POINTE SETS UP DRIVE RECORD

HEADLINES of the WEEK

Thursday, November 8
TAG-END RETURNS of Tuesday's election showed that President Eisenhower gained a mighty personal victory, but his party did not gain control of Congress. The electorate went on a historic vote-splitting spree which gave the Democrats thin margins of control of both the Senate and the House, making it a certainty that they would maintain their present 49-47 Senate majority, and 228 seats in the House.
The House majority is 218. This marks for the first time in more than a century, since 1848, that a presidential winner did not swing at least one branch of Congress with him. In Michigan, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat, beat his opponent, Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo, for the governorship, by over 287,000 votes.

HUNGARIAN PATRIOTS, fighting last-ditch battles, were reported using their last bullets on themselves as the Russian military forces overran their positions. Sources disclosed that many defenders of Budapest, capital of Hungary, took their own lives rather than surrender to Russian troops breaking through the last pocket of rebel resistance. This also applied to resistance forces in Szeged, Szolnod and Hodmezovasarhely.
"We have neither guns nor ammunition left," was the parting message in Pecs. "Blood alone is not enough." At Gyoeer, however, which is northwest of the Hungarian capital, bitter fighting is still going on. The Russians were reported to have thrown 300 tanks against the 14,000 men defending that city.

Friday, November 9
SILENCE REIGNED over the Middle East battle fronts and the United Nations is hurriedly reading its international police force to neutralize and hold the Suez Canal. The cease-fire went into effect yesterday afternoon. On the diplomatic fronts, Israel, Britain and France, all now occupying parts of Egypt, pledged to leave when the police force arrives to take over.
Manpower from such nations as the United States, Russia, Britain and France, are barred from the international force. If all goes well, the police force will keep the canal under international control until a solution is found. Israel was the last of the three occupying forces to agree to a withdrawal.

WASHINGTON diplomats are worried that Poland might be the next victim of a Russian might. Having crushed the Hungarian revolutions, the Soviet Union is giving every indication it is ready to deal with the Polish nation. It is believed that they are massing troops along the Polish border. Premier Wladislaw Garmulka, the "Tito" of Poland, led his country in the revolt against Soviet rule on October 19. If he and his fellow nationalists should choose to fight rather than bow to Russia, the results could even be bloodier than what happened in Hungary. The Poles nurse a centuries old hatred of Russia.

Saturday, November 10
THE UNITED STATES announced it has launched its air-lift to carry the United Nations police force to the Middle East. Planes have already picked up the first elements of the international army from Denmark, Columbia and Norway. Naples, Italy has been named the assembly point for the force. The police are scheduled for transportation in token numbers only, but the American Air Force is expected to receive a request for the delivery of a 6,000-man force to Egyptian airfields.
The Pentagon received the request for the token lifts from the UN and acted on it immediately. The order for this came from Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada is the commander of the 14-nation force assigned to keep the peace in the Middle East.

Quite the Opposite to Middle East Developments

While tension grows and military might is mustered by many nations in the Suez crisis, here in the Pointe the clouds are not those of war, and an Army Camp has been wiped off the map. Just a few days ago this was the site of an installation of a battery of the Anti-Aircraft which rings the industrial Detroit area. It has been moved to make way for the construction of a new junior high school at Chalfonte and Lothrop.

New Parking Lot in City Attended

The City of Grosse Pointe opened its new attendant parking lot in the Village Shopping area last week. The new 7-car lot is located south of Kercheval behind the Jacobson's store.
It is designed to handle the cars of those who want to park two hours or more and could not return to their car to put another coin in a parking meter. Rates for the attendant lot are five cents each half hour for the first hour, and an additional five cents for each hour up to three hours. The fourth hour and each hour thereafter would be ten cents per hour.
If it is found that additional space is needed an area has been provided to park an additional 55 cars.

Thefts Reported By Contractors

A representative of Palmer and Baker Builders, who are the contractors for a new home in Kenwood road north of Kercheval, called the Farms Police Department to report that someone broke into their tool shed located at the site of the new home, and stole a wheelbarrow and some cord wood.
The theft was discovered after the November 4 weekend. Squad car crews have been asked to keep a close watch on the house.

Fireman Overcome, Youth Injured in Fire in Park

A Park fireman was overcome by smoke while battling a fire at the home of Gaston DeRidder, 1431 Wayburn, on Thursday, November 8, and was revived at the scene.
Every piece of Park firefighting equipment was rushed to the DeRidder residence to fight the blaze, which was confined to the kitchen. The prompt action of the men of the department is credited with preventing the fire from spreading.
Overcome by the smoke was Fireman Clare Klovski, who was administered oxygen by fellow firemen.
Fire Lt. Henry DeClerck said the heat from the fire was so intense, that DeRidder, who fled

Mrs. Fred T. Murphy Dies Following Long Years of Service in Many Fields

Most of her 80 years were devoted to serving mankind; Funeral Services Held in Memorial Church on Saturday
Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, 80, of 17620 E. Jefferson, mother of Frederick M. Alger, Jr. United States Ambassador to Belgium, died on Friday, November 9, in Jennings Hospital, where she had been a patient for several months.
Funeral services were held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Saturday, November 10. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery.
Mrs. Murphy lived to see her son, Frederick M. Alger, Jr., ambassador to Belgium, who arrived from Brussels on Saturday, November 3, with Mrs. Alger for a visit.
Other Survivors
Besides her son, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harold R. Boyer, seven grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.
She was born Mary Eldridge Smith on May 21, 1876, in Norfolk, Conn., to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, in the home of her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Eldridge. Her grandfather was the pastor of the Congregational Church in Norfolk for 40 years.
She received her education at Dobbs Ferry and studied music in Paris.
On May 2, 1901, she became the bride of Col. Frederick M. Alger, son of Gen. and Mrs. Russell A. Alger, in Fort Street Presbyterian Church.
Had Three Children
The Alger had three children: Edward Swift Alger, who died in infancy; Mrs. Boyer and Ambassador Alger.
As a young matron, this lovely and truly great lady, erected on the grounds of the Alger estate on the shores of Lake St. Clair, once the site of a splendid or-

Home Building Shows Decline

Public School officials revealed today that a total of 334 building permits were issued in the Grosse Pointe School District for the first nine months of the calendar year of 1956.
This is 174 less than the 508 permits issued for a corresponding period in 1955. For the same period in 1954, 508 permits were issued, in 1953—623; 1952—520 and 1951—855.
The total number for each municipality of the school district for the first nine months of this year was as follows: Park, 27; City, 25; Farms, 44; Woods, 82; Shores, 57; Harper Woods, 89.
Chief Louwers said the assaulant was about six feet tall, very thin, unshaven, and was wearing a checkered shirt, and spoke with a southern accent.
He said the man escaped by running east on Mack and then south onto Maryland.

Early Deadlines For Next Issue

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday next week's issue of the Grosse Pointe News will have advanced deadlines. The cooperation of news contributors and advertisers is especially important.
All copy that can be delivered to the office at 99 Kercheval avenue by Friday mid-afternoon will be greatly appreciated. The final deadlines for copy of any kind will be Monday afternoon instead of Tuesday.
The issue will be cleared Monday night and printed Tuesday morning so it can be cleared through the mails for Wednesday morning delivery instead of the usual Thursday delivery.

Official Election Returns Tabulated From Five Pointes

Record Number of Voters Go to Polls; as Usual, Most Residents Favored the Republican Ticket
Grosse Pointers went to the polls on Tuesday, November 6, in the greatest numbers ever recorded for any election. All communities reported that a large majority of voters went to the polls before 5 p.m., and some precincts said the influx was so great at 8 a.m. that voters had to wait half an hour or more before a machine was available.
Only one municipality, the City, did not use voting machines. Four of 11 precincts in the Woods used paper ballots, the other seven used machines.
No Bottleneck in City
A spokesman for the City said that there was never a bottleneck in their voting. All six precincts were located in the Neighborhood Club gymnasium, where voters registered with their precinct and had a choice of over 50 voting booths. He said election committee workers handled an average of 100 voters an hour per precinct. "That is as good as a machine-voted precinct," he added.
In other Pointe communities there were three machines to each precinct. Most of these were voting 100 persons an hour. Election workers said that most of the voters had little trouble with the machines. When bottlenecks occurred, it was attributed to too many people showing up at the same time.
The results of the election are already known, but readers of the NEWS might be interested in knowing how their own and other Pointe communities voted. The first name and figures are Democrats and the second Republicans. They are as follows:

Man Beaten By Unknown Assailant

Suffers Internal Injuries and Needs 30 Stitches to Close Face Wounds After Attack
A Detroit man was so severely beaten about the face and body on Tuesday, November 6, that he required medical attention.
Leon Byse, 4861 Berkshire, could give Park police no reason for an unprovoked attack by an unknown man who beat and kicked him about the face and body, causing him to suffer multiple cuts about the face and internal injuries.
Taken to Hospital
Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that Byse was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by police ambulance, where about 30 stitches were needed to close a number of gashes about his face, and said that Byse suffered internal injuries as a result of the brutal beating. The chief said that Byse had gone into the Park Lounge Bar, 15016 Mack avenue, for about two minutes, to talk to the proprietor, and then left. A man who was seated at the bar, left at the same time and followed Byse.

Kicked While Down

Just as Byse was about to enter his car, the other man grabbed him by the arm and whirled him about and commenced beating him viciously and knocked him to the sidewalk. As the fallen man lay there, the unknown assailant commenced to kick him in the ribs and stomach.
When he was able to talk to police at the hospital, Byse said he had no idea who the man was, or why he administered the beating.
Chief Louwers said the assaulant was about six feet tall, very thin, unshaven, and was wearing a checkered shirt, and spoke with a southern accent.
He said the man escaped by running east on Mack and then south onto Maryland.

OFF ON LONG TRIP

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, left November 11 on a combined government-M.S.U. mission to 11 foreign countries. The around-the-world jaunt will allow Dr. Hannah to inspect M.S.U. educational operations on Okinawa and Vietnam and also to survey American military and economic aid programs in the Far East. He will return to East Lansing December 22.
Encouraged by the enthusiastic response of the many music lovers who attended their first concert of the season in October, members of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra are now rehearsing each Wednesday night in preparation for their second concert which will be held in the Parcels School Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, December 2, at 3:30 o'clock.
One of Grosse Pointe's outstanding musicians, John S. Sweeney, II, will be the conductor and is now working with the orchestra on a program which will have a very definite appeal for all lovers of good music. Mr. Sweeney who has recently been appointed conductor of the Mount-Clemens Symphony, is well known in Detroit music circles, has played

120 Percent Of Regional Quota Raised

Total $352,349 Contributed Is Greatest for Any District in History Of Campaign
Total contributions of $9,278.79 from the Grosse Pointe Public School System have swelled the Grosse Pointe Region's total contributed to the 1956 Torch Drive to the largest amount ever raised in any Detroit region.
Altogether, Grosse Pointers contributed $352,349, according to Regional Chairman Mrs. Robert J. Duff. This was 120.7 per cent of the regional quota of $291,830, the highest percentage ever attained by any region in the Torch Drive.
Handled Entire Job
"The school system handled the entire campaign within its organization," Mrs. Duff said. "Materials were provided, Forrest Geary, director of Community Services for the school system. He organized and completed the entire drive, then turned in his reports with the complete school system contributions."
Mrs. Duff added that never before has any region had so many volunteers working on the Torch Drive. This year, there were 1,500 volunteers in the Grosse Pointe region.
"Never has the Torch Drive had so many workers nor such loyal workers in Grosse Pointe," Mrs. Duff, who was awarded a sugar bowl for scoring the highest percentage above quota of any Detroit region on "Ladies' Day," October 29, said.

Graft Quiz Arguments Postponed

New Testimony Brings Postponement in Arguments Of Ecorse Graft-Gambling Hearing
City Judge Douglas Paterson, who is hearing arguments in the Ecorse graft-gambling quiz postponed the final arguments on Friday, November 9.
Judge Paterson made this decision when unexpected testimony came up during the examination of the 21 Ecorse officials. He scheduled resumption of the arguments for yesterday, November 14, after the NEWS went to press.
New Witnesses Called
Ormel Goodell, an Ecorse businessman and a councilman for 19 years, and three others were called up to testify to the character of Councilman Labadie, who is also a math teacher in the Ecorse High School.

Montry Accused
During the hearing, William Montry, the grand jury's star witness, was accused of threatening Labadie by Goodell, who testified that "early last spring"

Picks Forsythia In Full Bloom

Mrs. Longyear Palmer of Washington road called at the NEWS office on November 7, proudly bearing sprigs of forsythia in full bloom which she had just picked in her yard.
The unusually late spell of mild weather has produced a number of horticultural phenomena this year. Since printing the picture of the raspberries last week, several other similar reports have been brought to the attention of the paper. Mrs. Edna Root of Lincoln road was among those who were picking November berries.
Many Pointe homes are still enjoying rose cut from their own gardens. Tomatoes, which are prey to the first real frost, were common in local gardens well into November.

Following a council meeting, Labadie called Montry over to him and said:
"I hear you're shaking down some of the gamblers. Don't you know you're likely to go to jail?"
Goodell said that Montry's retort was: "I'll see you in jail first."
During the entire examination, Montry failed to link Labadie to actually accepting any graft payoff from gamblers.
Montry testified only that Labadie had approached him in the Ecorse City Hall washroom and had reportedly said:
"There are some payoffs being made and I want mine."
Goodell said that trouble began in Ecorse soon after Montry was appointed a member of the police commission.
Accused in the graft-gambling are Ecorse Mayor William W.

Voisine, three top police officials, two councilmen, a number of city employes and gamblers.
Removal proceedings against Voisine, Labadie and Councilman Albert B. Buday, on conspiracy charges, and against Councilman Elmer C. Korn, accused of accepting a $100 bribe, will be heard before Washtenaw County Probate Judge John W. Conlia on Wednesday, November 21.
In a surprise move on Thursday, November 8, Harold L. Rippe, former supervisor of Taylor Township, waived examination before Judge Paterson, on a second charge of extortion.
Rippe was indicted twice by Judge Theodore Bohn's grand jury, and had resigned his post. The second indictment arose from charges that Rippe had solicited and accepted a $6,000 bribe.
Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph A. Sullivan said he had no objections to Rippe's decision, but he reserved the right to demand an examination later if it was felt it was necessary to get testimony into the records.

On January 18, 1937, she married Dr. Fred T. Murphy. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Frank Fitz, in "By Way," the Alger home on the lake shore, in the presence of her children and Dr. Murphy's son, Charles B. G. Murphy, and his stepson, Theodore A. McGraw.
Upon returning from Dr. Murphy's ranch near San Diego, Calif., they settled in his residence at 17620 E. Jefferson, where she lived until her death.
Dr. Murphy died on January 10, 1949. He had been hospitalized, following a fall, and developed pneumonia.
Mrs. Murphy was active in the Red Cross in both World War I and World War II. She represented Michigan on the national Red Cross board in World War II.

Both Col. Alger and Dr. Murphy served in World War I.
In 1951, she served as chairman of women's activities during Detroit 250th Birthday Festival.

SETS GRASS FIRE
Stanley Smith of 304 Chalfonte looked out his front window on Thursday evening, November 4, and saw the grass was on fire. When he investigated further he discovered that someone had thrown a collection of old rags on the lawn and then set a match to them. He stomped out the flames and reported the incident to the police.

Four Square Popular with Small Fry

This transplanted California game has swept Kerby School, thanks to Miss Betty Frounfeiter's fifth grade class shown here enjoying a play session. The ball is served by slapping it underhand. It must bounce into any one of the other squares and be returned by the receiver without being held. Altnerness is a factor since any player may receive the ball at any time. The player who fails to get the ball into another square drops out and another player then get a turn. Shown about to fire a volley is DOUGLAS BONNER (right square). Other Kerby fifth grade players are left to right: PHILIP BOULANGER, ELAINE DIEHL, and ROSS HONHART, with back to camera.

Air Defense of Continent Explained to Newsmen

By Robert G. Edgar
Your writer has had the rare opportunity to visit the inner sanctum of the nation's youngest military organization, the Continental Air Defense Command, located at Ent Air Force Base, Colorado Springs.

The job of CONAD is "to defend the United States against air attack." To accomplish its mission, CONAD must build and maintain over America, a fence that is ten thousand miles long around an area of three million square miles, and make it ten to twelve miles high.

The barrier is supplemented by hundreds of radar stations and observation post throughout the Arctic and Canada. Navy radar picket ships patrol our coast lines and super Constellation flying radar stations extend the warning net hundreds of miles over the ocean.

In building this fence, CONAD is completing one of the largest construction jobs ever attempted by man. Real estate on which to locate the fighter squadrons and radar bases and control centers, and the anti-aircraft battalions and guided missile batteries had to be purchased and developed. The most complex and reliable and fool-proof control communications systems ever devised by man was built.

The Continental Air Defense Command is the first true joint command inside the United States. Defense officials feel this is a must because it is no longer possible to defend this country in the split-second world by trying to solve with the separate service chiefs, individual problems as they might occur in the event of an emergency.

In the Air Defense Command's combat operations center, every unidentified aircraft which enters the defense zone is plotted on an immense lucite map of the North American Continent. If the unknown aircraft is not identified within three minutes, two or more jet interceptors are "scrambled" to make a positive identification, or, if need be, destroy the intruder.

The 30th Air Division at Willow Run is a subdivision of the command, and plots aircraft movements in a section of the country. The individual divisions across the continent filter their information to CONAD, and it alone has the total picture of the Northern Hemisphere. A glance at the huge lucite map could hold the picture of an all-out enemy attack, and the Continental Air Defense Command would alert the entire Nation in a matter of minutes.

The Air Force invited 17 representatives of the press, radio, and television to be its guests on a whirlwind tour of the entire on a site of the Air Force Academy at Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado, Friday, November 9. From Denver the newsmen were flown to Colorado Springs, where they visited the Continental Air Defense Command Headquarters.

On Saturday the group was taken to the location of the Air Force Academy which is now under construction about eight miles north of Colorado Springs. The $124,000,000 project is scheduled to be completed by spring of 1959 so that the first class will be able to graduate from the permanent site.

Until that time, all cadets are receiving their training at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver.

By early Sunday evening, the Air Force plane had settled down on a runway at Selfridge AFB and the group of newsmen and women emerged to go to their homes and rest assured that our Air Force is capable of detecting and repelling any enemy attack, and it also has the power to strike back with lightning speed.

To keep his head up successfully a man must keep his feet on solid ground.

At the time of her resignation in March, 1949, the Library's services had grown from 1,000 registered borrowers in 1928 to over 10,000, using the Main Library in the Pierce School, the City Branch in Notre Dame avenue the Farms Branch in Kerby road and the Woods Branch in Mack avenue.

Adult Classes Attract 2,400

That the adults in Grosse Pointe are really interested in self-improvement can be shown by the large numbers enrolled in current fall classes being offered as a community service by Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

Forrest Geary, who directs the program, reports that over 2400 persons have signed up in 102 classes, which is five more classes than were offered a year ago. Last year at this time fewer than 2100 were enrolled.

The 2400 figure does not include Bi-Monthly Traffic School or meetings of the nationally affiliated "Hot Rod" Club. In addition, 475 youngsters are taking out-of-school swimming classes and another 50 are in Saturday morning art classes. A total of 75 separate subjects are being offered in the Adult Education Program.

Distribution of building and class time for the present classes is as follows: Community Service Center—50 evening sections, 22 day sections; Grosse Pointe High School—15 evening sections; Montclair—1 evening section; Perry—2 evening sections; Barnes—1 evening section; Kerby—2 evening sections; Parcels—5 evening sections; Pierce—4 evening sections.

Rotarians Hear Talk, See Movie

"Yours is the Land" was the subject of a talk and film presentation made to the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club on Monday, November 12, during the club's weekly luncheon-meeting held in the War Memorial Center.

The talk and the presentation was made by Rotarian Vincent DePetris, Pointe florist, who was introduced by Bruce Bockstanz, program chairman.

DePetris, an authority on soils and plants, chose this topic to bring home to the Rotarians, the importance of soil conservation and how plant and animal life play a vital role in the existence of man.

The film dealt with the ravaging of the soil by natural elements as a direct result of man's disregard for his landed heritage. It showed the cause of soil erosion, dust storms, and floods, among other things.

Following the film showing, DePetris said that if man continued in his present unconcern, generation born hence, will inherit nothing but barren land.

The proper care of soil and plant conservation is so vitally important, he said, something will have to be done, or there will be nothing to give to those who will come after us.

Youngster Hurt As Cars Crash

A young mother took her eyes off the road momentarily while driving on Mack avenue on Friday, November 9, and drove her car into the rear of a parked auto, injuring her 14-month-old son.

Marie M. Schafer of 5656 Hillcrest, was driving east on Mack, when she plowed into the rear of a 1955 Ford owned by the Kraft Foods Company. The Ford was parked along the south curb in front of 18680 Mack.

Little Michael Schafer, who was riding in the front seat, struck his head on the dashboard. He was taken to St. John Hospital where his bump was treated.

Damage to Mrs. Schafer's car was about $90. The parked Ford had damage inflicted to its trunk and rear bumper. This was estimated at $70. No violations were issued.

Educators Hear Librarians Explain School Programs

The secondary school librarians of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools told the Board of Education at the November 7 meeting that the librarians are set up to serve the varied educational needs of all school children.

Presenting their description of school library services to the board at its personal invitation, four speakers took turns in what board members described as an outstanding presentation.

The librarians' group was chaired by Mrs. Dorothy Christian, Parcels Librarian, who introduced each participant. She pointed out a graphic display card which pictured the steps required to process a book. She also indicated a second display card which stressed ways in which the library serves the entire school.

Miss Jane Colsher, Parcels Librarian, described book selection. She told the board, "A librarian must be a book specialist by training and experience. She must be aware of the curriculum. She must know the teaching staff and, of course, the children."

Miss Colsher emphasized that the school library belongs to all of the children and that personal differences in needs and interests must not be ignored. "We ask the faculty for advice on book selection and we also ask the children what books they have seen or heard about which might be worth considering for purchase. We also draw on professional opinion from librarian associations."

A truly big day around the school library, according to the Parcels Librarian, is that glorious "Christmas sort of day" when the new books arrive, the packages are opened, and the bright jacketed editions are put out on display.

The second speaker was Miss Helvi Walkonen, high school head librarian. Her subject was how books are used. She told the board that the most rewarding thing about a librarian's work was the opportunity to teach. "We teach and we're teaching," she said.

"The young people who have a satisfying experience in a visit to the school library will not only come back but will also carry their interests forward," Miss Walkonen declared.

The High School Librarian indicated ways in which students are taught to use the library. She pointed out that the "how, when, and where" are of extreme importance in the location of information and materials.

Mrs. Vera Milar, who is the associate librarian of the high school, described the school librarian's workday. "It's never done," she said. "Children's questions cannot be shut off by the hands of the clock."

The excellence of research demonstrated by Grosse Pointe students was stressed by Mrs. Milar. "In many instances the papers prepared by them would make some masters' look bad," said the librarian.

Representative projects made by junior high school students after repeated trips to the school library were displayed by Mrs. Christian. She showed board members such items as original end papers designed by a student of literature, a copy of the famous hornbook made by a history student, several simple levers by science students and many other similar projects.

Mrs. Christian underscored a fundamental aim of the school librarian when she said, "We try earnestly to lead the students along, nurture their particular interests, assist them in developing other interests, help them mature."

The program is part of a continuing one in which members of Grosse Pointe Schools' professional staff are invited to describe their educational activity in person to the local Board of Education.

Meetings are normally held the first Wednesday of the month at 7:30 o'clock in the board offices, 389 St. Clair, Grosse Pointe. At the December meeting teacher sponsors of safety patrols and girls' service activities have been invited to discuss their work.

Board President Robert F. Weber again urged all interested citizens to attend board meetings and hear these presentations.

For those who failed to get their Detroit Free Press on time Sunday morning, this may explain the delay: A delivery of 100 papers dropped off in front of the Punch & Judy Theater building was reported stolen. Quite a load for a lout to tote.

St. Joan Fund Hits $285,472

The General Phase workers of the St. Joan of Arc Expansion Fund Campaign reported a total of $285,472 in gifts at their Third Report Meeting. This figure represents only 17 days of solicitation of parishioners. Down payments on pledges to date total $29,300.

The Fourth Report Meeting will be held this week and the general chairman of the drive, Joseph Hartner, reports his men look forward to "going over" the $300,000 mark.

Mr. Hartner said, "There are several hundred cards to be reported on and there is no reason why we should not reach $300,000 at the next report. If every worker and his partner follow their instructions and try to complete their calls, we shall be in an excellent financial position."

The campaign is being held to eliminate the parish debt and to raise funds for an addition to the present convent.

The team captains and associates are battling for team supremacy. To date, Team 1, led by Ed Karjic, is holding down the lead but a strong finish by several teams can change the final count.

"You Are the Jury," a new series of radio programs devoted to Michigan's highway traffic safety problems will be made available to radio stations throughout the state beginning Sunday, November 18.

P.T.A. to See Wayne Play

"And You Never Know," a play concerning the elementary school child, will be the feature of the Maire School P-TA meeting this month.

Wayne State University Theatre will stage the production in the school gymnasium on Monday, November 19, at 7:30 p.m.

In the discussion to follow, Dr. Aaron Rutledge will act as moderator. He is a member of the staff of the Merrill-Falmer schools, and has two children attending Maire School.

Donald A. Walker, president of the P-TA, will conduct the business meeting following the program. After room visitation, members of the hospitality committee will serve refreshments.

Special guests at the meeting and social hour will be Dr. Doris Forsythe and Mrs. Doris Appel, staff members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

Wins Top Award Third Time

CHARLES VERHEYDEN, right, accepts the first place award plaque from FRED MARTIN, president of the Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society and the Grosse Pointe Horticulural Society. The plaque was presented to Mr. Verheyden, president and founder of Charles Verheyden, Inc., Sunday night, November 11, at the Alger Post Club House. He accepts the award for his firm which was named winner in a contest in which the business property was judged to have the best landscaping in the Pointe area. Peter Allard is the firm's gardener. Verheyden also won the awards for 1954 and 1955.

Schools Report Enrollments Up

Enrollments in the local public schools continue to mount, according to a recent report submitted to the Superintendent by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel.

On October 26, the end of the second month of school, 9584 boys and girls were enrolled. This is an increase of 413 or 4.3 percent over the corresponding date last year.

The elementary enrollment of 5647 is an increase of 138 or 2.5 percent over that of a year ago. Some 2230 students are enrolled in the junior high schools, an increase of 115 or 5.43 percent. At the senior high school level, 1896 is the enrollment, an increase of 161 or 10.49 percent over that of last year at this time.

The table which follows shows the comparative enrollments at the end of the second month of school for the years 1956, 1955, and 1954 as well as the peak enrollment for each grade. Note that the peak enrollment for nine of the grades occurred in October of this year.

Christmas Seals Available Now

Christmas Seals are now available for overseas mail and packages, Irving L. Goldman, chairman of the 50th annual Christmas Seal sale, announced Thursday.

"To make it possible for friends and relatives to send a good health wish to the other side of the ocean in the form of a little green and white Christmas Seal, the stamps may be obtained now," Mr. Goldman said. The U.S. Post Office is urging that overseas mail be sent prior to November 15.

The 1956 Christmas Seal has an overseas history. The original Christmas Seal was designed by a postal clerk in Denmark where the stamps were used to raise money for children with tuberculosis. A few years later the idea came to life in the United States when the first Christmas Seal sale was held in Delaware to raise money for tuberculosis victims.

Heide Brandt, Colorado Springs, Colo., designer of this year's seal, also has a Danish background, her parents being Danish. Mrs. Brandt, the mother of three sons, was returning from Europe aboard the Stockholm when it and the Adrea Doria collided at sea. She had been studying art in Germany under a Fulbright scholarship.

"The 1956 Seals are designed to illustrate the spirit of the 50th annual Christmas Seal. Children march across each sheet of seals carrying the double-barred cross, the symbol of the fight against tuberculosis into the future. Two seals, one showing a little girl and the other an appealing little boy, both dressed in green, make up the pattern," Mr. Goldman pointed out.

"The Christmas Seal children do not look backward. There is no time to pause for celebration of the triumphs over TB in the past 50 years while there is still a big job ahead to bring under control this disease which creeps into our homes and robs so many of health and happiness," the chairman said.

Those wishing to obtain Christmas Seals prior to the opening of the Christmas Seal campaign on November 15 may call the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Monday through Friday, at WO. 1-1697.

The Christmas Seal sale in Detroit and Wayne county this year will support the tuberculosis control programs.

"Call today and get your supply to send overseas. Your friends and relatives in foreign lands see a great many more tuberculosis cases than we do in the United States. They see even more than we, the terrible toll that uncontrolled TB can take in human happiness and lives. They will be glad to know that you are doing your part in its control," Mr. Goldman pointed out.

A standard 35 by 75 feet, it will, if construction goes according to schedule, be completed by early spring. ### Find Stolen Car Parked Nearby

A stolen car reported to the Farms police was located two hours later, parked just a few blocks from the point where it was taken.
David R. Lester of 110 Meadow lane related that his 1952 Nash Rambler was missing from where he had parked it on Charlevoix near Moran road.
About 1 a.m. Saturday, a phone call informed him that the car was on McMillan near Charlevoix. Mr. Lester pushed the car home.

Teacher at Mason Tells Of Far East Experiences

Editor's Note: Miss Jane E. Gullett, 3rd grade teacher at Mason Elementary, was on leave last year from the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. During this time she taught children of Air Force personnel stationed in Japan. This is the last of three articles relating some of her experiences in that country.

Christmas was undoubtedly an embarrassing time for a bank serving Red China. As we approached Hong Kong by ferry at that season of the year, the lights of the city made a glorious sight. There was the Bank of China, dark, stone-cold, impersonal, while next to it was the Hong Kong Bank with colorful lights and a lighted greeting, "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." And with the superimposed seasonal greeting, the Hong Kong Bank seemed taller!

Then off to Bangkok in Siam. Because of the canals or klongs, Bangkok is called "Venice of the East." One-fourth of the area of the city is occupied by Buddhist temples. The most famous, the Temple of the Emerald Buddha, is covered on the outside with intricate designs in porcelain, mosaic, and gold leaf. Bare-footed, orange-robed priests with shaven heads added to the colorfulness.

A motor boat trip on the canals offered an opportunity to see how the people live. The poverty is extreme. Hundreds of people live in shacks and river boats. They bathe in the canals, and wash vegetables, clothes, and dishes in the canals. (No wonder we had to have cholera shots before going to Thailand!) Yet the paved streets are full of Siamese people driving Fiats, Triumphs, Chevrolets, Mercedes, Plymouths, and particularly DeSotos.

We left Bangkok and returned to Hong Kong with a good-to-get-back feeling.

Repulse Bay is truly a spot richly endowed by nature. The waves lap softly on the shore below, and the mountains tower gigantically in the background. Brilliant poinsettias grow everywhere. The beauty is indescribable.
All too soon, our plane took off from Kai Tak, and the city of Hong Kong gradually disappeared from view. The mountains however lingered long after. In just such a way our memories will linger long after the trip is over.

Legion Auxiliary News

From Unit 303 By MARY E. DUSTER

More than one million hours of volunteer service in veterans hospitals will be given during the next year by the American Legion auxiliary's volunteer hospital workers, according to Mrs. Mary Del Barba, Rehabilitation Chairman of Grosse Pointe Auxiliary Unit. The Auxiliary now has a corps of 12,839 trained workers on duty in veterans hospitals throughout the country.

The Auxiliary volunteers perform a wide variety of duties in the hospitals, supplementing the work of the professional staffs, and bringing comfort, cheer and encouragement to the patients. Mrs. Del Barba explained. They are members of Auxiliary Units located near the hospitals and have regularly scheduled hours for their hospital service. When on duty they wear a special uniform in the Auxiliary colors of blue and gold.

Completion of a training course is required before an Auxiliary member can become a hospital volunteer. During the past year 1,971 new volunteers were trained and placed on duty in the hospitals. Service bars worn on the uniform reward those who give their time regularly over long periods. Bars for 1,000 hours of hospital service have been awarded to 1,138 volunteers, and bars for 2,000 hours are worn by 440.

"It is the Auxiliary's purpose to do everything possible for the comfort, recovery and rehabilitation of those who have defended our nation," Mrs. Del Barba said.

LAST ROUND-UP

Jones was feeling queer, so he went to a doctor. The doctor, however, failed to diagnose the trouble. "I'll tell you what to do," he said after a while. "Wrap a piece of paper around yourself and prick it in every place you feel a pain." Jones did this, but when on the following day he came to look for the paper he found it missing. "Have you seen a roll of paper anywhere?" he asked his wife. "Why, yes," she replied. "I put it on the pianola and it played 'The Last Round-Up.' Make the best of everything and you're guaranteed a market."

Newest Buick Yet

WE've introduced a lot of new Buicks to the local scene—but never before one as new as this.

Inside and outside, top to toe, end to end—this is the newest Buick yet.

And it's not just new for newness itself—but new in ways that make driving more comfortable, safer and more fun.

You'll see what we mean when you study these gorgeous new Buicks close up.

They're inches lower and stunningly styled from stem to stern—yet each is wondrously roomy inside.

They bring a wide-eyed new visibility of the road ahead with a rakish windshield that adds hundreds more square inches of glass area.

They're new in side, with a new cocoon frame chassis that "nests" your going—giving new roadability with a lower center of gravity—yet road clearance is unchanged.

They're new in handling with a new Buick-developed ball-joint suspension that makes steering and cornering easier while it levelizes braking.

But above and beyond all else—these 1957 Buicks are brand new in performance:

—with a V8 engine that's completely new from the crankshaft up, to give you the highest horsepower and compression ratios in all Buick annals.

—with an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that brings you such instant response, such smoothness, such a full range of fluid motion in "Drive" that the need for "Low" is all but eliminated.

All this covers only the big advances in the 1957 Buick.

There are other wonderful new things to see—the new safety instrument panel—the new dip-center steering wheel—the lavish new color-mate interiors—the new counterbalanced brake pedals—well over a hundred and fifty new features in all.

As your Buick dealer, we're ready and eager to tell you the full story of these newest Buicks yet—and how easy you'll find it to call one your own. Stop in and see us this week.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

UM Plays Host To Educators

Over 350 high school and junior college principals, deans and counselors met at the University of Michigan Wednesday and Thursday, November 7 and 8, for the 28th annual Principal-Freshman and Junior College Conference.

Purpose of the meeting was two-fold. Principals and school representatives take this opportunity to talk over academic adjustment with their former students at the half-way point in the semester. The representatives are also given a chance to talk informally with U-M educators.

Achievements and future plans in each of the U-M's 15 schools and colleges were presented in reports by deans of each academic unit at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Union Ballroom. Included was a report by Dean David M. French, of the Flint College, which enrolled its first students in September. A question-answer period and coffee hour followed.

After registration at 8 a.m. Thursday, student interviews were scheduled until noon. An

Play to Help Needy Students

On Thursday evening, November 15, the Grosse Pointe High School organization, Pointe Players, will give their production "The Shop at Sly Corner."

Proceeds from this evening's entertainment will be turned over to the Mothers' Club Scholarship Fund. Everyone is urged to buy tickets for this interesting play by the High School students and to aid this most worthwhile project of the Mothers' Club.

What is the Scholarship Fund? It is a program sponsored by the Mothers' Club consisting of two separate awards: 1. Financial grants are made to those graduates of ability and promise who need financial assistance to further their education. A total sum of $3,000 was awarded to eight Seniors of the Class of 1956.

2. Leather-bound dictionaries are given to all graduates who rank in the top 5% of their class. This award is based entirely on academic achievement.

In addition to the Thursday evening play receipts, the Scholarship Fund is benefitted by the generous support given the very attractive community-wide Spring Tea and Carg Party held at the High School in May.

Only friendships that have withstood the test of time can be expected to stand the stress and strain of life.

Councilmen Can't Win

The council chambers of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms promise to be considerably crowded come next Monday night, when a regular meeting of the governing board of the municipality is scheduled. A decision on that red-hot issue of fluoridation is anticipated.

There has probably been no single controversy in the history of the community which has been given the time in argument, and space in public print which this subject has enjoyed. The camps of those both for and against the adding of fluorine to the public water supply have been numerous and vociferous.

It was not so in the beginning. There was considerable pressure put on the Farms council over a period of years, to add the fluorine. There was little opposition, but let it be said, to the credit of the councilmen of that particular period, that they would not be pushed into any hasty action. The majority insisted that before they approved the additive they would wait for official state approval and for further results from the long test being conducted at Grand Rapids. Action on a decision was deferred for a number of years, despite the protestations of a comparatively small group of proponents.

It took some time after the fluorine was added, for the opposition to form its ranks. Then the storm grew, like the proverbial snowball rolling downhill. Charges and counter-charges were hurled, and experts on both sides of the question appeared as if by magic.

But never in our recollection has there been such a mass of controversial so-called evidence presented to the public. We admit that we have been confused and we feel not a quail about such a state. Most of the professional men of our acquaintance have told us more or less confidentially that they didn't want any part of the argument and weren't certain themselves which side they were on, if any.

We hear one day that this or that medical or dental association has endorsed fluoridation, and the next that this wasn't so. There have been cases of professional organizations going on record as for it, and then reversing the decision (if we believe all the pamphlets we have read).

If the professional men can't make up their minds, what is the layman supposed to do? It is small wonder that more than 1,000 voters who cast ballots in the election on November 6 failed to state their stand either for or against fluoridation. They were probably just plain confused.

The one thing that does seem more or less clear in the picture is that there are a great many adults who are genuinely afraid of the additive. To the best of our knowledge the advocates of fluorine can tell this group about no benefits which they could derive from its addition. Most of the opponents of fluoridation argue that it is possible for individual treatment to be given the growing youngsters for whom the great benefits are specifically intended. They object to mass medication being forced on them.

Mental disturbances can produce just as drastic results as physical ills and it is obvious that there are a great many residents who are considerably upset over the thought of either drinking fluorine in their water or having to go to the expense of buying the bottled product.

The Farms councilmen have a lot to take into consideration and the very close vote gives them little to go on. It was stipulated before the election that this ballot would be purely advisory and the council members reserved the right to make their own decision after they had sampled the opinion of the electors. With but 50 votes separating the opponents and the proponents of fluoridation, little advice has been provided the solons that they did not have before.

Another aspect that clouds the issue is the fact that it was not seen fit to ask the residents of Grosse Pointe City for their opinion. They use the same water, which is all pumped and treated by the Farms, and it would only seem fair to let them have some say on this subject. Why such a privilege was not afforded them has never been satisfactorily explained.

The safest bet one could make would be that whatever the Farms, council decides next Monday night, there will be howls of protest, about equally mixed with paeans of praise. The battle will probably not be finished for a long time to come.

Letters to the Editor

468 Cloverly Road, Grosse Pointe Farms 36, November 10, 1956

Less: Farms Vote for fluoridation 3,026

To the Editor:—

May I present my analysis and interpretation of the advisory vote of fluoridation? The majority of fifty votes in favor of fluoridation was less than one per cent, so was virtually a tie.

Out of a total of 7087 voting for President in the Farms, 1065 did not vote on fluoridation. Part of this failure to vote may be attributed to the inconspicuous place of the referendum on the unfamiliar ballot on the new voting machines.

Grosse Pointe City buys water from the Farms, but its citizens were ineligible to vote on fluoridation. It cast 4265 votes, for President.

Total Vote in the Farms 7,087 Total Vote in Grosse Pointe City 4,265

Total 11,352

Remainder: Opposed, not voting, or ineligible 8,316 Furthermore, of those voting for fluoridation, many had read or heard only that, on the basis of some experiments, available statistics showed a reduction or retarding of decay in teeth of young children. They had heard little or nothing of probable chronically injurious side effects upon older children and adults from cumulative effects of fluoride poisoning.

The fourth Amendment in our Bill of Rights provides for the right of the people to be secure in their persons. It is fundamental that no citizen of the United States of America should be subjected to mass medication under coercion of taxation and the police powers of the government.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"You never can tell when you send a word, Like an arrow shot from a bow, By an archer blind, be it true or kind, Just where it may chance to go. It may pierce the breast of your dearest friend, Tipped with its poison or balm, To a stranger's heart in life's great mart It may carry its pain or balm."

"You never can tell what your thoughts will do, In bringing you hate or love, For thoughts are things, and their airy wings Are swifter than carrier doves. They follow the law of the universe... Each thing must create its kind, And they speed o'er the track to bring you back Whatever went out from your mind."

Ella Wheeler Wilcox

We don't know why the following conversation struck us funny but it did. A man was telling a group of people at a party about the football game he saw last Saturday at Ann Arbor. Someone asked if the stadium was crowded and he said he figured there were about 70,000 people there. One woman in the group who is as football minded as WE are... said: "How many does the stadium hold?" He answered that it held 101,001 (which in itself is pretty amusing)... then the woman said, quite inconsequentially, we thought, "Oh, then you must have had plenty of room!" La-de-da.

A small girl attending a local school, rather startled her mother when she appeared ready for school wearing her best dress... one of those "stick out" things requiring a couple of petticoats. Her mother thought the dress stuck out a little TOO far, so she asked what the child had on under it.

Junior Miss pulled the dress up to display levis... old tired levis... under the half slippers. When her mother asked what on EARTH THAT was for... the child replied that it was "dress-up" day at school. The concerned parent then inquired WHY, if it was dress-up day... she was wearing her old levis underneath.

The kid answered, "Mother, you don't understand... this is the day the boys pull our dresses up... like a game"... P.S. It's a good thing our dear departed grandmother can't read this column!

Every now and again our faith in humanity gets a shot in the arm. We happened to be on East Jefferson avenue one evening last week just at the "rush home" hour. Cars were going helter skelter in both directions, when suddenly during a small break in traffic, a squirrel decided to cross the street.

The car nearest the beast pulled up abruptly and stopped... but none of the motorists behind him seemed to mind. The squirrel got about half way across when he became confused and started back again. This time, the front car in the other lane stopped until the squirrel made up his mind. He finally got across and scampered on his way... so if your husband said he was late coming home because he was helping out a squirrel in distress... you can believe him!

This should interest all people who deal in promotional schemes... and we mean of course, legitimate ones. It is obvious why we can't mention names of persons or companies... but the story is true and poses a big question.

The "leading man" in our tale is a character after our own heart... i.e. he doesn't believe that most people read lengthy literature sent through the mails no matter WHAT it concerns.

The letters we dislike most are the ones that have on the outside of the envelope... "This letter can mean a fortune to you"... or "Reply requested immediately." These go into our waste basket unopened and we get hundreds of them each year.

Now, to the lesson. Our hero, the head of a large corporation, argued that the board of directors were wasting time and money sending reams of literature to the heads of departments all over the state, asking begging, nay, demanding that their products be "pushed." He claimed that local managers didn't have time to read the stuff, (they must be overloaded with it), nor would they bother if they DID have the time.

In order to prove his point, he offered to make an example which he would pay for out of his own pocket. He admitted that if he were wrong, it would cost him a lot of money, but he was SURE.

He then proceeded to send out THREE THOUSAND letters to these managers... the usual drivel about this and that... but in the third or fourth paragraph, he had the following words: "Any manager who will call me at the following number within twenty-four hours after receiving this letter, will receive from me, one hundred dollars." The letter then went on in the usual vein.

Mr. Big Shot... and how RIGHT he was... got exactly ONE telephone call! It cost him a hundred bucks... but in the future his outfit won't waste their efforts on the written letter.

Name New School After Brownell

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education at its November 7 meeting named the new junior high school being constructed on the Chalton site the S. M. Brownell Junior High School. The new structure was named for the former Grosse-Pointe Superintendent of Schools under whose leadership from school years 1927-28 to 1937-38 the local education program first became nationally recognized.

Dr. Brownell accepted the Detroit School Superintendency this past summer after resigning as United States Commissioner of Education, a post to which he had been appointed by President Eisenhower.

The famous educator has a host of personal friends in the Grosse Pointe community who still remember his vigor, his vision, and his faith in the public school system of America.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Guest Columnist: Joseph Kimborough

The Grosse Pointe Public Library will enter the field of educational television again this year when it presents a "live" half-hour drama over Channel 56, Station WTWS, on December 3, at 7 p.m.

The play will be the dramatic "prison scene" from the third act of Maxwell Anderson's Mary of Scotland, and will feature Mrs. Don Worley as Mary, Queen of Scots, and Mrs. William Grange as Queen Elizabeth I.

Mrs. Worley and Mrs. Grange have played in many productions of local theatre groups. Mrs. Worley will be especially remembered for her performance as Amanda in The Glass Menagerie. She is also the author of a one-act play, Fallen July. Mrs. Grange, a Dramatics major from Northwestern University, played in Twelve Angry Women for Theatre Arts in January.

In Mary of Scotland they have found an almost perfect vehicle for their talents, and have had considerable success in presenting it for local groups. They will repeat the play for the Grosse Pointe American Association of University Women in December. The December 3rd performance will be both ladies' first appearance before the television cameras.

Beginning with a sweep of Puritan prose and swinging into victorious verse, Mary of Scotland is another play in which Maxwell Anderson vividly dramatizes history, depicting the six sad years that begin with the return of Mary from France in 1561, and end with her imprisonment by Queen Elizabeth of England in 1567.

Queen Elizabeth hates Mary as a young and beautiful rival to the throne. At the end of the play, Mary becomes aware that the critical events of her career—her marriage to Darnley, the murder of her secretary, Rizzio, the murder of Darnley, her marriage to Bothwell, the rebellion, the truce—were all the results of traps deliberately set by Elizabeth for her own particular ends.

In having Elizabeth visit the imprisoned Mary at the close of the play, Anderson forges history to his dramatic purpose, creating a great scene wherein the crafty plausible, but indomitable Elizabeth of England meets the meek, yet proud and undaunted Mary, Queen of Scots. Mary has the one shaft in her quiver to sink into Elizabeth's heart, for Elizabeth, politically victorious over Mary, has been a hater, a schemer, a liar, and a barren woman—while her victim has known a rich life, with love and its fruition—a child.

The simple power of the verse of Mary of Scotland places it among Anderson's best writings. It was originally presented in New York on November 27, 1933—running for 248 performances—with a superb cast including Helen Hayes as Mary and Helen Menken as Elizabeth. Katherine Hepburn later played Mary in the motion picture version.

Brooks Atkinson in his review of Mary of Scotland calls the play "one of the finest pieces of writing in the collected works of the American drama." In Mary of Scotland, Anderson deals more with individuals than with ideas. The characters of the play are not there to set in contrast ideals or theories of government so much as to portray the struggle of two women, two rulers, for power.

The television production of the prison scene, beautifully and authentically costumed in the garb of the period, has a special introduction which was written and which will be spoken by Mrs. Anthony J. Glazko.

It is with considerable pride that the Grosse Pointe Public Library presents this dramatic half-hour over Detroit's educational channel. We are sure that it will be enjoyed by all who see it.

Foundation Has First Birthday

November 14 marked the first anniversary of the Training Program for retarded children. Initiated by the Foundation for Exceptional Children, Inc., of Grosse Pointe, the progress made in a year's time is indicative of the success of this organization.

Fifteen retarded boys and girls enrolled a year ago. Directed by Miss Ruth Hall, registered occupational therapist, and staffed by interested volunteers, this program has offered these children the experiences of daily normal living in so far as their limitations will allow.

Crafts, social activities, and vocational guidance are among the opportunities they have realized. Classes are held five afternoons a week in the Quonset Building, 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Recognizing the need also for recreation, in June the Foundation planned and organized a 6 week's day camp for retarded children. A visit to the Detroit Zoo, a boat ride on Lake St. Clair, and special parties were some of the activities enjoyed by the children. They are benefiting from group associations and are learning to socialize with one another.

The Foundation for Exceptional Children also provided and financed a 6 week's summer therapy program for physically handicapped children. The need for routine and continuity is especially important in the habilitation of the physically handicapped.

The training program opened the fall term on September 9 with 15 enrolled, and a growing waiting list. It is the hope and plan of the foundation to expand, to include needed therapies, and to afford even more individualized attention. This will necessitate additional personnel and an increase in the budget.

The foundation is proud of this "Pilot Project," and the fact that it is meeting a definite need in Grosse Pointe. It is giving these children the opportunity of living and sharing experiences in their own community. It is affording them the privilege of friendships in their own community.

Occupational Cramps

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Miraculously does the body protect itself from harm, as in the case of so-called occupational cramps, brought on by excessive use of certain muscles.

Ball players, writers, dancers, musicians and scores of other workers have experienced the complete failure of certain muscles making it impossible for them to continue work until after a period of rest.

This temporary revolt on the part of our body is a way of preserving its strength and usefulness as any doctor will tell you.

Assisting your doctor is the conscientious patient who is ready to meet your every drug need.

Letters to the Editor

Affirmatively, it is the duty of the Farms councilmen as a council and as individuals to provide us with pure, clean water, unadulterated with toxic fluorides.
Many citizens of the Farms and of the City are worried at the prospect of chronic fluoride poisoning. Will our councilmen assume this responsibility?

It is inconceivable to me that the Farms councilmen will agree to tax all the property owners for the alleged benefit of the proponents. But, if so,
why should not bottled water be furnished to opponents at taxpayers expense? (Tax subsidies should work both ways.)

After all, why not let proponents buy whatever fluoride medicaments they want for themselves, and their children, and let opponents do without.
Freedom of choice is essential to free citizenship.

Respectfully,

November 6, 1956

Dear Sir:-

We have lived in the vicinity of Richard School for over twenty years. I would like to express my opinion in regard to the proposed strip of land leased to Grosse Pointe for a parking lot. I go by the school

1957 Cadillacs
Completely New

From bumper to bumper,
from top to bottom, the 1957
Cadillac is completely new. Yet, in appearance it is unmistakably Cadillac.

In announcing the new Cadillac, Don E. Ahrens, General Manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Division and Vice President of General Motors, said, "the 1957 car represents the most complete model change in Cadillac history.

"Our engineers and stylists literally created a new car this year," Ahrens said, "but still retained its Cadillac personality. The over-all silhouette has been lowered as much as three inches; the hood and rear deck are lower than the fender profile; the traditional Cadillac tail fin is restyled and two additional four-door hardtops make their appearance in 1957."

These dramatic changes are to be found on eight of the ten models. The two Eldorados, the Biarritz and the Seville, are distinctively different, featuring a rear quarter panel and rear end styling that puts the "dream car" into reality as a limited production car.

"An engineering development in the form of a revolutionary new frame has allowed us to achieve our new silhouette," Ahrens explained. "With this frame the body is secured to outrigger mounting brackets rather than the side rails of former years. Not only does this permit lowering of the car but torsional rigidity is increased.

Like the rest of the car, the front end styling is all new.
Unquestionably, the cellular grille effect, gull-wing bumpers and bumper guards are reminiscent of recent Cadillac styling, but they have been redone to tie in with the low, sweeping design of the 1957 models.

Behind this front end is a 300 horsepower engine, the most powerful and the highest performance engine ever offered by Cadillac as standard equipment.
This V-type overhead valve engine has a 10 to 1 compression ratio, a four-inch bore and a displacement of 365 cubic inches.
Eldorado owners can have this engine modified with twin four-barrel carburetors and developing 325 horsepower.

With this multitude of new physical features included in the 1957 Cadillac, a complete redecorating job was called for. And it happened. New fabrics, trims, leathers, floor coverings, and headliners are combined into the finest of interiors.

Many of the new models are being shown and demonstrated at O'Leary Cadillac, East Jefferson between Neff and St.
Clair.

playgrounds almost daily and never see a child playing at the end of the playground or near it.

How could anyone say it would be dangerous for the children? We mothers feel the parking lot at McMillan and Kercheval is really dangerous for the children. They use this parking lot as a short cut going back and forth to school and the children crossing the corner at McMillan and Ker-cheval are in danger from cars going to the parking lot. I would say this lot is the one that is too near the school with its weeds and filth; it is a disgrace and would not be allowed in any other Pointe community.

The residents of Muir road claim they could get plenty of signatures from people who are against the parking lot at the end of the playground. Well, I could get twice as many signatures from mothers who think it would be an ideal location for parking.

Woods Decides
On Switchboard

The Woods council authorized the installation of a central telephone switchboard, which will probably be located in the police station.

The discussion of the necessity of a switchboard, and final approval for the installation, occurred at a regular meeting of the council on Monday, November 5.

There was a somewhat lengthy discussion on the advisability of installing the switchboard in the police department because of a possible disruption of police routine and efficiency, especially in regard to incoming police and fire emergency calls.

After threshing out the matter, it was agreed that the board would be put in the station, and that a switchboard operator be hired to run it.

The switchboard, which will be connected to all municipal departments, will cost the Woods
an additional $13.45 per month
on its phone bill.

MASON SCHOOL

At Mason School second graders were thrilled about having a policeman visit their classroom. After studying about firemen and policemen as community helpers they invited Patrolman Duster to visit during Fire Prevention Week and talk with the children about ways in which they could work for safety.

RICHARD SCHOOL

Teaching girls and boys is still mainly a book learning process with the major effort being made within the four walls of the classroom. But on every hand we are being reminded of the wonderful opportunities to be found when learning goes on outside of the classroom.

Educators have been suggesting for a long time that boys and girls study real life situations as much as possible. They are recommending that the modern school have spacious grounds so that genuine outdoor nature study and conservation activities can be a part of the course of study.

Our program nowadays provides many opportunities for children to gain experiences that will enable them to understand and interpret the natural phenomena in their environment. Outings to farms and dairies to observe farm animals, excursions to zoos to see wild animals, hikes to parks to study plant, insect and bird life, visits to museums to view rare things and to the planetarium to survey the skies—all are a regular part of the school day.

Parents too, have excellent resources which are brought to the classroom in the form of talks, color slides of their travels or exciting exhibits from far off places. Extensive use is made of all of these community resources.

During the opening weeks of school the staff members of Richard School cooperatively examined many of these resources in order to do a better job of helping girls and boys. Under the guidance of the principal they visited the grounds and identified the trees and shrubs.

They toured the entire building and they also examined all sorts of maps, charts and poster materials which would aid them in their teaching. They saw a most challenging motion picture depicting the story of how other communities make effective use of all of the resources they can possibly find at hand.

On Tuesday, October 16, the faculty at Mason School entertained the Room Mothers at tea. Retiring Room Mother Chairman, Mrs. Walter Griffith, and Co-chairman, Mrs. Richard Warner, poured.

Current chairman is Mrs. Gunter Kemp; co-chairman is Mrs. William Landless. Room Mothers for 1956-57 are: — Mrs. Paris DiSanto, Mrs. Alex Gill, Mrs. Michael Kuish, Mrs. Harold Mentlik, Mrs. Benjamin Hubbard, Mrs. Paul Schoenhalls, Mrs. Clarence Gould, Mrs. Robert McKenna, Mrs. Owen Baker, Mrs. George Steyer, Mrs. Edward Sipe, Mrs. Leonard Winter, Mrs. Bewley Priestman, Mrs. Olaf Hestad, Mrs. Robert Brownscombe, Mrs. Theodore Thomas, Mrs. James LeRoy, Mrs. Aaron Schueler, Mrs. James Crago, Mrs. Frank Tunks, Mrs. John Butcher and Mrs. Jack Kull.

Throughout the beautiful fall months the staff working with their classes have engaged in a wide variety of activities centering about their school, the grounds and their neighborhood.

The pupils too are learning about the trees, shrubs, flowers and insects found close at home. Under the guidance of the chief engineer-custodian Mr. Power, they are touring the entire building. They are carrying on many recreational activities on the McMillan Field.

The most recent experience of this kind took the staff on a field trip socially entertaining and educationally inspiring. Twenty-five dined together at Devon Gables and then attended an astronomy lecture at the new Planetarium of the Cranbrook Institute of Science. They returned to school most eager to share their experiences with the children.

Among those on the trip were: Mrs. Jean Boardman, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Seegers, Miss Lillian Goodwyn, Miss Sydney Snell, Miss Mary Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Darvill, Miss Marian Schwaler, Miss Clara Blank, Miss Margaret Kennedy, Lawrence Gagnon, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover, Miss Lillian Koby, Mrs. Olive Wanderer, Miss Elsemia Nault, Miss Rosalie Tomb, Mrs. Patricia Birch, Miss Myra Brieve, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Robert Rathbun, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Messner and Mrs. Jennie Dombrowski, first assistant who made the arrangements.

When and where do they go afield again? Ask the staff.

BARNES SCHOOL

Boys and girls like responsibility and know how to handle it. This is evidenced by the fine manner in which the newly organized Barnes School Patrol Boys and Service Squad girls have assumed their new duties.

At street corners surrounding the school and branching out many blocks beyond, the alert Patrol Boys are conscientiously protecting the children entrusted to their care. They are also proud — oh so proud of those new white safety belts.

One neophyte with a shiny round face and sparkling eyes walked up to his teacher last week and asked, "Is the back of my belt nice and clean?" He was relieved to hear it still bore its new look.

The Service Squad maintains order within the Barnes walls. They guide traffic on the stairs, help kindergartners find their way, clean tables after lunch, answer telephone calls at noon, and in every way assist in maintaining the efficient and courteous atmosphere of the lovely new school. One little lady who feared a dearth of business on-noon office duty, asked her daddy to call so that she could say, "Barnes School. May I assist you, please?"

The Patrol Boys whom you will see as you drive around the area are: Alan Ashley, Don Beaufait, Ron Brenaman, David Bullard, Greg Bunting, Dan Carrick, Curtis Clow, Hugh Daly, Jack Delozier, Don DeMeulemeester, David Fennin, Nick Fontana, Jon Fredrick, Dale Gariglio, Darryl Gariglio, Norman Grenzke, Ed Graham, Bob Grycan, Jim Gunn, Grant Hales, Joe Hall, Steve Hartkop, Jim Holderness, Paul Huessner, Bill Johnston, Ted Krauss, Calvin Matthews, Harry Lillie, Bob Miller, Bob Morden, John Nelson, John Nomecos, Greg Northrup, Alex Odry, David Peterson, Scott Ranney, Greg Root, Bob Schmelz, Bob Schroeder, Jeff Seyler, Dan Shanoski, Ron Simmons, Tim Sinclair, Steven

er. He has the assistance of two fine lieutenants, Scott Ranney and Steven Staryk, also sixth graders.

To Send Queen To Brussels

Belgian businessmen throughout the Detroit area are planning to send a "queen" to the 1958 World Exposition which will be held in Brussels, Belgium. To select the queen, the businessmen, in co-operation with the Sabena World Airlines, will conduct an international contest, in which tickets will be sold. The tickets sold will determine the number of "votes" given to candidates, who must be of Belgian descent.

The contest will be held throughout the United States and Canada. Holders of lucky tickets will be awarded a 1958 model car, first prize; or a color television console, which will be the second prize.

The girl receiving the greatest number of votes, will be selected the queen, and will receive an all-expense paid trip to the Exposition. She will be royally received in Brussels.

The proceeds from the sale of the tickets will financially aid Our Lady of Sorrows Church (the Belgian Church) Meldrum and Benson, Detroit.

An arrangement committee has been formed under the authority and leadership of the Rev. Fr. Andrew Taillieu, pastor of the church.

Rene DeSeranno of 685 E. Grand boulevard, Detroit, is chairman; and Jerome P. Bisschop of 2631 Woodward, Detroit, is secretary.

For further information about the contest, call Mr. Bisschop, WO. 2-3686.

helpful and friendly adults.

For the children of pre-school age, groups are opened on a limited basis and provide children of this age with a "play-group" experience once each week. Grade school age children each have one afternoon of activities per week and are engaged in games, sports, crafts, hikes and woodworking with children of like ages and sex. Each activity is supervised and conducted by college students, adults in the community, and Community Club staff. Junior High and Senior High students have activities in the evening hours, and activities include Co-ed groups, sports and crafts.

Group activities at the Community Club provide children and youth with the opportunity to meet new friends, engage in recreational activities, improve old skills and learn new ones, and enjoy the fun of participating with others in fun activities. Inquiries into the club program and the fees may be made by calling TUxedo 4-2050 or by stopping in at the club, which is located at 20883 Mack Avenue. ### Face Your Fear, Advises Expert Shocked rats are helping a psychologist at Michigan State University to demonstrate that fear is best overcome by facing the situation.

In a controlled experiment rats were found to lose their fear of being shocked electrically much faster in surroundings similar to those in which the original shock occurred. It took them more than twice as long to lose the fear in new surroundings.

"What's true of rats in this case apparently applies to humans as well," says Dr. M. Ray Denny, associate professor of psychology.

"A person frightened of public speaking or fearful of selling from door to door has to face those situations to extinguish his fears. Londoners who moved to the country to escape bombings in World War II remained scared stiff while those who stayed behind and were not harmed overcame their fear."

Trombly P.T.A. Meets Nov. 19

Prior to the general meeting, parents will be welcomed in the classrooms to see the children's work and to talk with the teachers.

A friendly social hour in the gymnasium is planned following the general meeting. Mrs. William Angst and Mrs. Alfred Miller, social chairmen, and Room Mothers Mrs. Seyler, Mrs. Robert Brodie, and Mrs. Robert Bowman are arranging the table setting and refreshments.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Altogether, what with our Lions and the two Michigan teams, local football fans are having a thrilling fall following the fortunes of their favorite eleven.

Off to St. Paul for the Minnesota-Michigan State game this past Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. John Bockstanz of Radnor circle. They will really make a long weekend with stopovers coming and going in Chicago.

On Monday Mrs. E. will be in the Windy City to meet with the North Shore Association for Retarded Children. Mrs. Bockstanz is one of the Pointers chiefly responsible for our Foundation for Exceptional Children which is housed in the quonset hut on the High School campus.

More gridiron news concerns the Jack Stephenson, of Fisher road. They have been trekking back and forth between their home town and the Ohio State campus at Columbus for several seasons now.

Mr. Stephenson is former All-American and captain of the Ohio State Buckeyes and will, of course, be in the stands with Mrs. S. for the Michigan-Ohio State classic on the 24th.

Skip Stephenson is following in his father's footsteps and he will entrain Thanksgiving night to play in a Little League game in Philadelphia.

Aboard the special train which carries fans to the Ohio capital in the early dawn of the big day will be the Horace Caulkins Fords and the George Trumbulls, of Bloomfield Hills.

This Saturday morning the young patrons will hear composer Paul Nordoff tell his story of "The Frog Prince" as well as enjoy selections from Stravinsky's Firebird, "Don Giovanni" and "Midsummer's Night's Dream."

Driving down to the concert with their offspring will be Mrs. Richard Turner, Mrs. James W. Grace, Mrs. Lawrence Gottfredson, Jr., Mrs. William McMillan, Mrs. Henry M. Campbell and Mrs. Allen F. Edwards, Jr.

Harmonie Club Plans Events

Harmonie Club members and their guests will gather this week on Friday evening, November 16 at 8 o'clock to hear an informal lecture by Henry D. Brown, director of the Detroit Historical Museum.

Mr. Brown has chosen the provocative title: "Detroit: Has Never Been Like We Think It Used To Be". He will talk about Detroit and Grosse Pointe, past and present—emphasizing that in earlier days they weren't nearly as wonderful as we now believe.

He will also tell of the early social life of the community with accent on the Germans who contributed so much to the culture, in music, in art and allied interests. The Harmonie was, over quite a period, the center of important social and cultural affairs.

This first lecture of a short series by well-known Detroiters, is being arranged by Dr. Alfred H. Winkler, chairman. Grosse Pointers on his committee of ten are Herman A. Hielscher and James A. Markie. He has asked J. Willard Carpenter, president of Harmonie, to preside, and Paul S. Jerome to introduce Mr. Brown.

Reservations show a full house for the annual fall concert on Saturday, November 17 at the Harmonie. The men's and women's choruses will present a program at 9 o'clock; from 6 to 8 there will be a buffet dinner and following the concert members and guests will dance.

The choruses, directed by Frank Murch, will include folks songs in German and English, arias from grand opera and selections from modern composers.

President Carpenter, long a member of the men's chorus, will sing the solo lines in Fred Waring's composition "Where in the World but America." Christine Schlorff will be the accompanist.

Shirley Sequin, one of Detroit's talented young pianists, will be guest soloist.

DORMITORY DRIVE

Gathering of Clan

It's heart warming to hear news of a family get-together for no other reason except that the members enjoy one another.

Such was the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Caulkins, of Lewiston road, Sunday evening. Just a regular gathering of the clan which happens quite frequently, said the hostess.

Among those attending were the Morace Caulkins Fords, the junior and senior Frederick S. Fords, the Jack Caulkins, the Bill Finkenstaedts, the Dan Lee Johnsons, the junior and senior Charles B. Johnsons and Jim Johnson.

Also around the family board were the Dick Adams, who came in from Birmingham, the Jim Caulkins, who are just getting settled in the Pointe after their move from Portland, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. George Caulkins were there, as was Mrs. Edward B. Caulkins, Jr. Mr. C. was away on a business trip to New York, but all in all quite a representation of the family.

Debut News

Already the excitement of the holiday is in the air. And it promises to be a very gay season for the young set. The T. Jack Henrys are carrying off their debutante daughter, Carol, from Bennett Junior College where she is a freshman this year, for a real family get-together in New York on Thanksgiving.

The Henrys will headquarter at the Ambassador with "My Fair Lady" on the entertainment list. There will also be shopping expeditions, for Carol will be bowing during the Christmas holidays at a ball at the Country Club on the 22nd with a trio of Pointe lovelies.

Mary Patricia Monahan Weds Louis Richard-Geist Saturday Morning in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore; Florida Wedding Trip Follows Reception at the Whittier

At a double ring ceremony in St. Paul's on the lakeshore Saturday morning Mary Patricia Monahan, daughter of the Edward Vincent Monahans, of Lothrop road, spoke her marriage vows to Louis Richard Geist.

Her wedding gown was of Chantilly rosepointe lace over white satin with a princess waistline, pictorial neckline and long sleeves. The cathedral train was delicately outlined in a scalloped design of the lace. A coronet of seed pearls held her fingertip illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Gerald O'Meara, was matron of honor in a turquoise waltz length taffeta gown. Her hat was a circle of stiff net under a crown of taffeta and she carried a colonial bouquet of daisy-like mums centered with a hug spider mum.

The bridesmaids, dressed like the matron of honor in buttercup yellow taffeta, were the bridegroom's sister, Christine Geist, Shirley Fincham, Alice Anderson, Carol Staats and Frances Regan, of Marine City. Thomas Geist was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Geist, of Harper Woods.

The ushers were the bride's brothers, William and Daniel Monahan, Peter Schummer, Jack Carroll and John Huette-man.

For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Monahan chose a Dior blue lace over taffeta gown with matching hat. Mrs. Geist was in taupe crepe with dusty rose accessories.

Following a reception at the Whittier the pair left for a two-week honeymoon in Florida. For traveling the bride wore an aqua wool sheath and a draped white satin hat. They will make their home on Chalmers avenue.

Center to Hold College Dance

Announcements have been mailed to all 1954, 1955 and 1956 January and June high school graduates inviting them to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Annual Thanksgiving Dance for collegians at 9 p.m., Friday evening, November 23.

Local collegians Ann Giroux, Jim Blashill and Fran Striker have been heading the arrangements committee. They hope very much that parents have forwarded the announcement cards to their sons' and daughters' college addresses.

Though it is a couples' affair the committee wants to emphasize that those who arrive home too late to get dates are more than welcome as stags.

Fred Crissey's orchestra will provide the music and Fran Striker, aided by John Willerts, is in charge of entertainment. The main fun of the evening though will probably be seeing old friends and catching up on goings on at the different campuses. Refreshments will be served in an intimate candlelit setting.

Incidentally, reservations for the Center's New Year's Eve Ball may be purchased at the Thanksgiving Dance.

Some men never take a stand for the right unless they see a chance for self-profit.

Discussion Planned By Voters League

Revision of State Constitution to be Subject Under Consideration; Public Invited to Attend Unit Meetings

Do you believe that the Michigan constitution needs a complete overhauling? How do think Michigan's legislature should be apportioned: on a straight population basis in both houses; or should one house be apportioned on an area basis, or some other basis; and if so, on what basis?

These are some of the questions which the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe will be discussing during the month of November, along with other leagues all over the state of Michigan.

These same questions will also confront the voters of Michigan in 1958, when the question of a constitutional convention will automatically appear on the ballot.

One of the main objections to the holding of a convention is the selection of delegates from the present Senatorial districts, as was plainly evident from the answers of the candidates for political office which the League obtained in its interviews before the election, and published in its Voters Guide.

Almost to a man, every candidate was in favor of a constitutional convention, but they all expressed concern over the fact that the present Senatorial districts are not fairly apportioned. If the basis for the selection of delegates to the convention is the Senatorial districts, then . . . either the Senatorial districts should be proportionately representative, or some other method designated for the choosing of delegates to the constitutional convention, is the way Governor Williams expressed the problem in the Voters Guide.

In his talk before the league's general meeting of November 9, Professor Daniel McHargue, of the University of Michigan, said that Michigan's Constitution failed to meet the standards of the ideal state constitution as set up by political scientists. The ideal constitution, he said, would be a broad statement of principle, would furnish the general outlines of the state organization, but would leave out the details.

It would clearly fix the lines of responsibility, would give the legislature proper powers over the allocation of state funds, and would give to the governor enough power to let him do an adequate job of administering the state.

These things Michigan's constitution does not do, according to the professor, but he sees little chance of the constitutional convention being called, unless the people are assured that the delegates to the convention will be chosen on a bipartisan basis, with both parties being represented.

This was done successfully in Missouri, the professor said, with a new modern constitution as a result. However, he warned, it was not done without a long period of public education. He suggested that the League of Women Voters might serve as a spark to set fire to the thinking of other groups.

The Grosse Pointe League will hold five unit meetings to discuss the subject of a constitutional convention, and urges all of its members to attend the unit most convenient to them. Guests will be welcomed in the unit meeting, and the league's president, Mrs. Frank Hausmann Jr., pointed out that the meetings are open to the public. Personal invitations are not needed; if you are interested you may come.

The first meeting will be held on Monday, November 19, from 10-12 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Harcourt Caverly, 1173 Audubon. Discussion leaders will be Mrs. John Myroie and Mrs. Edgar Cooper.

The meeting on November 20 will be held in the home of Mrs. Joseph Thompson, 54 Radnor circle, from 8-10 p.m. Mrs. J. H. Graves will lead the discussion.

On Monday, November 26, there will be two meetings; from 1-3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Melville Collins, 704 Westchester, with Mrs. William Krebs leading the discussion; and from 8-10 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Schlegel, 266 Mt. Vernon, with Mrs. Ross Hume as discussion leader.

The home of Mrs. Donald Jennings will be the scene of the meeting on Tuesday, November 27, from 1-3 p.m. at 1131 N. Oxford rd., Mrs. William Stuck will lead the discussion.

Harris Collingwood, of the Library of Congress staff, writing in the November issue of the Michigan State University Magazine. The Soviets, Collingwood said, are close to the U.S. in active scientific graduates.

Announcing for 1957... the triumphant new
IMPERIAL
 Finest expression of The Forward Look
 Let's say you're the man who will drive the Imperial. You walk up to this startlingly beautiful car . . . so long and low that you feel a foot taller. There's so much that's new that your eye goes from back to front to center in amazement.
 The soaring, triumphant sloop of the rear fender. The daring elegance of the wind-split crest. The world-of-tomorrow look of curved sideglens, dual headlights.
 Now you open the door, and move easily into a new, low relaxed sitting position behind the wheel. There's the instrument panel like a jeweler's work of art before you, and the great smooth-level hood. All around you is light, air, space, freedom, and a sense of pure luxury in textures, colors, fittings.
 You touch a pushbutton . . . toe the accelerator . . . and then it happens. A throaty roar . . . a gathering of power like a rising wind. Turn the wheel. Touch the brake pedal. Ask the beautiful Imperial to do anything a car can do. Feel your own power in its obedience, its polished grace. After this—who could you be but the man who drives the Imperial?
 Ready now in an attractive new price range at your Chrysler and Imperial dealer's.

Hospital's Guild Plans Big Benefit

Notre Dame Du Bon Secours Members Announce Biggest Project Yet for November 29; Will Give Luncheon, Fashion and Entertainment Show at St. Clare of Montefalco Church Auditorium in Aid of Hospital Building Program

Excitement runs high among the members of Notre Dame Du Bon Secours Hospital Guild as plans for their biggest project of the season near completion.

On November 29 at 12:30 o'clock they will be serving their friends with a mixed fare of luncheon, fashions and entertainment in the St. Clare of Montefalco Church Auditorium which is located on Whittier at Mack.

Guild members modeling in the fashion show of furs include Mrs. Hubert Bohle, Mrs. Joseph Leahy, Mrs. John E. McCaughey, Mrs. Joseph Van Deweghe and Mrs. William G. Koerber.

While primarily a Grosse Pointe facility, Bon Secours Hospital serves patients throughout the entire Greater Detroit area. It is administered by an order of Catholic nuns trained in medical technology or hospital administration. They afford to people of every faith the same devoted care and treatment.

There is an extensive building program now in progress at the hospital and the need for funds to operate and maintain these larger facilities is greater than ever.

Mrs. Joseph A. Kasper, guild president, has named Mrs. John R. Hall general chairman assisted by Mrs. Jack H. Hellers, co-chairman.

Others on the committee are Mrs. Joseph Woolfenden, ticket chairman; Mrs. Cyril M. Kruger, programs; Mrs. John Mitchell, door prizes, and Mrs. Franklin A. Miller, decorations.

Mrs. George DeSmyster, reception; Mrs. Cyril DeFever, stage; Mrs. George Skimins, table arrangements and Mrs. William G. Koerber, publicity, are also working on the benefit.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Woolfenden, PRescott 3-2379, Mrs. Richard Royer, TUxedo 5-6696, and Mrs. Edward J. Lynch, TUxedo 5-4243.

Pointe's Christmas Street Grows

Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe's main thoroughfare, becomes "Christmas Street" along about this time each year. It is one of the top shopping streets in the country. The Hill shopping center, Fisher road to Hall Place, shown at top, is dotted with new and enhanced shops like The Dants, The Village Store, Irving's, and Margaret Rice's. The middle picture shows the rear end of the great new section which Jacobson's have added to their half-block long store in the Village. The lower picture shows three other of the Village's new structures, those of the Siloway Realty Firm (left) and the new, greater homes of York Jewelers and Kroger's Market. The new Peter Pan store and others were beyond view of the camera. The gleaming, smooth, newly laid pavement will lend added yuletide glamour to this colorful street—the Pointe's famed Christmas street!

Ford Foundation Honors Bushong

School Superintendent James W. Bushong has been invited by the Fund for the Advancement of Education of the Ford Foundation to serve on a special committee to study the problem, "Relating Teachers' Salaries to the Quality of Teaching Performance."

Nine superintendents including Dr. Bushong's three from the state of New York, two from Connecticut, and one each from Illinois, Missouri and Texas — have been selected to discuss two aspects of the problem: (1) How many salaries be related best to the quality of teaching? And (2) How can the quality of teaching be evaluated for purposes of merit pay?

Red Cross Sending Yule Gifts To Soldiers in Distant Lands

The Detroit chapter has announced that the American Red Cross Christmas gift project for servicemen stationed in distant outposts is being completed with the shipment of several thousand gaily wrapped parcels "Christmas is a year-round activity at Red Cross," Mrs. Dorothy Moore, volunteer chairman of the chapter's Social Welfare Aides, said. "Scarcely is Christmas over until orders for gifts, wrappings and decorations are placed for the following year."

"The Services supply special holiday dinners, but it is the Red Cross which tries to see to it that each serviceman, no matter how far removed from a population center or base, has gifts and the things our American boys associate with the holiday at home. Across the country volunteers in various chapters accept the responsibility of boxing and wrapping the gifts. Military authorities provide the necessary information about numbers and location of servicemen and the boxes are sent by military transport — ship, truck, plane and even parachute."

"Each base where American boys are stationed receives enough parcels for the personnel there and at any outposts under its command. Red Cross field directors and clubmobile girls see to it the Day is celebrated as fully as local-military circumstances allow. The year-round Red Cross recreation program seems to culminate in its Christmas activities."

"The Detroit Red Cross chapter is especially interested in Christmas in Korea this year, because one of our former Junior Red Cross members, Miss Jeanne Whittaker, 17000 East

GOD'S WORD? — This sheet of papyrus paper, kept between glass for preservation, now is being studied by an international committee of Coptic language experts in Cairo. Part of a 20-page manuscript unearthed in upper Egypt in 1946, it is believed to date from the middle of the 3rd Century. The Coptic script, a translation of ancient Greek, may contain a version of the "Gospel according to Thomas" as it was recorded by the followers of "Gnosticism," an ancient sect involved in a schism from the established Christian church.

TURKEY AND ALL THE TRIMMINGS—Talk about a Thanksgiving Day parade! Citizens of Worthington, Minn., get a preview of their holiday dinners as a flock of turkeys marches up the gaily trimmed and decorated main street. The gobblers led off an hour-and-a-half parade marking the 16th annual King Turkey Day at Worthington, which calls itself the turkey-growing capital of the world. Some 50,000 persons from Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota watched the parade, which was practically a death march for the turkeys.

NEW FIBRE-GLASS SPORTS CAR — This is the fibre-glass Berkeley, British designer Lawrence Bond's newest entry in the low-priced sports car field. Powered by a 322 c.c. engine in a racy, sporting fibre-glass body, Bond's "baby" is claimed to do 60 miles to the British or Imperial gallon of gas and a speed of 70 m.p.h. with ease. The export price, according to the manufacturer, is $1,064.00.

RARISH RADISH — Bordering on the proportions of a pumpkin, the king-sized radish in Ramona Page's hand dwarfs the normal-sized radish in her other hand as she compares the two. The freak radish was grown in Ramona's grandfather's farm at Croydon, N. H. After 60 years of farming, Ramona's granddad, explaining the reason for the two-and-one-half-pound radish said, "It just happened."

NOTHING TO MATCH IT—Hardly wider than an ordinary match, this wrist watch is said to be the thinnest watch in the world. On display at the Watch and Jewelry Fair in London, the Swiss-made watch is only .117 of an inch thick. The works are .063 of an inch thick. The case is 18K gold, and the watch is priced at $1,047.

PRINCE OF A SAILOR — Lending a royal hand to the launching of a lifeboat is Crown Prince Constantine of Greece. He's shown participating in "abandon ship" drill aboard a Greek destroyer at Athens. The 16-year-old prince, enrolled at the Royal Navy Cadets School, is receiving special training with the Raiding Battalion, the famed Greek Commando Corps, at the direction of his father, King Paul.

HOT ICEBOX—In the past, people just threw away their old iceboxes, but now a new twist has been added by converting an old icebox into a smoker for carp. Based on the idea of the ancient smokehouses on a smaller scale, the fish is placed in the top section of the icebox, and a fire is built below it. William Buckeridge of Oconomowoc, Wis., appears hardly able to wait to taste the smoked fish. He claims they're delicious. Wisconsin's State Conservation Department has asked residents to eat more carp in order to get the rough fish out of state lakes and rivers.

WHEELING AROUND THE WORLD—Waving goodbye to London as she continues her cycling trip around the world is pretty, 24-year-old Canadian schoolteacher Mary Ann Lake of Duchess, Alberta. Headed for the south coast of England, the peripatetic pedagogue wears a buckskin jacket and sports on her bike the antlers of a reindeer she bagged in Lapland. Miss Lake has already pedaled through Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and Holland. She expects to be on the road another 22 months.

RAISED EYEBROWS — Seeing double? No, this Berlin model is actually wearing two sets of eyebrows, neither of which happen to be her own. She's showing off the latest in beauty aids, artificial eyebrows made from real hair. They're said to be indistinguishable from the real item. The model is wearing two sets just to show different styles.

EASY LIVIN' — No scampering around in search of nuts for this young squirrel. He gets his food the easy way from an eye dropper held by Paula Ernisse at Rochester, N. Y. There's no chewing, either, since he's taking only milk. Paula, rescued the baby squirrel from neighborhood dogs chasing it around her front lawn.

NEW MEDIUM FOR COCTEAU—Proving the versatility of his artistic genius, famed poet Jean Cocteau puts the finishing touches on his wall sketches of the life of St. Peter in St. Peter's Chapel in Villefranche on the French Riviera. Standing by the ladder casting an appreciative eye over the nearly completed work is the well-known French painter Jean Paul Brusset.

HORNING IN—Grimacing in pain, novice bullfighter Hector Luguin takes a savage charge by an enraged bull in a ring at Mexico City. The bull, angered by the spears in its shoulder, caught Luguin between the horns and tossed him feet first into the air. Pained but uninjured, Luguin got up and succeeded in killing the bull.

BONE TO PICK—Sharing a bone in London are two-year-old, Peta Louise Skingley and her six-month-old boxer, Thor. Obviously, two heads are better than one when it comes to picking a bone clean.

HOPPING DEATH—Beautiful but dangerous, these brightly colored frogs at the Washington, D. C., zoo have poisonous skins that could kill a man. Mario De Frato, head keeper of the zoo's reptile house, is always careful to wash his hands after handling the frogs as he's doing here. Native to the remote jungles of Colombia, Ecuador and Panama, the frogs secrete poison which is used by the Indians as poison darts and arrows.

Ford Ranchero Is Misleading

QUITMAN, GA. — A completely new kind of commercial vehicle — one that looks, rides and handles like a passenger car but does the work of a pickup truck — was unveiled for the first time in automotive history by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.
It was cited as a symbol of the forthcoming advances available in the completely new line of 1957 Ford trucks.
The Ranchero, 16 inches lower and 18 inches longer than a 1956 pickup, resembles the new Ford passenger car from the front bumper to the vehicle's mid-point. But from the mid-point to the rear, the vehicle is a high-styled pickup truck with greater load space and a lower loading height.
The truck is the first in the industry to have a gold anodized strip as an option with a two-tone color scheme like Ford passenger cars. The interiors are the same as in Ford's high-style 1957 station-wagon.
The new vehicle, a closely-kept secret at Ford during its long development period, was revealed for the first time on November 12, 1956, in the little rural community of Quitman, Georgia, at a County-wide celebration the local residents staged to honor 21-year-old Wesley Patrick. Patrick was just chosen 1956 Star Farmer of America by the 380,000-member Future Farmers of America organization. The leading farm lad will be given the first Ranchero off the assembly line when production starts in December.
The vehicle's payload capacity is nearly three-quarters of a ton. Instead of a pickup box mounted on the rear of a cab as in conventional truck design, the Ranchero is an integral unit with a completely welded body and a double steel floor for added strength and rigidity. Unlike regular pickup truck bodies, the load space covers the full width of the vehicle for easy side loading.
It is designed and constructed to provide truck owners with the luxury of a passenger car along with the utility of a pickup.
The new "more-than-a-car, more-than-a-truck" vehicle is offered with either standard, overdrive or Fordomatic transmission.
The trucks come in two models, the Ranchero with a 272 cubic inch V-8 engine with 190 horsepower and the Custom Ranchero with the 292 cubic inch V-8 engine developing 212 horsepower. Each also is available with the 144 horsepower mileage maker six.

As another important truck first, the Ranchero has space for luggage and a spare tire behind the seat in the cab. Ford's exclusive ball-joint front suspension, heretofore available only on passenger cars, is standard on the Ranchero for better ride and handling.
The vehicle will be introduced to the public shortly after the first of the year.

at eight (8:00) o'clock in the evening to consider the appeal of Albert D. Thomas, Inc. 18232 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan, from the Building Inspector's denial to issue a permit to construct an addition to the residence at 308 Grosse Pointe Boulevard which would violate, if constructed, Section 4.03-Side Yards, of the City's Zoning Ordinance, which states "where the side wall of a building exceeds fifty (50) feet in depth, the width of side yard opposite the portion in excess shall not be less than ten (10) feet. The property on which the addition is proposed is also known as the Southernly 1/2 of the Northernly 1/2 of Lots; 29, 30, 31 and 32, Moran Sub-division.

The applicant contends that there are practical difficulties and unnecessary hardships, and that if such permit was granted, the public health, safety and general welfare would not be injured.

Dave Gauss Will Captain Strong Devil Swim Team

Senior Dave Gauss was honored by his teammates when they elected him captain of the 1956-57 squad which will open the season against non-league Birmingham on Tuesday, December 4, in the local pool. It marked the first time in memory that the Blue Devils have elected a captain.

The Blue Devils, under their new coach Alex Canja, have been undergoing a rigorous training schedule which included a full month of work in the gym before the swimmers even saw the water.

Currently, the team is hard at work in the pool and the month-long gym work is showing its effects. Many of the squad members have cut seconds from their previous best times, and at least two boys have consistently bettered the existing pool and school records.

Coach Likes Cutler
Coach Canja is extremely high on Les Cutler who is slated for full time duty in back stroke events. Already Cutler has bettered his record time of last season and if all goes well should go undefeated in dual meets. Coach Canja figures Cutler should place one, two or three in the state meet at East Lansing next March 8-9.

Veteran Eddie Pongraz has shown blazing speed in his free style specialty and will be a tremendous help during the first half of the season. He graduates in January.

Probably the hardest felt blow this early in the season was the withdrawal of veteran Dan Bauer because of a skin infection.

Bauer was elected co-captain along with Gauss by his teammates. Dan didn't feel he should continue in that capacity now that he has been forced to withdraw from competition. However, there is a faint ray of hope that Dan will be able to return sometime later this season if the infection clears up.

Has Good Nucleus
Using his ten lettermen as a nucleus which includes Gauss, Bob Gale, John Bennett, Cutler, Pongraz, Harry Huffaker, Tom Ketzler, Neil George, Bob Wachter and Mike Collins, Coach Canja has high hopes of filling in the remaining spots with non-letter winners and some outstanding reserves who may give some of the regulars a battle for their starting berths.

The non-letter winners are divers Ted Fordon and Paul Alcott who will be asked to carry the load at least through the first half of the season. Diver Joe Moore, a letterman from last year, ran into scholastic difficulties and will be ineligible for the first half of the season. Currently, Moore is mastering his academic studies and promises to return for the last half of the season.

Chuck Babcock and Bill Ewald, two other boys who saw limited action last season, have been turning in good performances and will aid the team.

Some Good Reserve
Outstanding in the reserve list are ninth graders Mike Cook in the back stroke and Dick Law in the breast stroke. Tenth grader Fred Haast is a serious contender for a breast stroke berth and Clip Rummells, another tenth grader, is showing signs of breaking into the varsity group. Eleventh grader Mike Kroyer has raised some eyebrows during practice with his speed in the free style sprints.

Coach Canja, because it is his first season in the Border Cities League, is hesitant to make predictions because he doesn't know what the rest of the teams in the league have in store. However, Alex is high on his kids and claims they will make a race of it with any opponent they tangle with.

Bill Winkler, former Blue Devil star diver, is Canja's assistant and the Blue Devils should produce some fancy divers. Canja was an All American diver when he captained the University of Michigan swimming team.

Blue Devil Cagers Small, But May Surprise League

Any coach who has seven returning lettermen would normally count his lucky stars and figure on big things for the coming season, but this is not true in Coach Howard MacAdam's Blue Devil basketball camp.

Of the seven letter winners only Mark Murvay tops six feet. He stands 6 feet, one and one-half inch and already has clinched the starting center berth when the Devils open the 1956-57 season against non-league Dearborn on the local court, Friday, November 30.

Of this group of lettermen, which includes Dick Zuehke, Kenny Gutow, Ronnie Fine, Gordon Sachs, Bob Gilbert and Bruce Boardman, only Boardman, a junior will be around another year. All the rest will be playing their last season for the Blue Devils.

Has Good Reserves
Using this group as a nucleus Coach MacAdam has practically all of last year's championship reserve team to fill in the vacant spots. Heading this list are the Gold Dust twins Jack Medley and Gil Cox, both seniors, who thrilled the reserve followers with their stellar play at the guard positions.

Six feet, three inch Todd Price will undoubtedly see plenty of action before the season progresses too far. He is a center but has shown shyness under the backboards in reserve games. If he can bring himself to get under there and mix it with the Devils' opponents he could help the team tremendously, especially in the rebound department where the Devils appear to be the weakest.

Pete Wade, Jim Millies, Marty Andrews, Norm Forrester and Tom Woodruff, a newcomer to the fold, all are top flight candidates battling for the remaining starting assignments. All are Juniors.

Could Make Varsity
Three sophomores, Larry Bruzesse, Lars Anderson and Rem Purdy, have shown the zip and go that could land them a varsity berth. Of the three, Purdy is the tallest, standing slightly over six feet.

Coach MacAdam isn't making any predictions for his Blue Devils but figures if the Devils can gain the ball on rebounds his kids will run and shoot with the best of the league.

Looking around the rest of the league, Fordon appears to be the team to beat. The Tractors, who tied Highland Park for the BCL title last year, have the same team back this season plus

Bayview Trophy Awarded to U. of M. Sailors

RACE CHAIRMAN BILL NAGEL, left and VICE COMMODORE LYNN STEDMAN, JR., award the Michigan Intercollegiate Trophy to the University of Michigan sailing crew, DEXTER THEDE, BRUCE GOLDSMITH, CAROLYN LEAR and DENNY SINNETT, after they had won the fall collegiate series held on the Detroit

River and sponsored by Bayview Y.C. last Sunday, November 11. The trophy is a former Mackinac cup which the club rededicated to the collegians. It will be awarded annually to the school winning the Spring Eliminations championship. This same crew also captured the spring series which opened the local sailing season.

Boat Banter

By Fred Rummells

The greatest number of eligible voting members in Detroit Yacht Club history turned out for the annual election on Monday, November 5, held at the club. More than 50 percent of the membership participated.

The record breaking vote elevated Howard Cook from his vice commodore post to commodore, replacing Clyde Palmer.

Along with him Charles S. Tompkins moved up from his rear commodore position to vice commodore. Rounding out the flag officer slate was likeable, cigar smoking Freddie Jensen, former secretary of the club which is one of, if not the largest, yacht clubs in the world. Jensen will assume the rear commodore duties.

John Deifaker was the successful candidate for secretary and Robert Cherhan was elected treasurer.

New board members elected are: Herman Schmeman, Judge C. Joseph Belanger, Ed Baker, Earl Wagner, Paul Roth, Al Steiner and Ray Vanderbush. These men will join Harry G. Anno, Milt Cross, Jr., and past commodores Clyde Palmer, Murray V. Knapp and George Currett. The present flag officers will round out the four-man board for the year of 1957.

Those die hard Penguin sailors at Crescent Sail Y. C. never know when to give up. Last Sunday, November 11, seven of them, plus two guests, got together for a round robin series just for fun and sailed their little 11 foot six inch sloops over a short triangular course in seven races despite the chilly November weather. These were

Pointe Dogs Entered In Obedience Show

Several Grosse Pointe area members of the Sportsmen's Dog Training Club, Inc., participated in the Southern Michigan Obedience trial at the Motor City Specialty Show, November 11, Sunday, at the Detroit Artillery Armory.

These dogs are not trick dogs. They are obedience trained in useful, practical exercises with a lot of patience and hard work. The Sportsmen's Dog Training Club holds classes in Vester Hall, Ferndale, Michigan, and many Grosse Pointe residents make the trip weekly to train their dogs.

Mrs. Juanita Yeargin, of Grayton road, entered her two Norwegian elkhounds, Amy and Loki, in the trial. Loki acquired his second leg in Open A with a score of 181. Amy, entered in Novice B, scored 194. This was also her second leg.

Mrs. Karl Greimel, of Three Mile drive, also a member of the Sportsmen's Dog Training Club, completed her companion Dog degree on her collie, Royal Scott's Pee Miss MacKie, with a final score of 188. Kie placed fifth out of 59 novice dogs and was also highest scoring collie.

Mrs. John Veech, of Lakeland, a new trainee with the SDTC, entered Lakeland Beau, a miniature poodle, and scored 197 to place third in the open class. This is Beau's second leg on his C.D.X. degree.

Faculty members and graduate students at the University of Michigan College of Engineering publish between 10,000 and 13,000 pages of new research findings yearly.

two dunkings. Skip Boston and his brother Spike took an unexpected dunking before the start of the fifth race and Otto Sherer, winner of the series, fell off the dock while pulling his boat out after the series had ended.

Here is how the contestants fared in the final standings: Otto Sherer 51 3/4; Jack Wubbe 47 3/4; Clip Rummells 39; Jerry Jankins 38; Skip Boston 34 1/2; Charles Reader Jr. 30; Don Carozze 28; Fred Pessl 27; and Bill Herbert 26.

Carozze was given seventh place by the race committee despite the fact he didn't sail the last two races because his boat was out of commission. It broke down in the fifth race but his average points amounted to 28.

These stalwart tars plan to race every Sunday, weather permitting, and are pointing to their annual Thanksgiving Day series which annually entrances motorists touring Lakeshore drive that day.

Next summer Crescent will be the site of the Penguin Regionals, which will pick the local representatives to compete in the Nationals at Chicago.

Skippers and their crews from the University of Michigan, Michigan State, Hillsdale, U. of D. and Wayne held their annual fall series on the Detroit River on Saturday, November 10. The series was sponsored by Bayview Yacht Club and was run by race chairman Bill Nagel, vice commodore Lynn Stedman, Jr., Bill Connolly and Jim Schudel.

Bruce Goldsmith and Dexter Thede scored 47 points to win the round robin series for Michigan. Following in order were: Gail Brazier, Bob Mains and Paul Weimer of Hillsdale with 44 points; Gurt "Red" Jabin and Dale Akred of Hillsdale, 43; Liwyd Ecclestone and Frank Kloss of Wayne 36, and Bill O'Reilly and Bob Verhelle of U. of D., 25.

Comm. Stedman presented Goldsmith and Thede with the Michigan Intercollegiate trophy which Bayview rededicated and will award annually to the college winning the Spring Series. Goldsmith and Thede earned the trophy with their efforts last spring.

Liwyd Ecclestone, Jr., was individual high point skipper in the A division with 22 and Goldsmith was not only high point in B division but overall high point winner with 26 points in the Fall series.

Donald Franck Given Commission in AFROT

Donald G. Franck has recently been appointed to the position of flight commander in the AFROT program at the University of Michigan.

This position carries with it the rank of cadet first lieutenant and entails the teaching of drill fundamentals and leading maneuvers of about 20 men.

Cadet Franck, a senior in the school of Business Administration, is majoring in real estate and upon graduation in June, 1957 will receive a commission in the Air Force as a second lieutenant.

Upon graduation he plans to enter the Air Force and go into flight training.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Franck of 1829 Allard, Grosse Pointe.

St. Paul Lakers Appear Strong in Early Practice

If pre-season performances are any indication of things to come, then the St. Paul Lakers should be one of the favorites in the Eastside Second Parochial basketball race.

Returning to the Lakers are seven veterans and six of these are letter winners from last year. Heading the list are Bill Vermeulen and Gary Anderson. Both stretch the tape at six feet five inches and should give Coach Eddie Lauer's quintet ample height under the backboards.

Coupled with these two giants are Tom Parker, 6 feet 2 inches; Dan Sheridan, 6 feet; and Terry Hutton, a heavy play maker who stands 5 feet 11 inches. Russ Beaupre and Joe Brisson round out the returning veterans, both are 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Sophomores Dave Ayrault and Tom Kolojeski are the outstanding reserves from last year's Eastside championship team and they are pressing the veterans in early practices for a starting berth.

Ayrault has height to his advantage, standing 6 feet one inch. On the other hand Kolojeski is what basketball circles term a "shrimp." He stands a mere 5 feet 5 inches. But what Tommy lacks in height he makes up in alert, aggressive play. He is one of the best competitors on the squad. Tommy was one of the reasons the Laker reserves won the 1955-56 title.

Unlike most coaches Ed Lauer is not hiding his delight over the prospects for the coming season. He feels that despite the loss of big Ken Oxley, last year's leading scorer for the Lakers, this current crop of cagers will turn in a better record than last year's team which compiled a league mark of 8 wins and 3 losses and an overall record of 10 and 5.

The Lakers will open the 1956-57 season away from home in a non-league game against De La Salle, Friday, November 30. De La Salle is a class A school but in the past A Lakers have proven the size or class of school doesn't make any difference on the basketball court. Last year the Lakers split their home and home series with the Pilots.

The league season will get underway on Friday, December 7.

According to early reports St. Thomas and St. Philip appear to be contenders for the league hunting with St. Rose labeled the "dark horse."

The Lakers will play all home games at Grosse Pointe High with the varsity game beginning at 8:15 p.m. The reserves will play the preliminary game at 7 p.m. Both teams should be accustomed to the huge court as they have been on it since practice sessions began.

JC's to Sponsor Leader's Course

A leadership training school will be conducted at the Neighborhood club starting November 15. The club will be run under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Junior Chamber of Commerce and will be conducted by members of the management school from Wayne State University.

The objective will be to stimulate thinking in the field of leadership. This five week conference will be open to anyone interested in leadership training and will be of great benefit to people in the field of management.

The conferences begin at 8 p.m. and usually run approximately one hour. The main topics to be discussed are: The Philosophy of Leadership, Leadership Training in the Area of Planning, Organizing, Controlling and Human Relations.

Additional meetings after the holidays will be directed at improvement of the individual in the areas of public speaking, business writing and personality development. For additional information contact Jim Brenner, PR, 1-3995 or George Elworthy at the Neighborhood Club.

There are six electronic computers on the University of Michigan campus for solving involved problems.

Future Bobby Laynes Find Practice Pays

The Grosse Pointe Rams' kickoff combination of DAVE BUYSSE, left, and SKIP STEPHENSON get in some extra practice at the Neighborhood Club even though the regular All American Little Football League season has been completed. The Rams will play in an exhibition game in Briggs Stadium on Sunday, December 2.

World Market Starting Today

Harvest festivals of the Old World will be the theme of the 26th Annual Old World Market, November 15 through 18.

"The process of integrating foreign-born people into the ways of American life is never stopped by rumors of wars," according to Mrs. Alice L. Sichel, Executive Secretary of the Institute. Among the 1,000 volunteers representing some 80 nationalities who operate the Market, the Institute building becomes a true cross-roads of international goodwill, she added.

Folk dances and music, traditional arts and crafts and national food specialties will be offered in the setting of a village fair from noon until 10 p.m. each day of the festival.

To relieve customary crowds during dinner and evening hours, Mrs. Warren B. Cooksey, general chairman, is urging attendance for luncheon and early afternoon programs. Coffee shops, open from noon until 5:30 p.m. and from 8:30 to 10 p.m. daily, will serve Syrian-Lebanese, Norwegian, Chinese, Mexican, Italian, Rumanian and Greek food. Hot soups by Bulgarian, Ukrainian, Czech and Croatian cooks will be featured. Pastries of many other nationalities will be offered in holiday specialties.

A different nationality dinner will be served each day, from 5 to 8 p.m. except Sunday, when hours are 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Thursday's dinner will be Armenian, Friday's Syrian-Lebanese, Saturday's Czech, and Sunday's Rumanian.

A costume parade on opening Thursday will display elaborate and authentic costumes to be worn by attendants in sales booths for imported and handmade articles.

Stephens Grads Planning Dance

Mrs. Alexander Bacon of Harper Woods was hostess to the second meeting of the Eastside Stephens Alumnae Group on Monday evening, November 12. Mrs. Victor Bacillus, of Grosse Pointe Park, Mrs. Bacon's sister, was assistant hostess.

The program discussion, led by Mrs. Bacillus, centered on "Do-It-Yourself For Christmas" with Mrs. Robert Knapp, Mrs. R. G. Sheridan and Mrs. Frank Ogan, of Harper Woods, and Mrs. Vernon F. Beitel and Mrs. F. M. Leist of St. Clair Shores participating.

The Christmas projects demonstrated were ribbon roses for package decoration, holiday earrings and paper stars. Some of the audience participated by making the items along with the demonstrator.

Larger projects displayed were construction-paper dolls representing each of the 12 days of Christmas, popcorn tree, mantle decorations of glass and bails, gold foil wall decorations, and a holiday table runner.

On December 7 the group will hold a dinner dance. For information call Mrs. F. M. Leist, FR. 8-8463.

Headlines of the Week

(Continued from Page 1) dio in Budapest admitted that fighting is still going on in the Hungarian capital. The Soviet puppet government sought to woo over the rebels by promising to negotiate the withdrawal of Soviet troops as soon as peace is restored. It was reported that the rebels blew up the great uranium mines in Pecs, which were prime objectives of Soviet might when they moved in to quell the revolt.

Sunday, November 11 THE MIDDLE EAST PEACE is being threatened by British, French and Israeli forces do not leave Egypt, it will permit Russian "volunteers" to offer their services to the Egyptian Government. No time limit was set for the withdrawal. A British foreign office spokesman denounced the Russian statement as a "cheap effort" by the Russians to pose as protectors of the Arab world.

THOUSANDS of Hungarians of Hungarian rebels captured by the Russians are being herded onto cattle cars for transportation to the Soviet Union, it was reported by eight Hungarians who crossed into free Austria. The Hungarians, refugees from embattled Budapest, said the patriots were being rounded up by Soviet troops and Hungarian secret police, and placed in the cattle cars at the main railroad station in Budapest.

They said this is an attempt by the Russians to crush the 19-day rebellion against Soviet domination. The eight also said that the dread Hungarian secret police shot the first few Budapest rebels who surrendered to the Reds last week. The latest report is that the fighting is still raging fiercely in the Hungarian capital.

Monday, November 13 CANDLES MEANT only one thing to two-year-old Carol Lynn of Des Moines, Ia. When the electricity went off in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eaton, the child followed her mother around the house, and as Mrs. Eaton lighted candles, Carol Lynn just as energetically blew them out, singing "Happy Birthday."

JANOS KADAR, Moscow puppet premier of Hungary, desperately sought the aid of Nagy, premier deposed by the Red Army, in an effort to gain popular support of his government. It was reported that Nagy refused to call on the Hungarian nation to back the Russian-installed Communist regime. Meanwhile, Hungarian nationalists continued their bloody fight against overwhelming Soviet forces.

Tuesday, November 15 THE RED REGIME in Hungary rejected a United Nations move to send investigators, but will permit the sending of food and medicine into the country, the UN General Assembly was notified by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. The Assembly last week approved a resolution asking Hammarskjold to observe the situation and call on Hungary to permit free elections. It also asked Russia to withdraw its troops from Hungary.

Wednesday, November 14 IGNORING COLD, hunger and the might of the Russian Army, Hungarians carried on a passive protest against the theft of their freedom. Fighting is still being carried on by bitter rebels who refuse to surrender. Destruction of their homes and defeat of those who sought to stem the might of the Russian forces, failed to dampen the defiance of the Soviet and their puppet government. The nation hung grimly to a general strike, and ignored pleas and threats of the puppet regime of Premier Kadar to return to work. Reliable sources disclosed the Red Party Boss Khrushchev has arrived in Budapest seeking a means to end the resistance and to strengthen Kadar's government.

JORDAN ordered an immediate investigation in the blowing up of an oil pipeline which leads from the Iraq oil fields to Israel's Mediterranean port of Haifa. The pipeline, which has supposedly not been in use since the 1948 Palestine war, has been blown up in two places. The Jordanian Government said it is also investigating to find out why oil has been run through the line. It has asked the owner, the Iraq Petroleum company, the source of the oil in the line.

Sign of our times: An election worker in one of the Grosse Pointe city precincts swears that one of the voters wrote in Elvis Presley's name on the Presidential ballot.

A week-end sportsman we know has felt keenly the dearth of pheasants this season. He drove to Owosso recently to shoot on the farm of some friends and on approaching the farmhouse saw a huge bird perched under one of the pine trees on the front lawn.

He jumped from his car and fired three times before the bird fell. Off went the anxious Lab to retrieve the game, and horrible was our nimrod's embarrassment to find it was a stuffed specimen. The only pheasant he saw all day, too. He'll never live it down, as there were a dozen witnesses!

MRS. JACK STURTEVANT looked very trig when she boarded the chartered bus for Ann Arbor last Saturday in a lemon yellow skirt with matching cashmere sweater banded in brown French ribbon threaded with gold. She topped her spectator sports outfit with one of the new hooded loden green coats. Incidentally, gin rummy is coming back into its own as THE game on the buses to and fro from the stadium.

At the opera the other evening in the lobby spied MRS. C. H. HABERKORN III, completely covered up against the seasonal winds in a full length black brocade evening coat banded in velvet to its mandarin collar. The brocade was a lush golf leaf Oriental design.

MR. and MRS. JAMES W. LEE'S offspring, PATSY, 11, and NINI, 8, have the charming old-fashioned habit of dropping perfect curtsies when they meet their elders.

MRS. ALFRED L. MARKS looked like a magazine illustration of the perfect sportswoman the other day when shopping on the hill in a honey colored beige leather jacket and matching twill slim jeans. She was dashing to the parking meter with pennies in hand to forestall that ever-present policeman.

Also shopping for delicacies was MRS. RICK KELLER, who has one of the new bouffant hairdos, in a bold checked skirt with a coral cashmere sweater appliqued with crossed tennis racquets outlined in seed pearls. Her huge belt was coral, too.

Always well in advance of the latest fashion, MRS. MARK BELTAIRE appeared at "Inherit the Wind" in a full length soft brown leather coat, belted as to back and collared in mink.

PILFERINGS

An imperious and ageing movie star viewed the rushes of a day's work in the studio, and complained to the boss camera man, "You are not photographing my best side." "How can I?" snapped the cameraman. "You're always sitting on it."

Give yourself a little color test: Preferences according to a recent survey, are as follows: Intellectuals of both sexes go for blue; athletes prefer red; egotists pick yellow; convivial persons have a yen for orange, and the lovelorn, bless their little hearts, revel in crimson.

It is completely unimportant. That is why it is so interesting.—Agatha Christie.

A woman can forgive a man for the harm he does her, but she can never forgive him for the sacrifices he makes on her account.—Somerset Maugham.

Dorothy, learning to dress herself, tearfully approached her mother with the remark, "I can't fasten my dress. The button's in the back, and I'm in the front."

A tramp knocked on the door of an English inn named "George and the Dragon."

"Could you spare a poor man a bite to eat?" he asked of the woman who answered the door.

"No!" she screamed as she slammed the door in his face.

After a few minutes the tramp knocked at the door again and when the same woman reappeared he asked: "Now could I have a few words with George?"

Pointer of Interest

MRS. EMORY MORAN FORD, OF WOODLAND PLACE

by Patricia Talbot

Labrador Retriever fans, and there are no more avid dog lovers, have a haven for their pets and hunting companions at the Emory Fords' Wingford, the state's only kennel specializing in gun training and field trail training for retrievers.

Wingford Kennels, 15 miles northwest of Port Huron in St. Clair County, began as a pheasant preserve years ago when the land belonged to Mr. Ford's father.

Our Pointer's interest in retriever training began when she was married. Fox-hunting and bridge were her two hobbies as a girl in Pittsburgh. But she ruefully admits that she hasn't ridden to the hounds or picked up a bridge hand in years. Her husband's hunting and fishing interests come first.

Visiting with Mrs. Ford, immaculate and soignée in a fetching red lounging outfit, in her gracious Woodland place home it's difficult to imagine her tramping through the hunting marsh. But she loves it and her travel itinerary follows the game seasons around the country.

Follow the Birds

The Fords hunt pheasant in Michigan now at Wingford, duck in a Canadian marsh not far away, quail and dove in Georgia after Christmas and birds in Arizona later in the winter. Mrs. Ford admits she would like to try for mountain lion around Phoenix.

Bird hunting just isn't sport to the real pros without retrievers. A retriever does not hunt game like fox hounds or pointers but works behind the hunter and fetches the game after the shot. As a great worker for game conservation, Mrs. Ford believes strongly that retrievers save game in the field.

Labrador Retrievers need a great deal of careful training and handling before they are fit for the field and Wingford Kennels provides this under the direction of Howard J. Kale, head trainer at the Kennels.

Although this registered kennel will take any type of dog for boarding, the Lab is the dog favored for gun training. Last summer there were 20 Labs at the farm for gun training and about 20 other breeds boarding plus assorted puppies.

Working Farm

The Fords spend almost every weekend throughout the year at Wingford, which has also over a section and a quarter of working farm planted to wheat, oats and soy beans. Eight hundred pullets are the newest addition. Mrs. Ford thinks nothing of leading a real "Egg and I" existence on the weekends, gathering eggs, candling them and all the onerous chores that go with chicken raising.

But the Labs are her real hobby and she takes a personal interest in every dog accepted by the kennel besides loving her own Lab, Meg, and two stray mongrels, Pepper, a chow hound, and Sandy, a dachshund beagle type.

She is especially pleased because last year four of the dogs in her kennel obedience classes were accepted for Leader Dog training with the blind.

Leader Dogs

Before dogs may go on to this postgraduate course they learn at Wingford to sit, stay and lie down. They are accepted for working throughout the year in the Fords' basement decorating trays, boxes, wastebaskets, even a small piano for the decoupage booth at the Fair, whose doors opened this morning, incidentally.

Mrs. Ford's spacious home, overlooking the lake, reflects her love of antiques and her flair for combining these priceless pieces with charming, comfortable contemporary furniture. In the pine-paneled library, special shelves hold her amazing collection of unusual shaving mugs, each mug representing some craft or profession.

Franklin Settlement, Planned Parenthood and the Garden Club of Michigan also receive her attention. She admits her own garden would be more eye-catching if dogs and children weren't given a free run.

Our Pointer, in the midst of the hunting season now, wishes every hunting dog in Michigan could have proper training so that the sport could be enjoyed in the safety it deserves.

Good Taste

Favorite Recipes of People in The Know

Contributed by Mrs. Joseph J. Gonzo STRAWBERRY CAKE

Take an angel food cake and cut across so that you have two layers. On the lower layer pack vanilla ice cream about one inch thick, filling the hole. You will use one pint of berries.

Place the top layer on cake and pack hole with ice cream. Whip 1/2 pint cream and completely frost with whipped cream. This may be prepared in advance of a party and placed in the deep freeze.

Before serving, defrost one package of frozen strawberries, and pour over cake. Cut slices and pour more strawberries on each serving.

Traffic Safety Awards Given

Formal presentation of the certificate of merit won by Detroit Y-Teens in the 1956 Carol Lane Awards for Traffic Safety will be made by Carol Lane herself at a "punch party" at Central Branch YWCA Saturday afternoon (Nov. 17) from 3 to 5 p.m.

A representative from each of the 60 Y-Teen clubs in senior high schools in metropolitan Detroit will be on hand to meet Miss Lane and to witness the ceremony.

Detroit Y-Teens received their award for a year-long program of traffic safety education. Through their efforts, school bulletin boards were used to propagandize traffic safety, school assemblies were devoted to traffic discussion with movies and speakers on the subject. The program culminated with a traffic safety poster contest among Y-Teen clubs last March.

The Carol Lane Awards, named for the women's travel director of Shell Oil, are the only national awards recognizing the accomplishments of women in traffic safety work. They are presented for "significant contributions to the preservation of lives through development and direction of an effective traffic safety program." The awards are administered by the National Safety Council.

Among Y-Teens chosen to represent their clubs at the presentation ceremony are Vivian Thompson, 346 Merriweather, Sally Whittingham, 262 Kenwood, and Arlene Gallette, 1052 Audubon, all Y-Teens at Grosse Pointe High.

Pointe Counter Points

By Peggy Mesritz

Scene: The Camera Center, in the village. Ourselves: What photographic facet shall we write up this week?

Milt Volkens, Camera Center owner: None... tell them to save their money.

Ourselves: You mean...? Mr. Volkens: And spend it Thursday, November 15 at the Christ Church Fair.

Change of Date: Irving's last fashion show at London East until after Christmas will be this Thursday, November 15 instead of November 29. Remember, it is to be a sumptuous finale with emphasis on dinner, cocktail and evening clothes for the holiday season.

We asked Leif Borgan, of Irving's on the hill, to create a three dimensional fashion sketch. Choosing his model with an artist's eye, he set about to complete the composition. First, a coat of black and white tweed, the notched collar trimmed in black braid and styled for back interest with a braid edged belting. On her head he carefully perched a rounded, tiered hat of white satin and black velvet. Her charcoal bag of pearlized calf was lined with red leather exactly matching the leather handled red silk umbrella she carried in her grey gloved hand. Then we watched the portrait come to life with that special poise of walk and carriage that marks the graduate of the Borgan modeling school.

Love's young dream might well begin at the Village Store. There are pink and blue party dresses designed to beguile. Fashioned of floating chiffon with swirling skirts, tucked, bare-shouldered bodices and airy wisps of stoles. In bolder colors you'll find taffetas for teens and for the sophisticated there is a black number whose sole support depends on tiny straps of rhinestones. For party going accessories there is jewelry galore, in gold, silver, rhinestones and baroque pearls... all at the Village Store on the hill.

To resort or not to resort, that is a question for dreaming. Margaret Rice has food for thought on both questions. For traveling... tailored pastel wools, good too when the southern sun goes down. For daytime... wonderful pure silk shirtwaist dresses fashioned with yards and yards of skirting and colored in plaids of blue, pink, or brown on white. For the dinner hour... luscious linens in deep yellows, royal blue or pastels. Some have contrasting embroidery at the scoop neckline, others feature well cut collars and tricky button details. If you must be a stay-at-home decorator the local scene in an eye appealing mid-season silk, prints, paisleys, or solids built for looks and comfort.

Leon of the Farms has a passion for beauty. Feeling that nature isn't kind enough to feminine charms, he has imported a corrective agent from the East. Miss Rita Reusch, formerly with one of the largest hair salons in New York, is an expert in color magic. Her talents solve hair problems from weather baking to satellite grey. But how careful can you get? Miss Reusch creates a sun streak, for example, using a cap especially devised by Leon himself to give you that top knot of glory precisely as you like it... the telephone number is, TU 2-6160.

Currently ticking at S. Stein & Co. in the village is a cuff link watch. Its partner is a gold fill disk, perfect for monogramming. A suitable housing for this well timed gift would be one of Stein's leather jewelry cases in black or tan lined with suede or velour, available in three sizes.

To snip the nip from the winter winds, Kilgore & Hurd has a windowful of stalwarts. Suburban coats in tweed, lined with alpaca for maximum warmth and minimum weight. Breeze defying caps of wool or corduroy come in solids and stripes. For underneath, a new idea in sport shirts, corduroy with frog fastenings of wood or, if you prefer, the reliable viyella.

If you like diamonds! Don't settle for glass, if you like cream don't settle for milk and if the cream goes on your face you'll want to try Re-nutrive, the most expensive cream on the market. Its ingredients don't include "root of bemoled dugged in the dark" but there are turtle and snake oils, silicones, protective agents and queen bee honey. Interested? Take your face and your pocketbook to Trail Pharmacy on the hill.

Porcelains from Hong Kong — there's a phrase to stir a collector's blood. Healy's in the village has a precious few. Handsome white goddesses bearing noble faces and delicate hands. In oriental philosophy, these august majesties preside over various occupations—Love, Meditation, the Hunt, Travel and Spring. They would reign with dignity, too, in any well decorated home. Other imports in the Healy boutique include a discriminating selection of lamps. For living room glamour... Venetian glass bases hand blown on the island of Murano, in marine aqua or white with crystal. Hand painted Bristol glass bases in pink or bisque tagged surprisingly at twenty four ninety five. Others are of milk glass, pineapple shaped or slim and slender with gold designs. For the feminine boudoir, Dresden rose buds climb gold fill shafts and cast a seductive light under a tucked and ruffled shade.

The patter of little feet department: Hornung's has just unpacked a cargo of party footwear for the holiday season. Round-toed beauties with or without straps in black suede and patent, fire engine red and navy blue with white stitching. For the more mature lassies there are trim black opera pumps with illusion heels in black suede or leather.
