HOFFMAN SEEKING EDUCATION FUND FOR VEHICLE DEPT.

Sees Program Big Factor in Safety Campaign for Motorists

SAYS LAWS ARE NOT TO HARASS DRIVERS

Calls Drunken Driver "Breed To be Exterminated" in Talk Here

Motor vehicle laws were enacted to insure the safety of every driver on the road and greater safety can come only through an educational program along these lines, Harold G. Hoffman, commissioner of motor vehicles for New Jersey, declared in a highly interesting address before members of Moorestown Rotary Club at their regular luncheon meeting in the Community House last Thursday at noon.

The commissioner also strongly attacked the drunken driver, declaring, "He is a menace to society and his breed should be exterminated." After pointing to the severe penalty which follows conviction of drunken driving in this state, the commissioner asserted, "I have made a promise to the people of New Jersey that a person convicted of drunken driving will not get his license back before he is entitled to have it. There will be a single drunken driver who gets his card back one hour before it is due him while I am commissioner."

Mr. Hoffman said there were 2,005 drunken driving convictions last year. "This is an evil he feels will always be with us," he said. "Prohibition has failed to effect a cure, add, and I don't see how the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment would help us."

Severe Penalty

The penalty for drunken driving is a fine of $200 to $500, 30 to 90 days in jail, or both, and the revocation of the driver's license for two years.

In pointing to the great volume of motor traffic New Jersey handles, the commissioner said while this state is forty-fifth in territorial breadth it carries the heaviest traffic problem of any state in the Union. There is an auto for nearly every family in the state, registrations numbering very close to a million, and millions of autos pour into New Jersey from Pennsylvania and New York. Last year 24,000,000 cars came into New Jersey through the Holland tunnel and over the Camden bridge. In addition, there are numerous other bridges and ferries that continually "feed" our highways.

There are three factors that aid in helping to handle this increasing volume of traffic, he said. The first is engineering. That is developing better automobiles, making them safe, and gives us finer roads. The second is law enforcement. With more inspectors in his department and most of them kept busy all week examining applicants for drivers' licenses, and only 200 men in the state police department, the real responsibility rests upon the local police departments. He said local police have the real cure in their hands, he said. It is up to them to meet "the enemy of society, the perpetual motor law violator."

Education Important

The third and most important point, in the opinion of the commissioner, is education. "The laws were not made to harass or embarrass the driver," he said. "They were enacted to insure his safety, and the safety of every other driver on the road. We will have better driving and make the roads safer when we teach the driver to look upon the laws in this light."

In an effort to develop an educational campaign, the commissioner says he intends to ask the legislature for a modest appropriation which may be used to carry his department's message into the schools and to drivers in general through the newspapers, organizations such as luncheon clubs, and possibly with a few well-placed billboards. He sees this as the real solution to the problem.

The commissioner was one of the most brilliant speakers Moorestown Rotarians have heard in a long time. His remarks were interspersed with rare wit and humor and he kept the crowd in an uproar. He also talked from a Rotary point of view, being a past president of the South Amboy Rotary Club. He extolled the value of friendship as developed through Rotary fellowship, declaring it paves the way for civic co-operation.

TIPSY DRIVER HELD IN RIVERSIDE CRASH

Charged with drunken driving after an accident, John Pulodgeski, of Second and Main streets, Cambridge, near Riverside, is in the county jail at Mount Holly, committed in default of a $200 fine and $21 costs. He was arrested during the weekend by Trooper J. J. Walmaley of the Delaware State Police barracks, after his car collided with an auto owned and driven by John Repetto, of 429 Delaware avenue, Riverside. Both cars were wrecked but no one was injured. Pulodgeski was arraigned before Riverton Borough Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, who committed him to jail.

A poll of the members of the American Bar Association reveals that the members favor repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment by more than two to one, but would it not be nice for the dregs to assert that the association is well named.—Boston Globe.

CHIEF IS HONORED BY BROTHERHOOD

Number of Delegations Greet William M. Fogg at Masonville Meeting

Thursday evening was a banner occasion in the history of the Brotherhood of America, in Masonville, when the membership of that body, together with delegations from various other circles throughout New Jersey, turned out to pay homage to the Grand Chief Washington, William M. Fogg, and his staff of grand circle officers. Mr. Fogg is a member of both Centennial Circle No. 10, the host upon this occasion, and Centennial Home No. 7, the local women's branch of the order.

More than usual interest is being manifested in the order this year because of the aggressiveness of the Grand Chief Washington, and the success which is meeting his efforts to increase membership in existing circles and the institution of new circles.

It was announced at this meeting that at least three new circles will be added to the roster of New Jersey circles during the coming year. The grand guardian of the grand home of New Jersey, at a similar meeting on Monday evening, announced that a new home will be instituted in Camden on Tuesday evening, December 1, and invited all entitled to be present to witness the ceremony of institution. The degree work will be performed by a degree team from Philadelphia homes.

The Grand Chief Washington received an enthusiastic ovation as he addressed his hearers and announced that many of his plans had already resulted in new members. High tribute was paid to his leadership by other staff officers from Camden, Trenton, Vineland and elsewhere, while J. Hanley Wilkers, of Welcome Circle No. 3, Camden, made an impassioned appeal for continued cooperation.

The Grand Chief's address was hailed as a masterpiece by those present. He declared that "Present Day disregard for law and order, racketeering, bootlegging and the business depression could be laid directly to the door of those people who had disregarded the Biblical quotation to be their brother's keeper." "The Brotherhood of America," said he, "teaches the duty of every man to his fellow men, and the necessity for putting the comfort and well-being of others before self. Selfishness is responsible for the plight of many today who are unemployed."

He also enjoined those present to fall into line with any and all organizations which are working for the relief of unemployed, and extending aid to those in distress as being one of the teachings of the order.

Another similar meeting was held in Deerfield, N. J., on Monday evening, November 2, at which time the Grand Chief addressed another large gathering, and witnessed the initiation of a large class of candidates into Deerfield Circle No. 16.

Conrow — Gardiner

Miss Frances M. Gardiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lindley Gardiner, of Moorestown, and Maurice Conrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan H. Conrow, of Riverton, were married on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

The ceremony took place at their future home, Cream Valley Farm. It was under the oversight of Chester Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends.

A reception followed the ceremony.

Possibly one reason why communities are going bankrupt is that under adverse conditions a man with a five hundred dollar equity in his home cannot pay a tax based on what he owes as well as what he owns.

ASSEMBLIES and HEALTH

A neglected church, one that is occupied by worshippers only two or three times a week and remains closed the rest of the time, may be come strictly unsanitary, if its sexton is not alert for the welfare of his congregation.

I am not warning my readers to stay away from church—no, just that an amputated church may be ten times as malignant, where all sorts of respiratory diseases are present in all stages. But the theater operator is, as a rule, pretty careful to keep his place in a sanitary condition in constant operation. The place is generally swept clean, and the air changed over and over again. I am sorry to say that rural homes of worship are seldom cared for as they should be.

The church where I attend regularly may be cited here, since I am fond of honest criticism. The sexton—a young man—makes his liv-

STATION ROBBED AT MASONVILLE

Typewriter, Fountain Pen Taken; Considerable Damage Result of Ransacking

Station agent Carlous C. Davis, of Masonville, when he returned to the station on business Sunday evening about seven o'clock, discovered that thieves had broken into the place sometime during early Sunday morning, and stolen a typewriter and a fountain pen, after creating considerable damage in their search for money and other valuables.

A further investigation disclosed that an attempt had been made to force a rear window. Another window had been tried with more success, and inside the men's waiting room, marks upon the grating of the ticket window showed that an attempt to remove that grating by jimmying had failed, while the woodwork showed that considerable effort had been made, but in vain.

The robber or robbers then opened the door of the men's waiting room, leading out of doors and in full view of a large electric light, forced an entrance into the ladies' waiting room where another door leading into the office was broken down, one of the panels being smashed, enabling the thieves to reach a hand in and turn ing from more remunerative work; the church was just as cheap as possible—hardly more than five dollars a week. Our indoor nooks are always dusty, and the plunder in the choir rooms is laden with dust. The mop isn't known here; the moist cloth, if ever used, I have not been able to discover. Our sexton is the lowest paid official in the church service.

It might be otherwise. He should be qualified to do expert sanitary work, and should be paid for the work required of him. We pay an elder about $80 a trip to come around every three months and check up on us morally and financially—about $20 for the four annual visits. Our spare-time sexton would drop dead if he were to get one dollar for a harder hour's work!

On previous occasions when the station has been robbed, the robbers were able to make a haul from the telephone coin box, but the telephone was removed some time ago so that on this occasion they were disappointed.

ALCOHOL PERMIT RESTORED TO BURLINGTON COMPANY

The Burlington Industrial Alcohol Company, of Burlington, regained its permit to withdraw 2,100,000 gallons of alcohol yearly for denaturing purposes under a decision last week by Federal Judge Dickinson, in Philadelphia. After numerous hearings, during which thousands of pages of testimony were taken, Judge Dickinson holds that the Government failed to prove charges that the company permitted 300,000 gallons of alcohol to reach bootleggers in 1929 and 1930. The company held a permit for ten years until it was revoked last July by Samuel O. Wynne, supervisor of alcohol permits.

AIMS AT HUSBAND, SHOOT'S HER CHILD

Colored Mother Wounds Five-Year-Old Youngster During Argument

Carolyn, five years old, was shot in the leg by her mother, Mrs. Lathie Norton, colored, of Union Mill and Elbow roads, Mount Laurel Township, early Sunday evening during an argument which resulted when Mrs. Norton accused her husband, John, of taking another woman for a ride in his auto.

The youngster, taken to the office of Dr. E. E. Imhoff by her parents, was treated for a flesh wound. A .38 calibre bullet from the revolver fired by her mother was said to have gone through the side of her left leg, between the ankle and knee.

The parents, arrested by Chief John H. Bradshaw and Officer Charles J. Erickson, of Moorestown police department, were committed to the county jail at Mount Holly after a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnson in Town Hall. As the shooting took place outside of Moorestown Township, the police turned the case over to Troopers Joseph S. Armano and Arthur Hausler, of the Delaware State Police station.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton, both 39 years old, are the parents of ten children, ranging in age from one to twenty-one years. All but one live at home. Norton is employed as a farm hand on the August Grano farm, where the shooting took place.

Norton, suffering a cut on the head, said his wife hit him with an auto tool as he started from the farm to take the injured child to the doctor.

According to the story they told the police, Mrs. Norton, while walking to the Green Tree store Sunday afternoon, saw her husband pass in the car with a woman passenger. Both returned home shortly and during the argument Mrs. Norton ran upstairs to get the revolver. Returning to the first floor of their home, she pointed the gun at her husband's feet, intending to cripple him. The youngster ran to her father as the mother pulled the trigger.

TROOPERS SEARCHING FOR FOUR ARMED MEN WHO FAIL IN HOLDUP

A search by state police has failed to reveal a trace of the four armed bandits who failed in an attempted holdup on Burlington Pike, near Parry, Sunday night.

A few seconds after John Lawyer, 1125 Gnone street, Philadelphia, stopped his car to light a cigarette, a second car pulled along side of him and stopped. Three colored men, armed with revolvers, jumped from the machine while the fourth remained at the wheel.

The trio demanded that Lawyer throw up his hands, but he stepped on the accelerator and sped away. State police at the Delaware station were notified and have been searching for the holdup men. Immediately after being notified they scoured the countryside, but failed to find a trace of the bandits' car which lawyer told them carried a license with the county identification as Burlington, N. J., and the first three numbers 170. The Philadelphia man said he was unable to distinguish the last numeral.

Licenses of Marlton and Maple Shade Men Taken by Commissioner

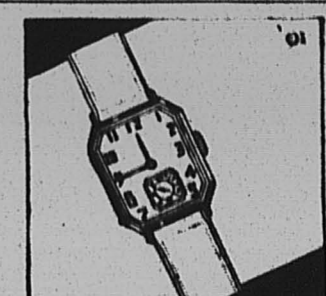

Harold G. Hoffman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, last week revoked licenses of 48 motorists in this state who had been convicted of drunken driving. Twenty-one other drivers lost their cards after being involved in fatal accidents.

In all, the commissioner penalized 103 drivers, the other offenses being for failure to appear in court after summonses, for which 22 licenses were revoked; seven for reckless driving and five for various other violations.

Among those penalized on charges of driving while intoxicated were William H. Mooney, Columbus; William Smith, Main street, Marlton.

William C. Steedman, Stiles avenue, Maple Shade, whose car overturned, resulting in death of Elizabeth Morton at Merchantville, lost his license for being involved in a fatal accident.

A Chronology of Men Who Have Achieved Success

FORTNUM AGENCY IS POPULAR IN AREA SERVED

Thirteen Years of Conscientious Service Has Built Large Business

LATEST EQUIPMENT AT BRIDGEBORO, PALMYRA

One of the outstanding automotive concerns operating in this vicinity is the favorably known organization headed by Lester S. Fortnum. This admirable firm has held the Ford franchise for the sale and service of Ford cars and parts for the past thirteen years, with showrooms and service stations located at 115 W. Broad street in Palmyra, and at Bridgeboro.

Mr. Fortnum has had many years experience in his line, and has built up a business that is the pride of the entire section. A large and gleaming, by clean service station is maintained at the local branch, where any make car is promptly and expertly repaired and conditioned for the road. At present, Mr. Fortnum is offering a free lubrication and spring spray to purchasers of 100 gallons of gasoline or more. He recently purchased a modern touring car, complete with a powerful host, searchlights and fire extinguishers, which is at the service of everyone.

The firm has on hand, or will obtain on consignment, any of the extremely popular Ford models, which have met with unprecedented approval of all. Mr. Fortnum realizes that it is the service after the sale that counts, so both he and his assistants take great pains to assure the complete and lasting satisfaction of everyone they have the pleasure of serving. This precaution has been instrumental in winning for the firm the prominent position it enjoys in the field today, as has the ability and integrity which has characterized Mr. Fortnum's efforts for his customers.

ETHEL WILLIAMS FINE HAIRDRESSER

Local Business Woman Has Had Over Fifteen Years Experience in Field

One of the most important of a lady's occupations is preserving a certain amount of the bloom of youth. Accordingly she is always interested in learning of those beauty parlors and hairdressing establishments which have attained the greatest measure of success by reason of native ability.

In this connection the hairdressing establishment conducted by Mrs. Ethel Williams, whose place of business is located at Broad and Main streets, Riverton, enjoys an enviable reputation.

Mrs. Williams has been associated in this line of endeavor for the past fifteen years, nine of which have been spent in this locality. She was formerly connected with the same business in Camden for a period of years, and her success has been worthy of more than passing notice.

She is thoroughly adept in all branches of hair dressing, and is fully equipped to do finger, water and Marcel waving, as well as a beautiful and lasting Permanent Wave. The large volume of business she enjoys is an indication of the value that has been placed on her services by discriminating women.

MAXWELL PAINT CO. HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL

Paint, both as a decorative and as a preservative, occupies a place from which it will probably never be displaced by any other covering medium. Particularly is this true of its preserving qualities and corrosion-resisting elements, which are called into play.

Of course there is a wide difference in the quality of paints manufactured, and in this connection our readers' attention is called to the Maxwell Paint Company, 216 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, prominent paint manufacturers, who do most of their business with the railroads and steamship companies.

This business has been established 35 years, and for the past two years has been headed by Frank W. Stewart. Mr. Stewart has had eleven years' experience in the field and was formerly located in Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

In making this reference to the Maxwell Paint Company, we do so with the view and purpose of emphasizing the real worth of their wide and varied line of paints as a product which is illustrative of that standard of quality which has won for Palmyra leadership in commercial markets. And the present success is due to the outstanding efforts of Mr. Stewart.

PATTON SERVES PLUMBING NEEDS

Palmyra Business Man Recognized as Leader in Heating and Sheet Metal Field

With the growth and development of Palmyra and Riverton, it is obvious that new buildings are constantly being erected and older buildings being modernized. This has offered exceptional opportunities to the progressive and well equipped plumbers, and one that has done much to elevate living standards in this section is Mr. James Patton, identified with the plumbing and heating business in Palmyra at Broad street and Parry avenue.

Mr. Patton offers a plumbing service that is unsurpassed. His establishment is completely equipped with everything new and up-to-date in the line.

He is particularly specializing in the heating end of the business, and is well fitted to inspect the heater and make any repairs which might be necessary to insure its satisfactory operation.

D. M. CLIFTON IS HOME BEAUTIFIER

The beauty of the modern home depends to a large extent upon the care and attention which has characterized its furnishing. One of the most important elements contributing to the beauty of the home is attractive and long-lasting wall paper, expertly applied.

Residents of this section need no introduction to the paperhanging and wall paper activities of Mr. D. M. Clifton, for he has been associated with this line in Riverton for the past thirty-one years.

His place of business is located at 504 Main street, and he specializes in the Asian line of wall papers, rightly believing that the best is none too good for his discriminating clientele.

The care which he takes with the job at hand assures its successful and early completion, and those for whom he has done work in the past are unanimous in their opinion that the finished job was entirely satisfactory. Mr. Clifton is also known locally as the Borough Clerk, having served in that official capacity for a number of years.

SNOVER FUNERAL HOME FAVORED

30 YEARS EXPERIENCE ASSURES SATISFACTION

There is no professional contact more intimate or necessary than those services administered by a funeral director. Some day it will be necessary to call upon a member of this worthy fraternity to render this intimate service, how well he does it indicates the amount of success he may hope to attain.

For thirty years Frank A. Snover has devoted his attention and best efforts to his mortician business. His beautiful funeral parlors and chapel are located at 313 E. Broad street in Palmyra, and he has an able assistant in the person of John Swartz.

His equipment and linens are of the best, and leave nothing to be desired for the extensive and appreciative clientele he serves. He is a graduate of one of the leading embalming schools in the country, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of his profession.

The individual attention Mr. Snover gives to all patrons is their assurance of kind and sympathetic service.

HARRISON'S SHOP IS MOTORIST AID

William F. Harrison Features Sales and Service of Batteries and Radios

One of the most important parts of an electric or gasoline motor, and that which may be truthfully said to be the heart of the power plant, is the storage battery. These portable electrical storage houses are prone to be temperamental at times, thus requiring a servicing and repair done by only an expert, if complete satisfaction is to result.

Harrison's Battery Shop, located in Palmyra at 12 East Broad street, has been engaged in the business of selling and repairing batteries for the past seven years.

William F. Harrison, the proprietor of the business has had over twenty years' experience in the field, thirteen of which were spent in the employ of the Reading Railroad, in their electrical maintenance department.

Mr. Harrison features the sale of the well-known Willard Storage Battery, which is the chosen favorite of the discriminating motor car owner and radio enthusiast.

A great deal of Mr. Harrison's business lies in the radio field, as he is the authorized agent for Majestic Radios. He is of course fully equipped to service these fine sets, as he is to repair batteries of all makes.

DELICATESSEN IS OWNED BY BEITZ

Well Known Store Carries Complete Line of Best to Eat; Has Large Clientele

The modern delicatessen store, if its proprietor is alert to every phase of his business, will include a host of tasty and nationally known items of food to tempt lagging appetites. The successful grocer realizes that his stock must always be fresh and at the same time large, in order to adequately serve his customers.

The delicatessen conducted by Mr. E. Beitz in Palmyra, at 115 E. Broad street, has long been noted for the variety of tasty articles of food offered. Mr. Beitz has been in business at his present location for the past eight years, and through his attention to everyone's wants, his services have grown in public demand.

The Beitz Delicatessen carries everything of the best to eat, and the large volume of trade precludes the possibility of the merchandise being anything but strictly fresh and in the best condition.

Mr. Beitz's store is a member of the Quaker City Wholesale Grocers Association, and is able to offer low

HAS DEVELOPED UNIQUE SERVICE

Will K. Bowen, Upholsterer, Has Made Careful Study of Color Values

Eighteen years ago, or a little more, a former resident who had been away for a number of years, returned to Riverton and brought with him an idea.

The man was Will K. Bowen, and his ideal was to create in homes a color harmony—a color scheme that not only created harmony in the furnishing and decorations of the home, but which at once expressed and accentuated the vibrations of the home life—the family.

After years of careful study which led into fields not directly connected with what is generally accepted or known as "upholstery business," Mr. Bowen has acquired a knowledge of color values and relationships which enables him to render an unusually distinctive service to his patrons. Drab rooms and dim corners are transformed into things of life and beauty under his skilled suggestions.

Mr. Bowen gives personal attention and individual consideration to each problem with surprising and pleasing results. While giving much time to personal supervision of the work being done in his shop, Mr. Bowen is always ready to arrange for a consultation, and those who desire something different and better may telephone Riverton 751 for an appointment.

The something different and better does not necessarily mean something more expensive. Mr. Bowen's wide experience and close study of his craft enables him to frequently make suggestions which result in the most delightful effects at much less cost than anticipated by the customer.

Phone him today for an appointment, or better still, drop in at the shop, 516 Main street, Riverton, and let him show you the charming samples of fabrics for every purpose, which he has personally selected for the discriminating folks of Riverton and vicinity.

prices in direct competition with the chain stores. He is also a member of the Artisans, and is interested in the civic welfare of his community as is attested by the ready and selfless to every enterprise for the betterment of business and social conditions as a whole.

SCHWERING STORE SELLS HARDWARE

Palmyra Concern Owned by Harry C. Schwering, Jr., Has Wide Line

The hardware business is one which naturally requires the services of one who is experienced and capable of extending helpful suggestions and pleasing service.

In this respect, there is no more capable or efficient hardware dealer in this entire section than the well known Harry C. Schwering, Jr., whose modest and completely equipped store is located in Palmyra at 305 East Broad street.

Mr. Schwering has been prominent in identified with the hardware business for the past nine years, and at present is featuring the sale of the famous Westinghouse Electric Refrigerators. This well known make is handled in all its models and sizes.

Mr. Schwering maintains at all times a large and comprehensive stock of those necessities which one associates with a hardware store, and he is ever ready to serve his large patronage with care and efficiency.

In the years he has been connected in the business in this locality, he has established a reputation that few, if any dealers in a similar line of business, ever attain. This has been due to a large extent to his ability to constructive service in the interests of those to whom he sells.

Another of Hoover's little problems is to find a man who can save the country without stealing the show—Chattanooga Times.

JOSEPH STACK WINS SUCCESS

Identified With Ice Business for 23 Years in Palmyra; Large Patronage

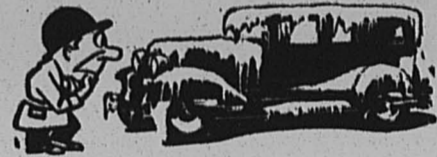

In spite of the novel inventions of science during the past few years, many housewives cannot be persuaded to relinquish the use of ice to insure the healthful freshness of every article of food she buys. It will be noticed, too, that she invariably deals with those food purveyors who use plenty of ice to bring her their food products in wholesome condition.

There are many advantages in ice which a piece of machinery can never hope to approximate, among which is the fact that ice automatically maintains the correct amount of moisture in the refrigerator, and also that when he is wanted—for drinks or any other reason—it is there, in large quantities.

For the past twenty-three years, Joseph I. Stack has been supplying residents of Palmyra and the surrounding section with clean, pure and sparkling ice.

His deliveries cover an ever growing area, and the unanimous opinion as expressed by those he serves is that they could ask for nothing better. Mr. Stack is prominently connected with various fraternal and social orders throughout the section, and is chief of the Palmyra Fire Department, which post he has capably held for the past seven years.

And it begins to look as though the next war is going to be fought over the payments on the last one—Judge.

NAMING AMERICA

Modern science and research are repealing so much of what the older generation was taught in school that we may well conclude with John Billings that "it is just as well not to know so much as to know so much that ain't so."

The old text books told us, for example, that America was named for Amerigo (or Americus) Vespucci, an Italian explorer who closely followed Columbus and stole Christopher's thunder. Now comes an ancient document unearthed in Prague, which is said to be a report of his adventures by Vespucci himself, in which the navigator signed his first name as Alberico. Thus, if he were to have been honored in naming the new continent, it should have been called Albericia.

But a further complication has arisen through the assertion of another authority that an Indian tribe of Columbus' time called themselves by a name which sounded very much like "America," and that perhaps the New World got a legitimate name after all. Anyway, at this late day, it probably doesn't make much difference, except to those who like to argue about such things.

GLORIFYING GANGSTERS

In his speech before a convention of police chiefs President Hoover suggested in substance that if there were less glorifying of gangsters and more glorifying of policemen it might help in solving the crime problem. And there is much truth in that, although many policemen merit little glorification.

There is a tendency on the part of many newspapers, and in some instances on the part of the motion pictures, to paint the gangster as a bold, romantic character. The fact is that he is usually a sneaking coward, who never give his victim the slightest chance. True, he will do murder for a price, but gangdom is so well organized and justice so laggard that he knows the chances of legal punishment are negligible. The gangster fears rival gangsters far more than he fears the law.

When he does land in jail temporarily, bail is always at hand, supplied by other gangsters or men higher up. The front page notoriety he gets is unctious to his soul and he revels in it. The newspapers made Scarface Al Capone a romantic hero in the eyes of an incredibly large moron population.

But, speaking of Al, he did get an unlooked-for reception some time back—before he landed in jail—when he and some of his gang attended a football game in Evansville, Ill. The crowd booed and jeered until they sneaked away.

Which shows that the press and public might do much toward putting the gangster in his place by holding him up to the scorn he deserves, instead of throwing the glamour of romance about his despicable personality.

Christ Church

(Rev. George Lockett, Pastor)

A few years ago a London paper, the Spectator, offered a prize for the best philosophy of life which could be written on the back of a post card. The entry which won the prize could almost have been written on the back of a postage stamp. It was a philosophy of life which drew attention, not only for its sincerity and practicality, but there were just eight words in it: "Love, Trust, Dare and Go On Doing It."

The Burlington District meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held on Tuesday at St. Stephen's Church, Beverly. The speaker will be Mrs. Franklin Chambers, and her subject, "The Triennial."

Monday at 2:30 p. m. the Women's Auxiliary at Christ Church, Palmyra, will meet. The leader of the discussion group will be Mrs. Allice Cronstey. The topic, "Religious Thinking Today."

Confirmation classes have been started and any who desire to join are welcome. Phone Riverton 809. We congratulate the Auxiliary on their splendid record in these "after the banquet times." To come within a few dollars of their record is just a magnificent piece of work.

Ten o'clock, on Sunday morning, is the time our Church School opens, and we have vacancies for one or two men teachers, and for a secretary.

Services 22nd Sunday after Trinity, 10:00 a. m.—Sunday School.

The late Charles M. Alexander, singing evangelist, was taken to task after one of his services by a zealous critic who said, "I admire your spirit, Mr. Alexander, but I don't like the way you do your personal work."

"Neither do I very well," replied Mr. Alexander, "how do you do it?" "Well, I-I-I," stammered the man, "I don't do it very much."

"Well," said Mr. Alexander, "I like the way I do it better than the way you don't do it."

Baptist Sunday, Armistice Day will be observed in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra.

The subject of the morning sermon will be "Things that Make for Peace." The choir will sing Dekoven's "Recessional."

In the evening the sermon subject will be "The True Friend." Special music will be rendered by the choir.

Last Sunday Mrs. Elvin I. Powell celebrated her ninth anniversary as church organist. The pastor made special mention of the fact and the choir rendered one of Mrs. Powell's favorite hymns.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

First Church of Christ, Scientist Thomas Ave. and Seventh St. Riverton. Sunday School 9:30 a. m. Sunday services, 11 a. m. Wednesday 8 p. m. Subject: "Adam and Fallen Man." Reading Room in Church Building open Tuesday and Friday 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. All are welcome.

FIRST LUTHERAN Rev. Harold L. Creager, Pastor. 10:00 a. m. Sunday School. 11:15 a. m. "A Hero For Christ." 7:00 p. m. Luther League. 8:00 p. m. "Will the Idols Fall?"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE "ADAM AND FALLEN MAN" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 8, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (Ephesians 5:14).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Romans 8: 1, 14).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The real man being linked by Science to his Maker, mortals need only turn from sin and lose sight of mortal selfishness to find Christ, the real man and his relation to God, and to recognize the divine sonship" (p. 316).

SWEENEY INVITES ALL TO VISIT SHOWROOM DURING DISPLAY WEEK

C. R. Sweeney, Inc., the Palmyra-Riverton Plymouth and Dodge dealer, is now observing Display Week. Mr. Sweeney invites all persons in this vicinity to visit his showroom at this time and inspect the new Plymouth, which has so recently taken the country by storm.

Mr. Sweeney states that this new car has features which are found in only higher priced machines, such as hydraulic shock absorbers, floating power, hydraulic brakes, long wheel base, all-steel body and many other great advantages.

He invites each and every person who is interested to ride and drive the new Plymouth for himself and says that only in this manner can one realize that Plymouth is truly the sensation of the season.

The Sweeney showroom is open daily until 9:00 p. m. during this week.

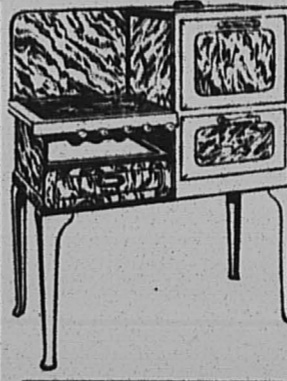

PHI NU CLASS Paul, in his missionary journeys tried to reach as many people as he could and in so doing traveled far. "Paul in Ephesus" the subject for discussion, Sunday, November 8, gives his activities in the region of the Aegean Sea.

PUBLIC SERVICE

BAPTISTS ELECT OFFICERS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

FIFTY-FIVE ARE IN ATTENDANCE AT EVENT

Reports of Officers Show Sunday School and Church in Good Standing

The Central Baptist Sunday School Association, of Palmyra and Riverton, held its forty-fifth annual business meeting and election of officers Tuesday evening in the Social Hall of the church.

Supper was served at 6:30 p. m. by the Woman's Society of the church. Supt. Thomas C. VanOsten was the toastmaster, and also presided at the business meeting, with 55 in attendance.

Reports covering the year's activities were presented by the organized classes and the superintendents of the several departments.

The secretary's report showed an average enrollment of 389 and an average attendance of 245 for the year ending with September.

The ratio of attendance to enrollment was 62 per cent. for officers and teachers, 57 per cent. for scholars, and 63 per cent. for the school as a whole.

Out of a total attendance of 12,740, 51 per cent. attended the church service following the Sunday School session. The school has the fourth highest attendance in Burlington county.

The treasurer reported total receipts in amount of $2,581.43, and disbursements $2,641.74 of which $1,796.00 went to the church Building Fund and $223.00 to benevolences.

The Barren Class reported a total attendance of 107 for the year. Disbursements included $290.00 for painting the parsonage. The Philathea Class reported a total attendance of 1734, and contributed $1,050.00 through the Sunday School treasurer to the Building Fund.

The Summation Class reports a total attendance of 664, receipts $231.68 and disbursements $283.63.

The Junior Philathea Class reported a total attendance of 794 for the year. This class renewed its membership in the Needlework Guild and made donations of garments and money.

Mrs. Stradling, a former member of this class, is now engaged in missionary work in Costa Rica. The class contributed $325.00 to the Building Fund through the Sunday School treasurer.

The Junior Department contributed $50.00 to the Building Fund and $45.00 to benevolences. This department had an average attendance of 43.

The Primary and Beginners Departments contributed $44.25 to the Building Fund and $45.00 to benevolences. Average attendance was 55.

The Cradle Roll Department reported a membership of 27, and average attendance 13.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Superintendent, Thomas C. VanOsten; Associate Superintendent, Karl G. Frank; Assistant Superintendent, Wm. Cooper; General Secretary, C. Y. Barto; Assistant Secretary, Gordon Andrews; Treasurer, Frank N. Johnson; Pianist, Rev. Geo. A. Eckert; Pianist, Mrs. E. N. Hoyt; Assistant Pianist, Miss Helen Johnson; Home Dept. Supt., Mrs. Thomas H. Turner; Birthday Secretary, Miss Martha D. Hirsch; Junior Dept. Superintendent, Mrs. Eleanor Shourra; Assistant Supt., Miss Dorothy Handshy; Secretary, Miss Elizabeth Toy; Assistant Secretary, Miss Ruth Abdlil; Pianist, Miss Irma C. Barto.

Primary Dept. Superintendent, Mrs. C. Y. Barto; Assistant Supt., Miss Esther Verkes; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Myrtle Pickett; Pianist, Miss Esther Blaser; Pianist, Miss Evelyn Waller.

Cradle Roll: Superintendent, Miss Adaline A. Seel; Assistant Supt., Miss Virginia Seel; Assistant Supt., Mrs. Ruth Reeves.

N.G.A. MEETS AT YMCA TODAY

Garments Will be Displayed and Junior Workers Will Present Sketch

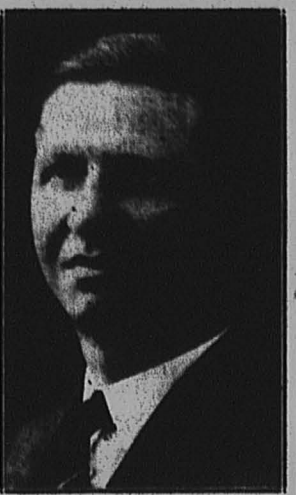

The Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its annual meeting and inaugurating of garments this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, this afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

An interesting speaker has been obtained for the occasion and the Junior Workers of the Guild will present a sketch. Tea and cakes will be served as is usual at this meeting.

One of the most important features of the meeting will be the display of garments, which have been collected by members of the Guild in Palmyra during the past several weeks.

A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all persons who are interested in this worthwhile work.

NEW MAYOR

WALTER D. LAMONT who was elected Mayor of Palmyra at the election held Tuesday. Mr. Lamont was the unopposed Republican candidate.

STUDENTS HOLD BIG REHEARSAL

Musical Comedy to be Presented in Palmyra High School November 13 and 14

A large number of Palmyra school students were present Monday afternoon for the first rehearsal of "Spanish Moon," the new musical comedy, which is to be presented at the Palmyra High School on Friday and Saturday evenings, November 13 and 14. This comedy is being sponsored by the members of the 1932 Tillieum staff of the school.

The leading roles were chosen very carefully, as were the members of the various choruses. The story of "Spanish Moon" is especially interesting and intriguing and the music is very tuneful and catchy.

The first act is held in a sales office in New York. The romantic temperament of Claire Lewis, a bride-to-be, provides the comedy. Miss Lewis, who is searching everywhere for romance, is highly dissatisfied with her suitor, Larry Austin, senior partner of the firm. She rather becomes infatuated with the poetic Gerald Babbington Brookfield, a writer of poetry.

Comedy is also supplied by Howard Boynton, the junior member of the firm, Ardu Drayton, the stenographer, Freddie, the office boy, and Flash, the last-moving janitor.

The second act takes place in Spain. This is a very colorful scene with dancing girls and fair serenades.

They are celebrating a recently won bull-fight at a Spanish inn. A torador number by the toradors and natives promises to be one of the high spots of the show.

The costumes which are to be worn arrived today and are being supplied by the John D. Rogers Company, of Ohio.

Tickets for the comedy are now on sale and may be secured from any member of the cast for 35 and 50 cents each.

A complete program and list of characters will be announced in the next issue of this paper.

WELFARE CARD PARTY NOV. 19

H. B. Williams and Leon A. Sever, Inc., Donating Big Door Prize

The card party to be given for the benefit of the Palmyra Welfare Committee in the P.O.S.O.A. Hall, Palmyra, Thursday evening, November 19, is expected to be one of the largest given in this section for quite some time.

A ton of coal is being offered for a door prize to further induce people to patronize the event. This coal is being contributed by two Palmyra dealers, H. B. Williams and Leon A. Sever, Inc. The Welfare Committee is very grateful to Mr. Williams and Edwin P. Griffenberg, manager of the Sever concern, for their kindness in this matter.

Each business man in Palmyra has been visited during the past week and they have contributed excellent prizes which will be awarded the lucky card players on that occasion. Many individuals are also donating worthwhile prizes.

The general public is cordially invited to be present. Admission is fifty cents. Playing will begin promptly at eight o'clock. Bridge, pinocle and five hundred will be played.

Don't forget the date, Thursday evening, November 19!

The Welfare Committee is still taking the census of unemployed, both men and women, at the police station each morning between the hours of ten and twelve. Officer Charles Lutz is present at that time each day to fill out the cards.

Anyone knowing of any place where work may be secured is asked to notify the committee at Riverton 699.

BIG PARTY AT 'Y' IS ENJOYED

Excellent Music Is Rendered by P. H. S. Band; "Magic Horse" Entertains

Every group of the local "Y" was represented at the First Annual Halloween party for members and their clubs. From the jam in the lobby to the farthest corner in the gymnasium the place was bulging with activity.

The Palmyra High School Band rendered a few selections at the opening and delighted the audience with the excellent music. It is interesting to note that over 80 per cent. of the members of the Band are also Y.M.C.A. members. William Cooper led them in their opening number, after which Mr. McCullum, a new member of the faculty, took the baton. The music greatly added to the program and many favorable comments were made by the guests as to their splendid progress.

Following the music, J. Elmer Hahn, as president of the Board of Directors greeted the dads and their sons in a short speech of welcome. Mr. Hahn in his remarks, tried to give all a picture of what the "Y" is trying to do for these two communities.

Everyone was delighted with the "Magic Horse" and his trainer. But it developed as the stunt progressed that it took more than just a "heckler" to manage the brute. B. S. Torbet with his son, Shelby, gathered many laughs from the group in their disguise. George Durgin, Jr., as trainer and Robert Crane, as the farmer did their part equally well.

The "Y" Airport did a land office business and many boys that have never been in a plane before took their first flight. C. C. Seemiller, H. J. Herbert Parsons, Mr. Fay, Jack Metzger, Clarence Yost, and Leon Guest were kept busy as pilots and aids at the Port. Some of the boys were still asking when it was all over.

The bobbing for apples and trying to bite them from the strings enticed many fellows. Of particular fun were the cracker-eating contest with high school students and men participating. The free-for-all boxing match was great fun. There were not any serious casualties, but there certainly were some sore noses.

Plenty of good apple cider with ginger snaps and pretzels was provided in addition to the abundant supply of apples. After giving Mr. Metzger a cheer the happy crowd disbanded until the call of the Black Cat next year.

Members of Epworth League Will Depict Development of Television in Play

A play that is "really different" will engage the attention of the public when members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, Palmyra, stage their play tonight.

"Helen Says No," a delightfully amusing stage presentation, is the product of one of the members of the league, and will be presented in the temple of the church at 8:15 o'clock.

The play, a full evening's entertainment, offers a vent for fun-loving people to disport their sense of humor to the fullest extent. Comical remarks and equally witty sallies have been such consistent laugh-getters that they have interfered even with the rehearsals for the affair.

Those same quips carry an almost unconditional guarantee to bring a hearty laugh to the lips of the most sour individual.

Embodied in the original play is another sketch, "The Model Wife," which is also provocative of an equal number of laughs.

The entire entertainment depicts the radio programs of the future, after television has been completed. The methods by which the radio programs will be seen and heard are portrayed in the play.

The comedy aspect of the affair is supplied when each member of an otherwise peacefully inclined family tries to do his bit toward tuning in a program on the radio.

Family Returns The much-henpecked husband, who expects his family to be away long enough for him to enjoy a radio program of his own selection, has his dreams rudely shattered when the members of his household unexpectedly return and assume the control of the family receiving set.

The resultant family arguments lead to many amusing incidents and through it all, poor henpecked hubby invariably comes out second best.

Music lovers will be given a treat during the entire program. Special numbers on the program are supplied by out-of-town talent, who supplement a selected list of local musicians.

The novel type of entertainment is expected to attract many of the win town residents and a new low admission price of 25c is also expected to do much toward furthering a large attendance.

Characters Those who have the roles in the "Helen Says No" and "The Model Wife" sketches are Carrie Bates, Grace Kersey, Beulah Haines, Florence Stevens, Mildred Goodwin, Elizabeth Stein, Eleanor Caprano, Rev. Ira B. Pinnis, Clifton Taylor, George Long, Mildred Mickle, Ruth Brown, Douglas Kersey and Willard Cox.

The featured musicians and other artists include a male quartet, composed of Messrs. Finney, Steger, Long and Taylor; a group of three out-of-town child artists, Esther Shockor; Walter Groff, Mrs. Ethel Pinnis, Robert Coward, Mrs. Rachel Lord and Herbert Baugh and Joseph Jurneck.

The entire proceeds of the play will serve as the contribution of the Epworth League toward the church treasury in a special Thank Offering on Joseph Day, November 22.

Moniski and Adams Sent to Reformatory; Others On Probation

Five boys who were arrested two weeks ago as Palmyra police cleaned up a series of automobile thefts which had been going on for several months were sentenced last Thursday by Judge C. A. Ring, Peter Moniski, of Parry, who pleaded guilty to larceny of nine automobiles, and Stanley Adams, of Camden, who pleaded guilty to stealing three cars, were both sent to the Atlantic Reformatory for an indefinite period.

Leon Tucholski, of Parry, who pleaded guilty to stealing a radio; Frank Tucholski, of Parry, who pleaded guilty to stealing five automobile tires and tubes and John Tucholski, of Riverside, who pleaded guilty to the same offense, received suspended sentences. All three were placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay $50 costs within that time.

Beer Rooster Punished

Thomas Moore, of Mount Holly, who had been convicted on October 16 of stealing nine half-barrels of beer from a garage where it had been stored by county authorities, was sentenced to an indefinite term in Rahway Reformatory.

Several other cases were disposed of by the judge Thursday following a busy week in court.

In asking for sentence to be imposed on Moore, Prosecutor Eastwood called the attention of the court to the arrogant attitude that Moore had displayed all through the case, and stated that he had definite proof that the defendant had tampered with two of the state's witnesses.

The prosecutor stated that Howard Eckert, of Mount Holly, gave the first information that led to the arrest of Moore, but that when he came into court for the trial he changed his story and denied knowing anything about seeing Moore's truck on the night of the robbery.

Tampered With Witness

The other witness whom Moore is alleged to have tampered with was Freda Bastian, of the Mount Holly-Tinicum road, and Prosecutor Eastwood said that he knew absolutely that on the night before the trial Moore took the woman out, got her so intoxicated she didn't know what she was doing and then left her in a deserted house in Camden county. She finally made her way to Mount Holly where she was arrested on a charge of contempt of court.

After Moore had been sentenced, the woman was brought in and Judge Ring, after stating that her story of what had happened was accepted by the officials, discharged her.

The heaviest sentence imposed Thursday was one of four years in the state prison, at Trenton, Florence, colored, of Moorestown, who last Thursday pleaded guilty to a statutory charge.

Rocco Gregorio, of Medford, who had pleaded guilty to maintaining a house and possession of liquor on July 11, was fined $125 and placed on probation for six months.

Antonio Marino, of Trenton, who had pleaded guilty to possession of liquor in Burlington on May 21, was fined $50 and placed on probation for six months. An indictment for transportation was nolle prossed.

George Barrett, of Bordentown, was fined $200 for maintaining house, possession of liquor and slot machines on June 8 and was placed on probation for six months.

Joseph Barrett, also of Bordentown, was fined $200 for maintaining a house and possession on July 29 and was placed on probation for six months. Other indictments against these two defendants were nolle prossed.

An indictment against Harry Bate, of Burlington, for assault and battery on his wife, was nolle prossed.

Pleaded Non Vult

Walter Armstrong, of Beverly, who on October 16 pleaded non vult to a charge of assault and battery on Edith Woolston, of Bridgeboro, was fined $50. He was placed on probation for three months.

Anna Lewis, of Burlington, withdrew her plea of non vult to a charge of desertion and neglect of her two children and agreed to pay $3 a week for their support. She was placed on probation for one year and ordered to furnish her own $500 bond.

Lawrence Wescott, of Moorestown, also charged with desertion and neglect, had his offer of $12 a week for his wife and six children accepted. Probation and bond were the same as in the previous case.

Eugene Sanders, colored, of Riverton, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of $50 worth of goods from H. Green, of Riverton, on December 15. Sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for one year.

Clarence Gore and Gus Reiford, of Philadelphia, were fined $75 each and given six months to pay the fine. These men were convicted of having liquor-making utensils in their possession at Taunton Lakes on July 6.

Robert Bancroft, of Delanco, who previously was fined $125 for assault and battery on John Cannon, of Riverside, had the fine reduced to $75. He will have six months to pay the fine.

Cadow Sentenced

Charles H. Cadow, of Burlington was sentenced to a year in the county jail following his conviction on Monday for beating and robbing Schater, swore that he was in the hotel Claridge, Walnut street, Philadelphia, when someone lifted Lemmyn's money, near Burlington, on May 21. He said he registered on May 6 and returned at the hotel all day on May 7th.

Lemmyn testified he drove from Florence to Burlington on May 7th to get a hundred dollar bill changed. The money belonged to his wife. After going to the bank he started home. In East Burlington he was hailed by Cadow with a request to take the latter to Florence. The request was complied with. When along the river road, Lemmyn said, he was knocked unconscious by his friend, Cadow. When he regained his senses about three hours later, Lemmyn said he was lying on the floor of the car. His wife's money was gone and $3 besides.

No Witnesses

Although the car had been going at a speed of 35 miles an hour when it allegedly took place, it was parked in an orderly position beside a high hedge and was in gear.

No witnesses were heard and the jury made its decision on the testimony of the principals.

The indictment against Joseph Wells charged with setting fire or causing or aiding and abetting in setting fire to timber of Orlando B. Moore, Tabernacle township, was quashed on technical grounds, on motion of V. Claude Palmer, counsel for the defendant. It is understood that Wells will be re-arrested when the grand jury assembles.

Alexander Stevens and Harry Nixon, both colored, changed their pleas to not guilty of charges of larceny of antique furniture, valued at $1,000, from the home of Miss Lydia B. Wildes, North Hanover township. Stevens admits larceny; Nixon, breaking and entering and larceny. They will be sentenced next Thursday.

Bauder Casaka, of Trenton, pleaded guilty to stealing goods valued at $40 from the A. & P. store, Florence. Prosecutor Eastwood stated that the young defendant is on probation for five years in Mercer county for similar robberies in Trenton. Judge Ring suspended sentence on Casaka.

Suspended Sentence

Andrew Katch, John Geisi, Stephen Wanda and Gus Asch, all of Florence, pleaded guilty to breaking into the home of Louis C. Mulford, near Florence station, with intent to steal. The unexpected return of a member of the Mulford family frightened the boys away after they had broken into the house. They were released under suspension of sentence, placed on probation for one year, and assessed $20 costs each.

Clifford Cawley, charged with assault on Price Richards, was placed on probation for six months under suspension of sentence, and is required to pay $25 costs. The two men were partners in conducting a farm near Vincentown and one day got into a quarrel about cutting a field of corn. Cawley knocked Richards down.

John Farrell, of Medford, guilty of stealing sweet corn valued at $20 from the farm of Alvin Bellwig, adjoining farmer, also was let go under suspension of sentence and was placed on probation for six months. He is assessed $25 costs.

TRAINING SCHOOL IS ORGANIZED

Members of Palmyra and Riverton Churches Affect New Organization at Meeting

Monday evening representatives of the churches of Palmyra and Riverton set up an organization for a Standard Teacher Training School to be held each Monday evening for ten or twelve weeks beginning early in January.

The meeting was held in the Epworth Methodist Church, Palmyra, and was composed of the Pastors, Sunday School Superintendents and one other layman from the First Presbyterian Church, of Riverton; the Central Baptist Church, the First Lutheran Church, the Moravian Church and the Epworth Methodist Church.

This Board of Administration was made a permanent organization for future schools of religious education, such as Teacher Training Classes, Daily Vacation Bible Schools and Week-day Religious Education.

The Rev. Charles T. Bates was made pastor of the Teacher Training School, P. C. McCorkle, treasurer; Frank Johnson, secretary; the Rev. Albert J. Harke, registrar, and the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, chairman of the curriculum committee. These constitute the executive committee.

The Rev. Mr. Lockhart was made permanent chairman of the Board of Administration. The school will be held in the Epworth Methodist Church and the committee is seeking to arrange for a choice of two out of four courses, if possible. It is expected there will be an enrollment of at least one hundred church school teachers and young folks who are training themselves for positions in the church schools of the community.

The committees appointed include: Curriculum, the Rev. Mr. Pimm; H. Landis, T. VanOrsen; Finance, Mr. McCorkle, William O. Parker; Barues; Publicity, Frank Johnson, Leon Guest and Wilton E. Mount.

Arthur Carr

Arthur Carr, 45 years old, for many years a resident of Palmyra, died Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Northwestern General Hospital, following a severe attack of appendicitis.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at eight o'clock from the Stover Funeral Home and high mass will be held at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Riverton, at nine o'clock. Interment will be made in the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Philadelphia, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Friends may call Friday evening. Mr. Carr is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eva Carr, one son and a daughter. He was a member of the A. O. M. P. and St. Joseph's Council, K. of C.

The BEACON of MEMORY

Lest We Forget!

WHENEVER we think of Liberty we must think of our boys who sacrificed their lives that we might enjoy this blessed state of freedom. They believed in their country and they fought for their rights.

Believe in your country today as they did fourteen years ago.
Believe in your institutions, your business men, your neighbors, yourself.
If you have it to spend, put your money to work relieving the depression by having done those things you have been thinking about so long, buy the things you need, spend, not recklessly, but sanely and carefully. A dollar in circulation is worth to the community two lying idle.

Do your bit in Peace-time Patriotism by fighting unemployment with your dollars as the boys of 1917 fought with their weapons.
Peace-time Patriotism has its opportunities for service no less than War-time Patriotism.

'PALS' TRIUMPH OVER MT. HOLLY

Captain Norman Moffitt Scores Three Times on Long Runs As 'Hollies' Lose

BURLINGTON COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE table with columns W, L, T, Pts. and rows for Riverside, Pemberton, Palmyra, Bordentown, Burlington, Mount Holly, Moorestown.

Saturday's Score: Riverside, 24; Burlington, 6; Palmyra, 19; Mount Holly, 7.

With Captain Norman Moffitt running wild, Coach Ed Dimond's Palmyra High eleven continued undefeated in Class B competition and at the same time chalked up its second victory in the Burlington County High School League when Mount Holly High was defeated here last Saturday afternoon by the score of 19 to 7.

The setback was the first of the season handed to the 'Hollies'. It was the second game for each in the county campaign, with the 'Pals' climbing into undisputed possession of second place.

In the first quarter Moffitt skirted right end for 20 yards to score, but the 'Hollies' also tallied when a series of passes brought the ball to the one-foot mark where Gerber went over for a touchdown and added the extra point on a pass.

However this lead was short-lived and Palmyra took the lead when Lenker threw a lateral pass to Moffitt, who ran 50 yards for a touchdown. Then in the fourth period Moffitt again scored when he went around right end for 25 yards.

Palmyra Mount Holly: Bradshaw... left end... Lamb... left tackle... Pew... left guard... Szymczyk... center... Russell... right guard... Whitcraft... right tackle... Stafford... Taylor... right end... E. Whitcraft... Davis... quarterback... Morgan... Reynolds... left halfback... Gerber... Lenker... right halfback... Lewis... Moffitt... fullback... Jones... Score by periods: Palmyra High 6 6 0 6-18; Mount Holly High 7 0 0 7.

Touchdowns—Moffitt, 3; Gerber, 1. Points after touchdown—Morgan to Jones (pass). Referee—Oberholzer, F. & M. Umpire—Schlager, Penn. Head Linesman—Zigler, Army. Time of periods—12 minutes.

COUNTY JEWISH WOMEN TO MEET

Priest, Minister and Rabbi to Be Speakers at Open Session

The regular meeting of the Burlington County Section, Council of Jewish Women, will be held in the auditorium of the Burlington Synagogue on High Street, Tuesday evening, a peace and good will program is planned for this meeting by Mrs. L. Cohen and Mrs. P. Fagan, co-chairmen of the Peace Committee.

The speakers will be a priest, a minister and a rabbi. A cordial welcome is extended to all members and non-members, as this will be an open meeting. Mrs. Fox, of Springfield, will be hostess. The charity card party held last Thursday evening at Burlington was very successful due to the efforts of the capable committee which consisted of Mrs. Rosenfeld, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Glassman and Mrs. Sol Pollack.

ALLEY GOSSIP

The Highwaymen won three games Wednesday evening, which put them in first place. The Buccaneers won two from the Racketeers, which put them in second place. P. King was high man with a score of 213.

The Burglars won three from the strong Footpad team and the Criminals won three from the Robbers. Thursday evening's high score was Coles, with 211. The Villains nosed the gangsters out of three games by five pins, ten plus and 28 pins. The Bootleggers won three from the Outlaws and the Pirates lost one game to the Hijackers. The Thieves took two games from the Bandits.

Friday Night: The Yanks took two games from the Browns on Friday evening. The last game was 1,002 pins, a record for the year. The Athletics won three games from the Indians. The White Sox and Tigers were absent. Swath was high man for the evening, with 226.

Women's League: The ladies started their six-team league on Monday evening. This is the largest ladies' league on public alleys in South Jersey. Miss Margaret Jenkins rolled the highest score, 135. The games ran quite smoothly and were all somewhat even, some winning by only 2, 5, 7 and 10 pins.

Junior Porch Club: The Junior Porch Club has begun this year very successfully. The officers for the year are: Elizabeth Ridley, president; Louise Ayres, vice president; Alice Bartley, secretary; and Elizabeth Woolman, treasurer. The new Junior Counselor is Mrs. Arthur T. Hagston and her assistants are Mrs. Edward H. Blackwell, Mrs. Theodore J. Knudsen and Mrs. George M. Ruoff.

BIG RED TO PLAY HARMONY A. C.

Will Meet Camden Team on P. H. S. Gridiron Saturday Afternoon

The Palmyra Red Jackets will face the Harmony A. C. of Camden, Saturday on the high school gridiron. The Camden team is well-known in Palmyra, having played the local boys many times in past years. Harmony is a small, well-organized, capable club and one worth seeing in action.

The practice place of the squad has been changed from the high school field to West Boulevard. The lights to illuminate the field at night have been shut off, so Friday night practice will be resumed at the new street in front of the high school. All members of the squad are urged to be present to discuss plans for the remainder of the season.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The Porch Club House is still in the hands of the builders, so the trustees of the Presbyterian Church very kindly offered their Sunday School room for two meetings on November 3. Mr. William H. Baker, of an interested group of garden lovers at ten in the morning and in the afternoon a business meeting was followed by a talk on 'The Art of Book Reviewing' by Mrs. George Emerson Barnes, under the auspices of the Literature Department.

The school's soccer teams have been chosen and the children hope that Riverton will win many games. They also had a talk in assembly on the cause and prevention of the common cold. The speaker was Mrs. Tanyhill who is from the state board of health. One of the most important things to remember is to never shake hands with anyone if either you or he has cold. She ended by listing several ways to cure colds, such as, taking baking soda in water.

SCOUTS' CONTEST IS WAXING HOT

The Inter-Patrol and Inter-Platoon Contest of the Riverton Scouts is raging hotly. The Gray Platoon has forged into the lead with a total of 483 points to the Blue Platoon's 450. In the individual Patrols the Wild Boar Patrol of the Blue Platoon still maintains a fairly comfortable lead over its nearest rival. Its total score is 217. The Eagle Patrol of the Gray Platoon has climbed from fifth place to second place with a score of 192. The Cobra Patrol of the Gray Platoon has dropped to third place with a score of 176.

JUNIOR PORCH CLUB

The Junior Porch Club has begun this year very successfully. The officers for the year are: Elizabeth Ridley, president; Louise Ayres, vice president; Alice Bartley, secretary; and Elizabeth Woolman, treasurer. The new Junior Counselor is Mrs. Arthur T. WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS RECIPROcity PROGRAM

The Music Department of the Palmyra Woman's Club will sponsor a 'Reciprocity Program' to be held in the club rooms, Society Hall, Palmyra, Monday afternoon.

Nearly ten clubs from neighboring vicinities will be represented and the members of those clubs will render readings and musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal. The committee in charge will serve some excellent refreshments and all club members are cordially invited to be present.

Riverton School Notes

On October 13 the seventh and eighth grades began to sell Curtis publications. They agreed that the grade selling the least subscriptions would 'throw' a party for the winners. The eighth grade, having the greatest number of subscriptions, won. Three boys of the eighth grade, namely, Richard Barclay, Harold Baker and Clifton Mayfield, received real certificates for good salesmanship.

The party was held on October 30. There were several amusements which included light rope, walking blind man fight, string chewing race, Indian Club Relay, Planting Beans and traveling race. Lollypops were served as refreshments. The children of the fifth and sixth grades are preparing for an exhibit on Egypt. It consists of cuttings of the Sphinx, the Obelisk and models of Egyptian tools and pottery all made by the children. A poster showing the evolution of the home was made by Jack Seemiller for the collection.

The first day of school was a very exciting one for the little folks in Riverton. There are thirty-six enrolled this year and all of them wanted to talk about their summer vacations which were mostly seashore trips. They soon decided to make a boat like those they had seen. They have recently completed a large boat in which several children can sit at once. The sails were cut by themselves and are consequently very uneven. They had their first pasting lesson and their pictures, along with some original drawings, are on exhibit around the room.

The school's soccer teams have been chosen and the children hope that Riverton will win many games. They also had a talk in assembly on the cause and prevention of the common cold. The speaker was Mrs. Tanyhill who is from the state board of health. One of the most important things to remember is to never shake hands with anyone if either you or he has cold. ARMED BANDITS ATTEMPT HOLDUP

Palmyra and State Police Are Still Searching for Colored Highwaymen

Four armed bandits failed in an attempt to hold up a motorist on the Parry-Moorestown road, near Palmyra, late Sunday night. The man was able to give the police three of the numerals of the holdup car and the Palmyra and state police are looking for the highwaymen. The three negroes jumped from their car, leaving the fourth man at the wheel. Brandishing revolvers, they ordered Lawyer to 'stick 'em up.' He stepped on the gas and sped away.

John Lawyer, of 1125 Gnome street, Philadelphia, was driving with his son, John, Jr., 12. He stopped to light a cigarette and a large sedan bearing four men, three colored, drew up beside his car. The three negroes jumped from their car, leaving the fourth man at the wheel. Brandishing revolvers, they ordered Lawyer to 'stick 'em up.' He stepped on the gas and sped away. Lawyer telephoned the Delaware state police barracks, and Corporal Jarvis Wood sent Troopers Joseph Armano, Arthur Hauske and J. Walmsley to scour the countryside. The bandit car bore Burlington county license tags, but Lawyer was unable to get more than the first three numerals, N-170, according to the police.

Editor's Note: This is the fifth of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, written to familiarize motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct and increase their safety on the highway.

The fundamental purpose of traffic regulations is not as so many motorists seem to think, the harassing of drivers of motor vehicles. Neither are traffic regulations the result of caprice. They are intended to provide the individual driver with a knowledge of the proper thing to do under a wide variety of conditions so that, by repetition, he eventually will do the right thing instinctively. Some day we shall all learn to act as quickly in stopping our cars at the sign of danger as we do in closing our eyes when an insect approaches.

Uniformity in traffic regulations thus becomes a matter of tremendous significance. The motor car recognizes no boundaries. It carries its owner everywhere, and it carries him into danger when he decides, instinctively or otherwise, to do something entirely foreign to the training and experience of others in his neighborhood.

National Uniformity
It requires no scientific knowledge to see the definite connection between a driver's act under certain conditions and what he has been taught by the regulations under which he learned to drive. There no longer remains any dispute over the advantages of uniform traffic regulations. But if we are to have national uniformity it must be achieved through orderly attack. The state is the logical agency to handle this subject. It is the duty of the state to see that its regulations conform, so far as possible, to a national, uniform standard.

In making the basic regulations governing traffic within its boundaries, the state prescribes the manner in which turns shall be made, speed limits under various conditions, the type of signals drivers shall give, where vehicles may and may not be stopped, and so on. Furthermore, it provides that none of the points covered in the code may be modified or altered by municipal enactment, with only a few exceptions and these subject to the approval of the state authorities.

This degree of jurisdiction obviously places the state in an ideal position for the achievement of the much-desired uniform motor vehicle regulations within its borders. The result is decidedly wholesome.

Working Toward Uniformity
In New Jersey the Motor Vehicle Department and the state traffic commission are working toward absolute uniformity of traffic regulations throughout the state. When the work was undertaken more than a year ago the need for action was apparent, and in no instance to a greater extent than in the matter of signals and signs. The misuse of signals and signs is as notorious a fact as that their intelligent use is an invaluable aid to traffic control. Of New Jersey's 13,000 "stop street" signs, hundreds were misused. These incorrectly used signs reflect the fact that, without some restraint, everyone is disposed to put into effect his own idea of what is best for traffic. The ideas of some municipal authorities might be excellent, while those of a neighboring community would be little short of absurd. The state which does not recognize this fact and set up the necessary restraints is not meeting its responsibility to the cause of uniformity which is so vital to social well-being and highway safety.

Our New Jersey traffic act contains provisions that prevent the state from overstepping itself in this direction. While it is specified that New Jersey may make basic regulations, not to be subject to modification by municipal ordinance, exceptions are made with regard to: Limiting use of streets to certain classes of vehicles, designation of one-way streets, regulation of public hacks and designation of hackstands and auto bus stops, regulation of street cars, special regulations covering the passage or stopping of traffic at congested corners or other designated points, regulations governing parking on streets.

PUBLIC SERVICE

TOWER OF CHIMES, LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK, LOCATED IN CINNAMINSON TOWNSHIP, THREE MILES NORTH FROM THE POINT WHERE THE PALMYRA BRIDGE CROSSES THE BURLINGTON PIKE

A LIVING SHRINE OF PERPETUAL BEAUTY

THE Legion Tower of Chimes to be set upon the very summit of Lakeview Memorial Park seems in its rugged beauty to be some ancient temple memorializing the beloved host whose weary feet have trodden the pathway into the glory of the setting sun.

It is just one of the impressively beautiful structures to be erected at Lakeview Memorial Park, making it unquestionably the most beautiful burial estate in this section of the country.

Here beauty is unmarred by tombstones. Graves will be marked with tablets of imperishable bronze set flush with the turf.

In its entirety, in the full impressiveness and beauty of its buildings and landscaping, Lakeview becomes a perpetual memorial to each of those who will rest therein, without discrimination; thus the senseless and expensive competition between tombstones and monuments is brought to an end.

A beautiful brochure depicting the loveliness of Lakeview Memorial Park in graphic form will be sent to any one requesting it.

RIVERTON FOLK AT P.T.A. CONVENTION

Town Well Represented at Meeting of N. J. Congress in Atlantic City

Mrs. Francis B. Elwell and Mrs. Gifford Mayfield attended the thirty-first convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers at Atlantic City November 4, 5, and 6, as delegates of the Riverton P. T. A. On Thursday, November 5, Riverton was further represented by Mrs. G. Harold Baker, Mrs. Edward H. Blackwell, Mrs. H. K. Rutherford, Mrs. Charles Yost, Mrs. Leroy Carpenter, Mrs. J. L. Grim, Mrs. L. R. Turner and Mrs. R. H. Furner, who drove down for the day.

The findings of the convention were intensely interesting and the speakers were experts on their topics, each one illustrating an article of the Children's Charter, adopted at the White House conference on Child Health and Protection in 1921.

Over 800 women from all parts of New Jersey were delegates, and their earnest attention and enthusiasm was inspiring.

At a conference on Parent Education on the first day, Mrs. Flora Thurston, of the National Council of Parent Education, showed that the problems of the family life are the problems of the community; that our family standards are reflected in our national standards. In the family we must develop unity, diplomacy, security, consideration, sharing of power and cooperation; then apply these standards to our relations as a nation with other nations.

Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College, gave a splendid address on "Dodging Responsibility," showing that the shortcomings of the generation now in school and college should not be blamed on them, but on their parents. The fault lies in the parents' loss of spiritual standards—their failure to hand on the lessons learned by past generations.

Dr. Charles J. Wood, of Elizabeth, N. J., spoke on "Obedience to Life." He said that we train our children in obedience to home, society and to God.

Dr. A. G. Ireland spoke on "Health Findings in New Jersey."

Mrs. Sara B. Askew gave a delightful address. Every talk had much that was worthwhile and enlightening. There was a great deal of beautiful music, interesting reports from committees showing the varied activities of the P. T. A. throughout the state. At every meeting, the personality of Mrs. William F. Little, president of the New Jersey Congress, was like a call to action and an inspiration to all the members. We of the Riverton P. T. A. should be proud of our state organization and of our share in its work.

PRESS CHAIRMAN.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE IS BIG SUCCESS

The first efforts of the Woman's Exchange met with much encouragement Tuesday, November 10, when they opened their doors at 520 Main street.

There were many buyers as well as a great many sellers, and everyone spoke of the fine cooperation shown. Another Exchange will be held in the same building next Tuesday. The shop will be open from 10 a. m. to 12 and from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

This Exchange is a concentrated effort to help out the depression in Riverton.

Come out and lend it your support.

CO. GRAND JURY FINDS NINETEEN TRUE BILLS

Burlington county September grand jury returned 19 indictments at Mount Holly last Friday. One was against Joseph Wells, of Tabernacle, charged with setting fires that destroyed woodland owned by Orlando B. Moore, of Tabernacle, July 25. A previous indictment was nolle prossed.

Other indicted were: Shreve Deviny and Leo E. Reed, of Chesterfield township, on four counts as "number racketeers"; Ralph H. Hendrickson, Evesham township, non-support; Phil Stark, Burlington, automobile larceny, and Frank Wheatley and Stanfield Winter, of Bordentown and Stanfield charges.

POLICE AND FIREMEN SAVE NINE LIVES

Ingenious Cop and Four Firemen Stage Thrilling Rescue on Armistice Day

Yessir—the combined efforts of Officer "Bill" Gootie and several of Riverton's famous smoke-eaters saved nine lives yesterday morning. Mrs. Reiger, of Reiger's Maternity Home on Main street, Riverton, put in a rescue call to the Riverton Police Department. It seems that their pet cat had been chased up a tree in front of the home and had remained there for two days.

Enterprising "Bill" Gootie conceived the idea of enlisting the aid of the fire department to effect a rescue. He forthwith obtained the permission of Fire Chief "Walt" Armstrong to borrow a fire truck and the necessary man power.

"Charlie" Perkins, "Butts" Garhart, "Boop" Anderson and "Art" Wolf-schmidt, led by "Bill" Gootie sallied forth to the scene of the catastrophe and witnessed by thirty juvenile admirers, a colorful rescue was executed.

Charlie Perkins ascended the ladder, removed the cat and restored it to the tender care of its owner, thereby saving nine lives.

SCOUTS AND DADS TO GO ON HIKE

Second Mystery Thriller of Year Is Planned to Keep All Excited

The Riverton Boy Scouts go on the second mystery hike of the year this Saturday night. As before, dads are invited and a comfortable bed is guaranteed. Not only this, the best of "chow," and so much fun is promised that any father can be sure that he will forget the well known "repression" as well as his advancing years, and any other cares he may normally have hanging on to him.

As before, an advance detail will leave in the morning, followed by the main convoy at about three o'clock in the afternoon. Everyone who intends to attend is advised to be on hand to go with the convoy, because the location of the camp does not appear on any existing road map, and the trail leading to it is both long and complicated. One young troop officer, with plenty of scouting experience behind him, spent half the night looking for the camp last time, and never did find it.

All boys who are going to be present are expected to bring their duffel bags to Troop Headquarters at 7:30 Friday night for inspection. This is important. Bring plenty of blankets, toilet articles, including a towel, extra soap, toothbrush, a flashlight, and a lantern if possible. Be sure you have warm clothes.

Again the tide has turned in the Patrol Contest. The Blue Platoon has regained its lead with 662 points to the Gray Platoon's 642. The Wild Boar Patrol is still second with 288 points. The Eagle Patrol is still second with 245 points. Again the Cobra Patrol is third with 230 points. The Stags, however, have climbed out of the cellar to fourth place with 206 points.

The Moose Patrol has changed its name to the name of a more aggressive animal, the Lion. To celebrate the change, the Lions have knocked the other members of the cat family, the Panthers, into the cellar. The Lion score is 149, and the Panther score, 147.

It is still anybody's battle, both between Platoons and between individual Patrols. The Wild Boar Patrol is the only one that has consistently maintained the same position since the fight started. Nevertheless, its lead is not so great that it can not be beaten, even by the cellar champions.

POLICE NOTES

Tuesday morning at 12:10 a. m. Officer Robinson, of the Riverton police, arrested Alphonse McConnell, of Philadelphia, for drunken driving. Dr. Harry L. Rogers pronounced him unfit to operate a motor vehicle. At a hearing before C. C. A. Bowers, McConnell was fined $221.00. Joseph Dwyer, also of Philadelphia, and owner of the car driven by McConnell, was fined $200 for allowing him to operate the car.

Last Thursday Chief Miller arrested William Faunce and made a charge of vagrancy against him. At a hearing before Cecil A. Bowers, Faunce was committed to Mount Holly for ninety days.

APPRECIATION

I wish to express my deep appreciation to the voters of Burlington county for their expression of confidence in Tuesday's election and hope I may be able to merit their continued support. I take this opportunity to again pledge my best efforts for an economical administration of the county's business.

JAMES C. McCORMICK

NEW JERSEY ONLY STATE WITH 2 COLONIAL COLLEGES

The observance of the 165 anniversary of the founding of Rutgers University on Tuesday of this week brings to light the fact that New Jersey is the only state in the union which has two colonial colleges within its boundaries. Rutgers was established on November 10, 1766 and Princeton twenty years earlier.

'SPANISH MOON' THIS WEEKEND

Palmyra High School Musical Comedy to be Presented Three Times

Everything is in readiness for the Palmyra High School two-act musical comedy "Spanish Moon," to be presented Thursday afternoon as a matinee for children and Friday and Saturday nights of this week, November 13 and 14, at 8:15 o'clock. Rehearsals have been held daily and now all is set for the opening performance.

The first act is laid in New York City in the office of the Apex Adv. Co. Act two finds the leading characters in Spain.

There are many song and dance numbers which help to make "Spanish Moon" a big hit. The Spanish setting and costumes add a great deal to the second act, where Spanish serenades, dancers, and toradors do some very clever singing and dancing.

The rehearsals have been in charge of Irving Weidmiller, of the J. H. Rogers Producing Company, and who directed last year's production, "That's That."

The leading characters are as follows: Freddie, an office boy... George Ott Agda, stenographer... Louise Ayers Howard Boynton, Jr., of Apex Adv. Co. ... Burton Conway Lawrence Austin, Sr., member of Apex Adv. Co. ... Robert Mattis Claire Lewis, in search of romance.

Alice Bartley, a poet... Herbert Parsons Flash, a fast moving janitor... Cramer Garwood Jane, a stenographer... Helen Young Lizzie O'Brien, a true daughter of Erin... Esther Shooker Uella Doolittle, a girl with a blighted past... Cecelia Baker Durantino, Spanish innkeeper... Lionel Klevan Lorenzo, Spanish bullfighter... Norman Moffitt Valera, Spanish vamp... Marie Carden Perita, Spanish girl... Marjorie Powell Don Jose, a sleepy Spaniard... Raymond Coles Perita, a dancer... Wayne Winters Musical Number, Act I.

"Won't You Smile, Howie Agda, and Freddie; Stenographers, Office Boy, and Business Men." "How Happy We'll Be," Claire and Larry. "Isn't Love a Funny Proposition," Agda and Heart Girls. "Just Leave It to Me," Freddie, Flash and Howie. "Final"—"Land of Hot Tamale," Ensemble.

Act II "Omelette Sea," Innkeeper and Natives. "Spanish Maids," Howie and Spanish Ladies and Spanish Dancers. "I Wish I Knew," Claire and Agda. "Song of the Toradors," Lorenzo and Toradors. "Lady of Lisbon," Lorenzo and Toradors. "Tango," Valera and Perita. "Every Spring," Gerald and Spring Dancers.

"Spanish Moon," Claire and Larry. "Grand Finale," Ensemble. Those in the Chorus—Stenographers: R. Bartley, G. Young, D. Shaner, D. Hampton, P. Harding, M. Harmon, P. Keil, A. Kase, E. Knight, and V. Baittinger. Business Men: Cecil Guenon, Wilson Shemler, Roy Hirst, Harold Stevens, Stanley Lippincott, Lloyd Griscorn, Walter Lamson, Nathan Beckley, William Cooper, and Roy Sanford. Office Boys: Ruth Brown, Dorothy Salfner, Florence Bauer, Katherine Broderick, Estelle Ott, Florence Kleme, Nellie Showell, and Margaret Habfast.

Heart Girls: Janet Koening, Mildred Goodwin, Martha Downing, Theresa Prisco, Myrtle Stittler, Jane Fowler, Edna Buckingham, Mary Smith. Spanish Ladies: Sue Winters, Dorothy Wise, Margaret Weller, Margaret Smith, Jean Reiger, Lorraine Comegys. Spanish Dancers: Elma Jones, Maude Freeman, Mammie Prisco, Ethel MacCreedy, Anne Cook, Jean Stager, Lucy Fabione, Carrie Haines, Wilson Toradors and Natives: George Ott, Cramer Garwood, Paul Coddington, William Cooper, Henry Mooney, Dominic Cardes, Robert Fry, Clarence Hubbs, Louis Jander, Al Thomas, Carl Landgraf and Gordon Fox.

Every Spring: Florence Stephens, Doris Black, Jean Black, Frances Bills, Ruth Seeber, Mildred Mickle, Mary McAnulty, Catherine McAnulty, Marie Woodside, and Eleanor Taylor.

MISS MARIE LAY
Miss Marie Lay, 27 years old, niece of Mrs. L. Rech, of Thomas avenue, Riverton, died at her home in East Camden on Sunday. Funeral services will be held at the Snover Funeral Home this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery, Riverside.

MOTOR VEHICLE AGENCY IN MOUNT HOLLY MOVED

Motor Vehicle Agent Harry C. Booser has moved his headquarters in Mount Holly from his Main street store to the property at 81 Washington street, going there last week. Mr. Booser decided that he would not have room enough in his store to take care of the end-of-the-year rush without practically putting his business at a standstill. In the new headquarters he will be able to satisfactorily handle all applicants without having anything to interfere. He will have sufficient help to keep waiting and confusion down to a minimum.

CARD OF THANKS

I am grateful to the people of the county for their renewed expression of confidence in me and approval of my course in the Legislature, and I take this opportunity to express my appreciation. It will be my earnest endeavor to merit their continued approval.

MARCUS W. NEWCOMB

BIG PROGRAM FOR P. T. A. MEETING

Commissioner Spargo, Mrs. Nathan Conrow and Miss A. B. Campbell Riverton Speakers

The Riverton P.T.A. meets on Monday, November 16, with a program planned which promises to be well worth the attendance of all its members and their friends.

Instead of the usual group discussion at 2:30, Mrs. Nathan Conrow, County Chairman of Study Groups, will speak on "Parental Education." Miss A. B. Campbell, librarian at the Riverton Library, has something to tell us of the value of the library to the school children.

A particularly interesting feature will be a demonstration of modern methods of learning to read by the first grade under the supervision of Miss Justice. This most likely will be enlightening to many mothers of children in the lower grades.

The address by John Spargo, Assistant Commissioner of New Jersey in charge of Elementary Education, is scheduled for 3:15. Mr. Spargo is the principal speaker of the afternoon and will turn out for the singing of the P.T.A. chorus, and tea will be served by Mrs. Nathan Lane, Junior.

An added note aside from the pleasure to be derived from this program, is that a prize is to be awarded to the class having the greatest number of mothers in attendance. May your child count on you?

ONE KILLED IN 3-CAR CRASH

Burlington Sewing Machine Agent Loses Life in Taylor's Lane Tragedy

Tuesday evening a three-car crash occurred on Burlington pike at Taylor's Lane. Raymond L. Curtis, 45 years old, a prominent citizen of Burlington, was killed. He suffered a fractured skull, concussion of the brain and internal injuries, dying at Zabrugg Memorial Hospital, Riverside, about three hours after being admitted.

Curtis for many years was Singer Sewing Machine Co. agent at Burlington and was known all over the county. The other two cars were driven by women. Curtis, returning from a hunting trip, collided with the first car, a Ford, and then as his machine spun around in a circle, he struck the second car, a Studebaker, crashed into him amidships.

The left side of the Curtis machine was smashed in as if it had been in a railroad accident. Three other principals in the collision were injured. Lawrence Betty, of the Pennsauken, fractured left leg and cuts of the forehead; Robert Shinn, 4 years old, cuts and shocks, and Mrs. Esther Galuke, of Pennsauken, in a serious condition at Cooper Hospital, Camden, with a possible fracture of the skull.

ARMISTICE PLAY AT CINNAMINSON
Play With Nine Scenes Based on Dr. McCrae's Poem, "In Flanders Field"

Five of the Cinaminson P.T.A. members attended part or all of the sessions of the State Congress at Atlantic City. As usual this was an inspiring affair, interesting business, thoughtful talks, and pleasant contacts.

Several of the members who called at school No. 2 Wednesday, were well repaid, as the eighth grade offered a playlet, written by themselves, in commemoration of Armistice Day. The play, entitled, "Upholding the Torch," was given in nine short scenes based upon Dr. McCrae's poem, "In Flanders Field."

Beginning in a dugout "somewhere in France," the doctor writes and reads his poem to his companions. After he has met his fate, an angel leads him where he sees what the nations are doing to uphold the torch, in signing the Kellogg Peace Pact, the Disarmament Conference, hands extended in peace by America and England, France and Germany, the League of Nations struggling with China and Japan today, and last, a home where a father and daughter talk of the war, and read, "In Flanders Field," and "America's Reply."

The dialogue in the different scenes shows a knowledge of and interest in current events. The play was helped by the singing of "America" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and the assembly ended with the salute to the flag.

The announcement that Wednesday would be a holiday was received with hearty applause after which the classes left for their home rooms to the strains of an inspiring march.

MAN'S DEMANDS ON WELFARE WORKER

Mrs. Cooper, in Charge of Riverton Service, Seeks Aid of Citizens

The second hand clothing sale held Saturday, November 7, for benefit of the Welfare Association, of Riverton and Cinnaminson, realized $118.47. This sum, together with $50 from the Needlework Guild as a shoe fund and $26 raised by the women of the Riverton Country Club in a one-day medal play tournament, added to $326.40 already in our treasury makes a total of $510.87 contributed to date. Every cent of this and all other monies which may be sent to our treasurer, William A. Hendrickson, is used for relief.

The Welfare Association is fortunate in securing Mrs. Dorothy N. Cooper as social worker. Her experience in Philadelphia has trained her admirably for this work. She is engaged on a part-time basis for the whole year on a salary of $750.00 with an allowance of six cents a mile for transportation. Her salary and expenses come entirely from the Hannah McEl Biddle Memorial Fund of one thousand dollars, which has been raised separately for this one purpose.

The part-time basis, as agreed upon, comprises five mornings' work in visiting and the sixth in work upon reports. Mrs. Cooper has been so busy that she has been really full time. Over 50 visits have been made, and 16 family problems are in process of successful development. Because of the demands on her time, Mrs. Cooper hopes that whenever possible outside emergency calls, both personal and on the telephone, be made between 8:45 and 9:30 a. m.

Already it is being effectively demonstrated that a social worker is essential for the handling of the increasing number of cases which are being taken to establish families in need on a basis of at least partial support through the families' own efforts, with the friendly stimulus and helpful planning of the worker as "backbone" of advice, direction toward self-help or readjustment is often all that is needed. When material help is needed that too is given, intelligently and carefully. The unemployment committee and the Woman's Exchange are glad to help here.

Contributions may be sent to Mr. Hendrickson, treasurer.

YW CELEBRATES GOLDEN JUBILEE

County Reserves Holding Various Programs in Honor of Anniversary

Burlington County Girl Reserves have pictured the Y.W.C.A. of yesterday and today in historical pageants, birthday parties for "pioneer Girl Reserves" and mothers and friends have been enjoyed community worship services for Girl Reserves have been held and club recognition services for new members and reconsecration ceremonies for Girl Reserves have been held as a part of the golden anniversary celebrations of Girl Reserves all over the country.

The Young Women's Christian Association began work with teen-age girls fifty years ago. In 1881 in Oakland, California, the first "Little Girls' Club" of the Y.W.C.A. was organized. Since then clubs have been organized wherever there is a Y.W.C.A. and in 1931 nearly 300,000 Girl Reserves in the United States have been celebrating the anniversary of the organizing of that first girls' club during this past week.

A Girl Reserve worship service was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Delanco, Sunday evening, November 8. The Rev. James Boughton, pastor of the church, was the evening speaker. A professional by the Girl Reserves, special musical numbers, a prayer by Margaret Thielmann, and a reconsecration to the Code and Purpose of the Girl Reserves were part of the worship program. Members of the H-Y were also present at this youth service.

The Amicita Girl Reserves, of Riverside, held a recognition ceremonial Sunday evening for their club members. Friday, November 6, at 8 o'clock in the Baptist Church, the Girl Reserves of Maple Shade held a Recognition Service.

The Moorestown Girl Reserves will have a parent's night program Thursday evening, November 11. Miss Adams, a student in the Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia, will be the speaker. Miss Adams who has lived in Kridi, Congo, and West Africa is the daughter of a missionary and will talk about the African continent.

The Junior Council of Girl Reserves will meet at the Progress street school, in Riverside, Saturday at 2 o'clock. "International Friendship" is the program theme for the meeting. Foreign games and music, and a talk by Senorita Consuelo Gutierrez, of Costa Rica, will be a part of this international program.

RIVERTON'S RED CROSS QUOTA $600—JOIN NOW!

The Red Cross Annual Membership Roll Call is on! Sometime during the ensuing week you will be approached to renew for another year your support of this great humanitarian work. Renewal costs just $1—a dollar that does many times its actual dimes-and-cents worth in helping the otherwise helpless, relieving distress, and above all, keeping faith with YOUR responsibility as a social-minded American citizen.

Everybody always wants to join the Red Cross—everybody always means to. But it's such an easy thing to do that sometimes it gets slipped over. This week is your week of opportunity—the only one you'll have for another twelve months. It's the Red Cross Golden Anniversary. Celebrate it with a great spontaneous 100 per cent renewal of membership.

Riverton's contribution quota is $600. If every Rivertonian who has ever belonged to the Red Cross will renew membership this year, the result will make that quota look very modest indeed. Come on and join!

LEGION AUXILIARY ANNOUNCES PLANS

Work for Welfare of Disabled Veterans Will be Foremost in Program

A program of activities of widely varied character will be carried out by the Palmyra unit of the American Legion Auxiliary during the coming year, Mrs. Mary King, unit president, announced following completion of a tentative outline of the unit's program for 1932. The wide scope of the unit to take part in the type of work most appealing to them and will give all members an opportunity to participate in the active life of the Auxiliary, Mrs. King said.

Work for the welfare of the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled will again be foremost in the Auxiliary's program for 1932. The increasing number of veterans who are breaking down from the results of their war service and the steadily growing toll which death is taking from among the men who served in the World War are calling for constantly enlarged efforts by the Auxiliary. Economic conditions are making the situation of the disabled and the dependent families especially serious. This year the Auxiliary anticipates heavier demands than ever before for Auxiliary aid.

Another activity which will have an important place in the Auxiliary's program next year will be its Americanism work. In this work the Auxiliary is striving to develop a better understanding of American ideals and institutions, and to awaken a keener interest in the duties of citizenship. Radical groups are making strenuous efforts to win the support of American women. Mrs. King and the Auxiliary is meeting their propaganda with a program of Americanism education.

The Auxiliary will work with renewed vigor for the maintenance of an adequate national defense, supporting the American Legion's stand for preparedness measures sufficient to guarantee the safety of the country until the possibility of war is forever past. Through national and state conferences and other activities, it will endeavor to give the women of the country a clear conception of the need for defensive preparations, and to check sentimental pacifism among women.

Community betterment projects designed to increase the social, educational, economic and recreational opportunities of the community will also occupy attention of the Auxiliary. Through its association with the Women's Auxiliary of P. I. C. the inter-allied veterans' federation, the Auxiliary will work to strengthen international understanding and good will. Social activities of different types will be included in the year's program.

Enrollment of members for 1932 has been started by the local unit and Mrs. King is urging all eligible women to come into the organization at this time in order to get started in the year's activities.

The Palmyra unit will hold its regular meeting next Wednesday evening in the Legion home. All prospective members are asked to be present.

The County Auxiliary meeting will be held in Mount Holly on Friday, November 20.

Mrs. K. Hintermeier

Mrs. Katharine Hintermeier, 73 years old, died at her home on Fork Landing Road, Fork Landing, Friday of last week.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at two o'clock from the late residence. Interment was made in the Moravian Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mrs. Hintermeier is survived by her husband, Frederick, and six children.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Voters of Burlington County:
I am deeply sensible of the renewed honor you have done me and I pledge my unceasing effort to so conduct public affairs as always to be worthy of your trust.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES R. STOUT.

FRANCIS R. EHLE DIES IN CRASH

Riverton Man on Ill-Fated Plane Which Crashed at Central Airport

Francis R. Ehle, 33 years of age, of Riverton, was one of the five victims of the airplane crash at the Central Airport, Camden, last Thursday night. He was born in Montpelier, Vt., December 7, 1897.

Mr. Ehle was returning from a business trip to New York when the accident happened. He frequently traveled by plane owing to the saving of time.

Mr. Ehle was attending the University of Pennsylvania when the World War broke out. He enlisted April 11, 1917, and spent several months at the Tuckerston wireless station. From there he was transferred to the Navy Yard, Philadelphia. On June 29, 1918, he sailed overseas for service in France, Turkey and Russia. His first task was the erection of a radio station at Brest, France. On August 30, 1917, he was made first-class electrician, and on April 30, 1919, was made chief electrician.

After the war Mr. Ehle went to Russia with Admiral McCully's staff as radio specialist and kept the Russian government in touch with the warships in the harbor during the dark days when the Red Terror was spreading in the land of the Czar. He returned to the United States on May 3, 1920, and was honorably discharged two days later.

After his discharge he entered the radio field with William Durham, operating under the trade name of Durham & Co., an A. P. C. engineer. For a time they owned and operated Station WCAU.

Later Mr. Ehle organized the International Resistance Co., of which he was president, manufacturers of radio apparatus in the land of the Czar. He was very successful. A branch was recently opened in Toronto, Canada, and Mr. Ehle was planning to go to England in December to establish another branch there.

The summer of 1923 Mr. Ehle spent at the Riverton Country Club, and it was at this time he met Miss Blanche Wallace, who became his bride in 1924. Mr. and Mrs. Ehle settled in Riverton, and a short time ago they bought and occupied the Lippincott property at 900 Main street. They spent the summers at Beach Haven.

Mr. Ehle was an enthusiastic sportsman, enjoying hunting, fishing, golf and other outdoor sports. He was a member of the Penn. A. C. Engineers' Club and Riverton Country Club.

The funeral services were held at his late residence Saturday afternoon, at 2:30, conducted by the Rev. Robert McKay, of Moorestown, a life-long friend of Mrs. Ehle's family. Interment was made in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

The honorary pallbearers were Eric Biddle and Dr. Harold Pender, of Philadelphia; Ernest Searing, Ardmore, and William G. Porter, Dr. Harry L. Rogers, W. W. Smith, H. N. Scheble and P. A. Ransome, of Riverton.

Mr. Ehle is survived by his widow, a daughter, Allene Wallace, aged 5, a son, Francis Robinson Jr. aged 3, a mother, sister and brother.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

Larry Gould, second in command of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, who will speak at the Palmyra High School Auditorium on the evening of November 18, at 8 p. m., has some wonderful accomplishments to his credit during his two-year stay in the Antarctic.

Rear Admiral Richard F. Byrd has stated that "The expedition of Larry Gould to the polar plateau was the outstanding personal achievement during the expedition."

This is high praise, but well deserved, for Doctor Gould's geological work is a contribution of untold value to science.

Larry Gould is a professor of geology at the University of Michigan and has gone as geologist on two Arctic expeditions—the Pitman expedition to Greenland, and the year following to Barfinland. He is a geologist and second in command of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition his great opportunity came, for he made what is probably the longest trek with dogs and sledges ever made for a purely scientific purpose. No geologist has made observations farther south than Little America, and Gould's expedition to the South Polar Plateau, within a few hundred miles of the pole itself, was the exploration of virgin territory.

Larry Gould is an intensely interesting speaker, and his lecture, "With Byrd to the Bottom of the World," gives a remarkable insight into the aims and accomplishments of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. The lecture will be illustrated by motion pictures never shown before and by gorgeous colored slides.

The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Riverton Porch Club, the price of admission being one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children under fourteen years of age. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., 305 Highway, Riverton, telephone Riverton 105, or at the door.

APPRECIATION

I greatly appreciate the fine way my friends supported me at the recent election, enabling me to make such an excellent showing.

NEW YORK BRIDGE IS SCENIC WONDER

George Washington Span, at Fort Lee, Twice Height of Camden Structure

The opening of the George Washington Bridge over the Hudson river between West 179th street, Manhattan, and the Borough of Fort Lee, has provided motorists of the country with a new facility for comfortable traveling through the west New York-New Jersey metropolitan area. Besides its importance in the transportation scheme of the Atlantic seaboard, the George Washington Bridge is the newest wonder of the world.

Thousands of automobiles bearing Connecticut and Pennsylvania licenses, as well as many from other states, have been observed crossing the structure since it was dedicated October 24. A considerable percentage of these motorists have made the trip especially to view the imposing structure and to experience the thrill of driving over the majestic Hudson.

Highways have been extended and improved on both sides of the river to care not only for the traffic originating in the sections tributary to or served by the bridge, but also "through traffic" bound eastward and northward to more distant points in New York state and New England and that bound westward and southward to more remote parts of New Jersey and to places beyond.

The George Washington Bridge may be approached from any direction over main and well-paved highways. Directional signs are being erected at strategic points along the way and the towers of the bridge themselves can be seen while the motorist is still miles away.

Both the Port of New York Authority, New York City and the New Jersey State Highway Commission at Trenton, have prepared maps for public distribution which greatly simplify the pleasant task of motoring to the bridge from distant points.

Motorists to pass from points in New England have been pleased to find that such arteries as the Boston Post Road, the New York Post Road, the Albany Post Road, the Hutchinson River Parkway and the Bronx River Parkway, as well as other important roads, connect with the plaza of the George Washington Bridge.

On the New Jersey side, highways leading through such centers as Suffern, N. Y., Paterson and Jersey City, are among those which give "through traffic" easy access to the Fort Lee plaza.

As is quite generally known, the George Washington Bridge is the greatest suspension crossing in the world. It measures 3,500 feet from tower to tower, which is twice that of the Ambassador Bridge at Detroit and the Delaware River Bridge between Camden and Philadelphia. Its towers rise 635 feet above the water and are 100 feet higher than the Washington Monument.

It was built by the Port of New York Authority, a governmental agency created by the States of New York and New Jersey with the consent of Congress. The Port Authority constructed the George Washington Bridge for less than the estimated cost of $60,000,000 and completed the bridge in little more than four years or many months in advance of schedule.

CRASH VICTIM DIES

John Piech, 41 years old, of 1042 Louis street, Camden, died Sunday night at West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Camden, from injuries received Friday night when an automobile driven by Frank Czubski, 40, of Kresson, struck a pole on Marlton Pike, near Ellensburg. Piech suffered a fractured skull. Czubski was held on a technical charge of manslaughter.

New Jersey is a center of that gigantic enterprise, the oyster industry. Shown above is part of the huge fleet in the Maurice River at Bivalve which bring in the shell fish from which the town takes its name from the state owned oyster beds in Delaware Bay. Each day these boats set out to drag the dredges across the leased oyster lands, over which a watch is maintained by the state as strict as any city police beat. During May and June this fleet of sailing vessels can only work under canvas and the state compels them to disconnect the motor power in the hulls of these beautiful boats. It is during this time that they dredge seedling oysters from the state owned beds in the bay. These seedling oysters are then planted on the leased ground and allowed to grow for four or five years. Then from September through the winter and until April these boats work under power dredging from the private leased beds the grown oysters, which are ready for market. In the shucking houses where the oysters are opened, there are men and women alike who are so deft with an oyster knife that they can open oysters as fast as one can pass them to them. These workers take their pairs of opened oysters to a measuring window where they are skinned and then washed by forcing air through artesian water in which the oysters are immersed. They are then packed in gallon cans, iced and freighted to market.

DEMOCRATIC STAR BELL TELEPHONE SEEN ASCENDANT JOBS GUARANTEED

Mrs. Haas Believes Party Will Be Big Factor in County in Future

In an interview relative to the turnover of votes in the recent election, Mrs. Mervil E. Haas, of Palmyra, Democratic State Committeewoman, made the following statement: "The Democrats of Burlington county are naturally delighted with the results of the recent election. We are proud of our part in the ovation of ballots which New Jersey gave to A. Harry Moore. The tremendous vote which this heretofore Republican county gave Governor Moore is evidence of the affectionate respect in which he is held throughout the state. The great sum of money spent by the Republican machine was as effective as damming Niagara Falls with shingles. There was no stopping Harry Moore.

"The important result for us here was the polling of over 12,000 votes by a Democratic candidate for the holder. It is quite obvious that the plain voters of the county are aroused to indignation at the purely political and selfish sort of government that the Republicans have forced on us for years. To have this spontaneous evidence of the willingness of the voters to trust our party here and its candidates is payment in full for the year of persistent and sometimes hopeless work which we have devoted to our party. Year after year we have striven to persuade the ablest of our party to become candidates and then struggled to present our candidates to the voters. After last Tuesday's results this generation of Democrats will never be discouraged to the point of desperation again. Of the several thousand voters who turned from the Republican party to vote for Frank Cook literally hundreds have announced their intention of affiliating with our party. They will be welcome. I have no doubt that next year we will give the county government real minority representation than which nothing could be more wholesome.

"Our party organization is in healthier condition than it has been for ten years. A young generation is in saddle ambitious to be a factor in the affairs of the county and willing to assume whatever share of the responsibility for the policies of the county that the voters will sanction. We shall not waste time gloating over the state victory.

"We recognize the obligation resting on the Democratic party for its 'vote of confidence' and to the extent we are trusted by the plain voters, we pledge the full intelligence and strength of our party, to the end that Burlington county may always be a great place in which to live."

Charged with trying to run his wife down with the family automobile, Henry Vanderboch, of Holland, Mich., was acquitted when he explained that he wanted to continue an argument with her.

NEWSPAPERMEN DISCUSS POLITICS

Members of County Association Talk Over Campaign Publicity Problems

The Burlington County Newspaper Association met at the Antler's Club, Riverside, last Friday night and discussed the political problems of newspapers.

The association is composed of most of the newspapers in the county, both Democratic and Republican. The discussion, which was laid over until the next meeting, concerned the publicity practices during campaigns such as the gubernatorial one just past.

In the absence of the entertainment committee, the association decided it would arrange for a speaker and other entertainment at the next session, which is to be held Friday, December 4.

To Have Speaker
The speaker, it was decided, will be some newspaperman who has earned renown from specializing in one branch of the work. It is planned to continue with a different speaker at each meeting, talking to the newspapermen on special problems of their own business.

A Philadelphia managing editor, or a famous sports writer, are being considered as speakers for the next session, which will probably be held in Burlington. The president, Leon Earsley, Daily Enterprise and the secretary, James J. Tomes, Moorestown News, are to make arrangements for the next meeting with the entertainment committee.

Circulation building problems were given a wide discussion. Newspapermen were present from Burlington, Bordentown, Moorestown, Palmyra, Riverton, Members from Beverly, Mount Holly and Medford were absent.

Open To Employees
It was decided that membership in the organization, which was formed primarily to increase social feeling among newspapermen of the county and to give them opportunity to meet with and talk to men interested in the same work, should be open to any employees of county newspapers.

On suggestion of Frank E. Chambers, of Burlington County Publishing Company, the membership will also be open to county correspondents of extra-county dailies. The dues are $1.00 per year.

The Antler's Club where the association met, is owned by Arthur Carabine, former county detective.

"SNOW BABY" TO TALK IN RIVERSIDE NOV. 16

Daughter of Admiral Peary Will Lecture on Life in the Far North

Mrs. Marie Amundt Peary Stafford, who is about being the most northerly born white child in the world, will give a lecture on her early life in the auditorium of the Riverside High School on Monday evening, November 16. This will be the third of this winter's series of programs for the benefit of the Burlington County Student Loan Fund.

Mrs. Stafford was born in Greenland in 1893 at latitude 77 degrees, 4 minutes North and spent nearly all of the first years of her life among the Eskimos. Her playmates were Eskimo children and her pets the wild animals of the Northern regions.

She has written many articles on her life in the North and the story of her early life has also been written by Josephine D. Peary in a book entitled "The Snow Baby." Mrs. Stafford has an interesting story to tell and she gives it in a manner that will certainly prove pleasing to her Burlington county listeners.

Appearing on the same program will be the well-known Kindergarten Band of the Lambertson school, which made a big hit last winter at Riverside and is appearing again in response to numerous requests.

NATIONAL WEDDING AT DELANCO CHURCH

Miss Eighteenth Amendment Will Become the Bride of Mr. Patriotic Citizen November 19

A National Wedding will be solemnized in the Delanco Methodist Church on Thursday evening, November 19, at eight o'clock. Everybody loves weddings—and this is to be a very special one uniting two of the country's most popular and well-known younger set—and you are invited to attend. Representatives of the entire county will figure in this wedding which will probably be one of the most unique fall weddings you have ever witnessed.

As the music will be flooded if individual invitations were issued, this method is being used so that every one will have an opportunity of seeing this most unusual fall wedding.

The Byrnes Cooperative Temperance Union requests the honor of your presence to the marriage of Miss Eighteenth Amendment to Mr. Patriotic Citizen on Thursday, November nineteenth, nine hundred and thirty-one at eight o'clock in the Dobbins Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Delanco, New Jersey.

The above invitation includes every one who would like to witness this most unusual of National Weddings. There will be no charge for admission, but a silver offering will be taken.

Uncle Who Named Child for 'Alice in Wonderland' Injures Favorite as She Dashes in Front of His Motorcycle

A little six-year-old resident of Teminson's Mills, near Marlton, was taken to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, after an accident Wednesday morning of last week.

The child's name is Alice Anderson, and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, the mother being an invalid. On Wednesday morning Alice, with other children, were waiting along the road for the school bus when she suddenly darted across the road and under the wheels of a motorcycle driven by her uncle, Stutz Watson, who incidentally named the child.

Watson, it is said, was reading "Alice in Wonderland" when he received the news of the baby girl's birth and this prompted him to request that she be named Alice, a suggestion that was complied with by the parents. She has always been a great favorite with him.

Alice suffered a fractured skull and many cuts and bruises and was rushed to the office of Dr. P. H. Corbett, in Marlton, where she was given first aid and then hurried to the institution.

Reports from the institution recently, were to the effect that Alice is showing indications of improvement.

State police from the Berlin barracks investigated the accident, and Watson is being placed under $1,000 bail to await the result of the child's injuries.

HOSPITAL AID JAILED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

Two attaches of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital in Philadelphia were arrested at Riverton early Monday, one charged with drunken driving and the other with allowing an intoxicated man to operate his car. Alphonso McConnell, charged with drunken driving, was fined $200 and $21 costs, by Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers. He was committed to the Burlington County jail at Mount Holly, for 90 days in default of the fine. Joseph Dwyer, charged with allowing McConnell to drive his car while intoxicated, was fined $200. They were arrested by Patrolman John Robinson.

The following notice has been given to more than 13,000 telephone employees in New Jersey:

"Until the present period of distress due to unemployment has passed, no regular employee of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company will be laid off on account of lack of work.

"This will require careful planning on the part of the management in order to use employees at such locations and in such occupations as may from time to time offer employment opportunity, and may also require cooperation on the part of the force in accepting part-time work at correspondingly reduced earnings, if this should be necessary.

"Actually, few employees have been laid off up to this time, and such transfers and part-time work as have been required have been accepted cheerfully by our people.

"We are making this announcement at this time, not because it is a new departure, but in order that our employees, and particularly those who are affected by the dial cutover in Newark and the Oranges next June, may feel secure in their positions.

"The dial employment problem is especially difficult, and for a long time we have only felt able to express the hope that it could be solved without a lay-off, plus a determination to avoid one if possible. However, with the greater anxiety felt by the whole community that employment should not be diminished, and the further study we have given the situation, we now feel warranted in promising employment to all regular employees involved.

"In order to prevent misunderstanding, it should be made clear that our Company, like everyone else, employs some people from time to time on a temporary basis, the fact that employment is not permanent being understood by the employee at the time of engagement. We propose to help out the general employment situation in this way as much as possible in the future, but the promise as to continuity of employment in such cases is limited to the period specified at the time of engagement."

A Lecture on Christian Science Entitled Christian Science: The Road of Spiritual Achievement by Paul A. Harsch, C. S. B. of Toledo, Ohio

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

To the untold thousands, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, there comes today a new message of joy and promise. Yes, to all mankind this vibrant call is ringing out. Look not with distrustful eyes for some far distant goal. It is here, in the which you already have. Awake and see, that just beneath your feet "Life's pearl is cast" (Hymnal, No. 11). Rejoice that God is ever at your side, your hand in His. Praise God that He hath "commanded the light to shine out of darkness" and that He hath given us a knowledge of His glory through "the face of Jesus Christ."

DIVINE DIRECTION The knowledge to which St. Paul refers is not the wisdom of this world. It is rather the simple, kindly truth that God is Love, and that Love is Mind. Therefore, God is infinite and ever present intelligence, lovingly directing all, and doing so joyously and successfully throughout all time. This divine knowledge applied to human affairs insures their intelligent direction. This is the vital concern of every man. Lasting success can be achieved only under such direction.

It is indeed strange that the desire of mankind to seek divine wisdom first has not been more rugged and insistent. Perhaps it may be for the reason that many mortals have had vague and unformed concepts of God. These, oddly enough, have apparently satisfied them until put to a real test. When that seeming knowledge proved unavailing in their hour of need, disappointment was sore. Keenly they realized then, that such incomplete and superficial understanding provided nothing which satisfied or comforted or saved. They felt as did the Psalmist when he cried, "For our soul is bowed down to the dust."

A PERPLEXING QUESTION Too often under such circumstances mortals have been sorrowfully forced to conclude that it was impossible to comprehend Deity. Thus, a man I knew, perplexed about God's nature, once said, "God is a mystery." And there unhappily he abandoned his examination of the subject. Had he but known it, this investigation was the most important in all his human experience. Another puzzled individual, an intelligent business man, who for a number of years had experienced marked success in his affairs, once came to my office for advice. Misfortune, he said, seemed to trail his every move. None of his plans were working out. His money was exhausted, and he had no prospect of employment. What was he to do? Could I, by any possibility, help him in his time of need?

I told him at once that his difficulties were less real than he believed; that the truth about him and his affairs was quite different from his sense he was entertaining; that his whole course of thinking was wrong and must be changed. He stared blankly at me and seemed to be wondering if I were entirely sane. But I continued and said to him: "The only help you really need is a correct concept of God. You must learn that God's presence is constant. His power unlimited. His goodness unceasing. You must learn that you are a child of this good God, and that He is ever ready to help and care for His children."

ALL-POWERFUL PRINCIPLE By simple illustrations of God's power and the tender care He takes of His creation, of which the man was again assured he was a part, this seeker was therefore given a new and quite different concept of his creator. Soon he felt a desire to know more about the Supreme Being. He began to think of God in terms of Principle. When the statement was made that Principle is God and is all-powerful, he now looked through and past all material symbols of power and saw power itself as an idea, or expression, of Deity. He saw power as a present actuality; power not associated with things or persons, but, instead, as the manifestation of all-embracing, all-comprehending, all-controlling Principle—God.

He was now beginning to realize that no opposing force or power, so called, could actually exert a malign influence in his experience, because, as a child of God, he was under the immediate protection and care of omnipotent good. This was an important step in his mental awakening, but much remained to be done. It was now possible to explain to him that all-powerful Principle is also all-knowing Mind.

MENTAL AWAKENING The human mind finds less difficulty, perhaps, in grasping the idea of God as divine Mind than as Principle. If so, the reason is plain. The very word "mind" itself carries thought away from matter and material surroundings into an entirely different realm. Time, space, physical conditions and limitations disappear. The morning paper tells us of progress in India, of changing conditions in Russia, of startling discoveries in the mid-Pacific. In the time required to glance over the headlines we have been around the world, and possibly some billions of miles out in space for good measure. Matter for the moment has ceased to be. We have been living in a mental world.

But even this mental realm is not the universe of Spirit, divine Mind. God's perfect creation of good contains in it nothing unlike its creator. Mortal, material man has no place in it, for matter is unreal, untrue, without substance. Mind alone is real, and is substance. Mind is imperishable. Mind is All-in-all. This very allness of infinite Mind necessarily excludes from its universe every vestige of matter, including mortal man himself. Herein may be found the kernel of the whole question, as it pertains to our human experience.

The exclusion of material man from God's universe of good aggravates the human, or mortal, mind. It can conceive only of a universe and a creation of which it is an integral and important part. It is therefore, perhaps not surprising that at this point my friend began to show some uneasiness. Presently he said: "That Mind is God, and therefore All, seems reasonable. It is not radically out of line with what I recall of my early religious training. But my sense of the allness of God did not exclude material man from His universe. I seem unable to follow you on this point. My physical senses assure me that matter, otherwise my body, is essentially real, at times painfully so. How, then, can you dispose of this unreal or matter man, as you call him?"

To this query the response might have been made that not only matter, but time and space as well, had been proved unreal by physicists of international renown, but there seemed to be a better method of answering his question. This was to call his attention to the account of creation as it is presented in the first chapter of the book of Genesis, and carefully analyze that account with him.

DIVINE CREATION "In the beginning," the record reads, "God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. . . . And God said, 'Let there be light; and there was light.' As God's creation had its perfect "beginning," so we felt we must make an equally scientific start in our analysis of His perfect creation. Therefore, we recalled our discussion of a moment before concerning Principle and Mind. It was agreed that we should use the word "Mind" throughout our study as a synonym for God. Thus, the creative power we regarded as infinite Mind. This changed the whole picture of creation for the man.

He readily agreed that no act of a divinely intelligent being could be the result of chance, nor could it be the expression of a whimical or arbitrary will. Therefore, that the first act of creative Mind should have been the introduction of light proved the presence of divine law. This law had been fixed and unalterable, it must have been in operation yesterday as it is today and forever. A half hour's discussion about God brought to him—the man in my office—a realization of a new universe, a universe he had never before even dreamed about. Was not this entrance of light into his erstwhile darkened consciousness the only possible first step in his rebirth, his regeneration? Without light there could be no creation.

New beams of living light now enabled the man to see that creation was a continuous unfolding of good, an unfolding of the actual and spiritual facts of his being. He now peered eagerly into the fog of ignorance for further light. Our analysis quickly revealed the horizon of our spiritual vision to be the point at which light ceases to penetrate the darkness. True, this horizon, or boundary line, advances as understanding grows, but it is always there. It separates light from the seeming darkness, reality from unreality. The establishment of such a line of cleavage, or "firmament," as the next step in creation he saw was divinely inspired. Again, it was the simple, natural expression of an eternally operative law, the law of all-intelligent Mind.

My friend now followed the account of creation with deeper interest. His growing stability of thought, and the fuller beauty of the new universe unfolding to him, was typified by the creative act on the third day. The appearing of solid earth, radiant with verdure, life, and harmony, was quite in consonance with his own new experience.

The fourth and fifth steps indicated to him the infinite care of creative Mind that no needless thing should be beget. A perfect creator must have a perfect creation; if at any point it was incomplete it would be imperfect. In all this meticulous preparation there was also an indication of some great final act in the marvelous and divine drama.

As the coming of Jesus was an inseparable part of God's perfect plan of salvation, so the next and concluding act in Mind's creation was correspondingly fixed. The sixth day had arrived, and God—Mind—said: "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowling of the air, and over the beasts of the earth, and over all that creep on the earth." So God (Mind) created man in His own image, in the image of God (Mind) created he him. . . . And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. The great work was done,—nothing else could be created,—and therefore God rested on the seventh day, seeing and rejoicing in the perfection of His good work.

Perfection! Good alone real! Creation completed and nowhere in it aught that can sin, suffer, be diseased, or destroyed! What a wonderful universe, this, of which the man began to feel himself a part! He forgot for the moment the matter man he believed himself to be. There faded from consciousness the false relief of material man.

FALSE BELIEF UNCOVERED Ah! That was it; he began to see it now. False belief—only that and nothing more. How could delusion and falsehood paint so many distortions and pictures in his thought? How could these dream-pictures be cast out and kept out as was an even more vital question. He was thinking now, and very earnestly, and his next comment proved this.

"The things you have said are running through my mind, side by side with certain recollections of Jesus, his life and work, and I think I understand what you mean when you speak of him as possessing the Christ-Understanding in a larger measure than other men. You said, a moment ago, that the necessity of continually denying and reversing the arguments or testimony of the corporeal senses is paramount. Was this not exactly what Jesus did each time he healed a sick man? Was not this the Christ casting out false beliefs?"

Then the question arose, What enabled Jesus to see perfection, God's man, when other men saw palsy, withered limbs, leprosy, blindness, misery—false beliefs? It must have been the same overshadowing sense of the presence of creative Mind which had come to his mother when his own birth was announced. The angel voice of the Christ had come to Mary and had found her receptive to the divine idea. Thus perceiving, she rejoiced, saying, "Magnify the Lord." So Jesus came, endowed with that same Christ-Understanding which the angel Gabriel expressed, when he said to Mary, "For with God nothing shall be impossible."

THE NEW REVELATION I want to tell you now, succinctly but plainly, the most beautiful story of spiritual unfolding among men since the coming of the Master to Palestine. The tyrant who once sat upon the throne in this land or in that was weak in power in comparison with the tyrant false belief who steals his way into a man's thinking, and thus from the inside seeks to wreck and destroy that man. And so, in the hour of man's greater need, it was divinely inevitable that there should come a fuller revelation, which should meet that need.

The revelation did come. It came about sixty years ago through a woman who, like other Mary in Bethlehem, had so uplifted her consciousness in spiritual longing and seeking, that she could be the channel for the birth into the world of a new spiritual idea.

Mary Baker Eddy discovered, founded, and gave the name to Christian Science. She established a church which now has branches in every civilized country of the earth, and a few members or many members in practically every city and town where order and progress indicate that the people are given to looking above wholly material things. Mrs. Eddy was herself healed by this revelation when physicians had despaired of saving her life. In order to understand and to make understandable to others the full nature and method of her healing she shut herself in with her Bible and God until the vision had been apprehended. She was able then to practice the healing power of God as the Master Christ had done, and she was able so clearly to set forth the method of this in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," that earnest students of the book, although they never saw Mrs. Eddy nor any of her immediate disciples, might practice this healing too. It has been said that that book, next to the Bible, which it illumines and explains, is the volume most reverently in the hands of millions of people throughout the world today.

Why did she suffer—why go through fire? Because she was bringing to a vastly needy world the spiritual knowledge and the spiritual method by which the tyrant false belief was to be reduced and banished from the enslaved minds of men. She was doing, and teaching others to do, what she perceived Jesus to have done and thus she describes that activity on page 476 of Science and Health: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

THE SCHOOLS The school paper exceeded all expectations of selling possibilities as more copies had to be printed. Schneider, who is the business manager, had charge. She appointed newsboys, who went from room to room with copies for sale and kept the accounts. . . . On Wednesday the soccer game was played between Westfield and the younger boys of Riverton. Riverton defeated Westfield by a score of 4-0. . . . On Tuesday Mr. Bowen, editor of The New Era, gave the Press Club a talk on "Newspaper Writing and Editing." Everyone enjoyed it and we hope to profit by his advice. . . . The soccer game between Riverton and Moorestown Friends will be played today. The girls on the Riverton and Palmyra hockey team will also meet in a friendly combat. . . . Monday the second, the Manuscript Writing Club had its first meeting. They learned under the direction of Miss Staman, the basic letters. This was entirely voluntary. Many children are interested and have already begun its use in every day work. . . . On Tuesday, Navy Day, Mr. Rank took a group of boys to the Navy Yard. They saw some of the new ships and some older submarines. They were allowed to enter the U.S.S. Arkansas and were allowed to open the breeches of the guns and view the telescopic sights. . . . On Halloween the children of the kindergarten had a masked party. They paraded around the room in festive attire. This week at school has been very colorful even for the little people. . . . Thieves who stole 10 gallons of "gas" from a truck driven by Jack Kilborn, of Lansing, Mich., probably will be more particular hereafter as they mistake a water supply tank for the gas tank.

Paul A. Harsch, C. S. B., of Toledo, Ohio, Delivers Lecture to Large Gathering

First Church of Christ Scientist, Riverton, was the sponsor of a lecture on Christian Science, which was delivered in the Broadway Theatre, Sunday evening, by Paul A. Harsch, C. S. B., of Toledo, Ohio, a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Mass.

The lecturer was introduced by Mrs. Clare B. Goldman, who said: "In the eleventh chapter of St. Matthew, Jesus said: Come unto me, and all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

"Untold thousands, during the past sixty years, have come to the Christ through Christian Science, and in so doing, have proved this promise of the Master by being freed of every type of earthly burden."

"That those turning to Christian Science for a better understanding of the Christ might have an authentic source of information, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has established an activity of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Board of Lectureship, the members of which are qualified and authorized to present explanations of Christian Science and its applications."

Judge Wells Makes Roll Call Appeal

To the Citizens of Burlington County: The Annual Roll call period, when the Red Cross appeals to the families of the nation, the men, women, and children who make up our citizenship is at hand. The call will be made for memberships. Both in my personal and official capacity I appeal to the masses of the people to all citizens, to respond in a most generous way. I am sure all must realize that at this time, especially, the Red Cross must be liberally supported, in order that it may be prepared to carry on its splendid work.

I do not regard a membership in the Red Cross as a charitable gift. It is a discharge of a patriotic duty which one owes to the less fortunate. President Hoover has described the Red Cross organization as "belonging to the people themselves, a living embodiment of their heart and soul." I endorse heartily this tribute to a great beneficent institution. I believe it is the duty of all Americans to answer "here" as the roll is being called.

As members of this great body, it is our privilege to answer the American Red Cross Roll Call—our Roll Call—between November 11 and 26. It is ours to respond with whatever contribution we can make, feeling that we are having a definite part in the accomplishments of the Red Cross.

From each membership enrolled (no matter how large same may be) all but fifty cents is retained in the community, to be expended by the local Chapter in Burlington County. The 50th Anniversary Roll Call is here and I urge my fellow citizens to accord it their hearty support. Yours very sincerely, HAROLD B. WELLS, County Red Cross Roll Call Chairman.

CHARITY BAL MASQUE

Annual State Affair to Aid Cooper Hospital Endowment

New Jersey's annual State Charity Bal Masque will be given in the 114th Infantry Armory, Trenton, Wednesday night, December 9. It will aid a $10,000 endowment in Cooper Hospital, Camden, for the benefit of state employees. Comptroller of the Treasury, John McCutcheon will be chairman.

Previous events of this kind have established endowments, each costing $10,000, in McKinley and St. Francis Hospitals, Trenton and St. James Hospital, Newark. Yearly at these institutions more than one hundred employees have been given free treatment. The benefits are for those injured or stricken ill while on duty.

Chairman McCutcheon will have the assistance of many prominent women of the state, as hostesses, whose names will be announced shortly. From South Jersey those giving him help as an executive committee include State Treasurer Albert G. Middleton, of Moorestown.

COUNTY RETURNS GIVE BAIRD 371 MAJORITY

Official returns of the general election in Burlington county Tuesday of last week have been announced by County Clerk Lawrence Mingin, as follows:

- For Governor—Baird, 14,641; Moore, 14,270; Neilsner 114; Kelly 12; Bruner, 477; Halsey, 699; Ballou, 15; Butterworth, 10. Baird's plurality, 17,950. For Assembly—Newcomb 17,950; Sterling, 9,314. For Surrogate—Bittling, 16,607; Kelley 10,480. For Freeholder—Stout, 16,336; McCormick, 15,610; Cook 12,331. County Welfare Act—Yes, 4483; No, 11,522. Mosquito Commission—No, 12,964; Yes, 3352.

More than $900,000 in bills was found in the New York hotel apartment of Mrs. Ida M. Wood, eccentric 93-year-old recluse. In her youth Mrs. Wood danced with the Prince of Wales, afterward King Edward VII. She was also a close friend of Samuel J. Tilden, who barely missed the presidency.

RADIUM PLANT AT JEANES HOSPITAL

Machinery for Production of Radon, Used in Cancer Treatment, Installed

On October 31, J. Wilmer Lundy, President of Jeanes Cancer Hospital announced the formal opening of the new Radium Emanation Plant at Fox Chase. This new plant, the latest model, is the third of its kind in Philadelphia and draws off radon, the powerful emanation gas used in the treatment of cancer, at the rate of 166 millicuries every twenty-four hours. A milliecurie, named for Madame Curie who discovered radium, is a power unit for one milligram of the radium element.

One gram of the two-gram purchase of radium has been installed in the new plant at Jeanes Hospital and is in operation. The radium gas, or radon, is drawn from the radium salt solution within a thick-walled safe. By means of a vacuum pump, the mercury level of certain of the tubes of the instrument is lowered and the radon gas, after purification, is forced into tiny tubes which are clipped off and sealed in small lengths by a small flame. These tubes are applied or implanted in the cancerous tissue.

To protect the technicians, physicians and nurses, these tiny tubes are placed in lead applicators and are moved from the emanation plant to the wards in a lead-lined carrier on a truck that looks like a floor-polisher.

Coincident with the opening of the new plant at Jeanes, Dr. Ross W. Teaham, Medical Director, has opened a post graduate course for the nursing staff on "Cancer, Its Medical Manifestations, Pathology and Treatment," which includes an intensive study of the "Treatment of Cancer by Radium" and the "Methods of Protection for Radium Workers." When the second gram of radium, now in order, is delivered to Jeanes Hospital, its supply of this precious element will be the largest in the Philadelphia area, or two grams and 108.5 milligrams. This new supply will make Philadelphia's total ton and a half grams, or $735,000.00 worth of radium, the second largest supply in the country. Jeanes Hospital, which has a capacity of 72 beds, was opened in January, 1928, at a cost of over a million dollars, and is devoted to the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. It is situated on the old "Shapely Farms" and adjoins Burholme Park.

Beideman — Story

The marriage of Miss Ruth V. Story, of Hainesport, and Burrell B. Beideman, Jr., of Borton Landing road, Moorestown, was solemnized at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church at 1 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Frederick B. Morley, pastor, performed the ceremony. Miss Rachel Huttman-Spencer, of Riverside, attended the bride, and Wallace Shea, of Moorestown, was best man.

Declaring that handcuffs made too much noise, Judge Daniel O'Connell has barred the "bracelets" in his court at Worcester, Mass.

ARMISTICE DAY

Thirteen years have passed since the guns ceased firing in the greatest war in history; the armed hosts have left the battle-fields and have returned to the peaceful pursuits of life, yet the upheavals of that mighty conflict are still in evidence.

Nations groan under the burdens of armaments that sap the resources of the people, and fear and distrust disturb the relations of the units of civilization, preventing the rehabilitations of peace that a distracted world so sadly needs. Nationalistic spirit flames high and threatens to set the world in conflagration again. Old hatreds are not suffered to lie die down but are fanned to life with the thought of revenge when the opportune time may come. National security has become an obsession that stands in the way of lasting peace.

Armistice Day is rightfully a day for glorying in the exploits of the soldiers of the world who gave proof upon the battlefields of their valor. To praise their bravery and exalt in the virility of the nations that could produce such men is but a decent recognition of their services and a just pride in the nations that gave them birth. The soldiers of the world have not failed; they were only pawns in the game of world politics and were moved to meet the exigencies of the game.

It is the governments of the world that have failed. They failed in allowing the great conflict to happen in the first place, and they have failed in the inadequacy of the measures they have taken to prevent a recurrence. That the world is still in armistice thirteen years after the drums ceased to beat is a reflection upon the intelligence and humanitarianism of the men who are entrusted with its government.

Let Armistice Day be a day for exalting the virtues of those who fought, but let it be a day for heart-searching for the people of all nations and their rulers that such another calamity may not come upon the world.

N.G.A. MEETING IS BIG SUCCESS

3,038 Garments, Household Linens and Blankets Displayed at Annual Ingathering

The officers and directors of the Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America wish to take this opportunity to thank all who so kindly donated and helped make the recent ingathering of garments such a huge success.

At the meeting held November 5 in the Y.M.C.A. Building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, 3,038 garments, household linens and blankets were displayed.

At the same meeting some of the Junior workers gave a very interesting sketch, "The Spirit of the Guild."

Friday evening will be Church School night at our services. All members of the School are urged to attend. A special message will be brought to the young folks.

Junior Epworth League on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Epworth League Devotional Service on Sunday evening at six forty-five.

The pastor will lead the group in Bible Study.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Epworth M. E. Church

Services for the deepening of the spiritual life are being held each evening during the week at eight o'clock. Many have availed themselves of this opportunity to renew their spiritual experience. Next week Mrs. Pimm will speak at each of these services.

Sunday services at eleven and seven forty-five. The pastor will preach at both services. In the morning the choir will sing, "I Lay My Sins on Jesus," and in the evening, "Come Unto Me," by Woeber.

Church school begins at ten o'clock. There are classes for all ages. The Wesleyan Men's Bible Class meets at the same hour. They are expecting 100 to be present on Sunday morning.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will make vegetable soup in the church kitchen Thursday, November 19, and will sell it from there at noon, at 25 cents a quart.

SHANER & SONS ARE LEADERS IN BUILDING FIELD

Palmyra Contracting Firm Has Been in Business Over 30 Years

IDENTIFIED WITH CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

The importance of building contractors to the community in which they operate cannot be overestimated. Through their valued activities, the really values and appearance of a city improve, as does its general business interest.

Palmyra is extremely fortunate in this respect, and for that matter, in this entire section, in having in the locality, a fine contracting firm of the calibre of the well-known company of George W. Shaner and Sons, whose headquarters are located at Washington avenue and Spring Garden street, in Palmyra.

This organization has followed this line of pursuit for over thirty years, and has always operated with the interests of the section at heart. Through their work, many fine buildings and other civic improvements have been erected, and the general scene made more pleasing to the eyes of the visitors.

Close personal attention to every detail of the intricate contracting business has played a big part in acquiring for this concern its enviable position in the industry, and the work they have done remains as a lasting tribute to the ability and genius which constructed it.

'TAK-ABOOST' BOWKER'S CALL

Popular Restaurant Features
Platter Lunches and Tasty
Toasted Sandwiches

Restaurants and light lunch establishments are a success, or they are not, depending on whether or not they strike popular public fancy.

Bowker's Tak-Aboost Shop, 11 E. Broad street, was a success from the first. Its proprietor knew the tastes, desires and preferences of the neighborhood and catered to them.

William M. Bowker has conducted his restaurant at its present location for the past year. Prior to that he was located on Cinnaminson avenue for four years. His success speaks for itself.

Mr. Bowker serves platter lunches and tasty toasted sandwiches that have met with favor and approval in Palmyra and vicinity. His menu specials are available at any time of day.

The popular Tak-Aboost from which the Shop takes its name is one of the favorites of youth of all ages, and it is served in Palmyra only at Bowker's. Mr. Bowker is the type of genial host who has a keen desire for pleasing his clientele.

He is a member of the P. O. S. of A. and the Kiwanis. He has lived in the community for forty-three years.

BLASER GIFT SHOP UP-TO-DATE

Selection of Gifts, Remembrances Wide and Stock Is Varied

The modern gift shop is given a place in present day business as a result of the wide acceptance of its policies and offerings by men and women throughout the country.

It offers a service that enables the selection of a gift or remembrance without the usual thought of "What shall I send as a gift?" or "What remembrance would be appropriate?"

With her service of wide appeal and maintaining her shop along the best lines of the gift shop business, Mrs. Emma J. Blaser, of 322 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, has conducted her business for six years. She has lived in Palmyra for many years, and gained a familiarity with the needs and desires of the residents.

Consequently, her establishment is well stocked and her store one of the most popular of the gift shops in this section. The comprehensive stock of articles large and small appropriate for different occasions is winning more popularity as each year passes.

Mrs. Blaser's desire is to give the best and to render a service that lacks nothing in its make-up, which has been appreciated.

No element has been omitted from the roster of the Philadelphia Market House, of Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, that would advance the patrons' interest and place the business on a pinnacle in the field.

A Chronology of Men Who Have Achieved Success

Broad Street Location of Williams & Evaul Mecca of Discriminating Women

A note of consistency, a desire to serve that is deep-seated and genuine—these elements are contributory to the development of a business and to the advancement of the best interests of an established clientele.

For almost twenty years the business of Williams and Evaul, located at 111 East Broad street, Palmyra, these factors were originally placed and their growing importance in the further development of this business is one of its dominant characteristics.

For almost twenty years the business has been established. I. Harry Williams is the senior member of the partnership as he was the founder of the establishment. Eight years ago, Leola H. Evaul became associated with the activity and his work as a partner in the business has been outstanding.

Messrs. Williams and Evaul have a fine line of meats, produce, butter and eggs to offer that has met with approval among the housewives of the section that is served by this market.

Palmyra is also in the complement of the business and has been widely appreciated by those who purchase this popular delicacy.

Mr. Williams has a rather unique connection with his present line of endeavor in view of the fact that his primary association with it extends over a period of thirty years.

This has been instrumental in making possible the present success of the establishment, for a experience must be given its place among the forces and in business standing.

Mr. Williams is a member of the P. O. S. of A. and Mr. Evaul is active in the Artisans.

COURTESY ON FRENZEL ROSTER

Parry Service Station Bands Elements That Bring Success, Prestige

The motor car industry has brought into existence many kindred lines of endeavor most of which are dependent upon the automobile for their existence. It so happens that the service station is in this category, but then the motorist is dependent upon the service station so it strikes a happy medium.

In conducting his station alone lines that would prove most beneficial to the permanent and transient trade, stopping at his place of business, Alfred Frenzel, of Five Points, Parry, has been rewarded with eight years of business prosperity.

The service includes gas, oil and general accessories. In other words, the motorist will find there service of the first water.

Tobacco, soft drinks, etc., are also carried in stock for the convenience of his patrons.

Constructive measures have been utilized in building the service station to its present position and Mr. Frenzel is deserving of the fine success he has achieved.

Transient trade has appreciated and his permanent customers give him their share of commendation, and these elements have combined to illustrate that service is the most important element connected with a service station.

COLLINS LUMBER FIRM POPULAR

Loyal Organization Engaged in Sale of Coal, Building Materials and Hardware

Concerns of standard reliability are of great value in developing and promoting the general business resources of Riverton and the surrounding area, and are to be commended for the useful activity and influence which they exert in their special department of trade.

The observations above are merely an introductory to a voluntary news and editorial reference to the well-known J. S. Collins & Son, Inc., whose office is located locally. The firm maintains progressive branches at Moorestown, Riverside, Maple Shade and Merchantville.

At present, they are engaged in distributing the widely published "John Coal" which has rapidly gained favor with the more discerning throughout the country. Other products of the firm are building material, hardware, millwork, feed and Johns Manville asbestos roof shingles.

The concern has been established here since 1899 and has invariably made it a point to observe those conventional policies and principles, which safeguard and promote the interest of those who avail themselves of their services and products, and it is merely giving credit where credit is due to say that they are well known of such magnitude, engaged in the same line of business which are more widely and favorably known.

Philadelphia Market House Has Sea Food, Vegetables in Its Ever - Popular Offerings

Complete service to the public is a most important feature of present business conditions and one that cannot be overlooked by the individuals who delve into the reasons for success and failure.

Business, at best, is a competitive work and one that requires the utmost attention in bringing about a satisfactory and harmonious understanding between client and establishment.

FRESH GROCERIES SOLD BY GRAHAM

Palmyra Grocers Offers Wide
Line of Household Necessities to Patrons

For the past five years, Palmyrians have been served with courteous and attentive treatment by Joseph W. Graham, one of the dependable grocers of the section.

Mr. Graham's establishment is located at 402 Horace avenue, and includes in its extensive stock nationally advertised and recognized articles of food, all of which the housewife is familiar with, and in which she has unbounded confidence.

In the outstanding attributes of the Graham enterprise is the excellent service that is offered. Mr. Graham takes a personal pride in pleasing and assisting his patron, in the selection of those foods best suited to their needs, and feels that in so doing he has reached the maximum in civility.

The interior of his store is kept scrupulously clean, thus safeguarding the many food stuffs sold. The large volume of business Mr. Graham does makes the trade being strictly fresh and in the best condition.

Mr. Graham is vitally interested in the future of Palmyra as evidenced by his valued activities in the mercantile field, and it is therefore not surprising to find that he has won the respect and confidence of all whom he has had the pleasure of serving.

FRIDAY SERVICE ALL-INCLUSIVE

Plumber Also Offers Heater Work, Roofing in His Activities

The professional plumber is responsible for the conditions of sanitation which exist in modern homes, inasmuch as he has developed and installed sanitary measures that have rid the civilized world of pestilence and epidemics to a major degree.

Probably the services of this fraternity are not appreciated as they should be. Competition is keen in the trade, but the individual who offers a service of the type given by George Friday is virtually certain of his standing in the community.

Mr. Friday launched his business on its own career last January, but his experience extends to pre-war days when he became associated with the plumbing business and learned the many intricacies connected with it.

Plumbing, heating and roofing are all a part of his service. Household repairs have found his work in all lines to be entirely satisfactory.

Mr. Friday is not the type of man who is willing to sit idly by and watch the old world progress. He has an enthusiasm and interest in new developments within the trade and includes in his business those that prove themselves to be satisfactory.

He is a member of the Men's Club.

SMITH & WESSON AWARD

RIVERTONIAN WINS HIGH AWARDS IN THE NATIONAL PISTOL MATCHES

N. J. State Trooper Ranks High At Camp Perry Matches; Wins Two Medals

BEEN IN STATE POLICE FOR LESS THAN 3 YEARS

New Jersey State Trooper John R. Miller, son of Chief of Police Walter G. Miller, of Riverton, has distinguished himself as an expert revolver marksman and ranks high nationally as such.

"Russ," as he is better known to Rivertonians, is but 25 years old and is just finishing his first year with the New Jersey State Police.

In the past year of his service Russ has acquired many medals, silver cups and a Smith & Wesson special revolver.

In the recent national competition held at Camp Perry, Ohio, Russ, while his team did not win first place, carried off medals for individual accomplishment (Nos. 1 and 2).

Medal number two was won in the 50-yard slow fire competition over the Standard American Course. The Standard American Course is 50 yards from the target, shooting ten shots within ten minutes; 25 yards from the target shooting ten shots in forty seconds, and 25 yards from the target shooting ten shots in 20 seconds. The bulls-eye is but three inches in diameter. His score for this medal was 82 points out of a possible 100.

Medal number one was won by Russ, who took fourth place out of 240 contestants representing the best shots in the country. His winning score was 45 out of a possible 50. He won 23 points out of a possible 25 on the bobbing target, and 20 points out of 25 on the running man target.

The bobbing target compares somewhat with trap shooting. The marksman walks over the course and from unexpected points a target bobs up and the contestant must draw his gun from the holster and fire within a few seconds. The running man target contains the life size figure of a man and is propelled at a running speed. The hits are counted and a higher score is given for hits in relatively vital portions of the body.

Medal number five was won by Russ at the Hoboken Police Pistol Match last March. At this match he shot against ten North Jersey police teams and netted a score of 296 out of a possible 300.

Medal number three was won at the Sea Cliff Open Championship last June by Russ, on the first police team. The score on this course was 1148 out of a possible 1200. Fourteen teams competed in this match.

Medal number four was won by Russ at the Paterson Evening News Police Match, held at Glen Rock, New Jersey, of the State Championship. This match was held on October 15, with 21 police teams competing. Miller's personal score was 294 out of a possible 300. The team was presented with a silver loving cup and each member received a gold medal. The team score was 1161 out of a possible 1200.

At the Camp Perry match, Russ entered the individual Wesson match and won first prize, a Smith & Wesson .38-44 Special Target Revolver (pictured above). This revolver is engraved on the slide, "Trooper John R. Miller, Wesson Match, Camp Perry, 1931, 69 x 75." Miller's winning score was 69 out of a possible 75. Three events went with the winning of this match: The bobbing target, in which he scored 100 per cent—25 out of a possible 25; the running man, 20 out of a possible 25; and Hogan's Alley, in which he scored 24 out of a possible 25. The Hogan's Alley event consists of five false house fronts. The contestant walks past each of the five house and either from a door or at various windows the imitation body of a man appears and quickly disappears. The contestant's job is to shoot each one in the short space of its appearance, and he does not know at which window or door it will appear. On this Russ scored 24 points out of a possible 25. This match was won by Miller against 240 of the best shots in the country.

Russ has unquestionably carved a name for himself in the annals of pistol marksmanship. He is a member of the New Jersey State Police first pistol team, composed of six men. He shoots both left and right handed. In a departmental contest he won 99 out of a possible 100 with his right hand and made a score of 94 out of a possible 100 shooting with his left hand.

Trooper Miller is now in training to compete in the Olympic matches next year.

Miller is now located at Bridgeton at the Woodruff Barracks.

RULES TO MAKE N. J. HUNTING SAFE

Watch Your Gun, Spot Your Game, Warning of Wardens

Watch your gun! Spot your game!

These two unwritten laws for hunters sum up the suggestions by New Jersey fish and game wardens, this month, in the annual campaign of gunning accident prevention.

The sportsmen who will keep in mind these simple precautions, the wardens declare, can safeguard others and himself from tragedies in this great field of outdoor recreation.

Considering the number engaged, hunting is one of the safest of outdoor sports, the records show, but the careless hunter still is a factor of annoyance and danger. There is a growing sentiment among sportsmen for legally depriving of a hunting license for a specified number of years of any hunter involved in a shooting accident. State wardens have done much in recent years to instruct young hunters in safe methods of handling their guns.

"Never carry a gun so that the muzzle at any time sweeps the horizon," says Assistant Protector Howard Z. Mathis, who has taken an active part in accident prevention.

"Hold your gun while hunting so that the muzzle is toward the ground or pointed at the sky. Teach yourself to hunt with the trigger on safety or half cocked. Never lean a loaded gun against a tree nor lay it on the ground. Never pull a gun toward your muzzle first. Learn to handle your gun at all times as if it were loaded. Practice safety first and always."

Wardens declare there is no place in the hunting field today for the chance shooter who blazes away at any sudden movement in the brush and that he should be barred personally from the companionship of other hunters, if he cannot be eliminated legally.

"Spot your game!" they interpret as meaning that a hunter never should pull trigger until he is absolutely certain he knows at what he is aiming. A hunter who will do otherwise may kill game that is protected; may shoot a hunting dog or may wound or even kill a fellow hunter.

The health department discovered that oranges being sold in Birmingham, Eng., as ripe were really green fruit with the peel dyed yellow.

'Y' TO BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT

250 Men and Boys Will Enjoy Supper at First Lutheran Church

The annual Y.M.C.A. Father and Son banquet will be held in the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton Monday evening.

This event, which is so eagerly awaited by many of the dads and especially the lads in Palmyra promises to be even better than ever this year.

Supper will be served at seven o'clock by the ladies of the church. It will be limited to only 250 fathers and sons, 125 tickets for each. Owing to the present conditions the price of tickets this year has been reduced from $1.75 to $1.25. The dad's ticket are 75 cents and boys' tickets are 50 cents.

J. Elmer Hahn, president of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A., will act as toastmaster. J. L. Melinger, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, has a very excellent program planned.

Harry David Barge, who is well known as an after-dinner speaker, of Lebanon, Pa., will address the gathering.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Wilton E. Mount, local "Y" secretary at Riverton 904, or getting in touch with any member of the "Y" of the Board of Directors. Any dads who do not have sons, or any boys whose dads do not find it convenient to take them are urged to communicate with Mr. Mount as soon as possible.

Special musical features have also been arranged as part of the program.

As an added attraction a member of the famous Athletics baseball team will be among the speakers.

Miss Marian Biddle gave a dinner on Wednesday in honor of Miss Catharine Wallace Teacher, of Edgewater Park, and Benjamin Hoffman Barnett, who will be married on Saturday.

Elkinton — Griscom

The marriage of Miss Anna Bassett Griscom, of Chester avenue, Moorestown, and J. Passmore Elkinton, of Moylan, Pa., was solemnized at the Friends Meeting House, School Lane, Germantown, last Thursday afternoon. About 250 guests were present. The reception was held in the social room adjoining the meeting house.

The marriage was held under the care of Chester Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, Moorestown, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Thorne, Mrs. Ella T. Griscom and Elwood Hollingshead were the over-seers appointed to have oversight thereof. Dr. J. Milton Griscom, brother of the bride read the wedding certificate.

The bride was attended by Miss Rebecca Elkinton, as maid of honor and by her niece, Miss Mary Lapham Elkinton, as flower girl. The ushers were Howard W. Elkinton, Dr. J. Milton Griscom, Dr. Joseph Stokes, Jr. and James C. Vail. The autumn celebrations gave the keynote to the guests and floral decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Elkinton will be at home, after December 3, at Batecroft Road, Moylan, Pa.

A bullet fired by Policeman James Casey, of Chicago, while chasing a thief went through ten pairs of trousers in a tailor's shop.

YOU, YOUR CAR AND THE MOTOR LAWS

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is one of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles written to familiarize motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct and increase their safety on the highways.

BILL OF SALE ACT

The Grimm Act, as Chapter 102, Laws of 1931 is popularly known, is I believe, one of the most progressive laws for the protection of the public against fraud ever placed on our statute books. It represents the best thought of motor vehicle dealers, students of motor vehicle law and law enforcement authorities and was drafted after years of experience with the bill of sale law which it replaced. The old act was wholly ineffective and no deterrent to the disposal of stolen automobiles in this state. As a matter of fact, the old law seemed to aid thieves in procuring bills of sale for stolen automobiles, thereby enabling them to dispose of their plunder under the apparent guise of the law. The Grimm Act places automobile dealers, in both new and used cars, under the supervision of the Department and enables us to weed out dishonest dealers who compete unfairly with honest dealers. It facilitates the transfer of title by bona fide owners and eliminates hardships on innocent owners. The Grimm Act gives the Department complete supervision and control over titles in motor vehicles.

Title Papers Under Law

Under the new law, title papers, in original and duplicate original, signed by seller and buyer, with addresses stated, and complete description of motor vehicle, start with the manufacturer or dealer licensed by the Department. The duplicate original is given a serial number and filed with the Department. Every transfer of title is treated in the same way, original papers, approved by the department, being retained by owner and turned over to the person who buys from him. In this way, both owner and the Department have a complete chain of title. Every conceivable kind of sale and transaction involving a motor vehicle is comprehended within this act. The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles is given power to cure technical defects in title papers, etc. If he is satisfied as to the ownership of the vehicle, the Department checks signature of seller, buyers and witnesses and is now in a position to detect spurious or fraudulent title immediately by checking against the chain of title papers on file. The Commissioner is given power to refuse to issue registration and plates if title papers are not proper.

Advantages Summarized

Briefly summarized, the advantages of the new law are: Establishment of complete chain of title to every automobile from time it was first sold as a new car, one on file in the Department and the other in the possession of the owner. Provides for checks and double checks by requiring signatures of sellers and buyers on all title papers, so they may be compared whenever a motor vehicle is sold. The owner who loses title papers may procure duplicates from the Commissioner. Closes doors to disposal of stolen automobiles in this state and enables the authorities to detect such transactions and prosecute the thieves. Protects honest dealers and provides means of eliminating dishonest dealers, puts teeth in the law by providing that any person making misrepresentation or false statements on the title papers shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $2,000 or imprisonment for a period not to exceed two years or both.

Teacher—Class-fishness is voluntarily doing without things we need. Give a living example.

MacSpensney—Come here, Billie! Don't you know who I am?

Unpudicly—The gunman ordered me to get on my knees and pray before he killed me.

Pastor—So you were saved by prayer, my son?

Unpudicly—Yes, Reverend I said the Lord one you make on Sunday mornings, and he fell asleep.

Guide—Why didn't you shoot at the tiger?

Third Soul—Er—er, he didn't have the right kind of an expression on his face for a rug.

Her—You used to say that you were unworthy of me.

Bin—Well, what if I did?

Her—Nothing. Only you seem to be spending your married life trying to prove it.

Teacher—Say, I want to congratulate you on this article you write for the newspaper. It's the best!

Pupil—Yeah, that's what dey tell me. By golly, I wish I could read!

"I just passed Bill Skidmore down the street and I never saw such a change in a man. He was walking along as if he owned the earth, and he never even saw me."

"That's simple. I saw him too, as he was parking his car in the only space available in the entire shopping district."

Winchell—There's a girl who makes men keep their distance.

Ripleigh—Confirmed bachelor girl, eh?

BLACK PEPPER

Perhaps very few people who dine ever think of the valuable medicinal properties residing in the fancy pepper shaker, that long ago earned its right to a place on every dining table. Some shrink from pepper, advisedly perhaps, and from the smarting it causes when indulged too freely; then others, lovers of the pungent in diet, go to extremes and indulge the fiery red pepper to excess. There will always be extremists who go too far.

"Piper Nigrum", black pepper, depends upon an essential oil for its stimulating property. There are some modern medical authors who have little faith in internal antiseptics, one in particular tells us that an infectious catarrhal process set up on a mucous surface, can be cured by the use of an agent that stimulates the surface cells to activity—that the cells do the work against the germs, and not the so-called antiseptic remedies exploited so freely today by commercialists.

Black pepper certainly stimulates mucous surfaces. It causes a freer flow of gastric and intestinal secretions. And these are needed in abundance for perfect digestion. Moderate use of black pepper benefits the weak stomach—does away with "gases" that gives distress. It does no harm if used temperately, except in ulceration. One of the best antimalarial I know of contains a small proportion of the oil of black pepper. "Piperazin" has value in certain affections with uric acid intoxication. The use of pepper is well known in convalescence from chronic alcoholism, coaxing the weakened gastric surfaces back into normal activity. The pharmacy of a great and all-wise Creator is without parallel for its number of useful remedies. Ever think of it?

A Civil War veteran in Princeton, Ill., Hiram M. Roberts, 83, and Mrs. Lucella Westfall, 88, of Bureau Ill., were married after a four-day courtship.

TRUTH is a thing immortal and perpetual, and it gives to us a beauty that fades not away in time, nor does it take away the freedom of speech which proceeds from justice; but it gives to us the knowledge of what is just and lawful, separating them from the unjust and corrupting them.—Epictetus.

BURLINGTON ROY HURT IN BATTLE OVER CANDY

William Smith, 17, Burlington, was injured Thursday of last week when he fell and struck his head against a curb. Smith was fighting with Olo Jenkins, 19, over the candy. Jenkins took Smith to the office of Dr. John S. Conway, where he was treated for deep lacerations of the head and removed to his home. When he lapsed into unconsciousness he was removed to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, for treatment for possible fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain. Arranged before Police Receiver J. Leonard Smith, Jenkins was released in $200 bail to await the outcome of Smith's injuries.

MEMORIAL CHAPEL, LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK, LOCATED IN CINNAMINSON TOWNSHIP, THREE MILES NORTH FROM THE POINT WHERE THE PALMYRA BRIDGE ROAD CROSSES THE BURLINGTON PIKE

A MEMORIAL PARK should be managed by those who are experienced and responsible. From a standpoint of business experience and responsibility Lakeview Memorial Park is fortunate in that it is headed by able business and professional men of outstanding success... men who are leaders in their communities.

Lakeview Memorial Park is not an experiment or a new idea. It is one of more than three hundred such beautiful Burial Parks throughout the United States. Popular favor the country over is turning rapidly toward the Memorial Park idea. It is but natural that the leaders in a community should have recognized the need for such a development and given it their whole-hearted support. Moreover, it is but to be expected that public endorsement should be reflected in the purchase of burial lots... and it is... manifold, as indicated in the early sale of lots amounting to nearly 500 during the first month of the sales campaign.

A beautiful brochure depicting the loveliness of Lakeview Memorial Park in graphic form will be sent to any one requesting it.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET PROVES A HUGE SUCCESS

130 Dads and Lads Enjoy Elaborate Dinner in First Lutheran Church

HARRY DAVID SARGE ADDRESSES GATHERING

"Lena" Blackburne and Other Well Known Baseball Stars Give Brief Talks

A fine group of 130 fathers and sons enjoyed the annual program of the Y.M.C.A. Annual Father and Son Banquet held in the Lutheran Church Monday night. The affair, according to those present was one of the finest of its kind ever held. The ladies of the First Lutheran Church served a delightful and bounteous dinner. Lee Milton played as the group marched down from the Sunday School rooms to the Social Hall in the basement.

The group sang the first verse of America followed by the invocation by the Rev. Harold Creaser, pastor of the church. During the fine meal "Pat" Stodde in his own inimitable way kept the group pepped up singing father and son songs.

J. Elmer Hahn, toastmaster, called on Mayor George N. Winter to welcome the assembled guests. In his short address the Mayor called attention to the number of boys and men that will be staying this year and further remarked that one thinks should not only be directed to our earthly fathers and forefathers, but in particular to our Heavenly Father. As a fitting tribute to the local son who has brought fame to his home town, and who was instrumental in having the honored guests at the affair, Mr. Hahn asked "Russ," who is known in the baseball world as "Lena" Blackburne to stand up and say "hello." The eyes of all the boys turned at once to the men sitting beside "Russ."

In introducing the next speaker the gathering was asked to rise in silent tribute to a great man who had passed on, Knute Rockne, "Tom" Conley, captain of the 1930 Notre Dame football eleven and All American, and delighted the group with tales of "Rock" and what the coach deemed necessary in sports. He urged boys to participate in football and other sports to gain the advantages these games offer.

Johnny Wilson, catcher of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals was the next speaker. "Jimmy" struck the apple with the crowd, in his stories of the Club, and evoked much laughter when he told how during the series he threw to the wrong base. This story of an error on the part of such a figure in baseball was a remarkable story for Wilson to tell and won the favor of all present.

Following these short speeches, Malcolm MacGoyce, a member of the Moorestown Y.M.C.A. and a leader at Camp Okanickon last year, delighted the fathers and sons with selections on his symphonic, accompanied by Miss Martin, of Moorestown.

The main speaker of the evening was Harry David Sarge, of Lebanon, Pa. Mr. Sarge is secretary of the Lebanon County Motor Club, and District Superintendent of a Nationally known insurance firm.

His topic was "A Dad and His Lad." Mr. Sarge delighted the assembly with his interesting talk. His theme was presented in a humorous straightforward manner that was very pleasing at the end of such a fine program. He closed with a reading of "Jim and John" illustrating conclusively his remarks of friendship as compared with other relationships that might exist between a father and his son.

The Y. M. C. A. is very grateful to the ladies of the Lutheran church, the Boys Work Committee that sponsored the affair, and all others that gave of their time and help to make the evening such a huge success.

Toastmaster
J. ELMER HAHN
Riverton councilman, who presided over the Palmyra-Riverton Y.M.C.A. Father and Son banquet held in the First Lutheran Church, Palmyra, Monday evening. 130 dads and lads were present at the event.

RIVERTON P. T. A. HEARS DR. SPARGO

Assistant Commissioner of Education and Mrs. Nathan Conrow Speakers

Mr. Nathan Conrow, County Chairman of Study Groups, gave a most interesting talk at the Riverton P.T.A. Study Group meeting, Monday afternoon, November 16th. Her topic, "Parental Education," was a very timely subject in view of the many changes in school routine today and as she so aptly expressed it "high pressure" education applied to every ideal which makes it doubly important for parents to cultivate an open heart and mind in dealing with their children, so that they may keep in step and so guide these young ones properly.

She suggested several books to be read between meetings of the Study Group, among them Ernest Groves' "Personality and Social Adjustment." Mrs. Conrow's talk ended much to the satisfaction of the group. Several mothers expressed the wish that she return and spend more time at some future date. This was such an interesting Study Group that special meetings will be called one in December and one in January.

Several mothers—Mrs. R. M. Woodward, Mrs. Charles H. Yost, Mrs. Ivan Hull and Mrs. M. A. Simons—had prepared papers on different phases of child life, which were most constructive.

"In a Minute" Some weeks ago it was suggested that mothers submit different problems for discussion—anonymous, if they so preferred—so that all might offer helpful solutions. It is a well known truth that we usually all have the same problem at one time or another.

A particularly interesting one was "What should one do when a child persistently answers in a minute when called from some engrossing occupation." It was suggested that the fault was sometimes with the parent in this respect. Very often the child's "laziness" is disinterested, and, after all, he is an individual and should be treated as such. A little thought and co-operation on both sides will usually adjust this.

A high light of the afternoon was the splendid work done by Miss Justice and her First Grade. These little ones demonstrated one of the modern methods of learning to read, by means of picture story reading. First the story—in this particular instance "The Three Bears"—was told to them by the teacher. Then they learn to associate the pictures with the particular word or group of words illustrating the story and are soon able to pick out words and phrases and constant repetition fixes it securely in their mind and eye.

Miss A. Campbell, Riverton librarian, issued a cordial invitation to mothers to make use of the reading room at the library. There are several new books in of particular interest to children and she suggested more book "thrillers" with a good background of history of folklore in preference to movie "thrillers" of dubious character.

NOTED ALASKAN AUTHOR TO SPEAK

Rev. Diven Will Give Stirring Address at Presbyterian Church November 22

An unusual opportunity will be afforded the members of the congregation of Calvary Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening, November 22, when the Rev. Robert Joseph Diven, D.D. will speak on the work of the church in Alaska. Dr. Diven is not only a worthy successor to the late Dr. S. Hall Young, whose name is familiar to all Presbyterians, but is an author of reputation as well as a missionary. His books, "The Black Wolf Mystery," "Rowdy," and "Tim Towner" have found a wide circle of readers who have been delighted by these vivid animal stories and his intimate knowledge of Alaska, her forests, her dogs and her men. He has also written extensively for magazines.

Dr. Diven sees present-day Alaska which, with an area of one fifth that of the United States, a population of 55,000 and a coast line of 35,000 miles, is no longer a country of gold seekers and savages but a place of homes, Dr. Diven comes with a stirring account of the work of the church in helping this truly great land to attain the respect and confidence it truly merits.

The people of the community are invited to share in this privilege to hear this gifted speaker.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

A new addition to the Porch Club including an enclosed porch which enlarges the seating capacity of the main room to 300 persons, and other slight alterations has been completed in record time. The club house is ready for occupancy again and all meetings will be held there in the future.

Carlton W. Tillinghast, field secretary for the Regional Planning Federation of the Philadelphia Tri-State district and Henry J. Sherman, consulting engineer for Blair Co., will speak at the Club house on Tuesday evening, November 24th, at 8 p. m. All Rivertonians should be interested to hear how our town surroundings can be beautified and made more attractive. Everyone interested invited.

The literature study section scheduled for 10 a. m. November 24th will meet at the Club house. Subject, "Theodore Dreiser and His Works."

SAUER KRAUT SUPPER

There is a real treat in store for those who appreciate the delectable taste and aroma of sauer kraut. The Riverton Fire Company is throwing a real sauer kraut supper this Saturday night with the last notch in your belt as a limit.

"Charlie" Cole, Chief Krauter, is director of the event and he promises the best kraut dinner that ever went with a 50 cent ticket. Look for their advertisement in this issue for details and the menu.

Washington's Lost Thanksgiving Proclamation Found at Auction

Few Americans were told by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, that the "lost" National Thanksgiving Proclamation was issued by our first President, George Washington, in 1789; and still fewer people know of the interesting history of that priceless document. On October 3, 1789, George Washington issued his Presidential Proclamation calling for a National day of Thanksgiving on Thursday, November 26.

This proclamation went into effect and was soon forgotten. No one apparently attached much importance to the document itself. It was completely lost sight of. Most likely it was misplaced or attached to some private papers in the process of moving official records from New York to Philadelphia, or from Philadelphia to Washington. All we know is that the original document was not in the official archives of the government until it was "found" in 1921 by Dr. J. C. Fitzpatrick, then Assistant Chief of the Manuscripts Division of the Library of Congress, and now editor of the forthcoming George Washington Bicentennial Commission series of Washington's Writings.

WELFARE ASSN. PROVIDES WORK

Country Club Has Contributed Wood Which Men Will Cut and Sell

The Riverton Cinnamintown Welfare Association has a project on hand which, with the cooperation of the two communities, will help in a great measure to solve the unemployment situation. As its contribution to the work, the Riverton Country Club has donated a quantity of lumber which the men who are now out of employment will cut and saw into proper lengths. This wood is to be sold for fireplace or heater use and the money so earned will go to the men who have come to the cutting. The wood will be sold for $12 per cord.

There is a great deal of unemployment in the two communities and the people are in dire need of work. There are a number of women on the unemployed list; some will do mending or plain sewing at a reasonable figure; others are expert cooks and are available for preparing and serving meals and some will be glad to clean or do laundry work. One woman can do expert mending.

Among the men who are unemployed are painters, carpenters, tinners, roofers, gardeners, chauffeurs and laborers. Even a few hours' work is appreciated by these people, for most of them prefer to work rather than receive charity.

These men and women are available at any time and can be reached through Mrs. Newbold Cooper; wood can also be ordered through her. Telephone Riverton 499.

BUGLE CORPS AT BALL IN CAMDEN

Palmyra Organization Offers Its Services Free in Order to Aid Unemployed

The fifteen-minute drill put on by the Bugle and Drum Corps of Post Frederick M. Rodgers, Palmyra, was a splendid feature of the Camden County Annual Legion Ball held Friday evening in the Camden Convention Hall.

The Corps, garbed in the dress uniforms and commanded by George Trisman put on their drill. It was a splendid spectacle, with bright shining on the metal helmets and buckles.

Several new applications have been accepted by the Corps from men in different parts of the county.

The business organization of the group, under the direction of A. H. Lindquist, business manager, is planning a most active year.

At the meeting of the Corps held Monday evening, that body agreed unanimously to give its services to any bona fide committee for the aid of unemployed relief drives throughout Camden County.

As everyone will surely realize, this is a most charitable thing for these boys to do and any who take advantage of the opportunity are sure to profit by it.

ST. JOSEPH'S K.C. IN BIG MEETING

Palmyra-Riverton Council Entertains Delegation From Across Delaware

One of the most enthusiastic meetings held for some time took place at St. Joseph's Council K. C. of Tuesday evening. The guests of the evening, St. Leo's council of Tacony, came over to visit the local Council with a delegation of 65, headed by their Grand Knight Joseph Farrell. Some excellent talent was also included among the visitors.

Grand Knight Andrew J. Pfaff welcomed the visiting Knights from across the river, while Lecturer Thomas McCrosson took charge of the entertainment features. The address of the evening was given by Past District Deputy Frank A. Dorsey, of Pennsylvania.

Solos were rendered by Miss Mary Steedle, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Rex McCrosson. Andrew J. Pfaff led the singing, and after some comedy acts, the assembled guests retired to the basement where Theo. Schneider supervised the dispensing of refreshments.

St. Joseph's Council will continue many activities, among which will be weekly card parties to be held every Wednesday evening throughout the winter months. The general public are invited to attend these parties where prizes will be awarded and the donation will be 25 cents.

On Thursday evening the local Council card parties at the K. of C. hall at 8 p. m. and visit Moorestown Council. Cars have been provided and a good delegation from Palmyra and Riverton is expected to be present.

TAXPAYERS TO HELP WITH BUDGET

Offer of Cooperation by Taxpayers Association Accepted by Freeholders

The Burlington County Taxpayers' Association sent a communication to the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, advising that body that the Association had appointed a committee to confer with the Board in the preparation of the county budget for 1932. It is the hope of the Taxpayers' Association that some way will be found to cut the budget and reduce taxes.

On motion of Charles R. Stout, the director of finance was instructed to ask the directors of each department to submit an estimate of the requirements for their several departments for the coming year, and when they are all in, that the committee of the Taxpayers' Association be notified to meet the Board and so over the situation. Members of the Board expressed their approval of the assistance offered by the Association and hoped that some way would be found to curtail expenditures without dispensing with necessary public improvements and governmental operation.

The bid of $1,830.30 by Albert Edlis, Moorestown, for the construction of a storm sewer in Riverside township was accepted, subject to the approval of the Riverside township committee, as the work will be paid for jointly by the township and the Board of Freeholders.

The committee appointed to confer with the Board was composed of Lester Collins and Charles D. Barton, Moorestown; Isaac Harrison, Crosswicks; Morris K. Perincher, Mount Holly; and Charles R. Rauh, Edgewater Park.

The other bidders for the work were as follows: Matazzo Construction Co., Merchantville, $1,927.90; Paul R. Piegross, Riverside, $2,236.58; Shetter Bros. Riverside, $338.27; J. R. Biles, Mt. Ephraim, $1,168; W. R. Conrad, Burlington, $2,400; William C. Cook Inc., Mount Holly, $3,246.

The welfare act, which was voted on at the general election, was defeated in Burlington county. This information was given the Freeholders yesterday by County Clerk Lawrence G. Mingus.

The state highway commission, sent a communication to the board in which it was stated that the work on the Browns Mills and Pemberton road had been completed in a very satisfactory manner and recommended that the final payment be made.

A truck belonging to Frank B. Ashmead, of Beasley's Point, broke through the county bridge known as Godfrey bridge in Washington township on August 25, 1930, and the machinery was badly damaged by fire, which followed. The Germania Fire Insurance Company of New York City carried the insurance on the truck and yesterday the insurance company sent the freeholders a bill for $1,074.76, which bill was referred to Judge Harold B. Wells, county solicitor.

The following bills of the county departments were presented and ordered paid: Finance, $2,756.57; roads, $26,115.10; bridges, $2,881.50; building, $33,372.47; public affairs, $11,968.02; making a total of $77,063.66.

Bruce H. Schaff

Bruce H. Schaff, age 64, died suddenly at his home, 402 Midway, Riverton, nine o'clock Sunday evening from a heart attack.

Mr. Schaff was well-known in Riverton, having been a resident here for the past 25 years. He was born in Chambersburg, Pa. on January 23, 1867, and lived there until about 1900. Between the years of 1893 to 1900 he published the Peoples' Register, the leading paper in Chambersburg.

In 1900 he sold the newspaper and came to Philadelphia, where he entered the sales organization of the Dando Printing Company. While in Philadelphia, Mr. Schaff married Bertha Helmluth and about six years later moved to Riverton with their son, Merle B.

They lived for awhile on Elm avenue, later on Seventh street and finally purchased his late residence on Midway. Mrs. Schaff died in January, 1922.

About the time of Merle's completion of his college course at the University of Pennsylvania the Dando Printing Company failed.

This brought a temporary setback for Mr. Schaff but his keen business ability coupled with his tenacity soon brought recovery. Mr. Schaff and his son Merle organized the Dando Printing Company into the Dando Printing and Publishing Company and as such quickly met with success.

Funeral services for Mr. Schaff were held from the Stover Funeral Home, Palmyra, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Arthur S. Lewis officiating.

Interment was made in Green Mount Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Mr. Schaff is survived by his son, Merle S., of Riverton; two sisters, Mrs. Harry A. Wiley and Miss Abigail Schaff, of Chambersburg, and two granddaughters, Esther Elizabeth and Margaret Nye Schaff.

NEW BLINKER LIGHTS

The latest type blinker lights are being installed at the Thomas avenue railroad crossing by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. They will replace the old style pendulum type signal box.

The new red blinker lights are operated from a series of storage batteries and are not dependent upon municipal electric current for their operation. They are distinctly visible from a greater distance and from a wider angle a desirable safety feature of the new lights is their automatic operation from either direction on each track. If a train were coming through on the wrong track the old signal would not operate but with the new lights this danger is eliminated.

The new lights will be in operation within a few weeks and it is understood that the crossing watchman will not be displaced with at the dangerous crossing.

LEGION AUXILIARY INVITES MEMBERS

Women Seek to Continue Serving Humanity in Peace As Well as War

When the guns were flashing along the front in France, when men were struggling and dying in the muddy maelstrom overseas, and when the whole nation was pouring out its energies to bring the most titanic war the world had ever seen to a victorious end, the women as well as the men were serving and suffering.

For every man in camp, ship and trench, was a woman at home working in every way open to her for the success of the allied cause and enduring with quiet fortitude the anguish of separation and worry. Behind every man in those long, bitter, dreary columns awaiting deployment toward the front was a woman supporting him with her thoughts and prayers and with the work of busy fingers.

It was only natural, therefore, that after the victory had been won and the men of the fighting forces had formed themselves into the American Legion to continue their comradeship and service to country in time of peace, the women of their families should desire to continue serving with them. One of the best ways of doing this was the American Legion Auxiliary was born. In less than a dozen years the American Legion Auxiliary has grown to be the largest and most influential women's organization in America—a worthy companion to the great American Legion.

In the American Legion Auxiliary today are more than 400,000 mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of the men who fought in the World War. They are at work constantly for the welfare of the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled, striving to lighten for these living victims of the war the burden of suffering and hardships which they are still bearing thirteen years after the last shot was fired. They are working also to aid the Legion in its efforts to uphold the ideals of American democracy which were defended with such great cost on the battlefields of the World War, and to make the peace-time life of America a more perfect realization of these ideals. Shoulder to shoulder with the men of the Legion in thousands of American communities, the women of the Auxiliary are going forward in a steady march of patriotic endeavor.

The Auxiliary is now curdling its membership for the year of 1932. The invitation to come into the organization and share the great satisfaction of worthwhile work in a vital cause is going out to all the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Legionnaires and of the service men who have died, and to the women eligible to membership through their own World War services. Every year more and more of the eligible women are recognizing the benefits that membership in the Auxiliary holds for them and are exercising their privilege of membership. In almost every city and town there is an Auxiliary unit which will extend a warm welcome to new members at this time and will open to eligible applicants a field of enjoyable and satisfying activities that will enrich the life of all who complete the organization. Every woman who takes pride in the service of her menfolk in the World War and whose heart holds love for the country for which they fought, should be in the American Legion Auxiliary, enlisted in the peace-time service of America.

JUNIOR PORCH CLUB

The meeting of the Junior Porch Club on the second of November was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hagstog in Riverton. A formal business meeting was held. Mrs. Ralph Flower discussed the filling of Christmas stockings for the inmates of the State Colony, at New Lisbon.

Mrs. Frederick Bible gave an interesting talk on international relations, which was thoroughly enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Horton, of Lippincott avenue, Riverton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lydia Sophia, to Harry K. Strang, son of Mr. Nellie Strang, of Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

No date has been set for the wedding.

PROPOSAL TO CLOSE RIVER BANK

Riverton Borough Council Told It Is Only Way to Remedy Conditions

The problem of what to do with the River Bank has assumed a new aspect. If the plan suggested to the Riverton Borough Council by James C. Coale last week becomes effective, it will be closed to the public.

Mr. Coale explained to his colleagues that the condition of Riverton's once-upon-a-time beauty spot had been a matter of grave concern for some time to those interested in the welfare of Riverton.

In a recent gathering of a group of citizens related Mr. Coale the subject of what to do with the River Bank came up for discussion, and it was the consensus of opinion that the most practical thing to do was to close it to public use, thereby creating a condition of privacy which would encourage the erection of a number of attractive homes which would serve the double purpose of removing an eyesore and increasing the tax income of the borough.

Under the plan discussed, said Mr. Coale, Linden avenue would be closed from Front street to Bank avenue, and the ground now occupied by the Showell and Frishmuth properties could be bought up and converted into an English Village of homes costing about $10,000 to $20,000 each. A part of the plan was to close Bank avenue from the Palmyra Borough line to Thomas avenue, Lippincott avenue or Penn street, as might be deemed advisable. The portion left open on both sides of Main street he said, would provide ample room for public recreation and for the Fourth of July celebration exercises.

Closing Seen as Only Remedy Mr. Coale pointed out the fact that the River Bank had been deteriorating for several years, and expressed the firm conviction that the only way to bring it back was to make it private property as was done with the creek East of Howard street several years ago.

Mr. Coale assured Council that the men who had participated in the discussion resulting in the suggestion which he had laid before his fellow-members were in no way financially interested in any of the properties on the River Bank, and that their sole thought and purpose was to remedy a condition which a detriment to the town. He asked that the subject be given serious thought and that members of Council talk it over with their friends, neighbors and citizens generally, in order to learn whether or not the proposition was likely to meet with favor in the town generally.

Zoning Amendment Passed

The first amendment to the Borough's Zoning Ordinance was scheduled for a public hearing and final passage at this meeting. A number of residents in the area affected were present, but as no objections were voiced, the amendment was presented and passed second and final reading without opposition. Under the provisions of this amendment that section of Broad street between Thompson and Linden avenues is transferred from the residential section to the business section.

William H. Albertson, chairman of the highway committee, reported that the Borough of Palmyra had asked if Riverton would have any objection to the improvement of Elm avenue crossing by Palmyra. No objection to the improvement was voiced and the matter was left in the hands of Riverton's highway committee.

As chairman of the sewer committee, Mr. Albertson reported the construction of two new manholes on the South side of Cinnamint street. Councilman DeLaney, chairman of the fire and water committee, reported that the fire apparatus had been checked over and was in condition for the winter, including recharging of the chemical fire extinguishers.

Councilman Ewell, chairman of the borough property committee, reported that the tennis court was still being used, and that the city ponds at the park had been cleaned out ready to be flooded for skating as soon as the freezing weather arrives.

Fire Apparatus Overhauled

Councilman Coale, who is also chairman of the Shade Tree Commission and Mr. Ewell discussed the planting of trees at the park as a part of the plan for the celebration next year. Mr. Coale pointed out that the planting should be done this fall. It was left in the hands of Mr. Coale to provide a suitable planting, it being recommended that a tree of a size adequate to the importance and dignity of the occasion be selected.

WOMEN'S EXCHANGE IS BIG SUCCESS

The efforts of the Riverton Woman's Exchange met with much encouragement Tuesday, November 17, when they opened their doors at 520 Main street.

There were many buyers as well as a great many sellers, and everyone spoke of the fine cooperation shown. Another Exchange will be held at 518 instead of 520 Main street, next Tuesday, November 24. The shop will be open from 10 a. m. to 12 and from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

This Exchange is a concentrated effort to help out the depression in Riverton.

Come out and lend it your support.

WELFARE MAKES PLANS FOR RELIEF WORK IN PALMYRA

Association Solicits Contributions From All Organizations and Individuals in Town

ASKS THAT CASES BE REPORTED TO COMMITTEE

Children's Shoes Are Much Needed; Also Boys' Blouses; Card Party Tonight

Every person in Palmyra, whether of the laboring class or not, who is now unemployed, is requested to register at the Palmyra police station, Officer Charles Lutz, of the police force, sits at the police headquarters each day from ten to twelve for this purpose.

The borough has been requested to submit a list of the unemployed to the state during the next week or so, and in order to do this, must have a complete list.

Whether you are only a laborer, or whether you have held down a "white collar" job, you are requested and urged to register as quickly as is possible.

Drive for Funds

It has been asked by many Palmyrians, whether or not a drive for funds would be conducted here this year.

The committee announces that there will be no official drive for funds, but each and every person is asked to do his or her bit to help relieve distress. The committee also asks all organizations if they will not contribute as willingly and as freely as they have done in former years.

The following contributions have been received so far: Mayor George N. Wimer, $5.00; Friendship Circle of the Epworth M. E. Sunday School, $25.00; Palmyra Woman's Club, $50.00; and twenty-five cents from the sale of junk. This makes a total of $80.25 to start off the year.

Misdirected Charity

It is sincerely hoped by the members of the committee that all persons knowing of needy cases will report them to the welfare and not have individuals adding any person who might come to their attention.

An example of a case where a family was being helped on far too large a scale came to the notice of the committee recently. The family was receiving help from four different individuals.

Each and every person is asked to do his or her bit to avoid a recurrence of this sort of thing. Avoid misdirected charity—report your needy cases to the welfare committee.

Directors

Chester L. Barnard is the state director of emergency relief and Mrs. Catherine Smith, of Mount Holly, has charge of Burlington county.

The borough officials are directors of the Palmyra welfare committee.

Clothing and Shoes

The welfare committee is asking for contributions of children's shoes and boys' blouses in particular this week.

A phone call to Riverton 191 and one of the police officers will call for your contribution.

Articles may be left at the police headquarters any time during the day or evening.

Card Party

The big card party which is being given for the benefit of the welfare committee will be held this evening in the P. O. B. of A. Hall.

Tickets may be obtained any time today at Mayor George N. Wimer's office or at the door on the evening of the party.

A large selection of valuable prizes will be offered the lucky card players and a door prize of one ton of coal, which is being donated by H. B. Williams and Leon A. Sever, Inc., will be given.

Come and bring your friends!

Officers Meet

Those from Palmyra who attended the meeting of the South Jersey Municipal Officers' Association at the Wall Whitman Hotel, Camden, Friday evening were: Mayor George N. Wimer, Mayor-elect Walter D. Lamont, Edwin A. Crismon, Floyd W. Spahr and George J. Breyer.

Many of the officials of the river-front towns spoke on the present unemployment situation and its relief.

Notice

Mayor Wimer will meet at his office any persons who wish to speak confidentially on welfare matters.

BOWLING ALLEYS TO GIVE WELFARE HALF OF EVENING RECEIPTS

A second big event will be staged for the benefit of the Palmyra Borough Welfare Committee on Tuesday evening, December 1.

Edward Betz, manager of the Palmyra Bowling Alleys, has announced that evening half the bowling alley receipts will be given to the welfare.

Everyone is urged to patronize the bowling alleys to help make this second big welfare event a success.

All are invited to come and bring their friends.

THANKSGIVING DAY — 1931

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A Proclamation

We approach the season when, according to custom dating from the garnering of the first harvest by our forefathers in the New World, a day is set apart to give thanks even amid hardships to Almighty God for our temporal and spiritual blessings. It has become a hallowed tradition for the Chief Magistrate to proclaim annually a national day of thanksgiving.

Our country has cause for gratitude to the Almighty. We have been widely blessed with abundant harvests. We have been spared from pestilence and calamities. Our institutions have served the people. Knowledge has multiplied and our lives are enriched with its application. Education has advanced, the health of the people has increased. We have dwelt in peace with all men. The measure of passing adversity which has come upon us should deepen the spiritual life of the people, quicken their sympathies and spirit of sacrifice for others, and strengthen their courage. Many of our neighbors are in need from causes beyond their control and the compassion of the people throughout the nation should so assure their security over the winter that they too may have full cause to participate in this day of gratitude to the Almighty.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT HOOVER, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, November 26, 1931, as a National Day of Thanksgiving, and do recommend that our people rest from their daily labors and in their homes and accustomed places of worship give devout thanks for the blessings which a merciful Father has bestowed upon us.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 3rd day of November, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fifty-sixth.

By the President: HERBERT HOOVER.
Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State.

PLAN TO IMPROVE SEWERAGE PLANT

Palmyra May Order Installation of New Machinery Costing $1500

Improvements to Palmyra's sewage disposal plant are being considered by borough council.

At the regular meeting Tuesday evening a representative of Remington, Vauxbury and Goff, borough engineers, explained that while the plant was working well, it was not giving 100 per cent results, owing to a thick scum forming on the first of the two sludge digestion tanks.

Formation of this scum, which reaches a depth of four feet, reduces the capacity of the tank and also interferes with the gradual escape of gases generated in the course of sludge digestion.

A mechanical method of breaking up this scum has been developed since the Palmyra plant was built and the engineers recommended that the new machinery be installed at a cost of about $1500.

Odors Discussed

The question of odors from the plant was discussed and while it was admitted the failure of the first tank to operate with full efficiency probably created some odor, it was thought most of the smells complained of came from Philadelphia sewage which has contaminated the waters of the Delaware river.

The engineers also warned borough council that the gases generated at the sewer plant were highly explosive and it was recommended that signs be posted warning visitors at the plant not to smoke and that no fire be allowed near the tanks.

Borough council had considered enlarging the drying beds and thus providing labor for the unemployed, but the engineers assert the present beds are quite large enough.

Will Prepare Plans

On motion of Councilman Buchholz the engineers were directed to prepare plans and specifications for installing the new machinery.

Councilman Spahr said the highway department was endeavoring to find as much worthwhile work for the unemployed as possible and that plenty of work has been made available.

All other borough departments reported progress. Following is the report of C. Morris Beck, chief of office, for the past month.

- To the Honorable Mayor and Council:
The following is the monthly report of the Department of Police from October 18, 1931 to November 17, 1931.
- Oct. 21—Harry Gornish, Philadelphia. Disorderly. Fined $5.00. Paid to Borough.
 - Oct. 21—Samuel Green, Philadelphia. Drunken driving. Fined $200. Paid to County.

 - Oct. 28—Harry Chamberlain, Camden. Receiving stolen goods. Released after agreeing to pay balance due on stolen radio.
 - Oct. 29—John Adams, Camden. Stealing automobiles. Discharged by Juvenile Court.
 - Oct. 29—John Tucholski, Riverside. Stealing automobiles. Fined $60. One year to pay.
 - Oct. 29—Frank Tucholski, Parry.

WELFARE MEETS; MAKES PLANS

Mayor George N. Wimer Tells of State Aid for Boro Welfare Organizations

At a meeting of the Palmyra Welfare Committee in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, Thursday evening plans were discussed for the winter months.

Sixteen of the twenty-one members of the committee were in attendance. Mayor George N. Wimer, who presided over the meeting, spoke briefly on the help which the Borough would receive from the state, while operating under the supervision of Harry J. Saar, overseer of the poor.

Several of the lady members of the committee gave reports of the cases which they had taken care of recently and Mayor Wimer asked all those present for suggestions in regard to the situation.

Some mention was made of serving hot lunches to the school children whose parents could not afford to do so, during the winter months. The proceeds from the Society Circus, which is being sponsored by the Palmyra P. T. A. association, to take place in the high school auditorium on Saturday, will be used in their entirety for the Welfare of the poor school kiddies.

Mrs. Elias Toy, president of the P. T. A., was present at Thursday's meeting, and urged all to attend the circus to help this worthy cause.

The card party, which is being given for the benefit of the Welfare Committee, was also mentioned at the meeting. All those in attendance were urged to ask their friends to support the event to the limit. Tickets are on sale at Mayor Wimer's office, at 15 East Broad street. A call to Riverton 960, or Riverton 840, and they will be delivered to your door.

Mayor Wimer asked the visiting nurse, Miss Katherine Greay, and transient officer, John A. Kiehn, to bring all needy cases which came to their notice to the attention of the Welfare Committee.

Miss Green asked what was to be done in cases where medical attention was needed, and families could not afford it. Mayor Wimer stated that he would take the matter up with the physicians of the town. The Mayor also stated that many of the doctors were already doing a great deal of gratis work.

MEN'S CLUB MEETS AT Y.M.C.A. ON MONDAY

The regular meeting of The Palmyra Men's Club has been changed, due to Thanksgiving, and will be held Monday evening in the Y.M.C.A. Building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

As usual, a delightful program has been arranged, and all members are urged to be present.

The officers of the club wish to extend a cordial invitation to all men of Palmyra and Riverton to be present at this and future meetings and to affiliate themselves with the organization.

The winter program of the club promises to be of a very enjoyable character, as plans have been effected to obtain talent of a very high class.

We can carry our present expenditures without jeopardy to national stability. We can carry no more without grave crisis.—President Hoover.

MANY PETTY THEFTS REPORTED TO POLICE

Pocketbook, Auto Tires and Milk Among Articles Stolen in Palmyra

Numerous reports of petty thievery have been received by the Palmyra police during the last few days.

Several automobile tires have been stolen from parked cars, Monday night a pocketbook belonging to Mrs. H. E. Brown, of Riverton, containing $100 in cash and a check, was taken from a car parked in front of the A. & F. store on Broad street.

Milk thieves have been operating in the vicinity of Market street and a dozen residents of that neighborhood have reported the disappearance of their morning milk supply during the week.

An automobile crash occurred Tuesday on Cinnaminson avenue at Stele's musicies. Howard Jaquette, of Maple Shade, turned out to pass a truck and struck a car driven by Walter Perkins, 2343 North 19th street, Philadelphia. The Jaquette car was badly damaged and considerable injury was done the Perkins car, but no one was hurt. Jaquette agreed to pay the damages.

COOKING SCHOOL TO OPEN MONDAY

Famous Chefs to Reveal Many Culinary Secrets of Foreign Origin

Philadelphia is to have its first International Cooking School next week. Beginning Monday, November 16 and continuing daily until Saturday, a group of famous chefs from many of Philadelphia's leading hotels and restaurants will reveal to hundreds of women some of the innermost secrets of delicious foreign cooking.

There will be demonstrations of famous Chinese dishes, such as Chow Mein and Chop Suey; Italian dishes, French, German, Jewish and American. They will be explained in such simple terms that it will be easy for those attending to go home with the recipes and surprise their husbands with an entirely new wrinkle in cooking. If the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, surely a lot of hearts will be pulled before the end of the week.

Another outstanding feature of the school will be a daily discussion on Marketing by Beatrice Cole Wagner, prominent Newspaper Home Institute Director. According to U. S. Government figures, 25 per cent of the family earnings are spent on food. Miss Wagner will explain how money can be saved by the careful planning of marketing and care of food. With food consuming such a large portion of the budget, this feature will undoubtedly be a most interesting topic.

The school is being conducted in the beautiful Home Service Auditorium of Judson C. Burrus, Philadelphia distributor of General Electric refrigerators, Walnut street at Twelfth and Adams streets.

MASONVILLE WOODSHED BURNED IN $200 FIRE

A woodshed and its contents of chopped wood on the estate of Mrs. Louis Peterson, on the Mount Laurel road near Masonville, was burned early Thursday evening of last week with a loss of $200. The fire was presumably started from some hot ashes dumped too close to the building. Masonville firemen extinguished the fire and saved several other nearby buildings from burning.

WILL CONSERVE ALL XMAS GREENS

Mrs. Conrad Friday Reminds All to be Saving as Holiday Season Approaches

The New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs through its Garden and Conservation Department has the "Christmas Greens Campaign", to save New Jersey's fast diminishing supply of holly laurel and ground pine, well under way.

Mrs. Conrad Friday, chairman of the garden department of the Palmyra Woman's Club, asks that all persons in Palmyra and vicinity be especially careful of the way in which they use greens during the coming holiday season.

In line with the suggestions of tered by the Conservation Committee of the Garden Club of America, Mrs. Friday suggests that people plant their own Christmas green gardens for the future.

One of the reports received by Mrs. Friday regarding this vital subject, follows:

"Holy laurel and ground pine have been wastefully harvested during the past few years, and in order to insure a supply for the future they and all substitutes should be gathered under Federal or State supervision and sold with a label of approval as to their quality. Christmas trees through the Forestry Service in Colorado or by permit as is done in the State of Washington.

"Foresters and Conservation Commissioners should be conferred with to obtain such harvesting and marketing in each State.

"The use of substitutes for the abused Christmas greens is recommended. Balsam roping and wreaths are most satisfactory."

P.T.A. WILL HOLD SOCIETY CIRCUS HERE SATURDAY

Performance Will Be Staged in P.H.S. Auditorium; Afternoon and Evening

40 LIVE ANIMALS WILL TAKE PART

Real Steel Pier, Atlantic City, Clown to Perform Many Funny Stunts

Pamunassa's Society Circus will be held Saturday at the Palmyra High School, with a special matinee at two p. m. and the evening performance at eight p. m., under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Many people will no doubt remember the last Circus given at the high school, and the wonderful performance they saw. This year's performance promises to surpass that of the last Circus, and in addition a special added attraction will be staged. Forty real live animals will take part in the event.

The company for this year will be presented by Prof. Pamunassa, familiar to all, and will include a wonderful collection of tropical and domestic birds and animals. There will also be many outstanding features, one of which will be "Commodore", one of the finest ponies in the country, known as the pony with the personality and extraordinary intelligence.

There will also be a riding act, a monkey who will drive the pony himself, and ride just like a man. There, an excellent little performer, will find numbers for you and distinguish different colors.

There will be a troupe of performing canary birds that will amuse you in the way that they perform their routine of tricks, a real miniature circus.

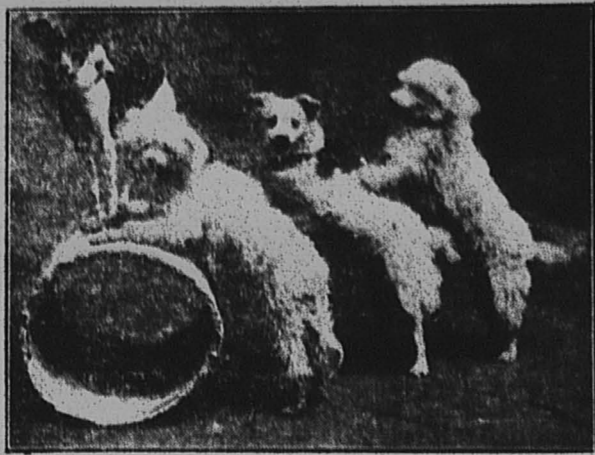

Then a troupe of beautiful large white albatrosses, which will perform many interesting tricks, and conclude their part of the program with a comedy drama and fire scene, where the leading lady steals her way into the fort and the villain fires the cannon upon the fort and sets it on fire. The leading man of the company rescues the lady from the fort, sends in a fire alarm and the fire company comes and extinguishes the flames.

We will have with us a famous clown direct from the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, who from the Steel Athletic Club in Philadelphia, who will have many funny stunts to entertain. "The professor," says the professor, "is an entertainment that pleases all ages and is absolutely clean in every respect."

Pamunassa's Peerless Company has just returned home from its tour in the Chautauque, playing all the leading cities in the middle West. This company has just closed its first successful season on the platform. It is an entertainment that pleases all ages and is absolutely clean in every respect.

Tickets may be secured from any member of the P. T. A. or by calling Riverton 1931.

WILL TAKE PART IN SOCIETY CIRCUS

Above are pictured some of the clever animals which will take part in the performance to be staged Saturday afternoon and evening in the Palmyra High School auditorium, under the auspices of the local Parent-Teacher Association. Proceeds from this event will be used for the welfare of needy school children.

Riverton School Notes

School activities this past week have included two very good entertainments. The first program was given in the school by Miss Williams' class, as a tribute to Armistice Day. The characters were: Liberty, Marie Haines, Peace, Doris Steedle, War, Robert Dunlap, Herald, Jack Yost and Frederick Freeman. The play ended by Liberty denouncing War.

The next program was given by Mr. Tank's class. It was a play named "The Dyspeptic One". The chief characters were: The Ogre, William Burmister, The Ogre's Cook, Mary Turner, the Jester, Bertram Shoemaker and Frances, Dorothy Wolcott. The other parts were taken by: A. Shoemaker, M. Shueker, L. McFadden, C. Boyer, J. Rutherford, H. Heier, J. Logan, K. Washington, W. Wilson, and W. Good.

The first newspaper of the sixth grade, called "The Six B Chronicle," was published Friday, November 6. The class voted for the staff with a real ballot prepared for each child. The following officers were elected: Editor, Marie Zimmerman; printers, Elmer Butler and George Devitt; editorial staff, Dorothy King, Jane Woltschmidt, Christine Bidley, La-Lora Cottman, Louis Bluff, Richard Coe, John Knight, Adele Conwell, Yvonne Pennington, Mable Henry, William Hanelman, Dorothy Brown and Richard Kline. They are working hard for 100 per cent in spelling and arithmetic. There were only two words missed in one of the Friday tests. They must work harder to get 100 per cent in arithmetic. They have also been traveling in their work. They went to the British Isles. While they were there, they made a British countryside scene. It contained a house, pig pen, trees and a barn. In art they have drawn scenes of Great Britain.

On the bulletin board are pictures of the Generals of the World War, which are particularly appropriate for Armistice Day. As the paper progresses, they will have many more happenings to report.

The Riverton soccer team played Moorestown Friends' School on Thursday, the 18th. Both teams played so well that the result of the game was a scoreless tie.

PLANT A TREE FOR WASHINGTON

Washington Bi-centennial Celebration Commission Urges Living Memorial

The 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington will be celebrated in 1932. Every American will want, in some fitting way, to observe this occasion, marking the anniversary with some suitable memorial.

The most fitting of all memorials is a living one—a tree. Every individual can plant a tree—thereby not only creating a living, growing memorial to the Father of Our Country, but adding an integral bit of beauty and usefulness to the life of our whole community.

And not only individuals, but schools, class groups, men's and women's clubs, secular and religious organizations, Chambers of Commerce, town councils—and all organizations of whatever nature can plant trees, in groups, in avenues, or in single specimens. For living trees have an appeal to every person, and George Washington pre-eminently valued them.

Forests Now Depleted
Washington was a lumberman. He conducted lumbering operations at various points along the Atlantic seaboard. As a lumberman, woodsman and surveyor, Washington loved trees and knew their worth. He would be surprised and distressed could he come back today and see what tremendous depletion of our forest resources has taken place in 200 years. As a statesman, with the welfare of his country in his mind, he would be a most earnest advocate of the restoration of our forests wherever economically possible. He would realize that the Americans as a nation must become forest-minded.

What finer tribute, then, on the part of the individual, the organization, the civic unit, than to commemorate this 200th anniversary of Washington's birth with the planting of memorial trees and forests?

Such plantings should be made immediately—so that living trees may be dedicated in February, 1932. Every one making such a planting may register it with the American Tree Association, at Washington, and will in return receive a memorial certificate of acknowledgment of their share in this movement and a membership in the Association. This same organization will supply, on request, all necessary literature on tree-planting and tree care, all free of charge.

Porch Club Plants Tree
In keeping with the above suggestion the Garden Club Section of the Riverton Porch Club, under the direction of Mrs. Henry C. Parrish, has planted a tree and shrub in connection with the Bi-Centennial Celebration of the birth of George Washington.

Tuesday, November 3rd, the Garden Club met in the Presbyterian Church school in lieu of the Porch Club which is under repair and improvement. After the meeting at which William H. Taplin was the speaker in the afternoon, the club adjourned to the Porch Club grounds and planted a Japanese Holly shrub on the corner of the lot on Howard street,

EARLY DAYS OF P-R ROTARY CLUB

Palmyra-Riverton Organization Will be Six Years Old in December

At the home of George Wontor, 309 Cleveland avenue, on December 4, 1925, a group of men gathered through the invitation of their host, with the prime object of bringing Rotary to the vicinity of Palmyra, Riverton and Chaminson.

The meeting was much on the same order as that one held 20 years previous, when Paul Harris conceived the idea of Rotary and had gathered a few of his associates in his Chicago home to assist him in offering this country, and now the world, a new philosophy of life of "service above self" and the developing of acquaintances for mutual helpfulness.

This first meeting was attended by John Warner, Dr. Charles S. Mills, Herman Eichner, H. B. Williams, Frank Shover, H. C. Schwering and Fred W. Seeber.

After having learned from George Wontor the membership requirements to form such a club the committee, equipped with enthusiasm, soon obtained the 25 members needed.

Formed on December 11, after familiarizing themselves with Rotary and its principles they formed the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club.

On December 18, 22 members of this group met again as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Wontor and appointed a nominating committee of H. B. Williams, Frank Shover and Everett O. Wolcott. They named a Board of Directors which in turn convened and elected Charles Mills, president; John Warner, vice president; Ross Mattis, treasurer; Fred Seeber secretary; William T. J. Purcell, Joseph Low, directors and Harry Williams, sergeant-at-arms.

It was at this meeting that Collins Hall, Riverton, was designated the place of meeting and Thursday at 6 o'clock the day and hour for dinner.

The approaching holidays seemed to suggest that the first regular dinner would be deferred until Thursday, January 7, 1926.

Eighteen members attended this meeting which had for its first speakers, Jack Pettit, president of Moorestown club, who spoke from experience on the trials and tribulations of a newly organized club, and offered much encouragement to the members of his new neighboring club, George Wontor, who might be called the father of Palmyra-Riverton Rotary and himself a member of the Camden club, introduced the speakers.

Charlie Mills, the first president, spoke on the possibilities of the Rotary in cementing a bond of good feeling and friendship between Riverton and Palmyra.

nearest the river. A Washington Hawthorne was planted on the other side of the club house near the sidewalk on Fourth street.

No ceremony was made of the planting. This will be done in February when the Current Events section of the Porch Club will join with the Garden Club and a regular dedication ceremony will be held.

George Wontor having received information from District Governor Gil Palen that Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was inducted into Rotary International, called a special meeting on February 1 to make arrangements for their Charter Night which was set for February 23.

Many Visiting Clubs
The P.G.S.A. Hall which was secured for the occasion in order to accommodate the guests was most uniquely and appropriately decorated for the event and here, and in the presence of guests from Camden Rotary Club, the sponsors for our club, Moorestown and Philadelphia Rotary, Riverside Kiwanis and 25 of its Charter Members, Gil Palen presented the Charter to Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club No. 2228.

George Wontor, son of the father of our Club, added a very impressive touch to the ceremony when he presented President Charlie Mills with a Rotary dinner bell, the mounting of which and the gavel, being his own handiwork turned out in the Palmyra High School.

The members whose names appeared on the Charter were: Wm. Albertson, Geo. Anderson, Wm. Becker, Luke Eberly, Paul Burr, Herman Eichner, Jos. Evans, Horace Finney, Edwin Fish, Jas. Low, Ross Mattis, Charles Mohrfield, Harry Schwering, Jr., Fred Seeber, Frank Shover, Geo. Steedle, Evan Stever, Paul Van Sant, John S. Warner, Earl Williams, Harry Williams, Everett Wolcott, Clinton Woolston, Charles Wright and Charles Mills.

The present officers of the Club are: Howard B. Conway, president; Rev. George Jachett, vice-president; Joseph Seel, secretary, and Ross E. Mattis, treasurer.

THE DOUBLE COMFORT OF 'blue coal' COSTS NO MORE

The comfort of dependable heat—as you want it, when you want it. Instant action when you open the drafts in the morning. A roaring fire on zero days. A slumbering fire in mild weather. Coal that banks perfectly at night. That gives up all its heat. That consumes to a fine, clinker-less ash.

And the comfort of that is never "on ing coal—never you tell it to do.

With all its advantage, 'blue coal' costs no now to enjoy its double con-fewer trips to the cellar—a fire your mind." 'blue coal' is will-needs coaxing—does what Needs less attention.

HORSE SENSE!

A recent correspondent to the Public Ledger wrote as follows: Recent months have illustrated the weak sort of faith the American people have placed in their country. The mad orgy of buying, spending and high living has been replaced by destructive hoarding and malicious rumors that have been unfavorable to business recovery.

Depressions as well as booms have their day. All the signs and portents of the moment indicate that business recovery has already begun. Wheat has led the turn around the corner. Steel is on the mend. A National Credit Corporation has stabilized our banks. Automobile manufacturers have prepared for increased business in 1932. The stock market will no longer dream wild dreams about easy money for many a moon.

The time for grumbling and calamity-howling is past. The turn of the year should see a revived America leading the world to ultimate restoration. William Pitt once said: "Not only strike when the iron is hot, but keep it hot by striking."

You will, no doubt, be surprised to find that we have no solution for the present situation, don't know what it's all about and don't know what started it all. Persons wishing to hold conversations with us can do so by appointment only—and at the rate of two dollars per hour.

The president's brother-in-law should have known better than to put all his bottles in one bag, no doubt.

And that will probably develop into a campaign plank for the Democrats for the next election.

A Benarr McFadden Style Editorial Where is the caveman? Where is the sturdy giant who lived atop the bean stalk? Gone, disappeared, perished from the earth. And why? The answer is soft foods, lack of proper exercise and soft beds. Don't be a spineless creature. Rise up in your might, which is the heritage of your forefathers. When the alarm clock says to get up, do it and do it with a bang. Here is a menu for you to follow.

Breakfast—Grape fruit and grape fruit juice. Luncheon—Grape fruit and grape fruit slice. Dinner—Grape fruit crushed, peeled grape fruit and grape fruit juice.

If you are hungry before retiring for a change you can take a little grape fruit juice.

Be sure to sleep on a pool table or some other hard surface and don't forget to sleep before an open window or better still in an electric ice box. Take plenty of exercise. Walk two miles on your hands, run twenty miles, and then alternate. But most important of all, don't let anyone dominate you. Be yourself, live your own life. A wise woman once said "to cook a hare, first get your hare." Remember, a sound body and a sound mind make a lot of noise.

Expert Help for Parents "My boy of 14, who used to be so healthy and fine, has become so changed that we hardly know him any more. Lately he has gotten a habit of picking up glass and stones, doing it so badly that we had to take him out of school." This child should be taken to a child-guidance clinic for a thorough examination and investigation. Better Homes and Gardens. Then he will be sent to a school where he will be given a course in glass and stone picking-up so that he won't do it so badly, no doubt. Now that there are so many vacant houses, why doesn't someone come along with a plan to plow under every third row?

According to Tom Daly, the school children were given a day off to gather nuts in olden times. Now the board of education provides nuts right in the school, no doubt.

It is said that insects are the farmer's worst enemies, but after listening to that "third row" argument we are inclined to think the farmer's worst enemies are the bumper crops.

Our idea of two somethings or other is the fellow who elevates and crooks his little finger while drinking coffee from his saucer.

Now it comes out that the winner of that Italian prize for the largest family must be poor. Now if we were in Italy, all we'd need to win that prize would be to have the largest family.

The U. S. Office of Education says guesses matter. We wonder how much that valuable information cost the taxpayers.

Now we suppose there will be a rush to build schools to teach ordinary people to stutter.

It seems very funny that Henry Ford to be fixing cures for national ills when you stop to think that most of his own business projects have been failures.

WAY OF LIFE BY BRUCE BARTON

A Quick Millennium

When I was in London I read an interesting, and rather pathetic, newspaper article by the "baby member" of Parliament. His name is Frank Owen.

He recalled his maiden speech in which he proclaimed: "High hopes brought this Parliament into being. We will make it a Parliament of high endeavor."

He had been full of fine plans in those days. For one thing, the lumber men were to have higher wages. "We got them another 10, did a week," he says, "and then the State sacked some of them."

"We looked forward to the debates on unemployment and agriculture and the mines," he adds, "and spoke from the back benches when the heavy guns were at dinner."

He was twenty-three in those days. Now he is twenty-five, and wiser. His hopes have faded.

He thought he was going to play a large part in changing England and the Empire. Instead of this he is spending his time answering letters issued by organizations ordering us

- (a) To vote for humane slaughter of beasts. (b) To vote against it. (c) To open cinemas on Sunday. (d) To close them. (e) To prohibit sweepstakes. (f) To extend them.

He has about reached the conclusion that all effort is futile, and that the world is on its way to perdition.

Some of us who are older can tell him from our own experience that he is now at the age of greatest discouragement. We, too, came into life full of determination to see things right instantly. We were frankly critical of the bungling of our predecessors. There should be no more mistakes and no delay!

In a couple of years we, too, were in the depths of despair, deeper depths than we have ever been in since.

It is not clear to any human mind just what is the whole purpose and plan of human life. But two things are reasonably apparent.

First, it does not seem to be any part of the program to have the millennium come quickly or easily. Gain is won only as a result of sweat and blood, and time.

Second, as we get older we see more clearly how destructive it would be if all the good ideas of youth were allowed to become immediately effective. The first two Great Reforms in whose service I myself labored were both successful. I think now that both were bad mistakes.

So in our later years we give up the idea of a quick millennium. Some of us do it in deep discouragement. Others say: "I cannot lick the world, but there is one part of it I can lick, namely, myself. I'll see what I can do with that."

It's a good sporting proposition. And who knows? Maybe the spread of that simple idea is the real plan.

The FAMILY DOCTOR by JOHN JOSEPH GAINES M.D.

SPEAKING OF TEETH

I doubt if anyone ever fully appreciates his or her teeth quite so much as when they have just been all extracted by the dentist. When the victim struggles through agonizing days, trying to "break it" a new set of artificial teeth he remembers what a treasure he has lost in his natural teeth; if it were to do over again, he'd treat those native molars and incisors with a great deal more respect than he did when he had them.

The modern advice as to care of the teeth is plenty voluminous; the ether-wave sizzles with the cry of the charlatan. The hawk merclessly besets you with his sugar-coated nostrum, and wise columnists hand you tooth-theories, sophistries and "isms." These and many more, why should I add my bit? Well, common sense at this time may not be amiss.

There is no law on God's green earth that requires obedience as to how often you should see your dentist, or how often a man or child should apply a nostrum to any part of the mouth, gums, teeth or throat. Just the simple, well-known admonition: Be clean, alert against any harmful practice—and consult your dentist at the first symptom of rebellion in the dental region. There is no minimum or maximum on your visits to the tooth doctor; go when you need his services, be it one, none, or twenty times a year.

Continual and senseless scrubbing of the teeth is highly capable of doing grave harm; many a case of pyorrhea has been set up by the use of septic tooth brushes; the enamel of your teeth was not put there as a field for exploitation by the swarm of nostrum vendors that infest the land. Nature gave us about all we need in food-elements for keeping the teeth clean. Look for them and use them—and don't believe everything you hear.

Gazipp—In the two miles between Hickville and Bantown I drove by 18 hot dog stands.

Gazipp—You don't mean to infer that you stopped at all the others?

Mother—Tommy, take your estor oil before you go to bed.

Tommy—No, I won't take it tonight!

Mother—Tommy, you're impudent!

Tommy—No, I ain't, Ma, but the bottles empty and the drug store is closed for the night.

Algermon—Eusebia, what is it your father sees in me to object to?

Eusebia—He doesn't see anything in in you, Algermon; that's why he objects.

Oysterstuff—Did you hear that young Dr. Bitterdose has made his mark already?

Fogg—Why, that's extraordinary.

Oysterstuff—Not so very. You see, he vaccinated a baby.

Friend—Don't you know that Spend-alot is simply marrying you for your money so that he can pay his bills?

Giddle—Nonsense! Why, he never thinks of paying his bills!

JOASH CHEST AT M. E. CHURCH

Many Persons Are Expected to Take Part in the Processional

When old King Joash, of Jerusalem, facing financial problems in connection with the repairs of the Temple, solved his problem by the simple device of a wooden chest with a slot in it for the receipt of gifts placed beside the altar he little knew that he was fathering a device which, centuries after, was to pay church debts, raise deficits, collect large funds for new churches and generally attract interest in the religious world.

Sunday there will be displayed in the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church, Palmyra, such a chest, that has been used all over this country. It was used first in the Wesley Church in Worcester, Mass., to clear a mortgage of $50,000, and is used there as a regular part of their church program each year. From there this chest has been loaned to churches until over half a million dollars in contributions have been placed in it.

The organizations of the local church have been working diligently to make their contributions to this fund and each member of the church is asked to share in this occasion of rejoicing and victory. That there be no embarrassment there will be at the end of each pew, women who will act as pew hostesses and direct the procession. Each one is expected to take part and will be given an envelope to share in this occasion of rejoicing and victory. That there be no embarrassment there will be at the end of each pew, women who will act as pew hostesses and direct the procession. Each one is expected to take part and will be given an envelope to share in this occasion of rejoicing and victory. That there be no embarrassment there will be at the end of each pew, women who will act as pew hostesses and direct the procession. Each one is expected to take part and will be given an envelope to share in this occasion of rejoicing and victory.

Sunday, November 22, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty" (Psalms 104: 1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own" (I Corinthians 6: 19)?

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When you say, 'Man's body is material,' I say with Paul, 'Be willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.' Give up your material belief of mind in matter, and have but one Mind, even God; for this Mind forms its own likeness" (p. 216).

"THANKSGIVING" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Thanksgiving Day, November 26, 1931. The Golden Text is: "In every thing give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (I Thessalonians 5: 18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the Lord be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servants" (Psalms 35: 27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To those learning on the sustaining infinite, today is big with blessings" (Pref. vii).

COMPANY H PLANS REUNION IN 1932

Three Original National Guard Companies of Burlington County Will Meet April 24

Preliminary arrangements are being made for a reunion of the three companies of the old 3rd Regiment, National Guard of New Jersey, which became Company H of the 114th Infantry. Company H was composed of Company M of Burlington under command of Edward B. Stone; Company E of Mount Holly under command of then Captain James F. Long; and Company G of Ocean City under command of Captain John Ely.

After arriving at Sea Girt in June, 1917 these companies were sent to Camp McClellan at Aniston, Alabama where the reorganization took place. Here they became a part of the Blue and Gray 25th Divisions under command of Major General Charles G. Morton, which distinguished itself in the fighting in the Argonne north of Verdun in October, 1918.

It is planned to hold the reunion on April 24th, 1932, this being the 15th anniversary of the organization of Company M which was organized and sworn into service in seventy-two hours.

The committee having charge of the reunion is composed of William H. Ahlson, of Mount Holly; Francis J. Morris, of Burlington; George F. Griffith, of Florence and Ernest F. Bennett, of Edgewater Park.

TWO COUPLES INJURED

Two Jobstown youths and two Mount Holly girls were injured when their automobile struck a pole on the Marine highway at Ranocosa Park shortly before midnight Monday. The driver, Malcolm Tighman, 20, escaped with a few scratches. His companion, Earl Reed, 19, lost several teeth and had to have several stitches taken in his lips. Physicians at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Mildred Lippincott, 18, suffered cuts on the head and a sprained ankle and is in the hospital. Ruth Eckman, 19, was cut on the head and legs.

Several F.T.A. members were present at the request of their children, a pleasing sign of interest.

IMPORTERS 1615 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Maude S. Ridgway, of Pemberton, district deputy of the O.E.S., will pay her official visit to Covenant Chapter, Mrs. Elizabeth Moffitt, worthy matron, of the local lodge, urges a large attendance.

Mrs. Amelia Wood, of Philadelphia, Miss Mary Kemmerle, of Ventnor, Mrs. Raymond Weber, of Rosbling, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemmerle, of Riverside, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kemmerle, of West Broad street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Rupp, of Harrisburg, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Stuckey, of Hershey, Pa., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCamy and family, of Highland avenue.

Rene Edwards underwent a tonsil operation at the Tenet University Hospital, on Monday of this week.

Mrs. C. A. Hines, of Washington avenue, who is well-known in Palmyra and Riverton for her faithful work in Welfare Circles, underwent an operation in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, on Thursday of last week. At the last report Mrs. Hines was said to be getting along very nicely.

Mrs. A. C. Giberson was tendered a surprise reception in honor of her birthday on Friday of last week. Mrs. Giberson's three daughters and their husbands were present. They are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. George Seenderling, of Tacony; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kline, of Chestnut Hill; and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Lawson, of Mt. Airy, Pennsylvania.

Cinnaminson School Notes

The supper on the twelfth was well patronized, and although the final accounting has not been made, the Association feels satisfied that its financial resources for the year are assured.

Tuesday morning assembly in school No. 2 was augmented by several grades from No. 4, as an exhibition of glass blowing was offered by a couple of artists.

The substances from which glass is fused and colored, were explained in an instructive manner, the talker evidently having an understanding of children, especially the very little ones. Various beautiful and amusing objects were made by one of the blowers, while the delighted children watched the process. A skin of spun glass seemed the most wonderful.

Several of the pupils were invited to assist in the blowing, which they did with varying success.

Finally, small souvenirs were left to be distributed among the classes.

The replacement of the markers giving the names of the streets, many of which have been broken, was discussed, and the Mayor suggested that the signs at the three entrances of the borough be replaced with more attractive ones or taken down altogether.

Suggests Rounding Off Corners

And the subject of street markers brought to the mind of Mr. Albertson another matter which he said he had been considering for some time, and that was the acute angle at which automobiles must enter Broad street from Lippincott, Thomas and Linden avenues. He pointed out how difficult it is to negotiate the turn without running well into the middle of Broad street. He suggested a remedy that these corners be cut back to a twenty-foot radius. He also said he would like to see advantage taken of the preferred parking space on Main street which could be secured by cutting back the sidewalk in front of the Collins' property.

The report of the building inspector showed operations amounting to $1,540, and fees of $3.50.

The Poreh Club extended an invitation to the Mayor and Council to attend the meeting on "The meaning of Regional Planning to Riverton" and Burlington County on November 24.

Police Report

Director of Public Safety DeLaney submitted the report of the police department for the month, which included two arrests and convictions for driving while intoxicated, and one car owner fined for allowing a driver to operate his car while intoxicated; six cases of petty larceny, one arrest for carrying concealed deadly weapons, one for disorderly conduct, and several automobiles reported stolen from other towns.

John Spargo, Assistant Commissioner of Elementary Education, gave a splendid address on "Progressive Education"; stressing particularly the need of different educational methods today. Twenty-five years ago people were scoffed at for believing that cars and planes would be in common use. Back with the old horse and carriage goes the old method of teaching which would totally unfit the child of today, who, more than ever, must stand on his own feet.

He spoke of how they now have several authors' interpretations of history or geography to learn from in a classroom instead of one, as in the past. Many have been misled into thinking so called "modern" methods of teaching were permitting too much freedom and not enough discipline. Progressive Education is freedom to work—not freedom that produces license.

"A Child Again"

Mr. Spargo concluded his talk saying that he was most interested to see the child who would have the benefits of these methods during his entire elementary education—and one felt after hearing his inspiring message that they too would like to have the opportunity of going back to start all over again.

Mrs. Bradford Stetson's P.T.A. Chorus led the singing and the lovely duet solo rendered by Mrs. L. R. Turner and Mrs. R. S. Rivers with Mrs. M. G. Belknap as accompanist, was a charming touch to the afternoon's program.

Many members took this opportunity of paying their dues, and Mrs. H. K. Rutherford reports a total of 166 to date. Kindergarten mothers are to be congratulated as they turned out in the largest number to this meeting and so won for their class a lovely plant.

After the meeting adjourned, tea was served by Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr.'s, committee and girls from the Domestic Science Class.

LEON A. SEVER, LEHIGH VALLEY COAL DEALER

Serves Wide Area With Quality Fuel; Business Has Grown Rapidly

GIVES GENEROUSLY TO WELFARE SERVICE

Concerns of standard reliability are of great value in developing and promoting general business and resources of our community...

Leon A. Sever, Incorporated, whose retail coal and coke business is located at Broad street and River road in Palmyra...

They have followed this line of business for many years past and have invariably made it a point to observe those commercial policies and principles which would safeguard and promote the interests of those who avail themselves of their trade service...

They specialize in Lehigh Valley anthracite coal, noted for its long heat producing qualities.

Following its generous policy of last year, in helping to alleviate the unemployment situation, the Sever organization has announced that for the week of November 23rd, Leon A. Sever, Inc., will contribute to the Community Welfare Association of Riverton and Cammannon Township...

This drug store is spacious and comfortable, and is provided with every convenience and presents a neat, hand some and attractive appearance...

Competent and trustworthy clerks are employed and nothing is left undone to render prompt service and complete satisfaction. Mr. Blankenbush is a member of the Lehigh Valley Association of Merchants and is also a member of the Lions Club in Merchantsville.

FRIDAY SERVICE ALL-INCLUSIVE

Plumber Also Offers Heater Work, Roofing in His Activities

The present-day plumber is responsible for the conditions of sanitation which exist in modern homes, inasmuch as he has developed and installed sanitary measures that have rid the civilized world of pestilence and epidemics to a major degree.

Probably the services of this fraternity are not appreciated as they should be. Competition is keen in the trade, but the individual who offers a service of the type which Mr. George Friday, 609 Thomas avenue, is virtually certain of his standing in the community.

Mr. Friday launched his business on its own career last January, but his experience extends to pre-war days when he became associated with the plumbing business and learned the many intricacies connected with it.

Plumbing, heating and roofing are all a part of his service. Household repairs have found his work in all lines. Mr. Friday is not the type of man who is willing to sit idly by and watch the old world progress.

He has an enthusiasm and interest in new developments within the trade and includes in his business those that prove themselves to be satisfactory.

Mr. Friday is actively engaged in many civic and social enterprises in and about Riverton, and holds memberships in the Men's Club and the Odd Fellows. He began his career in the plumbing and heating business in 1914 as an apprentice, and has been associated in that field in Riverton for the past fifteen years.

During that time, he has won the confidence and complete support of everyone he has had the pleasure of doing work for, through untiring efforts and innate ability.

THRU THE EYES OF THE PRESS WITH SIDNEY A. SILBERMAN

STAVELY-BUILT HOME MEANS PROUD OWNER

Palmyra Contractor, Builder of Hand-some Residences; Established for 17 Years

In nothing does the average family take more interest than in planning and working for the time when they shall possess a home of their own, built according to their own desires and to their own standing as a community.

Much of the pleasure in building a home depends on securing the services of a competent contractor whose experience fits him best to work out the individual ideas of the owners to be.

Curtis E. Stavely, contractor and builder, of 16 West Charles street, Palmyra, is the type of contractor in whom one can place the maximum of confidence, for his 17 years of experience with all types of construction has amply justified him for his chosen work.

Mr. Stavely has established an enviable reputation for integrity and fair dealing with a large clientele of satisfied home owners in this vicinity, who are as one in proclaiming his ability to fulfill the most exacting contract in a prompt and efficient manner. A Stavely contract is a guarantee of the best materials only, and insurance structure erected with promptness and efficiency.

M. B. CROMWELL LEADER IN FIELD

Palmyra Paperhanger, 22 Years In Business Meets Wide Demand

Not only the proud home-owner, but the casual visitor as well, is impressed by the true home atmosphere which is maintained by M. B. Cromwell, who has devoted 22 years of his life to making the homes of his neighbors attractive and enjoyable.

Mr. Cromwell, whose long experience in the paperhanging business has made his name known to the residents of Palmyra and vicinity, carries a complete line of samples of famous wall papers, including the well-known Avon products, for the selection of prospective clients.

By giving prompt service, using only the best of materials in his work and by executing any job he turns out, Mr. Cromwell has gained the esteem of a large clientele in this territory, whose homes include some of the finest in this and surrounding communities.

Mr. Cromwell is an active member in the Odd Fellows and the Artisans.

EDWIN FISH IS FINE PLUMBER

Palmyra Business Man of Note Is of Great Aid to Householders

Mr. Edwin Fish, who has been engaged in plumbing in Palmyra for the past fifteen years, has another and decidedly interesting phase to his activities.

In addition to giving personal attention to his business, Mr. Fish finds time to devote much thought and labor in religious fields.

With Mr. Fish religion is a 24-hour-a-day, 7-days-a-week matter, and he is guided by this belief in all of his activities, temporal and spiritual.

Mr. Fish is an active member in the Full Gospel Church in Camden and is superintendent of the Sunday School there.

Of great aid to the health of the nation has been the appreciated activities of those who are engaged in the business of plumbing and heating. Modern and scientific kitchens and bathrooms as well as comfortably heated homes and weather-proof roofs have done much toward improving the living conditions of the world during the past few decades.

Prominent among those men engaged in this business in this territory is the well known Edwin Fish, whose place of business is located at 413 Garfield avenue, Palmyra. Associated with Mr. Fish in the conduct of his business is his brother-in-law, Walter Shappell. The business has been in existence for the past fifteen years.

The fine character, pleasing personality, and display of business integrity of Mr. Fish, has done much to increase his business. He has a host of friends and satisfied customers who will offer testimonial as to the type of work which he does. The community in which Mr. Fish lives has been very fortunate to have a man of his type to do the plumbing and heating work in their homes.

Now Receiving Orders for Delivery for Thanksgiving Day Feast

One of the prominent business factors in this section is the bakery conducted by Mrs. Bertha Hahn, located at 113 W. Broad street, in Palmyra. For many years past Mrs. Hahn has been engaged in baking and distributing a wide and varied line of cakes, pies and bread, and enjoys the prestige and satisfaction of having built up a large and successful business as a result of strong and progressive management.

Quality of product and quality of service have been the essential elements in securing for Mrs. Hahn her high position in the trade and few concerns engaged in the same line of business are more favorably known. Those who have dealt with Mrs. Hahn since her entrance into the baking business have always had the satisfaction of knowing that they would be supplied with a reliable and high quality line and it is not surprising, therefore, that each succeeding year has brought her her greater popularity with her patrons.

The Hahn Bakery is equipped to bake anything to order for social functions of all kinds. At present they are receiving orders for pies, which they will be pleased to deliver in time for the Thanksgiving Day feast. A wide assortment in addition to the seasonal pumpkin and mince flavors is offered.

MISS E. B. RUDDEROW ACTIVE IN REALTY

Business Woman is Registrar of Vital Statistics, Handles Insurance and is Notary Public

The importance of a reliable real estate service is too well known in any progressive community to deal at length with the various features which make this field of endeavor one of the most valuable aids to modern business. Riverton has always been well equipped with firms and individuals skilled in the intricacies of property transfer and rentals.

Although this highly competitive field is rather unusual for a woman to enter, Riverton has one woman realtor who renders an efficient real estate service and who is enjoying the patronage of an ever-growing clientele throughout this section.

Miss E. B. Rudderow, real estate and insurance agent, who started in business for herself in 1923, previously had an active business career which gained her a wide acquaintance in this territory where her efficiency in the offices of the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company soon became recognized.

A Registrar of Vital Statistics for the borough of Riverton, Miss Rudderow is a notary public. Miss Rudderow has made contacts with the public which have added her materially in her real estate and insurance ventures.

In addition to her realty activities, Miss Rudderow carries a line of fire and wind-torn insurance, a line of standard and reliable companies and this service she offers to residents of the section is well known for its completeness in all details.

LOCAL FOUNDRY IS FORGING AHEAD

Metal Manufacturers Hold Memberships in Many National Organizations

In these days of business stress, the industry which can keep above water and employ a number of local residents is a valuable asset to any community. One of the Palmyra industries which has attained an enviable record in this respect is the Palmyra Foundry Company, on Railroad avenue, in that locality which has been erected at its present plant for a period of 11 years.

This enterprising manufacturing concern turns out all types of work in its highly competitive field, specializing in gray irons, white irons, and high abrasive castings.

Mr. E. F. Thum, president of this organization, has a background of experience of 31 years in the metal industry. With him in the Palmyra company are the following officers: R. T. Thum, treasurer; George Schmidt, secretary; and Charles S. Muir, sales manager. The firm holds membership in the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club.

In its own field, the Palmyra Foundry Company is nationally prominent and noted for its broad business policies. It holds membership in the Metal Manufacturers' Association, the National Foundrymen's Association, the Philadelphia Foundrymen's Association and the New Jersey Manufacturers' Association, in all of whose activities members of the firm play an active part.

OLD MILL BANDIT CAUGHT Albert Rumford, of Philadelphia, who saved his way out of the Camden jail last August, was caught again last weekend in New York. Rumford was one of the four gunmen who were apprehended by State Police last June while they were contemplating a hold-up of Old Mill Inn, near Palmyra.

SCOUTS AND DADS 'PALS' WIN OVER ON WEEKEND HIKE BORDENTOWN HIGH

Mystery Message Dated 1777 Found by Boy Scout Lends Excitement to Party

The Riverton Scouts of Troop 50, Burlington County Council, held their thirty-fifth hike over the weekend. Thirty-five boys and twelve men attended, including seven dads. The hike was an even greater success than the first Mystery Hike, and the mysterious part of it went much further than a mere matter of a secret camp site. A full report of these doings has not been made by the Troop, but there are many vague rumors running around Riverton which would be calculated to make any boy envious of the members of the troop who attended.

It has been announced, however, that a faded and tattered letter was found in the cabin at the camp by one of the scouts. This letter is now on display at Keatings. As nearly as can be made out the letter reads about as follows:

4th January 1777 To General Washington Hqrs. Valley Forge.

Sir: As Your Excellency commanded I attacked ye British paymaster I captured ye gold Dobbloons he had of ye shippe at Tucker Town on ye ice in ye De La Ware River. A araked aye MacGregor Castle in ye County of Donegal captured by me. I have sent ye gold Dobbloons to ye ruins of "MacGregors Castle" shadowed in the woods, compass bearings, pacing of distance, dignify a human skull, mysterious noises, etc. For the rest, the troop is not "putting out" information.

As to the rest of the camping trip, all who went on it pronounced it a huge success. As usual the food was of the best, and the sleeping accommodations most comfortable for both scouts and dads.

On Sunday morning church service was held by Mr. Elmer Hahn, newly elected Riverton Councilman, who had two sons present.

All three groups broke up into three groups. Some of the leaders and other boys went off to explore for a possible future permanent camp site for troop fifty. They hiked for miles over cranberry bogs and through wild country.

The second group hiked to a nearby hill for a view of the countryside. The third group returned to the scene of Saturday night's adventure to explore the ruins of Mr. MacGregor's home by daylight.

Another feature of the day was an interesting talk by the warden, who has turned out with the one idea of seeing them trained for life, or outright annihilated, every time either has been hooked. So far, the tough birds have escaped destruction, but now, with them scheduled to meet each other in what will prove a final test, one of them is bound to get plenty of experience.

This match is scheduled for 90 minutes, best two out of three falls to win, and the winner has been promised a shot at Gus Sonnenberg the following Monday, when the grappler will do their grappling and growling for the benefit of the Camden Elks Crippled Kiddies' show, which Promoter Grip is supervising.

The three supporting bouts will see three favorites returning to the local mat, Carlin, Johannessen and Montana taking on opponents in the first, second and semi-final bouts, respectively. Montana, who got a fairly popular draw with Johannessen last Monday, comes back in the 45-minute bout to tangle with Al Buffert, newcomer from Jersey City.

The first bout introduces another stranger in the person of Curley Donchan, 168-pound Jewish grappler from Jersey City. He meets Johnny Carlin, the durable Swede, over the half-hour route.

REALTORS LEARN 1931 FORECLOSURES WILL DOUBLE THOSE OF 1928

Realtors from many communities in Burlington county convened at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, on Monday evening, November 9, for the regular monthly dinner meeting of Burlington County Real Estate Board.

Leon E. Todd, a member of the board and a past president of the state association, filled to perfection the role of host.

Interesting statistics on the subject of mortgage foreclosures were brought to light when it was disclosed that the number of foreclosures in Burlington county in 1931 is expected to be more than double the number in 1928. In that year there were 120 foreclosures; whereas there have been 232 sheriff's sales of real estate in this county during the first ten months of 1931.

These statistics reflect a condition that is general throughout the country at large, and the subject of "foreclosures" is being carefully studied by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, with a view to discovering ways and means of correcting the cause of foreclosures, and at the same time to encourage home ownership.

Last Saturday's Scores

Palmyra 13, Bordentown 6. Burlington, 20; Mount Holly 18.

The Palmyra High eleven won a close battle against Bordentown High Saturday afternoon on the Palmyra High School field. The Palmyra team took over the visitors to the tune of 13 to 6.

The "Pals" scored once in the first and third periods, while the "Bordentown" filled their lone touchdown in the final quarter.

A forward pass from Lenker to Moffitt good for 10 yards, the latter running twenty yards, resulted in Palmyra's first score with the extra point also being registered on a pass from Lenker to Reynolds.

Palmyra's second and final touchdown was turned in when Lenker intercepted Lucas' pass and ran 30 yards to place the piskin on the 20-yard line. After two line bucks, the score resulted with Lenker passing to Reynolds.

Bordentown tallied its lone touchdown in the final quarter when Dorr intercepted a pass from Lenker, on Palmyra's 30-yard line and evading the home team's secondary defense raced the entire distance for a touchdown.

Touchdowns—Dorr, Moffitt, Reynolds. Point after touchdown—Pass, Lenker to Reynolds. Substitutions—Bordentown—Gardner for Bodine; Donahue for Sitzer; Trautman for Davis. Referee—C. French, Penn State. Umpire—Hornor, Muhlenberg.

TOUGH BOYS TO MEET IN CAMDEN MAT BILL

Jack Gannon and Charles Leahman Meet in Elimination For Non-tenberg Bout

It's always fair-weather, when good fellows get together. Granted, but now the question looms—what kind of weather is it when the other kind of fellows get on a party? Or, if you don't your leads will more definitely what kind of a ruckus is in the offing for next Monday night, on the Camden mat, when Jack Gannon and Charles Leahman come to grips, elbows and feet? Each is well known and cordially hated throughout this entire section, and the odds all along have turned out with the one idea of seeing them maimed for life, or outright annihilated, every time either has been hooked. So far, the tough birds have escaped destruction, but now, with them scheduled to meet each other in what will prove a final test, one of them is bound to get plenty of experience.

MT. HOLLY POST OFFICE LOSES IN FIRE CO. DISPUTE

Thomas R. Quay, vice-president of the Union Fire Company, Mount Holly, last week received a letter from the Post Office Department at Washington, D. C., settling a controversy which developed over an incident which occurred at a fire a year ago, when the authority of the local fire police to divert a mail truck from its regular line of travel between the railroad station and the Mount Holly post office was questioned.

The letter contains the following: "Instructions contained in Postal Guide, July, 1931, page 82, paragraph 28, read in part as follows: 'Mail carriers have no authority to trespass upon private property, and the postal laws give them no special rights or privileges as to the use of public roads. The law prohibits any willful interference with the performance of the postal service, but such prohibition does not authorize them willfully to interfere with the rightfull use of public roads by other parties.'

"It appears from the facts as presented by you that the messenger should have made the detour in question."

IMMIGRATION OFFICER RELATES OF 'DEALING IN HUMAN HAPPINESS'

Charles V. Mallet, of the U. S. Immigration Service, who has been connected with the department since 1908, told Moorestown Rotarians in an interesting talk at their regular weekly luncheon meeting in the Community House last Thursday afternoon. "I have been connected with the agency dealing in human happiness for twenty-six years."

After citing reasons for the annual 150,000 quota, Mr. Mallet pointed out to the high winter mark for immigration. He said that in 1904, before United States passed its immigration law, immigrants numbered more than a million and a half poured into this country.

The idea that large companies should exact a promise of naturalization from immigrants is putting a premium on citizenship which Mr. Mallet strongly disapproves. He did, however, say that every employer should require a certificate of arrival from foreigners before giving them a job.

The speaker also attacked Communism. He methods and apparent spread in this country. It is un-American in every detail, said the inspector and should be curbed.

PALMYRA'S BIG RED AGREES TO DISBAND

It has been mutually agreed by the members of the squad and staff of the Palmyra Big Red football team that they should cease action for the remainder of the season.

The squad has lost every game played in Palmyra and believes it best to stop before losing more. The receipts from away games and the advertising and dance revenues, collected by Lawrence Betty, enabled the team to pay all bills and still show a balance.

The team shows a score sheet of two wins, two defeats and three scoreless ties for the season.

POOL TO CLOSE

Improvements to be Made; Reopens in January

Due to the work being done at the Moorestown Community House it has been found necessary to close the swimming pool for the remainder of the season.

The pool will not be reopened until all the work on it is completed. If the work program is completed as planned the pool should reopen in January.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, written to familiarize motorists with the rules that govern their conduct and increase their safety on the highways.

1932 REGISTRATIONS

Each year it is necessary to remind motorists of the arrival of the period of registration of motor vehicles for the following year. For some reason, to be discovered only by exploring the recesses of mob psychology, it is necessary to add the admonition to make application for new registrations and driver's licenses early. Gradually the advantage of making early application is being impressed upon the consciousness of the driving public, but there still are many who delay until the last minute, throwing tremendous and unnecessary burden on the clerical forces of the license agencies during the last week of the year.

Beginning this year the period is extended. Heretofore, application could not be made until November 15.

The Legislature at its last session sanctioned advancing the date to November 1. This week, therefore, motorists are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain registration under comfortable circumstances, avoiding the long delays unavoidable if they wait until the end of December.

Simplified Blanks. Elimination of some of the questions formerly asked has simplified the application blanks, and this should speed up registration work. For those who have purchased cars since July 1, when the new bill of sale law went into effect, a number of additional questions must be answered if your car was purchased before July 1 you need pay no attention to these questions, which ask information on bill of sale, abstract number, name of seller, classification, new or used, and owner's security title.

Those registering cars owned prior to July 1 must of course, fill in the usual mechanics as to name of car, year, model, type, color, engine number, horsepower, number of cylinders, make of application, traffic violations, accidents and accidents. Questions eliminated include those referring to equipment, name of headlight device, type of wheels and purchase date.

Correct Address. Among the changes in the driver's license application form is one relating to address. The applicant is now required to give the location at which he is living at the time of filling out the form. Applicants have often given addresses other than that at which they are living, making it difficult to locate them. No longer will the applicant be compelled to answer questions on this subject to speak, read or write.

English, impairment of eyesight or hearing, and knowledge of motor vehicle and traffic acts. The answers to these questions are of little value in appraising the applicant's right to a renewal. Since the original requirement in the examination is that the applicant at least be able to sign his name, and since at that time he must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the inspectors his familiarity of the law, these questions on renewal application blanks merely slow down the work of the agencies, without compensating advantages.

Putting it all briefly: Applications for registration and driver's licenses are now being received. Plates for 1932 may be used beginning December 15. Please do it now!

A Living Shrine of Perpetual Beauty

Superb Masonic Memorial, Lakeview Memorial Park, in Camden Township, three miles north from the point where the Palmyra Bridge Road crosses the Burlington Pike. The beautiful and imposing Memorial is made of white marble throughout. It is a fine Colonial Architecture in the Masonic Order. Under its high arches and perfect design the columns stand. Some conception of its magnificence may be obtained from the fact that the height of the monument is thirty feet. The steps leading up to the Memorial is a symbol of Masonry. Around the base of the dome will be inscribed the names of the Order. The Memorial alone will cost upwards of $25,000.

DEDICATED TO SACRED MEMORY OF MASONS

THE need of an exclusive Masonic Block in Lakeview Memorial Park is without question. Burial space in Camden and vicinity available to Masons exclusively is entirely inadequate and Lakeview would be incomplete without making the necessary provisions for Masons and their families.

This Memorial is a private enterprise not sponsored by any Masonic body, whatever, but dedicated exclusively to Masons.

Use of lots in the Masonic Block at Lakeview Memorial Park is restricted to Master Masons or members of the Eastern Star, but any member of the family may be buried there.

Present pre-development prices are the lowest at which purchases in Lakeview Masonic Block can ever hope to be made. A convenient monthly payment plan is provided for those who wish to take advantage of it.

The complete story of the Masonic Memorial for Lakeview Memorial Park is told in a beautiful brochure which will be mailed to you upon request.

REALIZATION OF BEAUTIFUL IDEA

Lakeview Memorial Park Expresses Modern Ideals in Burial

The realization of a beautiful idea has been achieved in the development of Lakeview Memorial Park, on the Burlington Pike, in Cinnaminson Township. This Memorial Park is the latest instance of the modern desire for a lovely sanctuary for the deceased—a Garden of Memories—where the bereaved may find the solace of peaceful reminiscence in the midst of exquisite surroundings.

No longer are unsightly and somber tombstones wanted to suggest the inevitability of death, but simple, imperishable bronze plaques lying on the ground in the form of burial park allow the beauty of the natural environment and the occasional architecture to tell that the deceased still live on elsewhere.

While this is by no means the first of this type of project, as there are about three hundred of them throughout the country, still Lakeview Memorial Park will for a long time remain unsurpassed in the entire country. A huge measure of credit is owing Francis B. Wallen, the president of the organization for the efficient guidance of its destinies.

An enterprise leader in this worthy enterprise, Roy A. Ramey, as director of sales, has himself brought to consummation several other similar projects in large cities throughout the United States, and the latest one, when ultimately completed, will embody all known advantages and profit by his experience in this field.

This organization is expending a half million dollars in the enhancing of no less than one hundred acres of land. This site will be dotted with dignified structures that will blend most esthetically with the natural beauties of the scene. There will be a Memorial Chapel that will be non-sectarian. An innovation of surprising loveliness in its conception will be the relative of an open courtyard, Sunday afternoons, throughout the entire park by means of concealed amplifiers. An impressive Masonic Memorial will serve to recall the memory of deceased Masons, and a Legion Tower of Chimes will be devoted to the American Legion's heroes.

Besides, there will be imposing administration and horticultural buildings, rest pavilions, and artistic fountains scattered through the park. Charming bridges will span a spring fed stream, whose waters, in turn, will be diverted into a chain of picturesque lakes. In short, no landscape or architectural detail will be omitted to make of this final resting place a thing of infinite beauty.

The advisability of securing these choice lots now cannot be too highly emphasized as they represent an investment that is unmatched for complete security. For the title to them is insured free and clear of all incumbrances by the West Jersey Title and Guaranty Company of Camden. Perpetual care of the sites is assured through a permanent endowment fund, as to further safety, it is well known, cemeteries rarely fail, nor are they subject to attachment of any sort.

General business conditions, taxes, assessments, the usual risks attendant on realty investments—all these do not affect in any way this wise provision for the future. A particular advantage in this case, is the possibility of realizing the cash value of a part of one's site, if necessary. And now is the time to invest rather than later, inasmuch as the present pre-development price is a mere fraction of the usual cemetery property value.

Too, the future improvements at Lakeview Memorial Park will force the management to advance the prices later, which are so moderate now. Other considerations, not so generally appreciated are these, that there is a legal limit to the lands that can be devoted to burial purposes, and the demand for desirable sites such as these superior ones, grows with the population increase.

That many individuals are cognizant of these facts and are acting on them is graphically proven by the fact that already 500 lots have been purchased during the first month of lot sales alone. Such a worthy development assuredly merits widespread public support as it redounds so greatly to the gratification of many individuals.

MAN FACES 4 CHARGES; CAR HIT MAIL CATCHER
Edward Cotton, of Washington street, Mount Holly, faced four charges when he appeared before Recorder Joseph C. Kingston last week. They were the result of his automobile striking a mail catcher at the Hartford railroad station, near Masonville. After the accident, William H. Mason, justice of the peace and officer of that township, endeavored to place Cotton under arrest, but he resisted. The officer went to Mount Holly and had a warrant issued for his arrest, charging him with an attempt to evade arrest and disorderly conduct. He refused to show the officer his registration cards and his driver's license had not been signed. The latter two charges were suspended, but a fine of $5 and costs were imposed on the disorderly charge and Cotton was held under bail for court on the attempt to evade arrest charge.

Edward Cotton, of Washington street, Mount Holly, faced four charges when he appeared before Recorder Joseph C. Kingston last week. They were the result of his automobile striking a mail catcher at the Hartford railroad station, near Masonville. After the accident, William H. Mason, justice of the peace and officer of that township, endeavored to place Cotton under arrest, but he resisted. The officer went to Mount Holly and had a warrant issued for his arrest, charging him with an attempt to evade arrest and disorderly conduct. He refused to show the officer his registration cards and his driver's license had not been signed. The latter two charges were suspended, but a fine of $5 and costs were imposed on the disorderly charge and Cotton was held under bail for court on the attempt to evade arrest charge.

The High Point Memorial in High Point Park, the highest promontory in the state of New Jersey. High Point Park is the gift of Colonel Anthony R. Kuser, who once used it as a mountain summer home. The park consists of more than ten thousand acres and the point on which has been erected the High Point Memorial stands 1,827 feet above sea level. One may look into three states from either the monument or the veranda of the State House. The pretentious building now known as the State House was formerly Colonel Kuser's home, and at the present time it houses a museum. This part of the country, according to some historians, was settled close to two hundred years ago, although an exact account of the first coming of the white man has never been uncovered.

JOHNSON TO OFFER PLAN FOR BUILDING CAMDEN C.A.C. HOME

Members of the City Athletic Club of Camden have received invitations to attend a banquet given by Eldridge Reeves Johnson, of Moorestown, honorary president of the club, at the Whit Whitman Hotel, Camden, next Monday evening, November 30. According to the invitation from Mr. Johnson, the banquet is being given "in the interest of the City Athletic Club of Camden."

It is understood that Mr. Johnson will offer a definite proposal for the early building of the club's proposed home at Camden.

Red Cross Roll Call

The Red Cross Roll Call, which is now being carried on, should have the hearty cooperation of the nation, as the Red Cross is called on for all kinds of help in emergencies that require the services of persons trained in caring for those who have suffered from great disasters, and there is nothing that makes a wider appeal than the kind of things that are done by the Red Cross.

If the burden of supporting it is properly distributed, the amount contributed by each one need not be large, and it is highly important that the whole community take part in the work of the Red Cross. The annual collections are spent in relieving suffering.

To meet the cry of distress, the American Red Cross has been set up as the official agency of disaster relief—truly National, not only by its Congressional Charter and Presidential proclamation, but by its democratic form of organization, the extent of its support and the widespread character of its service.

Constant readiness for emergencies is only one reflection of Red Cross faithfulness. The Red Cross works 365 days in the year and the demand continues to grow. It is America's answer to the cry of human need. The Fiftieth Anniversary Roll Call should bring increased membership, to meet its ever increasing work. Keep the Red Cross ready and able to meet any emergency.

JEWISH WOMEN WILL MEET AT BURLINGTON

Burlington County Section will have interesting session on Tuesday, December 8.

A regular meeting of the Burlington County Section, Council of Jewish Women, will be held Tuesday evening, December 8, at the Burlington Synagogue.

Those who attended the last meeting enjoyed a rare treat listening to Dr. Palmer of Mount Holly speak on the cause of wars throughout the ages, and Rabbi Leibrich, of Trenton, on good will among all peoples.

At the next meeting, Mrs. David Dubinsky, of the Juvenile Aid Society in Philadelphia, will be the guest speaker. A seasonal playlet by the Sunday School children will be presented, and Mrs. Kimmelman will act as hostess.

Please make every effort to attend.

LIQUOR VIOLATORS FINED IN CO. COURT

Five Burlington Men Face Judge Charles A. Rigg on Various Charges

Three drivers of liquor-laden automobiles were fined heavily last week morning when they were arraigned before Judge Charles A. Rigg in Special Sessions Court and pleaded guilty to the indictments returned against them two weeks prior by the grand jury. A number of other cases were also disposed of by Judge Rigg in a very busy session of court.

The three liquor carriers were Charles Burke, 2810 East Second street, Camden; Frank Wheatley, of 106 Johnson Place, Belmar; and Stanfield Winters, of 430 South Lexington street, Merchantville, and all three pleaded guilty to charges of transporting and possession of liquor in Bordertown township on September 25. They were fined $250 each—$125 on each charge—and the fines were paid.

These men were arrested by Sergeant Cox and Trooper Acker, of the Columbia road section, of liquor in their cars, on April 20, Andrew street, Camden. Frank Wheatley, of 106 Johnson Place, Belmar, and Stanfield Winters, of 430 South Lexington street, Merchantville, and all three pleaded guilty to charges of transporting and possession of liquor in Bordertown township on September 25. They were fined $250 each—$125 on each charge—and the fines were paid.

Retracting his former plea of not guilty and pleading non vult to a charge of breaking entering, and larceny at the home of Michael Huddy, near Reebing, on April 20, Andrew street, Camden, was committed to the Railway Reformatory for an indefinite period. Frank J. Pinto, also of Trenton, and similarly charged, pleaded non vult in three months. These men are charged with having entered the Huddy home about midnight on April 20 and taken a large quantity of clothing, clocks, watches and a radio. The total value of the goods taken being about $700.

RECOUNT FAILS TO GIVE DOWNING JOB AT MAPLE SHADE

A recount of ballots cast for the post of tax collector of Maple Shade failed to change the result last Friday despite the fact that Henry A. Downing, Republican and defeated candidate, gained four votes. The recount was held before Supreme Court Justice Joseph L. Bodine at the instigation of Downing, who charged that election boards had made an error in tabulating the returns.

Downing was defeated by Willard Emery, Democratic candidate, who obtained 815 votes, 16 more than his Republican opponent. Downing's total was increased to 803 by the recount while Emery's vote remained the same.

REWALT SHINN HEADS COUNTY LEGION BAND

Rewalt Shinn, of West Broad street, was elected commander of the county American Legion Band at a reorganization meeting in Memorial Hall, Burlington, recently.

A number of important plans were discussed at the meeting, including the consideration of purchasing new uniforms and a proposal to increase the size of the band from 35 to 40 pieces. Officers other than the commander were chosen as follows: Harry Burbank, Mt. Holly vice commander and business manager; Harold del. Phillips, Burlington, director; John Collins, Lumberton, assistant director; Percival Sholl, Burlington, finance officer; Thomas Dye, Burlington, secretary; Madison Whomsey, Burlington, assistant drum major; Nichol Vendetti, Burlington, librarian; Milton Chambers, Mount Holly, supply sergeant.

P. S. DECLARES DIVIDENDS

The Board of Directors of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey meeting in Newark on November 17, declared the regular quarterly dividends on its common and preferred stock payable December 31 to stockholders of record as of December 1. The dividends are: 85 cents a share on the outstanding no par value common stock; $2 per share on the eight per cent cumulative preferred stock; $1.75 on the seven per cent cumulative preferred stock and $1.25 on the no par value $5 cumulative preferred stock.

IMPORTANT TRIFLES

Custards water when they have been cooked too long at too high a temperature. Custard should be set in a pan of hot water and baked in a moderate oven about 40 minutes, or until a silver knife will come out clean when thrust in the center of the custard. Meringues on pie fall when they are baked too quickly or at too high a temperature, or when there is not enough sugar in the egg white. Allow two or three tablespoons of sugar for every egg white, and bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees, for about 20 minutes.

"DON'TS" THAT WILL CUT YOUR GAS BILL

Home service departments of the gas companies in New Jersey are still engaged in demonstrating to home owners the proper way to use gas for cooking and heating. Much of the heat available in the use of manufactured gas is wasted by improper utilization in the kitchen, and considerable saving may be effected by observing the following "Don'ts" given by the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

Don't light gas under a cooking utensil until ready to proceed with the cooking and don't leave it lighted when finished. Don't keep burner turned up high when water has begun to boil. Don't heat more water than is needed. Don't leave cooking utensils uncovered. Don't let burners get clogged with grease. Don't waste hot water through leaky faucets or careless closing of faucets. Don't let the insulation on hot water tanks fall off, or become impaired.

STATE P.O.S.A. QUILTS ITS NATIONAL CAMP; FEDERATION PLANNED

A special meeting of the State Camp, Patriotic Order Sons of America, held recently at Trenton, was attended by 272 delegates, representing seventy-five camps from various parts of the state.

The delegates had been called in special session to consider a proposition to withdraw from the National Camp, due to the expense attached to the membership of the latter, and the New Jersey organization after much debate, decided to discontinue affiliations with the national organization.

To replace the national organization there is a movement on foot to establish a Federation of State Camps by the units which have withdrawn from the national body.

XMAS SEAL SALE TO START FRIDAY

Advance 25th Anniversary Orders Already Delivered, Mrs. Hollingshead Reports

Advance orders of Christmas Seals were delivered before Thanksgiving to firms and organizations for use on statements mailed before the first of the month or to individuals who desired to send presents to friends at a distance, although the official Seal Sale period is from Thanksgiving until Christmas.

"This practice which we have followed for several years is permitted by the contract between the National Tuberculosis Association and the Red Cross," said Mrs. Daisy S. Hollingshead, chief of the Seal Sale. "As the Red Cross Seal Sale begins on Thanksgiving Day and ends on Thanksgiving Day, it is very necessary to guard against over-lapping."

Mrs. Hollingshead explained that there is no official connection between the Roll Call and the Christmas Seal Sale. The first nation-wide Christmas Seal Sale was sponsored by the Red Cross in 1906. For a number of years following, the Red Cross conducted the sale and turned over the funds raised to the National Tuberculosis Association for use in its work of disease control and health education. They are no longer "Red Cross Seals" and the double-barred cross in their design is the Laurate Cross, the emblem of the International Tuberculosis movement.

This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the seal and the fiftieth anniversary of the Red Cross. Although the anniversary falls in a difficult year we are confident the public will continue their generous support of both organizations.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

We note with interest an article just published to the effect that the Masonic Order in the United States will raise a $10,000,000 fund to sponsor a five-year program to develop engines and planes to bring the speed record back to this country. England now has the palm with a speed of 400 miles per hour. Now watch for some startling developments.

While we are not interested in magazine circulation, we would like everyone to read an article published in Liberty under date of November 26, 1931. Major General James E. Fechet, Chief of Air Corps, is the author of a most excellent item on air transportation.

Major Jimmy Doolittle is through flying for the winter. Jimmy will be at the controls of his desk in the offices of the Shell Petroleum Corporation for the next few months while his Laird racing plane is being completely overhauled.

The Air Corps has used the robot pilot on quite a few ships but just recently Eastern Air Transport very successfully tried out the automatic pilot in one of the Curtiss Condor planes flying between New York and Washington. After taking the ship in the air the human pilot throws the automatic pilot in control and the two gyroscopes keep the ship on an even keel and on its true course.

Roy Minter, of Jobstown, recently solved his new ship at the Moorestown Airport. Now that Roy can play around in his fast Waco "F" you can look for him to start his milk deliveries by air most any day.

giving the customer just a little finer service than anybody else in the neighborhood can offer is the only secret of business success. Many merchants have the single aim of giving good service to the public, but the firm or individual who gives a better service is the winner in the end.

Notable among successful firms in this vicinity whose management keeps it in the van of the business progression is the Community Ice Co., Inc., ice manufacturers and distributors and coal and coke dealers, of Riverside.

At the Community plant, located at Harrison and Franklin streets, Riverside, the company has in operation one of the newest and most costly devices used in the coal business, the ultra modern shaker screen, a motor-driven agitating screen which removes all breakage before the coal is delivered to the consumer. The operation of this mechanism insures only the cleanest coal getting into the delivery truck and means full measure of heat value for every pound of coal purchased. The Community Company takes great pride and justly, in being the only coal concern in this part of the country using such an expensive device.

The Community Company handles the famous Jeddo-Highland Premium Coal and Koppers' Coke.

Godwin Werlin is president of this enterprising concern, and the other officers are: George Reeves, vice president, and Robert Anderson, secretary and treasurer. The Company is a member of the Riverside Board of Trade and the South Jersey Ice Manufacturers' Association.

WOMAN IS LEADER IN REALTY FIELD

Mrs. E. B. Mahn, of Riverside,
Also Insurance Expert of Long Experience

It is not many years since the entrance of women into certain fields of business activity caused no little stir in many otherwise progressive communities, but today many of those same women are offering quality merchandise or expert services that compare with any that the menfolk can produce, and they are recognized accordingly. The business woman is a figure in the modern community and frequently is equipped with a human understanding that her male competitors find hard to equal.

Of this type of modern and successful business woman is Mrs. E. B.
Mahn, real estate and insurance expert, located at 207 Pavilion avenue, Riverside, whose long career in a real estate office was directed with the establishment of her own business eighteen months ago.

In the years she was associated with Thomas L. Wilkinson in the real estate field, Mrs. Mahn developed expert knowledge of property values in this section, while her acquaintance with the insurance field in this territory has fully equipped her to take care of the property owners' needs in that line. Mrs. Mahn emphasizes insurance service of all kinds and has excellent connections with some of the leading companies in this important field.

In addition to real estate, insurance and mortgage interests, Mrs. Mahn is a member of the board of directors of the Progressive Building and Loan Association at Riverside and is convinced for that enterprising institution.

ALBERTSON'S SERVICE STATION IS POPULAR FOR TIRE REPAIRING

No more enterprising nor rapidly-expanding concern has appeared in any field than the modern automotive service station whose proprietor expectations at all times to keep ahead of the business progression by developing new forms of service.

The complete tire service rendered at the station of William H. Albertson, Broad and Linden avenue, Riv-erton, has long been appreciated by discriminating motorists who find their tire problems easily solved at this establishment.

Mr. Albertson's service includes all repair work by expert craftsmen and a special vulcanizing service which guarantees the personal guarantee of the proprietor. Mr. Albertson also does a thorough job of greasing autos with the well-known high-pressure system and this department of his service station has attained an enviable reputation with local motorists and those from surrounding territory.

Mr. Albertson, who has been a resident here for 25 years, has himself been established in business for himself for a period of eight years in the same location, and has built up an enviable reputation for fair business dealings and prompt and reliable service.

At the present time, this enterprising service station proprietor is prepared to service cars for winter driving, with the proper lubricants, radiator alcohol and the nationally-advertised Prestone.

SIDNEY ASHLERMAN
A Chronology of Men Who Have Achieved Success

SANITATION FIRST AT WALKER BARBER SHOP

In these days of modern scientific progress in disease prevention by every possible antiseptic precaution, it is satisfying to note that the modern barber is giving special attention to the sanitary arrangement and equipment of his well-lighted shop, and is adopting every new means of guarding the public health in preventative measures against the transmission of contagious skin afflictions.

The fact is that discriminating customers today refuse to patronize the unsanitary shop, and some barber shop proprietors, realizing this most important phase of their business dealings, are far in advance of what is demanded by various state and municipal laws in precautionary measures.

One of the finest and most sanitary barber shops in this section is that operated by W. Earle Walker, at 205
West Broad street, Palmyra. Mr.
Walker, who will soon complete his second year in serving the community of Palmyra, acquired the establishment formerly operated by John P.
Saar, last April. He has 25 years of tonorial experience.

During his stay in Palmyra, Mr.
Walker has built up a loyal clientele of steady patrons who find in his shop not only expert services and the best of equipment, but also that spirit of friendliness that makes the barber shop one of America's most popular institutions. Mr. Walker is well known for his broad policies and his first-class business establishment is a credit to the community.

RIVERSIDE'S BOND
MARKET FAVORED

Three times a day Uncle Sam and his vast family sit down to the table without giving much thought to the intricate system that has been built up throughout the land to bring to that table the finest products of farm and garden.

In this tremendous organization and acting in a highly competitive field are thousands of business men whose sole aim is to serve the public, and serve it well—in fact, just a little better than the other fellow in the same line.

Prominent in this section among the many successful firms catering to the American table with fine food products is the Bond Quality Market, located at 20 Scott street, Riverside, operated under the ownership and capable management of Frank Wenof, who has had 15 years of experience in handling meats and poultry.

Although Mr. Wenof specializes in the meat and poultry line, his popular Riverside market house has many departments, one of them devoted exclusively to a fine line of delicatessen and another handling high-class butter and eggs. Certain standard lines of groceries are also carried in this enterprising establishment. A delivery service is another feature popular with Riverside housewives.

It is to such institutions, this business survey finds, that much of the community advancement of this section is due, by reason of its contributions in the cause of progress and this newspaper joins with its other neighbors in wishing for this firm greater and continued success.

ter and eggs. Certain standard lines of groceries are also carried in this enterprising establishment. A delivery service is another feature popular with Riverside housewives.

Mr. Wenof, who has been at his present location for a period of ten years, also takes an active interest in civic affairs, and is a prominent member of Riverside Kiwanis.

Turns Out Quality Products for Use in the Textile and Spinning Mill Trade

In almost every community there is one firm, industrial or commercial, whose enterprise in its own field marks it an outstanding success, and whose employment of local labor and purchases in the local field greatly increase the life blood of that community in circulation.

Especially is this true of any large manufacturing concern upon whose business advancement the community depends for large contributions to the municipal pocketbook in the form of taxes, and many citizens rely upon it for very livelihood.

An outstanding concern of this type, noted in its own field for the quality of its products and locally as a valuable asset to the community where it makes its home is the Atlantic Paper Tube Co., Rancocas avenue, Delanco, which is favorably known throughout this territory for the broad policies which have made it one of the most successful firms in its line.

This company, operated under the capable management of R. H. Gerhart, secretary and treasurer, was formerly known as the Consolidated Paper Tube Company, and was organized in 1915, and was for a number of years located at East Riverton.
Its output of paper tubes is designed for the textile and spinning mill industries.

It is to such institutions, this business survey finds, that much of the community advancement of this section is due, by reason of its contributions in the cause of progress and this newspaper joins with its other neighbors in wishing for this firm
greater and continued success.

CHRISTMAS CLUB CHECKS

In a few days banks all over the country will be distributing checks to Christmas Club depositors. And perhaps at no time in recent years will these checks bring more joy and happiness than right now. For many they will mean the difference between a cheerless Christmas and a happy one.

These Christmas Club dollars can be made to do double duty if they are distributed among local merchants and business men, so far as possible.

For a dollar spent at home the purchaser receives directly the value of the thing purchased, and indirectly benefits by the circulation of that dollar in the community.

The butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker all get a share, and a part of it finds its way into the local churches, schools and municipal government.

This same dollar spent out of town is of no benefit to the community in which the spender lives. He receives the value of his purchase and nothing more.

The merchants have prepared special offerings which they are advertising in this issue. Will you cooperate by inspecting their wares and buying from them what you can?

A $60,000,000 BRIDGE

Another wonder of the modern world has been completed and dedicated to the use of man—the new $60,000,000 George Washington Bridge linking New Jersey with New York City, which is the greatest suspension span ever erected, 3,500 feet long.

It is suspended from two giant towers 635 feet high, these towers requiring 40,000 tons of steel. On the New Jersey side the cables are anchored to the solid rock of the Palisades, on the New York side they are held in place by a block of masonry weighing 260,000 tons. There are four cables weighing 28,450 tons each.

During the first 24 hours after the bridge was opened to traffic more than 60,000 automobiles passed over it. It is estimated that not less than 60,000,000 vehicles will cross the bridge during its first year of operation.

This great and useful structure is a monument to the skill of its designer, O. H. Ammann, 52, Swiss-born chief bridge engineer of the New York Port Authority, who came to this country at the age of 25 and is now a naturalized American citizen.

SCOUTS TO HOLD COURT OF HONOR

Counsellors Invite All Parents To Attend Service at Lutheran Church

The Boy Scouts of Palmyra will hold their winter Court Of Honor Thursday evening, December 3, in the First Lutheran Church at eight o'clock.

These Courts are held under the supervision and direction of the Boy Scout Counsellors of Palmyra. The Counsellors would be pleased to see the father and mother of every Palmyra Scout present on this occasion, and also every man and woman who is interested in Scouting.

The Courts last for only one hour and in charge feel that surely the parents of every boy can spare that much time to give the youths the credit which they so richly deserve.

This Court will be composed entirely of the Eagle Scout Organization of Burlington County. A Court of Honor composed entirely of these young men is an entirely new procedure. An investiture service will also be held on this occasion.

Scouting is advancing at a rapid pace in Palmyra and the troops are receiving new boys almost constantly. This increase in membership is due to a large degree to the untiring efforts of the Scout masters and assistants scout masters, who are always planning and working for the welfare and recreation of their troops.

More troops could easily be formed in the town, but more men are needed who are interested enough in Boy's work to lead a helping hand. The Counsellors Association asks and urges all fathers in this vicinity to aid with the task of helping the boys.

Plans are now being laid for Boy's Week, during the month of February and it is the earnest desire of the Association to make this a week never to be forgotten by the boys of the town.

The Counsellors' Association asks the Dads to lend the Lads a hand.

PALMYRA COUPE SKIDS, OVERTURNS ON RIVERTON RD.

A large coupe, driven by Fred Toms, 19 Henry street, Palmyra, was considerably damaged when it skidded and overturned on Riverton road, at Tom Brown road, on the outskirts of Moorestown, Sunday shortly after noon.

Toms luckily escaped with only slight injuries. He was cut about the ear. The right side of his machine suffered the most, being damaged at most beyond repair.

Moorestown police investigated, but no arrests were made.

A fender on a sedan driven by Herman J. Calhoun, 614 Butler street, Riverside, was damaged in the only accident in Moorestown during the past week. Calhoun's machine was struck by a coupe driven by Walter Jones, Williamstown, as Jones was pulling away from the curb on Main street just east of Mill.

Officer Walter A. Erickson, of Moorestown, was called on the scene of the accident, but no arrests were made.

ANNUAL W. C. T. U. FAIR AND SUPPER PROVES TO BE FINE SUCCESS

The annual fair and supper of the Moorestown Women's Christian Temperance Union, held in the Community house last Thursday proved to be its usual popular success.

An excellent fried oyster and chicken salad supper was served and the various tables were well-patronized.

The next meeting of the union will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Hubbard Cooper, of Haddonfield road, on Tuesday, December 8, at which time there will be an exhibition and sale of work done by the students of the Daniel Oliver Mission, in Syria. This exhibition will be in charge of Miss Julia Carpenter.

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES OF CO. TAX UNIT ENTERTAINED

The 15 directors of the newly organized Burlington county unit of the New Jersey Tax League, were hosts at a dinner meeting to the local representatives of the league unit in the several municipalities of the county Tuesday evening. The affair was held in St. Andrew's parish house, Mount Holly. State Commissioner of Accounts Walter R. Darby, of Westfield, Union county, was the principal speaker.

Next Sunday is the beginning of the Advent Season—that is, the period of spiritual preparation for the Christmas festival. The coming of the Lord marked the beginning of a new era in the world's history; and if He can only come more fully into the lives of people today, it will mean the transforming of this world into the Kingdom of Heaven. The sermon next Sunday morning will be on the theme, "Greeting the Dawn of a New Day." In the evening the message will be on "Reflex Action."

Friday and Saturday evenings of this week the Dramatic Club will present their play "Let's All Get Married," in the Church Basement. This is a play that is sure to be very enjoyable, and the public is cordially invited to patronize it.

Next Tuesday the Ladies' Aid society will hold its monthly meeting. They will meet at the home of Mrs. H. W. Bauer, 615 Maple avenue, with a covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock, followed by a social time and the business meeting. For the second hour, the ladies will bring ten-cent gifts which they will exchange as Christmas tokens. The business meeting will be very important, as election of officers will be held. A full attendance is desired.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECHROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 29, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye caused to be dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name; I have not sent them, saith the Lord." (Jeremiah 23: 8, 9)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him." (James 1: 12)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Resist the temptation to believe in matter as intelligent, as having sensation or power" (p. 218).

TIPAY MOTORIST GETS 30-DAY JAIL SENTENCE

Charged with drunken driving, William Hunter, of Bridgeton, is in jail at Mount Holly serving a 30-day sentence imposed Sunday night by Burlington Police Recorder J. Leedom Smith. Hunter was arrested on the state highway near Burlington by Troopers Oscar Johnson and Joseph Arrango, of the Delanco barracks. Arraigned before Smith, Hunter pleaded guilty and was sent to jail in default of payment of a $200 fine and costs.

POOL CLOSED DURING CONSTRUCTION WORK AT COMMUNITY HOUSE

Due to the construction work in and around the Moorestown Community House, it has been necessary to close the swimming pool until all improvements and changes have been made.

The builders are already at work on the additions in the pool room and the locker rooms. A new ventilation system is being installed; there will be greater locker facilities for the men, a new locker room for the women and a railing is being placed around the pool to separate the spectators from the swimmers. New sterilization equipment is also being added.

With the reopening of the pool, Charles L. Juliana, who is in charge of the swimming activities, is planning a big swimming carnival in which many of the well known swimmers in this vicinity will participate.

Pals Beats Burbs

Last Saturday Palmyra scored a great victory over Burlington High, a Class A school, by the score of 13-0. Burlington was formerly the chief rival of Palmyra and has ruled supreme in county scholastic football circles the last few years.

The brilliant kicking and passing of Lenker, big Palmyra fullback, was one of the outstanding features of the struggle with Burlington. Captain Moditt and Reynolds each brought down a pass for a touchdown and were consistent ground-gaugers.

At the beginning of the third quarter Burlington opened up and with Morgan, Pink and Jones smashing the line, worked the ball up to Palmyra's 15-yard line. On the fourth down and about five yards to go, the unexpected was pulled. Conway tossed a lateral pass from center to Jones. The latter scampered 15 yards for the score.

Sonnenberg, Pojello and Zarynoff To Appear on Convention Hall Mat In Elks' Krippled Kiddies' Show

It is one thing to pass the hat for a contribution, and quite another to sell you so much for your money that you feel the other fellow, and not you, is the contributor. This latter is just the stunt the public is called upon to face next Monday night when the Camden mat at Convention Hall will see four such sensational bouts as have rarely been seen on one mat in one evening.

The main bout, of 90 minutes' duration, best two out of three falls, will bring together Gus Sonnenberg, ex-champion of the entire world, and Jack Gannon, who came through last Monday night with flying colors against the rugged Charlie Leahman. Jack will have a number of pounds and a few inches on the ex-king, not to mention several shades of meanness and roughness, so with all this advantage in his favor he is regarded as a potential victor over the former Dartmouth grid star.

FAIR NABBED IN GEORGIA RETURNED TO MOUNT HOLLY

Irving Jobs and his wife, Elsie Davis Jobs, were returned to Mount Holly last Friday after an alleged flight from here two weeks previous on money raised by passing forged checks. They were brought back in custody of County Detective Clinton Zeller.

County authorities allege the woman escaped from a state institution to which she had been committed by Judge Charles A. Rigs. Jobs and his wife are said to have reached Woodbine, Ga., in a stolen automobile which they wrecked against a pole. When Jobs asked two men in another car to give him a lift they kidnapped his wife. Jobs complained to the police and his identity was discovered.

On the grounds that in 1912 his wife poured a potful of coffee down his neck, George Gillis, of Matawan, N. J., has filed suit for divorce.

"BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS"

RIVERTON B. S. A. HARD AT WORK

Hikes, Welfare Work and Activities to Headquarters Among Activities

The past week has been a very active one in Troop 50, Boy Scouts of America. The Riverton Scouts turned out in a body Saturday morning, under the leadership of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, William Shoemaker, 3rd, to distribute circulars for the Welfare Association. Every house in Riverton was visited by a Scout in uniform. This was the Troop's contribution to the welfare drive, and saved the association much postage.

The troop has a new Assistant Scoutmaster, R. L. Hutchinson. Mr. Hutchinson has had long experience in camping and outdoor activities, and it was largely through his expert handling of the commissary department that the two Mystery Hikes were so successful.

The patrols have continued their patrol activities the past two weeks. The Eagle Patrol took advantage of the Armistice Day holiday by taking a hike to the site for a patrol cabin, leaving at eight o'clock and returning under command of Patrol Leader Wolfshmidt. Only one scout was absent. Except for time out for lunch, the day was devoted to work on a patrol lean-to or cabin, and much progress was made in spite of some difficulties.

The Lion Patrol, whose members call themselves "The Invincible Lions," also took a hike on Armistice Day. The met the Wild Boar Patrol near Moorestown and joined forces. After an active day of hiking, the two patrols raced one another home to Riverton. It was a dead heat.

The Wild Board Patrol continues to hold at least two patrol meetings a week in addition to the troop meeting on Friday night. Incidentally the attendance at Troop Meeting last Friday was 100 per cent. The part of this patrol. At the patrol meeting a patrol flag in the regulation patrol colors was made, also a bulletin board bearing the patrol insignia. Work on the patrol den was continued. Most of the members of the patrol are graduates on Africa and on the Antares.

The Riverton Boy Scout Parents Association is now fully organized. Clifton E. Mayfield is chairman, Mrs. Gilbert A. Coe, secretary, and the executive committee consists of two members, Eleanor Sordan, Dolores Hiddle, Beatrice Muse, Mildred Cook, Flora Browne, Abbie Shoemaker, Marie Haines, and Katherine Conwell. Beatrice Muse substituted for Adele Conwell.

The aquarium in 4B room has been the center of attraction for the last week. They never thought the little gold fish had a rudder and a propeller. The graceful swimming of the fish was noticed for the first time, the pilot was seen to pump the supply oxygen and not for beauty alone. The lone snail has a duty all of his own. Those who wished drew pictures of a fish, marking the different parts of his body.

SEMPER FIDELIS ANNUAL OUTING

Pictureque Banks of the Delaware is Scene of Gay Festivities at Taylor Cabin

The Semper Fidelis Bible Class of Calvary Presbyterian Church held their annual fall outing on Saturday. The charming Taylor Cabin on the banks of the Delaware was the delightful site for the picnic. There were forty persons who sat down to a table filled with toothsome "eats" and decorated with a massive turkey and pumpkins. This date being also the wedding anniversary of two members of the class, Mrs. Martin J. Welsh and Mrs. Parker T. Barnes, a surprise was sprung on these ladies and their husbands. To the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played on the violin by James Shockey, of Riverside Park, these two couples marched round the room and were remarried by James Davidson, of 1191 Garfield avenue, Palmyra. Confetti was showered upon them and they were presented with a number of beautiful gifts.

After the supper, games were indulged in by the entire party, after which the beautiful view from the cabin overlooking the river was thoroughly enjoyed by every one—and then a trail of cars homeward bound brought to a close a perfect outing.

CINNAMINSON P.T.A. NOTES

The Music Committee of the Cinnaminson P.T.A. has been practicing old songs, and on the evening of December 2, will give a Costume Concert, in School Number Two.

The P.T.A. boys and talent from Moorestown will assist.

While it has been a joy to meet and sing, it is hoped by charging a nominal admission, to help the Music Loan Fund get established last year.

This fund was so very helpful and loans were met so wonderfully, that the Association is encouraged to increase the offered aid this term.

The Sub-primary class under the supervision of Miss Stewart, visited the Millside Dairy farm last week. As usual on these visits they were kindly welcomed, and the cows, calves, milking and bottling were all interesting to the small visitors, and when each was given a small bottle of milk, and a button with the name of the Dairy, their bliss was complete.

The family of Don Gonzales of Salta Town, Argentina, were delighted with the serenade by four youths until they awoke the next morning to learn that their entire flock of hens had been stolen.

SCHOOL NURSE NOTES

Miss A. Kay Green, school nurse, attended the State Child Hygiene Conference at Elizabeth on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week. The theme of the Conference was "Welfare and How the Nurse Could Assist Her Own Community."

The Baby Keep-Well Station has been well attended. On November 18 thirty-three babies visited the clinic. This does not take the place of the regular visit to the family physician. A healthy baby means a happy school child and a successful man or woman.

We are about to organize a Mothers' Helper League. The purpose of which will be to help girls of the seventh and eighth grade to understand the rules of health and care of babies. At the end of ten lessons each girl will receive a diploma from the State Department of Health.

Riverton School Notes

In social studies the class was studying the life in a manor. For a special project Betty Bailey wrote a play called, "Life in The Manor." It was given in the auditorium on November 20. Virginia Nichol arranges the copy of the play so that it could be printed on the ditto machine. Olive Jones then made the ditto copies for each member of the cast. Metty Bailey made the scenery with the help of Mrs. Gilliam and Virginia Nichol. Those who had parts in the play were: Harry Turner, Harold Baker, Erle Kline, John Lane, Clifton Mayfield, Benjamin Ray, Doris Vaughn and Charles Rader.

On November 16, the girls of the Riverton School hockey team played Palmyra. The Palmyra girls won 1-0, but the girls put up a good fight and many times had the ball within inches of the goal but could not score. Last Year Riverton beat Palmyra 3-0 so both teams have won a victory. At a meeting of the hockey team, Gene Stover was elected Captain of the team. Abbie Shoemaker, and Katherine Conwell were elected cheer leader. The girls who played on the team were: Gene Stover; right inside, Jane Rutherford; right wing, Wetula Barker; left inside, Adele Conwell; right wing, Dorothy Wolcott; center half, Helen Rech; right half, Olivia Steiner; left half, Betty Baker; fullbacks, Julia Washington, Olive Jones, goal, Virginia Nichol. The subs were Eleanor Sordan, Dolores Hiddle, Beatrice Muse, Mildred Cook, Flora Browne, Abbie Shoemaker, Marie Haines, and Katherine Conwell. Beatrice Muse substituted for Adele Conwell.

Dr. C. S. Poling Will be Speaker at Annual Meeting in Marlton December 11

Many members and friends of the Christian Endeavor are expected to attend the annual banquet of the Burlington County Christian Endeavor Union to be held in the Community Hall, at Marlton, Friday evening, December 11 at 7 o'clock.

The speaker will be the noted Dr. Charles S. Poling, of Bloomfield, who is famous among the youth of the entire state.

The attendance shield will also create much interest in the societies at this time.

The local presidents are in charge of reservations, (60c per person) which must be made well in advance.

STOUT HONORED

Friends of County Leader Tender Testimonial Banquet

A testimonial dinner was given Freeholder Charles R. Stout, chairman of the Burlington County Republican Committee, by more than 50 of his leading supporters of Florence and Roseland.

The dinner was at the Mansion House, Fieldsboro. Stout, as a guest of honor, gave the principal address of the meeting. Others who spoke were: Freeholders William Heister, James McCormick, Howard Russ and J. Lloyd Wright, the other members of the county freeholder board.

Freeholder Stout, who has been in public life for many years, declared he was always learning new ways of serving his constituents. He declared efficient public work is based on the willingness to serve and the ability to solve the changing problems of constituents and to cope with them successfully.

"In my endeavors to serve our county," he told his hosts, "I am continually learning to provide efficient government at the lowest possible costs. I feel I am much better equipped today to cope with these problems than I was when I first took office, but I know, as most public officials have learned, that service to one's county is continually calling for new decisions, and decisions that must correctly be based upon a background of public work. And may I add that I wear the same sized hat now as when I first took office."

Freeholders Stout and McCormick were re-elected by a substantial Republican majority in the November election. Burlington county was one of the few in the state that gave David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate, a majority.

Edward Keshner, of Florence, was toastmaster at the dinner.
