Hart plans to withdraw after 25-day candidacy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gary Hart will end his presidential campaign today, his front-running Democratic candidacy destroyed by his admission of a friendship with a 29-year-old bit-part actress, campaign aides said Thursday.

Workers at Hart headquarters in Denver announced that the 50-year-old former Colorado senator would hold a news conference at 11 a.m. today and sources said he will kill the campaign that made him the early leader for the 1988 Democratic presidential nomination.

The demise of Hart's campaign will come exactly 25 days after he declared his candidacy in a snow-covered park in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains April 13.

"I was shocked. I wasn't expecting it at all and I don't think that Gary Hart was expecting it when he woke up this morning," said Roger McDaniel, Hart's campaign coordinator in Wyoming.

McDANIEL SAID he got a call from Hart campaign headquarters in Washington and was told Hart is withdrawing. "The truth is that he is, of course, going to withdraw," a source close to the campaign said in Washington.

Thom Sarafin, Illinois campaign spokesman for Hart, said he had been told by headquarters officials in Colorado that Hart would drop out of the race.

There was no official comment from Hart campaign officials.

The agonizing decision to withdraw apparently came late Wednesday night or Several Johnson County Democrats were in shock Thursday evening over the withdrawal of Democratic frontrunner Gary Hart from the 1988 presidential race.

Hart, who is expected to announce his withdrawal officially at an 11 a.m. press conference today, found support for his candidacy dwindling after the Miami Herald reported the candidate had spent Friday night and most of Saturday at his Washington townhouse with a woman who was not his wife.

"I never anticipated it coming to this point," UI junior Dennis Houston, president for Students for Hart, said.

A Des Moines Register poll Thursday rated Hart as the top Democratic contender with the support of 56 percent of Iowa Democrats.

Johnson County Democratic Party Chairman Ron Bohlken said he suspected Hart's withdrawal when the candidate cancelled campaign plans in New Hampshire and returned to Colorado with his wife.

"IT IS KIND OF AMAZING to see the Hart campaign fizzle like this," Bohlken said.

With Hart's withdrawal, the Democratic field is left wide open for the seven other declared candidates, including Sen. Joseph Biden of Delaware; former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt; Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis; the Rev. Jesse Jackson; Rep. Richard Gephardt of Missouri; Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee and Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois.

"Gephardt is moving up fast in the polls and Jackson is also moving up very fast," UI senior Mike Skinner, a member of the Johnson County Democratic Central Committee, said. "Hart's withdrawal creates a wide-open field for the Democratic Party."

Several county Democrats said that the void created by Hart's withdrawal may cause other Democrats to announce intentions to enter the 1988 race.

"MARIO CUOMO WOULD definitely be my first choice after his decision was made," Houston said of New York's governor.

Hart supporters said they needed time to evaluate candidates before they committed to another Democrat.

"I'll probably support Biden or Gephardt, but I'm really not sure," Tom Kakert, who was a Hart supporter for the 1984 and 1988 races. "I have to read some more about the other candidates."

Bohlken criticized the media for making Hart's private life an issue.

"I think the sad thing is the role the press played in all this," he said. "There was no reason for them to do what they did."

Panel, Secord clash during questioning

Arthur Liman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Richard Secord clashed with questioners on the Iran panel Thursday over whether he set up a private aid network for the Contras for personal gain, but the retired Air Force general said he was motivated only by patriotism.

Secord spent much of his third day before the congressional committees fending off tough, detailed questions, but also revealed substantial information about the U.S. arms sales to Iran, efforts to free American hostages in Lebanon and his extra-government network that ferried arms to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

For all three days, particularly during Thursday's intense interrogations by chief Senate counsel Arthur Liman, Secord repeatedly insisted that he helped direct both the Iran arms sales and the Contra network because they were in the nation's interest.

HE SAID THE arms sales could have established a new relationship with Tehran's radical Islamic government and that the aid helped sustain the rebels in their civil war against Managua's Marxist-led Sandinista government.

Despite Secord's argument that all his actions were legal, panel member Sen. Howell Heflin, D-Ala., said conflicts in his testimony "now is of such that a jury will have to finally determine whether or not he's telling the truth and which story to believe. I think that his testimony, in effect today, means that he will be indicted."

Thursday, Secord also:

- Said North once joked that if the affair was revealed, he would be pardoned.
- Denied he tried to sell the CIA his Contra airlift operation for $4 million.
- Acknowledged he directed his secretary to shred company documents.
- Said he aspired to becoming the CIA's chief of covert operations.

With rapid-fire questions that by turns frustrated and enraged Secord, Liman attempted to show that Secord and his business partner, Iranian-born Albert Hakim, also had a profit motive — the $8 million raised from the arms sales to Iran now frozen in a secret Swiss bank account in Secord's control. Secord vehemently denied that he made any money off the deals and said the $8 million will go for outstanding expenses, which he did not define.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, asked Secord why he undertook such missions.

"IT BASICALLY SPRANG from my belief that this is truly a strategic battle that is going on not far south from our border," Secord said. "I was taught when I was a young cadet one lesson that I believe in strongly — that's (to) always fight as far forward as possible."

"I like to fight there, not here. I believe the situation in the Caribbean basin ... is wonderful for communist insurrection and the spread of the Soviet threat. If we allow the Soviets to establish a firm hold on Nicaragua, then Katie, bar the door. I have a young son — I would not like to see him sent down to seize Managua."

The retired Air Force officer also discussed his collaboration with Lt. Col. Oliver North, the National Security Council's mastermind of the initiatives.

At the 5:49 p.m. close of the hearing, Secord was visibly drained from Liman's questioning and later probing by members of the committees. He is to return this morning and national security adviser Robert McFarlane is scheduled to be the next witness.

CIA demonstrators cleared of UI trespassing charges

By Anne Halloran
Staff Writer

Applause erupted in the Iowa City Civic Center courtroom Thursday night after a jury announced 23 CIA protesters were cleared of trespassing charges.

All 23 were arrested Feb. 28 on charges of criminal trespassing at Jessup Hall while protesting CIA recruitment on the UI campus.

"The best part about it is we know we're not guilty of a crime. We know who the real culprits are," John Stonebarger, one of the defendants, said following the trial which began at 1:30 p.m. and ended nine hours later.

All of the protesters were represented by four defendants — William Douglas, Suzanne Chouteau, Keith E. Hutchinson and Katherine Bonson.

THE PROSECUTING attorney,

Maggie Berg of the Johnson County Attorney's Office, claimed the defendants obstructed work at the UI Vice President for Student Affairs Office in Jessup Hall Room 111.

"They were on the property, they were asked to leave, they didn't leave and they didn't have justification to stay," Berg said.

UI Vice President for Finance and University Services Dorsey Ellis, who testified on behalf of the prosecution claimed although the demonstrators had the right to protest, they obstructed the work of UI employees in the student affairs office.

"They were interfering and obstructing with the ability of the university to go about its business," Ellis said.

But Chouteau claimed she and the others were justified in not leaving the office because they were attempting to help formulate UI's policy on CIA recruitment on the UI campus.

"STUDENTS HAVE A right to participate in formulation in policy," Chouteau said.

Hutchinson added, "We weren't hindering anyone from what they were supposed to be doing, we were not in people's way." He said the protesters' actions were justified by First Amendment rights, which include freedom of speech and right to petition government officials.

Lawmakers strike groundwater deal

DES MOINES (UPI) — The state would fund a five-year groundwater protection program with $17 million in oil overcharge funds on top of additional taxes and fees on pollutants, under a tentative agreement lawmakers reached late Thursday.

House Speaker Don Avenson, D-Oelwein, said the House will debate the groundwater package early today.

"It will make a very, very good water quality bill. It will put us on the leading edge of the country in water quality," he said.

The plan to spend $7.5 million next year, including $5.5 million in federal oil overcharge money, was scheduled to be considered by a 10-member conference committee at 7:30 a.m. today.

It includes a 12-fold increase in the state's current 0.25-cent per ton landfill fee by 1993 and about a $1 million annual allocation for an Iowa State University Leopold Center to develop alternative farming procedures with less emphasis on chemicals.

Lawmakers had planned to pass the groundwater bill Thursday night and adjourn tonight, but Avenson said he expected to end up working through Saturday to complete Democrats' priorities, including an income tax reform bill.

"We took one step forward and three steps backwards," Avenson said when the House adjourned shortly after 9 p.m. Thursday.

"We didn't get far on taxes, but I think we're okay on groundwater. We've worked out water quality," he said.

The compromise on the Groundwater Protection Act would phase in through 1993 the revenue-raising proposals backed by the House, including fees on pesticides and fertilizers.

Authority lauds UI for Pacific Center

By Scott Hauser
Staff Writer

Saying the nations of the Asian and Pacific basin must integrate their efforts to remain economically strong, a former South Korean deputy prime minister Wednesday lauded UI plans for a center for Asian and Pacific studies.

"It gave me a great revelation that middle America — which is exemplified by Iowa — is consciously opening its window to the rest of the world — particularly my part of it," Hahn Been Lee, a leading authority on international education, said.

Speaking at an Iowa City Rotary Club luncheon, Lee outlined the future of the region and said a preoccupation with Japan is understandable, but will be tempered in the next century.

"From both sides of the Pacific we have to find a new way of living, a new way of coping with this economic monster known as Japan," he said.

HE SAID JAPAN is much like Germany was earlier in this century before Germany's economy was integrated into that of the European Common Market.

Both the United States and Japan feel left out of the Common Market, Lee said, but they can be brought together into closer cooperation if they work together.

Although he said he doesn't see the nations of the Pacific joining a common market — like the one in Europe — he said Japan and its $2 trillion economy must be brought into the economy of the region. He said the United States continues to be the most important nation in the region — which he outlined as the nations ringing the Pacific Ocean from Alaska to Australia and New Zealand.

"It is this very important, dynamic stretch of nations — from your Aleutian Islands to Japan and Korea and down to Australia and New Zealand — which is the direct reason for our shared conscious interest in the Pacific rim, or Pacific basin," he said.

LEE, WHO SERVED 14 years in the Korean government as budget director, vice minister of finance and ambassador to Switzerland with concurrent assignments for Austria, the Common Market and the Vatican, has been visiting the UI and the Iowa City/Cedar Rapids business communities this week.

He met with UI President James O. Freedman Monday and has had a series of meetings with UI representatives of the UI colleges of Engineering, Education, Business Administration and Medicine and has consulted with UI faculty about the new UI Center for Asian and Pacific Studies.

In announcing the center last spring, Freedman described the it as an "umbrella" under which many UI departments would coordinate their efforts to understand the people, cultures, economies, governments and languages of the region.

Lee said by the early part of the 21st century, the 12-nation region would have a population of 0.5 billion people.

$500,000 truck will update fire fleet

By Brian Olesen
Staff Writer

Iowa City firefighters will be able to reach new heights thanks to a new state-of-the-art fire truck that will cost Iowa City nearly $500,000.

The fire department is looking for a fire truck to help protect the increased number of multi-story structures in Iowa City. Presently, ladder service is limited to three-story buildings, according to Iowa City Fire Chief Larry Donner.

"It will be the only aerial ladder truck in Johnson County," Iowa City Fire Marshal Larry Kinney said. "With the mutual aid agreement, the whole community will benefit."

"It's smooth as silk — a fantastic piece of equipment," Kinney said after riding on a 95-foot aerial platform on a prospective Iowa City fire truck.

Kinney said the new truck will help to modernize the Iowa City Fire Department's fire truck force.

THE IOWA CITY Council approved $450,000 last March for the funding of a new fire truck for the city. The fire department is currently accepting bids from at least four distributors.

Fire officials are looking at fire trucks equipped with a remote-controlled aerial platform that can extend to about 100 feet high.

The aerial platform will have at least two capabilities — rescue and firefighting.

In addition, oxygen and water can be directly pumped to the platform to aid in fighting fires, while as many as eight people can fit in the basket as a rescue device.

After the distributors submit their bids fire department officials will confer and select a truck.

"THE NEW TRUCK will be selected first according to our own specification and secondly, price," Kinney said. "Price will definitely have a bearing on the decision."

After a selection is made it usually takes the distributor 12 to 18 months to deliver the product, Kinney said.

The 1971 model, 100-foot ladder truck currently active will be replaced in the active force and moved into reserve.

The Iowa City Fire Department does not currently have an extension ladder truck in reserve since the 1948 model fire truck will not pass service standards, Kinney said.

The last truck the fire department purchased was a "pumper" in 1983 for $113,000, Kinney said.

So far two distributors have stopped in Iowa City showing off their equipment to try to sell their product.

"There seems to be very little difference between them," Kinney said.

Kemp's son set for talk here Saturday

Jeff Kemp, son of Republican presidential candidate Jack Kemp and quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers, will be a guest Saturday, May 9 at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house.

Kemp will speak about his father at the house, located at 303 Ellis Ave., during a continental breakfast which is open to the public, from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

During a two-day trip, Kemp will be visiting Iowa on his father's behalf.

Kemp received his undergraduate degree from Dartmouth College and earned a master's degree of business administration with honors from Pepperdine Business College. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Pro-athletes Outreach and is active with the Olive Crest treatment Centers for abused children.

Those interested in attending the breakfast should contact Duane Marty, a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

College Republicans slate DuPont talk

The UI College Republicans will be sponsoring a Friday Afternoon Club today that will feature an appearance by Republican presidential hopeful Pete DuPont.

The former governor of Delaware will be at Dooley's from 4 to 5 p.m.

The reception, the first of a series of presidential candidate meetings to be sponsored by UI College Republicans, will provide students with the opportunity to informally discuss issues that concern them with the candidate, Don Feeney, of the College Republicans, said.

Any questions should be directed to Feeney at 354-9613.

Summer job search has hitch this year

Two recent federal laws requiring job applicants to have verifiable identification may make college and high school students' summer job searches more difficult.

One law requires all job applicants to have a social security number in order to simplify income reporting for tax purposes. Social security card applications can be obtained at many post offices, but getting a card may take several weeks.

The second regulation, part of the Immigration and Control Act of 1986, requires employers to check applicants' identification and verify their employability. The act was created as a safeguard against illegal aliens entering the U.S. job market at unfairly low wages.

Steve Johnson, Human Resources Manager for Pioneer Hi-Bred International Inc., said the laws may effect job applicants under the age of 16.

"We know that drivers licenses are acceptable identification for this rule. However, we don't know for sure about driving permits," Johnson said. "Some of the details and proper forms still haven't been provided."

UI gets grant to hold rhetoric discussions

The UI Project on Rhetoric of Inquiry was awarded a $6,000 grant this week by the Exxon Education Foundation aimed at financing teachers' workshop planning discussions in May and June.

The sessions are planned to bring together faculty members from the UI and other nearby colleges with master teachers to discuss the rhetoric of inquiry — academic conversation in which scholars from within a discipline use language and conversation to persuade one another — and its implications for undergraduate education.

Museum renovation set for this summer

The UI Museum of Art will close for renovation May 31 and will not reopen until Aug. 1, Museum officials said.

"We have been working since 1982 on projects to update the building and better care for the museum's growing collection," Museum Installation Coordinator David Dennis said.

Summer plans call for new carpeting on the walls of many of the galleries in the building. According to Dennis, this is the first time the walls have been redone since the museum opened in 1969.

The walls will be lighter in color and cleaner looking. "The museum was designed for the 1960s, for a different philosophy," Dennis said. "Today's museums have light walls to make background for art works and to give the galleries a more pristine feeling."

FBI pursues Arlington Heights official

CHICAGO — The FBI issued an arrest warrant Thursday for Arlington Heights Village Treasurer Lee L. Poder charging he used village funds to earn $68,000 in interest he kept for himself.

A nationwide alert issued over the FBI's National Crime Information Service described Poder as "armed, dangerous and suicidal."

He disappeared Monday after being questioned by the FBI. Poder's wife told police he may have taken a .22 caliber handgun with him when he left.

Poder, 42, is thought to have used $20 million from the Arlington Heights Fire Department pension fund to buy and sell bonds, earning $68,750 in profits in a single day, said FBI spokesman Bob Long.

Poder allegedly transferred the profits to his personal account on April 22.

Ch elections favor Conservatives

LONDON — Britons chose local officials in nationwide elections Thursday, and early projections by the British Broadcasting Corp. showed continued support for Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's Conservative Party.

Thatcher is considering calling Parliamentary elections a year before her current five-year term ends, and the BBC said early today that if a vote is held soon, Thatcher would win a third term with a strong plurality in the popular vote. Most analysts predict such elections will take place June 11.

The prime minister scheduled what British newspapers called an "election summit" with top aides for Sunday to review the results of Thursday's local government elections and decide on the timing of the next national elections.

French court postpones Duvalier case

GRASSE, France — A French court Thursday postponed a decision on whether to hear a lawsuit by the government of Haiti to recover $120 million it says was plundered by former dictator Jean-Claude Duvalier.

Attorneys for the government of Haiti urged Judge Bernard Aubry to "write a new and noble page" in legal history by agreeing to hear the lawsuit, saying it would bring some compensation to "6 million Haitians made hungry by the dictatorship."

But a defense attorney argued a French court is not competent to judge acts committed by the chief of state of a foreign country and said the lawsuit is a political maneuver backed by the U.S. government to curry favor with the new Haitian government.

Aubry, after an eight-hour procedural hearing, said he would take the question under deliberation and adjourned the case until June 23.

Abuse suspected at day care center

PALOS HILLS, Ill. — Several children between the ages of 3 and 5 have told police they were sexually abused at a suburban day care center but authorities said no decision has been made on whether to prosecute.

The investigation centers on the Mother Goose Pre-School, in southwest suburban Palos Hills, where police said Wednesday the number of children thought to have been abused is under 10.

"At this point, anyone and anything involved with that particular school is under scrutiny," said Police Commander Don Cardamone. "Hopefully, we could have it wrapped up by this weekend but that's not to say it couldn't go longer."

Investigators have been told that some children in the school may have had their pictures taken while nude, said Dave Schneidman, spokesman for the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

U.S. group will help in pollution woes

WASHINGTON — Pollution problems caused by extremely rapid industrialization have persuaded an American foundation to send troubleshooters to Asian and Pacific nations, it was announced Thursday.

The World Environment Center, a non-profit group funded by U.S. companies and the U.S. Agency for International Development, said it would now be extending help to the Far East as well as the Near East.

Stephen Lintner, environmental coordinator for the development agency, said the program had been extended because of "extremely rapid industrialization in Southeast Asia." Lintner said he expected the group to make a significant number of pollution housecalls to Asia next year.

9-term congressman dies from AIDS virus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Stewart B. McKinney, R-Conn., died Thursday of AIDS contracted from a tainted blood transfusion, the first congressional member to succumb to the fatal disease. He was 56.

Doctors said McKinney, the dean of the state's House delegation, spent the last two weeks in a Washington hospital with what aides described as a severe respiratory infection. McKinney apparently contracted AIDS from blood transfusions he received during heart surgery in 1979.

Cesar Caceres, McKinney's personal physician, said the nine-term congressman tested positive for the AIDS virus 18 months ago, but was not diagnosed as having developed AIDS until after he entered Washington Hospital Center April 22.

CACERES SAID McKinney technically died of "pneumocystis pneumonia, a bacterial infection brought on by AIDS."

"The congressman said that he wanted the cause of his death known after he passed away, in hopes that this information might help others to deal with what is becoming a national crisis," Caceres said.

Vice President George Bush praised McKinney as "one of the most dedicated, diligent and compassionate congressmen to have served in Washington."

McKinney's death was announced in the House by Rep. Sam Gejdenson, D-Conn., who was then joined by other members who rose to praise McKinney's record in Congress and the state Legislature.

Flags on Capitol Hill were lowered to half-staff after the announcement.

House Speaker Jim Wright said McKinney was "in every sense a dedicated, earnest, committed American. ... He was not partisan in his nature. He was not harsh in his attitude toward anyone. He was deeply devoted to his country."

Wright mentioned "the debilitating disease that afflicted him, wasted his energies and his strength away these last months."

About 35,000 cases of AIDS have been diagnosed in the United States, 20,000 of which have resulted in death.

2 men indicted for plot to kill Ortega

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Two self-described soldiers of fortune plotted to mount a commando mission to kill Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega, telling recruits that a wealthy businessman agreed to provide $5 million in backing, according to a federal indictment unsealed Thursday.

The Justice Department said the men sought advice from Rep. Philip Crane, R-Ill., that Crane "cooperated completely with the FBI's investigation" and that he was not aware of the purpose of their planned trip to Nicaragua, officials said.

The indictment charged Donnell Howard, 35, and John Norris, 30, with conspiring from December through January "to plan the murder of Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega," who was to be slain during a secret commando mission.

U.S. ATTORNEY Layn Phillips said he could not comment on who hired or organized the two men and said their motive apparently was "that they both felt it would be a patriotic act."

Norris surrendered and appeared in U.S. District Court in Oklahoma City Thursday afternoon.

"Judge, I'm not guilty," Norris told the federal magistrate. "No one wants to get this out in the open more than I do."

A further hearing was tentatively set for Tuesday.

Howard was arrested by FBI agents at a relative's home in Oakland, Calif., Thursday. He agreed to waive an extradition hearing during a brief appearance before U.S. Magistrate F. Steele Langford and was expected to be taken to Oklahoma today.

In Washington, Crane told United Press International that Norris had called claiming to represent a peace group that wanted to provide humanitarian assistance to the Nicaragua Contras.

"THE KID SOUNDED a little unstable to me," the congressman said. "He wasn't all that coherent and logical, tended to be rambling. I didn't treat it seriously, sounded to me like a kid that was fantasizing, and his threat against Ortega may very well have been also."

Howard and Norris are charged with conspiracy to murder and attempting to kill a foreign official. Howard also was charged with perjury for allegedly lying to a grand jury about what he told recruits of the mission's financial backing.

The indictment said that "on or about Dec. 19, 1986, Donnell Howard telephoned a person ... to solicit his assistance in the murder of Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega and to inform the person that he had a financial backer willing to pay $5 million for such a murder."

FBI spokesman Dan Vogel said the agency was still investigating the claim.

Senate proposes to 'tear up credit cards'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional leaders, renewing an invitation to President Ronald Reagan to join in talks on a compromise $1 trillion budget, said Thursday they are ready to negotiate a plan "tearing up the administration's credit cards."

The Senate voted 56-42 in favor of its version of the fiscal 1988 budget plan Thursday morning just after midnight and prepared to send its representatives to meet with members of the House next week to iron out differences between their separate spending proposals.

The House approved its version last month.

Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia said Senate passage of the fiscal 1988 budget proposal shows lawmakers are "prepared to make the tough choices needed to produce a balanced budget."

HE RENEWED PAST requests that Reagan participate in the effort.

"The president has said that when the Democrats in Congress produce a budget, he'll be ready to talk. We've produced a budget," Byrd said. "It gets us away from the credit card mentality. ... We're tearing up the administration's credit cards."

Republican leader Robert Dole of Kansas agreed that it "may be the time for the administration to become involved in the process."

The White House had no direct comments on the prospect of budget negotiations with Congress.

But Reagan, in a Rose Garden ceremony for editorial cartoonists, suggest they draw cartoons about "this monkey business on the Hill — how the government is going to take money from you."

BUDGET DIRECTOR James Miller noted that Reagan "has said repeatedly he can't take a tax increase" and that the president opposes a Senate proposal that he says is "holding defense hostage" by linking higher military spending to presidential approval of a tax increase.

The Senate measure calls for Pentagon spending authority to increase to $302 billion in fiscal 1988, which begins Oct. 1, to allow the military budget to keep pace with inflation.

In return, Reagan would be asked to accept a "pay-as-you-go" plan to raise $18.5 billion in new revenues and taxes, along with $7.2 billion through the refinancing of Rural Electrification Administration loans.

If he rejects tax proposals, the plan would set Pentagon spending authority at $290 billion. Reagan has asked for a military budget of $312 billion.

Despite Secord testimony, Reagan denies involvement

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Ronald Reagan on Thursday again adamantly denied knowledge of any government involvement in the diversion of profits to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels from the covert sale of arms to Iran.

Reagan repeatedly has been hit with the question since congressional hearings into the scandal began, and the issue came up again when Maj. Gen. Oliver North testified that he had told Reagan of the diversion of funds.

"I did not know that there was any excess money until that day — the day that (Attorney General) Ed Meese came in and said he had found a memo that indicated there was additional money," Reagan said.

"I did not know about it," he added, "and I'm still waiting to know: Where did that money go?"

QUESTIONED BY reporters during a Rose Garden ceremony for editorial cartoonists, Reagan said Secord was "misinformed" if told by North that the president knew of the funneling of funds to the Contras during a period when Congress had cut off aid.

Asked about Secord's involvement in private efforts to aid the Contras — apart from the Iran arms angle — Reagan acknowledged knowing that "Mr. Secord, as a private citizen, was engaged with other private citizens in trying to get aid to the Contras and so forth."

"There's nothing against the law in that," he said, "and I'm very pleased that American people felt that way."

Reagan also was asked if he knew that the money raised went for weapons for the Contras, but was saved from answering the question by Louis "Doc" Goodwin, cartoonist for the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch who made a motion to adjourn.

"A MOTION TO adjourn is always in order," Reagan said with a big smile.

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater told reporters that Reagan would attend the funeral of the former CIA director William Casey on Saturday on Long Island, N.Y.

Fitzwater said he did not know whether Reagan would make a donation to the Contras, in lieu of flowers, as requested by the Casey family.

Secord testified Wednesday that "on a number of occasions" and "in an off-hand and I think humorous vein" that North indicated Reagan was aware of his activities.

"WHETHER HE HAD actually said that to the president or whether he was joking with me, I'm not sure," Secord said. "It was not said to me in a way that I took it as a joke."

Fitzwater said that he discussed Secord's testimony with Reagan. "The president was not aware of the diversion of funds. He doesn't know what he (Secord) is talking about. He was not told by Ollie North or anyone else. Most of the activities are being divulged for the first time."

"He's (Reagan) interested in finding out the details... how this operation was put together," Fitzwater said.

He acknowledged that Reagan did call North on the day that he fired the deputy national security aide to thank him for his service. Secord reported that he was in the room at the time of the telephone call.

Botha vows to clamp down on South African opposition

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — President Pieter Botha, strengthened by an election win that extended his ruling party's monopoly on political power, warned Thursday he will clamp down on opposition outside Parliament.

"The country must know that I am determined to (take) a very strong stand on extra-parliamentary actions," Botha said in his first comment on the results of Wednesday's whites-only election.

His response underlined warnings by black leaders that the election results, which showed a strong swing to the right, sharply reduced the chances for reform and the abolition of apartheid.

THE NATIONAL PARTY, in power since 1948, trampled anti-apartheid opponents on the left and suffered some losses on the right in what analysts said was a clear mandate for continued apartheid.

"I wish to issue a warning," Botha said in an interview on state-run television. "There is a tendency in South Africa to organize extra-parliamentary organizations to bring about change and there is a tendency to finance those organizations from sources not originally South African.

"I must warn against this. The government cannot allow it. The outside world must now have a clear picture that they cannot dictate to South Africa. South Africa wants to solve its own problems and South Africans believe in moderate reform.

"Any reform, any change, must be brought about by parliamentary means and by negotiations with other leaders in South Africa who reject violence," Botha said.

BOTHA DID NOT name any opposition group, but his warning appeared to be directed at groups such as the United Democratic Front, the Congress of South African Trade Unions and civil rights movements opposed to detention without trial.

Referring to gains posted by the ultra-rightist Conservative Party, which opposes any concession to black demands for equality, a Cape Town-based political analyst said, "The chips are down now."

The Conservative Party was formed in 1982 by 16 breakaway nationalists who opposed Botha's program of limited race-law reforms and power-sharing based on racial segregation.

Conservative leader Andries Treurnicht was re-elected on a rightist ticket in a 1983 by-election and another renegade won election as a conservative in 1984. The rest of the Conservatives' 17 seats were held by men elected as National Party members.

WITH ONE RESULT outstanding, the Conservatives held 21 seats Thursday, making it the dominant opposition party in the white Parliament.

"We have entered the dark ages of the history of our country," said Archbishop Desmond Tutu, leader of South Africa's blacks and a chief critic of the government.

"I see an escalation of the kind of oppression and intolerance the government has shown up to now," he said.

South Africa's 25 million blacks have no vote. Botha promised during the campaign to give some of them an unspecified say in government, but insisted racial segregation would remain the basis of his policy.

Hawkeyes hope for decent conference finish

By Eric J. Hess
Assistant Sports Editor

The ninth-seeded Iowa men's tennis team goes into the 78th Big Ten Championships at Minnesota this weekend working for an upper-division finish.

Sixth-year Iowa Coach Steve Houghton's team will meet eighth-seeded Northwestern in the preliminary round. The Hawkeyes lost to the Wildcats earlier this season, 6-3.

Men's Tennis

"I thought it was one of our worst matches of the year," Houghton said of the match with Northwestern.

Houghton said the Hawkeyes have a realistic chance for a fifth-place finish. Between the

No. 3 and No. 10 team in the conference, according to Houghton, there's isn't a whole lot of difference.

If Iowa wins in the first round, it will meet top-seeded Michigan which defeated the Hawkeyes earlier this week, 8-0. A loss for the Hawkeyes would send them into the loser's bracket to face the loser of the match between third-seeded Indiana and sixth-seeded Ohio State.

IOWA, 13-12 OVERALL and 1-8 in the Big Ten, had their lone conference victory come against Michigan State, 6-3.

The Hawkeyes, led by Martin Aguirre at No. 1 and Rudy Foo at the No. 2 position, go into the tournament hoping to improve on last season's ninth-place finish.

Also set to play singles for the Hawkeyes are Dave Novak, Bryan Stokstad, Jim Burkeholder and Jay Maltby. Houghton will match Novak and Stokstad, Foo and Maltby, and Aguirre and Burkeholder for the three doubles teams.

Michigan, which won the Big Ten regular season with a perfect 9-0 mark, looks to regain the conference title it held after the 1985 season. The Wolverines will wait for the winner of Northwestern and Iowa. Second-seeded Minnesota will wait for the winner of the Wisconsin and Michigan State match-up. No. 4 Illinois and No. 5 Purdue also meet in first round action.

Stokstad, who was the only Hawkeye to win a set against the Wolverines earlier this week, comes into the championships as the No. 4 player. He tied Maltby for the most wins overall this season and was the lone tennis player to have a winning record in the Big Ten regular season.

Hawks seek home wins, league title

By Steve Williams

The Iowa Hawkeye baseball team has suffered through one of the toughest weeks of the season, losing three of four games to intrastate rivals Northern Iowa and Iowa State.

But when Coach Duane Banks looks back on this season, there is only one series he will remember — the last four games against Minnesota.

Despite their 27-23 overall record, the Hawkeyes still have a chance at the Big Ten Western Division title, sitting one game behind the Gophers heading into this weekend's match-up.

And at 8-4 in the conference, Iowa must take three games to overcome the 32-19 and 9-3 Gophers.

Luis Ramirez

Baseball

"WE'VE GOT A chance to do something we haven't done in years," Banks said. "And I'm not surprised at all that our team was looking ahead this week. The Big Ten is what it's all about for us."

The last time the Hawkeyes won any part of the Big Ten title was when they tied with the Gophers in 1974 back when the league was unified. Since the separation in 1981, Iowa has done no better than second. Next year, the league will go back to a full round-robin schedule in an attempt to put more league teams in the NCAA tournament at the end of the year.

Leading the Hawkeyes and the Big Ten into its final weekend is Luis Ramirez, a junior from Puerto Rico. At 417, Ramirez' average exemplifies Iowa's new image, with new players and a new attitude.

"WE'RE WAY AHEAD of anything we anticipated at the beginning of the year," Banks said. "This team has played well in the big games and the players really know what it's all about."

"Our main goal is to get to the playoffs but to win the West would be even better since we would get to play the second place team in the East in the first round," left fielder Bill Heinz said. "But no matter what happens this year, we've really had a great team effort and I'm glad to be coming back for another season."

If his production next year is anything like this year's, Heinz will have plenty to be happy about in the future. Iowa's veteran left fielder currently leads the team in a number of categories, including hits (61), total bases (109), doubles (16), home runs (10), RBIs (49), and is second in runs scored (43) and slugging percentage (.592).

BUT WHILE THE Hawkeyes have never been at a loss for offensive power, their new strength, pitching, may be the key this weekend against an equally powerful Minnesota line-up.

The Hawkeyes will go with freshmen Allen Rath and Cal Eldred, along with juniors Mark Boland and Mark Denking.

"Minnesota is a very good ball club and we'll have to play well to beat them," Banks said. "They're not as young as we are but our team has a lot of heart and I know we'll be ready."

Going into the final week of the Big Ten season, the Hawkeyes and Gophers stand as two of the top teams in the conference from the mound and the plate.

At 298, Iowa is second in team average, followed by Minnesota at 286. Meanwhile, the Gophers are second in overall pitching with an ERA of 2.47, followed by the Hawkeyes at 3.84.

Ongais suffers serious injury in Indy crash

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Driver Danny Ongais was hospitalized with a concussion Thursday after a crash at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway during practice for the Memorial Day weekend classic.

Ongais, who has started the past 10 Indianapolis 500 races, slammed into the fourth turn wall, his car disintegrating as it skidded.

The driver was in fair condition at Methodist Hospital with a concussion. Hospital officials said Ongais was awake and his vital signs were good.

Driving a Chevrolet-powered Penske chassis, Ongais struck the concrete wall as he exited the fourth turn. The car slid across the top of the wall for 80 feet, then skidded 480 feet across the pit row entrance.

Ongais' crash took some of the limelight from Mario Andretti, who drove the fastest lap ever recorded at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday, reaching 218.234 mph and solidifying his status as the favorite to take the pole position for the 71st Indianapolis 500.

Andretti's practice lap broke the mark of 218.204 mph he set Tuesday in his Lola chassis powered by a Chevrolet engine. Andretti, the 1969 Indy winner, sped around the 2½ mile oval Thursday in just more than 41.2 seconds.

Andretti, who earned the pole position at the only two Indy car races earlier this season, said he must go faster to capture the pole when qualifying begins Saturday for the May 24 race.

"Where we are, and a little bit more, I think will get it," he said.

Oilers skate by fiesty Detroit

EDMONTON, Alberta (UPI) — Mark Messier scored two goals, including the 50th of his playoff career, and Jari Kurri added his 60th playoff goal Thursday night to give the Edmonton Oilers a 4-1 triumph over the Detroit Red Wings and tie the Campbell Conference final at one game apiece.

Messier scored just 52 seconds into the game, and Kurri notched a short-handed effort at 17:28 of the first to give the Oilers a 2-0 lead. Bob Probert scored Detroit's lone goal at 15:27 of the second and Jaroslav Pouzar capped the scoring with an empty-net goal in the final half-minute.

After two fights in the first 35 seconds of play, Messier came onto the ice for his first shift and beat the carefully constructed defensive plan that defeated Edmonton 3-1 in the first game of the series.

TAKING A PASS FROM Paul Coffey at his own blue line, Messier rushed up center ice, passed three Detroit defenders and scored just 52 seconds into the game. Messier connected on a rising shot that caught goalie Greg Stefan off-guard. During the next two minutes, Messier and line-mates Glenn Anderson and Kent Nilsson narrowly missed on three more opportunities.

Wayne Gretzky then set up Kurri's goal. With Edmonton's Dave Hunter in the penalty box, Gretzky picked up a rebound at his own blue line and skated up the center of the ice unimpeded. Gretzky faked a shot and then passed across the goalmouth to Kurri, who easily beat Stefan with a low shot for his 10th goal of this year's playoffs.

With Edmonton enforcer Marty McSorley in the penalty box for instigating a fight with Joe Kocur, Probert poked the puck into the net off a rebound of a Steve Yzerman shot to narrow the margin to 2-1.

Messier scored his eighth goal of this year's playoffs at 18:38 of the third period to give the Oilers a 3-1 advantage. Messier brought the puck in from center ice and fired a high shot past Stefan's stick side.

Iowa faces stiff challenge in Big Ten tourney

By Eric J. Hess
Assistant Sports Editor

The Iowa Hawkeyes face their stiffest challenge of the season when a Big Ten match opens today at the Big Ten Championships at Michigan State.

Iowa Coach Diane Thomason and her crew will battle Forest Akers Golf Course in East Lansing, Mich., in hopes of finishing the 1987 spring season in strong fashion.

The Hawkeyes will be looking for their fifth straight upper division finish. One may not be likely for the Hawkeyes this season with a team made up of inexperienced freshman and sophomores.

The Hawkeyes will send six players to the conference championships — sophomores Amy Butzer and Jeannine Gibson, and freshmen Kelley Brooke, Justean Harsh, Kris Heatherly and Sarah Ward.

INDIANA, OHIO STATE and

Minnesota appear to be the favorites going into the tournament. Host Michigan State, led by Lisa Marino, will try to use home course advantage to stage a strong push for the title.

Indiana, the defending Big Ten team champions, will send four golfers averaging less than 80 strokes per round into the tourney.

Senior Sarah DeKraay leads the Hoosiers with a 75.8 average. DeKraay, the defending Big Ten champion, is followed by senior Michele Redman (76.1), junior Tracy Chapman (76.7) and senior Mary Fechtig (77.5).

Indiana Coach Sam Carmichael wasn't ready to claim his second straight title, but he said his team is ready to go out and win.

"I think anybody can win it," Carmichael said. "I would consider anybody a favorite."

OHIO STATE INTERIM golf Coach Jana Edwards said her club is good enough to regain what was a three-year streak of winning the conference title before Indiana took it away last season.

"We're potentially good enough to win, but we haven't been playing well," Edwards said.

Edwards will field three sophomores and a junior in hopes of regaining the Big Ten crown. Jane Kang, a junior averaging 77.1 strokes per round, leads the Buckeyes. She is followed by sophomores Debbie Silverberg (78.5), Suzy Green (79.4) and Cathy Bothe (80.5).

Edwards said the team has had two weeks off since hosting the Lady Buckeye Invitational.

But while Ohio State and Indiana look for the Big Ten title, Minnesota Coach Anne Zahn stands in the background hoping for a strong finish or even a run at the title.

Zahn, who is in her last season as the Gopher coach, fields a strong team which recently won the Hawkeye Invitational at Finkbine Golf Course.

Minnesota is led by Mary Kuhlmann, Dee Forsberg, Kate Hughes and Ann Meyer.

"They want to win for her," Edwards said of Minnesota's Zahn. "They're going to be tough to beat."

Hawks seek league tune-up

By Dan Millea
Staff Writer

The Iowa men's track team will get another tune-up for the upcoming Big Ten Championships Sunday, when four conference teams visit Iowa City.

Illinois, Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue will get a chance to compete on the Iowa track this weekend, the site of this spring's outdoor championships May 22-23.

While the meet looks like a semi-preview of the upcoming Big Ten meet, at least for the Hawkeyes this outing will not reflect the likely outcome of the league championships.

SEVERAL HAWKEYES ARE

still nursing injuries, and two more — football players Quinn Early and Robert Smith — will not be ready to compete until May 22, which limits the number of events entered and points scored for Coach Ted Wheeler's team.

Wheeler has his own ideas of how his team will do in Big Tens, and said because many key Hawkeyes will not be competing Sunday, the meet will not accurately reflect Iowa's chances in the league championships.

"Even before this meet I can tell what our chances are in the conference meet, because I know the personnel we'll have for that meet," Wheeler said.

Unlike the Hawkeyes, the Illini may provide an accurate preview, Sunday, of things to come.

"Illinois is by far the best team," Wheeler said of the five squads competing this weekend.

Purdue, which finished third at the National Invitational in Indianapolis last weekend, is also strong and should be the Illini's strongest challenger.

The Hawkeyes finished seventh in the Indianapolis meet, one spot ahead of Northwestern.

Iowa ends year with Huskies

By Scott Wingert
Staff Writer

Five Iowa seniors will make their last regular season appearance in a Hawkeye uniform Saturday when the Iowa softball team closes out its season with a doubleheader at home against Northern Illinois.

Carol Bruggeman, Beth Kirchner, Tracy Langhurst, Michelle Magyar and Jeanette Painovich are closing careers with more "maybes" and "ifs" than they would have liked.

Several one-run, Big Ten defeats were enough for Ginny Parrish to start looking for new answers. Her obvious choices were her seniors in a hope to gain the needed solidity to keep her team in the conference race.

"As always, it is hard to see

them go," Parrish said. "We're losing some good people who, even when things weren't going so well, played hard and played to win."

Bruggeman, from Charter Oak, Iowa, will take at least three new school records with her upon leaving the Hawkeyes. With two games to play, Bruggeman is the new season leader in hits (53), at-bats (173) and runs (29). Kirchner, from Sioux City, Iowa, broke the RBI record with 30 and the doubles mark with 16.

TWO SOPHOMORES, first baseman Cara Coughenour and third baseman Sally Miller, are also in the record book. Coughenour's 386 put-outs are a season-best as are Miller's 155 assists.

Bruggeman has also established career marks in at-bats (583), hits (144) and stolen bases (31). Kirchner's 36 career doubles is also an Iowa record.

Iowa, 27-24-1, is facing Northern Illinois, 22-21, for the second time this season. The Hawkeyes defeated the Huskies, 9-5, early in the season in the Oklahoma Sooner Invitational.

"Northern Illinois is a good team," Parrish said. "We've developed a hot rivalry with them. It should be a fun way to end the year."

"WE RECRUIT in each other's area so I guess there is a little rivalry there," Bruggeman said. "We just want to finish the season strong. It could be our last games."

Iowa, after its roller coaster ride through the Big Ten season, is back on track after two exceptional performances against Northern Iowa Tuesday.

"When we hit that slump a couple of weeks ago, we worked through it and started to play cohesively," Parrish said. "They had me a little worried, but I'm glad they got out of it."

The Hawkeyes are still a long shot possibility for a berth in the NIT Tournament, but the odds are very long.

"We would have to win both games and a whole lot of people would lose a few," Bruggeman said. "It's been a great career here though. It was disappointing to let the Big Ten title slide away, but this team has been a lot of fun to play with."

Twins get back on the winning track

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Kirby Puckett and Gary Gaetti each drove in two runs Thursday to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 5-2 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

Frank Viola, 2-4, scattered six hits over 7½ innings to get the victory. George Frazier relieved in the eighth but Jeff Reardon got the last three outs for his seventh save. It was Viola's first victory since April 8.

"I think today's outing is going to get myself and hopefully the team started in the right direction again," Viola said. "This is the way I have to pitch. I have to challenge. It's a losing cause as far as I'm concerned being a finesse pitcher."

MINNESOTA TOOK A 2-0 lead in the first off loser Mike Flanagan, 0-5. Al Newman led off with a walk and scored on Dan Gladden's double. Gladden moved to third on the throw to the plate and scored on Puckett's ground out.

"I gave up two early and tried to hang on," Flanagan said. "I can't control how many runs we score." Orioles Manager Cal Ripken Sr. also was not overly concerned about Flanagan's losing streak. The Orioles have scored 12 runs in Flanagan's last five starts.

"Mike pitched a good ball game," Ripken said. "We failed to get him out in front and give him runs."

Baltimore cut the margin to 2-1 in the sixth when Cal Ripken Jr. led off with a single, moved to second on Eddie Murray's single, advanced to third on Ray Knight's long fly out and scored on Nelson Simmons' sacrifice fly.

The Twins scored three runs in the seventh to take a 5-1 lead. Newman led off with a double, moved to third on Gladden's single and scored on Puckett's single that kayoed Flanagan. Puckett stole second and Gaetti, who had three hits, followed with a two-run single.

The Orioles scored a run in the ninth when Ripken doubled and came home on Knight's single.

Cardinals beat Padres by a touchdown

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Jack Clark ignited an eight-run fourth inning with his seventh home run of the season Thursday to send the St. Louis Cardinals to a 17-10 rout of the San Diego Padres.

The Cardinals concluded their scoring with three runs in the eighth. Skeeter Barnes, called up from Louisville last week, hit his first home run since 1984, following a walk to Vince Coleman and a single by Rod Booker.

Bob Forsch pitched six and two-thirds innings and improved to 4-3. Andy Hawkins, 0-4, who held the Cardinals hitless until the fourth, was the loser.

Forsch joined in the Cardinals' 17-hit attack with a single and a double. He also scored three runs and drove in one.

Clark started the eight-run surge with a homer to left-center field. Steve Lake added a two-run triple, Forsch doubled in a run, Coleman collected an RBI single, Terry Pendleton slapped a two-run single and Clark hit a run-scoring single to give the Cardinals an 8-0 cushion.

PENDLETON'S TWO-RUN single in the fifth put the Cardinals ahead 10-0. The margin then grew to 14-0 in the seventh.

STUDENT FOOTBALL PRIORITY SALES ENDS FRIDAY, MAY 8

The cost of the tickets are $35.00 per student and $80.00 per student guest ticket. Student season tickets are good for all five home games of the 1987 football season. Student guest tickets are available on a limited basis; all students ordering these tickets may not be accommodated, but will receive a refund for their order at fall pickup. Priority buying was from April 13th thru May 8, and this is the only time that guest tickets may be ordered. Athletic Ticket Office hours are 9 am to 4 pm, Monday through Friday. Students may pick up their tickets beginning September 9. Please read the student ticket policy before placing your order.

STUDENT FOOTBALL POLICY - 1987

1. A student may purchase one season ticket at the student price of $35.00. A guest ticket may be ordered at the public price of $80.00. A limited number of guest tickets will be available; therefore, all students ordering these may not receive them. The guest ticket will not be available after May 8, the deadline for student priority. Office hours are 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.
2. Students will receive priority based on the number of consecutive years they have applied for or purchased football tickets at The University of Iowa. There will be no loss in priority for off-campus programs or a bona fide illness. An individual who misses two or more consecutive seasons for reasons other than the above will lose all priority.
3. In order for a student to receive their priority for football he/she must order sometime during the period of April 13 to May 8, 1987. These orders will be filled according to priority established. Any order placed after May 8 will be filled as if the order had zero priority. Students ordering after the priority period will also accrue a year of buying credit toward their priority purchase of tickets in the following years.
4. Individuals may order season tickets for a group no larger than eight. If all group members cannot be present when the order is placed, the members who are not present must provide either their personal check with current and summer address thereon or cash and their ID number to the person placing the order. One student may not write a personal check in payment for another student's tickets.
5. The lowest priority within a group will determine the location of the entire block of tickets for that group. That is, all students within a group will carry the lowest priority of any member in that group. If certain priorities are denied student or guest tickets, anyone with higher priority requesting seating with this group will also be denied tickets.
6. Student season tickets will continue on sale on a non-priority basis after May 8 and will remain on sale through Friday, September 4 if still available.
7. Each student must pick up their own ticket in the fall. The student must present their own student ID with current registration (Fall 1987) sticker and picture ID at the time of pickup. Student pickup will begin Wednesday, September 9.
8. Students may cancel their football season ticket order and receive a full refund up until the Friday before the first home game. After that date, refunds will be issued only for the portion of the games remaining to be played. No cancellations or refund requests will be honored after the student ticket has been picked up and signed for. All requests for refunds must be made in writing to the Athletic Ticket Office. Please provide your full name, ID number and an address for the mailing of your refund check.
9. A student ticket, to be valid, must be accompanied by a University of Iowa ID with current (Fall 1987) registration sticker and a picture ID. A student ticket may be used by the original purchaser or by any other University of Iowa student, but the original purchaser will be held liable for any violations of the student ticket policy. If a non-student is found using a student's ticket, the student forfeits all future student ticket privileges. The penalty for a violation of the University policy involving the ID and ticket will be the loss of the use of the ticket for two games. DUPLICATE TICKETS CANNOT BE ISSUED FOR LOST OR STOLEN STUDENT TICKETS.
10. Everyone, regardless of age, is required to have a valid ticket for admittance to all University of Iowa football games. This includes infants in arms.

Wittman's shooting concerns Pistons

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons must make the next adjustment in their best-of-seven NBA playoff series with the Atlanta Hawks with the teams tied at 1-1 entering the third game Friday.

Detroit must figure out how to stop Randy Wittman and still maintain their double-teaming of Dominique Wilkins. On the other end, the Pistons must begin taking advantage of the Hawks' doubling up on Isiah Thomas and Adrian Dantley.

The Silverdome may take care of the Wittman problem for Detroit. The big Atlanta guard hit only 46.6 percent of his road shots compared to 54.4 percent at home. Plus Wittman has a bad back that limited his playing time in Game 2, but not his scoring (34 points).

"WE'LL DEFINITELY have to make some adjustments," Detroit Coach Chuck Daly said after Atlanta's 115-102 victory in Game 2.

After Detroit won the first game 112-111, Atlanta stopped trying to force the ball in to Wilkins in Game 2. Instead of going to the high-scoring forward, the Hawks passed until finding the open man — usually Wittman.

"When we pass the basketball, we are a very good team," Atlanta Coach Mike Fratello said. "The guy inside has to recognize the double-team and make the pass out. And sometimes it takes two passes to get it all the way to the weak side."

Atlanta backed off Dantley in the second game and gave him the outside shot. It worked. After missing a couple, Detroit's top scorer quit shooting. The double-teaming of Thomas also helped limit him to two first-half points.

"I don't really expect either team to dominate this series," Thomas said. "We're that close."

The winner plays the winner of the Boston-Milwaukee series for the conference championship.

Panaggio trades Lightning for Thunder in CBA league

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UPI)—Mauro Panaggio moved from Lightning to Thunder Thursday, becoming head coach of the newly formed Quad-City team of the Continental Basketball Association after five months with the Rockford Lightning.

Panaggio, 58, who took over a 4-8 Rockford team in mid-January and piloted the Lightning to the CBA championship series, said he decided to take the Quad-City job after going two months with an uncertain future in Rockford.

"I feel very sad in a sense in that I made a lot of good friends in Rockford and it was a very difficult decision for me to make," said Panaggio, a two-time CBA Coach of the Year. "The thing that swayed me was the fact that I had the feeling that no longer did ownership want me in Rockford for whatever reason."

BY CONTRAST, Panaggio, who will begin his seventh CBA season with his fourth league location, said the ownership of the Quad-City Thunder gave him a feeling that he was wanted at the expansion franchise.

"It would have been unfair for me to keep the people of the Quad Cities hanging while time was given for something that already two months had been allotted," he said.

"I think if you can't make a decision in two months time, that perhaps there's not a real commitment or a real desire," he added. "And that's what I mean when I say I had this feeling creep in that maybe I wasn't 100 percent wanted."

Panaggio, who won CBA crowns with the former Rochester Zeniths in the 1978-79 and 1980-81 seasons, said he was hopeful the newly formed Thunder could claim a league title in its first year of existence.

"WE'RE GOING TO approach this year as one where we're going after all the marbles," he told a news conference. "It will come and hopefully it will be this year, but it certainly is not too far down the road."

Panaggio, who has compiled a 176-86 mark in six CBA seasons, said he plans to bring an upbeat, running style of basketball that will feature pressure defense and a disciplined, team concept.

The ex-Lightning coach said he looks for a good rivalry to develop between the Rockford and Quad-City teams, and he hopes to mold the Thunder with players who are quick, fundamentally sound, coachable and "who won't come in and embarrass the community."

CBS captures the majority of Emmy award nominations

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI) — CBS received more than twice the daytime Emmy nominations of either of its rival networks Thursday in balloting announced by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

"The Oprah Winfrey Show" scored three times as many nominations as its arch rival "Donahue," with awards for best host, best talk show, best makeup, best hairstyling, best directing and best lighting.

CBS captured 78 nominations, 20 of which went to the daytime serial "As the World Turns."

NBC received a total of 37 nominations, followed by ABC with 32 and PBS with 24. Various independent networks that syndicate programs nationally received a total of 21.

Pee Wee Herman

Robertson, was the only religious show nominated. It received one nomination for best special-class program.

In the best game show category, CBS's "The Price is Right," CBS's "$25,000 Pyramid," NBC's "Wheel of Fortune," and the syndicated "Jeopardy!" all received nominations.

THE GAME SHOWS also received nominations for best show, which included Bob Barker of "The Price is Right," Dick Clark of "$25,000 Pyramid," Pat Sajak of "Wheel of Fortune," and Alex Trebek of "Jeopardy!"

Along with "The Oprah Winfrey Show," "Donahue," and "Hour Magazine," which are syndicated, and Public Broadcasting's "This Old House" received nominations in the best talk-service show category.

In addition to Winfrey, Phil Donahue of "Donahue" and Gary Collins of "Hour Magazine" also were nominated for best talk show host.

The CBS soap opera "As the World Turns" received the most nominations for daytime drama, followed by NBC's "Santa Barbara" with 14 and CBS's "The Young & The Restless" with 12.

All three shows received nominations in the outstanding drama series category, which was rounded out by ABC's "All My Children."

NOMINATIONS FOR outstanding lead actress in a drama series included Elizabeth Hubbard, who plays Lucinda Walsh on "As the World Turns;" Susan Lucci, who plays Erica Kane on "All My Children;" Frances Reid as Alice Horton on NBC's "Days of Our Lives;" Marcy Walker, who plays Eden Campbell on "Santa Barbara;" and Kim Zimmer, who plays Reva Shayne on "Guiding Light."

Nominations in the drama series lead actor included Eric Braeden, who plays Victor Newman on "The Young & The Restless;" Scott Bryce, who plays Craig Montgomery on "As the World Turns;" Larry Bryggman, who plays Dr. John Dixon on "As the World Turns;" Terry Lester, who plays Jack Abbott on "The Young & The Restless;" and A. Martinez, who plays Cruz Castillo on "Santa Barbara."

Celebration plans surround Irving Berlin's 99th birthday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Songwriter Irving Berlin, who has outlived the copyright on some of his most popular works, including "Alexander's Ragtime Band," will celebrate his 99th birthday Monday with a family party at his Manhattan townhouse.

Mayor Ed Koch is also giving a party marking Berlin's birthday at Gracie Mansion, even though the reclusive composer-lyricist will not attend. The party will launch a record album by Michael Feinstein, the hottest new cabaret entertainer in the country, titled "Remember: Michael Feinstein Sings Irving Berlin."

BERLIN IS IN "generally good" health for his age, according to his longtime secretary, who asked that her name not be used. She said he still visits the Irving Berlin Music Corporation's midtown office from time to time "to see how the business is going." His vision is too impaired to read, but he is read to.

"He's very astute," she said. "He's on top of everything, his royalties, his theater rentals and all. You'd better believe it. And his sense of humor is as keen as ever. I hope I'm as good at 70 as he is at 99."

Berlin, who wrote more than 1,000 songs that made him a multi-millionaire, began outliving his copyrights last year, 75 years after he wrote "Alexander's Ragtime Band." The copyright law providing protection to authors and composers for 56 years plus and extension of 19 years granted in 1978 is beginning to put his earlier works into the public domain, depriving him of some royalties.

ONE OF HIS three daughters, who also asked not to be identified, said her mother, telegraph heiress Ellin Mackay Berlin, will host a birthday party for the family and a few close friends. Two of the daughters live in New York and one in Paris, and there are nine grandchildren.

Berlin enjoys taking drives and getting out of his car for brief walks on the city streets. Sometimes he visits Manhattan's Lower East Side, where his parents settled when they emigrated from Russia when he was four. He keeps up with an ever-dwindling number of friends on the telephone. One of them, composer Jule Styne, calls Berlin "America's greatest showman."

"SOME PEOPLE SAY George M. Cohan was the greatest showman, but Berlin was really the greatest," said Stein. "He's one of a kind, and we still have him with us."

Berlin began his Broadway career by contributing songs to the Ziegfeld Follies.

'Python' popularity continues

It has been nearly 18 years since "Monty Python's Flying Circus" burst forth upon an unsuspecting public and gave new meaning to off-the-wall humor.

Graham Chapman, John Cleese, Eric Idle, Michael Palin, Terry Jones and Terry Gilliam are well known in this country, largely because their old shows from England are continually being replayed over PBS. All have been quite busy in other ventures in and out of show business and Paramount Home Video is about to release four more episodes of those early days.

Chapman, currently on a U.S. tour, says he is "pleasantly surprised" to find that "a lot more people know me" than before, "a whole new audience... a much wider age group."

Chapman recalled those early times at the staid old British Broadcasting Company. They started out as a late night weekend replacement when just about nobody was watching TV.

"THE BBC DIDN'T like us all that much really," Chapman said in his crisp accent. "They thought we were just another unsuccessful satire group. They put us on at inconvenient hours, late on Sunday night which then was the worst time on British TV.

"Our time was not even the same. They would take us off for a couple of weeks because of show horse jumping or something important like that," he said.

The "Monty Python" crew knew going in that their brand of target humor — nothing too hallowed to haze, often in the "sledgehammer" class — is not for everyone. And well aware that the network might try to defuse their material, Chapman said, they were determined to write their first 13 shows before they went to the studio. However, they need not have been concerned about that.

"THEY DIDN'T give us a lot of loving care," he said. "But, that also meant they didn't read the scripts. So, we were left alone to do our first 13 programs without interference. "Then, they came back and tried to rewrite us. They said, 'You can't say this,' and we would say, 'Yes we can, we did that in program two and there were no complaints,'" he said.

"Monty Python's Flying Circus" began a five-year run on the BBC in October of 1969 with a small cult following growing eventually into today's wide acclaim. Back home, however, the old shows were not seen for 12 years until a revival about a month ago.

Chapman has a new screenplay he hopes to film next year. It deals with a "dangerous sports club" he belongs to, one in which members jump off bridges, catapult into the air and all kinds of "exhilarating" things like that.

It's uncertain whether the Monty Python crew will be in it. Last time they worked together was in the film "The Meaning Of Life" in 1983. But, Chapman is sure there will be new projects for them in the future.

"We stay in touch, see each other when we can," he says. "I am confident we will work together again."

Crime and sex mix in comic 'Ménage'

By George Yatchisin
Staff Writer

MÉNAGE is a light-weight comedy that bows the viewer over thanks to the gusto of its pacing and its short running time (81 minutes). It begins in medias rage, as Monique (Miou-Miou) lays into Antoine (Michel Blanc) for all she's worth in a tacky nightclub. Out of nowhere cruises Bob (Gérard Depardieu), who knocks Monique to the floor and showers her with money. Ménage is not your usual film.

Soon the trio are off committing robberies, for ex-con Bob tells them, "There is money in the gutter; you too tired to bend over?" This double-edged taunt sets the mood for the film. It becomes clear that Bob will steal anything, but what he's most interested in is Antoine with the "spaniel eyes."

DEPARDIEU IS A joy to watch, blustering and bullying his way through the early burglaries — he literally has a nose for crime — and eventually turning tender, too. He's physically so imposing that in bikini briefs he looks like an advertisement for steroids, but cleverly balances this force with affectations just this side of William Hurt in Kiss of the Spider Woman. Of course, Depardieu means it all as a joke, but he's so winning that it's almost easy to see how he finally sways Antoine to his side (amidst a broken-and-shaped house filled with shapely statues).

Ménage tends to be funniest at its rudest, which is no surprise since it's directed by Bertrand Blier. Blier's previous films include Get Out Your Handkerchiefs, in which a man tries everything (including strangers) to please his bored wife, and Beau Pere, in which a 14-year-old girl seduces her stepfather. While many see his films as sophomoric and sensational, at least Ménage makes it clear how dumb it is that we get so worried about sex in the first place. It's a funny thing, after all, and Ménage lets us see it in about every humorous combination.

AS IS THE RAGE with sex comedies lately (i.e. Something Wild), the comedy gets interrupted by some pretty nasty violence, but even this Bob writes off, saying, "Comes a time you have to kill someone. Always." However, the killing changes Antoine, allowing him to become more a woman. Such ironies abound; often the ironies pile up so fast it becomes unclear what Blier is lampooning.

An epilogue shows us the trio together again busy walking the streets. All the sexual taunting and desire for goods has come to this, the oldest occupation. These scenes are hard to take as comic, even with the men in drag, because you know Blier wants to say we're all whores. However, the world of his film isn't our world, it's fantasy in the purest sense. It's a world where the cops never come, where the rich people you rob hold you up for sex and where one stranger can walk into your life and change it, forever.

Bill Cosby remains king of prime time

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Cosby regained his throne as the most watched person on television last week, helping NBC claim yet another weekly prime-time win. "NBC Nightly News" with Tom Brokaw also posted a win over CBS, figures showed Tuesday.

For the week ending May 3, the second week of the summer repeat season, NBC posted a 15.3 rating and 26 share, CBS had a 13.3 rating and 23 share and ABC had a 12.4 rating and 21 share, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co.

In the first week of the repeat season, Cosby slipped to the No. 2 position for only the sixth time since the fall. But last week, NBC's "Family Ties" fell back to No. 2 and "The Cosby Show" regained the No. 1 spot.

In news, NBC and Brokaw had a 10.1 rating and 22 share, "CBS Evening News" with Dan Rather had a 9.6 rating and 21 share and "ABC World News Tonight" with Peter Jennings had an 8.8 rating and 19 share. Each ratings point represents about 874,000 households and a share is the percentage of operating sets tuned to a particular show.

Winner of the week: "Murder Ordained," more quality programming from CBS.

Loser of the week: James Bond, ABC's "Goldfinger" finished No. 63 in the ratings.

The top 10 prime-time shows for the week ending May 3, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co., were:
