Making Your Security More Convenient...Since 1948

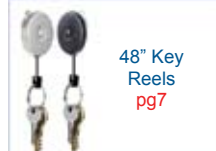

A famous American industrialist of the 1940's when asked for the secret of his success, declared "Find a need and fill it." Among those who heeded Henry J. Kaiser's advice was a California railroad man, Russ Lummis, founder of our company. He saw a need for brakemen and switchmen to have a better, safer, more convenient way to handle their keys. Dangling key chains they wore sometimes caught on moving trains. Lummis filled that need by inventing the KEY-BAK®. It was an instant success, first in the railroad industry and then in other industries, wherever "keys" were part of the job.

Today we continue to fill the need that Lummis found. Our focus is on combining security with convenience, and that's a need we find everywhere. So in addition to several models of self-retracting key reels for different applications, we also manufacture self retracting reels for photo identification badges (the new "key"), light industrial retractors to keep quality control gauges at their proper work station, and retractors for sport and outdoor use to keep your gear secure and convenient to use.

Offer security and convenience to your customers; buy the original KEY-BAK® brand self-retracting reels, key and identification badge accessories. You will be assured of top quality products and service from our team of employee owners!
