How to Use This Catalog

This catalog can help you—

- Know what is available
- Select your products
- Order the products you want

This catalog contains—

- Abstracts of products
- Ordering information and forms
- Indexes, both subject and geographic
- Lists of reference and technical assistance sources

The catalog is organized in chapters by subjects such as population or foreign trade. Report series and individual products, complete with abstracts, are in alphabetical order or organized by the census numbering system. Data files, marked ●, follow printed reports in appropriate sections. Preliminary reports, marked with a "p", follow final reports, if final reports were issued during the time span covered by this catalog.

If the subject-matter chapter heads and subheads do not meet your product selection needs, try the indexes. One is by geography (political or statistical) and one is by subject.

Let us say, for example, you want public school finances information for States. Look under States in the geography index and find:

The 1980 Bureau of the Census Catalog provides information about selected products which became available to the public during the reference year. It includes abstracts as well as prices and other ordering information for all publications and computer readable products (primarily data files) issued during 1980. In a few instances, products from prior years also have been included. Additionally, some 1980 listings have been updated to reflect more current information.

Instead of being issued on a four quarterly cumulative issue subscription basis, with monthly supplements, the 1980 Catalog has been prepared as a single document. To keep data users current, a new monthly, the Monthly Product Announcement (MPA), listing all Bureau products, was initiated in January 1981. Subscriptions to MPA are available on request free of charge. This publication and other timely census reference sources are briefly described in the following paragraphs.

The Monthly Product Announcement lists all Bureau products—primarily publications, data files, and microfiche—made available during the previous month. It includes all information necessary to order products, including order forms. Data users may be added to the MPA mailing list free of charge by contacting Data User Services Division, Customer Services (Publications), Bureau of the Census, Washington D.C. 20233. Past issues (back to January 1981) are also available from the same office while supplies last.

Another reference source, the Directory of Data Files contains abstracts describing all Bureau data files—summary statistics, microdata, and geographic reference data—as well as software. These abstracts describe the file type and structure, scope, subject-matter, and reference and related products. This publication may be purchased for $11 from Customer Services at the address cited above. The purchase price includes periodic updates announcing new files.

Data User News is a monthly newsletter issued by the Bureau of the Census to keep users informed about new Bureau products, services, and programs. It also includes news about data and services from Federal, State, and local agencies and other organizations. A subscription to Data User News is available from the Government Printing Office (GPO). See appendix A for subscription information. A sample copy is available from Customer Services.

The record of Bureau of the Census publications since the first census in 1790 through 1972 is shown in the Bureau of the Census Catalog of Publications, 1790-1972. This volume combines the previously issued Catalog of United States Census Publications, 1790-1945, prepared by the Census Library Project under the sponsorship of the Library of Congress and the Bureau of the Census, with the Bureau of the Census Catalog of Publications 1946-1972, developed by the Data User Services Office of the Bureau of the Census.

ORDERING PRODUCTS

This catalog shows how Census Bureau products—publications and data files—can be ordered. The listings for individual items include all bibliographic information available, such as Library of Congress card numbers and Government Printing Office stock numbers and catalog numbers.

Inquiries concerning the availability and distribution of Census Bureau products should be addressed to the Data User Services Division, Customer Services, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233. Inquiries concerning the content of publications should be addressed to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

All publications are ordered from GPO unless otherwise indicated at the end of individual abstracts. All data files are ordered from the Census Bureau's Customer Services unless otherwise indicated.

Use the GPO order form to order publications from GPO. Use the Customer Services (Publications) order form to order publications from the Bureau. Use the Customer Services (Microfiche, Tapes, and Maps) order form to order data files on computer tape. These forms are located at the back of this catalog.

Prices quoted were current as of December, 1981. However, all prices are subject to change without notice. Prices may be verified by calling the GPO and/or Bureau telephone numbers listed on the inside back cover.

Remittances must accompany all orders and should be made payable as directed on the respective order forms.

Several ways of making payment are available. Both agencies accept checks and money orders as well as provide their own deposit account arrangements. As shown on the GPO Order Form, some charge cards are accepted by GPO. Do not send postage stamps for any remittance; currency is sent at the sender's risk. Foreign money is not acceptable. Remittances from foreign countries should be made by international money order or draft on a U.S. bank. To establish a deposit account with GPO, write to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 indicating that you wish to open a deposit account. Enclose a check or money order made payable to the Superintendent of Documents in the desired amount (minimum $50). An account number and a supply of order blanks will be mailed to you. Statements indicating the account balance will be sent to you quarterly.

Bureau deposit accounts also are available. These enable data users to order data files, technical documentation, microfiche, paper prints from microfiche, photocopies of unpublished tables, and unpublished maps without sending a check each time an order is placed. A minimum of $50 is required to open an account. Mail the check (or money order) made payable to Commerce-Census to Data User Services Division, Customer Services, Bureau of the Census, Washington D.C. 20233 stating that you wish to open a deposit account. An annual statement is mailed to all account holders.

The Bureau sells data files at $110 per computer reel unless otherwise indicated. Effective March 1, 1982 the price will be $140 per reel. They are available at 1600 or 6250 bpi, EBCDIC or ASCII, labeled or unlabeled, as shown on the Customer Services (Microfiche, Tapes, and Maps) order form. Orders for multiple data files may be "stacked" on one or more tape reels at a cost savings per data file; contact Customer Services for details. Technical documentation is provided at no additional cost for each data file ordered; it also may be purchased separately on the same order form. Contact Customer Services for price information on technical documentation.

Data files are indicated in this catalog with a ● at the beginning of the abstract. The number of reels for each file at 1600 bpi or 6250 bpi is listed in parentheses at the end of each data file abstract.

Microfiche and/or microfiche paper prints are available for many of the publications listed in this Catalog, as well as for publications issued in prior years. Contact Customer Services for further information. Publication series which are available by subscription are listed in appendix A.

OTHER SOURCES OF CENSUS PRODUCTS

You may buy or refer to Census products at various locations throughout the country. Some organizations also offer consultation services. The following section briefly describes some of these services. A selected listing of organizations providing services to census data users is provided in appendix B.

Depository Libraries

One of the most valuable reference sources for census documents is the Government Depository Library system established by Congress years ago to provide everyone access to Federal publications. Designated libraries elect to receive (from the Government Printing Office) those Government publications which they consider appropriate to their clientele. Of the 1,300 plus libraries presently in the system almost all have elected to receive Census Bureau publications.

To supplement this system and to insure that a collection of Census Bureau reports is available for reference and research at points geographically convenient to everyone, the Bureau of the Census has been furnishing selected copies of its reports to an additional 120 libraries designated as Census Depository Libraries. These libraries were chosen on the basis of population in the case of a city library, or enrollment in the case of a college or university library, as well as on the basis of distance from the nearest Government Depository Library. The two depository systems make it possible for a collection of Bureau reports to be available in every important urban and research center. A Government Depository Library listing can be obtained from GPO. A Census Depository Library listing can be obtained from Customer Services.

In addition to these standard library facilities, publications, other documents, and computer tapes are often available for purchase or reference through the Bureau's State Data Center Program, National Clearinghouse for Census Data Services, and the Bureau's Information Services.

State Data Center Program

The State Data Center Program was initiated by the Census Bureau in 1978 to improve access to the many statistical products available from the Bureau. Through this program, the Bureau furnishes products, training in data access and use, technical assistance, and consultation to States which, in turn, disseminate the products and provide assistance in their use within the State. The organization of each State Data Center (SDC) varies from State-to-State but usually involves a major State executive or planning agency, a major State University, and the State Library. The structure of the individual State programs differ from State-to-State, but in all cases consist of a lead agency and several affiliates. These serve as the principal service, delivery, and coordinating units. For a listing of State Data Center lead agencies, contact Customer Services. Data User News carries listings of State Data Center lead agencies and affiliates from time-to-time.

National Clearinghouse

The National Clearinghouse for Census Data Services is a referral service for users needing specialized assistance in obtaining and utilizing statistical data and related products prepared by the Census Bureau. This assistance ranges from informational services such as seminars or workshops to technical services such as providing tape copies or performing geocoding. Organizations registered with the Clearinghouse are not franchised, established, or supported by the Bureau. Each organization establishes its own methods of operation, cost structure, and the clientele eligible for services. To obtain a listing of Clearinghouse organizations, contact Customer Services.

Department Of Commerce District Offices

The U.S. Department of Commerce has district offices located in most large cities throughout the Nation. Furnishing a number of services to the business community, these district offices maintain a reference library which includes census publications, and also some unpublished census data on microfiche. Use the white pages of local phone directories under "U.S. Government, Commerce Department" to call them. Their locations are listed in appendix B.

Census Bureau—Regional Information Services

The Bureau has recently consolidated its two regional outreach programs—Data User Services and Community Services. The merged regional program called Information Services is designed to improve outreach efficiency and broaden delivery of data services to users. A staff of Information Services

Specialists are located in the Bureau's regional and satellite offices across the country.

The program offers educational and inquiry services to Federal, State and local government agencies; minority organizations; businesses; libraries; educational institutions; community service organizations; the media; and the general public. Staff members are available for consulting on the availability of present and forthcoming reports and tape files as well as being available for presentations at workshops or conferences. Local addresses for these service offices are listed in appendix B.

Census Bureau— Washington

Subject matter specialists from all areas of the Census Bureau are available for telephone consultation. A telephone listing of these specialists is available at no cost from Customer Services. As a last resort, assuming that none of the above sources can provide information on the Census product or service required, contact Data User Services Division, Customer Services

Branch, Bureau of the Census,
Washington, D.C. 20233.

CONFIDENTIALITY OF CENSUS RECORDS

Information collected by the Census Bureau from individual persons, households, or firms is strictly confidential and may be used only for statistical purposes.

By law (Title 13, U.S. Code) the Census Bureau cannot furnish copies of individual returns or issue any statistics which identify or disclose individual information. The protection of confidentiality extends to names and addresses; thus the Census Bureau cannot supply lists of persons or firms reporting to it.

PERSONAL CENSUS RECORDS SERVICE

The Bureau of the Census maintains a staff of employees at Pittsburg, Kansas, whose function is to search the various Federal censuses of population from 1900 on and to provide, at a nominal cost, personal data from these records to individuals who lack other documents of birth or citizenship. Extracts from these records are often accepted as evidence of age and place of birth for obtaining employment, social security benefits, old-age assistance, passports, naturalization papers, delayed birth certificates, and for other purposes. Inasmuch as the personal information recorded in these censuses is confidential, it may be furnished only if desired for a proper purpose, upon the written request of the person concerned or his or her legal representative.

A fee of $12 is charged to cover the cost of making the search and certifying the results. Additional copies of the transcript are available at $2 each. A full census schedule providing further selected items of information recorded about the named individual(s), depending on the particular items shown in a specific census, is available at $4 per copy. Cases are usually handled in the order of receipt. Application forms, with more detailed information, can be obtained by writing to the Bureau of the Census, Pittsburg, Kansas 66762, or the Data User Services Division, Census History Staff, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

General and Reference Materials

This chapter provides descriptions of general reports, statistical compendia, reference materials, data products, and special publications concerning the Bureau's activities that do not fall within designated subject-matter programs. The printed reports and data products containing statistics collected by the Census Bureau are described in the remaining chapters of this catalog.

Subject content—Provides an overview of 1980 census plans, activities, and data products. The purpose of this newsletter is to maintain communication with participants in the 1980 census planning meetings. Initially, a prime focus of the Update was the solicitation of suggestions for the 1980 census from its readers on Bureau plans and to invite interested parties to submit suggestions on how specific reports or tape products could be improved to better serve the needs of data users. Recently, the focus was turned more to accounts of various activities that occurred in the 1980 census and to descriptions of the Bureau's latest plans for data dissemination.

This publication was first issued in 1977. Having served its purpose in the 1980 census program, the final issue of this newsletter was published in the summer of 1981.

However, about 6,000 new occupation titles have been added. Many of them come from the Dictionary of Occupational Titles published by the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration. The index is divided into two sections. The first lists the industry categories and their component industry titles; the second, the occupation categories and their component titles. Industry and occupation categories are shown in the order they appear in the classification systems. Titles are arranged alphabetically within each category. Conference on Census Undercount, Proceedings of the 1980 Conference

Subject content—Describes the proceedings of the 1980 Conference on Census Undercount sponsored by the Bureau of the Census. The conference was designed to provide a forum for considering alternative approaches to measuring the census undercount and to assess the complications of adjusting the census counts. This volume contains the conference papers and the discussion of the papers at the conference.

In order to investigate as broad a range of concerns as possible at the conference, the Census Bureau undertook a general solicitation of papers on undercount. The 17 papers that were selected to be presented at the conference covered such issues as: (1) methods available for measuring and adjusting for the undercount for sub-national areas; (2) the feasibility of extending the adjustment to population characteristics beyond the total population; (3) the use of adjusted figures in Federal programs; (4) the political and legal issues in making adjustments to the census counts; and (5) the effects of adjustment on equity in the distribution of Federal funds.

Subject content—Describes general reference sources prepared by the Bureau.

In order to help potential data users gain access to the vast amount of data issued after each census and for approximately 200 surveys taken every year, the Bureau prepares a number of general reference sources (catalogs, guides, indexes, etc.). This bibliography lists the titles, prices, and number of pages of these reference sources, and gives brief descriptions of their contents.

Census of Agriculture	11
Current Cotton Statistics Program	12

The statistical data described in this section are collected from the censuses of agriculture and periodic surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census. The reports and data products listed contain data relating to agricultural activities and products, equipment and facilities, irrigation and drainage enterprises, and cotton ginning.

CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE

The first census of agriculture was taken in 1840 in conjunction with the Sixth Decennial Census. Each decennial census thereafter through 1950 included a census of agriculture. A mid-decennial agriculture census was initiated January 1, 1925. The census of agriculture was conducted beginning in October for the census years 1954, 1959, and 1964. The 1969 and 1974 Censuses of Agriculture were taken by mail with data collection beginning on December 31 of the reference year. The 1978 Census of Agriculture was conducted primarily by mail and included a personal canvass of a statistical area segment sample for more complete coverage. Censuses of irrigation and drainage augmented the census of agriculture every 10 years.

In order for the census of agriculture to be taken the same year as the other economic censuses, on March 15, 1976, section 142 of title 13, United States Code, was amended by Public Law 94-229 (H.R. 7824) to change the 5-year census of agriculture cycle to a 4-year cycle. This 4-year cycle occurs between the years 1974-1978 and 1978-1982.

After 1982, the agriculture census will revert to a 5-year cycle, with censuses of agriculture being taken for (calendar) years ending in 7 and 2. Also, for this same period, the censuses of irrigation and drainage will be changed to a 9-year cycle to augment the 1978 and 1987 Censuses of Agriculture.

The significance of conducting the agriculture census in concurrent years with other economic censuses is that comparable measures for both areas can be obtained, thus providing benchmark statistics for all sectors of the economy in the same year. It will also facilitate the collection of data on the integration of agricultural operations with firms engaged in other economic enterprises.

Results of the 1978 Census of Agriculture are being published in a series of reports which provide data for the United States, each State, Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, Northern Mariana Islands, and the Virgin Islands of the United States. The reports include statistics on number of farms, farm characteristics, livestock, poultry, livestock and poultry products, crops, crop values, irrigation, and drainage.

Preliminary reports have been published for each county in the United States with 10 or more farms, each State, the four geographic regions, and the United States. Final State and county data are now being issued in Volume 1.

Preliminary data have also been issued for each State for agricultural services relating to number of establishments by primary activity, gross receipts, and payroll. Final data for agricultural service establishments in greater detail have been published in Volume 3, Agricultural Services.

Other reports to be published are Volume 4, Irrigation, and Volume 5, Special Reports. The Special Reports series will include data on the following subjects: coverage evaluation, procedural history, drainage of agricultural lands, farm energy survey, farm and ranch irrigation survey, farm finance survey, and census of horticultural specialties. The Volume 2 summary report, Statistics by Subject, will not be published. Volume 1, Part 51, United States Summary, will include most of the summary data published in previous censuses.

A 1978 Census of Agriculture Publication Program describing the contents and timing of the reports from the 1978 census is available at no charge. This description may be obtained on request from any U.S. Department of Commerce district office (see Appendix B) or from the Data User Services Division, Customer Services Branch (Publications), Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C. 20233.

In addition, descriptions of data files that became available during the year are listed in this section.

Current Business Data	21

This chapter describes statistical data collected by means of quinquennial economic censuses, periodic current surveys, and other programs conducted by the Bureau of the Census. These data provide information on the operating characteristics of establishments in most segments of the economy.

BUSINESS DATA FROM THE ECONOMIC CENSUSES

A census of business was taken for each of the years 1929, 1933, 1935, 1939, 1948, 1954, 1958, 1963, 1967, and 1977. Those for 1929 and 1939 were taken as part of the 1930 and 1940 decennial censuses; those for 1933 and 1935 were special projects. The first census that included service industries was the census of 1933. Under legislation enacted in 1964, quinquennial economic censuses are conducted covering years ending in 2 and 7.

The census of business initially covered only the 48 conterminous States. Alaska and Hawaii were included as territories in 1939, 1948, 1954, and 1958, and as States in 1963 and thereafter. A census of business establishments in Puerto Rico was done for 1939 and again for 1949. Since 1954, data on businesses in Puerto Rico have been collected with each census of business. Guam and the Virgin Islands have also been covered by the census of business since 1958.

Retail trade, wholesale trade, and service industries have been treated as separate parts of the economic censuses since 1972. 1977 Census of Service Industries

The 1977 Census of Service Industries, conducted during 1978 as part of the economic censuses, is an enumeration of establishments primarily engaged in providing a wide variety of services for individuals, business and government establishments, and other organizations. The 1977 census is the 10th census of service industries of the United States, but, with a major expansion in scope, is the first such census not limited to "selected" industries. Advance geographic area reports containing final data on "selected" (previously covered) service industries were issued in a series of press releases covering each State, the District of Columbia, and the United States on number of establishments, receipts, payroll, and employment. More detailed data have been issued in final paperbound area reports. These final paperbound reports, including a U.S. summary, will be assembled and reissued in final clothbound volumes. Concurrent with the publication of the volumes, selected aggregate data included in final reports will be available on computer tapes.

Geographic Area Series (SC77-A-1 to -53)

Time span—1977 with comparative data from 1972.

Geographic areas covered—United States, States, standard metropolitan statistical areas, and counties and cities with 500 or more service establishments.

Subject content—Summarizes final data on selected service industries (i.e.; those included in previous censuses). The first 52 reports include statistics for hotels, motels, trailering parks, and camps; personal services such as beauty and barber shops, and laundries; business services; automotive repair, services, and garages; miscellaneous repair services including electrical repair, reupholstery, and tool sharpening; amusement and recreation services including motion pictures; dental laboratories; legal services; and engineering, architectural, and surveying services. Data presented for all establishments include number of establishments, receipts, percent change in receipts 1972-1977, and number of sole proprietorships and partnerships. Also shown for establishments with payroll are data on number of establishments, receipts, percent change in receipts 1972-77, payroll for the entire year and first quarter of 1977, and number of paid employees for the week including March 19, 1977. Additional information covering the number of establishments and receipts for five major kind-of-business groups are provided for all counties and for cities with 2,500 or more inhabitants.

The last report, No. 53, describes services which were covered by the census for the first time in 1977 and services which are tax-exempt. Among these are health services, social services, and membership organizations. Data shown for these establishments parallel those described for reports 1-52 with exceptions that there are no tabulations showing comparative data for 1972 and no tabulations presenting tabulations for counties and cities.

Other Economic Census Programs

Nearly all of the 1977 Economic Censuses have counterparts for three of the outlying areas of the United States: Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and Guam. The economic censuses of Puerto Rico are the most detailed of the three. Each of the three outlying areas include coverage of retail trade, wholesale trade, selected service industries, manufactures, and construction industries, but do not include coverage of mineral industries.

The Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises is conducted every 5 years as part of the economic census program to determine the extent of business ownership by specific minority groups. Initiated in 1969, the survey became a part of the economic censuses in 1972. It provides data on businesses owned by Black Americans, persons of Spanish origin, Asian Americans, American Indians, and other minorities.

The Survey of Women-Owned Businesses is conducted every 5 years to obtain basic economic data on businesses owned by women. The data were compiled from administrative record information obtained from the 1977 Economic Censuses. The published data cover number of firms, gross receipts, number of paid employees, and annual payroll.

The Selected Characteristics of Women-Owned Businesses publishes data which are collected through a sample survey and are matched to administrative record information originally obtained from the 1977 Economic Censuses and previously published in the Survey of Women-Owned Businesses. Data include demographic and financial characteristics of women-owned businesses and their owners and are intended to expand upon those published in the Survey of Women-Owned Businesses.

The Enterprise Statistics program has been a part of each of the Census Bureau's regular economic census programs since 1954. The 1977 Enterprise Statistics is a series of two publications based on data collected in the 1977 Economic Censuses. Both reports provide detailed information on sales and receipts, employment, annual payroll, end-of-year inventories, capital expenditures, and other financial statistics. The General Report on Industrial Organization provides comprehensive data on the industrial organization, employment and sales size, industry specialization, and other economic characteristics of all census reporting companies and the establishments they own or control. The Central Administrative Offices and Auxiliaries report presents data on separately reported central administrative offices and auxiliary units of multi-establishment firms covered in the 1977 Economic Censuses. The functions of these special establishments are to manage, administer, service, or support the activities of the other establishments of the same company.

CURRENT BUSINESS DATA

Current business data are derived from either sample surveys and/or administrative records. The County Business Patterns series contains data on the number of employees for the mid-March pay period and payroll statistics by county and by industry. The data cover most of the economic divisions of the economy: agricultural services, mining, construction, manufacturing, transportation, public utilities, wholesale and retail trades, finances, insurance and real estate, and services. A series of current reports, based on sample surveys of retail, wholesale, and service industry trades include estimates of sales, inventories, and other economic measures for selected kind-of-business categories and geographic areas.

They are issued monthly, quarterly, seasonally, and annually.

An advance monthly retail trade report provides summary estimates of retail sales about 11 days after the end of the reference month. A more detailed report is issued monthly showing national and geographic area estimates, by kind of business, of the dollar volume of retail sales, as well as trends in selected metropolitan areas, and estimates of inventory held by retail distributors. Monthly reports are also issued that provide (1) dollar volume estimates of merchant wholesalers' sales, inventories, and stock-sales ratios by kind of business at the national level with sales and inventory trends by geographic division, and (2) estimated monthly receipts of establishments for selected services, by major kind-of-business groups. Annual retail trade and wholesale reports are also issued.

Other current business reports include the seasonal Canned Food: Stocks, Pack, Shipments Report and the quarterly report on Green Coffee Inventories, Imports, and Roastings.

County Business Patterns: 1979 (CBP-79)

and four-digit levels of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC). This annual series includes a separate report for each State, the District of Columbia, and a U.S. summary. The economic divisions of the economy covered are agricultural services, forestry, and fisheries; mining; contract construction; manufacturing; transportation and other public utilities; wholesale trade; retail trade; finance, insurance, and real estate; and services.

The individual State reports present State and county-level data on number of establishments, employees, and payroll data by employment-size class. Also included, by major industry group, are data on the number of establishments with 1,000 or more employees, by employment-size class.

The data in this report represent types of employment that are covered by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. Excluded from the basic tabulations of this report are the following types of employment which are covered in whole or in part by the Social Security Program: government employees, self-employed persons, farm workers, and domestic service workers. Also, railroad employment subject to the Railroad Retirement Act and employment on oceanborne vessels or in foreign countries are not included.

The U.S. summary includes data by detailed industry (four-digit SIC) level for the United States and by major group (two-digit SIC) for each State. For the United States, number of establishments, employment, and payroll data are also shown by employment-size class. Also included, by major industry group, are data on the number of establishments, employees, and payroll of administrative and auxiliary establishments.

Census of Housing	29
Current Housing Surveys	29

The reports and data products listed in this section provide information relating to construction activity that is obtained from current surveys and quinquennial construction industry censuses, as well as statistical data concerning the characteristics and distribution of the Nation's housing inventory that are collected from current housing surveys and decennial censuses.

CENSUS OF CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRIES

The first U.S. census of the construction industry was taken in 1930 (covering the year 1929) in conjunction with the Fifteenth Decennial Census and as part of the census of business. Census data for the construction industry were again collected for 1935 and 1939 and published as a part of the 1935 and 1939 Census of Business reports. Following World War II, the censuses of business were reinstated, but coverage of the construction industry was not included. Data for the construction industry were again collected for 1967, 1972, and 1977 as part of the Economic Censuses for those years.

In 1967, a census of the construction industry of Puerto Rico was conducted in conjunction with the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the 1967 Census of Business. For 1972 and 1977, a census of the construction industry of Puerto Rico was conducted as part of the 1972 and 1977 Economic Censuses.

The 1977 Census of Construction Industries, conducted by the Bureau of the Census in 1978 as part of the 1977 Economic Censuses, is an enumeration of construction establishments in the United States operating as general contractors and operative builders, special trade contractors, or land subdividers and developers.

There are approximately 480,000 construction firms in the United States with paid employees. For most industries, the census includes all large and medium size construction establishments (15 employees or more) and a probability sample of small construction establishments (1 to 14 employees).

The results of the census of construction industries are being presented in a series of reports on each of 27 industries. Preliminary series reports show data on number of construction establishments; receipts; employment; payrolls; payments for employee fringe benefits; payments to subcontractors; payments for materials, components, supplies and fuels; payments for the rental of structures, machinery and equipment; value added; capital expenditures during the year; and depreciable assets. More detailed data are shown on construction receipts relating to type of construction (single-family houses, industrial buildings, streets and roads, etc.).

Preliminary industry reports presenting data for establishments with payrolls have been published and were superseded and supplemented by final industry reports. Final area reports presenting data similar to the industry report series were published for each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, and selected standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's).

All final reports will be assembled and reissued in a clothbound volume. This volume may contain additional explanatory materials and graphics not previously published.

Publication order forms for reports resulting from the 1977 Census of Construction may be obtained from any U.S. Department of Commerce district office (see appendix B of this catalog) or from Customer Services (Publications). In addition, a publication entitled Construction Statistics Data Finder lists all types of statistics published in the quinquennial census. Single copies of the Data Finder are available upon request by writing to: Data Finder, Construction Statistics Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Geographic Area Series (Final Reports, CC77-A-1 to -10)

Time span—1977 with comparative data for earlier years.

Geographic areas covered—United States, regions, selected standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's), and States.

Subject content—Provides statistics for States grouped according to the nine census geographic divisions. Much of the geographic area series data are the same as presented in the industry series, except here they are organized by State rather than by industry. Selected data are given for establishments classified by their employment size and receipt size. Data for establishments with no payroll as well as comparative data from the last two previous censuses are also shown on a limited basis.

The U.S. summary report contains summary data for establishments with or without payroll, as presented in the nine individual geographic division reports. Selected data for establishments with payroll are included in the U.S. Summary for SMSA's with 500,000 inhabitants or more.

Statistical data of United States exports and imports are collected from Shippers' Export Declarations and import entries. These forms are filed with customs officials by exporters and importers and transmitted to the Bureau of the Census. Data include information on the dollar value and net quantity (pounds, gallons, square yards, etc.) of U.S. exports and imports of commodities by all methods of transportation combined as well as value of shipments made by vessel and by air.

Separate statistics are presented on trade with Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions as well as on trade of the Virgin Islands with foreign countries.

Beginning with the January 1940 statistics, data are available on exports (excluding military shipments) and general imports adjusted for working day and seasonal variations.

The export statistics are compiled in accordance with the classifications in Schedule B, Statistical Classifications of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States. Import data are initially compiled in terms of Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated. These data are presented in monthly published reports in terms of commodity classifications contained in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported Into the United States. Introductory sections of the appropriate reports contain further explanations.

Monthly data in different arrangements and in greater detail than the statistics appearing in the published reports as well as annual tabulations also are available. These data may be obtained by purchasing the transcribed data on computer tape, by purchasing microfiche copies of the reports, or purchasing excerpts of the tabulations. Selected materials may also be referenced at Department of Commerce district offices. A list of these offices and subscription information are both provided in the appendixes.

In addition to developing specific sets of data on computer tape for a variety of standard uses, the Bureau, on request, will make special tabulations for users.

Microfiche of foreign trade statistical reports are available at 42x reduction. The last frame on the microfiche is an index frame corresponding to the data presented.

Tabulations provided on computer tape, both monthly and annually, are listed under their appropriate subjects, as are the publications. Subject matter headings present the products as summaries, exports, and imports. Trade (U.S.) with Puerto Rico and other U.S. possessions is listed separately, as are classifications and regulations. Waterborne and airborne statistics are provided under the shipping heading.

Detailed information concerning the foreign trade program is presented in Guide to Foreign Trade Statistics described below.

Further information regarding foreign trade data is available from the Chief,

Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

U.S. Commodity Exports and Imports as Related to Output, 1976 and 1975 (ES2-16)

Time span—1958 to 1976.

Geographic areas covered—United States.

Subject content—Presents data on quantity and value of exports, imports, and value of import duty at the most detailed commodity classification level comparable to output. Commodities are regrouped in terms of commodity classification based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) which facilitates comparison of U.S. imports and exports with a quantity of data on the domestic economy—employment, payrolls, inventories, production, shipments, orders, capital assets, and size and location of producing units. Commodities from agriculture, forestry, fisheries, mining, and manufacturing are covered.

Included is a 7-year historical series relating exports to domestic output and imports to new supply for four- and five-digit SIC-based commodity groups. Exports, imports, and calculated import duty are also provided for two-digit SIC-based commodity groups.

Foreign trade data by SIC commodity groups are derived by computer conversion of individual export (Schedule B) and import (TSUSA) statistical commodity classifications.

Also provided is a description of the nature of the different trade and domestic output commodity classification and the limitations of comparing export, import, and domestic output data.

This edition differs from earlier editions as follows:

1. Separate editions have been skipped for the years 1973 to 1975. Data for these years are, however, included at the four-digit and five-digit levels.

2. Comparisons for manufactured commodities are shown only at the four-digit and five-digit levels. Comparisons at the seven-digit level are now being included on a timely basis in the Current Industrial Reports.

3. The valuation basis for imports has been changed effective with 1974 data. This report is the 16th in a series designed to correlate U.S. domestic output and foreign trade.

EXPORTS

Shippers' declarations are submitted by exporters or their agents to the exporting carrier and by the carrier, in turn, to U.S. Customs Service Officers at U.S. ports. (In the case of mail shipments, the declarations are presented to the postmasters.) Customs Officers at each port transmit the documents to the Bureau of the Census on a flow basis. In addition to processing these forms, the Bureau compiles statistics directly from monthly summary export declarations or computer tapes submitted by qualified exporters.

Geography

The Census Bureau develops and implements many geographic activities which are necessary to support the Bureau's programs. These activities include acquisition and preparation of enumeration and publication maps, surveys of political boundary changes, determination of statistical boundaries, development and maintenance of automated geographic reference files, and development of accompanying computer geoprocessing and geocoding systems for assigning data collected in censuses and surveys to the proper geographic areas.

The Bureau is an intensive user of maps produced by others. However, these maps are usually updated and modified to meet the needs of a particular survey or census. In order to keep abreast of the constantly changing boundaries of legal geographic entities (cities, townships, counties, etc.), the Bureau carries out intercensal surveys with the participation of Federal, State, and local agencies. In addition, statistical geographic areas for which data also are tabulated (e.g., urbanized areas, census tracts, enumeration districts, blocks,) are defined for each census, most with input from interested governmental entities and committees representing the needs of local data users.

Fundamental to any geographic processing program is the creation and maintenance of geographic reference files which provide the basis for allocating collected data to their proper geographic areas. The Bureau has developed a number of reference files with varying hierarchical geographic structures, which, in conjunction with sophisticated computer processing techniques, assist in tabulating the data.

These on-going activities have resulted in several tools and products helpful to the data user as well as to the Census Bureau. Descriptions of those items which became available during the calendar year are listed in this section.

Boundary and Annexation Survey 1970-1979 (GE-30-4)

Time span—1970 to 1979.

Geographic areas covered—States and municipalities.

Subject content—Presents selected boundary change information for incorporated municipalities of 2,500 or more population (i.e., number and size of annexations and detachments) in tables and in summary graphs, by State. The categorization of incorporated municipalities into their respective size classes is determined by the official Bureau population estimates at the time of publication. Size class categorizations in some of the earlier publications in this series were determined on the basis of 1970 population counts or earlier intercensal estimates.

Also presented are tables listing new municipal incorporations, disincorporations, mergers, and other selected actions regardless of population size, and tables ranking municipalities by both land area and increase in land area during the period covered.

Small-Area Statistics Papers: An Evaluation of Small-Area Data Forecasting Models and 1980 Census—Small-Area Statistics Program (GE-41, No.6)

Subject content—Consists of papers presented in Washington, D.C., on August 14, 1979, to the Committee on Small-Area Statistics during two sessions of the joint annual meeting of the American Statistical Association, the Biometric Society, and the Institute of Mathematical Statistics.

At the first session, An Evaluation of Small-Area Data Forecasting Models, the following papers were presented: A Model of Construction Activity in Subnational Areas, Developing and Managing a Small-Area Forecasting Model—READ, and Basic-Nonbasic Allocation Error and Least Squares Bias in Regional Exports Base Models. The second session dealt with the 1980 Census Small-Area Statistics Program. The following papers were presented at this session: 1980 Small-Area Statistics Program, The Census Bureau's Marketing Program: Helping Users Access and Use Census Products, Comments: Small-Area Data From the 1980 Census, and An Evaluation of the Census Bureau Marketing Program From a Private Sector Point of View.

●Geographic Base File/Dual Independent Map Encoding (GBF/DIME), 1980

Geographic areas covered—Built-up cores of 278 standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's).

Subject content—Contains the numeric codes for the State, county, minor civil division/census county division, place, census tract, block, and ZIP code as they pertain to the address ranges along street segments within the core areas. The files are organized by SMSA. The files also include records for nonstreet map features such as railroads, streams, and political boundaries. Numbered node points identify the intersections of streets and other features and provide the framework for address range referencing. Latitude, longitude, and State plane coordinates are assigned to each node on digitized GBF/DIME Files. Undigitized versions have been released for all covered SMSA's. Digitized files are becoming available on a flow basis.

Related Publications—The Census Bureau's GBF/DIME System: A Tool for Urban Management and Planning. (See General and Reference Materials Chapter)

Related Maps—Map sheets, known as CUE maps, also are available to accompany these files. They may be ordered from Customer Services (Maps) using the order form in the back of the catalog. Map sheets are available at $2.60 per sheet for a paper copy, $5.50 per sheet for mylar reproducibles, and $25 per sheet for cronaflex reproducibles. More current maps will be available when the Metropolitan Map Series is released for individual SMSA's in late 1981 and early 1982. Files and technical documentation may be ordered from Customer Services (Tapes) using the order form in the back of the catalog. When ordering, please refer to file number Cu GEO XX 015 followed by the name of the SMSA. With the exception of the Los Angeles-Long Beach SMSA, individual files can be obtained on a single reel of tape.

Government data collected by the Census Bureau include statistical information resulting from both current surveys and censuses. This section contains descriptions of reports and computer files on government finances and public employment for Federal, State, and local governments, including revenue, expenditures, indebtedness, and cash and security holdings.

CENSUS OF GOVERNMENTS

During the period 1850 to 1942, the census of governments was taken at approximately 10-year intervals. The governments census for the year 1957 was the first taken after 1942. Beginning with data for 1957, the periodic census of governments is now taken at 5-year intervals (for years ending in 2 and 7).

Data from the 1977 Census of Governments have been issued. The several series of publications and computer files from this census supply data concerning governments in the United States, such as value of taxable property, number of public employees, payrolls, revenue, expenditures, debts, and financial assets.

Please refer to the 1978 and 1979 issues of this catalog for descriptions of previously issued reports from the 1977 Census of Governments.

Local Government In Metropolitan Areas (Vol. 5)

Time Span—1976 to 1977.

Geographic areas covered—United States, States, standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's), counties, municipalities, townships, school districts, and special districts.

Subject content—Provides data for SMSA's in three major subject fields: number of local governments by type and size, local government employment, and local government finances. This presentation applies to the 272 SMSA's in the United States proper—excluding Puerto Rico, for which four SMSA's have been defined—as such areas were defined in October 1975. A number of new SMSA's have been recognized since the 1972 Census of Governments, and territorial changes have also occurred to some areas then designated.

Detailed tables furnish statistics on number of local governments and public school systems (by type and size), employment and payrolls of local governments, local government finances, and type of government detail on local public employment and finances for individual SMSA counties. The report also contains nationwide totals, statistics for population size groups of SMSA's, data for the SMSA portion for each State, and data for individual metropolitan areas and their component counties.

In addition, a graphic summary depicting SMSA's as defined in 1975 and three appendixes providing information on definitions of selected terms and summary finance and payroll data for major governments serving populations in two or more county areas are included.

Manufacturing and Mineral Industries

Contents	Page
1977 Census of Manufactures	55
1977 Census of Mineral Industries	64
Annual Survey of Manufactures	65
Current Industrial Reports	65

Data on the Nation's manufacturing and mineral industries are collected at 5-year intervals from the Bureau's censuses of manufactures and industries. Current data stem from the Bureau's annual survey of manufactures. No annual survey of mineral industries is taken.

The census of manufactures, first taken for 1809, provides detailed data on manufacturing activities for small geographic areas, individual industries, products shipped, and materials consumed. This census was taken decennially for 1809-1899 except for the year 1829 for which no canvass was made, quinquennially for 1899 to 1919, and biennially thereafter through 1939.

After disruption of this schedule by data collection vital to World War II activities, the manufactures census was conducted for the years 1947, 1954, 1958, 1963, and 1967. Under legislation enacted in 1964, the census of manufactures is now taken at 5-year intervals covering the years ending in 2 and 7.

Also now taken at that same interval is the census of mineral industries, first taken in 1839 and conducted at about 10-year intervals during the next century. Thereafter, it was taken for the years covering 1954, 1958, 1963, and 1967.

The Annual Survey of Manufactures was conducted for each year 1949 to 1953, 1955 to 1957, 1959 to 1962, 1964 to 1966, 1968 to 1971, and 1973 to 1976. These surveys, based on a scientific sample of manufacturing establishments, provide annual statistics for intercensal years on employment, payrolls, work hours, value added by manufacture, inventories, new capital expenditures, and value of products shipped—data which are shown in more detail in the census of manufactures reports.

Commodity survey data are issued in the Current Industrial Reports series. This series of reports makes current figures available to manufacturers, trade groups, and other users of industrial data for use in both day-to-day operations and industrial planning. These current reports also present a picture of industrial production trends over a period of time.

This chapter first describes products from both manufacturing and mineral industries censuses; products from the Annual Survey of Manufactures are presented next, followed by commodity data published through the Current Industrial Reports series. Microfiche and computer tapes are described under the headings reflecting their appropriate sources of data.

One computer tape extending the contents of one of the publications is available. It (M3-1.9) contains data on manufacturers' shipments, inventories, and orders for 1967 to 1979 in addition to historical data for 1958 to 1966 not included in the publication.

The publications are grouped by location as in the geographic area series or by subject as in the industry series.

1977 CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES

The 1977 Census of Manufactures conducted during 1978 as part of the economic censuses is an enumeration of establishments engaged in manufacturing activities in the United States. The results of this census of manufactures have been presented as a series of reports on industries, geographic areas, and subject (capital expenditures, type of organization, etc.).

Statistics include: number of establishments, employment, payrolls, work hours, cost of materials, capital expenditures, inventories, and quantity and value of both materials consumed and products shipped.

Preliminary industry, subject, and area reports furnishing summary results are superseded by more detailed paperbound reports. These paperbound reports are incorporated and reissued in final clothbound volumes. Concurrent with the publication of the volumes, selected aggregate data included in the final reports will become available on computer tapes.

Geographic Area Series (MC77-A-1 to -51)

Time span—1972 and 1977.

Geographic areas covered—United States, standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's), States, counties, and cities.

Subject content—Presents data for industries and industry groups on value of shipments, value added by manufacturing, employment, payrolls, hours worked, new capital expenditures, and number of manufacturing establishments. Comparative statistics for earlier years are provided. Similar data for all manufacturing industries are also shown for SMSA's, counties, and cities with significant manufacturing activity. For SMSA's and larger counties and cities, data are shown by industry group. Detailed statistics — including inventories, assets, rents, and cost of materials and energy — are presented in a Statewide total only.

1977 CENSUS OF MINERAL INDUSTRIES

The 1977 Census of Mineral Industries, conducted during 1978 as part of the economic censuses, is an enumeration of establishments primarily engaged in the extraction of minerals in the United States.

The results of this census have been presented in a series of reports on industries, geographic areas, and subjects (fuels and electric energy, type of organization, etc.). Statistics include: number of establishments, employment, payroll, hours worked, cost of materials, value added, capital expenditures, and both quantity and value of materials consumed and products shipped.

As in other economic census publications, preliminary reports furnishing summary results are issued and superseded by more detailed paperbound final reports which are then assembled and reissued in a final clothbound volume.

ANNUAL SURVEY OF MANUFACTURES

The Annual Survey of Manufactures was initiated in 1949 and has been conducted since that time for years not covered by the census of manufactures. It provides up-to-date basic statistics on the key measures of manufacturing activity for industry groups and individual industries and for geographic divisions, States, large standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) and large industrial counties and cities.

The survey currently covers approximately 70,000 manufacturing establishments selected from a total of about 312,000. Included in the sample are all large manufacturing plants which account for more than two-thirds of the total employment of all manufacturing establishments in the United States, and a sample of the more numerous medium- and small-sized establishments.

This annual survey program is designed to provide estimates of general statistics such as employment, payroll, workhours, and value added by manufacture for industry group and industries; general statistics for geographic divisions, States, SMSA's, and cities cross-classified by major industry group and large industrial counties; value of shipments for classes of products; expenditures for new plant and equipment for industries, industry groups, States, and large SMSA's; value of manufacturer's inventories for industry groups and industries; fuels and electric energy data, by industry group and State; and gross book value of fixed assets and rental payments as well as labor cost. The 1960 Annual Survey of Manufactures was the first to provide general statistics for large industrial counties; the 1956 Survey was the first to provide these data for SMSA's; and the 1969 survey was the first to provide data for selected cities.

All data from the 1976 Annual Survey of Manufactures have been released. No data from the 1978 Annual Survey were released in 1980.

CURRENT INDUSTRIAL REPORTS

The Current Industrial Reports of the Bureau of the Census present timely data on the production, inventories, and orders for 5,000 products, which represent 40 percent of all U.S. manufacturing.

More than 100 report series cover the entire range of industrial activity. Data are shown for industries in the following categories based on the major two-digit groupings of the Standard Industrial Classification Code:

Apparel and leather

Chemicals, rubber, and plastic

Intermediate metal products

Lumber, furniture, and paper products

Machinery and equipment

Primary metals

Processed foods

Stone, clay, and glass products

Textile mill products

The various publication series include monthly, quarterly, biennial, and annual reports. Monthly and quarterly series may include annual summaries. The publication of data varies with individual industries.

The system of numbering commodity surveys in the Current Industrial Reports (CIR) series is designed to relate them closely to the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes followed in the censuses of manufactures. With a few exceptions, the numbering system used on the published reports consists of (1) the letter M, which has been used from the beginning of the series to designate "manufactures" (the addition of the letter A, as in MA-20F, designates "annual"; the addition of the letter Q, as in MQ-32A, designates "quarterly" (the absence of the letter "A" or "Q" indicates that the report is issued monthly); (2) two digits that identify the SIC major group to which the commodities included in the CIR survey are principally related; and (3) an alphabetic designation to identify uniquely each of the CIR surveys within the two digit group.

Reports in this listing are arranged by digits representing the industry group without regard to how these digits are preceded. Most publications in the CIR series issued jointly by the Bureau of the Census and the Bureau of Industrial Economics of the U.S. Department of Commerce are excluded from this numbering system and are identified by the letters "ITA".

The number following this identification bears no relationship to the classification of the commodities covered but is strictly a survey identification number. In the case of CIR's issued jointly with the Bureau of Industrial Economics, but not identified in the series, the joint publication arrangement is noted in the description of the report. Other exceptions are the general-purpose reports, M3-1, M4-A, MA-161, MA-175, which are not related to any one SIC major group.

Annual summary reports including totals for the year are available for all series of monthly and quarterly reports. For some commodities, reports issued on an annual basis also are available.

Subject content—Presents summary statistics on all manufacturing companies. Information was obtained from some 5,000 reporting units, including virtually all manufacturing companies with 1,000 or more employees. In addition, selected smaller companies were included to strengthen coverage of individual industry categories.

Data are available for most two-digit Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes on value of shipments, new orders, unfilled orders, total inventories, and separate inventories for materials and supplies, work in process, and finished goods. Ratios are shown for inventories to shipments and for unfilled orders to shipments. In addition, data are provided on shipments, new orders, unfilled orders, and total inventories for selected combinations of four-digit SIC codes.

The file may be ordered from Customer Services (Tapes) using the order form at the back of the Catalog. When ordering, please refer to title and number M3-1.9 (1,1).

Population statistics are processed from data collected in censuses and surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census. These data, presented in the reports and data products described in this chapter, relate to the number and characteristics of the population and provide the basis for population estimates, projections, and special studies.

1980 CENSUS

A census of population has been taken every 10 years since 1790, the 20th census was conducted as of April 1, 1980. During 1980, the preliminary population and housing counts reports (Series PHC80-P) were issued. The advance series (PHC80-V), which contains final population and housing unit counts data prior to their publication in final reports, have been issued for publication. Publication order forms for these two series are available from Data User Services Division, Customer Services (Publications), Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Preliminary Population and Housing Unit Counts (PHC80-P-1 to -56)

For the remainder of the SMSA data see the appropriate State(s) report. Preliminary counts for the Northern Mariana Islands and the remainder of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands are not part of this series of reports. These counts will be made available in a separate press release issued for each area.

●Census of Population and Housing, 1980: P.L. 94-171 Population Counts—1978 Richmond Dress Rehearsal

Geographic areas covered—Counties, minor civil divisions (MCD's) or census county divisions (CCD's), places or place segments within MCD's/CCD's and remainder of MCD's/CCD's, election precincts, tracts or block numbering areas, and block groups or blocks or, for unblocked areas, enumeration districts.

Subject content—Provides population counts for total; White; Black; American Indian, Eskimo, and Aleut; Asian and Pacific Islander; and persons of Spanish origin. The Richmond Test Tape was primarily created to assist programmers in developing their software for 1980 census data retrieval. The format is identical to that used in the 1980 census P.L. 94-171 Population Counts file. Although the file is useful for studying characteristics of the Richmond area, analytical limitations exist which are discussed in the technical documentation accompanying the tape.

The file may be purchased from Customer Services (Tapes) using the order form in the back of the catalog. Please refer to file number Cu SUM 80 005 when ordering (1, 1).

●Census of Population and Housing, 1980: Summary Tape File 1— 1978 Richmond Dress Rehearsal

Geographic areas covered—File A: Counties, minor civil divisions (MCD's) or census county divisions (CCD's), places within MCD's or balance of MCD's/CCD's, tracts or block numbering areas (BNA's) or balance, block groups or enumeration districts (ED's), places, and congressional districts. File B: Standard metropolitan statistical areas, counties, MCD's (not used in test file), places within MCD's or counties, tracts or BNA's, and blocks or ED's.

Subject content—Contains complete count data on population and housing characteristics such as age, sex, race, Spanish/Hispanic origin, household relationship, family type, tenure and vacancy status, household size, plumbing facilities, number of rooms, value, and rent.

Summary Tape File 1 consists of two files. The files are identical in regard to the tables and format but differ in geographic coverage. These files were created to assist programmers in developing their capabilities for data retrieval from the 1980 census summary tapes. Although the files can be used to study the characteristics of the Richmond area, analytical limitations exist which are discussed in the technical documentation accompanying the tape.

The files may be purchased from Customer Services (Tapes) using the order form in the back of the Catalog. Please refer to the following file numbers when ordering: File A-Cu SUM 80 001a (1, 1); File B-Cu SUM 80 001b (1, 1).

●Census of Population and Housing, 1980: Master Area Reference File (MARF)—1978 Richmond Dress Rehearsal

Geographic areas covered—Richmond City, Henrico County, and Chesterfield County, Virginia.

Subject content—Designed primarily to assist programmers in developing the data retrieval capacity from the 1980 census tapes. The test tape contains the standard geographic identifiers developed for the 1980 summary tape files while presenting selected population and housing unit counts specific to the Richmond area. Data include population counts by race and Spanish origin, plus the number of families, number of persons in group quarters, number of one-person households, total number of housing units, number of occupied housing units, and number of owner-occupied housing units.

The file may be ordered from Customer Services (Tapes) using the order form in the back of the Catalog. When ordering, please refer to file number Cu SUM 80 006 (1, 1).

CURRENT POPULATION DATA

This series of reports consists of up-to-date statistics on population counts, characteristics, and other special studies on the American people. Also included are population estimates, projections of the populations, and results of special censuses of local areas taken at the request and expense of local governments.

Descriptive order forms for the various series of Current Population Reports may be obtained on request from any U.S. Department of Commerce district office or from Data User Services Division, Customer Services (Publications), Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

SURVEY DATA

The Current Population Survey (CPS) is a household sample survey of the civilian noninstitutional population of the United States. Its primary task is to produce monthly statistics on unemployment and the labor force, as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics in its monthly bulletin, Employment and Earnings.

The CPS also serves as a vehicle for supplemental inquiries on subjects other than employment periodically added to the questionnaire. From the basic and supplemental data, the Bureau of the Census issues four series of publications:

P-20 Population Characteristics

P-23 Special Studies

P-27 Farm Population

P-60 Consumer Income

Current Population Survey data files on computer tape are also prepared.

Population Characteristics (P-20)

The annual reports in this series contain data on geographic residence and mobility, fertility, school enrollment, educational attainment, marital status, households and families, and persons of Spanish origin. Biennial reports present information on voter registration and participation.

ESTIMATES, PROJECTIONS, AND SPECIAL CENSUSES

Included in the statistical programs of the Census Bureau are programs designed to update population census figures. The reports listed below contain intercensal estimates, projections of the population, and data from special censuses of local areas usually taken at the request and expense of the local governments involved.

Population Estimates and Projections (P-25)

Included in this group of reports are monthly estimates of the total U.S. population; annual midyear estimates of the population by age, sex, race, and geographic area; and projections for the United States and States. Also included are data for components of population change and population and per capita income estimates for local governments as required by the Office of Revenue Sharing.

Population and Per Capita Money Income Estimates for Local Areas: Detailed Methodology and Evaluation (P-25, No. 699)

Subject content—Presents a detailed description and evaluation of the administrative records methodology used by the Census Bureau to prepare postcensal estimates of population and per capita money income (PCI) for approximately 36,000 subcounty areas. The method is also used in conjunction with other methods to produce population estimates for counties and States, and the PCI estimating methodology is used to develop county and State totals to which the local data are controlled.

Topics discussed in the text are utilization of the estimates, population estimates methodology, evaluation of the population estimates, methodology for estimating per capita income, and evaluation of the income estimates. The methodology is outlined in detailed formulas.

SPECIAL DEMOGRAPHIC ANALYSES

This series provides insight and perspective on important demographic trends and patterns. Data are brought together from several sources and attempts are made to enhance the use of Census Bureau data by pointing out the relevance of the statistics and population developments for policy analysis and policy planning.

Special Demographic Analyses The City-Suburb Income Gap: Is it Being Narrowed by a Back-to-the-City Movement? (CDS80-1)

Time span—1975 to 1977, with some data for selected previous years.

Geographic areas covered—United States and the 20 largest standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's).

Subject content—Analyzes changes in median income of families and per capita income of all persons living in (1) central cities of SMSA's, (2) balance of SMSA's, (3) and nonmetropolitan areas for selected years. Results show a convergence of income between metropolitan and nonmetropolitan territory, but a continued widening of the city-suburb income gap since 1970, in spite of reports of the back-to-the city movement by middle-income households.

Time span—1970 to 1980.

Geographic areas covered—United States and metropolitan/nonmetropolitan areas.

Subject content—Presents a perspective on the duration and motivational basis of new population patterns emerging in the 1970's which favored non-metropolitan areas. It addresses such questions as whether or not any abatement of this trend is apparent, the extent to which nonemployment motives underlie this net migration, the number of migrants remaining within employment commuting distance to metropolitan areas, in what types of migration streams economic motives appear most prevalent, and whether or not this trend toward population decentralization can continue.

Examines possible causes of Soviet infant mortality and of its recent rise, including demographic, social, economic, environmental, and medical factors. The report analyzes the impact of changes in five demographic variables, evaluates factors which adversely affect the health of pregnant women and of infants, and assesses the effectiveness of the Soviet health system in coping with these threats to health.

A Compilation of Age-Specific Fertility Rates for Developing Countries (ISP-RD, No. 7)

Time span—1950 to 1978.

Geographic areas covered—Countries of Africa, Asia, Latin America, and Oceania.

Subject content—Presents a compilation of age-specific and total fertility rates for 126 less developed countries of Africa, Asia, Latin America, and Oceania. Sources of data include vital registration systems, surveys, and censuses. Some rates are shown directly as derived from these sources while other rates have been adjusted by various methods. Data are presented for each country in five year age classifications either chronologically by year or by source. The latter format is used primarily where particular censuses or surveys offer retrospective rates for a series of past years.

In most instances, only national data are provided. Where these data are scant or nonexistent, rates refer to rural or urban areas, selected geographic regions, or pertain to (or exclude) specific ethnic or religious groups. In addition, time periods covered vary for each country.

Annotation for each set of rates identifies the kind of data collection system from which the data were obtained, source reference, method used in estimating or adjusting the rates, and the extent of geographic or group coverage.

This report contains data intended to serve only as a starting point for further research and analyses, and not to represent the fertility level, age pattern, or fertility trends in a specific country.

Census of Transportation	97
Other Reports and Data Files	98

The transportation data described in the items listed in this section are derived from surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census. Each survey gathers information about a particular area of transportation which is not covered in the statistics collected by other Federal or private agencies.

CENSUS OF TRANSPORTATION

The first census of transportation was taken in 1963. Prior to 1963, some information on transportation was compiled and published in connection with the decennial censuses of 1880 and 1890. Reports on certain aspects of transportation were published at intervals by the Bureau of the Census during the early part of this century. Under legislation enacted in 1964, the census of transportation is now taken at 5-year intervals (for years ending in 2 and 7), coinciding with the other economic censuses of construction, manufactures, mineral industries, retail trade, selected service industries, and wholesale trade.

The 1977 Census of Transportation is the fourth census to be taken that consists of four surveys instead of a single census. These surveys are as follows: (1) the National Travel Survey, (2) the Truck Inventory and Use Survey, (3) the Commodity Transportation Survey, and (4) the Nonregulated Motor Carriers and Public Warehousing Survey. For descriptions of final data concerning the National Travel Survey and the Truck Inventory and Use data file, see the 1979 annual issue of this catalog. The 1981 issues of the Monthly Product

Announcement list products released in 1981 from the Commodity Transportation Survey and the Nonregulated Motor Carriers and Public Warehousing Survey.

Truck Inventory and Use Survey (TC77-T-1 to -52)

Time span—1977, 1972, 1967, and 1963.

Geographic areas covered—United States, States, and the District of Columbia.

Subject content—Provides statistics on the physical and operational characteristics of the Nation's truck population, other than vehicles owned by Federal, State, and local government agencies. Data are shown on the number of trucks, size, annual miles, and range of operation. These data are shown by such vehicular and operational characteristics as major use, truck type, body type, axle arrangement, base of operation, gross weight, year, model, vehicle acquisition, type of lease, operator classification, products carried, truck fleet size, miles per gallon, equipment type, fuel conservation equipment, maintenance, engine type and size, and cab type.
