'Karate Kid' Library Film

Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. on May 12, the Hicksville Public Library will show the film, "The Karate Kid" in the Community Room of the library.

A warm and wonderful film about a perennial 98 pound weakling who learns how to turn the tables on his tormentors, this finely choreographed karate film demonstrates that humor, courage, pride and beliefs are what really matters in disagreements. The film stars Ralph Macchio, "Pat" Morita and Elisabeth Shue. This movie is rated "PG" and children will be admitted with an adult. It is in color and runs two hours. There is no charge for admission and everyone is invited.

Gregory Museum Sand Painting

The Gregory Museum: Long Island Earth Science Center has announced that a series of children's nature craft-oriented workshops will take place on Saturday afternoons, starting May 18.

Sandpainting will be the focus of the first of the museum's new series of popular nature craft programs conducted by Joan Scancarelli.

Open to children ages 9 - 12, "Sandpainting" will offer youngsters an opportunity to learn the history of sand in this world of ours and to create a work of art to take home.

Registrations are now being taken by mail or in person. The fee for this craft program on May 18 is $5.00 and should accompany the advance registration.

The Gregory Museum is located at Heitz Place, Hicksville, 11801. For further information, call 822-7505.

Redeemer Slates Letter Campaign

During the month of May, Redeemer Lutheran Church, Hicksville, will participate in an "Offering of Letters" campaign sponsored by Bread For The World. Every year, for the past 10 years, BFTW has conducted an offering of letters campaign on a vital hunger issue. This year the campaign is focusing on the Food Assistance and Africa Agriculture Act before Congress. This act contains two basic provisions: increased U.S. aid for agricultural development in Africa and adequate emergency food aid for next year.

Members of Redeemer will write letters to their representatives urging sponsorship and support for this bill. On the first Sunday in June, the emassed letters will be offered up in church and forwarded to Washington.

If you care to participate send a letter in support of House Bill H.R. 2080 to your representatives

Nurses Conduct Screening Programs

Betty Wilson, R.N. arranged for an early detection of breast cancer screening at Holy Trinity High School. The faculty and staff participated in learning Breast Self Examination. A manual breast examination was given by a physician and some blood and fluid samples tested for cholesterol, hormones and abnormal cells. The American Cancer Society is collaborating with the American Health Foundation to develop a test to aid in the early detection of breast cancer. This screening is another service performed by the School Nurse.

Serious Auto Accident In Hicksville

A 26 year old Hicksville man is in serious condition at Nassau County Medical Center, East Meadow with head injuries suffered in an auto accident that occurred at 4:40 p.m. on Woodbury Road and East Street, Hicksville on May 3.

A 1984 Chevrolet van operated by Emanuelle Martello, 48, of 143 Spruce Street, West Hempstead, west bound on Woodbury Road, entered the eastbound lanes to avoid a collision with another vehicle and a 1978 Toyota eastbound on Woodbury Road operated by Gregory Seeley, 26 of 5 Ketchams Road, Hicksville were in collision. Seeley was transported to the hospital in a Hicksville Fire Department ambulance. He is in critical condition. The operator of the Chevrolet and his two passengers were not injured. Both vehicles were impounded for brake tests and no violations were cited.

Full Day Kindergarten Under Consideration

The Board of Education will be asked to consider the recommendation of the Superintendent for implementation of a full day kindergarten program in Hicksville in September, 1985. This recommendation, which will involve no additional cost to the district beyond the 1985-86 budget, will appear on the agenda of a special meeting to be held May 15 at 8:15 p.m.

The kindergarten proposal is the result of a study conducted by a committee of elementary principals, parents, and teachers who visited other districts now holding this kind of program. The points of view of the committee members ranged from total support for full-day kindergarten to full opposition to such a plan, but committee members in opposition changed their opinions after the visits were completed and existing programs were observed.

Another element in the development of the proposal was a full review of current research on the factors and advantages. Recent educational research on students' learning successes has emphasized that the single most important factor in ensuring that all children have an opportunity to master basic skills is the amount of time the teacher devotes to actively working with students on subject matter. The professional literature refers to this as "time on task", noting that the more time students have to practice their skills, the better they will perform.

The program proposed for Hicksville will not entail expanding the curriculum, but will give teachers more time to cover the material in the curriculum now in place. No additional facilities will be required, since existing classrooms needed for kindergarten can be refitted at an estimated cost of $15,000. These costs can be covered from funds in the 1985-86 budget. Staffing changes brought about by retirements of teachers at the top of the pay scale to be replaced by new teachers and reassignments of helping math teachers and other staff members with kindergarten experience will result in negligible increases in staff costs for the full-day kindergarten program. In summary, the program could be effectively implemented within the proposed budget for the coming year.

Parents of incoming kindergarten students are being surveyed to learn their response to the full-day program. The information gathered during this process will be provided to the Board before their vote. Parents will also have the option of sending their children for a half-day session if they wish.

To the Editor:

Letters to the Editor which I wrote on the Long Island garbage crisis have been published in the Mid Island Times and Levittown Times on April 26 and May 3. I am grateful to them for giving my point of view this opportunity to be read by citizens and taxpayers on Long Island.

Most other media repeatedly report on this subject on the point that Long Island landfills threaten our drinking water and must be closed down by 1990. Focusing on this point has created panic and fear among most residents while the only solutions have been studies, litigation, public demonstration, condemnation, all winding up as frustration.

No real solution is in sight while each passing day more tons of unseparated garbage is generated and accumulating all over Long Island. Business, industry, and town residents daily generate garbage, put it at curbside twice a week and apparently are not concerned what happens then.

The two earlier letters I sent to the editor tried to suggest that everyone is responsible and could help by telling state and local public officials they are willing to cooperate and find a solution to protect the environment, the public health, and lower tax rates.

The existing systems of garbage collection and disposal on Long Island are archaic and wasteful. With the immediate cooperation of all garbage generators simple changes in the system could reduce taxation, protect our drinking water, and maximize productivity from existing equipment and sanitation department personnel.

Public officials need cooperation from constituents to accomplish new legislation that might become necessary to avoid serious problems. The Nassau Neighborhood Network, Inc. sponsored a Landfill Closing Demonstration on May 4. Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes announced: "Beginning Saturday May 4, and continuing each Saturday and Sunday through June 2, residents will be able to take their refuse directly to the Solid Waste Management Facility between 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m."

Town Councilman Hynes does not say whether or not the landfill will be closed and scheduled curbside garbage collection discontinued. The outcome of these confusing occurrences on May 4 remains to be seen. It will certainly add much fuel to the fires of political controversy but will it bring about solutions to the garbage crisis?

In my letter published in Mid Island Times and Levittown Times on May 3 I suggested and invited everyone to join a dialogue with state and local public officials about source separation as a partial solution. It would seem that such a dialogue could be more productive than civil disobedience, landfill closing demonstrations, frustration and rage if everyone really wants to help one another and especially our baffled politicians.

Angelina Sinicropi

To the Editor:

Recently I illegally parked my car at the Mid Island Shopping Plaza: before my return the vehicle had been towed away, with considerable damage done to it in the process.

The effort needed to prove beyond doubt the responsibility of the Towing Company and their liability, is hardly justified given the age of the car and my lack of time to pursue the matter.

All right: I did wrong and wound up paying for it quite dearly.

It is hard to fathom, however, why Mid Island Plaza chooses to adopt a policy which alienates local residents, rather than one which would entice them to their Shopping Complex.

The parking situation surrounding the Hicksville L.I.R.R. station is, at best, inadequate; by contrast, the Plaza's parking facilities are oversized even at the height of the shopping season.

Why not set aside a small area, where occasional travellers will be able to park their car at any time for a reasonable fee?

Surely arrangements could be made with the Plaza Retailers, to even refund the parking fee (or part thereof), when making purchases within, let's say, 24 hours of having parked.

This policy (or a similar one) would most likely generate additional revenue at very low cost.

It would certainly be a better civic gesture by the Mid Island Plaza Management and, reflectively, by its retailers, than their present association with a car-towing firm.

Sincerely,
Gianni M. Lovato

Arson Squad Checking Fire

The Arson Squad reports the details of an undetermined fire that occurred in the garage at the Thompson residence, 16 Warren Place, Plainview at 9:25 p.m., May 1.

A neighbor observed a fire in the attached garage and notified the occupants of the house. The fire ignited the garage and caused damage to the wall of the house. No injuries were reported.

Chief Paris, Plainview Fire Department, responded to the scene with 5 trucks and 40 men. Det. Jay Rozzi, Nassau County Arson Squad and Fire Marshal Frank Pendl are investigating.

It is undetermined at this time what caused the fire.

Youth Council To Honor Two

On Sunday, June 2, the staff and board of directors of the Hicksville Youth Council will honor William M. Heberer, Jr. and pastor Theodore Grant at a cocktail reception to be held at T.J. Courtney's from 3:30 - 7:30 p.m.

The Board chose to honor these two fine gentlemen for their contributions to the growth and development of the agency since its incorporation in 1972. Pastor Grant, who has recently rejoined the board of directors, was the first president and was instrumental in establishing the purpose and philosophy on which the agency is founded. During Bill's tenure as president, the agency experienced the largest growth in its history and greatly expanded its capacity to provide competent professional services to the community and its young people. The agency was awarded the 1982 community service award by the Hicksville Community Council for their work in Hicksville.

The afternoon will include door prizes, hot and cold hors d'oeuvres, cocktails and soft drinks. Tickets are $25.00 per person $40.00 per couple and are tax deductible as permitted by law.

It will be an excellent opportunity for the community to join in honoring Bill and Pastor Grant, learn about the services of the youth council as well as support the council in its first major fundraising event. The support of the community is both needed and sincerely appreciated.

For tickets call Barbara E. Nelson, executive director at 822-7594; the youth council is open 10 a.m. - 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. on Friday.

Zone Change Hearing In Plainview

The Town Board has scheduled a June 4, public hearing on a change of zone request in Plainview.

The applicant, Richard Notey and Thomas Notey, as Tenants in common, and Ethly Marketing Corporation, are requesting a change of zone from 'D' residence district to 'F' business district (neighborhood business), to develop property as a neighborhood shopping center. The applicants' plan is to construct connected retail stores totaling approximately 23,000 square feet in the rear of the parcel, and to erect two free standing buildings, each approximately 4,000 square feet, in the front of the site which abuts Old Country Road.

The parcel is located at the southerly side of Old Country Road, east of the intersection of Plainview and Manetto Hill Road in Plainview.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, June 4, 1985, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Hall East hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Weiss-Winberry Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Winberry

Christine Mary Weiss became the bride of Mr. Robert Joseph Winberry during a Nuptial Mass at St. Ignatius Loyola R.C. Church on Saturday, April 20, at 3 p.m.

The Celebrant at this ceremony was the bride's cousin, Rev.

Roman J. Szarama, who came down from Florida, New York to officiate.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and lace and carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and lily of the valley. Her sister-in-law Mrs. Nancy Weiss was her Matron of Honor.

The bridesmaids were Jane Canovas, Angela Weiss, Lisa Weiss, Christine Winberry, Nadine Winberry and Susan Winberry. Christine's niece, Danielle Weiss, was a most able flower girl.

The groom's best man was his brother, James Winberry and the following were his ushers: Ernest Canovas, Michael Graham, Sabino Ruigliano, Richard Weiss, Thomas Weiss and William Weiss. The groom's brother John, was the ringbearer.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Father Szarama presented the bride and groom with an Apostolic Blessing from His Holiness, Pope John Paul II.

After a gala reception at the Huntington Town House, the radiant couple left for a honeymoon in Bermuda. Upon their return they will reside in Holbrook.

Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Weiss of 83 Elm Street, Hicksville.

Ann Ocker To Visit GOP

Club President Kevin Galloway has announced that Oyster Bay Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker will be welcomed as the "Special Guest of Honor" at the next meeting of the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club of Bethpage.

The meeting will take place on Monday evening, May 13, at the American Legion Hall on Washington Street, beginning at 8 p.m.

George Yochmann, Executive Leader of the Bethpage GOP Organization, added that "Ann Ocker, as our Town Clerk, has been in daily contact with the residents of the Town of Oyster Bay for 12 consecutive years, beginning in 1973. Her office provides the widest range of services for the public than any other at Town Hall. We're privileged to welcome her to our Club and to offer her any help we can, as she begins a campaign for her 7th consecutive term in office."

Mr. Yochmann further added his thanks to all those who helped with the Club's successful "Spring Dance" on April 20... Lois Cusick, Jack Cusick, Lorraine Butkewicz, Esther Norris, John Caggiano, Ray Galloway, Lenny Kunzig, Craig Comerford, Corey Comerford, Ray Rigby, John Kelly, Nick Markakis, Josephine Ingennio, Donna Joannou, Laura Paider, and, Especially, Dorot' Yochmann.

Youth Struck By Train

A Bethpage youth playing near the Railroad Tracks West of Stewart Ave., Bethpage, suffered a serious injury to his left arm when he was struck by an Eastbound Express Train.

John Cheatham 15, of 5 Totten Street, Bethpage, was playing with friends near the railroad tracks at 6 p.m., April 30, when apparently unaware it was coming he stepped into the path of an Eastbound Express train. Cheatham was struck on the left arm which caused a severe laceration and several fractures. He was attended to by members of the Bethpage Fire Department who were able to control the bleeding, until the arrival of a Nassau County Police Helicopter. The youth was then flown to Nassau County Medical Center, by Pilot P.O. D. Logan, while A.M.T., J. Minutoli treated the injured arm and was able to stop the bleeding.

The boy is reported doing good after surgery, suffered three fractures and some nerve damage from the laceration.

Det. Robert Baribault of the Eighth Squad who is investigating the incident reports that the train operator was not aware the young man had been hit till he was told by Police in Ronkonkoma.

Bethpage Seniors Chinese Auction

Bethpage Seniors are having a chinese auction on May 15 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Franks and coffee are being sold with a lot of other goodies. It will be held at the K.C. at 519 Central Ave. Bethpage.

Come one, come all and browse and enjoy.

Paul L. Krinsky of Bethpage, has been appointed deputy superintendent of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy and promoted to the rank of commodore in the U.S. Maritime Service.

A 1950 honors graduate of the Academy, Krinsky is currently the second ranking administrative officer at the federal maritime institution, responsible for overall planning and operation.

Krinsky has served at the Academy since 1958, when he taught a variety of navigation and seamanship courses. He holds a license as chief mate. In 1965, he was named the Academy's director of admissions and assistant academic dean. Eight years later he was assigned as academic dean, a position he held until his current appointment.

In 1981, Krinsky received the U.S. Department of Commerce Silver Medal for Meritorious Service. Last year, he was given a U.S. Maritime Administration Senior Executive Service Performance Award.

A native of Brooklyn, Krinsky, 57, began his career in 1951 as a licensed deck officer with United States Lines aboard the SS America and SS United States. He served in the U.S. Navy from 1955 to 1958 as navigator aboard USS Everglades and as a naval science instructor at New York State Maritime College. Joining the Academy's staff after his naval service, Krinsky remained in the Naval Reserve and retired with the rank of captain, USNR in 1979 after four commands.

In addition to his USMMA degree, Krinsky holds a master's in Education from New York University (1959) and an M.B.A. in management from Adelphi University (1980).

Krinsky and his wife Audrey have two sons, David, 24, and Ross, 22.

The Academy is operated by the Maritime Administration of the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Animal Program At Beth. Library

Calling all youngsters, come on over and meet the animals at the Bethpage Public Library! On Saturday, May 18, the Bide-A-Wee Home Association of Wantagh, will present a live animal program for young people "Pet a Pet".

Children will have an opportunity to make friends with live puppies, kittens, snakes and other animals. They will also learn all about pet care, the development and growth of the animals and have tons of fun petting all the pets. In addition, there will be a fascinating slide show, film, and dog obedience demonstration.

The animal program will begin at 2 p.m. and tickets are now available in the Bethpage children's room for youngsters in grades K-6 who reside in District #21. For further information, please, call 931-3907.

Bethpage Class Enjoys French Dining

By Donna Petrulli

If your tastebuds are craving for some French cooking, then I'm sure you'll love to hear about the trip that Miss Lowe's Bethpage High French classes took.

On March 8, students boarded the school bus and tried to keep their stomachs from rumbling too loudly. By the time they arrived at the restaurant, Le Petit Paris, everyone was famished and sat down at the tables ready to "dig in". The meal started with a choice of "soupe de legumes" or "quiche Lorraine". The main course was either "boeuf bourguignon" or "crepe au poulet." French bread and vegetables were also served with the meal. The dessert was "glace a la vanille" or "mousse au chocolat."

Having lunch at Le Petit Paris was a nice change of pace for these French students.

THE OFFICE CAT By Gabby Tabby

THERE is no more League of Women Voters in the Town. The final meeting of the group took place April 27. The Town League decided to donate $1000 from the league treasury to the county LWV in the name of Bea Teck who died in 1984. To now contact the LWV in the county residents can address correspondence to LWV 19 Russell Pk. Rd., Syosset or call 681-1044.....THE END of sewer construction in Syosset has been put at June. It will mean that most of the county has been sewer. It will also mean possibly that Syosset can pull itself back together again and return to the normal residential area it was before the dust began to fly.....THERE is talk that Newsday having failed to get into New York City in any large scale way with its New York edition might buy its way in with the N.Y. Post from Rupert Murdoch who has to sell it now that he owns half of Channel 5 in N.Y.C.....THE CRIME REPORT is published each week as a public service to alert residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch. The attempt was through a garage door but no entry and no loss were reported.....CALCULATORS were stolen from the Underwater Exotic shop 550 Old Country Rd., Hicksville between April 29 and 30. Entry was by breaking glass in a side window.....BURGLARS picked the lock on the front door of Jericho Kosher Meats 441 N. Broadway, Jericho between May 1 and 2. Cash was stolen.....BURGLARS broke into the Villa Parma Restaurant 318 N. Broadway, Jericho, between May 1 and 2. They picked a lock on the front door to gain entry. The loss was not listed.....That's all the news for now....G.T.

Library Exhibit Honors War Dead

A touching and beautiful tribute to Hicksville's war dead of four wars has begun a month's display in the Hicksville Public Library.

Prepared by the Historical Committee of the Hicksville Gregory Museum, the exhibit is a timely and fitting remembrance of those from this village who "gave the last full measure of devotion" to the nation's wartime causes.

For the first time, the community will be better able to grasp the tragedy and enormity of Hicksville's wartime losses and the faithful service of its sons. There are pictures of most of the community's 37 heroic dead, those of our loss in Vietnam a poignant reminder of that brutal and prolonged agony so recent in our memories.

This exhibit comes most appropriately for the 10th and 40th anniversaries of the ends of World War II and the Vietnam War. It complements the excellent renovation and preservation work of the Hicksville School Board at the Junior High School.

Your Social Security

S.S. credit for self-employed

Q. I have been employed for nearly 30 years and would like to know how I can continue to receive Social Security credit if I open my own business and become self-employed. — R.B.

A. If your net earnings from self-employment amount to $400 or more a year, you earn Social Security credit(s). You report your earnings for Social Security at the time you file your federal income tax return. You get credit for all earnings up to the maximum, which is $39,600 for 1985.

Q. I will be 60 on my next birthday, and my husband is 57. I was wondering if I can draw on my own when I reach 62 and then switch to his when he gets to be 62. — P.J.

A. Yes, you can file for reduced retirement benefits when you reach age 62 and then file for wife's benefits when your husband reaches age 62.

Q. My wife passed away Sept. 26, 1984. I returned her check for September, but since she lived most of September, why couldn't I have at least a pro-rated portion of her check? — M.L.

A. The Social Security retirement, survivor and disability insurance program was established to pay monthly benefits. The use of the calendar month as a single time unit allows for simple, fast, economic handling of claims and benefit payments. To pay benefits for a fraction of a month would be costly, slow and cumbersome.

Q. I am a widow who received survivor benefits from Social Security. My monthly check was stopped when my youngest son became 18 years old. I will be 60 years old this year. Will I be eligible to draw Social Security benefits again? — F.G.S.

A. Yes. Widow's benefits can be paid as early as age 60; however, the amount is reduced. At age 60, you would receive approximately 71.5 percent of your deceased husband's primary insurance amount.

Q. I've had a Social Security card since the early '40s and had been employed up until February 1980 when I retired. At the time I was 49 years old.

If I am not employed again prior to my 65th birthday, what must I do? — B.S.W.

A. You should verify that you have had enough work in order to qualify for retirement. You should submit a request for "Statement of Earnings." This form may be obtained at any Social Security office.

Q. I was married to a man for seven years. Because of his heavy drinking and abuse, I used my middle name as my first name and got a new Social Security number.

He died in 1983 and I never remarried, but everything is in my other name. I am 62 and ready to retire. What shall I do? — L.H.P.

A. Take your birth certificate, marriage certificate, both Social Security account number cards as well as your deceased husband's Social Security account number to your local Social Security office.

Q. My wife is 57 years of age and has never worked under Social Security. Recently she has become disabled with emphysema. I am presently age 63 and I intend to keep on working until I am 65.

Is there any possibility my wife could be eligible for Supplemental Security Income or Social Security? — P.E.P.

A. Supplemental Security Income is based on the income and resources of an individual or couple as well as meeting the requirement of being aged (age 65), blind or disabled. She would not be eligible for Social Security benefits until you become entitled. You should check with your local Social Security office to see if she would meet the requirements for SSI.

Q. I will be 64 in June, 1985. I worked for three years in the '60s. (I had only just come to this country.) After that I got married but was divorced after five years. I left the United States but later returned. I worked one more year under Social Security and haven't worked since under Social Security.

I am a U.S. citizen. Am I entitled to anything? — R.R.

A. It appears that you did not work long enough to qualify for Social Security benefits. A person born in 1921 needs 32 quarters of coverage. You should contact your local Social Security office for additional information.

Doctor's Forum

Dangers for DES daughters

Q. I was born in 1945, but my birth certificate shows that I was delivered by a D.O., instead of an M.D. My mother does not remember taking any drugs during pregnancy, but she is not completely sure. The doctor who delivered me is not traceable.

How am I able to find out if I am a DES daughter? I have read so much about it and, while I don't want to become paranoid, the date of my birth worries me. What should I do? — S.N.

A. You are wise to pursue this question. Anyone born between 1941 and 1971 should be concerned about possible exposure to DES (diethylstilbestrol). During that period 3 million to 6 million pregnant women in the United States, and many others worldwide, received this drug.

Approximately 1 in 1,000 daughters will develop a rare but dangerous form of vaginal cancer that usually is not detected by a normal Pap test. (Most cancers have developed before age 33).

In addition, half of DES daughters will have pregnancy problems: ectopic pregnancies, miscarriages, premature labor or infertility. Sons have higher rates of structural problems and possibly infertility and testicular cancer. Mothers may have higher rates of breast cancer.

Unfortunately, half of these people do not know they were exposed, as the drug was marketed under at least 200 different names and administered as pills, capsules, shots, suppositories, and sometimes combined with vitamins. Therefore, it is important for everyone to find out if they were exposed, and to get the special health care they need. For daughters, that includes an exam every six months with a 360 degree Pap test, where samples are taken from all sides of the vaginal area and the cervix.

If DES daughters are pregnant, care by a high risk pregnancy specialist familiar with the unique problems of DES daughters is important. Sons should be seen by a urologist if they have any problems, and should practice monthly self-exams.

Women who have used DES in any form during their pregnancy should tell their sons and daughters they have been exposed. Additionally, these women should perform monthly breast examinations.

As to your questions about how to find out if you were exposed when your mother is uncertain, there are several options:

Contact the doctor who delivered you. When a doctor dies or quits his practice, his records are frequently kept by the physician taking over his practice. Your local medical association may know who has the records.

Write to the Medical Records office at the hospital where you were delivered and ask about any drug exposure mentioned in your birth records. They will need your mother's name, permission (if possible), and your date of birth.

Contact DES Action, a national organization that provides information and support to DES-exposed individuals and their health care providers. They have over 30 chapters nationwide, including Seattle, so check your phone book or contact one of the national offices listed below:

DES Action National
West Coast Office
2845 24th St.
San Francisco, CA 94110

DES Action National
East Coast Office
L.I. Jewish-Hillside Medical Center

New Hyde Park, NY 11040

If you are unable to determine if you were exposed by any of the above methods, you should have the standard DES daughter exam by a DES-oriented physician. It turns out that 80 to 90 percent of DES daughters have changes in their vagina and cervix, most of which are not dangerous, but are rarely found in non-exposed individuals.

If you have any of these conditions you should probably be followed as if you had a known exposure. — Dr. Deborah L. Wingard, assistant professor of community and family medicine, University of California, San Diego School of Medicine.

We've Changed Our Name To Winthrop-University Hospital

EFFECTIVE MAY 15, 1985 Nassau Hospital in Mineola will become Winthrop-University Hospital, and we are changing with a mixture of nostalgia and anticipation.

In 1896, when a group of physicians and volunteers from the community incorporated the first not-for-profit hospital on Long Island and named it Nassau, there was no Nassau County. That came two years later.

In 1900, when we moved to Mineola, the Long Island Railroad was the major mode of transportation and nearby Old Country Road was a great horse and buggy trail. Nassau Hospital, sparked by generous contributions from the Belmonts, Vanderbilts, Whitneys, Pratts, Winthrops, Underhills and hundreds more, developed as Long Island's only hospital for ten years.

It weathered the depression, World War II, the post war baby boom and from our founding to the late 1960's, we were the biggest and busiest hospital on Long Island. But in 1970, when Meadowbrook Hospital became Nassau County Medical Center, as the county and its institutions grew, as tens of thousands more people moved into our region, confusion and ambiguity about our location and identity surfaced. Visitors came here looking for patients at the County Medical Center, and vice versa, packages, mail and even an ambulance or two were misdirected; the media, indeed, often became confused over where we are and who we are.

So we've changed. And we honor—and are honored in return—by the name of Winthrop. For over 80 years, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winthrop of Old Westbury, together have served unselfishly as unpaid trustees of Nassau Hospital. Before them, in the first two decades of this century, his uncle and aunt were active, volunteer trustees.

Nassau Hospital is pleased to have enjoyed a distinguished reputation for the quality of patient care for nearly 90 years. As a 533-bed teaching hospital, the second largest voluntary, not-for-profit hospital center on Long Island, we are proud of a distinguished past.

As a modern, up-to-date tertiary hospital center offering care to almost a hundred thousand Long Islanders annually, we are committed to serving you in our tradition of excellence with the best technical, scientific and, most importantly, personal, human and caring skills possible.

Audience Enjoys 'Annie' Production

Hicksville Junior High School's production of "Annie" opened to large audiences and rave reviews. The show was presented on April 25, 26 and 27 and more than 1,000 people attended the three performances.

Jessica Garnets starred as Annie and did an outstanding job. Richie Halstead, who played Daddy Warbucks, was very effective in his role. Susan Squires, as Grace, added a sophistication to the role that the audience loved. Melissa Sheinwold played Miss Hannigan, and one could actually feel the orphans' fear of her. Sal Noto and Jennifer Tower were great as Rooster and Lily, the couple who tried to trick Warbucks out of $50,000. Steve Ludwig, Billy Ryden, Tommy Schiffer, and Eileen Sharkey, playing supporting roles, added greatly to the overall quality of the show.

The orphans and orphan's chorus, outstanding in all the production numbers, were headed by Doreen Barile, Christine Behler, Shipra Patel, Carol Rubin, and Melissa Weinberg. The servants and servant's chorus members were equally good. Sandy was played by a dog named Bingo, and each night he was the hit of the show. The orchestra, numbering 25, was complimented each night by many members of the audience. The sets were very effective and all facets of the production ran smoothly and worked well. Congratulations to the production staff members, Michael Scheck (Director), Kathleen Scheck (Vocals), Hilary Sperber (Music), Roe Noville (Choreography), Don Homes (scenery), and Brian Munroe (sound).

Depression,

Suicide Panel Topic

"Save Our Kids" will be the topic of a free panel presentation on May 16, at 8 p.m. in the Hicksville Junior High School Auditorium, sponsored by Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling Services, Inc. (formerly East Plains Mental Health Services) of Hicksville.

Abraham Lurie, Ph.D., Professor of Social Work at Adelphi University and formerly Director of Social Services at Long Island Jewish Medical Center, will be the featured speaker. He will be joined on the panel by Robert Piloni, M.D., Medical Director, and Neal Millman, A.C.S.W., Chief Social Worker, both of Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling Services, Inc. This is its first public forum since East Plains changed its name to Central Nassau. The Agency is still located at 246 Old Country Road, Hicksville, right behind Antun's Catering.

Since large numbers of children, adolescents and young adults experience symptoms of depression which go undetected, Central Nassau would like to provide the public with some of the facts about this wide-spread phenomena: its symptoms, causes and treatment. With appropriate professional help like that provided at Central Nassau Guidance and Counseling Services, Inc. most depression can be treated successfully.

All parents, teenagers and members of the community are welcome to attend.

For further information or directions, call 822-6111.

Teacher Appreciation At East St.

The East St. PTA honored its teachers in a very special way for Teacher Appreciation Week, May 6-10.

A committee of seven women handcrafted banners for each teacher and aide, highlighting their professional attributes and their personal interests. Each banner is made of colorful burlap and is decorated with equally colorful felt cut-outs which include the teacher's name and very artistic pictures relating to that teacher. The banners were created in strictest confidence and were hung on each classroom door late Friday afternoon, when all teachers had gone home. The entire staff was delightfully surprised on Monday morning. In addition to this, a "Mail Box" was placed in the lunchroom and the children of East St. were invited to write letters of appreciation to any teacher on the staff.

If they doubted it before, these teachers now realize how much they are appreciated by students and parents.

Mr. Ofenloch Talks To Students

Mr. B. Medard Ofenloch, well known for his years of activity in the Hicksville Fire Department, also has many other memories of Hicksville in "the old days". He shared these with students at Willet Shown here are Bobby Jonason, Mr. Ofenloch's grandsons Danny and Michael Longo, Sheryl Wagner and Kristin Schifani.

Since fourth graders in Willet Avenue School, Hicksville, are studying local history and the Longo twins, Michael and Danny, come from a family important in the history of Hicksville and surrounding areas for the past one hundred years, it seemed likely that their grandfather would have many memories to share.

As a result, Mr. B. Medard Ofenloch was the honored guest speaker at a recent local history program in the Willet Avenue Media Center. He told of his experiences working on his family's extensive farms, which raised cows, horses, chickens, ducks and geese in addition to such crops as potatoes, corn, beans and turnips. He recalled attending local schools, and then the long commutation to Chaminade and Cathedral College. When asked what was most interesting about his youth, Mr. Ofenloch reminisced about the fun of growing up in the country, where everyone knew one another, where he went on horseback from the family's farmland in Locust Valley home to Hicksville. He spoke about Hicksville's great football team of the 1930's, sponsored by the Fire Department. He told the students how the population grew from 5000 people before World War II to 50,000 in a very few years, as Hicksville began to change from a "pickle" farming community to a suburban transportation hub.

Some of the things Mr. Ofenloch mentioned were news to both teachers and students—like the lamplighters manually lighting the streetlamps on Broadway, and the fact that one of the few jobs available for women years ago involved long tedious hours weeding and picking on the farms for very little pay.

The program was coordinated by Media Specialist Rosemary Barrow.

News From Road Runners

Nationally ranked ultramarathoners Al Prawda, Luis Rios and Paul Soskind of Brooklyn, Mickey Vail of Manhattan and Gary Cantrell of Tennessee will be among the 37 men and 6 women who will compete in the first annual Long Island 12 Hour Ultramarathon Run at Syosset High School on Saturday, May 18.

Prawda, whose most recent accomplishments include a 214 mile 4th place finish in the Montauban, France 48 Hour Run, also completed 471 miles in the 1984 Six Day Run at Randall's Island. Rios was the winner of the 1982 and 1983 Queens 12 Hour Races and the 1983 Queens 24 Hour Race. Vail holds single age group U.S. records for 24 hour and 100 kilometer runs, and Soskind's personal best include an 82.4 mile 12 Hour Run and a 183 mile 48 Hour Run. Cantrell is coming to Syosset after a strong performance in the Atlanta-South 48 Hour Run three weeks ago.

Also competing in the 12 Hour Run will be the amazing 68 year old Willie Rios of Bellerose, whose credits include 382 miles in the 1984 Randall's Island Six Day Run and a sub-19 hour finish in the 1983 New York Road Runners Club 100 Mile Championship Run at Shea Stadium.

Local favorites include Jeff Jacobs of Plainview, who finished 2nd in the 1985 Eisenhower Park 50 Kilometer Run, "Ironman" triathlete Stan Wunderlich of Woodbury, and promising newcomers Liz Flahavan of Hicksville and Dr. Mary Trotto to Smithtown, who will be challenging veteran Samara Balfour of Manhattan for first place honors among the women.

The Run is being conducted by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club and directed by Club President Mike Polansky and veteran ultramarathoner Laffy Davidson. Technical assistance will be provided by David Katz of Finish Line Promotions, who recently served as Technical Director of the Long Island Marathon.

"We are pleased to be bringing together this unique combination of elite ultra runners and those who are newer to the ranks of endurance athletes," noted Polansky and Davidson. "In keeping with our club's policy of strongly promoting women's running and fitness, we're especially happy to see such a large percentage of women in the Run. All in all, we expect May 18 to be a major breakthrough for endurance running on Long Island."

The starting gun will go off at 6 a.m. on the morning of the 18th.

Mrs. Adele Nicoforo and her 5th grade class from Dutch Lane School are seen above, presenting a letter of appreciation to Mr. Sam Zaybec, owner of Bravo Supermarket, Newbridge Road, for his cooperation with their class project. The children had just completed a guided tour of the store, and learned the behind the scenes of a food market. Below, are the contents of the letter of thanks sent to Mr. Zaybec by Mrs. Nicoforo and Mrs. Nancy DeSorbe, Principal of Dutch Lane School.

"On behalf of the fifth grade children at Dutch Lane School, we would like to express our sincere appreciation for your generous support and splendid cooperation during our fundraiser for a class trip. Because of the success of our "Hot Diggity Dog" program on Tuesdays, the children's cost will be cut in half.

"In June we will have our first overnight venture. We plan to take the children to Dinosaur Park in Connecticut, Boston Children's Museum, and Plymouth Plantation in Massachusetts.

"It is heartening to know that our local business people are so willing to share in the educational goals of our students.

"Bravo! Bravo! You are good neighbors."

Wendy Sallustio, a resident of Plainview, was among seventy-seven sophomores, junior and senior students in seven academic centers at New York Institute of Technology in Old Westbury honored at a special recognition ceremony/luncheon held recently at the college. The students were cited for achieving the highest quality point average for their previous semesters.

Of the 77 honored, 69 maintained a perfect 4.0 quality point average, having completed 15 or more credits. Each leader in scholarship was announced by the respective center deans and greeted by NYIT president, Dr. Matthew Schure, who extended his "warmest congratulations" to the elite group.

Antique Or Junque

Exotic cabinet
Louis XV style

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique
Appraisers Association of America

Q. What can you tell me about this very small (4-inch) Hummel figurine of a seated little girl reading a book? The number 8 is on the bottom.

Q. This curio cabinet is beautifully inlaid with exotic veneers and trimmed with gilded brass. It is about 24 inches square and 66 inches high. There is curved glass on three sides and two glass shelves.

What can you tell me about its vintage and value?

A. This is the "Book Worm" and the mark you provided is Trade Mark 2 or the "Full Bee" mark. It indicates that it was made between 1950 and 1958. Currently it is selling for about $150.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

A. This is a Louis XV-inspired curio cabinet made in the late 19th century. It seems that there is a never ending demand for pieces like this, so the going price is from $1,200 to $1,500.

La Leche League First Meeting

The newly organized Plainview Syosset Group of La Leche League will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, May 15, at 10 a.m. at 178 Cold Spring Road, Syosset.

The name La Leche, is Spanish and means "the milk." A non-sectarian, non-profit organization, the League's purpose is to help encourage "good mothering through breastfeeding."

The group will meet the third Wednesday of each month. During a series of four meetings, the group informally discusses different phases of breastfeeding. The topic for the first meeting will be: Advantages of Breastfeeding to Mother, Child and Family.

All women who are interested in nursing their babies are invited...as are their babies. You need not be pregnant or even have a family to attend. If you hope some day to have children, if you are a grandmother, if you are interested...you are welcome.

La Leche League began in a Chicago suburb over twenty-five years ago, when one mother who had nursed her baby, helped another who wanted to breastfeed.

This is still the basic approach, although the League is now international in scope, with more than 3,500 groups helping countless women in the United States, Canada, and over forty other countries.

For further information about the new Plainview/Syosset La Leche League Group, call (516) 293-9848.

Local professional craftsperson Jan Boord met with the Burns Avenue sixth graders of Ruth Silverman and Stuart Blummer to demonstrate stained glass techniques. With samples of her work displayed around the table, Ms. Boord showed students how the glass is cut into shapes and arranged according to the planned design. The demonstration complimented the youngsters' studies of the Middle Ages, and examples of their own stained glass works executed with paper and colored cellophane were hung in the windows of the classrooms.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT!

April In Paris For 5 Students

On Friday, April 5, at JFK International Airport, five Bethpage students, Joshua Bernstein, Amy Gulkis, Donna Pluhar, Jodi Ramis, Michelle Stuzin, and their teacher Miss Linda Lowe said, "Aurevoir!" to their parents who wished them a "Bon Voyage" in France.

After their overnight flight to Luxembourg, the group was met by their AIT tour guide who took them by motorcoach to Verdun to visit a World War I war memorial. Students then visited the famous cathedral of Reims where French kings have been traditionally coronated. On Easter Sunday, some attended mass at Chartres cathedral, after which a guide explained the history of this beautiful church and its stained glass windows. The magnificent chateaux of the Loire valley, including Blois, Chambord, Chenonceaux and Angers, were next on the itinerary. Touring the French countryside, students also had the opportunity to visit Jacques Cartier's birthplace, St. Malo, Mt. St. Michel, and Omaha beach in Normandy where U.S. troops landed for the invasion in 1944. Three days in Paris climaxed the trip as students visited the Eiffel Tower, the Arc of Triumph, Notre Dame, Napoleon's tomb, Versailles, and the Louvre museum.

In addition to the historical importance of places visited, students began to appreciate the French culture and use their French language skills on a daily basis. From "day one" when Michelle Stuzin called room service, spoke in French, and asked for additional towels she found out that speaking French really works. "When Michelle came dancing into my room after having met with her first success," said Miss Lowe. "I knew Michelle would have fun using skills she had learned in class." After high school, Michelle's plans include a double major of foreign language and international business with a junior year abroad at La Sorbonne in Paris.

Michelle, Amy, and Jodi quickly found out that meeting pen pals and new friends at "Le Bowling", the cafes, and "Le disco" included speaking French. Jodi and Michelle also stopped at Jean-Yves' Salon de Beauté in St. Malo for a new coiffure. With a little courage and language skills, the end result was a new look.

Josh Bernstein was quite impressed by visiting places such as Versailles that he had studied about in class. Josh was also pleased that he could use his French. "I really can speak French and these people understand me." "put in a practical situation," said Miss Lowe. "Josh really manages quite well. It's really fun to see students meet with success. Enthusiasm for French is high and other students plan to visit France next year."

Dinner at a Creperie gave Donna Pluhar her first chance to speak French with her Parisian pen pal, Julie. When Julie's mother offered to show Donna around Paris the next day, Donna experienced "total immersion". She was totally surrounded by French language and French people for the day. Donna enjoyed a boat ride on a "bateau mouche", lunch at the Eiffel Tower, and shopping at "Les Galeries Lafayette."

On April 14, Jodi, Amy, Michelle, Josh, Donna and Miss Lowe reluctantly said "Aurevoir" to Paris. They had many stories and adventures to share with their families and friends at school. The trip was a great success.

Voilà - two new French coiffures for Michelle Stuzin and Jodi Ramis

Sixth member, Matthew Gold, not in photo. This super team raised $561.80 and the school's grand total was $4,364.37...all for a worthy cause; the Heart Association.

Fork Lane 4th grader Christina Hoffman proudly displays her certificate. Christina singly raised more money for the Heart Association than any other youngster. Nice going!

College Credits At Beth H.S.

In cooperation with the English Department of Adelphi University, a new program will be instituted in Bethpage High School in September, 1985, in which Seniors may choose to earn six (6) college credits in English. Adelphi has accepted two (2) English courses (Greek Drama and Shakespeare) currently offered by Bethpage High School's English Department. The Greek Drama course is listed in Adelphi's Course of Studies as English 282 "A Survey of Drama and the Theatre I," and the Shakespeare course appears as English 241 "Shakespeare I." Mr. Robert Sarli, who teaches the aforementioned courses, has been granted the status of Adjunct Instructor within the College of Arts and Sciences at Adelphi with full staff privileges and responsibilities.

After enrolling in the course(s), seniors may choose either or both for college credit. They must make their intentions known to the university before the registration deadline and must pay a fee of $75 for each course. Upon successful completion of the course, the grade will be forwarded to the Registrar at Adelphi and mailed to the student at the end of the term. Students who wish grades sent to other universities must make requests in writing.

Bethpage students who elect to participate in the program will benefit in the following ways:

1. A substantial financial savings of as much as several hundred dollars, since many colleges charge at least $100 per credit;

2. Students will have status as undergraduates of Adelphi University;

3. Students will enjoy library privileges as well as the opportunity to attend university lectures;

4. The university provides a "Speakers' Bureau" composed of members of the faculty who will come to Bethpage High School to speak to the seniors in the college courses;

5. Students will have advanced status in English credits;

In addition to the above, the program will provide the students with the opportunity to gain experience in college level work.

'Tom Thumb' At Library

Tom Thumb, a boy no bigger than your thumb, but very, very clever! On Saturday, May 11, the Bethpage Public Library will show the exciting film favorite "Tom Thumb" (color 98 min), in which Tom deals with dangerous animals, outwits a variety of villains, and eludes a man-eating ogre wearing seven-league boots.

Come on over and join Tom in a wild series of merry adventures and misadventures. The film boasts an exciting musical score, Academy Award winning special effects, Puppetoon sequences and stars Russ Tamblyn, Terry Thomas and Peter Sellers.

Showtime is 2 p.m. All school age youngsters who reside in District #21, the Bethpage School District, are invited to attend. Tickets are now available in the Bethpage Library Children's Room. For further information, please call 931-3907.

News From Road Runners

Marathon Director, Scholarship Awards to Highlight May Road Runners Meeting

A talk by Long Island Marathon Technical Director David Katz and the award of POBRR's 1985 scholarships will highlight the May 21 meeting of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club. Videotaped highlights of the 1985 Plainview PBC 10K Run will also be shown.

The meeting will be held at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, starting promptly at 8 p.m. The general public is most welcome to attend.

Katz, the President of Finish Line Promotions of Port Washington, is one of the world's leading experts in road race management and course measurements. He has been the Technical Director of the Long Island Marathon for the past several years, as well as the Technical Director of other major road races, both on Long Island and throughout the country. He has also served as a consultant to the Athletics Congress, the New York Road Runners club, and the Road Runners Club of America.

The Club Scholarships will be presented by Michael Kaye, Chairman of POBRR's Scholarship Committee—a $300 savings bond to a deserving high school senior, and a week at the Running School Cross Country Camp at Camp Algonquin in Lake George, to a youngster of any age active in running on an on-going basis. The choices will be very difficult, as there have been several outstanding applications for both scholarships.

For more information about POBRR or about Long Island running and racing generally, call Cub President Mike Polansky at 433-0919.

Congressman Norman F. Lent (R-East Rockaway) congratulates Glenn Waters of Plainview on his appointment to the United States Military Academy. Glenn was one of only forty high school seniors from across the Fourth Congressional District to receive a nomination to a military academy from Congressman Lent. Glenn will enter the Military Academy at West Point as a member of the Class of 1989 later this year.

Students Help Special Olympics

Sunday, May 5, was a beautiful day; the sky was clear, the air was warm and breezy, and the streets of Garden City were lined with azaleas in full bloom. On the campus of Adelphi University, a launch of pastel-colored balloons signaled the opening of the 16th Annual Special Olympics, as one of the smallest "special olympians" carried a lit torch down the cinder track near Woodruff Hall.

It was also a beautiful day for eighteen students from Hicksville Senior High School, who had volunteered to give up a free day in order to participate in this event. At eight-thirty, the carpools from Hicksville began to arrive, and a half-hour later the following students had joined other high school students from Nassau County in the gymnasium: Marlo Sinord, Ann Marie Mackin, Julia Whaley, Marcy Meyer, Abbe Weindentfeld, Ann Kenny, Jeannine D'Antonio, Lisa Surowiec, Elizabeth Santoriello, Jennifer Linge, Joann DiCarlo, Theresa Mahoney, Lisa Butler, Colleen Donahue, Diane Koneck, David Riek, Lora Cusumano, Drew Nares.

Each of the "chaperones," as the student volunteers were designated, had been introduced to one of the special olympians. Some, like Jimmy, were first-time participants who clung tightly to the hands of their new friends. Others were older than their chaperones, like Raymond, who was a veteran of many Special Olympics events, and is the proud possessor of several medals.

By the end of the day, during which each contestant participated in at least two events, everyone was smiling, exhausted, proud of the prizes won and accomplishments reached. It was difficult to know who had the best time - the olympian or his chaperone. All had enjoyed the thrill of cheering other contestants; of munching hot dogs, apples, Devil Dogs, and sipping lemonade; of swapping stories about their respective schools. Most important of all, each had given the other a most valuable gift: a new friendship. The members of the National Honor Society, the Volunteer club, and the student body of Hicksville High School hope to be chaperones again in the next year's Special Olympics.

Hicksville can be proud of the young people who gave up a day to bring joy and satisfaction to people who must live their lives by the motto of the Special Olympics: "If you win, be proud. If you don't win, be brave".

Midland Meeting With Celebration

The next meeting of the Midland Civic Assoc. will be held at the Willet Avenue School on Thursday, May 16, at 8 p.m. It will be a happy occasion, as we will be celebrating our first victory, the defeat of the "White Castle" use permit.

Permanent officers and members of the Board will be elected and then installed by our Assemblyman, Dan Frisca. Present will be many notable guests: Councilman Tom Clark and Kenneth Diamond, and Presidents of other civic associations in Hicksville and Jericho.

The program for the evening will include a talk on "A Neighborhood Watch", which will instruct us in how to watch out for each others safety and property. Where this program is in effect, there is a marked decrease in crime.

The next meeting will end with a social where we can talk to each other over coffee and cake.

Do come! If you haven't joined yet, this is the time! Become part of the "voice" for North Hicksville. It shall improve the quality of life for all of us!

"What we're doing, we're doing for you."

Paul R. Marino, Jr.
Community Relations Manager
Long Island

There have been a lot of changes in the telephone business recently. But we're still your local phone company. We make it possible for you to be connected to the remarkable network that meets the communications needs of all New Yorkers.

Now, as a member of the NYNEX family of companies, New York Telephone is on the leading edge of advances in telecommunications technology.

For example, we are installing cables around the state containing hair-thin fibers made of glass. One pair of these fiber optic strands can carry thousands of phone conversations at one time — compared with the 20 conversations that can be carried by conventional copper cables. Fiber optics makes our service more efficient, so it could make your home or business service less expensive.

We have more fiber optic cable in use than any other communications company in the country.

Despite all the emphasis on new technology and change these days, something old fashioned does remain. That's our concern for the quality of your service.

Here are suggestions that help you get the most out of that service — and to help you get answers to questions you might have:

• Your New York Telephone Home phone service representative can answer questions you might have about the phone service we provide in your home. Your Business phone service representative can handle questions about the phone service we provide for your office. Their telephone numbers are listed in the Customer Guide pages of your telephone directory and on your phone bill. Repair service is available if you are having trouble with your telephone lines. Telephone numbers for the repair service centers are also located in the Customer Guide pages.

• What are LATAs or Regional Calling Areas? They are calling areas within New York State that we serve. LATA stands for Local Access and Transport Area, but it is more commonly known as a Regional Calling Area. New York Telephone gives you the lowest calling rates for 95 percent of the calls in 100 percent of these territories, 100 percent of the time. We have a booklet that explains Regional Calling Areas, or LATAs. For a copy, call your Home phone service center.

• What is equal access? As a result of the breakup of the Bell System, New York Telephone no longer provides long distance service to points outside your Regional Calling Area. However, we are your basic link to the companies that do provide it. To reach many of these companies, you currently have to dial additional numbers. We are reprogramming our network so that you will be able to reach the long distance company of your choice by simply dialing "1" plus the area code. That's equal access. We plan to have equal access connections to about half of our customers by the end of 1986 and will continue to update our offices into the future.

We are introducing equal access over a period of time, according to a court-approved schedule. We'll be keeping you informed about when it is scheduled to come to your area.

• What is an access charge? Access charges are part of the pricing of phone service made necessary by the introduction of competition in the telecommunications industry. It is a new $1-a-month charge to be added to home phone bills and single-line businesses starting June 1. Larger businesses are already paying an access charge of nearly $6. The new charge is the result of a Federal Communications Commission decision. It will help us pay the costs of operating and maintaining the line that connects your home or office with our central office. For us, these costs continue regardless of how many calls you make.

Last November, we asked the state's Public Service Commission for a rate increase that would take effect in late 1985. Public hearings were held at various locations around the state during March and April. A decision on our request is due in October.

• Do you know how many telephone area codes there are in New York City? There used to be just one, but now there are two. We've added 718 to cover Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island. Manhattan and the Bronx are still served by the 212 area code. The new area code doubles the supply of telephone numbers that are available to customers throughout the city. Without it, customers would have had to wait for a number to become available.

New York Telephone can meet the communications needs of all New Yorkers. And what we're doing, we're doing for you.

Input Sharply Divided On Bitburg

Callers to Input were sharply divided on the President's visit to Bitburg cemetery in answer to this question: "Do you think President Reagan should make the trip to Bitburg cemetery?" Here are some of the answers:

UNAMERICAN

The visit to Bitburg is the most un-American thing any United States official has ever done. Unlike Harry Truman who felt he represented all Americans. President Reagan feels that because he won an election he can ignore nearly half the people in the United States and do whatever he feels will further his personal political goals. R.B.S. IF HE WANTS TO...

I'm not going to say whether the President's trip to Bitburg was good or bad. I'm just going to say that we shouldn't get mad if he wants to. If an average American went to Germany and visited Bitburg the whole country wouldn't get mad. Sure Ronald Reagan is our president but he can have his own interests just like anybody else. So if he decides to go to Germany and visit the cemetery we can disagree but we shouldn't threaten with bomb threats.

VERY DISTURBED

I'm very disturbed that my president is attending the Bitburg cemetery. Six million Jews including one million children were slaughtered by the Nazis. I'm very disturbed by my president's visit to these Nazi graves but I am even more disturbed that my fellow Catholics have been relatively silent in their protest of this sorrowful trip. L.S.

STRONGLY DISAGREE

I strongly disagree with the President's trip to Bitburg. I think the president was ill advised. A decent man who doesn't know what he is doing. He's more interested in pleasing a German president than American War veterans and people who have suffered under the hands of the Nazis. There are certainly better ways of showing reconciliation between the American and German people. It was a very wrong move for our president to have done this. M.G.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Do you think the Vietnam Veterans have been treated fairly by the nation?

COMPLETELY DISAGREE

I completely disagree with the President's trip to Bitburg where, according to news reports, there are anywhere from 47 to 49 Nazis buried there. It's a terrible disgrace, not only to Jewish Americans but to veterans groups and our American boys who died at the hands of the SS, especially the Battle of the Bulge. At that time 700 Americans were captured and executed in all violation of International law. Reagan committed a silly deed and it's too bad he didn't make the decision to go to Bitburg before the election because the American people wouldn't have voted for him. I think the man is one of the worst presidents we ever had in the White House, he's just an actor. Before elections they protected him so he wouldn't make any mistakes but now we see how much character and depth he has that he would stoop so low to pacify the Germans. It was a terrible day for the American people. J.K.M.

OTHER VICTIMS

Mr. Reagan has been criticized for visiting a World War II cemetery in Bitburg, Germany. The Jewish community and American war veterans are expressing outrage over the visit. Their opinion is that the President was honoring murderers and criminals. The dead Germans, however, were only soldiers fighting for their country. The men who gave the orders qualify as the real criminals. To ignore the German war dead would be an injustice to all victims of the war. The Jews were not the only victims of Hitler's mad endeavor. It devastated a whole country and resulted in the loss of many German lives. Mr. Reagan did not intend to honor Nazis but men who gave their lives for their country just as American soldiers did. The President also visited a concentration camp and spoke quite harshly about the Holocaust. Anyone who wishes to condemn the President for honoring all who lost their lives during that terribly dark period of history has a childish grudge which insults a nation by holding them responsible for an evil lunatic. To deny a respectful gesture to German veterans serves to express scorn, hatred and bitterness over something four decades past. EXAMINATION

By the time this is published the president will have already visited the cemetery in Bitburg. But the questions raised and the furor created by those who tried to interfere deserves examination. When the visit was scheduled the President was unaware that some of the Germans buried there were members of the SS. This was known by his critics. As a matter of record he tried to cancel the visit but in view of the violent objections raised by the Jewish leaders this would have been an insult to German leaders and the president. President Reagan was obligated to fulfill his commitment. The whole affair, from the beginning has had the air of a gigantic hyped-up effort to demonstrate the power of a small segment of the American population and to show their ability to exercise influence over the government and the President. They were quickly joined by other groups who have only one thing in common - to harass the administration and obstruct anything and everything it tries to do. These groups include the ultra liberal, the radicals, terrorists and the pro-Communists. If these groups were really looking for atrocities to publicize they could find them without going back that far in time. Recent atrocities include Afghanistan, Salvador, Cambodia and elsewhere. Anything that happened in Europe four years ago included brutality. President Reagan deserves credit for his courage to carry out his proper course of action and praise for his patience and forbearance. G.A.

BIG MISTAKE

President Reagan is making the biggest political and moral mistake of his career in his stubborn insistence to visit Bitburg cemetery. The reconciliation he is talking about cannot possibly take place for many more years and only when there are no more living survivors of the Holocaust and no more living Nazi SS veterans. His attempt at this time has not only opened old wounds but has also, unfortunately, stirred up anti-semitism. His trip to Germany could have been celebrated by visiting a concentration camp and then the gravesite of the many Germans who died while fighting against Nazism. C.K.

LOYALTY

Everyone is complaining about President Reagan's visit to a German cemetery where there is a small number of SS dead buried. What about the other graves there? Why have these protestors singled out the small number and made a big issue? These same protestors are probably running to buy Japanese imports and rectifying it by telling us that American products don't live up to the Japanese quality. What about Pearl Harbor? Have all these supposed diehard Americans forgotten the Pacific atrocity? If these groups who so strongly protested President Reagan's visit to a German cemetery even down to the low level of demanding School Boards to take an active stand would stand up and be counted and Buy American then maybe they would be doing something useful besides stirring up public unrest. A.B.

TOO MUCH REVULSION

At this moment, President Reagan is in Germany and has declared his intention to follow through on his original plan to visit Bitburg and I applaud his decision. As to the wisdom of planning to include it in his itinerary in the first place, it would appear that his advisors failed to do their homework and to anticipate adverse reaction better. On the other hand, the flak it engendered was completely out of proportion to the fundamental aims President Reagan hoped to achieve in Germany i.e. a closer and more mutually beneficial relationship between our two nations. I was chagrined at the outpouring of revulsion in our country by critics who want to make sure that the Nazi crimes are perpetuated in the memory of mankind for all time. I am sure that the German people are acutely conscious of the holocaust and would give anything to be able to remove this page from their history. Today, like ourselves, they are a democratic society in every respect and deserve our support in full recognition of Chancellor Kohl's position and intelligent awareness. Notwithstanding the central issue, for individuals and groups to deliberately denigrate our President before the world on TV and in print was completely uncalled for and lacking in national pride and human understanding. P.G.S.

DISCOVERY

Travel, Despite Scary Headlines

By Jerome J. Niosi, Ph.D.

In 1935, an Argentinian hearing us chatting outside a movie theatre in Buenos Aires, approached and asked whether it would be safe for him to visit New York. He had read so many stories of gangland killings in American newspapers. We assured him that we had never seen any violence and that he would certainly be safe. Today, many reading about bombings, riots, coups, and hijackings are likewise reluctant to travel abroad. They would deny themselves the thrill of seeing those places often dreamed about: the Holy Land, the pyramids of Egypt, the great African game preserves.

Tourism is vital to the economies of most nations. Nothing will be done therefore to interfere with the proper conduct of organized tours directed by a local guide licensed by the Ministry of Tourism. Whether we shopped in Haiti's Kenskoff market in the mountains or walked in a compact group through Tangier's Casbah, we had no difficulty.

Traveling to some countries does seem foolhardy, but with pragmatic approaches, everyone can enjoy a visit to almost any place on earth. Consider a visit to the Middle East. My friend, retired Rabbi David Moseon simply stated his view: "In the United States," he declared, "we have secure borders but many cities are unstable. In Israel, they have unstable borders, but the cities are secure." Subsequently we enjoyed an inspirational visit to the Holy Land without incident. Portugal made the headlines sometime ago when the communists attempted to "seize power". Yet, in Lisbon, at the time, we saw fewer than 200 people "Rallying" in the public square. The shopkeeper selling us the rooster charm symbolic of his nation was unconcerned and dismissed the "rally" saying that the people would vote to keep the dissident out of office.

But to travel and enjoy it, one must follow directions. One imprudent traveler did not. He insisted on wandering into the Egyptian Casbah on his own and had to insure his safety by paying for an expensive and unnecessary shoe shine. Another couple who did not accept the admonition to consider Natrobi as he would New York, was mugged. In Palermo, a Chicago judge and his wife decided on an evening stroll just outside the first class Hotel Jolly. It was however, an area marked for upgrading and redevelopment. A young hoodlum approached and attempted to snatch her bag. She resisted and fell injuring her wrist. Her husband sought to assist. But the hoodlum's accomplice rode up on a motor cycle enabling both to escape.

London is especially blunt. "The Person Next to You May be a Pickpocket! Beware!" Despite the frequent warning, travelers are unprepared. To use the Underground, London sells a weekly pass which must be shown to each conductor. In a crowd, the location of one's wallet becomes common knowledge for the pickpockets who work in teams of two. The first obstructs the "pigeon" so that he must use both hands to hold the subway door open. At that moment the second seeks to steal the wallet. Fortunately, I had moved the wallet to a side trouser pocket and covered it with a bulky handkerchief. Frustrated, the pickpocket left the train at the next station. My recently cashed travelers' checks were safe, but my wallet went into a shirt pocket under a sweater after that.

Another traveler in Rome was less fortunate. In a hot crowded bus, he neatly draped his jacket over his arm. He lost his passport, travelers checks and airline tickets. He not only kept the American consul busy, but vowed never to return to Italy. Instead, he should have done what a Mexican doctor did.

On his way to a medical conference where considerable formality required a greater display of jewelry, the doctor prepared by asking his wife to sew pockets in a kind of underwear vest. Or he might have done what a seventy year old birdwatcher did. He had his wife sew zippers in all his trouser pockets. There is also the time tested money belt.

Other difficulties can be avoided by a careful regard for political sensibilities. One tour director, tired after an extremely long day, went to the movies where he promptly fell asleep. He was awakened and faced a jail sentence for "insulting the nation". He failed to stand for the national anthem which closed the theatre. Our Arab guide implored us not to give the Israeli customs agents a "hard time" during the impending inspection. As we crossed the Allenby bridge, there were cautionary signs: "Mines", "No Photographs!". At the customs station, the Israelis took three and a half hours to search every item in every bag. We were also required to snap the camera at least once to insure that it was not a detonator. The group consisted of forty-two Americans on a pilgrimage to visit the Holy Places chaperoned by two priests. There were incidents, but the old chaplain did grumble. "With friends like these who needs enemies."

Before entering Havana, an unusual privilege given to the Dutch luxury liner, Rotterdam, the Dutch representative admonished us not to talk politics. "The Cubans know," he said, "that their capital needs a painting, so don't rub it in". The 750 Americans going ashore said nothing, of course, but the Cubans kept us for three hours from the time they came aboard until we were permitted to tour their beautiful capital.

We did not appreciate this sensitivity in politics. In Hungary, for example, while driving to Lake Balaton, we asked about the Russian influence in that country since the defeat of the "freedom fighters". She did not respond. Later, she explained that she would not talk in front of the taxi driver.

The scariest moment occurred in Buenos Aires. We had been snapping pictures from the Sheraton Hotel to the handsome statue of Christopher Columbus. While focusing for a picture of the famous statue erected by the Italians of Argentina, three soldiers with machine guns left their post making incomprehensible gestures to us. Thinking that they wanted us to move across the street, we did. But the gestures became even more menacing. We explained that we wanted only to photograph the statue and showed them our passports. They remained adamant, so we moved with alacrity. In the hotel that evening, we learned that two generals had been assassinated the day before in retaliation for the thirty-seven extremely nervous and after all, the statue was in front of the Casa Rosada, the presidential palace.

Travelers yearn for those peaceful times when seeing foreign countries was easy. It never really was. Difficulties will always be present even if traveling were marked only by the normal inconveniences. But reasonable attention paid to instructions and procedures will go far towards increasing one's enjoyment of exotic places. But, in any case, never conclude that one must restrict one's self to the local shopping area, or provincial highlights. In the meantime, you might enjoy the following exhortation in accordance with the Lord's Prayer:

Heavenly Father, look down with favor on us your servants, who are doomed to travel this earth, taking photographs, mailing postcards, buying souvenirs, and walking around in drip-dry underwear

We beseech you, oh Lord, to see that our plane is not hijacked, our luggage is not lost and overweight baggage goes unnoticed. Protect us from surly and unscrupulous coach drivers, avaricious porters, unlicensed English-speaking tour directors.

Give us this day divine guidance in the selection of our hotels; that we may find our reservations honored; our rooms made up; hot water running from the faucets (if it is at all possible). We pray that the telephones work and that the operators speak our language, and that there is no mail from our children which would force us to cancel the rest of the trip.

Lead us, dear Lord, to good, inexpensive restaurants where the food is superb, the waiters friendly, and the wine is included in the meal.

Give us the wisdom to tip correctly in currencies we do not understand.

Forgive us for undertipping out of ignorance and overtipping out of fear.

Make the native love us for what we are and not for what we can contribute to their worldly goods.

Grant us the strength to visit the museums, the cathedrals, the palaces, and the places listed as "musts" in the guide books. And, if perchance, we skip an historic monument to take a nap after lunch, have mercy upon us for our flesh is weak.

And a special petition from the husbands:

Dear God, keep our wives from shopping sprees, and protect them from "bargains" they do not need or cannot afford.

Lead them not into temptation for they do know what they do.

And a special petition from the wives:

Almighty Father, keep our husbands from looking at foreign women and comparing them to us.

Save them from making fools of themselves in cafes and nightclubs.

Above all, do not forgive them for they know exactly what they do.

And a final petition from both:

And when our voyage is over and we return to our loved ones-- Grant us the favor of finding someone who will look at our home movies, listen to our stories, so our lives as tourists will not have been in vain.

This we ask in the names of Conrad Hilton, Trafalgar Tours, and American Express.

CONSISTENTLY GOOD

The John Peel room in the Island Inn is consistently a good restaurant. We have been there a number of times and have always found the food and decor especially enjoyable.

The menu at the John Peel room includes a complete dinner from appetizer through dessert. We had prime ribs there last Thursday and were particularly happy with the large portion of beef along with the fine ambiance of this restaurant. The service was attentive and prompt. As usual we had a good night at the John Peel room. B.R.

READER RATINGS

Q. Tipping has always bothered me. I know there are many facets to it but why do I have to tip at all?

J.C. A. The answer to this is obvious if you think about it. If you want any control at all over what type of service you are going to get you should be able to give more or less according to how you have been treated.

Many people may not know it but waiters generally get a very low wage scale, some below minimum wage because tips can be expected to balance to scale and they do depend on between a 15 percent and 20 percent tip to make the job worthwhile.

Q. This may be a little different but I wonder if you could determine what is the proper plate to use when serving salad during luncheon? I give luncheons on Saturday, as a rule and I don't have wooden bowls but I do have flat glass plates. Could you help?

A. While some stores may say that there is only one kind of dish for salad this is not really true. Wooden bowls are good because they keep the dressing from running out. But of late many restaurants use glass bowls and small plates for salad. So long as a plate has a center indentation it may be used for salad. It is simply a matter of preference.

INDIVIDUAL ATTENTION
 Edmund's Restaurant. In Garden City is a joy to visit. It is in such beautiful decor. But that would not be enough if the food was not good.
 This restaurant is different from any that we have ever gone into. All of the service is on a cart with your choice of three entrees or if you want, all three in one meal. The three in one is really unusual and it certainly saves you making a big decision. In addition, the meal includes salad and a vegetable.

 Edmund's is a great place to go when you feel that you want individual attention for yourself and guest. It has good food and an atmosphere to remember.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED
A restaurant I believe all of your readers would like is called the Aegean East. This restaurant in Hicksville has some of the most delectable food imaginable. Last week we went there and immensely enjoyed their shrimp scallop Aegean. This is a combination of the very freshest jumbo shrimp stuffed with a feta cheese in a light garlic sauce combined with scallops and zucchini. In addition to this delicious main course the $16.95 dinner also included soup, salad, fruit dessert and coffee. This restaurant is nicely decorated. It is located on Woodbury Road in Hicksville. Please recommend it to your readers. F.R.

ADDITIONAL DELIGHTS

People are beginning to appreciate tradition and that is probably the reason every time we go to the Milleridge Inn in Jericho we find so many people.

The Milleridge Inn is an adventure in itself. It is a beautifully polished old home with excellent food in the American tradition. You can get prime rib, lamb or excellent fish from the full menu any day and we have gone there many times and never been disappointed with the high quality of the food.

Then the Milleridge Village is a place to linger and look over the many things in the little shops that have been constructed nearby. We recommend the Milleridge Inn for those who want to go out and eat and savor some additional delights. J.T.

READER RATINGS

Should the man give the order to the waiter when he is with a woman?

For many years it had been customary for the man in his role as head of the table, to give the complete order to the waiter. Others in the party would relay the message to him and he would give it to the waiter. But recently the trend is away from this. The waiter will go around to the various diners and take their order directly. Besides the recent changes brought about by equality of the sexes, many waiters say that they would rather do it that way because it minimizes the possibility of mistakes which are in the long run expensive for the restaurant.

When do you need a reservation in a restaurant?

The answer to this question is not one that can be decided for all restaurants. But generally it is a smart move to phone the restaurant before going to it in the evening. In this way the closing times can be ascertained even if the restaurant says that you do not need a reservation. It is almost always necessary to phone a restaurant in the evening if you are bringing a party of more than four even to restaurants that do not normally require reservations.

Like the spring season's lithe, willowy models showing off the latest fashion designs, the new asparagus crop is out to impress the gastronomic world with its elegance, versatility and good taste. Though purists insist it should only be served steamed and dipped in melted butter, asparagus is versatile. Asparagus is good as a first course. When hot, it is fashionably dressed with hollandaise, mousseline and other butter-based sauces; when cold or at room temperature, it is smashing in vinaigrette or mustard-spiked mayonnaise.

tin dish, with sliced hard-boiled eggs on top. Pour sauce over them, leaving clear 1/4-inch at top of dish or sauce will boil over. Mix cheese and bread crumbs and scatter on top of sauce. Dribble melted butter evenly over them.

- ASPARAGUS POLONAISE
 4 lbs. asparagus
 1/4 cup clarified butter
 3 tbsps. freshly grated bread crumbs
 3 tbsps. grated hard-cooked egg yolk
 3 tbsps. grated hard-cooked egg white
 3 tbsps. minced parsley

- 4-6 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
 1/4 cup grated cheese (preferably Gruyere)
 1 heaping tbsp. bread crumbs
 2 tbsps. melted butter

Cook and drain asparagus. Melt butter in heavy pan, stir in flour and leave to bubble for moment or two. Add milk and asparagus water gradually to make smooth sauce. Simmer for 15 minutes or more, until sauce is thick. Chop ham, if used, and add to sauce with cream. Season with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Arrange asparagus in oval tray and put into hot oven, 425 F, for about 20 minutes until dish is bubbling and brown (final browning also can be done under broiler). Serves 4 to 6.

Steam asparagus until al dente. Arrange asparagus on buttered flame-proof dish. Heat butter in skillet. Mix remaining ingredients and add to butter. Saute for few minutes. Sprinkle over tips of asparagus. Run under broiler for few minutes, being careful not to burn.

- ASPARAGUS CHICKEN SALAD
 1/2 lb. fresh asparagus, cleaned and trimmed
 12 ozs. (2 1/2 cups) cooked chicken, cut into small chunks
 2 ozs. sliced almonds, toasted
 1/2 cup sour cream
 1/4 tsp. curry powder
 1/4 tsp. dry mustard
 1/4 tsp. onion powder
 1/2 tsp. salt
 Paprika for garnish
 1-2 tbsps. mayonnaise

- ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN
 1-2 lbs. asparagus
 2 generous tbsps. butter
 2 heaping tbsps. flour
 1 cup hot milk
 1 cup asparagus water
 2 slices cooked ham, optional
 1/4 cup cream
 Salt, pepper and nutmeg to taste

Blanch asparagus; chill. Cut into 1/2-inch pieces, reserving 6 smaller spears. Combine asparagus pieces, chicken and half of almonds. In small bowl, mix sour cream spices and salt. Stir sour cream into chicken mixture. Pack chicken into small (2- to 3-cup) casserole dish. Invert dish over dinner plate and allow "molded" salad to drop out. To finish, sprinkle paprika over top of salad. With small spatula, "frost" sides of salad with thin coating of mayonnaise. Lay reserved asparagus spears over top of salad. Press remaining almonds lightly onto sides. Serves 3 to 4.

Microwave Magic

By Desiree Vivea

Easy weekday breakfasts

For most of us breakfast is, at least five days out of seven, anything but a leisurely meal.

Sure, if you happen to be independently wealthy you may have Eggs Benedict sent up on a silver tray to nibble on as you peruse the day's entries in your social calendar. But for the teeming hordes, breakfast is a catch-as-catch-can affair.

Out of bed with the blaring beep of an electric alarm, a quick shower, the frenzied hunt for a pair of stockings without a run, another hunt through the closet for something clean and pressed and presentable. Brush the hair, brush the teeth — and if you're lucky, a few gulps of coffee and a slice of toast. Then the daily freeway battle and an onslaught of papers once you reach your desk. Sound familiar? Ugh!

For what most of us must go through during the busy morning hours, a bit of early-morning nutrition is in order. Even if it's your responsibility to get the rest of the family out the door in working order, try to set aside a few minutes for yourself, and down something more substantial than a multi-vitamin and black coffee.

Dieters often find breakfast the easiest meal to skip, but may find themselves losing steam by the time noon rolls around. And many of us simply don't have (or make) the time to worry about good nutrition in the rush to get the day started.

But nutritionists tell us that the ideal breakfast should account for about one-fourth of the day's calories, minerals, protein and vitamins. A simple meal supplying needed carbohydrates and protein will get you going, and keep you going until lunchtime.

Put your microwave to work and you'll find that weekday breakfasts don't have to be hectic. Following are several early-morning edibles that take just minutes to prepare. With a microwave, there's no excuse to cheat yourself out of the nutritious breakfast you deserve.

POACHED EGG FOR ONE

¼ cup water
½ tsp. vinegar
Dash each salt and pepper
1 egg

Pour water into small, deep bowl. Stir in vinegar and salt and pepper. Crack egg into water.

Cover loosely with wax paper and microwave 45 seconds. If white is not completely set, microwave another 15 to 30 seconds. Remove egg gently with slotted spoon and serve over toast.

Serves 1.

QUICKIE OATMEAL-IN-THE-BOWL

¼ cup quick-cooking oatmeal

¼ cup water
Pinch salt
1 tbsp. brown sugar or honey
Milk

Combine oatmeal, water and salt in glass serving bowl, stirring to blend.

Microwave 1½ minutes, stirring after 45 seconds. Remove from oven, stir again, cover, and let stand 2 minutes before serving.

Top with brown sugar or honey, and milk.

Serves 1.

WAFFLE IN-A-MINUTE

1 frozen waffle

To microwave waffle, place on serving plate and microwave 45 seconds, or until heated through. That's it!

Serve with butter and syrup or jam, if desired.

HONEY-GLAZED GRAPEFRUIT

1 medium-size grapefruit
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 tsp. honey
Dash cinnamon

Cut grapefruit in half and remove seeds. With sharp, serrated knife, separate grapefruit sections from membrane.

Top each half with equal amounts of butter and honey. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon.

Place fruit on serving plate and microwave 2½ minutes, or until heated through. (Recipe may be doubled. Microwave 3½ to 4 minutes.) Let stand 1 minute before serving.

Serves 1 to 2.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Mildew not easily defeated

Q. What can be done to keep condensation from forming and causing mildew? We live 3 miles from the coast and it seems we can't control this situation.

Last spring we wasted several hundred dollars having windows in our condo removed and installing thermal panes — this did no good. Many others in our complex are faced with this problem and we hoped that the thermal panes would be the answer for us all, but they failed. — LH

A. The air in coastal areas does contain more moisture than in other climates. In addition, we all create more moisture within our homes by activities such as cooking, showering and laundry.

When the moisture content in the air becomes too high within the home, it fosters mildew and results in sweating windows, walls, pipes and toilet tanks. This is caused by the condensation that always occurs when warm, moist air settles on cool surfaces.

When it is too moist, you must find a way to let the moist air escape (via fans, vents, etc.) or trap it in a dehumidifier, which performs a function opposite to that of a humidifier; that is, it takes the moisture out of the air.

The better insulated your home is, the more difficult it is for the warm moist air to escape. Your thermal windows are an insulating device that helps keep the warm air in and the cold air out. Unfortunately, they will not help your moisture problem when you need to find a way to let the warm air escape.

Q. We purchased a 5-year-old condominium two years ago and have had a problem with the threshold in the doorway.

This problem was not evident in the summertime, when we purchased this home from the builder. What can we do to remedy the situation and keep the threshold from buckling?

We have had to remove the strip on the bottom of the door and now we are getting a lot of cold air through the bottom. We have covered this area with rugs to try to keep out the cold.

When we complained to the builder, he sent a man here and all he did was hammer down the threshold. Since then, when it gets very cold, it buckles right up.

We cannot open or close the door, which we believe is dangerous in case of fire. We also are losing a lot of heat. Please tell us what can be done — J.J.K.

A. If your condominium is on the first floor, this could be caused by moisture getting under the concrete slab, and when cold weather comes, the freezing of moisture causes expansion, which causes the threshold to expand and buckle.

Check the drainage around the doorway and exterior walls of your home. Be sure that rain and melting snow are draining away from the foundation.

It might help to remove the wooden threshold and seal the concrete using a good masonry sealer, then replace the threshold.

Moisture is about the only thing I can think of that would cause this problem only when you have freezing weather.

ral relief whenever feasible.

I really appreciate your response to criticism from the Arthritis Foundation. Too often the American Medical Association and other medical organizations look askance at home remedies that often have long track records of success.

Here is some advice that may help anyone who has an ulcer as I do and is longing for a hot drink that will not upset the stomach. Take a cup of boiling water, add one or two teaspoons of honey to taste and stir just like tea.

Thank you again for all you do for the elderly and others as well. Don't back down, it's all too rare to find a sincere, direct person who speaks for people without condescension or who doesn't beat around the bush trying to please everyone. — Mrs. Diane G.

Dear Diane: there is another morning procedure that I know is helpful. Before eating anything, mix an ounce of pure lemon juice in a glass of water as hot as you can stand to drink it. It helps cure impurities out of the system.

Dear John: I enjoy reading your column, as it's very helpful. I have arthritis in my hands and someone told me to take vinegar and honey — it's really helped. My fingers are more limber and flexible.

I've taken one teaspoon of apple cider vinegar and one teaspoon of raw honey in a glass of hot water every morning a half hour before breakfast. Is it all right to continue this? I've been taking it for 10 years. — Lillian

Dear Lillian: If it does the job I'd say it's all right.

By Robert Wallace, E.D.

Dr. Wallace: I read in your column recently that you actually support the use of seat belts to help lower the number of traffic injuries and fatalities. I, too, have been told to "buckle-up" but I don't. Please allow me to explain my reason.

When my father was a young man he and a friend were buckled up when they were involved in a serious automobile accident. If my father's friend hadn't buckled up he probably would be alive today.

The automobile they were riding in exploded shortly after the accident occurred. My father's friend could not get his seat belt to unbuckle and was killed instantly in the explosion.

That's why I don't wear seat belts. — Rebecca

Rebecca: Indeed, your father's friend suffered a tragic fate, but that is no reason not to wear a seat belt. The young man died from an unusual circumstance. Call it a freak happening, if you will. Please let me change your mind.

In a 30-mph collision with a solid object, an unbelted driver or passenger slams into the windshield, the instrument panel or the steering wheel and column at a force more than 100 times the force of gravity.

Put another way, the unbelted occupant of a 30-mph vehicle crash hits the windshield or other interior surface of the vehicle with the same impact as a fall from a three-story building. Even the impact of a slower 10-mph crash is roughly equivalent to catching a 200-pound weight dropped from about 7 feet.

Unbelted riders holding a child on their laps in a 30-mph crash are thrown forward with the force of one and one-half tons.

The child would be crushed to death.

Safety belts help vehicle occupants "ride down" the force of the crash (the first collision) by holding them in place and preventing contact with either the interior of the vehicle or other occupants (the so-called second collision).

Rebecca, you are a reader of this column and that makes you extra-special to me. Please drop me a line and let me know you are buckling up. I care very much about you.

Dr. Wallace: Do you know of any agency that can help us find summer jobs in Europe? We don't care about the pay, we just want the opportunity and experience. — Tom & Bob,

TWEEN 12 & 20

Tom: Write to the Council for International Educational Exchange, 1093 Brixton Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., 90024.

The CIEE operates work-abroad programs for Britain, Ireland, France, Germany and New Zealand. The programs are open to students 18 and older.

Dr. Wallace: My parents are smokers and I'm doing my best to get them to stop. Actually, my mom has stopped three times but she always goes back. My dad has never stopped.

We were having a family discussion regarding nicotine last night and my dad thinks that once you smoke, the nicotine stays in your body for years.

Will you please find out how long it stays in your system after you quit smoking? It is important because if it leaves the system in a month or so, I might just be able to convince him to quit, and Mom to quit for good. — Bertha Bertha: You are a wise young daughter. Actually, nicotine leaves a system one week after the person stops smoking. If you can get your parents to stop smoking for one week, things will get easier. This is not to say they won't have to fight off cravings for cigarettes in the weeks after week one. But the cravings will become much weaker and less frequent.

Once the nicotine is gone, the cravings your parents will experience will be coming from their minds not their bodies. In other words, smoking is just a habit.

Dr. Wallace: My parents will not allow my sister and me to have a pet dog or cat because they are afraid it would bite us. Actually, our 2-year-old brother bites us more than any dog or cat would. Can you help us? — Debra Debra: According to Dr. Ellie Goldstein, a California bite specialist, human bites often transmit more bacteria than those from animals. The most dangerous bites are those from humans because they are the ones most likely to become infected.

Dog bites, however, are the most frequent bites that require treatment by a doctor. This number is over 1 million annually. Rabies is no longer a problem if pets are vaccinated against the disease.

Some breeds of dogs are bred to bite, but most dogs are gentle and seldom show their fangs. Show this answer to Mom and Dad. If

Tormented by burning sensation

Dear John: Do you know of any material that will help to ease the burning sensation all over my body that occurs only at night? I have to run a cool cloth over my body approximately every 2½ hours and then use Aspercreme and an ice bag (on knees and hips) to get any rest.

My doctor thought it might be due to a medication I was taking for arthritis pain so he changed the medication, but it did not alleviate the problem.

I am losing weight gradually since my arthritis is in the weight joints (hips and knees). X-rays of both knees indicate advanced arthritis in the right knee and mild symptoms in the left knee. I am taking physical therapy for this.

I just need help with arthritis pain and the problem with resting at night. Is there any relationship between the arthritis and this problem? I have been experiencing it only in the past month.

Enclosed find a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a contribution. Please send me a copy of the Certo and vinegar and honey formula. — Mrs. M.C.

P.S. Please rush. I know you must be a busy person, with all the assistance you are giving us.

Dear Mrs. M.C.: Regarding the burning at night, be sure you are sleeping next to cotton only — night clothes, etc. Also, avoid hot baths at night. Study the hints on arthritis. Who knows, you may get quick relief.

Dear John: For the man who wanted to know if there were any benefits available for people who worked on the railroad around asbestos, here are phone numbers that he can call toll-free to get the information he needs: 1-800-392-0620 or 1-800-231-3359.

These numbers are those of attorneys for people who worked for the railroad. — A retired worker

HOLY SPIRIT YOU WHO SOLVE
all problems, who light all roads, so that I can obtain my goals. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you ever in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say for 3 consecutive days after which the favor requested will be granted even if it appears difficult. This prayer must be published immediately. Thank you Holy Spirit. R.P. gcmy2

Children

By Willard Abraham Ph.D.

It's time to talk directly to "our children." Some of their situations are fascinating, maybe even traumatic. Let me try these out on you.

Q. I really think I'm adopted although my parents tell me that I'm not. I may be wrong, but my mother and father don't treat me like their own child. They are much better to my big brother. He gets everything he wants. (He's mean to me, too, by the way.)

How can I find out whether I'm adopted? Even though I look like my father and even walk like him, I still think he isn't really my father.

What do you think about this? A. Many children at one time or another have a feeling that they may be adopted. One reason is that parents don't always do for them and to them what the children themselves would like them to do. To add to that feeling is the thought that they often think others in the family are their parents' favorites. Sometimes it may be true, but most of the time it's not.

Parents have a hard time giving the impression to all of their children that they are receiving equal treatment. In fact, to be fair, the treatment should not be the same but, rather, based on the specific needs of an individual child. Because interests, hobbies and school performance vary from one child to the next, parents who try to be fair will attempt to adapt to their offspring's needs.

I obviously don't know whether you are adopted, but on the basis of your comments it seems safe to assume that your parents are telling you the truth.

Q. I am a teenage girl (15 years old), and instead of my mother writing to you about me, I'm writing about her. Is that OK with you? I hope so because I need help. The problem is her temper and the fact that she expects me to adapt to all of her crazy moods. There is just so satisfying her. Please don't tell me it is all because I'm a teenager and kids my age are hard to live with.

She's always had a temper, as far back as I can remember. If she isn't taking things out on me, it's on my kid brother or my dad. (How he has stood it for so many years I'll never understand.)

What can I do more than I am doing, like trying to please her and staying out of her way whenever possible?

Please help me if you can. A. Discussing this matter in detail with your father and also perhaps with some other close relative who loves your mother may be a place to begin. Another helpful contact might be your school counselor.

Out of these conversations may come the idea of your family all meeting together with a family counselor who may be able to get at the cause of conflicts among you, together with some possible remedies.

It's so difficult to deal with intricate family relationships without intimate information about all the people involved. The people close to and available to you may be able to help you cope with the situation.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Next Sunday will be Mother's Day, as you probably know. It is a time of course, that we are all thinking about our Moms. Aren't they great? Even the animal mothers are wonderful to their babies, it seems. I remember once watching a tiger with three young ones at the Bronx Zoo. The baby tigers were quite mischievous. They climbed all over their Mom, biting her at time. But she just sat there quietly, occasionally pushing one of them away when he became too naughty, but never hurting any of them. I couldn't help thinking that the mother tiger could have torn the little ones apart for annoying her. However, she remained patient and gentle!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Spaying is safe, smart

Q. We recently were given a mongrel female puppy by our neighbors. We anticipate that we never will want puppies from this dog.

What is involved in spaying a dog? At what age should she be spayed? Will spaying our dog make her more prone to be fat?

We want to do what is best for our dog.

A. Spaying probably is the most common surgical operation performed on pets. As commonly used, the word "spay" simply means the surgical removal of the female reproductive organs.

Most veterinarians remove both the ovaries and the uterus. This, of course, prevents the dog from ever being in season, eliminates the nuisance of the male's attention while she is in heat, prevents pregnancy and reduces the chance of developing some forms of cancer.

Although spays are quite routine and complications are few, this is major surgery. A general anesthetic is given. This may be an injectable anesthetic solution or a combination of an injectable and a gaseous anesthesia.

A small incision is made in the flank or along the abdominal midline. Usually the latter side is used and the incision is only 1 to 2 inches in length. The length of this incision is dependent upon the size and condition of the dog. The uterus and ovaries are removed through the incision and then the incision is sutured.

The whole procedure usually can be completed in 15 to 30 minutes. It usually is necessary for the dog to be hospitalized 24 to 48 hours following surgery.

The skin sutures usually are removed seven to 10 days following surgery. The dog should be observed frequently during this period to be certain that she is not chewing on the skin sutures.

The best age for spaying dogs is debatable. Many veterinarians insist on the bitch having at least one heat period prior to spaying. Others recommend that the animal have one litter. Many do not believe that it is necessary or advantageous for a dog to have one heat period or a litter prior to spaying.

Many believe the best age to spay dogs is approximately 6 months, regardless of whether the bitch has been in season or not. At 6 months of age the puppy is large enough to withstand a general anesthetic and young enough to heal rapidly and recover very quickly.

Any age dog can be spayed. Therefore if you choose to allow your dog to have a few litters, she can be spayed as an adult.

Many clients question whether spaying will alter their dog's personality or predispose her to being fat and lazy. There is no evidence in the veterinary literature to indicate that a personality change will occur following spaying. Once the dog fully recovers from the stress of surgery and hospitalization, her temperament and behavior should return to normal.

Spayed or not, dogs tend to gain weight as they age. Therefore your dog's food intake and exercise should be regulated to control her weight. Possible weight gain should not be a reason for not spaying your dog. The only reason for not spaying a female dog is to have puppies.

Once the decision is made not to mate her, she should be spayed or placed on an alternative birth control program. Your veterinarian can give you advice regarding your particular dog.
