

BIG REORGANIZATION IN WOODS

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the
Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 14
PRESIDENT KENNEDY and top Government officials are engaged in a series of "stock-taking" meetings, aimed at a re-evaluation of U.S. European relations in the light of French President Charles de Gaulle's January 29 veto of Britain's entry into the Common Market and his refusal to permit France's participation in a NATO nuclear force. The President met Tuesday with members of the so-called National Security Council executive committee, created to formulate policy during last October's Cuban crisis.

Present at this first session were Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; former Secretary of State Dean Acheson; David K. E. Bruce, ambassador to Britain; Walter C. Dowling, ambassador to West Germany; and Christian A. Herter, special trade negotiator. A second, smaller meeting was held yesterday at the White House. Officials emphasized that the "stock-taking" sessions are designed to measure obstacles confronting the Atlantic partnership as a result of de Gaulle's recent policy decisions, not to revise American policy regarding Europe but to combat France's "threat" to that policy.

The U.S. post-World War II European concept evolved gradually, based on the 1947 Marshall Plan and the formation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in 1949. America envisages a Continental partnership of nations, working together for economic growth and the preservation of a Free Europe. De Gaulle's actions regarding Britain and the NATO nuclear force constitute a rejection of this "partnership" ideal. Two methods of combating the French President's policies are reportedly under consideration: outright isolation of France versus a kind of cautious cooperation-when-possible, opposition-when-necessary approach.

Friday, February 15
THE DEMOCRATIC STEERING COMMITTEE rejected an attempt to help push the Administration's tax and medical care programs yesterday, refusing to increase membership of the influential Senate Finance Committee from 17 to 19. President Kennedy, speaking at a scheduled Washington press conference later in the afternoon, discussed his tax program in detail, rebutting arguments that his tax reduction-reform bill would increase the Federal budget deficit unnecessarily by stressing that the only alternative to the reduction-reform proposal is inflation.

Acknowledging that "the people are concerned" about the national debt and size of the deficit, Mr. Kennedy admitted that he, too, was concerned. "But what I am most concerned about is the prospect of another recession," the President added. When he submitted his economic report to Congress in January, Mr. Kennedy stressed the fact that his tax plan was not based on "the fear of recession," but on five years of unemployment, under-capacity production and slack profits.

But the big-deficit argument emerged almost immediately as a major stumbling block to the Administration's tax-revision program, and yesterday the President argued: "The tax cut should be looked at not only as a method of making life easier, because if that were the only issue I think we would all be willing to pay our taxes to keep our economy going. But the tax cut argument rests with the desire to stimulate the economy and prevent a recession. Now, if we don't have the tax cut, it substantially, in my opinion, increases the chance of a recession, which will increase unemployment, which will increase the size of our deficit. . . . Our plan to prevent a recession this year and in the years to come is our tax bill."

Church Asks For Bids on Big Addition

First English Evangelical to Build Educational Unit Expected to Cost $225,000

Plans have been submitted to contractors for bids on the proposed addition to First English Ev. Lutheran Church, Vernier road and Wedgewood Drive. Designed primarily for the educational needs of the congregation, the building is estimated to cost $225,000 including furnishings. Rev. Paul F. Keppler is the pastor.

Construction of the addition is scheduled to start shortly after Easter with its dedication this fall. On the ground level space is provided for the nursery and kindergarten departments. A room is also planned for youth meetings with a kitchen adjacent.

For social purposes a church parlor is to be constructed on the first floor facing Vernier road. Also planned on this level is an office for pastoral use and a mother's room for care of smaller children.

On the second floor are four large Sunday School areas, to be divided into 12 smaller rooms. These rooms are designed to accommodate a maximum of 15 children for effective teaching.

Red Cross Sending Double Equipment To Collect Blood

Two Eight-Bed Units of Bloodmobile Service to Be Stationed in War Memorial Auditorium On Thursday, February 28

Two eight bed units of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile Service will be set up in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's William Fries Auditorium on Thursday, February 28, from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council is sponsoring this event with the War Memorial Association. The Center maintains a community Blood Bank from which any Grosse Pointe may borrow free of charge in case of emergency. This supply is now very low and this is a chance for previous borrowers to pay back their indebtedness as well as civic minded citizens to donate.

Churches Soliciting
In addition to the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Bank all the churches in the Grosse Pointe area will be soliciting members of their congregations to replenish their church blood banks. Teachers will be asked to make appointments to donate to the faculty blood banks and postal employees, city employees and some of the larger stores in Grosse Pointe will be refilling their banks.

This is also an opportunity to contribute to any individual in need or for anyone who has large amounts of blood to pay back. Collections will also be made for open heart surgery.

Any healthy adult up to age 60 may donate blood and 18 to (Continued on Page 2)

$865 in Goods Stolen from Car

A thief, or thieves, broke into a convertible car belonging to John Haynes of 22919 Colony, St. Clair Shores, on Thursday, February 14, and stole a number of items valued at a total of $865, according to information given to Farms police.

Haynes told police that he had parked his automobile at the rear of 18760 Mack avenue, while shopping, and returned to find a vent window broken and the car door open and the items gone.

Stolen, he said, were the following: a 12-gauge automatic shotgun, valued at $75; a six-inch power saw, $35; a quarter-inch power drill, $20; a gray tool box with assorted tools, $100; a man's ski coat, $35; four pairs of trousers, $50; 18 white shirts, $30; a woolen overcoat, $125; white Gabardine trench coat, $24; two full length Cashmere coats, $130 each; two lady's wool-Cashmere sweaters, $36 and five skirts, 75.

Haynes, new owner of Ernie's Bar, Mack and Kerby, said that his car was parked from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m., at which time the theft was discovered. He was going to take all of the items home, he said.

Det. Sgts. George Van Tiem and Jack Paisley said that a known suspect, who has been active in the area, is being sought for questioning.

Woman's Tip Lets Police Nip Store Burglary in Bud

Two Park police officers, alerted by a passing woman motorist, arrested two Detroit men in the act of burglarizing a Detroit store. Detroit police arrested a third person in the store.

According to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, Patrolmen Henry Wilson and Robert Arman, at 12:12 a.m. Wednesday, February 13, were stopped in their scout car, at the Detroit-Park city limits, Jefferson and Wayburn. They were hailed by a woman motorist who stated that a window of a Kresge Store at Jefferson and Lakewood, had been smashed.

The woman said that there appeared to be suspicious activities in the store. The officers sped to the scene.

As they approached, Wilson and Arman saw a youth running from the store, and another youth walking from the door-

Safety, Works Departments Reorganized

City Administrator Petersen Announces Shift For Greater Efficiency And Economy

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen disclosed on Monday, February 18, that the city has reorganized its Public Safety and Public Works Departments for more efficient services to the taxpayers and for better economy.

The reorganization of the Public Safety Department, which is a combined police-fire department, went into effect on Friday, February 15; the reorganization plans for the DPW will not become effective until Monday, February 25.

The former does not call for a shift in command posts and will not cost extra to the city taxpayers, although two new men have been added to the department. However, the latter calls for a combining of various departments under one head and is expected to save the city an estimated $35,000 annually, according to Petersen.

Hope to Cut Rates
The public Safety Department operation was changed to permit better police and fire protection, with an eye to the future of lowering the fire insurance rate in the city, the city administrator said.

At present, the Woods is rated as a seventh class city, as regards to fire insurance rates. It is hoped that because of the reorganization of the Public Safety Department, it will be raised to a sixth class city, and eventually to fifth class.

Plans for the reorganization of the DPW call for the merging of the Highway Division, Water-Sewer Division and Building Inspection Division under one supervision.

Picked to be assistant director of the combined department was Tony Guaresimo, presently head of the Water-Sewer Division; Al Hershberger, present head of the Highway Department was named as Project Coordinator of Public Works. The posts of senior crew chief and crew chief were also created.

City Administrator Petersen will head the department as executive, since he is head of the city administration and responsible to the Woods Council. Final approval of all activities of the reorganized department will rest with him.

Has Council Approval
The reorganization of the Public Safety and Public Works Departments has received the approval of the Woods council. Petersen said a recent re-inspection of the Woods' fire protection by the Michigan Inspection Bureau revealed several problems in providing adequate and increased fire protection for the city.

In recent months, he said, this "sleeping duty" had become quite controversial and some officers refused to accept such assignments, since it was purely on a voluntary basis. If this type of duty was permitted to continue, a request would have been made to increase the rate of pay from eight dollars a night to twelve dollars.

Keep Police Authority
Under the present set-up, three Engineer-Public Safety officers have been assigned to each shift for permanent fire duty, for round-the-clock fire protection. These men still retain their police authority, it was pointed out.

The men in "Shift A" will work 10 hours a day for four days; "Shift B" will work 14 hours a day for four days; and "Shift C" will be off for four days. This work schedule and time off is rotated.

This plan, Petersen said, may require an additional $2,000 appropriation for this fiscal year budget, which would be absorbed in the department's current budget without an additional appropriation.

The city manager said that the city hired two new Public Safety officers, but at no extra cost to the city, since the wages paid to "sleepers" now go toward the salaries of the new personnel.

Woods Officials Plagued By Lack of Parking Space

Grosse Pointe Woods' off-street parking problems continue to plague City officials, with Grosse Pointe Clinic Corp.'s renewed battle for permission to use lots 7 and 8 of Beaufort-Koch-Tessmar Subdivision as parking area for the Clinic's staff and patients parking requests from Mack avenue business and professional men for additional off-street parking facilities.

Dr. Matthew W. Fontana, 20861 Mack avenue, appeared before the Woods City Council, meeting in regular session Monday evening, February 18, to call the Council's attention to parking problems in the vicinity of Hollywood and Mack, and the "dire need" for more off-street facilities in this area. In a February 6 letter to the Council, Dr. Fontana described the situation as "serious . . . becoming more critical everyday."

"We have recently purchased a lot on Mack avenue, 1 1/2 blocks away, next to Wood's Florist for employees and doctors parking," Dr. Fontana wrote. "This additional parking lot has not solved any of our customers' parking problem, and very little of the employees'. We are trying to keep as many of the employees' cars off the side streets as possible in order to prevent ill feeling with the surrounding neighbors."

"We have provided for considerably more than your minimum zoning ordinance requirements for off-street parking. We and our tenants have a total assessed valuation in excess of $250,000 in this area according to your tax records. We would (Continued on Page 2)

St. Columba Episcopal Church, Manistique and Jefferson, will hold a rummage sale this Thursday with the doors opening at 9:30 o'clock.

Departments Being Reorganized in Woods

In the merging of the divisions of the DPW, Petersen pointed out that at the beginning of the fiscal year in July 1961, the department's budget provided for the equivalent of 30 employees having a total payroll of $158,380.

duced the number of employees to 25, with a payroll of $134,162. This is a reduction of $24,218, despite the fact that a three percent salary increase and longevity pay were authorized in the present budget.

Petersen said that an additional $10,000 annually could be saved by the city contracting the weekly pick-up of tree limbs and branches. Presently, two trucks with three-man crews have been spending two days a week picking up limbs and branches. The loads are hauled to the DPW yard, dumped and then "chipped and the residue picked up by the city's rubbish contractor and hauled away at a contract price per load.

More Time for City
Petersen said that contracting for this service would not only provide budgetary savings, but would also provide an additional 98 man-hours weekly to be applied to other activities of the department.

The savings in the contracting for grass cutting may not be as great, inasmuch as most of this work is performed by temporary labor at $1.50 an hour, the city administrator said.

Petersen said that the money saved in the reorganization of the DPW will be used to repair and resurface the city's streets, especially in areas where this is badly needed.

Pointers Win Art Awards

Several Pointers won awards in the 17th Exhibition for Michigan Artist-Craftsmen now being held at the Detroit Institute of Arts. The show will continue through March 3.

In the Metals and Enamels class Helen M. Bingham, of Chalfonte road, won for a silver vase. Other winners in this class were Lorna S. Oard, of Rivard boulevard; Sonja Preuthun, of Bedford road; Mrs. Jane Mutter Ryerson, of Balfour road, and Masarah Sadi, of Balfour road.

Two winners in the textile class were Freda Harrington, of Balfour road, and Irene G. Paek, of Vernier road. Barb Wenzel won an award for a wooden bowl.

Rotary Inducts New Members

The Grosse Pointe Rotary inducted three new members into the local club last Monday. They are William H. Denier, 277 Cloverly; Russ M. Harkness, 864 Hidden lane; and Alexander G. "Bud" Gill, 1898 Fleetwood.

In addition at the meeting the Rotarians and their respective Rotary-Arms viewed a film on the making of the HMS Bounty. This was in preparation for a theatre outing of Rotary to see "Mutiny on the Bounty" on Friday, March 1. Rotarians interested in joining should contact Ed Hickey.

Dance Planned By Newcomers

The Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club will climax the present season at the Mardi Gras Masked Ball on February 23. Festivities will begin at 9 o'clock at the American Legion Post, 20916 Mack avenue.

Those attending may feel as though they are truly in New Orleans as they enjoy the Dixieland music, the carnival decorations, and a French-creole style supper. Those with the most clever masks will be awarded prizes.

The party committee chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gracey. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Bond, Mr. and Mrs. David Frayne, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Simon.

Make Appointment

Appointments help immeasurably in making the blood bank operate smoothly say Mrs. Victor Craig, chairman of this Blood Drive. Appointments will be made 10 every fifteen minutes throughout the day and evening though a few spaces will be left at all times for walk-ins. Every effort will be made to adhere closely to the appointment schedule so as to minimize waiting. A baby sitting service will be provided and a pick-up service for those who need rides. The new ballroom location should make the whole operation smoother and pleasanter. Call TU 1-7511 for an appointment.

Three Killed

8108 East Jefferson, Detroit, became the third victim on September 24, when her car was hit by another as she was driving on Mack avenue and she crashed into the Medical Clinic Building, 19535 Mack.

She was pronounced dead on arrival at St. John Hospital.

Mrs. Assolin's death marred the Woods' five-year perfect record of no traffic fatalities.

STATION WAGON STOLEN

Mrs. Larone Porter, 881 Hampton, parked her white Valiant station wagon, a '62 four-door, in the alley behind Harrison Carping in "The Village" at approximately 3 p.m. Thursday, February 14.

Completing her shopping in less than an hour, she returned to the parking space—and found her car gone.

Mrs. Porter told City police she may have left keys and registration inside the vehicle.

from William G. Self, M.D., 20861 Mack; from Prudential Insurance Co., 20879 Mack; Bernard Hair Stylists, 20845 Mack; and Vic Tanny Enterprises Inc., 20835 Mack.

Mayor Kenneth R. McLeod informed Dr. Fontana that the problem of off-street parking in the entire area had been referred to the Citizens Traffic Safety Commission at the last regular Council meeting, and was currently under study.

Dr. Fontana's letter and the supporting letters were referred to the Citizens Traffic Safety Commission, already studying the Grosse Pointe Clinic Corp. case. According to Director of Public Safety Vern C. Bailey, the Public Safety Department is currently compiling data which will be discussed at the Citizens Traffic Safety Commission's next regular meeting March 13.

Bailey thinks Grosse Pointe Clinic's problem and that of Dr. Fontana are closely related. He does not see how the Woods can work toward a solution of the one without considering the other.

Dr. Fontana noted that there are approximately 17 offices currently for sale or lease in the Woods, and eight of these are located in the area north of Vernier. With new subdivisions being built up, the doctor observed, more and more people will be coming into the area.

These people will require services, and Dr. Fontana fears the lack of parking facilities near Mack avenue will force residents to search for these services in other areas.

Dr. Fontana submitted pictures of congested parking facilities along Mack avenue. The pictures, and a complete transcript of Dr. Fontana's testimony, are being forwarded to the Citizens Traffic Safety Commission.

Why did Mrs. Drouillard buy 8 Gas dryers?

Because she and her husband run a self-service laundry . . . the Betty Brite Laundry at 13898 Northline in Southgate, Michigan.

Like 97% of laundry owners, the Drouillards use Gas dryers exclusively. Other dryers are far too expensive to operate.

Housewives find this true in their own homes. You spend only 2¢ an hour to run a Gas dryer. Others cost 10¢ an hour. That's a savings of 8¢ an hour. Or $41.60 a year.

Worthwhile? That's only the start! A Gas dryer operates by a flame . . . and a flame won't wear out. You get years and years of service.

Plan now to make the wise choice laundry operators make! See the latest Gas dryers on display at dealer or Gas Company showrooms. Easy terms.

WOODS COUNCIL IN HASSLE WHILE DENYING PETITION

James C. Bley's petition for a variance of the rear yard provisions of the Woods' zoning ordinance was denied Monday night February 18, Bley, 1584 Cook road, wanted to build an enclosed "family room" on the rear of his house. He was refused permission by a majority vote of the Council, acting as Board of Appeals, 4 to 3.

Councilmen favoring Bley's request were Marvin R. Boutin, Kenneth W. Boerner and David H. Fairless. They argued that the proposed "family room" would tend to upgrade the community as a whole.

Boutin, stating that he feels the intent and purpose of a zoning ordinance is to deter and discourage downgrading, observed that, in his opinion, Bley's proposed addition would encourage other property owners to improve their residence. He noted that Bley had planned to spend some $3,000 to $4,000 on his addition, and that the sketch Bley submitted showed a well-constructed, good-looking room.

Fairless pointed to three existing violations of the zoning ordinance, at 1512 and 1464 Cook, and at 1525 Dorthen. All three have enclosed, all-weather rooms extending into their back yards.

These rooms encroach upon the rear yard minimum requirements of the Zoning Ordinance, as Bley's would, if its erection were permitted. One of the rooms was built before the present ordinance went into effect, the other two erected without Council knowledge or approval.

Fairless argued that Bley, who had at least shown the courtesy of proceeding through normal channels in his request for a building permit and ordinance variance, should not be penalized for that courtesy, adding that the proposed encroachment was very negligible.

Councilmen Frederick M. Maddock, Benjamin W. Pinkos, Thomas E. Leah and Mayor Kenneth R. McLeod, who opposed Bley's request, argued that Bley had failed to prove "undue hardship" and therefore Council had no grounds on which to grant him an ordinance variance.

Leah, who visited Bley's property personally, said that he found lots in the area very shallow and that to grant Bley a variance would in his opinion be detrimental to the community as a whole. He felt that to permit further encroachment simply because three existing violations exist would be unwise.

Pinkos seconded Leah, terming the argument that another violation should be permitted on the basis of existing violations "not quite feasible." He added that the Council is a legislative rather than a judicial body, that it was up to the City Administration to investigate zoning ordinance violations and make recommendations.

The Council's function, according to the four members who voted against Bley's request, is to act on the Administration's recommendations, while enforcement of penalties is the proper concern of the judiciary.

Fairless rebutted this argument, saying that denial of Bley's appeal, in effect, amounts to the Council closing its eyes to existing violations and penalizing the one man who approached the body through proper channels, while it encourages other property owners to avoid official channels.

Boutin noted that 12 residents in Bley's immediate area supported his request for an ordinance variance, while only three property owners voiced opposition.

The Woods' present Zoning Code permits unenclosed porches to extend into rear yards in Bley's subdivision, but requires specific Council approval for the erection of all-weather rooms.

Repeal of Teener Smoking Law Suggested by Students

Frank Bowles, Grosse Pointe High School Student Association president and delegate to the Second Region of the Michigan Association of Student Councils, has proposed that the suburban student council organization petition Governor Romney and the State Legislature for repeal of teenage smoking laws.

Second Region Student Council delegates met two weeks ago, discussed the smoking problem from all angles, and considered Frank's motion to "propose to Governor Romney that the present smoking law, which is unenforced and disregarded, be replaced by an effective educational program carried out with the assistance of government agencies."

Explaining that the GPHS Council asks neither merchants nor police to enforce smoking laws, as it considers such things outside individual school bounds, Frank argued that the regional group of councils, as a community organization, might properly concern itself with community problems and request legislation.

He indicated that his proposal had two purposes: to lessen the problems of student councils and school administrations in enforcing an unenforceable law; and to create a "new program to help solve the health problem, connected with smoking" in the community as a whole.

Council delegates discussed teenage smoking in its legal, social and health aspects, pointing out that it is impossible to enforce present laws and therefore teenagers do not respect them.

They noted that educational programs on the health hazards of smoking would be most effective if aimed at elementary and junior high students, rather than at high schoolers among whom the habit is firmly established. Some delegates believe that if the present laws were abolished, many young people would never start smoking, as they would not have the feeling they were getting away with something.

Republicans of District Continue Power Struggle

The inter-Party power struggle in Wayne County's 14th Congressional District Republican organization exploded into open warfare Tuesday, February 12. "Conservative" District Chairman Richard Durant, appearing before a Senate committee in Lansing, testified to block the appointment of George N. Bashara, Jr., 28, of 462 McKinley, to the Michigan Employment Security Commission Appeal Board. Bashara's appointment was confirmed last Thursday by the State Senate, after the whole matter had been thoroughly aired at the Tuesday hearing. Bashara, who served as executive vice president of the Republican Action Committee opposing Durant in his successful fight to retain the GOP of the 14th District GOP organization last fall, asked for a hearing before the Senate Business Committee. He made the request Friday, February 9, asking that his confirmation be withheld pending the hearing. Bashara's demand to appear before the Senate Business Committee followed statements by Durant and Detroit labor leaders charging that he "Bashara" was a "union buster."

Great Decisions Meeting Tonight

The problem of Algeria's future will be considered tonight when Great Decisions 1963 meets for the third time in the Friends Room of the Main Library, Kercheval at Fisher road, at 7:30 o'clock. Group participants, gathered in an informal "round table" session patterned after early American town meetings, will discuss the impact of the 1954-62 Algerian rebellion on Algeria, France and the world as a whole. They will consider economic and cold-war aspects of Algeria's seven and a half year struggle for independence, its effect on Arab and Afro-Asian nations, and its implications in relation to United States foreign policy.

Smart Students Now Relaxing

For six bright Grosse Pointe High School seniors, the waiting is over. These boys and girls, notified of their acceptance at private colleges under the increasingly popular Early Decision Plan, may now sit back and relax—while other private college applicants must wait until late April or early May to find out where, (and if) they will be continuing their education next year.

Smart Students Now Relaxing

The farsighted six are Bob Hudson, who will study at Oberlin; Bill Lenz, headed for Dartmouth; Viki Heffler, accepted at Vassar; Bob Johnson, entering Lehigh; Mary Lou Nigro, accepted at Depauw; and Jenny Longo, entering Denison. Under the Early Decision Plan, superior high school students who have selected one college as a definite first choice may apply for admittance early in their senior year, and will be notified of the status of their applications in January.

42,000 SIGNS BUILT

The Michigan State Highway Department built more than 42,000 traffic signs and installed them on 9,200 miles of state highways during 1962. "More than 100 different legends were put on the signs," according to Fred Miller, head of the Highway Department's Lansing Sign Shop. "They range from temporary signs used at detours to permanent signs for new freeways." Size of the signs range from a 12-inch Michigan route marker to a 28-foot-long sign suspended over high-speed freeways.

Foreign Students Guests in Pointe

Several American Field Service foreign exchange students currently studying in the Metropolitan Detroit area were guests in Grosse Pointe homes this past weekend. The young "ambassadors" joined Grosse Pointe High School's own AFS students in a traditional panel assembly on Friday, February 15, then settled down for a few days of "getting to know you" under the best possible circumstances—at home. Grosse Pointe High School AFS students have received invitations to participate in similar programs in surrounding communities. This week at Grosse Pointe High—only school in Michigan to have four AFS students—is "American Field Service fundraising week." Grosse Pointe students themselves finance two foreign exchanges under the AFS program, raising money through food sales in the cafeteria and an all-out "homeroom" drive. The four junior homerooms contributing the most money will have the privilege of enrolling four exchange students as members of their homerooms next year.

Smart Students Now Relaxing

Among the Grosse Pointe students entertaining AFS'ers in their homes last weekend were sophomores Bruce Fox and Barb Warmbold; juniors Don Law, Claire Wilcoxon, Irene Stewart, Karin Erickson, Diane Gould and Connie Baiser; and seniors Jim Kushman and Don Yeoman. Mrs. Arthur Bartholomew, 296 Cloverly, is in charge of the AFS program this year. She is searching for suitable homes for next year's foreign students, and urges all Grosse Pointers who might be interested to contact her at TU 1-4793.

Fire Discovered By Taxi Driver

John Stendel, 20913 Ridgemont, Harper Woods, a driver for the Park Cab Co., was cruising on Neff road at midnight Thursday, February 7, when he noticed smoke and flames coming from the attic and roof of 908 Neff. Stendel woke the house's occupant, Alfred Palmer. The City Fire Department, notified via telephone and call box, responded with both trucks, and the fire was under control within 10 minutes. Fire Department personnel used water to extinguish the flames, shut off the electricity and notified Detroit Edison. Cause of the blaze has not yet been determined. There were no injuries.

MICHIGAN BELL

IF CALLING the folks back home has been only an occasional treat, why not make it a regular weekly event... at a time most convenient for you? More and more people are taking advantage of the lower Long Distance rates on many calls within Michigan. During the daytime, you can make a three-minute station-to-station call to anywhere in Michigan for a dollar or less. After 6 p.m. weekdays and all day Sunday, rates are even lower—70¢ or less up to 9 p.m. And after 9 p.m., every day, you can call for 50¢ or less. Excluding taxes, of course. Take advantage of these low rates by calling your Michigan relatives and friends often. No doubt about it, Long Distance is the next best thing to being there.

THERE'S MONEY IN A PILE of old phone books. That's why we ship mountains of old directories back to the paper mill. They're reduced to pulp once again, then made into new paper for future Michigan Bell telephone directories. We salvage about 3 million old directories every year—enough to fill a 76-car freight train to capacity! This behind-the-scenes operation saves us a considerable amount of money. And it's just one of the many ways all of us at Michigan Bell work to keep expenses down so we can continue to provide you with telephone service that's high in value, low in cost.

Freeways Spur Tourist Travel

Michigan's freeway network is making a positive contribution to the growth of Michigan's tourist industry, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said recently.

"An analysis of traffic volumes and sales tax revenue points up the close connection between good highways and good business for the tourist industry," Mackie said.

"Despite an unseasonably cool summer, Michigan's tourist industry had its best summer season last year. Our freeways made a positive contribution to this record."

Mackie, speaking at a luncheon following the dedication of a highway modernization project on M-91 here, said that despite some charges to the contrary, Michigan's nearly 1,000 miles of freeways provide an unexcelled opportunity for the tourist industry by opening up new potential markets and by providing safe and easy travel for the tourist.

"Rather than being the 'tunnel' that some people have called them, Michigan's freeways are really rivers which feed the many tributaries that penetrate into all parts of Michigan's vacation and recreation areas. Each of the interchanges serves as a transfer point to vacationland."

"Traffic volumes recorded at the Mackinac Bridge, when compared with the traffic on the Ohio-Mackinac Bridge Freeway, show that an overwhelming number of motorists that use this freeway do not cross the bridge but rather get off the freeway and stop in Northern Michigan."

Mackie said sales tax revenue on food in 31 Northern Michigan counties was up 300 per cent over the state average during June, July and August compared to the same months in 1961.

"The impact of the Ohio-Mackinac Bridge Freeway is not confined, as some claim, to the 'corridor counties' alone.

"In fact, many counties far removed from the Ohio-Mackinac Bridge Freeway had greater increases in sales tax on food this summer than counties through which the freeway travels."

Sales tax returns on the sale of food are considered by the tourist industry as a good barometer of tourist business.

He cited Grand Traverse and Roscommon counties as good examples.

"Sales tax revenues on food during June, July and August were up 6.3 per cent in Grand Traverse County, compared to the same months a year ago.

"Roscommon County, through which the freeway passes, had an increase of 3.2 per cent this summer."

Mackie said five Northern Michigan freeway corridor counties had a 3.5 per cent increase in sales tax revenue on food this summer. They include Clare, Roscommon, Crawford, Otsego and Cheboygan counties.

Five adjoining counties west of the freeway enjoyed a 4.2 per cent increase in sales tax on food. They included Missaukee, Kalkaska, Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

"Some people in Northwestern Michigan refuse to admit the Ohio-Mackinac Bridge Freeway has benefited that area of the state because it does not pass by their front door," Mackie said.

"They forget this freeway enables a Detroit motorist to reach Ludington, Cadillac or Traverse City in half the time it took just a few years ago."

Mackie said 11 Northwestern Michigan counties had a 4.2 per cent increase in sales tax revenues on food this summer compared to a 2.7 per cent average increase for 31 Northern Michigan counties.

3 Cars Tangle In Lincoln Road

Mrs. Evelyn Legato, 886 Lincoln, called City police Thursday morning, February 14, to report an automobile accident in front of 887 Lincoln. Officers George Brackx and Donald F. Fritz, arriving at the scene, took reports from William C. Ostler, 726 Hawthorne, Royal Oak, and Marian Larkins, 721 Lincoln.

Ostler, driving south on Lincoln, was in the process of passing a parked car in front of 887 Lincoln when his vehicle was struck in its left front by Mrs. Larkins' automobile, headed north on the same street.

The impact pushed Ostler's car into the left front of the parked vehicle, owned by William J. Lyack, 16117 Coram, Detroit.

There were no injuries, although Ostler's automobile sustained considerable damage and had to be towed away. The other two cars were drivable. No tickets were issued.

Five GPHS Boys Perfect in Test

Five Grosse Pointe High School boys, all seniors, attained perfect scores in December College Board tests... Paul Kyzivat, Jim Holderness, Pat Finerty and Mike Redlin—made 800 (all-correct) scores on the Advanced Mathematics achievement exam.

The fifth, Bob Richard, scored 800 on the English Composition test... Dr. Robert J. Hanson, GPHS guidance coordinator, describes a College Board Achievement test score of 800 as equivalent to getting 100 on the final exam in a course.

Last year's average score on the Advanced Math Test, based on 42,000 testees' work, was 600. This year, the median for the 14 GPHS students who took the exam in December was 714.

Dr. Hanson believes the Grosse Pointers' high average is due to the fact that they took the test voluntarily, expecting to do well.

Pointes to Get $75,990 From State Highway Fund

The State Highway Department has begun its quarterly distribution of its Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages, according to information received from State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

The distribution, the fourth from funds collected in 1962, will net the Pointes a total of $75,990, making the over all total received so far $282,465.

Mackie disclosed that the net receipts of the Highway Fund during October, November and December of 1962, amounted to $46,177,670, a decrease of $1,339,825 compared to the same period of 1961.

Major reason for the decrease was that the sale of 1963 license tabs fell off considerably compared to license sales during the same period in 1961, when motorists were issued their first new license plates in three years.

Under the fourth quarter distribution, the Woods will receive $24,097; Park, $20,006; Farms, $17,545; City, $9,494; and the Shores, $3,348.

The total share received by the five Pointes from the Highway Department from the 1962 fund collections, is: Woods, $117,897; Park, $97,287; Farms, $82,725; City, $44,820; and the Shores, $15,728.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go into the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of State Law, which provides that 47 percent goes to the State Highway Department for use on State highways; 35 percent to Michigan's 83 counties for use on county roads; and 18 percent to 511 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the Highway Department will receive $24,703,505 as its share of the fourth quarter collections; counties, $16,162,184; and cities and villages, $6,311,981.

An additional $594,287 was withheld from the counties' share for snow removal. These funds will be shared by the counties based on snow fall in each county this winter season.

Men Gardeners To Hear Zwickey

Grosse Pointe Men's Garden Club announces a lecture by Lynn Zwickey on "The Cone-bearing Tree, Here and Abroad," as the feature of its monthly meeting at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, at 8 p.m., Thursday, February 21.

Mr. Zwickey will present slides in a series of "treescapes" ranging over the United States, Mexico, England, Italy and Switzerland. His aim will be to suggest tricks by which the traveler may recognize the more important groups of cone-bearing trees in the landscapes around him.

Mr. Zwickey is presently teacher of Biology at Detroit's Osborn High School. He formerly taught at East Commerce High School, where "treescapes" were a very popular feature of the Biology course. He is editor of "Garden Pointers," the monthly bulletin of the Grosse Pointe Men's Garden Club, which, under his editorship, climbed to second rank among the bulletins of the Men's Garden Clubs of America.

Pointe men interested in seeing trees as they travel are cordially invited to attend this open meeting.

To Air Views On Constitution

Grosse Pointe voters still undecided as to their acceptance of Michigan's proposed new constitution will have a chance to hear both sides of the question on Wednesday, February 27, at Grosse Pointe High School.

Arguments for the proposed change will be presented by Mrs. Robert Foerch, second vice-president of the League of Women Voters of Michigan, and state chairman of the League's program on the constitution.

Opposing the change will be Dr. Mel Nord, chairman of the Lawyers To Reject the Constitution, and member of the steering committee of the Citizens for Sound Government. The moderator will be Dr. Stanley Cook, a long-time teacher in the Grosse Pointe schools.

After preliminary statements by the two speakers, there will be time provided for the discussion of questions submitted in writing from the floor.

Co-chairmen of the arrangements for the meeting are Mrs. Leonard Slown of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe, and Dr. Cook for the Grosse Pointe Federation of Teachers. A third sponsoring organization is the Grosse Pointe Education Association. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the old auditorium.

Center Single Club to Dance

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Center Club for young single business and professional people in Grosse Pointe will be holding its monthly dance Friday evening, March 1, at 9 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom of the Center's William Fries Auditorium.

Jack Rosevear's society combo will supply the music for dancing and there will be refreshments served at intimate candle lit tables.

The Center Club is for all single Grosse Pointers and their guests in their twenties and thirties. Dates are not necessary and there is a committee of hosts and hostesses to see that everyone gets acquainted.

Many Pointers returning from campuses or the services, or positions away from home find these dances a wonderful way to get back into the swing of things. It is also a wonderful way to get acquainted with young people who are new to the community.

The parties always have informal entertainment and song fests at intermission time. The dress is simply business suits for the men and afternoon dresses for the young ladies.

Pack 39 Holds Annual Dinner

Cub Pack 39 of Barnes School held its annual Blue and Gold Dinner at Alcamos Hall Tuesday evening, February 12. Cubs and parents began to gather at 6:15 o'clock for the exciting evening.

Each Den occupied a table with their parents — decorated with center pieces and place cards made by the boys of the respective Dens. Food served buffet style, was abundant, with all the trimmings — truly a famous repast.

Bob Cooper began the entertainment with an excellent display of legerdemain. His fine selection of magic was baffling to the adults and most entertaining for the Cubs, even though uncollected comments indicated that they all knew exactly how each trick was done.

The entertainment continued with an outstanding display of fancy gun handling and "quick-draw" artistry by Messrs. Bill Schaeffer and Sam Ellis, representing the Grosse Pointe Quick Draw Club. Gun safety was the salient theme or lesson to be learned, which of course is fundamental with such equipment. However, it was rumored that more than one parent and even some teachers were challenged the following day.

The evening came to a pleasant close with the presentation of awards to those boys who worked so hard on their required achievements.

Jim Hammer was introduced as the new cubmaster as were his assistants, Dr. E. L. Freitas and James Costello. Incumbent Cubmaster Walt Leibold and Pack Chairman Jack Palmer planned and hosted the evening and they are certainly deserving of a "Well Done."

Michigan's Constitutional Convention had available to it research work of a staff headed by and recruited from among members of the state's public and private colleges and universities. Also, preliminary research work by six study groups, a Governor's commission and the aid of private Michigan foundations and organizations.

St. Paul Lakers Advance In Catholic Cage Tourney

By Dick Schmitt
The St. Paul Lakers advanced in the Catholic City Cage Tournament last Sunday night at the University of Detroit Memorial Building with a slim 45-44 victory over Visitation High School.

This victory earned the Lakers a berth in the semifinals played last Tuesday. Their foe was Catholic Central who whipped Holy Redeemer 58-51 earlier Sunday. St. Paul could not crack the tough Visitation defense in the first half. Visitation led by as many as 7 points during intervals, but the Lakers managed to keep within 2 points to make it 22-24 at half time.

Deserved Demise of Rule 9

With the Supreme Court having rightfully sounded the death knell for controversial Rule 9, the time seemed fitting for a review of the long, drawn-out legal fights and arguments over the much-publicized Point System. Paul Maxon, well known real estate broker and an official of both of the Pointe organizations involved, was as close as anyone to the whole picture. The News has prevailed upon him to prepare a history of the case and a statement of his personal views. The letter he has written follows.

To the Editor

A recent editorial in a Detroit newspaper was good reading because it correctly saw defunct Rule 9 as against property rights. However, I'm a bit curious as to why the so-called "point system" was referred to as "infamous". It was of course distasteful to many, especially to the two associations operating it, because it dealt with a distasteful issue, but "infamous" implies wrong doing, a serious accusation. Percentages were distasteful, but were they infamous?

The Grosse Pointe system was predicated on the theory that a considerate home owner wished, when selling, to protect his neighbors' property values and needed the advice of a broker. This purpose may not have suited the minority groups, but how did it get to be called such names? A little history may throw some light on this.

As a somewhat perennial secretary of the Grosse Pointe Broker's Association and a past president, I was asked by the lawyers to serve as its spokesman, and was an eye witness at the proceedings which resulted in the abandoning of the plan. I have rather complete files, and I believe I can account for the name calling.

At the 1960 State hearing regarding Grosse Pointe's Reference Report System, I truthfully testified along the following lines before Atty. General Paul S. Adams and Michigan Corporation & Securities Commissioner Lawrence Gubow:

1) That the Grosse Pointe plan was unanimously adopted in 1945 under what was at that time considered a directive from Michigan Corporation & Securities Commission which had printed in its "Red Book" of 1943, the Code of Ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards with a prefix that brokers and salesmen ought to observe this Code.

2) That Article 34 of this Code at that time read as follows: "A realtor should never be instrumental in introducing into a neighborhood a character of property or occupancy, members of any race or nationality or any individual whose presence will clearly be detrimental to property values in that neighborhood."

3) That, although the Commission did not repeat this endorsement in its 1959 "Red Book," it had never issued any statement in contradiction thereof.

represent that property values are not affected by the nature of ownerships. However, I believe that the experts, the real estate men, do not agree except as to small or low priced districts able to absorb the minority groups sufficiently to maintain values.

Let me now come back to the name-calling, and how I think it all started. To shorten the story, all testimony bearing on the virtues of the Grosse Pointe plan from the home owners' viewpoint, protection of property values etc., was ignored in Mr. Adams' decision that the operation was "wholly immoral." In his statement there was no recognition of the well known issue between the concept of universal brotherhood and private property rights. The plan was not partially but "wholly immoral," Mr. Adams supported his statement (copy of which I have before me) only with viewpoints of the universal brotherhood side of the issue, ignoring the property rights side. Although his statement had been prefaced by professions of impartiality, no explanation was given to the defendants as to why their evidence was thrown out. However, subsequent events would seem to provide an explanation.

The Grosse Pointe system was dropped a month or two after the hearing, not because it was unlawful, but because revocation of the charters of the two Associations was threatened by the Commission and because of the publicity. Grosse Pointe brokers were law abiding then, and I'm sure they always will be. I was surprised to hear in effect that a broker unwilling to double cross his clients was wholly immoral, but it turned out that there were plenty of people who did believe Mr. Adams or wanted to. Regardless of validity, a statement given state-wide into TV cameras by a high State authority sounds authentic, and if people want to believe such a statement, they are not likely to study the facts conscientiously.

Now let me see if a good look at the ensuing Rule 9 and the promotion thereof will throw any further light on the vilification of the Grosse Pointe system. I believe that Rule 9, copies of which were mailed out in August 1960 to all brokers as a 9th rule against "unfair dealing" for the "Red Book," may have unfortunately resulted from a paragraph in my opening statement before the Adams hearing. This paragraph went as follows: "I believe that the cause for concern is not the Brokers, nor the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association, but human prejudice everywhere. I believe this is well known. This plan is being conducted in fine residential communities all over the country, but in a more informal manner, in more haphazard, less fair, less intelligent manner than our own conscientious, sincere attempts to make the best of these well known prejudices as they exist."

At any rate, Rule 9 was sponsored by the same men who had conducted the hearing on the Grosse Pointe system. It was mailed to all State licensed brokers a few months later, after two State hearings, which I went to out of curiosity. They seemed to be attended in large numbers by the organized minority groups and in much smaller numbers by the less organized majority groups. Rule 9 controlled the conduct of brokers very briefly however — only until an injunction was asked by two Lansing brokers and granted by the Ingham County Circuit Court. The purpose of the Rule seemed rather veiled. Unless carefully studied, it appeared to control only the brokers, not the owners. However a careful reading indicated otherwise. When questioned by real estate men, Mr. Gubow made clear that if an owner gave a broker restrictive instructions, the broker must drop the listing, which meant that if an owner, considerate of neighborhood values, wanted freedom of sale, he might have to do the selling himself without a broker. However, Mr. Gubow in Oct. 1960 was quoted by the Grosse Pointe Press as having stated on "Viewpoint," a radio program, "The rule does not penalize the private homeowner. If it did then I would be guilty of what I am accused, legislating." This conflict in Mr. Gubow's representations could probably be attributed to ardor for his cause. His willingness to dispense with brokers licensed to practice under the auspices of his Commission would seem to be excessive

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

(Last week I embarked on a discussion of what constitutes a book—this leading to its history and origin. Today's column concludes the subject.)

In 1499, Pope Nicholas V founded the Vatican Library, thus making Rome the center of culture, and intensifying the need for a faster system of duplication than manual copying. Johannes Gutenberg solved the problem in 1450 when he set the type for, and printed the Latin Bible. And with this invention, paper came into a rich inheritance of usefulness. In 1476 William Caxton set up the first press in England, with his "Recuyell of the Histories of Troy" being the first printed book in the English language. The earliest printing press in the New World was set up in 1539 by Juan Pablos in Mexico City.

For the coming of typography to United States, we must look to the Pilgrims who brought this discovery to Massachusetts in 1638. The first piece of work produced at their press was the "Freeman's" printed on a half-sheet of small paper; the earliest book to survive from the output of this press was the famous "Bay Psalm Book"; completed in 1640. Two outstanding printers of Colonial America were Isaiah Thomas, and of course, Benjamin Franklin.

The eighteenth century was a period of great progress in bookmaking. Such names as William Caslon and John Baskerville appeared at this time. Great strides were made in papermaking, binding, and illustration. In Europe, new techniques of intaglio engraving appeared; color printing came into its own. In France, we find engraved books by such artists as Boucher, Fragonard and Gravelot; the names of Fournier and Didot dominate the field of typography. This century also saw the rise of the modern publishing trade. Until now, an author had been obliged to look to some patron among the clergy or the idea was not accepted by the State Commission, although one of its duties, I believe, was to look after the good of the real estate business including sellers and brokers as well as buyers.

Maybe it's my turn to call names at this point, but I'll be moderate. These men appear to have been zealots more interested in promoting a minority cause than in seeing that the Commission for which they were responsible did the duties expected of it. And the Supreme Court, in recently invalidating Rule 9, ruled in effect that these men had exceeded their authority in illegally attempting to take over the province of the Legislature, the only body with the actual power to vitiate property rights.

When the stone is thrown, the ripples widen. The so-called "point system" became a whipping boy for other zealots and for newspaper men who wished to make their columns and editorials colorful. In the light of assembled facts however the names appear extravagant. I have no complaint in general against zealots against private property men. But I don't hold with zealots against private property rights who leave behind them a wake of unjust vilification. As I look at it, the concept of universal brotherhood of course is good, because it would unite the nation. It's a concept to fire zealots, but although less inspiring, property rights are basic to a free, capitalistic society. I'm glad to see that editorial comment ap-

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

The opera buffs are marshalling their forces to prepare for another great week in May of the New York Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mrs. William D. Laurie, who is chairman for the Grosse Pointe ticket effort, entertained her committee last week at a coffee in her charming multi-leveled home set in a grove of trees in Merriweather road.

Reports were heard from Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. John G. Garlinghouse, Mrs. Frank W. Denovan, Mrs. Charles Kotcher, Mrs. Ferdinand H. Cinelli, Mrs. Daniel W. Goodenough and Mrs. Charles V. Hicks.

Mrs. Garlinghouse, who is in charge of education for Opera Week, May 20-25, announced that there will be 550 free tickets available at the War Memorial for "Overture for Opera" on April 23. This is an evening devoted to a panel of opera experts discussing "Adriana Lecouvreur," a seldom produced opera, set for May 23. The Met did "Adriana" last week in New York and Detroit's Opera chairman, Mrs. John H. Gordon was on hand for the performance. Renata Tebaldi will star in the Detroit "Adriana." Fans who want to bone up on this opera and the other eight to be given in Detroit will find librettos and tapes available at the Grosse Pointe Central Library after April 1.

Other Pointe committee members at Mrs. Laurie's coffee were Mrs. John C. Hodges, Mrs. Martin Hayden, Mrs. John C. Griffin, Mrs. Benjamin H. Long, Mrs. Mark Ethridge, Mrs. John C. Potter, Mrs. Thomas W. Morrow, Mrs. Henry deSegur Lauve, Mrs. Alden Sibley, Mrs. Henry Love, Mrs. Henry Ledyard, Mrs. Miles O'Brien and Miss Josephine O'Brien.

Mrs. Laurie and Mrs. Cinelli took time out from their Met chores Wednesday evening after the progress report to attend the Detroit Club's theater evening for "Lawrence of Arabia."

Mardi Gras Is Here

Mardi Gras is attracting a Pointe miss from her studies at Webber College, Babson Park, Fla., this week-end.

Bonnie Stuhldreher, daughter of the Louis G. Stuhldreher, of Lochmoor boulevard, is taking a five day break from classes to attend the New Orleans carnival and balls. She will be back in Florida on Wednesday.

If you can't go to New Orleans for this great pre-Lenten festival the next best thing is to create your own Mardi Gras and that's what the co-eds at Sullins College, Bristol, Va., are doing.

Ingrid Lagerfeldt, daughter of the Ralph Lagerfeldts, of Audubon road, will be a member of the Mardi Gras court at the college this Saturday. This week-end at Sullins involves teas, receptions, dances and a special ballet performance from New York.

The blond Miss Lagerfeldt will wear a white lace and black velvet frock for her Mardi Gras ball.

To Fete Authors

The former women's editor of the Detroit News and the biographer of the late Mrs. Henry Ford, Miss Florence Davies, with her co-authress, Louise B. Clancy will be honored at an artists luncheon March 1 at 1 o'clock at Cobo Hall.

Arranging the party for the two writers of "The Believer" are Mrs. J. Burgess Book, Mrs. James A. Lafer and Mrs. Russell H. Lucas.

Pointe Theater Casting Friday

Of all the brilliant song-writers of our time, probably none could fit as many Shakespearean play titles into one short patter song as Cole Porter has done in "Brush Up Your Shakespeare," one of the hilarious numbers in his "Kiss Me Kate," opening in June at the Fries Theater.

One particular instance of advice on the cultural approach to wooing in this ditty is "If your blonde won't respond when you flatter her, tell her what Tony told Cleopater."

Singing—dancing—action—what's your forte? There's room for all at the casting calls for "Kiss Me Kate" which are being held Friday, February 22, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, 24 at 2:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore road. Guild Gives Patients Party

St. Valentine didn't forget the elderly patients of Martha T. Berry Hospital in Mt. Clemens. St. Mary's Guild of St. Michael's Episcopal church gave a party for them February 13th.

"The Distaffs," a quartet composed of Mrs. William Y. Gard, Mrs. Walter A. Bailey Jr., Mrs. Jerry Hughes, and Mrs. Donald W. Simmons led off the program. Miss Lynn Buerger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guenther Buerger, and Mrs. Morris Nevaljohs performed Spanish dances. Miss Buerger is a member of the Detroit City Ballet.

Mrs. Beverly D. Priestman played the piano for the performers, and also for community singing. Song sheets soon had 70 ambulatory patients singing their old favorites.

Four of the patients received handicraft awards for their part in a Detroit exhibition. The bed-ridden didn't miss out on the fun either. Three groups of local Girl Scouts made tray favors for everyone, and guild members carried decorated trays and treats to another 100 patients.

Those attending were Mrs. Roy R. Ellis, Mrs. James O. Chamberlain, Mrs. Robert J. Gaskill, Mrs. Robert J. Sutton, Mrs. Edward Winslow, Mrs. Rupert A. Benson, Mrs. Herman Bartlett, Mrs. Harry E. Black, Mrs. Thomas Richards, and Mrs. Richard Allor.

Mrs. Allan Schildhammer, president of the Detroit Alumnae Chapter, Mrs. Paul Hykes, Mrs. Floyd Strait, and Mrs. Clarence Fox were among those present at the Founders Day luncheon.

At the meeting on the 25th there will be a report on the philanthropies supported by the Thetas. Each year Christmas cards are sold to friends and members and this enables the Alumnae Chapter to make gifts to the Institute of Logopedics and the Detroit Orthopedic Clinic.

Mrs. William H. Fries served as Christmas Card chairman for the east side group. Northeastern Women To Hear Mrs. Ling

DAC Beavers Give Polynesian Party

Swimming Club Sponsors Gala Dinner Dance to Honor Wives of Members on Saturday Evening; South Sea Decor Enhanced Poolside Setting

Romantic Polynesia was re-created at the Detroit Athletic Club last Saturday, February 16, when the DAC Beavers staged their "Polynesian Paradise" dinner dance in the club's natatorium and gymnasium.

The annual party (with a different theme each year) always is a black tie affair, but the locale always is the same—the swimming Beavers' favorite swim pool quarters and gymnasium.

Realistic in the South Sea Island setting created by DAC'er Ruth Spieschneider was a waterfall at one end of the pool. It was framed and bordered with tropical flowers and plantings, the whole a beautiful fantasy through indirect lighting.

Gold draperies covered the natatorium walls; a tent-like ceiling was of natural-hued burlap; there was a simulated trader's hut; beautiful artificial plantings behind white lattices in the big window recesses, with bamboo panels between those flower-filled recesses. A rustic floor covered part of the swim pool, and here tables and chairs were placed.

The gymnasium walls were hung with rust-hued velour and a ceiling was created of multi-colored duvetyne. Two large circular chandeliers with flower and fruit trim added a resplendent note; at each end of the gym's bandstand was a Polynesian thatched shelter; leis of artificial flowers adorned bamboo sticks.

Poolside music during cocktails was by the Barrons of Dixie and the Beachcomber's Trio; at 9 o'clock Eddy Shick's

The Arnold Freydis, the Nathan Goodnows, Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Tompkins and the Richard H. Campbells were in a large group headed by Beavers President Jervis C. Webb and Mrs. Webb, and DAC President Norman J. Fredericks and Mrs. Fredericks.

The James Quellos and the Troy Maschmeyers had a table with the Herbert W. Harts, Lee Hills, and others. The Emmet E. Tracys, the Thomas Bookmyers, the Glenn Friedts and the John Greenes were together.

Beavers Secretary and Mrs. Richard K. Degener were in an eightsome with the Rex Regans, the Richard J. Martins and the E. D. Barretts. Another Grosse Pointe eightsome included the Edmund M. Bradys, the Cletus J. Wellings, the Harold O. Loves and the Ralph J. Kibbers. Still others in the throng of 200 couples were the Paul E. Hammans, the Arthur W. Wilds, the Erwin H. Gramams and the Robert H. Patersons.

Dr. Charles Wilson, at the same meeting, gave his report on the Grosse Pointe School System.

The organization, purposes, and activities of the Motion Picture and Television Council was explained by Mrs. John Zolad, chairman of that group.

"The Council recommends, but does not condemn, and is not a censorship group," she said.

allow it to be captured. While American and Venezuelan navies combed the waters of the South Caribbean in a vain hunt for the missing vessel, the same Caracas under-ground sources that first reported the Anzoategui's seizure announced they were prepared to scuttle the freighter "if any war vessel of any nationality" attempts to intercept and board it.

An anonymous phone call to United Press International office in Caracas reported dynamite charges planted in the Anzoategui's hold, and other information, received via ship's radio and anonymous phone calls, indicates that the hijackers are holding the ship's captain and 35 crew members as hostages.

Library Friends To See Slides

"Cadillac Homeland" is the subject of the color slide-illustrated lecture to be given by Henry D. Brown, distinguished director of the Detroit Historical Museum, at the February meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. It will be held Wednesday evening, February 27, at 8:15 o'clock, in the Main Library Auditorium. Interested non-member Grosse Pointers are also invited to attend.

Mr. Brown, Museum Director and Coordinating Director of the Detroit Historical Society since 1947, travelled to France to collect material on Antoine de la Mothe-Cadillac's early life. His slides include views of Castle Sarrasin, Cadillac's burial place, and the cloistered monastery of Moissac, plus authentic costumes of the period.

His lecture will be devoted to the contrast between Cadillac's life in 17th Century Southern France, and life in this colorful Midi region today.

$240 million for special tooling, including tools, dies, jigs and fixtures used throughout the life of a given car model.

John F. Gordon, president of the Corporation, made this observation in discussing the distribution of GM's capital investment: "We have pretty consistently run close to 50 percent in the State of Michigan, and we have no intention of deviating from that because that is the most economical way for us to set up and run the business." Gordon and Donner revealed that the Corporation is already stockpiling steel against the possibility of a July steel strike, and denied that General Motors' growing domination in the new-car market is a "startling trend."

The Corporation also plans to spend some $550 million for special tools, of which Michigan will get some $250 million. Donner noted that the 1962 figures were approximately $645 million for plants and equipment, $425 million of this total spent in the United States, plus $530 million for special tooling. GM's Michigan investment last year totaled about $212.5 million for plants and equipment, plus an estimated

"Cadillac Homeland" is the subject of the color slide-illustrated lecture to be given by Henry D. Brown, distinguished director of the Detroit Historical Museum, at the February meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. It will be held Wednesday evening, February 27, at 8:15 o'clock, in the Main Library Auditorium. Interested non-member Grosse Pointers are also invited to attend.

Mr. Brown, Museum Director and Coordinating Director of the Detroit Historical Society since 1947, travelled to France to collect material on Antoine de la Mothe-Cadillac's early life. His slides include views of Castle Sarrasin, Cadillac's burial place, and the clustered monastery of Moissac, plus authentic costumes of the period.

His lecture will be devoted to the contrast between Cadillac's life in 17th Century Southern France, and life in this colorful Midi region today.

$240 million for special tooling, including tools, dies, jigs and fixtures used throughout the life of a given car model.

John F. Gordon, president of the Corporation, made this observation in discussing the distribution of GM's capital investment: "We have pretty consistently run close to 50 percent in the State of Michigan, and we have no intention of deviating from that because that is the most economical way for us to set up and run the business." Gordon and Donner revealed that the Corporation is already stockpiling steel against the possibility of a July steel strike, and denied that General Motors' growing domination in the new-car market is a "startling trend."

Michigan's first great multi-millionaire industrialist, president of railroads, owner of rolling mills, mines and transportation companies, bank director and shipbuilder, Capt. Eber Brock Ward, saw a hundred years into the future.

A few years before his death in 1875 he told a young friend, "You will probably live to see the day when Detroit will be one of the largest manufacturing centers, if not the largest, in the world."

Capt. Ward was born on Christmas Day in 1811 in Ontario but his family soon moved back to New England when the War of 1812 made their residence in Canada uncomfortable. In 1818 the family decided to emigrate to Kentucky but because of the hardships of the trip his mother died en route and the family settled in the Ohio Valley instead.

When he was 12 years old Ward was a cabin boy on a Great Lakes schooner where he could see from his ship Michigan's great stands of timber and her vast deposits of ore. He quickly rose to be captain of his own ship and then owned a fleet of 20. His ships connected with railroads to haul freight and the money he made from this business he invested in pine lands, saw mills and built the first rolling mill at Wyandotte. He also was involved in the plate glass industry and blast furnaces. Ward owned and operated the first steamboat to sail Lake Superior. Every enterprise he touched turned to money.

In 1850 he moved from Marine City, where his family, brought up by his sister, Emily, had lived for many years, to Detroit. He had married some years previously Mary McQueen and the couple had five sons and two daughters. His mansion in west Fort street was famous for its magnificent library and spacious grounds. He also built a home in the same street for his revered sister, Emily, who brought up her orphaned nieces and nephews.

Ward was a fine example of the self made man. He had great determination but was open-hearted and generous. He never chewed or smoked tobacco, or drank or gambled. He was a temperate man in his habits, was very strong minded, brooking little opposition. For just a few years in a pioneer schoolroom he was amazingly well educated.

It was Ward who made the first Bessemer steel produced in America. In the forties he was often mentioned for a post in a presidential cabinet.

He died as he had lived. At half past ten in the morning of January 2, 1875 he was strolling up Jefferson avenue turning at Griswold when he staggered and fell. He was carried into a nearby bank and died immediately of apoplexy. His funeral services were impressive rites and the bell in the City Hall tolled as the cortege wound its way to Elmwood cemetery where he is interred. Pall bearers included James F. Joy, Hugh Moffat, John Longyear, C. C. Trowbridge, Christian Buhl, Frederick Buhl and C. C. Hodges.

Capt. Eber Brock Ward was long remembered. One of his daughters, Clara, among the first heiresses to contract a wedding with nobility married a Belgian prince. Many beside his family had great cause to praise his generosity. His grand-nephew is David Sutter, of Pine court.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Europe's unseasonable freezes have cancelled a bride's dream. Since she was a little girl dreaming of her wedding Emily Besimer has wanted white lilacs in her bridal bouquet. Her parents arranged for the flowers to be flown in from Brussels where her wedding cap and veil were made. At the last minute an unexpected cold snap froze all the lilacs and the blooms will not be cut for another six weeks. Emily carried stephanotis when she became the bride of James Seegert Saturday in St. Michael's Church.

The recent earthquake in Formosa has quite shaken Mrs. VerLinden Peez who planned to stop there on the trip to the Orient she is taking with the English Speaking Union the last of March. Several years ago Mrs. Peez suffered through a midnight quake in San Francisco which made her quite sea sick and can't face the thought of another experience with nature's foibles.

The Junior League of Detroit has made great strides in philanthropy since its formation in 1914 when Mrs. Norman Preble, Miss Elsie DuCharme, Mrs. C. A. Dean, Jr., Mrs. Percival Dodge and Mrs. Thomas Byrd were directing the organization. The first League report in 1914 mentions the following charities: "Raised $15.00 to keep S., addicted to drugs, in hospital for a week; helped furnish house with chairs, chest of drawers, wash stand and carpets; little lame girl taken to doctor's and fitted with brace for shoe, and supplied garments for demented son."

Mrs. Ernie Harwell, the Georgia-born wife of the popular Tiger radio and TV announcer, has a standard dessert with which she charms guests in her Touraine road home. The concoction is a favorite of all Civil War novelists, syllabub, and is made in an old fashioned metal press of whipped cream and sugar. The Harwells syllabub press was copied from an old one of Mrs. Harwell's grandmother as they cannot be bought even south of the Mason and Dixon line these days.

Actress Julie Harris' brother, William P. Harris III, who teaches at GPUS, is a famous movie buff. He knows the stars and plots of practically every movie dating back to silent days, with a particular penchant for old Marx brothers comedies.

PILFERINGS

Office sign: The only job where you start at the top is digging a hole.

Twice as many people are engaged in clerical work now as in 1940. Maybe we're more mixed up than ever, but we're getting it all down on paper.

When a woman was described as rude to her inferiors, Dorothy Parker asked, "Where does she find them?"

Pointer of Interest

ELIZABETH HOWARD MIZNER, OF HARVARD ROAD

by Patricia Talbot

Every housewife feels that if she just had the time she could write a novel. Elizabeth Howard Mizner who has been writing best sellers for young adults for 20 years knows there is no lonelier job in the world.

A former teacher with a master's degree in history, her charming light historical novels, most of them with a Michigan setting, are the result of careful research, a delightful feeling for the romance of day-to-day living and a great deal of talent.

Miss Mizner, who writes under the pen name of Elizabeth Howard, is a quiet serene brown haired woman, who looks like every scholar's picture of a school teacher. And this is what she once thought she would be for the rest of her life. She taught for several years in Georgia and then decided that she didn't want to make her home in the South came back to Detroit and took a year's leave of absence from school books. During that year she wrote and sold, "Sabrina," her first book, and she never returned to the classroom.

Best Sellers For Juniors Two of her novels are standard classics in the young adult field, the pride of public libraries, "Peddler's Girl," a period novel of Michigan in 1840, and "North Winds Blow Free," a story of the abolitionist settlements in Canada, have sold many thousands of copies and are still bringing in royalties. They have been reprinted in England and Switzerland.

Like many writers Miss Mizner has always been an omnivorous reader, adored Scott's "Ivanhoe" as a girl and when she was a youngster committed most of a book on Bruce's Scotland to memory because she was so fond of it. She still reads whodunits, particularly when she is working on a new book. She writes in the room of her Harvard home where she lives with her bachelor brother, mother and aunt.

First Draft In Longhand

Her first draft is done in longhand, which she scrawls on paper clipped to a large board. Then she types a working draft before the final copy goes to her publishers. Most of her writing is done in the evenings for she keeps house for her family and cares for her aunt who is ill. Her family are proud of her success and have always encouraged her.

Miss Mizner's family, on both sides, are pioneer Detroiters. Col. Joshua Howard built the arsenal at Dearborn and the first of his family came here in 1815. The authoress was graduated from the last class of Old Central High School in Detroit, (her mother had been in the first graduating class). She studied at the University of Michigan and wrote her master's thesis in history on Michigan abolitionists. Most of her research is done at the Burton Historical Collection in the Main Library downtown and she is primarily interested in the everyday life of families of a century ago. She is an expert on Michigan history of the mid-nineteenth century.

Popular Lecturer A popular lecturer at book fairs and women's clubs Miss Mizner talks about once a week, always without notes, to different organizations. She tells her audiences about how she writes her novels and makes it seem effortless, although she assures us that it is far from easy.

New Readers

Most of her books have been aimed at the senior or junior high girl, for her heroines are about 16 or 17, but she says she never writes down for her readers, "I write for me and if they don't like it, that's too bad." But they do like it as the many reprints of her dozen or so books prove. She averages about a chapter a week when she isn't "stuck" and her novels run about 60,000 words.

Recently she has learned from librarians that not just teenage girls demand her books. She has been discovered by a whole new field of readers, the elderly ladies who have so much leisure for reading and want "nice" books. Miss Mizner herself has little patience for the "Peyton Place" type of book, has a very wholesome approach to life in her own novels.

Collects Children's Books

Again like most authors she has few hobbies, for she is constantly reading and writing, but she does collect old fashioned children's books, has some dating back to the 1700's and a whole set of "Elsie Dinsmore." She is devoted to her fat white woolly West Highland terrier, "Tibby."

She is currently writing a book about the settlement of two islands off Columbia, South America with a 1640 setting, a departure from her usual Michigan tales. She hopes to have it off to the publishers by mid-summer at the latest, which means readers will not have it for yet another year.

A real professional, Miss Mizner's royalties and readers attest to her talent. A scholar as well as a fine story teller her novels have delighted girls in many countries for almost a quarter of a century. The Pointe is proud to have such a distinguished authoress among its growing list of creative personalities.

PEO Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Members of Chapter AO of the P.E.O. Sisterhood will celebrate its silver anniversary at a tea Saturday afternoon, February 23 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Plans for the 25th anniversary are being formulated under the chairmanship of Mrs. Dwight Struthers. Assisting her as co-chairmen are Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. William Quinlan. Mrs. Ellsworth Allison is in charge of the program.

Invited guests of Chapter AO for this event will include Michigan state officers, presidents of the thirty-three chapters of Detroit Co-operative P.E.O., members of Detroit Chapter BC, and Grosse Pointe Chapters CI, CV, and BD, three of whom were sponsored by Chapter AO.

The purposes of the P.E.O. Sisterhood which is an international organization with a membership of more than 142,000 women are educational and charitable.

The Educational Loan Fund was established in 1907 for the purpose of assisting qualified women students desiring to become self-supporting, to attain an education beyond the high school level. The Fund is a revolving one of over $975,000 from which over 13,250 women have been aided in completing their educational programs through loans.

Annually approximately 2,000 students are serviced in this way. Chapter AO is presently sponsoring an educational loan fund girl who is a senior at Vassar College.

Believing that education is fundamental to world peace and understanding the members of P.E.O. established the International Peace Scholarship program in 1949. Since the beginning of the program in 1949, 720 scholarships have been given to 458 students from 63 countries to attend colleges and universities.

Through these scholarships, P.E.O. is providing these women an opportunity for specialized training so they may return to their home lands to serve their own people with greater skill and broader understanding. There are currently two students at the University of Michigan, one at Wayne State University, and one at Michigan State University on Peace Scholarships.

Founded in 1884, Cottey College, Nevada, Missouri has been owned and operated by the P.E.O. Sisterhood since 1927. It began its seventy-eighth year in September 1962 with students from the United States, Canada, and many foreign countries.
