TODAY DETROIT CELEBRATED with turkey, dressing and cranberries amid a few snow flurries, a Christmas parade, football, friends, relatives and prayers of Thanksgiving. Many began the day by attending church services throughout the city. Others braved the cold and lined Woodward avenue to watch the annual J. L. Hudson parade that marks the beginning of the Christmas season.

A FIVE YEAR OLD BOY was struck down and killed by a hit and run driver, yesterday, as the boy was on his way to kindergarten. Larry Masterson of 203 Victor in Highland Park was hit by a car that failed to stop coming out of an alley on Brush. He was struck on the head, apparently by the door handle, and was dead on arrival at Highland Park General Hospital.

Police said that it was possible the driver did not know he had struck the boy, because he was so small. Larry's mother, Mrs. Yvonne Masterson, 21, lost her husband a year ago. He died of cancer.

THE 21 YEAR OLD SON of the Irish Ambassador, David A. Hearne, is returning to Ireland. Hearne, who hit and killed a woman with his car earlier this month, used his diplomatic immunity to avoid charges. He has been in many other scrapes before the accident, according to the police in Washington, and each time invoked his immunity to keep himself out of jail.

THE MOST ADVANCED of U.S. Moon rockets, Atlas-Able, failed to leave the Earth's atmosphere after it was launched from Cape Canaveral yesterday morning. A flaming fragment, "that wasn't supposed to fall off," fell back into the Atlantic Ocean. It is feared that the whole thing, "including that beautiful payload," ended up in the ocean.

Though it is not known for sure if the second stage of the rocket fired, one source said that by the time it might have fired, the entire system was probably gone. Search boats spent most of yesterday fishing off of the Florida coast in hopes of recovering fragments from the ill-fated giant rocket.

THE SAME OLD STORY of fumbles, penalties and intercepted passes spelled defeat for the hapless Detroit Lions, yesterday, when Green Bay took advantage of the mistakes for a 24 to 17 win. The Packers' rookie end, Boyd Dowler from the University of Colorado, made some impressive catches of quarterback Bart Starr's pin point passing to set up Green Bay's scores.

Halfback Paul Hornung scored twice on runs of 11 and 6 yards respectively. The score was 24 to 3 in the second quarter when the Lions began to move. After two quick touchdowns, the surge was over, and the half and the ball game ended at 24 to 17.

The only really bright spot for the Lions was rookie fullback Nick Petrosante's running. He gained a total of 134 yards, rushing, the greatest amount gained by a Lion back in a single game since 1950.

PRESIDENT DE GAULLE of France and Soviet Premier Khrushchev have been exchanging secret correspondence, it has been reported from reliable sources. The purpose is said to be the preparation, to the minutest detail, for their forthcoming meeting next March.

THE FOURTH DETROIT disc jockey in a week has lost his job in the payola purge. Mickey Shorr was fired yesterday by radio station WXYZ.

The teenagers' favorite said that he was given a choice, to resign or be dismissed. He refused to resign and was fired. "I never took payola from anyone," said Shorr. "I refused to resign because I didn't feel I had done anything wrong."

Shorr, after two years with WJBK radio, joined WXYZ in (Continued on Page 27)

Men's Night In 'Village' Next Monday

Stores Bar Women from 7 To 10 to Make Shopping Easy for Males

An annual event of importance in "The Village" of Grosse Pointe is "Men's Night", an evening put aside for the man of the family to do his Christmas shopping on his own, with plenty of skilled salespeople in the store to help him.

This is the fourteenth year. As in the past, the male shopper will find the stores well stocked with beautiful new fashions, distinctive men's wear, cute clothes and toys for children and wondrous gifts of every description. Everything from parking to packaging has been planned to make this a pleasant night of shopping.

From 7 to 10 o'clock Monday, December 7, "The Village" will be closed to women. On Kercheval avenue there will be a transportation display. Choral groups and musicians will take part in the festivities. Modeling of fashions is featured, sports celebrities will be on hand and refreshments are waiting in most stores.

REPORTS VANDALISM

Mrs. Frank Foguth of 412 Cloverly road, informed Farms police that she parked her car in front of her home on Sunday, November 29, and when she returned to it, discovered that someone had tossed an object through her windshield, making a small hole. She said the object also hit the rear window, shattering it.

Annual Christmas Concert Set for Sunday Afternoon

The seventh annual Christmas concert by the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus will be presented Sunday afternoon, December 6, at 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School.

Over 100 voices will offer a wide variety of choral compositions through the media of the Men's Glee Club, Women's Glee Club, Coterie Singers, and the ensemble.

The organization is directed by Donald W. Simmons, with Mary Freda, accompanist; Kenneth Cook, organist, and Patricia Nelson and Audrey Morgan, soloists.

Tickets are available from Grosse Pointe Book Store, 19459 Mack avenue, from any member of the chorus or by phone to TU 4-5964. A few tickets will

National and Big Ten Champs Among Performers Who Can Be Seen in Action in Parcels Junior High School

University of Michigan's national, and Big Ten championship swimming team will present an exhibition at the Brownell Junior High School pool on Thursday evening, December 10, under the direction of Gus Stager, swimming coach, and Dick Kimball, diving coach. There will be two hour-long performances, one commencing at 7 o'clock and the other at 8:30.

In the five years Gus Stager has coached the Wolverine swimming team they have won three NCAA championships, in 1957, 1958 and 1959, and have won the Big Ten championship twice in the last two years. Prior to going to Michigan, Gus was swimming coach at Fordson High School, which won the state championship in 1952, 1953 and 1954. Dick Kimball is in his first

Accreditation Team From University of Michigan Pays Annual Visit

Grosse Pointe High School received a visit from an accreditation team from the University of Michigan, recently, in connection with the inspection procedure of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

This organization has standards pertaining to the philosophy and objectives of any given school, its program of studies, the staff and the library. Those schools that meet the association's standards receive accreditation which is valid as long as the school continues to maintain the necessary standards. The primary objective of the association is the improvement of high schools. This program of improvement is a cooperative venture between the association and the school in question.

Vital to Students

The major importance of accreditation, according to high school principal Jerry M. Gerich, is to the student themselves. Graduates of accredited high schools are accepted at many colleges and universities without entrance examinations.

Grosse Pointe High School has been a member of the North Central Association since 1927. During the visit last month, members of the inspecting team visited classes in every department in the school. The association makes annual inspections of each member school, if at all possible, and requires reports from each principal as to progress made during the year.

Gets High Compliment

This year the high school received many fine comments from the inspection team, according to Dr. James Bushong, superintendent of the Grosse Pointe public school system. Dr. R. J. Niess, professor of French, was particularly complimentary of the language department. "It is the most outstanding of all the high schools I have visited in Michigan. The program is so diversified, I'm very enthusiastic about it," said Prof. Niess.

GENERATOR STOLEN

David Sommerfeld, 17, of 5086 Courville, Detroit, could not start his car on Sunday, November 29, because the generator was stolen. He told Woods police the vehicle in the Woods Theater parking lot, from where the item was taken. The generator is valued at $32.

Heaney told police that he was using an electric table saw, when the blade severed the fingers at the first joints. He said it was his carelessness that caused the accident.

Take Out of Home Pay Nets Burglar $500 Every Week

Man Arrested by State Police Readily Admits to Some 800 Robberies from Residences; Took Only Cash and Jewelry

A Taylor, Mich., man, arrested by State Police of the Pontiac Post, told authorities he was "self-employed", and informed them of his work. He averaged about $500 a week — from approximately 800 burglaries in three counties.

Robert McGinnis, 28, of 7840 Kathryn, was arrested on September 6, on a tip by a disgruntled "partner", and on Friday, November 27, confessed to breakings and enterings of so many homes he could not remember the number exactly, but set the figure in the neighborhood of about 800.

Detectives from the Pointe Police Departments, as well as those from other communities in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, questioned McGinnis on unsolved burglaries, committed since 1955, in their respective cities.

Solves Local Jobs

Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem said that McGinnis admitted breaking into the home of William McKee, 458 Belanger, on October 25, 1958. Records show that nothing was taken from this home, the officer said.

Woods Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian disclosed that the confessed thief cleared five home burglaries in their city.

McGinnis admitted breaking into the homes of Anthony Pocco, 632 Lochmoor, on July 7, 1957; James A. Howell, 1960 Oxford, and Anthony Schizler, 1961 Oxford, on October 24, 1958; Betty Kilcline, 1637 Newcastle, on November 26, 1958; and William P. Christ, 851 S. Brys drive, on January 12, 1959.

Police Seeking Young Burglar

A Park cleaning establishment was broken into early Saturday morning, November 28, but the burglar apparently was frightened away when he tripped a radar burglar alarm.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that everything in the store of Belding Cleaners, 15139 Kercheval, appeared to be intact.

Det. Lt. Arnold Hough and the two patrolmen who noticed the door of the place was open, George McDowell and William Crandall, searched the area, but were unable to locate anyone.

The chief said the intruder entered the store by breaking the glass of a double door at the rear of the building, but was not inside very long before he tripped the alarm.

It is believed that a 12-year-old boy, who has been loitering around the Kercheval stores for several days, acting in a suspicious manner, is responsible for the breaking and entering, the chief said, and he is being sought.

Parents Told to Instruct Children on Snowballing

There is no law preventing anyone from making snowballs, but there is a law against where you throw them.

During and after heavy snow storms, children, and this includes some older ones who should be classed in this category, consider it great fun to toss snowballs at pedestrians, and especially passing cars. In the case of pedestrians, the snowball tosser might hit them in the eye, or other sensitive spots, possibly causing serious injuries.

And then, there is the other matter, throwing snowballs at passing cars. This is an extremely dangerous practice, in the opinion of the heads of the law enforcement agencies in the Pointe, and motorists venture that view, too, evidenced by the

Committee Meets With School Board

Advisory Groups to Visit Buildings and Make Reports by June 1

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education met with a citizens advisory committee Monday evening in the Central Library to discuss the use of the money to be raised by the October 26 building and site tax levy approved by the voters.

President of the Board of Education, Robert F. Weber told the group that classrooms should have first priority in the final appropriation of money raised by the increased tax.

He also reminded the committee that monies raised by the additional taxes will not be collected until mid-1961 and building programs cannot begin until the money is on hand. "There are dangers to a crash program in building and these will be avoided," said Mr. Weber.

Various Needs Cited

Mr. Weber also spoke on the type of improvements needed. "These must be capital improvements, not items which fall under the regular maintenance needs of the schools." He stated that in addition to regular classrooms there are needs for music band and choral rooms, libraries, physics and chemistry laboratories.

"For the first time in the history of the Grosse Pointe School System, citizens have been asked to advise the board on school needs, on how to spend tax money," said Dr. James Bushong, Superintendent of the Grosse Pointe School System.

The citizen committees chosen by the nine elementary schools, three junior high schools and senior high school will be acting strictly in an advisory capacity, Mr. Weber reminded the group. The final responsibility for the appropriation of the building and site levy will be the board of Education's.

Board to Be Represented

Members of the Board will sit in on the various advisory committee meetings. Dr. Robert K. Whiteley and Franklin Dougherty will meet with the junior high school groups; Bert H. Wicking and Mrs. Ruth Goebel, with the elementary school committee, and Chet Sampson and C. Henry Haberkorn III with the high school representatives. Mr. Weber will be an ex-officio member of all 13 committees.

The committee members were asked to visit their schools, survey the needs, remembering what demands top priority, and (Continued on Page 2)

Motor Trouble Youths' Undoing

Motor trouble was the undoing of three Detroit teenagers who were arrested by Woods police on Wednesday, November 25, and charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages.

Ticketed to appear in court on February 27, were Frederic Natter, 17, of 5309 Bedford; John F. Turner, 18, of 5675 Lannoo; and George D. Chevalier, 18, of 4841 Harvard.

The youths were arrested by Patrolmen Harold Lanstra and Thomas Kane, who stopped to investigate when they saw the teenagers standing around the car at Dorthen and Holiday roads. The car hood was up, and Turner was peering inside at the motor.

The officers said that they saw Natter and Chevalier with beer bottles in their hands, which the youths threw to the ground as the policemen approached.

Lanstra and Kane said they searched the youths' car and found two full and two empty bottles of beer. Natter and Chevalier said the beverage was purchased by Turner from a store on Jefferson between Navahoe and Tennessee, in Detroit. The boys said the store is regularly used by teenagers.

After the three boys were ticketed, they were turned over to Detroit authorities for disposition of their case. Information concerning the store was also given to Detroit police.

Melted Pipe Proves Fine Firefighter

Total Loss Averted As Unintentional Sprinkler Goes to Work

Not many homes can boast of an automatic sprinkler system, inside the house, that serves as a fire extinguisher. But the Harry E. Winston family of 1220 N. Oxford road has just that.

The only drawback is that it was completely unintentional. Tuesday night, November 24, the Winstons left the house, thinking everything was in order. When they returned two hours later, they found the remains of a fire in the kitchen and the house full of smoke.

Cigaret Blamed

The Woods firemen, who were called immediately after the Winstons discovered the damage, found that the wastebasket under the sink was the cause of the blaze. Apparently a small bit of paper had been ignited by cigarette ashes.

The fire swept through the kitchen, but when it reached the ceiling, the heat from the flames melted the copper water pipe. The water that escaped from the pipe put out the fire before it could spread to the remainder of the house. When the firemen arrived, the blaze was already out.

Kitchen Total Loss

Though the Winstons were lucky on two counts (the amount of paper in the basket produced only a small blaze and the water pipe extinguishing the fire before it could reach the rest of the house), the kitchen was a total loss. The smoke damage throughout the house was extensive.

The Winstons' Thanksgiving was not very happy, understandably, but they did have something for which to be thankful. If it had not been for an innocent water pipe, the house might have been completely destroyed.

number of complaints received by the police.

Parents should warn their children to refrain from throwing snowballs at passing cars because of the element of danger when, and if, a motorist should flinch, he might lose control of his car. Who is to say what might happen in such a case? A serious accident could very well be the result.

There are ordinances in each of the five Pointes, which prohibit tossing of snowballs at automobiles, or at passing pedestrians, which prescribe fines and punishments against miscreants.

The Pointe police chiefs point out that in the event juveniles are arrested for committing this violation, parents will have to (Continued on Page 2)

Park Det. Lt. Stanley Enders said he questioned McGinnis on several unsolved burglaries in the Park, but the man said he could not recall operating in that community.

The lieutenant said that McGinnis obligingly offered to admit to all unsolved breakings and enterings in the Park to help clear them off the books, but the offer was rejected.

Stayed Out of Shores
Shores police said O'Dell and Tobian questioned McGinnis on their behalf, but the suspect said he did not operate in the Shores.

City Capt. Andrew Teetaert said the man refused to "go for" anything in the City.

Official sources disclosed that McGinnis, on occasion would have a partner, using the aid of two men, but not both on the same job, otherwise, he worked alone. It is believed that one of these men tipped State Police on the whereabouts of McGinnis and his activities.

Detroit police said that McGinnis cleared at least 500 burglaries in their city alone.

Homes His Specialty
According to police sources, McGinnis specialized in robbing homes, planning his burglaries in the day time and committing his crimes at night. He would break into from two to 10 homes a night, it was said.

He would take extra precautions to insure his escape in the event he was surprised, such as unlocking doors through which he planned to leave, and if he found a gun in any part of the house, he would remove it to another spot. This latter move was so the property owner could not grab the gun from its accustomed place, and turn it on McGinnis, if he was found in the house.

Only Cash and Jewelry

The admitted burglar would ransack all dresser and bureau drawers and search under mattresses for loot, taking only cash and expensive jewelry. He would touch nothing else.

McGinnis told authorities that he averaged about $500 a week, from the cash taken and the sale of jewelry. He said he had not been engaged in any lawful employment since 1955.

Police said McGinnis has a record dating back to 1951, and has served time in Jackson Prison.

The Farms and Woods detectives said they will compile their complaints with those of the other police departments.

Ground Broken For KC Building

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Gabriel Richard Federal Credit Union building were held Tuesday noon, December 1, on Warren avenue, between University and Herford.

The building, which will cost $35,000, will be of modern design, and will be one of three structures of its type in the Detroit area that will have an all-glass front. Completion date is scheduled for the latter part of January or early February.

When completed, the building will serve members of the Gabriel Richard Council 2463, Knights of Columbus, many of whom live in the Pointe and surrounding communities.

Persons at the ceremonies, included Philip Bommartig, Grand Knight of Council 2463, the Rev. Fr. Armand Schneider, pastor of Annunciation Church, chaplain; the Rev. Fr. William J. Murphy, assistant pastor of St. Philomena Church, in whose parish the new building will be located; and Albert W. Marble, managing director of the Michigan Credit Union League.

Dr. Bushong reminded the committees that if a state of emergency should arise, such as a sudden school population growth in one area, this would have top priority.

In the recent election 6,727 persons voted, a near record turnout. They approved three proposals which together will add 3 mills to school tax rates. The tax increases will not go into effect until next year and will run for four years.

Nearly half of the state's graduate and graduate-professional students are enrolled at The University of Michigan.

Major interests are music, primarily the piano, and skiing. The Parcels social studies department claims Mrs. Lucinda Prost as a new member. She came to Grosse Pointe as a native of Ohio but a graduate of Detroit's Southeastern and the University of Michigan. In Ann Arbor she served as vice chairman of the Joint Judiciary and as president of her sorority. Mrs. Prost's hobbies are reading (historical), cooking and sewing. Although she lists Lincoln, Nebraska as her place of birth, Miss Shirley Larsen, Parcels swimming teacher, was educated in Iowa. She graduated from the Atlantic, Iowa high school and the State University of Iowa. She was president of her sorority in Iowa City and was also selected for membership in the education honorary, Pi Lambda Theta. Her hobbies include reading, golf and records. Miss Lanie Fead is teaching English at Parcels this fall, coming here from a similar post in Port Huron, her birthplace. She is a graduate of Penn Hall Prep, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania; and Miami University of Ohio. She has also done graduate work at the University of Michigan. Active in professional organizations she has served as a delegate to the Michigan Council of English Teachers. She likes to ski and to ride, showing American Saddle Bred horses. Coming to Grosse Pointe after three years of teaching experience in St. Clair Shores, Miss Marjory Woodruff is now teaching mathematics and science at Parcels. She grew up in Burlington, Iowa and graduated from high school there as well as attending Burlington College, Iowa State University granted her a bachelor of science degree. She also attended the State University of Iowa. Hobbies include tennis and swimming. A native of Buckley, Michigan, Mr. Jack Harrigan, Parcels business education teacher, graduated from Kaleva High School and Central Michigan University. He headed his graduating class at CMU, having received the Junior Class Scholarship, and was awarded a Rackham Scholarship at the University of Michigan for graduate study by election of CMU's faculty and student senate. His hobbies include model railroading and golf. Mr. Harrigan is married.

Motor Scooter Rider Injured
Glenna A. Donat, 35, of 329 Merrilweather, was charged with reckless driving on Monday, November 23, after hitting and injuring a 14-year-old boy on a motor scooter at Charlevoix and McMillan. The boy, Michael Heaphy of 405 Cloverly, was knocked to the pavement, and suffered a broken bone in his left hand. He was taken to Cottage hospital by Farms police. An accident report disclosed that the woman was driving west on Charlevoix and was starting to make a left hand turn onto McMillan when she hit the boy on the scooter, also going west. Damage to the car was set at about $5, and to the scooter, $25.

Motorist Fined In Woods Court
William D. Rowley, 37, of 1309 Aline, was fined $75 and placed on probation for 90 days; no driving, following a hearing in the Woods Municipal Court on Saturday, November 28. Rowley was found guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol, by Woods Judge Don Goodrow. The motorist was arrested by Patrolmen Donald Collins and Robert Sass on Friday, November 27, as he was driving south on Mack avenue without any lights, and in an erratic manner. The officers stopped Rowley as he was making a left turn onto Lochmoor, and in their report, the policemen said Rowley appeared to be intoxicated. Rowley was taken to the station, where two St. Clair Shores boys' told police the motorist had knocked over a mail box at Mack and Shady lane, in St. Clair Shores. Rowley was given a ticket and retained in the jail cell until his hearing in court. The mail box incident was relayed to St. Clair Shores police. In your dealings with others first consider what is right — right always pays.

Christmas in 'Village' Made Official By Santa

"Christmas in 'The Village,' though shoppers have been dashing madly there for weeks, was officially welcomed on Friday afternoon, November 27.

A crowd of kids, all ages, a few parents and some shoppers all gathered to watch Santa Claus arrive and start the season of good cheer off with a bang. He arrived, minus his nine reindeer, (the regular eight plus Rudolph), but the 1910 Packard that carried him created as much of an uproar as any reindeer would have.

While the jolly fellow captured the interest of the youngsters, the older kids were captivated by this relic of a half century ago. The Packard, driven by Ned Skae, was gleaming white with brass trimmings. A three seater, it had room for two up front, and a rumble seat behind.

After greeting the crowd, Santa and some of the City officials posed for pictures. Santa Claus had to share his spot of honor, however, with another gentleman, very familiar around the Pointe. James S. Holden of 320 Washington road, the owner of much of the property now known as "The Village" shopping center, was also present.

This was his first appearance at a Village Christmas ceremony, but Mr. Holden has been connected with that particular property since 1926.

Accompanying Mr. Holden was his big brown poodle, "C.C.", who is well known in Mr. Holden's neighborhood. Mr. Holden built his present home here in 1922. He remembers

To Show Rare Travel Movies

When the Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club convenes for its last luncheon meeting at the Center before the holidays on Tuesday, December 8, at 12:30 o'clock, Wallace Temple will recount his personal experience in climbing the Matterhorn and will also show his color movie of European resorts and byways.

All Senior Men in Grosse Pointe are welcome to attend whether they are already one of the 110 members of the club or not. Reservations should be made with Edward Gehrig, (VA 2-8614) immediately.

The Temples have been to Europe many times. When filming the particular movie he is showing the Senior Men, the Temples purposely avoided all the usual tourist routes and attractions. In their little Simca they pushed into out of the way seaside resorts, mountain retreats and quaint villages.

For instance, the picture shows the medieval towns of Rothenberg and Binkesbuhl in the Black Forest, it takes one to the Berghof Hotel at the top of the Jungfrau reached only by teleferique where the air is so rare that one must keep the windows wide open at night despite the cold to have enough oxygen. In the morning the sun flashes on the unusual carved objects (bars, bars, etc.) in a fabulous palace carved by man from the glacial ice.

The movie includes a trip through the champagne cellars at Rheims, originally miles of Roman chalk mines. There are sequences at the picturesque island fortress, Mount St. Michele, where the omelette was originated. Scenes show Perigot in the heart of the foie gras country, the chateaux of the Loire, and Schloss Kronberg, the family seat of the Hesse family.

The highlight of Mr. Temple's program for the Senior Men will be his account of his climbing of the Matterhorn. Naturally Mr. Temple did not have the facilities of Walt Disney Enterprises at his disposal and climbing the mountain is a sufficiently hair-raising adventure in itself so there are not too many pictures of this event, Mr. Temple, however, when over 50 without previous climbing experience did with two guides and a porter scale the Matterhorn in two days. This exploit makes a fascinating story and stands as a challenge to all listeners.

"The Village" when it had few stores, an A&P (where the present Jacobson's stands) a drug store and Grinnells, were some of them.

Following the picture taking in which City Assessor Neil Blondell and City Chief of Police Thomas V. Trombly were also present, the big Christmas tree at the corner of St. Clair and Kercheval (or Christmas street) was lighted for the first time this year.

Soon afterwards, much to the dismay of the children, Santa and the Packard flew away, not quite like "the down on a thistle." He waved a Merry Christmas to all, however, and some of the mothers present had to assure their tearful young ones that he would return before Christmas was over.

The crowd dispersed rather rapidly then for it was cold and there was lots of shopping to be done before the big day.

Defer to Have Yule Musical December 4

"World Peace at Christmas" is the theme of Miss Martha E. Ream's Christmas program at Defer School on December 4 at 8 p.m. The musical program is dedicated this year to Defer's principal, Frederick J. Kerby.

Miss Ream, head of music at Defer, has been rehearsing the 4th, 5th and 8th grades for many weeks in preparation for this annual program. Accompanied by Miss Katherine Tibbals at the organ, the students will sing French, Puerto Rican and Neapolitan carols. The orchestra has also prepared several selections and a few recitations will be presented for the families and friends who always swell the auditorium.

Performing in the orchestra will be: David Anderson, John Barton, Malinda Cox, Kathleen Cullotta, Gary Deary, Janet Easternman, Suzanne Holz, Katherine Gerstenberger, Susan Hutton, Dianna Kambois, Frances Hotchkiss, Bethany Keler, Deborah Koons, Teresa Kirchner, Lawrence Lamb, Adrienne Munkholm, Chimes will be played by Joel Penoyar and Frances Hotchkiss. Stage managers are Jeffrey Parcells and Danny Humphries. Cast for "The Night After Christmas" are Karen Fritz, Jerry Plink, John Barton, Tom Lyons, Terry Kirchner and Bethany Keler. Mrs. Richard E. Hinks is Special Assistant to Miss Ream for the Christmas program. Artist for the program is Susan Beebey.

Waiter Guilty In Club Fracas

A waiter employed to help at a special event at the Country Club of Detroit was convicted of being a disorderly person and assault and battery at a hearing held before Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong on Wednesday, November 25.

John T. Ferguson of 2700 Rochester, Detroit, entered a plea of guilty to assaulting Fred Grier of 2915 Harding, Detroit, on October 28, in the barroom of the club, 220 Country Club drive.

Ferguson was given the alternative of paying a fine of $50, and $7.50 court costs, or serving 10 days in the Wayne County jail. He preferred the former, and paid.

The former bartender was charged with inflicting a three-inch gash on Grier's right temple, during a fracas in the barroom.

Police said Ferguson hurled five bottles of whiskey at Grier and when Grier ducked under a table to evade the missiles, Ferguson tipped over the table, trapping Grier, and threw more bottles at him.

Ferguson was subdued by two other bartenders, William Johnson of 452 E. Warren, and William E. Jones, of 8022 Sheridan, both of Detroit, who held Ferguson until police arrived to take him in custody. He was reported to have been drinking.

CHRISTMAS MAILING MAP

The Fire Hose Was Too Short

A fire alarm to the Farms Department a Thursday evening, November 26, was a local call, but the fire was too far out of the department's jurisdiction. So . . .

All firefighting apparatus responded to a citizen's frantic telephone call that the Farms

Pier-Park was being destroyed by fire.

Firemen arrived at the park to find it bathed in a dim glow from a fire, but it was not in the park. All equipment returned to the station house after an investigation was conducted to determine the source of the light.

Where was the fire? On Squirrel Island, Canada, where Indians had set the marshland aflame, for reclamation.

Where is Squirrel Island? Opposite New Baltimore, Mich., just about—25 miles away.

Defense Police To Meet Dec. 9

The Grosse Pointe area Civil Defense police will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday evening, December 9, at 7:30 at the Neighborhood Club, Waterloo and Neff.

There will be information given at that time on the training program and uniforms. A film will be shown.

On Wednesday evening, November 18, some 30 members of the group and their wives were dinner guests at Selridge Air Force base. George Elworthy, area director of Civil Defense in Grosse Pointe, gave the benediction. Major Burner represented the commanding officer of the base at dinner.

The group then was shown a number of education exhibits and the evening was completed by refreshments served in the Officers' Club.

4 Cases Heard By City Judges

Four court cases were heard by City Judges Joseph P. Uvick and Douglas A. Paterson on Tuesday, November 24.

The first to appear before Judge Uvick was William W. Thompson of 1043 Lakepointe avenue. He was charged with cutting in and out of traffic and was found guilty. He paid a fine of $20.

Joseph N. Impostato of 19162 Collinson in East Detroit, was charged with driving 40 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone. He was found guilty and paid a fine of $25.

Edwin G. Sanders of 10770 Beaconsfield, Detroit, was charged with not having his car under control. He paid a fine of $20.

The case brought before Judge Paterson was that of Robert Lawrence Melasi of 4823 Baldwin street. The charge against him was reckless driving. He was found guilty, paid a fine of $100 and was placed on probation for one year. Restitution was ordered.

There are 147,441 students enrolled on Michigan college and university campuses.

Movie Night

The Christmas program of the 1959-60 Family Film Night Series at the Central Library will be Friday, December 4. The films shown will be of special interest to children, and families are invited to attend.

"Chantons Noel" is one of the new films recently added to the Library's film collection. It is a beautiful color film on the Christmas season, with choral music sung by a French-Canadian group. Small figures act out scenes as the music unfolds the story.

"The Christmas Slippers" is a Russian film, based on a folk-tale. It concerns a blacksmith, Vakula, who is told by Cuckoo that she will marry him only if he brings her the most beautiful pair of slippers in the world.

The production is a lavish one, complete with excerpts from the operetta Cherevichki by Tchaikovsky, rag, melodrama, and full of action and movement.

This program will take place in the Meeting Room of the Central Library at Fisher and Kercheval at 7:30 p.m. Friday.
Children, accompanied by adults, are urged to attend.

Math Teachers Holding Parley

Miss Margaret Lingo, counselor and mathematics teacher at Brownell Junior High School, will take a leading role in a science and mathematics workshop to be held in Port Huron this weekend. Math and science teachers from a large section of the state are expected to attend.

The theme of the workshop is "Current Trends—Improving Instruction in Science and Mathematics." It will be held in Port Huron High School on Saturday, December 5. Dr. Joseph Payne of the University of Michigan and Dr. Charlotte Junge of Wayne State University will keynote the meeting.

Miss Lingo will head a group studying the development of division concepts at the junior high school level. She will attempt to describe or illustrate the motivation of pupils; the introduction and development of a specific mathematical concept; and something on the selection and use of various materials and teaching aids. Provisions for individual differences and the evaluation of pupil learning will also be discussed.

The all day workshop is sponsored by the State Curriculum Committee on Science and Mathematics Education in conjunction with the St. Clair River Chapter of the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

Bring Christmas To War Disabled

Christmas will be happier in the homes of war veterans under treatment in Dearborn Veterans Administration hospital, Dearborn, because of the Christmas gift shop operated there by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Mary Delbarba, Rehabilitation Chairman of Grosse Pointe Unit #303.

"In the Auxiliary gift shops all articles are free to the hospitalized veterans, and are gift wrapped and mailed to the veterans' homes also without charge," said Mrs. Delbarba.

"This means that the entire expense of the shops is borne by the Auxiliary, and our local Unit has contributed gift articles and cash to the shop at Dearborn. Similar shops supported by the Auxiliary are operated each year in veterans hospitals throughout the country.

"The shop at Dearborn is set up for a few days in a room provided by the hospital. Auxiliary volunteers decorate this room with gay Christmas decorations, and arrange the gift articles in attractive displays. The ambulant patients, and those on crutches and in wheel chairs, come to the shop to make their selections of gifts for their families. Those confined to their beds select gifts from loaded carts pushed through the wards."

In Dearborn and throughout the nation, the Auxiliary will make sure that no families of war veterans lack the means for a cheerful Christmas because of the veteran's death or disability. Working in cooperation with other organizations, Auxiliary volunteers will help bring Christmas into homes of the needy.

Alpha Chi Omega Grads To Meet on December 4

The next meeting of the east side afternoon Alumnae group of Alpha Chi Omega will meet on Friday, December 4, at 12:30, at the home of Mrs. L. C. Nyman, 951 South Oxford road.

Having recently returned from Spain, Mrs. Russell McLean, 321 Cloverly road, will give a talk, "Intimate Glimpses of Spain", about her trip.

Also, at the meeting, cancer pads will be sewed and any business on the agenda will be discussed.

League to Show Bull Fight Film

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will hold its next meeting on Thursday, December 10, at 8 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore road.

Rip Zwickey, world traveler, will present his excellent bull fight film "La Fiesta de Los Toros." This most unusual film was produced as a result of many trips made during the past several years by Mr. Zwickey to Spain and the Latin America countries.

Viewers will have an opportunity to see the greatest matadors of the world in action, including Manolete, Ordenez, Lillri, Ostos, Aparicio and the fabulous Giron brothers of Venezuela.

The seventh annual Christmas concert of the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus will be given at 3:30 o'clock this Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Parcels, Junior High School. Among those who will

State Issues New Ski Map

Michigan's annual ski map and winter sports guide is just off the presses and is ready for free distribution, the state tourist council announced.

Some 50,000 copies of the "Fun in the Snow" publication will be distributed throughout Michigan and the Midwest during the winter season, council spokesmen said.

This year's guide—the fifth annual edition—lists 71 skiing, skating and tobogganing centers throughout Michigan's two peninsulas. Listings include locations of winter sports centers and the facilities offered by each.

Single copies or quantity supplies of "Fun in the Snow" are available on request, without charge, from: Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

The growing popularity of skiing—along with ice fishing, hunting, skating, tobogganing and other winter sports—has boosted winter vacation travel to an all-time high in Michigan, according to Robert J. Furlong, council executive secretary.

PARKED CAR LOOTED

Daniel Findlay, of 1677 Bournemouth, informed Farms police on Tuesday, November 24, that he had parked his car on the Farms' side of Fisher road, and when he returned he found that someone had broken into the vehicle and had stolen several tools, valued at a total of $19.50.

Two Cars Tangle At Signal Light

Peter Vitale of 27713 Rockwood in St. Clair Shores, was ticketed by City police officers on November 28, after he bumped into the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Potts of 5239 Three Mile drive, Detroit.

Mrs. Potts had been stopped for the signal light at the corner of Cadieux and Kercheval. Mrs. Potts also received a ticket for not having her driver's license in her possession at the time of the accident.

Mr. Vitale was ticketed for not having his car under control. Both cars were driven away from the scene of the accident.

Guest Conductor With Symphony

Milton Katims will guest conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

The program for both concerts will include Rossini's Overture to "La gazza ladra," Vaughan-Williams' Symphony No. 4 in F minor, Schubert's Symphony No. 3 in D and Respighi's "Feste Romane" ("Roman Festivals").

Katims, dynamic American conductor born in New York, has focused national attention on his musical activities in the Pacific Northwest since becoming conductor of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra in 1954. He last conducted the Detroit Symphony on Feb. 5, 1953.

A protege of Arturo Toscanini, Katims had a warm and personal association with the famed maestro. He played for ten years at the first viola desk of the Toscanini orchestra during which time he was also engaged as staff conductor of the National Broadcasting Company. Toscanini, interested in his gifts as a conductor, invited him to guest conduct his own N.B.C. Symphony more than 50 times.

Born to an extremely artistic family, Katims began his musical studies at age five, first as a pianist then as a violinist. He turned to the viola as his major instrument after graduating from Columbia University.

He spent ten years as conductor and solo viola of the Mutual Broadcasting Company and headed a master class at the Juilliard School of Music for six years. The talented young conductor has guest conducted throughout the United States and Europe while building his own orchestra into an organization of great merit.

A law creating the Michigan State Highway Department went into effect July 1, 1955.

Offer Dividend At Film Show

Those coming to the Center tonight, Thursday, December 3, at 8 o'clock, to see Dr. Richard E. Pear's color movies of the Caribbean are going to have an additional treat.

Originally, Dr. Pear planned to bring his viewers back to Detroit and end his showing with a few choice shots of the ice folies, but since this is to be a travel evening and the Caribbean pictures run a little short of a full length program, he has decided to add his beautiful pictures of Banff, Lake Louise and Calgary.

The Calgary Stampede shots alone should make the evening more than worthwhile. Dick's telephoto lens follows the bronco busters and steer wrestlers right into the dust and his film catches all the color and frenzy of the Stony Indians in their native costumes and dances.

Whether it's the rhumba parlors of Havana, the artist markets of Haiti or the beauties of the Victoria Glacier, the audience tonight will find much to please them. All Grosse Pointers are cordially invited free of charge.

The Sound and the Fury

The best news since Khrushchev left this country alive is that "Rock and Roll" music is dying. What a long and agonizing death it has been...

We have always been of the school that thinks each individual has the right to decide for himself just what constitutes art. We also go along with Voltaire, who said he might not agree with what others said, but he would defend to the death their right to say it.

Which sort of brings us around to the current flurry over the disc jockeys with the no-flap pockets slanted towards the platter cutters. This matter of choosing one's own type of art, be it music, literature, paintings or cartoons, is best suited to adult minds.

It might make an interesting study to gather statistics on the type of music preferred by the ever-increasing group of young hoodlums who are creating so much trouble all over the country today.

And we became almost violently ill the other night when we happened to tune into the channel which carried the annual "Grammy" awards. We were so completely unfortunate as to get in just at the moment they were announcing the "Best Song of the Year."

As we said, everyone is entitled to his own tastes, but we also stick by our right to say it is a mighty sad commentary on the American people when there are enough of them to make something this ghastly, the most popular song record of the year.

And when Rock and Roll gives its final squirm in a lethal convulsion of repulsive resonance, we'd be glad to send flowers.

Grosse Exaggerations A. PRYOR

"If, my dear, you seek to slumber, Count of stars an endless number; If you still continue wakeful, Count the drops that make a lakeful; Then, if vigilance yet above you Hover, count the times I love you; And if slumber still repel you, Count the times I do not tell you."

(Franklin P. Adams)

Small Fry

A woman giving a birthday party recently for her teen aged niece decided to ask the girl's small brother to the dinner. The ten-year-old, all dressed up and impressed with the company of OLDER FOLKS, turned out to be the hit of the evening.

Our little hero sat on a phone book during the formal-dinner and helped himself with ease and daring to everything served. He made some running comments such as "This looks good" "What is that?" "I've never seen these before" and so on.

Plain and Fancy Butlers

One of our readers called to tell us the following. It seems she telephoned an acquaintance who had recently hired a new butler. He answered the phone very formally, with the usual "Mr. Figtree's Residence"...

The above reminded us of an experience we once had with a maid in the house of a rather prominent family in Grosse Pointe. We had to call the woman, (whom we didn't know from anything), on a matter of business.

Hospital Fare

We know a young man who is interning in a hospital in the West who finds the time to write us an occasional note concerning his progress. Last week, in answer to a letter we wrote him about the food he was getting at the hospital...

"I usually eat breakfast at the hospital because it is quicker. They have two large bowls of eggs on the serving table. One bowl is supposed to hold soft boiled eggs and the other, hard boiled. After a few experiences, I discovered the soft boiled eggs must hastily be run through luke warm water. They are SO soft...

"Last week, the girl who checks out our trays, asked me... Why do you always take an egg, from EACH bowl? I must admit this had not dawned on me until I answered her:—Well you see, if anything should hatch out of the so-called SOFT egg, I have the hard one to kill it with!"

Birthdays

Last week Pryor had a birthday. We received MANY cards, most of which we had already sent the "donors" during the past year. Since we were among the first to start the ball rolling on not signing cards...

What Goes On at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

One of the secrets of a happy Christmas season is early organization, so we are told, and each year we vow it will be earlier. We drew the line, however, at whipping up the Christmas spirit before thanks have been duly given on the last Thursday of November.

Each year the library adds new books on various aspects of Christmas until we now have over 150 different titles, also many duplicates of these, to offer you practical help in planning for the holiday season. Special shelves of this material may be found at all three libraries as a convenience to library users.

No book tells the story of the birth of Christ as beautifully as do the Gospels themselves, and one of the most charming picture story books for children is "The Christ Child" as told by Matthew and Luke with full page illustrations by Maud and Miska Petersham.

These famous illustrators went to Palestine for inspiration before making these pictures in glowing colors and simple lines which interpret so well the gospel text.

Included in this holiday collection is a wide range of books on all phases of Christmas. The story of the celebration of Christmas is covered in such books as "4000 Years of Christmas and its Customs" by Christina Hole, "1001 Christmas Facts and Fancies" by A. C. Hottos et al.

Homemakers who want ideas for decorations, gift making and other Christmas activities can find helpful suggestions in "Christmas Idea Book," "Make Your Own Merry Christmas" and "New Look at Christmas."

For holiday menu ideas, the library has "The Christmas Cook Book" which includes both recipes and bits of legend, "The Christmas Cookie Book" and the "Holiday Candy and Cookie Book," among many.

There are books on how to wrap gifts, entertaining at holiday time, Christmas customs in other lands and a wide selection of stories and poems—some of which make a good choice for reading aloud, and an assortment of Christmas plays for all ages.

And don't overlook a number of records which have special value at the holiday season. Among these are Menotti's Opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors," Dickens' "Christmas Carol" with Basil Rathbone as Scrooge, "A Visit from St. Nicholas" interpreted by Fred Waring, "The Story of the Music Box" and many recordings of traditional Christmas Carols.

There are 16mm sound films too which may be borrowed, "Chantons Noel," "Christmas Rhapsody," "A Little Child," "The Littlest Angel," "Silent Night," among others. These are being booked rapidly, but a few are still available for certain dates.

Symphony Plans New York Date

Thomas Schippers will guest conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra next Thursday, December 10, at 8:30 o'clock and again Friday, December 11, at 2 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

The noted American conductor's program will include Verdi's Overture to "La forza del destino," Shostakovich's Symphony No. 1 in F minor and Brahms' Symphony No. 2 in D major.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 9, the orchestra will appear in New York City under Paul Paray at a special concert before the United Nations' General Assembly. Invitation for the singular honor came from Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general.

The concert, in celebration of the 11th anniversary of the UN Human Rights Day, will be broadcast on a world-wide network. Heifetz, the great violinist who has not appeared publicly since 1956, has chosen this concert under the direction of his close friend Paray, to play before an audience once again.

On Sunday, December 13, at 3:30 o'clock, Valter Poole will conduct the orchestra's first Family Concert of the season. The program, presented in cooperation with the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, will feature the Severo Ballet in Meyerbeer's "Les Patineurs" and Britten's "A Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra." Jerry Schweizer will narrate the Britten work.

Also programmed will be Bach's Choral Prelude, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," Humperdinck's Overture to "Hansel and Gretel," the March and Scherzo from Prokofiev's "The Love of Three Oranges" and Liszt's "Mephisto Waltz."

Could you guess what's good about a headache?

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong... perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

Ruth Burczyk To Give Concert

Opening the Thirteenth Season of the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra will be Ruth Burczyk, pianist, as guest artist at the Friday concert at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 8:30 o'clock.

Ruth Burczyk received her training under Schenuit-Hall, well known concert pianist and teacher in Milwaukee. Later she was associate teacher in the Schenuit-Hall studios.

At the age of 16 years, she made her debut with the Wisconsin Symphony Orchestra playing Beethoven No. 3 in C minor. Having been chosen from a group of young artists, she was featured over Radio Young Artists Series and was a frequent performer over Milwaukee Radio stations.

She was also awarded first prize in a state-wide Student Musician contest conducted by the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs. Later she was guest soloist with the Wisconsin Symphony and the Rochester Symphony Orchestra of Minnesota.

At present she is an active member and also an officer of the Tuesday Musicale Club of Detroit which sponsors the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra. She lives in Norwood drive.

Martha Cook Alumnae To Observe Tradition

The Martha Cook Alumnae Association will have its annual Christmas Breakfast at the Stockholm, on Saturday, December 12 at 12 noon.

This is always a gay and nostalgic affair with traditions carried over from many years back. The breakfast idea goes back to dormitory days when the girls used to invite their mothers to a special Sunday breakfast near the holidays.

The girls were awakened early with the clarion call of a bugle and filed in a line through the halls and down to the dining room where an especially good breakfast awaited them. This was eaten by candle light.

As in former years, Christmas carols and some of the college songs dear to the hearts of the alumnae will be sung. Women in this area working for the success of this project are: Mrs. Richard E. Shaw of East Jefferson avenue, Mrs. Frank E. Cooper of Merriweather road, Miss Jean Hennes of Devonshire road, Miss Kay Mullaney of Hillcrest road, and Mrs. P. J. Otto Scherer of Berkshire road.

Mrs. Delos Parker Heath of Kercheval avenue and Mrs. Lewis W. Kirby of Stanton lane will be among the guests of honor.

Carmelite Guild To Hold Party

The Detroit Yacht Club will be the setting for the gala holiday card party and luncheon sponsored by St. Joseph Carmelite Guild of St. Joseph Home for the Aged on Thursday, December 10.

A turkey luncheon will be served promptly at 12:30 to be followed by an afternoon of cards. Mrs. A. Hess and Mrs. G. Klein, co-chairmen, promise lovely prizes.

Admission to this party will be by reservation only. Make yours now by calling Mrs. B. Firth, DR. 1-2756. The cost is $4.00 per person.

Opera to Give Students Aid

Mrs. Walker A. Williams, newly-appointed chairman of the Detroit Grand Opera Association's Scholarship Committee, and Lloyd G. Grinnell, representing the Grinnell Music Foundation, announce the completion of plans for the 1959-60 $2,500 Opera Scholarship competition. The scholarship is financed by Grinnell Brothers and administered by the Detroit Grand Opera Association.

Applications for auditions are now available to qualified operatic aspirants by writing to Mrs. Williams (or calling) at the offices of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, 438 Book Building, Detroit 26, (WO. 5-2940).

Conditions for qualifications are essentially the same as in other years except for one important change in the age limitations—now a contestant must be between the ages of 21 and 35 instead of 18 and 35. Experience over the years has demonstrated that no applicant is sufficiently matured before the age of 21 to be seriously considered qualified for the $2,500 scholarship and the training program required to fulfill its terms.

Basically these are the conditions and requirements to be met by young singers requesting audition applications:

- 1) Applicant must be a United States citizen and a resident of the State of Michigan or a Canadian citizen and residing within Essex, Kent or Lambton Counties in Ontario, or a citizen of the State of Ohio, residing within Lucas or Maumee Counties, for at least one year immediately prior to the audition. Students who are studying outside of these areas, but who retain Michigan, Ohio or Ontario as their legal residences, are eligible.
- 2) Be not less than 21 nor more than 35 years of age at the time of the final audition.
- 3) Have a mature voice and be well grounded in the technique of singing; i.e., breathing, tone placement, and voice production.
- 4) Have musicianship adequate for the finest art songs, plus dramatic adaptability in voice, physique and personality.
- 5) Sing both Opera arias and art songs in the audition.

Completed application forms should be returned to the Detroit Grand Opera Association

"Give your family the gift that's 'surer than sunshine'—a modern Gas Clothes Dryer," say the Jimmy Stewarts

With a modern, convenient Gas clothes dryer, washday can be any day you please. No need to schedule your whole week around the washing. No need to wait until the sun peeks through to start frantically throwing your washing in the machine. Just set a dial... a Gas clothes dryer does the rest. Clothes come out light and fluffy, sanitized, too, with an ultraviolet lamp that makes them smell so fresh and clean. Even nicer, a Gas clothes dryer does the same amount of work as any other dryer at 1/5 the cost. Stop in this week at your Gas Company office or dealer showroom and see the complete display of new 1960 models.

DYC Sea Gulls To Have Party

"Old Fashioned Party" is the theme chosen by the DYC Sea Gulls for their annual Christmas Party luncheon, Tuesday, December 8th, at 12 noon.

Mrs. Sidney C. Marsh, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Austin Z. Howard, Mrs. Fred Ribbits, Mrs. Bernard Farnell, Mrs. D. F. Chalmers, Mrs. Robert Avis, Mrs. George L. Petersen, Mrs. Guy C. Bratton, Mrs. Harry Oliver, Mrs. Lester McIntosh, Mrs. Donald Burgess.

The Christmas tree on the stage will be decorated with pop corn strings and candy canes. The table centerpiece will be miniature trees decorated with pop corn strings and sugar bells.

Favors will be miniature red socks. Decorations on the Hot Punch table will be Christmas trees made of marshmallows.

DYC member Kenneth Gunders will sing Christmas carols, and the Sea Gull choir under the direction of Mrs. Eric C. Irvine will also sing a number of Christmas Carols.

Choir members are Mrs. Austin Z. Howard, Dr. Erna Mortensen, Mrs. Helen McKenna, Mrs. D. Walter Allard, Mrs. Frank McGel and Mrs. Harold Redshaw.

Final of the party will be the arrival of Santa Claus with his sleigh filled with Christmas gifts.

enter a contest making Christmas ornaments from a variety of materials assembled for the purpose. Prizes will be awarded to the most clever, individual, and beautiful products.

The day will end with the singing of carols in their various native tongues. Mrs. John Marshall will lead and accompany the singing which always closes with the universal "Silent Night."

Cub Scout Pack Plans Yule Fair

Cub Scout Pack #39 will hold a Christmas Fair at the John Barnes School on December 8 from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

This project is being held to replace door to door selling, the former method of raising funds which are used to further the pack's activities.

All sorts of things will be on sale, including Christmas wrappings, books, food of all descriptions and there will be prizes, a movie and a visit from Santa Claus.

Chairman is Bill Harding and co-chairman is John Dempsey, with help from all the Cub Scout parents.

Southeastern Women To Have Holiday Tea

The Southeastern Woman's Club will meet December 7 at 1:30 o'clock in the parlors of St. James Presbyterian Church at 1:30 o'clock.

A Christmas story and a sojourn are on the program for this holiday tea.

Elizabeth Cass Chapter To Meet on December 7

Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its meeting on December 7, at 1:30 p.m. at the Woman's City Club.

Pointe Business Notes

Eichstedt and Johnson Associates, landscape architects, 15324 Mack avenue, are recipients of an award made by the American Association of Nurserymen.

The company received the award for its work on Eastland Center, which was among the top ten winners in the nationwide Seventh Annual Industrial and Institutional, Landscaping and Beautification competition. The awards will be presented at regional and state meetings of the Nurserymen's Association early in 1960.

"The firm of Eichstedt-Johnson Associates received awards in 1956 for work at Northland and in 1958 for work on the G. M. Technical Center in Warren. They made the plan for the landscape improvement of Kercheval on the Hill, the work that is still in progress.

Bill O. Brink, general agent for Mutual of Omaha in Michigan, was elected first vice-president of the Mutual of Omaha General Agents' Association at the concluding session of the groups' 27th annual convention held at the Home Office in Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. Brink resides at 33 Edgemere road.

Chrysler Corp. has announced a key appointment in the business research and market planning staff to Pointer Robert G. Smith.

Mr. Smith, 31, who lives at 220 McMillan road, has been named director of consumer research. He was formerly project director for a nationwide research firm.

He first joined Chrysler in 1952 as a market research analyst. He held this position until 1958 when he joined Alfred Politz Research Agency. He returned to Chrysler recently.

He is a graduate of Amherst, with an A.B. degree, and of the University of Michigan where he received his M.B.A. degree. He is a member of the American Market Association.

Fred A. Kaiser, vice president and general manager of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company announced the appointment of Milton W. Elert, 19977 Emory Court W., as assistant district sales manager of the company.

A graduate of the University of Detroit Law School, Elert joined Michigan Consolidated in 1955 as a salesman following 20 years with Ferry Morse Seed Company and Detroit Michigan Stove Company.

Elert has been active in Michigan Consolidated's dealer sales promotion programs prior to his latest appointment.

Mrs. Philip Coe Hostess to Club

Members of the Grosse Pointe Book Review Club gathered for their regular meeting this Wednesday and, as their hostess for this session, Mrs. Philip K. Coe had chosen Grosse Pointe Yacht Club as the locale.

The day's program comprised the 11 o'clock book review by Miss Geraldine Demmler, and then luncheon followed by card play, all in the club's Lake Shore Room.

Enthusiastic greetings were showered upon Mrs. Oscar Pharis, former Grosse Pointe who came up from the Pharis country home in fashionable Bourbon County, Kentucky, to spend the week with her daughter and son-in-law, the Victor Breidenbachs of the Pointe, while Mr. Pharis was on a hunting trip in Georgia.

Members of the Grosse Pointe Book Review Club, which now is about six years old, include Mesdames Tom Bartel, John Benfield, Alexander D. Blackwood, Kendrick B. Brown, Kenneth Chamberlin, George Dickes, George M. Endicott, George Hughes, John O. Huse (she's in charge of arranging the reviews this year).

More are Mesdames Charles L. Jacobson, Dwight Nelson, Robert Bruna Powers, Mary Roy, Robert Somerville, Thornton Waterfall, F. Rankin Weisgerber and Bernard Whitley.

Deanery Plans Quarterly Meet

The third quarterly meeting of the East Central Deanery* Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women is slated for Thursday, December 10, at 8 o'clock in the evening in St. Rose's Parish hall, Kercheval avenue near Beniteau. Mrs. Cyril Kruger, 13011 Kilbourne, Deanery president presiding.

Father Paul Hickey, moderator of the Diocesan Organization for Decent Literature will be guest of the evening. Fr. Hickey will speak and present slides on available "SMUT" in neighborhood stores. Parish and Organization representatives are urged to ask their parish officers and members to attend and see what they can do in fighting this disease. The East Central Deanery chairman on AODL is Mrs. Charles B. Hull, 442 Lincoln road.

Mrs. Douglas Collinson, 538 St. Clair, Deanery reception chairman reports that the hosts of the evening, Miss Josephine D'Arcy, parish representative of St. Rose's, assisted by the Ladies of the Altar Society, are planning a special Christmas treat.

Some 5,000 years ago the Chinese developed drugs to relieve pain, says a medical historian at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Found Guilty In Coin Case

The trial of James Quello Jr., in connection with the September 10 robbery of Coin and Stamp Inc., 17358 Mack avenue, ended Thursday, November 19.

Quello, charged with possession of property stolen from the coin store and attempting to sell the stolen goods, was found guilty in Recorder's Court, presided over by Judge Schemanske. The loot was positively identified by the store owner, Roman F. Lester.

Acting as witnesses in the trial were three members of the City police force, Det. Robert Van Tiem, Officer James Cronin and Sgt. John Onstwedder.

Two other important witnesses did not testify. One, Peter Petlowany who positively implicated Quello in the robbery, is presently serving a long prison term in Canada for an attempted robbery there, September 30. The other man, whose name the police did not disclose, also implicated Quello but refused to testify against him.

"We are pleased that Quello was found guilty as charged," said City Chief of Police Thomas V. Trombly. "He was definitely involved in the hold-up. The only reason he was tried for possession of stolen property rather than for the hold-up is that neither of the witnesses who could implicate him in the hold-up could or would testify."

Judge Schemanske will not pass sentence on Quello until the court receives a report from the Detroit probation officer, which could be two weeks from the end of the trial.

Another man, Egsa Philip Rahhal is still being held by Detroit police in connection with the hold-up. He will be brought to trial at a later date.

City police are still investigating the recent robbery of Coin and Stamp Inc. which occurred the night of November 15. The thieves, who entered the store through a vent pipe in the roof, got away with between $8,000 and $10,000 worth of loot.

To Entertain Vassar Prof.

Mrs. Wendell C. Goddard and her daughter, Sarah, will entertain Saturday at luncheon for Miss Helen Lockwood, professor emerita of Vassar College.

Miss Lockwood will arrive Friday to be the house guest of Miss Katharine Ogden, headmistress of Liggett School, where she will speak Friday afternoon on "Higher Education in Today's World."

She will also talk to the Association of Independent Schools of Greater Detroit at Brookside in Bloomfield Hills. Miss Lockwood was chairman of the English department of Vassar from 1950-56, received her degrees at Vassar and Columbia and studied at the Sorbonne.

She will be welcomed by the president of the Vassar Club, Mrs. John J. Bradley at Mrs. Goddard's luncheon where she will speak to the alumnae.

Among those attending will be Mrs. William D. Byron, Jr., Mrs. Richard Durant, Mrs. William G. Boales, Mrs. James G. McMahon, Mrs. Bryce W. Rus-

Novarro Band at Roostertail Real Horn Blower for Pointe

Musicians bent on achieving a big-time career normally go to places such as New York or Hollywood. In a complete turn-about, a well established orchestra leader has taken up Grosse Pointe residence in continuing his work.

It was the obvious thing for dark-haired, well-built Al Navarro to do. His orchestra plays for dancing and backs the show at the nearby Roostertail. He also sends out Navarro orchestras for numerous country club dances and private parties.

Moreover, Al is married to a Grosse Pointer, the former Cynthia Dean, and they make their home at 234 Muir road. Their next-door neighbor is Mrs. Navarro's mother, Mrs. Charles Dean, Jr. of Lewiston Road.

Navarro, who also is a resident of Palm Beach, Fla., and has maintained a home there since 1949, almost unknowingly is something of a publicist for Grosse Pointe.

His latest record album, titled simply "Al Navarro," consists of 32 tunes recorded during a party at the Country Club of Detroit. The music is what is known as "society style." The noise of the crowd in the background has been carefully left in. The listener gets the distinct feeling of actually being at the party.

The album, on the appropriately named Country Club label, has been selling well in its short time out. Another album of 38 melodies made last year on the Kapp label, called "Al Navarro and his Society Orchestra," also was a big seller.

Navarro, whose name is among the leaders in society music, got into this particular branch of the entertainment field at an extremely tender age.

After starting as a concert clarinetist with Arthur Fiedler's Pop's Symphony in his native Boston, at the ripe old age of 14, Navarro switched to the saxophone and was hired by Meyer Davis to head a Davis band at the Bath Club on Miami Beach.

This was at the advanced age of 16, surely making Navarro the youngest leader of any band perhaps in history. Later, after playing several engagements for the Kraft (of Kraft cheese) family, Al got the bug to play with the big name bands, then at their zenith prior to World War II. He worked with Charlie Barnet's orchestra, helping make such hit records as "Cherokee" and "I Understand," and the late Tommy Dorsey's band.

For three successive years, 1936-38, Al was named by the trade publications "Downbeat," "Variety" and "Billboard" one of the three top jazz clarinetists in the country. The two ahead of him were guys named Benny Goodman and Artie Shaw.

Finally tiring of big band life, Navarro returned to Boston, where he entered into partnership in a theatrical booking agency. He was unable to restrain himself from also leading bands, however, and song stylist Hildegarde, then at the peak of her career, soon heard him and persuaded him to be her personal orchestra conductor.

Al conducted the orchestra for Hildegarde's radio show, supper club acts and her records. As an off-shoot, he also made 70 records for Muzak, then in its infancy, which are played over its leased wires even today.

All this led to Navarro plunging had-first back into the society music field. Dan Topping, Atwater Kent, Robert Young, Mrs. Earl T. Smith, the Campbell (of Campbell soup) family were among the many clamoring for his services.

It was nothing unusual for a Navarro orchestra to consist of 50 musicians for a Friday night Waltz Party at Boston's Somerset Hotel or for soirees at Bar Harbor, Maine.

After settling in Palm Beach and playing in the leading hotels on Florida's east coast, Navarro attracted the attention of Grosse Pointe interests while performing at the 1400-foot Palm Beach Towers.

He came here in 1957 with the idea of staying only a short time, quickly won the fancy of Grosse Pointers, met his wife while playing for a Grosse Pointe Country Club party and wound up an established member of the community, although he still performs frequently at

Discuss Opera Plans

Plans for the Metropolitan Opera's five-day appearance in Detroit next spring are discussed by MRS. HENRY FORD II, general chairman, and FRANK W. DONOVAN, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association. The Metropolitan will present evening performances at Masonic Temple on May 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27. The opening night again will be a partial benefit for the Detroit Museum of Art Founders Society.

Supper Club Party This Friday at GPHYC

Yonely, International Humorist, and Singer Belinda Blanchard to Star at Dinner Dance; J. Earl Fraser and Charles A. J. Kotcher on Committee

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's Supper Club Party this Friday, promises a merry holiday mood, according to GPHYC's entertainment committee headed by J. Earl Fraser, chairman, and Charles A. J. Kotcher, vice chairman.

It's to be a black tie affair, full of fun and full of surprises, with cocktails in the grill room from 7 o'clock and dinner and dancing in the main dining room from 8 p.m. on.

True to its "Supper Club Party" name, the floor show at 10 o'clock will be a big feature of the evening. Star of the show is to be the international musical humorist, Yonely. It will be a return engagement by popular request for Belinda Blanchard who sang at the club a few weeks ago.

Arthur Quatro and his orchestra will provide their ever-so-danceable music.

The L. George Hoopers have reserved a table for 14, their guests to be the Jack W. Hoopers, the Frank Birds, the John E. Brennans, the George Stovers, and the Robert Andersons and William Cawthorns of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Weidler's guests will be the Tom H. Bartels, the Robert Wheels and the John A. Demorests. The Leo Schults will be hosts to the Carl E. Smiths, the William Browns, Mrs. Stuart Pardee and Lawrence Beardsley.

Mrs. Henry J. Mok's group will include Henry Schlacter of Birmingham, the Fred S. Newmans, and the Lorenzo D. Brownings. Guests of the Fred A. Hoods Jr. will be the Alfred L. Gostows of the Pointe and the Harold Wecklers and Rinehart Brights of Bloomfield Hills.

Among others with reservations are the Alphonse DePaepes, the E. C. Quinns, the Earl Frasers, the Walter Probits.

DINER MISSES COAT

George D. Gray of 766 Middlesex, told Park police on Sunday, November 29, that while he was in a Jefferson avenue restaurant, someone stole his overcoat, which he had placed on a hanger while eating. He said his car keys were in the pocket of the coat. He valued the loss at $100.

Pierce Teacher To Appear on TV

Henry Hutton of the Pierce Junior High School staff is scheduled to appear on a local television program Tuesday, December 8. He will be interviewed by Larry McCann on "Detroit Today," telecast by WXYZ (Channel 7) at 11:45 a.m.

Mr. Hutton is an exchange teacher from Great Britain. He and his wife, who is teaching at Defer Elementary School, have exchanged places with two local teachers for this year.

Miss Anne Wallace of Trombly School and Charles Jorgensen of Pierce are the local teachers whose places the Huttons have taken. They are teaching in schools in the Liverpool, England, area.

Leading spots in the South and East.

The Navarros have a new daughter, Terry Winslow, just five weeks old, and a daughter by Mrs. Navarro's previous marriage, Lynne, 8, a third-grader at Grosse Pointe University School.

In addition to his nightly engagement at the Roostertail, the sax-and-clarinet artist has performed most recently at the Crazy Hat Ball at Lochmoor and the Ohio State-Michigan Ball.

String Ensemble to Give Yule Concert Friday

The Detroit Institute of Musical Art will present a Christmas Concert Friday at Broughton Hall at 8 o'clock.

The string ensemble with Esther A. V. Johnson, director, will perform as will a mixed chorus under the direction of Henry Kolbe.

The Gift Of Love

In almost 2,000 years it hasn't changed a bit. There always comes some quiet time along the Eve or on the Day when Love is born again in each of us. Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor still of the first parish he came into forty-two years ago and minister of the National Radio Pulpit since 1928, recalls the way this Love unfolds in him each year, and tells about the kind of Christmas he is looking forward to.

The Town Where Kindness Lives

Phyllis McGinley is the prize-winning poet and author of such books as A Short Walk From The Station, Pocketful of Wry, and, most recently, The Province Of The Heart. In private life she is married to Charles Hayden and is the mother of Julia and Phyllis. They live in the-suburbs in a rambling, comfortable house on a quiet, tree-lined lane, and this month we offer her tribute to the sleepy, seaside village that has been their home for over 20 years.

Have A Hearth

Here's good news for everyone but Santa. There are now compact, portable fireplaces you can buy in many styles and sizes, colors, and designs that you can put almost anywhere to add yet another touch of beauty and warmth to your house. We present four ways to have your "fake" and heat it, too, this winter.

Remodeled By The Owners

The Paul Monaghans and their three children—Carol, 5, Alec, 3, and Peter, 10 months—love life on Philadelphia's Main Line, and they love living in the 1890 carriage house they did over themselves. We photograph it in this issue as seventh in our series on Unusual Suburban Homes.

Where can you always find a good Baby Sitter?

BY JEAN WEST

Young families in Silver Spring, Maryland, have the answer

WHEN we moved to Silver Spring, my husband and I were too busy arranging and rearranging furniture, planting our first vegetable garden, digging weeds and encouraging new grass, and becoming acquainted with our neighbors to think much of going out dancing, or to the movies, or visiting our city friends.

Gradually, however, the furniture was arranged to our liking, we reaped our small harvest of vegetables, the grass grew thicker and the weeds thinner, and we once again had the feeling we'd like to leave the children for a few hours at least and go out on the town, just the two of us.

Having so decided, we found ourselves facing a problem never encountered in the city. Here we were, in a spanking new house, with a spanking new baby boy, and every couple was just like us—too much like us. We couldn't find any grandmothers in the vicinity, and only two teen-agers, and they weren't much interested in baby-sitting.

We tried exchanging sittings with one or two of our neighbors. But to our disappointment this didn't work out too well—one would want to go out three nights a week or so, the other only once a month. Or there would be a neighborhood get-together, and everyone would want to go out, but no one would want to sit.

Then four of us hit upon an idea—why not form a cooperative baby-sitter's group where a pool of parents would undertake to sit for each other? We went around door-to-door, covering three blocks, passing out flyers we had made, asking anyone interested in such a venture to come to a meeting. To our amazement twenty women attended, and our cooperative was formed.

The club grew until we had to close the membership. Today, of the original four members only one remains, but the group is very active and all members are happy. Although the group was formed because of a scarcity of baby sitters, many mothers join to save money. Others feel more relaxed when they are out, knowing that an experienced mother is in charge.

Since forming our club, we have found that there is nothing very unusual about our situation or our solution. Parents in other places have had the same idea, and organized, so that when one couple wanted to go out, they could call on another parent to come in to sit with their children.

FOR THOSE who may not be acquainted with the workings of a baby-sitters' cooperative, here is a list of the rules which have helped to make our club an efficient body:

1. Each member, selected in alphabetical order, will be secretary for a period of one-half month.
2. Upon request, the secretary will obtain a sitter from the list of members, calling first those owing the most hours. The sitter will then notify the person for whom the appointment was made.
3. The secretary will balance the books each half month.
4. Within one or two days after the sitting, the sitter will inform the secretary as to the number of hours she stayed.
5. For daytime care the children will be brought to the sitter's house. One child counts as single time; two or more children count as double time. Daytime sitting is voluntary.
6. Double time is counted after 12 midnight on weekdays and Sundays, and after 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.
7. If a sitter is engaged for a certain hour, time is counted from that hour, even when the parent is late picking the sitter up.
8. Subject to "employer's" approval, husbands may be sitters.
9. Double time must be counted if a sitter is required to care for two families at the same time.
10. Any sitting done before 7 p.m. is considered daytime sitting.
11. If a member refuses to sit when she has no other engagements, the club can ask that member to leave the group. Persons violating the rules of the club will be dropped unless able to show good reason for such action.

12. Sitter is to be picked up and taken home.

13. "Employers" must leave a doctor's number and the telephone number at which they can be reached.

14. Holiday sitting is not compulsory.

15. Members are required either to use the service or sit twice a month—i.e., must use the club twice each month.

16. For an evening sitting, children should be in the house and ready for bed. Members should not expect to get a sitter when the children are sick.

17. The most time which can be owed or collected is 15 hours. After this limit, one must sit or use the service before owing or accumulating more hours.

18. Members resigning from the club are asked to pay 50 cents per hour for time owed or to serve the time before leaving.

19. Members who are temporarily unable to serve or require service can become inactive for a period not to exceed 3 months. A member who needs to use the club during this time may use up to 18 hours. This rule applies in pregnancy, sickness, and deaths.

20. Members should not make sitting arrangements without the knowledge of the club's secretary.

21. Meetings will be held every six months on the last Monday of the month. The 12 secretaries of the period will act as hostesses.

22. Membership is limited to 30.

One of those treasures a mother would willingly abandon now and then to a good baby sitter.

Ken-L-Biskit!

Why is Ken-L-Biskit the daily diet at America's top kennels?

Why is it the official food at more American Kennel Club dog shows than all other dog foods combined?

Economy? Yes! Cup for cup kibble-sized Ken-L-Biskit provides more nutrition than most other dry dog foods—so you can feed less because this food does more.

Goodness? That's important too. Dogs get more out of Ken-L-Biskit. Rich in meat protein. More digestible because it's baked. There's less waste.

But the real appeal is the fact that dogs eat it up. They like it. They love it! An empty feeding bowl is all the proof you need.

What would be your perfect Christmas? Compare your expectation with this famous churchman's

The Christmas

WHAT do you want for Christmas? Suppose each member of the family made out a list of gifts desired. And then on Christmas morning each found all the items asked for. Would not that make a perfect Christmas? Or would it?

Instead of asking what do we want for Christmas, I am going to consider the Christmas we want. And I shall write frankly in the first person.

To be really honest I should have to confess that I want the kind of Christmas "that Mother used to make." I do not expect to ride in a bobsled through the snow to the little country church with its community Christmas tree, but I have not outgrown the nostalgia for the holiday season of my boyhood. And despite the change of trimmings, I desire to keep the Christmas spirit in such a way that my children and grandchildren will not lose the longing for it when they grow up.

I want a Christmas that begins the evening before. The thrill of expectancy is in the air. Little children are preparing surprises for their parents. Mothers are adding those touches which make sons and daughters back from school or college feel how good it is to come home. The tree is lighted—yes, I should want a

I Want

Christmas tree even if I were forced to live alone.

And then as midnight approaches, I want Christmas carols. If there is no church within reasonable reach, it is good to gather around the piano as a family and sing "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "The First Noel" and "Silent Night, Holy Night." But I find it still better to join with fellow worshippers in a church, where the music and candlelight mellow our mood, to hear again the story that never grows old.

It is already clear that I want to celebrate Christmas in a home. Twice in my lifetime I have spent Christmas Day in hotels. Once I was in New Delhi, India, where the hotel had not even any decorations to mark the day. The other hotel was in America, and the managers did much to make it a festive occasion. Although the hotel announced in the rooms, "This is your home away from home," I could not feel at home there on Christmas Day. No more Christmases for me away from home, if I can help it!

The Babe born in Bethlehem kindles feelings which call for a home to give them brightest glow. Christmas is not only the day which commemorates the birth of the world's best child but also the day when love at its best is born in each of us. Even the Old Scrooges feel the lure of love and look longingly into the windows of homes where Tiny Tims make glad the heart.

Yet much as I want a Christmas in a home, I prefer not to spend it in my own home. Surprised? Well, I live in a city apartment, and I like a house for Christmas. Just about the loveliest sight I know is a house in Christmas evening dress—wreaths of holly on the door, red bells in the windows, the lights of a Christmas tree shining within, and then to make it perfect, the eaves framed in the white of snow. God does not always guarantee us a white Christmas, but we can control the other colors.

Yes, I hope to hie me from my city apartment to a home in the suburbs where my daughter and her husband live. And would you guess it? There are four little grandchildren in that same house. Some people say that it takes children to make Christmas. I do not quite subscribe to that, for the Christmas spirit can be wherever love is, and love is not limited to children. But little ones do add a flavor of expectancy and excitement. In them we see the pure springs from which flow the stream of Christmas joy.

About the only time I ever enjoy being pulled out of bed is on Christmas morning, when little grandchildren tug at me. They are impatient to get through breakfast and get at the presents stacked around the Christmas tree. But two years ago I saw a little seven-year-old boy, who could not wait through breakfast, slip shyly up behind his father and put at his plate a letter-rack which he had made for him at school. That gesture made me realize the truth that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

In our family we open the presents one at a time so that all eight of us can share the joy of each recipient. And I have noted the extra sparkle in little Lisa's eyes when Mother or Father opens a package prepared by her. And so with the other children. Oh, they like to get gifts. Their little fingers fumble feverishly in untying the knots, and they squeal with delight at what they discover. But they stop, look, and listen when others open the gifts they have given.

ERICH Fromm says that a child does not really learn what love is until he is about eight years old. Up to that time he receives the love of others, but at about that age he awakens to the joy of giving to others. If Fromm is right, then Christmas is the ideal setting for the birth of love in a child's heart.

After the gifts have been distributed, I want some fun. Yes, and some feasting. The feasting need not be extravagant, and the fun should not be artificial. To sit as a group while a Christmas story is read (and for me Dickens' "Christmas Carol" never loses its appeal); perhaps to play one of the new games which comes from under the Christmas tree; to sing again a few carols; to hear the students home from school recount some experiences; to read Christmas cards from friends who remember us; and most of all, to look at one another until we really see each other (which the little girl in Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" said we never do)—these are some of the things which make the Christmas I want.

The story of Bethlehem calls us back to the simple essentials of life—the beauty and wonder of childhood, the tender love of parents, the adoration of the humble, and the humility of the wise. Let us not lose the essence of Bethlehem in the froth of our modern Babels.

UNUSUAL SUBURBAN HOME

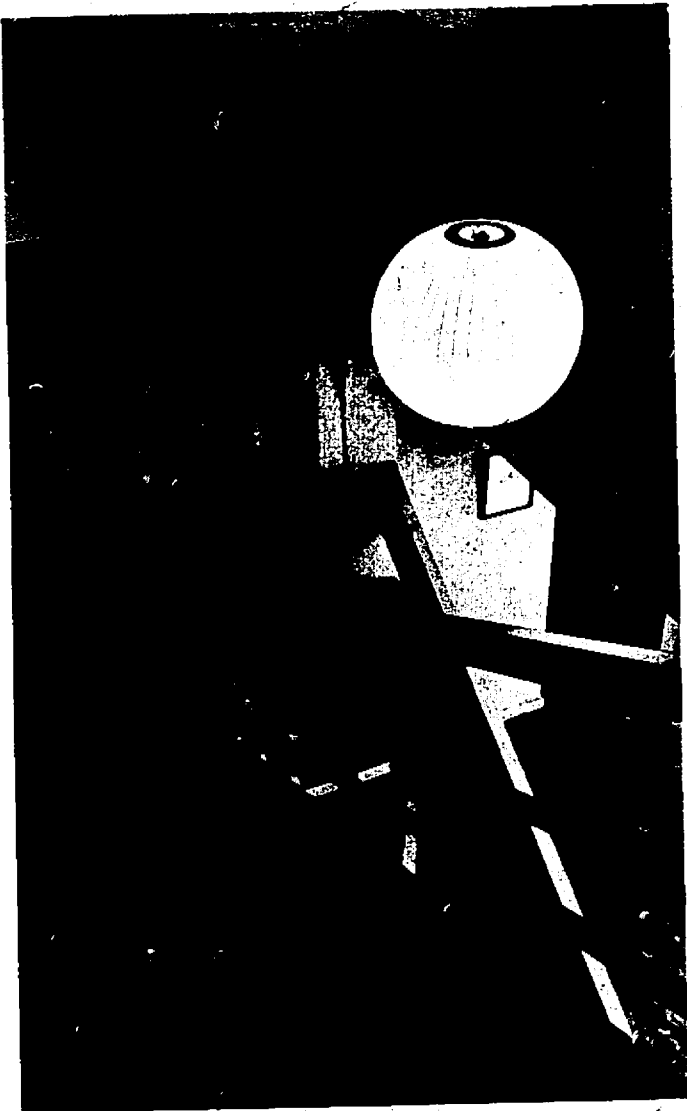

The Paul Monaghans'
CARRIAGE HOUSE

It was built in Gladwyne, Pa., in the '90s, and it looks it—outside. Inside, it opens on a whole new world.

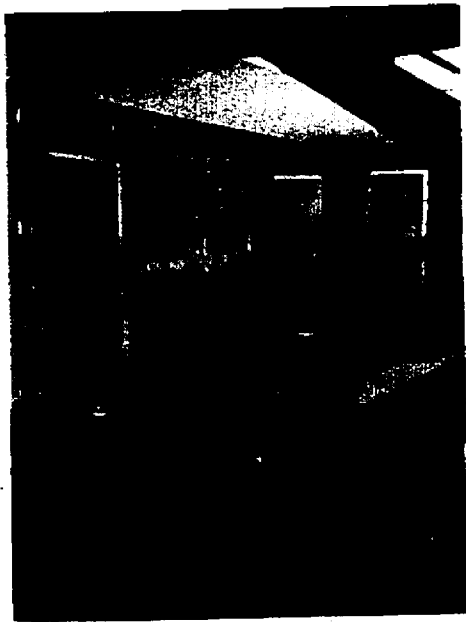

Like most people on Philadelphia's "Main Line," the Monaghans live a great deal out of doors. Note the plastic screens, above and below, continued from terrace into living room, screening the entrance outside, hallway inside.

IN ONE BAY of the living room, which is still big enough to drive a horse and carriage through, the Monaghans put up the staircase above, which ascends with broad open treads to the bedrooms on the second floor. Designed by Mr. Monaghan, who is an architect, the stairway caused much head-shaking (it is attached to the floor at only one point), but he built it anyway and today it not only "works" but also serves to underline the spaciousness and freedom of the room that contains it.

Set against a glowing red wall, a massive XVIIth-century chest is a featured piece in the carriage-house living room.

I know a charming lady who after a number of years of married life here is now separated from her husband. She is still part of the circle as she always was, for we do not believe we must go in pairs, like the animals in the Ark. But we do not know why the separation occurred, and we have never inquired, considering that the simplest sort of kindness.

When you go away on a short holiday, what do you do with your children? Hire a strange nursemaid if the ménage does not already include one? We are apt to drop them off casually with friends—there is always room. I know a couple with five descendants all under twelve who went to Key West for three weeks on their first vacation together in years. For this event they did engage a supposedly capable woman, paying her a king's ransom. Some days before they were expected back, the woman announced to the family across the street that she wasn't feeling so well and thought she'd have to leave. Did the family across the street—young, with four children of their own packed away in eight rooms—have the kindness to wire the couple at once? Certainly not. They invited the entire tribe of five to stay with them so that the vacation could proceed.

WE EXPECT mercies here, not only from ourselves but from others. We make friends with those who are only part-time villagers. We expect the bus-driver to back up for us if we are late at the stop. We expect him to deal justly with the children he takes to and from school and feel we need give him nothing in return except our admiration. Once when my husband was delayed on a rainy night and I could not meet him, the driver carried him to our door, two blocks off the route. And who in the city has for friend and ally the red-haired man who delivers parcels from the great stores in town? We have. We meet him in the village drugstore, drinking coffee, and he obligingly burrows into the back of his truck for the C.O.D. package we would not have been home to receive. We entrust him with messages for other friends. Once he sat for half an hour with a baby when the baby's mother was called suddenly uptown. If we know him by no other name except "Red," that is not a mark of disrespect. We simply began on a first-name basis.

I find ours a difficult village to live up to. Because I am not so busy as most householders here, I guard my free time more jealously. I shudder, for instance, to think of what it would have cost me to be as generous as another neighbor down the block. She shares with me Jessie, a "cleaning woman" of surpassing talent. Jessie has two daughters, both of whom take piano lessons at public school. They own a childish aptitude but no piano, so my friend permits them to practice an hour a day each on her own instrument. "Tum-tum-tum, diddle-diddle-dley," it goes every afternoon for two horrendous hours. I, who love Jessie more dearly than a sister, would sooner part with her forever than suffer such an ordeal. Yet I have never heard my friend mention that she considers her generosity more than natural.

The war—one of the wars—was in progress then, and the affair revolved about a Japanese family living not far from us. I shall call them the Yamotbs. They were pleasant people who spoke English well and were interested in politics only to the extent that they had left Japan because they preferred democratic ways. Mr. Yamoto commuted with the other husbands, and Mrs. Yamoto attended sessions of the P.T.A. and compared notes with the other wives on report cards and pressure cookers. Then an ugly thing occurred. The Yamotos cultivated, like all of us, a vegetable garden where the back lawn used to spread, and one sweet spring night it was broken into and uprooted. Who the vandals were it was never discovered. I think we all prayed that it was children's work. Surely we did not harbor here an adult mind so twisted and vindictive as to consider the outrage a patriotic act! The news shocked me into nausea. Hate, the kind of hate that darkened Europe, seemed to be casting its shadow on our own people. But, true to my city training, shock merely numbed me. I thought of atonement in terms of letters to the papers; my neighbors protested less and did more. By evening the garden had been replanted. There were no public statements, no petitions, no paid protests. Simply, people with gardens of their own came hurrying spontaneously to the rescue with plants, with seedlings, with spades for digging and stakes to drive into the ground. By an act of common love we wiped out our uncommon shame.

Oh, this is no Eden. We have our bores and our braggarts, our snobs and our slanderers. But I believe the scales, if there were scales to measure human nature, would tip heavily in the right direction. Kindness has become a way of life most of us attempt. We do not try to legislate our neighbor. And when we cannot love him, we at least can like him well enough.

I sat three summers before last in a church crowded to the final aisles. It was seven-thirty of a weekday morning, but a third of the village was there. The polio epidemic had struck at a young neighbor of ours and her three-month-old baby; we had come to pray for them. I still recall the emotion of the moment. A few phone calls had been made the night before, a few messages passed. And here we were—the lazy, the beset, the late risers—the men on the way to the 8:02, the women with children still asleep at home. I doubt that we were all stout believers in the power of prayer. But it was the only gift left to offer.

As the world grows colder and darker, we need to remember these things. There must be thousands of villages as old-fashioned as ours, warmed by the hearth-fires of compassion. Surely a flame so kindled and so fed can never be altogether extinguished.

OF COURSE, I betray myself when I dwell on such simple instances. The cocoon is still around me, so I peer from it, astonished at what others take for granted. I am astonished at the kindness of policemen stationed at school crossings. I marvel at the patience of firemen rescuing kittens from trees, of the municipal employee who spent half an afternoon explaining the garbage-disposal system to one of my daughters, an officer of her Civics Club. I enjoy the fact that one can never walk to the business section without being offered a lift by every passing driver, stranger or no.

I grow more accustomed, as the years pass, to accepting kindness. But I have never ceased to cherish with affection and with pride an incident that happened soon after we had moved here. I think it was then I began to collect the flowers for my garland, as children collect chestnuts in the fall, valuing them for their number rather than their use.

Fireplaces To Take Home

They are portable... they fit any room... and they can be installed in half a day

LIKE all other fireplaces, the fireplaces you see here burn wood, coal, or charcoal. They draw through an ordinary chimney flue (if you lack a chimney, you can make the necessary connection by cutting through ceiling and roof). Being light, these models require no supporting construction, and being portable, they can be moved when you move. Installation, about $50.

I Brought An Apple Home Last Night...

BY CHRISTINA PAPPAS

I brought an apple home last night.

It wasn't on my list, but they were carolling in town, the snow was falling, and my glasses fogged as I pushed through the light and glitter of the market.

I reached out for a cart, and blinked, and closed my eyes and opened them again, and there was Santa.

There, among the lettuce and the plums, the oranges and grapes, was Santa.

Suddenly I was a little girl again and we were making Santas from the big red plump delicious apples and it was before Christmas and there was nothing too little or too large to think of to do but that we had to do it and there was never time for everything.

I caught my breath and took the apple,
the big red juicy apple,

And flew along the aisles, past the pastries, past the teas to the spices for the cloves...
cloves for eyes... marshmallows and almonds—head and feet—then quickly quickly to the raisins... cotton, glue, and toothpicks are at home and certainly enough red paper to make a hundred little hats.

I held the apple in my hand and wouldn't let them wrap it with the rest.

Glasses fogged now, not with cold but with remembering, I took the car-keys out and started home, with Santa safe and smiling on the dash.

LINGONBERRY ICE

The flavors of meat and poultry are pleasantly accentuated by this refreshing ruby-red ice.

To Prepare: 10 min.

To Freeze: 2-3 hrs.

- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
- 1 1/4 cups very hot water
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 14-oz. jar lingonberries
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

1. Pour the cold water into a small cup or custard cup. Sprinkle the gelatin evenly over the water. Let stand about 5 min. to soften.
2. Add softened gelatin to very hot water; stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Cool. Blend in lingonberries (sieved, if desired) and lemon juice.
3. Pour mixture into a refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm (2 to 3 hrs.), stirring two or three times. To serve, cut into squares.

1 1/2 pts. ice

SWEET POTATO-RICE STUFFING

For additional servings, prepare a casserole of this stuffing. Heat uncovered in a 325° F oven 20 to 25 min.

To Prepare: 35 min.

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped celery
- 1 1/2 cups chopped onion
- 2 cups packaged precooked rice
- 2 1/2 cups quick chicken broth (dissolve 3 chicken bouillon cubes in 2 1/2 cups hot water)
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 teaspoon ground coriander
- 3/4 teaspoon crushed rosemary
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten

- 1 1-lb. 2-oz. can vacuum-packed sweet potatoes, cut in 1/2-in. pieces

1. Heat butter in a large heavy skillet having a tight-fitting cover. Stir in celery, onion, and rice. Cook over low heat until rice is golden yellow; stir occasionally with a spoon.
2. Stir in 2 cups of the chicken broth and a mixture of the brown sugar, salt, pepper, coriander, rosemary, and ginger. Cover skillet. Bring mixture to boiling and cook over low heat 15 min., or until rice is tender. Set aside to cool.
3. Mix the eggs with remaining 1/2 cup chicken broth. Blend into the rice mixture. Add sweet potatoes; toss gently. Lightly spoon into body and neck cavities of turkey (do not pack).

Stuffing for two 6- to 8-lb. turkeys

SWEDISH GINGERSNAPS (Pepparkakor)

The spicy fragrance of these cookies is part of the wonderful aroma of a Swedish Christmas. Roll the cookies as thin as parchment.

To Prepare: 25 min.

To Bake: 6-8 min.

- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 cup butter
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 1/2 teaspoons dark corn sirup
- Whole blanched almonds (about 10), cut in small pieces

1. Sift together the first 5 ingredients. Set aside.
2. Cream butter until softened. Add sugar gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition. Add egg and corn sirup gradually, beating thoroughly after each addition.
3. Mixing only until blended after each addition, add dry ingredients in thirds. Chill in refrigerator several hours.
4. Remove a portion of the chilled dough at a time and place on a lightly floured surface. Roll about 1/16 in. thick. Cut with lightly floured cookie cutters into various shapes. Press one piece of almond onto the center of each cookie. Transfer cookies to ungreased cookie sheets.
5. Bake at 375° F 6 to 8 min. Carefully remove cookies to cooling racks to cool completely.

CHRISTMAS TREE DESSERT

Using one stick from a package of cream puff mix, prepare 32 miniature puffs. Bake according to directions on package. Cool and cut off tops. Fill each shell with about 1 tablespoon of Lemon Whipped Cream, Cocoa Whipped Cream, or Mocha-Cocoa Whipped Cream. Replace tops. To form tree, arrange filled cream puffs in a tree shape on a serving dish. For the "lights" nestle candied cherries decoratively on the tree. (See photo.)

LEMON WHIPPED CREAM

To Prepare: 10 min.

- 1 cup chilled whipping cream
- ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- Few grains salt
- Few grains nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice

1. Using a chilled bowl and beater, beat whipping cream until cream stands in peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright.
2. With final few strokes, beat in the sugar, lemon peel, salt, and nutmeg. Blend in the lemon juice one teaspoon at a time. Use as a filling for miniature cream puffs. Serve filled puffs with frozen sliced strawberries, thawed.

About 2 cups whipped cream

COCOA WHIPPED CREAM

To Prepare: 10 min.

To Chill: 2 hrs.

- ¼ cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons Dutch process cocoa
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

1. Mix all ingredients together in a bowl in order listed. Chill 2 hrs. or longer. Chill a rotary beater.
2. Beat chilled mixture with chilled rotary beater until cream stands in peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright. Use as a filling for miniature cream puffs. Serve filled puffs with chocolate sauce.

About 2 cups whipped cream

MOCHA-COCOA WHIPPED CREAM

Follow recipe for Cocoa Whipped Cream. Add 2 teaspoons instant coffee to the bowl after adding cocoa. Decrease vanilla extract to 1½ teaspoons.

FABULOUS CHEESE MOUSSE

A cool and smooth appetizer—this mousse is a subtle combination of the noble flavors of Roquefort and Camembert cheeses.

To Prepare: 25 min.

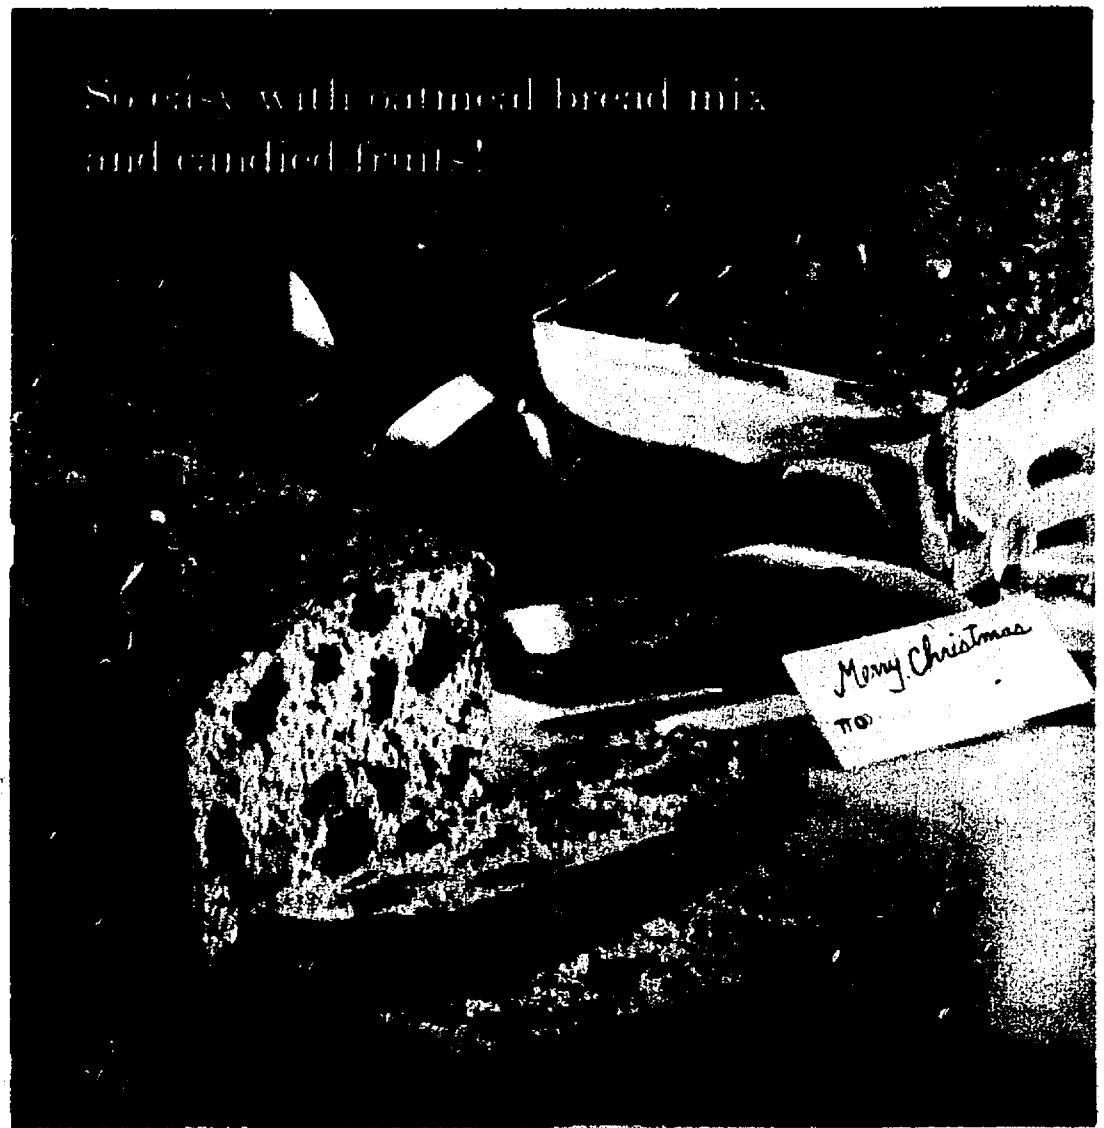

To Chill: 3 hrs.

- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon (1 env.) unflavored gelatin
- 3¾ oz. (3 1¼-oz. pkgs.) Roquefort cheese
- 2¾ oz. (2 1½-oz. pkgs.) Camembert cheese
- 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon sherry
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ cup chilled whipping cream
- 1 egg white

1. Lightly oil a fancy 1-pt. mold with salad or cooking oil (not olive oil); set aside to drain. Chill a small bowl and rotary beater.
2. Pour the cold water into a small cup or custard cup. Sprinkle the gelatin evenly over the water. Let stand about 5 min. to soften. Dissolve completely by placing cup over very hot water.
3. Force the Roquefort and Camembert cheeses through a fine sieve. Blend in the egg yolk, sherry, and Worcestershire sauce. Stir the dissolved gelatin and add to the cheese mixture, blending thoroughly.
4. Using the chilled bowl and beater, beat whipping cream until it is of medium consistency (piles softly).
5. Using clean beater, beat egg white until rounded peaks are formed. Fold whipped cream and egg white into the cheese mixture. Turn into the mold. Chill until firm.
6. Unmold onto chilled plate and garnish with sliced pimiento-stuffed olives. Serve with crackers.

The ideal mother-in-law "owns a yacht and stays on it," according to Billie Burke in her new book WITH POWDER ON MY NOSE.

BOOKS

PEANUTS and Hazel are with us—'tis the season to be jolly. THE HAZEL JUBILEE contains 350 cartoons (selected from her 16 years' association with artist Ted Key). Hazel reigns supreme over the Baxter household. Voice of authority on any subject from kite flying to baseball to politics, friend of all pets and children, spontaneous and irrepressible, Hazel is at her all-time best. (Dutton, $3.95)

PEANUTS REVISITED—Old and new favorites by Charles A. Schulz. Here is Charlie Brown pondering over life's vast problems; Schroeder, ever the artist at heart; Linus, lost and afraid without his favorite blanket; Lucy, her philosophical comments that sting with truth; and Snoopy, so human in every way—well, almost. (Rinehart, $2.95)

WITH POWDER ON MY NOSE—Billie Burke chats happily and frankly to women of all ages on several subjects close to their hearts—clothes and appearance, diet and exercise, the mother-in-law, and the younger generation. Of special interest to your daughter or mother are these chapters: "The Trouble with Women," "With a Possum on My Head," and "Clothes—and the Shape You're In." (Coward-McCann, $3.95)

PREPOSTEROUS PAPA—An affectionate portrait by Lewis Meyer of his father, who settled in Oklahoma. Papa started out in the dry goods business, but before long the land bug bit him hard. He bought acres upon acres, boasted that he was the "only Jewish farmer in Oklahoma," tried to raise onions, run a chicken farm, and start a nursery—all without success—until one day black geysers burst everywhere. The discovery of oil is only one of the many happy chapters in Papa's fruitful life. (World, $3.95)

HAWAII—James A. Michener begins this chronicle with the birth of the volcanic islands. About a thousand years ago, the adventurous Polynesians came and, centuries later, well-meaning missionaries, who brought new and strange ways of living to a Stone Age society. Other groups came, the Chinese, the Japanese, and the Filipinos, each with different national customs. Ultimately, through association, education, and intermarriage, a new type of people was formed. Michener's novel emphasizes the triumphs and failures, the passions and hatreds, and the struggle for identity by the men and women of various countries who chose the islands for their new home. (Random House, $6.95)

THE HERO: CHARLES A. LINDBERGH AND THE AMERICAN DREAM—Kenneth S. Davis in his exciting biography reveals the amazing social phenomenon of mass adulation. After his solo flight, Lindbergh was transformed from a young pilot into a legendary god, and the public's thirst for hero-worship seemed insatiable. Lindbergh's private life is recounted with awareness and an understanding of the man and his time. (Doubleday, $4.95)

THE GESELL INSTITUTE PARTY BOOK—A very helpful handbook on how to give parties for all ages, from three to fifteen years. This guide, based on series of parties given by the Institute, describes and explains what works and what doesn't work. It concentrates on an important fact—the tremendous difference in the things that make successful parties for the various age groups. Types of entertainment and refreshment, number of guests, and the duration of the party all vary greatly from one age group to the next. By Ilg, Ames, Goodenough, Anderson. (Harper, $2.95)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: THE PRAIRIE YEARS AND THE WAR YEARS—Carl Sandburg has reduced his massive six-volume biography to three, and Dell has boxed the set in an attractive case. ($2.95)

EXODUS—Here in paperback is one of today's best sellers: the story of an American nurse and an Israeli freedom fighter caught in the most dramatic event of our century—the birth of a nation. Leon Uris. (Bantam, 75¢)

YOUR ADOLESCENT AT HOME AND IN SCHOOL—Written by a husband and wife team, Lawrence K. and Mary Frank, parents of six children. This book contains expert advice on how to understand and help teen-agers. Among the topics discussed are: homework, dating, physical changes. (Signet, 50¢)

Walter Slezak, Carroll Baker, and Katina Paxinou in THE MIRACLE, the story of a postulant who runs away from her convent to seek adventure.

What's New In

MOVIES

LIL' ABNER—Al Capp's whole menagerie of wacky comic-strip characters is brought almost intact from Broadway to the screen. A colorful, carefree musical with lots of laughs, good production numbers, curvaceous girls, and hillbilly charm.

THE LAST ANGRY MAN—Taken from Gerald Green's novel about a doctor in Brooklyn, outraged by a TV program which attempts to exploit his lifetime of selfless service for a sponsor's benefit. The doctor, magnificently played by Paul Muni, gets strong support from David Wayne as the TV producer.

ON THE BEACH—Deals with the last survivors of an atomic war that has wiped out all civilization except in southern Australia. The cast is headed by Gregory Peck as an American submarine commander and Ava Gardner as the Australian girl in love with him. Others are Fred Astaire in his first dramatic role, as an atomic scientist, and Anthony Perkins and Donna Anderson as an Australian couple.

BELOVED INFIDEL—Based on Sheila Graham's best seller about her love affair with F. Scott Fitzgerald, with Deborah Kerr and Gregory Peck in the leading roles. The film is built primarily on their romance rather than on any characterization of its famous hero, but it has its own appeal.

OPERATION PETTICOAT—A nonsensical farce about a patched-up submarine trying to get back from Manila to Hawaii at the outbreak of World War II. Skipper Cary Grant's efforts are hampered by the admiral's aide, Tony Curtis, and five Navy nurses. After dozens of hair-raising experiences, the submarine is finally saved by the resourcefulness of the nurses. Funny from beginning to end.

RECORDS

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU—An all-around Christmas record of a dozen vocals by leading pop artists: Frank Sinatra, Nat "King" Cole, Dean Martin, Les Baxter, and others. Potpourri of Yuletide spirit with something for everyone. (Capitol)

BURL IVES—CHEERS—A new group of songs by one of our greatest folk singers. Besides some of the old favorites, Ives turns his talents to madcap numbers such as "Lydia, The Tattooed Lady," "The Kling King Bird," and "Rebecca Came Back From Mecca." Hilariously funny record. (Decca)

CHRISTMAS SING ALONG WITH MITCH—You just can't help adding your own voice to these carols. Even if you don't remember all of the words, you can flex your vocal cords, since eight copies of the lyrics are included. (Columbia)

THE BANJO KINGS GO WEST—The Kings, Roberts and Roundtree, have pushed for the revival of the banjo. On this platter they ring out with "Home on the Range," "Texas Stomp," "Don't Fence Me In," and other western ditties. (Good Time Jazz)

BILLY TAYLOR—A piano and four flutes! This unusual ensemble of instruments shows without a doubt that the flute is a natural for small pop combos. It is light and airy, can be played with ease, and can express a variety of moods. The spinner includes "Lady Be Good," "The Day Is Ended," "How About You?" and some of Taylor's own compositions. (Riverside)

Books, Movies & Records

HANDEL: WATER MUSIC SUITE—HAYDN: SYMPHONY NO. 94—This fine recording shows how William Steinberg has added stature to the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, which has become one of our finest orchestral groups. Both pieces are handled with the deftness and delicacy needed for these beautiful 18th-century works, and both are witness to a wonderfully developed string section. One of the gems of the season—bravo Mr. Steinberg! (Capitol)

BARTOK CONCERTO FOR ORCHESTRA—Composed after Bartok came to this country, this work reveals a very sober and sometimes somber intensity. Ansermet and L'Orchestre Suisse Romande perform wonderfully. (London)

BACH—BRANDENBURG CONCERTOS—These six famous pieces have been recorded by Karl Munchinger and the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra. Although no two concertos are alike, the high quality of performance is consistent. (London)

MOZART-SCHUMANN-HAYDN—A fascinating record of wind-instrument virtuosity contrasting the Baroque and Romantic periods. Andre Pepin, flutist, plays Mozart, "Flute Concerto No. 2"; Edmond Leloir plays Schumann's "Adagio and Allegro for Horn"; and Paolo Longinotti plays Haydn's "Trumpet Concerto." (London)

HANDEL: MESSIAH—

A brilliant edition of the great oratorio. Eugene Ormandy directs the Philadelphia Orchestra, with Eileen Farrell, William Warfield, Martha Lipton, and Davis Cunningham as soloists. The chorus is sung by the great Mormon Tabernacle Choir of 375 voices which is one of the oldest and largest choral groups in the world. (Columbia)

THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD—This seldom-performed Gilbert and Sullivan opera, unlike their others, is not a social satire, but rather a melodrama set to music. The story tells of a young man saved from execution by some strange twist of fate. The songs are delightful and sound refreshingly new. (Angel)

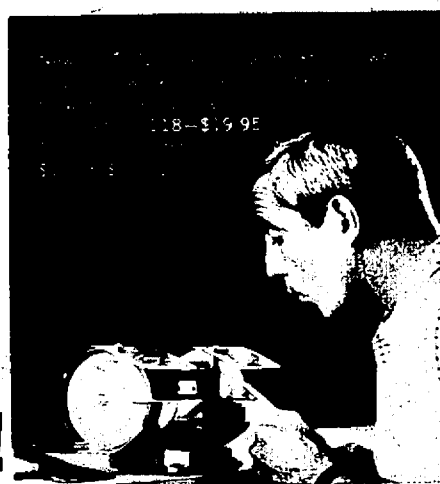

CALLAS SINGS VERDI AT LA SCALA—This prima donna, at the pinnacle of her success and vocal achievement, has given some of the finest performances ever heard at La Scala opera house. Her power and range are ideal for Verdi. On this disc of highlights, she sings arias from "Rigoletto," "The Force of Destiny," "A Masked Ball," and "Aida." (Angel)

Eugene Ormandy directs THE MESSIAH for Columbia.

White Christmas Ball to Help Hospital

The Fontbonne Auxiliary is sponsoring the party at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on December 12 which will benefit St. John Hospital in Morross road. Among those busy with the many preparations are MRS. PHILIP W. SLOAN, JR., left, invitation chairman; and MRS. JAMES A. HERRINGTON, program chairman.

Christmas Service Planned at Church

Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Will Hold Traditional Program On Tuesday, December 8

The traditional Christmas Service of the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will be held on Tuesday, December 8, at 1:30 p.m. The director of the Christmas program is Mrs. Donald Worley.

It is a dramatic presentation of some of the rituals, legends, and customs from the day the angels appeared before the shepherds saying "I bring you glad tidings of great joy" until the present time.

The Reverend Ben T. Tallman, Mrs. Paul Hykes, Mrs. Albert Conkey, Mrs. Clarence Maguire, Mrs. Kennard Jones, Mrs. Arlington F. Lechluder, Mrs. Albert Law, Mrs. Urban Boresh, Mrs. Walter Pflaumer, and Santa Claus will bring understanding of Christmas by helping to make known its glorious history.

They will be ably assisted by the choral group under the direction of Mr. Laurence Wilson, with Mrs. Joseph Jennings at the organ. Members of the choral group are: Mrs. D. H. Beasley, Mrs. R. K. Bokran, Mrs. Jan Nybor, Mrs. F. G. Yates, Mrs. Cedric Richner, Mrs. Fred Hyne, Mrs. Leon Jacobi, Mrs. James Cameron, Mrs. M. Haisten, Mrs. Charles Wright III, Mrs. John Kuivenen, and Mrs. Henry Weidner.

Following the program tea will be served in the gymnasium. Mrs. Floyd Straith is the tea chairman. Mrs. Harry Short is in charge of decorations, Kitchen chairman, Mrs. Ira Luty will be assisted by Mrs. Howard Quackenbush, and Mrs. George Christiansen, and Mrs. Henry Eckfeld. Mrs. Harold Merrill is dining room chairman. Members of the Book Review Group are contributing cookies. Some very imaginative decorations are being planned.

Reservations may be made by members for themselves and their guests by calling the church office, TU 5-3773. Baby sitters will be provided during the service; consequently young mothers are requested to notify the office of the number of young children they intend to bring, so that the program chairman, Mrs. Edward Gehrig, will have an idea of the number of sitters needed.

Congregational Groups Active

Groups 1, 2, 3, 6 and 8 of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Women's Association will meet at 12 o'clock on Tuesday, December 8, in the Lounge, for their regular business meeting.

Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock by the members of Group 2, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward Kothe. Make reservations with the Church Office, TU 4-3075. A Christmas program will be presented following the luncheon.

The highlight of the program will be monologues of Christmas stories as presented by Mrs. Sally Reynolds. This will be followed by group singing of Christmas carols.

Members are requested to bring their Christmas gifts for the Herman Kiefer Hospital to the December 8 meeting. These gifts, attractively wrapped, should designate, on the outside, whether they are for a man or woman. Personal gifts of pajamas, robes, slippers and toiletries, or stationery, stamps and fountain pens are greatly desired. The sleep-wear is worn for dress-up, so should be gayly colored and drip-dry. Do not bring handkerchiefs.

The members of Group 3 attended a Christmas luncheon on Wednesday, December 2, in the home of Mrs. Dale Seif. A talent auction was held.

Mrs. Howard Westphal will be the hostess for the members of Group 2 at a Christmas breakfast at 9:30 o'clock, on Friday, December 4, in her home at 72 Blairmoor court. There will be an auction of White Elephants to raise money for the Friendly Service project for the Dick Fagans.

The members of Group 1 have been invited to a Christmas brunch on Thursday, December 10, at 9:30 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Louis Charvat, 55 N. Edgewood. They, too, will hold an auction to raise money for the Missionary family, the Dick Fagans.

Group 5, the Professional Women's group, will hold its regular meeting in the Chapel Lounge at 7:30 o'clock, on Tuesday, December 8. This will be a Christmas Carol Meeting, and guests are invited.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

In an election year the Seven Eastern Women's Colleges have come up with a coup . . . Vice President Richard M. Nixon, will speak February 15 in the Ford Auditorium for the annual fund raising effort.

With Mr. Nixon will come his wife to be the guest of the committee at a luncheon following the lecture. Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr., has just returned from Washington, where she completed the final arrangements.

Mr. Nixon is following in the train of Edward R. Murrow and Wernher von Braun, who have also spoken for the committee to raise money for scholarships to send local girls to Wellesley, Bryn Mawr, Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith and Barnard Colleges.

On Wednesday the Seven Eastern Colleges held a committee meeting at the Women's City Club to plan this auspicious event and also chart details for the annual College Information Day to be held January 16.

Hollace G. Roberts, Regional director of The College Entrance Examination Board will be the guest speaker in a program designed especially for prospective students and the principals and counselors of Detroit area schools.

Junior League Party

Junior League's provisional members, who have already been feted at a luncheon by Mrs. Edward Posselius, will now enjoy cocktails.

The League will entertain the provisionals on Saturday at the Little Club from 5 to 7 o'clock. All League members have been invited and Mrs. William C. Loud, League president, will welcome the guests. Mrs. William Maynard Swan, Jr., chairman of the provisional class, will also be on hand to greet the honorees.

Home for the Holiday

The Thanksgiving holiday brought a group of weekend visitors to dine with their families. Mrs. Norman F. Robertson, of Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N.J., arrived to spend the week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, the Eric Strohs, of Grayton road.

The Strohs entertained at a cocktail party Friday night for Mrs. Robertson. They were all off early Saturday for the East where Mrs. Stroh will make a two week return visit with her mother.

Mrs. Fritz Bloy flew in from Sao Paulo, Brazil, to spend the holiday with her father, James J. Trudell, Jr., and brother, Jay, of Lincoln road.

Also in town were the John O. Hastings, of Indianapolis, Ind., with her parents, the Philip I. Worcesters, of Vendome road.

Christmas Cheer

More dates are starred on the party calendar beginning December 11 with the cocktail party the Harry S. Stahls are giving at the University Club.

On December 12 Mr. and Mrs. William C. Porter, of Hampton road, will have a cocktail party and on December 19 the Jack Flecks, of Vernier road, will do the same.

Capt. Thomas B. Tyree will bring his bride, the Pointe Garden Club to Meet

Pointe Garden Club members will meet for their annual Christmas "Kaffee Klatch" on Monday, December 7, in the home of Mrs. Kenneth M. McColl, of Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

The Choraleers, a group of 11 boys and girls who are members of Grosse Pointe High School's A Capella choir, will present a program of Christmas music under the direction of Mr. John Finch.

Co-hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Arthur C. Beaumont, Mrs. Robert C. Winter, and Mrs. V. Foster Hutchins.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Push it or pull it if you can—instead of lifting a heavy object. Home economists at Michigan State University say that industry has set 25 pounds as the maximum safe lift for a woman who is well.

Mrs. William Drevant.

The show is open to the public Tuesday through Friday and Sunday from 1 until 10 o'clock and Saturday from 9 until 6 o'clock.

Alice Aagesen First to Bow

Alice Read Aagesen, daughter of the Nicholas Schuyler Aagesens, of Lincoln Road, was the first of the holiday debutantes to be presented last Friday.

The deb and her parents received at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club at a reception. She wore an ivory brocade gown fashioned with a bateau neckline which dipped to a V in the back centered with a large bow. Her bouquet was of apricot shaded roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Aagesen received in a pale metallic gold gown and pinned orchids to her purse.

The deb's former roommate, Mary Stewart Barber, who made her debut in Evanston, Ill., last September, was the Aagesen's holiday house guest. She wore a white brocade sheath accented at the hemline with mink.

Alice and Mary returned Sunday evening to their studies at the University of Michigan.

Olivet College Mothers Holding Christmas Party

The Mothers club of Olivet College, located near Marshall, Ill., will sponsor a Christmas card party-dessert at the Women's City Club auditorium, December 10, at 1 o'clock.

The donation is $1.75 and proceeds will go to benefit Olivet College. There will be prizes.

For reservations call Mrs. Howard Reed at TU 5-7178 or Mrs. Eunella Mehling at TU 5-4168. All who are interested are cordially invited to come, and the club hopes, have a good time.

About the only midnight oil burned these days is gasoline.

Party Planned By Center Club

The Center Club of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial which welcomes all young single adult Grosse Pointers in their twenties and thirties, has changed its regular first Friday of the month date, for this month only, to the second Friday night, December 11. The change has been made so that the dance may more truly fall in the scope of the holiday season.

There will be a festive wassail bowl and refreshment board in the main dining room and a glittering Christmas tree in the main hall. Decorations will sparkle everywhere and of course, there will be carols sung around the Steinway before the evening is over.

Dates are not necessary, but every Grosse Pointer has the privilege of bringing a guest. The time is 8 to 12 p.m.

The Michigan State Highway Department has 55 permanent traffic recorders located at key locations throughout the state.

Sally Beardslee Weds Mr. Foster

Bride Wears Peau de Soie and Heirloom Brussels Lace for Rites Saturday in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Newlyweds Go to Puerto Rico

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David Foster, Jr., will make their home in Charleston, West Va., when they return from a wedding trip to Puerto Rico. They were married Saturday in Grosse Pointe-Memorial Church.

The bride is the former Sally Marie Beardslee, daughter of the Kenneth Reading Beardslee, of Whittier road, and her husband's parents are the senior Fosters, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

She chose a peau de soie gown fashioned with a boat neckline and bell shaped skirt accented with a large bow which fell into a chapel train.

Her heirloom Brussels lace veil extended beyond the train and she carried Easter lilies and ivy.

Mrs. Richard P. Tinkham, Jr., of Beaufort, S. C., matron of honor, wore a wine red satin frock and carried pink sweet-heart roses and ivy.

The bridesmaids, wearing identical gowns, were Mrs. William C. Beardslee, the bride's sister-in-law; Mrs. William B. Mullins, sister of the bridegroom, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Harry M. Jewett II, Mrs. Clune J. Walsh, Jr., Mrs. Marcus W. Smith, Mrs. Creighton W. Runette and Mrs. Charles W. Morris, Jr.

Mr. Foster was his son's best man and the usher corps included William C. Beardslee, Creighton W. Runette, Peter Radulovic, Jr., Stephen B. O'Donnell, Albert Horne Burchfield III, Hudson G. Samson, Jr., John Keene and John Kirby Tompkins III.

Following the reception at the Detroit Athletic Club the couple left on their wedding trip. Mrs. Foster was wearing a brown checked suit with all-grown accessories.

To Hang Yule Greens at 'Y'

The entire family will "get into the act" at the annual Christmas hanging of the greens at Central Branch YWCA, a Torch Drive agency, 2230 Witherell street, on Sunday afternoon, December 6.

Beginning at 3 p.m., tiny tots, their big brothers and sisters, and their parents will decorate the Christmas trees in the building's lounges and lobby.

To entertain them at their work, girls living in the YWCA residence will go from room to room singing carols.

A program, starting at 3:30 p.m., will present Gian Carlo Menotti's opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," sung by members of the Celeste Cole Opera Workshop. Mrs. Bernard Hundley, 12940 St. Mary's, chairman of the Central Branch Board of Management, will light the Yule log—which will be brought to the fireplace on a cart drawn by several children; and, finally, Santa Claus will make an appearance.

Serving as mistress-of-ceremonies throughout the afternoon will be two Y-Teens in medieval page costume, while other Y-Teens will keep the small children occupied in cutting out paper decorations for their own small Christmas trees. Chairman of the Christmas party, which is open to the public, is Mrs. Edgar Hahn, of 1221 Three Mile drive.

Others serving on arrangements committee are: Mrs. Christine Hatton, 4071 Scottien; Mrs. Leonard Slowin, 1124 Nottingham; Mrs. Marshall Irvin, 1925 Clements; Diane Schumann, 1100 Devonshire; Mrs. M. L. Van Dagens, 260 Moran; Mrs. Craig Keith, 1171 Bedford road; Mrs. John Robinson, 942 Temple; Mrs. Leroy Welch, 942 Temple; Mary Firmschild, 755 Harcourt; Julie Smith, 1922 Beaufait; Norma Austin, 8100 East Jefferson; and Mrs. Anna Lewis, 514 Mt. Vernon.

Former Pointer Reveals Truth in Grand Rapids

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Hubbell, of Grand Rapids, announce the engagement of their niece, Janice Ann McLeod, formerly of Roslyn road, to Patrick D. Reagan, son of the Frank Reagan, of Grand Rapids.

The bridegroom-elect is a senior at Michigan State University and the pair will be married in June.

There were 2,700 automobiles in Michigan when the State Highway Department was created in 1905. Today, Michigan has an estimated 3,200,000 registered motor vehicles.

Mrs. Dwight Donald Foster, Jr.

SALLY MARIE BEARDSLEE, daughter of the Kenneth Reading Beardslee, of Whittier road, was married Saturday in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Mr. Foster, son of the senior Fosters, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Wayne Offers PTA Workshop

Chairman of local and council PTA organizations will get assistance at a parent and family life education workshop, December 9, at the Wayne State University McGregor Memorial building.

Sponsoring the workshop, which will extend from 9 a.m. to 3:15 p.m., is the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers. The conference will emphasize the 1959-60 theme of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "Strengthening the Home—Source of Our Nation's Greatness."

Invited especially to participate in the workshop are the chairmen of the following PTA committees—character and spiritual education, citizenship, exception child, health, juvenile protection, legislation, mental health, pre-school, reading and library services, safety, program, magazine, and parent and family life education.

"This is a Michigan PTA project designed to help PTA local and council chairmen work more effectively by providing information, ideas and techniques," explains Mrs. Edward H. Lloyd, Southfield, chairman of the state parent and family life education committee.

Several chairmen of Michigan PTA committees will participate in the program. They are Mrs. Lloyd; Mrs. Belle Farley Murray, University of Michigan, consultant to the parent and family life education committee; Robert Fehse, Detroit, character and spiritual education chairman; Mrs. Kathryn Maxwell, Detroit, health and alcohol and narcotics; and Clifford Smart, Walled Lake, legislation.

Also participating will be Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett, Pontiac, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers; Otto Yntema, Kalamazoo, vice-president; Probate Judge, Arthur E. Moore, Pontiac, and Mrs. Evelyn Westerville, counselor and teacher of family living courses in Grosse Pointe High School; Dr. Hunter H. Comly, Children's Center of Metropolitan Detroit; and Dr. Ray Smittle, Wayne State University.

The Michigan State Highway Department is divided into 10 administrative divisions. District offices are located at Crystal Falls, Newberry, Cadillac, Alpena, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Pontiac and Redford.

Stewart-Becker Vows Exchanged

Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Followed by Reception at the Whittier; After Trip to New York They Will Live in St. Clair Shores

A mid-afternoon ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Saturday united in marriage Graechen Becker and James Ross Stewart. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McNair Becker, of Fisher road, and the bridegroom's parents are the late Gordon A. Stewarts, also of Fisher road. A reception followed at the Whittier.

The bride wore a gown of bouquet taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice and taffeta cummerbund. Alencon lace dotted with seed pearls trimmed the V shaped neckline and full skirt which fell into a circular train. A cap of taffeta and alencon lace held her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

The couple included in their wedding party Virginia Becker, maid of honor for her sister;

Margaret Stewart, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Donald McNair Becker, sister-in-law of the bride, bridesmaids.

The best man was Emery MacKenzie Hatch and Donald Schmitz, Bruce Bacon, Donald T. Mackinnon and William M. Browne Jr. were ushers.

After a trip to New York the couple will live in St. Clair Shores.

I am not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday and I love today. — William Allen White.

AAUW to Hear Singing Group

The German Madrigal Singers from the International Institute will present songs from a 700-year-old nativity play to the members of American Association of University Women and their husbands on Friday, December 4, at 8:30 p.m.; at the War Memorial. Dinner precedes the program.

Not wishing to relinquish performance of the arts to professionals, the Singers formed their singing circle or "Madrigalkreis" in 1957 with the hope of keeping alive the art of singing among the general populace, says their leader, Joachim Matthesius. Now numbering 14 members, the troupe, most of them fairly recent immigrants from Germany, come from all walks of life.

Hostesses for the dinner and Christmas program are Mrs. C. W. Wachner, chairman, assisted by Mesdames James J. Lightbody, Sheldon Drennan, Arthur T. Bersey, and Harold W. Merrill.

Engaged

December 26 is the date chosen by EVELYN ANNE CHRISTENSEN, daughter of the Francis M. Christensens, of Whittier road, for her marriage to James Richard Louwers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Louwers, of Somerset road. She will receive her degree in January from the University of Detroit where she is a member of Delta Zeta.

Mr. Louwers is an alumnus of the University of Detroit where he was affiliated with Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Muir-Wauters Troth Told

At a party Saturday evening in their Birmingham home, Mr. and Mrs. Anstole M. Wauters, announced the engagement of their daughter, Pauline, to William Ker Muir, Jr.

The bride-elect attended Quarton School and was graduated from St. Mary's in the Mountains, Littleton, N.J. She attended Wheaton College, Norton, Mass., and the Beaux Arts School in Geneva. She is an alumna of the University of Michigan.

Mr. Muir, son of the senior Muirs, of Ridge road, attended Detroit University School and was graduated from Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Conn. He attended Clifton College in Bristol, England, as an exchange student and was graduated from Yale University. He is also an alumnus of the University of Michigan Law School where he taught. He is currently living in New York.

The couple will be married January 16 in Mary Martha Chapel in Greenfield Village.

Boat Club Ball This Saturday

The Detroit Boat Club will open the Christmas season this Saturday, December 5, will be glittering "Gold and Silver Ball." Combining, as it does, the party of the month with the mid-season bowlers' jamboree, it will start the holiday-festivities off with eclat.

Special guests at the ball will be the bowlers of the Orchard Lake Country Club, who will bowl against the Boat Club in the afternoon and then join them for dinner and the ball that evening.

Under the chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. James Leahy, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. B. McColl and Edward Perkins for Orchard Lake, over 50 bowlers from there will be attending the playoffs and ball. Host chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wrinn are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodgers.

Highlight of the entertainment planned by the ball committee will be a presentation of the Arthur Murray dancers against a glittering background of silver trees trimmed with tiny gold balls and myriads of festive Christmas packages. Mr. and Mrs. Henry L.H. Russel, chairmen, with committee members, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Engstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Standish and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wrinn, have been busy for at least a week, making the trees and wrapping all sizes, and conditions of packages.

It will be a shock to men when they realize that thoughts that were fast enough for today are not fast enough for tomorrow. —Christopher Morley

Joan Heidt Marries Richard Gallagher

Pair Spk Vows Saturday in Our Lady Star of the Sea with a Reception Following at Detroit Yacht Club; Pair Travel to New York

Joan Heidt, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Heidt, of Fair court, and George Heidt, of Huntington Woods, spoke her marriage vows Saturday in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church to Richard Gallagher, son of the John Gallaghers, of Norwood drive.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of crystal white peau d'eglise. Pearl embroidered alencon lace bordered the portrait neckline and edged the bracelet length sleeves. The same lovely lace formed a narrow panel down the front of the bell shaped skirt, which swept in back to a court train.

Her, tiered veil of filmy illusion was held in place with a crown of intricately woven seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses, carnations and ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Richard Mutschall, was matron of honor in a flamingo red faille gown and matching headband trimmed in velvet.

James Gallagher was his brother's best man. Ushering were John Gallagher, Jr., Gilbert Pendolino and George Brady.

Creamy Fudge Drops

When you're making chocolate candy, use semi-sweet chocolate squares if you want the very best. Proof-positive is to be seen and tasted—in these creamy fudge drops, satiny dark and delicious. The fudge may be cut into squares if desired. The gay decorations are optional but make a charming contrast to the rich chocolate.

Creamy Fudge Drops

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 3 squares semi-sweet chocolate | 2 tablespoons butter or margarine |
| 1/2 cup water | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| 1/2 cup evaporated milk | 1 cup broken nuts |
| 1 cup granulated sugar | |
| 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar | |

Add chocolate to water and milk and place over low heat. Cook and stir until mixture is smooth and blended. Add sugars and salt and stir until sugars are dissolved and mixture boils. Continue boiling, without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 232°F.). Remove from heat and add butter. Cool to lukewarm (110°F.) and add vanilla. Then beat until mixture begins to thicken; add nuts and continue beating only until mixture loses its gloss. Drop from teaspoon on waxed paper and chill until firm or spread at once in greased 8x4-inch pan, cool until firm and cut in squares.

Good for Holiday Menus

Not a minute's cooking is needed to make this luscious Pumpkin Walnut Pudding which combines instant pudding mix, dessert topping, and canned pumpkin. The busy cook will find it perfect fare as an after dinner or late evening dessert that adds pleasant variety to holiday menus.

Walnut Crust Pumpkin Pudding

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1 1/4 cups fine vanilla wafer crumbs | 1 package vanilla instant pudding mix |
| 3/4 cup chopped walnuts | 1 cup canned pumpkin |
| 2 tablespoons sugar | 3/8 cup milk |
| 1/4 cup butter, melted | 3/4 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice |
| 1 package Dream Whip | |

Combine crumbs, walnuts and sugar. Add butter and mix well. Press half of this mixture over bottom of 8-inch square pan. Reserve remaining crumb mixture for top.

Prepare dessert topping as directed on package. Then combine 1 cup of the prepared dessert topping with the pudding mix, pumpkin, milk and spice in a bowl. Beat slowly with an egg beater just until well mixed, about 1 minute. Pour into pan over crumb mixture. Sprinkle with reserved crumb mixture. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Cut into squares and serve with remaining dessert topping. Makes about 9 servings.

Club to Hear League Chorus

The Senior Woman's Club of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be having their annual Christmas tea at the Center Wednesday Afternoon, December 9 at 1:30 o'clock. All Senior Ladies of Grosse Pointe are most welcome to attend.

The Junior League Chorus under the presidency of Mrs. Hugo Highie will present an outstanding program of Christmas Music. They will be directed by Kris Dorjath of Wayne State University. This is a treat the chorus presents to the ladies once each year at this time. The Junior Leaguers have been rehearsing weekly at the Center since September. Now begins their trouping schedule and what better place to start than in the Center's own Great Hall.

Following tea and the musical program, the Senior Ladies will enjoy cards and before the afternoon is over they will each have added a gift to the huge pile of gaily wrapped packages destined for Children's Hospital. This is something the Senior women take great pleasure in doing each year and is a loving gesture greatly appreciated by the Hospital.

The Michigan State Highway Department made its first traffic survey in 1913 in the Detroit area. The first comprehensive statewide survey was conducted in 1936.

School Holding Pancake Supper

Barnes P.T.A. will hold its annual pancake supper at the school in Morningside drive, Thursday evening, December 10. In the past years this event has been a tremendous success and looked forward to by parents and children alike.

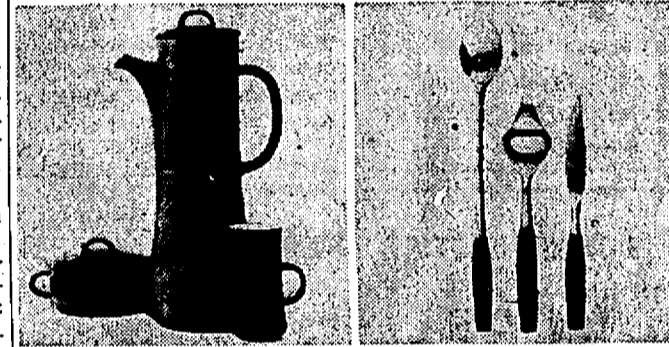

The menu is simple and traditional, but any lack of elegance is more than made up for by the quality and quantity of the pancakes and sausage. Continuing the precedent established in previous years, the fathers will run the entire affair, giving the mothers a vacation from meal preparation. To ensure a pleasant evening movies will be shown for the entertainment of the children.

Cameron Parker Gordon was christened Thanksgiving Day in Christ Church in the heirloom lace robes worn by his grandmother, Mrs. Frederick W. Parker, Jr. Parents of the four month old heir are the John Robert Gordons, of St. Clair avenue. The Rev. Erville Maynard, who officiated at the ceremony, was also a godfather. The other godparents were the John A. Wordens, of Amarillo, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Parker entertained at a family party following the christening.

Kappa Delta Alumnae Plan Children's Party

The East Side alumnae of Kappa Delta sorority will meet for their annual children's Christmas party, Wednesday, December 9, in the home of Mrs. Harold Mistele, 15500 Windmill Pointe drive, at 7:30. The KD's will be bringing their own children, who, in turn, will each bring an unwrapped gift to be sent on to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Va. The hospital is the national philanthropic project of the sorority. The Elaine Arndt school of dance will be on hand to entertain the children at Wednesday's party.

Church Women Plan Yule Tea

The Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will hold a Christmas Tea on Tuesday, December 8 at 1 o'clock in the Church Lounge.

The dedication will be given by Mrs. Gerald Schroeder. The Choral program "Christmas Reverence" is under the direction of Mrs. Yeatman Mertz assisted by Mrs. Richard Vestal.

The program will be followed by installation of Officers, annual reports and posting of names. Tea will be served in the Recreation Room by the Miriam Group, Mrs. Thomas Clark, leader. The Nursery will be open.

More than 1,000 miles of Michigan expressways in 33 counties will be a part of the multi-billion-dollar, 41,000-mile National Interstate and Defense Highway system.

Kiefer - Pearce Rites Read in St. Paul's

Bride Wears Ivory Peau de Soie and Antique Rose Lace for Noon Ceremony Friday; Newlyweds Will Live in St. Clair Shores

Elizabeth Hope Pearce, of East Jefferson avenue, was married on Friday to Karl Johann Kiefer, son of the Karl Kiefers, of Calvin Road, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore, at a family ceremony.

A small reception followed at the home of Mrs. Frederick William Pearce of East Jefferson Avenue.

The bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie and a veil of antique rose point lace and carried a nosegay of stephanotis and white roses.

The honor attendant was Julie Pearce, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of deep aqua. She carried a bouquet of white fugi mums and red roses.

The bridesmaids dressed like the maid of honor, carried bouquets of white mums. They were Marion Kiefer, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. James Floyd Collins, of New York, and Kay Pope of Houston, Tex.

The best man was Mr. Robert Taylor and the ushers were John Bergman, Gerald Fitzgerald and Richard Allor.

Mrs. Kiefer wore a mulberry colored wood costume suit and Mrs. Pearce wore a toast colored silk dress with a bodice of Alencon lace.

For her wedding trip, the new Mrs. Kiefer wore a gray and black tweed coat dress with black accessories. When they return from their trip they will make their home in St. Clair Shores.

Yes, white potatoes occasionally do burst in the oven. Mary Morr, of the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State University, explains that moisture in the potato creates steam which expands inside the potato. New crop potatoes are much higher in moisture than storage potatoes. Trick is to prick or slit the skin before the potato goes into the oven. Then steam has a way to escape.

St. James Guild Plans Program

The Annual Holiday Open House given by the Women's Guild of St. James Lutheran Church will be held Wednesday evening, December 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

All ladies of St. James and their friends are invited to spend an evening of fellowship together, and to enjoy a delightful Christmas program presented by the Salem Bell Ringers.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the final report of the "Dollar Grow" committee—a fund raising project in which all the women of the church have participated this year.

Many attractive gift items will be available for all who wish to do a bit of Christmas shopping before they enjoy refreshments served from festive gold and white tea tables.

Mrs. Claude W. Reagan To Entertain Chapter

Mrs. Claude W. Reagan will entertain in her home on Staehlin road with a Christmas tea in honor of the Gen. Josiah Harner Grosse Pointe Park Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Saturday, December 12, at 12:30 p.m. She will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. David Adamson, Mrs. Bert Trumble, and the Misses Effie Downer and Dorothy Lewis.

The chapter regent, Mrs. Paul M. Cowan, will conduct the business portion of the meeting, following which there will be a program of Revolutionary War music under the direction of Mrs. John W. Ottinger.

Contributions also will be accepted for the Indian children who are supported by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Marie Joy Curtiss Wins Choir Master's Degree

Marie Joy Curtiss of Whittier boulevard, lecturer and director of youth choir workshops and festivals, has been awarded the choir master's degree (Ch. M.) by the American Guild of Organists.

This certificate was given on the basis of a comprehensive, two-day examination held under the direct supervision of the National Guild Examinations Committee in New York City. These tests demonstrated the candidate's ability in choir directing as well as the theoretical knowledge of Harmony, the Ecclesiastical Modes, and the repertory of Church Music.

Miss Curtiss organized and directed for eleven years one of the outstanding Youth Choir programs of the state at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Presbyterian Church.

At present she is vice-chairman of the National Convention of the American Guild of Organists which will be held in Detroit June 27 through July 1.

No true and permanent fame can be founded except in labors which promote the happiness of mankind.

To Give Lecture On Yule Greens

Just in time for Christmas, there will be a lecture-demonstration of novel ideas for greens and other holiday decorations for the home presented by Mrs. Kenneth R. Strang at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The date is Wednesday morning, December 9, and the time 10:30 a.m.

Co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and the Grosse Pointe Garden Center, this program is offered free of charge to all Grosse Pointers.

Mrs. Strang, a native of Denmark, has loved Christmas since the days of her childhood when the whole family went to work months before the holidays making unusual and exciting ornaments and decorations.

Since coming to this country and retiring from business Mrs. Strang has won an impressive array of prizes for her floral arrangements. Recently she has turned to specializing in her childhood love—Christmas decorations.

Building on the ideas she learned in Denmark and drawing on her considerably creative Mrs. Strang has worked out some highly unusual decorative schemes. She has new ideas to teach her audience for door, wall, tree, table, mirror and mantel decorations.

Mrs. Strang has been busy every day since before Thanksgiving demonstrating and teaching her skill before groups. Because this will be her final appearance before Christmas she will be selling many of her completed models, so if one is a very busy person and hasn't the time to concoct one's own pretties this is a chance to acquire some very unusual things all ready made.

Catholic Study Club To Welcome Pointers

The Catholic Study Club of Detroit will hold its Membership Day, on December 7, at the League of Catholic Women's building, 120 Parsons Street. This will be an open meeting.

A colorful film, "The St. Lawrence Seaway," will be shown at the morning program. The Fine Arts Department director, Mrs. John J. Shada, and the chairman of the Arts Division, Mrs. Walter V. McGreevy, made arrangements for the program.

During the business meeting, to be held at 1:30 o'clock, the membership chairman, Miss Katherine F. Lassaline, will introduce the new members and present each one with a corsage.

Two of the new members are Mrs. Harry G. Hammond, of Hampton road, and Mrs. Joseph A. Murphy, of Yorkshire road. The program chairman, Mrs. Ralph L. Young, will introduce the members of the University of Detroit Chorus. They will present a Christmas Musical. Don Large, director.

Mrs. Bernard Bray, of McMillan road, and Mrs. Louis Riehl, of Aline drive, are planning to be present.

Tea will be served, in the English Lounge, by the Social committee. Mrs. Wm. G. Koerber, chairman, and Mrs. Gilbert G. Lingle, vice-chairman.

On December 14 the members of the Catholic Study Club of Detroit will be conducted through the Wayne State University, including the Memorial Community Art Center with luncheon at the University. Arrangements, for the day, were made by the Civics Department director, Mrs. J. Edward Young.

The Michigan State Highway Department estimates the vehicle miles of travel in Michigan will more than double during the next 25 years on an estimated 31 billion miles during 1959 to 84.5 billion miles in 1985.

Only Two to Go for Ball Team

City police officer, Duncan MacEachern, already the father of six young boys, took his wife, Betty to the hospital a little over a week ago for delivery of their seventh child.

It seems that his cohorts at the station had been teasing him quite a bit because, in anticipation of this one, he had bought some dresses, a doll and other items needed by a very, very young lady. This time it just had to be, he must have been saying to himself.

But alas, the fates were against him and a seventh son was born Wednesday, November 25. Giving in to the inevitable, Officer MacEachern even agreed to name his seventh son Duncan (the middle name is Girard) thereby making up somewhat for the failure of a little girl to appear. Sadly enough, young Duncan Girard is not a seventh son of a seventh son, but Duncan senior does have four brothers, plus five sisters.

Young Duncan will have lots of playmates, though, for his six brothers are all stairsteps. They are, almost ten (December 27), eight, seven, six, almost five and St. Ignace.

(December 4), two and now the new one. Congratulations should be in order, for Officer MacEachern, but if anyone wants to buy some girl baby dresses for Christmas, he's the man to see.

Eleven weighmaster stations are operated by the Michigan State Highway Department. They are located on major trunklines at intersections near Erie, Jackson, Cambridge, New Buffalo, Junction, Ionia, Lansing, Fowlerville, Pontiac, Clio and St. Ignace.

Miss Henderson Weds Navy Officer

Ensign and Mrs. Thomas Frank Engle fly to Jacksonville after their Friday evening wedding in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church was the setting for the candle light wedding Friday evening of Elizabeth Anne Henderson, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Alexander Henderson, of Washington road, and the late Mr. Henderson, and Ensign Thomas Frank Engle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elwin Engle, of Ann Arbor.

The bride's uncle, Dr. James Sanders Henderson, of Abingdon, Va., gave his niece in marriage at the services performed by the Rev. Marcus Johnson.

A full length gown of white peau de soie taffeta with a beaded sweet-heart neckline and chapel train falling from a beaded peplum and seed pearl and iridescent Alencon lace appliques accenting the skirt was chosen by the bride for her wedding. Her illusion veil fell from a seed pearl crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy clustered around a single white orchid.

Maid of honor, Maiga Buss, was gowned like the bridesmaids, Marilyn Clark, of Flint; Molly Marshall and Mrs. Carl John Urige, of St. Clair Shores and Mrs. Edward Vincent Hindle, Jr., of Taylor, both sisters of the bride.

The attendants wore mink brown peau de soie taffeta sheaths with bateau neckline and bouffant overskirts accented with darker brown velvet cummerbunds. Small crowns of matching mink brown held their face veils. They carried cascade bouquets of gold chrysanthemums and ivy.

Ensign Jay Katz, of Ann Arbor, served as best man and the ushers were Eric Aupperly, William Hall and Daniel Lyons, all of Ann Arbor, and Lt. J. George Freiss, U.S.A.F., of Farmington.

Mrs. Henderson chose a cafe au lait sheath gown and matching hat and accessories with green orchids. Mrs. Engle wore a loden green lace sheath with satin trim and matching accessories. She also wore orchids.

Following the double-ring ceremony a reception was held at the Lochmoor Club.

The bride wore a loden green double-breasted tweed suit with matching accessories and hat for traveling. The newlywed Ensign and Mrs. Engle flew to Jacksonville, Fla., where they will make their home.

Nautilus has long been a popular name for submarines. Some of the more famous of these are Robert Fulton's Nautilus of Sir Hubert Wilkins in which he attempted a voyage to the North Pole under the ice (1931), and three U.S. submarines of that name, including the world's first nuclear-powered submarine built by the Electric Boat Division.

Pointe Ski Club To Open Season

All interested Grosse Pointe skiers are cordially invited to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Wednesday evening, December 16, at 8 o'clock for the opening meeting of the Grosse Pointe Ski Club's 1959-60 season.

Frank McBride, last year's president, has a very full program lined up for the season. This includes mid-week trips to local ski areas, a weekend to Northern Michigan and a week long trip. Also there will be ski movies and social events. In addition, it is planned to arrange for beginning ski instructions right here in the Pointe if sufficient interest is expressed.

On the 16th, memberships will be sold at $3.00 for singles and $5.00 for couples. Because of limited facilities, it is planned to limit participation in this winter's ski club events to members and their guests. Members will be the first allowed to sign up for programs and trips and will be able to participate at a rate somewhat less than guests who will be invited on a "space available" basis.

On Wednesday, December 16, the Grosse Pointe Sports Shop and Margaret Rice will display the latest in ski fashions and equipment. Live models will circulate and inform everyone about the clothes and gear. Many of the items will make wonderful Christmas gifts just in time for the active skiing season.

Also on the program for the 16th will be a Warren Miller ski movie short. A brief business meeting will follow with an election of officers and submission of a constitution. The evening will be concluded with coffee and a social hour.

Woodruff Gets Berth In Western's Lineup

Tommy Woodruff, former Blue Devil cage star and son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Woodruff of Severn road, cracked the Western Michigan University basketball lineup. He will be one of four sophomores in the starting lineup when the Broncos open the 1959-60 season against Northwestern.

Woodruff was a standout performer as a forward and captain of the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils in his senior year. His coach, Howard MacAdam, predicted big things for Tom and apparently MacAdam is a good judge of basketball talent as it is rare when a sophomore cracks the starting lineup on a college team.

Tom will operate at a guard position according to his coach, Don Boven, who was particularly impressed with Woodruff's outside shooting ability.

Pvt. Gerald T. Klebba Trains as Cannoneer

FORT SILL, OKLAHOMA (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. Gerald T. Klebba, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Klebba, 1393 Grayton, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., is receiving eight weeks of advanced individual artillery training at The Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. The training is scheduled to be completed Dec. 18.

Klebba is being trained in the duties of a cannoneer in a 105 millimeter howitzer section.

He entered the Army last August and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Klebba is a 1959 graduate of Austin Catholic High School, Detroit.

A submarine, the Turtle, was employed by the American revolutionary army to attack the British. It was built by David Bushnell at Saybrook, Connecticut, just a few miles from the present site in Groton of Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corporation, and the U.S. Naval Submarine Base.

Howard still becomes a bit nostalgic when he recalls the old days when he would have to get permission from the Mount Clemens board of education to use the high school gym as a loft to cut a sail larger than that of a Lightning or Thistle. But before the cutting could be done the family had the chore of mopping the gym to keep the sail cloth clean. The high school janitor always liked to see the Bostons arrive after school hours.

It is sad to note that Bill Nagel, editor of the Raven News Letter, has decided his ink pot has run dry and will step down from the editor's post at the end of the year. Farms Boaters To Have Party

The Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club will hold its annual "Hard Times" party at the Boat House of the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier, foot of Moross road on Saturday, December 5 at 8:30 p.m.

The evening offers dancing, refreshments and a buffet supper at $2 per person.

Club members attending may bring two couples as guests.

All That Remains of Kings' Row

The gladiators of Grosse Pointe High School, kings once again of the Border Cities League, had departed when this shot was made. The season was ended and the helmets were set to go back into mothballs for another year.

Three Take Training At Missile Center

FORT SILL, OKLAHOMA (AHTNC)—Three Grosse Pointe, Mich., soldiers are receiving eight weeks of advanced individual artillery training at The Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. The training is scheduled to be completed Dec. 18.

They are being trained in the duties of a cannoneer in a 105 millimeter howitzer section.

Austin Friars Drop First Game to Mendel Quintet

The Austin Friar basketball team bumped into some poor officiating in its opening non-league game against Mendel in Chicago last Saturday, November 28, and dropped the decision, 78-71.

Repeated whistle blowing brought the action to a standstill 51 times and spoiled the opener for teams and the spectators alike. The Friars were guilty on 30 occasions, which in the long run spelled defeat.

Coach Charles Hollosy was quick to point out that the officiating was just as bad for Mendel as it was for the Friars, but he felt the calls, especially under the backboards, caused his team to abandon its defense to keep from fouling the opponents.

Mendel's star Mike Stallings, 5-10 guard, was extremely effective with his long shots, which produced 41 of Mendel's points. Hollosy was particularly impressed with Stallings' shooting as he missed only two shots in the second half to pace the Mendel rally. He scored 18 points in the third quarter which put the Chicagoans out in front 57-53 going into the final period.

The Friars held a 23-16 lead in the first period and a 40-32 margin at halftime. Austin's starting five all hit in the double figures with Bill Fitzgerald notching 16, Bob Brinkman and Walt Connolly getting 15 each, Bill Hodgman 11, and Paul Zosel 10.

Austin will open defense of its Central Division championship on Friday, December 4, when it entertains Catholic Central. After its home opener the Friars will hit the road for five games before playing before the home crowd again.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

We GOOFED and we apologize to Jimmy Carlin for omitting his name in the final Detroit Cruising Club sailing standings a couple of weeks ago. While copying the results we completely missed Jimmy's name, which should have been listed as fourth place with a total point score of 6,808 for an .824 percentage.

The Cruising D (Performance Handicap) class held its second annual award and election dinner at Bayview Yacht Club, Saturday, November 21. Silver trophies were awarded to the first five place skippers, who were Paul Goetheus of Crescent Sall Y.C.; Bill McCurdy of Bayview Y.C.; Ivan Taylor of Detroit Boat Club; Dan Helka of North Star Sall Club and Harold Du Shane of the Detroit Y.C. in that order.

Elected to the 1960 Board of Governors were: John Chandler, chairman, Bayview Y.C.; Howard Hyatt, Detroit Y.C.; Ivan Taylor, Detroit Boat Club; Frank Taylor, Crescent Sall Y.C. and Bill McCurdy, Bayview Y.C.

The Detroit River Yachting Association will hold its annual election meeting at the Detroit Y.C., Friday, December 4, at 8 p.m. This will be Commodore John Detwiler's last official act as the chief flag officer. He will turn the gavel over to vice commodore Arthur Rautenburg of Crescent Sall Y.C. who will call the shots for the 1960 season.

William Patrick Connolly, incoming commodore of the Grosse Pointe Sail Club, was elected president of the Detroit Y.C. Corinthians. Connolly is no stranger to the sailors. For years he held important positions in the DRYA and was a member of the Board at Bayview Y.C.

The Inter Lake Yachting Association will hold its annual fall meeting at the Catawba Cliffs Beach Club at Port Clinton, Ohio, Saturday, December 5. Delegates from the association's 78 member clubs will converge to elect the new flag officers for 1960. Theodore Barber, past commodore of Crescent Sall Y.C., heads the slate recommended by the nominating committee for the post of commodore. Harry MacFarlane, another Crescent past commodore, will oppose George Llewellyn, of Lorain, Ohio, for rear commodore honors.

Other Detroiters nominated are: E. P. Robertson of Edison Boat Club, sail yacht measurer; Charles MacDonald, power boat measurer; Stanley Puddiford, of Crescent, alternate delegate to the North American Yacht Racing Union; L. Boyd Benkert of Bayview, delegate to the Yacht Racing Union of the Great Lakes; Frank B. Stallings and Edgar F. Gregory, Jr., delegates to the American Power Boat Association.

It is reported that there are 20,000 yachtsmen on the rosters of ILYA's member clubs and they own over 8,000 pleasure crafts.

Commodore George W. Gardner of Cleveland, Ohio organized the ILYA in 1984 and was also the founder of the Cleveland Yacht Club.

Next Saturday, December 5, will be a red letter day in the Howard Boston family. That is the day the Bostons open their new sail loft on Harper Avenue.

The two story modern building will triple the present facilities with 14,000 square feet of floor space.

It's a great move for the little champion sailor who has captured the National Thistle class championship twice and numerous local sailing titles. He also has to his credit ice boat championships won both on Lake St. Clair and elsewhere.

We personally remember when Howard first started putting one stitch after another in sail cloth and since that time back in 1938, if memory serves correctly, his wife Lolly and children, Martha and Skip, have become stalwarts in the business that has built sails for champion yachts both big and small.

Howard still becomes a bit nostalgic when he recalls the old days when he would have to get permission from the Mount Clemens board of education to use the high school gym as a loft to cut a sail larger than that of a Lightning or Thistle. But before the cutting could be done the family had the chore of mopping the gym to keep the sail cloth clean. The high school janitor always liked to see the Bostons arrive after school hours.

It is sad to note that Bill Nagel, editor of the Raven News Letter, has decided his ink pot has run dry and will step down from the editor's post at the end of the year. We have always enjoyed Bill's informative writing because he always came up with something about Edgar Allen Poe and especially the RAVEN. Wot else? We trust the Raven class will come up with another editor to match the Nagel wit.

The Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club will hold its annual "Hard Times" party at the Boat House of the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier, foot of Moross road on Saturday, December 5 at 8:30 p.m.

Longest X-Way Opens Dec. 7

KALAMAZOO — The longest continuous stretch of expressway in Michigan will be opened to traffic in southwestern Michigan on Monday (Dec. 7).

Forty-five miles of limited access super-highway from a point east of Battle Creek to Paw Paw will be placed in use when State Highway Commissioner signals the opening at 11 a.m.

When this section opens, Michigan will have more than 350 miles of limited access expressway.

Of this amount, 130 miles is on US -12 between Detroit and Paw Paw. More than 80 percent of this expressway — which will be known as Interstate 94 — is open to traffic or under contract.

Mackie will be stationed at a central point near Galesburg from which he will signal the simultaneous cutting of ribbon by officials at each end of the expressway.

Then caravans of cars will depart from both ends and meet at Galesburg where a luncheon meeting will be held.

Officials from the three counties through which the new stretch of highway passes — Calhoun, Kalamazoo and Van Buren — will be on hand for the colorful ceremonies.

Mackie will attend a reception at Kalamazoo later in the day and a dinner meeting at Western Michigan University that night.

Three Pointers On All States

Three Grosse Pointe football players were named to All State teams in the official selection for 1959.

Blue Devil center Steve Gerow was selected on the Class A third team.

St. Ambrose guard Mike Currie was named to the Class C-D first team and his teammate Joe D'Angelo earned one of the backfield positions on the C-D second team.

Blue Devil halfback Ron Harper and tackle Dave Leona received Class A honorable mention.

Bathyscaphe surfaces after record dive in the Marianas trench. Rehnitzer and Piccard stand on coaling tower.

Drs. Andreas Rehnitzer (left), Jacques Piccard after dive.

18,600-FOOT OCEAN DIVE—U. S. Navy scientists are evaluating information from a record dive of 18,600 feet in the Marianas trench, off the Marianas Islands, one of the deepest areas of the Pacific ocean. Divers were Dr. Andreas B. Rehnitzer, senior scientist in charge of the Navy's diving sphere "Bathyscaphe Trieste," and Dr. Jacques Piccard, co-designer and builder of the sphere.

NO-PAY LOAD—Shohomish County Sheriff Ted Griffith carries Velma Gray through the muddy flood waters to safety from her home in Ebey Island, Wash., a tiny community near Everett. Region is suffering its worst flood in 27 years.

THEY THOUGHT IT COULDN'T BE DONE—The arrival of Mary Cecilia changed the pattern for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ward in San Francisco. Before she was born, all the children were boys (from left) Kevin, 11; Brendan, 6; Terence, 14; Bernard, 8; and Philip, 13.

CARGO PLANE VICTIM FIGHTS FOR LIFE—Morris Davidson, 49, one of 13 persons injured critically when a Super-H Constellation plane crashed and exploded in a sleeping residential district near Chicago's Midway airport, is treated at a hospital by two nurses. Eleven persons, including the plane's crew of three, perished in the holocaust.

CHICAGO AFTERMATH—While the investigation is underway into what caused that TWA freight plane to crash in a residential district near Chicago's Midway airport, the injured are starting on the road to recovery. These two, Walter Storey, 55, and (lower) son Raymond, 18, are hospitalized with serious burns. Dr. Charles Von Solbrig attends the father. The crash left 11 persons dead.

END OF THE TRAIL FOR A DIPLOMAT—Ghostly limbs of surrounding bushes frame the body of Povl Bang-Jensen, 50-year-old Danish diplomat found shot to death in a park in New York. A suicide note was found in his pocket. A pearl handle .25 caliber pistol was clutched in his right hand. Eighteen months ago Bang-Jensen was dismissed from a high administrative post in the United Nations for refusing to turn over to the UN a list of 81 Hungarian refugees who told him the story of the 1956 Hungarian uprising, to protect the families of the Freedom fighters.

BE PREPARED to signalize the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America with this 4-cent, which goes on sale Feb. 8. Khaki and blue are the colors. The stamp was designed by Norman Rockwell.

SNAP-SHUT ESCAPE CAPSULE—A Stanley Aviation Corporation engineer sits in a model of the firm's new B-58 Hustler bomber escape capsule, which, in use, snaps shut like a pocketbook and lets the flyer float down sealed in, cozy like. A parachute opens automatically at 15,000 feet. The capsule carries its own oxygen supply and survival gear.

TO BULGARIA—President Eisenhower named Edward Page, Jr. (above), to serve as the first U. S. minister to Bulgaria since 1950. The appointment marks resumption of diplomatic relations.

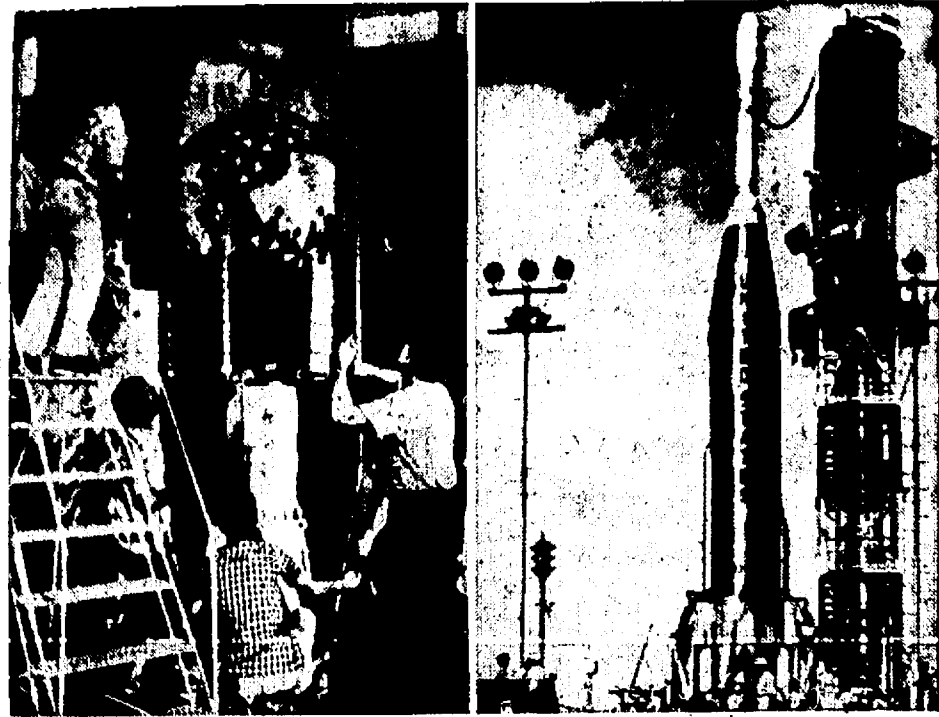

DUKE WON'T DUCK—The Duchess of Bedford has filed a petition for divorce against the duke (above), multimillionaire Englishman now on a lecture tour in the U. S. The duke, who turned his Woburn Abbey home into a British version of Disneyland, said he would not oppose divorce. Both are 42.

GAVE AWAY A BANK—Ann Hellwell (above) is the teller who punched out a check for $4,000,022.75 instead of $22.75, and lost her job at the Hadley Falls Trust company in Holyoke, Mass. She issued the check to Mrs. James Walsh, wife of a U. S. Army sergeant, and Mrs. Walsh said she'd just keep the check until the bank rehired Miss Hellwell.

DEBUT—Actress Joan Caulfield hostesses son C. Kevin Ross for his camera debut at age two weeks in Hollywood. She is divorced from the baby's father, movie producer Frank Ross.

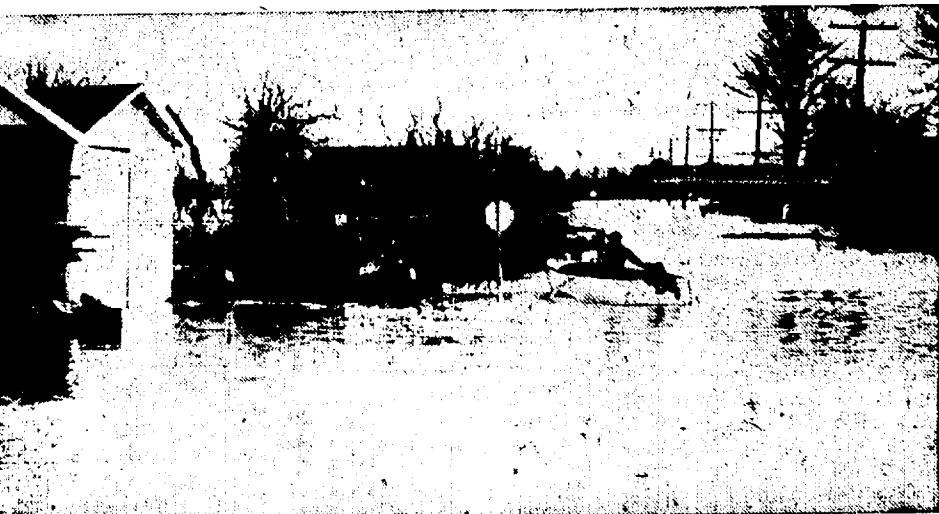

The payload being readied. Missile ready for launching.

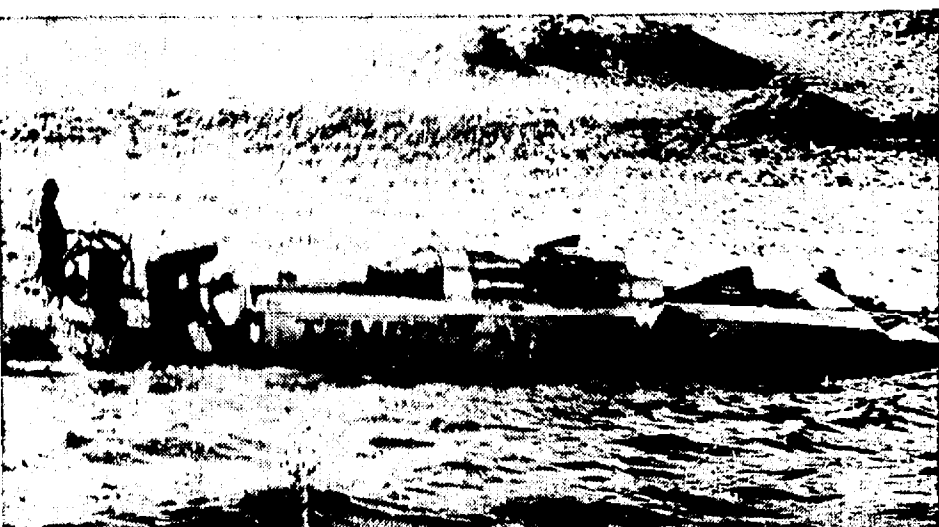

MOON BEAMED—Here are the payload and the Atlas-Able missile before firing at Cape Canaveral, Fla., to orbit the moon and transmit an outline back to earth. The payload is mounted on the third stage. It rides inside a two-piece shroud (see top of missile, right photo) for the first 75 miles or so, then the shroud is jettisoned and paddles spring up and lock in place. At top of the payload is a reverse thrust nozzle to slow it on radio command. The entire missile is nearly 100 feet tall, weighs more than 260,000 pounds.

TWO DRIVERS, ONE PASSENGER KILLED—Twisted wreckage jams a street in Fallsides Park, N. J., after a tractor-trailer and a lumber truck collided on rain-slick pavement. The drivers of both vehicles and a passenger in the tractor-trailer were killed. The accident happened three miles west of the George Washington bridge, which connects New York City and New Jersey.

ROW, ROW, ROW YOUR BOAT, GENTLY DOWN THE STREET—A solitary boatman rows down the street in Kent, Wash., one of the towns inundated by the overflowing Green river.

ZIGGED WHEN IT SHOULD'VE ZAGGED—The jet-powered Tempo Alcoa lies aground at Pyramid lake in Nevada, where it veered out of control in a speed test preparatory to a try at the world record. It did "better than 260," said "pilot" Les Staudacher.

Metropolitan Plans Five Operas in May

Mrs. Henry Ford II, General Chairman, Has Announced The Repertoire for May 23-27; Initial Solicitation of Tickets Began This Week

The Metropolitan Opera will present five evening performances at Detroit's Masonic Temple Auditorium next May 23-27, Mrs. Henry Ford II, general chairman, has announced.

Mrs. Ford also revealed that Mayor Louis C. Mirani will serve as honorary chairman for the Metropolitan Detroit appearance again in 1960, and that the opening-night performance once again will be a benefit for the Detroit Museum of Art Founders Society.

The opera's 1960 repertoire will consist of "Simon Boccanegra" on Monday night, May 23; "Gypsy Baron," May 24; "Le Nozze di Figaro," May 25; "Andrea Chenier," May 26, and "Il Trovatore," May 27.

Last spring, in its first Detroit appearance in 49 years, the Metropolitan presented only three evening performances and one matinee in three days.

"For 1960," Mrs. Ford said, "the Detroit Grand Opera Association has succeeded in negotiating a longer season with a greater variety of operas and more available seats. This means that some who were not able to obtain tickets during our sell-out season last May should be able to purchase them in 1960."

The 1960 opera season again will be sponsored jointly by the Grand Opera Association, headed by Frank Donovan, and the Founders Society, of which Alvan Macaulay is president. Part of the proceeds from the first-night performance will go to the Art Purchase Fund of the Founders Society.

Stars to appear in Detroit next spring include Mary Curtis-Verna, Richard Tucker, Leonard Warren and Giorgio Tozzi in "Simon Boccanegra"; Lucine Amara, Laurel Hurley and Regina Resnik in "Gypsy Baron"; Lisa Della Casa, Elisabeth Soderstrom, Mildred Miller, Charles Kullman, George London and Cesare Siepi in "Figaro"; Zinka Milanov, Tucker and Warren in "Andrea Chenier"; and Antiochella Stella, Jean Madeira, Carlo Bergonzi, Robert Merrill and William Wildermann in "Il Trovatore."

Fausto Cleva will conduct "Andrea Chenier" and "Il Trovatore"; Nino Verchi, "Simon Boccanegra"; and Erich Leinsdorf, "Gypsy Baron" and "Figaro."

Mrs. Ford said initial solicitation of opera contributors, guarantors, season-ticket holders and committee members began about December 1, with tickets to go on public mail-order sale about February 1. Prices will be announced later.

As in the 1959 season, a statewide committee of volunteer workers is being established to assist with opera plans next spring. Mrs. Ford said names of area chairmen and other key members will be announced shortly.

Headlines of the Week

(Continued from Page 1) 1957. He has had the 3 to 6:15 p.m. weekday show at WXYZ since Ed McKenzie left the station last spring. Last week, Shorr told officials at the station that the only outside interest that he had in the music field was a part ownership in Aussie Records, Inc. "We pay record companies for the Australian rights of their companies," said Shorr. "It's payola in reverse."

AN ELDERLY DETROIT bachelor, Peter Patterson, who died last week, left a fortune of some five million dollars. A hoard of stocks and bonds was found in a safe deposit box at the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. by investigators of the estate.

Some of the stock holdings are Hiram Walker, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Kresge's, Krogers and the Borden Co. Patterson, who was a shrewd business man and investor, was the founder of the Investment Mortgage Co., and other firms. He lived alone in a hotel downtown and was 90 years old at the time of his death.

Two men, a Michigan State University faculty member and his brother, who was dressed as a woman, attempted to rob a grocery store in Durand, early Friday night. Martin K. Broadhead, 34, of East Lansing, and his brother Al, 30, of Durand, were arrested for attempted burglary by Shiawassee county deputies near the store they tried to rob. Al was dressed as a woman to avoid recognition, he said.

Sunday, November 29 THE 11-NATION, 22,000 miles peace tour by President Eisenhower will begin Thursday, December 3. In a little over two weeks, Mr. Eisenhower will visit Africa, Europe and Asia and speak on 30 occasions.

Eisenhower will be the first American president to visit in Tunisia, Greece, Turkey, Pakistan, India, Afghanistan and Spain. The last stop on his schedule is a talk with King Mohammed V of Morocco on December 22. Most of the tour will be done by airplane with helicopters, trains, automobiles and ships carrying the Chief Executive the remainder of the way. He is scheduled to leave Washington at 8 p.m. Detroit time, Thursday.

THE LAST SEVEN AIRLINES presently operating at Willow Run airport, according to Wayne County officials, may announce their decision to move to Detroit Metropolitan airport tomorrow. A meeting is scheduled then between county officials and airline representatives. They will go over the terms offered to the airlines at the November 10 meeting. Already operating out of the Metropolitan airport are American, Delta, Northwest and Allegheny airlines.

The seven considering the move, according to Joseph W. Gross the Metro airport manager, "may want to have a say in the field improvements, they may want to lower landing fees or they may want a further discussion of the proposed terminal facilities."

DISC JOCKEYS, movie makers and record distributors all are saying that rock 'n' roll is dead. The craze that started about five years ago, according to those who know in the music business, was beginning to die before the current payola purge, though that has speeded up the death throes. Only three of the top ten last week were "out and out" rock 'n' roll numbers.

Monday, November 30 THE TOP ARTISTS of the recording industry were honored last night at the second annual Grammy awards presentation, televised by the National Broadcasting Company. Five well known artists, in the fields of popular, jazz and classical music, received more than one award in the secret balloting of the National Academy of Recording Arts.

They were Ella Fitzgerald, Bobby Darin, Frank Sinatra, Duke Ellington and Arthur Rubinstein. The record of the year award went to Darin for "Mack the Knife"; album of the year, Sinatra, "Come Dance With Me," which also won for him the best vocal performance by a male singer; best female performance by a female singer, Miss Fitzgerald for "But Not For Me"; and song of the year, "The Battle of New Orleans," Jimmy Driftwood, composer.

ANTI-AMERICAN agitators have been rounded up by Panama police after a night of mob rioting, pillage and stoning of American soldiers standing guard at the Canal Zone. About 300 left an independence day rally to attack the guards. They battled both the U.S. Soldiers and Panamanian national guardsmen, with over 30 soldiers and rioters injured in the fracas. About 30 or 40 persons have been jailed, according to sources.

SOVIET DEPUTY PREMIER Anastas Mikoyan told Russians, yesterday, that people of Mexico expressed sympathy and friendship towards the Russian people. Mikoyan had just returned from a visit in Mexico City where he opened the Soviet exhibition.

Tuesday, December 1 AMERICAN MOTORS CORP. proposes to offer a 3 for 1 split of common shares to the stockholders at the annual company meeting on February 3. President George Romney announced yesterday. The directors of the corporation will also offer a dividend rate considerably higher than the payments of the last few years.

"The move will broaden the ownership of the company and express strong confidence in the continued growth of American Motors," said Romney. Net profits for the year ending September 30, were $60,341,823 as compared to $26,085,000 the previous year. Earnings per share in 1959 were the equivalent of $10.16.

FORMER BRITISH PRIME MINISTER and grand old man Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 85th birthday yesterday, and acted years younger. He went to the House of Commons and made a speech after he was greeted there by cheers. His doctor, Lord Moran, said that Sir Winston is "in excellent health." A four tier, 60 pound birthday cake was waiting for him at home when he returned from Parliament.

PAUL GOSSELIN, 20, of Windsor, pursued a bandit into an alley following a jewelry store robbery in Windsor and received a bullet wound for his trouble. The bandit, who got away with $35, is believed to have escaped through the Detroit-Windsor tunnel. He grabbed a car from an elderly driver and drove to near the tunnel entrance. When examined after being shot, it was found Gosselin had suffered only a flesh wound.

Wednesday, December 2 NEIL McELROY, Defense Secretary under the Eisenhower administration since 1957, resigned his post yesterday. It was announced by the President. McElroy, 54, will be succeeded by Undersecretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. Gates, 53, was a former investment banker in Philadelphia, served as undersecretary of the Navy from 1953 until 1957 and was secretary of the Navy from then until early this year when he was named to the post of Undersecretary of Defense. Gates is a Republican. McElroy plans to return to the soap manufacturing firm that he headed prior to his appointment to the Eisenhower cabinet. He had indicated some time ago that he hoped to resign by the end of the year.

AN ALLEGHENY AIRLINES twin engine plane crashed into a mountain in Pennsylvania, yesterday, while preparing to land in a snowstorm. Twenty-four of the 25 aboard are reported dead. The other passenger was not expected to live, according to a doctor at the scene of the crash. The plane, en route from Philadelphia to Cleveland, was trying to land at the Williamsport-Montoursville airport, but was waved off because of a bad approach. The plane, according to the control tower, should have circled to the north. The craft, however, was not visible in the snow. It crashed against a 1,400 foot mountain south of the field.

A 19-YEAR-OLD gas station attendant was shot in the back Monday night, by one of three bandits who robbed the Pontiac station of $60. Frankie D. Newton of Highland Township, was paralyzed from the waist down by the bullet. Doctors, who were unable to remove the slug because it was pressing against an artery, said that it was questionable as to whether or not the boy would live. If he does recover, he will be paralyzed for the remainder of his life. Three young men, one a juvenile, were captured soon after the shooting. Newton identified them as the bandits. He knew two of them.

When the POINTE was growing up...

By Pat Talbot

At this season of the year church bazaars come into their own and the scores of Protestant churches in the area are vending aprons, plants, linens, Yule decorations in aid of missions and building funds. Back in 1903 there was only one Protestant church and the annual fair had to be held in the summer, when most of the residents who had money to spend and leisure time to lend were available.

In that year the Grosse Pointe Evangelical Church, a vine-covered frame building on the site of the present Memorial Church, announced a Carnival of Nations to be presented August 26 and 27. The church had been built about nine years and already needed a parish house. The plans had been drawn up, a timbered and brick house in the Tudor style, and money was needed. On the fair program were luncheon, dinner, the sale of work, and musical concerts.

Chairmen of the various booths were called conveners and the chief convener was Mrs. C. H. Metcalf, (her father Dudley Woodbridge was one of the founders of the church when it was situated on the lakeshore on land donated by the Kerbys). In Puritan costume she presided over a display of aprons, iron polishes, broom covers, rag dolls, Boston brown bread and pound cakes.

In the German booth, Mrs. Henrietta, (her daughter Agnes was one of the Pointe's first telephone operators), sold beer steins and toys. There was a German lace maker to show wares and an old flax wheel. Mrs. Ralph M. Dyer, Mrs. Russel A. Alger and Miss Jessie Hendrie ran the French stall where pottery, pictures of the Pointe, candle shades, gown hangers and dolls dressed in eighteenth century costumes were the attraction.

Miss Josephine Neff had organized the Bohemia booth which sold tambourines and dried lavender; Miss Bessie Boydell's Japanese stall offered shawls, brass, china kimonos and fans and Indian ware was vended by a Kotcher, a Moran and a Fisher.

The Children's stall which sold plants, fruits vegetables and flowers was run by Miss Lottie Berry (her father, Joseph Berry, gave land on which the church stood).

On the patroness list were Du Ponts, Berrys, Hendries, Russels, Hinchmans and Haberkorns. Royalty was represented by Baroness von Kettler, nee Maud Ledyard. On the program it was suggested that Detroiters take the shore line cars which passed the church every 15 minutes. During this era there were about 2,000 residents of the Pointe, religiously divided between the Evangelical Church and St. Paul's. The church had cost about $20,000 to build and the average annual donations totaled about $7,000.

Even with the help of the sale the new church house was never built, the plans abandoned, until the present Gothic building was opened in 1929, but churchwomen, in 1903, as in 1959 were always willing to provide a bazaar for a worthy cause.

At a local record store fans may buy an LP of Al Navarro's orchestra on the Country Club Records, Inc., label... Maestro Navarro is the husband of the former Cynthia Dean O'Day... the background for the music is the Country Club setting... Henry Stephens and Leonard Mountford are responsible for the effort.

Hats off to the lovely matrons who can combine a bustling household and a part time career... winsome Mrs. Ira A. Hunt, who was a New York model before her marriage to her major is continuing her job while her husband serves in Korea... a honey hued red head she wears a size five, is mother of four small heads under five years old... another part time careerist is Mrs. Sweeney Stephens who has become a market researcher, setting up shops, baby food and the like.

Lisa Shelden, twelve-year-old daughter of the Allan Sheldens III is a talented pianist, has her own piano in her pink and white bedroom so practicing won't disturb her family, only her pet parakeet.

Remember the frame Livingstone house which was torn down to make room for the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church parking lot... Mrs. Harley Highbie recalls the days when the Pointe was much more rural in that area, there was the day when a bright eyed deer strolled through the Livingstone dining room...

The Country Club will be completely transformed for Charlotte Ford's debut, we understand. So unusual for the decor be that guests will not even enter through the main door, a special entrance is being built... and the entertainment promises to be spectacular.

Art lovers are very appreciative of the decorating in the Lothrop road home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Yerkes (they bought the George O. Johnston home)... especially note the line of French prints up the stair wall.

PILFERINGS

Linda, who had been learning to sing Christmas carols in kindergarten, often sang herself to sleep. And one night, this is what her mother heard her sing: "While shepherds washed their socks by night."

In the market for a new home and a taste of country living, a middle-aged woman was shown an old farmhouse. After listening carefully to the real estate agent's spiel she said, "You're right, I could do a lot with this house." Then she added hesitantly, "On the other hand, I said the same thing the first time I looked at my husband."

MRS. KENNETH STRANG, OF HIDDEN LANE

By Patricia Talbot

As a girl in Denmark Mrs. Kenneth Strang enjoyed the special Christmas customs which she brought with her to this country, but she remembers most of all that Danish children received but one gift, and were thrilled with that. The bounteous presents underneath our trees surprised her, but she has adapted her Christmas ideas and contributed some new ones to her family holiday.

In Denmark families make the decorations for the tree, so as a child Mrs. Strang learned to be nimble with her fingers, making cornucopias, baskets, cookies for the tree. For the past five or six years she has transferred this talent to designing holiday decorations in a most sophisticated vein.

To Serve Luncheon This Friday members of the Grosse Pointe Shores Garden club will lunch at Mrs. Strang's on spinach ring filled with shrimp and then listen to their hostess talk about her "Christmas Decorations for the Home."

Mrs. Strang will talk to the general public about her decorations on December 9 under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center and War Memorial at the Center. She makes several of these talks and demonstrations each season.

Begin Preparations Early

Each fall she begins her preparations by gathering greens, pine cones, leaves from her garden which she treats with glycerine, driftwood and other material, which she combines with holiday glitter, gill, fruit and flowers for distinctive decorations.

Mrs. Strang estimates she spends about $200 for materials at the beginning of the season but she just about breaks even financially for she sells many of her decorative pieces after her programs.

Some Stunning Arrangements At this time of year her basement and back porch are filled with cartons containing her special arrangements which she will show Garden Club members during her talk. There is a stark limb of driftwood, sprayed white and entwined with pink flowers; a huge square pink candle to match (this was made in a milk carton); yucca branches dripping gold beads; a hydrangea bush contributed leaves to form a small tree abloom with pink roses; a gilded coconut with horse chestnut leaves; gill wood roses from Florida arranged with green grapes, white snowberry, a styrofoam snow scene with small dwarfs, gill screens with false fruit and ribbon, gold wreaths made of pine cones and leaves.

Lutfisk Dinner

Many of Mrs. Strang's arrangements were sold at her Church Fair on Wednesday. She works very diligently for the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Every week senior members of the church gather in her home to sew. They make aprons and holiday tablecloths. She is in charge of special projects for the church, will preside at the annual Lutfisk (dried fish) dinner December 11 for the members who have a predominantly Swedish background.

Mrs. Strang is a fine cook, preparing many Danish dishes for her friends. The Christmas specialty is duck, stuffed with prunes and apples. In the old country Christmas is celebrated the evening before with dinner first, and then the tree is shinn. The family joins hands and sings carols around the tree before opening their presents. This tradition is very hard on the impatient children, but Mrs. Strang remembers her mother was very strict about it. For the next three days there is holiday calling and finally the party when the tree is untrimmied and all the homemade cookies, candies, oranges and apples eaten by the children.

Holiday for Nephews

Mrs. Strang will be preparing such an old fashioned holiday for their two nephews, Bob and Terry, who make their home with the Strangs in Hidden lane. There may even be marzipan, and the Danish Christmas candy, and certainly all the homemade cookies she delights in baking. All the pictures and wall arrangements come down, Yule decor transforms the rooms.

An immaculate housekeeper, Mrs. Strang has the scrubbed wholesome appearance of her cheerful home with its Scandinavian decor and Copenhagen china. She still has a delightful Danish accent which identifies her immediately.

With her talent for cooking and decorative skill she combines a green thumb. Her roses and ferns have wisp blue ribbons at many flower shows. She tends her garden herself, just now has finished banking the beds with marsh hay for the winter. She enjoys working at Children's Hospital and often gives her Christmas program to patients at hospitals around the city.

Beautiful holiday decorations abound but Mrs. Strang's are truly unusual and you will be able to learn her secrets, which she is happy to share, at the War Memorial on December 9.

Cars in Crash At Mack Light

Frank Cloonan of 19300 McCormick in Detroit was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by City police officers for observation following an accident on Cadieux road at Mack avenue, November 28.

Mrs. Cloonan was crossing Mack on a green light when his car was hit on the left side by a car driven by Mary Wille of 40922 Utica street in Utica. She was given a ticket for not having her car under control.

Mrs. Cloonan was released from Bon Secours when it was found that he was not hurt. His car had to be towed in after the accident.

TIRE AND WHEEL MISSING

Winthrop H. Connor of 600 Lincoln road reported to City police on November 18, that a wheel and tire had been taken off of a bicycle in his garage. The theft occurred between November 15 and 18.

About the only midnight oil burned these days is gasoline.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE SALAD

Suggested by Mrs. Hamilton Niven

- 1 pint cranberries
- 1 apple, peeled
- 2 oranges, 1 peeled, 1 unpeeled
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 package of cherry gelatin
- 1 package of lemon gelatin
- 2 cups hot water

Grind raw cranberries, apple and oranges together. Add sugar and mix well. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill gelatin until slightly thickened. Add fruit and pour into 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with curly endive. Serve with lemon honey dressing.

DRESSING

- 2 Tb. strained honey
- 2 1/2 Tb. lemon juice
- 1 3-oz. package of cream cheese
- 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
- 3/4 cup salad oil
- dash of cayenne and salt

Gradually add honey and lemon juice to softened cream cheese. Blend until smooth. Add lemon rind, then oil, gradually. Beat well after each addition. Season to taste and add additional lemon juice if tart dressing is desired. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

WERNER WOLFF—BLACK STAR

Here is Phyllis McGinley at the backdoor of the house where she has lived for twenty years—in this cherished and familiar setting, as she says, she collected the flowers for "A Garland of Kindness."

A Garland

WE ARE old-fashioned in our village I tell you this in the strictest confidence; we do not admit it to ourselves. Do our roofs not blossom with television aerials, our kitchens with mechanical dishwashers? Do we not read the most recent books, even when we dislike them, and in our medicine cabinet store the stylish panaceas of the season? Our addiction to large families and infrequent divorces we consider merely tokens that we are ahead of, not behind, the fashion. We discuss the current ideologies, we speak knowingly of child psychology, we have seen the newest oddity by Samuel Beckett and the latest show of Toulouse-Lautrec. Our attitudes are modern, and we share the modern faults of haste and sentimentality. It is our virtues that are old-fashioned.

For here we love our neighbor. What is more, we are reactionary enough not to love him impersonally. To us he is not mankind, but man; and our affection warms us both.

Now kindness is a virtue neither modern nor urban. One almost unlearns it in a city. Towns have their own beatitude; they are not unfriendly; they offer a vast and solacing anonymity or an equally vast and solacing gregariousness. But one needs a neighbor on whom to practice compassion. It has taken me many years to emerge from the self-centered cocoon which the city had wound about me, and even now I offer small benefactions with a sort of shyness and am as shy to accept them. So I am constantly being surprised by the matter-of-fact, everyday kindness with which my friends seem overflowing.

Is it the same in other villages? Does this flower blossom in any suburb where the economic soil is neither very rich nor very poor and where one knows the names of at least half the population? I know it does not flourish well in country places, there being withered by the twin blights of spite and curiosity.

of Kindness

BY PHYLLIS McGINLEY

TODAY has been one of the days for counting blessings. Yesterday our village shared with the rest of the Eastern seaboard a storm of spectacular fury. Other communities were treated worse, by newspaper accounts, but we did not escape. We all lost a tree or two (and we are proud of our trees), the shingles of our roofs went flying; worse, the electricity failed and that meant, of course, no light, no heat, no current for the freezer or the laundry or the radio, or, in many cases, the important stove. There were floods in cellars, lost gardens. But nobody was hurt, nobody minded very much, and nobody I know of went to hotels or Red Cross centers to sit out the debacle. They went to one another's houses, quiet as a matter of course. Those of us who had heat took in those without and did not expect gratitude. We helped one another push fallen maples away from walls and hedges. We made enormous quantities of coffee and sandwiches, and we tucked other people's babies away in the nursery with our own. I have just returned from a walk down the street. My neighbor to the left, whose current had returned, was giving lunch to seven children besides her own, all of different ages and degrees of overstimulation. She planned on keeping them for a day or two since at their respective homes there would be no furnaces running for another twenty-four hours. The neighbor to my right was storing in her deep-freeze container the contents of someone else's freezer and inviting everybody to stay for dinner. Farther down three male neighbors were helping a householder patch his roof until the arrival of the uncertain carpenter.

Now all those were kind actions, but not unusual for any community when the excitement of an emergency bubbles in the veins like champagne. What astonishes me in our village is that we continue to be kind when the intoxication passes. We have not acquired the fear of being repulsed, which is the modern snobbery. We love our neighbor on small occasions as well as large. We visit the sick, we comfort the afflicted, but we are also benevolent toward those whose fortune is as good as ours, or better, so that we win the grace of doing good without condescension. Even the well-to-do are included in our affection. We tend our cars; we admire one another's gardens without malice; we listen with honest delight to the returned traveler in whose journey we could not afford to join; we tend one another's children, run one another's errands, turn taxi driver or nurse or dog-walker or caterer at our neighbor's signal. We are usually very busy people and therefore capable of accomplishing extra tasks. It is the leisure, I have noticed, who rebel the most at an interruption of routine.

I HAVE nearly forgotten the city ways. Tell me, you people in towns, when your neighbors go shopping of a morning, do they call you first to see if you find a bargain of unusual brilliance, do they fetch it home for you, offering to return the trophy if you have no use for it? When you are ill and maidless, do they send a dinner for the family, complete to chicken and lemon pie? Mine do. The one benefaction they withhold is advice. Our charity encompasses minding our own business. Continued on next page
