The following numbers are apparently a related group: 2483-ab, 2495-ab, 2500-ab, 2501-ab, 2502-ab, 2504-ab, 2505-ab, 2509-ab, 2519-ab, 2520-ab, 2521-ab, 2522-ab, 2523-ab, 2564-ab. All have similarly lettered titles on the negative. They are undated except that they were made "prior to 1894." My suggestion is that they represent Chato's delegation of 1886, but definite proof is lacking. Mrs Eve Ball states that Noche (2495-a,-b) was a member of Chato's delegation. Information as to whether others in the group, including the 3 women, were or were not members of Chato's delegation would be welcome. ; This delegation mentioned pages 190-92, Betzinez and Nye, I Fought With Geronimo, Harrisburg, 1959.

This visit to D.C. mentioned pages 190-92, Betzinez and Nye, I Fought With Geronimo, Harrisburg, 1959. ; Identified as Rogers Toclanny by Jason Betzinez and Fort Sill Apaches 1958. As seen in this picture, Toclanny was known as almost the only Apache with a mustache.-- Information from Gillett Griswold, U.S. Army Museum Fort Sill, letter of April 4, 1961. Apparently the titles on Negatives 2485 and 2486, taken at same time, were inadvertently switched when the original datalog record was made.

This visit to D.C. mentioned pages 190-92, Betzinez and Nye, I Fought With Geronimo, Harrisburg, 1959. ; Identified as Rogers Toclanny by Jason Betzinez and Fort Sill Apaches 1958. As seen in this picture, Toclanny was known as almost the only Apache with a mustache.-- Information from Gillett Griswold, U.S. Army Museum Fort Sill, letter of April 4, 1961. Apparently the titles on Negatives 2485 and 2486, taken at same time, were inadvertently switched when the original datalog record was made.

Under date of January 8, 1946, Dr Stirling wrote Parker T. Jarvis: "...As a young man, Geronimo, of course had the typical black hair and dark brown eyes of the Indian. At the time this photograph was taken his hair was gray, and his eyes a faded brown. I do not know for certain the color of the clothing worn in the picture, but apparently the garments are black, and the scarf may have been red or black.

Apparently he is wearing an overcoat with a black velvet collar." Our photographers advise that the ribbon he is wearing appears to be red, white, and blue. The ribbon on which the medallion is hung is probably black or blue, and the medallion itself probably gold.

Also called Fred Lookout. Honga (sacred) gens. Carlisle graduate. Delegate to Washington, 1898. Home: Osage Reservation, Oklahoma.

Department of the Interior Information Service. Bureau of Indian Affairs. For immediate release August 30, 1949. Death of Osage Chief Lookout. William Zimmerman, Jr., Acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs, today sent a telegram of condolence to Mrs Julia Lookout, Pawhuska, Oklahoma, wife of the nationally-known Osage Chief Fred Lookout, who died in Pawhuska Sunday. Mr Zimmerman's telegram is as follows: "Please accept my deepest sympathy. Chief Lookout dedicated his long life to the best interests of his people, was well as to the best interests of other Americans. His memory willng be treasured by all those in our nation who cherish character, high integrity and devotion to the betterment of our fellow men. "Mr Lookout was 88 years old. He had been Principal Chief of the Osage Indians since 1924, and was serving his eighth term as the most prominent official of the tribe at the time of his death. ; Chief Lookout grew to manhood in the ways of Oklahoma's early frontier. Born in 1861 in the camp of the Little Osage Band on the Neosho River, Osage Mission, now St Paul, Kansas, he was a member of the Eagle Clan; and his Osage name when translated means The Little Eagle Who Gets What He Wants. He was the son of Eagle That Dreams and is said to have inherited the qualities of leadership from his father who united the two families of the Osage Indians into one group in order to preserve their interests during the beginning of their settlement in the Southwest. Chief Lookout was educated at the Carlisle Indian Training School, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and White's Quaker Institute, Salem, Iowa. Elections for Chief, Assistant Chief, and Tribal Councilmen are held every four years, but in case of death the Tribal Council itself determines the successorship in accordance with provisions of the Osage Act of 1929.

Born 1837. Delegate and councilman, Oto and Missouri tribes, 1891. Civil War veteran. Home: Oto and Missouri Reservation, Oklahoma. ; Levi Bloyd, Vice President, Jefferson County Historical Society, Fairbury, Nebraska writes (November 19, 1955): "...Whitewater was a murderer under the whiteman's law, but under his own peoples law he surely wasn't considered such. He murdered two white men here in the early 1870s while they were still on the reservation here. He served quite a stretch in the [Nebraska] prison and was pardoned July 4, 1889. The chiefs whom I ask you for pictures [Medicine Horse], Little Pipe, Baptiste Deroin] made a trip to Fairbury to keep peace with the white people while they were also trying to find Whitewater to turn him over to the whiteman's law."

Original oil painting in USNM Collection (on loan to NCFE 1948-present), 22" x 16", Cat. Number 312679, gift from Mrs Cushing in 1920.

Wm. Dinwiddie. Photo. lettered in lower left corner of print from which glass plate was made. "Oil[?] portrait by Thomas Eakins - Phila. (about 1895)" inked across top of negative in D. L. Gill's handwriting, and original negative jacket reads, "...from portrait by Thomas Eakins, Phifi aap4049 about 1895." However, this appears to be erroneous cf. pencilled note by MCB on old catalog card for group of negatives numbered PORTRAITS 22 and 23-A: "USNM acc. papers show this portr[ait] is by Thos. Hovenden. For Thos. Eakins' portrait (Brooklyn Museum) see reprint in BAE-A biog. file from The Mentor September 1928, page 51." ; Signed on Cushing's lower left sleeve, "Hovenden, 1890" (does not show in photographs).

Woman at right is Katalsta, daughter of Yanaguski, "Drowning Bear," head chief of the East Cherokee about 1838. Information from caption of this photo, reproduced in Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collections (right half only), 63:8 (SI-EEW for 1913), figure 60, page 62, "Among the East Cherokee Indians of North Carolina." (re Mooney's field work). Holmes, 20th AR, Bureau of American Ethnology, page 53, 56, mentions Mooney's 1888- or 1890 visit to Cherokee, and prints information received from Mooney re Cherokee pottery making. Gives names of three Cherokee women potters as Uhyunli, 75 years of age, Katalsta, about 85 years of age, and Ewi Katalsta, daughter of the last named, about 50 years old. Negative copy from film by James Mooney, 1888 ? Right half only - reproduced in Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collections, 63:8 (SI-EEW for 1913), figure 60, page 62 re Mooney's field work.

This picture same as 1034-a-2, of series dated on catalog card as 1900.

According to Glen Luidemon, following the Nez Perce War of 1877, the Nez Perce eventually were allowed to return to the Pacific Northwest. About half settled with their kinsmen on the Lapwi Reserve (Nez Perce reservation) in western Idaho, and the other half moved to the Nespelem reserve (Colville reservation) in northeast Washington. Chief Joseph and Peo Peo Tholekt settled with this latter group.

This area, and consequently these pictures have been confused with the Cebolleta area, New Mexico. These pictures relate to a ruin or ruins known as Kowina in Cebollita canyon or valley which may have been occupied by the prehistoric Acoma. At Cebolleta in northeast Valencia County was a Navaho settlement and mission, 1746-49. Some maps spell both areas Cebolleta; Rupe and Dittert spell the Canyon with an i and the Mesa with an e--both Canyon and Mesa and in the Acoma area. See Bureau of American Ethnology Bulletin 30: Cebolleta; Bureau of American Ethnology Annual Report 35, Pt. 1 Kowina, pages 10-14. (Field notes by Hodge). ; Arthur Bibo to M W Stirling. March 8, 1954. Box 25, Albuquerque, New Mexico. "On checking some photographs while in Washington, March 2, 1954, at your Bureau, I found some errors made with regard to proper description of locations. These were the photos taken by Vroman in 1900 in the Cebollita Canon in Valencia Co. New Mexico, and some taken by Jesse Nusbaum in the same area 10 to 12 years later. The ruins mentioned as "Old Spanish Mission" erected for the Navahos about 1746 is in-correct. This ruin is in the SE 1/4 of Section 8 of Twp. 7 North, Range 9 West N.M.P.M. at the head of the Cebollita Canon. The tribe: is not Navaho but Acoma. The Acomas call this ruin and the area immediately adjacent thereto as "Kowina". The other ruin in the pictures you have which mention the square walls, is on what we term Garcia Mesa in the Cebollita Canon also, in Section 24 of Twp. 8 North, Range 10 West. ; "Both these ruins are on property I own at present. These two fortified sites, erected about 1150 A.D. or a little earlier according to Dr Reginald Rey Ruppe Jr and Alfred Dittert Jr who did extensive field work in this area and to whom I can refer you, were photographed by Nels Nelson also in 1916. Unfortunately the region is being confused with the town of Cebollita on the Southeast slope of Mt Taylor where a mission church was established by Father Menchero about 1746 tho never built. Dr Ruth Underhill used this mistaken identity in her book "Here Come the Navaho" published by the Dept of the Interior last year." ; Arthur Bibo, Los Pilares Ranch, Cubero, N.M. on whose property this ruin is located gives the location as T 7 N, R 9 W. It is known as the Kowina Ruin. Mr Bibo here 3/2/54.

The ruins mentioned as "Old Spanish Mission" erected for the Navahos about 1746 is in-correct. The Acomas call this ruin and the area immediately adjacent thereto as "Kowina". The other ruin in the pictures you have which mention the square walls, is on what we term Garcia Mesa in the Cebollita Canon also, in Section 24 of Twp. 8 North, Range 10 West. ; "Both these ruins are on property I own at present. These two fortified sites, erected about 1150 A.D. or a little earlier according to Dr Reginald Rey Ruppe Jr and Alfred Dittert Jr who did extensive field work in this area and to whom I can refer you, were photographed by Nels Nelson also in 1916. Unfortunately the region is being confused with the town of Cebollita on the Southeast slope of Mt Taylor where a mission church was established by Father Menchero about 1746 tho never built. Dr Ruth Underhill used this mistaken identity in her book "Here Come the Navaho" published by the Dept of the Interior last year." ; Arthur Bibo, Los Pilares Ranch, Cubero, N.M. on whose property this ruin is located gives the location as T 7 N, R 9 W. Half Irish, half Spanish. Lived with Apache.
The following numbers are apparently a related group: 2483-ab, 2495-ab, 2500-ab, 2501-ab, 2502-ab, 2504-ab, 2505-ab, 2509-ab, 2519-ab, 2520-ab, 2521-ab, 2522-ab, 2523-ab, 2564-ab. All have similarly lettered titles on the negative. They are undated except that they were made "prior to 1894." My suggestion is that they represent Chato's delegation of 1886, but definite proof is lacking. Mrs Eve Ball states that Noche (2495-a,-b) was a member of Chato's delegation. Information as to whether others in the group, including the 3 women, were or were not members of Chato's delegation would be welcome.

Reproduced 42nd Annual Report, Bureau of American Ethnology, Figure 5, with caption: "One of the beds in the Alabama Square Ground as it appeared in the early part of the eighteenth century. From a contemporary sketch. Medicine pots and spoons to right, on ground; gourd rattles to left; flag over the center pole; notched pole or atasa at either end and another pair some distance in from either end; a pole carrying a scalp at the top of each intermediate post; two full-length cane seats below. Near the left end, under the front of the roof, are written the words "Caban de Conseille." From an article entitled "Documents concernant l'Historie des Indiens de la Region Orientale de la Louisiane.," by the Baron Marc de Villiers, in the Journal de la Societe des Americanistes de Paris, n. s. volume xiv, 1922, page 136. Also reproduced by Swanton, Bureau of American Ethnology Bulletin 137, Plate 59 (1), with the attribution, "From a sketch in the French archives reproduced by du Terrage." (Note that of the 3 objects designated by Swanton as gourd rattles, the middle one is probably a conch shell dipper. This reference is OK, except full title is: Documents concernant l'Historie des Indiens de la Region Orientale de la Louisiane. Article contains no reference to du Terrage, as far as I can see. The three documents discussed are from Saurole, Diron and d'Iberville. The letter of Diron is dated 28 June, 1721 and contains a list of the Alabamu villages. Presumably the Alabamu sketch reproduced in Villiers comes from Diron, but I find no reference to it in the Diron text. MCB 10/58. Reproduced in 42nd Annual Report, Bureau of American Ethnology, Figure 5. Also reproduced by Swanton, Bureau of American Ethnology Bulletin 137, Plate 59 (1).

It appears that the references by Swanton in one place to de Villiers and in another to du Terrage are OK but incomplete, since the article in JSAP, n.s., volume XIV, 1922 is cited in Murdock's Bibliography (2nd edition, 1953, page 122) as having been written by M. de Villiers du Terrage.

Negative 947 A: Old Indian Trail, Conesus Lake, New York, 1918

1 Glass negative (Copy)

Notes: NAA INV 9380500 ; OPPS NEG 947 A

This trail leads over a sharply inclined salient into and out of, the lake valley. The underlying rock is horizontally bedded slate covered deeply with forest mould. The lake banks are too precipitous for roadways or even paths in the vicinity and a large detour would be necessary to reach the opposite bank but for this natural salient which shows no artificial grading or structure. This trail has been mapped by some of the earlier explorers and is quite near a well-known battlefield of Colonial times. This photograph was made in 1918 just prior to its destruction by deforesting. Negative copy, 1915.

1 Glass negative (8x10 in)

Notes: NAA INV 9630100 ; OPPS NEG 1824 F

Glass negative found filed in the midst of the Hopi plates (and with an old catalog number in the Hopi series). The plate is in a box of Natacka ceremony photos, with the typed negative number 1824-f clearly attached.

The layout of the photo suggests a group of specimens possibly phot'd by or for Bushnell in a European museum. Catalog number visible on pipe is 2/4503. I thought I had seen a print of this in the files (possibly under another Number ?) attributed to Bushnell, but was unable to locate one under "Miscellaneous" or "Unidentified." MCB, 3/66 ; N. Feder says horn headdress is in Heye Museum on exhibit (cataloged as Winnebago he thinks). Also catalog number on pipe appears to be a Heye catalog number.

name:

Notes: NAA INV 10060400 ; OPPS NEG PORT 69 A

Jackson Catalogue #5 was published in 1874 and title dates photos from 1869 to 1873 inclusive. ; Studio props suggest Addis/Shindler studio as probable photographer. --PJF 2/78

Notation on Blackmore A15-1456 mount (same man) "Marijildo Grijalva,Interpreter." This is same entry as Jackson Cat. #9 entry #871. However, NAA original negative marked, "No 5 Mr Troper (and other with same #) appears to be "Pro ...(possibly Proper ?)" Blackmore Collection #: A15-1459 (=A) Jackson Catalogue # 870 in Jackson Catalogue #5 only. Jackson Catalogue #5 entry: "861-883 Various Indian Agents" ; Notation on Blackmore A15-1459, "Passelah, Apache"--This is entry #870 in Jackson Catalogue #9. It appears most likely that this is actually #870 in Catalogue #5 only. NAA credits its negative 2258 as being the same as Jackson #870 in Catalogue #9. This is obviously a different person from #870 (in #5) and #871 -- which appear to be exactly the same person.

Interpreter for the Santee. In Washington 1867 with a delegation under Governor A. J. Faulk of Dakota Territory. Name scratched on negative (Yankton) 3553 reads "Elioke Gwine"; name on negative 3553 jacket reads "Alex. Gwin (or Young); name as recorded by Jackson in his 1874 Descriptive Catalog (page 74, number 242) is Aleck Gwynne: name Gayou is from letter from Faulk to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, February 18, 1867, Doc. 145, 1867, Dakota Superintendency, Indian Office Records, National Archives. See negative number (Yankton) 3636 for source of date and photographer.

Blackmore Collection #: A15-1442. Jackson #: 242 - in Catalogue #5 only. ; #242 in Catalogue # 5 is listed as Aleck Gwynne - probably is this photo. Also, it is possible that this photograph was once listed in the early Jackson Catalogue. #911 (# on front of negative) is not listed in Catalogue #5. This could also be in the Catalogue #5 series of Indian agents numbered 861 - 883. --PJF 2/78

Home: Devils Lake Reservation, North Dakota. ; Information from Stephen Feraca, Bureau of Indian Affairs (a Sioux himself), May, 1964: Known as John Frazier. Some of his descendants live on the ancestral home area, the Prairie Island Sioux community, a reservation near Redwing, Minn. (Some of the Minn. Sioux were moved out of this area to other nearby reservations, and this may have been the case with John Frazier, who is stated in the Shindler cat. to have come from "Dakota" (and Devil's Lake Res., N. D. has been supplied later by another cataloguer--this could be o.k). There is no "r" in the Sioux language, but the missionaries used the "r" for the "kh" sound. The band name given by Shindler as "Re-mi-ni-ca" is probably the Khemnichan division of the Mdewakanton band of the Santee Dakota. (Khemnichan is spelling in Hodge, I, 672).
