Woman and granddaughter die in crash

broadside at the intersection of Geddes and

By Diane Gale staff writer

Residents in the Geddes Road-Denton area are demanding a four-way stop at that intersection after a 76year-old woman and her 5-year-old granddaughter were killed Tuesday by a Canton ambulance that struck their

The accident was videotaped by a Westland man, an insurance investigator, who was filming the intersection because his daughter was involved in a one-car roll over accident there last Friday.

POLICE DECLINED to release the videotape or names of the Westland man and his daughter.

In Tuesday's accident, Sadie M. Grimm, 76, of Flat Rock and formerly of Belleville was driving a four-door 1982 Chevrolet on Denton Road with her granddaughter. Jennifer Scheffler, 5, of Ypsilanti Township, They were on their way to visit relatives in Canton at about 2:15 p.m., according to Michigan State Trooper Curt Fonger. Police said neither Grimm nor Scheffler were wearing seat belts. The Canton ambulance was traveling west on Geddes where there are no stop signs. Grimm was going north on Denton when she came to a full stop at a sign. Witnesses said the ambulance had its emergency lights and sirens activated.

The ambulance continued at a prudent speed and she didn't see it and pulled out in front of it," Fonger said.

"You can't say that the sun was in her eyes," Fonger aid. "I guess only she knows why she did it."

THE WOMAN who had been in an accident at the location last Friday was with her father while he videotaped the intersection. Wearing a neck brace, she said she saw the ambulance coming. "I looked back and I saw the car pulling out." She declined to give her name. Bob Campbell, who lives three houses from the intersection, said he ran outside when he heard a loud booming noise. Campbell said he was getting his truck to pull away wreckage from the victims when public safety vehicles arrived "Maybe now they'll put a four-way stop sign at the intersection," he said.

Other residents echoed his complaints about the intersection. They said there have been numerous accidents at the location. "We're going to do what we always do when we have a fatal accident and that's to look at the accident data and ask the county to review the intersection," said Canton Public Safety Director John Santo-

Accident data from 1986-1991 shows the "vast majority of accidents are caused by a failure to yield from Denton onto Geddes," Santomauro said.

Canton firefighters in the ambulance, Craig Poike and Thomas Lutkenhoff, were treated for minor injuries at area hospitals and released. The woman they were transporting was not injured by the accident and was taken by another ambulance to St. Joseph Mercy Hospi-

Unlike many school improvement plans that have come and gone over the years, those prompted by a new state law called Public Act 25 won't end up in a circular file, say school officials.

Public Act 25 is a massive school improvement plan recently passed by the state Legislature. It addresses building goals, core curriculum, student achievement, student retention, accreditation status and measurements of parental in-

'This is state law. School districts will be participating in the various aspects of the law, or they stand to lose a small portion of their state funding."

Annual reports available to the community "will let taxpayers and parents in general know how the school is progressing," Estell said.

More questions about the Federal Aviation Administration and expansion at Mettetal Airport are being raised.

A letter from an FAA official to U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, said the runway at the Canton Airport could be extended 400 feet to

"If the length is sufficient, why do they need another 400 feet?" Canton Supervisor Tom Yack asked in re-

"And why do FAA, state and Plymouth officials continue to insist there are no expansion plans when Mr. (Edward) Phillips' letter, along with any number of documents uncovered by the Plymouth Concerned Citizens, clearly suggest that expansion is being considered?

Yack and the concern oppose efforts backed by the majority of Plymouth city commissioners and Plymouth Township trustees to seek federal and state money to buy the Canton airport. Canton trustees last year voted against undertaking

YACK'S COMMENTS came nearly a week after Ann Arbor city councilman Kurt Zimmer warned Plymouth residents that once the FAA gets involved with Mettetal, it will push for expansion and aot respect the wishes of local government offi-

Michael Hornes, Plymouth-Canton assistant superintendent for instruction, said students, teachers and par ents will see evidence of Public Act 25-initiated school improvement this fall. But, he adds, improvement plans have been in place in the district since the mid-1980's. Parents have been informed of them at coffees, open houses, orientations, and other school activities.

Engler recall hits halfway mark

By Pat Murphy staff writer

The recall of Gov. John Engler: Fact or fiction?

Fact, say people like Dorothy Habicht, a single mother of two. Sunday she held open house at her home in Wayne so some people could sign the recall Engler petitions . . . and others could get informal schooling on the proper way to circulate petitions, so names won't later be invalidated

'We had 30 to 50 people," said Habicht, who attends Wayne Community College. "We'll get a lot more as this thing catches on."

The recall is fiction. At least from the point of view of Judy D. Riedlinger, who lives in Bloomfield Township and with her husband owns a small business in Novi.

"I haven't seen any sign of a recall whatsoever," said Riedlinger, who is also GOP chairman of the 18th Congressional District that includes much of Oakland County. "I haven't seen proof of any recall.

LAST WEEK organizers of the recall released figures showing they garnered 351,166 signatures. more than half the 641,141 needed to put recall of Gov. Engler on a statewide ballot.

Besides surpassing the magical half-way point, that figure reflects an emotional benchmark, according to Robert Alexander, a former Oakland County resident who now works in the Michigan Department of Social Services and coordinates the recall Engler drive.

We're gaining momentum we're going to make it," said Alexander; a 1964 graduate of Berkley High School. "We're going to get more than enough signatures to force a re-

No Michigan governor has ever been recalled. Until recently, many believed such a recall was impossible, mainly because of the large scale organization and effort required to get that many signatures.

Meanwhile, the state GOP isn't worried, according to Richard M. Czuha director of research and com-

State Republicans are going about their business as if the recall didn't exist, said Czuba. "Recent polls show Gov. Engler's approval rating up by 11 percent (with 49 percent of those responding approving of Engler's performance and 46 disapproving).

'More and more people are starting to realize that Gov. Engler is doing the right thing," said Czuba.

BUT PEOPLE like Vic Taylor of Livonia and Mary Johnston of Farmington Hills disagree.

Taylor, a Army retiree, said he is committed to the recall because the budget cuts attributed to Engler fall most heavily on the poor. "Because of those cuts, people who are dependent on general assistance are forced to chose between food and

Donald Broersma, a recall coordinator from Ypsilanti, said many affluent and middle class residents feel the same way. "We were at the Ann Arbor Art Fair over the weekend. They were lined up six deep to sign our petitions and these were not poor people."

rains Run Slow?

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind. In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same num ber of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemi cals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for peo reached by calling, (313) 494-2800.

Canton Township merit commissioners Don Voyles and Kim McBain on July 17 selected Craig R. Packard to fill the seat left vacant by the resignation of Bruce Patterson.

Packard will be the neutral seat on the commission. Voyles is appointed by the Board of Trustees and McBain is chosen by employees. The two appointed commissioners appoint a third member.

Packard is a seven-year Canton resident and is employed as division controller of Domino's Pizza Distribution Corp. in Ann Arbor. His term expires Dec. 31, 1992.

Joy Road traffic to be diverted

Construction began recently on a temporary by-pass road on the north side of Joy Road at Haggerty Road.

The temporary road will allow work to be done on and near the edge of existing Joy Road. The work is part of the construction process of the Western Township Utilities Authority pump station and equalization basin at Haggerty and Joy.

Joy.
The WTUA pump will take Canton sewage to an Ypsilanti treatment center.

The bypass road is expected to be completed in approximately one week. At that time, traffic will be routed onto the by-pass to allow the necessary work.

A down to earth program

Township picking up savings with recycling

By Diane Gale staff writer

More than 1.7 million pounds of grass and other yard clippings was diverted from landfills during the first two months of Canton's curbside recycling.

Add to that 562,250 pounds of newspaper, glass, cans and plastics that would have gone to the dump during most of May and all of June. Instead it was recycled.

IN DOLLARS and cents, that worked out to $19,674 Canton saved in landfill dumping fees even considering what it cost the township to pay a contractor for the recyclable pick-ups.

Most of the savings came from keeping compost out of the landfill, said Canton Clerk Loren Bennett, a member of the township's solid waste committee.

"Sometimes in the summertime the compost comes to 50 percent of the waste stream," said Bennett, adding that in the winter, when yard waste ceases, Canton's savings from recycling will drop dramatically.

Meanwhile, recycling promoters are asking residents to use reusable containers for yard waste, instead of paper or plastic. Stickers for containers showing trash haulers yard waste is inside are available at the township clerk's office.

RECYLCING IN Canton hasn't been totally without problems, though. When Compost Systems Inc., south of Michigan Avenue north of Morton Taylor, started accepting yard waste, Canton residents were appalled by the stench.

And even though the complaints have dwindled, CSI representatives are scheduled to appear Sept. 12 in 35th District Court for an ordinance violation issued because of earlier odor problems, according to Aaron Machnik, Canton municipal services director.

After the curbside recycling program began in early May, the recycling station at township hall closed and was relocated at Canton Waste Recycling, Van Born and Lilley roads.

We unfortunately found that many individuals from outside the community were using this drop-off site and simply "dumping unwanted items," according to a report by the recycling committee.

A ribbon cutting ceremony celebrated construction of a road leading from Canton Place senior housing to Sheldon Road. Holding the ribbon are: Barry Burton, Canton landscape architect; Judy Bocklage, Canton associate planner; David Zenisek, T&M Asphalt; Cheryl Stasak, Crimboli Landscaping; Michael Ford, T&M Asphalt; Tom Yack, Canton supervisor; Dan Wilson, T&M Asphalt; John Burdziak, Canton trustee and Gerry Martin, Canton development specialist.

New street eases way for seniors

A new street leading to Sheldon Road will makes life easier for residents living in Canton Place senior high-rise on Ford Road.

Previously the only access in and out of the complex was Ford Road.

complex was Ford Road.

"It was really hard getting onto Ford Road, especially at busy times, like rush hour," said Canton Place resident Irene Nickita.

While the bulldozers were out, two additional parking areas were added adjacent to the current lots.

"The seniors were complaining that they did not have enough parking places," said Gerry Martin, Canton research analyst.

Some Canton Place residents were so frustrated by the lack of parking, Martin said, they suggested that parking places be made available at the Kmart parking lot across the street from the complex on Ford and Sheldon roads.

In that case, residents would have to regularly cross Ford Road to return to their apartments. The township decided to build the extra parking space near the building instead.

The total cost for the access road and addi-

The total cost for the access road and additional parking was $62,590 and was paid for by a federally funded community block grant administered by Canton.

FAA plans cloud airport issue

HE DOG DAYS of summer are upon us. Mettetal Airport issue has been warming up again

In the latest in the continuing Mettetal saga, three members of an Ann Arbor airport advisory board came to town last week. Before a meeting convened by Plymouth Concerned Citizens, they told horror stories of how the Federal Aviation Administration keeps pushing to expand their

TO WRITE off his comments, to suggest the While we've come down on the side of keeping the airport around, after that meeting last week, we have to wonder.

Ann Arbor councilman was insincere, would be closed minded. We're wondering if the FAA can be trusted to follow local wishes. The man from Ann Arbor — and two of his committee members

Anyone with half an open mind had to come away from the meeting wondering if maintaining While we've come down on the side of keeping the airport - even when there's much to say for maintaining it - is really worth it.

And FAA assertions to the contrary, frankly weren't too reassuring.

Many people had to leave that meeting wondering if continued backing of the save the air port effort is best for residents.

Residents win with Shefferly

OMETIMES the people who do all the right are the ones who are lost in the shuffle. Take Canton Township Trustee Bob even when they don't agree with him.

He's out and about town - at the administration building or Compost Systems, Inc., for instance, to see for himself what's going on.

And his investigations are apparent during board meetings with his thought provoking com-

Before serving on the board, the retired Detroit News advertising man served as chairman, director and president of Carriage Hills Homeowners Association and has a long history with the Canton planning commission.

When Shefferly took office in 1988 he was a things, work hard and go the extra mile virtual newcomer to township politics. But since then, he's earned the respect of other trustees,

> He takes some good-natured ribbing from colleagues who tease him about serving on a number of committees, like the Nankin Transit Authority, without compensation so that he can report to the board on what's going on.

Shefferly is known for his long standing refusal to vote in favor of new developments that could add to the problem of flooding basements in Canton neighborhoods.

The residents are the real winners for having voted Shefferly - a hardworking, dedicated

Concern

Thomas: Do the right thing

HERE'S BEEN an extraordinary amount of talk, nationally and locally, among politicians and NAACP chapters, about the president's choice of Clarence Thomas to take Thurgood Marshall's seat on the court. Much doubt already has been cast on the candidate because of his very conservative nature and whether he is a quota appointment.

"I'm concerned" said Robert L. Willis who is associated with the South Oakland County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. "I worry about his views on abortion and affirmative action."

Willis added that he opposed "stacking the court" with liberals or conservatives. Given that Bush will not appoint a liberal like former Michigan Supreme Court Justice Dennis Archer to the court, it's important to step back and take an intelligent look at Thomas. MORE AND more opinions written by Thomas are unearthed daily: He was against busing to accomplish desegration; he let expire without recourse 13,000 complaints of age discrimination while head of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission; he has publicly praised Louis

But, Willis said, "the jury is still out on Thom-

Disagreement with his decisions is not a good enough reason to keep him off the Court. Disagreeing is a fundamental right in this country. A thorough grilling by the Senate should be encouraged to insure that any potential problems are uncovered and weighed. Beyond that, there isn't much more to be done.

THE NAACP was unsure of Thomas and delayed endorsing or denouncing him. This week i voted in opposition to him.

Their care in making an endorsement was admirable, except on one front: Some members were concerned that if they fought and defeated Thomas, Bush would nominate someone worse and the NAACP wouldn't be able to mount another successful challenge.

That's bad reasoning. If the NAACP believes Thomas is not worthy of becoming a Supreme Court justice, then it should fight the nominat on its merits. That's better than justifying inactivity because of what might, or might not, hap-

And there's really no accurate, certain way of knowing whether Thomas is a quota appointment. Bush said he was going after the best candidate and came up with Thomas. Others say the anti-affirmative action president is contradicting his own beliefs and making a quota appoint-

Speculation is worthless; so-called expert analysis is tiresome and rarely correct. Unless Bush himself cares to step forward and reveal why he chose Thomas, no one will know.

So let's look at the positive side. Inheriting Thurgood Marshall's legacy as a champion of civil rights is a weighty gift. Other Supreme Court nominees, once seated on the Court, have veered off their stated courses and voted in direct contradiction to their stated positions, often to the dismay of the presidents who nominated

Perhaps when seated Thomas will rethink his position, realize his opportunity and widen the path blazed for him by Marshall.

Assembly, petition are deeply-rooted freedoms

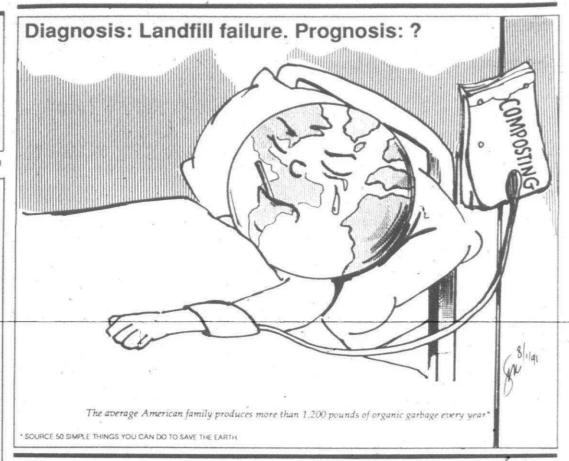

RECALL, STOP the war, no more toxic waste dumps - when Americans don't like something, they take to the streets. Protest, assembly and petition are deeply rooted freedoms. A century and a half ago, Alexis de Tocqueville, the French observer of American life, commented on the inclination of Americans to form voluntary associations to solve common problems. When the First Congress under the Constitution debated the Bill of Rights in 1789, Rep. Thedoze Sedgwick argued that the proposed assembly and petition clause was "trifling" when compared with other rights. Rep. John Page Virginia disagreed, saying that if people could be deprived "of the power of assembling under any pretext whatsoever, they might be deprived of every other privilege" in the First Amendment. These two rights have afforded protection for many reform movements, and also nurtured American labor in its long struggle to create unions and to undertake collective bargaining. This is another in a continuing series of commentaries marking the anniversary of the Bill of Rights.

Being president of a large, public university is probably the toughest job in America. Between the competing demands of students and faculty, business and politicians, pure research and crass conniving, Joe Champagne's day has precious little time for himself or his family.

Maybe he'll have more. He will leave Oakland this week to be the new president of Crittenton Hospital. Since managing large hospitals is arguably the second toughest job in America, you've got to conclude that Champagne is either a glutton for punishment or supremely self confi-

UNIVERSITIES around the nation today are under assault for being too self-absorbed, too expensive and too and a drug and alcohol abuser with a other-worldly OU will likely not be the target of

questioned

When I moved from Detroit to Plymouth in 1987, I thought that I would leave behind local politics that merged vaudeville and farce. However, the recent campaign for state representative has certainly highlighted the fact that some of the candidates who seek election in the Plymouth area can succeed, even though they have little understanding of the current issues or the matters with which they must deal.

When the Plymouth voters elected

Jerry Vorva to the City Commission was at a loss to understand why anyone would support a candidate who was in the process of suing the city. My surprise turned to increduli y when, after he was elected, he proceeded to press his claim against the city and thereafter negotiated a substantial settlement with the very body to which he had been elected the city commission. My incredulity turned to anger when I learned the terms of the settlement. It is my understanding that Mr. Vorva received a cash payment from the city of Plymouth of $150,000, plus he and nis family will receive medical insurance until he retires. This currently costs the city around $5,000

Endorsement Vorva's settlement, of course, comes directly from the taxpayers of the I hope this sets the record stra directly from the taxpayers of the city of Plymouth, a small communiy of approximately 9,500 citizens.

Hawks capture national soccer crown

staff writer

It took six years for coach Tom Covne and his Michigan Hawks '74 to reach their

With a roster of 17 players from the Observer & Eccentric coverage area, the Livonia Y Premier Soccer Club had reason to celebrate after Saturday's 4-1 conquest over Pegasus, a team from the San Diego, Calif.

The Hawks '74 are newly crowned cham-pions of the Girls Under-17 division of the U.S. Youth Soccer Association after winning two straight at Tranquility Park in Omaha,

This is an exceptional accomplishment for these girls, it's been our vision for quite some time" said Coyne, who molded the Hawks '74 in 1985. "Our theme from the start was, 'Play for one another. You can't be an island.' The team chemistry was just

A slight underdog going into the fourteam tourney, the Hawks reached the final with a 4-2 victory Thursday over Plano,

In the other semifinal matchup, favorite Willingboro, N.J. was upset by the representatives from southern California, 3-2.

Natalie Neaton, an incoming senior at Country Day School in Birmingham, was the Hawks '74 scoring leader. She had a pair of goals in the final and a hat trick in the semi-

IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP, Neaton scored

It was 2-0 Hawks '74 only four minutes later after a Pegasus defender accidentally booted the ball into her own net.

Leading 2-0 at intermission, Pegasus struck back early in the second half to slice the deficit to one (off a restart), but Neaton scored on a breakaway and teammate Patty Shea (Livonia Franklin) added another to give the Hawks '74 an insurmountable threegoal cushion.

The story was much the same in the semifinals as Neaton scored twice in the first half to give the Hawks '74 a 2-0 lead. She added a third goal in the second half and Shea ended the Texans' hopes by scoring on a corner kick from Kristen Westveer (Troy

We felt very good, we were in the right position after the first game, and we didn't care who we played, we were just excited to be in the final," Coyne said.

THE HAWKS '74 were able to overcome injuries along the way to co-captain Molly Ferguson (Birmingham Marian), left winger Amy Werthman (Plymouth Salem) and backup goalkeeper Alicia Smith (Livonia Stevenson).

Ferguson was out with a knee injury suffered the previous week in the Region II title run in Sioux Falls, S.D. Werthman, meanwhile, had a severely sprained ankle.

Despite the maladies, the defense was brilliant, led by goalie Kristi McGough (Troy Athens), who Coyne said, "had a big save in each game.

"We had a restricting team defense, they just played great," said Coyne. "They tracked back well to the ball."

Leading the way defensively along with McGough, was stopper Tracy Morrell (Stevenson), left fullback Kim Popyk (Farmington), sweeper Lisa Thomas (Stevenson) and right-fullback Westveer.

The team's unsung hero, according to Coyne, was Stevenson's Shannon Wilkinson.

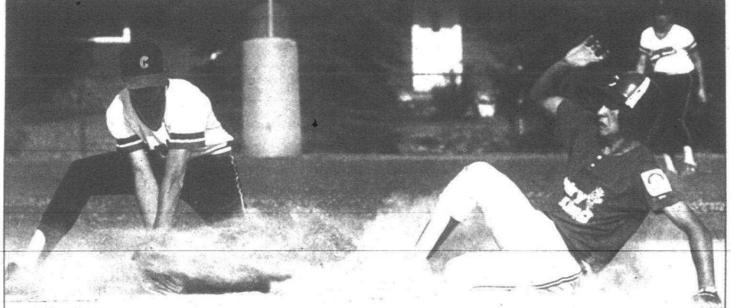

'She was asked to shadow the best player, and she shut everything off," said the Hawks '74 coach. "Shannon is always a worker, very tough. She's a very physical player who also has good skill level

Spartans topple conference champs

Upsets marked the first round of the Metro in a goal in the final tally Summer Hockey League playoffs Tuesday.

The biggest surprise was the Spartans winning a shootout with the Bakes Conference champion and league-leading Bulldogs 10-9.
The Bulldogs won the conference and had the best overall regular-season record at 9-2 The Spartans finished last in the Bakes with a 1-9-1 record

The Spartans outscored their opponent 6-3 in the final period to erase a two-goal deficit and advance to the semifinals Sunday night at the Plymouth Ice Arena.

Brett Williams scored his second goal with 2:17 left in the game to give the Spartans a 10-7 lead. The Bulldogs rallied but the effort fell short. Dave Garbriano scored at 1:44 and Dave Weaver at 0:30 to get the Bulldogs with-

E.J. SAUER of the Spartans scored both of his goals in the third period and also had two assists. Teammate Phil Berger had two goals, too, and three assists.

Duane Roe paced the Bulldogs with a pair of goals and one assist.

In the other Bakes playoff game Tuesday, the third-place Lakers nipped the secondplace Wildcats 6-5

Scott Johnson's goal for the Wildcats tied the score at 4-4 early in the third period, but Chuck Carvey and Mike Krygier of the Lakers accounted for the next two goals.

In addition to scoring a goal, Jim Mitchell had four assists for the Lakers. Krygier also had an assist. For the Wildcats, Mark Johnson

In the final regular-season game Monday, the Bulldogs trounced the Falcons 8-4, leading 6-0 after two periods. Weaver had two goals and two assists, Roe one goal and three as-

IN A TRIPLE-header Sunday, the Huskies edged the Spartans 8-7 to clinch first place in the Eagle Conference when the Wolverines lost to the Wildcats 9-7

Cory Kucharski and Mike Kneiding paced the Huskies with three goals apiece. Jesse Hubenschmidt assisted on four goals, and Kneiding added one assist.

A five-goal, one-assist performance by Phil Berger of the Spartans went for naught.

Western Michigan University player J.P. LaRoche had two goals and four assists to lead the Wildcats in their win over the Wolverines. Mark Hernandez scored three goals.

Mark Issel and Joe Burton scored two goals and had three assists each for the Wolverines.

The Broncos and the Lakers battled to a 6-6 tie. Corey Almas recorded one goal and three assists, Joe Bonnett two goals and two assists, for the winners. Pat Hultman also had a pair of scores and assists to pace the Lakers.

In Eagle Conference playoff games Wednesday, the Huskies played the Falcons and the Wolverines faced the Broncos. The MSHL championship game will be played at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Plymouth.

The final standings: BAKES - 1. Bulldogs, 9-2; 2. Wildcats, 6-4-1; 3. Lakers, 5-5-1.

A group of Detroit Red Wing players got together for a softball game with a purpose Sunday at the Canton Softball Center.

Rick Zombo and Kevin Miller joined past and present Red Wing players in a charitable cause to benefit 14-year-old Raymond Reffitt of Canton

Reffitt recently underwent a bone marrow transplant at Detroit's Harper-Grace Hospital, and the money raised at the softball game will help to defray the cost of his

Reffitt's stepfather, Brian Wade, said Raymond wanted to attend the game, but his doctor wouldn't allow

"They said he shouldn't be around a large group of people," Wade said. "He's at the hospital now but is well aware of what's going on here.

"I THINK it's just great how these players and fans have taken the day to come out here and help Raymond. It's really something."

Jim Reed, organizer of the event, said 2,000 fans helped raise more than $5,100.

"I would have to say things were quite successful out here today," Reed said. "It's a great cause and it was nice to see a lot of support from

IN NAMING Bazylewicz as head coach of the East, the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association picked a guy with a coaching resume longer and more impressive than most of his colleagues.

Bazylewicz's coaching career began at Detroit St. Thomas in the 1950s and a decade later he won two Catholic League championships as coach of Harper Woods Notre Dame. Bazylewicz went on to become the Catholic League Director for 20 years before taking on his latest challenge in 1989 as the Borgess

Bazylewicz, who guided his teams in the '60s to two Soup Bowl titles and a pair of Goodfellow wins, will count this week of preparation and Saturday's game among his best

"This is quite an honor," said Bazylewicz, who last fall guided an unheralded Borgess team to a 6-3 record and a berth in the Prep Bowl at the Silverdome against Birming-ham Brother Rice. "I appreciate it, especially in my twilight years. There's a lot of talent here. We'll probably draw 10,000 fans, but we should draw 50,000.

Dairy King bid falls shy

lenged eventual district champ Flint Grassi before being eliminated from the American Amateur Baseball Congress-Mickey Mantle tournament at Plymouth Sa-

Dairy King opened with a 10-4 victory over K-Mart of Troy on Thursday. After losing 5-4 in eight innings to to Grassi Friday, Dairy King was knocked out by the host Westland Federation won a mercy-rule contest from Grassi, but Grassi defeated Salem 11-3 and came back to beat Westland 7-6 in the championship game Sunday. "They were bigger, faster and stronger than our kids," said Dairy King coach Mark LaPointe of the Grassi ballclub, "but (the underdog Canton players) just battled. They had us outmanned physically, but we came within a whisker of beating them." Brad Paskievitch pitched six innings, allowing four runs but only three hits and no walks, to win the first game. Matt Horn entered with the bases loaded and nobody out in the seventh after K-Mart had scored three runs and ended the threat

MARK SCHANKOWSKI had three hits and four RBI, Matt Paupore two hits and one RBI and Chris Johnson two RBI with a sacrifice fly and a single. Dean Rovinelli added a two-run double and Jason Kovach an RBI

Flint Grassi scored a run in the bottom of the eighth inning to defeat Dairy King. Archie Scholl's two-out line drive to right-center field scored Mike Mueller, who began the inning with a double and was sacrificed to third. Dairy King had tied the score 4-4 with two runs in the seventh. Paskievitch hit a two-run double that scored Kovach and Rvan Ostach The team left a pair of runners stranded in scoring position in the seventh and Dairy King narrowed the gap to 4-2 with RBI singles by Schankowski in the third and fifth innings. Scholl pitched the last inning to get the victory. Dave Malenfant pitched six innings and Dan Wells one for Grassi. Chris Vance (solo homer), Mueller, Steve Taylor and Steve Malenkh had two hits apiece for the winners. Horn worked the last two innings and suffered the loss. He gave up one run and two hits, Craig Benedict four runs on nine hits over six innings.

DAIRY KING scored first against Salem when Paskievitch was awarded home plate in the first inning as a result of a catcher interference call. But the Rocks roared back with four runs in the third inning and two in the fourth and fifth. Al Hysko keyed the third-inning rally with a two-run double, and Brian Danek hit a two-run homer in the fourth. Eric Kida went the distance on the mound for Salem.

holding Dairy King to five hits and one walk. He struck out five. Danek, Jim Cunningham and Jeff Hopson had two hits each. Cunningham made a key defensive play in the first inning. With one out and the bases loaded for Dairy King, he made a diving catch at shortstop on a ball that appeared headed for left field and doubled off the runner at second. Horn started, pitched three innings and got the loss. Brett Romack worked 11/4 innings, Paupore 21/4. Adam Gilles was the only player with two or more hits for Dairy King, which finished the season with a 36-16

"We had a great season," LaPointe said. "We accomplished two significant things: we had a winning season and we qualified for the tournament. If anything, this will be an excellent down payment for these kids next season (on the Canton varsity team).

Caesars, Delwal prevail late

A couple of late-inning rallies made for an exciting, almost exhausting, opening night of action in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League playoffs Wednesday at Ford

The night finally ended at 12:53 a.m. after second-seeded Livonia Little Caesars scored five runs in the top of the ninth to beat Fieger & Fieger, 8-6. In the opener, which started at 5:30, No. 4 seed Delwal scored six runs in the seventh inning to erase a 7-1 deficit and eventually upset No. 1 Walter's Appliance, 10-9, in 10 innings.

Caesars trailed, 5-3, entering the ninth, but loaded the bases on a pair of walks to Andy Weighill and Don Sikora and a single by Earl Johnson. A wild pitch by Fieger reliever David Wood scored Weighill from third and Jeff Bates, who finished as the LCBL's top hitter with a .459 average, responded with a two-run single

After Rich Roy walked, Mike Giacomantonio smashed a two-run double to score Bates and Roy for an 8-5 lead. Despite going hitless in his previous four at-bats, Bates said he wanted an opportunity to hit in the

Delwal tonight at 8 p.m. at Ford

Field Walter's will play Fieger & Fieger in tonight's first game, begin-John Moraitis, the win meant satisfaction after watching his team drop out of first place with six straight losses to end the regular season.

"I feel better than I did four innings ago," Moraitis said. "We got heat how many times in the seventh inning, and this time we finally got our breaks and won in the ninth. Relief pitching was great and Jeff and Mike got the clutch hits."

Lou McKaig (Madonna University), who pitched 31/2 innings in relief of starter Eric Stanczak, earned the win. McKaig had to leave the game in the bottom of the ninth after a single up the middle by Fieger's Aaron Mach hit the right-handed pitcher in the left ankle and loaded the bases with one out. Bill Bannon (Livonia and Dearborn Divine Child), out the last two weeks with an ulcer, came on and got two of the three batters he faced to end the threat.

"Billy was gassing it; he was throwing absolute cheese," Caesars assistant coach Ken Wandzel said.

Fieger scored an unearned run in the first and raised the lead to 4-0 in the fourth on an RBI triple by Kevin Adams and T.C. Raptis' first home run of the year. Flohr's RBI double scoring Aaron Mach gave Fieger a 5-0 lead after five before Caesars scored its first run on a walk to Jeff Miller and a triple by Roy in the Walter's was cruising along with a 7-1 lead in the opener before Delwal tied the score in the bottom of the seventh mostly on Walter's generosity. Walter's starter Mike Coleman allowed only four hits and one run through six innings, but allowed the first three Delwal batters to reach base in the seventh with no outs. Three Walter's pitchers combined to walk six batters and hit a batter in the seventh, and Jason Valente and Eric Sumpter also delivered clutch hits to tie the score at 7-7. Walter's Craig Overaitis broke the tie in the eighth with a home run and Paul Pirronello tripled home Joe Sturtz from second base to give Walter's a 9-7 lead after 71/2 innings.

Classic cartoons 'Bugs Bunny on Broadway' comes to Meadow Brook

Wabbit fans of all ages are hopping to see "Bugs Bunny on Broad way," a collection of Warner Brothers cartoons projected on a giant screen, accompanied by the 50-piece Warner Brothers Orchesta.

The show is making just one stop in Michigan, 8 p.m., Monday, Aug. 5, at the Meadow Brook Music Festi

"It's been playing to packed houses, and 85 percent of the people in the audience are grown-ups," said Sylvia Coughlin Porter, Meadow Brook Music Festival spokeswoman. "When it debuted in San Diego, many turned up in taxes with cotton-tails and carrot corsages."

GEORGE DAUGHERTY, the 35year-old composer who created Bugs Bunny on Broadway." will conduct the orchestra in a program that features Bugs Bunny, Daffy Duck, Elmer Fudd, and Porky Pig in nine 24-carrot gems of animation that have been totally restored. The orchestra will supply the music for the cartoons. Bugs and his pals will provide the lyrics and spoken dia-

Business woes go beyond 'poor economy' platitudes

By Gerald Frawley

staff writer

Hadley Arden, one of southeastern Michigan women's apparel mainstays, is planning on closing its doors at the end of this summer.

Livonia-based Hadley Arden is not

The recession has spelled trouble if not bankruptcy — for a number of commercial ventures including, but not limited to, Bonwit Teller Uptown Charly's, Highland Appliance, Willow Tree, Chelsea Stores, Crowley Milner & Co, Dobbs Furniture and Corey Dinette Furniture.

Even developer Western Development of Washington, D.C., the builder of the proposed Auburn Mills mega-mall, is in bankruptcy court considering a real estate loan work-

All this despite a growing number of economists jumping on the recession-is-over - or will be shortly

HENRY MOSES, vice president of Barry M. Klein Real Estate, a national retail brokerage firm, said he isn't certain what the economists are using for guidelines in their predictions, but they don't apply to the independent and semi-independent re-

'There's still a contraction in the retail market," he said.

Moses said he expects there will be more small, independent and semi-independent retailers declaring bankruptcy or going out of business because they fail to see enough light at the end of the tunnel to justify operating through the coming months.

'If (the economy) is turning around, it's a long, slow turnaround,

Moses stressed that small and large retailers are operating at two levels. Large retailers may be seeing an increase in apparel, shoes and furniture, but the smaller companies are hurting.

'Independents don't have the luxury of sitting out the hard times," he said. If a major retailer sees sales slip in one area, it can usually hold out until things get better, he said. This is not true for the smaller re-

'All industries need to be able to borrow money to get through the slow times," he said. Large companies can borrow from themselves; small companies go to banks.

When the economy dips, banks are more discriminating in their loan practices which means retailers have to cut costs and inventory. This, in turn, makes it more difficult for retailers to draw customers.

WITHOUT CUSTOMERS, the businesses must cut back still further, but there's a limit to how far a retailer can cut. "At some point, it becomes throwing good money after bad — many retailers will cut their losses and wait until times get bet-

"I don't think anyone can feel safe right now," Moses said.

Tony Camilletti, director of visual marketing at the retail design and consulting firm of Jon Greenberg & Associates Inc. in Southfield, said these are certainly not boom times for retailers, but the economy is not nearly bad enough to drive retailers from business.

Camilletti said he doubts the recent surge in retail hardships predicates bad tidings for the industry as a whole.

But I don't think they're isolated incidents. These are cases where consumer-oriented companies didn't address the consumer market and competitive changes," he said.

The economy may have been a factor, but it hasn't been an insurmountable obstacle - as evidenced by the success of many retailers.

Problems ailing retailers run the gamut from falling short on the serrice aspect, an inability to meet customers' product demands, a problem in reaching the correct market, or perhaps just a poor image.

"Some companies may have just expanded too much and not anticipated the slowdown," he said.

ANOTHER POSSIBILITY is ailing companies didn't anticipate or take seriously the challenge of increased competition in a tighter market. "We're seeing the beginning of a change in how retailers do business," Camilletti said, "Some companies haven't been able to re-

Retailers that fail to accommodate for major retailers entering the market are courting disaster, he

Jay Wedevan, principal with the Southfield retail consultant firm Strategic Edge Inc., said from a construction point of view, there are two reasons behind the recent prob-

'In many instances, some areas are just overbuilt."

Simply, if there are too many retailers and not enough customers, some businesses are not going to survive, he said. "The overbuilding has put a squeeze on retailers who expanded too quickly.

Paradoxically, this overdevelop-ment has caused problems for retailers who need to expand or move to stay in business "Retailers want to go to certain locations, but they can't get there bethe developers can't get

Retail developers can't get loans from financial institutions because overbuilding has made them neryous, and even those financial institutions that are open to making loans are asking for substantial equity from the developer.

CHRISTINE LENZ, retail manager in the Detroit office of the public accounting firm Arthur Andersen, said for the most part she is optimistic about the remainder of the year and doesn't anticipate continued problems for retailers.

Most economists are predicting better times ahead, and if that isn't encouraging, the usual retail cycle ought to whip the industry out of its

As back-to-school time approaches, retail sales generally pick up, Lenz said. "After that, the holiday shopping begins.

Lenz said it would be too simple to blame the recent retail woes on the economy. "It's more likely that it

Couple again gets together for sake of kitchen designs

'It's like foreign cars; every time the Americans duplicate them, the competition is on to something else," Fried said. "American manufacturers had really grown quite lazy; they continued to make the same products, which were of decreasing quality and no style."

But Madison has found one American gem in Heritage, a Mennonite company in New Holland, Pa. It combines old-world craftsmanship with the newest materials such as polyester cabinets

FRIED AND STEINHARDT met while undergrads at the University of Michigan. Fried majored in business; Steinhardt earned a degree in speech pathology.

Learning doesn't take a vacation

UMMER TUTORIAL students weren't necessarily smiling their first day of classes this year.

"They look very reluctant to be here because they'd rather be at the beach," said Nancy Weycker, program director. That didn't last long, however.

"They can see that they're making progress. I think that it builds their self-esteem." said Weycker, a reading intervention specialist for the Plymouth-Canton Community

The summer program, offered each year, gives students in kindergarten through eighth grade an opportunity to take new classes and explore new ideas. We try to make it reinforcement for what goes on in the regular curriculum during the school year," said Weycker, a Canton resident. "For the most part, it's kids who need to brush up and don't want to lose ground during the summer."

ABOUT 250 students were enrolled in this summer's program, offered by Plymouth-Canton Community Education July 1-31. Classes were Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings at Plymouth Canton High School in Canton.

Reading and math classes were offered for elementary students. Middle school students had a choice of reading, math, study skills and writing skills. Courses were also offered for special education students. 'So it's a full range of classes that

Each youngster created a quilt based on one of the main characters in the book. Crayon drawings of Charlotte, Wilbur and the others were featured, along with drawings representing different traits of each new ways to fight?

Did your quiet time after the children were tucked in hed go out the window with daylight saving time? Is the summer heat driving you crary, and do you wish you could discover a corner of the world in which just to curl up and enjoy a good hook?

Well, cheer up. The Plymouth-Canton community offers two such corners. Near one end, on Canton Center, is the Canton Public Library. On the other end, on Main in Plymouth, is the Dunning-Hough Library. "Circulation is up tremendously in the summertime," said Kathy Petlewski, an adult services librarian at the Dunning-Hough Library.

Darlene Ursel, a reference librarian in Plymouth, also notices many eager readers coming to the library in the summer.

"A lot of people come back to read

DANIELLE STEEL'S "Heartbeat" has been a favorite choice for many. The Sue Grafton mysteries, "'H' Is for Homicide," in hardback, and "'G' Is for Gumshoe,"

"The Kitchen God's Wife" by Amy Tan has been another favorite. The book tells the life story of a Chinese-American matriarch.

able are "Homecoming" by John Bradshaw and "Wealth Without Risk: How to Develop a Personal Fortune Without Going Out on a Limb" by Charles Givens.

"THERE HAVE always been more books geared toward women," Ursel said.

Two popular choices among the non-fiction bestsellers are geared more toward men

"Iron John" by Robert Bly highlights the passage from boyhood into manhood in different cultures. "Fire in the Belly" by Sam Keen examines the changing male role in ciety.

Another favorite on the non-fiction side is "Nancy Reagan" by Kitty Kelley, the much-publicized unauthorized biography of the former

On the lighter side for non-fiction are "Paul Harvey's For What It's Worth," edited by Paul Harvey Jr., "Real Ponies Don't Go Oink!" by Patrick F. McManus and "Dave Barry Talks Back" by Dave Barry.

Paperback books are much more popular in the summer because ey're easier to pack and take along on trips, Petlewski said.

Popular family classics like "The Wind in the Willows," Jack London's "Call of the Wild" and "Tales of the Fish Patrol" can make the hours in the car pass quickly.

Foreign language tapes are popular, said Joanna Link, an adult services librarian in Canton. Those provide a productive way to spend behind-the-wheel time.

Other interesting titles on tape include "The Art of Being Fully Human" by Leo Buscaglia, "How To Manage Your Time" by Matthew Parvis, several Stephen King books and the Gilda Radner biography.

Books for readers with impaired vision are also available in cassettes and large print editions, Link said. Those are provided by the state of Michigan and Wayne County.

Summertime attendance at that service has dropped a bit. "The number decreased, but people still appreciate it," Abbott said.

"It offers another option."

SOME PEOPLE work on Sundays, and the Saturday service is a help to them, he said. Many Roman Catholic churches have offered a late Saturday service for a number years, and some Protestant churches have followed suit. The pastors don't have a probem with worshipers wearing more casual attire in the summer. Even with air conditioning, suit coats can be a bit of a burden in the summer, Wysocki said. He believes casual attire's OK, "but not so informal that it's beach wear."

Goldfinch breeding just begun

Many species of birds are already raising their second brood of young. Robins and bluebirds have just about ended their breeding season in Michigan. But the American goldfipch only recently started.

'American goldfinch, or wild canary to many people, does not start its breeding cycle until there is thistle down or cattail down. Both of these materials are woven into the nest of goldfinch. These light colored downy plant fibers give the nest a silvery appearance. Their fine texture allows the nest to be woven very tightly. Some nests can hold water they are so dense. Young have actually drowned during rainstorms when adults have been unattentive to their nest duties.

Female goldfinch are usually very attentive of their nest. Ninety-five percent of her time may be spent on the nest. She is able to do this because her mate will come and feed her while she remains on the nest. Males are not instrumental in building the nest, but they are important in caring for the female and young.

Incubation of the eggs will last about 13 days. As the young get older and are close to fledging, they no longer enclose their fecal material in a flexible membrane, which the parents then remove. Older nestlings move to the edge of the nest to defecate. This behavior leaves some fecal material on the rim of the nest. Abandoned goldfinch nests can be identified by this feature.

TIM NOWICKI/Illustratio

The American goldfinch, or wild canary to many people, does not start its breeding cycle until there is thistle down or cattail down. Both of these materials are woven into the nest.

In shrubby fields where goldfinch nest, their presence is not difficult to detect. Males with their bright yellow body and black wings are constantly bouncing through the air saying "potato-chip, potato-chip." Their undulating flight is very characteristic. They are easily separated from the female in summer, but in winter they both appear in dull yellow-olive colored feather typical of the female.

After the nesting season goldfinch flock together and feed on various seeds. In the wild they enjoy birch, alder, chicory, and burdock seeds. At bird feeders, they enjoy both sunflower and thistle seeds.

If during the summer you miss the appearance of goldfinch at your feeder, just take a walk through most any field and you will find them in full breeding plumage.

Wood carvers to spotlight their wares

Hundreds of handcarved horses, carousel animals and ducks will fill Eddie Edgar Arena in Livonia Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3-4, when the Livonia Wood Carvers Club holds its 17th annual woodarving sh

Two days of fun and camaraderie are sure to prevail as 126 exhibitors from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Ontario, Tennessee, Florida and West Virginia display wood carvings, sell wood-carving tools and supplies, and share carving tips and ideas with visitors as well as each other.

Carvers of whittled pieces, wildlife, miniatures, human figures, marquetry, relief, chip carving and decoys will compete for awards.

The show and club are sponsored by the Livonia Parks and Recreation Department.

We like displaying our work to get new people interested in carving to get them interested in something enjoyable," said Livonia resident Ronald Morin, publicity chairman for the show.

Morin has been carving since 1982. He teaches sharpening and wood-carving techinques at the club meetings, and at a 4-H club in Novi.

"Once you get started, there's no end to what you can carve." Morin said.

'THE THEME of this year's show is horses. We'll have two tables (displaying) every size and shape of horse," said Redford Township resident Bob Brooks, Livonia Wood Carvers Club president.

Pam and Jim Krausman of the Howell Nature Center will visit the show again this year, bringing along their special friends.

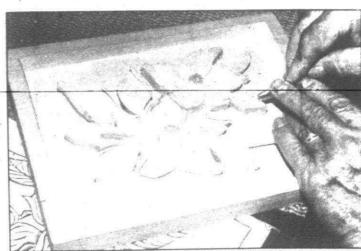

"Pam will have live barn owls, hawks, and a crow who likes to eat fingers," Brooks said. "The Barn Owl is the farmer's dream. They build their nests in barns and they eat the mice.'

"The "Karvings for Kids" table is for kids only. Any child can come up and buy things for 50 cents to $6 to give as gifts," Brooks said.

"Sister Mary Magdalene of Duns Scotus will have carvings on display. She's a pretty good carver.

Door prizes, carved by club members, will be given hourly to those attending the show. "Everybody will receive a door prize ticket at the door," Brooks said.

Limited-edition envelopes carry village postmark

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

DWARD FARHAT'S art is becoming a collector's item, gracing a limitededition envelope with a pen and ink sketch of the Quaker Meeting House at Greenmead Historical Village in Livonia.

The U.S. Postal Service has authorized use of a Greenmead Station postmark on the envelope, illustrated by Farhat to commemorate the 35th anniversary of the Livonia Historical Society, the 145th anniversary of the Quaker Meeting House and the construction of the new Greenmead Post Office on purchased Greenmead land.

ARTSY ENCOUNTERS

· Quality art adorns the municipal buildings in Livonia. But only folks who make the rounds get a chance to see it. Still other pieces are in storage. There's no permanent display of city-purchased artwork.

But that'll change in August, thanks to Livonia arts commissioner Dorothy Wilshaw, a master at thinking up ways to bring artwork closer to the community

She envisions the show giving people "a chance to see what the arts commission is doing and has done over the years. From Aug. 6-23, the Livonia Arts Commission will host a city hall lobby exhibition featuring the best in the city's art collection. It holds lots of artistic promise.

and mixed media. One piece is made of narrow wood strips painted so that it reflects three different pictures, depending on what direction you look at it

Visitors to the show also will be invited to view three-dimensional pieces displayed in arts commission showcases on the second-floor of the city library across the municipal parking lot.

'A lot of beautiful work belongs to the city," said Wilshaw, who chose the pieces with arts commissioner Unless she can enlist more help, Wilshaw isn't sure she'll push for the show to become an annual event. 'There's a lot more work involved than I thought," she said.

Ex-POW releases caged dragons

"Caged Dragons: An American P.O.W. in WWII Japa,n" by Robert E. Haney. (267 pp., Momentum books LTD., $19.95).

"Caged Dragons: An American P.O.W. in WWII Japan" is not so much something you read as something you experience, so real are its events, so vivid are its characters, so compelling is the story recorded within its pages.

psychiatrists expend huge amounts of time and patients' money seeking to identify dra-gons . . . so they can be expunged," writes former Michiganian Robert Haney. "Give the dragons a name, it is said, and they will go away."

Haney, 70, and now living in California, never needed to conduct such a search, he contends, because he was always able to identify his own personal dragons. They took shape during the invasion of Corregidor in early 1942. They grew to monstrous proportions over the next 41 months months that Haney, then a Marine corporal in his early twenties, spent in Japanese prison camps. "For four decades after the war, I held the dragons at bay by caging them," he goes on to say. "I did not speak about them, even to my own family.

'It was I, of course - not the dragons in the cage - who was held captive . . . That realization and this book took shape together.

"I know there is value for me in putting these words on paper, I hope there is some value for others. The story of POWs . . . has been told neither often enough nor well enough."

WHILE IMPRISONED at camps both in the Philippines and Japan, Haney kept secret diaries and journals in which he recorded his thoughts, feelings and the events he witnessed.

He scribbled some entries on bits of toilet paper, others on the backs of canned food labels. Some were destroyed by Haney when his captors began searching prisoners' belongings. He feared that discovery would bring punishment. Others, written during the latter part of his confinement. he managed to keep, and these form a major part

"Memory can be fallible after half a century," he admits, "but the events . . . remain so vivid as to defy egregious error." Haney grew up in Big Beaver, Mich. (now Troy), then not much more than two gas stations (one of them run by Haney's father), a dimestore, a pool hall, school and a couple of churches. At 16, after several clashes with his father, Haney left home and headed west, eventually enlisting in the Marines. He had been in the Marines not quite four years when he was captured near Corregidor. (By the way, if you're an admirer of Douglas MacArthur, don't expect to find a soulmate in Haney.)

WITH AN eye for the telling detail and a marked gift for scene making, Haney in his book takes readers on an extended visit to several versions of hell - the prison camps where he would spend the remainder of the war.

The scenes and pictures recorded here are not pretty. Prisoners watch as one of their group commits suicide by jumping off a cliff one day. At another time, suffering from dysentery and the intense tropical heat, they travel from one prison camp to another, packed into narrow-gauge freight cars.

Over 17 days, they are transported from the Philippines to Japan in the airless hold of a Japanese freighter. The hold eventually becomes a kind of human cesspool where the food and water of dysentery-ridden prisoners blend with their own excrement, and the living share their tangled confinement with the dead. Throughout their imprisonment, they contend with cold, heat, illness, starvation, torture. Some are forced to dig their own graves before they are shot.

But the ugliness is not unrelieved. Most of all, it is counterbalanced by the strength and courage of men like Hez Bussey, the Cherokee blinded by a vitamin-deficiency disease in the camps. Or the Spaniard, Angelo Manzano, a merchant marine captured when the freighter on which he worked was sunk in the South Pacific. Or the young lieutenant who sought to relieve the misery of the desperately-ill Haney, fanning his face and talking to him about home and St. Louis beer, as Haney faded in and out of consciousness on the nightmarish freighter crossing.

NOW AND then, one hopes for more clarification of unfamiliar words and phrases here, or the inclusion of a couple of additional basic maps or more careful editing (mostly to eliminate a surprising amount of repetition). But, ultimately, this book's strengths far exceed its flaws.

Obviously, this is a story that could have been overly dramatic, sensationalistic and tainted with self-pity. But Haney's controlled, careful style helps to avoid such literary traps. (His feelings about the Japanese culture that nurtured his captors remain obviously wary; his bone-to-pick with MacArthur sounds a slightly shrill note now and Haney, now an almond farmer and for years a technical writer, studied English and literary criticism at the University of Oklahoma shortly after the war. He briefly taught there before moving on to California. This is his first book.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Boards recognize performance over the call of duty

By Doug Funke staff writer

A willingness to get involved beyond the normal scope of the job is what sets apart Realtors of the Year from their counterparts.

They achieve personally but also reach out to colleagues. They're knowledgeable about real estate issues. They're active promoting the industry and professional associations.

Bill Deacon, Nancy Howell and David N. McNabnay share those characteristics.

Deacon, a broker and part-owner of Century 21 Chalet in Westland, was selected Realtor of the Year by the Western Wayne Oakland Association of Realtors.

Howell, an associate broker and manager of ERA Home & Land in Rochester Hills, was named Realtor of the Year by the Rochester Board of Realtors.

McNabnay, broker and owner of McNabnay & Associates in Bloomfield Hills, was chosen Realtor of the Year by the South Oakland County Board of Realtors.

DEACON, 55, has been in the business for 25 years. The Westland resident specializes in residential sales.
"At this company we're oriented toward training and hiring in new people," he said. "I still do some selling. If there were a highlight of what I do, it would be training and helping other people succeed in real estate."

Deacon is treasurer of his local association and serves on its executive committee, strategic planning committee and membership committee, He's also a director for the Michigan Association of Realtors.

"He's very thorough, dedicated and involved," said Ruth Clevers, Realtor of the Year in 1990 for the Western Wayne Oakland association.

"Bill is very level-headed," said Allen King, president of the association. He thinks out problems, comes up with solutions. He's just in control."

HOWELL, 48, has specialized in the residential market for 14 years. She lives in Rochester Hills.

Howell is currently president of the Rochester Board of Realtors and chairwoman of the Greater Rochester Chamber of Commerce. She has served in all office and committee capacities including long-range planning, education and membership.

"It sounds crazy, but it really is a pleasure," Howell said of her involvements. "It rounds out the whole job. If I just sold real estate and managed an office, it would be tedi-

"In our industry, we have to rely on one another. We work together with our co-agents," she added.

Traditionally, the president of the Rochester Board also is selected Realtor of the Year. Howell served as president and was chosen Realtor of the Year in 1986.

"Nancy doesn't just get involved. Nancy makes a difference," said Judith Waugh, executive director of the board. "Nancy assesses a situation, decides what needs to be accomplished and sets out to accomplish."

McNABNAY, 45, a Farmington Hills resident, has been active in commercia¹ real estate for nearly 20 years.

"Because of turmoil in the commercial market, ethics and expertise are real important in the broker you select today," he said. "That's what I really try to represent with our company."

McNabnay, second vice president of the South Oakland board, is oversight chairman of the political affairs and community/county relations committees. He serves on the executive committee, bylaws committee and is past chairman of the commercial investment division.

McNabnay also is secretary-treasurer of the state Society of Industrial and Office Realtors.

"He's unassuming, very articulate, and a highly motivated young man," said Maurice Richards, executive vice president of the South Oakland Board.

The Birmingham/Bloomfield Board of Realtors also has selected its Realtor of the Year but won't announce the winner until a September

Condo rules apply to renters

We are interested in leasing a condominium. The landlord has handed us the lease, but we are wondering if there are any specific provisions that must be incorporated in the lease to comply with the condominium statute or any of the condominium documents. The landlord didn't want to retain an attorney. We are concerned that he may have missed out on something. I don't want to get into trouble later. Can you help?

The condominium documents provide than any lease arrangement must contain a provision that the condominium co-owner recognizes that the lease is subject to the restrictions, rules and regulations of the condominium and that the proposed tenant agrees to abide by those regulations and restrictions.

The lease should also acknowledge, as a practical matter, that the tenant has received a complete set of the condominium documents including any restrictions that may affect the tenant and that the tenant fully understands the obligations to comply with the condominium documents. If these conditions are met, you will be in compliance under the condominium act and most condominium bylaws. But you should double check the condominium documents to ensure that there are no other preconditions such as a right of first refusal given to the association regarding your proposed lease transaction.

Our condominium project prohibits the placing of "For Sale" signs anywhere in the condominium including windows. Is this an enforceable provision?

An absolute prohibition on signs any place in the condominium may not be enforceable as it may raise reasonable constitutional issues concerning free speech or may be

MAKE THE MOVE NOW!!

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- · The selection is excellent.
- · Low interest rates are available.
- There are many financing options available.

Go ahead, make the move.

Now is the right time to buy

NOW is the right time to Buy a Home!

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it even more attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solid financial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.

- Today, homes in the area continue to be a wise investment.
- Equity in your home can be used as collateral, thus providing you with additional financial
- Home ownership provides you with a sizable tax advantage because interest paid on mortgages is fully deductible. Property taxes can also be deducted.

Super job: minding the nuts, bolts

staff writer

When buying a home from a builder - especially in the production home market, but sometimes in the custom home market — the guy with the paperwork with isn't the guy with the hammer

In fact, chances are the builder won't be on the construction site half the time a house is being built.

The one who does the day-to-day, nuts-and-bolts work is the construction superintendent.

He's the one who pushes the workers, supervises progress, catches and corrects mistakes and makes sure everything goes according to plan.

Darryl Patterson, president of the financial services firm of Patterson, Bryant & Associates in Troy, recently built a home at Vintage Estates in Rochester Hills and can attest to the importance of the superintendent.

"I probably spent a lot more time (at the site) than I needed to," Patterson said.

Birmingham building/development company S.R. Jacobson Development Corp. built his home, and he's very satisfied with the results. But some credit must go to the superintendent, Patterson said.

"Scott (Jacobson) is a very good guy, but Scott's not on the job site," Patterson said.

Patterson said for a person building a home, it's wise to get to know the construction superintendent and become a person to the construction superintendent and not just a faceless name.

Patterson said he feels it's important to establish a "level of trust" because he's the one most responsible for looking out for the homeowner's interests.

BRIAN YAMARINO, construction superintendent for homes built by S.R. Jacobson Vintage Estates in Rochester Hills, said it takes a special type of person to be a construction superintendent.

"A superintendent is a middle-man pin cushion you're basically a punching bag," he said. Home buyers, builders, contractors - each has its own agenda, and the construction superintendent has to answer to them

Brian Yamarino, construction superintendent for homes built by S.R. Jacobson at Vintage Estates in Rochester Hills, is responsible for all

The hours are long, the stress is incredible and the pace is hectic. Everything that needs to be done can never be accomplished in a 24-four hour period, he said.

People who fail to accept that fact, he said, generally don't last. Yamarino, a seven-year veteran of the construction game, has been a construction superintendent for two years.

"A superintendent's job has a lot to do with prevention," Yamarino continued. "If nothing went wrong, you wouldn't need the superintendent."

BEFORE ANYONE arrives, the construction superintendent likes to walk through the homes in progress, noting things that have to be taken care of, and planning of the homes built by his company in phase one of the project.

"A superintendent that doesn't walk around with a notebook isn't a very good superintendent," he said.

Then it's back to the trailer and more planning and scheduling for the coming week and the week after depending on what stage of building the home is in. 'That's about the time the workers start coming in. The most important thing he does, Yamarino said, is meeting with the contractors to discuss the day's work "The number one reason things go wrong on a construction site is lack of communication.

"I have to stay on top of it - the rule of thumb don't turn your head and if you see something go wrong, act on it right away, because no matter how bad it is, it will be worse if you have to fix it later. 'But that's the thing about this job. No matter what you do, something always goes wrong," he said.

The rest of the day is filled with trying to be everywhere at once, being an extra hand wherever necessary, going over bills, and a lot of screaming and hollering at contractors. The day ends with superintendent back on the phone, calling contractors and suppliers to make sure everything runs smoothly, he said.

So why do they do it? More than anything else, being a construction superintendent gives one a sense of accom-

"This was just a piece of ground — now it's a home and people are living there," Yamarino said.

DAN HOUGH, one of two construction superintendents at Stonebridge in West Bloomfield, said hectic days are a way of life for the superintendent. "Basically, what I do is be 100 percent in charge of scheduling quality control and watching out for foul-ups.

Stonebridge is a joint venture by Nosan/Cohen Associates in West Bloomfield and the Selective Group in Farmington Hills.

Hough, a 10-year veteran of the construction industry. said a construction superintendent is a diplomat, a gofer, a third hand when needed, the responsible party when something goes wrong and the unsung hero of the building trades — he's generally the difference between a good and bad home.

Hough said another name for a construction superintendent might be fireman.

"It's crisis management - people come to me with a fire and I run around all day putting fires out.

The superintendent's charge is to built the perfect home - which is patently impossible.

"The perfect house has never been built — and I don't think it will ever be built — but it's our job to get it as close as possible," Hough said.

EVEN THOUGH the superintendent is considered a construction job, the contractor's most used tool is the telephone, Hough said. "Keeping yourself out of trouble means keeping in constant contact.

Hough said one might think one phone call would be all that's necessary to get a contractor to the job site, but in many cases the superintendent has to make several followup calls. "It's not that they're lazy or bad - contractors are swamped with work and they have to prioritize," he said. As in the rest of life, the squeaky wheel gets the grease, he said. Hough said despite all the hours and all the hassles, superintendents get something out of their work that few can appreciate.

"You stand back and look at a half-million dollar home and know you've made a major accomplishment. It's a certain thrill that those not in the building industry probably wouldn't understand, Hough said.

"When it all comes down to the end - you see people walk into a finished home and living there.

Booth lauded for role in construction liabilty law

staff writer

William D. Booth, a lawyer and senior vice president at Plunkett & Cooney, has been fascinated with construction liability since his first such trial 30 years ago.

That case — the collapse of a high school under construction in Saginaw — was just an appetizer for what was to come involving landmarks like the Pontiac Silverdome, Renaissance Center and Hart Plaza.

Booth, a Bloomfield resident, also was instrumental in promoting a state law limiting liability for design professionals, then successfully defending its constitutionality before the state

Booth was honored recently with the William B. Somerville Award from Schinnerer Management Services, an insurance rwriter, the American Institute of Architects and the National Society of Professional Engineers. "The award is intended to recognize dedication and commitment of individuals who promote a better understanding and enthusiasm for defense of liability claims against design professionals," said Tom Porterfield, a vice president at Schinnerer. "There's only a very small cadre of attorneys who have taken it upon themselves to invest time and effort to become specialists in this unique law. PROBLEMS RESULT when plaintiffs take a shotgun approach and haul everyone with a peripheral interest in a project into court he said A law limiting liability for design professional to six years, shepherded through the legislature in 1967 by Booth, was badly needed, he said. An amendment in 1988 extended liability to 10 years in cases of gross negligence. "A building that has a useful life of say 50 years, without this statute 45 years down the line, you, as an owner, can sue me as the architect," he said. "That is difficult to insure against or protect yourself against. I have no way of insuring myself against that type of loss. That's very important." Design professionals over the years have been dragged into lawsuits on matters outside of their direct control, Booth maintained. A current fight is to stop proposed federal regulations that would make design professionals liable for safety on the con-

Booth initially was drawn to construction liability law three decades ago. A school collapsed as it was going up. "I was called to help one of the parties in the lawsuit. I was born and raised in Saginaw. I happened to know the architect and the young man who was killed. I ended up being the leading attorney for the design group The American Institute of Architects liked his work and en-

as quietly as we can " he said

Since 1968, Booth has missed only one big seminar for lawyers who specialize in construction liability - the Annual Meeting of Invited Attorneys - Porterfield said. That's because he was involved with a trial

I like the idea being connected with a project," he said. "It's kind of fun. It's interesting and intellectually challenging. His colleagues believe that the award is well placed.

Bill's significant accomplishments and contributions both in the field of law concerning design professionals and to the edu cation of attorneys in the legal profession are responsible for this outstanding recognition," said Jospeh V. Walker, managing partner of Plunkett & Cooney, Detroit.

(AP) — Many people with an un-sold home feel that they are strapped with a financial and psychological albatross. If you're so afflicted - or worry that you may be because you plan to move soon renting the old place temporarily may be your best option.

Make no mistake: It's far from an ideal solution. When you become a landlord, you're saddled with a whole new set of record-keeping and tax problems. You'll have to screen enants. You'll still be stuck with all the responsibilities of ownership And there's no guarantee prices will be better next year.

But renting can be a helpful interim step. Any rental income you receive eases the cash flow nightmare of having to support two mortgages. If your expenses exceed the ent you can command, you may qualify for a tax break. Before tackling the landlording realities of setting the rent, finding enants and writing a lease, consider the key tax issues you'll confront.

A major concern when you rent your house is to protect your right to oll over the profit and hold off the Internal Revenue Service.
