Brief History of the Monthly Catalog

The Printing Act of 1895 specified two products for the description and collocation of public documents.

- The Catalogue of the Public Documents of the [...] Congress and of All Departments of the Government of the United States (Document Catalogue) fulfilled the requirement for a “comprehensive index of public documents” to be prepared “at the close of each regular session of Congress.”
- The Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications (MoCat) met the stipulation for a “Monthly Catalogue ... which shall show the publications printed during a month, where [those publications are] obtainable, and the price thereof.”

Thus, the original relationship was a current awareness listing (in the MoCat) and a permanent, authoritative, and comprehensive catalog (in the Document Catalogue).

In 1947, the cost and perennial difficulty of compiling the Document Catalogue led the Superintendent of Documents to recommend to the Joint Committee on Printing that the Catalogue be discontinued after the edition for 1940 was completed. The MoCat began to serve in the capacity of a single source for bibliographic information, fulfilling the requirements of the 1895 act, which stand to this day in 44 USC §1710-1711.

From 1895 until 1976, the Government Printing Office (GPO) arranged and described documents according to its own standards and systems. A major revision of the appearance and functionality of the MoCat took place in July 1976. GPO catalogers began producing machine-readable cataloging records (MARC) conforming to Anglo-American Cataloging Rules (AACR), Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH), the Ohio College Library Center (later the Online Computer Library Center, OCLC) bibliographic standards and formats, and other applicable national level standards. Since that time, GPO has gradually expanded the emphasis of its cataloging and indexing program from the production of a single printed product to the creation and maintenance of a database of high-quality, standards-based bibliographic records. These records are used by GPO and the library community to support an expanding array of bibliographic control activities.

The bibliographic data used to produce this abridged paper edition is also used to produce a compact disk/read-only memory (CD-ROM) and a World Wide Web (WWW) edition. The Web edition links users directly from bibliographic citations to electronic publications, and assists the public to locate information in depository libraries and through GPO sales. GPO bibliographic data is also available to individual libraries directly from GPO and from a variety of commercial sources for the creation of high quality local databases and public access catalogs.

The history of the United States is a story of growth and change. From the first European settlers to the present day, the nation has evolved through various stages of development. The early years were marked by exploration and the establishment of colonies. The American Revolution led to the birth of a new nation, and the subsequent years saw the expansion of territory and the growth of industry. The Civil War was a pivotal moment in the nation's history, leading to the abolition of slavery and the strengthening of the federal government. The late 19th and early 20th centuries were characterized by rapid industrialization and the rise of big business. The Great Depression of the 1930s led to significant government intervention in the economy. The mid-20th century saw the United States emerge as a global superpower, leading the world in the Cold War. The latter part of the 20th century was marked by social and cultural changes, including the civil rights movement and the Vietnam War. The 21st century has brought new challenges, including the September 11 attacks and the global financial crisis, but also significant technological advances and a renewed focus on international cooperation.

Catalog Arrangement

Bibliographic entries in the Monthly Catalog (MOCAT) are arranged in Superintendent of Documents classification number order. Each record is also assigned a unique catalog number—a two-digit prefix representing the catalog year, followed by a sequential number beginning with “1” in the first issue of each year. Within this arrangement, the publications of each Government author are further identified by the name and address of the issuing agency.

Catalog entries in this catalog may be accessed by title keyword index (alphabetical list of truncated titles, arranged by important words selected from publication titles).

FEDERAL DEPOSITORY LIBRARY PROGRAM

The Federal Depository Library Program was established by Congress to provide free public access to Government publications. Nearly 1,400 public, academic, State, and law libraries serve as an information link with the Federal Government by maintaining collections of Government publications. These collections, which are tailored to local needs, are open to the public. Fifty-three of the libraries are designated as regional depository libraries. They have the responsibility of retaining material permanently and providing inter-library loan and reference services in their regions.

Copies of documents no longer available through the GPO Sales Program can usually be found in regional depository collections. To determine which depository libraries have selected copies of publications listed in this catalog, consult the Superintendent of Documents World Wide Web site and use the Locator Service. A complete listing of regional depositories follows. To obtain a complete listing of all depository libraries, write to:
