the only recorded "phantom" cover with the 30¢ stamp. [See Fleming cover below with two 15¢ Type II stamps paying the triple rate (30¢), but underpaid 1 weight, requiring 32 decimes due].

Figure 7. Five different 1869s on one cover! The 1¢, 3¢, 6¢, 10¢ and Type II 15¢ 1869 appear to overpay by 5¢ the 30¢ British mail rating to India via Marseilles. Cover shows red "26" credit to England and 1d Internal marking for India. London transit for 30 Mar. 1870.

Figure 8. The 28¢ per half ounce British mail rate to Cadiz, Spain is here paid by the 3¢, 10¢ and Type II 15¢ 1869s. Sent April 8, 1870, cover is from Gomez correspondence.

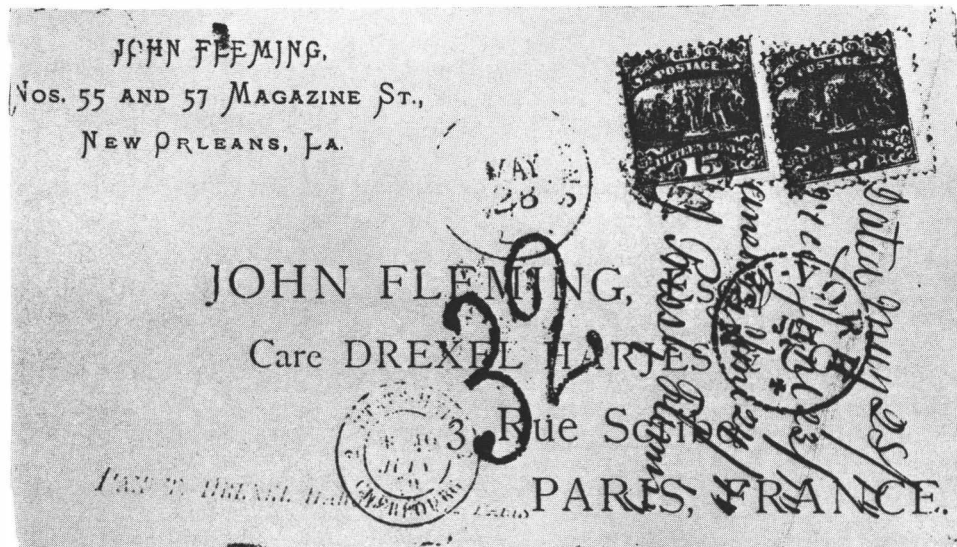

Figure 9. Two 15¢ Type II 1869s pay triple 10¢ direct rate, May 28, 1870, via American packet to Paris. However, weight required quadruple postage (40¢), France assessing 32 decimes due for underpayment (about 64 cents).

The 24¢ 1869 on Cover: Analysis and Census

By Richard M. Searing
PRA #66

In the 1976 Register of the 1869 Pictorial Research Associates, Inc. (PRA), this writer published a preliminary list of known covers with the 24¢ 1869 stamp. An update published in Volume I of the 1869 Times added 12 more covers. The latest revision was in The Chronicle of the U.S. Classic Postal Issues (No. 93, February, 1977, pp. 42-49). These early efforts led to the present census of 1869 covers.

Since The Chronicle article, data have been refined and revised to the present list of 72 apparently genuine 24¢ covers. Several have been dropped, due to new information which brands them fraudulent; several new listings have been added. The list will probably never be complete due to the nature of the study. But it is reasonable to believe that, barring a major find of new covers, the 24¢ cover list is nearly complete.

Such a spectacular find occurred in 1961 with the discovery of the Davis correspondence to Lima, Peru. At that time nearly 50 covers bearing high values and multiple rates were offered for sale. (See Fig. 1—66¢ Rate—Davis Cover—3x22¢) Later, it was revealed that perhaps an equal number of covers were sold privately. These covers span a period from 1861 to 1871. The story of the Davis find is told in an article by Elliott Coulter, which appeared in The 1982 Register (pp. 71-87). Interested readers may refer to it for more details. In the Davis find were at least ten new covers with the 24¢ stamp, including several multiples. This represents a significant percentage of the existing known 24¢ covers—about 14 per cent.

Figure 1. Two copies of the 24¢ 1869 plus 6¢ and 12¢ National Bank Note Co. (no grill) stamps pay the triple 22¢ rate to Lima, Peru, on this Davis correspondence cover sent Sept. 19, 1870 from Port Chester, NY. Large blue pencil "3" shows triple rate.

Using the Stamp Agent's records for 1869-70, William Herzog (PRA #343), in a definitive article (Chronicle 89:41, 43), computed the number of issued 24¢ stamps at 235,250. If one cover out of 1,000 issued stamps survived, we might expect to see 236 24¢ 1869 covers. But this in fact is too many—and one out of 10,000 is too few (24)—when compared with census results to date. These show a survival rate of three 24c covers for each 10,000 stamps issued.

Other classic cover surveys, such as the census of 90¢ Bank Note stamps on cover (Chronicle 88:244) and the 90¢ 1860 and 1861 covers (Chronicles 48:36 and 58:66, respectively) show similar survival percentages of covers to issued stamps.

I believe the 24¢ 1869 stamp was issued in March, 1869. However, the earliest recorded usage is April 7, 1869, on a cover with a 10¢ 1869, paying the 34¢ rate to China. This is illustrated in Chronicle 87:174. [See Color Photo, Plate 10]. The census below contains 21 covers with 24¢ stamps used in 1869, compared with 33 used in 1870. Only five covers recorded are known used after 1870.

The primary uses for the 24¢ stamp during the 1869 period were to make up foreign rates, such as the two times 12¢ to Great Britain, 28¢ to India, 34¢ to South America, 42¢ to Japan, and 34¢ to China and other parts of the Far East, as well as to pay postage on heavy domestic and registered mail. More than one-third or 23 covers are domestic uses, and 75 per cent of these are registered. The rest are heavy multiple rates on packages and legal mail.

In 1870 several foreign rates were significantly reduced. Examples are the 12¢ rate reduced to 6¢ for Great Britain, the 42¢ rate reduced to 36¢ for Japan and China, and the 34¢ rate reduced to 22¢ for South America. Many other rate reductions also occurred during 1870-71.

Due to the magnitude of the Davis find, letters to Peru are disproportionately represented in the census. At present, 14 covers are recorded to Peru and ten to Spain (Gomez correspondence). See Fig. 2—Gomez cover to Spain, and Fig. 3, non-Gomez cover to Spain. Great Britain, France and China are next with seven, five and three each, respectively. Three of the most unusual destinations are Mauritius, Western Australia and Singapore [See Fig. 4, 28¢ rate cover to ship off Singapore.] There is even a cover to Kema, on the island of Celebes in the East Indies (Fig. 5).

Figure 2. This 24¢ 1869 overpays by 2¢ the 22¢ rate to Cadiz, Spain, for a quarter ounce letter, sent by British mail. Part of Gomez correspondence, cover shows credit "12" to England and transit through London, Sept. 18, 1869 (Mailed New York, Sept. 7).

Figure 3. Similar to cover in Fig. 2 above, except this cover with 10¢ and 24¢ 1869s shows 34¢ per half ounce rate to Spain via England. Sent Dec. 15, 1869, from New York to Port (?) St. Mary's.

Figure 5. A 24¢ 1869 and a single 2¢ 1869 (one 2¢ probably missing) pay most of 28¢ British mail rate via Southampton to Kema, Celebes, in former Netherlands East Indies (now Indonesia). Mailed Jan. 25, probably 1870, from Massachusetts.

Of the 72 covers listed, 29 (40 per cent), originated in New York City. The second most common city of origin is Port Chester, NY (Davis correspondence). The rest are scattered among large and small towns with four each from Boston, New Orleans and San Francisco.

With respect to rarity, two 24¢ covers vie for the honor as the most desirable.

Without a doubt, the most spectacular appearing 24¢ cover is the six times 22¢ rate to Peru example from the Davis find. (See Fig. 6). It has no less than five copies, together with a 12¢ 1869. This cover is simply beautiful. Unfortunately for specialists in the 1869 issue, this unique specimen was in the Hirzel collection, and may be entombed forever in the Swiss Postal Museum in Berne (1869 Times 30:pp. 4-14). Fortunately, several other spectacular covers to Peru are still available to 1869 collectors, including a strip of three 24¢ on cover.

The second most desirable 24¢ cover is probably the unique use of an inverted frame copy to Kentucky, used with a three cent Bank Note paying the nine times first class rate. (See Fig. 7 below). This item is believed to have been mailed in March, possibly 1874, and its survival cannot be understated. It has always puzzled me how an invert found its way to Kentucky. Since the place of origin is unknown, the cover could have been mailed from a major city, but the cancel is too faint to read. If the letter originated in a small town, where was the invert purchased and what happened to the other 49 from the pane? Since less than 36 24¢ inverts survive off cover (1977 Register: p. 58), the existence of this cover is a near miracle. No wonder it sold for $75,000 in April, 1984 at a New York auction.

A potentially spectacular 1869 cover on record to Peru, not from the Davis find, is one sent to Tacna Arica, in January, 1871, showing the six times 22¢ rate. (See Color Photo, Plate 16). This cover, even worse than the invert cover, is a ruin, in that two stamps are missing. Only a single 24¢ 1869 stamp remains. Elliott Coulter (1869 Times 12:8) describes this spectacular "what if?" of U.S. postal history, and it is discussed further in Chronicle 106:121. The evidence clearly indicates that one of the two missing stamps is most probably a 90¢ value, to make up a rate close to the $1.32 required. With all stamps present, this cover would rank with the greatest U.S. classic covers known.

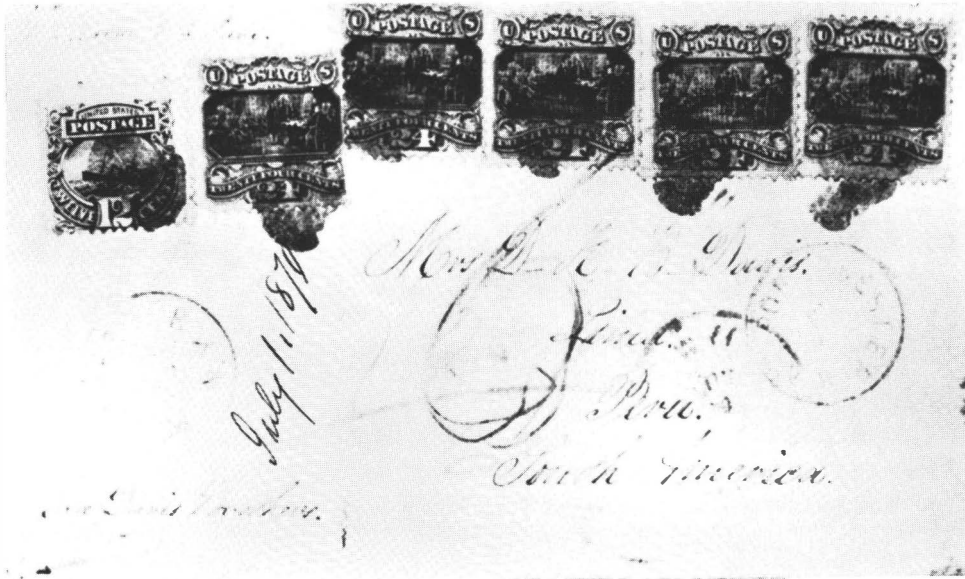

Figure 6. Five copies of the 24¢ plus a 12¢ 1860 pay the six times 22¢ rate on this spectacular Davis correspondence cover, Port Chester, NY, to Lima, Peru, June 3, 1870. Formerly in Charles Hirzel Coll., cover was donated to the Swiss PTT Museum in Bern.

Figure 7. An inverted frame copy of the 24¢ (Scott 120b) and 3¢ Bank Note pay the nine times 3¢ letter rate to Paducah, KY. on this courthouse cover, mailed in March, possibly 1874. Unique. Less than 36 24¢ inverts survive off cover.

The most colorful domestic usage we have is probably the cover with a 24¢, 12¢ and 3¢ 1869 stamp, an official New Jersey state-cacheted envelope, mailed from Trenton to Red Bank, N.J. [See Photo below, Fig. 8]. A strip of three to Lexington, Ky.; an irregular block of three from New York City; and a pair used on cover from Mobile, Ala., are all candidates for the most noteworthy domestic usage.

Figure 8. Copies of the 3¢, 12¢ and 24¢ 1869 pay the 13 times 3¢ letter rate on this cover from New Jersey Dept. of State, Trenton, to Red Bank, NJ. Cover bears cachet showing state seal at left. Year of use unknown.

The 30¢ 1869 on Cover: Analysis and Census

By Richard M. Searing, Ph.D.
PRA #66

This writer published the initial survey of surviving 30¢ 1869 stamps on cover in The 1976 Register, released that year at INTERPHIL in Philadelphia. In that list were 41 covers. An update appeared in the Chronicle of the U.S. Classic Postal Issues (No. 97: p. 48 et seq.), in which 49 covers, believed to be genuine, were listed. Also tallied were 22 “doubtful” or covers clearly fakes.

In the intervening years, an additional nine covers have been added to the list of genuine uses. The “fraud” list now numbers 27. However, this status is always subject to review and the effects of new information. A very exciting find in 1985 was another seven times 10¢ rate cover sent from the U.S. Consulate in Shanghai to the United States. This cover is a companion to the famous “A. B. Bradford” cover, illustrated in Chronicle 80:219, [See Color Photo on Plate 17], and is another example of heavy consulate mail to Boston. A second important addition was a two times 22¢ rate franking to Spain. This Gomez correspondence cover has a 30¢, a 10¢ and two 2¢ 1869 stamps. See illustration below.

Figure 1. The double 22¢ rate to Cadiz, Spain (Gomez correspondence) is paid here by a 30¢, 10¢ and two 2¢ 1869s. Sent April 16, 1870 via England with 4/27 London transit marking. Technically, cover appears to be overpay of 28¢ half oz. rate effective 1/70.

A cover to St. Helena, formerly in the Marc Haas collection, has been dropped from the genuine list after review by the Philatelic Foundation Expert Committee.

It is unlikely that there will be a find of 30¢ covers such as the ten or more 24¢ examples in the Davis correspondence from Port Chester, NY, to Lima, Peru. In the Davis letters was only one 30¢ cover. See photo below. This discrepancy lends credence to the premise that 30¢ stamps were not widely distributed to smaller post offices around the United States. The extensive use of 15¢ Type II stamps on Davis covers indicates a lack of 30¢ stamps at the Port Chester Post Office.

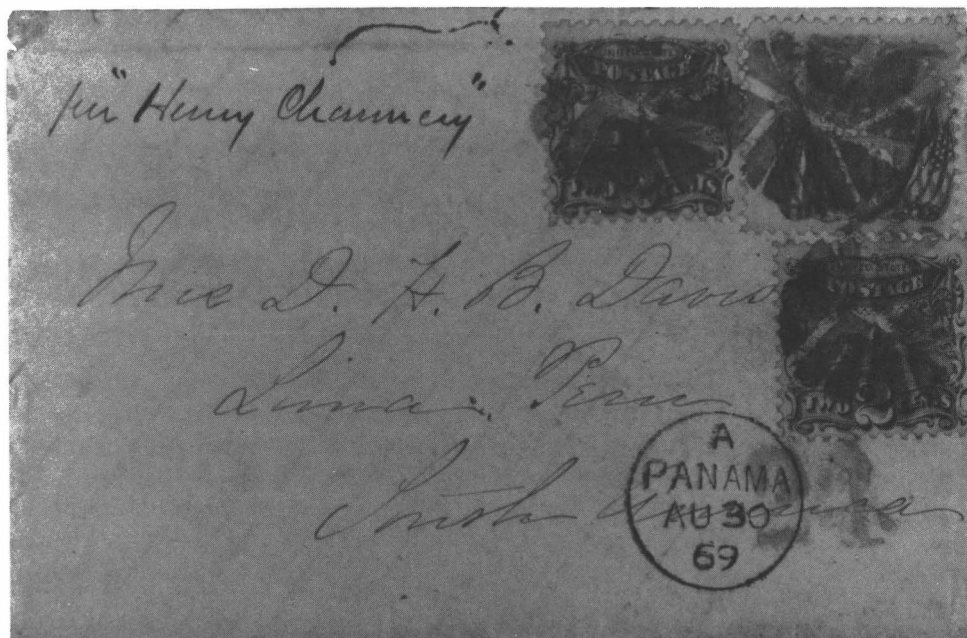

Figure 2. A 30¢ 1869 and two 2¢ 1869s pay 34¢ rate from Port Chester, NY, Aug. 20, 1869, to Lima, Peru. Sent via ship, Henry Chauncey, this is only cover in Davis correspondence known used with a 30¢ 1869.

Another statistic which supports this view is that only eight covers are known to domestic destinations, and only four of these are of domestic origin. See illustration in Fig. 4 below. These last four are all multiple rate uses on heavy domestic legal documents and wrappers. From cover markings it is interesting to note that none of these four covers appears to have been registered. In contrast there are 22 domestic 24¢ covers, several of which are registered.

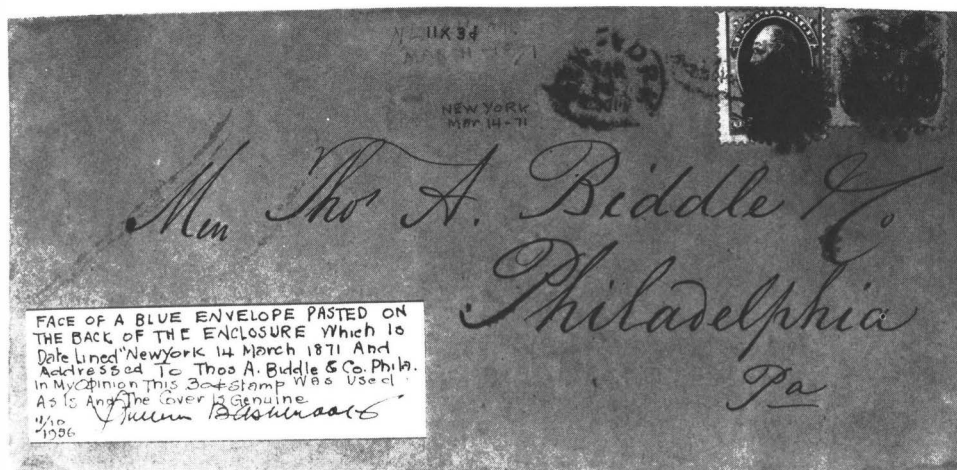

Figure 3. Heavy legal cover, New York, March 14, 1871, to Philadelphia, with 11 times 3¢ rate paid by a 30¢ 1869 and 3¢ green Bank Note. Ashbrook guarantee as genuine, lower left.

Based on Stamp Agent records of the period, William K. Herzog in Chronicle 89:3 computed that 254,010 30¢ stamps were released to post offices. This is almost 14,000 more than the 24¢ 1869. Yet 30¢ covers survived at a rate 33 per cent less than 24¢ covers. Again, here is more support for the uneven distribution of 30¢ stamps.

I believe that the 30¢ 1869 was issued at the same time as the lower values—in late March or early April, 1869. See photo in Fig. 4 below for fourth earliest usage known—June 11, 1869. In The United States Postage Stamps of the 19th Century, Lester G. Brookman states that the earliest known use of the 30¢ is May 15 (See Brookman, Vol. II, p. 184). However, I have never been able to locate any other reference to this cover. The earliest recorded dated usage is May 22, 1869, a 42¢ rate to Yokohama, Japan, from the Thorel letters. See Color Photo of singular usage, Plate 12. The latest usage I show is an 1882 cover to Great Britain, formerly in the Margaret Wunsch gold medal collection of 1869s. The census records 30 covers used in 1869, 18 in 1870, seven used later, and three others, all domestic, with no year date.

Figure 4. Early (June 11, 1869) but typical use of the 30¢ 1869 to pay the double 15¢ rate to France. HAPAG line into Cherbourg. Origin: New Orleans.

The primary use of the 30¢ was to pay multiple foreign rates. These are concentrated in double and triple rate uses to France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland. Other rates are the 42¢ and 36¢ to Japan, triple 22¢ and 28¢ to India, double 22¢ to Spain and multiples of the 10¢ rate to Mexico and Central America.

Of the 58 believed-genuine covers, 28 originated in New York City, nine in New Orleans and three in Boston. The rest are scattered among almost 20 different origins, mostly one each. Foreign points of origin include Cuba; Callao, Peru; and Shanghai, China.

France dominates destinations with 24. See Cover to Nice below. Next is Switzerland with 5. Three were mailed to Japan. Two each were sent to Germany (See Photo of Cover to Baden with 10¢ “F” grill paying four times 10¢ rate.), Guatemala, Mexico, India, Spain and Italy. [See illustration here of cover to Turin, Italy, used Apr. 30, 1870].

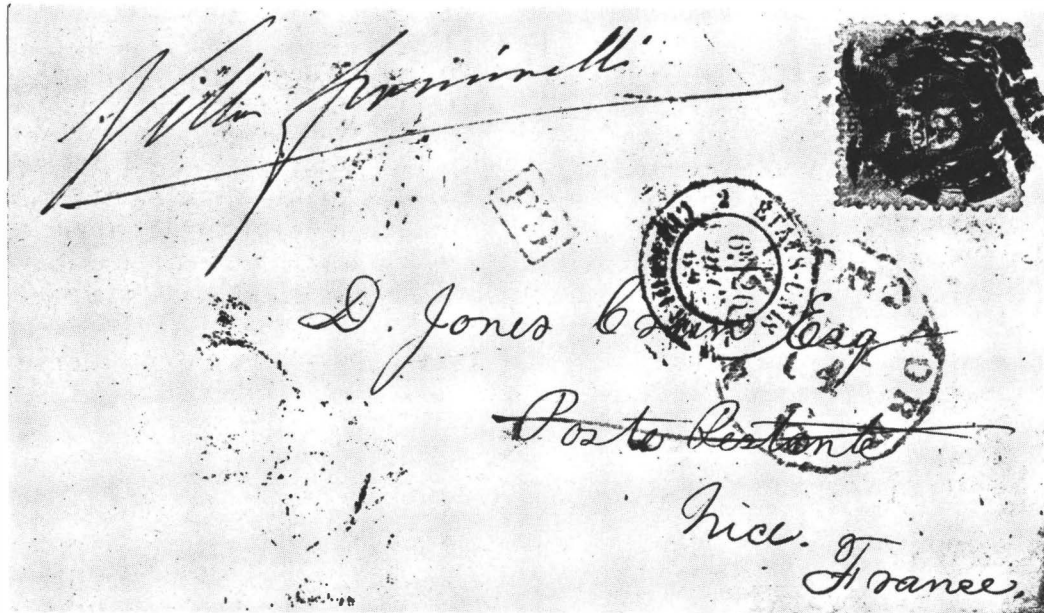

Figure 5. Similar double 15¢ usage as cover in Fig. 4. New York City to Nice, France, on HAPAG steamer, with 30¢ affixed to Dec. 14, 1869 cover. Cover sent via American packet through England with 6¢ credit to France.

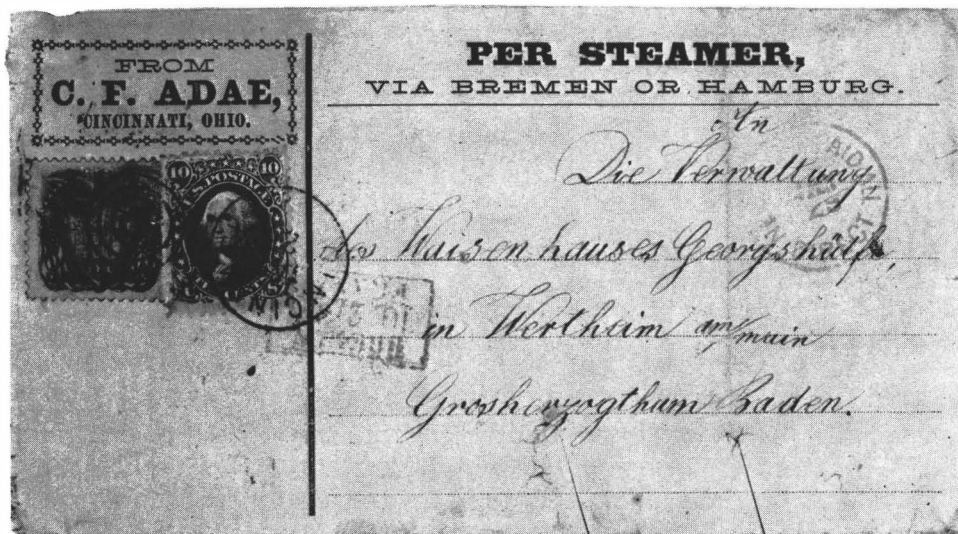

Figure 6. A 30¢ 1869 and a 10¢ F grill Washington pay the four times 10¢ direct via North German Union rate from Cincinnati, Ohio, to Baden. Cover sent December, 1869.

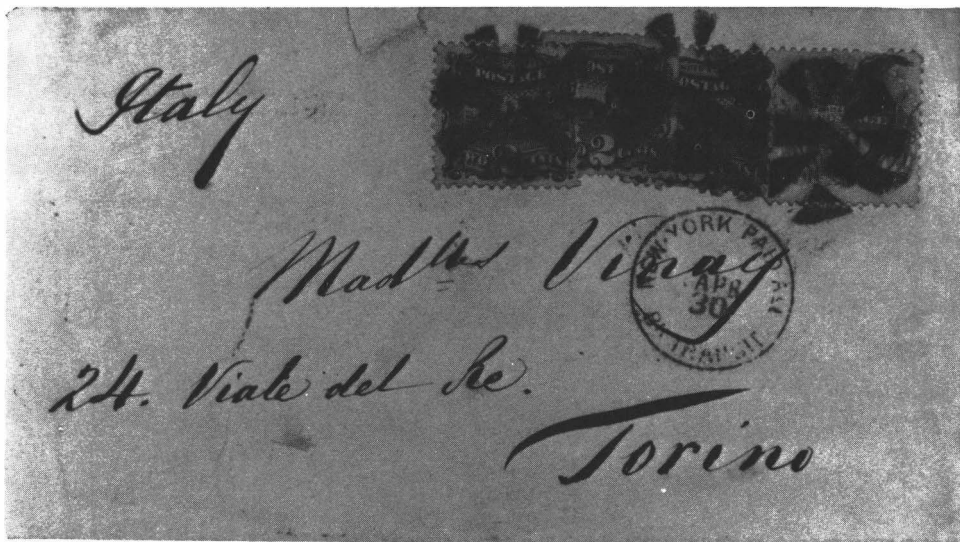

Figure 7. A single 30¢ 1869 and three 2¢ 1869s underpay by 2¢ the double 19¢ per half ounce rate to Italy, NGU closed bag via England. One 2¢ might be missing and would satisfy the 38¢ rate. Sent 4/30/'70.

No 30¢ stamps are now known used on cover in combination with the 1¢, 24¢ or 90¢ 1869 stamps. However, there exists a six times 22¢ rate cover to Peru, which currently has just a single 24¢ 1869. There is telling evidence that a 90¢ stamp of some sort adorned the cover as well as a second 24¢ stamp. Whether the 90¢ was an 1869 is open to speculation, but the ultraviolet “footprint” left on the cover favors this conclusion (See color photo, plate on frontis piece). This cover is discussed in the 1869 Times (No. 12, August, 1978, p. 8).

Considering the rarity of 30¢ 1869 covers, a surprising total of seven show use of a pair. The most common combination of 1869s is a 30¢ stamp with a 10¢ 1869, making up various foreign rates on seven covers. These include the two uses from Shanghai mentioned above and two used to Spain. Three covers survive with the 2¢ 1869, while only one (large piece) has the 30¢ 1869 in combination with a 3¢.

Three of the 58 covers in the census show a 30¢ and 6¢. Two are triple 22¢ rates to India from the Bissell correspondence to India. There are three 30¢ covers with the 12¢ 1869, all used to Japan, two paying the 42¢ rate, the other overpaying the 36¢ rate via Marseilles in 1870. Finally, there are four 45¢ rate covers to France, two each with the two different types of the 15¢ 1869.

The most magnificent 30¢ 1869 cover is probably the spectacular triple mixed franking from Callao, Peru, to New York City. (See photo Fig. 8.) This philatelic treasure is entombed in the Swiss Post Telegraph & Telephone Museum (1869 Times 30:pp.12-13). This gem started in Callao as a triple rate use, and has a 20¢ Peru (Scott's #18), applied at Callao (Lima's seaport). It traveled next to Panama with a British one shilling (#54), and from there to New York with a 30¢ 1869, applied apparently in Panama. It is unfortunate that few American collectors will see this beauty. Another mixed franking cover of great beauty and rarity is the 30¢ with French #33 to France. This cover is shown in color in The 1982 Register, p. 108.

Second from the point of rarity are the two seven times 10¢ covers from Shanghai and the two triple 22¢ rate items to India, both from the Bissell correspondence, each of the four covers with a pair of 30¢'s. However, I believe the triple rates to France with a 15¢ and 30¢ 1869 are just as rare.

Another colorful combination is the newly discovered double 22¢ rate example to Spain from the Gomez letters, paid by a 30¢, 10¢ and two 2¢ 1869 stamps on a blue envelope. A similar cover exists except that the 10¢ is a grilled Bank Note. The three 30¢ plus 12¢ combination covers to Japan are most eye-catching.

Figure 8. This triple mixed franking cover features a 30¢ 1869, Peru 20¢ (#18) and Great Britain 1sh (#54). Cover posted at Callao, Peru, Oct. 14, 1869; arrived Oct. 20 at Br. post office, Panama; there entered U.S. mail service to New York. 30¢ pays triple 10¢ rate; is struck with N.Y. Steamship marking.

Among the domestically used covers, that from Goshen, Indiana, and another from St. Louis are fine multiple rate, combination covers with 3¢ Bank Notes.

Finally, there is the difficult possible “Phantom rate” usage from Pittsburgh, Pa., to France, used July 14, 1870 (the Fleming correspondence). This represents a fully prepaid British Mail rate to France, when all other rates paid only to the French border. See 1869 Times 31:12 (February, 1985) and illustration below (Fig. 9). Because the rate was unlisted in postal rate guides, it is termed the “Phantom” rate.

Several “Phantom rate” covers are recorded showing use of the 10¢ 1869, including two quadruples (40¢), but so far only one with the 30¢ 1869. However, in the absence of discernible credit markings, the true rate for this cover is in dispute. If it is a “Phantom,” the postage was 20¢ U.S. with a two times 8¢ credit to England, resulting in a 10¢ overpayment. A triple rate would have required 32¢ U.S., resulting in the case of this cover a 2¢ underpayment. It is unlikely that such an underpayment would have been allowed. Any other rate would show due markings, which appear to be absent. If this is a real “Phantom,” it is one of the rarest 30¢ 1869 covers in existence.

Figure 9. This is believed to be a double rate (7½-15 grams) "Phantom rate" usage from Pittsburgh, June 14, 1870, to Paris, overpaid by 10¢ with a 30¢ 1869. Breakdown of the 20¢ rate: 16¢ to Great Britain, 4¢ to U.S. Triple "phantom" rate would have required 32¢ postage.

1869 Ninety Cent Stamp on Cover: A Ghost Story

By Richard M. Searing, Ph.D.

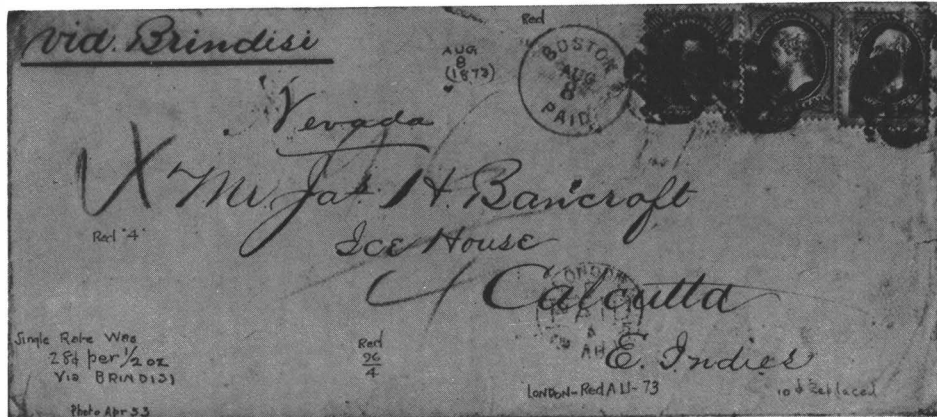

Figure 1. This unique 90¢ 1869 cover shows the four times 28¢ rate to India via Brindisi paid by the 90¢ 1869, plus 10¢ and 12¢ Bank Note stamps. Cover mailed Aug. 8, 1873 from Boston to "Mr. James H. Bancroft, Ice House, Calcutta, India," leading to its appellation, "The Ice House Cover."

I am sorry to have to report that nothing factual has changed on this subject since my 1980 article in The Chronicle of the U.S. Classic Postal Issues (CHRONICLE 106:P.120). The only recognized cover bearing the 90¢ carmine and black portrait of Abraham Lincoln, which tops the wish list for all 1869 collectors, has remained lost after being stolen in 1968 from the late John David Baker. [See Fig. 1].

It is my belief that the ignorant thieves unknowingly selected the 90¢ cover, perhaps due to the striking stamp colors, then soaked off the stamps. The 90¢ became two pieces, and they then flushed both as a total loss. At this point they stopped soaking stamps, unwilling to risk another such loss, and kept the remaining covers until they were apprehended. In this manner, we may account for the only cover that was not recovered and returned to the owner. If and when this unique item should ever reappear, is anyone's guess at this time.

Many rumors have surfaced since 1980 about additional supposedly genuine 90¢ covers, but all have proven, thus far, to be unfounded wishful thinking. There is little to say here that has not been stated several times before. Therefore I shall do a little dreaming about what could have been.

Any genuine usage of the 1869 90¢ stamp on other than a package wrapper would be for heavy letters requiring multiple rates to foreign destinations. So, let us use our imaginations and speculate on some likely places and well known correspondences where such usages were likely.

In the famous Bissell find of letters from Boston to India (1912), one would expect at least one cover with a 90¢ stamp. Such does exist, but the 90¢ is the 1861 stamp. I imagine a 3x28¢ rate via Southampton overpaid by 6¢ with a single 90¢ stamp. Several such letters exist where the 84¢ rate is paid with two 30¢ 1861 or 1868 stamps plus a 24¢ stamp. How about a 4x28¢ rate overpaid by 2¢ with the 90¢ and the 24¢ 1869 stamps. Even better would be the exact payment of $1.12 with the 90¢, 10¢ and 12¢ stamps. What a gorgeous combination that would make! We record two examples in the census of the 3x22¢ rate paid with a pair of 30¢ plus 6¢ 1869, but no example of a 4x22¢ rate. Imagine further that the 84¢ rate was paid with two 30¢ 1869s and one 24¢ 1869 stamp. Such was entirely possible. In fact no cover yet known shows the 24¢ and 30¢ stamps used together, let alone usage with the 90¢ stamp.

As long as we are dreaming, imagine a 4x22¢ rate via Brindisi overpaid by 2¢ with the 90¢ stamp or a 3x30¢ via Marseilles paid with the 90¢ value. Most of these rates are paid on several Bissell covers, but using lower denominations or banknote stamps rather than the 1869 issue. Only the one genuine usage of any 90¢ stamp has ever been found in almost 100 covers in the Bissell find. I note this as a strong indication of the scarcity of such uses.

Another probable correspondence in which to find a 90¢ 1869 cover would be the Davis letters to Lima, Peru (1961). Surely at that late date, no one would remove a 90¢ stamp from the envelope, and if we ever had a chance for a new discovery of a 90¢ cover, it would be the Davis find. We have already discussed many of the multiple rate Davis covers in other articles in this book.

Let us consider the 5x22¢ rate paid with 5x24¢ 1869s plus 12¢ mentioned in the 24¢ article. Conceive this paid with 90¢, 30¢, and 12¢ stamps, or paid with 90¢, 24¢, 10¢, 6¢, and 2¢ stamps. Another very likely combination would be 3x34¢ paid with 90¢ and 12¢ stamps. or a 4x22¢ overpaid with a 90¢ stamp. Several 3x34¢ rates from the Davis find are on record. Why are no 90¢ stamps used on these letters? The answer is one can't use what isn't available to use. The heavy usage of the 24¢ stamp and the lack of the 90¢ stamps on the Davis covers may be due to the patriotic feelings of the postmaster for the Declaration of Independence and his dislike of Lincoln. Perhaps he was a Democrat. More likely, the Port Chester, NY, post office probably had no 90¢ stamps available.

If the 30¢ and 90¢ stamps were available only in the larger cities, then mail originating in New York City should be the best place to expect a 90¢ usage. Several multiple rate letters exist from New York City to Spain. One 2x22¢ rate is paid with 30¢, 10¢, and two 2¢ 1869 stamps. Another shows a 2x28¢ rate overpaid with 24¢, pair 12¢, and 15¢ 1869 stamps. It would not be unreasonable to expect a 4x22¢ rate or a 3x28¢ rate to be overpaid with a single 90¢ stamp. Perhaps rates such as exist in the Bissell correspondence could be expected. Maybe such a cover is hiding in Spain and remains to be discovered? There are rumors to this effect.

We do have record of one cover paying the 6x22¢ rate to Tacna Arica, Peru, that was discussed and pictured in the 24¢ stamp article. This cover now retains only a single 24¢ stamp, but ultraviolet light reveals footprints suggesting two other stamps have been removed, and part of a cancel shows (TIMES 12:p.8; CHRONICLE 106:121). If these missing stamps are a 90¢ and a 24¢, they would overpay the $1.32 rate by 6¢. Whether the 90¢ was an 1869 is open to debate, but the cover would have been spectacular by any standard. It seems safe to conclude that some type of 90¢ stamp once graced this letter.

Another likely source which could show usage of 90¢ stamps originating from New York is the Thorel correspondence to Japan. In 1869, the basic rate was 42¢ via Marseille so that a double rate could be overpaid 8¢ with a 90¢ stamp. Later in 1870, the rate was reduced to 36¢, so that a triple rate would require 90¢, 15¢, and 3¢ stamps.

Three covers showing single rates are known, but I have no record of any double or triple rates from this correspondence. Since this was business mail, there seems at least the possibility that multiple rates were used occasionally. Since none of the above cover finds shows a usage of the 90¢ stamp, even from New York City, one wonders where and if such stamps were available to the public? I am sure the 90¢ stamp was available, so consider the following story . . .

Several years ago I ran across an obscure stamp journal called Redfield Stamp Weekly, which was published after 1900 for several years. One particular issue of 1908 featured an article about the discovery in 1897 or so of a block of 30 copies of the 90¢ 1869 (worth then more than $1,000) in the post office at Carbondale, Ill., in Jackson County. The young collector who made the discovery borrowed the money to purchase the stamps from his brother at a high interest rate per week. He purchased the piece, took the train to St. Louis and sold it for $300 to one of the well-known stamp dealers of that period, Standard Stamp Co. The company advertised in McKeel's. The youth returned, paid his brother and was well satisfied with his effort.

I have lost the exact reference for this charming story, but I remember thinking at that time that this could have been the origin of the famous block of 20 of the 90¢ stamp that was reputedly once owned by Hiram Deats. The stamps were said to be well-centered for the 1869 issue. Later, when Deats sold his collection, this block was broken into smaller blocks which could be the source of the two blocks of six and two blocks of four which have long been cherished by collectors. Perhaps those two well-centered blocks of 4 and 6 that were illustrated in 1869 Times 31:p.4 are from this find.

I can't vouch for the authenticity of this report, but if true, it indicates that at least one small town postoffice may have received at least one pane of the 90¢ stamps. The postmaster sold about 23. The rest remained in the bottom of his drawer until discovered 25 years later by the enterprising young man. However, why such a postoffice would need a pane of the 90¢ stamps is a matter for speculation. Perhaps the postmaster was a friend or admirer of the late President Lincoln and wanted some of the stamps for purposes other than the payment of postage. The answer is lost in time, but the story has the ring of truth and the stuff of legends.

I shall close this piece of dreaming by briefly describing the "ghost" of the only genuine 90¢ cover on record. The cover was supposedly found in India before the First World War and sold to J.M. Bartels about 1926. Later, the cover was sold to Senator Ackerman of New Jersey for $400, after extensive repairing and restoration (CHRONICLE 106:122).

The Cover shows the 4x28¢ rate to India via Brindisi with the 90¢ 1869 stamp and 10¢ and 12¢ Bank Note stamps. The addressee is James H. Bancroft, Ice House, Calcutta, E. Indies, and the letter was mailed on August 8, 1873. The Ice House was just that, a factory making ice, and Mr. Bancroft was one of the employees at that time. The 90¢ stamp was torn in opening the letter, and the 10¢ stamp was probably not the original, but a replacement. Nevertheless, what is your guess as to what this cover would have brought in the 1978 landmark sale of the J.D. Baker collection?

The 1875 and 1880 Re-Issues on Cover

By Jon W. Rose, PRA #47

Stanley M. Piller, PRA #268

The 1875 hard paper re-issues of the 1869 stamps and the 1¢ 1880 soft paper shades on cover are so rare that few collectors even know they exist. Actually, the 30¢ and 90¢ 1875 re-issues are unknown on cover at this time. Only one example each of the 3¢ and 6¢ re-issues on cover are known to these writers. Both are illustrated here. See Figures 1 and 2 below.

Figure 1. The triple 5¢ UPU rate plus 10¢ registry fee is paid on this Apr. 29, 1884 cover to Paris by a 1¢ soft paper re-issue, the 2¢ and 3¢ re-issues (only 3¢ known on cover) and three Bank Notes on a 2¢ embossed.

Only two examples of the 12¢ stamp on cover are listed, and just three each of the 2¢, 10¢ and 15¢ are now known. The third 15¢ Type III on cover just surfaced at the Robert A. Siegel Rarities of the World Sale on April 5, 1986. It shows usage of a 5¢ brown 1863 Jefferson (Scott's #76) on cover to Vienna plus the 15¢ re-issue paying the registry rate and double postage. See Figure 3 below.

The entire list totals just 29 covers (including the new Type III 15¢ cover to Austria), of which 17 are 1¢ covers or covers with the 1¢ and one or more other values. Twelve of these are soft paper 1¢ stamps of 1880. Two soft paper 1¢ buff stamps on an 1883 cover used locally in Hartford, Connecticut, are illustrated in Fig. 4. The greatest 1¢ soft paper cover is illustrated in Fig. 2 below.

At least 60 per cent of the re-issue covers were used during the period 1880-1890. Atypical of usages during this ten-year period is the cover to Braunschweig, Germany, illustrated in Fig. 5 below. Perhaps the most marvelous re-issue cover known, this example shows the 1¢, 2¢, 12¢ and 15¢ Type III on a registered, heavy cover. It sold for $35,750 in December, 1985, at a New York auction.

Only one cover for sure is known used prior to 1880, and just one after 1890. The earliest known use is that of two 1¢ hard papers on a 3¢ red on white Centennial Plimpton embossed (U218) sent Dec. 8, 1877 to Colchester, England.

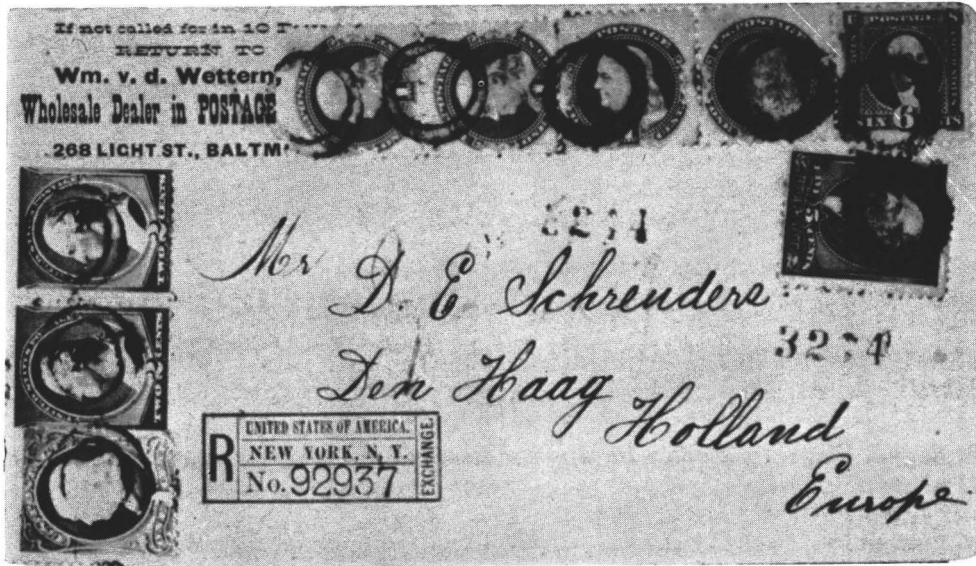

Figure 2. The double 5¢ UPU rate plus 10¢ registry fee, Baltimore, Jan. 30, 1884, to Holland is paid here by four copies of the 1¢ soft-paper re-issue, a 6¢ 1875 re-issue (only 6¢ known on cover), and four Bank Note stamps, 1¢, 2¢ (2) and 5¢ Americans.

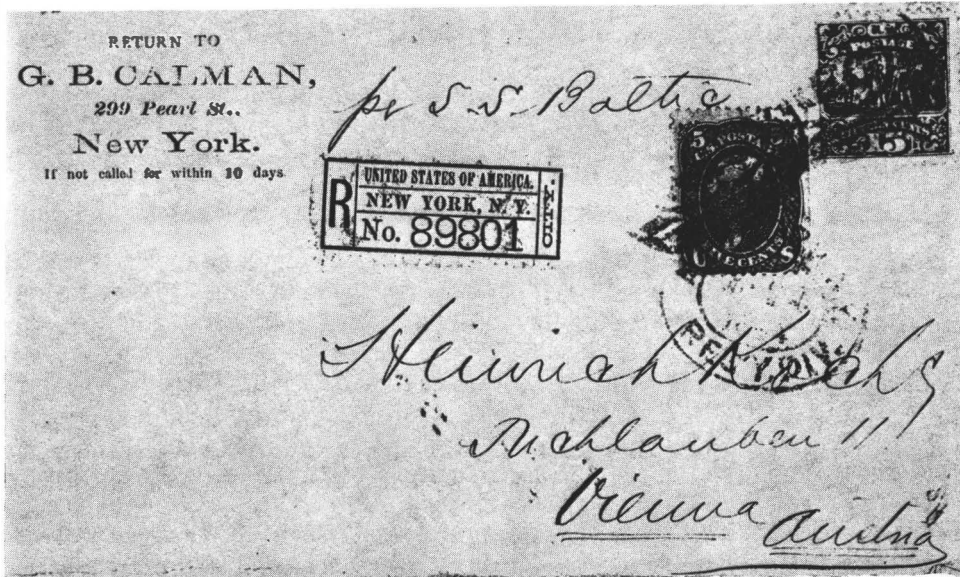

Figure 3. This July 24, 1884 cover, New York City to Vienna, shows the double 5¢ UPU rate plus 10¢ registry fee paid by a 15¢ re-issue (Type III) and a 5¢ 1863 Jefferson. One of three covers known showing the 15¢ re-issue.

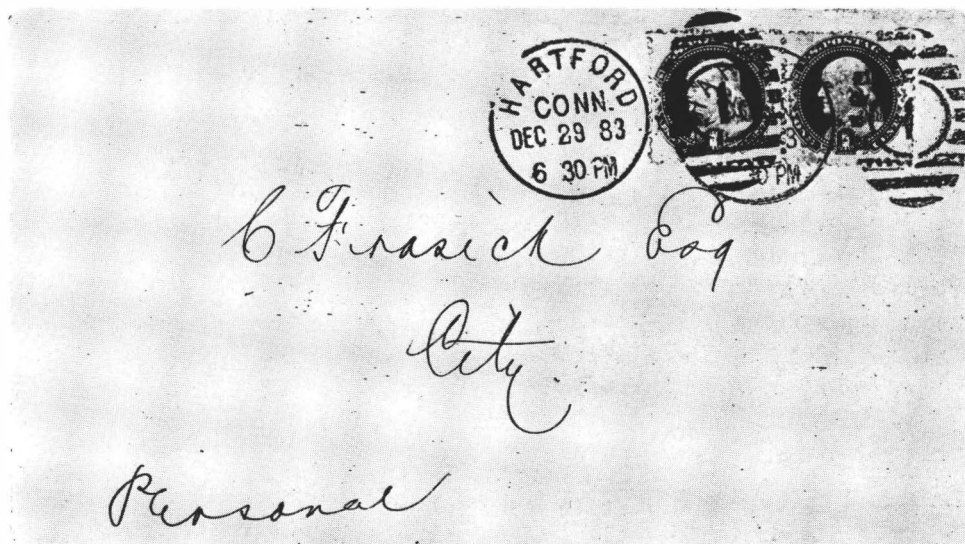

Figure 4. Two copies of the 1¢ 1880 Franklin re-issue on soft paper pay the 2¢ letter rate on this Dec. 29, 1883 cover from Hartford, Conn., used locally.

Catalog values for used re-issues are very misleading, just as values for copies on cover are almost non-existent. (The 1¢ soft paper lists in Scott for $1,850). PRA Member Stanley M. Piller, Oakland, California, contributor to this article, wrote about the re-issues on cover in 1869 Times #24:10-12 (August, 1981). A recognized authority on the re-issues, Piller currently estimates the quantities of used re-issues as follows:

1¢ hard paper, 40 to 50 copies; 1¢ soft papers, more than 100 copies; 2¢ 1875, 40 to 50; 3¢, seven to 12; 6¢, 20 to 40; 10¢, 20 to 40; 12¢, 15 to 25; 15¢ Type III, 50 to 75; 24¢, 50 to 75; 30¢, 30 to 50; and 90¢ re-issue, 30 to 45. Used pairs of the 1¢ hard paper and 90¢ are known, as well as pairs and a strip of three of the 1¢ soft paper.

The scarcity of covers, method and pattern of usage tell us that these re-issues were almost never used by the general public. Although legally valid for postage, few were used. Rather, after the vast majority were found to be unsaleable, stamp dealers used a few on correspondence. This is shown in the census (Table I), where at least a dozen covers were mailed by stamp dealers. Most of the covers, in fact, were sent by philatelists or dealers. But these stamps are legitimately and properly used to pay postage.

Piller states as his opinion (Times #24, pp.11-12) that a New York dealer acquired a quantity of 1861 and 1869 re-issue remainders for discount postage. He applied gum, then sold them at discounts to other dealers. (Piller feels that the 1869 re-issues, as well as the 1861 re-issues, were not issued officially gummed.)

This theory would account for the large presence today of ungummed re-issues, as well as the high percentage of re-issues on stamp dealer covers.

Mixed Franking Uses with the 1869 Issue

By Jeffrey M. Forster
PRA #24

One of the rarest and most exotic usages a postal historian encounters is the mixed franking. The contrast in colors, markings and the stamps themselves cause these covers to stand out in any collection or exhibit. The pleasure and enjoyment I felt, when I initially came across a mixed franking with the 1869 Pictorial Issue, led me to begin a "census" or listing of all covers which featured a mixed franking with stamps of the 1869 Pictorial Issue. (A more detailed discussion of this subject can be found in The 1982 Register, published by the 1869 Pictorial Research Associates).

At the outset it is important to understand what is meant by a mixed franking, or at least to know how that term is used here. I define mixed franking to mean a cover bearing 1869 stamps legitimately used on that cover, together with stamps of another country or postal system or service. Others have assigned the term "combination cover" or "combination franking" to such a usage. I find that term vague, as to many it connotes the usage of stamps of two or more issues from the same country. For example, a combination cover could feature U.S. 1861 and 1869 issue stamps paying the required postage for domestic or foreign usage.

If one examines closely the listing or census of mixed franking covers with 1869 stamps, it will become evident, especially after viewing the covers themselves or photographs of them, that a mixed franking cover can fall into three basic groups or types. The first type would include those covers where all stamps, even those of the foreign country or postal system, were affixed at the time of initial mailing; and together pay the necessary postage and fees to enable the letter to arrive at its ultimate destination. In many instances, a small internal delivery fee is required by a country, which may not have been paid by the addressee; and, perhaps because of foreign postal regulations, could not have been paid by the sender.

A second type would comprise those mixed frankings where the foreign stamp paid a forwarding fee, the postage necessary to forward the letter from what was the original destination to a second destination. More often than not this is caused by an address change of the recipient. Here the foreign stamps were applied en route to the ultimate destination.

The third type or group is akin to the second, but here the foreign stamp pays a surtax or charge for letters not fully prepaid from the point of origin. The recipient is thus required to pay the additional fee as evidenced by the denomination of the added stamp or markings reflecting the amount of this charge.

There are some 87 covers included in the 1869 mixed franking census, a group which has grown slowly but steadily since this research began several years ago. The listing is in the best chronological order that can be determined, inasmuch as some covers are impossible to year-date.

No mixed franking covers have been found with 1¢, 24¢ or 90¢ 1869 stamps on them. There are twenty-one 2¢ covers, eighteen 3¢ covers, five 6¢ covers, twenty-eight 10¢ covers, five 12¢ covers, four 15¢ Type I covers, four 15¢ Type II covers, and two 30¢ covers.

The large number of 2¢ covers is due primarily to the big group of covers which originated in Havana, Cuba, and were addressed to Barcelona, Spain. Those covers bear Cuban stamps, as well as 1869 and Bank Note issues. (See Fig. 1 and Color Plate 20.) The 2¢ group is also swelled by the covers originating in Hawaii, on which Hawaiian stamps were placed to pay the internal postage. The 1869 stamps paid the transpacific rate to the United States or points beyond. (See Figs. 2 and 3.)

Figure 1. A 2¢ 1869, three 3¢ and two 10¢ Continental Bank Note Co. issues pay the 31¢ unpublished rate from Havana, Cuba, via New York City to Barcelona, Spain, July 3, 1875. The 50¢ blue green Cuban stamp at upper right pays the internal fee.

Figure 2. A 15¢ grilled Lincoln and a 2¢ plus 3¢ 1869 pay the 20¢ transpacific double weight rate from Hawaii to Maine. A vertical pair of the blue Hawaii #32 5¢ Kamehameha V pays the double internal rate.

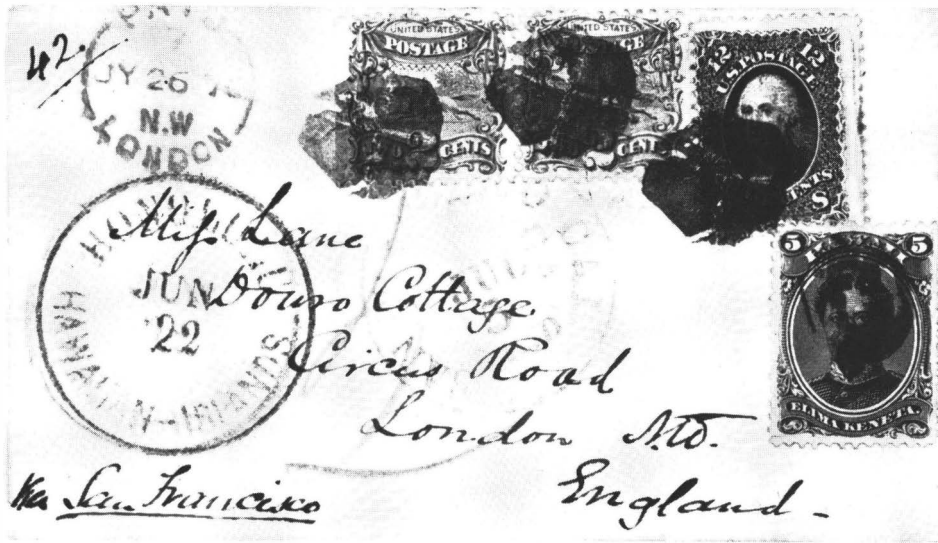

Figure 3. Mixed franking of US and Hawaiian stamps. A 12¢ grilled Washington and pair of the 2¢ 1869 pay the 10¢ transpacific rate plus 6¢ rate from the U.S. to England. Blue Hawaii 5¢ Kamehameha pays island internal postage.

Figure 4. A 12¢ 1869 pays rate to England in October, 1869. Cover forwarded from London to Paris with Great Britain 1d (#33), 3d (#49) and 6d (#51). London and Calais transit markings.

The large number of covers with the 10¢ 1869 stamp is again caused in part because of the number of covers originating in Hawaii, plus several covers which had the Caribbean as their point of embarkation.

The 87 covers in the mixed franking census show usages of stamps from 14 different nations, including the following: Baden (1), British Columbia (9), Canada (1), Cuba (10), Danish West Indies (2), France (20), Great Britain (15) (See Fig. 4), Hawaii (17), India (1), Italy (3), the North German Confederation (2), Peru* (4), Turkey (1) and Wurttemberg (1). Not surprisingly, French, Hawaiian and British stamps were most often used—the French and British stamps are forwarding postage (See Color Photo Plate 19) and the Hawaiian stamps for internal Hawaiian postage.

There are four covers originating from Callao, Peru, and each of those covers has both Peruvian and British stamps on it. Hence each can be called a “triple” mixed franking cover. This triple mixed franking combination occurs only with Peruvian and British stamps. See color plate 20.

Most of the mixed frankings originated in the United States (36), although 17 originated in Hawaii and 10 in Cuba. See Color Plate 19 for only cover originating in Gibraltar with 3¢ 1869 for forwarding. On the destination side, 23 began their journeys in the United States, 16 in Great Britain, 16 in France and 10 in Spain. The complete listing as to origin and destination is as follows:

Cover listings, like one’s own collection, are often by their nature both incomplete and incompletable. The primary purpose of such listings is to share the compiled information with other collectors and readers. An equally important by-product is that publication of the listing usually elicits additional information. In that sense, such listings have a life of their own, constantly expanding through the mere fact of their existence. The 1982 Register listed 78 mixed franking covers four years ago. Now we have nine more. This expansion has been true since I began this research and census of the mixed franking covers. I hope it will continue.

*The Peruvian stamps on these four covers are accompanied by British stamps, but for purposes of this census, these covers are included within the Peru listing.
