Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response to any question in this Part III

- 1 Briefly describe the organization's mission:
 The mission of FIRST is to inspire young people's interest and participation in science and technology through innovative programs that build not only their science and technology capabilities and interests, but also self confidence, leadership and life skills. Gracious professionalism and cooperation are among the core values at FIRST, encouraging participants in all FIRST programs to do their best work in a manner that makes everyone feel valued.
- 2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? Yes No
 If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.
- 3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? Yes No
 If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.
- 4 Describe the exempt purpose achievements for each of the organization's three largest program services by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations and section 4947(a)(1) trusts are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 28,981,211 including grants of $ 14,325,276) (Revenue $ 5,231,051)
 The FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC) directly served approximately 51,800 high school students on 2,072 teams. Working with mentors, each team built a robot in six weeks from a kit of common parts, designing it to meet this year's game challenge, "Logo Motion." Each team participated in one or more 2 to 3-day events at 49 locations, competing for awards for game scores, safety practices, teamwork and other qualitative achievements, stressing the values of cooperation and inclusion. Award winning teams participated in the annual Championship event in St Louis, MO. The FRC Program provided students with the experience of applying science and technology to achieve a specific challenge under a time constraint. This experience developed students' technical skills, teamwork and the ability to deal with the satisfactions and disappointments of a real engineering project. Participation in FRC has inspired many students to go on to college, pursuing careers in science, technology, engineering, and math. Many FRC coaches and mentors work in these fields and help the students develop bonds within their communities and connections to the workforce development pipeline. Students in the FRC program are eligible for college scholarships through the FIRST Scholarship Program.

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 4,062,597 including grants of $ 990,498) (Revenue $ 3,230,292)
 The FIRST LEGO League (FLL) reached approximately 167,620 students aged 9-16, on 16,762 teams in 56 countries. This year's challenge, "Body Forward," addressed issues related to biomedical engineering. Teams worked on game challenges using LEGO MINDSTORMS technology, applying science and engineering to master complex missions to discover innovative ways to repair injuries, overcome genetic predispositions, and maximize the body's potential, with the intended purpose of leading happier and healthier lives. In April 2011, teams from around the world met in St Louis, MO for the FLL World Festival competition and celebration. The Junior FIRST LEGO League (JrFLL) program served approximately 12,882 students aged 6 to 9 through a web-based game challenge. Participation in FLL and JrFLL has engaged students in a comprehensive experience developing confidence in their ability to address serious biomedical issues, and enhancing their education in science and math.

4c (Code:) (Expenses $ 1,303,820 including grants of $ 708,507) (Revenue $ 327,147)
 The FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) served approximately 16,070 junior and high school students on 1,607 teams. Like the FRC program, FTC is a design and build experience using a smaller kit and simpler game challenge. In this year's game, "Get Over It!," each team built a robot and participated in a regional tournament. FTC provides an experience similar to the FRC Program, but is more readily accessible to a broader audience of educators and students, in part because of its lower cost. The FTC experience simulates the excitement as well as the pressure of a real-life engineering project, developing not only the students' technical know-how, but also leadership, cooperation, ability to plan, patience, and teamwork. Like the FRC Program, FTC enriches the participating students' ability to deal with the satisfactions and disappointments of a real engineering project. The FTC experience expands students' interest in science, technology, engineering and math, and inspires many to go on to higher education. Like the FRC participants, students in the FTC program are eligible for some of the college scholarships through the FIRST Scholarship Program.

4d Other program services. (Describe in Schedule O.)
 (Expenses $ 218,610 including grants of $ 0) (Revenue $ 73,417)

4e Total program service expenses ▶ 34,566,238

Part IV Supplemental Information. Complete this part to provide the information required in Part I, line 2, and any other additional information.

In response to Schedule I, Part 1, line 2:

FIRST makes grants to U.S. teams, tournament partners, schools, teachers, coaches, and entities hosting program events. Grants are primarily paid to educational institutions who administer disbursement of the funds. Grants ordinarily originate from donors who restrict the use of their contributions to cover teams' expenses based on varying criteria such as need, location, and underserved status. Funds granted are restricted to registration fees, team travel, event expenses, and other essentials. FIRST monitors the use of these funds by observing the events and confirming through its registration system that all teams receiving grants are participating. Grants are made on condition that the recipient provide receipts, if requested, to substantiate that the funds were used for the intended purposes.

FIRST awards one 4 year scholarship annually to students on the FIRST robotics team that wins the Chairman's Award. The scholarship recipients are selected by their peers. FIRST pays the scholarship directly to the college or university. FIRST also awards scholarships to the Allaire Medalist.

Part III Supplemental Information

Complete this part to provide the information, explanation, or descriptions required for Part I, lines 1a, 1b, 4c, 5a, 5b, 6a, 6b, 7, and 8. Also complete this part for any additional information.

In response to Schedule J, Part 1, line 7: The Compensation Committee may grant discretionary performance incentives which, if awarded, are determined after the fiscal year-end based on an individual employee's efforts and the overall FIRST financial outlook. All regular employees are eligible for incentive compensation. Before receiving an incentive award, each senior manager's base compensation is reviewed, relative to the Governance and Compensation Committee's recommended parameters. Incentive compensation was paid in calendar 2010 to members of the senior management team and in December 2010 all FIRST employees were granted holiday gifts (bonuses); these are reported on page 2, column Bii.

In reference to Schedule J, Part II, column (C): Deferred compensation is the contribution made by FIRST to the employee's 401(k) account. Column (D) Nontaxable benefits is comprised of: health, vision care, and dental insurance premiums; and, contributions to flexible spending accounts for health care. All employees listed made contributions either towards health, vision care, and dental insurance; some did so for all of these. One of the five employees made contributions to a flexible spending account.

In response to Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15: Compensation of Officers and senior managers is determined by the Governance and Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. Annual review performance evaluations, including measurement of the achievement of pre-established performance objectives, are the basis of every senior manager's base salary, including all Officers. Changes in the base compensation of any senior manager, and the compensation of any new employee hired at a base salary of $100,000 or above, require review and approval by the FIRST Governance and Compensation Committee.

In reference to Schedule J, Part II, column (B) reports compensation for calendar year 2010. For Mr. Gudonis, the amount in column (B) includes additional compensation of $22,500 and a commitment of compensation in the amount of $99,159, that was paid in fiscal year 2011 and included in Form 990, Part VII, column (F) in the previous year. This previously reported compensation, totalling $121,659, is included in Schedule J, Part II, column F, "Compensation reported in prior Form 990" for the current filing year. For Ms. Stevens, the bonus and incentive compensation shown in column (B) reflects a pro rata amount paid based on her length of service in the associated fiscal year.

In reference to Schedule M, Part I, lines 27 and 33: The kit of parts and on-line resources provided to each FRC, FLL, and FTC team included components having significant value donated by many suppliers. To the extent fair value can be determined, it is reported as revenue when pledged or received and as expense when the kits are sent to teams. In addition, FIRST received a multitude of in-kind contributions of services essential to carrying out its events and programs. Support services have also been donated including building maintenance, legal services, marketing, distribution, information technology, engineering, and administrative services. The number and value of these in-kind contributions can't be determined but were a substantial part of the resources necessary to deliver our program services during the year.

In reference to Schedule M, Part 1, line 32B: FIRST does not use third parties or related organizations to solicit, process, or sell non-cash donations except for the sale of donations of publicly traded securities. These are sold through a third party broker not related to FIRST.
