DirectEmployers serves as a nonprofit member-owned and managed association focused on providing its 1000+ members with simple solutions to OFCCP compliance and recruitment marketing challenges. The Association's propriety technology powers a federal contract compliance solution aimed at assisting contractors in fulfilling VEVRAA Mandatory Job Listing requirements as set by the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP). The core of DirectEmployers remains rooted in OFCCP compliance, but in recent years has expanded significantly to include one-stop shop solutions focused on OFCCP compliance job packs, Affirmative Action planning and development, on-demand learning, and recruitment marketing. The organization's wholly-owned subsidiary, Recruit Rooster, manages the organization's recruitment marketing component by providing boldly branded career sites, creative services, accessibility audits, and, most recently, a compliance-based Talent Community to the line-up of service offerings. FEDERAL APPLICATION TIPS UNDERSTANDING the RESUME REVIEW PROCESS

The hiring agency (U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service) will start reviewing applications once the job announcement closes. Human Resources (HR) will review your application to make sure you are eligible and meet all the job qualifications, and will place applicants into quality categories: Not qualified, Minimally qualified, Highest qualified, etc. You are ranked into these categories based on the duration and the degree of experience that your résumé demonstrates in the competencies identified in the vacancy announcement and applicant questionnaire.

After HR reviews all applications, they send the highest qualified applicants to the hiring official—these applicants will see a Referred status in their application status. All other applicants (not being considered) will see a Not Referred status.

The hiring official will review the “highest qualified” applications and select applicants to interview based on agency policy. The hiring manager will contact applicants to schedule interviews, which can include a panel, in-person interviews, phone interviews, and multiple rounds of interviews (e.g. a phone interview then an in-person interview).
