UNESCO VACANCY

SPECIAL FUND APPOINTMENT

1. Title of post.—Evaluation Specialist (Functional Literacy).

2. Location.—New Delhi, India.

3. Background and functions.—The United Nations Development Programme (Special Fund) has approved preliminary operations for a project for Assistance to the Government of India in the field of Farmer Training and Functional Literacy. The Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations has been designated as Participating and Executing Agency for the project with Unesco as Participating Agency.

During the last 2 or 3 years there has been a remarkable agricultural development in India. This is the cumulative achievement of years of effort. The farmers are now keen to use new farm technology and particularly the High Yielding Varieties seeds as their usefulness has been amply demonstrated. Comparatively higher agricultural prices have also motivated the farmers to seek a breakthrough from the old subsistence economy.

The Government of India has introduced a phased High Yielding Varieties Programme which until 1970-71 will cover an aggregate of 32 million acres, cultivated by 5 million farm families. The programme provides for comprehensive farmers' training, comprising appropriate water application, land management, tillage, fertilization, disease and weed control. Only literate farmers can make utmost use of the agricultural inputs and the farmers' training. They need literacy of a type which will enable them to solve farm and home problems in the context of agricultural changes referred to above. The programme provides for functional literacy instruction, group discussions, radio broadcasts, demonstration camps and short and medium duration courses.

The functional literacy component.—The functional literacy programme is being taken up in 3 districts in 1967-68, 10 in 1968-69, 75 in 1969-70 and 100 in 1970-71. Each district is to have 60 literacy centres; each centre will organize two six-month courses during a year for batches of about 30 participants.

The functional literacy programme will use a new type of primer and other reading materials based on farmers' interest, word lists and project agricultural developments.

Evaluation.—Evaluation is conceived as a built-in programme of great importance. The project will have two international evaluation experts—one for functional literacy and another for farmers' training.

The evaluation specialist (functional literacy) will work with national evaluation experts and will be responsible for measuring—to the extent possible—the impact of functional literacy on agricultural productivity. The literacy inputs will have to be analysed and studied in relation to the achievements. A comparative study of alternative methods and media in education will be necessary. The following will be the functions of the evaluation specialist (functional literacy):

(1) Under the general supervision of the Project Manager, to plan, organize, supervise and conduct continuing evaluation of the functional literacy programme in conformity with the methods and procedures laid down in the guide and the other documents prepared or supplied by the Unesco Secretariat from time to time.

(2) To co-operate very closely with the national evaluation staff, the evaluation specialist (farmers' training), other international experts working for the experimental project and international experts in similar projects in the area.

(3) To maintain close relationships with research and evaluation organizations in the country and to obtain their co-operation as needed from time to time for the evaluation of functional literacy and for any specific research studies in the field.

(4) To assist the international team of experts, national counterparts, etc., in collecting and interpreting data for programme planning, curriculum construction, material preparation, teacher trainings, etc.

(5) To offer needed guidance and assistance to the Project Manager, the National Director of the Project, the national evaluation team and the staff entrusted with duties and responsibilities for evaluation, and thereby to ensure an effective evaluation functional literacy.

(6) To help the national evaluation unit in improving competencies in research and evaluation.
