To the Editor

3821 Sycamore Avenue Pasadena 10, California January 4, 1949

To The Editor

As always California's unrelenting weather, one of the big topics across the nation today 279 in Los Angeles, an all-time low for the city 21 feet in Pasadena. In the gutters, no hanging from dripping water faucets, leaking radiators, (including mine), a pall of smog hanging low over the nearby countryside from the orange and all-weather citrus groves where growers are frantically trying to save their million dollar crops, which are seriously threatened by the extreme cold.

Pasadena's day is past the beautiful Tournament of Roses Parade and the Rose Bowl football classic are things of the past, but then memories will linger for a long time. I have never had to fight as much traffic as the day after the parade when it seemed that everybody in the state and surrounding states were trying to get to see the Post Parade exhibit of the floats. There were license plates from several foreign countries and from every state of the United States.

It was a day when every Pasadena resident had at least 100 friends and half of them it seemed wanted to stay at your house over night to be on hand for the Parade.

I am sending you this Tournament of Roses Pictorial in hopes that it may be displayed at the offices of the Record so that the people of Northville may see and enjoy some of the beauty of this parade.

We hope that the residents of Northville had a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Sincerely yours,
 Mr. and Mrs. Art Sessions and Boys

Michigan's new bi-partisan government, led by its youthful new governor, G. Mennen Williams, is now in its first full week. The honeymoon is still on.

The governor's message to the legislature, delivered one week ago today, reflected Governor Williams' campaign pledges for the most part. He balanced urban interests of public housing, labor legislation and more liberal social security benefits with rural concerns over better highways and uniform grading and packaging of farm products.

While much of the governor's program will call for additional spending, there was recognition of this problem in the promise to submit a separate statement later on covering this "serious fiscal problem." In view of the voters' stand on continued diversion of state sales tax revenue, it appears a good bet that new taxes will be recommended as an alternative to otherwise inevitable deficit financing.

"I should like to invite this legislature to develop a Michigan seal of quality or some similar trade-mark which would be defined carefully, enforced rigidly by the Michigan Department of Agriculture and it would be advertised widely and enthusiastically."

By gaining consumer acceptance of known quality farm products from Michigan, state-financed advertising would enable Michigan growers, in the opinion of the governor, to compete favorably with food products from other states. And the Michigan food stake is not small, either. Governor Williams estimated the 1948 yield at 740 million dollars.

As to highway needs, Governor Williams reiterated a need for a "well-rounded, long-range road rehabilitation and safety program." He backed up recommendations of the Michigan Good Roads Federation which completed an 18-month engineering analysis last winter, entitled "Highway Needs in Michigan."

How would better roads be financed? The governor hedged on this question, stating that the legislature should "consider carefully the amount of additional highway funds necessary and the most equitable method of providing them." He said he would not approve any increases in taxes for highway purposes unless the taxes were part of a "complete" highway program which covered needed "reforms" and unless the taxes also were considered "along with the overall budget of the state."

Reflecting his primary interest in the welfare of urban industrial workers, the governor came out flatly for public-financed housing on a cooperative basis whereby local government, preferably municipalities, would work together with state and federal governments in providing adequate low-cost housing.

A separate message is to be submitted to the legislature later on, covering methods whereby such housing authority would be established and money made available to finance the housing units. That public housing, or government-financed homes, is state socialism is perhaps the biggest stumbling block to Governor Williams' proposal. However, President Truman has already advocated this on a national scale, and has added, for good measure, far more socialization than Governor Williams has sponsored to date.

The public-financed homes would accommodate approximately 60,000 persons, whereas the governor estimated Detroit's housing needs to be 120,000 family units with Washtenaw county (total) good for an additional 5,000 units.

"We are currently faced with the paradox of decreasing construction while population and demand for housing continue to grow," said Governor Williams. "Basically, this is caused by the fact that housing costs are far beyond the reach of those with the greatest needs, namely, the wage earner of moderate income with a wife and several small children."

Will the Republican majority in the state legislature go along with Governor Williams on this key measure, calling for more government participation in our economic life? On this issue, perhaps more than any other, Republican leaders will divide sharply. Governor Thomas E. Dewey, for example is sponsoring a big public housing program in New York State, while also advocating disability insurance for industrial workers. The conservative wing of the party condemns such tactics as "aping the New Deal" and believes the party should champion the cause of conservatism by holding the line for free enterprise.

As we have often pointed out, the record always speaks for itself.

And the Michigan record of bi-partisan government is now in the making.

Uncle Sam Says

Farming is a combination of a business and a home. And you farmers realize that a well-managed business must maintain a financial reserve as security against future needs and emergencies. This reserve is built up during the good years, like this one, when many crops are the biggest in history. It must be in the safest possible form and always available. Nothing meets these requirements so well as U. S. Savings Bonds. You know that Savings Bonds provide more security than cash because they will be replaced if lost or stolen and they also bear interest, paying $4 for every $3 invested, in ten years.

Babson Discusses Causes of Fires

Babson Discusses Fires
Last year U. S. property was destroyed by needless fires amounting to $700,000,000. In addition about 15,000 people lost their lives. Property can be replaced but lives cannot be. Be sure that this year 1949 your house is not burnt with you in it. All who lost their lives last year could be alive and happy today.

Causes of Fires
About 25% of the fires are due to smoking—mostly cigarette smoking. About 20% are due to defective wiring, overloading present wires and misuse of flexible cords. 15% of the fires are set while the balance are due to various causes. These mostly could be classified as carelessness and bad house-keeping.

It is also interesting to note that most fires start in basements of homes, factories and stores. If basements were kept clean, the total fire loss could be reduced 30%. Closets and attics are also a source of danger. I hope each reader of this column will start 1949 by giving his basement attic and closets a good cleaning out. Don't be afraid to throw stuff away!

Back Your Firemen

Considering the tremendous loss stated above, you at first think that the fire departments have been lax and inefficient. This is not so. I believe that the fire departments of our cities are the most efficient of all city departments. Just think—if it were not for your fire department your entire city would be in ashes.

Also remember that ALL fires are ultimately extinguished by the fire departments before the loss amounts to $500. This is pretty good and usually is due to someone quickly pulling a little red fire alarm box. In fact, there never was a fire (unless caused by explosion) which could not have been extinguished by one bucket of water if discovered in time.

Listen To Your Fire Chief

When your city council or selectmen ask the advice of their Health or Legal Department or Building Inspector they act upon the advice. When, however, the Fire Chief asks for new equipment or more fire alarm boxes, he is partly given the brush off. This is wrong.

Fire Chiefs know what is best for their city and the taxpayers. Hence all their requests for appropriations should be granted, including recommendations for salary increases. Considering their responsibilities, the firemen and their Chief are the poorest paid of all city employees. Your Fire Chief is your best friend.

Suggestions To Readers

The best kind of fire protection is a sprinkler system connected with the fire alarm system. Another less expensive but very efficient system, is the so-called "Vigalarm Rate-of-Rise" system, connected with the fire department. This does not extinguish the fire as do sprinklers but it automatically calls the fire department before the fire gets underway.

For most buildings, either of the above systems is perfect protection. For a tenant in a block of stores it is only partial protection. He may do all he can to protect his store, but if a restaurant is next door without protection, then the careful storekeeper is handicapped. Legislation should be enacted so when the majority of the property owners of any city block want sprinkler or automatic protection, all the property owners in this block must join.

Fire Alarm Boxes

The little red fire alarm box on the corner of your street is also a friend of yours. And be sure that there is a box at each corner so that which ever way you or some passer-by runs, he will quickly find a box to pull. This is especially important as so many fires start when no one is in the home, store or building and the Fire Chief is dependent upon a passer-by.

To depend upon a telephone is dangerous. In the excitement the telephone operator or the fire department often misunderstands the correct address. Too many street names sound alike and too many excited women, telephone only "Come quickly my house is on fire", without giving any address!

Although Farmers' cash receipts for 1948 indicate slightly higher returns than last year, production expenses are up even more. Greater production on crops in general took up the slack resulting from lower average prices.

Farmers May Secure Seasonal Labor Plans

Farmers in this area can secure a special bulletin on seasonal and year-round labor, housing plans and ideas. Farmers who are anticipating Lithuanian D. P. Workers' and seasonal harvest workers in 1949 will undoubtedly find this bulletin valuable in planning, remodeling or building new structures for year-round or seasonal workers.

Numerous farmers in the past have expressed the belief that good housing means for good satisfied farm labor.

This bulletin may be secured free of charge by writing John R. Vloch, Farm Labor Specialist for this area. Mr. Vloch also reports that he now has on file a good number of experienced high caliber married men for farm jobs. Farm operators who are in need of good year-round men for farm work should contact him immediately.

To obtain Housing bulletin or information on a good year-round farm worker call him at Wayne 3725 or write Michigan State Employment Service, 3139 N. Washington St., Wayne, Michigan.

Clipping cows to remove the long hair on the flanks, udder, underline, tail and rear legs of dairy animals is an inexpensive step toward producing clean, wholesome milk according to Dr. Earl Weaver, head of the Michigan State college dairy department.

DEAR FRIENDS:—

We are very happy to announce that all of the Pocahontas coal that we are delivering now is WHITE OAK COAL, and will be White Oak from now on, and nothing else.

This we are sorry to say has not been true in the past. We have had to buy other coals to keep folks warm and those other coals have not been up to White Oaks high standard of high heat and low ash.

Order a ton today and notice the difference—we have—Egg, Stove and Nut sizes in stock.

Very truly yours,

Martino-Pennino Vows Read Jan. 5

At a nuptial mass in Our Lady of Victory Church last Wednesday at 10 o'clock, Julia Martino, daughter of Mrs. Rose Martino, and the late Tony Martino, was united in marriage to Geno Pennino of Lansing.

Father Wood read the single service before the altar which was decorated with ferns and baby mums. Mrs. Jennison presided at the organ and Mrs. Pete Spagnuolo sang.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Jim

Spagnuolo, wore a lovely gown of white satin which was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and trimmed in seed pearls. A peplum at the hipline and short train completed the gown's design. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a beaded tulle and she carried white roses centered with two orchids.

Mrs. Frank Fabiano of Lansing was maid of honor and she wore a gown of ecru crepe with a matching feather headpiece. Yellow roses made up her bouquet.

Rosemary Florio and Mary Reda were bridesmaids. They wore the flower girls. Both wore ecru gowns with matching headpieces and they carried small colonial bouquets.

Best man for the bridegroom was Frank Fabiano of Lansing and Joe and Pete Spagnuolo, cousins of the bride acted as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast and reception for 150 persons was held at the Veterans' Memorial Hall. Guests were present from Saginaw, Flint, Pontiac, Detroit, Bloomfield Hills, Holland, Pontiac and Denville, Colorado.

For going a day, the bride chose a green tulle and black accessories green topcoat, and an orchid corsage. The newly weds will honeymoon in Northern Michigan after January 19 they will be at home to their friends in Lansing where the bridegroom is in business.

"Will this college give me the courses I want?" A program has been arranged based on questions asked at the summer conference meetings.

It's Time to Read "THE BIG FISHERMAN"

Only the man who wrote THE ROBE could have written THE Big Fisherman. It is the story of Peter from Galilee which was the crossroads of the world, warring then as now. It accounts for the 5,000-year-old feud between the Arabians and the Jews. It is a daring book for in it Jesus is the central figure. Enjoy the thrill that Peter and Paul felt as they spread Christianity from the Shores of Galilee to Rome. by Lloyd C. Douglas. Now $3.75.

"CRUSADE IN EUROPE"

by Dwight D. Eisenhower. Here is the single most important record of World War II... and written by the single most important military figure of that war. Through his eyes you can now see and live through the whole gigantic drama of the war—the strategy, the battles, the moments of fateful decision. It is a monument among books of current history. $5.00

"I CHOOSE FREEDOM"

by Victor Kravchenko, the former head of all pipe manufacturing in Russia—the head engineer sent to America to supervise Lend-Lease materials. Here is the frank, amazing document that reveals his parents, his own personal and political life in Russia—and why he walked out of the Russian regime. He tells top secrets of the Stalin regime in a way that Americans need to know—IF they wish to understand Russia. He has been and is now of outstanding help to our state department in trying to figure out the Russian moves. The "unknown" Russia opens to those who read "I Choose Freedom" Only $1.49

Company Improves Side Delivery Rake

Completely Engineered For Power Operations

A new side-delivery rake, engineered from the ground up for power take-off raking and tedding, and completely designed for mechanized farming is now in production.

Manufacturers declare that a "history of the side-delivery rake, which is the machine you see piling up long rows of hay, straw and other crops for baling, shows that there has been little or no change in the machine since the advent of the tractor. It is the first all-new rake in 50 years."

Exclusive features of the rake are the floating reel and basket which permits use of the full length of the 64 pairs of raking teeth at all times and a positive chain pitch control which changes the angle of the teeth for different raking conditions.

Two speeds forward and one speed for tedding, or reverse raking, permit the operation of the

First change in the mechanized side-delivery farm rake since the advent of the tractor is shown here. It has been engineered anew from the ground up and has floating reel and basket, rake at high tractor speeds. The four-bar reel is V-belt powered from the chain-driven power take-off.

The rake is this manufacturer's third contribution toward complete mechanization of haymaking. A first one man twin-tying pickup baler produced commercially, and the new sickle binder already have cut huge chunks from the farmer's haymaking schedule.

Support for Bossy

This scantily-clad bovine beauty attracted well whistles at the second annual National Farm show in Chicago by appearing in a newly designed under support. The novel "unmentionable" is said by the manufacturer to increase a cow's milk yield by 35 per cent.

New Animal-Repellent Will Lessen Free Meals

Animal wildlife will find free lunches fewer and farther between next year. A new product developed by the B. F. Goodrich chemical company and tested by the state of Maine fish and game department at its Swan Island wildlife refuge, may be just what farmers have been seeking.

At Swan Island, the new material has been sprayed on leafy crops by biologists who observe that it will not wash off and that a deer, after nipping at the treated leaves, will turn up his nose at future free meals. Certain types of insects also are discouraged by the action of the repellent, researchers revealed.

Crop damage by razing wild deer runs in excess of $150,000 annually in some districts of Maine and amounts to millions nationally. The search for satisfactory repellents has been a major project.

Beef Cattle Reported Liking Citrus Molasses

Beef cattle really go for citrus molasses.

Cattle having access to this feed not only have shown no hesitation about lapping it up from troughs, but have seemed to prefer it.

Cattlemen feeding the molasses are using a combination of trough and drum molasses for making the material available to their animals. The trough used is 30 inches wide and about 12 feet long.

You know, you'll never get that "dizzy" feeling from doing too many turns.

Management in the making

This young man is a telephone cable splicer. Some day he may be president of Michigan Bell. That's the way it works in the telephone business.
 Those who are top executives of the company today started at the bottom. At each step up through the ranks, they prepared themselves for bigger responsibilities.
 It's a telephone company policy to make promotions, on the basis of merit, from within the ranks of its own experienced employees. Management and the employees of the company, then, are simply the same people at different stages of their telephone careers.
 Knowing of the opportunities which exist in the telephone company encourages Michigan Bell people to do the best job they know how to do. And that, in turn, goes a long way toward assuring you good service at low cost.

New lamp bulbs for old...
 another EXTRA Edison Service

It never fails to amaze newcomers to Detroit and Southeastern Michigan! Without extra charge, we will exchange your burnt-out incandescent lamp bulbs for new ones. You can trade in larger bulbs for smaller—or smaller ones for a larger size. Just bring your old bulbs, along with a recent Edison bill for quick identification, to any Edison customer office.

Then, too, we will replace any frayed or worn-out appliance cord you have in your home with a brand-new one—also at no extra charge.

For more than forty years, Detroit Edison customers have used these extra services. They will help you get the most out of all the electricity you use.

Dondero Remarks On Truman's Talk

Congressman George A. Dondero, in commenting on the President's message on "The State of the Union," stated:

"Some of the President's proposals are reasonable and praiseworthy. I can endorse a broadened Social Security, old age assistance, a cooperative foreign policy, and adequate national defense.

"The other recommendations of the message present inconsistencies which cannot be reconciled. If the President had put a price tag on his proposals, it would make the American people gasp.

"He went beyond campaign speeches and pledges. Private enterprise was praised as the basis of America's greatness, and then he called for complete regimentation and control even the continuation of basic industries under the guise of loans."

"He attacked inflation and high prices and then demanded increases in taxes and greater spending which would cause inflation. Such a program means wages, life insurance policies, and savings would be worthless, if not destroyed.

"He requested that the Taft-Hartley Labor Law be repealed, then advocated revival of the Taft-Hartley Act, such as jurisdictional strike and secondary boycott provisions.

"He evidently believes in public ownership and socialism as against the free competitive enterprise system and private ownership which have given our people more of the good things of life than any other people on earth.

"This is a new and terrible philosophy for America, which

New Chevrolet To Be Displayed January 22

Chevrolet's 1949 passenger cars, completely restyled and possessing more mechanical improvements than any model within recent years, go on display at dealer showrooms here Saturday, January 22.

The automobile is the product of three years of engineering research and design development begun immediately after V-J Day, experimental work has included 1,068,000 miles of test driving over the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground and arid highways of the southwest.

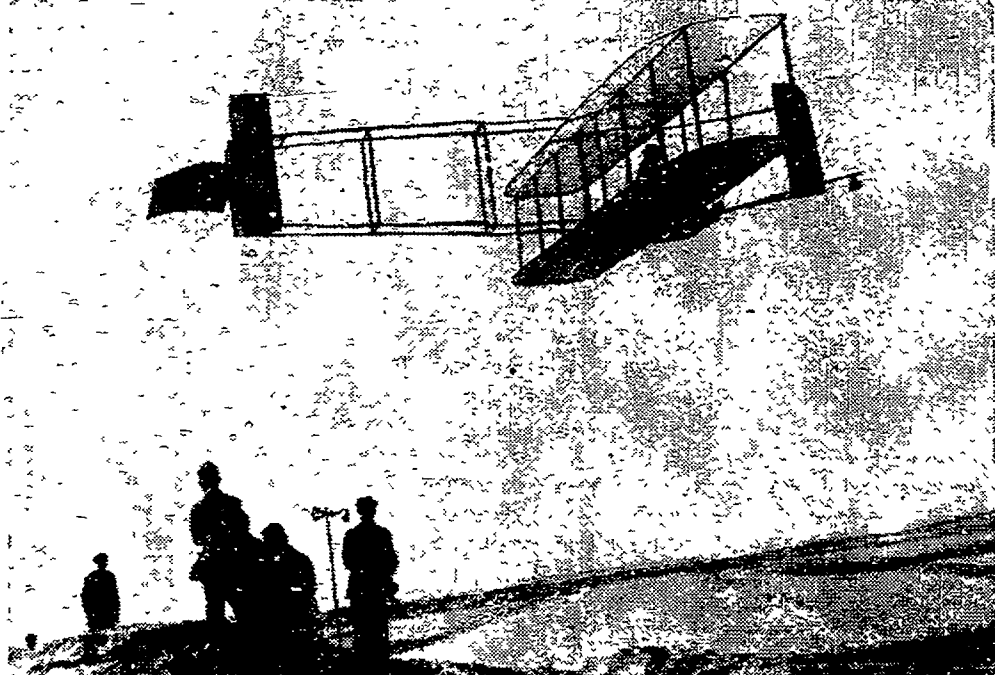

The local showing will be held simultaneously with displays in other cities and is expected to draw one of the biggest crowds in the history of events of its kind.

"From inquiries at car offices and dealer showrooms, we know that literally millions are waiting to see the car," said T. H. Keating, general sales manager. "Chevrolet's solid reputation for value and reports of impressive new features have kindled a nationwide interest.

"We do not believe the public will be disappointed. While the car carries numerous comfort and convenience advances, it maintains our tradition of rugged, reliable transportation at the lowest possible cost."

Orville Petre is the Junior Rotarian for the month of January.

Good ventilation and a temperature of about 50 degrees Fahrenheit help to keep stabled cows in good health and in high production.

WRIGHT FLIGHT . . . On December 17, the 45th anniversary of the first airplane flight was observed at Kill Devil Hill, N. C., site of the Wright brothers' experiments. But what most people don't know is that the Wrights were pioneer and expert gliders. This rare picture was taken in 1911 at Kill Devil Hill and shows Orville Wright testing out a "new" design for his plane while spectators dot the dunes. On this flight, Orville Wright broke the world's gliding record by staying aloft nine minutes and 45 seconds, a record which lasted 10 years.

Conservation Notes

Catching clams is a dangerous business—for a water snake. Acting on a report of a little monstrously clattering a local beach in Jackson county, conservation officer Isaac Peabody spotted the lifeless form of a large water snake clamped over the head of the snake was the victorious fresh water clam.

Conservation officers are calling the attention of ice fishermen to the law requiring that all shanties must be marked with owners' names and addresses. The law states "All structures and shelters placed or used on the ice shall be identified, on outside with name and address of owner in letters of insubstantial material not less than two inches high to be readily seen. All such structures shall be removed before ice conditions become unsafe."

Under the law the department may remove and store or destroy such structures and assures the costs of same to owner in addition to penalties which may be assessed for violation.

Court convictions in better than 57 per cent of the conservation law violations during November are reported by the conservation department.

Of the 1311 violators arrested, mostly for deer hunting offenses, 111 received jail sentences. Fines meted out to offenders amounted to $24,191. Court costs totaled $9,113.

Public fishing sites purchased and made available to fishermen who do not have access to the more crowded southern Michigan lakes, can be used by ice anglers as well as their summer brethren, reminds the conservation department.

Fishermen using these sites are expected to be good sportsmen and keep the grounds free of debris.

A closer inspection of small game license stubs would have saved 200 hunters some trouble and postage. Nearly eight percent of the hunters turning in their report cards to the conservation department so far have glued stamps over metered postage imprints.

While the department has no prize to offer sportsmen turning in their stubs, it has made things easier for them to comply with the game law by providing free postage. Small game license stubs are to be returned by February even though the hunter was unsuccessful.

Brood sow rations containing as much as one-fourth of alfalfa hay or meal are being recommended by some veterinarians as a means of curbing losses of baby pigs.

Electric Cleaners Safe for New Rugs

If you're one of the homemakers who believes that no electric cleaner should ever touch a new rug or carpet—here's news for you.

You can use a cleaner on your rug from the very first moment it's laid on your floor. There will be no ill effects advises Ruth Peck, Michigan State college home economist. This information is based on recommendations from the American Institute of Carpet Manufacturers who have good reasons to want you to be satisfied with the wear your rug gives you.

A new rug or carpet will "fluff" to a certain extent because there are short fibers left in the pile when the yarn is cut. These gradually work loose, but this does not injure the life or quality of your rug. It will stop as soon as the loose fibers have been removed.

Occasionally during the early life of your rug or carpet a tuft may protrude above the surface. Never try to pull the tuft out, as you may injure the fabric. Instead, clip the tuft close to the pile, with sharp shears.

Your new rug or carpet may also have a spot where several tufts are missing. Tufts may be damaged or removed in service. When this happens, and when the areas are small, the tufts may be replaced by sewing in the proper colored yarns. The store from which you purchased the rug will be glad to help you with this problem.

Carpets frequently receive much wear in one or two spots, such as in front of a favorite chair or near a doorway. While a carpet is new, plan to protect it against such localized wear. Use scatter rugs or reverse the rug in the room.

Progress Made in Rural Phone Areas

"Substantial progress" was made in the development of telephone service in rural areas during 1948 according to Bert H. Brandt, head of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's farm program.

Approximately 23,000 farm families were provided service last year. This brings the total number of telephones in service in the company's rural areas to 142,000—an all-time high.

Since V-J Day, Michigan Bell has installed 63,000 new rural telephones. Total rural development, as a result, has jumped from 57 telephones per 100 establishments before the war to 70 today.

This achievement was made possible through an unprecedented rural line construction program which included the setting of 50,000 new poles and the stringing of 30,000 additional miles of wire.

The quality of rural service also has been raised, said Brandt. "On most of our lines, the number of subscribers has been reduced to the normal objective of eight or less. The average is seven customers per rural line."

"Also, more than 7,500 rural telephones have been changed from crank-the-handle to dial or lift-the-receiver operation."

Brandt said demand for telephones by farmers, still was at a high level with 10,000 on the waiting list. He pointed out, though, that the waiting period for new service now is considerably shorter than it was.

"We fully realize that much has to be done before telephones are available to the maximum possible number of farmers," said Brandt. "Our rate of growth in rural areas is greater, proportionately, than in urban areas. Telephone service now is within reach of 85 per cent of all rural establishments in our territory without any construction charge.

"While we can't build everywhere at the same time, we do everything in our power to provide service to all who want it as soon as possible," Brandt said.
