2009 NATIONAL TROPHY RIFLE MATCHES

U.S. Marine Corps Brigadier General Melvin G. Spiese opens the 2009 National Matches

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO - The 2009 National Matches First Shot Ceremony on 13 July featured the dedication of the new Camp Perry Memorial Plaza, inspiring comments by featured speaker U.S. Marine Corps Brigadier General Melvin G. Spiese, a dramatic flyover by an Ohio National Guard Blackhawk helicopter and the delivery of the ceremonial American Flag by three Ohio National Guard 19th Special Forces paratroopers.

Gary Anderson, Director of Civilian Marksmanship, presided over festivities which officially opened the National Rifle and Pistol Championships, held annually here since 1907. The matches are a partnership involving the Civilian Marksmanship Program, the National Rifle Association and the Ohio National Guard. The Matches include both the CMP National Trophy Matches and CMP Games Events as well as National Rifle Association National Rifle and Pistol Championships.

More than 6,000 civilian, military and law enforcement pistol and rifle shooters participated in competitions, clinics and shooting events during the Matches, spanning from 13 July to 19 August.

The Friends of Camp Perry, who directed the erection of the memorial plaza, "is a non-profit patriotic organization that has taken on the mission of preserving the history of Camp Perry and bettering the experiences of those who come here, whether as soldiers, competitors or visitors," Anderson said.

Dr. Thomas Brown, former mayor of the City of Port Clinton, and the founding president of the Friends of Camp Perry, christened the new plaza which is located at the end of Niagara Road, the camp's main road, abutting the camp's firing ranges.

"This memorial plaza is dedicated to the shooters who have participated in the Camp Perry and Civilian Marksmanship Program's competitions for over a century," Brown said. "We say 'thank you' for making this memorial possible."

Brown also recognized the Ohio Historical Society, Camp Perry's 200th Red Horse Squadron, Ohio National Guard Fort Ohio Commander Colonel Dean Brown, CMP, NRA, Ottawa County Veterans Services and FOCV volunteers for making the plaza a reality.

"This is a labor of love," Brown said in his concluding remarks. Dignitaries representing NRA, CMP and the Ohio Adjutant General's Department laid a ceremonial wreath against the large inscribed marble column at the center of the plaza which is flanked by flagpoles, a wall of remembrance and surrounded by engraved memorial brick pavers.

Following the memorial plaza dedication Anderson spoke briefly of the 92-year history of the National Matches at Camp Perry and welcomed distinguished guests and speakers following an invocation by Chaplain (COL) Richard Genzman.

After the parachute drop of the American Flag, which flew at Camp Perry for the duration of the Matches, the Admiral King High School Junior ROTC Color Guard of Lorain, Ohio raised the ceremonial flag as members of the 122nd Ohio Army National Guard Band played the National Anthem. The flag had been previously flown over the Ottawa County Courthouse and Bataan Elementary School in Port Clinton, Ohio.

Brigadier General Spiese kept his remarks brief but made it clear that he and his fellow Marines were honored to participate in the National Matches and opening ceremony.

"Every Marine is a rifleman. And there is nothing more perfect for a Marine to show up at a place like this and participate in a shooting event," he said.

"I am truly honored to be the first Marine to serve as the guest speaker at this program."

"The Civilian Marksmanship Program really is part of the fabric of the United States," the General said. "The continual presence of the Marines in the CMP matches shows our support of the program." Spiese also recognized the NRA for promoting Second Amendment rights and sponsoring its National Championships.

Upon the conclusion of his remarks, Brigadier General Spiese shouldered a commemorative M1 Garand rifle and fired the ceremonial first shot of the 2009 National Matches. Upon delivering the shot, the center of the lone raised target exploded, leaving a 10-inch hole in the bull's eye, apparently the pyrotechnic work of his Marine comrades serving pit duty.

As he stepped back to the microphone a second time Brigadier General Spiese quietly laid down a figurative gauntlet, reminding his Marines that he was the first Marine speaker at the ceremony and wanted the honor upheld.

"No pressure folks," he said staring at the Marine contingent. "But feel free to take home all the trophies."

Brigadier General Spiese currently serves as Commanding General of the U. S. Marine Corps Training and Education Command. He was commissioned via the NROTC program after receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign in May of 1976.

After attending Basic School, Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to 3d Battalion, 4th Marines as a rifle platoon commander, executive officer and commanding officer with Company L, and served on the battalion staff. Upon return home, Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to Marine Barracks, Naval Weapons Station, Concord, CA. In May of 1981 he was assigned to 3d Battalion, 9th Marines as the Commanding Officer of Company I and battalion S-4. In May 1983 he was transferred to the NROTC Unit, Illinois Institute of Technology as the Marine Officer Instructor.

Leaving Illinois in June 1986, Brigadier General Spiese was posted to Headquarters Marine Corps, serving as the Head of Regular Officer Procurement. Following his tour at Headquarters, he attended Marine Corps Command and Staff College, graduating in May of 1990. After graduation, Brigadier General Spiese was transferred to Marine Corps Air Station, Iwakuni Japan and assigned to Marine Aircraft Group 12 as the Assistant Operations Officer and Ground Combat Liaison.

Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to 6th Marines in July of 1991 as the Executive Officer of 3d Battalion, then regiment S-3. He assumed command of 2d Force Reconnaissance Company in December 1993. Upon relinquishing command in July 1995, Brigadier General Spiese was reassigned to U.S. Special Operations Command, serving as a Policy Officer dealing with Counter Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction and Marine Corps matters.

Upon his departure from USSOCOM, Brigadier General Spiese attended Top Level School at the U.S. Army School of Advanced Military Studies as a Fellow in the Advanced Operational Arts Studies program. He remained a second year serving as a seminar leader for the Advanced Military Studies Program, a second year program for majors attending the Army Command and General Staff College.

Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to the Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center in June of 1999 as the Director, Tactical Training Exercise Control Group. He assumed command of the School of Infantry (East) in June of 2001, and was assigned as the Director, Expeditionary Warfare School upon relinquishing command in July of 2003. In March of 2005, Brigadier General Spiese assumed the duties of Commanding General Training Command, Deputy Commanding General Training and Education Command.

He was selected for Brigadier General in February 2005. He served as the Deputy Director for Strategy, Policy and Assessments, U.S. European Command from October 2005. He served as Commanding General of Marine Air Ground Task Force Training Command, Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center at Twentynine Palms, California from July 2007. His current assignment, as of May 2008, is Commanding General, Training and Education Command.

Brigadier General Spiese has been awarded three Legions of Merit, the Joint Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, three Navy Commendation Medals, and Joint Service Achievement Medal. He is a Military Freefall Parachutist and Marine Combatant Diver. Brigadier General Spiese has earned a Masters of Science degree from the University of Southern California, and a Masters of Military Arts and Science degree from the U.S. Army School of Advanced Military Studies.

National Trophy Rifle Matches

A Message from the DCM:

The CMP is pleased to provide this souvenir printed edition of the Final Results of the 2009 National Trophy Rifle Matches. We hope this publication with its special information and photos will be a memento of a great National Matches experience for you.

2009 National Matches rifle events began on 25 July with the biggest National Rimfire Sporter Match yet. They continued on 31 July when the Marine Corps Junior Clinic, the biggest Rifle Small Arms Firing School in 15 years and a new Advanced Adult Service Rifle Clinic kicked off. When the matches concluded on 8 August, 3,099 individual shooters had participated in the 2009 CMP National Matches rifle events and schools. Overall, a record 4,457 individuals participated in the 2009 CMP National Matches rifle and pistol events. Overall, participation in the CMP events was up more than 10 percent over 2008.

As always, the matches featured lots of great shooting by 2009 shooting heroes that included:

- SPC Jeffrey Mendyka, ARNG, who won the Mountain Man Trophy that is awarded to the overall top service rifle shooter.
- Mark Laramie of New York, who won the President's Rifle Match with a great final round performance in front of 400-500 spectators and several thousand Internet viewers.
- MSG Jack Pardy, USAR, who won the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match.
- 15-year old Tyler Rico of Arizona, who was the top junior shooter in the Deneke Trophy Aggregate.
- CMP Games Matches winners CSM Steven Slee, USAR, and Lucas Boord in Rimfire Sporter; Robert Davis, M16 EIC; John Friguglietti Jr., M1 Carbine; Christopher Hudock, Springfield Rifle; Justin Utley, Vintage Military Rifle; and Kurt Palmer, John C. Garand Match.
- MSG Pardy and SFC Norman Anderson, who won the Hearst Doubles Match.
- Mark Nations and Christopher Hudock of North Carolina, who won the new National Trophy Junior Team Match.
- The USAMU team that won the National Trophy Team Match.
- And the sensation of the 2009 matches, the California Grizzlies Junior Rifle Team, coached by Jim O'Connell, that became the first Civilian team since 1930 to win the Infantry Trophy Team Match and the first Junior team ever to win a National Trophy Team Match.

The CMP extends sincere thank you's to everyone who made significant contributions to another great National Matches. Be sure to see the complete list of Acknowledgements and Thank You's on page 3 where we identify the organizations, school and clinic leaders, award donors and ammunition suppliers that were indispensable in making this year's matches so successful.

We certainly thank all of you for coming to Camp Perry this year and for making this year's matches another record year.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches, established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

New York Native, Mark Laramie, wins the 2009 National Trophy President's Rifle Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – If you follow sports, you've probably heard the reference to a team or an individual who "keeps hanging around." It is a form of respect often given to a dangerous opponent who demonstrates the ability to seize the lead at any moment.

That is just what Mark Laramie did to win the prestigious President's Rifle Trophy Match on 3 August. The 41-year-old Oneida County civil engineer from Boonville, New York jumped to the top of the 1,262-shooter pack and earned the top position in the 10-shot prone final used to determine the match winner. And once the 600-yard final began, Laramie did not disappoint the crowd.

The final format, adopted in 2007 for the President's Match, pits the top 20 competitors from the 30-shot qualification round in a shoulder-to-shoulder contest at the end of the match. The qualifiers fire an additional 10-shots in prone at 600-yards, and this final score is added to their qualification score to determine the winner.

Shooters faced blustery wind conditions all day, and a change from sunshine to overcast skies in the middle of the final. Despite the conditions, Laramie outlasted second-place finisher Tyler Rico, 15, a junior phenom from Tucson, Arizona and perennial challenger U.S. Army SFC Grant Singley, who finished third in the competition.

Laramie, a husband and father of three children, has been riding the President's Rifle Match roller coaster since his first appearance in the event in 2005. And like many other scrappy competitors Laramie has just kept hanging around, that is until Monday's victory.

Laramie's road to becoming a champion began with a very good 35th place finish in 2005, just six-points shy of the winner, Norman Anderson, who was an active duty U.S. Army Staff Sergeant at the time. In 2006, Laramie dropped a third of the way down in the pack, 23-points behind the leader; but the following year he fought back, finishing in the top 20 percent of all shooters. In 2008, Laramie once again finished in 35th place, just seven points behind Anderson who was then shooting as an Army reservist.

As the qualification round of the President's Match wrapped-up, it looked as though 2009 might be the year that Laramie closed the deal. Entering the final Laramie had a resounding 296-10X qualifying score, and went on to shoot a gutsy 94-3X to maintain a two-point margin over Rico and SFC Singley who were both nipping at his heels. Both Rico and SFC Singley shot higher scores in the final than Laramie, but could not overcome his commanding lead.

"I am very happy," Laramie said following the presentation of the President's Rifle trophy. "I was just hoping to make it to the shootout and was very surprised to hear that I placed that high," he said.

It was a clear and sunny day, with low humidity for Camp Perry, but a driving southwest wind with gusts of 15 to 20 miles per hour made it a challenging match for all shooters, particularly as the day wore on.

"I think my offhand was okay but firing at 600 was a challenge," Laramie added. "I was just very happy to see my score."

Rico's 97-6X performance in the final improved his position 10-places, and brought him within two-points of Laramie. Rico is the youngest shooter in the history of the President's Trophy match to place second. He is also the youngest-ever recipient of the Distinguished Rifle Badge, which he received at the 2007 National Matches.

The top finisher in the President's Trophy Match receive a letter of congratulations from the President of the United States. The tradition began with Theodore Roosevelt in 1904, a renowned advocate of rifle training, who wrote a congratulatory letter to that year's trophy winner. The cut-off for this year's President 100 was a 283-4X. The "President's 100" will also receive President's 100 medallions and certificates.

Competitors on the firing line at the conclusion of the President's Rifle Match final at the 2009 National Matches. The 10-shot prone final fired from the 600-yard-line was added in to the President's Rifle Match in 2007.

Tyler Rico nearly closed the gap during the President's Final. He started the final in 12th and finished 2nd overall in the 2009 President's Rifle Match. He is shown here being congratulated by his teammates.

The President's Rifle Match Attracts Shooters of All Ages

Written by Sommer Wood, CMP Writer

While most of the attention at the 2009 National Trophy Matches goes to the shooters placing at the top of the ranking lists, every shooter on the line has an interesting story. So I decided to take a closer look at the 1,262 competitors in the Presidents Rifle Trophy Match fired on 3 August at Camp Perry, Ohio. I found Milton Beckwith, 84, of Wethersfield, Connecticut and Allison Otto, 12, of Fredericksburg, Virginia, who just happen to be the oldest and youngest competitors in the event this year.

Milton Beckwith, 84, of Wethersfield, Connecticut waiting to score targets at the 200-yard-line of the President's Rifle Match on Monday. The National Trophy Match drew large numbers again this year, with 1,262 competitors. Beckwith had a piece of advice for the younger shooters, "Just keep shooting and don't get discouraged!"

Beckwith has made many trips to Camp Perry over the years since he first competed here with the Connecticut State Association Pistol Team in the late-1950's. In fact, of the roughly 30 trips Beckwith has made to the National Trophy Matches, the first-half were as a pistol shooter. In 1969 he earned the last of the required "leg" points to become Distinguished in Pistol, and the following year switched to shooting rifle due to a shoulder injury.

After earning his Distinguished Pistol Badge, Beckwith, who is now retired from working for the State of Connecticut, took a 17-year-break from attending the National Trophy Matches. Though the draw of Camp Perry eventually brought him back to the firing line. "My favorite part is getting to meet a great bunch of guys, and I just love to shoot," said Beckwith, "Plus I get a vacation from my wife's honey-do list," he joked.

When asked if he plans to attend again next year, Beckwith was not sure if he would make the trip as a competitor. "This might be my last year, I am feeling a little slow in the shorter timed stages. When I have three minutes, I feel like I need four," he said.

Allison Otto is making her first trip to Camp Perry as a competitor, but she is very familiar with the atmosphere after attending the National Matches at the age of nine to watch her father, GySgt James Otto, compete with the USMC Summer team. This year she decided to join her dad on the line, as he competes once again for the Marine Corps team.

In fact shooting is a family affair for the Otto's according to Allison's mom, Jackie, who said the family regularly pulls pits for events at the USMC range at Quantico, Virginia. Allison is the middle child of the Otto's, who also have an older daughter and a younger son. Allison's brother hopes to join his sister and father on the range in a couple of years.

Even though this is Allison's first trip to Camp Perry as a competitor, it is not her first competition. Leading up to the National Trophy Matches she participated in a few events at Quantico, and shot the Eastern U.S. Junior Highpower Clinic and Championship held at Camp Butner, North Carolina in June. When asked about her experience at Camp Perry she said, "There are a lot more people here and the wind is a lot different from other ranges," but she also added, "I am having a lot of fun and meeting new people."

Allison also has several short and long term goals that she is working on, "Right now, I want to get better at Standing and at the 600-yard-line. I would also like to clean at the 200," and she said down the road, "I would like to make a service rifle team one day."

As Allison works to reach these goals perhaps she should follow the advice of Beckwith, who was the oldest competitor registered in the event, "Just keep shooting and don't get discouraged!"

So how did Beckwith and Otto fare in the 2009 President's Rifle Match? Well they did not win this year, the title went to Mark Laramie of Boonville, NY, but they did not come in last either. Hopefully they had enough fun to make the trip back to Camp Perry next year, and put their skills to the test once again.

GySgt Otto with daughter Allison at the President's Rifle Match on Monday. GySgt Otto is a member of the USMC Rifle Team and has brought Allison and the rest of the family to the National Matches before, but this is the first time father and daughter have competed together at Camp Perry. In fact, Allison held the distinction of being the youngest competitor in the event.

Pardy Leads the Pack in the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match

Written by Sommer Wood, CMP Writer

MSG Jack Pardy, USAR, has been within an X-count of an overall individual title at the National Trophy Matches at Camp Perry. In fact, since 1993 he has been close to winning several major titles, and finished as the top Reserve Individual and contributed to top Reserve teams with the USAR. Though the illusive individual national championship at Camp Perry has been just outside his grasp; that is, until now.

On 4 August, MSG Pardy, 47, of Oconto Falls, Wisconsin won the 2009 National Trophy Individual Rifle Match (NTI), and he did not win it on X-count. On a day when many shooters were struggling with the wind, MSG Pardy cleaned the first three stages of the match. He added a 195-8 at the 600-yard-line to finish with a 495-18, and a two-point lead over SPC Tyrel Cooper, USA, of Fort Mitchell, Alabama. SPC Cooper shot a very strong 199-10 at the 600-yard-line to finish with a 493-18.

In 2008, MSG Pardy took break from shooting, and came to Camp Perry this year with a few simple goals, "I just wanted to shoot my average, and let the scores fall where they fall," said MSG Pardy. "I was just hoping to help put the team in a position to win and be a contributor."

Scores certainly fell into place for MSG Pardy in the NTI, and he will have his first chance today to help his USAR team reach the awards stage, as the team competes in the Hearst Doubles Team Match.

For juniors competing at the National Trophy Rifle Matches, MSG Pardy has this advice, "Focus on something positive that you did at that yard-line. Forget the negative; you have to find something positive that you can build on for the next stage."

The second place finish in the NTI puts SPC Cooper in good position for the Mountain Man Trophy, an aggregate of the President's Match, NTI and the NTT. MSG Pardy is also in the hunt for the award, and sits in third place after two-days of competition.

Mark Nations, 19, of Raleigh, North Carolina won the Golden Eagle Trophy, which is awarded to the High Junior in the NTI. He edged out Tyler Rico, 15, of Tucson, AZ on X-count. Nations shot a 489-18 to Rico's 489-15. A total of 213 junior shooters competed for the Golden Eagle Trophy.

The 2009 NTI was well attended, with 1202 competitors posting scores, up from 1109 competitors in 2008. The strong participation numbers were also evident as the final scores were being posted on the CMP website, which locked-up several times at the conclusion of the match due to heavy traffic.

In addition to the scores, shooters were eager to know the cut-off for EIC-points for the Distinguished Badge. The Gold cut-off was 479-9, the Silver was 474-7 and the Bronze was 468-7.

USAR Teammates win Hearst Doubles Team Match

Written by Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO - On Wednesday afternoon, 5 August there was no happier pair of shooters here or perhaps anywhere in the world than U.S. Army Reservists MSG Jack Pardy and SFC Norman Anderson, victors in the 2009 Hearst Doubles Rifle Match, with a team aggregate score of 583-10X.

"It was awesome, truly awesome," MSG Pardy said shortly after receiving confirmation of their one-point victory over Army SFC Lance Dement and SFC Grant Singley. The team of Army National Guard SSG Charles Spiker and Air National Guard SSG Leigh Jenks III took third place with a score of 580-22X.

"It was exciting, very exciting," an almost giddy SFC Anderson said. "It's the collective effort between the two of us. Each has to rely on the other to point good shots and do your best as a coach as well."

"This is so awesome to win as a team after winning yesterday as an individual," MSG Pardy related. He won the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match the day before.

In its fourth year as a team event since the return of the Hearst Trophy, the prize goes to the two-person team who shoots and self-coaches the best. Unlike most other matches, there is no coaching on the firing line other than that between the shooters themselves.

In Hearst Doubles, teams fire the President's 30-shot course of fire and both team members fire 10 shots standing at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid fire prone at 300 yards and 10 shots slow fire prone at 600 yards, with no sighters. Teams must pair fire the standing and prone slow fire stages, where shooters alternate shots. Both reservists live in Wisconsin and have competed against each other numerous times in local matches as friendly rivals. It wasn't until the 2009 Interservice Matches that MSG Pardy, a line construction manager for a rural electric co-op in civilian life, partnered with SFC Anderson, a full-time mobilized reservist who serves as a Chief Marksmanship and Weapons Instructor.

MSG Pardy, of Oconto Falls, about 35 miles north of Green Bay, worked as an overhead electrical lineman for 25 years prior to becoming a manager last year. He also serves as a Small Arms Weapons Instructor in the Reserve. SFC Anderson lives in Tomah, about 150 miles southwest of Green Bay.

Communication is the key to success in Hearst Doubles, both shooters agreed. In pair firing, unless one of the shooters comes out of position, there is no face-to-face contact if both are right-handed, so all coaching must be done audibly, MSG Pardy explained. "Without a formal coach in this match, it helps to broaden the perspective of a known individual's abilities," SFC Anderson said. In other words, knowing each other's tendencies and willingness to accept corrections from the other can make the difference in a match, he said.

"It can be uncomfortable for some because it puts them in a position they're not used to being in," SFC Anderson said.

"A lot of people shy away from this kind of match because they don't want to make a mistake and cause somebody a match - if they make an improper correction due to wind for example," MSG Pardy added.

As long-time competitors, both have a mutual respect for the other's abilities.

"It's really cool when you tell a guy to NOT point a center shot and it then comes up in the center because of the correction you gave him," SFC Anderson said.

MSG Pardy continued his thought ... "You're taking your perception, conveying it verbally to somebody else who is basically a weapons-firing platform and you're the fire control guy directing it."

SFC Norman Anderson, left, and MSG Jack Pardy, right, teamed up for the Hearst Doubles Team Match. They came out on top as the winning two-person team and earned Hearst Doubles Trophy Plaques. The top 25 teams earned Hearst Doubles Medallions.

"From our level, that's where we should be."

In the minds of both competitors, the Hearst Doubles match typifies the team concept both men use in their Small Arms Weapons Instruction in the Reserve.

"To see a vast cross-section of the Army Reserve and to be able to give back to the whole force that way is very rewarding," SFC Anderson said.

"You're not going to make Distinguished High Masters out of everybody, but if you can make them better when they walk out the door than when they walked in, that's rewarding."

MSG Pardy echoed SFC Anderson, "It means a little more now because it's all about combat survivability. Before 9/11, nobody was worried about going to war."

"Now guys are coming through the door and they're going to get on a plane and go across the pond," he said.

New Event Fired at the National Trophy Rifle Matches

Written by Sommer Wood, CMP Writer

The Freedom's Fire Trophy has the first pair of names to be engraved on its base. Mark Nations, 19, and Christopher Hudock, 19, both of Raleigh, North Carolina, won the inaugural National Trophy Junior Team Match (NTJT) at Camp Perry on 5 August. The new 2-person team event took the place of the Whistler Boy Junior Service Rifle Team Match, which has been moved to the NRA Highpower phase at Camp Perry.

Like the Whistler Boy Junior Team Match, the NTJT is for two-person junior service rifle teams. Each team member shoots the 50-shot National Match Course with coaching permitted. Slow-fire stages use team-style pair firing and in true National Trophy Match style, no sighters are permitted.

The NTJT is open to teams sponsored by CMP-affiliated state associations and clubs. Team members are required to be juniors entered in the National Trophy Rifle Matches. The CMP provided National Matches Junior Support funding for the new event, as it previously did for the Whistler Boy.

The Deneke Trophy Aggregate that honors the annual National Junior Service Rifle Team now includes scores fired in NTJT together with scores from the President's and National Trophy Individual Matches. Junior service rifle shooters from states that did not have other juniors at Camp Perry were able to shoot on at-large teams so they could still compete for the Deneke Trophy Aggregate.

Participation was strong for the new event with 92 teams posting scores. For the Junior Marksmanship Support Group-1 (JMSG) team of Nations and Hudock, the win put them in familiar territory. Both have excelled at the National Matches in recent years. Hudock won the 2008 Springfield Rifle Match, was the High Junior in the 2008 Vintage Military Match and won the 2009 M9 Pistol EIC Match. Nations was the High Junior in the 2009 National Trophy Individual Match and earned a slot on the Deneke Trophy Aggregate team in 2008.

This is the fourth year that Nations and Hudock have shot as a 2-person team during the National Trophy Rifle Matches. The duo placed third in the 2008 Whistler Boy; their highest placement prior to this year's victory in the NTJT. Kenneth Steen coached the winning team, which was one of nine junior teams representing JMSG from North Carolina.

The JMSG-1 team shot a 957-25 to outpace Arizona State Rifle and Pistol Gold, who shot a 955-27. Tyler Rico and Evan Ksenzulak fired for the second place team that was coached by Thomas Kirby. Rico has had an excellent showing at the 2009 National Matches, and fired the highest individual score of the day with a 490-16.

The Civilian Marksmanship Program added a new trophy to the National Trophy Rifle Matches. The trophy titled "Freedom's Fire" will be engraved with the winners names of the new National Trophy Junior Team Match. A total of 92 Junior Highpower teams participated in the new Junior Team Match. Mark Nations and Christopher Hudock are shown above with the new Freedom's Fire Trophy.

The Texas State Rifle Team pose for a picture after the new National Trophy Junior Team Match, the event took the place of the of the Whistler Boy Match.

Nations and Hudock will be the first recipients of the new Freedom's Fire Trophy. The new bronze statue features a soaring eagle that is placed on top of a black marble base. "It is a really nice looking trophy, and it is an honor to be the first ones to have our names inscribed on it," said Nations.

"When thinking of how old some of the other trophies are and the tradition behind them, it is pretty cool to know that a hundred years from now our names will be a part of that history," said Hudock.

Mark Ohlinger's son, JJ Ohlinger, has competed in the last five Whistler Boy Matches, and returned this year to compete in the NTJT. "This was a great event, it was a very smooth transition from the Whistler Boy to the new match," said the elder Ohlinger.

The Olingers, of Columbus, Ohio have eight family members competing in the National Trophy Matches and CMP Games this week. JJ shot the in the NTJT with the Ohio Rifle and Pistol Association, which had five junior teams competing in the match. "We look forward to coming back next year," said Mark.

Three-peat for USAMU Praslick in National Trophy Rifle Team Match

Written by Sommer Wood, CMP Writer

Winning the National Trophy Rifle Team Match (NTT) is tough, winning three years in a row is impressive; and impressive accurately describes the performance of the USAMU Praslick team in the 2009 NTT.

For three straight years USAMU Praslick, named after team coach SFC Emil Praslick, have found themselves on top of the results list at the end of the NTT. To win the event this year, the team fired a 2944-115 to hold off a much-improved All Guard Gold team that shot a 2935-93. In addition to SFC Praslick, the team was led by team captain SGT Walter Craig. Firing team members included SFC Grant Singley, SFC Lance Dement, PFC Sherri Gallagher, SPC Tyrel Cooper, SGT Brandon Green and SSG Tobie Tomlinson.

The NTT is often referred to as the “Big Team Match” and with six shooters on the line, many variables come into play that can make or break any team. Entering the 2009 NTT, SFC Praslick just hoped his group would shoot their average to put them in position to win. “The pressure of the team match has a way of taking a few points off a shooter’s average,” said SFC Praslick, “fortunately our team shot their average today and that made the difference.”

Also making a difference was the team’s newest shooter, PFC Gallagher, who shot a 492-20 to post the team’s third highest score. CMP Rules for the NTT require that one of the six firing members be a “new shooter” who has not previously fired in the NTT. This means that teams must develop a new shooter each year, and this person’s ability to handle the pressure is often a key to the team’s success.

SFC Singley and SFC Dement were the team’s “anchors,” a term used to denote the last of the three firing pairs. SFC Singley shot the team high with a 495-26, followed by SFC Dement who had the second highest score for the team with a 493-21.

A strong finish was exactly what SFC Praslick was looking for when he selected the team’s firing order. “I placed Singley and Dement as the last pair firing because I knew they had the experience to handle the pressure, and both had great performances,” said SFC Praslick.

But in the NTT it is not just the firing members of a team that determine the outcome, those on the line depend on feedback from the coach and captain as they monitor changes in wind and mirage. Entering the 600-yard-line SGT Craig and SFC Praslick devised a strategy for handling the range conditions. The success of this strategy turned out to be critical because after the 200 and 300 yard stages, the All Guard Gold team had built up a five-point lead over the Army team.

It was a three-peat victory for the USAMU Rifle Team who won the National Trophy Rifle Team Match.

“We decided that one person would scope the conditions at our team’s targets, while the other watched the conditions several points down from our team, in the direction that the wind and mirage were consistently coming from. This allowed us to see a change in the conditions several seconds before they reached our targets. This turned out to be a very effective system,” said SFC Praslick.

This method of firing required a lot of patience on the part of the shooters, but this is where training kicked in for USAMU Praslick as they waited for feedback from the coaches. “Part of the team’s training plan is to be able to shoot fast, which helped today as we worked around the conditions on the range,” said SFC Praslick.

The California Grizzlies also posted a repeat victory in this event when they claimed the Minuteman Trophy, awarded to the first place junior team in the NTT. For the second year in a row, the team set a new National Matches Record for a junior team. Firing team members Chad Kurgan, David Bahten, Matthew Chezem, Cheyanne Acebo, Jim Minturn and James MacMillan fired a 2870-74 to shatter the record of 2854-70 that they set in the 2008 NTT. The team was led by coach Dirk Seeley; Bahten served as team captain. The Wi-Force Juniors from Wisconsin shot a 2790-56 to finish in second place.

SPC Jeffrey Mendyka ARNG, of Wallingford, Connecticut was the top individual in the NTT, to win the Pershing Trophy that annually goes to the shooter who fires the highest individual score in this event. This was SPC Mendyka's first individual title. His 498-16 score also gave him enough points to claim the prestigious Mountain Man Trophy that is awarded to the individual with the overall highest aggregate score in the President's, National Trophy Individual and the NTT Matches.

The U.S. National Guard from Puerto Rico fielded a team for the 2009 National Trophy Rifle Team Match. This is the first time since 1993 that Puerto Rico has participated in the event.

The California Grizzlies also posted a repeat victory in this event when they claimed the Minuteman Trophy, awarded to the first place junior team in the NTT. For the second year in a row, the team set a new National Matches Record for a junior team. Firing team members Chad Kurgan, David Bahten, Matthew Chezem, Cheyenne Acebo, Jim Minturn and James MacMillan fired a 2870-74 to shatter the record of 2854-70 that they set in the 2008 NTT. The team was led by coach Dirk Seeley; Bahten served as team captain. The Wi-Force Juniors from Wisconsin shot a 2790-56 to finish in second place.

SPC Jeffrey Mendyka ARNG, of Wallingford, Connecticut was the top individual in the NTT, to win the Pershing Trophy that annually goes to the shooter who fires the highest individual score in this event. This was SPC Mendyka's first individual title. His 498-16 score also gave him enough points to claim the prestigious Mountain Man Trophy that is awarded to the individual with the overall highest aggregate score in the President's, National Trophy Individual and the NTT Matches.

"I am really happy, it really has not sunk in yet," said SPC Mendyka, "I knew I was in the top 10, but I didn't think I would make it."

SPC Mendyka shot a personal best in the NTT, and cleaned prone at the 600-yard-line for the first time in his career. He was, in fact, the only competitor in this year's National Trophy Rifle Matches to shoot a perfect 200 x 200 at 600 yards. He achieve his 498 total the hard way. "My second shot in standing was an eight and I said to myself 'enough of that' and cleaned the rest of the match," said SPC Mendyka.

This was SPC Mendyka's sixth trip to Camp Perry for the National Matches, but only his second as a member of the All Guard Team. Prior to joining the Army National Guard, he was a member of the Connecticut Junior Team. In January, SPC Mendyka will deploy to Afghanistan with Fox Company of the 186th Brigade Support Battalion, Connecticut National Guard.

Highpower teams travel from across the U.S. and beyond to compete in the NTT; this year 73 teams fired the match, 26 of those shot as out-of-competition teams. In recent years Australia has fielded a team at Camp Perry, but there were not enough Aussie-shooters able to travel to the National Matches this summer to create an all-Australian NTT team. Also, a team from the U.S. territory of Puerto Rico was able to make the trip. The group is part of the U.S. National Guard in Puerto Rico. Team captain MSG Jose Feliciano was on the last team from Puerto Rico to travel to the National Matches in 1993.

"The range has changed a lot since I was last here, at the time it seemed very old. The improvements to Viale are nice," said MSG Feliciano. "The funny thing is, we were finally able to bring a team to Camp Perry for the first time since 1993, and we were squadded beside the USAMU and All Guard, talk about pressure," he joked.

Debuting in the NTT was three M1 for Vets teams. The M1 for Vets program provides donated M1 Garand rifles to wounded veterans of Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom. Those nominated for the program must have a desire to participate in shooting sports through hunting or competitive events like the National Matches.

Since 2006 the M1 for Vets program has brought shooters to the Camp Perry to shoot the CMP Games events, this is the first year that the group has competed in the National Trophy Rifle Matches. The group was large enough that they were able to form 3 teams, with each team comprised of one-half M1 Vets and one-half volunteers. The group had even larger numbers for the Hearst Doubles Match fired the day before, where 20 M1 for Vets teamed-up with 20 volunteers.

Having such a large group is quite a production and M1 for Vets founder, J. J. O'Shea, said adding the National Trophy Rifle Matches to their schedule created a bit of a learning curve for their shooters. "The first day, orders were having to be given with a little more urgency, but now they have all caught on to the routine of a full course match," said O'Shea.

The entire experience has been exciting for Ben Baar, USA, Ret. from Miami, Florida, who is shooting the National Matches for the first time. "It is pretty incredible with the large numbers of people, and the way CMP runs everything is great," said Baar.

On 5 July 2003, Baar, along with fellow M1 for Vets Jason Recio, Steven Lora and Ramio Mayorga, were part of an Army Unit in Ramadi, Iraqi that was hit with an IED that injured all four men. Baar was presented his M1 Garand in 2007 by the Miami-Dade Police Department's Wounded Warrior Program. He is now heavily involved with that program, trying to get a regional firearms training facility equipped for working with Wounded Warriors in the Miami-Dade area.

Baar and the rest of the M1 for Vets finished out their week at Camp Perry by shooting the CMP Games, which ended with the M1 Garand Match of course.

For complete results from the 2009 NTT please visit the CMP website at, http://clubs.odcmp.com/cgi-bin/report_eventAward.cgi?matchID=4689&eventID=5&awardID=1. For more information about the M1 for Vets program contact JJ O'Shea at jjoshea@msn.com.

JJ O'Shea (front) coaches Ben Baar during the rapid-fire stage of the National Trophy Rifle Team Match held on 6 August. Baar was one of nine M1 for Vets recipients who competed in the NTT.

History Made in 2009 National Trophy Infantry Team Match

Written by Sommer Wood, CMP Writer

If you were trying to predict the winner of the 2009 National Trophy Infantry Team Match (NTIT), odds are your discussion centered around the top military teams in the event. This makes sense; especially considering that the last time a civilian team won the NTIT was in 1930. That is until a group of juniors from California stepped up to the firing line at Camp Perry on 7 August and made history.

California Grizzlies O'Connell shot a 1284 to win the NTIT, becoming the first junior team to ever win the event and the first civilian team to win in 79-years. In fact the top three teams in the NTIT were civilian, in what became a very historic and bizarre day at Camp Perry. Forbes Rifle and Pistol Club finished second with a 1275 and Oklahoma Rifle Association finished third with a 1250. USAMU Praslick, who won the National Trophy Team Match (NTT) the day before, finished in a distant fourth with a 1211, and was only one of two military teams to even make the top 10 in the NTIT.

The California Grizzlies O'Connell team was named for team coach Jim O'Connell. The team captain was Anthony Henderson, and firing team members were Cheyanne Acebo, David Bahten, Matthew Chezem, Chad Kurgan, Joshua Lehn and Jim Minturn. The team is based out of the Yosemite area in central California, but team members come from all over the state.

The Grizzlies have been a contender in recent years, finishing fifth in the 2008 NTT and setting a junior record with a 1233, a number they shattered with their victory this year. The team also won the junior title and set new records in 2008 and 2009 in the NTT, shooting a 2870 this year to finish eighth overall. Also the group consistently has team members in the President's 100, with several Distinguished shooters on the team and others receiving as many as 14 EIC-points at the 2009 National Trophy Matches.

The group's accomplishments are particularly impressive considering that California State Law prohibits juniors from handling rifles with a removable magazine. In California the team can only practice with a fixed 10-round clip that can only be removed using a tool. This makes training for rapid fire difficult, and the only time the team gets to practice with standard removable clips is when they arrive to Camp Perry for the National

The California Grizzlies O'Connell celebrate as they are named the 2009 National Trophy Infantry Match winners at Camp Perry. The team shot a 1284 to win the match and make history as the first junior team to event claim the trophy.

Matches. This does not mean that the group is not putting in a lot of training time.

The team's season starts in March and goes through September, but with the group spread out over a 700-mile span, they can only get together as a whole team a few times during the year. One of those team meetings comes in the summer, when the team attends Camp O'Connell, lead by the team's coach Jim O'Connell. The eight-day camp is held at the remote Coalinga Rifle Club in Central California, where team members sleep in tents and do range maintenance projects in addition to their training.

This is just part of what goes into the team unity that is evident with the group, which brought 16 juniors to the 2009 National Matches. "We are very team oriented," said NTT and NTIT firing team member David Bahten, who was sporting a mohawk that the team had cut into his hair the night before. This was Bahten's seventh year on the team, and he said the haircut that he and his teammates were sporting was just one of the traditions for the Grizzlies that made them so close. "Every year we give the new comers haircuts at the National Matches. They get to pick the cut that they want, and many of the veterans join in, it is part of the team's camaraderie," said Bahten.

Tim Finicle of Murphys, California believes the high expectations placed on team members, and the responsibility they are given through marksmanship training play a large role in the teams success.

"Everyone on the team is expected to uphold a Code of Ethics that is signed when joining the Grizzlies," said Finicle whose son and stepson are on the team. "These juniors represent a sport that not everyone is in favor of, so they have to be exemplary," he added. Finicle's sons joined the team in 2003 when the California juniors barely had any support. At the time, only two shooters were on the team, Tyrel Cooper, who now shoots for the USAMU and his sister Samantha. That year six new shooters, including Finicle's sons, joined the team and the group slowly progressed.

Finicle attributes a lot of this growth to an introductory program that the Grizzlies have established to attract new shooters. "We have a .22 program that introduces the sport to about 160 juniors a year, ages 10-16. If juniors show interest in this group, they move to the farm team where they shoot AR-15's at 100-yard reduced targets until they reach Sharpshooter classification. This shows they have the interest to get better, then we let them on the team," said Finicle.

Part of the team's success can also be attributed to the group sharing team goals coming into the 2009 National Trophy Matches. "We wanted to break the National Trophy Team and National Trophy Infantry Team junior records that we set last year,” said Bahten.

“Winning the Infantry Match makes practice feel worth it. You begin to wonder what you are doing on really hot days of practice and think there won’t be a payout, then you come here and it is all worth it,” said NTIT team captain Anthony Henderson, who is in his sixth year with the Grizzlies.

When looking at the recent accomplishments of the California Grizzlies O’Connell team, you realize that their surprise upset in the NTIT was really not that much of a stretch for the group. In fact, their accomplishment follows a growing trend of talent coming from the junior highpower programs across the country.

Coach Brad Palmer has seen the success of junior highpower programs with his own team, the Connecticut Juniors. The 2009 winner of the Mountain Man Trophy, SPC Jeffery Mendyka ARNG, was a product of the Connecticut Juniors program, which he shot for from 2002-2007. SGT Kristoffer Friend USAR, who won the 2007 President’s Match, was also once a member of Palmer’s team. These are just two of a long list of shooters from the Connecticut junior program who have made waves at the National Matches.

He believes the increased opportunities for juniors to compete at the National Matches attributes to the success of junior programs in recent years. “Juniors used to come to Camp Perry to go to the schools, shoot for two days, then pull pits the rest of the week,” said Palmer, “Also, 21-years-ago when I started there were very few people dedicated as junior coaches in highpower programs,” he added.

For his teams, Palmer believes success comes from giving juniors the resources to excel if they wish to, and giving them the chance to shoot against the top shooter and receive instruction from the top coaches while at the National Matches.

“When I bring shooters to Camp Perry, the idea is not to just win junior events but to win overall,” said Palmer. “We are training the next generation of leaders in our sport. You can teach anybody to shoot 10’s, but getting them to do it consistently under different conditions is the trick,” he added.

Handicap System Recognizes Shooters Who Exceed Their Shooting Average at National Matches

Written by Sommer Wood, CMP Writer

For a couple of shooters at the National Trophy Matches, exceeding their average in a match paid off big dividends. They were winners of the Handicap Match, which was tracked along with the results from the National Trophy Matches at Camp Perry.

The new CMP Handicap System is a way to rank all competitors in a match according to how they performed on the day of a match relative to their established level of ability. In a handicap competition, the competitor who does the best job of exceeding his or her average becomes the winner. Handicaps, in many recreational sports, are a popular way to equalize the competition. Golf, bowling and trap shooting all have handicap systems that often attract more participation and excitement than events that are based strictly on score.

The CMP Competition Tracker system that records match results and displays them on the Internet now has a massive database of results that provides the statistical basis for this new system. Every score fired by competitors in the National Matches, CMP Eastern and Western Games, sanctioned EIC matches, sanctioned as-issued military rifle matches that report scores and sanctioned three-position air rifle matches is now recorded in this system. This makes it quite easy to establish averages and from those records to derive competitor handicaps.

The handicaps are based on a factor of 1.000, which reflects the average scores for the greatest number of shooters. Shooters with handicaps over 1.000 are above that level, while shooters below 1.000 are new and developing shooters who have not reached that level yet. The parameters for determining handicaps required some adjusting to make them realistic and fair. First of all, a shooter who has never fired a match before is given a handicap of 1.000. Each match a shooter competes in his or her handicap is adjusted up or down depending on how well they did against the average shooter in that match. The more matches a shooter competes in the better their handicap reflects their skill level. A shooter's handicap is based on their average performance over all matches they competed in over the last two years. A system to adjust for matches with high winds or poor conditions was added that is based on how all competitors in a match perform relative to their established averages. The CMP handicap system will certainly be evaluated as experience is gained to make sure it is ranking competitors fairly and accurately, but a great deal of thought and effort has already gone into designing the handicap parameters.

A special incentive was in place for the Handicap winners of the President's Rifle Match and the National Trophy Individual Match (NTI). The High Handicap competitor in the President's Match was awarded a Bushmaster DCM-XR competition rifle and the High Handicap competitor in the NTI was awarded an M1 Garand, donated by the CMP, gunsmithed by National Match Armory in Rendon, Texas.

CPL Michael Overbey, USAR, was thrilled when he learned that he was the Handicap winner in the President's Match. "My whole family is happy for me, especially my uncle who first introduced me to shooting," said CPL Overbey.

This year was only CPL Overbey's second trip to the National Matches. He shot an M1 Garand in his first Camp Perry experience, which said was "very humbling". While at Perry last summer he bought a Rock River Arms rifle from Commercial Row and has started going to every match available to him since.

CPL Overbey is from Nekoosa, Wisconsin and is part of the 428th Engineer Company. He gives a lot of credit for his improvement over the last year to CW4 Brian Woods, and the Wood County Range in Wisconsin where he has practiced almost every weekend in the Spring. To his friends in 428th Engineers, CPL Overbey had this to say, "Engineers clear the way on the battlefield, but lead the way in marksmanship."

His goals for the coming year include improving his offhand and to win some local matches. CPL Overbey also hopes to get more people from home interested in the sport, and believes winning the Bushmaster DCM-XR rifle might help peak interest.

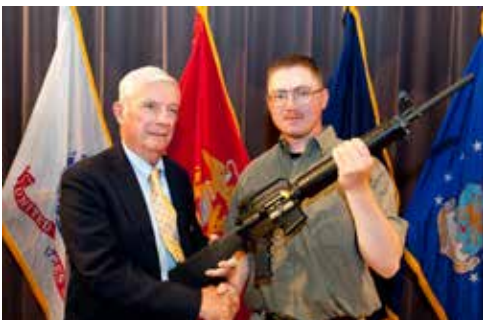

Warren Newton and Ed Bowles of the Orange Sharpshooters in Osage, Missouri were the High Handicap team in the Hearst Doubles Match at the 2009 National Matches.

In the NTI junior shooter Isaac Tucker was the High Handicap shooter and received the M1 Garand donated by the CMP. Tucker was attending his second National Matches, and was shooting with the Colorado Junior team all week.

"I started shooting my Dad's Mossberg .22 rifle, then we found a range that had a junior program. There I started shooting smallbore and highpower," said Tucker, who is from Arvada, Colorado.

"I am very excited about the rifle, I have never shot an M1 Garand before," said Tucker.

CMP Board Member Lt. General John Crosby, U. S. Army Ret., presented CPL Michael Overbey, USAR, with a Bushmaster DCM-XR competition rifle donated by Bushmaster Firearms Inc.

Rifle Small Arms Firing School draws nearly 700 students

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – A small change in format to the Small Arms Firing School (SAFS) for service rifle paid big dividends, as new and experienced shooters received greater opportunity to expand their knowledge and a chance to earn introductory Excellence-In-Competition (EIC) “leg” points toward a Distinguished Rifle Badge. The event took place 1-2 August and was the start of highpower phase at the National Matches.

This year’s SAFS curriculum and training was led by the US Army Marksmanship Unit (USAMU), and was divided into two sections. Following an introductory session at Hough Auditorium, more experienced shooters remained in the classroom for more detailed information, while basic shooters departed for the firing range for hands-on familiarization with the service rifle. The two groups rejoined for practice firing on Viale Range in the afternoon and an EIC Match the following day.

Attendees enjoyed outstanding instruction in the classroom by the USAMU shooting team and on the firing line by USAMU, Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard which included Active, National Guard and Reserve shooting team members and CMP Military Rifle Instructors along with Team Remington.

USAMU classroom instructors included SFC Emil Praslick III (Principles of Shooting & Zeroing), SFC Grant Singley (Principles of Position), SFC Lance Dement (Using the Data Book), SSG Tobie Tomlinson (Range and Pit Operations), and SGT Brandon Green (Safety & Weather).

“I like coming to these sessions because you can talk to the instructors and they’re straight with you,” said Dan Acker, 62, of Peachtree City, Georgia, “They’re not trying to hawk a product, they just give you honest answers,” he followed.

Acker, a member of the River Bend Gun Club, has attended several SAFS rifle courses over the years and said he always picks up something new. Though he is from Georgia, he enjoys meeting old friends from across the US, including the Texas Junior Team and coaches.

“Plus, I like to attend the class to get some more trigger time to get ready for the EIC match,” Acker said.

50 shooters from the group earned four-EIC leg points in the introductory EIC Match on Sunday. The cut-off score to receive EIC-points was 351-4X. Only shooters who were not already Distinguished, or who had not previously earned rifle EIC-points were eligible to receive points in this event.

The top three shooters in the 2009 EIC Match were Robert Davis, 16, of Wichita Falls, Texas, Navy LT Michael Herlands, 31, of Chesapeake, Virginia and KellyJeanne Pyne, 41, of Alexandria, Virginia with aggregate scores of 379-7X, 371-6X and 370-6X, respectively. The course of fire consists of a possible score of 400 in the 40-shot match of prone slow-fire, prone rapid-fire, sitting and standing at a distance of 200 yards.

The 2009 SAFS had a slightly changed format from previous years, with additional classroom instruction for advanced shooters and additional range time for less experienced shooters. During the advanced session, SFC Grant Singley described the proper prone, sitting and standing positions, using SGT Brandon Green as a demonstrator.

new friend in firing partner Phil Lowry, 59, of Chesterland, Ohio. It was Meck’s first time participating in SAFS rifle. He said he visited Camp Perry last year and observed the school and decided to enroll this year.

“I love it! I wish I would have done it last year. I have to come back with my son and daughter next year and maybe give the pistol school a try,” Meck said.

This was Ed Menscer’s first SAFS as well. The 58-year-old from Statesville, North Carolina has previously fired the Garand and Springfield matches, but is learning the M16/AR15 platform.

“This black gun is new to me, I like the old stuff if you know what I mean,” Menscer said. “The instructors were great and my coach gave me a lot of help,” he said.

In the classroom, SFC Praslick emphasized the importance of maintaining a firm stock weld from shot-to-shot as the key to placing good groups. He addressed the class on the benefits of smooth trigger control, follow through and the ability to call shots immediately after firing the shot.

“If you’re honest with yourself and you follow through, you should be able to accurately predict where the round will strike the target,” he said.

During the advanced session, SFC Singley described proper prone, sitting and standing positions, using SGT Green as a demonstrator. During a break, SGT Green demonstrated to several class members how he uses his leather sling in prone and sitting.

In his lecture, SGT Green called out several key aspects to preparing for various weather conditions, particularly when competing at Camp Perry. He gave tips on temperature and its effects on sight elevation and why wind affects the travel of a round the most at the mid-point of flight to the target.

The general consensus of those attending was the value of frequent question and answer periods throughout the advanced portion of the course. Basic shooters gained valuable hands-on time at the range with instructors who helped them familiarize themselves with safety, rifle operation and use of the sling as a means of support.

The Department of Defense first conducted the Small Arms Firing Schools (SAFS) as part of the National Matches at Camp Perry in 1918. Federal law continues to require the annual conduct of Small Arms Firing Schools, which now instruct nearly one thousand pistol and rifle shooters each year in fire-arms safety and fundamental marksmanship skills.

SGT Brandon Green USAMU demonstrates how he uses his leather sling in prone and sitting in the 2009 Rifle SAFS. SGT Green also discussed key aspects to preparing for various weather conditions, particularly when competing at Camp Perry.

New Advanced Adult Highpower Rifle Clinic a Success

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – This year’s class of shooters in the Advanced Adult Highpower Rifle Clinic received high marks from veteran highpower service rifle instructor Ken Roxburgh, and those familiar with Roxburgh and his high educational standards, know that he doesn’t hand out compliments unless they are earned.

The retired Marine Corps Gunnery Sergeant, who has instructed military and civilian highpower shooters for more than three decades, said he was very pleased with the Advanced Adult Highpower Rifle Clinic Class of 2009, held 1-2 August at Camp Perry.

“It’s kind of rewarding for me. I’ve been teaching out here a lot of years, but I’ve seen some great things come out of this crew from when they first started out until now,” Roxburgh said, as 31 members completed their written examination.

“We’ve got a really, really good clinic this year,” he added. “This is one of the best groups I’ve ever had.”

In addition to practice drills on the rifle range, clinic participants spent 16 hours in the classroom, focusing on shooting position, zeroing, aiming, trigger control, effects of weather, proper range etiquette, slow-fire and rapid-fire techniques and the proper care and maintenance of service rifles.

“We’ve given them some really detailed fundamental marksmanship instruction,” Roxburgh added.

And when Roxburgh says “we,” he’s referring to an all-star cast of fellow instructors including Lance Hopper, an 18-year U.S. Army Marksmanship veteran and national service rifle champion, Matt LaBonte, former USMC service rifle champion and armorer, and Amanda Elsenboss, who at age 20 has a string of national junior titles to her name and promises to be one of the nation’s top adult shooters.

They are all members of the Remington-Bushmaster instructor team which also assisted on the firing line at the 2009 CMP-USAMU Small Arms Firing School for service rifle. Both here and at multiple national events, the team’s role is to help fulfill the company’s mission to help communicate the team’s knowledge of marksmanship instruction, Roxburgh said.

The adult class was roughly patterned after the USMC Junior Highpower Clinic but with much greater attention to detail. In addition to covering many of the finer points of marksmanship fundamentals, the clinic employs the coach/pupil method, which shifts some of the burden of instruction to the students themselves.

Guided by an instructor, class members paired up, instructed and critiqued each other. “Not only did they help each other here, they will go back home and take that knowledge to their local clubs and fellow shooters,” said Roxburgh.

“It increases the level of the sport. The more they are trained collectively, the higher the level of competition becomes,” he added.

After the class received certificates of completion and accolades from the Director of Civilian Marksmanship, Gary Anderson, they headed back to the range for squadded practice leading up to what they came here for, the highpower phase of the National Trophy Rifle Matches and CMP events.

“I’ve seen some guys come out here with a big bag full of toys, not knowing what they’re doing transition into a very accomplished group of highpower competitors who know exactly what they’re doing when they move up on the firing line,” Roxburgh concluded with pride.

Students in the Adult Clinic took a Final Exam to test their knowledge and skills. At the conclusion of the clinic, each participant received a t-shirt and certificate.

The Remington Bushmaster Team consisted of Amanda Elsenboss, Ken Roxburgh, Lance Hopper and Matt LaBonte.

The Remington-Bushmaster Team instructed the Advanced Adult Highpower Rifle Clinic with Ken Roxburgh as the lead instructor.

USMC Highpower Rifle Team instructs Juniors at National Matches Clinic

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO - Just when you thought the CMP-USMC Junior Highpower Clinic was starting to look like just another shooting school, SSgt Jason Haislip leapt upon and marched down the center row of tables and began flinging five-inch Marine Corps shooting team window stickers as rewards for correct answers to rapid-fire questions.

The Marines were back in camp for three days beginning 31 July and were prepared to do whatever it took to grab and hold the attention of some of the nation's most talented young rifle competitors.

SSgt Haislip was one of five USMC Shooting Team instructors who addressed 150 junior shooters on topics that were blended to give junior shooters an inside look at how the Marine Corps rifle team conducts its approach to championship match preparation.

To qualify for entrance to the clinic, participants needed some previous highpower rifle competition experience. The CMP organizes the clinic and members of the U.S. Marine Corps Rifle Team provide instruction.

In addition to SSgt Haislip's energetic presentation on positions and shot process in the classroom, Sgt Emily Windmassinger discussed proper use of the data book, GySgt Christopher Stephens covered range and pit safety, GySgt James Otto instructed proper care and cleaning of equipment and SSgt Guillermo Sandoval explained effects of weather and the science of calculating minutes of angle in sighting the service rifle.

CWO3 (Gunner) Peter Burns, rifle team Officer in Charge, said it's all part of giving back to the sport. The clinic is held each year just prior to the start of the highpower rifle phase of the National Matches.

"We're not here for any other reason than to show the Corps' support of these programs," Gunner Burns said. "We're not here to promote ourselves or anything else - it's how we give back to those who support us."

"We get the satisfaction of working with juniors knowing that they are the future of the sport," he added.

As a Gunner, Burns is designated as an Infantry Weapons Officer (MOS 0306). Gunners are found in Infantry & Light Armored Reconnaissance Battalions, Infantry Regiments, and the Schools of Infantry. They are the "duty experts" on all infantry weapon systems within the Marine Corps inventory. He is currently serving his 20th year in the Corps. He earned his Distinguished Rifle badge in 1999 and his Distinguished Pistol badge in 2005.

The course began with a four-hour lecture and demonstration session at the Camp Perry Conference Center and then it was out to the firing range for another day and a half of training, capped off by a new Excellence-In-Competition match.

This year, eligible juniors in the CMP-USMC Junior Highpower Clinic competed for the same "introductory" 4-point EIC credits that eligible competitors in the Rifle Small Arms Firing School are able to earn. These are one-time only legends that can be earned by competitors who have earned no previous EIC points. USMC Clinic students fired a 50-shot National Match Course over two days.

The overall EIC Match winner was Christopher Hudock, 19, of Raleigh, North Carolina who fired a 482-10X out of a possible 500. He edged Tyler Rico, 15, of Tucson, Arizona who placed second with an aggregate score of 482-9X. Anthony Henderson, 19, of Sonora, California placed third with a total score of 479-12X.

There were a dozen juniors who earned introductory leg points and they are: Matt Gillenberger, Steven Hahn, Michael Storer, Mike Roesel, Trevor Causey, Taylor Grissom, Trevor Mourer, Isaac Dow, James MacMillan, John McDonald, Michael Liuzza and Jerika Wallace, with a cut-off score of 459-7X.

Lee Wagoner, 15 of Farmington Hills, Michigan and his cousin Marshall Wagoner, 16, of Greensboro, North Carolina attended the course together this year.

Lee's dad Brian, 46, said he was very happy with the training his son received. "It was all positive, absolutely. The communication, sign-up, service and volunteers were excellent," he said. "The service folks are doing a great job too."

Jerika Wallace, 15, of Oregon City, Oregon said the clinic was enjoyable. A member of the Douglas Ridge Rifle Club and Estacada Rod & Gun Club, Wallace said she was surprised by the wind at Camp Perry. Her home ranges are closed in by trees on the ends, she commented.

"The wind was really pushing me around, but I shot pretty well in the EIC match," she said. Wallace was one of the 12 juniors to earn a 4-point EIC leg.

Bob Colombo, 67, of Joliet, Illinois brought his grandson Brandon Burzawa, 14, to his second USMC clinic.

"He's really growing in the sport and learning some responsibility," Colombo said. Burzawa is a member of the Illinois State Rifle Association, also known as the Hard Dogs.

On the range, juniors were subjected to a number of shooting drills which provided valuable experience including magazine changes while firing under pressure, blind spotting of rounds on target, confirming zeroes and moving from standing to prone position. Drills were conducted at 200, 300 and 600 yards.

Ken Bugg, 53, and his wife Patricia of Vacaville, California brought Brittany Rhodes, 16, also of Vacaville to this year's junior clinic. They are the parents of Distinguished Rifle shooter Kathryn Bugg who originally planned to attend with Brittany but couldn't make it because she's currently attending Air Force Academy basic training in Colorado.

Ken and Patricia made good on their commitment to come to Camp Perry for the junior clinic despite the absence of their own daughter.

"Brittany is our adopted daughter at this year's matches," Patricia Bugg said enthusiastically.

A novice shooter and member of the Coalinga Rifle Club, Brittany said "It's a lot of shooting - we get up early everyday and shoot, but I'm having a lot of fun."

"This clinic is always beneficial - it gives them confidence in their abilities," Ken said.

Patricia said her daughter Kathryn has really benefitted from shooting. "It has really shaped her personality and she has developed tenacity, determination and a real work ethic as a result."

At the conclusion of instruction and the EIC Match on Sunday, 2 August, all students received a CMP-USMC Highpower Rifle Clinic T-shirt, a USMC Shooting Team sweatshirt, a certificate of completion and were treated to a pizza party, sponsored by Bushmaster Firearms Inc.

A Marine helps a junior on the range adjust his sling before the firing exercises. Clinic attendees received not only classroom instruction but also hands-on instruction on the range.

The USMC Highpower Rifle Team gave instruction to about 150 juniors during the CMP-USMC Junior Highpower Clinic prior to the start of the National Trophy Rifle Matches.

The USMC Highpower Rifle Team consisting of 21 members provided instruction and support for the 2009 Clinic.

2009 National CMP Games Wrap-Up

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO - Whether you're a fan of old-school bolt actions, thumb-busters, straight-pulls or short-stroke carbines, there were plenty to see in action during the CMP's National Carbine, Springfield, Vintage Military and John C. Garand Rifle Matches 6-8 August.

"This is fantastic," said Tim Kalus, 50, of Glen Campbell, Pennsylvania. "There's nothing like shooting old rifles and holding history in your hands," he said.

Kalus, a Springfield and Garand shooter, came to Camp Perry with his son Zak, 19, and brother Andrew, 36, an Army National Guardsman.

Since 2006 Kalus and his son have attended the Small Arms Firing School for rifle, the USMC Junior Highpower Clinic and are now building a tradition of participation in the CMP Games events. It was Andrew's first Camp Perry experience.

On Thursday, 6 August, John J. Friguglietti, Jr., 38, of Lincolnton, North Carolina, won the 2009 National Carbine Rifle Match with an aggregate score of 370-3X. Friguglietti was the 2008 champion in the event, and it was his third visit to the medal stand in three years, having placed third in the 2007 National Carbine Rifle Match.

In the match, Friguglietti and his fellow competitors fired 10 sighting shots in 10 minutes, 10 shots for record in slow fire prone in five minutes, 10 shots prone from standing rapid fire in 60 seconds, 10 shots sitting or kneeling from standing rapid fire in 60 seconds and 10 shots slow fire standing in 10 minutes. All firing was conducted at 100 yards on the SR-1 highpower rifle target (200 yard SR target reduced for firing at 100 yards) on Rodriguez Range.

Glenn Ward, 58, of Bellevue, Nebraska placed second with a total score of 367-8X and George Wilson, 61, of Roswell, Georgia placed third with an aggregate score of 366-6X. Wilson's overall score also qualified as the highest score in the Senior Division.

In the Senior Division Clyde Hammack, Jr., 71, of Glenshaw, Pennsylvania placed second with a score of 361-2X and Jeremy Stengel of Waterford, Wisconsin placed third with an aggregate of 358-2X.

The high junior in the National Carbine Rifle Match was Stephen Tupta, 17, of McMurray, Pennsylvania with an aggregate score of 340-1X. Nathan Mahaffy, 16, of Tipp City, Ohio placed second with a total of 333-2X. Kyle Mummert, 19, of Meadville, Pennsylvania captured third with an aggregate of 332-2X.

Achievement medals for the National Carbine Match were awarded according to the following cut scores: Gold: 351 and above, Silver: 338-350 and Bronze: 322-337. A total of 571 scores were recorded in this year's match, an increase of 38 over last year.

Father and son duo, Zak and Tim Kalus, attended the CMP Games Events this year.

National Springfield and Vintage Rifle Match competitors were greeted by an unusually mild day at Camp Perry with sunny skies, light breezes and temperatures in the mid 70s on Friday, 7 August.

Christopher Hudock, 19, of Raleigh, North Carolina took full advantage of the conditions as he soared to the top of the Overall and Junior ranks, firing an aggregate score of 293-6X. Hudock also won the inaugural CMP-USMC Highpower Junior Clinic EIC Match and the inaugural National Trophy Junior Team Match earlier in the week. To top that off he also won the M9 Pistol EIC match during pistol phase at the National Matches.

Some Springfield and Vintage Rifle competitors who fired on the remaining relays on Saturday, 8 August were not as lucky when weather conditions turned from sun and calm to rain and wind. Springfield Match achievement medals were awarded to shooters reaching the following cut scores: Gold: 276 and above, Silver: 269-275 and Bronze: 258-268.

The 200-yard John C. Garand Match Course of fire was used for the Springfield Match, with one exception, 80 seconds were allowed for the prone rapid-fire stage, rather than the 70 seconds allowed for the Garand. This provided Springfield competitors a little extra time to manually work the bolt and load their second five rounds at the mid-point of firing.

Shooters were allowed up to five sighting shots and moved into record with ten shots in the prone position, fired in 15 minutes. This was followed by a prone rapid-fire series and capped off by ten shots standing slow fire in 10 minutes. This year, 775 competitors fired in the Springfield match.

David Ressel, 42, of Torrington, Connecticut placed second with a total score of 291-11X. Glendale Rutherford, 57, of Tallapoosa, Georgia captured third place with an aggregate score of 290-7X.

In the Junior Division, the second and third place finishers were Hannah Gaddie, 17, of Mason, Michigan, and Levi Foos, 17, of Chandler, Arizona with aggregate scores of 280-3X and 279-12X, respectively.

The Senior Division winner of the National Springfield Match was Donald Tryce, 60, of Austin, Texas with an aggregate score of 288-10X. Jan Hill, 62, of Lakewood, Ohio won second place with a total score of 287-9X and Lee McKinney, 62, of Rio Rico, Arizona placed third with an aggregate of 285-5X.

The National Vintage Military Rifle Match is a CMP Games event where competitors must fire "as-issued" U.S. Krag or M1917 rifles or manually-operated foreign military rifles. The Vintage Military Rifle Match encourages recreation-oriented target shooters to use these fascinating military rifles in target shooting events that strive to preserve military marksmanship traditions.

Competitors were given the option of firing in both the Springfield and Vintage Military Rifle Matches on the same day, or fire in one event on 7 August and one event on the afternoon of 8 August. The course of fire was the same as the National Springfield Rifle Match.

Justin Utley, 24, of Mineola, Texas captured first place in the National Vintage Rifle Match, firing a Swiss Straight-Pull rifle with an aggregate score of 290-9X. Sean Leighton, 46, of Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania finished second with an aggregate of 289-7X, firing a Swedish Mauser and Lee McKinney, who placed third in Springfield, also won third place with a total score of 288-7X, shooting a U.S. Krag. McKinney's score ranked him first in the Senior Division as well.

Christopher Hudock, winner of the Springfield match overall and high junior, was the High Junior in the Vintage Rifle Match with a total score of 248-0X (the rifle type was not listed). Josh Wayner, 19, of Holland, Michigan placed second with an aggregate score of 241-1X, firing a Mosin-Nagant, M91/30 rifle. Placing third and also firing a 241-1X was Alex Greenawalt, 17, of Reading, Pennsylvania.

David Lantz, 71, of Saginaw, Michigan placed second in the Senior Division with an aggregate score of 282-5X, firing a U.S. M1917 and George Spencer, 65, of Holt, Michigan placed third in the National Vintage Rifle match with a score of 281-5X, shooting a Swedish Mauser.

Vintage Military Match Medal award scores were: Gold: 276 and above, Silver: 267-275 and Bronze: 254-266.

Compared to most days of the 2009 National Matches, Saturday, 8 August was one of the most miserable. Rain showers and buffeting winds greeted National John C. Garand Match competitors on the firing line most of day and after-effects of weather were felt throughout the day, even after skies cleared in the afternoon.

A few rain-soaked targets failed in the eighth and final relay, which prompted a restart after replacement targets were secured.

Still, a field of more than 1,200 competitors fired their As-Issued and Unlimited M1 Garand rifles with enthusiasm to close the Civilian Marksmanship Program's competition events at the 2009 matches.

Kurt Palmer, 39, of Westport, Massachusetts, placed first in the As-Issued Garand match with an aggregate score of 293-6X and was presented with the John C. Garand trophy. Palmer edged Clinton Greenwood, 49, of Tomball, Texas who shot a 291-10X for second place and U.S. Navy Aviation Technician AT1(AW) Keith Bowen, 30, of Virginia Beach, Virginia, who placed third with an aggregate of 290-8X.

Gallager Bobseine, 20, of Cattaraugus, New York won the top spot in the Junior Division, firing an aggregate score of 286-4X. Rudolf Porter, 20, of Denver, Colorado placed second with a total score of 284-3X and Victoria Gaddie, 19, of Mason, Michigan captured third with an aggregate of 277-6X.

Fred Szablewski, 60, of Skippack, Pennsylvania was the top Senior Division As-Issued Garand competitor with an aggregate of 286-5X. Fellow Pennsylvanian, Leonard Lapato, 62, of Greensburg won second place with an aggregate score of 285-3X and Steve Kiernan of Washington, DC, won third place with a score of 283-7X.

Garand Match Medal award scores for competitors who fire As-Issued M1 Garands were: Gold: 276 and above, Silver: 269-275 and Bronze: 258-268.

The Unlimited Garand category, new in 2009, allowed shooters with many M1 Garands that were not previously allowed in the Garand Match to now fire those rifles in the National Matches. Competitors with National Match M1s, .308 M1s, commercial M1s or Garands with glass bedding or shims were allowed to fire those rifles in the new class.

U.S. Army National Guardsman, SSG Jonathan O'Neal, 35, of Marietta, Georgia won the first-ever Unlimited category with an aggregate score of 282-9X. John Marx, 47, of Conifer, Colorado placed second with a total score of 278-6X and Michael Brennan, 54, of Canton, Georgia won third place with a score of 276-2X.

Garand Match Medal award scores for competitors who fire Unlimited Garands were: Gold: 280 and above, Silver: 273-279 and Bronze: 260-272.

More than 40 members of the Garand Collectors Association participated in the Springfield and John C. Garand matches, according to GCA member Andy Giegold, 58, of Garrett, Indiana.

Giegold and all other fellow competitors in the Springfield and Garand matches were each provided with 40 rounds of Hornady "Garand Match" ammunition. Hornady was this year's official ammunition supplier, and provided a match round that was found to be most suitable for the chamber pressures of both rifles and target distances of each match.

Giegold was shooting with some competitors from his regional group from Indiana, Michigan, Texas, Maine and Ohio including Bruce Talbott, 56, of Galion, Ohio and Greg Foster, 61, of Readfield, Maine.

The Garand collectors group was organized to exchange information and expand knowledge of the U.S. Rifle, Caliber .30, M1; to preserve and publicize the history of the rifle and its inventor John C. Garand; to assist and encourage new collectors; to assist authors in writing new reference works; to assist members in their collecting; and to encourage competitive and recreational safe shooting of the rifle, according to its Web site at <http://www.thegca.org>.

"Some of us are technicians, some of us like to collect but not shoot them and some of us like to shoot them for fun and in competition," Giegold said. "When we all come together like this and share stories, it's pretty special."

"Hey, even computer geeks like to shoot," said Clay Hallock, 54, of Greenville, North Carolina. Hallock and two of his colleagues from work, Jeff Kinney, 47, also of Greenville and Rich Fraboni, 37, of Farmville, North Carolina made the pilgrimage for the first time this year.

All three are computer technicians at East Carolina University. Hallock, a member of the Down East Garand Shooters, led the trio in acquiring Garands from the CMP in 2001.

"I was hooked after firing three rounds with Clay's rifle," Kinney said enthusiastically.

Despite the rain and wind, John C. Garand Match competitors managed to enjoy the day on the range.

National Rimfire Sporter Match Hits New Record with 421 Event Entries

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – There were sunny skies and a steady wind that swept the Lake Erie shoreline for the eighth annual CMP Rimfire Sporter Match held on Sunday, 26 July. Though the 15-mile-per-hour wind did not prevent a record turnout of 333 shooters from posting strong scores and making the event a huge success.

Rimfire Sporter is a recreational games event that introduces shooters to a course of fire similar in format to match competition, yet is conducted at a pace acclimated to new shooters. The match is fired with off-the-shelf bolt-action or semi-automatic .22 caliber rifles which feature no specialized target shooting equipment such as heavy target barrels, thumbhole stocks or match-grade sights and must meet weight and trigger-pull restrictions.

Divided into Open (O-Class) and Telescopic (T-Class) sight classifications, shooters of all ages compete in either or both classes in separate relays, giving participants an optimal opportunity to shoot their favorite plinking rifles for scores and medals in what has become an extremely popular CMP match.

With some shooters firing both in open and telescopic sights classification, a total of 421 scores were recorded in this year's match, the largest participation since the event's inception in 2002. A total of 157 scores were logged in O-Class and 264 in T-Class.

On Saturday, 25 July, CMP Chief Range Officer Duane Tallman and Director of Civilian Marksmanship (DCM), Gary Anderson, conducted a Rimfire Sporter Match Clinic, which covered safety, course of fire and the fundamentals of three-position shooting.

This year CMP significantly increased scoring and range efficiency by mounting two targets on each stand, greatly reducing time needed to change targets between prone, sitting and standing phases. The range was expanded to 100 firing points and four relays to accommodate the larger gathering. Also, Lapua provided 50 rounds of Standard Plus and Center-X .22 caliber rimfire ammunition to every competitor.

Command Sergeant Major (CSM) Steven Slee, US Army Reserve, 45, of Dimondale, Michigan, firing a bolt-action CZ-452, shot an aggregate score of 584-25X out of a possible 600 in the 60-shot match to win the O-Class. Slee scored 99-5X in prone slow-fire, 97-2X in prone rapid-fire, 96-6X in sitting/kneeling slow-fire, 93-1X in sitting/kneeling rapid-fire, 97-2X in standing slow-fire and 97-4X in standing rapid-fire. All prone and sitting/kneeling shots are fired from 50 yards and unsupported standing stages are shot from 25 yards.

The defending High Junior O-Class champion, Charles Opalewski, 19, of Vicksburg, Michigan once again won his division by firing an aggregate score of 577-18X with his CZ 452 bolt gun, based on scores of 99-6X, 94-2X, 97-2X, 93-3X, 97-2X and 97-3X in the same stages, respectively. Opalewski was also the High 4-H Junior in the event.

In the O-Class Senior division, David Lantz, 71, of Saginaw, Michigan took top honors with a 564-22X aggregate score using a CZ-452SE. Lantz fired a 100-8X, 100-4X, 94-4X, 94-3X, 93-2X and 93-1X, respectively. He narrowly defeated Ronald Springsteen (564-13X), 72, of Otsego, Michigan in a X-ring tiebreaker.

The High Woman shooter was Jennifer Butcher, 41, of Grafton, Ohio with a 547-8X aggregate score. She used a Ruger 10/22 to post scores of 94-2X, 95-2X, 91-1X, 91-3X, 90-0X and 86-0X, respectively.

The Overall and Junior division winner of T-Class was Lucas Boord, 19, of New Stanton, Pennsylvania who fired a 593-34X aggregate score. Boord used a Kimber Hunter to post individual stage scores of 100-9X, 100-4X, 98-5X, 98-6X, 100-6X and 97-4X, respectively, edging out Steven Slee by one-point and defending junior champion Eric Curavo by one point as well.

Ashley Young, 18, of Dublin, Georgia fired an aggregate score of 579-23X to post the high score in both the 4-H Junior and Woman's divisions with a break down of 100-8X, 99-2X, 98-4X, 99-6X, 92-2X and 91-1X, respectively.

The High Senior shooter in T-Class was Steve Gossage, 63, of Wooster, Ohio with an aggregate score of 589-21X. Gossage fired individual scores of 100-4X, 100-4X, 98-5X, 100-4X, 97-1X and 94-3X, respectively. Ronald Springsteen also challenged for the Senior T-Class title but fell to Gossage by one-point.

It was the first Rimfire Sporter Match For Don Duda, 44, and his son Donny, 12, of Berlin Center, Ohio. The father and son outing included shopping commercial row for parts and ammunition. The elder Duda served in the Ohio National Guard for 20 years and has shot at Camp Perry, but this was his first match.

and rapid fire was the best” Said Donny who is a member of 4-H and shoots with his club at home.

The experience was so good for the Dudas that they have already planned to return in 2010. “Absolutely, we didn’t get a medal but we had a lot of fun,” said Don.

Jim Roth, 41, his wife Susen, 38 and their sons Zachary, 12 and Will, 9 of Grafton, Ohio made their first family trip to the National Rimfire Sporter Championship this year. In 2008, Mom and Dad visited Camp Perry to checkout the event and liked what they saw. This year they decided to enter their oldest son, Zachary, into the match.

“It’s an inexpensive and fun way for the family to do something together. We like what shooting teaches kids, especially responsibility,” said Jim.

The Roths are allowing their son Will to get a little older before trying-out the match, and they have daughters Emma, 10 and Abigail, 5 waiting in the wings.

Zachary and Will also had an opportunity to try their hand at airgun in the CMP Competition Center, and now look forward to many trips back to Camp Perry.

Ernest Oelker, 63, of Youngstown, Ohio has participated in all eight Rimfire Sporter matches. “I keep thinking I can shoot better than last year,” he said jokingly. “This has been lots of fun and I plan to bring my sweetheart next year.”

Oelker shoots high power rifle and pistol at Beaver Valley Rifle and Pistol Club, the Youngstown Rifle and Pistol Club and has participated in revolver matches with the Greater Pittsburgh Revolver League. “This rimfire match is very rewarding and lots of fun,” he added.

Dwight Pilkilton, 53, of Florence, Alabama made the trip to Camp Perry with eight members of the North Alabama Shooting Association. Chelsea Torbert, 20, also of Florence, is the only junior shooter in the group to make the trip this
