XIII WORLD CONGRESS OF SOCIOLOGY

July 18-23, 1994, Bielefeld, Germany

Congress Registration

Congress Registration and Hotel Reservation Forms have been already widely distributed by the ISA. Additional copies are available from the ISA Secretariat in Madrid or may be made by photocopy.

All Congress Registration payments have to be sent to the ISA Secretariat in Madrid.

As far as Congress fees are concerned, it should be clarified once again that "ISA members" are those who have paid their individual membership dues to the ISA for a current year. All others are "non-members".

Congress participant's kits will be available at the Congress Registration Desks located in the entrance hall of the University of Bielefeld. Registration Desks will be open from July 16th through 23rd, 1994, from 8 a.m. till 10 p.m.

Please note that only registered participants will be permitted to attend Congress sessions.

Travel and Local Arrangements

The German Organizing Committee of the XIII World Congress of Sociology, the Gesellschaft für Internationale Soziologie (GIS), stands by to assist the participants with all information related to the organization at the Congress venue.

The GIS as the local organizer of the Congress is not in charge of preparing the academic program. Questions about the academic program of the Congress should be directed to the ISA Secretariat.

Hotel reservation forms will be processed by the Bielefeld Tourist Information, Am Bahnhof, 33602 Bielefeld, Germany, Fax (521)178811. Participants interested in low budget accommodation should make their reservations as soon as possible (closing date: March 31, 1994).

Banking services: participants arriving at Bielefeld on the weekend before the Congress, i.e. July 16-17, 1994, should note that the German banking institutions are closed on Saturday and Sunday. The banking service of the Sparkasse Bielefeld at the Congress venue will be provided from Monday to Friday (July 18-22, 1994) from 8.00 a.m. till 4.00 p.m.

Information about travel connections in Germany, the local shuttle bus, and cultural and tourist programs can be obtained from the GIS, University of Bielefeld, Post Box 10 01 31, 33501 Bielefeld, Germany, Fax (521)1066399.

Lufthansa has been appointed Official Carrier of the XIII World Congress of Sociology. Lufthansa offices around the world will assist the participants with competitive prices.

For special travel arrangements, please call:

North American participants to Travel Service Corporation at (800)327023 under the code "World Congress of Sociology";

European participants to Congress Partner (Emmastr. 120, 28213 Bremen, Germany) at (421)219073, fax 216419.

Europcar Interrent is official sponsor of the XIII World Congress of Sociology. Europcar officers at the airports where participants arrive at in Germany stand by to assist them with specially priced packages of renting a car. Participants can also rent a car in advance by the international partners of Europcar around the world or Europcar Hamburg 0130-2211.

International Book Exhibition

The GIS offers two options for participating in the international book exhibition:

(1) The Bookstore Benedikt LUCE located in the central concourse of the University will rent nearly a third of the concourse for the pre-sentation of books. The Bookstore LUCE offers to every publisher the opportunity to present his books and display during the Congress week at minimal costs. Only the Bookstore LUCE is mandated to sell books at the campus! Please contact: Bookstore B. LUCE, Mr. H.J. Leibing, Universitätsstr. 25, 33615 Bielefeld, Germany, Phone (521)102773, Fax (521)105501

(2) Publishers can rent the necessary space for a stand of their own for presenting their books from the GIS at the toll DM 10; per squaremeter and day. The space for the publishers' stands will be situated in an area beside the central con course of the University. The GIS requests every publisher preferring option (2) to use his own equipment for the exhibition. Please contact the GIS, Mr H.J. Franz, University of Bielefeld, Post Box 100131, 33501 Bielefeld, Fax (521)1066399.

Reproduction and Sale of Papers

Papers Reproduction & Sale Center will be organized by the GIS at the Congress venue and papers will be duplicated on request at a modest price.

GERMAN ORGANIZING COMMITTEE OF THE XIII WORLD CONGRESS OF SOCIOLOGY

by Hans-Jürgen Franz, GIS Executive Assistant

In the end of 1989 several members of the Faculty of Sociology at the University of Bielefeld (Germany) founded the society for international sociology Gesellschaft für Internationale Soziologie (GIS). The organizational goals of that society were twofold. The constituent members of the GIS have been interested in the promotion of scientific projects dealing with the internationalization of contemporary sociology on the one hand, and in preparing the application for holding the XIIIth World Congress of Sociology in Bielefeld, on the other.

Members of the GIS are: Peter Weingart (Chair), Adrienne Windhoff-Heritier (Co-Chair), Dietrich Storbeck (Treasurer), Karin Knorr-Cetina, Franz-Xaver Kaufmann (Board Members), Hans-Dieter Evers, Richard Grathoff, Niklas Luhmann, Othein Rammstedt, Gert Schmidt, and Helmut Wilke.

Since 1991 Hans-Jürgen Franz is employed as Executive Assistant of the GIS.

In 1990 the GIS and the ISA founded in Bielefeld the Documentation, Publication and Analyses Centre (DPA). This is not only the house of the ISA journal International Sociology, but its first Director, Richard Grathoff, oversees also projects related to the subject of the internationalization of sociology. The DPA is financed by the state government of Northrhine-Westfalia and the ISA.

On behalf of the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Soziologie (German Society of Sociology) the GIS submitted in 1990 the application for holding the XIIIth World Congress. That application included calculations of the capacities of the University of Bielefeld to become the Congress venue and of the supply of accommodations for the participants in Bielefeld and nearby towns. In March 1991 the meeting of the ISA Executive Committee was held in Bielefeld and it was decided that the 1994 World Congress would take place in Bielefeld. Since that decision the Contract and the Program Committees of the ISA have closely cooperated with the GIS in preparing the Congress.

From the very beginning the efforts of the GIS were concentrated upon the problem of funding such a big event like the 1994 Congress. Since 1990 the GIS had negotiated with different governmental agencies, foundations, and potential sponsors to ensure the basic funding. Although the international economic crisis has affected the unified Germany as well as other countries it was possible to secure financial conditions for organizing the ISA Congress.

Subsidies of the German Research Foundation (DFG), the Federal Ministry of Research and Technology, the state-government of Northrhine-Westfalia and the city of Bielefeld on the one hand, and the Bertelsmann AG, Gütersloh, as main sponsor on the other, enable the GIS as local organizing committee to hold the XIIIth World Congress of Sociology.

From July 18th through 23rd, 1994, all Congress sessions will be held in the auditoria and lecture rooms of the University of Bielefeld. The Congress venue will be connected with hotels and low budget accommodations of Bielefeld and nearby towns by a regular shuttle bus free of charge for every participant.

of Bielefeld as well as the city of Bielefeld and its Tourist Information in order to organize an attractive ISA XIII World Congress of Sociology.

The Congress Venue: the University of Bielefeld

The University of Bielefeld was founded in 1969 and thus represents a 'young university' covering disciplines of natural sciences as well as of human and social sciences. From the beginning the University was characterized by clear decisions of specialized interests of research and interdisciplinary activities.

Since 1976 the central building of the University that will be the venue of the forthcoming World Congress of Sociology, assembles all the faculties and institutes as well as the central library with its 1.7 billions of books "under one roof". The campus of Bielefeld is featured by short distances between lecture rooms, bureaus, laboratories and the facilities of daily life like cafeterias, canteens or shops. The building offers a well integrated infrastructure and the central concourse of the University functions like a market square where a bank, a post office, a bookstore, cafeterias, restaurants and other shops are surrounding a central place of communication.

14 faculties constitute the University: the Faculties of Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Education, History and Philosophy, Law, Linguistics and Literature, Mathematics, Physics, Psychology and Sciences of Sports, Public Health, Sociology, Technical Sciences, Theology, Geography and Arts.

17.000 students are registered at the University and 270 professors and about 500 scientific collaborators work together in teaching and research. The students of Bielefeld can choose among 69 courses of studies.

Research has always been a central feature of the University of Bielefeld. Since 1968 the Center of Interdisciplinary Research is hosting every year several academic working groups and a long-term research group of 20-30 people (for a period of 3 up to 12 months) dealing with different scientific subjects. Moreover, six special research units (Sonderforschungsbereiche) funded by the German Research Foundation (DFG), each comprising several research projects with common points of conceptual and/or thematical reference, are functioning at the University. Finally, seven post-graduate programs were established in Bielefeld that are funded by the German Research Foundation (DFG) and the Volkswagen Foundation.

Besides the 14 faculties mentioned above, there are several institutes of research like for example the Institute of Population Research and Social Policy, the Institute for Science and Technology Studies, the Institute of European and International Law or the Institute for the Education of Mathematics.

Projects of connecting theory and practice and of bridging scientific work and economic developments or social problems are another feature of the University. The transfer of scientific results to areas of economic, social and political practice and the cooperation between scientists and representatives of business, politics, administration and professions are the central objects of these activities.

It is a fortunate coincidence that the event of the Congress will take place in the year of the 25th jubilee of the foundation of the University. Thus, the University of Bielefeld is especially looking forward to welcome all participants to the XIII World Congress of Sociology, July 18-23, 1994.

Bielefeld: the city

Bielefeld, a city of 320.000 inhabitants and characterized by a long history of trade, services, and industry, welcomes the XIII World Congress of Sociology in July 1994.

The history of Bielefeld is closely linked to that of the counts of Ravensburg, who established the town in 1214. History leaves traces. Where once medieval trade routes crossed, there remains a market square, Alter Markt, that is nowadays a focal point and heart of the city surrounded by restored noblemen's houses recalling the ancient times. High above the city, rising from the green of the Teutoburg Forrest, the Sparrenburg castle greets all visitors. The landmark built in the first half of the 13th century is nowadays a popular destination for visitors from near and far. It is not just a slogan that Bielefeld is "a city in the country" because the Teutoburg Forrest as well as miles of green through the city verify that notion.

The cultural life of Bielefeld is multifaceted. The Kunsthalle Bielefeld, a museum of 20th century art invites the visitors as well as four other museums: the Museum of Heritage and Natural History, the Farmhouse Museum, and the Regional History Museum.

Two theatres, the Stadttheater and the Theater am Alten Markt, are offering a wide range of cultural experiences reaching from opera, through drama and ballet to musical.

A venue of classical music is the concert hall Oetkerhalle. During the Bielefeld Summer Rendezvous (Sommertreff) from May to September, unconventional theatre, jesters, and live music of different cultural origins are presented throughout the city.

The civic hall Stadthalle Bielefeld, a multipurpose and versatile center of events reaching from congress meeting to stage shows, and the economic experience. On occasion of the World Congress the Bielefeld association of innkeepers and gastronomers will celebrate the 111th jubilee of its foundation by a Gastronomic Festival to be held from July 21 through 24, 1994. All Congress participants are welcome to the opening of the Festival which will take place on Thursday, July 21, 1994, at 17:00 hrs at Alter Markt, the historical center of Bielefeld.

The University of Bielefeld, a campus for 17.000 students, that will be the venue of the forthcoming World Congress of Sociology, and the Adult Education Center of Bielefeld (Volkshochschule) located in the facilities of the old Ravensburg spinning mill are prominent places of education and science.

Bielefeld, easily accessible from all directions by motor-Seidensticker Halle, a place for big sporting events and stage shows complete the wide range of opportunities to spend one's time-off.

The hospitality in the city includes cool beer as well as sparkling champagne. Small pubs and gourmet restaurants represent a manifold gastroways and main roads, connected with the airports of Düsseldorf and Hannover (to name only the nearest) by regular train services is looking forward to welcome the participants of the XIIIth World Congress of Sociology from July 18 to 23, 1994.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

International Sociological Association/ISA

CURRENT SOCIOLOGY

Association internationale de Sociologie/ La sociologie contemporaine

Each issue of this unique journal is devoted to a comprehensive trend report on a topic of interest to the international community of sociologists. Authors review current trends and tendencies in all areas of sociological work - theories, methods, concepts, substantive research and national or regional developments. The aim is to review new developments, to discuss controversies, and to provide extensive bibliographies. From time to time, Commentaries on Trend Reports are published in subsequent issues of the journal.

Since its inception in 1952, Current Sociology has published Trend Reports by some of the world's leading sociologists, such as S.M. Miller's classic on Comparative Social Mobility (1960). More recently, the journal has covered topics of growing importance with the discipline such as the sociology of law, the sociology of the body, economic sociology and the sociology of legitimation.

Issues are published in French or English, but a text in one language is always accompanied by an extensive résumé in the other. Current Sociology is an official journal of the International Sociological Association. Its main aim is to review international developments in the discipline and to provide a forum at which professional sociologists from all countries can communicate with the widest group of colleagues.

SAGE Studies in

sponsored by the International Sociological Association/ISA

This Series was established by the ISA in 1974 in place of the transactions of World Congress of Sociology, which had been published since the Association's foundation in 1949.

The Series contains topical volumes based on work presented in the various sessions of World Congresses and reflecting the scientific activities of the ISA's Research Committees.

The books contain a selection of papers chosen for their scientific quality, their international representativeness and their relevance to the various debates currently taking place in the discipline.

sociological abstracts

Editor: Leo P. Chall

Co-sponsored by the ISA, Sociological Abstracts is published by Sociological Abstracts Inc., a non-profit corporation. It also publishes "Linguistics and Languages Behavior Abstracts" and "Social Planning / Policy and Development Abstracts". SA appears 5 times a year: April, June, August, October, December.

Sociological Abstracts offers a collection of nonevaluative abstracts which reflects the world's serial literature in sociology and related disciplines. Each of the five issues of SA contains the following: a brief user's guide; a Table of Contents consisting of 33 major and 79 subcategories into which sociological subjects are categorized; a subject index; an author index; a source index; a supplement "International Review of Publications in Sociology" - consisting of a bibliography of books reviews taken from the journals abstracted in the same issue; some issues also contain Supplement(s) consisting of abstracts of congress papers.

Selection and coverage: three types of journals have been distinguished in the following order of priority:
Type 1 - journals published by sociological associations, groups, faculties and institutes, with periodicals containing the word "sociology" in their title.

These are abstracted fully, irrespective of language publication.

Type 2 - journals from such related areas as anthropology, economics, education, medicine, community development, philosophy, statistics, political science, etc. Such journals are abstracted selectively.

Type 3 - journals from the humanities and journals of general circulation wherein scholars and laymen publish discussions or criticism of sociology and sociological topics. These journals are abstracted selectively.

SA desires to receive an abstract together with a reprint of the document itself (article, monograph, essay, book). Publishers and editors are urged to send copies of new publications for abstracting, or to initiate the preparation of abstracts on forms supplied gratis on request.

Other services and publications available:

- Information entered into the database since 1963 is available online to information professionals from BRS (file label SOCA), Data-Star (file label SOCA), and Dialog (file 37);

- Sociosearch - a service offering researchers and librarians opportunity to consult with information specialist who answer research questions with fast comprehensive searches of SA related databases;

- Social Planning / Policy and Development Abstracts (SOPODA) - published since 1979 as a response to the expressed needs of scholars and educators, for a compression of the applied sociology and social science literature into an easily accessible format;

- Note Us - a free newsletter to facilitate communication between the producers of SA and its several thousands of users;
- A slide/tape show SA - offering information and instruction on use of this comprehensive sociological database. The presentation is available for purchase or it can be borrowed for a two-week period, at no charge.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The annual meeting of the Executive Committee was held on June 8-9, 1993, in Budapest (Hungary), following the meetings of the different sub-committees.

The meetings were organized and hosted by Rudolf Andorka, Executive Committee member and Rector of the University of Economic Sciences.

The meetings focussed particularly upon the preparations for the XIII World Congress of Sociology, while a number of other issues were also discussed. A few highlights are presented below.

Program Committee of the XIII World Congress of Sociology

At the Program Committee meetings, chaired by Neil Smelser, Vice-President in charge of the Congress Program, the scientific side of the forthcoming Congress was discussed. Most of the Research Committees, Working and Thematic Groups are already in an advanced stage of planning their Bielefeld sessions. 17 proposals for Ad Hoc Sessions were accepted, while ISA collective members in Category "B" (international and multinational regional associations of sociologists) are invited to organize SSO sessions (Special Sessions by Affiliated Organizations). All in all, there will be over 1000 sessions held during the Congress week.

In order to secure the presence of German authorities at the Congress Opening Ceremony, it was necessary to re-schedule Monday (18 July 1994) morning sessions.

See previous pages of the Bulletin for program details and organizational matters of the Congress.

Translation

Since the overall cost of providing simultaneous translation for the Opening, Presidential and Closing sessions was found astronomical, it was decided to have a consecutive translation organized for the Opening Ceremony only. Speakers invited to the Presidential and Closing sessions will be asked to speak in English. If this is not acceptable to them, their papers will be translated into English and handed out to the participants. The German Organizing Committee assumed responsibility for this.

For the reason stated above, Chair of each sessions will decide on a language used at his /her session; there will be no translation provided for Congress sessions.

Publications Committee

The Publications Committee meeting, chaired by Martin Albrow, was devoted to a discussion on three publications of the ISA: International Sociology edited by Richard Grathoff, Current Sociology and Sage Studies in International Sociology both edited by Robert Brym, as well as a new project of the Committee for publishing the World Handbook of Sociology to be edited by Robert Brym.

The Executive Committee expressed its gratitude to Martin Albrow, who has served as the Chairman of the Publication Committee since 1991; the post is taken now by William Outhwaite. The Publications Committee is seeking successors to Richard Grathoff and Robert Brym whose terms as Editor of International Sociology and Sage Studies in International Sociology, respectively, come to an end in the near future (see following pages of the Bulletin for an advertisement).

Membership and Finance Committee

The Membership Committee, chaired by Vladimir Yadov, Vice-President in charge of Membership Committee, accepted (subject to receiving membership fees) five new collective members in Category "A" of national sociological societies: The Masaryk Czech Sociological Association, The Slovak Sociological Association, The Sociological Association of Ukraine, The Association of Sociologists of the Republic of Macedonia, and the South African Sociological Association.

The Finance Committee, chaired by Jürgen Hartmann, prepared very austere Budgets for 1993-1994 due to the fact that since the subvention of the Spanish Ministry of Education had finished in 1992, annual income of the ISA had been reduced with US$ 150.000 and ISA will have to use its reserves to keep functioning till the Bielefeld World Congress which is expected to bring revenues.

Congress Grants Committee has been established consisting of two representatives of the Gesellschaft für Internationale Soziologie (German Congress Organizing Committee), Richard Grathoff and Günther Schlee, and of two ISA representatives, Daniel Bertaux and Jürgen Hartmann.

The Committee will seek funds to help scholars coming from the less developed countries to participate in the Congress. Grants, if available, will be distributed among ISA members coming from the less developed countries and the non-convertible currency countries, who moreover take an active part in the Congress program (organize/chair a session, present a paper). Priority will be given to scholars participating in the Symposia sessions.

Research Coordinating Committee

The meeting of the Research Coordinating Committee was chaired by Daniel Bertaux, Vice-President in charge of the Research Council.

The RCC reviewed the current state of the Research Committees, Working and Thematic Groups. Following criteria of evaluation were used: membership (minimum of 50 ISA members), existence of Statutes, availability of their Congress program, and production of a newsletter. Since many groups fail to prove they are in good standing, the RCC proposed that all groups which do not meet any of the above criteria be requested to fulfil them by May 1994. Failing to meet the criteria may lead to a demotion of their status. Research Committees which do not have Statutes will be excluded from voting at the Research Council in Bielefeld (July 1994).

Upon considering duly submitted applications, 1993 newsletter grants were allocated to the following Research Committees (US$ 800 each):

RC 05 Ethnic, Race and Minority Relations
RC 06 Family Research
RC 11 Sociology of Aging
RC 15 Sociology of Health
RC 22 Sociology of Religion
RC 25 Sociolinguistics
RC 32 Women in Society
RC 33 Logic and Methodology in Sociology
RC 44 Labour Movements
RC 46 Clinical Sociology

Paris Branch of the ISA Secretariat

The Executive Committee of the International Sociological Association has confirmed its will to open a Paris branch of its secretariat which will prepare the Program Book of the XIII World Congress of Sociology. It operates under the responsibility of Daniel Bertaux, Vice President, assisted by Mrs Marielle Delorme, Administrative Secretary.

Le Comité Exécutif de l'Association Internationale de Sociologie a confirmé sa volonté d'ouvrir un Bureau parisien de son secrétariat qui assurera la préparation du Livre de Programmation du Congrès Mondial de Sociologie. Il est placé sous la responsabilité de Daniel Bertaux, Vice-Président de l'AIS, et sera géré par Madame Marielle Delorme, secrétaire administrative.

IN MEMORIAM: MARK VAN DE VALL

by Frans L. Leeuw and Kees Mesman Schultz

Mark van de Vall
Foto Roland de Bruin, GPD

On July 31, 1993, the President of the Research Committee on Sociotechnics - Sociological Practice, Professor Dr Mark van de Vall died.

He finished his secondary education in 1941. At the time, the Netherlands had been occupied by Nazi-Germany and, instead of starting an academic study, he played an active role in the Dutch Resistance Movement. He did so for several years, until he was imprisoned in Germany by the Nazis. After the II World War he went to the Municipal University of Amsterdam to read sociology and gained his masters degree in 1954. From 1954 to 1960 he was assistant professor for social science research methods and techniques at the State University of Utrecht. In 1963 he finished his Ph.D. with the thesis "The Labor Union in the Welfare State". In 1964 Van de Vall left the Netherlands to become Professor of Sociology at State University of New York in Buffalo, USA. There the foundation was laid for his theory on the role and position of the social policy researcher within the welfare state. In 1977 he returned to Holland to take up the position of professor of Methods and Techniques of Social Science Research at Leiden University (1977-1988) and professor of Sociology at Erasmus University Rotterdam (1988-1993). However, he kept a position as adjunct professor at SUNY-Buffalo to teach summer courses in the field of methodology and social policy research.

Mark van de Vall was a remarkable man. Energetic, dynamic and innovative, but at the same time tenacious in the meaning Lakatos gave to it, pursuing his plans and - if necessary - quarreling with bureaucrats and colleague scholars. He also was a fine man, stimulating for young fellow workers, curbing too much optimism and backing them up in times of misfortune.

These characteristics perfectly fitted his scientific passion to add to the progression of sociology and applied research. Van de Vall's activities on these two terrains for about forty years resulted in a lot of publications, many Ph.D. students, a research institute and the paradigm of social policy research.

This is not the place to exhibit van de Vall's oeuvre. However, that isn't necessary, for in March 1993 Mark van de Vall was offered a Liber Amicorum (titled "Between Sociology and Sociological Practice") at the occasion of his retirement as a professor at Erasmus University Rotterdam. Obviously, there also was an enumeration of his publications.

Yet, we want to highlight some peaks in his scientific career. In doing so we have to go back as far as one of his first publications "Social Research and Commissioner" from 1955. This article deals with the gearing between researcher and commissioner and the researcher's independence. The study is surprisingly up-to-date and concerns topics which nowadays are a distinct part of the social scientific agenda.

Ever since that time van de Vall was interested in meta-problems of applied research. Yet, and this was essential for his influence, as a young researcher he did get stuck in this sort of problems. On the contrary, after the 1955 article he entered the empirical pathway and carried out field research in several areas. The most pregnant was his dissertation, a revised version of which was published in 1970 by Cambridge University Press. Of all his other empirical studies we only want to recall research in Health Centers on the USA and his research on determinants of managerial decisions.

Only at the end of sixties he digs into meta-problems concerning the role, the importance and the utilization of social policy research. Digging is the right word because he approached these questions from an empirical point of view. Many of the publications, by himself and by his co-workers at the Leiden Institute of Social Policy Research (LISPOR), may make that clear. In our opinion van de Vall was in love with LISPOR. At the end of the eighties the institute turned out to be one of three most successful sociological research centers in the Netherlands.

Mark van de Vall's passion, his research-orientation, his publications and his teaching activities at least culminated in the elaboration of his idea that policy research has a professional paradigm of its own. This paradigm was subject to much discussion and quarreling. Van de Vall enjoyed this and even added a little extra. However, nowadays it is generally acknowledged that social policy research has to be carried out in a value context, which is more complex than is the case for other social scientific research. This value context is conditionally to the way social policy research has to be done. Without any doubt it has been van de Vall's merit to have pointed this out and elaborated this idea for the benefit of social policy researchers.

The significance of his work for sociology and applied research is enormous and his influence will surely last for many years to come. Research Committee on Sociotechnics - Sociological Practice which flourished under his presidency, was and will be a guarantee for the dissemination of his body of thought. Only recently, at the end of 1991, he edited a special issue of "Knowledge Policy" on developments in social policy research as a direct supplement of one of the RC 26 seminars he organized.

His decease means a great loss, but his ideas and his enthusiasm keep us going.

Editorship of International Sociology

The Publications Committee of the International Sociological Association is seeking a successor to Richard Grathoff whose term as Editor of International Sociology comes to an end of 31st December 1994.

The Journal is the major international journal in the discipline. It has a worldwide readership of over 2000 subscribers. The Association is seeking the services of an outstanding sociologist with the broadest intellectual sympathies who will maintain the policy of providing publication opportunities for high-quality work of international interest.

A major aspect of the work is bringing papers to a satisfactory English-language level. Prospective Editors may wish to bear in mind that the services of the existing Assistant Editor are likely to be available subject to funding provision. The Editor will also need access to sufficient administrative resources to support the running of the journal.

Enquiries, including a full curriculum vitae, should be addressed to any member of the Search Committee, consisting of:

T.K. Oommen (Chair; ISA President), School of Social Sciences, Jawaharlal Nehru Univ, New Delhi 110067, India, Fax: (11)8685886;

Richard Grathoff (Editor), Fac Sociology, Univ Bielefeld, Postfach 100131, D-33615 Bielefeld, Germany, Fax: (521) 1062988;

Martin Albrow (Founding Editor), Dept Sociology & Social Administration, Southlands College, Roehampton Inst, Wimbledon Parkside, London SW19 5NN, United Kingdom, Fax: (81)3923518;

Céline Saint-Pierre (IS Representative on ISA Publications Committee), Vice-rectrice à l'enseignement et à la recherche, UQAM, CP 8888, Succ."A", Montréal, Qué H3C 3P8, Canada, Fax: (514)9876753;

The present Editor and the Assistant Editor, Elizabeth King, will also be glad to assist in explaining the present working methods.

Deadline for applications is 31 January 1994. Late applications may be considered at the discretion of the Search Committee.

Editorship of the SAGE Studies in International Sociology

The Publications Committee of the International Sociological Association (ISA) is seeking a successor to Robert Brym, whose term as Editor of Sage Studies in International Sociology (SSIS) ends on 1st June 1994.

SSIS now consists of 45 edited volumes emphasising comparative and international aspects of sociology. On average, two volumes are published each year. The Association is seeking the services of an outstanding sociologist with the broadest intellectual sympathies who will maintain the policy of providing publication opportunities for high-quality work of international interest.

A major aspect of the work is maintaining contact with the Research Committees of the ISA in order to solicit the best collections of papers presented at RC conferences and at World Congresses. The Editor is expected to review proposals for edited collections, to seek the advice of outside reviewers, to consult with the Sage Editor responsible for SSIS, and to recommend volumes for publication by Sage. He/she is also expected to attend the annual ISA Publications Committee meeting and the World Congress of Sociology.

Enquiries, including a full curriculum vitae, should be addressed to any member of the Search Committee, consisting of:

Robert Brym (SSIS Editor), Dept Sociology, Univ Toronto, 203 College Street, Toronto, Ontario M5T 1P9, Canada, Fax: (416)9783963;

Nikolai Genov (ISA Publications Committee), Inst Sociology, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences, 13-A Moskovska Str., 1000 Sofia, Bulgaria;

Stephen Barr, SAGE Publications Ltd, 6 Bonhill Street, London EC2A 4PU, United Kingdom, Fax: (71)3748741;

The outgoing Editor will assist the new Editor in learning present working methods.

Deadline for applications is 31 January 1994. Late applications may be considered at the discretion of the Search Committee.

Vacancies at the European University Institute in Florence

Professional Vacancies

The Department of Political and Social Sciences at the European University Institute in Florence, undertakes research and postgraduate training in Political Sciences, Sociology and International Relations. As a result of the expiry of the contracts of some present members of the Department (the Institute does not offer tenured appointments), a number of vacancies are expected to arise in 1994 and 1995. Some of these appointments are expected to be at the level of Full Professor, and others at that of Associate Professor. The Department solicits enquiries, CVs and statements of interest from specialists in the following areas: International Relations (especially International Political Economy); Comparative Social Institutions; Comparative Political Institutions; Problems of the Nation-state (internal and external), Nationalism and Ethnicity; Political Culture and Collective Action; Social and Political Theory; Comparative Public Policy.

For further details please apply to The Chairman, Department of Political and Social Sciences, European University Institute, Via dei Roccettini 9, 50016 S. Domenico di Fiesole (FI), Italy, fax: (55)4685201.

Chair in Comparative Social Institutions

The Department of Political and Social Sciences at the European University Institute in Florence, is seeking to fill the above chair from autumn 1994. Applications are invited from scholars with a substantial record of research and publication on the comparative study of the evolution and transformation of the welfare state, with reference to policies and institutions in such areas as the following: labour markets, education, social security, health, and/or environmental and other 'quality of life' issues.

The post will be filled either at the level of a full professor, or associate professor / reader. Contracts for full-time professors are made for an initial 4 years, renewable for another 4-year period.

The position should preferably be taken up by September 1994. Interested candidates are asked to send an up-to-date CV; a significant sample of major and recent publications; a design of the research which the candidate proposes to carry out at the EUI (not more than 5-10 pages); names and addresses of three referees; an indication of his/her knowledge of languages.

Applications should be addressed to Mr Dominique Delaunay, Adviser for Academic Affairs, European University Institute, Badia Fiesolana, 50016 San Domenico di Fiesole, Italy, tel: (55)4685321, fax: (55)4685405

Ad Hoc Sessions on the Sociology of Occupation of Conquered Territories

World War II, its prelude and aftermath, gave rise to a great variety of occupation regimes which have been the subject of many studies by historians. The strategies and tactics of conquerors to control, to convert and/or exploit, conquered societies, and the ways and means whereby subjugated peoples and their indigenous elites cope with foreign rule, have up till now too infrequently been analysed from a sociological point of view.

Nevertheless, in his reflections on the sociology of domination (Herrschaftssoziologie) Max Weber makes several references to occupations, presumably since such a relationship between rulers and ruled exhibits in a very clear cut manner the large scale use - or threat - of 'naked power' and of efforts, however flimsy, to legitimize such obnoxious means of coercion.

Therefore, the next ISA World Congress in Bielefeld, Germany, could provide a suitable opportunity to kindle interest in this field. Those who are professionally interested already in the history of World War II, can get together, exchange information on what has been done, and could discuss the application of sociological theories, insights and methods to topics not only of historical significance, but also highly relevant in the light of recent and current developments in Eastern Europe, the Middle East, Africa and elsewhere.

Papers dealing with following topics are welcome: What differences, and why, can be discerned in the German, Japanese, Italian occupation regimes of various countries in the late thirties and early forties? What changes, developments - and why - took place in the course of time in particular occupation regimes in one or more of these countries? In what respects - and why - did the occupation regimes of (one of) the Axis-powers and/or Japan differ from the subsequent Allied styles of occupation in Germany, Japan or Italy? Under what circumstances, how and why, opted indigenous elites in one or more conquered countries for wholehearted cooperation with, for accommodation, or for resistance to, the occupant? How to account for inter-institutional differences in occupation regime - for example, between the public sphere, the economy, education, religion, leisure time - to be found in the same period in a particular country (or in a number of comparable countries)? What variations between institutional spheres in the relationships between occupation agencies, on the one hand, and, on the other, indigenous elites can be found? and how can these be interpreted?

Of course, just a few possibilities are mentioned, and a great many could be added, but it will be evident that in my view the central Problemstellung should, or anyway could, be: by means of what processes, mechanisms does one nation manage (or not!) to keep another nation or populace subdued by force? and what patterns of collaboration and/or resistance arise as a result of the regime in question, and of other factors and actors? This focus implies that Sociology of Occupation of Conquered Territories could be seen as covering, or at any rate overlapping to a great extent with, fields of interest labelled otherwise, like, e.g.: sociology of the holocaust, sociology of national-socialism and fascism, sociology of totalitarianism, or autocratic rule, in general; sociology of colonialism, etc.

This raises the question in how far coercive foreign rule differs from coercive domestic rule. Did national-socialist, fascist, or communist rulers proceed at home and abroad in approximately similar, or in varying, ways to establish and maintain their domination? Is under such a system the ruling party more or less the 'occupant' of its own country, and do the people and their elites react differently to autochthonous than to allochthonous powers-that-be? A 'conquest society' (Wittfogel) at first sight is characterized by a stratified order in the context of which the subjugated populace is collectively seen and treated as inferior by those belonging to the dominant people. However, all depending on how difficult really access to 'the' party was in NS, fascist or communist systems, maybe there is not all that much difference between stratification on the basis of (ascribed) ethnic, versus on the basis of (achieved) party, status. More theoretical treatises dealing with such issues as briefly indicated here, would also be welcome!

Thematic Group Famine and Society

The globalisation of trade, finance and industry is also likely to bring about shifts in patterns of employment and incomes. The moral opprobrium of those on welfare, accompanied by severe budget cuts has already brought about a rise in hunger and hopelessness in the industrialized countries. These are portents for the immediate future.

The issues raised by the XIII World Congress of Sociology, namely contested boundaries and shifting solidarities should be seen in comparison with other cataclysmic events that have seized civilizations, nations and states.

Consider the early years of the Christian era, the movements of population at that time when people crossed frontiers looking for work and food or the Middle Ages when Europe faced severe recurring famine. Or the rise of colonialism in the XVIII and XIX centuries which were periods of recurring famines in Afro-Asia and saw also dramatic changes with the spread of new languages, cultures and political systems. The points of similarity as well as differentiation may be considered.

Famines and severe hunger and large movements in population that have begun even during the seventies might spread to other parts of the globe including Europe by the turn of the century. It seems that history, at least in part, may repeat itself.

During the XIII World

Congress of Sociology, the Thematic Group on Famine and Society will examine the implications of contested boundaries and shifting solidarities in relation to impoverishment processes, starvation and famine.

The European University at St Petersburg

The European University (EU) at St. Petersburg is an independent educational institution of international character with the principal aim to educate specialists of high qualification, both teachers and research workers in the humanities and social sciences.

The EU Project was initiated in 1992 by the Mayor of St Petersburg, Anatoly Sobchak, and supported by the Petersburg branch of the Cultural Initiative Foundation (The Soros Foundation).

Since then teaching programs were developed for the main specialties: sociology, social psychology, law, history, economics, social and cultural anthropology, as well as foreign languages, computer use, and basic courses on world culture. Establishment of the EU Library was made possible through a generous contribution by the British Council of a book collection of ca. 3.000 volumes on history, economic, law, sociology, etc.

The EU has established relations with UNESCO, several European and American universities, with European educational programs Erasmus and Tempus, as well as with many individuals of the international academic community.

Further details can be obtained from Dr Boris Firsov, Chairman Organizing Committee, European University, 29 Tchaikovsky St, 191194 St. Petersburg, Russia, fax: (812) 2731128
