With differentiated core competencies and confident leadership, Samsung Electronics is setting new challenges as a respected world-class company

Accelerating growth engines in a difficult business environment

In 2014, despite the economic and political uncertainties of China's slowed growth and rising tensions in Russia and the Middle East, Samsung Electronics focused on identifying growth engines, developing innovative technology and products and pursuing creative solutions.

As a result, we recorded revenue of KRW 206 trillion, operating profit of KRW 25 trillion and net income of KRW 23 trillion, based on consolidated financial statements. Sales and profits declined over the previous year owing to poor smartphone and other performance. Even so, across the global industry, we strengthened our leadership in sound financial management, brand value and corporate rankings.

Vice Chairman & CEO Oh-Hyun Kwon

Enhancing product competency and reinforcing market leadership

Our Memory Business significantly improved owing to greater cost competitiveness and advanced process technology development. In turn, that boosted sales of differentiated and high-value-added products, including SSD. In the Mobile Communications Business, amid intense industry competition and slowing global demand, sales and profits of smartphone and tablets weakened and growth was stagnant over the previous year. Nonetheless, we maintained our global No. 1 leadership in both the mobile phone and smartphone markets. In the Visual Display Business, we also solidified our market leadership by promoting sales of our premium products, including UHD, Curved and ultra-large-size TVs. As a result, we achieved No. 1 worldwide market share for the ninth year in a row since 2006.

Innovating technology and products while fortifying future growth engines

In 2014, we invested KRW 15 trillion in R&D to lead industry innovation as we continued to expand global R&D centers and recruit top talent. Our New York and Silicon Valley-based Open Innovation Center extended our reach, enabling us to secure outside talent and technologies. Those forward-looking measures fueled remarkable performance and sparked superior technologies, including mass production of the world's first 20nm DRAM and V-NAND with 3-bit technology; the launch of a smartphone with the world's first curved display; wearable devices such as Samsung Gear S and Gear VR; and developing new IoT (Internet of Things) technology based on automatic ID technology that utilizes diverse sensors.

We also reinforced the foundation of our technology leadership and sustained future growth by registering 4,952 US patents in 2014, the No. 2 world record. In addition, we maintained our profile as an innovative company with 36 CES 2015 Innovation Awards and with the No. 3 ranking on the Boston Consulting Group's list of The Most Innovative Companies 2014 around the world. Moreover, we were ranked No. 7 on Interbrand's The Best 100 Global Brands 2014, with an estimated brand value of USD 45.5 billion. Fortune listed Samsung Electronics as No. 13 on its list of the World's Most Admired Companies 2014.

Building sound management with an unmatched challenging spirit

Going forward, we anticipate lingering uncertainty in the world economy owing to an increase in US interest rates, economic recession in the Eurozone and financial risks in emerging countries because of the sharp drop in crude oil prices. Competition in the electronics industry will turn ever more fierce as growth continues to slow in our key product markets. Nevertheless, we are prepared. Our experienced sound management and unrivaled challenging spirit will enable us to effectively respond to the fast-changing business environment.

First, we will strengthen our competitiveness and profit structures in existing business areas. In our core areas, including memory chips, TVs and mobile phones, we will hone our competitive advantages as we focus on developing premium products and strengthening technology leadership. Our top ranking in the Memory Business is fully supported by our superior technology. In TVs, we will highlight our premium brand power with a central focus on SUHD TVs. In the Mobile Communications Business, we will lead the premium market with the Galaxy S6 and Galaxy S6 edge, while also launching differentiated products for mid- and low-priced markets. That strategy will not only maintain our dominance in advanced markets but also fuel growth in emerging and low-priced markets. In addition, we will realize significant growth in sales and profits in our developing businesses, such as Digital Appliances, Printing Solutions, Networks, Health & Medical Equipment, System LSI and LED.

Next, we will place new demands on B2B and Contents & Services Businesses. With a revamped organizational structure, we will implement a focused strategy that builds a world-class B2B business, working closely with sales networks to develop corporate customers. By propelling momentum in advanced markets and realizing high growth in emerging markets, we will position Samsung as a global leader in the B2B business. We will further enhance our product competitiveness with robust soft competitiveness, producing must-have content and services and strengthening our service platforms, such as Big Data and Cloud Services.

Third, we will assure stronger competitiveness with preemptive measures going forward. We will aggressively pursue IoT businesses as new growth engines, including Smart Health and Smart Home. We expect to embed a creative corporate culture in our Samsung Electronics DNA by using such tools as MOSAIC, which was introduced in 2014 to improve cross-discipline thinking and collective knowledge. Such measures will establish the firm foundation for our new challenges.

Growing together as a respected world-class company

Looking ahead in 2015, we are committed to our social responsibility contributions, with a focus on education, job training and improving healthcare. Designed for corporate citizenship, our programs support local issues around the world. We are also leading the way in a range of green management and environmental activities, such as producing green products and workplaces and working to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. We strive to maintain safe environments in which our employees can work healthfully and live happily. As always, we support our partners worldwide and promote their success by forging win-win partnerships for shared and sustainable growth.

For the past 46 years, Samsung Electronics has grown rapidly by surmounting many crises and difficulties. As we pursue our dream of making a better and brighter world for everyone, we will embrace and overcome new challenges. Today's complex business environment is pushing us to redouble efforts and increase innovation. We will steadily realize our dream by relying on our wisdom to overcome crisis, our courage to blaze new trails and our passion to serve our customers.

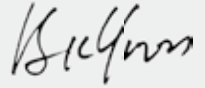

We are grateful for your unwavering support and encouragement as we create the imaginative opportunities that will open doors to the future.

Thank you.

System LSI Business

Spearheading growth in the system semiconductor market with cutting-edge logic process technology and advanced development of next-generation products

With cutting-edge competitiveness in logic process technology and advanced development of next-generation products, Samsung Electronics has achieved leadership in the global system LSI market. By focusing on the key segments of SoC, LSI and the foundry business, we are consistently enhancing our leading position in the global market to provide competitive products, including mobile application processors (AP), CMOS image sensors (CIS), display driver ICs (DDI) and near field communication (NFC) ICs as well as state-of-the-art foundry services.

In 2014, we launched the 16 megapixel (MP) mobile image sensor based on ISOCELL technology along with the industry's first APS-C CIS for digital cameras using 65-nanometer (nm) back side illuminated (BSI) pixel technology. We also focused on the advanced development of next-generation products such as the industry's first flexible mobile DDI using 2-metal chip on film (COF) package technology.

In 2015, we expect continuous growth in the global system LSI market with a focus on mobile products. Early this year, we were able to secure leadership in advanced process technology by launching 64-bit mobile APs based on 14nm FinFET. Looking ahead, we will further strengthen our leading position with cutting-edge process technologies beyond 14nm FinFET. In addition, we will bolster our competitiveness in mobile AP products and focus on providing high-value products, such as high-resolution ISOCELL CIS for enhanced picture quality. In the foundry business, we will boost our competitive edge by developing state-of-the-art logic process technology and diversifying our customer base.

Global Social Contribution Programs

Around the globe, Samsung Electronics hosts five social responsibility programs to address education, job training and healthcare issues that reflect the needs, business affiliations and characteristics of the local community. We work to improve education in disadvantaged areas by offering education infrastructure and e-learning to students. We expand job opportunities for young adults with IT vocational training. We improve the health and quality of lives in disadvantaged regions with high-tech medical equipment. Our programs are specifically developed and implemented to address local issues.

• Samsung Tech Institute

Samsung Tech Institute develops the independence and self-reliance of young adults with systematic vocational education. We nurture talent and create jobs by operating branches of the Samsung Tech Institute in Europe, Central and Latin America, Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa and more. Programs vary with location. We train software engineers in advanced countries and offer computer science classes in developing countries.

• Samsung SMART School

Samsung SMART School works to bridge the global education gap by improving educational environments for students in disadvantaged areas. Tailored to regional needs, SMART School Solutions include IT training curriculum for advanced countries and basic education infrastructure, such as buildings, educational materials and books, for developing countries.

• Samsung Solve for Tomorrow

A competitive program open to anyone interested but especially for students and nonprofit organizations, Samsung Solve for Tomorrow engages communities in addressing pressing social issues. First, we identify an issue in need of a solution. We solicit ideas through the competition and hold a workshop for selected winners to investigate how to develop and implement a resolution. Contests have been held in North America, China and Central and Latin America and are spreading worldwide.

• Samsung Care Drive

Samsung Electronics supports a variety of healthcare programs with its advanced medical equipment technology, products and services to promote the wellbeing and quality of life of local residents. We operate a mobile medical center in areas that lack convenient medical facilities and professionals and we provide medical training for local medical associations. First launched in China, Southeast Asia and regions of Africa, the program will be expanded worldwide in the future.

• Samsung Nanum Village

Samsung Nanum Village is designed to target the roots of poverty and to build self-reliance. We provide comprehensive infrastructure and critical basic services to socially disadvantaged populations. In partnership with national governments, we select candidate regions and offer support for education infrastructure, medical facilities, clean water and the construction of community centers.

Samsung Employee Donations and Volunteering

Samsung Electronics employees are increasingly involved in helping neighbors at home and abroad. In Korea, we raise social funds from employee donations and company matching funds to support a range of causes, including education, job training, healthcare and community. Every year, more and more employees actively volunteer their time and skills. We also continue to expand our volunteer programs in developing countries. In our workplaces around the world, we host volunteer services that care for neighbors in need, address local issues with IT classes and other education, participate in Habitat for Humanity, mentor youth and disabled children and support social welfare groups.

Green Management that Protects the Planet

Establishing Eco-Management 2020

Samsung Electronics' Green Management is founded on our PlanetFirst initiative, which puts protection of the earth first. In 2014, we established the new mid- and long-term goals of Eco-Management 2020, which included achieving accumulated 250 million tons of greenhouse gas reduction during the product use phase and reducing greenhouse gas emissions by 70% on KRW-based energy conversion, based on 2008 standards. We also developed three strategic missions to achieve a range of activities in green products, green workplaces and green communications.

Green Communications

To share the value and benefits of Green Management, Samsung Electronics is expanding Green Communications to all our stakeholders, including global partners, employees, customer-tailored campaigns and community programs. In alliance with global institutions, we are implementing green projects around the world. We also are supporting employee interest and engagement by hosting green events and education programs. In addition, we are providing green education and campaigns to our customers and to children to further drive green programs within local communities.

Operating Green Workplaces

In order to create green workplaces, we established and manage performance of four key goals, including practicing systematic green management, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, reducing the use of water resources and increasing waste recycling. We go well beyond legal compliance standards to strictly monitor air and water pollution levels and substances that can deplete the ozone layer.

Developing Green Technology and Products

Guided by fundamental principles to minimize environmental impact across every stage of the product life cycle, from resources to procurement, manufacturing to retail, usage to waste, we develop energy-efficient technology and utilize green materials such as bioplastic and recycled plastic at the design stage. By developing recyclable green materials, we also conserve resources in product packaging and energy in shipping. Globally recognized for our products' eco-friendliness, we received green certifications for an accumulated 3,027 product models as of the end of 2014, from 11 nations including Korea, the US, China and European countries.

Creating Safe and Healthy Workplaces

Building Health and Safety Management Systems

Samsung Electronics makes every effort to operate safe workplaces and to protect employee health by creating comfortable and thoroughly safe conditions. Across our workplaces worldwide, we comply with OHSAS 18001, a global standard for occupational health and safety management systems. Besides the world-class safety and health management systems in every workplace, we have established a variety of health-first programs for employees, including professional medical services at an in-house hospital, diet clinics, preventive measures for muscular skeletal disease and several counseling facilities, such as the Life Coaching Center, to help manage mental health.

Operating Workplaces with Safe Conditions

We focus on developing safe workplaces by examining potential risks in advance. We then institute continuous monitoring and improvement. We also develop emergency scenarios in the event of harmful chemical substance spills, fires, explosions and natural disasters. To prepare for environmental accidents, we also run hands-on employee education programs for fire and chemical safety, operations and personal safety and drills for emergency evacuation.

Supporting Employee Health and Safety Management

We are equally committed to improving employee safety and healthcare. By analyzing the causes of muscular skeletal disease, which may be associated with the manufacturing processes, we build ergonomic adaptations in the working environment. In addition, we prohibit business trips to regions that have a high risk of infectious disease, such as Ebola or MERS, in order to protect our employees from contagion. Any employees who travel on business to neighboring regions are supported with medical checkups upon their return.

Success Built on Helping and Dreaming Together

Developing Robust Systems for Win-Win Partnerships

As valued partners, our suppliers sharpen the competitive position of Samsung Electronics. With the goal of growing together in global markets, we operate a range of programs designed to bolster supplier skills. To that end, we promote transparent procurement, win-win partnerships and a culture of shared growth. In 2010, we established the Seven Shared Growth Implementation Plan. In 2013, we took that initiative to the next level with the Shared Growth Ecosystem Program. Working within the ecosystem, we plan to extend the benefits of our shared values to second- and third-tier suppliers.

Providing Programs That Hone the Competitive Edge

We share growth and prosperity by running several programs that actively support suppliers and strengthen their skills. In our flagship program, Globally Competitive SMEs, we identify suppliers with high technology potential and back them with customized funds, technology and human resources so they develop a competitive edge in their fields. We participate in a Joint Technology Development Partnership to spark Korean SME technology development and we also operate a variety of Open Innovation programs designed to discover and support technology startups, such as our Innovative Technology Company Council.

Establishing the Win-Win Partnership Academy for Systematic Support

In partnership with the major banks of Korea, we operate a Shared Growth Fund of KRW 1 trillion to help improve business for suppliers that find it difficult to secure funding. The Fund offers operational loans at low interest rates and we have expanded this benefit to second-tier suppliers. In 2013, we established the Win-Win Partnership Academy, which consists of centers for education, career development, business consulting and win-win partnership research that together provide comprehensive and systematic support for first- and second-tier suppliers. The education center offers customized programs to train supplier employees. The career center helps suppliers to identify and recruit top-rated talent and also helps young jobseekers find work. The consulting center organizes the Supplier Consulting Team, a roster of 100 of our directors and executives in the fields of manufacturing, product, development and quality control who use their know-how to advise suppliers. We also support innovation in manufacturing and factory development for SMEs generally.

We are realizing green management initiatives that help protect our precious planet.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries (collectively the "Group"), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as at December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the consolidated statements of income, consolidated statements of comprehensive income, consolidated statements of changes in equity and consolidated statements of cash flows for the years then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the Republic of Korea ("Korean IFRS") and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with the Korean Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2014 and 2013, and their financial performance and their cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Korean IFRS.

Other Matters

The consolidated financial statements of the Group as at and for the year ended December 31, 2013 were audited in accordance with the previous Korean Standards on Auditing. We did not audit the financial statements of certain subsidiaries, whose financial statements represents 6.8% of the Group's consolidated total assets as at December 31, 2013, and 25.6% of the Group's consolidated sales for the year then ended. These financial statements were audited by other auditors whose report has been furnished to us and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for those subsidiaries, is based solely on the report of the other auditors.

Auditing standards and their application in practice vary among countries. The procedures and practices used in the Republic of Korea to audit such financial statements may differ from those generally accepted and applied in other countries.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of Presentation

The Group maintains its accounting records in Korean won and prepares statutory financial statements in the Korean language (Hangul) in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the Republic of Korea ("Korean IFRS"). The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been condensed, restructured and translated into English from the Korean language financial statements.

Certain information attached to the Korean language financial statements, but not required for a fair presentation of the Group's financial position, financial performance or cash flows, is not presented in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

The consolidated financial statements of the Group presented have been prepared in accordance with Korean IFRS. International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") have been adopted by the Korean Accounting Standards Board as Korean IFRS based on standards and interpretations published by the International Accounting Standards Board.

Korean IFRS permits the use of critical accounting estimates in the preparation of the financial statements and requires management judgments in applying accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements, are disclosed in Note 3.

2.2 Changes in Accounting Policy and Disclosures

(A) New and amended standards adopted by the Group

The Group applied the following amended and enacted standards for the annual period beginning on January 1, 2014:

Amendment to Korean IFRS 1032, Financial Instruments: Presentation

Amendment to Korean IFRS 1032, Financial Instruments: Presentation, provides that the right to offset must not be contingent on a future event and must be legally enforceable in all of circumstances; and if an entity can settle amounts in a manner such that the outcome is, in effect, equivalent to net settlement, the entity will meet the net settlement criterion. The adoption of this standard did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Enactment of Korean IFRS 2121, Levies

Korean IFRS 2121, Levies, is applied to a liability to pay a levy imposed by the government in accordance with the legislation. The interpretation requires that the liability to pay a levy is recognized when the activity that triggers the payment of the levy occurs (obligating event), as identified by the legislation. The application of this interpretation did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements.

(B) New and amended standards not adopted by the Group

The Group expects that new standards, amendments and interpretations issued but not effective for the financial year beginning January 1, 2014, and not early adopted, would not have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

2.3 Consolidation

The Group prepares the consolidated financial statements in accordance with Korean IFRS 1110, Consolidated Financial Statements.

(A) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities (including special purpose entities) over which the Group has control. The Group controls the corresponding investee when it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins from the date the Group obtains control of a subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary.

The Group applies the acquisition method to account for business combinations. The consideration transferred is measured at the fair values of the assets transferred, and identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are initially measured at their fair values at the acquisition date. The Group recognizes any non-controlling interest in the acquiree on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis in the event of liquidation at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the recognized amounts of acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

Goodwill is recognized as the excess of (1) the aggregate of i) the consideration transferred, ii) the amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquiree and iii) the acquisition-date fair value of the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree over (2) the net identifiable assets acquired. If this consideration (1) is lower than the fair value of the acquiree's net assets in (2), the difference is recognized in profit or loss.

Balances of receivables and payables, income and expenses and unrealized gains on transactions between the Group subsidiaries are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries are changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

(B) Changes in ownership interests in subsidiaries without change of control

Transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions – that is, as transactions with the owners in their capacity as owners. The difference between fair value of any consideration paid and the relevant share acquired of the carrying value of net assets of the subsidiary is recorded in equity. Gains or losses on disposals of non-controlling interests are also recorded in equity.

(C) Disposal of subsidiaries

If the Group loses control of a subsidiary, any investment continuously retained in the subsidiary is re-measured at its fair value at the date when control is lost and any resulting differences are recognized in profit or loss. Such fair value becomes the initial carrying amount for the subsequent measurement of the retained interest accounted for as an associate, joint venture, or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income in respect of such entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. As a result, the previously recognized other comprehensive income are reclassified into profit or loss.

(D) Non-controlling interests

Each component of profit or loss and other comprehensive income is attributed to owners of the parent and to non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income is attributed to owners of the parent and to non-controlling interests even if this results in a negative balance of non-controlling interests.

(E) Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but does not have control, generally investees of which from 20% to 50% of voting stock is owned by the Group. Investments in associates are initially recognized at acquisition cost using the equity method. Unrealized gains on transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the associates. If there is any objective evidence that the investment in the associate is impaired, the Group recognizes the difference between the recoverable amount of the associate and its book value as impairment loss.

(F) Joint arrangements

A joint arrangement of which two or more parties have joint control is classified as either a joint operation or a joint venture. A joint operator has rights to the assets, and obligations for the liabilities, relating to the joint operation and recognizes the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses relating to its interest in a joint operation. A joint venturer has rights to the net assets relating to the joint venture and accounts for that investment using the equity method.

2.4 Foreign Currency Translation(A) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which each entity operates (the "functional currency"). The consolidated financial statements are presented in Korean won, which is the parent company's functional and presentation currency.

(B) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are re-measured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognized in profit or loss.

Exchange differences arising on non-monetary financial assets and liabilities such as equity instruments at fair value through profit or loss and available-for-sale equity instruments are recognized in profit or loss and other comprehensive income, respectively, as part of the fair value gain or loss.

(C) Translation into the presentation currency

The results and financial position of all the foreign entities that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency of the Group are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- Assets and liabilities for each statement of financial position presented are translated at the closing rate at the end of the reporting date.
- Income and expenses for each statement of income are translated at average exchange rates, unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the rate on the dates of the transactions.
- All resulting exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of the net investment in foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income. When a foreign operation is partially disposed of or sold, the exchange differences that were recorded in equity are reclassified as part of gains and losses on disposition in the statement of income. When the Group loses control over foreign subsidiaries, the exchange differences that were recorded in equity are reclassified into profit or loss when such gain or loss on disposition is recognized.

Any goodwill arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation and any fair value adjustments are treated as the foreign operation's assets and liabilities. Such goodwill is expressed in the foreign operation's functional currency and is translated at the closing rate. Exchange differences are recognized in other comprehensive income.

2.5 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

2.6 Financial Assets

(A) Classification

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets, and held-to-maturity financial assets. The classification depends on the terms of the instruments and purpose for which the financial assets were acquired. Management determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition.

(1) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets held for trading. A financial asset is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short-term. Derivatives not subject to hedge accounting and derivatives separated from financial instruments, such as embedded derivatives, are also categorized as held for trading. Assets in this category are classified as current assets.

(2) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are included in current assets, except for those with maturities greater than 12 months after the end of the reporting period which are classified as non-current assets.

(3) Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are either designated in this category or not classified in any of the other categories. They are included in non-current assets unless an investment matures or management intends to dispose of it within 12 months of the end of the reporting period.

(B) Recognition and measurement

Regular purchases and sales of financial assets are recognized on the trade date. At initial recognition, financial assets are measured at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in the statement of income. After the initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are subsequently carried at fair value. Loans and receivables and held-to-maturity investments are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

Changes in fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognized in profit or loss and changes in fair value of available-for-sale financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income. When the available-for-sale financial assets are sold or impaired, the fair value adjustments recorded in equity are reclassified into profit or loss.

Interest on available-for-sale financial assets and held-to-maturity financial assets calculated using the effective interest method is recognized in the statement of income as part of financial income. Dividends on available-for-sale financial assets are recognized in the statement of income as part of other non-operating income when the Group's right to receive payments is established.

(C) Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset, and the net amount reported in the statement of financial position, when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(D) Derecognition of financial assets

If the Group transfers a financial asset and the transfer does not result in derecognition because the Group has retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the transferred asset due to a recourse in the event the debtor defaults, the Group continues to recognize the transferred asset in its entirety and recognizes a financial liability for the consideration received. The related financial liability is classified as 'borrowings' in the statement of financial position.

2.7 Impairment of Financial Assets

The Group assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired. A financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired and impairment loss is recognized only if there is objective evidence and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated.

Impairment of loans and receivables is presented as a deduction in an allowance account. Impairment of other financial assets is directly deducted from their carrying amount. The Group writes off financial assets when the assets are determined to no longer be recoverable.

The objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired includes significant financial difficulty of the issuer or obligor, a delinquency in interest or principal payments, or the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties. A decline in the fair value of an available-for-sale equity instrument by more than 20% from its cost or a prolonged decline below its cost for more than six months is also objective evidence of impairment.

2.8 Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are amounts due from customers for merchandise sold or services performed in the ordinary course of business. If collection is expected in one year or less, they are classified as current assets. If collection is expected beyond one year, they are presented as non-current assets. Trade receivables are recognized initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

2.9 Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined using the average cost method, except for materials in transit. The cost of finished goods and work in progress comprises design costs, raw materials, direct labor, other direct costs and related production overheads (based on normal operating capacity). It excludes costs of idle plant and abnormal waste. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less applicable variable selling expenses.

Inventories are reduced for the estimated losses arising from excess, obsolescence, and decline in value. This reduction is determined by estimating market value based on future customer demand. The losses on inventory obsolescence are recorded as a part of cost of sales.

2.10 Disposal Group Held-for-Sale

Non-current assets (or disposal group) are classified as assets held-for-sale when their carrying amount is to be recovered principally through a sale transaction and a sale is considered highly probable. The assets are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and the fair value less costs to sell.

2.11 Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Historical cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the items. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of those parts that are replaced is derecognized and repairs and maintenance expenses are recognized in profit or loss in the period they are incurred.

Depreciation on tangible assets is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate the difference between their cost and their residual values over their estimated useful lives. Land is not depreciated. Costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset, including capitalized interest costs, form part of the cost of that asset and are amortized over the estimated useful lives.

The Group's policy is that property, plant and equipment should be depreciated over the following estimated useful lives:

	Estimated useful lives
Buildings and structures	15, 30 years
Machinery and equipment	5 years
Other	5 years

The depreciation method, residual values and useful lives of property, plant and equipment are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognized within the statement of income as part of other non-operating income and expenses.

2.12 Intangible Assets

Goodwill represents the excess of the cost of an acquisition over the fair value of the Group's share of the net identifiable assets of the acquired subsidiary, associates, joint ventures and businesses at the date of acquisition. Goodwill on acquisitions of subsidiaries and businesses is included in intangible assets and goodwill on acquisition of associates and joint ventures is included in the investments in associates and joint ventures.

Intangible assets, except for goodwill, are initially recognized at their historical cost and carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Internally generated development costs are the aggregate costs recognized after meeting the asset recognition criteria, including technical feasibility, and determined to have future economic benefits. Membership rights are regarded as intangible assets with an indefinite useful life and not amortized because there is no foreseeable limit to the period over which the assets are expected to be utilized. Intangible assets with definite useful lives such as trademarks and licenses, are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives.

The Group's policy is that intangible assets should be amortized over the following estimated useful lives:

	Estimated useful lives
Development costs	2 years
Trademarks, licenses and other intangible assets	5 - 10 years

2.13 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Goodwill or intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not subject to amortization and are tested annually for impairment. Assets that are subject to amortization are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets other than goodwill for which an impairment charge was previously recorded are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at each reporting date.

2.14 Financial Liabilities

(A) Classification and measurement

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are financial instruments held for trading. Financial liabilities are classified in this category if incurred principally for the purpose of repurchasing them in the near term. Derivatives that are not designated as hedges or bifurcated from financial instruments containing embedded derivatives are also categorized as held-for-trading.

The Group classifies non-derivative financial liabilities, except for financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, financial guarantee contracts and financial liabilities that arise when a transfer of financial assets does not qualify for derecognition, as financial liabilities carried at amortized cost and presented as 'trade payables', 'borrowings', and 'other financial liabilities' in the statement of financial position.

(B) Derecognition

Financial liabilities are removed from the statement of financial position when they are extinguished, for example, when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires or when the terms of an existing financial liability are substantially modified.

2.15 Trade Payables

Trade payables are amounts due to suppliers for merchandise purchased or services received in the ordinary course of business. If payment is expected in one year or less, they are classified as current liabilities. If payment is expected beyond one year, they are presented as non-current liabilities. Non-current trade payables are recognized initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

2.16 Borrowings

Borrowings are recognized initially at fair value, net of transaction costs, and are subsequently measured at amortized cost. Any difference between cost and the redemption value is recognized in the statement of income over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method. If the Group has an indefinite right to defer payment for a period longer than 12 months after the end of the reporting date, such liabilities are recorded as non-current liabilities, otherwise, they are recorded as current liabilities.

2.17 Provisions

A provision is recognized when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are not recognized for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognized as interest expense.

When it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will occur due to a present obligation resulting from a past event, and the amount is reasonably estimable, a corresponding provision is recognized in the financial statements. However, when such outflow is dependent upon a future event that is not certain to occur, or cannot be reliably estimated, a disclosure regarding the contingent liability is made in the notes to the financial statements.

2.18 Net Defined Benefit Liabilities

The Group has a variety of retirement pension plans including defined benefit and defined contribution plans. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the Group pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. The Group has no legal or constructive obligations to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employees the benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods. For defined contribution plans, the Group pays contributions to annuity plans that are managed either publicly or privately on a mandatory, contractual or voluntary basis. The Group has no further future payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are recognized as employee benefit expense when they are due. Prepaid contributions are recognized as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments is available.

A defined benefit plan is a pension plan that is not a defined contribution plan. Typically defined benefit plans define an amount of pension benefit that an employee will receive on retirement, usually dependent on one or more factors such as age, years of service and compensation. The liability recognized in the statement of financial position in respect to defined benefit pension plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by independent actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rates of high-quality corporate bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid and that have terms to maturity approximating to the terms of the related pension obligation.

Actuarial gains and losses resulting from the changes in actuarial assumptions, and the differences between the previous actuarial assumptions and what has actually occurred, are recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they were incurred. Past service costs are immediately recognized in profit or loss.

2.19 Financial Guarantee Contract

Financial guarantee contracts are contracts that require the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debt- or fails to make payments when due. Financial guarantees are initially recognized in the financial statements at fair value on the date the guarantee was given. If the amount measured in subsequent periods exceeds the unamortized balance of the amount initially recognized, the excess is classified as other financial liability.

2.20 Current and Deferred Tax

The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognized on the profit for the period in the statement of income, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively. The tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognized for temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts as expected tax consequences at the recovery or settlement of the carrying amounts of the assets and liabilities. However, deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if they arise from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

A deferred tax liability is recognized for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates, and interests in joint ventures, except to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. In addition, a deferred tax asset is recognized for deductible temporary differences arising from such investments to the extent that it is probable the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income taxes assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

2.21 Derivative Instruments

All derivative instruments are accounted for at their fair value according to the rights and obligations associated with the derivative contracts. The resulting changes are recognized in profit or loss in the year in which they are incurred. Certain derivatives that qualify as cash flow hedges and hedges on net investments in foreign operations are recognized under equity.

2.22 Dividend

Dividend distribution to the Group's shareholders is recognized as a liability when the dividends are approved.

2.23 Share Capital

Common shares and preferred shares with no repayment obligations are classified as equity. When the Group purchases its common shares, the acquisition costs, including direct transaction costs, are deducted from equity until the redemption or reissuance as treasury shares. Consideration received on the subsequent sale or issuance of treasury shares is credited to equity.

2.24 Revenue Recognition

Revenue mainly comprises the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the sale of goods in the ordinary course of the Group's activities. Revenue is shown net of value-added tax, returns, sales incentives and discounts and after eliminating intercompany transactions.

The Group recognizes revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured; when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity; and when specific criteria have been met for each of the Group's activities, as described below. The Group measures revenue by reliably estimating the contingencies associated with revenue based on historical results, taking into consideration the type of customer, the type of transaction and the specifics of each arrangement.

Where multiple-element arrangements exist, the fair values of each element are determined based on the current market price of each of the elements when sold separately. When the fair values of each element are indeterminable, the fair values of deliverables which have already been provided are calculated in such way that the fair values of elements which are yet to be provided are subtracted from total contract value of the arrangement.

(A) Sales of goods

Sales of products and merchandise are recognized upon delivery when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of goods have transferred to the buyer. Revenue is recognized net of discounts and returns, estimated at the time of sale based on past experience.

(B) Sales of services

Revenues from rendering services are generally recognized using the percentage-of-completion method based on the percentage of costs to date compared to the total estimated costs, contractual milestones or performance.

(C) Interest income

Interest income is recognized using the effective interest method according to the time passed. When a loan or receivable is impaired, the Group reduces the carrying amount to its recoverable amount, to the extent of the estimated future cash flow discounted at the original effective interest rate of the instrument, and continues unwinding the discount as interest income. Interest income on impaired loans and receivables is recognized using the original effective interest rate.

(D) Royalty income

Royalty income is recognized on an accrual basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreements.

(E) Dividend income

Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive payment is established.

2.25 Government Grants

Government grants are recognized at their fair values when there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with the conditions attached to it. Government grants relating to costs are deferred and recognized in the income statement over the period necessary to match them with the costs that they are intended to compensate. Government grants relating to assets are recognized in liabilities as deferred income government grants and are credited to the income statement on a straight – line basis over the expected lives of the related assets.

2.26 Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing net profit for the period available to common shareholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is calculated using the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding adjusted to include the potentially dilutive effect of common equivalent shares outstanding.

2.27 Operating Segments

Operating segments are disclosed in the manner reported to the chief operating decision-maker (Note 33). The chief operating decision-maker is responsible for making strategic decisions on resource allocation and performance assessment of the operating segments. The Management Committee, which makes strategic decisions, is regarded as the chief operating decision-maker.

2.28 Convenience Translation into United States Dollar Amounts

The Group operates primarily in Korean won and its official accounting records are maintained in Korean won. The US dollar amounts provided in the financial statements represent supplementary information solely for the convenience of the reader. All Korean won amounts are expressed in US dollars at the rate of KRW1,052.70 to US $1, the average exchange rate for the year ended December 31, 2014. Such presentation is not in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and should not be construed as a representation that the Korean won amounts shown could be readily converted, realized or settled in US dollars at this or at any other rate.

2.29 Approval of the Consolidated Financial Statements

These consolidated financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors on January 29, 2015.

3. Critical Accounting Estimates and Assumptions

The Group makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The estimates and assumptions are continuously assessed, considering historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are addressed below.

(A) Revenue recognition

The Group uses the percentage-of-completion method in accounting for its fixed-price contracts to deliver installation services. Use of the percentage-of-completion method requires the Group to estimate the services performed to date as a proportion of the total services to be performed. Revenues and earnings are subject to significant change, effected by early steps in a long-term projects, change in scope of a project, cost, period, and plans of the customers.

(B) Provision for warranty

The Group recognizes provision for warranty on products sold. The Group accrues provision for warranty based on the best estimate of amounts necessary to settle future and existing claims. The amounts are estimated based on past experience.

(C) Fair value of derivatives and other financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined by using a variety of methods and assumptions that are mainly based on market conditions existing at the end of each reporting period.

(D) Net defined benefit liabilities

The net defined benefit liability depends on a number of factors that are determined on an actuarial basis using a number of assumptions. Any changes in these assumptions will impact the carrying amount of the net defined benefit liability. The Group, in consideration of the interest rates of high-quality corporate bonds, determines the appropriate discount rate at the end of each year. This is the interest rate that is used to determine the present value of estimated future cash outflows expected to be required to settle the net defined benefit liability. The principal actuarial assumptions associated with the net defined benefit liability are based on the current market expectations.

(E) Estimated impairment of goodwill

At the end of each reporting period, the Group tests whether goodwill has become impaired by comparing the carrying amounts of cash-generating units to the recoverable amounts. The recoverable amounts of cash-generating units have been determined based on value-in-use calculations, and these calculations are based on estimates.

(F) Income taxes

Income taxes on the Group's taxable income from operating activities are subject to various tax laws and determinations of each tax authority across various countries throughout the world. There is uncertainty in determining the eventual tax effects on the taxable income from operating activities. The Group has recognized current tax and deferred tax at the end of the fiscal year based on the best estimation of future taxes payable as a result of operating activities. However, the resulting deferred income tax assets and liabilities may not equal the actual future taxes payable and such difference may impact the current tax and deferred income tax assets and liabilities upon the determination of eventual tax effects.

4. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

8. Transfer of Financial Assets

Trade receivables of the Group have been discounted through factoring agreements with banks in 2014 and 2013. Collateral (trade receivables and other) provided in such factoring transactions do not meet the requirements for asset derecognition as risks and rewards are not substantially transferred in the event the debtor defaults. Financial liabilities recognized in relation to these transactions are included as short-term borrowings on the statement of financial position (Note 15).

The following table presents a breakdown of discounted trade receivables as at December 31, 2014 and 2013:

	2014	2013
Carrying amount of the discounted trade receivables ¹	₩4,661,384	₩3,256,935
Carrying amount of the related borrowings	4,661,384	3,256,935

(In millions of Korean won)

	2014	2013
CE	₩379,612	₩199,758

DP	80,299	80,299
Other	83,511	82,510
Total	₩739,576	₩560,534

These calculations use pre-tax cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period. Cash flows beyond the five-year period are extrapolated using the estimated growth rates stated below. The growth rate does not exceed the long-term average growth rate for the business. In addition, a constant growth rate assumption is used for perpetual cash flow calculation.

(1) For the year ended December 31, 2014, pursuant to the results of the goodwill impairment reviews performed, the Group recognized an impairment of KRW 7,838 million on goodwill recognized at Samsung France Research Center (SFRC). The key assumptions used in calculating the value in use were as follows:

(In percentage, %)

	Key assumptions
Sales growth rate	-
Perpetual growth rate	-
Pre-tax discount rate ¹	23.7

¹ Pre-tax discount rate applied to the cash flow projections.

(2) For the year ended December 31, 2013, pursuant to the results of the goodwill impairment reviews performed, the Group recognized an impairment of KRW 82,599 million on goodwill recognized in the Digital Imaging business. The key assumptions used in calculating the value-in-use were as follows:

(In percentage, %)

	Key assumptions
Sales growth rate ¹	0.2
Perpetual growth rate ²	(4.1)
Pre-tax discount rate ³	13.0

¹ Future cash flows for 5 years are projected based on previous growth rate and the industry estimates.

² The projected growth rate beyond five years is consistent with industry estimates.

³ Pre-tax discount rate applied to the cash flow projections.

Sales growth rate was determined on the basis of past performance and expectations of market fluctuations. The discount rate reflects the special risk related to the division.

¹ Deferred tax assets were not recognized if it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future for investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures.

The Group periodically assesses its ability to recover deferred tax assets. In the event of a significant uncertainty regarding the Group's ultimate ability to recover such assets, deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Temporary differences whose deferred tax effects were not recognized due to uncertainty regarding the ultimate realizability of such assets as at December 31, 2014 and 2013, are as follows: (In millions of Korean won)

32. Financial Risk Management

The Group's financial risk management focuses on minimizing market risk, credit risk, and liquidity risk arising from operating activities. To mitigate these risks, the Group implements and operates a financial risk policy and program that closely monitors and manages such risks.

The finance team mainly carries out the Group's financial risk management. With the cooperation of the Group's divisions, domestic and foreign subsidiaries, the finance team periodically measures, evaluates and hedges financial risk and also establishes and implements the global financial risk management policy.

Also, financial risk management officers are dispatched to the regional headquarters of each area including the United States, England, Singapore, China, Japan, Brazil and Russia to operate the local finance center in accordance with global financial risk management.

The Group's financial assets that are under financial risk management are comprised of cash and cash equivalents, short-term financial instruments, available-for-sale financial assets, trade and other receivables and other financial assets. The Group's financial liabilities under financial risk management are comprised of trade and other payables, borrowings, debentures, and other financial liabilities.

(A) Market risk

(1) Foreign exchange risk

The Group is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from various currency exposures, primarily with respect to the United States, European Union, South America, Japan and other Asian countries. Revenues and expenses arise from foreign currency transactions and exchange positions, and the most widely used currencies are the US Dollar, EU's EURO, Japanese Yen and Chinese Yuan. Foreign exchange risk management of the Group is carried out by both SEC and its subsidiaries. To minimize foreign exchange risk arising from operating activities, the Group's foreign exchange management policy requires normal business transactions to be in local currency or for the cash-in currency to be matched up with the cash-out currency. The Group's foreign exchange risk management policy also defines foreign exchange risk, measuring period, controlling responsibilities, management procedures, hedging period and hedge ratio.

The Group limits all speculative foreign exchange transactions and operates a system to manage receivables and payables denominated in foreign currency. It evaluates, manages and reports foreign currency exposures to receivables and payables.

The foreign currency exposure to financial assets and liabilities of a 5% currency rate change against the Korean won are presented below: (In millions of Korean won)

	2014		2013
	Increase	Decrease	Increase	Decrease
USD	₩(171,265)	₩171,265	₩8,472	₩(8,472)
EUR	(36,381)	36,381	9,136	(9,136)
JPY	(42,529)	42,529	(45,131)	45,131

(2) Price risk

The Group's investment portfolio consists of direct and indirect investments in equity securities classified as available-for-sale, which is in line with the Group's strategy.

As at December 31, 2014 and 2013, a price fluctuation in relation to marketable equity securities by 1% would result in changes in other comprehensive income (before income tax) of KRW 57,768 million and KRW 43,993 million, respectively.

(3) Interest rate risk

Risk of changes in interest rates for floating interest rate financial instruments is defined as the risk that the fair value of components of the statement of financial position, and future cash flows of interest income (expenses) of a financial instrument, will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group is exposed to interest rate risk mainly through interest bearing liabilities and assets. The Group's position with regard to interest rate risk exposure is mainly driven by its floating interest rate debt obligations and interest-bearing deposits. The Group implemented policies and operates to minimize uncertainty arising from changes in interest rates and finance costs.

In order to avoid interest rate risk, the Group maintains minimum external borrowings by facilitating cash pooling systems on a regional and global basis. The Group manages exposed interest rate risk via periodic monitoring and handles risk factors on a timely basis.

The sensitivity risk of the Group is determined based on the following assumptions:

- Changes in market interest rates that could impact the interest income and expenses of floating interest rate financial instruments

Based on the above assumption, changes to profit and net equity as a result of 1% increases in interest rates on borrowings are presented below: (In millions of Korean won)

	2014		2013
	Increase	Decrease	Increase	Decrease
Financial assets	₩52,977	₩(52,977)	₩46,025	₩(46,025)
Financial liabilities	(30,722)	30,722	(22,942)	22,942
Net effect	₩22,255	₩(22,255)	₩23,083	₩(23,083)

(B) Credit risk

Credit risk arises during the normal course of transactions and investing activities where clients or other parties fail to discharge an obligation. The Group monitors and sets the client's and counterparty's credit limit on a periodic basis based on the client's and counterparty's financial conditions, default history and other important factors.

Credit risk can arise from transactions with financial institutions which include financial instrument transactions such as cash and cash equivalents, savings, and derivative instruments. To minimize such risk, the Group transacts only with banks which have strong international credit rating (S&P A and above), and all new transactions with financial institutions with no prior transaction history are approved, managed and monitored by the Group's finance team and the local finance center. The Group requires separate approval for contracts with restrictions.

Most of the Group's trade receivable is adequately insured to manage any risk, therefore, the Group estimates its credit risk exposure to be limited. The Group estimates that its maximum exposure to credit risk is the carrying value of its financial assets, net of impairment losses.

(C) Liquidity risk

Due to large investments made by the Group, maintaining adequate levels of liquidity risk is critical. The Group strives to achieve this goal by periodically forecasting its capital balance, estimating required cash levels, and managing income and expenses.

The Group manages its liquidity risk by periodically forecasting projected cash flows. If abnormal signs are identified, the Group works with the local finance center and provides liquidity support by utilizing a globally integrated finance structure, such as Cash Pooling. In addition, the Group maintains a liquidity management process which provides additional financial support by the local finance center and the Group. The Cash Pooling program allows sharing of surplus funds among entities and contributes to minimizing liquidity risk and strengthening the Group's competitive position by reducing capital operation expenses and financial expenses.

In addition, the Group mitigates liquidity risk by contracting with financial institutions with respect to bank overdrafts and foreign trade finance, and by providing payment guarantees to subsidiaries. For large scale facility investments, liquidity risk is minimized by utilizing internal reserves and long term borrowings according to the capital injection schedule.

The following table is an undiscounted cash flow analysis for financial liabilities that are presented on the statements of financial position according to their remaining contractual maturity.

(In millions of Korean won)

	2014
	Less than 3 months	4 - 6 months	7 - 12 months	1 - 5 years	More than 5 years

Financial liabilities	₩33,862,896	₩1,095,285	₩4,806,477	₩2,564,769	₩65,772

The table above shows the Group's financial liabilities based on the remaining period at the statement of financial position date until the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. The Group's trading portfolio of derivative instruments has been included at its fair value of KRW 78,348 million (2013: KRW 244,172 million). These contracts are managed on a net-fair value basis rather than by maturity date. Net settled derivatives consist of forward exchange contracts used by the Group to manage the exchange rate profile.

The maximum liquidity risk exposure from those other than the above financial liabilities (e.g., payment guarantees for affiliated companies and performance bonds) as at December 31, 2014 is KRW 115,211 million (December 31, 2013: KRW 183,644 million).

(D) Capital risk management

The purpose of capital management is to maintain a sound capital structure. The Group monitors capital on the basis of the ratio of total liabilities to total equity. This ratio is calculated by dividing total liabilities by total equity in the consolidated financial statements.

The Group's capital risk management policy has not changed since the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013. As at December 31, 2014, the Group has maintained an A+ and A1 credit rating from S&P and Moody's, respectively, on its long term debt.

The total liabilities to equity ratios as at December 31, 2014 and 2013, are as follows:

(In millions of Korean won)

	2014	2013
Total liabilities	₩62,334,770	₩64,059,008
Total equity	168,088,188	150,016,010

The levels of the fair value hierarchy and its application to financial assets and liabilities are described below.

- Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly
- Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs)

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the statement of financial position date. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The quoted market price used for financial assets held by the Group is the current bid price. These instruments are included in Level 1. Instruments included in Level 1 are listed equity investments classified as trading securities or available-for-sale financial assets.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (for example, over-the-counter derivatives) is determined by using valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximize the use of observable market data where it is available and rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable, the instrument is included in Level 2.

If one or more of the significant inputs are not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in Level 3.

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments include:

- Quoted market prices or dealer quotes for similar instruments.
- The fair value of forward foreign exchange contracts is determined using forward exchange rates at the statement of financial position date, with the resulting value discounted back to present value.

Other techniques, such as discounted cash flow analysis, are used to determine fair value for the remaining financial instruments. For trade and other receivables, the book value approximates a reasonable estimate of fair value.

(3) Valuation technique and the inputs

The Group utilizes a present value technique to discount future cash flows at a proper interest rate for corporate bonds, government and public bonds, and bank debentures that are classified as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

The following table presents the valuation technique and the inputs used for major financial instruments classified as Level 3.

(In millions of Korean won)

(5) Sensitivity analysis for recurring fair value measurements categorized within Level 3

Sensitivity analysis of financial instruments is performed to measure favorable and unfavorable changes in the fair value of financial instruments which are affected by the unobservable parameters, using a statistical technique. When the fair value is affected by more than two input parameters, the amounts represent the most favorable or most unfavorable.

The results of the sensitivity analysis for the effect on profit or loss (before-tax amount for other comprehensive income or loss) from changes in inputs for each financial instrument which is categorized within Level 3 and subject to sensitivity analysis, are as follows: (In millions of Korean won)

The merger was between two subsidiaries under common control, therefore, the merger was accounted for by transferring the book values on the consolidated financial statements. No additional goodwill was recognized.

(B) Based on an agreement entered into in September 1999 related to Samsung Motor Inc.'s ("SMI") bankruptcy proceedings, SMI's creditors (the "Creditors") filed a civil action in December 2005 against 28 Samsung Group affiliates, including the Group, seeking to recover KRW 2,450 billion in losses as well as additional penalty amounts. On January 29, 2015, the Supreme Court ordered the Samsung Group affiliates to pay the Creditors an additional penalty of KRW 600 billion plus an interest on late penalty payment (charged at 6% annual interest rate). On January 11, 2011, the Seoul High Court ordered Samsung Group affiliates to pay to the Creditors a penalty of KRW 600 billion and interest due to late payment. Compared to the January 2011 ruling, the penalty amount remained the same and the interest charge on late penalty payment increased by 1% annually, thus the total amount due to Creditors increased by KRW 4 billion as a result of the Supreme Court's January 2015 decision.
