HOUSE WILL ACT ON BUDGET BILL

Solons Invite Huey Long To Address Them

Minority Republican Faction Gets Vote Through House
DES MOINES, Ia., April 26 (AP)—The minority republican block in the Iowa house of representatives today pushed through a resolution to invite United States Senator Huey Long to address the house tomorrow.

Democratic House Speaker John Mitchell, voting with 33 of the 58 house democrats against extending the invitation, then named three republicans as a committee to convey the resolution to the Louisiana senator.

Gets Heckling
Long is here as main speaker at the annual convention of the National Farmers' Holiday association. The senator drew a premature round of heckling as the resolution was introduced by Rep. A. H. Avery (R) of Clay.

Rep. Earl Fishbaugh Jr. (R) of Page, terming Long "a tyrant unworthy of audience before the elected representatives of a literate and freedom loving state," sought to reconsider the invitation and expunge it from the house record.

Motion Defeated
The motion was defeated 69 to 13 after Rep. Thomas Stimpson (D) of Jones had shouted in response that "I'm just illiterate enough that I'd like to hear this wild-eyed distinguished southern gentleman from Alabama."

"I have my doubts if Long would stoop to come before an assembly of the caliber of this. But if he chooses to bring us a message, those who are big enough can listen and those who hold themselves better than Long can stick their slimy fingers in their waxy ears and refuse to listen," Stimpson said.

Fishbaugh contended the invitation was extended in levity and should be rescinded "to preserve the dignity of the assembly."
"A Joke, A Clown"
"To us this man is a joke, a clown. But he is no bluff in his home state. There he is a tyrant who has destroyed representative government and made rogues of even his policemen."

Long is the essence of blatant egotism; a stench in the political nostrils of the nation," Fishbaugh said. "He has feasted on illiteracy and come to power on the shoulders of ignorance and poverty within his own districts."
"To have him here in, in a sense, to give recognition to his tyranny and destruction of free government. He may be all right for Louisiana, but our halls of representation were not built by our fathers to hear the harangue of this type of person."

Burlington High Triumphs In Iowa Nine Oratorical Contests

Iowa City Receives Fourth Place With Two on Finals List

Burlington high school took a major share of the honors here last night in the annual Iowa Nine high school oratorical contests, winning a plaque for the grand championship in addition to the debating cup previously won.

Iowa City high placed fourth with two individual entrants listed in the final standings. Marvin Chapman, freshman, took second in the boys' extemporaneous division, and Barbara Lillieh placed fourth in the mixed oratory division. Miss Lillieh competed because of the ruling that the school acting as host be privileged to enter a speaker who had not officially qualified in the preliminaries.

The schools entered placed in the following order after Burlington: Washington, second; Muscatine, third; Iowa City, fourth; Fairfield, fifth; Davenport and Ottumwa,

F.R. Outlines Duties of New Fund Directors

Triumvirate Will Have Control Over Works Program

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt today selected Harry L. Hopkins to round out a works triumvirate charged with putting four billion dollars into the drive to take off the relief rolls all who are able to work.

In a colorful press conference, the president told a hundred or more newspaper correspondents that Hopkins, Secretary Ickes and Frank C. Walker would be of equal rank in carrying out the work program.

Lists Duties
As outlined by the president, the duties of the three would be: Walker to head the division which receives and passes on all applications.

Ickes, head of the allotment board which will decide on the division of funds.
Hopkins to lend vim and vigor to the drive, keeping tab on its progress, supervising purchases, seeing that the workers come from relief rolls and fixing wages for the different sections of the country.

Meets With Eight
Hardly had he finished sketching the plans before the president went into a night meeting with eight government officials to give them a fresh outline of what he expected them to do. Among them were Hopkins, Ickes, and Walker.

The president used a chart to depict the set-up he had worked out. At the bottom were 46 (C) small circles in a row, representing the agencies of government which will carry out the actual work.

Above these were three larger circles—Hopkins, Ickes, and Walker in their supervisory capacities. Above them was the presidential circle.

Emphasizes Goal
Mr. Roosevelt emphasized again the expected to have the entire 3,500,000 persons who are able to work placed in jobs by the middle of November and that his goal was to spend the four billion dollars by next summer.

Completion of his administrative set-up left only the exact date on which activities are to start, and appointment of several heads of new agencies to be cleared up.
The president said construction of additional camps for the civilian conservation corps probably would start May 15, but that work on projects requiring extensive engineering study might be delayed until August.

Found Guilty
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—State Representative Joseph Fisher, a member of Senator Huey P. Long's political organization, late yesterday was convicted by a federal court grand jury on two counts of violating the federal income tax laws. He was acquitted on five other counts of the seven count indictment.

GOD AND HITLER Pagan Faith Leaders Reject Christianity

BERLIN, April 26 (AP)—Leaders of the rapidly growing Germanic pagan faith movement boldly rejected Christianity tonight at a Nazi-sanctioned rally and said God had "revealed himself to us" through Adolf Hitler.

Jacob Wilhelm Hauer, spiritual leader of the movement, told an overflow audience at the gigantic sportsplatz Christianity is not the true religion of Germans, who united under Adolf Hitler because of their longing for the "Germanic" faith. Dissenters were ejected.

"Christianity says there is only one way to God and whoever does not believe in it is lost," Hauer asserted. "Such a claim leads to confessionism, from which is sprung all evils that afflicted the religious history of the German people in the past."

"God has not revealed himself in the so-called chosen people alone," Hauer declared, "but also to us through our Fuehrer (Hitler), to enable us to accomplish our great mission in the world."
Nazis earlier clapped three more leading churchmen into jail today in pursuance of their drive to wipe out opposition to Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller's Protestant church dictatorship.

Reno Hits at Coughlin As Meeting Opens

20,000 Expected To Attend Convention; Long Will Speak

DES MOINES, Ia., April 26 (AP)—Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers' Holiday association, engaged in his own private controversy with Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit today on the eve of the third annual National Holiday convention here.

"The radio priest has pulled a fast one," Reno said when he learned Father Coughlin had said the National Union for Social Justice would not be represented at the convention, and that the Detroit radio priest supports the objectives of the National Farmers' union rather than those of the Holiday group.

Then Reno called for L. M. Peet, convention promotion director, who was in conference with H. Ralph Burton, general counsel of the National Patriotic league and Coughlin's personal attorney, and B. F. Stephenson of Detroit, one of the priest's advisors.

As the debate continued, Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, "main attraction of the big show," was en route to Des Moines from Washington. Long is to give the principal address of the meeting at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at which Reno expects an attendance of approximately 20,000 persons.

GAS EXPLOSION Two Die as Flames Sweep Sewer

ST. LOUIS, April 26 (AP)—Two PWA laborers were fatally burned and eight others were in a critical condition as a result of an explosion and fire that trapped more than a dozen men working in a sewer near the Grand boulevard viaduct industrial district here today.

Following the death tonight of William Maloney, 54, and James Hollen, 24, police announced they had taken into custody two men who police said were involved in pumping into the sewer 1,500 gallons of a mixture of fuel oil and gasoline.

The men were Sidney H. Dubinsky, 29, secretary and treasurer of Sid's Petroleum corporation, which operates a string of gasoline stations, and Frank Nischbach, 27, a chauffeur for Dubinsky's firm.

Police said Nischbach told them he had pumped the oil and gasoline into the sewer at the direction of Dubinsky. Pumping oil or combustible into a sewer is a violation of a city ordinance. Dubinsky declined to make a statement.

Police said Nischbach told them he was pumping the mixture into the sewer even after the blast occurred, and that he heard the explosion while he was eating his lunch, but did not investigate it.

Rotary Club Elects Negus President

Attorney Henry Negus was elected president of the Iowa City Rotary club to succeed Leroy Spencer, according to an announcement yesterday.

Attorney Negus, a charter member of the local club, has been active in many civic projects carried on by the group.

Mr. Spencer, retiring president, was automatically made vice-president for the following year. George Gay was reelected secretary and Joseph Cannon, treasurer.

Directors of the club, in addition to the officers, are Fred Boerner, Dr. Harry Jenkinson, and Everett Means.

Benet Speaks About Poetry Appreciation

"You can lead anyone to a library but you can't make him think," Stephen Vincent Benet, poet and novelist, said in his lecture, "Poetry for John Smith," in Macbride auditorium last night. Approximately 350 persons attended the lecture, including writers and professors who are attending the first Iowa Literary Caucus which will end its meetings today.

"Poetry is a way of saying something in rhythm," said Benet. "We live to the rhythm of the heartbeat; as children we talk in rhythm, and we die of a broken rhythm. Poetry then is not strange to use or outside our immediate experience," he explained.

Attitudes
"There are two attitudes," Mr. Benet continued, "which interfere with the average reader's enjoyment of poetry. One is the 'practical man' viewpoint, held by those who can't see anything substantial or necessary in poetry, and the second is due to educational methods which teach students grammar and meanings of words rather than the story or what the writer has to say."

The ear is just as important as the eye for the appreciation of poetry, according to Mr. Benet, and one must read aloud and perceive through both of these senses to obtain the full benefit of a poem. He pointed out that a knowledge of technique is not necessary for the reader, although it is the first requisite of the writer.

Rhythmic Appeal
"Some people have the idea that poetry is either the property of a mental secret society or mystic organization," he said, "but good poetry appeals to our sense of rhythm, either the physical, or the mental aspect, or both. The task of the poet is to make real to his reader what he has felt and the first thing he must do is to see things with his own eyes, not as every previous writer has seen them. When he has done this, he must fit his idea to words which will enable the reader to grasp what the poet has felt."

To learn to appreciate poetry Mr. Benet advised his audience to read a lot of poetry, good and bad, starting with simple forms and progressing to the more complex.

"Not Guilty" Says Former Liquor Head

Draft Resolution To Demand Withdrawals Of Three More

DES MOINES, April 26 (AP)—Shortly after Harold M. Cooper resigned as chairman of the Iowa liquor control commission this afternoon, the Iowa house took steps to demand the resignations of Bernard E. Manley and Dick R. Lane, the other members.

Hardly had Cooper's resignation become known to the house when Speaker John H. Mitchell (D) of Ft. Dodge, called house democrats into closed session in the speaker's office.

Committee Named
A committee of five was named there to draft the resolution for introduction tomorrow, a member of this committee said. The resolution also will ask Leslie E. Francis to relinquish his post as the commission's legal adviser.

Shortly before Cooper announced he was resigning, a measure had been filed in the house which if adopted would automatically abolish the present liquor commission and replace it by an appointed board of five members working on a per diem basis.

Cooper submitted his resignation, drawn by his attorney, Ben Diamond of Sheldon, Ia., to Governor Clyde Herring. The governor, who once had privately asked Cooper to resign and later did so publicly, accepted it.

"Sacrificed"
Cooper's resignation stated in part: "I feel I have been sacrificed upon the altar of an unbridled and prejudiced press."
He explained that "for the good of the cause of true temperance and a proper solution of the liquor problem, I tender my resignation, being conscious of no wrong doing during the incumbency of my office."

Concluding he stated: "Time and justice will finally vindicate me in the eyes, not only of my neighbors and friends, but of the state generally."
Cooper, who is a Marshalltown manufacturer, had until 1939 to serve as a commission member.

Willard M. Miller Runs Half Block Through Tunnel

After dashing a half block through scizzing steam in the university heating tunnel, Willard M. Miller, 37, university steam fitter, rested in critical condition at University hospital late last night suffering severe leg and body burns.

Mr. Miller was attempting to tighten an expansion joint on a six inch line late yesterday morning when it broke and steam, at a pressure of 125 pounds per square inch, flooded the tunnel under Clinton street where he was working.

Upon gaining the ground, Mr. Miller called, "Somebody take me to the hospital!" Ernest Gingerich rushed him to the hospital. Mr. Miller was working alone at the time of the accident. His partner, George Adair, had been sent to the University Elementary school to turn on a set of switches.

Mr. Miller, his wife, and four children reside at 622 E. Jefferson street.

Truck Taxing Measure Gets O.K. in House

DES MOINES, Ia., April 26 (AP)—A modified form of truck regulatory bill was finally passed late today by the Iowa house by a vote of 57 to 49 and will go now to the senate, where a more stringent form of truck-tax measure was defeated several weeks ago.

A last-minute effort to sidetrack the bill by offering a substitute measure to increase the present three-cent state gasoline tax to four cents as a means of raising funds for highway purposes was voted down 35 to 67.

Ton-Mile Tax
As passed, the bill calls for a ton-mile tax on all forms of commercial trucks using the highways beyond a radius of 35 miles of their home station. Carriers of farm products, school buses and mail trucks would be exempt.

The present tax on common carriers, operating on fixed schedules over established routes, would be maintained at 2 1/2 mills for freight trucks and 2 mills for passenger buses. On contract and private carriers the rate would be 1 mill on trucks of one to two and one-half tons, 1 1/2 mills on trucks of three to three and one-half tons and 2 mills on trucks of four tons or over.

Permit Fee
Revenue from the tax would be divided in the same proportion as gasoline taxes, with two-ninths allocated to primary roads, three-ninths to bridges, culverts and right-of-way work on primary roads and four-ninths to secondary roads. This provision was written in on an amendment offered by Rep. Don V. McLean (R) of Marshall.

Foreign Trucks
Administration of the law would be handled by the state railroad commission, with 8 per cent of receipts provided to cover operation of the act. Enforcement, not mentioned in the bill, would be handled by the new state highway patrol, authors of the measure said.

Foreign trucks traveling through the state would also be subject to the tax and methods for collection are left up to the railroad commission. The part of entry provision on which opposition to the first trucking bill centered was eliminated from the house measure.

Opposition
Rep. Don W. Burlington, leading opposition to the bill, declared it would be unworkable and without a system for collection of adequate enforcement of the tax would be disappointing as a revenue measure.

The substitute bill increasing gasoline taxes was sponsored by Rep. C. L. Rice (D) of Keokuk, Lamar P. Foster (D) of Cedar and C. L. McKinnon (D) of Henry. It also would have provided a flat 20 per cent reduction in the annual license fee on passenger vehicles of less than 6,000 pounds.

France, Russia Agree on Pact

Military Alliance Between Nations

PARIS, April 26 (AP)—France and Russia today smoothed out the last rough spots in their proposed mutual military assistance pact, and tonight it was confidently expected the agreement would be initialed tomorrow morning.

A 76-minute conference between Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France and Ambassador Vladimir Potemkin of Russia at the Quay D'Orsay sufficed to reconcile conflicting views as to the text of the treaty.

Afterward Potemkin, announcing an agreement had been reached, said the convention would be put into final form tonight and he would return to the Quay D'Orsay in the morning "with the experts."

This was generally taken to mean the pact would be initialed tomorrow.

A virtual military alliance linking the two pre-war allies, the new agreement promises France the help of Russia's huge red army and Russia the aid of France's blue-uniformed poilus in the event either is attacked.

State Senate Passes Bill Giving S.U.I. $1,960,000

Other Measures Go Through Chamber As Solons Rush For Adjournment

DES MOINES, April 26 (AP)—Governor Clyde L. Herring's financial and poor relief program moved through the state senate without alteration this afternoon and was sent over to the Iowa house for further consideration.

After having placed its approval earlier in the day on a $13,980,958 year appropriations bill, the upper branch of the assembly, moving rapidly toward adjournment sometime next week, passed administration bills to:

Set aside $2,000,000 of the three-point tax funds for direct and work relief in the period beginning July 1, 1935 to Dec. 31, 1935; allow $250,000 for emergency conservation work, and allocate $1,500,000 to the general fund in the period from July 5 to Oct. 1, 1935.

Special Levy
Authorize a special levy on real estate for emergency relief, allowing $4,000,000 for the 1936 calendar year, and $2,000,000 for the first half of the 1937 calendar year.

Appropriate $250,000 from the general fund for 1936 for Iowa emergency conservation work to further CCC work expected to bring $20,000,000 in federal funds to Iowa projects.

These three measures constituted major steps recommended by the governor as a means of carrying forward the relief program and of operating the state government after he had vetoed the homestead tax exemption bill.

The senate bill to give the state planning board a statutory position as a regular branch of the government was among the other measures rushed through senate passage during the afternoon.

Proposing to provide $13,980,958 for each year of the 1936-37 biennium, the budget measure was approved as a compromise between senate factions and was sent over to the house for further consideration.

The house earlier had passed an appropriations measure of its own which would have allowed $12,551,853 which the senate rejected. For this reason it was expected the senate's proposal would encounter stiff opposition in the lower branch and might go to conference.

No Opposing Vote
In the bill which it passed today without an opposing vote the senate incorporated major provisions of its own bill but accepted recommendations of the state comptroller as to the allowances for the state university and Iowa State college.

It also added as an amendment a bill to allow $800,000 a year for capital improvements and repairs at the institutions under the state board of control and board of education and for construction of a new swine building at the fair grounds.

Appropriation Cut
Of the total $323,750 a year would be for building and repair work at the education institutions, the provisions including $117,250 apiece for the state university and college, $52,500 for the State Teachers college, $21,000 for the school for the blind and $15,750 for the school for the deaf.

The proposed appropriation for support of the university was cut to $1,960,000 and that for the college to $1,949,000 a year.

The house measure prohibiting construction of diagonal highways by the state highway commission was among a number of measures approved during the full day session.

It was thought that the camp at Backbone park, Strawberry Point, might replace the Solon detachment but it was learned yesterday that it too leaves for Arkansas Wednesday.

The Barnett and Records company will get under way with a full crew of men before the end of next week, Mr. Drake indicated. Barnett and Records, having charge of most of the construction work on Iowa City's $516,000 sewage disposal plant, will complete the filter project before starting the other construction operations, company officials said.

The Horrabin company completed straightening the Ralston creek last week with the excavation of more than 20,000 cubic yards of dirt. Excavations for the filters is requiring the removal of 4,000 cubic yards of dirt. The Horrabin company, employing 55 men, will complete its work on the sewage project with the excavation of the sludge beds.

The Gjellefeld Construction company of Forest City is employing 12 men in laying the 36 inch underground storm sewer along the Iowa river.

Early estimates of PWA engineers showed that more than 275 men would be employed in constructing the sewage plant, but National Reemployment officials said yesterday that this number may have been too large a quota for the project.

Swiss Steak-Family Favorite

Of all the moderate priced meat dishes that find their way to the family dinner table at frequent intervals, Swiss Steak is one of the most popular. It seems to satisfy every appetite and every purse.

A pound and a half of round steak cut to 1 to 2 inches thick is the basis for this delicious meat dish for an average family of five. Because of the small amount of bone and fat in the round, it may be classed as an economical cut even though the price per pound may be relatively high.

Although the name Swiss Steak is the most familiar one, a Swiss Steak is actually, just another of those braised meats, which have such marvellous possibilities of flavor combination. Braising implies two processes of cooking, a thorough brooding of the meat to develop its good flavor and give that desirable brown color and crustiness, followed by very slow cooking in a well seasoned gravy or sauce.

This second part of the process is where the fun comes in, for you may let your imagination run rampant on the sauces and even on the utensils in which the meat is cooked. Even the cut of beef may be varied, how and then to a thick chuck steak or flank steak and the same methods used as are employed on the round.

Place the steak on a cutting board and dredge it well with flour on both sides, then with the dull edge of a saucer or mallet, pound the flour into the meat, making an effort to break down the resistant tissues which hold the meat together. As the flour is absorbed, add fresh flour. This preliminary process helps somewhat to tender the meat, but also adds flour which will later cook out into the sauce and thicken the gravy.

Put the floured steak into a hot frying pan in which is melted a quarter cup of bacon fat, lard or oleomargarine and brown the meat thoroughly on both sides. Add salt and pepper, cover with water or other sauce and let simmer very slowly in a tightly covered pan for 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

So far, the result sounds utterly uninspired, but the tricks lie in the sauces or in the service. Instead of water, try a can of cream of tomato soup, vegetable soup or cream of mushroom soup poured over the steak for the final simmering. Or use a can of tomato juice, some thick slices of onion and a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. Another delicious combination for flavor is catsup diluted with water and added to the meat with chopped onion and green pepper.

If you like more highly seasoned meat, you'll be more than enthusiastic over a Swiss Steak cooked in a mild barbecue sauce of catsup mixed with a little vinegar, a generous amount of Worcestershire sauce, and seasoned with onion, salt, pepper and paprika.

For variation in service try cutting the browned meat into individual strips about 1 1/2 inches wide across the steak and arranging them log fashion in a covered casserole. Cover with a sauce and finish the simmering in a low oven. Serve right in the casserole. Or leave the meat in one piece, cook it in a covered frying pan or baking dish and serve on a large platter, with baked stuffed potatoes and garnished with chickory, parsley or rings of green pepper.

For your next Swiss Steak try one of these sauces:
1. 2 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 sliced onion,
2. 3/4 cup catsup, 1/4 cup water, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 onion, 1-4 cup crisp salt pork cubes,
3. 3/4 cup catsup, 1/4 cups water, 1 green pepper chopped,
4. 1 can soup, cream of mushroom, vegetable soup or cream of tomato soup,
5. 1 can evaporated milk, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, salt, pepper and paprika,
6. 1-4 cup catsup, 1-4 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 onion, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.

Another Mooney Chapter

THE ACTION of the California legislature in recommending by a large majority Thursday, clemency for Mooney and Billings is gratifying to the thousands of persons who have urged the release of these two men from prison for many years.

Although they were convicted as participants in the San Francisco Preparedness Day parade bombing 18 years ago, Mooney and Billings and their supporters have brought to public attention a great mass of evidence tending to show that their trial was a "frame up" on the part of the state. Jurors, attorneys, witnesses, and others who took part in the trial have repeatedly urged California governors to pardon the two men.

Undoubtedly the reason why executive clemency was not extended before is that liberal and radical organizations have loudly proclaimed in case as an example of "capitalist justice"—directed maliciously against the working class. By ignoring the demands of these organizations, however, the governors of California have given them verbal ammunition which has probably added thousands of sympathizers to their ranks.

The bill asking clemency was introduced by the man who prosecuted Billings, and was his first public appeal for lenient action by the state. It is to be hoped, for the sake of justice, and for conservatism, if you wish, that the appeal of the legislature will not be turned down. It is time that blind bulld-headedness and prejudice ceased to keep Mooney and Billings behind the bars.

"Success Story" New Style

NOT LONG AGO in New York, American illustrators—those distant persons who make their living by drawing pictures to advertise this and that or to make magazine fiction attractive to illiterates—met for their annual meeting in an atmosphere of deep gloom.

Prime facts underlying their depressed spirits: Almost 90 per cent of the advertising illustration in newspapers and good magazines is the work of photographers; 10 per cent of fiction and article illustration was camera work, and use of the camera was increasing relentlessly.

Impending catastrophe for artists who had known the feeling of affluence in something like a closed market hung heavy. But, and here comes the moral, it hung heavy only for those who were too stodgy to take advantage of changing times and changing customs.

Probably the greatest "success story" today in the field of illustrations is the story of Russell Patterson, who gave up the conventional practice and set out to make his own art conform to the possibilities of the camera. Now his illustrating is done with puppets, photographed in natural settings. He has a field all to himself.

All the rest is obvious, and very trite, and very true.

What Others Think

Sensible Aims (From The Des Moines Tribune) While The Tribune has no interest in promoting any specific official governmental organization, it happened upon a statement of purpose the other day by the American County Association.

and simplified police and judicial procedure in order to lessen crime. Secure better roads for rural communities and more economy in their construction and maintenance. Assist in developing more efficient rural school systems and library facilities through unification and expansion.

Promote modernization in health and sanitation administration, as well as hospitalization and welfare programs. Without trying to be arrogant or smartly in the least, it may be suggested that county officials in Iowa, too, could properly subscribe to definite purposes of this sort.

Good Morning

Raymond Gram Swing, writing in The Nation magazine this week, jumped flat-footedly into the question of the Nye committee's investigation of munitions and the activities of banks in the promotion of war.

Though the munitions inquiry has subsided somewhat, the public knows in a general way that the committee's work has progressed to the point where all that remains is to investigate the relationship between munitions and banking.

It has been a common charge that America entered the World War chiefly to protect American bankers, who had put themselves in a perilous position by lending heavily to Great Britain and France. Since the war, it has been a common practice to denounce the bankers as the real promoters behind the munitions scene.

Thus any investigation of the munitions industry and the part it plays in fomenting war must necessarily include inquiry into the operations of the big bankers and their part in financing preparation for war, both at home and abroad.

And that kind of an investigation in the United States means an investigation into the activities of J. P. Morgan and company, fiscal agents in this country of the British and French governments. Which brings the whole question into the realm of international diplomacy.

Mr. Swing calls attention to the deftness with which Senator Nye and his investigators were cautioned as soon as their activities threatened to touch tender spots in the international maze of interests.

About a fortnight ago the Nye committee investigators descended on the Guaranty Trust company (Morgan affiliate) to study the letter files bearing on the relations of that bank with the British and French governments before our entry into the war. The nerve touched by this inquiry sent out violent messages that reached across the Atlantic. The foreign office in Downing street was set in motion, the British ambassador in Washington then called upon Secretary of State Hull.

Mr. Hull had to confer with the munitions committee, and with all the suavity and grace that diplomacy knows so well, the intimation was conveyed (though never frankly avowed) that the investigation of a Morgan affiliate might injure Anglo-American relations.

Undoubtedly Mr. Swing is right, but he is hardly generous enough when he conveys the intimation (though never frankly avowing it) that sinister motives lay behind the actions of the American and British state departments.

The very fact that this government and Downing street became so concerned for fear old enemies might be uncovered indicates that information is available in the files of J. P. Morgan that would have a vital bearing on the conclusions to be reached by the Nye committee.

The Washington Parade

WASHINGTON, April 26—If that 4,880,000,000 dollar works relief bill appears to you a gigantic sum of money, take a look at the railroad ownership bill proposed by Senator Bert Wheeler (D) of Montana. The modest Wheeler proposal for the government to acquire and operate all the railroads in the country calls for an expenditure just about five times the size of the works relief fund—22,000,000,000. Of course, the bill would not immediately drain 22 billion in cash from the treasury. But that's what the railroads would cost whether paid for with bonds or toothpicks. Wheeler doesn't expect affirmative action on his bill at this session of congress but there will be other sessions and the hard bitten Wheeler believes that federal ownership of railways ultimately is inevitable. At this session in the words of the author, congress will simply have "something to chew on," in his railroad bill. Wheeler points to the mounting debt structure of the roads as one evidence of the certainty that government must finally own them. President Roosevelt has frequently spoken of this debt structure, called it too high. Efforts to reduce it have not been very successful. Capital stock of the nation's railroads, plus the funded debt, totals about 18,000 million dollars. Interstate commerce commission valuation place the railways' worth at about 25,000 million. In addition to the funded debt, the roads owe quite a lot of money to other lenders. The RFC holds $367,275,000 of railroad paper, and will hold more as it makes further loans. PWA, another federal agency, can bill the roads for $146,250,000 any day it so desires. Secretary of the Interior Harold (PWA) Ickes would like to have his department's name changed to the department of conservation and works, so he can get rid of some of his titles. "I'd merely be secretary of conservation and works, and I'd like that," says Ickes. Ickes' reference to his various titles, PWA administrator, oil administrator, etc., (he has 12 in all) started a search for the most benefited man in the government service. It was found that Henry A. Wallace, the secretary of agriculture, won the title. In addition to his cabinet office, he holds membership on the following boards and commissions: chairman, migratory bird conservation commission; member council of national defense; federal board for vocational education; Smithsonian institution; national forest reservation commission; Puerto Rican hurricane relief commission; Chicago world's fair centennial commission; federal emergency administration of public works; federal surplus relief corporation; commodity credit corporation; national emergency council; national resources board and committee on economic security. Professor Moore is one of the important "behind-the-scenes" men in Washington—and he is not a "brain truster." Professor Moore teaches diplomats how to speak the king's English. While tutoring a Latin-American ambassador he was shocked when his pupil used a slang word. "No, no," he exclaimed, "do not use such a word." "But," protested the diplomat, "I am sure it is in common usage. Only yesterday it was used in the United States senate." "Mr. Ambassador," the professor exploded, "how often have I reminded you never to follow the example of a senator in your speech?"

Local Reemployment Service Issues Call For Skilled Laborers

James L. Eastridge, senior interviewer of the Iowa City office of the National Reemployment service, announced yesterday that all skilled laborers should report to the local office as soon as possible to file particular work history information. Because of the new national construction program, officials of the service indicated yesterday that there would undoubtedly be a shortage of highway and building construction labor within the next few months. The local office is asking additional information concerning work history and qualifications of skilled construction labor so that the additional demand after June 1 may be filled. Mr. Eastridge warned laborers to be sure that their cards were in the active file or renewed for consideration for constructive work jobs.

125 High Schools Enter Musicians in University Contest

More than 6,000 Iowa high school musicians representing about 125 schools will participate Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in the tenth annual state high school music festival, the largest one ever to be conducted at the University of Iowa. About 2,500 singers, comprising the membership of 87 large vocal groups, will participate in the vocal contests. Qualifiers for this group include 32 mixed choruses, 29 girls' glee clubs, and 26 boys' glee clubs.

Instrumental Solos

Nearly 150 boys and girls will compete in the instrumental solo events in contests ranging from piano solos to harp playing. Seventeen events are on the program in this group with practically all of the major hand and orchestral instruments represented.

With 33 individual events with entrants ranging as high as 22 in one division, the contestants will compete in the following divisions: mixed chorus, girls' glee club, boys' glee club, mixed small vocal groups, girls' solo, soprano solo, contralto solo, tenor solo, baritone solo, orchestra, miscellaneous groups of string instruments, violin solo, viola solo, cello solo, string bass solo, harp, concert band, marching bands, chamber groups, woodwind, brass groups, flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, saxophone, trumpet-cornet, French horn, trombone, baritone-euphonium, tuba, marimba-xylophone, and piano.

The university has secured 3,000 seats to be used in cost centers in university buildings. Some of the contestants will stay in private homes in Iowa City and others will be housed in fraternity and sorority houses.

Rating

Participants will be judged on the group rating plan. A group of about 15 judges will rate contestants. Musicians and educators throughout the United States will direct and conduct orchestral and choral groups. Decisions of the judges will be sent to contestants so that they may be used later.

Contests will be conducted in Macbride auditorium in north and south music halls, in Iowa Union, in the Methodist church and at the stadium.

Salon to Show Prints Monday

26 Exhibitors Enter Photographic Art in Annual Display

More than 103 prints submitted by 26 exhibitors will be shown in the third annual student salon of photographic art in the lobby at Iowa Union Monday. The exhibit, which will be displayed for at least a week, is conducted under the auspices of the Campus Camera club and Union Board.

From the prints shown two groups will be selected to form two traveling circuits, one to be shown in the state and the other to form part of a national traveling exhibit. Included in the salon will be several pictures which were hung in the national exhibit of collegiate photographic art at the University of Wisconsin, earlier this year. The salon is conducted to encourage the development of creative appreciation and execution in photographic art. Competition was open to students, faculty, and staff members at the University of Iowa.

A jury of three judges selected the prints from a group of about 200 entries. The judges were Prof. Catherine Macartney, head of the graphic and plastic arts department, Prof. Edna Patzig of the graphic and plastic arts department, and Leo Kadginn.

Plans are being made by the club for an exhibition of prints from the New York Camera club. Definite dates will be announced later according to Harold M. Williams, president of the club.

Graduate Assistant Addresses Seminar

Theodore L. Jahn, research associate in zoology, addressed the zoology seminar yesterday on "Electro-Measurements of the Permeability of the Grasshopper Egg Membrane."

Mr. Jahn first reported the results of earlier experiments on the permeability of the grasshopper egg membrane to various salt solutions. From these results and from structural studies it became apparent, he said, that the membrane was not a simple one but was composed of four distinct layers. He then made chemical tests to discover the composition of each of these layers. Two of the layers he found to be protein in nature, while one of the others responded in part to tests which are supposedly selective for a substance called chitin. He stated that his own experiments and those of other workers convinced him that chitin was not a simple substance and that substances generally believed to be chitin did not always have the same chemical composition.

Baptist Young People to Hear V. V. Edmonds

"Building Life's Cathedrals" will be the subject of an address by Virgil V. Edmonds of Kansas City, Mo., tomorrow morning at the spring rally of the Baptist Young People's Union now in progress in Iowa City.

Registration; a worship service led by Dr. Lorin Honey, Dubuque, president in the fourth district; appointment of committees, and announcements will precede Mr. Edmonds' address.

Discussions

Conferences will follow the address, with the following subjects being discussed: "Objectives and Accomplishments," led by Edwin Phelps, Chicago; "Youth Contact With Jesus," Mrs. Gail Patterson, Dubuque; "Promoting Jesus' Program," Geraldine Deathridge of Centerville.

Committee meetings at 11:30 will complete the morning program.

More than 50 out-of-town guests had registered before the evening program last night. Official opening of the rally occurred at 8 p.m., with Elton Wood extending the official welcome and Howard Sunday, Anamosa, responding on behalf of the visitors.

Address
"Youth in Christ's Kingdom" was the subject of an address by the Rev. G. A. Patterson of Dubuque, immediately after the rally was opened.

"In the hands of youth rests the future, in religion as well as other fields," according to the Rev. Mr. Patterson. "Although it is true that our elders have done more than we can possibly realize, and despite the fact that youth tends to discredit the contribution which they have made, the young people of today must withstand temptations and carry on if religion is to have the glorious future that it deserves."

Worth Sharing

Concluding his address, the Rev. Mr. Patterson stressed the importance of the two major steps in a successful religious life, namely, self commitment and evangelism. "A faith worth having is a faith worth sharing" was his closing thought.

An officers' luncheon in Iowa Union tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. is one of the high-lights provided in the way of entertainment for the rally.

Presentation of an attendance cup, a worship service, and a consecration service with installation of officers tomorrow afternoon will conclude the program on "Youth in the Program of Jesus."

PANTHER, RELAY TEAM CRACK RECORDS

880 Quartet Tops Field In Drake Classic

Panther Hurls Spear 210 Ft.; Owen, 440 Relay Team Quality

By JACK GURWELL
(Daily Iowan Sports Editor)

DRAKE STADIUM, Des Moines, April 26—University of Iowa's two sprint relay teams qualified with ease here today for the finals tomorrow, establishing a new Drake Relays mark in the 880 event. Mark Panther shattered the javelin throw standard, and Jimmy Owen qualified in the 100 yard dash to lead the Hawkeye assault on the annual Mid-Western classic.

While the Iowans were doing their good deeds, Jesse Owens, Ohio State's sensational Negro performer, put to shame the carnival mark for the broad jump with a leap of 26 feet 1 3/4 inches, Owens bettering by more than a foot the old mark, lacking by less than an inch of going over the world record mark of 26 feet 2 3/8 inches established by Nambu of Japan in 1931 and creating a new American mark. Hamm of Georgia held the old American mark, 25 feet 11 1/8 inches.

One other record was broken, when an Iowa State Teacher quartet won the 880 yard Iowa intercollegiate one mile relay in 1:29.9, bettering the old mark of 1:30.2 established by Morningside college in 1930.

Mile Relay Team—Iowa's other relay outfit, the one mile, failed to qualify. Coach George Bresnahan's electing to keep Andy Dooley and Clyde Briggs in only the two sprint events weakened the otherwise powerful Hawkeye aggression that ran second to Texas at the Kansas Relays last Saturday in 3:16.8. Van Phillips and Lamar Smith filled in for Dooley and Briggs.

The Iowa competitor in the other two preliminaries, the broad jump and 120 yard high hurdles, found the going too tough. Francis Cretzmayr, Iowa's varied event performer, finished fourth in the hurdle event, and could get no better than 23 feet 4 inches in the broadjump. Six qualified. Owens jumped his best on his first try. Ray Latham, the other entry in the hurdles, gained a fourth place in his heat.

All Old Gold

It was all old gold in the two shorter events, however, and the Friday crowd of near 8,000 got an extravaganza of the all-sophomore cracker-jack outfit they had heard about, and cheered so madly when they breezed home by yards and yards.

Andy Dooley led off for the Hawks, and gave the baton to Briggs with a two yard lead. Briggs lost no time in putting about six more yards between himself and the pursuing Oklahoma runner, and Carl Nelson increased the lead. Jimmy Owen applied the heat and won walking away in 41.7, one-tenth of a second over the relays mark.

Went To Town

But in the 880 yard sprint the same quartet, with Owen leading off, followed by Briggs, Dooley and Nelson in that order, the University of Iowa team really went to town. Its time was 1:26 flat, clipping six-tenths of a second from the old Drake mark. The Hawks were troubled at no time. They won by about 85 yards over a vainly pursuing Nebraska team.

Texas, constant annoyance of the Iowans, won its heats in both sprints handily, but the time in both instances was not up to Iowa's. (Turn to page 7)

Novel Ideas To Feature Third Annual Circus

By BOB HOGAN

Elaborate plans are going forward in preparation for the third annual Iowa Circus sponsored by the physical education department of the university. With May 8 and 9 set as the dates for this year's gala carnival, aspiring acrobats, trapezists, stuntsters and just plain comedians, are practicing from early dawn till twilight in an effort to make this the most thrilling circus of all.

A new feature will be instituted this year according to Larry Griswold. All the fraternities and sororities on the campus will participate by entering representatives from their respective houses. The first sorority to enter a team and begin practicing is the Alpha Delta Pi quartet which will put on a swinging ladder act.

Music Galore

An extravagant program of music has been mapped out to aid the performers in their maneuvers as well as lend a "cheerful little earful" to the paying public. The varsity band, an orchestra which has not as yet been picked, and a clown band will offer musical renderings.

The Circus Queen will be chosen and she will be ushered in the first evening of the circus and will reign supreme for the two day carnival.

Variety of Acts

Other outstanding acts include a tableaux presented by the Dolphins, a crab act (tumbling), a flying act featuring Kitty Grim, and of course, there will be plenty of circus clowns on hand to amuse the audience with their amusing antics. Spectacular acts on the swinging and revolving ladders will serve to appease the appetites of those thrill seeking circus goers.

No Peanuts

All in all this 1935 edition of the Iowa Circus will have all the airs of a carnival playing the "big time." Probably the only things which will be noticeable due to their absence will be the ballet of the show, yodelers, the cries of the balloon peddlers and the smell of fresh roasted peanuts.

Netsters Meet Wisconsin In Big 10 Opener

Capt. Fletcher, Nye, Cline, Van der Zee To Play for Iowa

Victors over Bradley in their opening meet of the season Wednesday, Iowa's tennis players will be after their first Big Ten victory as they engage Wisconsin at Madison today.

E. F. Voltmer, acting coach in the absence of "Dad" Schroeder, and a four man squad of Capt. John Fletcher, Ken Cline, John Van der Zee and Frank Nye yesterday afternoon left by car at 2:30 with the intention of getting to Madison in time for a good rest last night.

Before leaving, Voltmer indicated that the ranking of the Iowa players would be the same as against Bradley, with Cline playing No. 1, Fletcher, No. 2, Van der Zee, No. 3, and Nye, No. 4. In doubles, Fletcher and Cline will pair up for the first combination, and Van der Zee and Nye for the second.

In the only meet with the Badgers last year, the Iowans were able to get a 3 to 3 tie. Considered a much stronger team than the 1934 team, the Hawkeyes are hoping to measure Wisconsin as their first conference victims.

Five Errors Aid Senators In 10 to 5 Win

BOSTON, April 26 (AP)—Joe Cronin, the $250,000 playing-manager set something of an attitude record today when the Boston infield fielded sky-high behind Bob "Lefty" Grove and enabled the Washington Senators to gain their first victory in four starts against the Red Sox, 10-5.

Card Rookie Leads Mates To 3-2 Win

ST. LOUIS, April 26 (AP)—A Cardinal rookie, Ed Heusser, today held the Pittsburgh Pirates to three hits in six and one-third innings, and finally got credit for a 3 to 2 victory in the eleventh inning. Heusser succeeded Bill Walker in the fifth.

Guy Bush, the hard-working Pirate right-hander also pitched nice ball until the fatal eleventh, when he made way for a pinch-hitter.

Martin doubled to greet Bill Swift, Bush's successor, and Medwick went to first on a passed ball scored as an error for Padden. Collins was passed purposely. Heusser fanned, but Davis' fly scored Martin with the winning run.

Maher Leads Hitters As Solon Twirler Whiffs 14 Batters

St. Mary's nine suffered a relapse from their winning ways on the ball diamond yesterday and succumbed to a rampaging Solon high nine by a 6 to 3 score on the City park layout.

Led by Joe Maher who ranned out four hits on as many trips to the plate, the Ramblers paled out 10 hits while the Solon nine garnered seven but they were timely bingles and meant the difference between a win and a loss.

Stalhe, enemy twirler who also bats in the cleanup position, had a rare day on the mound striking out 14 Marian sluggers that faced him. Beger took care of the mound duties for the locals and whiffed nine batters.

Nichols high will be the next opponent of the Ramblers.

Northwestern Wins 12 Inning Battle, 3 to 2

Gosser Permits But 5 Hits in Pitchers' Dual With Pedersen

EVANSTON, Ill., April 26 (AP)—Northwestern pushed over a run in the twelfth inning today to defeat Iowa, 3 to 2, and score its first victory of the Big Ten baseball season.

The winning run came when Hanson walked, moved to second on Clayborn's sacrifice and scored on Henkoff's single.

The contest was a pitching battle between Al Pedersen, Northwestern southpaw, and Gosser of Iowa. Gosser allowed only five hits, two of which were bunched with an error in the fifth for Northwestern's first two runs. Iowa scored in the third by mixing one of its seven hits with a hit batsman and an error. The Hawkeyes tied it up in the seventh on two hits and an error.

Gosser struck out nine batters and walked eight while Pedersen fanned eight and walked one. The game was Iowa's first in Big Ten competition. Northwestern lost its first game to Michigan last Tuesday.

BITS ABOUT SPORTS

by Jack Gurwell

DRAKE STADIUM, Des Moines, April 26—With a brisk wind blowing from the south, the twenty-sixth annual Drake Relays opened here today and there were about 8,000 fans on hand, despite the threatening weather, for a look at the galaxy of stars. They wanted to see the Iowa relay teams, Jesse Owens, Mark Panther and the U.C.L.A. relay team from the west.

One can hardly describe the state of affairs, and all of the relay fans will agree. But, there is something on all the time and few try to explain the thrills they get out of watching a group of swift limbed athletes go to town for a few records.

When the Iowa relay team was announced as warming up on the far curve of the track, the fans rose and cheered, and when they won they again rose and cheered, but more so. When Owens jumped for his American record of 26 3/4 inches, the fans knew nothing about it, but they cheered when he gave a few more qualifying leaps, although there was no reason for the event, he had already won the jump.

Owens took a preliminary run through the pit, and promptly turned his ankle. He limped over to the dressing room, had a little tape applied, came back to the pit, took his first leap, and presto, there was the mark. Officials announced later Owens had taken off seven inches behind the board. So his jump was really 26 feet 8 3/4 inches, way beyond Nambu.

There was lots of action around the officials' stand, where the athletes gather and where the kids scurried to get autographs. They got a few, but on the whole the competitors were not generous to the Des Moines youths. Ralph Graves, one of the greatest high school middle distance stars, was helping his Cherokee two mile relay team to victory with cheers from the sidelines. Graves' high school competition was finished last semester, and he could only help one runner slip off a jersey and put it on another. He was having a good time.

Weather experts predict fair weather for tomorrow, but the sky looks not so hot tonight. Fair weather it might be, however, this noon a few scattered rain drops fell, but the clouds rolled away by 2 o'clock and failed to show up until the finals event was run off. Maybe we will have swell weather tomorrow.

Darkness Halts Giant-Phil Fray

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—The Giants and Phillies tossed a bit of nearly everything into the baseball dish today and pulled out their second drawn battle of the season when darkness halted the contest with the score tied at 5-5 after 13 innings. They played a 4-4 tie last Sunday when the Pennsylvania Sunday law cut a game off in the tenth.

The Phils' leading offerings were two home runs by Johnny Moore, his fourth and fifth of the season, and an odd triple play which cut short one Giant's uprising. The Giants presented four-py winlows by Joe Moore and Dick Bartell and a lot of wasted hits in the extra innings.

Kennett Picks Eight Players For Opener

Foursomes to Begin At 8 A.M.; Singles This Afternoon

Iowa's golf team, spearheaded by three letter winners, opens its 1935 season today against the Kirksville School of Osteopathy on Plinkbink field. Desiring to give meet experience to as many men as possible, Coach Charles Kennett will send eight players against the visitors. The doubles and singles teams will have separate personnel.

The foursomes, which will be played off in the morning by the doubles teams of the two schools, begin at 8 o'clock. The singles will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dunkelberg, Kadgin

Bob Dunkelberg and Henry Kadgin will form Iowa's doubles team in the first four-omes against F. R. Lovell and R. B. Barnett, while George Cook and Dick Rhue will represent the Hawkeyes in the second flight against G. W. Book and J. Woodhall.

Headed by Jim Gardner, who will be playing No. 3, the singles team includes also: John Stromsten, Ed Lambert and Ed Shelley, ranked in that order. The pairings for the singles play is: Gardner vs. Lovell, Stromsten vs. Book, Lambert vs. Woodhall, and Shelley vs. Barnett.

Massau System

The Massau system of scoring which gives one point for each hole and one for the match, will be used in determining the winner of the meet.

This leaves three points as the maximum each singles player can win and the same amount as the maximum for each doubles team. Match play will be used in the singles and "low ball" in foursomes.

Fountain Amasses 16 Points to Take Individual Honors
By AL BEECHER

University high's track and field athletes emerged victorious in a three-cornered battle on the old Iowa field here today by scoring a total of 70-10 points. Monticello took second with 54-25 points and St. Patrick's high third with 25-10 points.

Only one record was established during the course of the afternoon. Due to the new high school rule which allows the high hurdles to be lowered three inches, Fountain, of University high, skimmied over the barriers in 1:18 flat. A team composed of Kent, Hart, Lewis and Neff, running in that order, collaborated in coming close to the existing mile relay record of the school by circling the track in 3:46.5.

During the course of the afternoon the Rivermen captured seven first places out of the 15 events, while Monticello and St. Pat's succeeded in winning four each.

Two of the most exciting races of the day were provided in the dash events when Duane of St. Pat's and Spooner of Monticello raced neck and neck to the tape both times with the Irish flyer getting the nod in each event.

Fountain, University high's stellar athlete, was individual high scorer for the afternoon by virtue of his winning firsts in the 120 yard high hurdles, in which he established the school record and the javelin throw. He also placed second in the 200 yard low hurdles, third in the pole vault and a fourth in the shot put, accumulating a total of 16 points for the afternoon.

Cubs Throttle Reds, 3 to 2

Carleton Fans Eight As Empire Chases Dressed From Field

CINCINNATI, April 26 (AP)—Cincinnati Reds fell before the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 2, today.

Tex Carleton, Chicago pitcher, fanned eight batters and the outfield put out nine more, while Cavaretta at first base had almost a holiday, with but one putout to his credit.

Manager Chuck Dressen of the Reds got a holiday, too. The umpires sent him from the field in the sixth inning for swinging at Carleton. The Cub pitcher and Coach George Kelly of the Reds had squabbled over the "riding" the Reds gave their mound opponent. Players had separated the two when Dressen renewed the argument on his own account.

Tying the score in the seventh as Cavaretta tripped and Hartnett grounded, the Cubs won on singles by Herman and Klein, coupled with Lindstrom's fly to Hafey.

Cleveland's Homers Sink Detroit, 11-3

CLEVELAND, April 26 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians won an easy victory over the Detroit Tigers here today by a score of 11 to 3. Two successive home runs in the third inning, one by Hale with two men on bases and one by Campbell, accounted for four of the Indians runs.

The Tribe pounded Pitcher Elden Auker and his successors, Alvin Crowder and Elton Hogsett for 13 bingles. Six were made off Auker.

Willis Hudlin, Cleveland pitcher, gained his second victory of the season over the Tigers. Goose Goslin hit a home run for Detroit.

Browns Wilt Under White Sox Barrage

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP)—The hustling Chicago White Sox assaulted four St. Louis pitchers for five home runs and eleven other hits today to trounce the Browns, 11 to 4, in the series opener and take possession of second place in the American league.

The homers, which accounted for nine runs and made the task of Ted Lyons, making his first start of the season for the Sox, an easy one. The veteran right-hander gave only six hits, three of them by Beau Bell.

The Sox home runs were produced by Jack Hayes, Rip Radcliff, Al Simmons, Luke Appling and Zekia Jonura, the latter connecting for his fifth of the season. One of Bell's hits was a homer with one on.

Gotham Short-Stop Socks Cascarella For 4-Run Homer

PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (AP)—Vito Tamulis, 23-year-old rookie southpaw, took the hill for the Yankees today because a cold kept Lefty Gomez from taking his regular turn. The youngster hurled a neat eight-inning game while the Yankees blasted out an 11 to 2 victory over the Athletics.

A home run by Frank Crossett with the bases full in the second inning brought the downfall of Joe Cascarella, who whiffed seven in as many innings. The Yankees belted three successors, Charley Lieber, Roy Mahaffey and George Caster, for six tallies in the eighth.

Dodgers Hand Boston Braves 5-4 Trimming

BROOKLYN, April 26 (AP)—The Dodgers won their fifth straight victory and topped the Babe Ruthless Boston Braves into their fifth straight defeat today when they pulled out a 5 to 4 victory before 15,000 fans.

Old Tom Zachary weakened in the eighth, when Boston scored three runs, but Dutch Leonard came in as a relief pitcher and successfully pitched out the lead the Dodgers had built up off Fred Frankhouse. One of the nine Brooklyn hits was a homer by Sam Leslie while four Boston errors contributed considerably to the scoring.

Explanation Of "Strange As It Seems"

Fish use their fins as an aid in swimming, but the fins themselves, except in rare cases, do not in any way help propel the fish through the water. They merely provide a rudder action, side and top, to aid in maintaining a balance. They are sometimes used to slow the fish's forward motion through the water. The tail drives the fish through the water by means of a side-to-side motion.

The Holy Scriptures

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scriptures—Deut. 6:4-9; Josh. 1:8, 9; II Kings 22:8-20; Neh. 8:1-8; Ps. 19:7-14; Luke 24:25-32; Acts 17:10-12; II Tim. 3:14-17; Heb. 1:1-4.

In Moses' farewell address in what we call Deuteronomy he urged the Israelites to teach God's commandments daily to their children in their homes. So the Bible is intended to be a book for the family circle.

The Bible also has its place in national life. In the days of Josiah the sacred scriptures had been lost, but were found and read to the king. It taught the king how far astray the nation had gone and how much they needed a reformation.

To two disciples on the road to Emmaus, Jesus appeared on the day of the resurrection and showed them many Old Testament prophecies fulfilled in his sufferings and death. They felt their hearts warm as he opened the Bible to them.

Paul wrote to Timothy reminding him of how from a babe he had known the holy scriptures. "Every scripture inspired of God is profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness," he said.

(GOLDEN TEXT—Ps. 119:37)

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for April 28 is Deut. 6:4-9; Joshua 1:8-9; II Kings 22:8-20; Neh. 8:1-8; Ps. 19:7-14; Luke 24:25-32; Acts 17:10-12; II Tim. 3:14-17; Heb. 1:1-4, especially Ps. 19:7-14 and II Tim. 3:14-17, the Golden Text being Psalm 119:37, "Oh how love I thy law! It is my meditation all the day."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
 God gave the Bible to be a daily guide for old and young in the home. He wants it to be an armament not an ornament in the home, a molding feature and not a moldering fetish. Accordingly, God, through Moses, commanded concerning his words, "Thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up." The Bible, therefore, is not primarily a book for church or cloister, but for home and family.

The Bible in National Life
 In national life no less than in family life the Bible is to have its place of honor and influence. The great national reformations headed by such godly kings as Asa, Jehoshaphat, Josiah, Hezekiah and Josiah, all grew out of the restoration of God's word to its proper place as the nation's guide-book for king and subjects alike. To those kings who "observed to do all that is written therein" God fulfilled his promise "thou shalt make thy way prosperous and thou shalt have good success." When godless kings disregarded the scriptures and made the captivity a necessary punishment for the nation Ezra and Nehemiah led the way back through reformation fostered by the restoration of the word.

In the nineteenth Psalm the psalmist first pictures nature as a book through whose pages God gave a revelation of his glory: "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handywork." Then he turns to the word of God as an instrument for the still more perfect revelation of God's glory: "The law of the Lord is perfect, restoring the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure enlightening the eyes." Then the psalmist passes from God's revelation in nature and scripture to that of experience. And here for the first time is sounded a discordant note, for man alone is out of tune with God: "Who can understand his errors? Cleanse thou me from secret faults." His cry for harmony of nature and revelation is voiced thus: "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my redeemer."

Christ Opens the Word
 To the two disciples on the road to Emmaus the risen Christ appeared and matched the facts of his suffering, death and resurrection with the prophecies of scripture of Moses and the prophets and psalmist until their hearts burned within them while he talked with them by the way and opened to them the scriptures.
