Acknowledgements

I would like to acknowledge two people specifically for their contribution to this document; neither was an active participant directly in its development, however, without the contributions of both I would long since have abandoned this project.

To Rudy Roy, my sincere thanks for his trailblazing effort in producing his 1996 Cumulative Index. Even prior to starting on this effort to create a complete updated version of an index the work Rudy put into the creation of a cumulative index paid off in unexpected ways during my stints as Editor of The Perfins Bulletin since his work was published. Of direct impact was the ability it gave me to doublecheck much of my work. Until I attempted this effort I had not appreciated the work Rudy put into the Index he created.

And I must recognize my wife, Susan, for her tolerance during this daily, ultimately year-long, effort. Throughout the process I have been somewhat preoccupied with the work and probably neglected 'family time' more than was reasonable. During the almost 2,000 hours which this project has consumed, I fear I may not have been very tolerant of interruptions while I was working - which was most evenings! So, thanks Susan for the freedom to pursue this work to its conclusion.

In addition I must acknowledge the authors who have contributed to the Bulletin over its 71½ volumes. From its humble beginnings in 1945 the Bulletin has grown in stature from a journal simply documenting perfin patterns and how to collect perfins to a journal publishing significant philatelic and historical research into perfin patterns and their users. To these many authors, a sincere thanks for your efforts.

Introduction

In early May of 2017 a suggestion was made that a new, comprehensive Index of the Perfins Bulletin was being requested by members of the Club who were struggling with what had become a diverse set of sources of indexing. Having much source material for this work already on file I agreed to attempt production of the desired comprehensive, updated Index.

To begin with I must acknowledge the source indices that I have incorporated in this work.

The major work by Rudy Roy that indexed the Bulletin, from its birth as "Perfins" in 1945 to Issue #453 in 1992, has been extensively incorporated in this work although Rudy's annotation of specific article content has not been carried into this compilation.

In an attempt to bring Rudy's index up to date, I had produced, in 2008, an Index which cataloged the contents of Issues #454-604 (the issues published between December 1992 and December 2007). This Index update was published in the Bulletin. This, very briefly meant that there were only two source documents needed for a complete indexing of these materials

Cumulative Index to The Perfins Bulletin Issues 454 - 604
(December 1992 - December 2007)

Paul A. Mistretta (LM#111)

Subsequently, annual indices were published in the Bulletin by Ken Masters (for volumes 63-67), Clark Buchi (for Volume 68), and Paul Mistretta (for Volumes 69-71). And we were back to 13 source documents...

While generating this Cumulative Index a bit of quality control was done in an attempt to insure that the list of indexed topics was sufficiently comprehensive to insure, as much as possible, that information was not inadvertently overlooked due to any bias in the selection or wording of the topics. In addition all of the citations were checked for accuracy; which, sadly, still doesn't guarantee that there are no mistakes. Sorry.

In addition to the basic index of contents, Rudy included a couple of historical lists (editors of The Perfins Bulletin, winners of the Hallock Card Award, and a glossary of terms – abbreviations, etc.) These have been updated and supplemented.

Several additional historical lists have been added in this volume, including listings of:

- Directors at large,
- Committee Chairs,
- Ad hoc committees,
- Members (auto)biographies,
- Bulletin Mastheads,
- Club dues history, and,
- Perfin Club cachets and covers

And several sub-indexes have been segregated from the General Index:

- an index of U.S. perfin patterns,
- an index of foreign perfin patterns,
- a compilation of biographical obituaries (not just the simple “Closed Album” notes found in the Secretary report), and,
- an index to photos of members

These sub-indices were created to simplify the General Index by removing long lists of specific related information.

Further information about the manner in which materials are listed will follow in the section titled “Guide to Contents of these Indices”.

One final note: copies of all issues of The Perfins Bulletin and its predecessors are available on the Club's website. Some material published in the early Bulletins, specifically, pages related to the initial mimeographed catalog of U. S. perfins and the original catalog of U.S railroad perfins are still absent from these web-published Bulletins.

To access the available Bulletins on the Perfins Club website go to <http://www.perfins.org/>. Then click on “Publications” and “Bulletin back issues”.

How to Use / What to Expect

Volume(number):page(s) citation format is used for the simple reason that the alternative use of the whole number of issue is less reliable; whole numbers of The Bulletin have been incorrect since #211 and #212 when both were used twice, and we are now at the mid 600s! The choice was either accept the whole numbers as published with the addition of an “a” to the second #211 and #212 or to renumber all from #211a on. Either solution would create a source of confusion with previously used whole number citations.

So, for example, 24(2):5 represents an article to be found in Volume 24 (number 2):on page 5 of the Bulletin.

Pagination of multiple articles from the same issue is separated by a comma “,”, while separate numbers or volumes are separated by semicolons “;”. Volumes (and issue numbers) are in boldfaced type to make the separation from a previous issue cited under the same heading more obvious.

Numbering of pages in the Bulletin beginning with Volume 34 (1981) is continuous through the volume. Prior to that volume pagination was discontinuous with each issue beginning with page 1. Thus, from Volume 34 onward in the index the citation is simply Volume:page(s).

Exception: June 2002 duplicates page numbers 77-84 (previously used in May 2002). Articles and items indexed from these pages are noted as either 57(5):## or 57(6)##, or as (May):## or (June):## to clarify the source.

A cross reference table is presented to allow correlation of volumes to year of publication. Volumes 1 – 4 wrap around years (as Vol 1 = 1945-1946). Beginning with Volume 5, with only 2 exceptions, each subsequent volume is contained within a single calendar year.

Limited annotation is done in various indices. Any annotation is contained in square brackets immediately behind the page number and before the comma or semicolon separator.

Patterns referenced by catalog number or alphabetic descriptor are separated from other data for that country and appear in the separate U.S. or foreign pattern indices. Patterns are presented alphabetically by catalog number with unlisted patterns interspersed alphabetically by pattern descriptors within the list. These listings by catalog number are the primary and most complete listings in this Index.

The catalog used for numbering patterns is specified in abbreviated form in the header of the section in the index. Thus “Denmark: Catalog -- KHM” indicates that the pattern section of the listings for Denmark use “Køster-Kofod, Ove; Haansen, Ole; Mathiesen, Kaj. 2001. Katalog over danske firmaperforeringer. Den.:Dansk Perfinsamlerklub. 204 p.” as the source for the catalog numbers presented. These abbreviations are expanded in the Abbreviations section with the full citations being found in the References section.

The indices are extensively, but (unfortunately) incompletely, cross referenced as to content. In an attempt to manage the size of this document, where multiple terms apply a single term has been chosen for full indexing while the other synonymous listings have “see... ***” directing the user to the location of the full indexing of that subject within the same index. Thus, for example:

Perfin quality: see... U.S.: Ratings/values of perfins; and, Value/rating of Perfins or,

Perfins in U.S. stamps: see... U.S.: Perfins in...; or, U.S.: Perfins in the...

A different form of this direction will be found if the material being searched has been separated into a separate index (generally due to size of the file involved.) Thus:

St. Helena: General: see... Schwerdt World Perfins Catalog index

or,

U.S.: Patterns: see... U.S. Pattern index

And a final note: there are headings that have general information but also contain information in another index. They are noted as follows:

British Malaya: General: 43:138-139 [rew] see also... Straits Settlements

Glossary of Perfin Related Terms

Term	Definition

Arc: A perfin pattern in which the letters are arranged in an arc or semi-circle. (Fig. 1)

Base: The basic metal foundation plate on which all parts of a perforator are mounted.

Bent pin: see... Broken pin.

Blanket perfin: A pattern designed to cover more than one stamp. (Fig. 2)

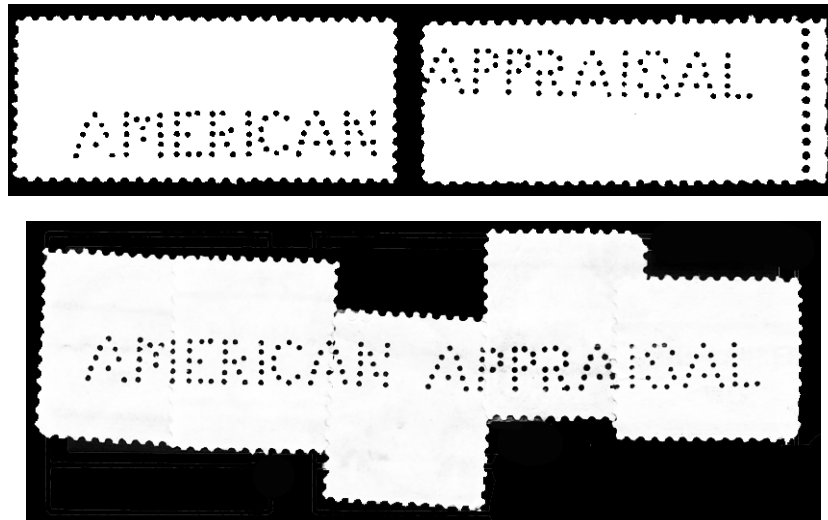

Figure 2. Blanket perfins - American Appraisal perfin showing extension over two long airmails (top), extension over 5 regular issue sized stamps (middle), and NBRepublic extending across 10 regular issue sized stamps. Note that the American Appraisal blanket pattern is not spaced one letter per stamp, while the NBRepublic pattern has a single letter per stamp.

Blind perf: The result of a perforator pin making an indentation in, but not punching through, a stamp. Blind perfis may result from; insufficient pressure being used on the perforator, a broken pin, or an attempt to perforate too many stamps simultaneously. (In politics blind perfis are referred to as "pregnant chads".)

Branded stamps: Obsolete, seldom used, term for perfined stamps.

Broken pin: A pin, which has broken in such a way as to be too short to punch a hole in a stamp. Also, commonly, referring to a pin that falls out of a perforator. See Fig. 12.

- Cinderella perfin: A perfin found in: a private postage stamp, a local post stamp, a stamp issued for a Cinderella location (such as Lundy or Steep Holm), or a charity seal.
- Classic perfin: Used to denote perfins found in stamps issued before the legalization of perfinning that were punched and used after that practice was legalized (for example perfins in the U.S. Columbian stamps or the Canadian small Queens.)
- Code hole(s): see... Control hole(s)
- Collections: Several types of collection are generally noted in the perfin literature. They include (defined elsewhere - alphabetically): issue collections; position collections; synoptic collections; and, type collections.
- Commercial perfin: Security punctures found in postage stamps used by a company or business enterprise to allow easy and accurate identification of their ownership of these punched stamps.
- Condensed pattern: A pattern which is designed such that some of some of the individual perfs are shared by 2 or more letters, numbers or symbol parts. (Fig. 3)
- Confirming cover: A cover whose corner card (user return address) confirms the user of the perfinned stamp with which it is franked. Also called a "proving cover".
- Control hole: A hole or holes added to a perfin pattern to denote a different point of use (generally a branch office) other than that of the original pattern without the additional hole(s). (Fig. 4)
- Counterfeits: A reproduction of a stamp intended to defraud the government of revenue.
- Damaged die: A die that has broken pins and thus produces incomplete perfin patterns.
- Damaged perfin: A perfinned stamp which has any defect such as a: paper thin, tear, crease, pulled perf, trimmed perf, etc.
- Dated preper: A precancelled perfin with an additional hand or machine applied date and company initials.
- Design perfin: A pattern that consists of a design not made up of letters or numbers. Such designs often represent the trademarks or logos of the user. (Fig. 5)
- Diagonal: A perfin pattern in which the letters are arranged in a diagonal fashion either up or down. (Fig. 6)

- Die: A set of pins that punch a single perfin pattern (alphanumeric or design), including control holes if applicable. Each die is unique.
- Die plating: The reconstruction of the positions or order of dies produced by a multi-die perforator, based on slight differences in the perfins produced. Die plating is aided by the study of multiples (stamps still attached to each other) which retain their original pattern sequence as punched by the perforator.
- Double perfin: Any stamp which has been perforated twice, either by the same or by two different perforators. See also... Double perfin - different patterns; Double perfin – multi-position; Double perfin

- non-overlap minus; Double perfin - non-overlap plus; Double perfin - overlap; and, Double perfin - perfect. (See Figs. 7-12.)

Double perfin - different patterns: A stamp that has passed through two different perforating devices resulting in two different patterns in a single stamp; both accidental and deliberate double pattern perfins are known. (Fig. 7)

Double perfin – multiposition: A stamp showing parts of two or more punches produced by the same perforating device but which are out of alignment with each other. (Fig. 8)

Double perfin - non-overlap minus: A stamp showing parts of two punches of the same pattern, where the patterns do not overlap each other and the total number of holes in the two patterns is less than the total number of holes in a single complete pattern. (Fig. 9)

Double perfin - non-overlap plus: A stamp showing parts of two punches of the same pattern, where the patterns do not overlap each other and the total number of holes in the two patterns is greater than the total number of holes in a single complete pattern. (Fig. 10)

Double perfin – overlap: A stamp that has been through the perforator twice with the outline of the second pattern overlapping the outline of the first pattern. (Fig. 11)

Double perfin – perfect: A stamp that has been through the perforator twice with each hole from the second punch cutting its counterpart hole in the first pattern. (Fig. 12)

Dumb perfin: British term for perfins without letters - thus those with only numbers or designs.

Dumb punch: see... Blind perf

EKU: The Earliest Known Use of a particular perfin pattern, or of a perfin in a state or country.

Endogram: A perfin pattern consisting of a letter or letters enclosed in a design such as a circle, triangle, rectangle, star, shield, or other such design. (Fig. 13)

Exhibition perfin: see... Vanity perfin

Fake: A genuine stamp which has been altered in some way to make it more desirable to a collector; examples include trimming perforations to create a "coil" stamp, adding an over- or under-print, and adding a postmark.

Fake perfin: see... Fantasy perfin; Forged pattern; and, Forged perfin

Fantasy perfin: An original, generally homemade, perfin pattern, made for fun or sale but in very limited numbers, or an unissued perfin design that is documented in the literature relating to perfins.

Favor perfin: See... Philatelic perfin

Feeder plate: The steel plate that is attached to the base of a perforator on which sheets of stamps are loaded as they are fed into the perforator.

Forged pattern: A perfin pattern deliberately altered - by the addition of holes to make the pattern appear to be something other than its original pattern - with intent to defraud collectors.

Forged perfin: A genuine perfin punched in a stamp which has been altered (fake overprint or mark, clipped perfs to simulate a coil or imperf stamp, etc.) designed to defraud collectors.

Guide: The metal plate in a perforator located between the head and the perforating plate, which holds the pins in alignment when they are not in the perforating plate.

Head: That part of the perforator that contains the die(s) used to create perfins. Designed to hold one or more dies, the head moves down and up during the process of perforating items.

Hole: The circular space left in the stamp by the action of a perforator pin punching through a stamp.

Illegal pattern: Any pattern that exceeds governmental mandated restrictions relating to hole size or overall pattern dimensions.

Illegal use: see... Unauthorized use

In, on or through: Different terms proposed to define the relationship of a perfin pattern to the stamp in which it is found. "On" was the common term applied to this relationship until the mid 1990s when it was argued that it was impossible to have holes on an item since by definition a hole must puncture the item. In the vernacular of collectors of perfined stamps "on" was replaced by the use of "in".

"Through" was proposed in 1999 as literally more true than either of the other two prepositions, but did not gain favor. Currently perfin patterns are described as being "in" stamps while perfined stamps found on cover are described as being "on" the cover.

Incomplete perfin: A perfin that lacks some of the holes that form a complete pattern. This can occur due to pin breakage or misregistration of the pattern in the stamp as a result of poorly placed target stamps (see also... "Partial perfin") (Fig. 14)

Issue: The stamp in which a perfin pattern is punched.

Issue collection of perfins: A collection which includes a single example of each perfin pattern in each of the face-different issues in which it is found; some collectors also include all watermark, perforation, paper varieties, or other specialized differences that result in identifiable differences in the issues affected.

Kodak perfin or punch: A punch dater, usually a mix of letters and numerals, used to code film received at a Kodak processing facility; sometimes accidentally punched partially into the stamps used to transmit the film to a Kodak processing center. Note: there are true Kodak perfin patterns intended to identify postage: these are listed in catalogs of postal perfins.

LKU: The Latest Known Use of a perfin pattern or of the pattern in a state or country.

Local perfin: A perfin used in a stamp intended for local use, such as in Germany after WWI.

Mint perfin: Any uncanceled perfined stamp with full gum. Many of the mint perfined stamps present in the philatelic market were either stolen or philatellically perforated.

Mirror pair: Two se-tenant stamps that were folded at their perforations prior to having the perfin punched in them. Unfolded, one of these stamps will have the pattern punched correctly and be attached to a stamp with the pattern reversed. (Fig. 15)

Missing holes: Term used to indicate that one or more pins in the original perfin pattern are broken or are otherwise absent from the die resulting in a perfin lacking one or more holes.

Monogram: A perfin pattern in the form of the logo of a company or one of its brands, or the initials of a persons name that overlap each other; letters in monograms commonly share some pins in their formation. (Fig. 16)

Multiple die perforator: A perforator with the same pattern repeated more than once on the perforator head (often with very minor variations in the placement of the pins and, subsequently, the patterns produced).

Multiple perfin: A perfinned stamps with parts of two or more patterns caused by being perforated two or more times. Multiples can occur from punching two or more times by a single perforator or by punching by more than one perforator. See also... Double perfin... (Figs. 7-12)

Name perfin: A perfin pattern whose letters spell the name of a company or product. (Fig. 17)

Official perfin: Perfins issued for use exclusively by governmental agencies. Officials are normally perfins applied to regular postage to convert them to use for official purposes only.

Partial perfin: A stamp in which the outline of at least one complete design cannot be found. See also... Incomplete perfins; and, Split perfins. (Fig. 14)

Pattern: The letters, designs or figures that comprise a perfin.

Perf.-imperf. pair: A pair of stamps in which only one of the two stamps is punched with a perfin pattern.

Perfin: A compound word created to indicate perforated initials or the more inclusive compound word created to indicate perforated insignia. Perfins were originally designed as security devices allowing the owner of the stamps (generally a company or business enterprise) to be readily identified; or, conversely, to allow rapid identification of unauthorized users of such stamps. While the term was originated to reflect the perforations in a stamp, the term is commonly used to refer to any stamp containing perforated initials, numbers or designs; purists distinguish perfins as the stamps with perforated insignia while suggesting that perforated insignia refers only to the pattern punched in a stamp.

Perfin cancel: see... Punch cancel

Perfin factor: A relative scarcity rating used by the Canadian BNAPS (British North American Philatelic Society's) Perfins Study Group. In the U.S. we simply refer to this as the "rating" of a perfin.

Perfin issue: A perforation pattern in a stamp of a specific catalog number; sometimes generalized to include a specific set or series of stamps. Compare to... Type

Perfin number: The catalog number assigned to each perfin type.

Perfin pair: Any two attached stamps with a perfin pattern in each; excluding only pairs in which one stamp is and one stamp is not perfinned.

Perfin position: See... Position

Perfin rating: See... Rating

Perfin type: A designated design or set of initials. Or, a perfin that differs substantially from other perfins. All dies within one machine are considered to be the same type.

Perfin variety: Perfins showing minor differences resulting from being punched by the different dies in a multi-die perforator. Broken pin varieties that result from pin breakage in a die are also often recognized as "varieties."

Perforated initials: see... Perfin

Perforated insignia: see... Perfin

Perforating plate: The horizontal steel bar that is drilled to accept the pins which punch the holes in stamps.

Perforator: A machine, operated by hand, mechanical means, or electricity, that punches perforations into stamps. This definition has been modified in Endicott's 2018 Catalog of United States Perfins to read: "United States commercial and personal perfins are those punched from a perforator device, permanently fixed in design, so as to be capable of producing only one pattern in a postage stamp. If the perfin pattern is punched from a multiple head device such that different, yet fixed letters, numbers or designs will be punched into adjoining stamps, then one perfin ID will be assigned to the complete pattern." This newer definition would place perfins produced by movable pin devices (for example US patterns B0.5P and L130.5P which were produced by the same movable pin perforator) in a separate as yet unspecified category of punches.

Perfs.: Abbreviated form of "perforations," generally refers to the series of holes designed to be used to separate stamps from each other; this term should not be applied to perfin patterns as it is inaccurate in that context.

Personal perfin: A perfined stamp generated by an individual for purposes other than the security of his or her postage stamps. Also known as vanity perfins since they are generally produced by or for a collector who wishes his or her own pattern even though, in reality, it performs no security function. (Fig. 18)

Personal use: The use of perfined stamps on personal correspondence either with or without authorization.

Philatelic perfin: Perfined stamps resulting from either a favor or from unsanctioned use of a perforator to produce perfined commercial patterns for use by other than the owner/user of the perforator. Or, a perfin pattern designed to be used to promote a philatelic event, for example US patterns EL/PEX and ARI/PEX. (Fig. 19)

PIMAPS: An initialism proposed for "perfins" which failed to gain a place in the vocabulary of perfin collectors. Extremely precise, the initialism stands for Priate Identification Markings Appplied to Postage Stamps.

Pin: A flat-ended, cylindrical needle designed to cut a small hole in a stamp.

POKO: An initialism for the words Porto-Kontroll-Kasse. The term is used to describe a class of perfins in coil stamps that were fed through machines that automatically affixed the perfined stamps to letters after punching them with the perfin. POKO perfins are found in the stamps of several European countries.

Position: The position which the perforated insignia occupies in relation to the face of the stamp. The position of the perfin is the result of the orientation of the stamp as placed on the perforator; face up, face down, right side up, upside down or sideways relative to the vignette of the stamp. Eight positions are recognized which are illustrated below. (Fig. 20)

Position collections of perfins: Any collection that attempts to include as many of the eight possible positions in which a perfin may be punched in a stamp.

Position pair: A pair of stamps with perfin patterns not in alignment with each other; not a mirror pair.

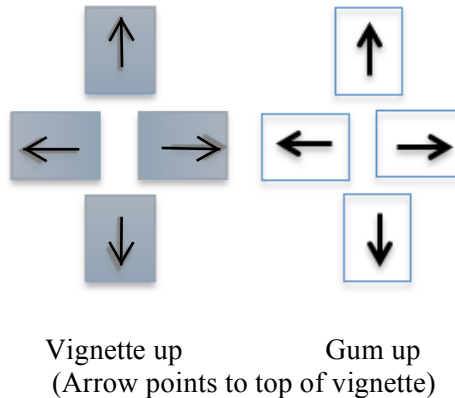

Figure 20. Possible position of perfin in a stamp; arrow reflects the position of the top of the stamp's vignette with the perfin patterns punched in the same orientation on all stamps. Note that these are the standard defined positions for collector's use; patterns can be found in any position relative to the face of the stamp and the top of the vignette (such as rotated 45° or 137°.)

Preper: A precancel that has a perfin punched in it.

Private perfin: Perfins designed and used by a person, for personal use, or by a company for company business correspondence, as distinguished from official (governmental) perfins.

Proving cover: see... Confirming cover

Punch cancel: The perforated pattern which results when a perforator is used to cancel stamps. This is a common occurrence in revenue stamps or documents where perforators were frequently used as cancelling devices.

Railroad perfin: A perfin used by a railroad company or a firm associated with the railroad industry.

Random hole: A hole present in a perforated stamp that is not found in a true copy of any pattern and is not a control or code hole used to distinguish offices of use of a base pattern. (Fig. 21)

Rating: A generalized indication of scarcity of a pattern regardless of the issue in which it is punched.

Ratings are not the same as value of a pattern; multiple factors other than simple availability affect value (such as the issue in which the pattern is found, is the perfin still tied to a cover, etc.)

Repaired perfin: A perfin that has been modified or restored by completing an incompletely punched hole or adding a missing control hole.

Revenue perfins: Perfins either punched into revenue stamps prior to use to establish ownership, or after use as a cancelling device. In the first case only the stamp is punched while in the case of cancellation by perforator both the stamp and the document to which it is affixed are perforated. The base stamps used for revenue perfins include both revenue stamps and, less frequently, postage stamps.

Rev-perfs: see... Revenue perfins

Revpreper: A term proposed to describe precancelled, perforated, revenue stamps.

Schermack perfins: Perfins found in Schermack (or Mail-o-Meter) perforated coil stamps. While several commercial patterns are known in Schermack perforated coil stamps there are two distinct pattern types which were designed for, and are found in, these coils; a 9-hole square pattern formed of three rows of three possible holes each, and a 12 hole square formed of 4 possible hole sides. Users of these patterns are distinguished by unpunched holes in the pattern caused by the removal of one or more pins from the base 9 or 12 hole pattern prior to punching stamps. (Fig. 22)

Security endorsements: A generalized term used to describe perfins, overprints, underprints, punches, embossed indicia or any other marking designed to prevent use of postage stamps by unauthorized users, or in the event of such use, to identify the unauthorized user.

Semi perfins: A term introduced in the early 1970s to describe perfins in stamps that were neither used to protect stamps from pilferage (commercial perfins) nor were they official issuances of the country in which they originated. Produced from private devices these patterns generally were one or two word punches in the language of the country in whose stamps they appear. This classification of perfins is not currently in use, but is included here for historical completeness. (See The Perfins Bulletin 28(4):3)

Specimen perfin: A training or trial proof stamp invalidated as postage by being punched "SPECIMEN".

SPIF: Alternative term for perfin; it expands to the phrase Stamps Perforated with the Initials of Firms. Also seen as Stamps Perforated with the Initials of Firms and Societies. Note: this term is the preferred nomenclature in British literature.

Split perfin: Partial pattern at the edge of a stamp that is the result of off-center perforating of the stamp in any direction (R, L, Up or Down). Often these partials can be isolated (photographically or by computer) and reoriented to form a complete pattern image. (Fig. 23)

Synoptic collection of perfins: A collection of perfins of each functional issue category, from a given country: postal, semi-postal, airmail, parcel post, special handling, war tax, fiscal, etc. Stamps in this collection are not necessarily perfinned with the same pattern. Some collectors include in this collection Kodak types, paid punches, and cutouts.

Topical perfins: Perfinned stamps or perfin patterns related to a specific topic such as railroads or printing companies.

Type: A single copy of a perfin pattern irrespective of the issue in which it is punched. Compare to... Perfin issue.

Type collections of perfins: A collection of perfins which includes a sample pattern for each perfin type; thus a single example of a pattern with varieties defined by control holes or stamps which contain patterns differing only in the shape and size of a given pattern are represented by a single example each.

Unauthorized use: The use of a perfin by a person other than one authorized by the owner/user (generally a company) of the perfinned stamps. This may occur through theft or use of perfinned stamps, which appeared in the collector market. This use pattern has also been reflected in the literature as "personal use" of a pattern or as "illegal use" of perforated stamps.

Vanity perfin: A perfin pattern used to mark a collector's personal postage rather than to prevent unauthorized use of the postage stamps thus marked. This category of perfins includes personal and philatelic perfins. See also... Personal perfin, and, Philatelic Perfin. (Figs. 18 & 19)

Word perfin: A perfin pattern which spells a complete English or foreign word. Generally distinguished from name perfins that spell the name of a company or brand. (Fig. 24)

Cross Index of Issue Numbering of The Perfins Bulletin ++

Several words about the production methods reported in the table below for those unfamiliar with earlier printing processes. Five processes have been used to produce The Perfins Bulletin over the course of its publication; linotype printing, mimeographing, printing using the spirit duplicator (ditto) process, offset printing, and digital printing.

Linotype printing involves the setting of “matrices” (positive reverse letters or symbols) into words/sentences in a linear form that is then cast in metal producing a negative “slug” of the desired image length. These slugs are then assembled in a galley. When a full page of slugs is assembled into a completed galley, the galley is inked and wiped leaving ink in the depressed letters and this inked galley is pressed against a sheet of paper to print the page you read. The process is somewhat messy and, generally, pictures of the printers using linotype show printers in very messy work aprons. The product, however, is generally crisp and very readable

The mimeographing process involved the typing of a stencil. The stencil was typed just like a page of paper but, ideally, with the ribbon removed from the typewriter and the letters on the typebars, type wheel or type ball extremely clean. The letters on the typebar punch letters into the stencil that, when complete, is wrapped around the print drum of the mimeograph machine which is already wrapped by a cloth containing the printing ink. The stencil is placed on the drum with the positive side of the stencil (the easily readable side) facing the drum. With the turn of a crank a sheet of paper is fed between the print drum and an opposing roller. As the sheet of paper is fed through the machine ink is pressed through the punched letters, printing a positive copy of the image typed on the stencil. Print quality was highly variable, being dependant on the adequacy of the typewriter’s ability to punch complete, legible letters into the stencil. It was a very messy process, often used by amateurs, with ink winding up on hands (and often being transferred to other body parts and the operator’s clothes.)

A third process used was printing using “spirit duplicators,” also called “ditto machines.” The spirit duplicator used a two-ply master sheet for printing. The upper sheet could be typed or drawn on while the second sheet was a wax-coated paper. Typing or drawing on the top sheet transferred a negative image in wax to the under-sheet. This sheet was then mounted on a drum in the ditto machine with the negative image out. An alcohol mix “activated” the wax that was then transferred to paper that passed under pressure between the printing drum and an opposing drum. Spirit duplicator printing while less messy than mimeographing often resulted in a poorer copy; the ink on the master was reduced over time and the copies produced became lighter and less legible. In addition, the aniline inks fade in ultraviolet light over time becoming even lighter and less legible than at the time of printing.

Offset printing (lithography) is a process where a metal plate produced from a master is used to create a negative image on a rubber mat. The mat is inked (the chemically treated background of the mat repelled ink while the areas to be printed attracted it) and paper is printed by pressure applied to the inked mat opposed to a second surface which supported the paper.

Digital printing is a method that involves printing directly from a variety of digital media. The printing is accomplished using a large format, or high volume, laser or inkjet printer. The cost of the actual printing is higher than offset printing, however, the cost of setup in offset printing causes the total cost to approximate that of lithography. This process, the cleanest discussed, allows readily for on-demand printing.

One final note regarding the printing of The Perfins Bulletin. With the exception of those issues published using the ditto process, all issues through Nov/Dec 2009 were printed in black-and-white. Beginning with the January 2010 issue (issue 64(01)) color has been added with very pleasant results.

The remaining patterns in the US pattern listing are control patterns used in Schermack perforated coil stamps. Patterns are listed by missing holes in a base pattern per (End) which uses "Sch." followed by that missing hole sequence as the catalog number for the pattern. Rather than duplicating the listing of missing holes to be consistent with the previous "Pattern – Catalog #" format, the Schermacks are listed simply by catalog number with the pattern description being the sequence of numbers following "Sch."

Index of Foreign Patterns

The listing that follows is an attempt to show the location of every pattern from a non-U.S. source found in TPB. I have attempted to assign catalog numbers to each pattern from the text or illustration found in TPB using catalogs (identified). This may have resulted in several (many) errors especially for countries that have multiple listings for very similar patterns (for instance France, Germany and Great Britain.) For the most part this list is straightforward.

The records are headed by country name followed by an abbreviation for the catalog used (see immediately below). Each country name is followed by a listing of the patterns found in TPB for that country. Format of these listings is: an alphanumeric pattern description, "--", and a single catalog number, a":", and the location of articles in the Bulletin.

The inability to overlay the illustrated patterns over catalog illustrations left many patterns that are not identified with certainty. Special coding of these patterns is as follows: patterns described only by a text reference are coded "-- ?" for catalog number; patterns tentatively assigned to a series of listings but that can not be specifically identified are coded like these examples: " IHC -- I4?=>I7?: " or "GWR G5610.01?=>.10?: "; a subset of the last, patterns that are only tentatively identified are coded as catalog number followed by a "?"; and "-- unl" for patterns which are not found in the cited source. Japanese patterns entirely in the Japanese characters are identified as "*#Jc" where # is the number of Japanese characters in the pattern and "*Jhs" represents a hand stamped overprint..

Where I have been unable to identify a relevant catalog the catalog is "?" and the patterns are simple alphanumeric descriptions and then "-- ?".

Limited annotation is included in the listings. Hopefully it is intuitive; abbreviations are translated in the Guide to Abbreviations elsewhere in this Index.

The Perfins Bulletin Masthead History

Over the years the masthead on the Bulletin has evolved. On the next several pages is presented a pictorial history, with annotation, of the evolution of the masthead from No.1 to the present. Below each illustration will be found the period of use and any relevant information about the actual appearance of the text or image when it was published. The number in parentheses at the right below the masthead indicates the number of times that masthead was used. Many of the illustrations have been retouched for better presentation.

Footers used

Footers were first used, for publication data, in Vol. 33(10) and continued in use for that purpose through Vol. 52(4) at which time the publisher data was moved back up to the header of the page. After Vol. 42(4) the footer was retained to contain a statement of the Club's affiliations to the American Philatelic Society and the American Topical Association. While there are minor variations in each set footers which allow one to distinguish 13 distinct types (* publication data and 5 affiliation data), the basic two formats were used in a total of 314 issues of the Bulletin with the affiliation footer still in use at the present time.

Club Officers, Standing Committee Chairs and Ad Hoc Committee Chairs

In the listings in this set of tables I have attempted to reconstruct the historical record for the various volunteers who have served in the variety of offices and chairs which have kept the Club functioning through its 75 years. This subindex was the most frustrating of all to create. The reason for this is simple: often the Bulletin Editor failed to publish the listing of Officers and Chairmen on a monthly basis; often it was not published for a year or more. And, in many simple cases only a listing of Officers was published without any information about the Committees.

Most difficult of the information to reconstruct (and in some cases [noted] it was impossible) was the month in which a volunteer resigned. In some cases the information was finally located in a multi-subject paragraph which must be read to recognize that it is not a single subject paragraph. This latter problem is common through the years of Dave Stump's Editorship. He tried to cram as much of the available information into as little space as possible on each stencil, so that all he had for the issue fit on the page; but that required the shortcut of run-on paragraphs.

What is presented below is the information I have been able to tease from the Bulletins. For the most parts the lists are comprised of four entries per name. The information is presented in spreadsheet form:

1. Year and month of the action reported,
2. Name of member volunteering,
3. Citation for where in TPB the announcement of the election or appointment occurred, and,
4. A brief explanation of the action which resulted in the volunteer being accepted into, or resigning from, the position.

I have attempted to organize the listings as follows:

- Club Officers, followed by Club Directors-at-Large
- Club Service Chairs and single person assignments
- Catalog chairs
- Librarians, followed by Bulletin Editor, Publisher and Printer lists
- Sales and Exchange Chairs
- Miscellaneous Ad Hoc Committees
- Hallock Card Award & Floyd Walker Award winner lists
- Club Convention History

Assistant Secretary - Treasurer

The position of Assistant was erected primarily to recognize Len's work as cranker of the mimeo machine (essentially the Printer position). While it became an obsolete position when the printing moved to offset printing in 1972 ( PB 25(10)), but I have not been able to find reference to the office after the 1961 reference above.

Club Historian

Dick Mewhinney wrote a 4 part history of the Club (published in 1970 in TPB 23(8)=>23(11)) which documented the Club from formation through "The Present - 1970", but was never formally named "Historian". As part of his historical research he prepared an index card file recording the names, tenure in the Club, and some of the accomplishments of Club Members #1=>800.

Club Photographer

Primary purpose of the position of Club Photographer was to generate contact print illustrations of perfin patterns for use in the various Club catalogs. There are also occasional pictures taken at early Club Conventions that are attributed to the Club Photographer.

A note in TPB for February 1987 (40(2):19) from Harry Rickard: "...for over a year I have asked for a volunteer..." there were none "...so I decided to learn how..." In addition to Harry, Dianne Eastman has provided candid pictures of Club members in action at several recent Conventions, and Paul Mistretta added some others from the 2017 Louisville Convention. None of these people have been officially designated as "Club Photographer", nor, as far as I can tell has anyone else been so designated since John Burns resigned somewhere before the January 1985 note that the position was vacant.

ATA Contact
Month/ Yr	Name	Noted in TPB	Reason
Affiliation with the American Topical Association (ATA) was proposed in TPB (60(2):21) in February of 2006 by Secretary Ken Rehfeld with an appeal to Perfins Club members who were also ATA members to send him their ATA membership numbers so we could show a minimum number of members who had dual membership. A repeat appeal appeared in TPB 60(3):47. Undocumented, as far as I can determine, is who was the Contact with the ATA from affiliation till November 2016 when Ken Masters was named to the position. Presumably it was Ken for most of that time frame. Ken resigned from the Club in December of 2015 (70(1):1) and the office was vacant during till the Masters appointment in November of 2016.

1952 - September	Keith Misegades	5(8):2	Appointed
It is unclear who was publishing TPB during the September 1952=>September 1956 timeframe. From hints in TPB it appears that Keith was acting as Editor/Publisher/Printer, and that the Publisher/Printer's function was taken over in October 1956 by Dave Stump.

1974 - March	Floyd Walker	27(3):9	Title realignment
1975 - March	Floyd Walker	28(3):1	Resigned; becomes Secretary
1975 - April	Floyd Walker	-----	Covers vacancy
There is a problem here in interpreting what happened with this office at this point in time. Immediately above we see Floyd Walker resigned in March but he is still listed as Publisher in April. Ruth Oldfield is announced as the new Publisher in the April PB but is not listed till July. Further compounding the confusion here is that Ruth is listed in the December 1975 officer list, but after that both she and the title are absent from the lists. For this listing I have assumed that Ray Crow was actually running his copy to the Memphis -based printer and that beginning with the January 1967 Bulletin he formally took over the responsibility of Publisher of TPB .
1975 -May	Ruth Oldfield	28(4):1	Appointed
1975 - December	Ruth Oldfield	28(10):16	Retired?; Last mention found
1976 - January	Ray Crow	No notice found	Default appointment
Again, the lack of a written record of the Publisher in the Officer lists, or the timing of incumbent changes, forces me to speculate. It appears that Ray Crow was Editor/Publisher until December 1979. As Publisher he used a print shop in Memphis, Tenn., where he lived through May 1979. In the June 1979 Bulletin Ray is reported as having moved to Roswell, Ga. However, it appears from the Publisher's statements at the foot of the second pages of issues through December 1980 ( TPB 33(10)) that the Bulletin was still being printed in Memphis. The question is: who was the publisher for the year 1980. In January 1980 Floyd Walker assumed the position of Editor of the Bulletin , so either Floyd or Ray (who had experience working with the printer) could have been the Publisher. This confusion exists for all of 1980 during which either man could have been a "remote" Publisher, and is only resolved when in the January 1981 Bulletin the second class postage for TPB begins being paid in Grandview, MO (Floyd's home city.) My speculation is that Floyd became Editor/Publisher not just Editor in January of 1980 and eliminated a middleman situation (with Ray in the middle.) Below I list both with a "?" between.

Sales Manager (Publications)

Prior to the appointment of Art Atkinson as Assistant Sales Manager in July 1985 there appear to have been no single point of contact for publication sales. Generally the author of a publication (sometimes subsidized for printing and sometimes self-financed) maintained the supply of printed copies of his/her work, and, sold them directly to interested Club members. The process changed with the appointment of Art, who then became the central source of Club subsidized literature, a pattern which continues to the present.

Other 'Ad Hoc' Committees

Many ad hoc committees have been named through the years. These committees are empowered for a short duration to perform a single-function. They rarely have a defined sunset date but when their purpose was accomplished they ceased to exist. The listing below is far from complete since the announcement of these Committees, especially in the early years of the Club, is often buried in miscellaneous announcements unrelated to the Committee or its function.

Perfins Club Dues History

The Club was formed in December of 1943 with annual dues set at $0.50 per year. This charge predates the publication of , and thus announcement in, Perfins (predecessor to TPB)but was in force at the time that Volume 1 No. 1 was published. At that time dues were payable annually based on the month that a member joined the Club.

When	Noted in TPB	Base Annual Dues	Change
1947 -- April	1(3):[1&2]	$1.00	"On April 1, 1947 the dues were raised to $1.00 [by Presidential edict, no vote taken],.. All those who have received expiration notices may renew at the rate and time stated." At that time, dues were prorated based on the month in which the member joined the Club; this was reflected in the rate on a post card mentioned.
1952 -- January	5(1):1	$1.50	"Beginning with January... Membership will be charged for at the rate of $1.50 a year. For those members abroad, with little interest in the catalog of U.S. perfins, the rate can remain at $1.00 is [if] the catalog is not included."
1960 -- February	13(2):3	$3.00	Effective March 1st, Dues to the Perfins Club will be $2.00 annually. ...You may pay in advance at the old rate of $1.50 per year or 25 months for $3.00... You may pay as far in advance as you care to, but your payment must reach the Secretary on or before March 1. After March 1st, dues will be $3.00 per year, but those wishing to make a saving may pay $5.00 for three years."
1966 -- February	19(2):6	$1.00	Spouse membership added for ½ member dues rate.
1970 -- April	23(4):6	----	"All those who are presently paid up in advance - whether it be for a few months or a few years, will continue to receive the "BULLETIN" AND NO EXTRA COSTS.... The present $2 annual rate will remain in force for all those who renew their memberships up until June 1st. From then on the new rates $3 annually, and two years for five, will start."
1973 -- March	26(7):1	$4.00	"Annual dues of the Perfins Club increased from $3 to $4 effective July 1."
1973 -- July-August	26(7):[3/9]	Life	Established in new Constitution published in TPB as noted. The bylaws of this Constitution established life membership in two different situations: "...members who have been members for 25 years and have reached their 65th birthday shall, upon application, be made Life Members..." free and with all benefits; and, others "...upon payment of $60." Life members were "...exempt from all dues and assessments".
1973 -- October	26(9):2	----	"In conjunction with the increase in Club dues from $3 to $4 per year, Secretary Dick Mewhinney has put the Club on a July 1 dues year".
1973 -- October	26(9):2	----	"Beginning immediately, all dues will become due on July 1." Billing 1973-74 was prorated based on when a member had joined: May-Jul - $4; Aug- Oct - $3; Nov-Jan - $2; Feb-Apr - $1
1979 -- September	32(8):1	$5.00/Life	"Effective January 1, dues in the Perfins Club will be $5.00 a year." Life memberships. Were concurrently raised to $75 dependent on Board action.
1980 -- February	33(2):2	Life	"Members have overwhelmingly approved an amendment to the bylaws which sets the life membership fee at 15 times the annual fee, which means that life membership will now cost you $75."
1987 -- April	40(4):59	$5.00/Life	"...membership application blank... It is our way of announcing a change in the annual dues to $7.00. There is a one time new member fee of $1.00."
1992 -- January	45(1):4	Variable	The Executive Board has approved a new dues structure... Effective July 1, 1992, dues for the 1992-93 year will be: [bullet list edited] United States $10.00; Canada $13.00; Other Foreign $15.00; and, Life Membership- 20 times the annual rate."

- 1995 -- May 48(5):88 Variable "The Executive Committee of the Perfins Club reluctantly approved a dues increase effective July 1, 1995. Effective that date dues will be increased by $5.00. Annual dues will be $15.00 ($17.00 in Canada and $20.00 elsewhere.)"
- 1995 -- June 48(6):89 ----- "Dues for 1996-96 may be paid at the old rate $10.00 ($13.00 in Canada and $15.00 elsewhere) until July 1, 1995... Only one years dues will be accepted at the old rate."
- 1996 -- July/August 50(7):122 Variable A new assessment for non US addresses is first reflected in the header for the Club Officer listing on the second page of this issue of the Bulletin, without prior notice that I can find. Dues are now set at $15 for US addresses, $18.00 for Canadian addresses and $25.00 for other addresses. There is an additional service charge assessed for first-class mailing, if desired, of $5, $7 or $10 respectively. In addition, non-member subscriptions to the Bulletin were set at: $20 US, $23 Canada & $28 other.
- 1998 -- January 52(1):1 Life Eliminates Life Memberships; "This change in the by-laws eliminated Life Membership and created several new categories of membership."
- 2002 -- October 56(8):111 Life Reinstates Life Memberships with dues set on a sliding scale based on age; 54 yrs. old or younger = 25x current dues; 55-69 yrs. old = 20x current dues; 70+ yrs. old = 15x current dues.
- 2016 -- May 70(3):63 ---- Non-member subscription rates published for overseas addresses is raised to $35.00 in table in the Secretary's Report; all other dues remain the same.
- 2018 -- May 72:53 ---- Adjusts dues to a single rate of $15 per year for all regular memberships. Introduces first part year free (dues imposed beginning the first July 1 after member joins). Defines costs for 1st class mailing for both domestic and foreign addresses.

At the time of this writing Club dues are as follows:

“Perfined” Cachets and Cancels Reported in The Perfins Bulletin

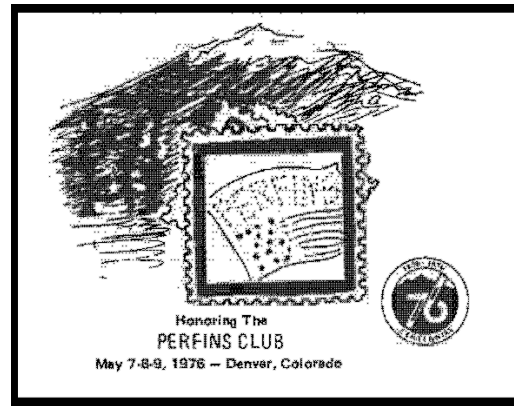

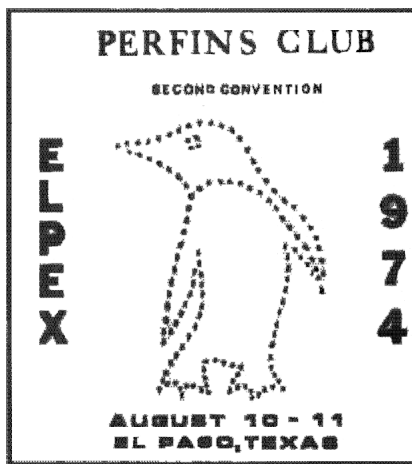

“Perfined” cachets and cancels (C&C from here on) can be considered to be of two types: those commemorating Club events and those used on perfin FDOU covers. That is simplistic in that the distinction becomes blurred when a Club event serves as the location at which a perfin is used for the first time (see the ELPEX cover immediately below which also was the site for the release of the EL/PEX [EP] perfin). For convenience the C&C shown will be separated into those two categories with those fitting both being shown in the Club category. Note that the Club category contains C&C of the Perfins Club but also of other clubs.

Perfins Club Convention Seals

Beginning with the 2010 Annual Convention the Club has issued a Cachet sized seal for use on mailings. The basic pattern of these seals is the same from year to year, but the content (a perfined precancel with text giving dates and location for the Convention) varies. No text is necessary to identify these issues except for the 2009 issue; it was not published in the Bulletin. All images are slightly reduced

Selected Bibliography

Introduction

This listing of articles was an afterthought and is severely bounded by the concept of selective listing. My primary purpose is to list research articles or articles which go beyond a simple "...here is a... (cover, pair, pattern, etc.) for your enjoyment..." with no further data presented.

Citations are given for articles or notes which report information on users (generally historical information); articles which detail methods or tools whether basic or advanced; foreign cataloging information (but not reviews of foreign perfins catalogs); and, research articles on specific patterns, issues series of stamp issues, etc.

There is a large group of articles or notes that have not been recorded; those which report new issues or user ID discoveries, even when supported by illustrated covers or cover strips, but which contain no further information as to history of the user or production methods. These are included in the US pattern or foreign pattern index and are not repeated here.

No citations are given for Club business (Secretary's reports, Treasurer's reports, Editor's notes, President's messages, elections, nominating committees, appointments; auction announcements or prices realized reports; etc.); U.S. Catalog pages; travelogues; "member's doings", etc.; coming events and recapitulations; want ads; reports from Club Conventions or get-togethers; thumbnail sketches or other (auto)biographical information; etc. Information of this type, along with all of the other types reflected in these notes, is listed in the various indexes which form the bulk of this compilation.

"Selective listing" may have caused me to miss some items which should be included, but which were buried in "Editor's Notes", "Bits & Pieces", "Editor's Inbox", or other similar consolidated input. For this I apologize explaining it by simply stating that I didn't want to reread all of the unrelated matter in the Editor's column nor did I want to reread all of the various untitled input to locate relevant information as distinguished from unsupported hypotheses.

I have chosen to use the bibliographic format with which I am most familiar - generally referred to as the "author/date" format. It is the one I became intimately familiar with doing and reviewing scientific writing. It does not conform to any ANSI standard of which I am familiar - but it does contain all of the information found in any more "standard" format. The sequence of information I display is:

- Author. Or, if needed, Author; Second author... or Author [source of info other than the Author]
- Date (year) of publication
- Title of article
- Source (publication data in the form "Perf. Bull." Vol.(Issue #):page(-s).
- In addition I have included a brief annotation only where needed to clarify the content of the article. This is a sporadic inclusion and will be reported on a separate line within '<...>' for clarity where the article title is unhelpful as to content.

I have followed one convention throughout which may or may not be generally accepted - if the author or title is not stated in the Bulletin as headline information but is contained in the text of the article it is included in the citation within square brackets “[...]” As an example: should an article have a title line and no author line, but begins with “...in a recent letter from ***...” it is assumed that the editor has written the article using data from “***”. Rather than using “Anon.” or citing the editor, these articles will show “[***.]” as the author.

One other arbitrary decision affects the bibliography. I have lumped each author’s writing in a sequence which is alphabetic by title in a subgrouping by year -- without regard to how the author’s name was cited in the article. This leads to a jumble of names for some of the authors. A quick example: Bob Schwerdt wrote extensively over quite a few years with his name appearing in several forms (Schwerdt, Bob; Schwerdt, Robert; and, Schwerdt, Robert J.; and these three can appear enclosed by square brackets (reason described in the last paragraph on the previous page which continues above).)

To repeat: Throughout the bibliography these name complexes are indicated as the example below shows. The names in these complexes occur in year order, sub-ordered within each year alphabetically by title - regardless of the form of the name on the article.

Example:

Schwerdt, Bob - Includes author cited as: Schwerdt, Robert J.; Schwerdt, Robert
--

Schwerdt, Robert. 1981. The ...
[Schwerdt, Robert J.] 1981. ...
Schwerdt, Bob. 1983. Graphite...

Two other notes:

First, in the above example citations starting with numbers follow those with alphabetic first “words”. This is standard with multiple citations in a single year (beginning with numbers) being sorted in increasing number order for the year in question.

And, second, for citations with multiple authors - a multiple author listing is isolated after all of the listings for the first authors alone. The same basic rules apply to citations with multiple authors as for the single author citations with the added constraint that when alphabetizing the authors they are first segregated into groups by authorship prior to being arranged by date and title.

Example:

Schwerdt, Bob; Mistretta, Paul...
[Schwerdt, Bob; Nussbickel, John J.]...
Schwerdt, Robert J. [+/- Walker, Floyd
A.]...

In the listing above if there was a citation for Schwerdt and Nussbickel it would join the other S&N citation between one of the two pairs of citations above based on date and title.
