WELCOME TO OUR TOP 100 SITES 2021!

Wow! What a year this has been. If ever the resourcefulness and adaptability of the camping and caravanning world has been put to the test, surely it has been over the past 12 months.

In spite of the limitations and restrictions, there were periods between lockdowns when touring parks reopened – and how sweet it was to hit the road in search of getaways from 24-hour news bulletins.

For park owners, the downtime of the first lockdown proved a great opportunity to maintain and improve sites. Whether that was simply a fresh coat of paint around the reception area or a completely new shower block, most campsites received some TLC. There were other changes, too – sanitation measures to keep us Covid-secure were introduced across sites in an effort to keep customers confident that parks were safe.

And it worked – as soon as the first lockdown was over, people were back on tour, making the most of their own mobile holiday spaces, safe in their own environment.

Interest in caravans and motorhomes has never been higher and with the rollout of the vaccination programme, it looks as though summer 2021 could be a boom season for UK sites. Holidaymakers in this country are lucky – we have some wonderful campsites, as seen here in this year's Top 100. We hope you get the chance to visit some of them in the coming months – you won't regret it!

Motorhomes, caravans & bikes...

A MATCH MADE IN HEAVEN

Tea and biscuits. Fish and chips. Bangers and mash. Touring holidays and bikes. They're all things that go together perfectly... or at least Raleigh thinks so

Bikes aren't just another mode of transport to get from A to B: they can add a huge amount of fun and create endless memories. That's why Raleigh thinks that bikes and caravans go hand in hand. So much so, there's an exclusive Raleigh offer for Caravan & Motorhome Club members, some of whom have shared their experiences of teaming up their caravan and motorhome trips with their faithful bikes here.

Meet Dave The Trail Blazer

Dave and his trusty Raleigh have been one pedal ahead all along, and blazing the trail for more than 20 years now.

“I became the proud owner of a brand new Raleigh Royal touring cycle in 1998. My wife and I live in the north of England, but have explored various parts of Britain with my Raleigh.

“We've often gone further north, to the Scottish Borders, Dumfries and Galloway, and to our favourite Hebridean island of Islay. All of these places are quiet and unspoilt, with superb coastal and inland scenery, which we reach in our campervan, then get out our bikes.

“We have such wonderful scenery to choose from in Britain, and over the past 10 to 20 years, have found drivers to be much more aware of and reasonable towards cyclists, which is much appreciated.”

Meet Claire The E-Biker

Claire perfectly demonstrates how electric bikes can close the gap and make cycling a pleasure for all, not just avid riders.

“My husband is a keen cyclist, and we both go out and enjoy the countryside without me worrying about the hills, thanks to my ebike! We pack both our bikes into our Swift Basecamp and head off on our adventures whenever we can.

“Although we haven't managed as many trips away as we would have liked over the past year, we did get to the Peak District and cycled the High Peak, Tissington and Monsal Trails, as well as the circular route around Carsington Water.

“My Raleigh Motus has been fantastic - it's comfortable and easy to ride. We can't wait to get out and about again this year and plan to pitch up in the Loire and cycle to the châteaux as soon as we're allowed!”

Meet Jenny The Geocacher

If you want to shake up those sightseeing cycle rides, geocaching might be just the ticket. Jenny certainly thinks so...

“Our chief hobby is geocaching - a sort of treasure hunt that's ideal for anyone who enjoys the outdoors. Cycling is one of the best ways to get around, and we have discovered some fantastic trails at sites across the UK.

“We've been keen motorhomers and caravanners for about 20 years, and at the beginning of our camping expeditions, used pedal cycles to enhance our trips. Over the years it became increasingly difficult to actually enjoy the rides when the going got tough. So we decided to invest in electric bikes.

“I purchased a Raleigh Pioneer first, then last year we bought my husband a Raleigh Motus. These bikes are probably one of the best investments we have ever made.”

If Dave, Claire and Jenny haven't managed to convince you that bikes, caravans and motorhomes are a match made in holiday heaven, then our exclusive members-only offer might just seal the deal. Caravan & Motorhome Club members are entitled to huge savings of up to £135 when purchasing a Raleigh bike, either online or in selected retailers. This discount can be applied across the entire Raleigh range, including everything from electric bikes to children's cycles, so those adventures will be fun for everyone in the family.

FOCUS ON NORTHERN IRELAND

Check out some of the fantastic places to explore!

Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB)

Strangford Lough

The vast sea inlet of Strangford Lough is peppered with small islands and makes a famous refuge for wintering wildfowl, with some 70,000 birds visiting each year. It's also home to populations of grey and common seals, and one of the best ways to see them is to take to the water via the Canoe Trail. Seals can be spotted around Bortree Island, as can porpoises.

Near the lough's northern edge is Scrabo Tower, a 19th-century folly some 40m high, which sits high on Scrabo Hill overlooking the area.

Walk on!

Mourne Mountains

Reached by a walk of around six miles, the peak at Slieve Donard is the highest in Northern Ireland, at 850m, and makes an achievable and rewarding introduction to the beautiful Mourne Mountains before you consider taking on some of the more challenging hikes.

Starting at Donard car park, you follow the path along the Glen River and through the lush pine and oak forest – you'll be crossing bridges at various points en route, and there are a number of waterfalls to stop and admire, too.

Rushin House Caravan Park

Address 88 Lattone Road, Belcoo, County Fermanagh BT93 5DU
Web www.rushinhouse.com Tel 028 6638 6519 Open Mid-March - 1 November
Touring pitches 38 Pitch+2+hook-up £27

In a truly prime position on the shores of Lough MacNea, this AA five-star rated campsite is a worthy Northern Ireland Regional Winner. The panoramic views and rural farm setting, in combination with the exquisite loch itself, attract returning visitors year after year. In addition, you'll find excellent amenities here, including free hot showers, disabled facilities, a dishwashing area and free Wi-Fi. Outdoors, there's a great playground for the children, created by award-winning designers, an all-weather football pitch and sports area, and a barbecue and picnic zone on the lough shore.

Pitches are well-maintained and provide fantastic views across the lough. If you can drag yourself away from those wonderful vistas, you'll also find plenty to explore in the local surroundings – the Belleek Pottery and Marble Arch Caves Geopark are two world-famous attractions within a short distance of the park, and the Ulster Way Walking Path and Enniskillen Castle Museums are also nearby.

Other places of interest in the area include Florence Court, a fine 18th-century house, the neo-classical mansion of Castle Coole, and for those who enjoy outdoor adventures, Corralea Activity Centre.

You say "The site overlooks Lough MacNea and is one of the most beautiful settings around. It's so peaceful and relaxing, and the owners can't do enough for you."

In a nutshell A perfect loughside location with amazing views from your pitch

Imposing scenery, dramatic history and great whiskies

SCOTLAND'S NATIONAL PARKS - Cairngorms and Loch Lomond & The Trossachs - and its 40 National Scenic Areas take in mountains, lochs and islands. The mainland coastline stretches 6160 miles, including stunningly beautiful beaches that can rival those of the Caribbean for white sand and turquoise sea.

Both mainland and islands are home to ancient monuments and strongholds, telling of rival clans and Viking influences. Today, Scotland is the centre of whisky distilling - there are 130 distilleries - and golf courses, of which there are more than 550.

Celebrate Year of the Outdoors in spectacular surroundings

HIGH-OCTANE ADVENTURE is at the heart of this landscape of mountains, valleys, cliffs, coast and lakes. Visit Wales is again promoting the Year of the Outdoors and there's plenty to enjoy – coastering, skydiving, white-water rafting and scuba diving.

For a slower pace, explore the great National Parks of Snowdonia, Brecon Beacons and the Pembrokeshire Coast, on foot, by bike and, in the case of the latter, by paddleboard or kayak.

Or you could just admire the beauty all around (look out for red kites, red squirrels and ospreys), enjoy the beaches or explore the many castles.

FOCUS ON WALES

AONB

The Gower

Back in 1956, the Gower in South Wales was the first Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty designated in the UK.

Here, the diverse scenery ranges from impressive hills to wooded valleys and a variety of marshes, but it's the utterly gorgeous beaches and coastline that most attract visitors to this exquisite corner of Wales.

Enjoy the sweeping three-mile stretch of Rhossili Bay, where you can venture out onto the Worm's Head, a promontory with a causeway exposed for a couple of hours before and after low tide, or perhaps visit the natural amphitheatre that is Three Cliffs Bay. If there is such a thing as the perfect beach, this just might be it.

Walk on!

Blue Lagoon, Pembrokeshire

Pembrokeshire has a huge number of wonderful walks, and we particularly like the two-mile stretch from the village of Porthgain, south to the Blue Lagoon and Abereddy beach.

Starting from Porthgain Harbour, follow the coastal path and you will soon be taking in stunning clifftop views.

This dramatic, wild coastline is formed of high cliffs that overlook the rocks of Cerrig Gwylan, which lie out to sea at the northern extremity of Traeth Llyfn beach (be wary of high tides here). You can drop down to the shore itself, or continue towards the Blue Lagoon and Abereddy.

The Blue Lagoon is a former slate quarry, which has since become a popular swimming and high-diving spot.

South Wales Touring Park (Llwynifan Farm)

Address Fferm Llwynifan Farm, Llangennech, Llanelli SA14 8AX

Web southwalescaravansite.co.uk Tel 01554 820 420

Open All year Touring pitches 25 Pitch+2+hook-up £14-£29.50

It's another victory for this beautiful adults-only site near Llanelli, which retains its position as Wales Regional Winner.

The award-winning park has put those periods of downtime during 2020 to good use, by installing a new, raised, dog-shower area and a covered chemical disposal point. In addition, all of the standard pitches now have numbered bollards that have been made from recycled plastic, and everywhere has been given a fresh lick of paint.

Site development plans for the coming year include improvements to the Wi-Fi and the air-movement systems in the heated washblock, and the installation of a charging point for electric cars.

The site's location, not far from the M4, makes this a great base from which to explore much of Wales. Local amenities include Llangennech village, which is less than a mile from the park. Here you'll find a supermarket, a chippie and two pubs, a handy dog-sitting service, and car and bike hire.

All of the park's pitches are hardstanding and provide excellent views. There are spacious heated shower rooms, toilets, and dishwashing and laundry facilities, and the park also has 10 serviced pitches.

You say "Fantastic site, well-kept and exceptionally clean, providing the most fantastic views of the local countryside. There's always a warm welcome from the park owners."

In a nutshell A South Wales favourite, perfectly positioned for exploring the best of the country

FOCUS ON THE NORTH-EAST

AONB

Northumberland Coast

Rockpools, castles, seabirds – all are within easy reach of Northumberland National Park and the Kielder Forest.

It's amazing this sliver of coast isn't permanently packed, but regular visitors will know it's undeveloped and beautiful.

Birdwatchers gravitate to Lindisfarne National Nature Reserve and the Farne Islands, also famous for its populations of grey seals. This is puffin country, so pack your binoculars, and be sure to visit the castle at Lindisfarne – a great day out.

Boat trips depart from Seahouses Harbour, where you are also quite likely to see the occasional inquisitive seal popping its head out of the water.

Nature reserve

Lindisfarne, Northumberland

The tidal island of Lindisfarne, or Holy Island, just off Berwick-upon-Tweed in Northumberland, is a hugely popular destination, and it's easy to see why.

Although the island's 16th-century castle is impressive, the real treasure has to be its incredible dunes, salt marsh and mudflats, home to a multitude of wildlife.

Butterflies, wildflowers, overwintering waterfowl and a wide variety of wading birds, ducks and geese make this a natural place of pilgrimage for keen ornithologists, who are drawn by the unique landscape.

The dunes here are home to nationally important plants, including no less than 11 species of orchid, while unusual marine animals, such as brittle stars and top-shells, can also be spotted on this fascinating shoreline.

First-time visitors to Cote Ghyll will immediately notice the outstanding natural landscaping of our Regional Winner for North-East England. And that's just when you arrive!

The site is tucked into a beautiful valley on the edge of an idyllic village, all within the North York Moors National Park. Cyclists will particularly enjoy exploring the area with routes to suit all levels of experience, and the nearby Moor to Sea Cycle Network – a long-distance bike route offering moorland, forest and coastal loops. There are around 150 miles to explore, through the very heart of the North York Moors National Park.

Outdoor-lovers will appreciate the numerous walks along the valley and around the nearby Cod Beck Reservoir, or up onto the heather moors. You'll find the warm dog-wash, new for 2021, very useful, as it also is for hosing down bicycles and muddy boots.

If you'd prefer a day on-site with the family, there are two children's play areas, a playing field and a new, purpose-built shop, with everything from fresh pastries and milk to toys and souvenirs. Stop by, too, at the Mill Kitchen, serving a choice of breakfast and evening meals, along with a takeaway service.

You say "It's so well-organised and safe in the current climate, and set in beautiful countryside with lots of lovely walks and scenery."

In a nutshell A truly lovely slice of North Yorkshire to enjoy with friends and family, camping or otherwise, and a worthy Regional Winner

North-West England

Lakes, peaks, fells, seaside resorts – and big-city buzz

FATHER THOMAS WEST published A Guide to the Lakes in 1778, and Cumbria's peaks, fells and lakes have been beguiling visitors ever since.

But Cumbria also has a coastline, which can be explored by road or rail. Across the water from Grange-over-Sands is the Arnsdale & Silverdale AONB, bordering Morecambe Bay. Further down the coast are the seaside towns of Morecambe, Blackpool and Lytham St Annes, while to the south are the vibrant cities of Manchester and Liverpool.

RECOMMENDED RIDES RALEIGH

FOCUS ON THE NORTH-WEST

Walk on!

The Old Man of Coniston

A choice for connoisseurs, the Old Man of Coniston, in the Furness Fells, is one of the Lake District's most iconic walks.

You'll need a good level of fitness, because this is a proper hike, rising to an elevation of some 800m – but what views!

There are several routes, although most people hike from Walna Scar to the Old Man via Goats Water or Low Water. Low Water is shorter, at about five miles for the round trip, but steeper, while Goats Water is longer, at 6.5 miles.

The tarns (mountain lakes) are a perfect foil for the beautiful fells. The zigzag to the top is exquisite and once at the peak, there is a plateau where you can stop to take in the view.

Eastern England

Heritage, history, natural beauty, you'll find it all here

THE EASTERN COUNTIES' low-lying topography makes them tourer-friendly, and there's plenty to explore. Visit Colchester for its Roman remains, the medieval city of Lincoln for its great cathedral and Lincolnshire for WWII airfields and museums. Or head for the coast's nature reserves, AONBs and iconic seaside towns, including Skegness and Cromer.

Take time out to explore great history, heritage and scenery

IT'S THE GATEWAY to Europe, but don't be so hasty to pass through this beautiful part of the country. Stop to enjoy the five AONBs – Chilterns, North Wessex Downs, Surrey Hills, Kent Downs and High Weald; and two National Parks – New Forest and South Downs. The Thames connects palaces and parks at Windsor, Hampton Court, Kew and Richmond to those in London. Rich in history and heritage, the region abounds with castles, great houses and spectacular gardens.

RECOMMENDED RIDES RALEIGH

Whether you want to conquer the entire cycle route on a full day-trip, or dip in and out with shorter sections, the Downs Link is an enjoyable ride. The route follows a repurposed railway line, now a haven for nature, cutting through woods and meadows, past rivers, streams and ponds.

Taking the children on a cycle ride? Follow the route to Southwater Country Park, with its visitor centre, play area and café.

Seaford Head, East Sussex

When it comes to imposing white cliffs, Dover often gets top billing, but we'd argue that those found along the Sussex coast make for a more beautiful landscape.

At Seaford Head, you can take in the views across the Cuckmere Valley and out across the Seven Sisters, which stretch away towards Beachy Head.

The cliffs are home to many species of seabird. Below, the River Cuckmere flows into the Channel at Cuckmere Haven, a film location for the 1991 movie Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves.

World Heritage coastline and literary landscapes

DORSET'S MILD CLIMATE makes this a popular area of countryside, coast and seaside resorts. A large part of this coastline, rich in fossils, is a World Heritage Site. Walkers can pick up the South West Coast Path at the entrance to Poole Harbour and follow a trail taking in Old Harry Rocks, two nature reserves and the Jurassic Coast. Inland, you can explore the landscapes, towns and villages immortalised by author Thomas Hardy.

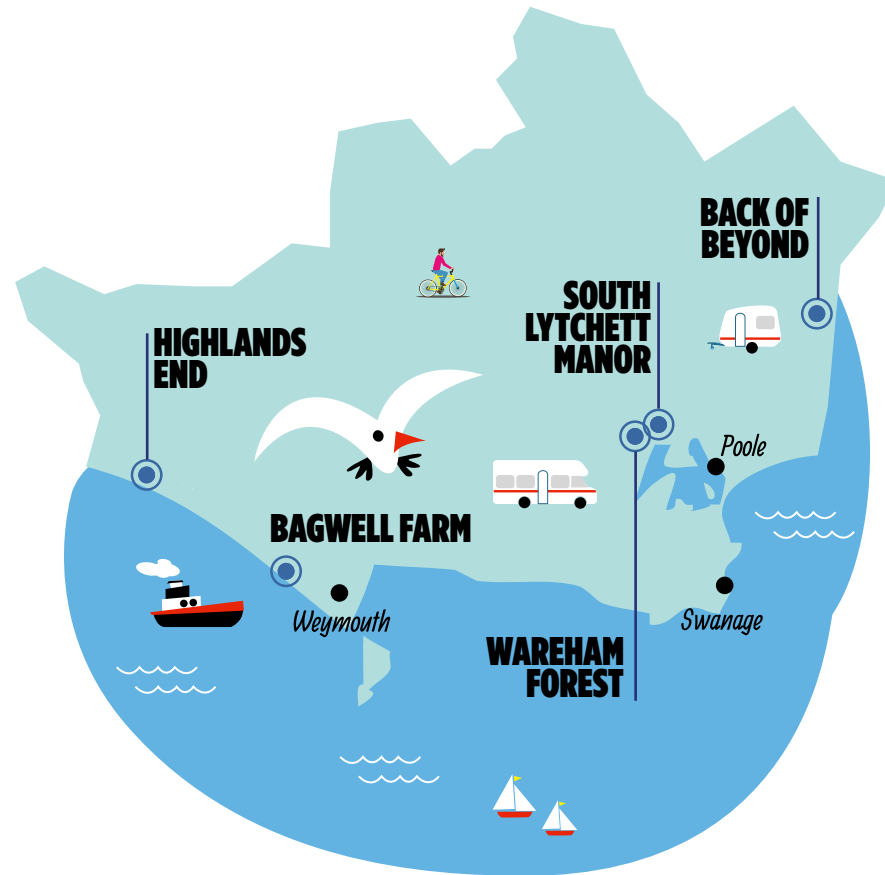

Don't miss Abbotsbury Swannery, Corfe Castle, Brownsea Island and Shaftesbury - with that hill!

RECOMMENDED RIDES RALEIGH

JURASSIC COAST CYCLE TRAILS

We think that cycling is simply the best way to appreciate the Jurassic Coast and its great history, geology and wildlife.

Choose from three different family-friendly trails, all of which provide plenty of spots to stop and enjoy a picnic and some fossil-hunting. Whichever you take, it'll be well signposted, meaning less time worrying about your route and more time enjoying your surroundings.

FOCUS ON DORSET

AONB Dorset's many attractions

It's testament to the beauty of this county that some 44% of it is included in this AONB. The coastal stretch takes in popular tourist resorts, such as Weymouth and Swanage, and it's also here that the 956km South West Coast Path starts, at Poole Harbour. Highlights such as Lulworth Cove, Durdle Door and Chesil Beach all feature in what has become known as the Jurassic Coast, famed for its fossils and geology. Inland, the AONB includes the South Dorset Ridgeway, an ancient chalk trackway, and extends from the Upper Axe Valley eastward to the Stour Valley near Blandford Forum.

Walk on! Hunting for fossils

Dorset, of course, has become famous as a place to find fossils. You will have to start early and leave before the crowds arrive, but you'll find Charmouth is a great place to venture into the magical world of fossil-hunting. The Jurassic coastline, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is a fascinating insight into 185 million years of prehistoric Britain, spanning the Mesozoic era. The most common fossils are those of marine creatures – clams, seashells, sea snails, nautilus and ammonites – which can be found in rocks dating back to the Jurassic and Cretaceous periods.

This beautiful site retains its position as Regional Winner in our 2021 Top 100 Sites awards – it was in this top spot last year – and it’s not surprising, given that it is set in a natural haven, which also includes an important Site of Special Scientific Interest, where you can see a rich variety of dragonflies, birds and fish. This year, the park also received an AA five-pennant rating.

You can immediately see that an enormous amount of effort has gone into the environmentally friendly development of the site and its grounds, work that has previously been recognised with a David Bellamy Gold Conservation Award.

Visitors to this adults-only site can leave behind their daily stresses, with walks in the park’s 18 acres of woodland or around the two fishing lakes.

Owners Martin and Victoria Bowrey have worked hard to maintain the perfect spot to pitch up in Dorset. Last year they were kept very busy clearing streams, improving showerblocks, building 35 new hardstanding pitches (21 of which are fully serviced), and creating an external pop-up bar and a communal barbecue and seating area. New measures have also been employed everywhere to create a safe environment for guests.

You say “The facilities were incredible, and above all, the people working there are extremely kind and efficient! We were blown away by this site.”

Somerset, Avon & Wiltshire

Iconic monuments and great architecture across the ages

IN THIS REGION of the ancients, their monuments are much in evidence at Stonehenge, Avebury Ring, Glastonbury Tor, Old Sarum and the burial barrows of Wiltshire. This popular disused railway line means that you can travel between the two great cities of Bath and Bristol – and then back again if you fancy it – without encountering any road traffic, enjoying tranquil green surroundings as you go.

While you're en route, try to spot the variety of sculptures that you'll find along the path, and stop to see the impressive working steam engines at the old train station at Bitton.

Set in an idyllic spot surrounded by beautiful countryside, there's a choice of pitches available at the site, ranging from standard to premier, and amenities include a well-stocked gift shop and spotlessly clean facilities, with both blocks comprising individual private washrooms, dishwashing areas, laundry and ironing facilities, microwaves and ice-pack freezers.

Great hiking, gorgeous coast and the wilds of Dartmoor

DEVON HAS BEEN a favourite tourist playground since the railway arrived in Exeter. In the north, Exmoor descends to the Bristol Channel. Further along are the wonderful beaches of Woolacombe, Saunton Sands and Croyde, also famous for its surf.

On the Hartland Peninsula is picturesque Clovelly, clinging to the side of a cliff, too steep for vehicular traffic. To the south, East Devon AONB and the Jurassic Coastline. Torquay, Paignton and Brixham are a vibrant backdrop to Torbay's sandy beaches. Inland, the wilds of Dartmoor await.

PLYM VALLEY TRAIL

If you don't fancy pedalling the 97-mile Devon Coast to Coast cycle route, we recommend skirting Dartmoor on the Plym Valley Trail.

Start in Plymouth and gently climb through National Trust woodland towards Dartmoor, before heading back again. Making Plymouth your starting point means that you'll also find an excellent pub at the end of your route, with only a downhill ride to consider on the way back!

This is also home to some of the UK's rarest butterflies and bats, and has been deemed so important for wildlife that a third of the national park is now especially protected. Red deer have thrived in this area since prehistoric times and these days, there are about 3000 living on the moors.

Set in beautiful countryside with magnificent views over Dartmoor, Ross Park has been a regular in our Top 100 and this year takes the regional top spot. It's easy to see why, because the facilities are excellent and standards are high. The centrally heated amenities block has free hot water to all showers and sinks, and includes both baby-changing and disabled facilities. There is an additional toilet block and a dish-washing room.

Visitors to the site can enjoy a meal at the New Barn Restaurant, which has a separate mezzanine bar and a comfortable lounge area. There's also a tropical conservatory attached to the restaurant, where dogs are welcome to accompany you.

Outside, there's a large leisure field and children's play area, which is equipped with three activity centres. Pets can come off their leads in the extensive dog-walk area and a dog shower is available.

Ross Park has also become a notable haven for local wildlife and insects, and a variety of birds can be found nesting around the grounds.

The campsite team puts a clear emphasis very much on caring for the environment, and the park has been awarded the David Bellamy Gold Conservation Award each year since 1999.

You say "We stay at Ross Park for eight weeks every year. It's the best site we've ever stayed at. Spotlessly clean and everything you need for a relaxing holiday."

Cornwall

Spectacular coast, picturebook villages and historic castles

CORNWALL IS ROMANTIC, self-contained – and tricky to navigate fully in a large vehicle. This is Poldark country, with ancient landscapes of mining, heathland, moors, and a stunning coast studded with coves that hint at a history of smuggling.

Today's main industries are fishing – at Boscastle, Mevagissey, Mousehole and other pretty villages – and tourism. Surfers will love Newquay; art lovers, St Ives; gardeners, Trebah, Tresco, Heligan and many more. Don't miss the dramatic castle ruins of Tintagel, forever associated with King Arthur.

RECOMMENDED RIDES RALEIGH

MINERAL TRAMWAYS COAST TO COAST

Follow the path of Cornwall's historic miners as you cycle from Portreath to Devoran.

This trail follows the original routes of two of the region's main mining-era transport lines, the Portreath Tram Road and the Redruth and Chasewater Railway.

With pretty port towns at either end of the trail and classic Cornish heathland in the middle, this route is about as Cornish as it can get!

Tehidy is in a fantastic position, from which guests can easily visit the very best of Cornwall's many lovely towns and beaches, and offers excellent access to several great cycle routes, gardens and historic sites.

The park sits in a tranquil wooded valley and is packed with facilities for the whole family to enjoy. There's a children's play area, games room, park shop and reception, free Wi-Fi across the entire site, a launderette, and a disabled and family room.

The attention to detail continues throughout, with picnic benches, clothes-dryers, barbecue points with slabs and picnic benches by each pitch, and a cooking shelter for campers and glampers in the outer field.

The owners are also clearly very keen to preserve the beauty of the natural environment in the park, and a number of the site's conservation and grounds management projects have been recognised with the top Gold award status. ## EYE KETTLEBY LAKES HOLIDAY PARK

Congratulations to Eye Kettleby Lakes Holiday Park, our Overall Winner! The site has consistently featured highly in our Top 100, and this year takes first place.

It was the choice of nine coarse-fishing lakes that first attracted visitors to this family-owned business, which has been operating in rural Leicestershire for more than 30 years.

Lodge accommodation was introduced for anglers wanting to make more than a day of it and to bring along friends and family. The lodges now number 12, luxury units have hot tubs, some have saunas, three are pet-friendly and they are the only accommodation on the complex allowing children. They also have the dedicated use of one particular lake.

In 2012, the park expanded to include an adults-only campsite, offering 61 pitches, 47 of them fully serviced. All are served by five-star log-cabin-style amenities, designed as individual washrooms.

Adults-only glamping pods with shower rooms and their own barbecue area arrived in 2016, and in 2018, a further adults-only touring area was opened, offering 69 fully serviced pitches and stone-built amenities.

The club-house has a bar and tearoom, open to day visitors as well as guests. Reception is in a separate area; it is here that you can book for fishing and even tuition if you need it. Bike hire is also available.

The ambience is friendly country club, with the team of dedicated staff running a neat-as-a-pin campsite. Guests clearly love staying at Eye Kettleby Lakes! For full details of the site, see p56
