Long Session Predicted For This Congress

President Outlines Desired Legislation To House Chieftains

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—House chiefs looked over the legislative slate with President Roosevelt today and returned to the Capitol with predictions that congress probably would be in session until late summer.

Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Rayburn described the president as anxious for congress to act before adjournment on Revamping the supreme court, reorganizing governmental agencies, setting wage and hour standards, planning conservation of water, soil and power resources, aiding farm tenants, building low cost dwellings, closing loopholes used by tax dodgers and extending nuisance taxes.

Not "Insistent" "Mr. Roosevelt," Bankhead said, "didn't insist on anything being passed but urged that we try to get all these matters through as soon as possible."

"I think we'll be here maybe until the end of August," Rayburn remarked.

"I'm somewhat of a pessimist on adjournment," the speaker said, "but I certainly hope to be in Alabama on Labor day."

Planning and conservation legislation was the only addition today to a program disclosed by Senate Majority Leader Robinson after a conference at the White House Thursday night.

Congressional leaders said they looked for no more major suggestions for legislation this session.

The Roosevelt proposal to add five justices to the supreme court unless incumbents past 70 retire remained the big hurdle in the path to adjournment. Bankhead and Rayburn said they discussed it only generally at the White House.

Graduates Keep War Vow

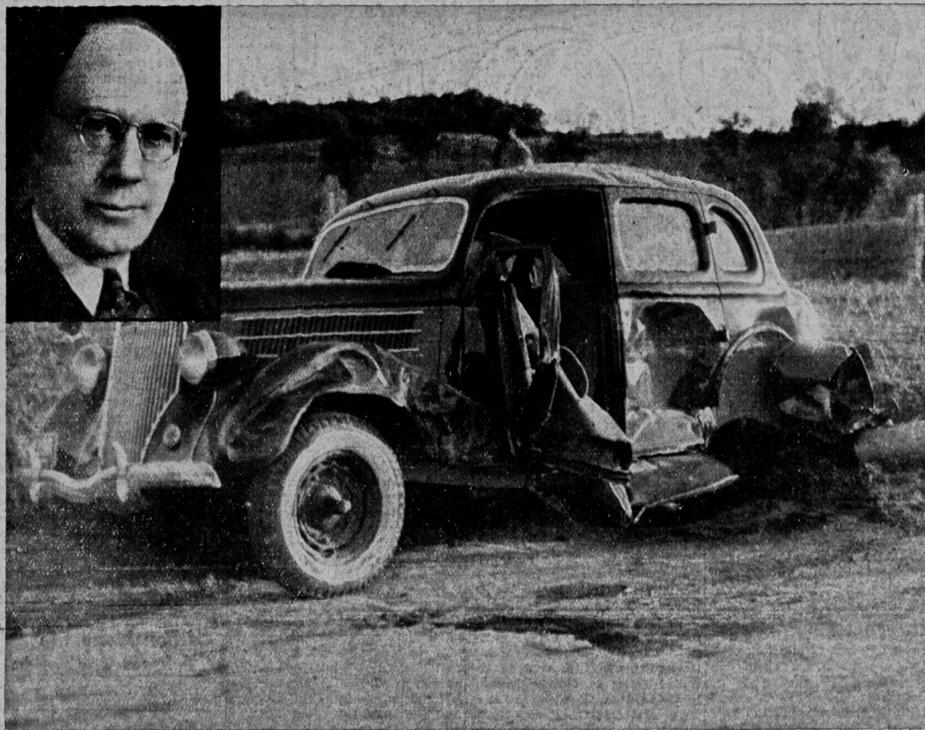

After 20 Years, Six Charter Members Of Alpha Tau Omega Meet Here Again

Twenty years ago, when the United States had just entered the World war six University of Iowa alumni of 1916 and 1917—all war bound—signed a document agreeing to meet on the campus of their alma mater twenty years hence.

Today that document will be fulfilled, when the six alumni, all charter members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, will meet for dinner at 12:30 in the Jefferson hotel.

Former Mayor Martin Former Mayor Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City, 1916 liberal arts, is one of the group "bound together by the sacred ties of our brotherhood in the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and by the even stronger bonds of kindred spirits, hopes and ideals into

Richard Budreau, 16, Drowns In Sandpit South of Iowa City

Attempt to Revive Youthful Swimmer Is Unsuccessful

(Picture on Page 8)

Richard Budreau, 16, son of Mrs. Sarah Budreau, 729 E. Market street, was accidentally drowned at 4:15 p.m. yesterday while swimming with three companions in a sand-pit at the country home of Dr. F. J. Rohrer near Indian Lookout, about three miles south of Iowa City.

Fire Chief Herman Amish, who attempted unsuccessfully to revive Budreau, said the youth apparently had gone swimming while overheated from a bicycle ride from Iowa City. The water was about 12 feet deep at the place where the drowning occurred.

Companions Andy Duros, Bob Williams and

Jack Hotz, all Iowa City youths, were swimming with Budreau at the time of the drowning.

Budreau, who was a freshman at St. Mary's high school, had lived in Iowa City all his life. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church.

Survivors Survivors include his mother, two sisters, Rose and Florence, and three brothers, LaVerne, Russell and Paul. The youth's father died Aug. 15, 1936.

Funeral arrangements will be made today. The body is at McGovern's.

Wife Buyer Jailed On Charge He Paid 'Tired' Hubby $20

NEVADA CITY, Cal., June 5 (AP)—William Ebaugh, 29, six foot, 235 pound woodsman, was jailed today on Mrs. Ray Delama's charge that he kept her captive three months after "buying" her from her husband for $20.

William B. Woods, sheriff's deputy, said Ebaugh admitted paying Mrs. Delama's husband $20 for her and also admitted he broke her ribs "when I hugged her too tight."

Mrs. Delama told the sheriff her husband became "tired" of her three months ago and she went to Ebaugh's cabin, presumably to work for him.

The sheriff said Mrs. Delama told him her husband later went to Ebaugh, made a deal to sell her for $20 and Ebaugh locked her in his cabin, beat her and dragged her about by the hair when she resisted his advances.

Walgreen Presents $550,000 Gift To Chicago University

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—Charles R. Walgreen, drug store magnate, who two years ago leveled charges of radicalism at the University of Chicago, today gave the school $550,000 for the establishment of a foundation for the study of American institutions.

University President Robert M. Hutchins announced the gift at an annual alumni reunion.

In April, 1935, Walgreen charged the university fostered "red" activities and withdrew his niece, Lucille Norton, as a student, declaring she was "insidiously exposed to communistic influences."

President Hutchins said today he did not believe the gift implied any change in Walgreen's attitude but that the chain drug store operator considered "American institutions more important than American universities."

John F. Trimble, 73, Resident of City For Many Years, Dies

Woman Hurt In Car Crash

Alice Smith of Lone Tree suffered a deep cut on her back when cars driven by George Crawford of Lone Tree and John Schuppert, 330 N. Lucas street, collided at 7 p. m. yesterday four miles south of here on the Lone Tree road.

Schuppert, approaching from a side road, struck the Crawford machine at an intersection, pushing it into the ditch, according to Deputy Sheriff Preston Koser. Neither car was badly damaged.

Miss Smith, who was taken to the Rohrbacher sanitarium after the collision, was released early last night. She was riding in the Crawford automobile.

Not Great, but Funny

'Saint Louie,' Though Lacking in Rhyme And Reason, Provides Plenty of Laughs

By MERLE MILLER

Warren Lee's "Saint Louie" is neither a great nor important play. It is, fortunately, a funny one, and for those of us who go to the theater to laugh, there is humor here, broad Rabelaisian humor.

There is little rhyme or reason to it, but that doesn't matter. Lee has written with his tongue in his cheek in the style that brought this year's Pulitzer prize to "You Can't Take It With You." Happily farce, and "Saint Louie" is the broadest farce, is largely exempt from reality.

Lacks Stress Lee's humor lacks the deftness and the easy, unrestrained of the Broadway comedy. He must learn, too, what most of us find by experience, that nothing is quite so unfunny as a bad pun. There were several in "Saint Louie."

The plot, what there was of it, got off to a slow start. The first act curtain found the audience restless and uneasy in a theater that was uncomfortably warm and unventilated.

After the delightfully funny sec-

Head of University's Bureau Of Dental Hygiene Fatally Hurt In Headon Collision North of City

Police Hold O. C. Sorlein of Guttenberg, Driver Of Other Car, in Investigation of Accident; Mrs. Drain Escapes Serious Injury

Dr. Charles L. Drain, 42-year-old head of the bureau of dental hygiene at the University of Iowa, died at 6:30 p.m. yesterday, only a few minutes after he was injured in a head-on auto collision five and one-half miles north of here on U.S. highway 161.

Dr. Drain died shortly after he reached University hospital, where he was rushed after the accident, Dr. George C. Callahan, county coroner, said. Death was attributed to a skull fracture.

Police at an early hour this morning were investigating the accident, O. C. Sorlein of Guttenberg, driver of the car which collided with the Drain machine, is being held at the county jail this morning for "investigation."

John D. Leaves 25 Million In Private Estate

Granddaughter Named Chief Beneficiary In Oil Mogul's Will

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., June 5 (AP)—The "relatively small" estate left by John D. Rockefeller Sr. turned out today to be approximately $25,000,000, which may shrink to $10,000,000 by the time the tax collectors are through.

Principal beneficiaries named in the capitalist's will, which was filed here for probate, were Mrs. Margaret Strong de Cuevas, a granddaughter, and the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Mr. Rockefeller explained, in a codicil dated Oct. 3, 1934, that he already had made ample provision for his other heirs.

Much of the tremendous fortune he developed during the first half of his life from the Standard Oil trust, mines, railroads and numerous other enterprises had been spread over a variety of philanthropic institutions long before he died on May 23 at Ormond Beach, Fla. The rest had been distributed among members of the family.

"Small and Liquid" While neither affirming nor denying that his fortune once was well in excess of two billion dollars, his public relations counsel announced at the time of his death that his estate was "relatively small" and "very liquid."

His public benefactions totaled $530,830,000, and extended into every corner of the world.

The petition for probate of his will listed his personal holdings as "over $10,000." The $25,000,000 estimate was supplied by persons familiar with his affairs.

On the death of Mrs. de Cuevas the trust is to be divided among her descendants and in turn passed on in principal to her grandchildren, with the proviso that if there are no descendants living it is to revert to the Rockefeller Institute.

Out In The World

TOMORROW THE university will graduate 1,066 young men and women. The goal that they attain at this time represents years of sacrifice, years of work, years of study.

Circulation of the petition was begun only a week ago and in that short time nearly 250 signatures have been obtained. Heartily endorsed as the movement has been thus far, it must be temporarily abandoned with the closing of the school year.

However, it should receive considerable impetus with the opening of school next fall when the students are here once again in full force.

Several locations for the murals have been suggested—the west foyer of the fine arts building, various places in the new university theater and in Iowa Union. Any of these locations would be more than suitable.

Besides stimulating an added interest in art on the campus, the project would also furnish considerable practical experience for advanced art students. Seven students were given employment on the murals constructed here for the Iowa State college library.

Next in line, "Am I interested in the world around me—am I ready to do my part?" After all, it is only the active who make their opportunities and take advantage of them.

These are the most important aspects of the problem, and with an understanding of them the graduate will at least be off to a good start. The world is fundamentally the same today as it was yesterday, and the same rewards await him who will take them.

What is spring? asks a dreamy-eyed poet. The answer is easy. It is the season that is supposed to exist—but doesn't—between winter and summer.

Perhaps the reason the bicycle is enjoying a new wave of popularity is because so many of us have become used to going around corners on two wheels.

Would Hanging Solve the Problem? TWO 17-year old boys are to spend the rest of their lives in a South Dakota prison, according to the decree of Circuit Judge John F. Hughes.

Somehow we are glad that the South Dakota laws provide for life imprisonment rather than death. We cannot agree with Judge Hughes when he told the boys, "If you had capital punishment as we ought to have . . . you would hesitate."

Does he honestly believe that a law providing for capital punishment prevented the murder? Does he agree with the fathers of the two boys that they are "smart punks" who are getting what they deserve?

If so, he is but following a time-honored precedent of a self-righteous society which, after having tortured and reared a criminal, places the entire blame for crime upon his shoulders.

After all, few men are what they make themselves. Most are what they are made to be. They are the result of all the influences, acting through parents, school, and other forces of society, which have shaped their lives. It is possible for some men to be brought up in the worst of environments, surrounded by all the elements of crime, and still emerge comparatively honest.

And it is not the boys' fault that those factors of education, sympathy, and understanding were so lacking. It was the fault of society which has not yet removed itself far enough from the days when "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" was the standard by which all punishment was guided.

The way to prevent crime is not, as Judge Hughes seems to believe, by passing stricter laws for vengeance, but to make more effective the scope of those influences which give direction to the lives of American youth.

The pretty, young Key quadruplets have graduated from college and are ready to make their way in the business world. They already have one accomplishment to their credit—they can make up a table of bridge without help from anyone.

Iowa Art On The Iowa Campus

OUR OWN Iowa art on the Iowa campus—this is the objective of the student-promoted petition seeking the inclusion of student-constructed murals in the long term expansion program of the University of Iowa.

How Pasteurized Milk Saves Babies in Summer

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE BABY'S first summer used to be dangerous, but it no longer is terrifying to the young mother, and this is largely because of the crusade for pure milk.

While the crusade for pure milk was started by the milk industry in the middle of the 1900's, the big impetus to modern milk sanitation came with the introduction of pasteurization.

From the time in 1893, when pasteurization was first used in the United States to destroy harmful bacteria that might get into milk, to the present day, the story of pure milk is a record of continuous progress.

As knowledge of pasteurization spread, government, state and local health officials, cooperating with milk distributors and producers, make possible a milk supply that is a vital factor in safeguarding the nation's health.

Milk Distribution Fine: Pasteurization also helped speed developments of the far-reaching American system of daily distribution of milk, now unquestionably the finest in the world.

In 1910, three years before pasteurization of milk became compulsory in New York, 3,598 children under five years of age died of diarrheal disease during the three summer months, July, August and September. By 1920 the number of such Nevertheless, it was not good business. It enraged a big bloc of voters, most of whom undoubtedly felt that they were being made the victims of a mere racket. Besides, the chances are that few of them really were guilty of skipping on the government—intentionally, anyway.

The advertising was poor stuff, too. What jazz was there in announcing that 500,000 John Smiths or 1,000,000 Bill Browns had been proved to have reneged $2 or $3 per capita on Uncle Sammet—even if they had done so?

This Is Different: To make a "good story," as newspapermen express it, it must be demonstrated that some well-known multi-millionaire has slid through an entire year entirely unharmed or obviously inadequately taxed, with the rank-and-file citizen carrying his normal burden.

That occurred when the senate's Pecora investigation disclosed that J. P. Morgan paid no income tax the same year that I, for instance, paid one.

Clear-Cut Answers: President Roosevelt desires a congressional committee's form of an answer.

He can go after alleged tax dodgers by the legal method, but "buts and buts" are the only rejoinders he will get.

Therefore, he demands new laws. To get them he will have to have a congressional investigation, calling for direct answers. And these answers will give publicity to what he wants to give publicity to.

Voters Enraged: I do not know what the yield was. It was substantial probably.

Carbon Monoxide Takes Heavy Toll in U.S. Each Year: Asphyxiation annually kills 50,000 persons a year in the United States, or 50 per cent more than are killed by automobile accidents, the Literary Digest states, adding that approximately half of the deaths from asphyxia are due to carbon monoxide.

Carbon monoxide kills because it has an insatiable hunger for hemoglobin which is the red coloring matter of the blood whose job it is to carry life-giving oxygen through the system. A trifling amount of carbon monoxide, breathed over a period of hours, the magazine states, can build up a serious concentration in the blood stream.

The most efficient automobile at present gives off four per cent carbon monoxide, while the average car gives off about 13 per cent. Remedies for carbon monoxide asphyxiation are ventilation, the best possible adjustment for engine-combustion and repair of defective exhaust pipes.

The first measure of aid for carbon monoxide poisoning is to get the victim out into the air and then call the police emergency-squad or the local gas company.

SCREEN LIFE

By HUBBARD KEAVY. (In this letter to Hubbard Keavy Fred MacMurray tells what he does not like about being a movie star.)

DEAR HUB: My answer to your question, "What is the greatest penalty of being a screen player?" is routine. I'll confess, but I give it with complete sincerity.

It's meeting the public. Frankly, I'd give anything in the world if my face and figure weren't so well known. After my first few pictures, when I was first married, my wife and I had a lot of fun going places and doing things, but all this is over now.

It's getting so I even hate to go shopping. A trip down Hollywood boulevard is painful to me. I'm somewhat of an exception in this feeling. Some players say they are annoyed by being surrounded by people, but they actually like it. I don't.

Dislikes Meeting People: Actually, one of the big battles I've had, during my career, has been to overcome an inherent fright on meeting people.

Now, everywhere I go, people stare at me, approach me, ask me questions, want to talk to me. Of course, after all the roles in which I've played, people think of me as a sort of easy-going, devil-may-care sort of fellow who isn't uncomfortable in any situation—and that makes it doubly hard.

One of the reasons why I've built a home in Belair, with an acre of ground around it, is so that I'll be able to walk around in the fresh air without having to meet people.

People have silly wishes—and I have one of them. I want anonymity.

If the proverbial good fairy should suddenly appear and ask me to make one wish, it would be to have just 24 hours of anonymity. I'd like to go to a public restaurant with my wife and be just Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doakes, without having people rush around and make a fuss about me. I'd like to have gasoline put into my car without having a tete-a-tete with the gasoline man about motion pictures.

Perhaps all this sounds as if I don't like pictures. I can hear the heckler in the back row say: "He doesn't appreciate the breaks he's getting."

I do appreciate them, and I'm grateful for every chance I've had in the last three years. I enjoy my work, love my home, wouldn't trade jobs with anybody in the world.

But there is no such thing as a completely happy, perfect, idealistic condition of life. I'm just setting forth the one and only thing which keeps jarring me out of an otherwise perfect existence.

Very truly yours, FRED MACMURRAY

A New Yorker At Large

By JACK STINNETT. NEW YORK—Just when most Broadway producers were folding their tents and preparing to steal away for the summer, George Abbott launched an attack on the Elstolte delirium with a barrage of laughter that probably will be reverberating when another season is laid out in its winding sheet.

The piece is called "Room Service." It's a farce. And it is hilarious.

Whether Critic Richard Watts, Jr., carries a laughometer around with him these days, we wouldn't know, but he did do enough calculation to call "Room Service" five times as funny as "Three Men on a Horse," and ventured the opinion that "George Abbott is almost as great a man as Carl Huggell."

Brooks Atkinson felt that it is Abbott's "best feat of guffaws and merry-making" but admitted that at the time of writing his critical essay he was "too fatigued from laughing to appraise the play judicially."

The other gentlemen of the first night list were, no less extravagant in their praise, and the point we make is that all this came off when May had run its course and no player of note that one season's standing looks for anything more than a few hopeful shots in dark theaters.

"Room Service," however, will keep the Cort a blaze for a good many moons and no mistake. It is one of those sluggish, bill-bang farces in the same vein, dealing with what is known as "shoe-string" producing in the theater.

The story has simply to do with the "shoe-string" producer's efforts to get an Orson Gwynne play-wright's drama on the boards and at the same time avoid his and his associates' being tossed bodily out of the hotel for failure to pay a long overdue bill.

Band Reflects Spring Tempo In Commencement Concert

By LOU LAYNE

Dr. O. E. Van Doren's red-coated Iowa bandmen last night carried an appreciative audience through a spring concert adapted to bright sunlight, fading day and night a-borning. Particularly effective were a reminiscence survey of numbers dear to music lovers and a tender description of a spring morning.

Safranek's collection, gathered under the title "Hall of Fame," seemed to blend particularly well with open skies and floors of grass which served as the evening's music hall.

Verdi's stately "Celeste Aida," one of the interpolations in the rendition, was a fitting accompaniment to falling dusk.

The seasonal setting was continued, after a brief departure, by Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," a bit dragging. A dash of enlivening coolness, however, made its appearance as Moscow's church bells ushered in Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor."

Grieg's "Anitra's Dance" followed then, only to resolve into Dvorak's "Humoresque" and the familiar "Swanee River," playing musical tag in counterpoint.

Lacomb's "Aubade Printaniere,"

Other selections on the program were:

Van Doren's "Pentacrest" and "Men of Iowa," always stirring; "Victor Herbert's Favorite," a collection which reflects universal favoritism; Texidor's "Amparito Roco," a short and spirited Spanish March, and Suppe's oft-played "Post and Peasant" overture.

This afternoon's concert, fourth in the Commencement week series, will be given on East hall campus at 2:30, the selections to be played being selected to reflect the whims of the weather gods. Two soloists, however, will appear, Mrs. Alexander O. Ellett, singing the "Blue Danube Waltz," "Glow Worm," and perhaps Herbert's "Italian Street Song," and Thomas Ayres, A3 of Iowa City, playing Boccalini's "Fantasia di Concerto."

Don Spencer Named 4-H Club President At Annual Election

Other officers named include Le and Stock of Lone Tree, vice-president; William Hunter of Iowa City, secretary-treasurer, and Martin Warren of Iowa City, local club leader.

Stock talked on conservation of white-tailed deer in Iowa, and Warren reported on the National dairy meeting which he recently attended in Chicago.

The club will meet again July 6.

Returning Grads Hear Gilmore At Luncheon, Attend 'College'

Pointing out the need for larger appropriations for the University of Iowa, President Eugene A. Gilmore addressed approximately 1,000 persons at the alumni luncheon in Iowa Union yesterday noon.

The luncheon was but one of the many events on the program of Alumni day, which brought hundreds of alumni back to the campus for an all-day celebration.

Another highlight in the day's events was the alumni college, included for the first time this year in the day's entertainment features.

Alumni lecturers were Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts, Prof. Grant Wood of the graphic and plastic arts department and Prof. Karl E. Leib of the college of commerce.

Special reunions for all classes whose numerals end in either "2" or "7" were also held. In addition countless informal "get-togethers" of all kinds were attended by returning alumni.

"All over Iowa we have evidence of prosperity," President Gilmore declared. Despite this fact, the University of Iowa must continue to operate on a budget which is below the average of 19 years ago, he explained.

"We have the same struggles as an institution which every individual and the head of every family has to face in making both ends meet," President Gilmore said. "We have to operate on a budget and we have to turn to the source of our income, the legislature, for our support."

President Gilmore paid tribute to George T. Baker of Davenport, president of the state board of education, and William T. Boyd of Cedar Rapids, for 23 years head of the finance committee of the board.

"The legislature did all that it thought it could do. . . Perhaps we are getting a discipline in economy and adjustment which we should have," President Gilmore stated.

The traveling cup awarded to the class having the largest percentage of members in attendance was presented to the 1887 medicine class. Of 11 living members in the class seven attended the class reunion. Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, executive secretary of the Alumni association, made the presentation.

Second place was given to the 1912 medicine class, third to the 1902 medicine class, and fourth to the 1887 liberal arts class organized by Marvin H. Dey, 507 N. Clinton street.

Gold medals were presented by President Gilmore to 22 members of 1887 classes returning to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their graduation. The classes represented were the liberal arts, law, medicine and dentistry classes.

Rush C. Butler of Chicago, Ill., retiring president of the Alumni association, presided during the luncheon.

Clyde B. Charlton of Des Moines, president-elect of the Alumni association, was introduced and addressed the alumni briefly.

New officers and directors of the Alumni association took office last night at the first director's meeting in the Triangle club rooms.

Wood, Leib, Kay Give Lectures

"The painting of today is not the painting of the future," Prof. Grant Wood of the graphic and plastic arts department declared in an alumni college lecture in Old Capitol yesterday afternoon.

Professor Wood, drawing a parallel between his own experience as a painter and recent trends in painting, pointed out that the only way to give a correct picture of American life is to take it by cross sections.

Speaking on "Labor Unrest," Prof. Karl E. Leib of the college of commerce pointed out the factors leading to the dissatisfied condition of labor as a whole.

Professor Leib asserted that industrial disputes have multiplied instead of decreased since the operation of the Wagner Labor act, designed to prevent serious industrial disputes.

He called the Wagner act "the clear demand of one group that they be allowed to substitute force for orderly process in violation of the law."

Traces State's Development. Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts, describing Iowa's geological history, traced Iowa's development in an illustrated lecture.

Beginning with the time when Iowa was completely covered by water, Dean Kay illustrated with slides and charts the growth of the state. "Iowa is one of the classic areas of the world for the preservation of records," he said.

Service Held in M. E. Church; Prof. Willard Lampe Officiates

Bride's Sister Is Only Attendant Of University Grad

In a dignified late afternoon ceremony yesterday, Lois Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Beckman, 405 Reno street, and John E. Thede, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Thede of Dixon, repeated their marriage vows. Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, read the ceremony at 4 p.m. in the Methodist Episcopal church in the presence of a large company of friends from Iowa City and other towns.

At the altar of the church stood tall Tiffany baskets of white peonies. White stagers gleamed in a bower of palms and greenery.

Organ Music
Mrs. Maud Whedon Smith, organist, who had been playing appropriate songs as the guests gathered, broke into the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" as the bride came up the aisle on her father's arm.

She was dressed in a princess gown of white chantilly applique lace worn over a white satin slip. Godets of white net at the hem extended into a circular train. The bodice was made with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves, puffed at the top. The bride's silk tulle veil fell to her shoulders. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Bride's Sister
Marjorie Beckman, the bride's sister, was her only attendant. She wore a deep blue chiffon gown with a slip of matching taffeta. It was trimmed with a row of tiny buttons from waist to neckline and with bands of matching lace around the skirt, bodice and short puff sleeves. Her sandals were of matching blue. She wore a Juliet cap and veil and carried a bouquet of roses and blue delphinium.

The bridegroom was attended by John Heide of Cedar Rapids. Ushers were Harold Nicolaus of Wilton Junction, Carl Haesebeyer of Stanwood, Norman Riefe of Davenport and Charles A. Beckman Jr., the bride's brother.

Reception
Immediately after the wedding, about 50 intimate friends and relatives were guests at a reception in the Beckman home. Late in the afternoon, the bridal couple left on a brief wedding trip, the destination of which was not disclosed. They will be at home in Dixon after July 1.

Mrs. Beckman was graduated from the college of commerce in 1934. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority and of Phi Gamma Xi commerce sorority. In her last year, she was awarded a Phi Chi Phi scholastic honor. Before attending the University of Iowa, she was a student at Stephens college.

Mr. Thede was graduated from the college of liberal arts last February. He was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. He is now assistant cashier of the Dixon Savings bank.

18 Year-Old Finalist

Betty Jameson Ploughs Under Two Curtis Cup Players

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 5 (AP)—Bashful, 18-year-old Betty Jameson ploughed under two Curtis Cup stars, one the defending champion, today and marched into the finals of the Women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament with her teen age pal, Patty Berg.

Mechanically the Texas champion smothered Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., champion the last two years, in a semi-final match, 5 and 3, after her 1 up triumph over Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, four times winner of the "Trans."

Finals Today
Tomorrow the two high school seniors go the 36-hole route for the crown.

Miss Jameson was even women's par today despite 100-degree heat. Miss Jameson's conquest of Miss Miley turned into a rout after they left the first green. Winner of the first hole with a par 4 when she buried a six-foot putt, the Texan played without error and matched Miley's par, stroke for stroke, in winning six of the first seven holes.

Curling Putts
Twice she negotiated almost "dead" stymies with curling putts. Miss Miley won the eighth when she laid Miss Jameson a stymie and they turned the nine with Miss Jameson five up. At the 181-yard par 3 tenth Miley hooked out of bounds and went six down.

See-Saw Battle
Earlier Miss Jameson had won a see-saw battle from Mrs. Hill at the home hole after leading from the eighth.

Miss Miley played great golf this morning to beat Mrs. Lucile Robinson Mann of Milwaukee, 3 and 2, and smash an old jinx. Mrs. Mann had defeated Miss Miley four times.

Patty Almost Overcome
Miss Berg, who three weeks ago was playing in chilly Minnesota weather, was almost overcome by the heat before she eliminated Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Ft. Worth, Tex., in her semi-final match, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Goldthwaite's misbehaving putter had her in trouble from the start. She missed an 18-inch putt at the ninth green. Miss Berg three-putted three greens.

Bob Feller Rejoins Squad—All O.K.?

CLEVELAND, June 5 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, in the midst of a hot scramble to overtake the league leading New York Yankees, welcomed home their youthful pitching star, Bob Feller, tonight, hopeful he will soon get into the line-up with his blazing fast ball.

C. C. Slapnicka, vice-president of the Cleveland club, reported Feller apparently felt good and that his highly prized pitching arm was ready for action. He is expected to don a suit and appear with the Tribe Sunday, but Manager Steve O'Neill indicated he would give Feller several days to work out before deciding whether he was ready for a regular pitching assignment.

Blackbird Wins

BOSTON (AP)—After trailing the field of eight for all but a half mile of the mile and one sixteenth distance, F. L. Flander's five-year-old Blackbird weaved his way through the pack in the stretch to win by a length over Mrs. C. E. Allen's Long-shot Trouper yesterday in the Massachusetts handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Carleton Gives Up 8 Hits As Mates Slug Two Boston Hurlers

BOSTON, June 5 (AP)—Tex Carleton, veteran side-arm right hander, pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 6 to 3 victory today, limiting the Boston Bees to eight hits.

The Cubs came from behind to win, tying the score in the seventh and going on for a four run rampage in the eighth to clinch the victory. They made 11 hits off Danny MacFayden and Johnny Lanning, who relieved him in the ninth.

Carleton divided batting honors with shortstop Bill Jurgens, driving out two singles which accounted for two runs. Jurgens connected with a pair of doubles.

Boston scored first in the second inning when Berger doubled, went to third on an infield out and came home on Herman's error. Debs Garmis' triple and Gene Moore's long fly brought another score in the third.

ALICE MARBLE STILL SEEKS ENGLISH TITLE

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Alice Marble still is looking for her first British tennis tournament victory. For the third successive week, the comely San Francisco girl who holds the United States singles championship, was beaten in the final round of an English tournament today.

She loved this time to the hard-hitting Polish girl, Jadwiga Jedzejowska, who recently conquered Helen Jacobs, former American champion and current Wimbledon title-holder in the fresh hard court tournament.

Meeting in the final round of the St. George Hill tournament at Weybridge, Mile. Jedzejowska spotted Miss Marble the first set and then went on to win, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

CANTON, N.Y., June 5 (AP)—"Scotty" Rankin, veteran Olympic and long distance runner from Preston, Ont., added a third title to his list today by winning the National A.A.U. 20-kilometer run in blistering heat and against a field of ace performers.

He already holds the national 15 kilometer championship and the Canadian 10-mile title.

Yank Homers Defeat Detroit

Lou Gehrig Blasts Two Round-Trippers To Pace Champions

DETROIT, June 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees laid down a home run barrage today to top the Tigers 6 to 5, but they had to call on old Blub Malone with two out in the ninth inning to save the game.

The victory, with Lou Gehrig clouting two round-trippers and Joe DiMaggio and Red Ruffing one each, maintained the Yanks' two-game American league lead over the Cleveland Indians.

All of the homers were made off young George Gill, the Detroit starting pitcher. He was relieved by Elden Auken in the eighth. Bump Hadley, Yankee starter, lasted until the seventh, when he gave way to rookie Frank Hakosky, who was belted out in the Tigers' futile ninth inning surge, although he received credit for the victory.

Gehrig's homers were his sixth and seventh of the year. He started the Yankee scoring with the first one in the fourth inning. Ruffing produced his as a pinch-hitter with a mate on base in the seventh, when the Yanks scored three times to tie the score. The other tally in the inning was the result of a walk, Tony Lazzari's single and Myril Hoag's long fly.

In the eighth, the world champions wound up their scoring when DiMaggio and Gehrig hit consecutive homers, driving Gill to the showers.

Earlier, the Tigers had gotten away to a three run lead in the third on singles by Gill, Pete Fox, Charley Gehringer and Gerry Walker, and a walk to Hank Greenberg. In the fifth, Greenberg tripled and Walker singled for another run.

Fox opened the hitting in the last-inning rally with a two-base smash to left, and took third on a wild pitch. Gehringer walked and Greenberg singled Fox in. With the tying and winning runs on base, Malone was hastily summoned and forced Walker to foul out to third to end the game.

Four Lengths Ahead
The sensational Samuel D. Riddle colt galloped home four good lengths in front of Maxwell Howard's Sceneshifter, with the longest Vamoose in third place, ten lengths further back and the highly-rated Pompoon a badly whipped sixth. Pompoon, which had chased War Admiral home in the Kentucky derby and Preakeness this spring, never was a contender.

Although under no pressure at any stage and not even touched once by jockey Charles Kurtsinger's whip, War Admiral equalled the American record, clipped a large chunk off the Belmont stakes mark, and, as a climax, knocked a fifth-second off his daddy's track record by stepping the mile and a half in 2:28 3/5.

Enough In Reserve
War Admiral didn't touch the world record of 2:23, credited to a British horse at Newmarket in 1929, but the colt apparently had enough in reserve to have cracked the American standard if he had been extended.

A crowd of 35,000, one of the greatest in Belmont history, acclaimed the three-year-old king as he proved beyond the slightest question he has the stamina to combine with his amazing speed for any distance or circumstances.

War Admiral went to the post the 9 to 10 choice but won like a 1 to 10 shot. The victory added $38,020 to the colt's rapidly-mounting earnings, now totaling $144,620 for this season and $159,320 for two years of racing.

Mr. Riddle, 76-year-old Philadelphia sportsman whose colors were carried by Man O'War as well as the colt now owned to be the super-horse's greatest son, personally received the august Belmont Memorial cup in ceremonies following the race. The trophy was presented by Mrs. Belmont, widow of the donor.

It remained to be determined whether War Admiral's injury was severe enough to keep the colt out of training for any length of time or jeopardize his chances of going on to further triumphs in the east or middle west.

Cunningham Sets New American Record For Three-Quarters Mile

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Glenn Cunningham of the New York curb exchange created a new American record in winning the three-quarter mile run, feature event of the 69 annual spring games of the New York A.C., by a margin of 10 yards over his old sparring mate, Gene Venke, of the New York A.C.

The Kansan stepped off the distance in 3:00.9 to displace the American record of 3:01.4 created by Joseph Mangano in the same event two years ago. Cunningham took the lead at the start and, except for a brief distance shortly after the start, led throughout the race. The third starter, William Ray of the New York curb exchange was outdistanced.

Whitehead, in recording his third triumph, pitched himself out of a ninth inning bases-filled jam.

Reinstated Sox Hurler Wins Third Victory Of Season, 2 to 0

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—Making his first start at Comiskey park since last season, Johnny Whitehead, recently reinstated White Sox pitcher ace, hurled the Chicagoans to their sixth straight victory today by shutting out the Philadelphia Athletics, 2 to 0. A homer by Zeke Bonura, the first baseman's eighth of the year, cracked George Caster's scoreless duel with Whitehead at the start of the sixth.

It was the Sox's first victory over the fading Athletics in five tries this year.

Whitehead, in recording his third triumph, pitched himself out of a ninth inning bases-filled jam.

BOSTON RED SOX TROUCE BROWNIES, 11-4

ST. LOUIS, June 5 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox scored in all except three innings today to easily defeat the hapless Browns, 11 to 4, and entrench manager Rogers Hornsby's team more firmly in the cellar.

Lefty Bob Grove, while touched for 13 hits, kept the blows well scattered and only in the first and eighth innings were the Browns able to produce runs. Three St. Louis pitchers offered nothing baffling to the Red Sox. Every Boston player hit safely and Grove was the only one not to score a run.

Hawkeye Lead Vanishes And The Irish Win

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 5 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—The celebrated luck of the Irish manifested itself again as the Notre Dame nine scored in a run in the ninth inning to defeat the touring University of Iowa baseball team here today, 3 to 2, after the Iowans had piled up a narrow 2-0 lead in the early stages of the game.

The win today evened the series as the Iowans yesterday trounced the Irish 4 to 1 behind the one hit pitching of Harold Manders.

Capt. Lowell Gosser, Iowa's hard-luck pitcher of the year, went the whole route for the Hawks and gave up seven hits, but most of these were bunched in the eighth and ninth frames when the Green Sox over all its runs.

Playing errorless ball for the second consecutive day, the Hawks soon had their sights lined on the slants of Goncher, Notre Dame hurler, and it wasn't long before they had a comfortable 2 to 0 lead.

Notre Dame had tied it all up in a desperate rally in the last half of the eighth; the Hawks could score in their final chance and the stage was set for the winning play.

Two men were out and Chuck Borowski was on third. Captain Gosser, with the crowd leaning forward on every pitch, leaned back to pour the old fast one down the groove, the pitch which he hoped would retire the side and send the game into extra innings, but the Iowa leader had reckoned without considering the wily Joe O'Neill, who had been standing confidently at the plate.

O'Neill lifted his bat and tapped a slow bunt down just out of reach of the tense Iowa infield, and Borowski scampered home with the winning run as the Iowa infield, caught flat-footed, scrambled for the ball. Notre Dame—000 000 012—3 7 0
Iowa—000 002 000—2 6 0

Champ Expects Maxie Bout

By EARL HILLIGAN
BRADDOCK'S CAMP, GRAND BEACH, Mich., June 5 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Jim Braddock began celebrating today what he says will be the happiest birthday anniversary of his life.

The "Cinderella" man of boxing, who only a few years ago was a number on the New Jersey relief rolls, will be 31 years old Monday, record books which say he will be 32 notwithstanding. Before him—on the night of June 22 at Chicago—is a million dollar "gate" bout with Joe Louis, and next fall, take it from Jim, he'll be battling none other than Max Schmeling for another piece of real money.

The titleholder, who quietly and singularly states he is "in 100 per cent better shape now than when I beat Max Baer two years ago," was in a happy mood today as he cut loose against five sparmates. Using his left almost continually, the champion gave Max Roesch of Dallas a pummeling for two rounds and then cuffed an easy round with Charley Massera of Pittsburgh.

He showed he meant business, however, against burly Jack McCarthy of Boston, his last sparring partner. McCarthy, electing to slug with the champion, was groggy on two occasions as Braddock poured in rights and lefts to the face and occasionally whipped a left to the body.

Local Moose Officials Prepare Welcome for National Dictator

W. A. Anderson To Come Here For Initiation

Local Officials Plan Special Celebration For June 16 Arrival

City and university officials and lodge members from surrounding towns will join with the Iowa City Moose lodge in honoring William A. Anderson, national supreme dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose, when he visits Iowa City June 16, it was announced last night.

Plans for a 6:30 p.m. banquet served by ladies of the Moose lodge in the Moose hall, at which Anderson will be guest of honor, have been completed. The supreme dictator's visit will climax the local lodge's current drive for a membership of 600. Following the banquet the final class initiation of new members will take place.

Anderson, an Indianapolis contractor, had served as supreme prelate and supreme vice-dictator before being elected to his present office at the Chicago Moose convention last year. He first received national lodge recognition when appointed to the supreme council after he had reorganized the Indianapolis lodge during a financial crisis several years ago.

Anderson's Iowa City visit is one of six stops in the state. Preceding the banquet and initiation the supreme dictator will be taken on a tour of university buildings and to the Moose summer home at Lake Macbride.

The supreme dictator is a 32nd degree Mason, Scottish rite, and a member of the Improved Order of Red Men.

MOL's Refuse To Pay Bills

Gasoline Charge Is Called 'Exorbitant'; Refuse $20 Transfer

Action of the four MOL leaders who still claim to be Iowa City's official council yesterday afternoon closely paralleled that of the CNP council Friday night except for the rejection of two bills already approved by the other council.

A bill for $188.16 for gasoline used by the MOL group because they said the charge was "exorbitant" and higher than the bid of the Kelly Oil company, who, they said submitted a contract price 1 1/4 cents lower than that of Hughes.

A resolution authorizing a transfer of $20 in funds to pay City Engineer Allen Wallen for the use of his car for city business was also refused. Wallen, appointed by the CNP group, has gone payless since he took office in April.

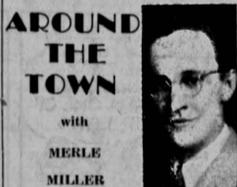

The MOLers also passed a resolution welcoming the decision of Judge W. W. Scott which Friday declared the franchise decision of April, 1934, legal and denied the Iowa City Light and Power company an injunction to prevent the city from accepting $413,000 in PWA funds to help build the plant.

In approving a temporary transfer of $16,110 from the paving bond fund to the airport to finance reconstruction of runways at the local landing field, J. Van der Zee declared the "transfer will add one mill of extra taxation for the paving bond fund in August."

Theft of a Mueller B-flat clarinet and blue smooth-grad instrument case from Ernest M. Peck, A4 of Blairtown, was announced by Iowa City police last night.

Chamber, City Council Will Discuss Constructing Armory

Will Move Toward Protection of Local National Guard Units

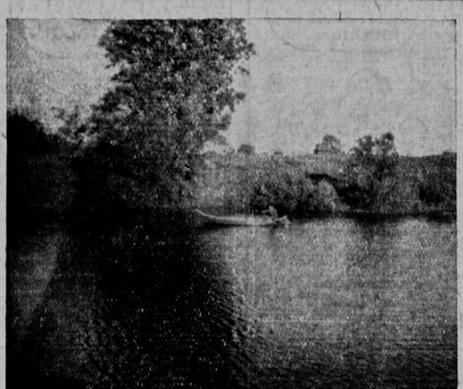

The chamber of commerce and city council armory committees will meet with national guard officers Tuesday night at 8 at the mayor's office to discuss the construction and financing of the proposed combined armory and stables for Iowa City cavalry and medical units.

According to Lieut. Col. Will J. Hayek of the 113th cavalry, the state armory board has set July 1 as the deadline for Iowa City to make an assurance that a definite move is under way to protect the local national guard units.

Unless definite plans are announced by that date, the units will be moved from Iowa City, the board warned.

Both units now meet in quarters above store buildings and the cavalry horses are stabled at the sales pavilion. The pavilion lease to a long, happy life. It is this fairy-story quality which makes Lee's farce delightful fun. An outline of the plot cannot, of course, tell the delights of some of the lines or situations. There is, for example, the scene in which Louie, who has taken possession of Aphrodite's hog house as a "sanctuary," shouts his incantations in pseudo-Biblical phrases to Hal and the pilgrims outside. There is the last scene in which the villain is locked in with Aphrodite and her 10 pigs and comes out panting and torn. These are what make farce seem, to this reviewer at least, the pleasantest form of theatrical endeavor.

The actors in last night's University theater production realized they had a farce on their hands, for the most part, playing it broadly and simply, not worrying about drawing fine lines of character.

Lee, this reviewer believes, must have written the role of Louie with himself in mind. He played it with such ease and charm. If, at the beginning he left the audience in doubt as to just what he was attempting, he himself was sure at all times.

His best scenes were those in which he pictured himself as a 20th century saint and streamed his healing words from the hog house.

Ed Kyvig, as Hal, seemed to this reviewer more completely at home in his role than any of the others. He spoke his lines with a deft sureness that the rest, somehow, lacked.

To Arnold Gillette must go credit for a substantial and realistic outdoor set, to Hinton Sellman praise for excellent lighting and to Virgil L. Baker, director, thanks for producing what was one of the most successful, and certainly the most entertaining shows University theater audiences have seen this season.
