CHIROPRACTORS FOUND GUILTY

Eleven to Be Sentenced in Vancouver Magistrate Considered All Angles of Cases

Vancouver, Sept. 5.—A. F. Lovring and ten other chiropractors were this morning found guilty of infractions of the Medical Act by Magistrate Shaw. They will be sentenced on Friday. They include Dr. W. Sturdy, Dr. R. L. Fisher, Dr. W. L. Burrill, Dr. J. M. Marshall (who spent a month in jail rather than pay his fine), Dr. J. L. Rice, Dr. D. Jamieson, Dr. M. M. Hestard, Dr. H. B. Leach, Dr. Coates and Dr. Susan Shaw. "I have considered the cases as fully as possible," the Magistrate announced when the case was called, "and I find I have no alternative but to find these men guilty. I've got to read the Medical Act as a whole and it says that no person whatever shall practice medicine unless he be registered, and provisions were made for registering."

He explained that some of the accused had been sentenced before and some of them had been found guilty twice. He would therefore suspend sentence until Friday, when sentence would be imposed. City Prosecutor McKay offered to submit evidence in the way of a statement of past sentences, but the Magistrate reiterated that sentence would be postponed till Friday. The evidence was given during sessions continuing since August 22.

FORESTERS HOLD GRAND ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Parade, Field Day of Sports, Banquet and Ball Features of Labor Day Programme; Affair a Great Success

The Foresters were favored by the weather gods on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization's existence in Victoria, when the anniversary was celebrated in royal manner yesterday. Hundreds of people came from up-island points and from other parts of the Province to attend the celebration, and to the Foresters belongs the honor of reviving Labor Day to its old time activity. The affair was a great success in every way. At 1.45 o'clock the monster parade began at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street and wended its way through the main thoroughfares until the Stadium was reached. At 2.30 o'clock the splendid programme of sports was conducted, commencing with the five-mile marathon, which was won by Private Rogers, who outdistanced young Buckett by about eight feet. Next came the tug-of-war between the champion police team and the team of the Grand Army of United Veterans. Though the latter had been only recently formed, and had very little practise together, they put up a splendid showing, losing out only after a hard-fought battle for the handsome silver cup presented by the Victoria and District Liberal Association.

Dinner At Night. At 8.30 o'clock hundreds of Foresters assembled at the Drill Hall for the banquet, at which there were a number of speakers who reviewed the history of the organization and pointed out the good work which the fraternal body was carrying out not only in this community but throughout the world. A splendid repeat was served by Figue & Wheeler, and local artists enlivened the proceedings with songs and recitations. The building was beautifully decorated for the occasion and when the ball started at 9 o'clock and thousands of people flocked into the huge building to take part in the dancing the scene of animation and color was one that will not soon be forgotten by those who attended. To Arthur Manson, who worked indefatigably to make the affair a success, and to the members of the various committees, belongs the credit for staging such a wonderful Labor Day celebration. It is announced that the Foresters will hereafter hold an annual field day of sports on Labor Day. It was long past midnight before the festivities were ended. As standard time was resumed last evening watches were set back one hour and the celebrants had an extra hour of entertainment as a result. Ozard's 15-piece orchestra supplied the music for the dancing and the great crowd enjoyed the programme immensely. Even at a late hour the crowds (Continued on page 13.)

MANY BOOTLEGGERS PUT BEHIND BARS BY LIQUOR DRIVE

Big strides have been made by the British Columbia Government in its drive on bootleggers throughout the Province, according to facts and figures made public at the Attorney-General's Department today. In the Comolton, Granite Creek, Keremos, Pentiction, Hedley and Osoyoos districts forty-five charges were laid against alleged bootleggers between August 8 and 21. Of these five were dismissed and two withdrawn. Of the remaining thirty-eight, twenty-one were sentenced to six months in jail and seventeen were fined a total of $2,650. Bootleggers, on learning of these facts, had better beware now before it is too late that the Attorney-General intends to carry out his threat to stamp out illicit liquor dealing, liquor officials said today. Liquor charges are pending today in Victoria and new prosecutions have been launched along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. In fact, there is no point in the Province where prosecutions have not taken place already or may not be launched suddenly at any time, it was made clear by liquor officials. There is no guarantee either, they said, that where prosecutions already have taken place new actions will not be started again almost immediately. A short time ago two Fernie export houses were fined $1,000 apiece with costs for violation of the liquor law and liquor valued at $2,600 was confiscated. One export house in Victoria is facing trial now, and it is expected that two or three others will be in the courts before long.

PRESENT FISHING OPERATIONS SPELL DOOM OF SALMON

Hon. William Sloan Appeals to Fisheries Commission Twenty Years Experience Proves Present Practises Fatal

Addressing the Fisheries Commission at the opening of its Victoria sessions in the City Hall this morning, J. T. Babcock, Assistant Commissioner, on behalf of Hon. William Sloan, Commissioner of Fisheries for the Province of British Columbia, made a strong appeal for limitation of salmon fishing operations as a summary of the fishing history of the past twenty years. Hon. Mr. Sloan's memorandum was as follows: "As the Commissioner of Fisheries for the Province, I desire to comment on the present precarious condition of the salmon-fisheries of the Province. The salmon-fishery of the Province has been steadily declining and runs of salmon to our northern waters have been seriously depleted. "Due to the wealth of her salmon-fisheries British Columbia has been second in rank in the Dominion. During the period 1910 to 1921 her catch of salmon produced $121,945,541. That is 54 per cent of the total fishery products of the Dominion. STATES MUST AID IN RECONSTRUCTION

Declares Ernest Clark, Who Paints Gloomy Picture of Europe

Quebec, Sept. 5.—Ernest Clark, director of the Rochester High School, returning here Saturday by the SS. Tunisian, painted a gloomy picture of prospective conditions in Europe likely to spread to the United States and Canada unless the United States comes forward, and that quickly to join with allied governments to aid in the reconstruction of war suffering nations.

"I talked with everybody in Germany, Austria and Italy, especially the man on the street, the mechanic, the laborer and the railway employees, and was told the same story. Another War.

These people in the countries I spoke of said there would be another war soon, and the next war would not be nation against another nation, but a fight against capital, the common man against the moneyed people, a revolution, which, if started would be world wide. "I make bold to say," said Mr. Clark, "that the hand writing is on the wall and the only thing, in my opinion, is for the United States to join in with the League of Nations. Americans traveling abroad cannot understand why the United States keeps aloof, of course we think that the fault lies with the Harding administration, pandering to the money interest of Wall Street and other big similar interests of the American Union, but this cannot last, the Harding administration is now discredited in the West and Southern States, and this feeling is creeping towards Eastern States from my observations and the inquiries I made and the fund of information in my possession, I will say that Russian Bolshevism is gradually creeping into Germany and will eat its way into France, Italy and England—and in time extends tentacles to the United States and Canada. I am not a pessimist nor an alarmist, I speak plainly from what I know and saw and repeat that unless the United States Government makes a visit about face more and joins with the League of Nations, nothing in the course of time will stop the onward wave of Russian Bolshevism into Germany, Austria, France and Italy and ultimately England, which will develop into regular hell-upon-earth, and the sooner the American people realize these conditions and force the United States Government to stop its aloof policies and gather with the allied nations to arrest the terrible crisis the better it will be for the world at large, including the United States and the American people.

RAIN TEMPORARILY HALTS HARVESTING

Conditions on Prairies, However, Are Very Favorable

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Heavy rains of September 1, which covered Manitoba and part of Saskatchewan, together with local showers in Alberta, tied up harvesting operations temporarily, according to the weekly crop report of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Apart from this temporary suspension of harvesting weather conditions have been of the best. About the usual amount of rust is in evidence, but it came too late to do any appreciable damage. Livestock is looking well, with pastures in fair condition and improving with recent rains.

In Manitoba cutting in the south is completed and in the north eighty to ninety per cent. is complete. Threshing will be general this week. Cutting in Saskatchewan is ninety per cent. complete and threshing general. Crops are turning out well and quality high. Up to date the cut turns from the machines are good. Northern, with dockage heavy in some districts on account of wild oats.

Harvesting has proceeded favorably in Alberta, seventy to seventy-five per cent. being now cut. Late rains are coming on well and ripening better with the warm weather. It is estimated thirty-five to forty per cent. of the oat crop will be cut for green food, farmers figuring it will pay them better to sell as feed than to let it mature. Rye crops are all thrashed and prove a generally satisfactory yield. An extensive field of rye in the Carleton district threshed forty-one and a half bushels per acre and weighed a pound heavier per bushel than standard requirements.

On the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway cutting will be completed and the general harvest in a few days. Weather, apart from showers at times, has been excellent for harvesting.

Fruit and vegetables are now moving freely out of British Columbia. Light showers over many districts will improve the size and quality of late apples.

In general the labor supply is satisfactory, although reported short in certain districts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

GENERAL TOWNSHEND IS NOW IN SYRIA

Guest of General Gourand; Government Critic

Beirut, Syria, July 15.—Major-General Charles V. F. Townshend, who commanded the British forces which surrendered to the Turks at Kut-el-Amara in the campaign for Bagdad, is at present here as the personal guest of General Gourand, the French High Commissioner to Syria.

General Townshend, after the war, returned to England from Turkey and was elected to Parliament, where he has appeared as a critic of the policy of the British Government in the Near East. Special dispatch from London in May said the Government had refused him a passport to visit Turkey, fearing he would deliver pro-Turkish speeches. He was believed strongly to favor the Turkish side of the argument with Greece.

It is believed in Beirut that General Townshend came to Syria in an effort to bring about a reconciliation of the British and French policies in Palestine and Syria. He has been quoted in a local newspaper as follows:

"The Turkish Nationalist movement, which has led to Mustafa Kemal Pasha gaining all the real power in Turkey, would never have assumed its present attitude of hostility to the Allies had not the Treaty of Sevres proposed to dismember the Turkish Empire."

He believes that the Greco-Turkish war must be stopped, and that the Greeks should renounce their claims to part of Asia Minor and agree to the Turks retaining the ethnologically Turkish parts of Thrace, including the Moslem holy city of Adrianople. He suggests the Marz Ezza River as the logical boundary in Thrace.

"Cutting off all Turkey's Arab provinces," he says, "is a financial Townshend is quite sufficient punishment for her having fought on the side of Germany. To leave Smyrna in the hands of the Greeks is to create an Oriental Albania, a precedent that must inevitably provoke another war."

The defender of Kut-el-Amara expects to spend about a month in Syria. He will visit Cilicia, and there arrange for a conference with Mustafa Kemal Pasha.

DUMMY REVOLVER USED IN ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL

Sarnia, Ont., Sept. 5.—One of the most spectacular attempts at jail delivery in the history of Canada took place here Saturday when Edward McMullan, alleged bank robber of Wyoming, by means of a dummy revolver which he carried in his pocket, attempted to force his way to freedom.

McMullan, while on his way to his bath in company with Day Wainman, suddenly ordered them to throw up their hands. Pointing the gun into their faces, he backed them into a bedroom and there fired his hands and feet. Warden Dodd, hearing a noise, grabbed the door of his room just as McMullan attempted to lock him in. The latch broke and Dodd was ordered to throw up his hands. He was looking on in amazement when he saw McMullan, who was grappled with McMullan and a terrific struggle ensued during which Dodd hit McMullan over the head with his baton knocking him unconscious.

A Practical Prescription For Sour Acid Stomach

Nine-tenths of all cases of stomach trouble nowadays are caused by too much acid. In the beginning the stomach itself is not diseased, but if this condition is allowed to continue, the acid is very likely to eat into the stomach walls and produce gastritis, with stomach ulcers. This may render a radical surgical operation necessary, with its attendant dangers. Therefore, an "acid stomach" is really a dangerous condition and should be treated seriously. The acid on the stomach hyperacidity can easily be neutralized by Bisurated Magnesia taken in teaspoonful doses in a glass of water after each meal. Large quantities may be used if necessary as it is absolutely harmless. Be sure to ask your druggist for the pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for this purpose.

LONDON SHOWS FAITH IN POLISH INDUSTRY

Warsaw, Sept. 5.—Lodz, the textile center of Eastern Europe, has owed English exporters $2,000,000 for raw materials since before the war. A committee from Lodz recently went to London to find a method of payment. It was finally agreed that the Lodz debtors are to liquidate in 20 instalments, one every six months, but if conditions improve, the instalments may be sent forward at shorter intervals.

The relations between Lodz and English dealers in textiles always have been close. Lodz bought its cotton and other rough materials in London. War and the German occupation, followed by German requisitions and the failure to receive moneys due from Russian customers, prevented the Lodz spinners from meeting their English obligations.

As a further evidence of British faith in Polish industry, the London bankers agreed to help the Lodz interests collect from Germany for materials requisitioned during the war, and also to extend to them new credits.

VICTORIA TEACHER NAMED PRINCIPAL OF NANAIMO SCHOOL

Nanaimo, Sept. 5.—Applications from all parts of the province were before the School Board Saturday, many coming by wire, when the board assembled to select a new high school principal. The choice fell upon James Hamilton Gunn, M. A., B.Sc., postgraduate of Oxford and Edinburgh and a member of the Victoria High School staff. He came from Victoria and practiced law in Saskatchewan before the war. For some time he was president of the Scottish College at Buenos Aires and held other posts under the Argentine Government. The position pays a salary of $2,500. Four of the applications came from Vancouver and six were from Victoria.

SIDNEY NOTES.

Sidney.—On Wednesday afternoon, September 6, a tea will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Cochran, at Roberts Point, from 3 to 6. A very good musical program has been arranged. A collection will be taken at the door in aid of St. Andrew's Church funds. The Islands Agricultural Association are giving a dance at the Casino on Friday, September 15, commencing at 9 o'clock. The Ganges orchestra will provide the music.

Shortly after he had set light to some time it looked as if the fire would get beyond control. Several men turned out and helped get the fire under. Mr. Churchill's stables at the camp were burned and a small

LATVIA MAKES GAMBLING EASY

Riga, Sept. 5.—If your income is not less than 600,000 rubles a year, and you would gamble, you soon will be able to do so with very comfortable ease. Latvia, on the shores of the Baltic, the Latvian government, with an eye to needed revenue, has granted a gambling concession to certain French interests, and in August will see the opening of a Casino which, it is hoped, eventually will cut into the popularity of Monte Carlo.

The project is not unpretentious. It embraces the construction of a permanent Casino to take the place of the temporary building for use this Summer, there will be horse racing and sea bathing; a new hotel with 300 rooms is to go up, and an existing hotel is to be renovated in a manner calculated to suit the most modern European requirements. There will be a motor bus service from the centre of Riga to the Casino, and two steamers are to ply between Riga and Helsingfors, Riga and Libau, all for the accommodation of those who may find Monte Carlo too far away. Also a bank near the Casino will give financial help to those whose rating passes a close scrutiny.

Among the regulations of the Casino is one which provides that any person desiring to gamble must have an income of 600,000 rubles, or $2,400 a year.

Officials of the club say that entries have been promised by the Duke of Sutherland, president of the Air League; Lieutenant-Colonel Frank K. McClean, vice-chairman of the Royal Aero Club; Sir Samuel Instone, Instone Air Line; Sir Henry White Smith, Bristol Aeroplane Company, Ltd.; A. V. Roe, H. Scott-Paine and A. S. Butler. Many well-known aircraft manufacturing companies are preparing machines for the races.

To Holders of Five Year 5 1/2 per cent Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued in 1917 and Maturing 1st December, 1922.

CONVERSION PROPOSALS

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers to holders of these bonds who desire to continue their investment in Dominion of Canada securities the privilege of exchanging the maturing bonds for new bonds bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest, payable half yearly, of either of the following classes:—

- Five year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1927.
- Ten year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1932.

While the maturing bonds will carry interest to 1st December, 1922, the new bonds will commence to earn interest from 1st November, 1922, GIVING A BONUS OF A FULL MONTH'S INTEREST TO THOSE AVAILING THEMSELVES OF THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.

This offer is made to holders of the maturing bonds and is not open to other investors. The bonds to be issued under this proposal will be substantially of the same character as those which are maturing, except that the exemption from taxation does not apply to the new issue.

Holders of the maturing bonds who wish to avail themselves of this conversion privilege should take their bonds AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE, BUT NOT LATER THAN SEPTEMBER 30th, to a Branch of any Chartered Bank in Canada and receive in exchange an official receipt for the bonds surrendered, containing an undertaking to deliver the corresponding bonds of the new issue.

Holders of maturing fully registered bonds, interest payable by cheque from Ottawa, will receive their December 1 interest cheque as usual. Holders of coupon bonds will detach and retain the last unmaturing coupon before surrendering the bond itself for conversion purposes.

The surrendered bonds will be forwarded by banks to the Minister of Finance at Ottawa, where they will be exchanged for bonds of the new issue, in fully registered, or coupon registered or coupon bearer form carrying interest payable 1st May and 1st November of each year of the duration of the loan, the first interest payment accruing and payable 1st May, 1923. Bonds of the new issue will be sent to the banks for delivery immediately after the receipt of the surrendered bonds.

The bonds of the maturing issue which are not converted under this proposal will be paid off in cash on the 1st December, 1922.

W. S. FIELDING,
Minister of Finance.

GREEK AND TURK

After a period during which neither of the opposing armies has seemed able to conduct anything in the nature of a major operation the Turkish Nationalists have forced a pace which the troops of King Constantine are finding it difficult to stop.

If it is true that the Greek Government has asked Great Britain to take a hand in arranging an armistice upon the evacuation of Asia Minor it may be taken for granted that the Allied nations will join hands in making appropriate representations to the Nationalist leaders.

There is no suggestion that Nationalist successes are to be the forerunner of new atrocities; but the sooner it is made plain that any overt act will bring drastic reprisals from the warships that are now ready for use in an emergency the less may be the intoxication from what appears to be growing into a decisive victory in the field.

THAT HOUSE BUSINESS

Some idea of Great Britain's house shortage is reflected in the fact that over sixty per cent. of the population of the City of Glasgow is housed in not more than two rooms per family—quite irrespective of the size of the families.

The foregoing is no argument in favor of a community dwelling crusade. It merely serves to emphasize Glasgow's good fortune in escaping dangerous results from overcrowding and shows how infinitesimal has been the effect of the addition of 100,000 new houses during the last twelve months—an output larger than ever known in a similar period in the country's history.

SWISS FOR CANADA

If Switzerland is about to depart from a national policy which has always discouraged the migration of her people this country might do well to consider the advisability of a co-operative plan which would bring some of the republic's surplus to Canada.

is one of supreme contentment and they are industrious to a degree. One has only to tour the fertile valleys and move among the natives to recognize their characteristics. Of all the settlers that Canada might draw from Continental Europe none would be found more ready to assimilate than those from Switzerland.

WHAT THE U. S. COULD DO

In concluding an analysis of recent inventions and their estimated capacity to destroy armies and cities and lay empires waste The Toronto Star asks how war can be stopped.

One way has been suggested, and it might prove a success in Canada and all over the British Empire nearly every man, woman and child is absolutely convinced that we as a people want no more war.

The questions are pertinent ones. No American can escape them and no American will in definitely ignore the responsibility which is becoming more apparent from day to day. The Star is on firm ground when it says that war can be outlawed if the American people would join in outlawing it.

THE EASY MONEY

Gambling for high stakes on liners, which ply backwards and forwards across the Atlantic went out of existence during the war because the professional manipulators were unable to get accommodation and employ all the necessary devices associated with systematic "trimming."

There is nothing to be said for the man of means who travels first class on a trans-Atlantic liner. For years past the confidence man and the card manipulator in general have been made the central figures of short stories much more sedate than the penny dreadful.

AN EMBARGO ECHO

It was in the County of Norfolk that a gathering composed of more than one thousand farmers voted for the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle.

There is no likelihood that the present restrictions will be interfered with in time to ameliorate the condition that obviously obtains in Norfolk. At the same time the fact remains that recent events in Ireland have contributed towards her inability to remain a reliable source of supply.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Soviet steamers are taking lumber to the Port of London and are returning to Russia with agricultural implements. Meanwhile governments are hagglng about the precise form of recognition that should be extended to something that goes by the name of a government at Moscow.

Two new clubhouses were officially opened in the realm of local golf yesterday. Colwood Golf and Country Club and the Uplands Club were both hosts at interesting ceremonies.

One Greek official is responsible for this statement, according to The Daily Mail: "Many of the soldiers have been on one battlefield or another for the last twelve years and they are thoroughly disheartened by the conviction that there is nothing tangible to fight for."

Other People's Views

Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and clearly written. The longer an article the more likely it is to be cut off.

A FINE PARADE

To the Editor:—I think if any community in the world to-day, of similar extent to that of Vancouver Island, could display such a wonderful parade as I witnessed on your streets this morning, I reflected great credit on all who took part in it, and especially on those master minds who organized and marshaled it to success.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

To the Editor:—I think those of us who are glad to return to the use of normal time ought to express our appreciation to the City Council. In our home we are glad to have the use of the natural time with the opening of school, and with the cooler, shorter days.

THIS FREEDOM

To the Editor:—Mr. Hutcheson in his new book, "This Freedom" would have us believe that a child, when both its parents pursue their vocations after marriage, will come to bad end, isn't it probable that the atmosphere of work in which the younger finds itself will have a stimulating effect upon its future career? If work ennobles and brings respect to the male why should it not do the same for the female? It may for practical purposes be assumed that the mother will spend some of the money she earns on securing a trained nurse, who probably knows more about children than she does herself.

BISHOP FALLOWS DIED AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Bishop Samuel Fallows, head of the Reformed Episcopal Church, died at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

Bishop Samuel Fallows was a man of boundless energy. Not only did he daily carry on the manifold duties of his parish—preaching, christening, marrying, burying, visiting the sick and needy—but he found time to write and edit almost a score of books and countless articles.

Two new clubhouses were officially opened in the realm of local golf yesterday. Colwood Golf and Country Club and the Uplands Club were both hosts at interesting ceremonies.

Samuel Fallows was that curious complex, a soldier, a divine and an author. With equal spirit he could exhort his parishioners to duty or lead his regiment in battle; and equally he could summon an all-conquering passion for the pedantic tasks, the editing of a dictionary-encyclopaedia.

IF WINTER COMES BY A. S. M. HUTCHINSON INSTALMENT NO. 47

Sometimes this was a little surprising. Fresh from newspaper illustration of the deadness of the deadlock, the poignancy of the crisis, or the stolidity of the achievement, one rather expected one's own personal world to stand still and watch it.

"Ah, Sabre," said Mr. Fortune. "Good morning, Sabre. This is rather a larger number of visitors than you would commonly expect, but we are a larger staff this morning than we have heretofore been. I am bringing in to you a new member of our staff."

He indicated the young man beside him. "A new member, but bearing an old name. A chip of the old block—the old Twynning block. He smiled, stroking his white-like front hair as though this pleasure had proceeded from its depths and he was congratulating it. The young man smiled. Twynning, edging forward from the background, also smiled. All the smiles were rather nervous. This was natural in the new member of the staff but in Twynning and Mr. Fortune gave Sabre the feeling that for some reason they were not entirely at ease.

"Why, that's very nice," he said. "I thought I knew your face. I think I've seen you with your father. You've been in Blaine and Parson's place, haven't you?"

Young Twynning replied that he had. He had his father's rather quick and stiff manner of speaking. He was fair-haired and complexioned, good-looking in a sharp-featured way, a Juvenile edition of his father in a different coloring. Mr. Fortune, still stroking the white-like front, produced further pleasure from it. "Yes, with Blaine and Parson. Twynning here has snatched him from the long arm of the law before he had had time to develop the long jaw of the legal shark. In point of fact, Sabre—Mr. Fortune ceased to stroke the white-like front. He moved a step or two out of the line of Sabre's regard, and standing before the bookshelves, addressed his remarks to them as though what else he had to say were not of particular consequence. "In point of fact, Sabre, this very natural and pleasing desire of Twynning to have his son in the office, a desire which I am most grateful to support, in his first-what shall I say?—feeling of his feet—establishing his position—in his new—er—in his new responsibility, duty—er—function. I like this deeper tone in the 'Six Terms' binding. Sabre, I distinctly approve it. Yes, what was I saying? Ah, yes, Twynning is now in partnership, Sabre. Yes, good."

He came abruptly away from the shelves and directed the white-like front towards his door in process of departure. "A little reorganization. Nothing more. Just a little reorganization. I think you'll find we shall all work very much the more comfortably for it. He paused before young Twynning. "Well, young man, now you've made your bow before our literary adviser. I think we departed to call him Harold, eh, Twynning? Avoid confusion, don't you agree, Sabre?"

"If that's his name," Sabre said, "he has remained standing looking towards father and son precisely as he had stood and looked at the party's entry. Mr. Fortune glanced sharply at him and compressed his lips. "It is," he said shortly. He left the room. (To Be Continued.)

MONIED TRAMP BRINGS BRIDE TO THIS ISLAND

Capt. J. J. Roche, Known as "H. B. King," Has Had Picturesque Career

Gentleman Adventurer Succumbs to Cupid's Assault

Many strange people come to Victoria in the course of world-wide perambulations, but there is now on the Island a more than remarkable wanderer, vagabond, or what ever terms the reader wishes to apply, in the person of Captain J. J. Roche, who brought his bride to Victoria yesterday. They are en route to Royston, where he has friends.

As J. J. Roche the name will convey little, but as H. B. (Hobo) King, with the familiar arrow-pointing to the cardinal points of the compass, many people have come across his sign manual in odd places of the world. Mr. Roche has been receiving a very great deal of newspaper space of late, owing to a romantic marriage in Seattle having accidentally disclosed his identity, and thereby earned a handsome bonus for the discoverer, although it loses him his latest wager. But Mrs. Alice Marie Jordan, widow of Captain Lewis Sidney Jordan, commander of U. S. S. Dauntless, is so charming a bride that he gladly has sacrificed the wager, and he has spent a considerable sum in fixing up a home for Mrs. Roche, while he hies himself to Alaska to mush across the Barren Lands back to civilization. Besides money is no immediate object to him, for he happens to be a hobo from choice. In fact he told The Times that the chief troubles of his life have come from people who tried to blackmail and steal from him when they found he had lots of money, back of his endeavors. Still he has frequently cast money aside on many occasions, and worked as a penniless pauper in proceeding from place to place.

He speaks eleven languages, he states, and the best guide to acquire them is to have to secure food in foreign lands, he adds.

His experiences would fill volumes, in fact he has 110 scrap books and cuttings back at his Eastern home dealing with 20 years of experience in all lands. He lost two fingers in the war, going overseas with a Canadian battalion, being a native of Canada, and has the marks of several snakebites on his wrists and hands. The latest was an attack at Yuma, Arizona, by a rattlesnake, which had coiled up in his clothing while he was bathing in a creek. He had to cut a piece out of his foot, to get rid of the poison. While in Seattle he was attacked, and stabbed during one night recently, where he

WARD SEVEN SHOW SATURDAY

Will Be Opened by Saanich Member and Reeve

Always a feature of interest in the harvest season, the annual exhibition of Tillamook, Gorge and Burnside Cottage Gardeners' Association promises to surpass its success of previous years.

The dry summer is little drawback to the gardener with plenty of water or tap, and in this respect Ward Seven is amply supplied. Crops everywhere are good.

Some 200 prizes are offered by the association for produce to be judged at its annual display. Most of the classes are limited to residents in the ward, but one of the features of the day is the special prize for the best six late potatoes, which is open to all comers from Greater Victoria. In past years this has been a popular class.

M. A. Pauline, M.P.P., who with Reeve Watson will open the exhibition, gives the prize.

There are also prizes for onions, collections of vegetables and fruits open to anyone in or out of the ward, and the manual training section is open to all pupils in the Craigflower, McKenna Avenue, Tillamook and Tillamook Schools.

Prize lists may be obtained from the secretary, Mrs. E. Howcroft, 3185 Orillia Street.

BISHOP HERE FROM BRAZIL

Is Founder of American Episcopal Work in Southern Republic

Victoria has been visited recently by a number of celebrities of note from all parts of the North American continent, and of Asia, but in Dr. Lucien Lee Kinsolving, Bishop of the American Episcopal Church in Brazil, whose headquarters are at Rio de Janeiro, comes the longest distance of any visiting prelates.

Dr. Kinsolving is accompanied by his daughter and left yesterday for Portland for the triennial convention of bishops. Before going South he stated to The Times at the Empress Hotel that he has complete charge of the work in Brazil among the Protestants who use Portuguese as the vernacular. The foreign colony, particularly those of British birth, look largely to the Anglican Bishop of the Falkland Islands who takes the East Coast ports, while Dr. Kinsolving gives special attention to the work among the Brazilians, in fact the Bishop says he only has one service conducted in English. He went to the republic thirty-two years ago.

Natural difficulties would arise in connection with the Protestant Episcopalians working in a Catholic country, but Dr. Kinsolving says he has surmounted them gradually, and now works in harmony with the church of the majority of the people.

He has an extensive connection, and will be able to report to his fellow diocesan at Portland a steady progress in the church in that part of South America.

Dr. Kinsolving comes of a family of ecclesiastics, and his brother is Bishop of Texas. Dr. Lucien Kinsolving went out to Rio Grande state, Brazil, in 1889, and in 1888 was elected missionary bishop for the Brazilian Episcopal Church and later chosen missionary bishop for Southern Brazil in 1907.

IMPRESSIVE PARADE MARKS FORESTERS' JUBILEE ANNIVERSARY

Thousands Witness Street Procession on Labor Day

One of the most extensive and well organized fraternal parades staged in this city was that of the Ancient Order of Foresters in the celebration of their Jubilee yesterday. The parade featuring representatives from many British Columbia lodges was made up of hundreds of marching members ranging in years from 70 to 100 of seven or eight. Members of the ladies' lodges turned out in numbers, and with the excellent showing made by the juvenile lodges formed one of the features of the parade.

The procession formed up at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street at 1:30 o'clock and under way by 2:45 p.m. The marching columns took a quarter of an hour to file in review. Great credit is due to Grand Marshal Arthur Manson, and the command Jack was formed of the arrangements, which proceeded without hitch.

Setting off south on Quadra Street the parade filed west on Yates Street to Government Street; south on Government to Fort Street; east on Fort to Douglas, and again south along Douglas to the Stadium. The streets were lined by thousands of interested spectators. Street cars stopped momentarily, while the procession was en route through the city's centre.

Many Aged Members. Led by Mr. Manson on a handsome and hardworking black charger the parade presented an impressive sight, replete with the tradition that attaches to the Order. Costume and Court regalia was worn generally, but with the exception of the men's lodges who marched in multi with badges displaying the colors of the order. The command Jack was carried in prominence, while interspersed throughout the parade were many beautiful banners, emblematic of the various Courts.

Behind the Grand Marshal trooped Maid Marion and Robin Hood, also on black chargers. Court Vancouver, headed by its banner came next in the line of march to be followed by an automobile containing "70 year" Foresters. A second car with "50 year" Foresters was next, followed by a banner of welcome to the visiting Courts and the Fifth Regiment Band.

A float resembling a section of Sherwood Forest made an impression at this stage. In this were to be archers and Friar Tuck. Friar Tuck lived up to tradition by caressing a fine looking buck, though a little lugubrious by reason of the fact that he was stuffed and "not prospective venison. The float featured the oak of Old England, with a setting of Canadian fir in the background.

Court Northern Light and Court Nanaimo followed the float, then the band of the Boys'-Naval Brigade, Court Victoria, marched ahead of it in the "Court Room," emblematic of "Unity, Concord and Benevolence." The ladies of Court Maple Leaf and the ladies of Court Nanaimo followed, making an impressive showing in white costumes. A float emblematic of "Peace, Progress and Prosperity," staged by Court Newcastle, was next in line, followed by Court Carousin and the ladies of Court Triumph.

The Bagpipers. The parade was here split by a pipe band from the Juvenile Caladonia Society, which carried that section of the procession along to the fitting skirl of the bagpipers. One of the best departments of the parade followed, that of the Juvenile Court Excelsior, which contained several hundred boys and girls in costume. The youngsters took an active pride in their part and marched perhaps with more enthusiasm than any other group in the long procession. They bore banners featuring the golden rule and other altruistic mottoes in keeping with the tenets of their organization.

Above all they brought eagerness and happiness to their portion, forming an effective contrast to the considered quietude of the pioneers of the movement. A smart turnout of the Loyal Order of Moose brought up the rear, to which were added many private cars as the parade got under way. The procession made the circuit of the city and disbanded at the Stadium after two turns around the enclosure.

Rain which had threatened before the parade held aloof, to the confusion of many who carried umbrellas in the line of march.

HAURAKI ARRIVES AT SAN FRANCISCO

Big Motorship Is Coming on to B. C. Ports from Australia

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—The British motorship Hauraki arrived Saturday from Newcastle, Australia, bringing 1,000 tons of merchandise and 3,000 tons of coal.

The schooner Robert R. Hind sailed for Bellingham to load lumber for Newcastle and other parts of the Antipodes.

The steamer Caldes, formerly the German steamer Admiral von Tirpitz, recently purchased by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company from the Shipping Board, has been assigned to the Central American run out of San Francisco, Pacific Mail officials announce.

The addition of the Caldes will put the service on a fifteen-day basis and give the company four vessels on the run.

Fumigation of ships here with cyanide instead of sulphur will be started Monday. Cyanide method was dropped when two sailors were killed by fumes. Protests of operators against damage done by the sulphur fumes resulted in the change back. The order was given some time ago but its execution was delayed by lack of necessary apparatus.

Marine Suits

Two suits against operators in connection with mishaps and alleged delays to shipments have been filed in the United States district court here. The Toyu Kisen Kaisha, filed suit against W. R. Grace & Co. for $15,557 and in the complaint charged that the second part of a shipment of nitrate of soda from Antofagasta, Chile, to Honolulu was destroyed in a fire aboard the Japanese steamer Tokuyo Maru, that the fire was no fault of the officers or crew and that the W. R. Grace & Co. refused to pay the freight charges. The defendants failed to live up to their contract in the delivery of 10,000 bales of cotton out of San Francisco to Kobe. The shipment was held up here, the complaint charged.

Charters

Kerr Gifford & Co. have chartered the Norwegian steamer Prognor, 3,200 tons, to load wheat at Portland for Great Britain and continental European ports. The British steamer Stathis, 3,293 tons, has been secured by the same company and will sail to-morrow for Portland to load wheat at 63 shillings, 3 pence, for Europe. Twenty cats were needed on the liner Yale when she sailed for Los Angeles and San Diego. Every one of the 468 berths were taken. Ira W. Coburn, a potentate of Islam Temple headed a party of shrimers enroute to San Diego on a holiday trip. W. Young, of the Pacific Mail, and Walter Ramage, of the Oceanic Steamship Company also were passengers.

NEWTON CRANE TO SAIL BY RUSSIA

Only American Citizen Ever Called to "Take Silk" in England

Number of Missionaries Leaving for Orient by C.P.S.S. Liner

R. Newton Crane, of London, Eng., who has the distinction of being the only American citizen ever called to "take silk" in England, will be a passenger sailing for the Orient by the C. P. S. S. liner Empress of Russia on Thursday.

Seventy-four years of age, Mr. Crane is recognized as a leading authority on American law in England. He practiced law in St. Louis for seventeen years and in 1889 went to the Old Country. In 1892 he was called to the English Bar and in 1920 became a member of the Middle Temple, although an American citizen. He acted as counsel for the American Embassy for many years. He was made a K. C. in February, 1921.

Missionaries to Leave

A party of twelve missionaries of the Presbyterian Church will sail by the Empress of Russia for the Far East. Miss Janet Cunningham Chestnut, of Neepawa, Man., whose engagement to Rev. Walter George Coates, M. A., B. D., of Tamsin, Formosa, has just been announced, is the daughter of Rev. E. B. and Mrs. Chestnut of Sheffield Court, Winnipeg. The marriage will take place in Yokohama and they will spend a year studying the Japanese language in Tokyo, as both the Chinese and Japanese languages are required for missionaries work in Formosa. Mr. Coates expects to engage in educational work in Tamsin. Miss Cairns, of Hemmingford, Que., also goes out for the first time to South China and with Miss Shearer of Peterborough, Ontario, who is returning to that field, will be the guest of Mrs. Pillar, Thirteenth Avenue West, while in the city.

E. Bruce Copeland is the youngest missionary who has yet been sent, being 21 years of age. He is a nephew of Dr. Percy Leslie of Honau, to which field he has been designated. Returning to Honau, after furlough, is Miss A. W. Ross, Miss Campbell, bound for Formosa, Miss Warren will sail for Honau. Returning to Honau, also after furlough, are Rev. J. G. and Mrs. Bompas of Broadview, Sask., and Rev. A. W. and Mrs. Lochead. To the South China field are returning Rev. Duncan and Mrs. McKee.

During the Summer months the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company are operating a very convenient service from Victoria to Seattle. Steamers "Prince George" and "Prince Rupert" leave Victoria (G. T. P. Dock, behind Post Office), every Sunday and Wednesday respectively at 11:00 a. m., arriving in Seattle at 4:00 p. m. This service is very popular, principally on account of the early hour of arrival at Seattle.

night service out of this port to Vancouver. The Princess Louise completed her last trip of the season to Alaska when she arrived in port yesterday from the North. She was not taken out of commission, but was immediately dispatched to Vancouver, taking the night run across the Gulf.

Successful Season

"The tourist season has been a most successful one and the Princess Louise has been a very popular boat in the northern service," said Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the B. C. Coast Steamship Service, in speaking this morning of the season's tourist business to Alaska. The Louise, he stated, will now be operated in the Gulf service of the company, chiefly on the Vancouver route, as the ship has splendid berthing accommodation and is specially adapted for a night run. The Princess Alice, which has been running opposite to the Princess Louise, in the tourist trade this Summer, will remain on the Skagway route until the end of the month, when she will be withdrawn to enter the triangular service. The Princess Charlotte will be laid up for the Winter months, it is expected. Simultaneously with the withdrawal of the Princess Alice from the northern run the Princess Mary will take up the Alaska sailings for the Winter.

NEARLY THOUSAND ATTEND EXCURSION

Odd Fellows Function to Seattle Proves Great Success

Were Good Entertainers; Many Attractions Offered. A ship's complement of 950 assisted in making the I. O. O. F. excursion to Seattle a great success. The Princess Adelaide, which had been chartered for the occasion, left punctually on time at 9 o'clock, and from that minute the entire excursion became one source of entertainment after another. Tompola tickets were being sold aboard the ship, and the large throng soon participated in this privilege. Handsome prizes were given to the winners, who were announced toward the end of the journey. The owner of the lucky number, who won the first prize, received a ton of coal, so one can judge from this the value of the other 14 prizes. The Odd Fellows certainly proved that they were pleasant hosts, for they forgot none of the privileges which is required to make a sea trip a success. Wallace's orchestra was in attendance, and all the music necessary to entertain the party was given by the excellent programme they rendered. Dancing was one of the features of the trip, passengers availing themselves given by the orchestra. C. H. McMillan made a success as leader in the community singing, which was another entertainment indulged in on the steamer. Neither did the Odd Fellows cease their entertainment, for tickets were sold on the boat for the circle singing trip which had been specially chartered for the occasion. A fifty-mile drive was given, and the visitors were shown all the sights that were to be seen. Immediately on landing a reception committee from the Seattle organization greeted the Victorians. They extended the welcome to their city, and also presented the key of the city to the Victoria Order. With five hours to spend in town, the excursion party had an ample programme of entertainment filled. Following the two and a half hour sight-seeing ride they visited the many attractions of Seattle. The return trip was somewhat similar to the first trip. Community singing, dancing and musical concert entertained the people until they arrived home. The following committee assisted greatly in making the excursion a success: Brother McMillan, Brother Wilby, Brother Paintner, Brother Burgess, Sisters Todd, Sister Pierce, Sister Bird, Brother McLean was chairman of the committee.

Resolution Is Adopted by Directors of Chamber of Commerce

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and directors of the previous term not now in office, attended the Reformed Episcopal Church in a body this afternoon to pay their respects to the memory of the late Joshua Kingham.

"Before doing so a special meeting was held, at which the accompanying resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas Joshua Kingham, our fellow Director of the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Victoria, passed away on September 3, 1922; and

"Whereas we, the Directors, are here assembled in special meeting for the purpose of considering our said loss;

"Now therefore be it resolved that we, the Directors of this Chamber of Commerce, do hereby record our sense of the great loss which we have sustained by the death of our colleague, the late Joshua Kingham.

"By reason of his long and active co-operation in all Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce undertakings and activities, he will be greatly missed.

"He became a member of the Board of Trade of the City of Victoria in 1902 and the next year was elected a member of the Council, in which capacity he served almost continuously. In 1918 he was elected President. In 1920 he took an active part in the reorganization and changing of the Board of Trade into this Chamber of Commerce and since has served as a Director of this body.

"He was a man of sound judgment, unimpeachable integrity and untiring energy. He never wearied of serving his home city, in which he took great pride.

"We deeply regret his early demise and to his widow and family we individually and collectively extend this expression of our deep sympathy with them in their great bereavement.

"Be it further resolved that the Secretary be instructed and directed to send a copy of this resolution to the widow and family of our deceased fellow Director.

"And be it further resolved that this meeting do now adjourn, out of respect for our departed friend and co-worker."

Canine Killed Her Puppies and Adopted a Youthful Porker

Toronto, Sept. 5.—A Pittsburgh special to The Globe says: All this talk about mother dogs being the very last word in faithfulness to their young received a severe jolt to-day when Rena, an Alredale, owned by Henry Curtis, of Keown Station, deliberately crushed two of her four puppies to death and adopted a little pig in their place.

The puppies made a fine litter, but for some reason Rena did not like two of them. She began cuffing them about on the days of their birth and finally rolled on them until they were dead.

Then she sneaked out and stole a little pig which she carried squealing in her mouth back to her kennel. Worst of all she is giving more attention to the porker than she bestows upon her own barn.

COAL BILL BEFORE SENATE OF U. S.

Washington, Sept. 5.—With the convening of the Senate and House after the Labor Day adjournment and a meeting of the Cabinet to-day, the Government again centered its attention on the coal and railroad situations. Attorney-General Daugherty, who has been absent from the capital since his trip to Chicago to institute the Government's injunction suit against the striking railway shopmen, was expected back.

The administration bill to prevent profiteering in coal prices was before the Senate to-day. Chairman Cummings of the Interstate Commerce Committee was continuing his efforts to have the Senate substitute its own bill for that already passed by the House, which he stated he believed goes outside the jurisdiction of the Federal Government by undertaking to regulate interstate movement of coal. The constitutionality of the Senate bill also was under discussion.

Discussion of the industrial situation in the light of the Government's secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, who in a recent speech condemned those who were saying, "Watch your leaders," that the president of the Congress to-day declared, "We all know a comrade who has nothing worse to say of his own party as fools, traitors, betrayers and such."

Mr. Walker described such talk as quackery.

The Congress will hold a private session to-morrow to consider the future of The Daily Herald, the Labor organ, particularly in regard to the proposed levy on trades unions for its maintenance.

In connection with The Herald's difficulties, the National Union of Journalists recently took a poll to decide whether a small levy should be made to assist the newspaper. The suggestion was decisively defeated, only about one-third of the membership troubling to vote.

Swedish Electors Return Majority Against Prohibition

Stockholm, Sept. 5.—Complete returns in the recent prohibition plebiscite, show that 530,655 ballots were polled against prohibition and 501,953 in favor of the proposal. More than sixty per cent. of the electorate voted.

The question of prohibition in Sweden is now regarded as dead for a generation.

FISHERIES INQUIRY OPENS IN VICTORIA

Dominion Parliamentary Commission Holding Sessions at City Hall

The Dominion Parliamentary Commission investigating the fisheries of British Columbia opened its Victoria sessions at the City Hall this morning at 10 o'clock.

The personnel of the Commission is William Duff, Lunenburg, N.S., chairman; L. H. Martell, Hants, N.S.; W. G. McQuarrie, New Westminster; Alfred Stork, Skeena; C. H. Dickie, Nanaimo, and A. W. Neill, Comox-Alberni.

J. P. Babcock read a memorandum, printed elsewhere, by Hon. Wm. Sloan, on conditions prevailing in the salmon fisheries.

Mr. McQuarrie explained "how to bring into effect such recommendations, which apparently mean restriction."

Mr. Babcock believed many methods were available, such as restriction of fishing to certain hours per day or three days per week. He denied that reduction of plants or workers was necessarily implied. "What the Commissioner's memorandum means is 'less fish must be caught, more must escape to the spawning grounds,'" summarized Mr. Babcock.

Mr. McQuarrie asked regarding the authorship of the document read, and when Mr. Babcock protested against this as unfair, and was supported by the chair, Mr. McQuarrie said: "This document makes an attack on Dominion policy, if I can't get an answer I'll ask no more questions of this witness."

A Query.

From the audience Mr. McGrath, a fisherman, asked the privilege of asking a question, and was not allowed to do so.

When he asked Mr. Babcock: "Are you here for the protection of special interests?"

The famous Hell's Gate blockade of the Fraser River was discussed by Mr. Babcock at length, under guidance of Commissioner McQuarrie, the effect of excessive fishing on the Fraser pack, pointing out that while the Hell's Gate blockade had affected the big year run thereafter, the great handicap to revival was continuity of American interests in regard to preservative regulation.

Straight Questions.

Commissioner Martell asked what Mr. Babcock's action would have been if he had a free hand and was informed: "I would have let every fisherman catch every fish he could, I would have operated no hatcheries, I would have done nothing until the Americans came into camp."

Mr. Martell asked what license regulations were in effect and "Don't you think this is an absurdity?"

Mr. Babcock evaded this, and Commissioner Martell asked: "Don't you think the Province has no right to an interest in, or a revenue from, fisheries?" and was informed "The Province has a right, by virtue of the work being done."

A Dominion Asset.

Mr. Martell declared emphatically the fisheries were a Dominion asset, and noted that British Columbia collected fees from fishermen "while in the East we bonus our men an average of $1 to $2.50 each."

Replying to C. H. Dickie, M. P., Mr. Babcock said he was emphatically in favor of restriction of operations.

"Suppose we allow half the sockeye to go up the Fraser?" asked Mr. Dickie, and Mr. Babcock retorted, "the present pack is but six per cent. of that of years ago, why let but three per cent. through and expect a restoration of that one time thirty million dollar asset."

"Let the United States and Canada possess themselves of all the plants dependent on the Fraser Valley, close them up and in after years, when the run is restored, decide how many plants, and at what points, shall be opened to catch how many fish," suggested Mr. Babcock, this being greeted as a worthwhile suggestion by Mr. Dickie.

Bait For Americans.

A. W. Neill, M. P., brought up the question of regulations governing the provision of bait to American fishing vessels. He asserted that so long as these vessels signed an undertaking to carry their catches to Canadian ports, they were permitted to secure Canadian bait, but no effort was made to ensure carrying out of that contract. He asserted that a Tofino fisherman selling herring to Americans for bait had been put out of business because regulations winked at in favor of Prince Rupert and Vancouver had been enforced at Tofino. "This is an outrage," he asserted.

Departure Bay.

Fisheries Inspector E. Taylor, of Vancouver Island district, was exonerated from charges made at Nanaimo to the effect that he had issued purple seine licenses for use in Departure Bay without authority. Mr. Taylor produced documents showing he had acted under authority of Col. F. H. Cunningham, of Vancouver, who had issued the licenses under authority of an order-in-council which Commissioner Neill declared specifically exempted Departure Bay and should have been so read by the officials.

M. McGrath, a Victoria fisherman, bitterly complained of the manner in which bait selling regulations had last year been enforced at Tofino, asserting that the Wallace Fisheries had been favored and that American vessels had been discouraged from trading with him.

C. F. Todd heard of J. H. Todd & Sons, Ltd., declared that the majority of the fishermen were opposed to the use of motor boats, believed that the Fraser River fisheries would revive after the Puget Sound canneries had been abandoned by Americans because of small catches, and asserted that while not blaming fishermen for wanting of good price for their catch, "Would they get as good a price from Americans if there were no canneries in Canada?"

Mr. Todd favored the retention of an embargo upon sockeye salmon, but was not committed as regards other varieties, saying "Canadian raw materials, made up at home, are as good business principles in fishing as in lumbering."

Some surprise was expressed when Mr. Todd stated fishing efficiency rested primarily with Japanese followed by white men with Indians last.

DECLARES BRITISH TRADE IMPROVING

Steady Growth, Says Sir Mackay Edgar

London, Sept. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Politically, Europe is in a nightmare, but commercially, it is approaching convalescence.

This opinion was expressed to-day by Sir Mackay Edgar, who predicts a steady revival of British trade. He forecast an exceptionally busy time in the Lancashire cotton industry, which even now is sending abroad as much cotton yarn as before the war.

Sir Mackay said that Europe was beginning to place orders once more, while outside of Europe, the Indian and Chinese markets, in which Lancashire is particularly interested, are better and the outlook decidedly better. He looked to the northern county to lead in the coming trade revival, which would extend to the iron, steel, shipbuilding, coal, wood and other industries. British trade

TWO ROBBERIES IN MONTREAL

Confidence Men Got Away With $1,100

Montreal, Sept. 5.—Confidence men were very active over the week-end. Fred Dubault, of St. Paul, Minn., and A. Knox, of Saskatoon, were among their victims.

Mr. Dubault was relieved of $650. He met two strangers yesterday afternoon who informed him that they were two of the official entertainers of the city of Montreal. He being a stranger, they invited him to take a ride in a motor car with them.

On a street unknown to Dubault his two new-found friends got out of the car and began an argument. They finally drew Dubault into it. He got out of the car. Immediately, he told the police, the two men attacked him and stole from him $650 which he carried in a pocketbook.

The Fastest Selling Complete Car

The Chevrolet is the most satisfactory low priced, fully equipped, most economically operated automobile in the world today.

This year's motor car buyers have recognized this fact to such an extent that 1922 has seen Chevrolet become the largest producer of high-grade automobiles in the world.

The Chevrolet has many improved features. It has a new front axle assembly, a new rear axle assembly including spiral ring and pinion gears.

The clutch has been improved. In addition to its service brake, a hand-lever emergency brake has been provided. The front and rear springs have been re-designed to give easier riding.

With such improvements the Chevrolet is indeed superior—superior in first price because no car of similar equipment and quality can be bought for less—superior in maintenance cost because it has the lowest cost of operation of any car built.

GRANTED LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

One Application Refused, Due to Clerical Error

Leave to appeal to the Privy Council was granted to E. C. Mayers to-day in a special sitting of the Court of Appeal in the hearing of Granby versus the Attorney-General; the Engineer Mining Company versus Fraser, and the Pacific Milling Company and the Royal Exchange versus the Kingsley Navigation Co. Ltd. Application for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada in the matter of Whitney Morton versus Short was refused, incorrect notice having been given the other side. The notice in the hands of the respondents, held S. T. Hankey, stated that the special sitting of the Court of Appeal would be held at Vancouver. The Court pointed out that special sittings had been invariably held in this city for the past thirteen years, and that this was a well-known practice. Nevertheless, it was possible for a solicitor to have been misled and the application would be refused until proper notice be given. Mr. Mayers gave an undertaking to file a correct notice and to proceed at the October sitting of the Court.

DEBT COLLECTING TRIALS IN COURT

Telling the court that he had been almost seven years trying to collect $7 that was owed him by the informant, he alleges, Henry Duns was fined $15, with the option of ten days in jail, in the city police court to-day. The court, irrespective of whether the money was due or not, did not hold with such methods of collection. The accused admitted taking the informant, Alfred Bate, an elderly man, by the shoulders and pushing him off the pavement into the street. If this practise were the accepted method of debt collection, held C. L. Harrison, for the crowd, the streets of this city would be full all the time. D. S. Tait appeared for the accused, taking the box in evidence as to the good character of the man. Duns was a hard-working and quiet man, held Mr. Tait, and such a satisfactory worker that he had personally recommended him to his friends. J. W. Josephs, charged with indecent exposure, was remanded until tomorrow for medical examination. Rachael Suhdin, charged with vagrancy, was remanded until Wednesday for medical examination.

LABOR DAY IS IN CALENDAR OF COMMON LIFE

So Says Rev. W. H. Van Allen, of Boston; Church and Labor

A noteworthy sermon on the church and labor was preached in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday evening by Rev. William Harman Van Allen, rector of the Church of the Advent, Boston. Labor Day, said the preacher, was not in the ecclesiastical calendar. "It is in the calendar of common life. It is a slander," he declared, "to say that the church is not interested or concerned in the problems of labor. It is always in danger of criticism from capitalists on the one hand and from workmen on the other. It is good to get bricks from both sides," he said, "for the church will then escape the indictment, 'We-uno you when all men shall speak well of you.' The church must keep the balance."

Sees Six Blunders

According to the preacher, "There are six blunders to be effaced before the brotherhood of man can become a reality. First is the thought that manual labor is the only kind of labor and creates all wealth. Some of the literary and artistic treasures of the world are the results of mental labor. A second blunder is the belief that labor unions are above or outside law. Third, that labor is a commodity to be bought and sold. Fourth, that employers are free to buy labor in the cheapest market. Fifth, that either side can prosper by injury to the other. Sixth, that the public, apart from these other two groups, can be safely ignored."

The Church's Method

"The church's method," Dr. Van Allen said, "is by the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. Love is to be the cement. The pulpit is not the place to propound economic theories. Privately, he said, "I am a convinced free trader, but as a clergyman I have no right to preach this to the congregation nor to tell them how to vote."

The church must not identify itself with classes. "When I hear people speaking of upper classes and lower classes," the preacher remarked, "I simply laugh. True, the church is chiefly concerned with the unprivileged. There is a sense in which the poor are the nobility of the Kingdom of God. But poor people are to be found in all classes. The church should indicate the general directions in which relief and reform should come; and that relief will come along lines of co-operation."

"There are clear indications that the present wage system is in a state of transition. It was an improvement on serfdom, but it is probably coming to an end. To carry out a programme of co-operation is not the office of the clergy, but of financiers, labor leaders and university professors."

Women's Task

"The woman in the home," said Dr. Van Allen, "faces with the labor problem. Mistresses everywhere are saying that they cannot get appreciative and willing service. If the women's clubs of this continent would devote time to a consideration of the problems of co-operative housekeeping instead of the art of the Renaissance, they would do much to revolutionize home life."

Forget the Past

There was too much of a tendency to-day to waste time in mutual recriminations and dwelling on old wrongs. A large part of the complicated Irish problem, he thought, was due to the fact that Irishmen could not forget the things that were behind.

Beauty Without Grit

Without any harm to the teeth

Don't try to whiten teeth with grit that scratches the enamel. That's harmful. Use a soft polishing agent—the Pepsodent agent. Then combat the dingy film twice daily in this new, effective way.

That's what millions of people the world over are doing, largely by dental advice. Look about you and see the beautiful teeth that result.

Clouded by film

Teeth are clouded by a film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Stains enter it, then the film, if left, forms the basis of dingy coats. That's why teeth lose luster. Film is also the basis of tartar.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to that film. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germ's breed by millions in it.

They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Stays on teeth

Under old methods, much of that film remained on teeth. It made teeth cloudy. Night and day it threatened serious damage. That's why so many brushed teeth discolored and decay. Tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

Now dental science, after long research, has found two film combatants. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Now leading dentists almost the world over are urging their daily use.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on five modern requirements. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it for daily application.

Old ways wrong

Pepsodent also aids Nature in two essential ways. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva.

That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth before they ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids that cause decay.

Every use of Pepsodent thus gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Old-time tooth pastes had the opposite effect. They reduced mouth alkalinity, reduced the starch digestant with every application. That was due to their soap and chalk.

We urge you to see and feel these effects, then judge how much they mean.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch these delightful effects for a few days and you will always want them. Cut out the coupon now.

NORMA TALMADGE NOW AT ROYAL

Is Presented in "Smilin' Through" This Week

Norma Talmadge in a fine dramatic vehicle is the magnetic screen attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre this week.

The production in which she appears is "Smilin' Through," screen version of Allen Langdon Martin's famous play that gained new laurels for Jane Cowl on the speaking stage.

Norma is at her histrionic best in the dual role that this powerful drama gives her. She is seen first as the fair Moneysen, who is slain on her wedding day by a jealous suitor. Then she is the young and beautiful Kathleen, who is the image of her deceased aunt, Moneysen.

Kathleen falls in love with Kenneth Wayne, son of the man who killed Moneysen, and the obstacles placed in the way of the young lovers by John Carteret, who was to have made Moneysen his wife, form the nucleus of a most absorbing plot with a charming romance.

In this production Miss Talmadge does some of the very best acting of her career. The photoplay itself is the finest she has yet made.

Harrison Ford provides excellent support in the dual role of Kenneth Wayne and Jeremiah Wayne, while Wyndham Standing gives a splendid performance as John Carteret.

Others in the cast whose fine work contributes to the all-around merit of this magnificent production are Alice E. Francis, Glenn Hunter, Grace Griswold, Miriam Battista and Eugene Lockhart.

"Smilin' Through" is directed by Sidney Franklin and is a First National attraction.

LOVES OF PHAROAH TO BE DEPICTED

Notable Feature Is Now Showing at Capitol

Dusty and hot was the road to film-land in the sandy mountains of Posen, but the sight of ancient Egypt, gleaming in the sunlight on the heights makes the journey worth the effort. There Ernest Lubitsch had assembled for "The Loves of Pharaoh" many thousands of men, women and children, who, swarming through the streets and squares, give to the massive structures something like pulsing life.

Immense and powerful, a sphinx towered from the sand, dominating the landscape. To the right glittered a palace decorated with columns and sculptures, where Pharaoh used to live. An immense, balloon soared overhead from which catamens recorded every phase of the coming battle.

Below in the valley a battle had started. Through clouds of dust glittering arms, the clatter of shields, the howling of wild Ethiopian hordes, the rushing of war-chariots, fleeing Egyptians, crying and shouting of women and children swarming in wild disorder, combined to produce a grand, awe-inspiring spectacle.

And Ernest Lubitsch, perched on a platform outside of camera range, kept both arms in motion like the conductor of a brass band. Responsive to his gestures, the buglers nearby blew first one call, then another, which were signals to the lieutenants in the field for the movement of the contesting armies.

More than one hundred thousand persons fought according to his direction, the greatest number of persons ever photographed in any feature film. Mr. Lubitsch recognized as the master of motion since his handling of crowds in "Deception" and "Passion" here had opportunity to do his greatest work.

Those who have seen "The Loves of Pharaoh," the great Paramount picture which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre all this week, speak of it enthusiastically as the most massive picture ever filmed.

In this romance of ancient Egypt the four principal roles are portrayed by four men screen stars of the woman, Dagny Servaes, described as the most beautiful of European players. Emil Jennings, the English king in "Deception," is the Egyptian king in "The Loves of Pharaoh." Paul Wegener, who enacted "The Golden" has a colorful role as king of Ethiopia and Harriet Liedtke, seen with Pola Negri in "The Last Payment," appears as the youthful lover who vanquishes the king and becomes ruler in his stead.

GLORIA SWANSON IN TRYING ROLE

 A famous singer in the American theatre—
 A model for an artist.

These are the four transitions in the life of a girl which Gloria Swanson portrays in her latest Paramount vehicle, "Her Gilded Cage," which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all week.

Such a role is enough to tax the versatility of any actress, but Miss Swanson is equal to the emergency, according to reports of the new picture, said to be one of the most colorful and brilliant photoplays in which she has yet appeared.

NO. THREE SHOW WILL BE NOTABLE

"Girl From Tokio" Will Be Presented To-morrow

Playhouse show number three will open Wednesday night featuring Japanese musical comedy. Mr. R. N. Hincks' genius undoubtedly runs to musical productions, where his remarkable eye for tuneful numbers and smart dialogue stand him in such good stead. On Wednesday he will start the third engagement at the Playhouse with the "Girl from Tokio" probably one of the most delightful of modern comic operas, featuring as it does such magnificent scenic effects, as well as such an array of haunting melodies. Few people in Victoria have had the opportunity of hearing this opera, which the critics expect will prove as big a drawing card as on Mr. Hincks' list. The scenery which has been specially constructed has been designed and painted by Mr. Stewart G. Clark, whose scenes in many of Mr. Hincks' productions as well as in Playhouse Shows, one and two have been caused so much favorable comment.

The cast chosen to sustain the parts is a strong one, specially chosen and with regard to their adaptability. The title role is to be taken by Miss Justine Gilbert, a most accomplished vocalist and instrumentalist who possesses a splendid soprano voice. Miss Gilbert's home is in Pasadena where she is following music as a profession, and she is at present visiting her father, Mr. Justin Gilbert of this city. The leading male parts are taken by Jack and Ernie Petch, and it is safe to say that in such capable hands there will be nothing left to be desired.

The first part of the bill for Playhouse Show number three is of a very high order including as it does violin solos by Miss Justine Gilbert, who plays a violin made by her father. Those who have had the privilege of hearing this lady play declare that it is an absolute treat, her technique and tone production being wonderful. In addition to this turn the first part contains an extremely ludicrous golfing number by Bob Webb, Ernest Petch in his own screwally funny yiddish turn and a short sketch in which Mr. Petch, Miss Eunice Campbell and Ben Hobday are characters. Advance bookings have been large for every performance and those wishing to attend will be well advised to book early. More than two hundred and fifty people were turned away from the playhouse on Saturday night owing to lack of accommodation. Playhouse Show number three will open at 8.30 to-morrow.

Will Be Starred in "Beyond the Rocks"

Gloria Swanson, Paramount star, can't swim a stroke!

That didn't deter her, however, when it became necessary for scenes in "Beyond the Rocks," her latest starring vehicle, showing at the Columbia Theatre to-day, from plunging into the ocean near Catalina Island, out of her own boat and then keeping up to the best of her ability until rescued by Rodolph Valentino, who plays the leading man's role.

"I never knew it was so hard to deliberately fall out of a boat into the water until I tried to do it—so—natural way," observed the star, after the perilous scenes had been secured. "One of my ears accidentally slipped out of the car-lock, however, and that gave me the idea. By pulling hard on one ear and then letting it slip out, and throwing myself to one side, I would seem naturally to fall right over the side of the tipping boat into the water."

The camera started and gathering all my courage, I splashed over the side into the water. When I got my breath, I screamed for the rescue signal and Mr. Valentino had reached me. At first, I ducked him in my struggles, but finally I got my senses together and calmed down a

The original musical score being prepared for Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood," by Dr. Boris Dunev, celebrated pianist and composer, is rapidly nearing completion. For the past five weeks Dr. Dunev has been working at the Pickford-Fairbanks Studio, composing the music as the picture is being titled and cut. The score will be a silent opera on a symphonic basis and when the photoplay is shown in New York, Chicago and other key cities, it will be accompanied by a 75-piece orchestra. In New York, Chicago, Boston and possibly Los Angeles Dr. Dunev will personally conduct the orchestra.

Two companies of "The Bat" have already started on a tour of the provinces in England and two more are to go later. The first company, which opened at Southampton, met with an enthusiastic reception. The following is a brief excerpt from the review of the play appearing in The Southampton Daily Echo, August 3: "The Bat" is a play in a thousand. No wonder it set all London playgoers talking. There is no doubt that it will thrill and entertain the provinces quite as it has London. In "The Bat" mystery is piled on mystery, sensation upon sensation. "The Bat" should not be missed.

IS INTERESTED IN ISLAND LUMBER

Prominent Lancing Man Arrives on Inspection

The lumber business will not come into its own until the rates on east-bound coast timber are cut, although Western fir and other standard timbers are increasing in the Central Western states, according to J. W. Haarer, of Lansing, Mich.

Mr. Haarer is a periodical visitor to this city, and is now here with his family. He is a banker in the Michigan state capital city, associated financially with W. D. Connor, the president of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Co. in that company.

Mr. Haarer is keenly interested in the forest development of the island, and in the prosperity of its lumber business. He takes the view that the business can be developed if freight rates are cut to give some opportunity to meet the competition of southern pine. He believes that the future of the lumber business on the Pacific seaboard lies largely in shipping to the Atlantic states.

He says the reports of the great financial agencies in the United States show considerable development in the area of the Pacific Northwest, which embraces Vancouver Island, and that business is now on the upgrade.

of spawning area. The catches of former big years demonstrated the extent and value of the salmon that that watershed will produce when it is abundantly seeded. No other watershed has produced such vast numbers. That watershed is to-day as accessible, suitable, and capable of producing salmon as abundantly as it ever was. It needs only to be allowed to spawn again to produce the vast runs of the past.

The Fraser has been depleted of its wealth of salmon because Canada and the United States failed to afford adequate protection to the salmon that sought to pass through their waters enroute to that river basin to spawn. The Fraser salmon

"Reply to the third question asked by the Minister, the Commission replied: 'The Dominion regulations, which went into effect on the finding of the Commission (1905-7-19) which carefully studied the situation in detail. The fishing history of the district since that date would seem to indicate that one number of fixed was probably the maximum number that should be considered. In no area is there evidence that the catch has increased, and in no area have the fishermen enjoyed excessive catches. There is, on the other hand, some ground for the opinion that the supply has not been fully maintained.'

question is an international question. All efforts to handle it by State and Province have failed because they lacked the power by Order-in-Council or by Act of the Legislature to bind either to a policy which, to be effective, must stand for a long period of years. Orders-in-Council and Acts of the Legislature are subject to repeal. Consequently the difficulties to be met must be embodied in a treaty by Great Britain, for Canada, and by the United States. Notwithstanding that the salmon-fishery of the Fraser has been the subject of repeated conferences of Provincial, State, and Federal authorities of Canada and the United States, the people of Canada and the United States appear never to have become sufficiently interested in this great question to support the measures for the perpetuation of one of their great national food resources.

The Situation.

It has been stated that at the last formal conference of members of the Fishery Board of the State of Washington and Canadian authorities regarding the Fraser fishery, the Canadian authorities prevented an agreement being reached by making demands that the State Board agree to impossible conditions, including a closed period of five years, was officially represented at that conference by my assistant, Mr. Babcock, and he was unable to get the conference failed to reach an agreement because it was developed that both the Canadian and Washington delegations lacked the authority to bind either the Dominion or the State for a sufficient closed period to give promise of restoring even a proportion of the fishery.

"I submit, gentlemen, there is no gainsaying the evidence in this case. The watershed of the Fraser will, when seeded, produce more sockeye salmon than any known watershed. The Fraser basin produced in 1913 over 2,300,000 cases. The fourth year's production was but 550,000 cases. And eight years later but 142,000 cases. The catch in 1921 was 83 per cent. less than in the big year of 1913. Being in possession of a watershed that is capable of producing 2,300,000 cases in a year, how can the Governments of Canada and the United States (1905-7-19) with conditions that limit that supply to less than 200,000 cases per year and which, if continued, will produce no sockeye salmon at all."

"The questions involved in the salmon-fishery of the Fraser River system are similar to those of the necessary of the great and practical character, and not Provincial or State questions, they must be dealt with upon broad national lines in the interest of the people of Canada and the United States.

"Allow me to express the hope of the Province that your investigation, in dealing with this great and practical fishery question, may go long way towards its solution. No other Canadian or American fishery question has such vital importance to their people.

Conditions in Northern Waters.

"The salmon-fisheries of our northern waters are in a range of being destroyed. They will give far greater protection than has been afforded in the last ten years. They have been under close observation since 1905. The records of the pack, reports from spawning areas, and the condition of the runs are complete, and they all tell the same story.

"The Dominion Fisheries Commission of 1905, published in 1906, for two years in an interim report of the Commission under date of December 8, 1905, recommendation was made that the limitation of the exploitation of northern waters be sanctioned immediately; and that hereafter the number of boats used in salmon-fishing be limited to 25 at Rivers Inlet, 50 on the Skeena River, and 200 on the Nass River.

"In the final report of the 1905-7 Commission, published in 1907, they stated: 'We desire again to call your attention to the danger which threatens the salmon-fisheries of the northern district of the Province. Because of the serious decline of the run of sockeye salmon to the Fraser River, greater attention is being paid by canneries and fishermen to our other salmon-producing rivers, such as Rivers Inlet, the Skeena and Nass Rivers. Unless adequate restrictive measures, limiting the fishing there, are at once adopted there is danger that these streams will become as depleted as the Fraser.' They further stated: 'The Commission recognized this danger two years ago, and in the interim report of December, 1905, pointed out and unanimously recommended that a limit be placed on the number of canneries and the number of boats licensed in that district.

"There are no international complications affecting the salmon-fisheries of the northern district. The situation there is entirely within the control of the Government. The evidence submitted to the Commission by inspectors and other witnesses made the situation very plain. Excessive fishing, which depleted the Fraser, threatened the depletion of the salmon of the Skeena and Rivers Inlet. We strongly urge, as a remedial measure, that no additional canneries be permitted in the northern district, and that the number of boats licensed at Rivers Inlet be limited to 250, those at the Skeena to 500, and at the Nass to 200.

Official Limitation.

"Following the issuance of the report of the 1905-7 Commission, the Province in 1909, assuming the right to do so, placed the limitation recommended into effect. A year later the Dominion Department put into operation a similar limitation, which was maintained until 1912. In the latter year the Dominion authorities departed from that recommendation by issuing a license to an additional cannery. In 1913 another cannery was licensed, three more in 1915, and four in 1917. In 1917 notice was received from Ottawa that in 1918 all restrictions as to the number of canneries and boat licenses were to be removed. Following that announcement the Dominion, at the instance of the Province, appointed another Special Fisheries Commission, consisting of two Eastern and one Western member, to inquire into conditions in District No. 2. That Commission made an extensive investigation, and its report, based on facts and considerations set forth in its introduction, is worthy of the closest attention. Replying to the first question submitted to the Commission by the Minister, as to 'whether the number of salmon-canneries allowed in District No. 2 should be restricted to the number of licenses then effective, and, if so, for what length of time,' the Commission reported that the supply of salmon in that district is being conserved by the present supply, and that what effect new measures for propagation and development may be tending to produce, will, owing to the age reached by certain species before they return to the river, require careful study for a period of not less than five years. In the meantime the evidence clearly indicates that the quantity that may safely be taken until the supply is proven to have substantially increased, and unquestionably the existing species are more than adequate for the canning of the quantity of salmon. We therefore recommend that the number of cannery licenses be not increased.

"Referring to the departure from the policy of restriction adopted by the Dominion in 1910, the Commission stated: 'Neither the business strategy of a company is in itself sufficient ground for a change in public policy, nor do we regard the general results of the departure begun in 1912 as having improved the situation from the public point of view, and we believe that the removal of all restrictions, under the present conditions as to the supply

Irresistible Charm of Alluring Furs

JUST run one's fingers through the glistening pelts—feel their silky sleekness—the spell is on!

Charming in themselves, but picture them worn by some charming damsel. How they live the glint in her hair, the sparkle in her eyes, the pink in her cheek—truly irresistible!

Such furs, perfectly matched and modeled in the smartest modes are here in an endless variety for your inspection.

Such records establish beyond all question the fact that had the numbers of sockeye in the waters leading to the Skeena and Rivers Inlet been as numerous in recent years as formerly, the catches would show an increase instead of a decrease.

"Owing to the reduced runs to our northern waters during the last two years the fishermen have earned little, if anything, more than their living expenses. Many of them have not paid expenses, notwithstanding the fact that they received 300 per cent. more for each sockeye caught than was paid them ten years ago, when each season fishermen made money. During the past two years the fishermen and the canneries lost money and the public has paid a higher price for their product.

"No other conclusion, I submit, can be drawn from a study of conditions, past and present, in our northern salmon waters than that an alarming reduction has taken place in the number of fish seeking the spawning areas, and consequently that the runs will be destroyed unless the salmon are given much greater protection than has been afforded them in recent years.

Hatcheries' Influence.

"For a considerable period it was contended that the operation of hatcheries would counterbalance heavy drains on the runs—that the runs could be maintained even though a lesser number of fish were permitted to reach the spawning area, provided sufficient hatcheries were established. I submit, however, that the history of artificial propagation produced the results anticipated. I frankly do not believe, therefore, that the runs can be restored through the operation of hatcheries. Nature's methods are dependable, in order to assure the abundant seeding of the natural spawning-beds, greater numbers of fish must reach them. If a sufficient number of fish are permitted to reach them adequately feeding will result, the young will feed themselves, furnish their own transportation to and from their feeding and maturing ranges in the sea. That is, the fish themselves will do all that is required to maintain the runs, provided a sufficient number are permitted free passage through the fishing area. That can only be done by curtailing fishing.

It has been repeatedly stated that the decline in the runs of salmon is due to the use of some specific kind of fishing-gear; that one or another of the various kinds of nets used catch too many fish, and that by the elimination of that particular kind of gear further restriction will be unnecessary. The fact is that the present depletion is manifestly the result of too many fish being taken. The particular method used in capturing the fish is therefore immaterial. The total catch is what counts. The fish caught by gill drag, or purse nets do not figure in the future of the race. The maintenance of the runs to each section depends solely upon the number that escape capture and successfully spawn. The methods devised to restore the runs must provide for a greater escapement—a far greater escapement in the fishing grounds of each particular run, in order to maintain this great industry. It cannot be maintained in any other way."
