ODOT looking for plow drivers

Snow and ice may not be top of mind for most Ohioans in October, but that's not the case at the Ohio Department of Transportation. ODOT is prepping equipment for the upcoming winter season and looking to fill around 500 seasonal plow driver positions.

ODOT has more than 3,300 drivers who often work 12 hour shifts during snow events. While most are full-time drivers, ODOT also uses auxiliary drivers. These auxiliary drivers are ODOT employees who normally do other tasks and only plow snow when needed. A third group of drivers are hired seasonally.

"Like every other employer right now, we are struggling to find qualified workers to fill these positions this year," said ODOT Director Jack Marchbanks. "We're doing everything we can to recruit the help we need to supplement our winter operations, but we do have concerns about finding drivers and mechanics in this challenging job market.'

ODOT's goal is to have primary routes back up to speed within two hours and secondary routes within four hours of the end of a snow event. Crews hit that goal 95 percent of the time last winter. If ODOT is unable to fill enough of the open seasonal positions that goal might be tougher to hit this winter.

"Our men and women take great pride in ensuring you have the safest conditions possible to get where you need to go and that will never change. What might, unfortunately, change is the speed with which we're able to accomplish that important task," said Marchbanks.

While the department continues efforts to recruit plow drivers, nearly 300 mechanics are busy doing 150-point checks on everything from the plow blade to the salt spinner of each truck in the fleet. These checks are done now so that any repairs can be made before the snow starts flying and the trucks hit the road. In addition to trucks and manpower, ODOT is ready for this winter with more than 770,000 tons of salt on hand.

Last winter, crews drove 9.1 million miles using 759,866 tons of salt and 20.6 million gallons of liquid deicers. A total of 46 plow trucks were struck, underscoring the importance for drivers to give plow trucks plenty of room to work.

Land-use seminar wins award in Wayne County

The Land Use Actions for the Future of Our County seminar that took place in Wayne County in fall 2020 received a County Activities of Excellence Award from the American Farm Bureau Federation. The prize is a grant to send participants from Wayne County to the 2022 American Farm Bureau Annual Convention and Trade Show in Atlanta.

The Wavne County Farm Bureau has long acknowledged land-use planning is important to maintain a strong agricultural presence and a diversity of food processing and manufacturing in the community. However, it was in 2016 the WCFB first passed a formal policy supporting balanced land use, with an emphasis on revitalizing interest in helpful programs such as Agricultural Security Areas.

Then the WCFB increased its participation in county land-use planning during the county's comprehensive planning process in 2019, which included a listening session organized by the county Farm Bureau. The Wayne Onward Plan was adopted by the county in November 2019.

Motivated by the completion of the county comprehensive plan, an ad hoc group of partners in the county wanted to organize a workshop to bring together a wider range of partners around balanced land use. A steering committee was created to inspire collaboration around balanced land use, engage new stakeholders, and spur new dialogue and partnerships.

The steering committee partnership included Brian Gwin, Melinda Hill, Steve Lyon and Shoshanah Inwood of the Ohio State University; Elizabeth Schuster of Sustainable Economies Consulting LLC; Lindsay Shoup of Wayne County Farm Bureau; and Pete Wearstler of Wayne County Planning. The workshop was partially funded by a grant from Ohio ers who in many cases had State University's Initiative for Food and AgriCultural Transformation.

The steering committee planned a workshop titled Land Use Actions for the Future of Our County, which was slated to take place March 13, 2020, but the in-person event ended up being canceled. The event was converted to a virtual, four-part seminar series that took place September through December 2020. The steering committee selected a diverse group of 16 speakers to represent various land-use types farmland, economic development, housing and more — and various entities such as government, nonprofit, academic, et cetera.

"I really enjoyed being a part of the steering committee. Balanced land-use planning is such a complex topic. It was a great opportunity to work with this group of thought leaders to brainstorm ways to help maintain our quality of life through land-use planning," said Schuster, the chair of the steering committee.

The seminar series was considered a success with about 50-80 participants registering for each session. The attendees included a diverse group of stakehold-not worked together previously. Overall, the feedback was positive and suggested there is interest in continuing these discussions through a variety of formats in the future to develop shared solutions to the county's biggest land-use challenges.

'The WCFB was heavily involved in planning the event. We promoted the event to our Farm Bureau members and also shared with them the recordings of the event in our countv newsletter, email and social media. Also, Roger Baker is a Wayne County farmer and a member of the Ohio Farm Bureau Board of Trustees. He was invited to give the opening remarks for the first seminar in the series, and it was exciting to see the positive response and how much interest the audience had in the topic," said Lindsay Shoup, WCFB executive director.

A team from Wayne County will travel to the 2022 American Farm Bureau Annual Convention and Trade Show Jan. 17-22. Again this year, Ohio had more winners than any other state for the County Activities of Excellence

COVER STORY UPPORT FOR TERANS n crisis

By Adam Cook

he biggest battle for many veterans comes after giving their all for their country and comrades in arms.

Lock, stock and barrel, veterans sacrifice their needs for the sake of the mission. True to their unflinching nature — and tough-as-nails training — far too many veterans minimize their mental health when the mission ends.

After triumphing against seemingly insurmountable odds and suffering untold losses, civilian life can seem like small potatoes to them.

Still, the stresses of everyday problems pile up, and digging deeper would reveal depression and anxiety growing beneath the surface.

When veterans fail to confront their mental health, it's at their peril. While the war is far away, the stakes at home are as deadly as those they faced abroad.

Veterans with post-traumatic stress disorder have intense, disturbing thoughts related to their wartime experiences long after they've returned home.

According to a 2019 Veterans Affairs report, veterans are 1 1/2 times more likely to commit suicide than nonveterans. To put it another way, veterans make up about 8% of the U.S. population but account for 14% of the country's suicides.

Save22, a nonprofit organization founded in Carrollton, seeks one sailor, one marine, one airman, one guardian at a time.

Save22's awareness campaign lets veterans know they're not alone and gives many a place to land.

"We saw the toolbox in August at our franchisee conference in Orlando. met the designer, and right then and there decided this was an opportunity to support Save 22 and get money to our veterans."

Veterans find the camaraderie they're missing through leisure programs like golf outings and fishing trips, quieting the demon Save22.vet introduces as Damian, which represents the battles veterans fight within themselves on a daily basis. "Damian" has been programmed into their way of life, making them feel anxious, angry, alone and even violent.

"It has carsized tires, so a pit crew can wheel it where they need it. It's got outriggers that come down, and the crew can stand or sit up on top of the toolbox and watch the car run.'

The EUV pit cart toolbox will do just fine if parked off the track, too, and is guaranteed to run circles around anything on the market.

The limited-edition toolbox retails for $35,000 and includes $1,000 in custom-printed graphics.

The American flag, all of the When Damian makes himself military branches are represented and the Save22 logo as well, along with the Veterans Crisis Line at 800-273-8255," Poole said.

"The American flag graphics were designed specifically for that box," Poole said. "Snap-on is only producing a limited number of them. We saw the toolbox in August at our franchisee conference in Orlando, met the designer, and right then and there decided this was an opportunity to support Save 22 and get money to our veterans."

Anyone who wants to purchase a raffle ticket can see the custom toolbox inside The Tool Dude Inc. store at 4884 State Route 39 NW in all its glory. All proceeds go to Save22. # People to People seeks support

With fall in full swing, People to People Ministries is looking ahead to the upcoming holiday season to ensure they can provide assistance to those in need in Wayne County.

Donations and volunteer hours are always integral to the ministry's daily operations. At the holidays those needs increase with an upcoming Thanksgiving dinner distribution and holiday toy drive. Additionally, winter can see an increase in the need for warm clothing and assistance with heating and shelter.

Beginning Nov. 15 through Nov. 23, People to People provides a Thanksgiving meal with all the fixings including a dessert mix.

'This year we have plenty of stuffing and potatoes," director of operations Joe Szeker said. "We could use wide egg noodles, broth, applesauce, muffin and dessert mixes, frosting, and health drinks for children.'

Volunteers are needed to help fill

The Christmas toy project is scheduled Dec. 6-8. Donors may sponsor a child for $45. A cash donation enables staff and volunteers to purchase the items that are especially needed. Volunteers are needed during the drive.

Currently, there is a need for volunteers to assist with sorting and storing food items. The annual Rotary Club Food Drive for People to People is drawing to a close, and the agency also is the recipient of the Al Van Wie Basketball Tournament food drive at The College of Wooster. Over 40,000 food items are expected as a result of these programs.

"All the donations need to be sorted and stored in our lower level food storage area," Szeker said. "This is a great project for groups and families."

In addition to the special holiday needs, the following is a current list of everyday needs: regular or small peanut butter, jelly and jam, canned fruit, Jell-O, pudding including sugar free, sloppy joe mix, tomato sauce and paste, small and medium dish soap, body wash, shampoo and conditioner, and baby soap and lotion. No glass containers are accepted.

Hours to drop off food and gently used clothing and household goods are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

If you have more than three large bags or large items, call 330-262-1662 to make an appointment.

Cash donations are always welcome. Send a check made out to People to People Ministries to 454 E. Bowman St., Wooster, OH 44691.

Both the People to People Thanksgiving meal box and holiday toy distribution require advance sign-up for recipients. Call 330-262-1662 from Oct. 18-29.

NATURAL GAS SAFETY MESSAGE

Damage Prevention Awareness & One-Call requirements:

Call 811 Ohio Utilities Protection Service (OUPS) any time you plan an excavation. Whether you are building a house or planting a tree, take the time to make the call that helps to protect you from injury and expense. If you are removing dirt call this free service to have the underground utilities in the area marked. You will be connected to an Ohio 811 (OUPS) representative who will contact all the member utilities in the area on your behalf to have them mark their underground facilities at no cost to you. It's a free service and it's the law!

Ohio 811 (Ohio Utilities Protection Service) "Call before you dig – It's "The Law" 811 or 1-800-362-2764

- -Always call Ohio 811 (OUPS) at least 48 hours before you dig.
- -Gas companies will mark underground lines using yellow stakes, flags or paint
- -Protect and preserve these approximate markings until they are no longer required for safe and proper excavation.
- -If markings are destroyed or removed before excavation is complete, the excavator must re-notify Ohio 811 (OUPS), and the gas locator will remark within 48 hours of the notice.
- -Maintain reasonable clearance between any subsurface utility and the cutting edge or point of powered equipment.
- -Marking indicates only the approximate location of buried lines. Hand dig test holes in a careful and prudent manner to determine the precise location of underground utility lines. If after hand digging you are still unable to determine the exact line location, call OUPS or the utility company for assistance prior to any excavation.

Pipeline purpose and reliability:

Purpose: To safely transport natural gas.

Reliability: Our natural gas pipelines are installed only by qualified professionals and tested for leakage before they become operational.

Awareness of hazards and prevention measures undertaken:

Awareness of hazards: Damage to gas piping can cause leakage which in turn could cause a fire or an explosion.

Prevention measures undertaken: Natural gas companies are required by law to perform leakage tests on all jurisdictional main lines and service lines before charging them with natural gas. Periodic leak surveys are also required as a method to locate and/or repair a leak before it becomes hazardous.

Leak recognition and response:

Remember the three ways to recognize a gas leak:

SMELL — To help you SMELL a leak from a gas line or appliance, a familiar odor like rotten eggs is often added to natural gas.

SEE — Near a gas leak, you might SEE blowing dirt, bubbling water or an unusual area of dead vegetation.

HEAR — A leaking pipeline might make a hissing sound you can HEAR.

- If you recognize even one of the above signs, walk away, right away. Don't try to stop or repair the leak yourself or use anything that might create a spark, such as a cell phone. Avoid using potential ignition sources, such as telephones, doorbells, electric switches or motor vehicles. Call the Pipeline Company from an outside telephone. Call the local fire department or 911. Never try to extinguish a gas fire or operate any pipeline valves.
- Include emergency contact information for your natural gas company on your list of important phone numbers (e.g. fire, police, physicians, etc.).

For additional natural gas safety information visit *www.safegasohio.org*For additional pipeline location information or any other information, contact Northeast Ohio Natural Gas at (800) 237-2099 during the hours of 7:30 am to 4:30 pm.
If you have a natural gas or carbon monoxide emergency call 911 then call Northeast
Ohio Natural Gas Corp at (800) 451-9465 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a

Trustees discussed the need for a resolution that would allow the township to purchase a $10,000 surety bond and to charge utility companies a fee when they run lines to a new development. The bond is intended to cover the cost to the township to repair roads should they be damaged by the utility company.

Ritterbeck said he heard from Jordan Barker who recently bought acreage on Zutavern Church Road and is removing trees on the property. Barker believes one of the trees may be on the township right of way. He is willing to remove the tree if given permission. # Grant help save lives in Tuscarawas County row, the Tuscarawas County Health Department was recently awarded $35,000 in federal traffic safety funding from the Ohio Department of Public Safety's Ohio Traffic Safety Office.

The Safe Communities Coalition is comprised of partners from various agencies and organizations in Tuscarawas County who help share educational messages and promote traffic safety.

"The success of Safe Communities' traffic safety efforts relies heavily on our partners and the different perspectives they bring to the table. I am thankful for each partner and their commitment to improving traffic safety in Tuscarawas County," said Kelly Snyder, Safe Communities program coordinator for the Tuscarawas County Health Department.

During the past grant year, Oct.1, 2020 through Sept. 30, Safe Communities utilized alternative methods for its community outreach and traffic safety education efforts due to the COVID-19 Pandemic.

During the July 4 holiday, Safe Communities partnered with the Tuscarawas County Anti-Drug Coalition to distribute over 1,100 "Drive Sober or Get

For the sixth year in a Pulled Over" flyers to local pizza shops and grocery

> Recently, Safe Communities challenged local high school students to create a public service announcement for the State Farm Distracted Driving Billboard Design Contest and partnered with the Ohio State Highway Patrol to hold their Annual "Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over' kickoff event at the Tuscarawas Valley Farmers

> During the previous grant years, Safe Communities reached more than 6,000 people at more than 25 events throughout the county. Some activities included working in many of the local high schools to educate youth about the importance of safe driving through events such as omecoming and prom safety education and the annual Teen Driving Roadeo.

> In 2020, Tuscarawas County experienced 11 fatal crashes that resulted in 14 fatalities. So far in 2021, Tuscarawas County has experienced seven fatal crashes resulting in eight fatalities. Motorcycle related, impaired driving, and seatbelt noncompliance are among the top contributing factors in the 2021 fatal crashes.

To save lives and improve the quality of life for citizens, the health department will use the grant funds to raise public awareness and educate the public about traffic safety issues

The funds are passed through OTSO from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to support the efforts of safety partners statewide and focus on traffic safety priority areas such as restraint use, impaired driving, motorcycle safety and youthful drivers.

Competitive grant proposals are accepted and reviewed by OTSO. The competitive grant process solicited grant proposals from state agencies, nonprofit organizations, colleges, universities, hospitals, political subdivisions and other interested groups within selected Ohio counties and jurisdictions based upon the number of fatal crashes.

Levee update provided to Zoar Council

By Lori Feeney

Mayor Scott Gordon updated Zoar council members on the status of the Zoar Levee repair project during its October meeting. Gordon said the Corps conducted a soil mix test the week of Sept. 20. The test will determine the proper cement mix for construction of the Internal Erosion Interceptor Trench.

The IEIT will work together with a system of relief wells and piping to prevent erosion and seepage of water under the levee.

Gordon reported a couple of traffic issues with contractor vehicles using the wrong streets, but said signs have been posted directing heavy vehicles to use only First and Fifth streets. "All the preplanning helped," said Gordon. "We had no major issues and the AC was very responsive in resolving the issues we did have quickly."

Additional mayor's notes

Gordon said with the Army Corps taking up a considerable amount of the parking space in Zoar with their equipment, an issue arose recently when people from three schools came to take Homecoming photos in the garden. Council discussed communicating with local schools so the village knows when events are scheduled and can plan to have police on site to direct traffic and monitor parking.

Gordon said he received seven responses from Cherry Hill residents regarding the possibility of doing a feasibility study for providing sewer service. Most of the responses came from homeowners living near the one resident whose septic system has failed. According to Gordon, cost was the primary concern among the respondents, who were more worried about storm water runoff than the issue of county sewer service.

The village had planned to use funds from the American Recovery Plan Act to fund the study, but Gordon said the funds could be used to address the storm water problems.

Mayor Scott Gordon updated Zoar council on the levee repair project, where a soil mix test was recently conducted to determine the proper cement composition for the Internal Erosion Interceptor Trench.

Gordon reporting having obtained a quote of $800 for removing the brush pile on property at Second and Park streets. He will send a 30-day notification to the estate attorney advising that a failure to respond will result in the village taking action to clean it up.

Committee Reports

Street Commissioner David Irwin said the sewer grates at First and Park and in the adjacent alley have been repaired. He also reported that the old metal sliding board at the School House has been removed and is being modified at Buckeye Career Center.

Gordon said the Planning Commission is considering developing a Oct. 23 from 3-5 p.m. with building code based on the International Building Code and is working with the Tin Shop Coffee House on modifying signs since the business added a drive-thru window and new parking area.

Fiscal Officer sought

Gordon reported the resignation of Fiscal Officer Heather Lehmiller and appointed President Gayle Potelicki and Safety Committee chair Tom Klingaman as the search committee in seeking a replacement for Lehmiller.

Trick or Treat

The Zoar Community Association is sponsoring Trick or Treat on Saturday, costume judging in the Zoar Garden at 4 p.m.

Legislative agenda

Council passed an emergency resolution to appropriates funds collected for fire protection and to increase appropriations for police protection.

Council heard:

-The first reading of an ordinance for temporary appropriations

-The first reading of an ordinance to contract with the public defender's office for legal services for the indigent.

-The third, but not final, reading of an ordinance to vacate West Street to allow levee repair work, pending the receipt of final documents from the Army Corps.

In other voting:

Council voted to:

-Extend the mowing contract with Patrick Eddy for two weeks with an option for additional weeks as needed at the discretion of the mayor and street commissioner

-Pay Anywhere Tree Service $900 to trim and remove trees. The Ohio History Connection will be responsible for paying for work on a tree determined to be on its property.

Massarelli baseball complex entering home stretch

The new Massarelli Baseball School complex in Wilkshire Hills will serve as home based for the school's Mash Factory teams.

By Lori Feeney

After having been thrown a curveball by supply chain and labor issues, the Massarelli baseball field complex in Wilkshire Hills is on track for opening in February. The six outdoor fields start hosting games until April or May, according to Dave Schaub, who designed the complex.

Schaub is hoping the building that will house a full-size indoor infield and, eventually, a restaurant and bar, will be ready for private lessons and team practices as early as February.

"Just about all the underground work and the concrete slab is done," he said. "The builders should be there next week to put up steel for the building.

The facility will also feature a mezzanine from which games on three fields can be viewed.

"We're a little behind where we wanted to be, but now we're moving full steam ahead," said Schaub, who is an equal partner with John Massarelli and Jeff Bunner at Massarelli Baseball School, headquartered in Akron.

The complex will serve as home base for the school's Mash Factory teams and will be available

The concrete slab is ready for builders to begin constructing the facility that will house indoor practice fields and a restaurant and bar to leagues as well as high school and Little League

"I'd like to host some local high school games this spring. and maybe serve as a site for some regional Ohio High School Athletic Association games," said Schaub.

Schaub said the west parking lot is nearly complete and chain link fencing will be installed once the turf work is complete, which should be early next week. Excavators have been laboriously removing dirt for the turf installation, them placing dirt on the outfields and planting outfield

"We've been flipping dirt around everywhere, said Cody Coy, owner of Valleybrook Excavating in East Canton. "We came in at the beginning of the project and did all the grading for the ball field. We also stripped all the top soil and then re-graded all the subsoil.'

A dozer works on re-grades soil for one of the ballfields.

The plan for the complex calls for an outdoor pavilion and playground to open in the spring and ballfield lighting at some point. According to Massarelli, Schaub traveled to similar facilities all over the United States and designed this one to be unlike any other.

The complex is predicted to draw about 1.000 people per weekend at the height of baseball season. Schaub said some teams are trying to book practices already, but it is too soon.

The boys of summer will just have to wait until after the first of the year when the building is complete. If all goes according to plan, Massarelli just may have found the sweet spot for baseball lovers.

Find assistance for aging-in-place improvements

Dear Savvy Senior.

Do you know of any financial-assistance programs that can help seniors with home-improvement projects? I would like to help my grandparents make a few modifications to their house so they can continue living there safely, but money is tight.

> Searching Grandson Dear Searching,

Yes, there are a number of financial-aid programs available that can help seniors with home modifications and improvement projects for aging in place, but what's available to your grandparents will depend on their financial situation and where they live. Here are some different options to explore.

Medicare Advantage benefits: While original Medicare does not typically pay for home improvements, if your grandparents are enrolled in a Medicare Advantage (Part C) plan, it may offer some aid for modifications based on need. Contact their Medicare Advantage provider to see if this is available.

Medicaid waivers: If your grandparents are low-income and eligible for Medicaid, most states have Medicaid Home and Community Based Services waivers that provide financial assistance to help seniors avoid nursing homes and remain living at home. Each state has different waivers, eligibility requirements and benefits. Contact your Medicaid office (see www.Medicaid. gov) for information.

Non-Medicaid government assistance: Many state governments and several agencies within the federal government have programs that help low- to moderateincome seniors who aren't eligible for Medicaid with home modifications. For example, the Department of Housing and Urban Development offers HUD Home Improvement Loans by private lenders. Contact an HUD approved counseling agency at 800-569-4287 to learn more.

And the U.S. Department of Agriculture has a Rural Development program that provides grants and loans to rural homeowners. Your local USDA service center (see offices. sc.egov.usda.gov) can give you more information.

Many states also have financial-assistance programs known as nursing home diversion programs. These programs, which may include grants or loans or a combination, help pay for modifications that enable the elderly and disabled to remain living at home. Modifications covered typically include accessibility improvements like wheelchair ramps, handrails and grab bars.

To find out if there are programs in your grandparents' area, contact the city or county housing authority, the local Area Aging Agency at 800-677-1116 or the state housing finance agencv — see www.NCSHA. org/housing-help.

Veteran benefits: If either of your grandparents is a veteran with a disability, the VA provides grants like the SAH, SHA and HISA grants, which will pay for home modifications. See www.Benefits. va.gov/benefits/factsheets/ homeloans/sahfactsheet. pdf for details and eligibility requirements.

Some other VA programs to inquire about are the Veteran-Directed Care program and Aid and Attendance or Housebound Benefits. Both programs provide monthly financial benefits to eligible veterans and can help pay for home modifications. To learn more, visit www. VA.gov/geriatrics or call 800-827-1000.

Nonprofit organizations: Depending on where your grandparents live, they may be able to get assistance in the form of financial aid or volunteer labor to help with modifications. One of the most noteworthy is the organization, Rebuilding Together (www.RebuildingTogether.org, 800-473-4229), which offers three programs: Safe at Home, Heroes at Home and National Rebuilding Day.

Another option is community building projects, which provide seniors with volunteer labor to help them make home improvements. To search for projects in your grandparents' area, do a web search containing the phrase "community building project," followed by their city and state.

Reverse mortgage: Available to seniors 62 and older who own their own home and are currently living there, a reverse mortgage will let your grandparents convert part of the equity in their home into cash — which can be used for home improvements — that doesn't have to be paid back as long as they live there. But reverse mortgages are expensive loans, so this should be a last resort.

For more information on these and other financial-assistance programs, go to www.PayingForSeniorCare.com and click on Senior Care, followed by Home Modifications.

Send your senior questions to Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit www.SavvySenior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of 'The Savvy Senior" book.
