Town League Race Nears Exciting End

Close ball games were the feature in the Town League this week with two tie games and two one-run victories since last Friday. The Sherrill club again climbed to the top by defeating the Trojans Monday night, while the Hoods, after playing two tie games, find themselves in second, practically tied with the third-place Trojans.

Only four games remain to be played in the second half. Two of these are play-offs of games postponed because of rain, while the other two are play-offs of the two tie games of this week.

The schedule for next week is a complicated affair. Tonight Ballardvale meets the Sherrill club in a postponed game of the first half. If the Sherrill club wins, they become first half champions, but if they lose they enter a tie with the Trojans for first place and there will be a play-off between these two teams on Monday night. On the same night, the B. A. A. and Hoods will play at the Vale. In the event of a Sherrill victory tonight, the schedule will unravel itself very easily with a Sherrill-Hood game Monday. Hoods at Ballardvale on Tuesday, Trojans at Hoods Thursday, and B. A. A. at Sherrill on Friday.

On next Saturday the championship games are scheduled to begin. The race is so tight, however, that if it should rain on any of the nights ball games are scheduled, it may be impossible to determine the winner of the second half.

The standing of the League including Thursday night's game follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Sherrill	6	4	.600
Hoods	5	4	.556
Trojans	6	5	.545
B. A. A.	3	7	.300

Hope to Hold Drum Corps Competition

Plans, indefinite as yet, are at present being formulated by Andover post 8, American Legion, for a two-day festival to be held, it is expected, near the end of September. Further plans will be discussed at a meeting which will take place in the Legion rooms next Monday night. Town officials, interested citizens, and other organizations are invited.

Among the principal features being thought of at present is a bugle and drum corps competition similar to that held in other towns this season. Great interest has been manifested in these contests, and the Andover post hopes that many other units will come to show their wares. The local corps has proved itself among the best in the state. Tuesday evening the corps paraded in Lawrence and they will also march this evening in the 40 and 8 parade. Their convention activities will cease with a third parade tomorrow afternoon. They will then travel to Revere to compete there.

News Exchange Gets Underway

This week the news exchange plan recently adopted by the Townsman gets underway with new momentum. The plan has created a great deal of interest throughout the State and it is expected that soon it will become a permanent fixture in the town weeklies.

A few minor difficulties were encountered at the outset, but these have all been removed. In Concord the Herald had to meet the charge that it had surrendered its independence to a newspaper chain, a complaint that was of course unjustified, since the paper had only in effect subscribed to a service. The plan has nothing to do with the editorial policy of the various weeklies.

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, congresswoman from the 5th District, Massachusetts, recently sent the Townsman a letter in which she heartily endorsed the new idea. Her letter follows:

Lowell, Mass.
August 8, 1932

Managing Editor
The Andover Townsman
Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir:
I have noticed recently that your paper has initiated a new plan of exchanging news with other town weeklies in the state. I wish to congratulate you and your new associates on this step, which I feel will add greatly to the interest of the weeklies as well as add to the services they perform for their respective towns. Unfortunately our town papers up to now have limited themselves too much to strictly local news so that the townspeople have not been able to discover just how the affairs of the other towns were being conducted. I am sure your plan will remove this localistic viewpoint, and will also show the United States are interested in what is being done in other nations, for it helps them in appraising their own methods. Similarly, the citizens of our towns should learn what is happening in other towns so that they can better run their own affairs.

I sincerely hope that your readers will appreciate the service you are offering them. I feel that it is a decided step forward. My best wishes are with you and the other editors who have subscribed to your plan, which I know will succeed.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) EDITH NOURSE ROGERS

Andover Motorist Hits Lawrence Lad

Herbert H. Otis of 26 Pasho street reported to the Lawrence police Tuesday evening that Elias George, two years old, had been injured on Oak street by his machine. The child's injuries consisted of contusions of the right knee and an abrasion on the right arm. Otis stated that at the time of the accident he was driving slowly because there were many children on the street.

Harrison Brown Jumps into Lake to Help Companions on Fishing Trip

Three Andover men had an exciting experience at Long Lake, Harrison, Maine, last week when they were caught in a sudden storm while fishing four miles out in the lake. The trio, Leon Fields, Harrison Brown, and Frank Kefferstan, were able to struggle ashore, but not until after their clothes had absorbed a large part of Long Lake.

The men set out in an effort to catch some bass, and while they did catch a few, the most important things they caught were colds. As they vented their weary way home, they inconsiderate "Juke" Pluvius started a demonstration of his wares. The cylinders mounted higher and higher. One cylinder of the outboard motor went bad, and Harrison Brown went to the rescue with a pair of oars. They headed for home the short way, which was over a sand bar. While crossing the bar, Brown proved again a hero by jumping into the lake up to his waist. His rubber boots proved just as good at holding the water in as they had previously been in holding it out. Then all three carried the boat across the bar.

The end of the story? Well, since it is a fish story, it might be all right to state that when Brown emptied the water out of his boots he found eleven large bass—but then this was Washington's bicentennial, and if he didn't lie about cherry trees, why should he lie about fish?

Mary M. Doherty Smashes Record

Miss Mary M. Doherty, Andover's swimming sensation, upheld her enviable record as a mermaid last Friday evening at the Nautical pool, Revere beach, when she added a new record to her list of accomplishments by winning the N.E.A.A.U. 300-meter senior medley championship in the time of 5 minutes, 6.4-5 seconds. The former pool record was 5 minutes, 8.1-5 seconds and was established by Clare Walker of the Whitin A.C.

Miss Marion Fettes, also of Andover, had intended to participate in the 50-yard free style swim but unfortunately arrived too late to enter.

Two Women Killed; Charge Manslaughter

Bad Accident on Reading Road Claims Two Lives—One, Seriously Hurt, Recovering—Ford Ploughs into Rear of Parked Truck

James H. Aker, 22, of 14 Henry street, Everett, will appear before Judge Frederic N. Chandler in Lawrence District court next Tuesday morning as a result of an accident on the Reading road last Monday evening, in which two women were killed, one seriously injured, and two men slightly hurt. Miss Lillian Middleton, 19, of 382 Main street, Reading, and Mrs. Daniel Reed, 50, of 383 Fulton street, Medford, died shortly after being admitted to the Lawrence General hospital. The life of Miss Dorothy Reed, 20, daughter of one of the victims, was despaired of for a while, but Wednesday noon the hospital authorities were able to tell her father that they saw no reason why she should not recover.

Aker was released under $1500 bonds on two charges of manslaughter and operating an automobile so as to endanger. He was the driver of a Ford touring car which crashed into the rear of a parked truck near Carter's corner. The party of five left Medford about 4:30 and were enroute to Cobett's pond, Pelham, N. H. Aker and Miss Reed were in the front seat, and in the rear were Mrs. Reed on the right, Miss Middleton in the center, and Vincent Licciardi of Brooklyn, N. Y., on the left. Aker swung his machine out to pass the truck, and it was only those on the right side, next to the truck, that were severely injured. The driver and Licciardi, Miss Middleton's fiancé, escaped with minor injuries because of their fortunate position on the outside.

The Ford hit the left rear end of the truck, its front end sliding under the truck's rear end. The upper half of the touring car was tipped off entirely. The women were struck square on. The Reading girl's head was thrown back through the rear window. Aker brought the Ford to a stop a short distance ahead of the truck in the second lane and then picked his fiancée out of the wreckage. A passing motorist picked the two up and sped away to the Lawrence General hospital. Going through Shawheen village they picked up Officer Arthur Jovett.

The Andover fire department ambulance brought the other three to the hospital. At the scene of the accident Licciardi tore his shirt into shreds to stop the flow of blood in Miss Middleton's wounds.

Miss Reed passed away at 6:45, fifteen minutes after being admitted to the hospital. Miss Middleton died two hours later. The former had received a skull fracture, several severe lacerations about the head which left the brain exposed. The younger victim had received a fractured left jaw, laceration of the left cheek, fractured right collar bone, punctured lung and questionable fractures of the fifth, sixth and seventh ribs on the right side. The medical examiner, Dr. Victor A. Reed, viewed both bodies at the hospital. He announced Mrs. Reed's death had been caused by a fractured skull. The young girl's death was attributed to a punctured lung and a hemorrhage in the chest.

Miss Reed's injuries were a fractured skull, a compound fracture of the right forearm, a fractured jaw, and numerous lacerations about the head. At first she was given only an even chance to recover, but she slowly gained ground.

Officer Carl Stevens investigated the accident and as a result he arrested Aker late Monday night on the various counts. In court he pleaded not guilty and was released in $1500 bonds, furnished by Daniel Reed, Mrs. Reed's husband. He claimed that he was driving along about 30 miles an hour when he saw the truck parked in front of him. The wheel struck, he said, and he was unable to cut out completely. The truck, owned by Nicholas G. Albanese of 41 Sidney street, Medford, had been parked at the spot since the early afternoon. He had left it in the outside lane. A broken axle had forced him to park.

After the crash Officer John Deymond directed traffic at the scene.

Expenses Unwarranted

The tax rates announced to date in Massachusetts communities show a trend toward reduction which should serve as an example to the state and federal governments. A few towns have brought about a decrease in the rate by increasing their valuation, and as we well know here in Andover this makes the drop only a delusion. However, in general the rates have been reduced despite lowered valuations and despite lower returns from state taxes.

most of the people are considering the welfare of the majority; at the State Houses, however, everyone seems to be looking out for himself, and at the Capitol everyone is looking out for himself and all his political friends. As an example it is only necessary to point out that the Andover employees are donating two weeks' pay to the unemployed, while only a short time ago the General Court voted itself extra pay for a session in which nothing constructive was accomplished.

William Brewster Perishes in Squall

William Rollins Brewster, elder son of E. T. Brewster of Judson road, died at Puerto Pollensa, in the Balearic Islands, probably during the early morning hours of Saturday, July 10. So far as can be made out by piecing together different accounts and his letters, Brewster died of exhaustion and cold as the result of a violent squall which overturned a small boat in which he was returning home. In the party were two men and two women, all American or British. Probably not later than 8.30, a violent squall overturned the boat, which drifted on its side, with all five clinging to the hull. Sometime after midnight there came a second squall, during which or shortly after, Brewster probably died of exhaustion and cold, a fate which one of the other men also narrowly escaped.

Handicaps for the tournament were made by Joe Naniokas, the caddy master, who has divided the boys into four groups in order to provide fairer competition.

Typewriter Doctor

By RUBY DOUGLAS (By McClure Newspaper Syndicate) (WNU Service)

THE cashier of the Brookville bank looked up from his desk as Sylvia, his competent little stenographer, entered his office humming gaily. "Why the mirth on Monday morning, Miss Sylvia?" he asked. "The old, old reason—joy in having created something?" she told him. "Tell me—let me be joyful, too," persisted the cashier. He had known Sylvia since her childhood. Theirs was a friendly, family acquaintance as well as a business association. "I will—but you won't like it," Sylvia laughed. "Oh—conceal the idea of getting married, I suppose." "Not at all. Bit the effect on you will be just the same. I am going into business for myself."

The cashier listened while the girl unfolded her plan. The idea had come to her on Saturday morning like a flash of lightning from the unknown spaces. She had recognized it at once as an inspiration, and all through the week-end she had been turning it over in her mind until now it was a concrete plan all formulated and ready to put into action. "Then you'll be a typewriter doctor, I gather," said the cashier when she had finished her outline. "Yes—that's an attractive way to call it. There is no one in town who can mend a machine. You know yourself what a nuisance it is when the typewriters here in the office are out of order. We have to send to the city and not only pay the man's expenses but wait till he finds it convenient."

"Oh, I think you have hit upon a splendid idea. I—of course we hate to lose you, but we can't expect a girl with your ability and ambition to go on working for some one else at perhaps twenty dollars a week. Go to it, Miss Sylvia, and we will give you all the support we can." Then Sylvia severed her connections with the Brookville bank but she took with her all the good will of the officers and employees who, one and all, promised to help her to get launched in her new venture. She found a diminutive office on the main street and called herself a "Typewriter Doctor." She had a native mechanical sense and more than a little practical business ability. It was not long before Sylvia was very busy, and she had found it necessary to make a few trips to the city in order to learn from the makers of various machines a number of intricate little peculiarities of their own typewriters. But she was quick and determined to succeed. Nothing seemed too difficult. She was happy and busy and she was experiencing the thrill that comes with achievement.

One morning a young man appeared in her office. "Good morning," she said cheerfully. The visitor explained that he was a writer and that he lived on a farm outside the limits of the city. His typewriter had become very badly in need of parts and repairs while he was in the middle of some work for a weekly publication. He asked whether he might bring in his machine and perhaps rent one for a few days. That was his problem. Sylvia assured him that that was her work, and she had several machines on hand that she could let him choose from. For by this time she had not only gone into the business of renting typewriters but she had acquired the agency of a neat little portable machine and was making handsome commissions on this. If the young man recognized another finger of fate pointing the way to her pathway she did not admit it. She confessed to herself that she was glad Mr. Bob Saunders would have to return for his machine. She liked him.

"You are a mascot as well as a good typewriter doctor, Miss Bates," he said. "How do you know?" asked Sylvia, for his machine was not ready. "I have sold the story I wrote on the rented machine for more than a third again of what I have ever received before from the same people," he told her enthusiastically. "Now I can well afford to get the parts."

He remained in the little office longer than was necessary, but Sylvia kept on working. He was lost in admiration of the deft, easy way in which she went about mending this machine, adjusting that one, cleaning another. It became a habit—watching her. "Could you—perhaps—doctor the heart of typewriting man, Miss Sylvia?" he asked her one day after many weeks. "I—might, if it needed it," admitted Sylvia. "I think if you would—we—we could make a success—together." Bob wrote better than he talked. But Sylvia managed to understand. And her response was all that he had hoped for. "And, besides, the doctor needs a partner," she told him afterwards.

Your Future Townsman What Will It Be Like

Today we contain many stories about other towns and there will undoubtedly be those who will feel that the Townsman is no longer a local paper. But this fear is ill-founded; the Townsman has always, is now, and will forever be a paper for the people of Andover. Never will we cut out any local news merely to insert a story about something not directly connected with Andover. The Boston papers are still Boston papers even though they are all supplied with stories of Portland, Oregon, by a news agency. They are still Boston papers because they contain all the Boston news. Our primary purpose is to supply all the local news, and we intend always to persist in this purpose. During the summer, news is always scarce in Andover. There are few club meetings, few whist parties, few socials of any kind, and news in a small town is made up primarily of such matters. At the same time, however, our news exchange material from other towns is very ample, for this is the time of year that most communities are announcing their tax rates. As fall approaches, there will be more Andover news and less exchange stories. Will Rogers calls weeklies the most indispensable articles that towns have, and nearly everyone will agree that Will is one of the best common-sense philosophers of our present day. The Townsman wants always to prove a service to Andover, and that is why we recently adopted the news exchange plan, one of the most progressive steps taken by weeklies for years. It is a change, of course, but it is a change for the better, made without sacrificing any of the present services we offer. Our motto has been and always will be: "When there is more Andover news, the Townsman will carry it."

With The Other Towns Governmental Notes of Interest

Peabody's Rate Drops Two Dollars to $33.80

(By the Peabody Times) PEABODY—The Peabody tax rate is two dollars less than a year ago, the 1932 figure being $33.80 a thousand, the same as two years ago. The rate was the result of several factors, including the cutting of the budget some $80,000; an increase in real estate valuations of $180,000; a loss of personal estate valuations of $320,000; a loss in Income tax and Corporation income tax of $41,000; an increase of about $15,000 in state tax, and other minor variations.

In estimating the 1932 receipts, the figure of last year's water receipts was used, although a twenty per cent cut in the industrial water rate went into effect on July 1. The assessors feel that this was the proper thing to do, as if business increases in the latter part of the year, a larger use of water will offset the reduction in rate.

The detailed story of the 1932 rate follows: Valuations, 1931, real estate $20,139,600; personal, $4,049,600; 1932, real estate, $20,320,400; personal, $3,729,500; net loss in valuation, $1,39,000. 1931 budget, $1,362,971.80; 1932 budget, $1,282,863.14.

Tanneries in Peabody Taking Back Old Help

(By the Peabody Times) PEABODY—A decided change in the unemployment situation has taken place here during the past three weeks. Men who were seeking aid from the city last month are now working days in one factory and nights in another; men who have been waiting for their turn to get two days a week in the various projects of the Citizens' Unemployment committee are found to be working in tanneries when their call comes; factories are sending out calls for experienced men; men are being hired in place of women in many plants. In fact, the drain on the city welfare department by the unemployed is being lessened considerably.

Much encouragement is heard all over town over the big orders taken by some of the factories. There are several million dollars worth of orders ahead of the tanneries at present. Two or three firms are negotiating for factory space here. One firm has brought another line of its work here from a former Brooklyn plant. Several firms are on full time.

Beamhouses that have been shut down tight have started up again. There is far from a shortage of unskilled labor, and the applicants for work from nearby cities are making the rounds of the tanneries, who have some good men to pick from. Many of the plants are making an effort to build up a good crew of men during this period, weeding out the poorer of the former employees and trying out new men, thus making good being in line for steady positions.

The subjects included are: Municipal Salaries, Education, Evaluation, Light and Power, Highways and Sewers, and Firemen and Police.

As the most of the work of the Association is to try to make the tax payers tax-conscious, these investigations and reports will be of benefit in stimulating an interest in local affairs.

No. Reading School Board Turns Back Sum to Town

NORTH READING—At a special town meeting last Monday $3,500 out of the appropriation of $49,000 voted to the school committee was turned back into the town treasury. The original amount was appropriated for the transportation of forty grade pupils to the Reading schools but the committee was able to equip a local school with a ninth grade and so save the extra expense.

Methuen Tax Rate Drops Only Twenty-five Cents

METHUEN—The board of assessors for the town of Methuen announced Saturday a drop of 25 cents in the tax rate for this year, despite a substantial loss in revenue.

The 1932 rate is $39.65 per $100 valuation, as compared to $39.90 which was in effect last year. The town will raise appropriations amounting to $732,000 this year, which is $20,000 less than the amount raised from taxation last year.

The board announced that the town will realize a loss of $26,000 in income and $15,000 in corporation and bank receipts, with a $50,000 increase in state tax receipts, netting a combined loss of $36,000.

The board announced that the town will realize a loss of $26,000 in income and $15,000 in corporation and bank receipts, with a $50,000 increase in state tax receipts, netting a combined loss of $36,000.

Apparently the Welfare division is the one that really needs the most attention at the present moment. This branch will demand more and larger appropriations for some little time to come. Even here, constant cases of peop creep in, in the speaker's mind, that other income community will not stand by and see fellow beings suffer from want of actual necessities.

Summing up his talk, Mr. Searle said that municipalities must recognize that welfare costs were bound to increase for a time, that real estate valuations in general were less, that other income in reduced to almost nothing and that in order to continue to carry on in a solvent manner luxury and inessential costs in our government must be eliminated.

Reading Town Employees Start Salary Contribution

(By the Reading Chronicle) READING—On Monday of this week the 10 percent contribution by all municipal employees, including school teachers, went into effect in an effort to supply enough additional funds to meet the needs of the Welfare Department without increasing the tax rate.

At the town meeting in March $15,000 was appropriated for aid, board, and care and on the first of July there was something over $5000 remaining in this account. This obviously was not enough to carry the department through the year and additional money had to be raised.

To carry the work of the Welfare Department through the remainder of the year it is estimated that about $18,000 will be required. The money received from this contribution on the part of the town employees will amount to about $16,000 and will almost be sufficient, therefore, to carry the department through the year.

This method of obtaining the funds will make it unnecessary for the employees to petition for a restoration of the wage scales when conditions return to normal, which would be necessary in case the town voted to cut wages 10 percent. The additional ad-

Wilmington Veterans to Request Special Meeting

(By the Wilmington News) WILMINGTON—A special town meeting for an appropriation for unemployment relief work will be held in Wilmington soon if present plans of the V.F.W. post in this town materialize. A committee from the post will meet with the Board of Selectmen in the near future to request the calling of the special town meeting. It is planned to spend the money if appropriated for improvements on the Memorial park, the entire sum to be used for labor if possible.

A number of men were put to work last week in the town water works. This work was made possible by a fund of three hundred dollars.

Newburyport Tax Rate Rockets to New High

NEWBURYPORT—The tax rate in Newburyport this year is the highest in the city's eighty years of existence. The rate will be $41.60 per thousand, or a sky-high boost of $9.60 over last year's. Unusually large demands on the welfare, soldiers' relief, and old age pension funds is given the reason for the jump. In addition the valuation of the city has fallen off $250,000 and the increase in the total budget is $109,214.90. An increase of $3.50 was caused by the necessity of paying for a $40,000 emergency loan of the Gillis administration.

Uxbridge Rate Shows Three Dollar Reduction

UXBRIDGE—The board of assessors of Uxbridge have unofficially announced that the 1932 tax rate would be $29.40 as compared with $32.40 of last year, a reduction of $3.

An official announcement will be made today following a conference with an official of the state department of taxation who will check the town's books.

Dennis Valuation Rise Brings Lower Taxes

DENNIS—The 1932 tax rate just announced will be $29.60, a drop of $1.20 from the 1931 rate of $30.80. Decreased appropriations and an increase of $129,000 in the town valuation made the decrease possible. The town valuation is now $3,339,000.

Hudson Tax Ass'n Will Ask Solons Cut Salary

(By the Hudson News-Enterprise) HUDSON—A recommendation will be made to the next Legislature that the salaries of state senators and representatives be reduced to $1,000 a year, according to a vote taken at a recent meeting of the Hudson Taxpayers' association. Every taxpayer's association in the state is to be made acquainted with the Hudson sentiment and it is hoped that public opinion will be aroused in this way. It was stated at the meeting that the present $2,000 salary attracts too many men who never have and never could earn that amount of money. If this reduction is put across it will mean a saving to the state of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Concord's Tax Rate Set at $1.40 Less than 1931

(By the Concord Herald) CONCORD—The Concord Board of Assessors have announced the tax rate for Concord in 1932 as $26.80 on the thousand, a drop of $1.40 from that of last year. This is the lowest tax rate in the town since 1924. The tax rate for 1927, five years ago, was $40.90. In 1924 the rate was $30.80.

The Town Grant this year totals $420,829-10 less by $3680.28 than that of 1931, $424,509.38. The total assessed valuation is now $9,668,040, as against $9,444,758 last year, an increase of $123,282. This year's valuation $8,362,360 is in real estate and $1,305,680 in personal property.

Concord's apportionment of the State tax is $13,552.50, and its share of the County tax is $13,565. Concord's largest receipt under the general taxation returns is the income tax which this year amounts to $26,148.22, which is over $7000 less than last year. There are now 1951 poll tax payers in Concord, 10 less than last year.

Ipswich Committee Has Spent $4000 in Projects

(By the Ipswich Chronicle) IPSWICH—Over one hundred men have been given work in Ipswich through the efforts of a committee appointed at the last town meeting. Approximately $4,000.00 has been spent in this work. Of this amount not over one-third has been for material and the remainder has been for labor. Thirteen men have been employed in a mosquito control project.

A little trouble resulted from a misunderstanding between the committee and the Street department as a result of which one man who had been dropped from the town payroll and another who did two days work on a team were paid from the unemployment funds. The matter was corrected as soon as the committee learned of it and was adjusted by discontinuing their pay from the fund.

Rate in Ipswich Takes $2.20 Jump to $34.60

(By the Ipswich Chronicle) IPSWICH—The Assessors here have announced the 1932 tax rate at $34.60 per $1,000.00, this rate having been checked and approved by a representative from the office of the State Tax Commissioner. It is an increase of $2.20 over last year's rate of $32.40, and reflects decreased valuations, which are $7,552,374.00 for 1932 against

$7,591,345.00 last year, a decrease of $38,971.00 practically all on personal property; a decrease in estimated receipts, which figure is $88,951.57 for 1932 against $66,149.32 last year, a decrease of 7,197.75 of which over half is due to lessened Income and Corporation taxes; and an increase in the amount of taxes raised on polls and property which is $266,413.14 for 1932 against $251,086.57 last year, an increase of $15,236.57.

Trojans 4—Hoods 4. With a 4-0 loss staring them in the face the H. P. Hood nine suddenly recovered last night in the sixth and seventh innings to score four runs and tie the ball game.

Deke Sweeney had pitched no-hit ball for six innings, the two Hood runs in the sixth stanza being due to errors. In the seventh he weakened to give Mura a double and Gouck a single which, combined with a pass, produced two more runs.

While the Hoods were making four runs on two hits, the Trojans knocked out eleven hits and scored only the same number of runs. Joe Davis continued his hitting streak with three singles, while Sammy Deyermund contributed a long double and a single.

The first was the fielding star of the contest.

Mr. Dugan is a keen student of legislative affairs. His issues include a correcting of legislative enactments that leave a prospective $50,000,000 deficit in balancing a $400,000,000 budget, and a pronounced stand against all increases in salary that members of the house have voted themselves as evidenced by the $400 "Plum" for the extra session last year.

Trojans 3—Ballardvale 2. In a fast, snappy ball game at the Playstead last Friday night the Trojans barely managed to defeat the B. A. A. It was Jack Lawrie's first loss after three straight wins in the box for the 'Vale.

Townsmen 8—Greeley 7

With Louie Paine on third base and the score tied at 7-all and with all the spectators (both of them) shouting for a hit to score the winning run, Ross Keogh proved to be the man of the hour at the Playstead Wednesday night when his lacy single gave a hard fought 8-7 victory to the Townsmen over the J. E. Greeley Co.

Dunc Bissett, who had been playing second for the newsmen, injured his finger in the last inning and Koss was called in to substitute. At second he made no errors, and at bat he hit for 1.000. Another serious injury occurred when Elmer Grover was hit on the back by a pitched ball. He was forced to go later to a Health camp, where Wednesday night he was reported to be resting very comfortably.

Sergeant George Carney of the Field Artillery made the most sensational catch of the year in the third inning, when, after running all the way to Basso's fence to escape being hit by a foul ball, Carney suddenly felt the ball drop into his bare hand. The sergeant had put a piece of chewing gum in his right hand and a rabbit's foot in his left pocket, and when the ball came down and hit his hand it stuck.

Manager Alfred Reginald Harris of the Townsmen team was found, having gone to Braves' Field in Boston to scout the Pirates and Braves in an endeavor to determine whether those teams had any players good enough for the Townsmen nine.
