Discussion: Kris Lowdermilk, HR Manager, stated this is the standard resolution to set the insurance rates for 2023. The rates will be increasing by approximately 12.8 – 12.9%. After talking with the Healthcare Consortium, some of the increase is due to COVID. Before COVID, rate increases have been on target. Hopefully during the next budget year, the County can get back on target with rates.

Commissioner Landis thanked Mr. Lowdermilk for his leadership and diligence on working so hard for the County to do what is best for the employees and for the County itself. The working relationship between Mr. Lowdermilk and the Healthcare Consortium really pays dividends because you have stayed close with them all year and built a repour with them.

Re: Sandyville Pump Station #3 Renovation Project

Dear Mr. Jones:

At your request, the bid documents for the low bidder were analyzed for compliance with the contract requirements and all appear to be in compliance. The low bidders' references were contacted for comments and to check their qualifications. Based on the qualification phone interviews performed; W.E. Quicksall and Associates, Inc. recommends that the contract be awarded to:

Stanley Miller Construction Co. in the amount of $296,005.00

All figures were checked for each bidder and no mathematical errors were found; the standing of the bids remain the same.

As this project was funded in part by the Ohio Public Works Commission, a check was made with the US Treasury's Excluded Parties Listing and the bidders were not listed.

Ohio Revised Code Section 9.24 prohibits a political subdivision from awarding a contract to any person against whom a finding for recovery has been issued by the Auditor of State. We have searched the State Auditor's database and the recommended contractor does not have any unresolved finding.

I have enclosed the apparent low bidder's qualification interviews conducted from the respective references provided in the bid package for your review and considerations. Also enclosed with this letter are three copies of the Bid Tabulation and Notice of Award. Upon acceptance of this recommendation, please sign all copies of the Notice of Award and return two (2) copies to our office for further processing.

We are prepared at this time to proceed with the necessary negotiations with the contractor for the contract execution at your request.

Respectfully.

OTHER BUSINESS: Sheriff, Orvis Campbell was present to request signatures for a Capital Improvement Grant through the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections for jail projects. Sheriff Campbell stated several years ago, in person visitation was suspended at the jail. Visitation is done through a monitor now. The unused visitation space is large enough to use as a classroom and small storage area. There is a multi-purpose room that is being used for inmate services from GED, AA, NA, Counseling, Group Therapy and Church. This multi-purpose room is used all day long for these services and the new classroom would be able to house these services and many more while the multi-purpose room could be used for attorney/client interviews, etc.

RESOLUTION (1042-2022) APPROVE APPLICATION – CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT – JAIL PROJECT

It was moved by Commissioner Landis, and seconded by Commissioner Metzger, to approve the attached Application for Funding Capital Improvement for Local Jail Projects for the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation & Correction:

Department of Rehabilitation & Correction

Mike DeWine, Governor Annette Chambers-Smith, Director

August 12, 2022

Re: House Bill 687 Funding / Application process

Good Afternoon Sheriffs and Commissioners.

As many of you know, House Bill 687 was recently passed by the 134th General Assembly and signed by Governor DeWine. The bill provides $50,575,000 in new capital funding for the construction and renovation of county jails in Ohio through two different paths: designated jails and the general funding pool.

For designated jails, there is a total of $575,000 available. The process for obtaining this funding will be the same as previously used by the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction (ODRC) for distributing funds provided by House Bill 529 and Senate Bill 310. A funding guide will be sent to the recipients identified in the legislation. Recipients will be asked to complete the guide and send the information to ODRC for review. If the intended project is an "Allowable Capital Expenditure" pursuant to the guidance from the Office of Budget and Management, the award will be provided by ODRC to the recipient on a reimbursement basis.

The remaining $50,000,000 in the general funding pool will be awarded through an application process administered by the ODRC that is substantially similar to the process ODRC recently used for distributing the funds from Senate Bill 310. The counties will apply to ODRC identifying their project and provide reasoning and justification for the requested jail project. ODRC will review the applications, assess the basis/needs for the projects using a scoring matrix, determine if the funding awards will be granted, and determine the amount of the awards.

Please note that there has been a slight change made to the scoring process. The question regarding the cost per bed was removed as a scored question. Even though it is not a scored question, the cost per bed will still be used as a factor in the selection process for those jalls who submit projects that expand their housing capacity. This change will ensure the selected projects are cost efficient.

On August 12, 2022, the application for the $50,000,000 general funding pool money was sent to the Sheriffs as well as the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association and the County Commissioners Association. Additionally, the application will be posted at: https://grants.ohio.gov. If your county has a project that meets the Office of Budget and Management's "Guidelines for Allowable Capital Expenditures", and you are seeking funding through this pool of money, please submit a completed application to the Bureau of Adult Detention. Please note that the deadline for submission of applications is November 30, 2022.

Project Narrative:

Describe your project in general terms. The narrative should include information about the types of inmates to be held in the facility, service areas, programming, recreation, transportation, etc.

to be held in the facility, service areas, programming, recreation, transportation, etc.

The project in which we seek funding includes the re-purposing of the no-longer-used visitation block of the jail into a substance abuse and mental health programming space. With this transformation, this project would add substance abuse and mental health programming space and in return, increase the ability to create more programs and provide ability to better maintain current programming. The current designated, and only available, space for inmate substance abuse and mental health programming is the Multi-Purpose Room. The Multi-Purpose Room is also designated for video court hearings, inmate interviews, and rule violation hearings. Due to the nature and urgency of court hearings, interviews, and rule violation hearings, as well as the limited space currently available at the jail, periodically programming must be cancelled if one of these other jail activities are scheduled or requested via the courts to take place at the same time as a scheduled program. With this limited space and other jail activities, we cannot currently accommodate all of the community partnership requests that we receive as well as accommodate additional programs that would be beneficial to the re-entry of inmates with behavioral health disorders, including substance abuse and mental health. The funding in which we request would be utilized to re-purpose the existing visitation block of the jail into a dedicated inmate programming room within the secure perimeter of the jail.

If the project includes non-jail areas, such as a law enforcement or court areas, those costs should be shown in this column. If the facility includes shared space, such as joint, public entrances or jail offices, those costs should be split according to usage and shown in the appropriate column.

For example, if you are building a programming area / training room in the jail that is expected to be used 85% of the time by corrections division and inmates, and 15% of the time by the law enforcement division of the Sheriff's Office, you should take the total cost of the area being constructed, multiply it 85% (.85), and enter the resulting number in New Construction for Jail Areas section of the table.

	what was the total amount received?

Yes. $200,000.00.

4. Is this project designed to address life-safety issues previously identified by the Bureau of Adult Detention or other enforcement/regulatory agencies? If yes, please explain:

No.

Specific Demonstration of Need:

During the 2021 annual inspection, was the jail found to be non-compliant with standards related to the physical plant? If yes, please identify the specific standards and the areas of the jail in non-compliance.

No.

Is this project designed to address physical plant issues identified as being non-compliant during previous annual inspections? If yes, please explain:

No.

Specific Demonstration of Need:

Is this project designed to benefit a currently under-served female population? If yes, please explain:

Yes, this project is designed to benefit a currently under-served female population. The state is seeing an increase in percentage of female overcrowding in jails, and the Tuscarawas County Jail is no exception. The overcrowding of female inmates at the jail, in connection to increased substance abuse by females in the community leading to crime, also has lead to more demand for female programming. Historically, most programming has been geared toward the male inmate population, due to their higher rates of incarceration compared to females. However, the current room utilized for female programming does not meet the increasing need of space for the growing female inmate population. To explain, the Female Vestibule, where female inmate programming is held, is suitable to fit about 6 inmates in addition to the volunteers of each program. Yet, over the last few months, we have seen an increase in female inmate participation in programming, where more than 6 female inmates are signing up for programming, and the Female Vestibule is over-crowded. With this project, the requested funding would allow for the female programs to be suitable in size for the increase of female inmates attending programming.

8. Does this project add/increase substance abuse/mental health programming space?

Yes, this project would add substance abuse and mental health programming space and in return, increase the ability to create more programs and provide ability to better maintain current programming. The current designated, and only available, space for inmate substance abuse and mental health programming is the Multi-Purpose Room. The Multi-Purpose Room is also designated for video court hearings, inmate interviews, and rule violation hearings. Due to the nature and urgency of court hearings, interviews, and rule violation hearings. Due to the nature and urgency of court hearings, interviews, and rule violation hearings, as well as the limited space currently available at the jail, periodically programming must be cancelled if one of these other jail activities are scheduled or requested via the courts to take place at the same time as a scheduled program. The funding in which we request would be utilized to re-purpose the existing visitation block of the jail into a dedicated inmate programming room within the secure perimeter of the jail. The existing visitation block of the jail is no longer in use, due to the removal of in-person visitation and change to video visitation where inmate visits take place in the housing PODS. This inmate programming room would be free of the tele-conferencing system that is in the Multi-Purpose Room and used by the various courts and other entities to interview inmates. With this funding, the Tuscarawas County Jail would be better equipped to provide the current inmate substance abuse and mental health programs with a designated space to ensure scheduled programs continue without disruption or cancellation due to other jail activities. In addition, this funding would

Introduction

State capital appropriations are funded primarily through the issuance of State bonds. State bonds must be authorized by Ohio voters via a Constitutional amendment and the interest on State bonds is generally exempt from federal and state income taxes (i.e., tax-exempt bonds). Thus, capital projects funded by State bonds must (1) fall within the authorized purposes for State bonded debt set forth in Article VIII of the Ohio Constitution and (2) meet federal tax law requirements for tax exempt bonds. These Allowable Capital Expenditure Guidelines are intended to assist State agencies in developing and implementing their capital plans and projects within these requirements.

Ohio Constitution -- Article VIII of the Ohio Constitution prohibits the State from incurring or assuming debt without a popular vote. To be eligible for bond funding in the State capital budget, a project must fall within the capital purposes authorized by the voters as set forth in the Ohio Constitution. Those purposes authorized in the Ohio Constitution include: highways; local government infrastructure; parks and recreation; natural resources and conservation; higher education facilities; elementary and secondary public school facilities; facilities to house branches and agencies of State government and their functions, including State office buildings and facilities; correction and juvenile detention facilities, mental health and development disabilities facilities; cultural, historical and sports facilities; and research and development (including coal research and development) and site development. Only projects that are within these purposes may be funded by State bonds.

State Laws and Federal Tax Laws -- As further discussed in this guidance, the Ohio Paviced Coal-

State Laws and Federal Tax Laws -- As further discussed in this guidance, the Ohio Revised Code and federal tax law also contain provisions that govern the allowable uses of bond proceeds for capital projects, including the types of projects and expenditures, and the extent to which non-governmental entities (both private for-profit and not-for-profit) can benefit from the project. State agencies should carefully review these allowable capital expenditure guidelines and work with OBM to ensure their projects are allowable under State and federal laws.

Not all appropriations for capital projects/purposes are provided for via the capital bill. For instance, debt-supported appropriations for highway purposes are authorized in the biennial transportation budget. In addition, appropriations for some purposes are made only in the aggregate and thus do not specify individual projects. For example, capital funding to support local government infrastructure is appropriated to the Public Works Commission where the Ohio Revised Code governs the project selection process.

The Ohio Revised Code and each bill containing new capital appropriations or reappropriations (the most recent being H.B 529 of the 132th General Assembly) set forth the allowable uses of capital funds. Capital appropriations for buildings or structures, including remodeling and renovations, are limited to:

- Acquisition of real property or interests in real property (i.e., the purchase of land or easements).
- Buildings and structures, which includes construction, demolition, complete heating and cooling, lighting and lighting fixtures, as well as all necessary utilities, ventilating, plumbing, sprinkling, and water/sewer systems.

- Architectural, engineering, and professional services expenses directly related to the project (including feasibility studies).
- Machinery necessary to the operation or function of the building or structure at the time that

• Machinery necessary to the operation or function of the building or structure at the time that it is acquired or constructed or placed into service.
In situations in which the State does not own the property on which the capital facility or improvement will be located, there are requirements that a higher education institution (with respect to Department of Higher Education capital projects) or a governmental agency (with respect to Mental Health and to Developmental Disabilities capital projects) own the property. This ownership requirement may be waived if:

- (1) The higher education institution or governmental agency has a long-term lease, or other interest (such as an easement) in the property; or
- The Department of Higher Education on behalf of a higher education institution certifies to the Controlling Board that undue delay will occur if planning does not proceed while the property or property interest acquisition process continues. In this case, capital funds may be released upon approval by the Controlling Board to pay for planning through the development of schematic drawings only; or
- (3) If the capital facilities will be owned by, or be part of facilities owned by, a separate nonprofit organization or public body and made available to a higher education institution or governmental agency for its use or benefit, the nonprofit organization either owns or has a long-term lease of the real property or other capital facility to be improved, renovated, constructed or acquired, and has entered into an agreement with the state agency or higher education institution that meets applicable statutory requirements.

Joint Use Agreements -- The Department of Higher Education has adopted rules (see OAC 3333-1-03(E)) regarding the release of moneys for capital projects not owned by the State or a higher education institution and the joint use of such projects. The joint use agreement, among other

- Provide that the use of the funds and the process to be followed for expenditure of the funds is consistent with the capital appropriation language, the limitations on the use of capital appropriations as set forth in the capital bill, and any applicable state law and federal tax law
- Specify the extent and nature of the higher education institution's use or benefit of the project or improvement over a term of at least 20 years, with the value of that use or benefit to be reasonably related to the amount of the State capital appropriation.
- Provide for pro rata reimbursement to the State should the arrangement for joint use be terminated prior to the expiration of the 20-year term.
- Provide for payment or reimbursement to the higher education institution (not to exceed 1.5% of the appropriation) of its administrative costs incurred as a direct result of the project. The institution should document those reimbursed amounts by component.

Grant/Cooperative Use Agreements – Other State agencies that administer capital appropriations for projects owned or managed by governmental agencies or not-for profit entities must enter into an agreement with the entity receiving the State capital funding prior to release of those funds. Those agreements, among other matters, must:

- Provide that the use of the funds and the process to be followed for expenditure of the funds is consistent with the capital appropriation language, the limitations on the use of capital appropriations as set forth in the capital bill, and any applicable state law and federal tax law limitations;
- Specify the extent and nature of the State agency's use or benefit, or right to use, or interest in the project or improvement over a period of 10 years or the term of the underlying State bonds, whichever is longer.
- Provide for pro rata reimbursement to the State should the arrangement for the State agency's use, right to use, or interest in the project be terminated prior to expiration of the term of the agreement.

Allowable Equipment and Furnishings

To be financed with capital funds, expenditures for equipment or furnishings that are part of a broader capital project or facility must meet all of the following criteria:

- Essential in bringing the facility up to its intended use or is necessary for the facility to function. The equipment or furnishing must be an integral part of or directly related to the basic purpose or function of the facility.
- Have a unit cost of about $100 or more.
- Have a useful life of at least five years.
- Used primarily in the rooms or areas covered by the financed project.

Allowable equipment and furnishings would include computers and computer peripherals, workstations, lab and research equipment, desks, chairs, tables, bookshelves, file cabinets, carpeting/flooring, blinds, and curtains, provided that they satisfy all of the above criteria. An appropriation item specifically for equipment is allowable provided the equipment meets the above unit cost and useful life provisions.

Non-Allowable Equipment and Furnishings

- Not integral to the broader project or the facility's intended use. Motor vehicles used for basic transportation (e.g., cars, trucks, boats, off-road vehicles).
- General supplies and low-cost equipment (unit cost of less than $100).

In most cases, equipment or furnishings being purchased as part of a regular maintenance, upgrade or replacement effort is not appropriate for capital funding. Consumable supplies and low-cost equipment such as fuel, oil, adding machines, calculators, trash cans, common tools, paper stock, staplers, tape dispensers, etc. are not eligible uses of capital funds.

Maintenance/Repairs versus Renovations

- Maintenance and repairs, including maintenance contracts, are not eligible to be paid from capital funds and, thus, must be covered by operating funds.
- Maintenance includes a recurring activity necessary to maintain the operation, functionality, appearance, or safety of a piece of equipment, building or structure. Repairs are maintenance projects that fix a problem but do not extend the useful life of an asset.
- Maintenance and repairs generally include any project with the objective of returning or restoring an item back to its original intended use or state.

Allowable Capital Expenditure Guidelines

May 2018

- Examples of maintenance and repairs include: fixing a part or component of the heating or cooling system, fixing a leaky pipe, patching a wall, repainting, sealing windows or floors, mold remediation, replacing sections of flooring or ceiling tiles, glass replacement, resetting exterior walkways, replacing roofing shingles to fix a leak, and brick mortar repair/patching (tuckpointing).
- Renovations are more extensive enhancements, upgrades, or replacements of buildings or structures or systems and are an appropriate use of capital funds. Examples include replacing an essential component of the heating or cooling system such that the useful life of the system is extended, renovations of classrooms or other space into computer or research laboratories, upgrading electrical equipment or plumbing system components, replacing a roof, replacing exterior windows, new carpet, painting as part of new construction or a renovation, upgrading a building's security or automation system, replacing stairs or walkways to meet ADA standards, and total brick mortar replacement (repointing).

Leases, Lease-Purchase, and Installment Purchases

- Leases, including leases with an option to purchase, of vehicles or equipment are not allowable capital expenditures.
- Installment purchases while not strictly prohibited are generally not approved as allowable capital expenditures.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (IT) SYSTEM PROJECTS

Capital funds may be used to support the application development, deployment, and integration (including project management) of information technology systems that constitute or are a part of a larger capital projects. Capital funds may not be used to support the ongoing operation and maintenance of such projects.

ALLOWABLE

Allowable capital IT project expenditures include systems developed for internal use that have a useful life of five or more years. Allowable costs generally include the design, configuration, and deployment, customized software and its licensing, interfaces, data conversion, and various hardware and peripherals. State agencies and higher education institutions should consider an IT project as a potential capital expenditure only when the cost of application development is at least $1 million. For new and replacement systems, capital expenditures usually occur after the preliminary project phase is completed and when management implicitly or explicitly authorized funding of the project.

IT system upgrades may also be considered an allowable capital expenditure when they add significant functionality or are necessary to postpone obsolescence. State agencies and higher education institutions should ensure that the postponement of obsolescence is generated by the upgrade and not simply by ongoing maintenance or the maintenance component of the upgrade. For example, a system upgrade that included technical upgrades, security enhancements and significant additions of functionality would be considered an allowable capital expenditure, while an upgrade that included only routine technical and/or security improvements would be an appropriate operating expenditure.

Capital funds may be used to purchase hardware for information technology systems and its components, including but not limited to servers, network equipment, desktops/laptops, monitors, printers, scanners, etc.

Software, Licensing, and Warranties

- Purchases of packaged "off-the-shelf" software are allowable if they have an expected useful life of at least five years and have been tailored or customized to the IT project. The software purchase must also meet one of the following criteria:

 Related to the initial deployment of an account.
 - Related to the initial deployment of an agency or university-wide system or other major project deployment (periodic upgrades must be purchased with operating funds); or When necessary to bring a newly constructed facility or an allowable piece of equipment
 - up to its intended use (e.g. a computer lab).
- Application development, configuration or deployment.
- Software licenses for commercial off-the-shelf products with a term of at least five years, provided the cost is paid for upfront as part of the development stage.
- Software licenses for cloud based products related to application build, provided the State agency or higher education institution has a contractual right to take possession of the software and it is feasible to run the software on its own hardware.
- Data conversions required to make the new IT system operational.
- Purchase of perpetual licenses enabling the acquisition of shared electronic resources and databases.
- Warranties purchased at the time of initial acquisition with a term of at least five years and provided that the terms and conditions are substantially the same as warranties available to other purchasers.

NON-ALLOWABLE

Operation and Maintenance

Operating, not capital, funds must be used to support the ongoing operation and maintenance of IT systems and other regular, recurring expenses.

Replacement Hardware

Capital funds generally may not be used to purchase end of life or replacement hardware equipment (computers, peripherals, etc.) that do not upgrade or add functionality to an IT system.

Software and Licensing

Capital funds generally may not be used to purchase standard off-the-shelf software (such as MS Office software, Adobe, and web browsers) or any software package with individual license costs under $500. Additionally, capital funds may not be used to purchase: periodic software upgrades, minor upgrades and patches, minor configurations, or security enhancements. Software licenses for premise-based and cloud-based products post-implementation, including annual licensing and subscription-based software, should also be paid from operating funds.

Planning and Post-Implementation

Capital funds generally may not be used to cover costs associated with planning or post-implementation operation of an IT project, including: project-related research and planning, service management and strategic planning, post-implementation activities including project and change management, and data conversions that are not required for an IT system to be operational. Additionally, costs associated with the solicitation, review and selection of professional service providers or vendors, including contract development, should be paid from operating funds.

Personnel Expense

Personnel Expenses

Capital funds generally may not be used to cover expenses of State employees working on IT projects. Employees working on IT projects should continue to be funded out of operating funds. In the case of colleges and universities, capital funds may not be used to cover tuition reimbursement or graduate assistantships. (Note, although federal tax law does allow for State personnel expenses under certain circumstances, the extensive and detailed record-keeping requirements necessary to comply with IRS audits generally offset any potential benefit.)

Expenses related to training of personnel on the new IT system or any of its components is generally not an allowable capital expenditure. Some expenses related to the initial deployment of the IT system (e.g., creating the system user manual) may be allowable.

Follow-Up Questions Regarding Proposed Expenditures

- Questions regarding the capital funding eligibility of proposed expenditures should be directed to the agency's operating and capital analysts at the Office of Budget and Management. Institutions of higher education should consult with the capital planning Director of the Department of Higher Education.
