Paul Newman did the work, but the Detroit Institute for Children reaped the benefits. And Paul wouldn't have it any other way.

The benefit amounted to a $10,000 donation by Newman, compliments of his highly successful food firm, "Newman's Own." The company, which Newman and his buddy, A.E. Hotchner, started as a lark to push Newman's Own Oil — a salad dressing — and Newman's Own Industrial Strength Venetian Spaghetti Sauce, has met with overwhelming success.

Get this, in the last two years Newman's Own has sold 15,403,000 bottles of salad dressing and 7,047,060 jars of spaghetti sauce to the tune of $3.5 million in profits. And all of it went to various charities.

The latest addition to Newman's grocery list is Newman's Own Oldstyle Picture Show Popcorn, which will also be used to aid charities here and other parts of the world.

Take a bow, Paul.

Snips 'n' snails

It's the truth, so help me. Overheard while passing a small knot of teenage boys at last week's dual track meet between North and South.

"Hey man, did you hear what your brother did in biology today? We were dissecting kidneys and somebody bet him he wouldn't eat a piece, so he cut off a chunk, chewed it and swallowed. Totally gross."

I totally agree. Now perhaps if he'd put a little of Newman's Own spaghetti sauce or salad dressing on it first.

Duck!

There was a little bit of excitement in one of the many banks that line Mack Avenue last week. Seems one of the Woods city employees was cutting the lawn on one of those island medians when his mower picked up a piece of metal and shot it across southbound Mack and through two panes of glass into the bank.

The glass panels measured 20 feet by 22 feet. According to authorities at the institution, no one was injured and no alarms were sounded.

But boy, I'll bet they jumped.

It's not "Rolling Stone," but . . .

Ken VanDellen, of the Park, would love it if you'd obtain the latest issue of Michigan Natural Resources magazine at one of the local bookstores, or peruse it at the library.

Why? Because VanDellen, a geology instructor at Macomb Community College, has a big spread in the magazine, complete with 10 color photographs.

As Ken tells it, the story is a thumbnail sketch of the geological history of Michigan and represents years of research and photos on his part. VanDellen approached the magazine last fall and showed them photos and slides for a possible article. After it was examined by the magazine's art directors, editors and a state geologist, Ken received the go-ahead and wrote the article in March.

"It's the first time I've ever been published," VanDellen said, a big grin on his face. "This is a real 'high' for me."

The piece appears to be meeting with some success. VanDellen reports the head of the geology department at Michigan State University ordered 40 copies, and Gwen Samuels at the Book Village reports the magazine is sold out.

But not to worry, Gwen says more are on the way. Issues are priced at $1.95. A small price to pay to get a geologist high.

Declining enrollment forces layoffs

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Citing declining enrollment and fewer high school students who will be taking seven classes next year, the Board of Education last Thursday morning laid off 23 full- and part-time teachers while reducing the assignments of 11 others.

The layoffs take effect June 14. Of the 15 full-time teachers to be laid off, seven are from the high schools, six from elementary schools and two are special education instructors. The eight part-timers involved include six high school teachers, a kindergarten instructor and a developmental kindergarten teacher.

The district expects to lose 172 students, mostly at the middle and high schools next year, according to Director of Personnel Ronald Tonks. Teachers at the middle school who are qualified by district standards to teach at the elementary level were able to use seniority rights to avoid layoff by "bumping" lower-seniority elementary school teachers, he added.

Because fewer students enrolled in seven classes, the district had to lay off more teachers than the student population decline would have required, Tonks said.

Economics was not a factor in the layoffs, according to Deputy Superintendent Joseph Spagnoli.

James Garlough, president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association, the teacher's union affiliated with the Michigan Education Association Local 1, said he was "disappointed, obviously, that there will be a reduction of staff," adding that layoffs "are a very real possibility each spring."

The union will continue to encourage the board to watch staffing levels and class sizes, Garlough said. While the district's class-size averages by department have declined in past years, some individual classes are sometimes larger than normal, he added. Staffing was expected, but wasn't expected to begin as soon as it did. Because the computer classes are handled through the math departments, those with low seniority and without the qualifications to move to another level were laid off, he added.

The five practical arts teachers facing permanent layoff are victims of a general decline in enrollment in those courses, part of a national trend in declining enrollment, Welch said.

Some of the teachers now on the permanent layoff list may be recalled when retirements and leaves of absences are requested, Tonks said. One of the three special education instructors may remain on staff because of a leave of absence request, according to Special Education Director Claire Hunt.

The department is discontinuing its developmental kindergarten program at Richard, the only school with such a class, Dr. Hunt said. The program is up for yearly review to see if there are enough preschool children eligible for enrollment in it, she added, saying that although it won't be offered next year, it may return in school year 1986-87.

The layoff of a speech correction instructor will not affect case loads, Dr. Hunt said. The district will remain below the state level set for speech correction caseloads and will work to keep up the same quality of service now being delivered, she added.

Board members and Superintendent John Whritner expressed their distaste of the layoffs at the special meeting April 25. Dr. Whritner called the layoffs "not one of the pleasant times of the year, but one of the necessities of the profession."

Board Vice President Jon Gandelot said the layoffs were "not a happy occasion," adding that many of the teachers on the list were young, highly motivated instructors. He added he "would like to see us avoid the layoff of teachers by better marketing of this school system" to attract enrollment.

Tonks told the board the district will avoid having to hire a number of teachers in the beginning of the school year as it had to last year because administrators now are better able to forecast the changes in student population. The district was caught by surprise last fall when the state's Fourth Friday student census showed a smaller decline in enrollment than expected, especially at the high schools, he added.

The district hired 46 teachers this year, most either to fill openings created by the system's retirement inducement or for the addition of the high school's seven-period day, Tonks said. So far, only two retirements have been announced this year, he added.

Teachers on the temporary layoff list will be offered positions at the reduced assignments next school year, Tonks said. He added that many of the teachers on permanent layoff may end up being recalled by the district.

Last year, the district pink-slipped 19 teachers, but eventually recalled all but one, Tonks said. The number of layoffs last year was smaller than this year's because the district was instituting the seven-period day and required more staff, he added.

Teen arrested in computer scam

By Tom Greenwood

After three days of surveillance of a house on Lexington Road, Farms police arrested a 17-year-old Woods boy April 10 and charged him with larceny by conversion in obtaining more than $5,000 in consumer goods through computer credit card fraud.

The teen, a student at North High School, was part of a nationwide network of "hackers," young computer operators who often use their machines to obtain restricted information.

Security officials from United Parcel Service (UPS) and MasterCard, as well as the Michigan State Police and the Secret Service are involved and are conducting their own investigations.

The Secret Service became involved when information confiscated at the teen's home included telephone numbers for the Capitol building, presidential guest house and Secret Service desk in the White House. Police said the numbers are restricted.

According to reports, the case came to light after the MasterCard company contacted the Michigan National Bank security division with reports of credit card fraud. Farms Detective Mark Brecht and a UPS security official later delivered a package to a home on Lexington Road police believed was being used as a package drop.

Police delivered packages to the home on April 8 and 9, but they remained unclaimed. A note on the door instructed delivery men to drop the packages at the side door and not with neighbors.

On April 10, police, dressed in UPS delivery uniforms, again dropped a package off at the Lexington home. Later that morning the suspect drove up and placed the package in the trunk of his car. He then allegedly drove to a home in St. Clair Shores and pulled into a garage.

At this point, he was arrested, the trunk opened and the package retrieved by police. After being fingerprinted at the Farms station, the parents of the suspect were notified.

In a statement given to police, the teen said his father had purchased a computer and related equipment and games in 1983. Later, the student bought more equipment and gathered computer information from a friend. He later came into electronic contact with other hackers who instructed him how to make long distance phone calls, obtaining restricted passwords and codes to extending computers.

During the time he used the computer, the suspect allegedly said he placed calls to London, Italy and Australia. He said he eventually compiled information, computer passwords and codes to a number of banks, corporations, colleges and credit card companies.

The suspect, in his statement, allegedly told police he allowed other hackers to convince him to use computer information to obtain consumer goods through the use of credit card numbers. Before initially attempting to obtain goods, the boy said he needed a drop house, so he drove through Grosse Pointe looking for homes with unshoveled driveways.

After surveying the home, the suspect said he finally started leaving notes for the UPS with instructions on where to leave the goods. He told police he kept in touch with other hackers and exchanged information on what they received. Some hackers reported receiving stereo equipment and mopeds.

Police said two VCRs and numerous videotapes were among the items recovered after the teen's arrest. The suspect also allegedly told police he received instructions electronically from other hackers on how to make bombs and explosives.

After his arrest, the suspect said the information was "amazingly easy to obtain." Spokesmen from the Michigan State Police and MasterCard said they're currently only investigating the case and refused further comment.

An official from the Secret Service said the government wasn't contemplating any action against the student and was working in joint jurisdiction with the FBI on the case.

Police report the bank involved will sign a complaint against the teenager on Wednesday, May 15, and a trial date of Wednesday, May 29, has been set before Farms Municipal Judge Robert H. Pytell.

New director is responsible for public, school libraries

By Pat Paholsky

Libraries are warehouses of words, but the single most important word in any library is service, according to Charles Hanson, the new director who began April 15.

"When I think of libraries philosophically, I think of the word service," he said. "It's misused sometimes, but it's very important."

Patrons expect a high level of service, he said, and since one-half of all Grosse Pointe residents have library cards, the staff is kept busy. The library has 30,000 registered borrowers, which Hanson said is a very good percentage. According to him, the national figures range between 20 and 25 percent.

Servicing patrons at Central Library and the Park and Woods branches are 38 employees. The librarians are professionals, he said, with library science degrees.

Hanson's position is unique, however, in that he was hired as director of both the public and school libraries. Prior to his appointment, it had been two separate positions.

As director of the school libraries, the 40-year-old Hanson will be responsible for 14 elementary, middle and high schools as well as the Instructional Materials Center at Barnes. The librarians at each of the middle schools and the three at North High and three at South High are all professionals with library science degrees, he said. There are five elementary resource teachers (ERTs) who travel between the nine elementary schools.

One of the new director's goals is to open up communications between the public and school libraries. Through computers, the schools can learn what is available at the public library, he said.

His background has been in both public and school libraries. His last position was as library director of the Lima branch of Ohio State University. Before that, he was director of the North Baltimore public library system for seven years.

Born in Wisconsin, Hanson has spent some time in Michigan. He was librarian at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids from 1973 to 1975. And before that, he was a high school English teacher.

Hanson has a bachelor's degree from Eau Claire University, a master's in library science from the University of Wisconsin and a doctorate in English from Bowling Green University.

He is a published poet and he has also written dozens of articles.

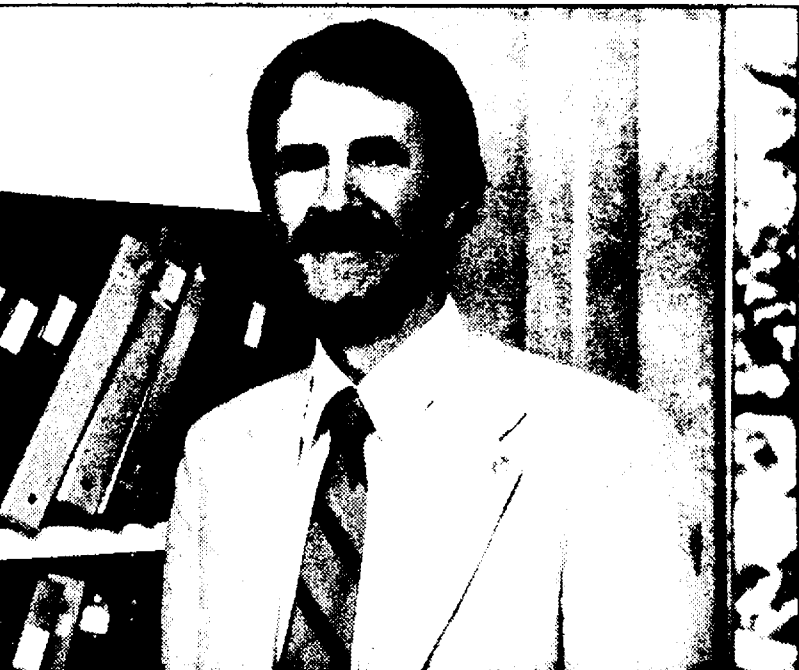

One of the unique features of the Grosse Pointe library is the active Friends group, Hanson said. Membership in the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library is about 4,000 now.

With the money raised through dues, the group is able to do things "above and beyond the regular operation," he said, such as landscaping, which is a current project.

"I would encourage people to become involved with the Friends. It really makes people feel they are a part of the library," he said, adding that the support strengthens the system.

Hanson has a soft spot for children's librarians and the children's story hour, which he calls "the high spot of any library." Storytelling, he believes, gives youngsters the desire to read.

Hanson, who is living in the Farms, replaces William Peters who retired last year after 17 years of service. Since then, Gerda Bielitz has served as acting director of the public libraries.

Bishop to visit, confirm

The Rt. Rev. H. Irving Mayson, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, will be at Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe Blvd., Sunday, May 5, to confirm a large class of youth and adult candidates.

He will preach at both the 9:15 and 11:15 a.m. celebrations of the Holy Eucharist. The confirmation classes will be presented at the 11:15 a.m. service.

The bishop, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, is a graduate of St. Augustine College and received his theological degree from Bexley High Seminary in 1951. He came to Michigan in 1970 when he was called to serve as archdeacon and at a special convention of the Diocese of Michigan in 1976, he was elected Suffragan Bishop.

Bishop Mayson's duties include the oversight of 70 Episcopal churches, chairman of the Marriage Commission of the Diocese, members of the Provincial Synod and he serves on the Program and Budget Committee of the General Convention of the national church. The public is invited.

The Rt. Rev. H. Irving Mayson

McCormick elected to board

William T. McCormick Jr., president and chief operating officer of American Natural Resources, was elected to the board of directors of NBD Bancorp, Inc. and its principal subsidiary, National Bank of Detroit, at the corporation's annual shareholders' meeting April 15.

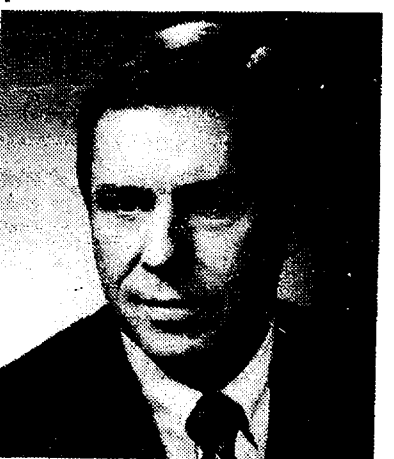

McCormick will succeed Arthur R. Seder Jr. as chairman and chief executive officer of ANR on May 1. He joined ANR in 1978 as vice president and assistant to the chairman.

Before joining ANR, McCormick was vice president for Policy Analysis and Government Relations of the American Gas Association. He spent nearly five years in senior positions in the federal government, including the Energy Policy Office at the White House and the President's Office of Management and Budget, where he served as chairman of the Interagency Task Force on Synthetic Fuels.

He holds a B.S. degree in engineering physics from Cornell University where he was an Alfred P. Sloan Foundation National Scholar. He received a Ph.D. in nuclear engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was a member of the Society of Sigma Xi.

McCormick, a Farms resident, is active in many civic and community organizations including the United Foundation, Detroit Symphony Orchestra and St. John Hospital.

Local education channel picks up programming

M-Star debuts this summer

By Mike Andrzejczyk

When school begins in September, students in Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods public and non-public schools will have one more learning resource available — programming from M-Star network.

But half the students who attend school in the area may receive the signal straight from the source, bypassing Grosse Pointe Cable.

A Monday morning meeting between cable advisory board representatives and Grosse Pointe public school officials resulted in the cable company's agreement to pay for the equipment necessary to receive and transmit the M-Star signal on the system's education channel 19. The Grosse Pointe Board of Education will be asked to approve the purchase of equipment necessary to modify the signal for retransmission, at a cost not to exceed $500, school officials said.

Cost was a major stumbling block in the negotiations, with the company offering at one time to split the costs of installation of equipment with the public and non-public schools. The equipment may have cost the company thousands of dollars.

The cable company hopes to be able to use equipment already in place, cutting its expected cost to about $500, general manager Michael DuFour said. The equipment is now being used by College Cable, produced in part by WTWS, Channel 56.

But representatives for the Association of Non-Public Educational Community, the consortium of 14 non-public schools in the Pointes and Harper Woods, will meet soon to decide whether they want to receive the signal through antennae on their buildings and not from the cable company, which has yet to wire two of the non-public schools.

Through a state grant, the Wayne County Intermediate School District purchased programming for M-Star through the Central Education Network in Chicago. The system will televise educational programs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. from September to mid-June and from 9 to noon during the summer school months.

The Archdiocese of Detroit, through an agreement with the ISD, transmits the programming to cable companies throughout the district. Antennae to capture the signal from the diocese's transmitter in Royal Oak Township are provided by the archdiocese.

AN-PEC officials were told at their April meeting that the diocese will provide an antenna to each of the schools free of charge, Brother Glenn Neiner of Bishop Gallagher High School and president of AN-PEC said. The cable company had offered to split the equipment costs with the public and non-public schools, something AN-PEC didn't think its members could afford, he added.

Neiner conceded that it appeared the non-public schools would accept the archdiocese's offer and take the antennae, cutting out the cable company.

"M-Star is just too valuable an educational package not to have available for our students," he added.

The cable company will pay for the equipment it needs to bring in the programming channel, but will not undertake the costs of future additions to M-Star which could expand to as many as four channels, DuFour said. The company doesn't have the channel space to put all the M-Star channels on the air.

The antennae would allow the non-public school to receive the full range of programming provided by M-Star.

Another part of the agreement between the public schools and the cable company will put M-star on channel 19. College Cable, which now appears on 19, will be moved to another channel, possibly 21, school and cable officials said.

An agreement reached earlier this year would have put M-Star on channel 21, which is used in the evening by the Pro-Am Sports System. The signal is not "scrambled" during the day and can be viewed by anyone hooked to cable.

College Cable has yet to be contacted about their willingness to move. "We will ask them nicely," DuFour said. The change will come at a time when the college programming is on semester break.

Also, the public schools and AN-PEC will form a committee to schedule programming for channel 19, a function currently of the cable company and a move that could lead to expanded use and production of programming by local schools, according to school officials.

By September, the three school systems could be providing as much as 15 hours of locally produced programming for channel 19. The possible schedule for programming would include three hours of character generated announcement from 6 to 9 a.m.; M-Star from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; locally produced programming from 6 to 9 p.m., and more character generated messages from 9 p.m. to midnight, school officials said.

The 3 to 6 p.m. slot could be used for a new variety of purposes, including repeats of M-Star programs, televising sports events or carrying other school-related announcements.

School officials say they will have no problem expanding the systems' production and development of programming.

The topic of schools doing the program scheduling was only briefly discussed, DuFour said.

More than 15,000 students attend schools in Harper Woods, Grosse Pointe Woods, Farms, City and Park, the cities served by Grosse Pointe Cable. The enrollment is roughly 60 percent in public school, with 40 percent attending non-public schools.

The cable company should be able to begin televising M-Star by Aug. 15, school officials said.

M-Star programming is meant to supplement teacher instruction. Guides are available for districts so schools know what programming is coming. Schools will also have "recordability rights" for one year, allowing them to tape and re-show the program for one year.

A presentation about M-Star was made recently to the Wayne County Intermediate School District Board, of which Grosse Pointe Board of Education President Joan Hanpeter is a member.

There's a Ford in his future

By Tom Greenwood

If Robert Lacey stands in the right spot in his backyard he can just see the home of Henry Ford II across the manicured greens of the Country Club of Detroit.

It's not the Ford home on Provenal Road that brought British-born Lacey and his family to Grosse Pointe, but the man living inside — his family and the car company that left its imprint on Detroit and the world.

Lacey, 41, is the best-selling author of books that combine his talent for history and journalism, including "Majesty," a history of the British royal family; "Princess," about Princess Diana; and "The Kingdom," dealing with the unification of Saudi Arabia under the house of Saud.

Midway through a two-year material-gathering stay in the Pointe, Lacey, his wife Sandi, daughter Scarlett and youngest son Bruno, are fitting quite nicely into the community the Ford family calls home.

"I bought season tickets for the Tigers this year," said Lacey, long and lean in blue jeans and a green pullover sweater. "Sandi and I went to the opening game. It was terrific, although it was strange to watch baseball in the snow while sipping coffee, after getting used to drinking beer and Coke last summer."

The Laceys arrived in Detroit a year ago in the middle of a March snowstorm. Mrs. Lacey had misgivings since her only other contact with Detroit was in a previous mid-winter tour to promote sales of "The Kingdom."

"We were doing eight interviews a day, 21 days a month," she said. "We were brought to Detroit because it has the largest Arab population in the world outside of the Middle East. When Robert said we were coming back to do a book about the Ford family, all I could remember was snow, the RenCen and lots of run-down neighborhoods in between."

"I didn't even know Grosse Pointe existed. It's quite lovely here and we're very happy. I must say it's also a lot less oppressive than living in Saudi Arabia, especially for a woman."

The Laceys lived in Saudi Arabia for a number of years while he researched his book. A devoutly Moslem, ultra-orthodox nation, its strict guidelines can be oppressive to a Westerner.

"I became very female-oriented over there," Mrs. Lacey said. "But I don't mean in a militant, feminist way. The women in Saudi Arabia are very happy with their society. I found it very constricting. I didn't have to wear a veil, but I had to wear clothing that covered my arms and legs, and my hair had to be always tied back because it would otherwise be 'provocative.'"

Trained as a graphic artist, she was also employed in Saudi Arabia, but was forced to work in a shuttered room, out of sight of any male co-workers.

"When Robert was away, my only contact with the outside world was with an old Bedouin who was my driver," she said. "Women aren't allowed to drive, nor can they walk around unescorted. We would have all these arguments about where I could and couldn't go. At one point, he told me I was third in line behind Robert and Scarlett."

"I finally learned a bit of Arabic and could at least argue with him more forcefully," she continued. "Shopping was a bother because everything comes to a complete stop five times a day for prayers. Also, there are no street names or addresses in Riyadh, the capital. Everyone has to draw little maps on how to get where you're going. In some ways, Detroit is very male-oriented like Saudi society, although I find the women here very impressive."

Both Laceys have been impressed by Grosse Pointers and Americans in general. "This is our first extensive stay in America, and perhaps a year ago, I might have believed the old European myth that Americans are only superficially friendly," Lacey said. "However, in our time here we've found it isn't true. The friendships we've made have deepened."

"When I happen to mention to a new friend that our oldest son Sasha, now 18, had recently been accepted at Cornell University and would major in hotel and restaurant management, he arranged to have him work last summer as a waiter and barboy at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. All totally unasked for.

"Sandi and I are also most impressed with how well read and articulate Americans are, much more so than the British," he said. "When I do a radio talk show, or speak to groups like I did recently with Grosse Pointe's English-Speaking Union, we're always impressed with the quality of the questions. Americans are much more specific and will bring up complicated questions of royal history, or how policies in Saudi Arabia would affect world economics. In England, they always want gossip, like who Prince Andrew's fooling around with now. Americans really are too hard on themselves. They should give themselves more credit."

Writing for a living was the furthest thing from Lacey's mind while he was a student at Cambridge. After falling in love with a South African girl, Lacey entered a writing contest sponsored by the London Sunday Times in order to win air fare to South Africa. He won, the love affair fell through, but the Times liked his work and offered him employment on a freelance basis.

"While at Cambridge, I fully intended to enter the intelligence section of the Home Office, the equivalent of your state department. To this day my mother still thinks I'm a spy hopping around the globe," Lacey said.

"I've always been interested in royalty — the families that succeed over a number of generations. In many ways the Fords are like that. In the beginning there were many families in the auto business, many brother combinations like the Dodges, Studebakers and the Olds family. They're all gone, but the Fords are in their fourth generation."

"And the book won't just be about Henry Ford II, but the entire family. You could get four books out of the four main Ford members, especially Edsel, Henry's father. He's the unknown one, the one who brought the family from Dearborn to Grosse Pointe.

"As for the younger Fords, like Edsel II and William Clay Jr., it's a wonder why they work at all. They could easily live in luxury off their stock options, but they don't. Perhaps going into the family business is the way the Fords prove themselves to the world and to the rest of the family."

Lacey estimates he'll spend about 18 months compiling material gathered from interviews, anecdotes, historical records at the Henry Ford Museum and from first-hand experience.

"I'm going to be working on the line," he said. "It'll only be for a short while, but it should be very interesting. I understand I'll be making Lincoln Town cars, which I think is only appropriate for a Grosse Pointer. I'd also like to pull some duty on a Ford ore carrier if possible."

"Working the line should be fascinating since one has heard so many horror stories about it, although I understand it's better than it was. When you think of it, much of today's work originates from Henry Ford I's assembly line — even people sitting in front of computers pushing buttons all day long."

A typical workday finds Lacey up at 6 a.m. organizing notes and doing some quiet reading. After the family has breakfast, he dictates to his secretary and writes letters. In the afternoon, it's off to interviews or digging through dusty archives.

"Writing about the Fords will be an enormous task," Lacey said. "They're like the royal family in that the more you hear about them, the less you should believe. Stories about Henry Ford I and II seem to be embellished with time. My first draft will take about a year, and re-writing, editing and cutting will take another six months. You can never cut your work too much if you want to be a good writer."

"I just hope working the line won't tire me too much."

Alger Shelden Sr. dead at 88

The flag in the trial gardens of the War Memorial flew at half staff last week for Alger Shelden Sr., considered to be the father of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

According to Mark Weber, director of the War Memorial, Mr. Shelden was instrumental in the creation of the Center in 1949 and served as its founding president.

"He was a gentleman and staunch supporter of the War Memorial," Weber said. "He was an emeritus board member up until his death and his wife Frances is also an honorary member of the Board. We use a quote by Mr. Shelden on one of our brochures. He said: The War Memorial should be for the enrichment of community life and promotion of the human well being. A place of permanence, beauty, dignity and usefulness."

Mr. Shelden, of the Farms, died April 23 at home. Services, handled by the William R. Hamilton Co., took place in his home on Thursday, April 25. He was 88.

Mr. Shelden was self-employed as an investment banker and also as a private investor. Born in Michigan, he attended Yale University and was a member of the Grosse Pointe Club, Detroit Club, Bayview Yacht Club, Country Club of Detroit, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts and the U.S. Power Squadron.

During World War II, he served as a lieutenant junior grade in the Navy. An avid sailor, he participated in many of the Mackinac traces. He was also a member of the Detroit Zoological Society.

Mr. Shelden is survived by his wife, Frances (Duffield) Shelden; two sons, Francis D. and Alger Jr.; and two grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial or the charity of the donor's choice.

Interment was at Elmwood Cemetery.

In tribute to Alger Shelden Sr., who died last week, the flag in the trial gardens of the War Memorial was lowered to half staff.

Marine Division prepares for boating season

By Pat Paholsky

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano was in Grosse Pointe last week to talk about the Marina Advisory Task Force which will gear up again now that the boating season is almost here.

The sheriff's Marine Division was reinstated last April after a two-year absence due to budget cuts. Since the division patrols 142 miles of county waterways from the Grosse Pointes to Lake Erie, as well as the Detroit River and Belleville Lake, and since there are only four boats and seven officers, the need for local participation is crucial. Also Wayne County has the largest boat registration of any county in the United States, numbering more than 80,000 boats.

City and law enforcement officials, private citizens and legislators participate in the task force to unify the efforts of the Marine Division. Through the exchange of information, officials develop a relationship with each other, thereby becoming more efficient in the prevention of criminal activity, Ficano said. It's a relatively new concept, he said, and it has proved effective.

The Marina Watch Program, which grew out of the Hines Park Task Force discussions, is a Neighborhood Watch on water, Ficano said.

"We want to raise the awareness of boaters to see who's around them. We also can engrave a license number on the equipment and we have stickers that show participation in the program," he said.

Marina watch signs are posted on properties of boat clubs and marinas. The program was designed to stop the large number of boat thefts in the county, which includes stealing everything from equipment to the boat itself.

Ficano said that insurance companies have recognized the effectiveness of the watch program and have begun giving discounts to participants.

"Most criminals will take the path of least resistance," he said.

Another problem, concerning boaters themselves, is the drinking that goes on, Ficano said.

"Some of these boats are nothing but floating bars," he said.

Driving drunk on the waterways carries the same penalty as driving drunk on land, Ficano said. A boater who is convicted of drunk driving, first offense, can get 90 days in jail, and the second time, up to a year. And during probation, the boater cannot take over the wheel while on the water.

The only distinction, Ficano said, is that a driver on land cannot have open intoxicants in the vehicle, while it's permitted on a boat.

The task force will meet June 9. Two-thirds of the Marine Division budget is funded through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources with the other one-third coming from the county.

Barbara Bush honored at tea

Barbara Bush, wife of Vice President George Bush, will be the guest of honor at a tea to benefit the Michigan Republican Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Simon, 211 Vendome Road, on Tuesday, May 7, at 10 a.m.

Tickets are $100 per person with all proceeds being donated to the Michigan Republican Party. For more information, call Anne Govan at 963-9414.

It's budget season

Ever wonder where the money goes?

You can find out by attending study sessions of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education next week held to discuss the fiscal 1985-86 budget.

Meetings, open to the public, will be held Tuesday, May 14, at 7 p.m.; Wednesday, May 15, at 5 p.m.; and Thursday, May 16, at 7 p.m. if necessary. The meetings will be held in the administration building, 389 St. Clair.

Board members will review the proposed budget for the coming school year and make adjustments where they are deemed necessary.

Meet Whritner at Ford House

The Board of Education will host a reception Sunday, May 19, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House from 1 to 4 p.m. to welcome Superintendent John Whritner and his wife Katherine to the community.

Light refreshments will be served during the afternoon and the house and grounds will be open for viewing. Shuttle service will also be provided between the parking lot and the house.

Because of the security policies in force at the Ford House, those attending will have to show appropriate proof of residency.

The district includes a portion of Harper Woods, bounded by Kenmore, Harper and Old Eight Mile Road, a triangle of land formed by Vernier, Old Eight Mile and Beaconsfield, and the five Grosse Pointes.

Any resident of the school district is welcome to attend. No reservations are required.

Tree Commission members appointed

Donna Weinle as chairperson, Wanda Frank, Ellwyn Gilbert, Johanna Gilbert, Sue Levitan, Hudson Mead, Dick Nix and Ann Rushfeldt.

Commission members are appointed for one year.

Save Belle Isle

The Friends of Belle Isle say they have received letters and phone calls from people concerned over the proposal to introduce casino gambling on the island.

The group is asking those who love the island to participate in the annual clean up Saturday, May 4.

Registration and assignments will be made at the Belle Isle casino from 8 to 10 a.m.

Restaurant robbed

J.C. Carly's, a Mack Avenue restaurant, was robbed and $6,500 was taken on April 21, according to Grosse Pointe Farms police.

Police arriving on the scene found the back door and the office safe open. They said there appeared to be no signs of forced entry and the burglar alarm was turned off.

They estimate the theft, which included bottles of liquor, occurred between 1:30 a.m. and 8:06 a.m.

League of Women Voters

Ride the historical rails Sunday

If a train ride into history sounds like an experience your family would enjoy, your opportunity is this weekend. The Depot Town Association of Washtenaw County is sponsoring this Road RR Society and the Bluewater Michigan Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society. Essential participant is the Grand Trunk & Western Railroad.

But as impressive as the sponsors sound, it's the event itself that's a real whistle-stopper. This one-day round trip spectacular will run Sunday, May 5, only. It starts at the Lang Yard of the Detroit, Toledo & Shoreline RR in Toledo and runs to Durand, Mich., (near Flint) where passengers can spend the day at the 10th annual Railroad Days Festival.

Powered by GT&W's diesel electric locomotives, the special train will travel former DT&S trackage through Wyandotte, Detroit's famed Milwaukee junction and the busy Holly subdivision.

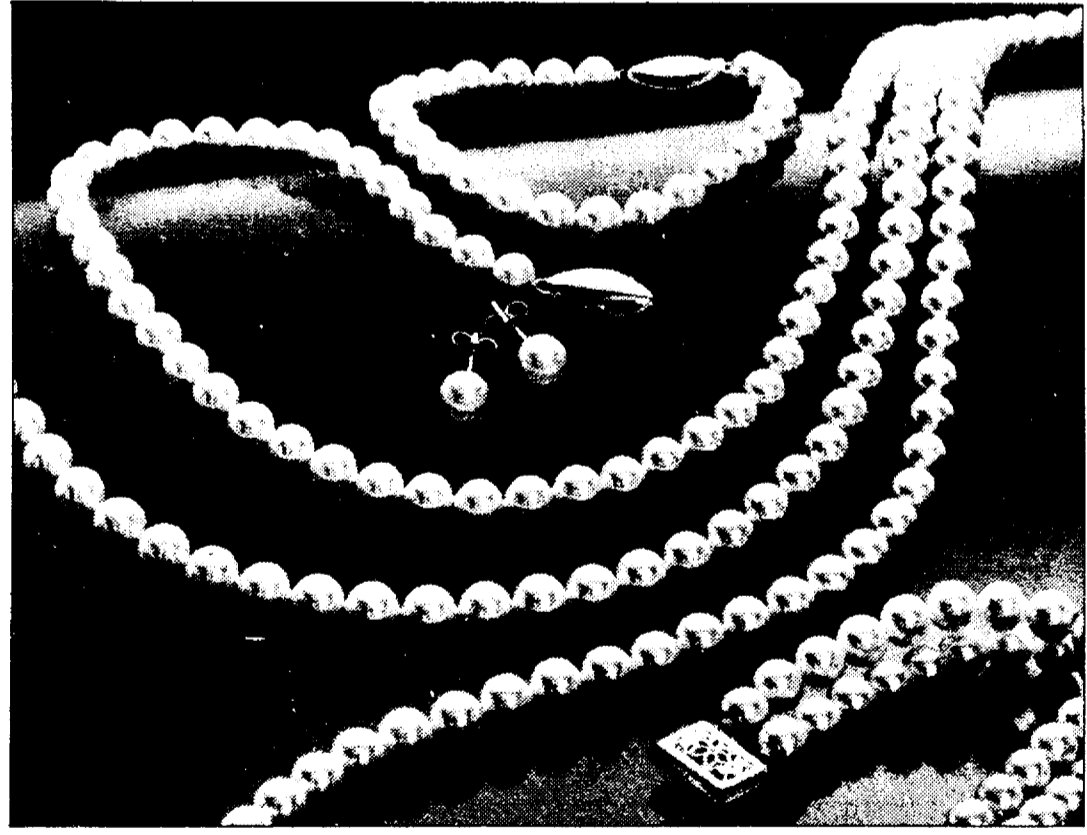

It is at Wyandotte that the Depot Town Association has made it possible for people in this area to board the train for the historic ride and four-hour visit to the festival in Durand. Passengers will ride in the DTA's private old-time coach with access to two dining cars and two snack-souvenir cars. Smoking is limited to lounges and vestibules.

At the festival, travelers will enjoy old-fashioned small-town hospitality commemorating Durand's 100-plus years of prominence as Michigan's busiest rail center. Events include a Lions Club Carnival, GT&W's 4-6-2 Pacific type steam locomotive Number 45632 open for display in Iron Horse park, the Durand RR History Museum and tours of the City of Durand's famous Grand Trunk Union Depot, now a national historic landmark. There also will be an operating model railroad, a flea market, craft sales and an antique show.

Pointers with a yen to ride the rails again and relive the days of the iron horse have the opportunity to do so through Alex and Maribel Sucek who belong to the DTA. A call to them at 885-0793 is all it takes to make a reservation in the DTA's coach and get the rest of the details of the trip. Bookings for the excursion on a first-come basis are $45 per adult, $35 per child.

Dr. Cooper, Nyboer honored

Jan Nyboer, M.D., and James B. Cooper, M.D., both Grosse Pointe residents, were among 69 physicians who graduated from medical school 50 years ago. They were honored recently by the Michigan State Medical Society for assuming key roles in a medical generation distinguished for its unprecedented achievements in advancing and promoting human health.

Seder to receive honorary degree

Detroit civic leader Arthur R. Seder will receive an honorary degree from Wayne State University President David Adamany during the school's commencement ceremonies tonight at Cobo Hall. Seder, chairman and chief executive officer of American Natural Resources, has been an active leader in New Detroit, the Detroit Torch Drive and other civic endeavors. He was named most outstanding chief executive of the year by Financial World Magazine in 1982 and 1984. He was the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award of the American Gas Assoc. in 1981 and the Founder's Award of the Energy Technology Conference in 1980. The Pointe resident will receive a Doctor of Humane Letters degree.

Yates named vp-finance

David C. Yates was named to the newly created position of vice president-finance at Highland Superstores Inc. in Taylor. The Farms resident was director of finance and director of planning for the Materials Group of The Avery International Corp. He has an M.B.A. from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He is a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Wilson, Solak promoted

Prosecuting Attorney John D. O'Hair announced that Reilly Wilson was promoted to chief of the Criminal Division and Andrea Solak to principal attorney in the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office. A Farms resident, Wilson will be responsible for civil, appellate and juvenile court litigation, the Organized Crime Task Force and Special Services. He had previously been employed as a research supervisor for the Michigan Court of Appeals, a special assistant attorney general and as an assistant prosecuting attorney in the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Mrs. Solak, a lifelong resident of the Park, will assume administrative responsibilities, maintain an appellate practice and coordinate and conduct the legislative activities of the prosecuting attorney. She attended Trombley Elementary, Pierce Junior High and South High. After graduating from Wayne State University Law School, she joined the prosecutor's office as an assistant prosecuting attorney in the Appellate Division.

Sasnowsky honored

Dr. William P. Sosnowsky, of the City, was honored by the Wayne State University Alumni Association with a Distinguished Educator Award in the College of Education. Sosnowsky, professor of Administrative and Organizational Studies in the College of Education, has been a member of the faculty since 1969. He earned bachelor's, master's and doctor of education degrees from Wayne State. He had been a chief psychologist for the Grosse Pointe School System for seven years before joining WSU. Past posts include special assistant to the Detroit Desegregation Case Monitoring Commission, member of the state Special Advisory Commission Board and certified hearing officer for Special Education in Michigan.

Hages named ad manager

Roger B. Hages

Robert G. Edgar, publisher of the Grosse Pointe News, has named Roger B. Hages as advertising manager. He succeeds Phyllis Neal.

Hages, 32, has worked in the company's advertising department since January 1981. He had previously been the advertising director for the Main Sheet, the publication of the Detroit Yacht Club, and has been involved with newspaper advertising since 1976.

He earned a bachelor of arts degree in advertising at Michigan State University. Prior to that, he attended Delta College, University Center, Mich., and All Saints High School in Bay City. Hages was active in all sports throughout high school and college.

Academic Review and Computer Adventure University Liggett Summer Session

Children from 9-12

The Summer Session at University Liggett School offers unusual opportunities to young students. Classes in Reading and Writing and in Mathematics are presented in a semi-tutorial format. No class will enroll more than six students. Each class is accompanied by an hour's study session. Regular homework is assigned and checked daily. Diagnostic testing at the start of the six week session and evaluative testing at the end provides a measure of each student's progress. Excellent teachers promote good habits of study and the acquisition of skills that will last a lifetime.

The Computer Center offers young students a chance to explore a wide range of computer activities, at their own pace. Working with an Apple IIe and Macintosh computers, students may explore computer graphics, playwriting, word processing, and programming. Each student will have his or her own computer throughout the course.

For further information on the ULS Summer Session for younger students, contact Pedro Arango at 884-4444.

Layoffs in perspective

The continuing decline in enrollment in the Grosse Pointe Public School System, which prompted the closing of Barnes Elementary School a year ago, is taking a heavy toll of the teaching staff this year. But the cutback in the teaching personnel ought to be viewed in perspective, because it has good points as well as disadvantages.

The layoffs are spread through the system even though the expected decline of 172 students next fall will affect chiefly in the middle and high schools. The earlier decline in the elementary school enrollment appears to be leveling off, but some of the middle school teachers qualified to teach in the elementary schools were able to avoid layoffs by "bumping" lower-seniority elementary teachers.

So of the 15 full-time teachers to be laid off, seven are from the high schools, six from the elementary schools and two from special education courses. Of the eight part-timers being given layoffs, six are high school teachers, one a kindergarten instructor and one a developmental kindergarten teacher. In addition, assignments were reduced for 11 other teachers.

The continuing enrollment decline wasn't the only villain causing the layoffs. A low advance enrollment in seven classes to be offered next fall helps explain the large number of layoffs. Some of the decline came in computer courses which seem to be losing the popularity that followed their introduction into the system. Some also came in the practical arts department in which course enrollment is declining here as well as nationally.

However, the layoffs to some extent work against the district's program of a year ago which was intended to lower the average age of teachers by making early retirement more attractive. The current layoffs cost the district the services of many young instructors. So the mix of young-older teachers once again is being tilted toward older teachers.

That tilt, of course, has advantages as well as disadvantages. Older people obviously are more experienced, better informed about their course material and generally know the ropes better than their younger colleagues. Yet they may not be as effective as younger teachers in establishing good relationships with their students. Hence the desire for a good mix of younger-older teachers.

While the layoffs were not dictated by economics, according to Deputy Superintendent Joseph Spagnoli, the action will be regarded as good news by Pointers concerned about the continuing rise in school costs in the face of the continuing enrollment decline.

Whether they occur in public or private employment, layoffs never are very popular, even when they reduce costs. In the schools, they not only damage teaching careers but also affect students who have to get accustomed to new teachers. But layoffs also are a fact of life that reflect hard but necessary management decisions required to control costs without damaging the quality of education offered in the Grosse Pointe public schools.

A political chain reaction

Now that Wayne County Executive William Lucas is set to switch from the Democratic to the Republican Party next week as a prelude to running for governor, other political leaders are revising their own plans for the future.

Of most immediate interest to the Pointes is the comment by Rep. William Bryant Jr. that he will not seek the Republican nomination for governor if Lucas goes ahead with his expected campaign for that post as a Republican. Bryant told the Grosse Pointe News that Lucas has a visibility and name identification that he does not possess on a statewide basis and that it would not make sense for "two moderates from Wayne County" to seek the GOP nomination.

Bryant earlier had told the Grosse Pointe News that he "probably" would seek another term in the House if he decided against running for governor. He is now in his eighth term, is the former House GOP leader and is regarded as one of his party's top tax experts. When Bryant's possible candidacy surfaced earlier this year, the News said the Pointes would feel his loss from the Legislature, but if he could wage a successful campaign for governor, Grosse Pointe's loss would be Michigan's gain.

In neighboring Oakland County, Daniel T. Murphy, who serves as county executive, is stepping up his pre-campaign appearances to measure his chances of winning the GOP nomination for governor now that Lucas seems destined to make a bid for the job. At a luncheon last week, he said he "probably" will be in the race by fall if he finds sufficient support. But he is widely regarded as a one-county candidate, despite his popularity in Oakland County.

Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, former state Supreme Court Justice Thomas Brennan and 9th District Congressman Guy Vander Jagt are others who are still considering the race for governor on the GOP ticket. With Lucas getting off to a head start and winning the support of a number of GOP leaders, other potential candidates could be frozen out of the broad support that is needed for any Republican to make a strong showing in the party primary next year.

Another job will be open when Lucas announces for governor. It is his present post as county executive, and when Lucas seeks higher office, there will be plenty of potential candidates to succeed him. County Commissioner John Hertel, now chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, was mentioned for the past four years ago before Lucas got into the race and his name has surfaced again this year.

Hertel told the Grosse Pointe News that he thinks it is "too early even to think about" what he might do in the event Lucas runs for governor. He said his job as chairman of the county commission is keeping him very busy, he's enjoying the work very much and the commission now has a "positive image" which he hopes it can build on. So he doesn't want to indulge in any speculation that might be harmful to the commission's efforts to deal with the crucial issues still ahead. At this stage, we're willing to take Hertel at his word.

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano, who succeeded Lucas in that job, has also been mentioned as a possible candidate for county executive, but in a visit to the News office last week said it is too early to say what he would do. His point is that it is all speculative at this time, because Lucas has not yet announced his plans. Ficano told the News his commitment right now is to running the sheriff's department, he enjoys that job but he'll "look at the options" when the time for decision is closer at hand. But he's obviously keeping his options open.

If either Hertel or Ficano seeks the county executive's job — or both run for it — one or two more county jobs would be open. Four years ago Barbara Gattorn of the Pointes made a strong race as the GOP nominee for county commissioner, but since then she has been serving on the Wayne County Civil Service Commission. If she should decide to make another try for elective office, she certainly would be a strong candidate for commissioner, especially in view of her experience in pushing county reorganization, serving on the charter commission and acting as a merit board member.

As Sheriff Ficano said, it is early to speculate about 1986 contests, but such speculation is natural now that Bill Lucas has decided to cast his lot with the Republican Party and seek the governorship. So it is not too early to start consideration of possible candidates for the positions to be left open if the political chain reaction occurs as we've envisioned.

Tax compromises in offing?

If politics is the art of compromise, Gov. James Blanchard and the divided Legislature will have plenty of opportunity to demonstrate their respective political skills in the weeks ahead.

The governor last week offered his own package of tax revisions featuring a rollback of the state income tax to 4.6 percent on July 1, 1986, plus $200 million in property tax relief and several revenue-producing proposals that would increase taxes on in-state insurance companies, banks and other financial institutions.

The governor's move was seen as his effort to regain the initiative on the tax issue after the Senate passed a rollback of the income tax to 4.6 percent effective next Jan. 1, or six months earlier than the date set by the governor. But now the tax program is being considered by the House Taxation Committee which, like the House itself, is controlled by the Democratic majority but still may not go along with all of Blanchard's program.

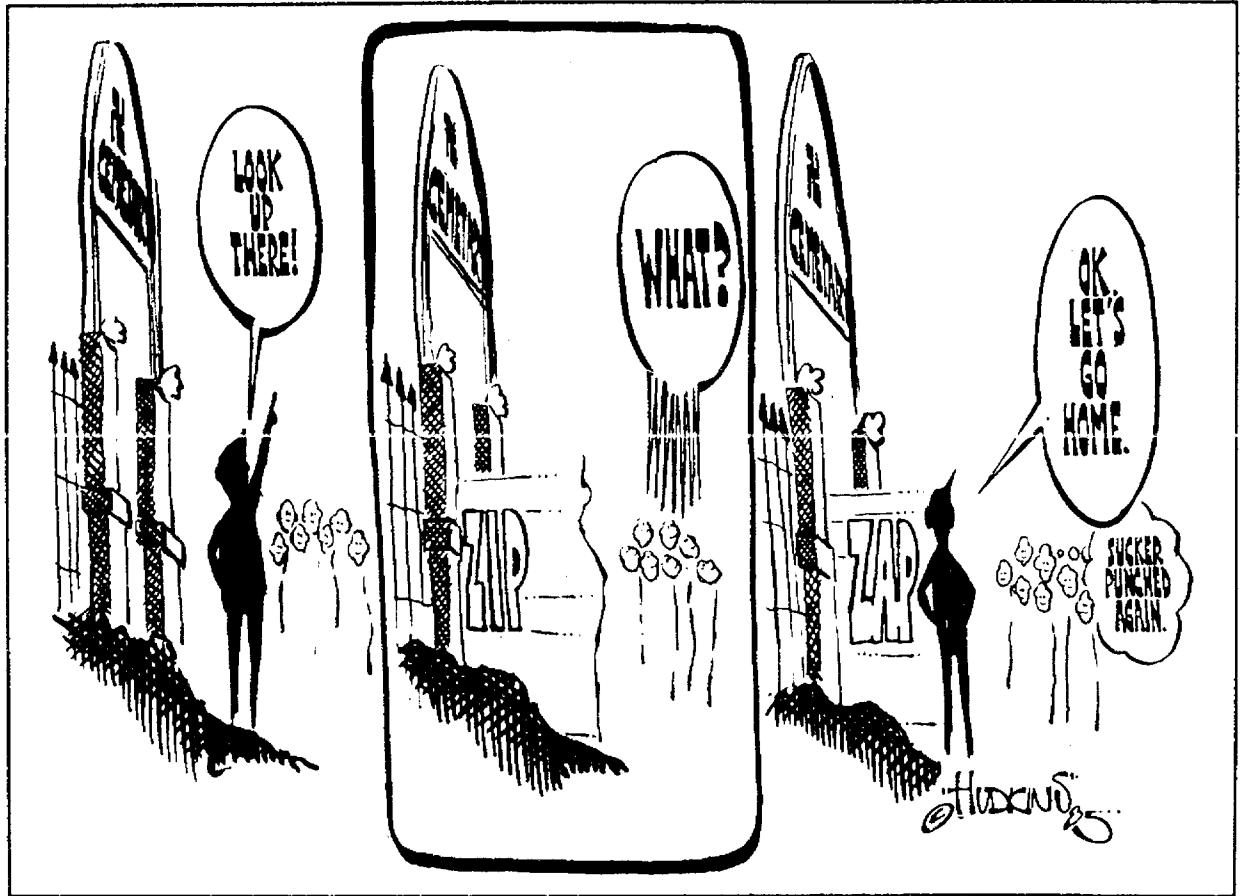

In fact, the compromises that will be necessary to reach agreement between the Democratic governor and the Legislature — and especially between the governor and the Republicans who control the Senate and have strong representation in the House — could start to appear in the House Taxation Committee.

Rep. William Bryant Jr., the Grosse Pointe Republican who serves on the tax committee, says he is "hopeful that the governor will negotiate out this major policy question" with the Republican as well as the Democratic leadership of both houses.

Some observers think the governor holds the best cards in the political poker match over the tax issue, but the GOP does have an ace in the hole: the Republican Senate's approval of an income tax rollback that would become effective six months ahead of Blanchard's proposal. If agreement could not be reached on the rollback date, the Republicans could and no doubt would contend that they showed initiative on the cut in income taxes but were halted in their efforts by stubborn Democrats.

On a realistic basis, however, even some Republicans agree that the economic outlook is so uncertain that some compromise will have to be made about the Jan. 1 date unless new revenues are produced along the line of Blanchard's proposals. One of Blanchard's proposals already represents a compromise with the Republicans, because the idea for amnesty for delinquent taxpayers came from Republican Bryant's fertile brain, as the Democrats acknowledge.

License will enhance quality of Center's service to community

To the Editor:

It is ironic that a referendum should even be suggested as a way of resolving the question of approving a liquor license for the War Memorial. Two very real votes in favor have already been recorded. A referendum would be a waste of taxpayers' money and time. There is plenty of evidence that it would be overwhelmingly in favor of granting the license.

As already reported, Pointers using the Center last year served alcoholic beverages at 233 events. More significantly, the groups using the Center brought their own on 228 of those occasions. Most would prefer the convenience of having the War Memorial's catering department perform that service and have frequently said so.

The second "vote" is even more telling. Surely members of the city council are aware that cards bearing more than 2,000 signatures of Farms residents have been received at the Farms municipal office. They are an expression of the signers' approval of the War Memorial's application. That must be about half the voters in the Farms, more than turn out for many elections. These cards were distributed by the War Memorial and mailed in voluntarily by the people who signed them.

The opposition has made a lot of noise but not shown anywhere near this plurality. In fact, when the War Memorial held its public meeting to allow residents to come and voice their concerns about the license, barely 20 showed up and most of those did not speak up.

The spokesman of this group interprets the claim of a need for War Memorial control of alcohol served there as admission of a "management problem." This, however, is only another example of his misinterpretation of the facts and issues. If he spent any time at the Center at all, he would be astonished at the remarkable management of the very full schedule of events that takes place there. Moreover, I cannot recall a single instance of a mishap related to drinking at the Center even though, as we all know, alcohol was served at 233 events there last year, and probably for many previous years as well.

In actual fact, the character of activities and events at the Center, and the way they are managed by the excellent staff, suggests that a liquor license there would not and could not give rise to the kind of over-consumption and mishap that result from drinking in other circumstances and other kinds of places.

"Control" for the War Memorial means the ability to serve beverages in a gracious and appropriate manner and to do it with minimum inconvenience to the residents using the Center. They are not brown-baggers by choice and they would prefer to avoid the awkwardness of having to bring their own.

Most offensive to me as a 27-year participant in programming and a current member of the War Memorial board is the insinuation that the board would allow the Center to be turned into a "roadhouse." I give my time to the Center because it is one of the most civilizing and uplifting forces in our community. The classes, speakers, concerts and other presentations that the Center's management finds and brings to the community plus the smooth efficiency with which it makes that beautiful building available for the use of civic and cultural groups enhances our community, its quality of life and property values immeasurably. Members of our community accept nomination to the board to help preserve and enhance these values. The use of alcoholic beverages is an accepted part of our social rituals and has a place in many events at the Center. The people in our community have shown that they expect it. I know the other members of the board share my conviction that being able to serve these beverages legally in a controlled, professional manner will enhance the quality of the War Memorial's service to the community without ever becoming a dominant factor in the operation.

Keep center the way it is

To the Editor:

What will be the end result of a liquor license at the War Memorial? No liquor removed into the parking lot from the premises, but far more liquor carried into the premises. More alcohol served at more War Memorial functions. More drinking by more people at more times.

The fact that the War Memorial does not have a liquor license means that the War Memorial can only serve alcohol at five of its own functions per year. Other groups have to go through a procedure to serve alcohol, so many times they don't bother and serve coffee or tea instead. Now there will be wine and cheese at all those evening lectures. Wine before all those luncheon meetings. Cocktails with all those theater dinners. The War Memorial Board and director can list many more times when alcohol will be served. New functions or groups aren't needed. It will be served at the existing events.

No group in Grosse Pointe has taken a stand against a liquor license at the War Memorial. Why not? Are they afraid they will lose all adult support in the community? They might. It is just barely O.K. with only some adults to oppose drinking by minors, but definitely not O.K. to oppose drinking by adults. Have any of you suggested to an individual adult that he drink less? How did you like his hostile reaction? Have any of you suggested to an adult group that they are emphasizing alcohol too much? How long before you were shot down? The only socially acceptable reason for not drinking as an adult is to be alcoholic. That's O.K. At least you used to drink.

Try saying, "I can't drink because I'm diabetic."

"Really? How come? I know lots of diabetics who drink."

Adult non-drinkers are constantly required to explain and justify the reason why they don't drink. Drinkers are not required to explain or justify why they do drink. I am not signing my name. At the age of 50 I'm still urged, almost forced, to drink every time alcohol is available. It is always a pleasure to go somewhere where alcohol is not available. Let's keep the War Memorial the way it is. At least part of the time it is an alcohol-free place for both minors and adults that illustrates to the community that it is possible to have a good time without alcohol.

Open letter to President Reagan

Editor's note: The following letter, written by a junior at North High, was sent to us for publication.

Dear Mr. President:
I would like to commend you on the wonderful job that you are doing as president of the United States.

First of all, I must congratulate you on your record budget deficit of over $200 billion. Our nation has never before been so much in debt in all of its history! It is all thanks to you. You should be proud of this great achievement. It doesn't matter that you promised the American public a balanced budget by 1984. A soundly-operating government isn't really necessary to have a stable economy anyway.

I would also like to congratulate you on record-level defense spending. Never mind jobs, student loans, aid to cities and states, benefits for the elderly and for the unemployed, and other peacetime matters; what this country needs are more weapons and war! Planes, tanks and ships are what make America great, not its people! The United States needs abundant nuclear weapons, such as the MX missile, too. Everyone knows that the more instruments of destruction and war that one has, the greater are one's chances for peace. We need a strong defense so that, if the case arises, we can beat the Soviets to a first strike, and obliterate communism and civilization both in one fell swoop.

I am also glad, Mr. President, that you have tried to introduce prayer into the schools. Who needs churches, when one can pray in the schools? Where can we worship, if not in our government-run public education system? The Founding Fathers just didn't know what they were doing when they were framing the Constitution. Let's put church and state back together again where they belong!

It is good that we are supporting the Contras in Nicaragua against the oppressive, Communist Sandinista government. We don't have to worry about the Chinese Communist government or about the other one billion Chinese Communists. They are our friends. They are good Communists. But the Nicaraguan Communist government is evil. It won't allow the four million Nicaraguans (who are, at the present time, also Communists) to have the democracy that they, like everyone else who has ever lived upon this planet, desire with the fullness of their hearts. We would be a weak and despicable country indeed if we permitted communism to thrive in our own backyard, in a greatly impoverished country with the approximate size and population of Iowa, and did not aid those valiant rebels who rape, torture, kidnap and murder in the name of freedom! I am sure that all the world is in agreement with the United States that communism is a disease, and must be kept from spreading into such otherwise-saintly areas as the democratically minded country of Nicaragua.

In addition to the preceding outstanding achievements, Mr. President I would like to mention some further noteworthy aspects of your administration. The United States has now lost $37 billion that we desperately need in our trade deficit to Japan. We sent over 220 U.S. Marines to their deaths in Lebanon without having caused any change for the better whatsoever in that country. You personally, Mr. President, had the willpower and the audacity, as well as the great presence of mind, to tell the International Court at The Hague that Nicaragua was our business, and not theirs. And finally, you were able to effect a complete reversal of opinion without attracting the notice of the American public, and are now suggesting talks with the same Soviet Union that just four years ago you called an "evil empire" of "criminals."

I let this administration stand on its record.

I say

My oldest daughter celebrated a birthday last Sunday. One of her presents was a book of jokes designed to absolutely split the ribs of a seven year old.

The book has become her favorite toy of late, but the constant jokes are beginning to turn my gray hair white.
A sample: "Daddy, what has teeth but doesn't eat? Give up, huh, give up? A comb! Get it daddy, get it!"

I got it, Laurel.
My youngest daughter Katie, who's rapidly approaching her third birthday, laughs right along with us although she doesn't know what's so funny. I'm very pleased the girls seem so totally devoted to one another, although they can be a formidable force to reckon with as bedtime approaches.

Another sample: The other evening I prepared them a nice dinner of homemade chicken noodle soup and grilled (broiled, as Katie says) cheese sandwiches before I went out for a run.

Returning 20 minutes later, I watched with parental awe as Laurel finished her dinner and wiped her mouth with the back of her hand. Then she wiped her hand with her napkin. There's a seven-year-old logic there I'm not prepared to deal with.

There was good news/bad news with Katie. She ate her sandwich and most of her soup, leaving only a little broth, but took off her shoes and socks while at the table. The shoes sat next to her bowl and the socks were on the floor. I counted dinner as a partial victory and did the dishes.

The dishes were a mistake. With my arms elbow deep in soapsuds, I couldn't escape a barrage of jokes.
"Daddy, why did the chicken cross the playground? To get to the other slide! Get it?" Just who in the heck gave her that book instead of a nice quiet Prince anyway?

During the evening Katie continued her war on the carpenter ants that have invaded our house now that it's warm. She's an absolute Caligula when it comes to Take my daughter . . . please!

ants. She's sent more of them to ant heaven that the anteater in "B.C."

Then I got a bright idea on how to get rid of a few ants and keep her busy. I gave her a paper bag, a plastic spoon and told her to catch the ants on the spoon, put them in the bag and then we'd turn them loose outside. She loved it!

She'd put the spoon in front of the ant, he'd walk around it and she'd move over and try again. Believe it or not, she did get a few and we liberated them with great fanfare. It kept her busy for quite a while.

Later in the evening it was quiet in the den, so I peeked in to see Katie gluing her blocks together with peanut butter she'd snuck from the kitchen. Laurel, sunk deep in her joke book, hadn't noticed.

Later still, after trying everything short of using a tranquilizer gun, I got the girls tucked into bed.

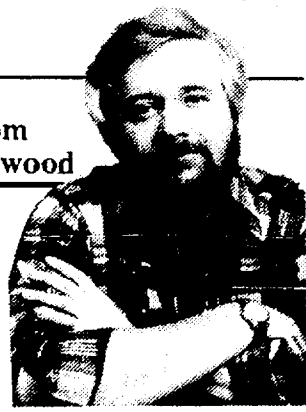

Going into the bathroom for their mandatory drink of water, I discovered one of our emergency flashlights standing next to the sink.

It sloshed when I picked it up. Katie proudly told me she'd removed the batteries and filled it with water. Liquid the color of rusty Coca-Cola poured forth and down the drain.

Downstairs I started to pick up the house before Rose got home from work. In the kitchen I retrieved Katie's socks from beneath the kitchen table.

They were full of noodles.
"Hey Laurel, what has teeth but doesn't eat? Your sister Katie, that's who."
Get it?

Build-up of arms is insane

To the Editor:
I am a 17-year-old high school student at Grosse Pointe North writing to you with a great concern about the Reagan Administration's constantly escalating military arsenal. The possibility of nuclear arms creating international disaster in my lifetime or even my children's lifetime scares me.

The build-up of nuclear arms by both the United States and the Soviet Union to the point of overkill is insane! Now President Reagan is moving ahead with a build-up of nuclear weapons in space! If we have all these weapons, obviously someday, someone plans to use them.

This all worries me, it infuriates me! I, as an individual, would like to know what kind of action I can take to prevent the use of these arms. I have been taught a little about how much this is costing all of us taxpayers. We are spending literally trillions of dollars for what? To kill better? To die more? I personally do not understand.

Community Events

Salute to Broadway

Nicki Crim and the Hon. Thomas Maher, Wayne County probate judge, have a mutual interest that they will be sharing with the community Wednesday, May 8, at the War Memorial.

They will perform in "A Musical Salute to Broadway," a benefit for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Family Participation Campaign.

Light refreshments will be served following the program which begins at 8 p.m. in the Fries Ballroom. Admission is by a $5 tax-deductible donation.

Opera course

Opera singer Dina Soresi-Winter will offer a two-night course for people who want a deeper and richer understanding of opera. "A Glimpse into the World of Opera" will be held at the War Memorial on Tuesday and Thursday, May 7 and 9, from 8 to 10 p.m.

Special emphasis will be on the operas that will be performed at the Met this month. "Rigoletto" is the powerful drama of a court jester and his beautiful daughter; a tale of paternal love and revenge, with a cruel destiny twist at the end. "La Boheme" is a Bohemian story of love and tragedy, coupled with comic relief, set in Paris' Latin Quarter.

Excerpts of each opera will be played to illustrate the essential aspects of their story lines. The goal of the lectures is to give participants a fuller appreciation of the art.

Ms. Soresi-Winter has sung leading operatic roles with some of the major opera houses in Europe. Her main roles were in Italian operas, especially those of Verdi and Puccini.

Admission to the lectures is $6.50 for one, or $12 for both. Reservation information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Annual meeting

The Grosse Pointe Historical Society annual dinner meeting will be held Tuesday, May 14, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. It is open to the public.

Harp and dulcimer music will be played throughout the evening by Cecelia Webster, and Paul Alandt, director, will speak about the house and its history.

Reception is 6:30 p.m. and dinner is at 7:30 p.m. Cost is $20. Reservations required by May 9. Mail check to Bill Lafer, GPHS, Room 105, 1275 Cook Road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich. 48236. Tickets will be held at the door.

Nicki Crim and the Hon. Thomas Maher

Blood drive

There will be a Red Cross blood drive at Our Lady Star of the Sea High School, 576 Ballantyne Road, in the Woods, Monday, May 6, from 2 to 8 p.m.

For an appointment, call Mary Kaye Ferry at 884-5273.

Dance class

Students in grades 8, 9 and 10 can get ready for special dances and upcoming weddings in a three-lesson dance class at the War Memorial. The $10 course will meet on Mondays, May 6, 13 and 20, from 6 to 7 p.m. under the direction of veteran dance instructors Ted and Lillian Forrest.

Rock, disco, the waltz and fox trot will be emphasized, along with learning to feel confident and at ease dancing with a partner.

Robert's Rules

Anyone who has been, or hopes to be, elected to a board position, or who has volunteered to help write or revise an organization's bylaws, can get guidance from Mrs. John Griffin when she offers a course in Parliamentary Procedure at the War Memorial.

The six-week course, which begins Wednesday, May 8, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., will review the basic principles of parliamentary procedure according to Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised. Other topics will include how a motion is brought before the assembly, correct procedure during nominations and elections, and writing and amending bylaws.

For information, call 881-7511.

Spring concert

The St. Joan of Arc Chorale will present a spring concert at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 5, at the church, 21620 Mack Ave., in St. Clair Shores. Music by Handel, J.S. Bach and J.C. Bach will be featured.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Camera club

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet Tuesday, May 7, at 7:45 p.m. at the Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte.

Along with the monochrome print and pictorial slide competition, a mini-program by Lee Maschmeyer will be announced.

Investment class

A class scheduled for two Tuesdays, May 7 and 14, on real estate limited partnerships will be held at Assumption Cultural Center. The sessions will run from 7:30 to 9 p.m. George S. Freeman, financial consultant, will instruct.

The fee is $10. For information, call 779-6111.

Dancing for teens

Two dance classes beginning Saturday, May 4, will be held at Assumption Cultural Center. One, for ages 9 to 13, will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. and another class, for ages 14 to 18, will be held from 10 to 11 a.m.

The classes will run for four weeks and the cost for each is $16. Instructor will be Theresa George, dancer for The Detroit Express.

For information, call 779-6111.

Sexual harassment

Sexual harassment in the workplace and how to stop it will be the topic of a new film, "Would you let someone do this to your sister?," to be shown by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice.

The film is directed, produced and narrated by women from the U.A.W. and will be shown as part of the Center's monthly Third Thursday Series. The date set is Thursday, May 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, 211 Moross. Admission is $1. The public is invited to attend.

Highlights of the film will include women from a variety of occupations sharing their experiences and telling how they handled sexual harassment at their workplace.

A speaker from the U.A.W. Women's Department will answer questions. For more information, call 882-6464.

Rummage sale

Grosse Pointe Christian Day School will be the site of a rummage sale Thursday, May 9, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The school is located at 1444 Maryland in the Park.

The sale, sponsored by the Women's Circle, will offer items as jewelry, clothing, appliances and furniture.

Proceeds will benefit school programs.

Atlantic alliance

Walter S. Jones, provost of Wayne State University, author, lecturer and authority of European-United States affairs, will speak about "The Atlantic Alliance, U.S. and Europe" Monday, May 6, at 7:30 p.m. The talk will be held in the Walter P. Reuther Library, west side of Cass at Kirby.

A wine and cheese reception will follow. A $3 donation is requested, $2 for members of the Center for Peace and Conflict Studies and faculty. Students are free.

For reservations, call 577-3453 or 577-3468 weekdays.

GP Farms Boat Club

The Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club will meet Wednesday, May 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the recreation building in Pier Park.

Mal Sillars, Channel 4 weatherman, will speak on "General Weather Systems." There will be a second lecture the following Wednesday, May 15, on "Local Effects Specific to Lake St. Clair."

The public is invited to attend both sessions.

Cinema League

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Disney World and Epcot Center," a photographic adventure by G. William Buchanan, when it meets in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, at 8 p.m. Monday, May 6.

Suggestions will be made for the best time to plan a visit, how long to stay, and what highlights not to miss. Buchanan has been involved in photography for 25 years, and has been active in the Photographic Guild of Detroit and the Photographic Society of America.

The public is invited. A $1 admission fee will be charged for non-Cinema League members.

Law Day program

To celebrate Law Day 1985, the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association, through its Macomb County Chapter, will present a two-session program in conjunction with its Second Peoples Law School. The program, which is open to the general public, will encompass the phases of criminal proceedings, from arrest through trial.

The first session, Monday, May 6, will be presented by attorney James Thomas of Grosse Pointe Woods, who will address arrest, pre-trial hearings, rights of the accused and recent trends in criminal law. A question-and-answer period will follow his presentation.

The following week, Monday, May 13, a mock trial will be held. The trial will be presided over by the Hon. Frank F. Jeannette of the Macomb County Circuit Court; Carl Marlinga, Macomb County prosecutor, and attorney Thomas.

Both sessions will be presented at Fraser High School, 34270 Garfield Road, Fraser, from 7 to 9 p.m. This program will be presented free of charge, however space is limited and advance registration is required. Call Robert Garvey at 779-7815 to register.

Contract bridge

Frank Welcenbach will teach three classes of Contract Bridge at the War Memorial on Thursdays, starting May 9, from 8 to 10 p.m.

Two refresher courses will be offered: one on Monday, May 6, from 8 to 10 p.m., and one Wednesday, May 8, from 10 a.m. to noon.

Each eight-week course costs $30 and includes one hour of instruction using the Standard American Bridge methods advocated by Charles Goren, and one hour of playing time.

Registration may be made in person or by mail.

Aerobics for girls

Teen girls who want to get in shape for summer can do aerobics to the latest music at the War Memorial's new class, "Girls Just Want to Have Fun!"

The $24, six-week (12 session) class will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning May 7, from 5 to 6 p.m. Participants should bring a beach towel or mat and wear athletic shoes and exercise clothing: leotards, tights, shorts or sweats. Neon colors and barrettes can be part of the ensemble, too, in order to add to the spirit of the class.

A certified Super Shape instructor will lead the class. Early registration, by mail or in person, is recommended.

GP Singles

Grosse Pointe Singles will meet Friday, May 3, at 7 p.m. in the library at the War Memorial.

Dr. Peter McCabe will be the featured speaker and his subject will be "Plastic Surgery for a Richer Life."

Members and prospective members will be given information about the Wine and Cheese Party, Widowed Group, Cocktail Party, and Walking Group schedules for later in the month.

All single adults (39 and up) in the community are cordially invited to attend. For more information, call 445-1286 or 882-0316.

Learn guitar

Colleen Lough will teach guitar in an informal atmosphere at the War Memorial beginning Tuesday, May 7, from 7 to 8 p.m.

The six-week, $20 course is open to anyone, regardless of age or ability. The only requirement is that students must have their own guitars, whether they are classical, folk or electric.

For more information, call 881-7511.

Flower sale

The Defer PTO will sponsor its annual flower sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, May 18, at the school.

Flowers offered will include flats of impatiens, begonias, pansies, marigolds, petunias, snapdragons, dahlias, allyssium, garden mums and geraniums. Hanging baskets of fuschia, impatiens, bridal veil and verbenas will also be available.

WEIGHT NO MORE

The Permanent Way to Lose Weight!

Through the Weight No More System you will lose weight consistently and, most importantly, permanently. The system is a total state of the art lifestyle approach to weight control that consists of behavioral, psychological, sociological, and physiological components. Weight No More is based upon years of scientific research and has proven to be effective whether you need to lose 5 pounds or 155 pounds, whether this is your first attempt to lose weight or your fortieth attempt.

Weight No More was developed by Dr. Don R. Powell, a nationally acclaimed behavioral psychologist. Dr. Powell was the winner of the 1982 Governor's Physical Fitness and Health Award — the State of Michigan's highest health and fitness honor. He has presented papers on his work at the national meetings of the American Medical Association, American Public Health Association, and American Psychological Association and has appeared on hundreds of television and radio shows including "Good Morning America."

So come to a free introductory meeting to learn how the Weight No More System guarantees that it will work for you. There is no need to weight any longer.

"No, no. I'm fine"

At Kelly Health Care, we know how difficult it is for some people to ask for help.

They don't want to be a bother. They don't want to worry anyone.

That's why we developed our in-home Assisted Living™ programs. Through these programs, qualified professionals provide household, personal and specialized help. And whether it's to lend a hand or hold one, they can be there—from four to 24 hours a day.

Every homemaker, home health aide, companion, live-in, LPN and RN on staff is bonded and insured, and matched to fit the personalities of the clients they serve.

All cases are monitored and supervised by Kelly's specially trained registered nurse. And Kelly will check insurance, then handle claims and for ns. Our bills list and explain services in an easy-to-read format. But our clients pay only if they're satisfied with the service they receive.

If you or someone you love could use a helping hand at home, call Kelly Health Care at 884-3001 for more information.

It could make life easier for everyone. All you have to do is ask.

The Grosse Pointe Artists Annual Juried Show will have its opening reception Saturday, May 4, at the War Memorial from 6 to 8 p.m. Shown from the left are Julie Strabel, chairman; Hortie Senter, president; Evelyn Snyder, past president; and Jim Nawara, juror and drawing and painting professor at Wayne State University.

Kercheval to be closed for fun run

On Sunday, May 5, from noon until 2 p.m., Kercheval Avenue will be closed to through traffic from Moross to Fisher roads for the Cottage Hospital Fun/Walk Run, according to Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber.

During that time, access to Cottage Hospital's emergency room can be reached from Ridge to Muir Roads.

Mack Avenue U.S.A. posters honor fireworks donors

For the next couple of months, expect to see more and more red, white and blue Mack Avenue U.S.A. posters appearing in shop windows along Mack.

The posters signify 1985 donor-participants in the program, which includes a fireworks display and symphony concert on Sunday, June 30, at Parcels Middle School's grounds.

This second annual program is in honor of the Fourth of July and is planned by the Grosse Pointe Business and Professional Association of Mack Avenue, which also supports the event through the donations of its member businesses and professional offices along the five-and-a-half mile business corridor.

The poster reads "We've supported the Mack Avenue U.S.A. fireworks — have you?" They have been issued by the business association in thanks and in recognition of support throughout the area. The poster also elicits the challenge, "Have you?" (supported the fireworks), according to co-chairman of the event, Kathy Forster.

The community festivities can only take place if the association meets the targeted $15,000 budget, Mrs. Forster said. Tax-deductible contributions are the only means of support, and all donors will be recognized by the displaying of the fireworks poster and in newspaper advertisements.

Last year's program at Parcels drew between 4,000 and 5,000 people to the Mack-Vernier area for Crime prevention forum set in Park

Pointers for the Park will present a public forum on crime prevention in Grosse Pointe Park at Pierce auditorium Monday, May 6, at 7 p.m.

Invited speakers include a crime prevention specialist, city officials and members from the Mayor's Committee on Public Safety. The two-hour program will focus on ways to make homes and streets safer.

the display and concert by the St. Clair Shores Symphony Orchestra. This year's program will also feature the St. Clair Shores Symphony and the same company that provided last year's pyrotechnics.

Municipalities and the public school system have contributed dollars and their support the event. The Woods will provide the necessary police, fire and public works protection and the school system has contributed the use of the Parcels play field for the event.

The display will be again fired from the grounds of the Lochmoor Country Club which allowed the association to use its grounds last year.

Anyone interested in making a tax-deductible donation to the fireworks may send a check, payable to Mack Avenue U.S.A., to the business association's office, located at 20327 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods, 48236.

Northeastern grads of 1935 to reunite

Members of the January and May graduating classes of 1935 from Northeastern High School will hold their 50th year reunion on July 13 at the Polish Century Club.

Committee members George Marston at 525-3636, Dorothy Zambardi at 371-4315 or Jean Gilbert at 885-2159 may be contacted for further information.

Artists show opens Saturday

The opening reception of the Grosse Pointe Artist's Annual Juried Show is Saturday, May 4, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Art Wing of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road.

One hundred seventy-five artists submitted work to the show, juried by Jim Nawara from Wayne State University. Only 65 to 70 of the entries can be displayed in the War Memorial's Art Wing.

Best in Show award was won by Nancy Patek's Pleading Scarecrows. The Best Traditional award was given to Clarence Day for Chopin's Brunch. Best Design was a triptych of three separate paintings hung as one, by Heather Bokram's Mario's After Midnight. In Watercolor the first prize was won by Julie Strabel, second prize went to Kay Smith, third prize to Barbara Hoag.

Kay Smith, Margaret Collins, Charlotte Evans, Alice Van Gorp, Mary Anne Ambrose and Elaine Schaitberger all won honorable mentions.

In Graphics and Drawing, Edna Bakewicz, Deborah Maille and Bob Rathburn took first, second and third prize respectively. In Sculpture and Ceramics, Carol Sinclair took first place for her Men's House form New Guinea and Jim Weber took second place for his large covered pot.

In Oils and Acrylics, Nancy Proffit and Susan Musialowski tied for first place. Carl Hedeon took second place, Wilma Urban, third. The honorable mentions were awarded to Shelley Schoenerr, Carl Hedeon and Susan Musialowski. The public is invited to attend.

What's up in GP

"What's on the drawing board for Grosse Pointe?" Officials from the five municipalities that make up the Pointes will be on hand Thursday, May 9, at 7:30 p.m., in the Brownell School cafeteria, to answer that question.

There'll be discussion about future plans for the Village, the Hill, commercial areas along Jefferson and Mack avenues, to name a few spots where in-depth planning is taking place.

Jean Dodenhoff, Curator of the Grosse Pointe Historical Society, will also speak on Pointe history.

The program is the third in the series, "Home Ownership in the Pointes," co-sponsored by The Grosse Pointe Real Estate Exchange and the Continuing Education Division of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

Himalayan film, food

The War Memorial's Adventure Series will present "Himalayan Odyssey," a film by Frank Klicar, on Tuesday, May 14, at 8 p.m. Armchair travelers will visit such exotic places as Calcutta, the Mikir Hills of Assam, Nepal, Kashmir and Tibet.

An optional regional dinner will precede the screening at 6:30 p.m. Featured on the menu is Samosa, an Indian pastry appetizer; Kaju Murgh Kari, curried chicken with cashews; Sabzi Pulao, rice with vegetables; Khura Ka Raita, yogurt salad; Gajjar Halva, carrot sweetmeat; and a fresh fruit assortment.

The price for the complete evening is $16.75 and includes the dinner, film, free parking, tax and gratuity. The price for the film only is $4.15. For reservation information, call 881-7511.

‘a totally different kind of store’

We're a quality fashion store selling junior and misses size clothes at money-saving prices — better labels in dresses, sportswear, coats and accessories at super discounts. We guarantee that all our clothes are at least 20%-60% less (and in some cases even further reduced) than the regular selling price of the same fashions in leading department and specialty stores. It's a most comprehensive collection. Some of the styles do not have labels, some are slightly irregular (and clearly marked so) and a few may arrive after reaching the 5th Avenue shops; but we promise you that you will save money.

Pierce goes to state Olympics of the Mind contest

Pierce Middle School will send three teams to the state Olympics of the Mind competition Saturday, May 4, in East Lansing. The school's three teams took a first, fourth and fifth place in regional competition March 23.

Defer and Maire elementary schools sent teams to the regionals at Troy High School. The three schools fielded 11 teams in the competition, which included school districts from across southeast Michigan. This is the first year of the program at Maire and Pierce, the second year at Defer.

The Olympics of the Mind program started in 1978 when 28 middle and high schools met for the first creative problem-solving at Glassboro State College in New Jersey. In the next six years, the competition had grown to include 3,000 teams from the United States, Canada, Mexico and other countries.

Pierce school sponsors Dave and Marion Spitzley worked hard to start the program at Pierce. They are the parents of sixth-grader Daniel and eighth-grader David.

Pierce's teams are the Big Top Team, High Tech Team and Compound Fracture Team. Big Top's members are Sarah Bardeen, Lisa Leavell, Katie Page, Kathy Smith, Joy Stuckey and David Spitzley. Coach of the first-place finisher was Susan Page. Fourth-place High Tech members are Sean and Seth Cueny, Mike Elisla, Jim Campagna and Barrett Haselwood. Coaching the High Techs was Cheryl Cueny. Fifth place Compound Fracture members are Tre Morgensen, Jeff Jogan, Bill Stettner, Paul Peterson, Scott Partridge and Dan Spitzley. They were coached by the elder Spitzley.

The program is meant to foster the development of individual creativity through team effort to find a solution to one of several long problems developed by the Olympic committee. The team must design and produce its own problem solution, including costumes, constructions of scenery, vehicles, structures and anything else needed.

The solutions are limited to the use of material and methods that students can handle without assistance. A cost limitation is set in the Olympic problem statement. Adult assistance in the solution is prohibited although teams may be shown basic skills necessary to produce their solution.

Problems in the competition this year include the construction of an ecology dozer, which picks up trees from a tree farm and transplants them in a designated area on a defined course. Teams could also try to build, design and operate High Tech Smarty Pants, a remote controlled robot, or Compound Fracture, a four-part bridgelike structure from one-eighth inch balsa wood strips designed to carry as much weight as possible. Another choice was Big Top, the creation of animal costumes and the performing of a circus-type show.

Teams took their names from the problems they solved.

Preparation for the competition, which began in January, was completed in time for the regionals at the end of March. To prepare, teams held regular meetings to brainstorm ideas for the problems, produce the necessary materials and practice for the competition, which is split into three divisions for elementary, middle and high school students.

Winner of the regionals is the team that scores the highest out of a possible 350 points, which is broken down to include 200 points for a long-term problem, 50 for style and 100 points for a spontaneous problem solution.

The program turns competitive mental activities into team efforts. The Olympics require of team members the same commitment as competitive sports like baseball or soccer. Stressing of team effort is evident in the spontaneous problem-solving of the competition where answers must be given for a question asked by the judges, in sequence by each member of the team. If a member is unable to continue, the team is stopped.

Team coaches are responsible for selecting and training the team, not for working on the solution. Coaches present the problem, conduct brainstorming solutions, supervise practices and work sessions and accompanying the team to competitions. Coaches can also assist the team by having guest speakers visit and talk about general principles that may be useful in solving the problem, showing films or obtaining books that give the team basic techniques with which they may work.

Proud Lake to Penny Lot!

From orientation in September to the last school-sponsored trip in the late summer, special opportunities for learning abound at University Liggett Middle School.

In addition to our strong academic program, we offer activities that allow students to try new skills, discover new interests, and grow socially and emotionally.

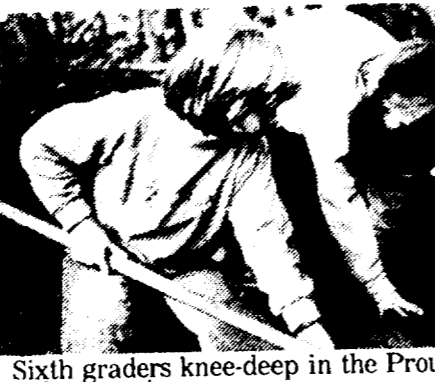

- That's why sixth graders spend a week at Proud Lake's outdoor education center. This model program reveals to our students nature's secrets, and much of Michigan's history. It teaches them survival and conservation skills, and exposes them to new insights about themselves and their classmates.
 - That's why we have interscholastic sports allowing everyone, no matter what their skill level, to participate in a team experience. Our year-long after-school program gives each student the opportunity to play a familiar sport, or learn a new one such as field hockey or lacrosse.
 - That's why our Values classes encourage children to think through issues which concern them personally and to wrestle with problems relating to their community and the world. As a result of this year's discussions concerning world hunger, our students conceived the idea of "Penny Lot." They have challenged other schools to join in this fund raising effort for the hungry in Ethiopia.
- Whether at the Proud Lake bog, on the playing field, or in Values class, our students are trying new skills, discovering new interests and also having fun! Just ask them!

To learn more, call us at 884-4444.

FACTS OF LAW
 by Ellen C. Wallaert

Among the early Greeks and Romans, divorce was known as REPUDIATION. If a woman repudiated her husband for infidelity, she was usually prohibited from remarrying for a period of five years. The husband had no such restriction.

If you are a citizen who leaves the United States without obtaining a passport, you must be allowed to re-enter upon your return. Of course, you may be required to prove your citizenship and might have to deal with some government red tape.

The owner of a wharf might be liable to a ship or boatowner if he does not exercise due care in warning of obstructions at port or in the water, such as submerged rocks.

The owner of cemetery land has the right to sell the property, but the new buyer may be required to continue its use as a cemetery.

If a passenger on an airplane is injured during or as a result of a hijacking, the airline might be held liable.

Three local students win NMSC scholarships

Three local high school seniors were among 1,800 named winners recently of National Merit $2,000 scholarships by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

The national awards, offered every year since the merit program began 30 years ago, are single payment awards to students who have been judged to have the greatest potential for success during and after college.

Winners are Karen Emery of Lakeland and Christopher Bardeen of Berkshire, both from South High School, and Gillian Darlow, a senior at University Liggett School.

Miss Emery, whose award came from the merit program unrestricted funds supported by grants from business and corporate organizations, has chosen electrical engineering as a career. She is a Presidential Scholar nominee, two-year member of the National Honor Society, a Michigan Mathematics Prize finalist for two years, a member of the jazz, band, orchestra and Pointe Players, according to NMSC.

Bardeen, whose award also comes from the merit program's unrestricted funds, is undecided about a future career, according to NMSC. He is a member of the track team for three years, a cross country runner for two and a Latin Club member for three years. He is also on the staff of Imprints, the school literary magazine, according to NMSC.

Miss Darlow is winner of a scholarship sponsored by the Lockheed Leadership fund, established by the aircraft corporation in 1953 to aid education and has made grants to colleges and universities making an unusual contribution to the educators of managers and executives.

Miss Darlow's chosen career is physics. She is editor of the school newspaper for two years, a member of the Cum Laude Society, winner of the Emily Baker service award, member of the Science Club and teen editor of Heritage Magazine. She is a member of the school's volleyball and basketball teams, a member of ULS Players for four years and an Optimist Club award winner, according to NMSC.

Sound Health Advice

Saint John Hospital

Ask questions, ask questions, ask questions is the phrase to remember when you purchase medications. Whether the medication is over-the-counter type or doctor-ordered, ask questions. Why? Because for every possible positive effect from a drug, there can be a possible negative effect. It is important to be aware of both.

The bad effects can result from a variety of reasons. For instance a special diet may negate the possible good effects, taking several drugs at the same time may result in a negative interaction.

Actually, questions about drugs should begin at the time the physician makes a health assessment and a medication is prescribed.

Asking questions is not a one-way street. At the same time you are asking questions about a drug, provide your physician with any information that you may find relevant. Tell your physician about the names of drugs you have taken in the past and for what reasons, the drugs you may be taking now and, of course, any drugs that you may have an allergic reaction to.

The more your physician knows about your past, the more helpful he or she may be. Having a continual relationship with a family doctor will assure a larger amount of knowledge on his part but will not remove your responsibility of reminding him.

Two statistics that point out the fact that not knowing about medications can be bad medicine are:

1. 2,500 persons each year die of the interactions between alcohol and other drugs.

2. 300,000 persons suffer drug reactions which require hospitalization.

We Americans consume 40 billion prescriptions and nonprescription medications each year. Thus there should be millions of questions to be asked.

For starters ask your physician the purpose of each drug he prescribes, how it works and how it interacts with other drugs you are taking. Also ask when the drug should be taken and if it should be taken on a full or empty stomach.

When it comes to medications, don't be afraid to ask questions because you can never ask too many.

NOTICE OF BUDGET HEARING AND USE OF FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING FUNDS

NOTICE IS HEREBY given that a public hearing on proposed use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds for fiscal year 1985-86 will be held on Monday, May 13, 1985 in the Council Chambers, Municipal Offices, 17147 Maumee at 7:30 P.M.

The budget includes proposed use of federal revenue sharing funds in the amount of $35,200. Citizens may inquire about the relationship of said funds to the entire proposed 1985-86 City Budget. The budget is available for review beginning May 9, 1985 during regular office hours at the Office of the City Clerk, telephone 885-5800.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe MICHIGAN

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES AND ON THE PROPOSED CITY BUDGET

The City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe, Michigan will hold a public hearing at 7:30 P.M. on Monday, May 13, 1985 in the Council Chambers at the Municipal Offices, 17147 Maumee, on the proposed 1985 city tax levy and on the proposed 1985-86 City budget. Copies of the proposed budget are available for public inspection during regular business hours in the office of the City Clerk beginning May 10, 1985.

Last year (1984) the City levied 16.2400 mills ($16.24 per $1,000 SEV) for City operating purposes. Because of an estimated increase in the State Equalized Value of existing property in the City, state law (Act 5 of 1982) provides that the base rate for 1985 City operating taxes be decreased to 15.82 mills ($15.82 per $1,000 SEV). This is 0.4200 mills ($.42 cents per $1,000 SEV) lower than the 1984 operating tax rate.

To fund the City's proposed 1985-86 budget and to maintain the present level of City services, the City finds it necessary to increase its operating tax levy. Although the City has complete authority under its charter and state law to establish the number of mills to be levied within its fully authorized millage rate, the City proposes to levy an additional millage rate of 0.42 mills ($.42 cents per $1,000 SEV) above the 1985 base operating millage rate. This will provide an estimated 2.63% increase in City operating tax revenues. Individual property taxes may increase greater than or less than the estimated average.

Public comments, oral or written, are welcome at the public hearing on the proposed additional millage rate and on the proposed City budget.

Reading is basic at St. Clare School

By Pat Paholsky

Since St. Clare of Montefalco School opened its doors in September 1927 to 399 pupils, the building has been in a state of flux.

Four classrooms were added in 1929, property was acquired in 1945 to expand the playground, and in 1952, four more classrooms and a basement hall were added to the building. A year later, the old church was converted into a gymnasium, and in 1958, the gym gave way to eight classrooms and the entire building was remodeled. The playground was again expanded as well as parking in 1959.

Then in 1962, construction began on another school building which was completed the following year. It serves as a junior high for the seventh and eighth grades, but the gym and other rooms are used by all of the students.

There are 541 students enrolled in the kindergarten through eighth grade program. And there will be an increase in this fall's kindergarten population, according to Sister Anne Rutledge, principal, which will necessitate having three classes instead of the current two.

The young first-time students at St. Clare will be spending most of their half-days preparing to read. It's the key to everything, she said, adding that reading is an actual period every day through the eighth grade.

"Reading is right at the core of so much of what we do. We consider it so basic. Once you teach a child to read and read well and once you put order in their life, they can teach themselves. Self-discipline and order correct so many of their problems."

Students have seven periods a day — six academic and one activity. Academic classes are rotated each week, so that a student may have math during second period one week and then during fourth period the following week.

Sister Anne says every student has a different time of the day when he or she functions better and the rotation gives each academic subject a fair chance. Reading, however, is the one class that is always first period, because that's when the majority of the children are the most alert, she said.

The fact that Sister Anne is Irish is obvious when a person visits her office. There is an Ireland poster, a coffee mug that says,

"Kiss me, I'm Irish," a shamrock plant and a green-visored cap.

The visual testimony of her ancestry points to a person attuned to her senses and Sister Anne trusts her senses. She had been a school principal in Columbus, Ohio for eight years and then worked in the diocesan level in that state.

"When I came up here, I wasn't sure I wanted to become a principal again," she said. "But the minute I walked into this building, I knew I wanted to come. The thing that sold me was the overall climate here in the building — the importance of every child, the discipline, the attitude of the teachers, the philosophy here. School is work but it's also enjoyment."

The school recently put on "The Mikado," which had a cast of 58 students and 11 staff members.

"I was a Japanese gentleman myself," she said, "and one of the priests was a dancer with the boys. It gives us a chance to look at another culture and we got to work with the children in a completely different way."

There is an extensive sports program operated by the Athletic Commission which is responsible for funding. Some 19 programs are offered at various levels and Sister Anne said more than 200 students participate in her favorite sport, track, which is offered as early as fourth grade.

"We have two wonderful young men who work with them, Steve and Rick Zaranek. Their entire philosophy is you compete against yourself. You never win or lose, you worry about whether you better yourself from the week before."

The majority of the students are members of the parish. There are, however, children attending who are not Catholic. The tuition does not cover the cost of operating the school and the church does subsidize it, she said.

Sister Anne said the school also benefits from auxiliary services from the Grosse Pointe Public School System with a reading teacher, a social worker and a teacher consultant who come in.

One of the greatest pluses of the school, Sister Anne said, is the support of the parents. That's everything, she said.

This is the sixth in a series on the schools of Grosse Pointe.

Group home council goals include lessons in self-reliance

Editor's note: The Group Home Advisory Council of Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods was formed in 1982 to promote the establishment of residential group homes for developmentally disabled adults, to assist toward harmonious integration of group homes into these communities and to educate the community about developmental disabilities and community placement.

The council has prepared a series of articles which the Grosse Pointe News will publish over the next few weeks. This is the second article.

At 49, Gretchen walks with the help of a quad cane and leg braces, the result of cerebral palsy. Although deaf from birth, with special tutoring she learned how to talk, along with learning some English and math, by the age of 14. Despite her handicaps, she is able to learn many things, having an I.Q. of more than 80. Gretchen was placed in a residential facility 15 years ago when her mother had to work. She attends a workshop, but functions at a much higher level than the others. Her mother has been told that Gretchen is not being challenged and will regress if she remains institutionalized much longer.

Jim, a man in his early 30s, has been living away from home since he was 8 years old. He needs a lot of attention and loves to be busy. He enjoys riding a tandem bike with his father or going shopping or to the park. During the week, he attends a workshop for mentally retarded adults. He would like to be able to see his relatives more often.

Gretchen and Jim, whose families live in Grosse Pointe, know the loneliness of institutional living. They yearn for the opportunity to experience life in all its ups and downs, as we do.

At one time, it was thought that people with developmental disabilities were "better off" living away from society in an atmosphere where specialized services were available. In the late 1800s, the idea that mentally retarded people needed to be "protected" from society was widely accepted and this theory led to locating the institutions away from populated areas.

The intention was not to return these people to society through education but separate them from society "for their own good."

By 1900, several larger institutions housed more than 2,000 people. Gradually, the prevailing attitude changed from benign protectionism to one of viewing the mentally retarded as deviant and therefore dangerous. Parents were urged to place any child with a low I.Q. in an institutional setting and no hope was given that the child could improve.

With advances in medical technology, more moderately to profoundly retarded (below 35 I.Q.) began to survive infancy but there were very few community programs for them and little community acceptance of their differences.

The cycle of automatically re-integrating mentally retarded citizens to institutional living began to change in the 1950s as parents saw institutions as drab, cold prisons and began to lobby for services within their own communities that were previously only available in institutions.

Legislation followed and Michigan law now requires school districts to provide educational alternatives for all children from infancy to age 26, no matter how disabled. With more support services available, many families opt to raise their retarded children at home.

Gretchen's mother laments that her daughter was "born 30 years too soon. She could not even enter a special school for the deaf because she couldn't walk until age 9 and the school refused to take her. The only alternative in those days was private tutoring."

People with developmental disabilities are capable of learning regardless of age or type of disability. How do we know that mentally retarded children and adults learn at a faster rate in a community setting? Consider that:

- People learn and model behaviors from those around them;
- Normal behavior is defined within the context of a given group;
- If a person is not challenged, he or she will hesitate to try new things;
- Opportunities for learning are different and limited for people who are isolated from the mainstream;
- Making choices is necessary to become more self-reliant and independent.

Gretchen and Jim would like to be able to make some of these choices that you and I take for granted every day. Right now most of the decisions of daily living are made for them, but they are determined to change that, by living in a group home.

Next week: Common myths regarding community placement of retarded citizens.

Holistic healing

"Spectrums of Healing," a system of holistic healing ideas, will be presented by author Gerry Ellen Cunningham Monday, May 13, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The program is part of Macomb Community College's Network Luncheon Series.

Some of the procedures — color therapy, chakra therapy, healing breathing and healing feelings — are combined into daily seven-minute rituals designed for optimum health and well being.

Fee for the luncheon is $7 and advance registration is required. South Campus is located at 12 Mile and Hayes roads. For more information, call 445-7417.

Prime Time for senior citizens

By Marian Trainor

Like King Arthur, presidents sometimes need a Merlin when they are trying to create a Camelot.

King Arthur was a legend and Camelot was a once-upon-a-time ideal country that never existed.

However, since we are fanciful beings, each time we elect a president, we want him to create a Camelot for us and we get upset when it doesn't happen. To begin with, vice presidents are not Merlins nor is Congress composed of the loyal Knights of the Round Table. Assuming that the president is capable of leading his people into the never-never land of peace, prosperity and contentment, which he isn't, he is held in restraint by the checks and balances of a system devised long ago when the country was born. That's what makes it a democracy.

However, while the system protects the constituency, it does nothing to protect the president from making personal blunders and that is why he needs a Merlin.

If there had been a Merlin at his side, it is not likely that President Reagan would have made the decision to visit a German military cemetery that contains the graves of 47 Waffen SS troopers. However, in the absence of Merlin or even good counseling from advisors, President Reagan has made that decision and with it tarnished his Arthurian image.

So much was expected of him when he was elected, perhaps too much — prosperity, the end of inflation, a balanced budget. His supporters were beginning to realize that while the economy was better, it was not as good as they had hoped for. But they were willing to wait and see, to bide their time until all the promises made were fulfilled.

Much as their trust was put in the president to set the nation's wrongs right, there was another factor which endeared him to the voters — his image as a moral, sensitive man.

Now, his refusal to alter his plans to visit the German military cemetery has somewhat diminished that impression. His parallel between the German war dead buried at Bitburg and Jewish Holocaust victims made the situation worse. His belatedly adding a tour to the site of World War II concentration camps to his itinerary in Germany doesn't help either.

Advised that his intentions to promote a measure of reconciliation between Germany and its former enemies of war with this gesture were misguided, the president refused to listen. To change his plans, he felt, would be a sign of weakness.

As it stands now, either way, "the runner stumbles." West German Chancellor Kohl called Reagan and suggested that for him not to keep his promise would be an insult to the German people. The pressures at home for him to cancel the visit push him into a no-win position. The whole situation is an embarrassment both to Kohl and Reagan.

There have been suggestions that the president could gracefully cancel the entire trip on the basis that he has important matters to deal with with Congress.

It was pointed out also, that if pictures were taken and one is juxtaposed with an SS trooper's grave, it would be an image that would not be forgotten.

George Grassmuck, a professor of political science at the University of Michigan, takes another view. He says that for Reagan to cancel his visit "would be a great embarrassment to the chancellor of Germany and it would be a greater embarrassment to NATO." He continues:

"He is trying to say that World War II was 40 years ago and it's advisable for us to seek peace" and

"the other problem that he has is he must be president. He cannot surrender to all groups or all factions that demean the office."

Whatever the course, the president is immersed in a moral morass of Judaism's need to remember the crimes of the Holocaust and post-Nazi Germany's need to forget; one nation's need to forgive and forget and a peoples' need to forgive but never forget.

While there is no doubt that President Reagan has made a serious error of judgment, "prime timers" have been around long enough to know that he is not the first, nor likely the last president to make unfavorable decisions. For some of his predecessors, such decisions worked against them. For others it did not dim their popularity.

Take Harry S. Truman who inherited the presidency when Franklin D. Roosevelt died in office. Throughout his administration, Truman was often the center of controversy. One of the most controversial was his order to drop the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945. It brought World War II to an end, but it opened up the possibility of nuclear war.

But when he ran against Thomas E. Dewey in 1948, he won, in spite of the slogan "To err is Truman."

His second term was just as controversial as his first. During the Korean War, he dismissed one of the most admired military heroes, General Douglas MacArthur. How much that hurt him, no one knows because he refused re-nomination. However a number of historians concede that Harry Truman was right more often than not.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower was a popular president. The years of his presidency were prosperous. The Korean War ended.

He was followed by a president who became a national idol. He was young, vigorous, idealistic.

Yet he made some controversial decisions.

The Cuban refugees plan to invade Cuba and overthrow the communist regime there became the Bay of Pigs disaster.

The missile crisis was touchy. Kennedy succeeded in getting the Russians to dismantle missile bases in Cuba, but talks between him and Russian Premier Khrushchev in Vienna did nothing to ease the Cold War.

And then there was President Lyndon B. Johnson. He created the Great Society with its multitude of programs. The escalation of the Vietnam War cancelled out his credibility and Johnson announced he would not seek another term.

Eisenhower's boy Richard Nixon won the presidency over Hubert Humphrey in 1968. He laid the ground for winding down the Vietnam War. A shadow fell on Nixon's administration when Vice President Spiro Agnew was accused of evading income taxes and taking payoffs while in office. Gerald R. Ford, minority leader in the House of Representatives, became vice president.

In the meantime, the Watergate scandal broke and Nixon resigned to avoid impeachment and Gerald Ford became president. He got involved in controversy almost immediately when he granted a presidential pardon to Nixon.

The Vietnam war ended in his term but the odor of Watergate clung to Ford, and when Jimmy Carter came along, the people turned to him as an "outsider." "Insiders" were still suspect and confidence in professional politicians remained low. He defeated Gerald Ford.

It is difficult to be right all of the time. Presidents are human. That's why they need a Merlin. Merlin was a wizard and wizards can make everything right.

That one word certainly describes Oscar Russell, a coach operator out of the Wayne terminal. In fact, during his six years of service at SEMTA, being cautious has been just part of the job.

Oscar is proud of the fact that he's never had a single accident as a SEMTA driver. And for him, being cautious isn't just a matter of personal satisfaction. "I feel responsible for the safety of all my passengers," says Oscar. "You got to look out for the other guy because most of the time they're not looking out for you. I guess you could say I'm pretty cautious."

Cautious. That's Oscar Russell. But he also brings other outstanding qualities to the job — just like all SEMTA people who make SEMTA the bus system that works. They're simply doing their best to be the best. As for Oscar, he's doing it very cautiously.

Children's theater to present 'Cheaper by the Dozen'

Grosse Pointe Children's Theater is putting the finishing touches on the family musical classic, "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Based on the true life story of the Frank Gilbreth family of 12 children, this musical comedy is a humorous and delightful account of the family told through the eyes of young Frank and Ernestine Gilbreth. The show is for all members of the family.

Aside from the 30 members of the cast ranging in age from 4 years through high school, parents are working behind the scenes, constructing and painting the sets, designing and sewing costumes and collecting props.

Sharing the lead role of Frank Gilbreth are Adam Brady, John Hammond and Greg Preston. Mrs. Gilbreth will be played by Katie Kennedy and Jennifer Dahlstrom. The oldest daughter, Anne, will be enacted by Marla Kurz and Cathy Obeid. Carey Crim and Michelle Gasperut will be seen as Ernestine. Tracie Dold and Kasey Clark will play Martha. Frank Jr., will be Michael Schoenith and Roy Hall.

Other family members are David Darby, John Armaly, Shana McNamee, Miles Vick, Mike Happner, Mike Babel, Chip Amoe, Ryan Robson, Michael DeFauw and Ryan Locke. Others in the cast are, David Bryant, Grady Avant, Stephanie Vitito, Karen Molitor, Jill Schroeder and Emily Koczara. Juliet Mazer Schmidt, granddaughter of Mrs. John Mazer, musical director, and Alison Dold will make their stage debut as the youngest Gilbreth children.

There will be four performances at the William Fries auditorium of the War Memorial at 32 Lakeshore Road on Fridays, May 10 and 17 at 7:30 p.m., and two matinees on Saturdays, May 11 and 18 at 2 p.m.

Admission charge is $2.75 for students and senior citizens and $4 for adults. Tickets are now on sale at the War Memorial office, 881-7511. For group rates of 12 or more, call 886-6152 after 6 p.m. Birthday and special groups will be recognized.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNALABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-21) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. You really do deserve to be thin.

To Honor the Motherhood of Mary

All are invited to attend a ROSARY HOLY HOUR that the church will be one in faith and love with Jesus in imitation of Mary, the model of the church.

Date: Sunday, May 5th, 1985

Time: 2:30 p.m.

Place: St. Veronica Church
21440 Universal Drive
East Detroit, Michigan

"I am the Lady of the Rosary"

Our Secret Military Weapon: THE ROSARY

"Give me a million families with Rosaries in their hands, uplifted to Mary," said Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in his last sermon before being imprisoned by the Communists in Hungary. "They will be a military power, not against other people, but for all mankind...for their welfare, their healing..."

North high senior graduates from presidential classroom

Anne Norton, a Grosse Pointe North senior, recently graduated from A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans, a week-long study of government held in the nation's capital.

Miss Norton was among 3,000 high school juniors and seniors chosen to represent 1,000 schools across the nation and around in the world who took part in one of seven sessions of Presidential Classroom's 1985 program.

Miss Norton has a grade point average above 4.0 and belongs to the National Honor Society and Phi Beta Kappa Society. She is an officer for the French Club and is involved with Campus Life and many other church organizations. She is also a volunteer for the handicapped.

Her sponsorship in the program came from the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club.

During their week in Washington, D.C., students participated in seminars covering topics such as "Arms Control and Disarmament" and "The News Media." Experts in each field provided an overview and answered questions about issues for students.

Speakers for the 1985 program included Chief Justice Warren Burger, syndicated columnist Jack Anderson, former National Organization for Women President Eleanor Smeal and Gen. John Vessey, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Miss Norton and other participants also spent two days on Capitol Hill meeting with senators, representatives and congressional members as well as sitting in on committee meetings, watching the Senate and House in action and visiting the Supreme Court and Library of Congress.

Each National Student Body was divided into small groups which were led by instructors from government agencies, the military and other professional backgrounds. Besides serving as group leaders, instructors moderated student discussions of current events.

Presidential Classroom, a non-profit, non-partisan educational organization, has brought more than 40,000 outstanding students to the nation's capital since its inception in 1968. Students who attend are leaders in school and community organizations, and 96 percent of them have grade point averages of 3.0 or better.

Anne Norton receives a letter of congratulations from North Principal John Kastran for being named Presidential Classroom Representative.

LOW BACK PAIN

The most common cause of acute and chronic low back pain is due to subluxation of the spine. Subluxation is abnormal movement and alignment of the spinal vertebrae (bones) which eventually causes nerve pressure on spinal nerves.

The most common causes are long forgotten falls, bumps, or other accidents which over a period of time disturb the normal mechanical movement of the spine. The majority of low back problems develop over a period of months or years. Many times a simple movement such as raking the leaves can cause severe low back pain. This happens because the spine is not functioning properly and is susceptible to injury.

The doctor of chiropractic is a specialist in diagnosing and treating low back pain. Don't delay treatment when help is readily available.

Brought to you as a community service by Dr. David Jantz. If you have any further questions call or write the clinic: Grosse Pte. Woods Chiropractic Clinic, 20217 Mack GPW, phone 881-7677. All insurances accepted.

Brownell band plays concert in Lansing

Brownell Middle School's 45 concert band members got more than usual out of Michigan Month festivities this year. They were invited to Lansing to perform May 1 as part of the state's Month of May Music Program.

Brownell's band is one of many from around the state that has been invited to perform on the Capitol steps, Capitol Complex Plaza and Ottawa Towers Plaza throughout May. Choral groups will also be performing in the Capitol rotunda. All concerts are from noon to 1 p.m.

Although the hour program is a little longer than the students are used to performing, they have been working hard on several marches and will also play selections they have performed at the district festival, according to Joseph Bauer, band director and instrumental music teacher.

Concert mistress for the Lansing performance is Amy Lindeman. The concert band will play three selections it has performed at district festival; the Ringmaster March, Landmark Overture and Stratford Overture.

Other of the band's selections will be a medley of Broadway show tunes, a march composed by a Warren, Mich. man based on an Irish air, Scarborough Fair, Michigan My Michigan and America, Bauer said.

"We are very honored to have been invited to participate," Bauer said, adding the students are "anxious to get out and perform" and hope to catch a glimpse of Gov. James Blanchard during the event.

"Brownell has had a reputation for having a fine band and orchestra for a number of years that have performed well at festivals," Bauer said. "The Grosse Pointe music program as a whole has a fine reputation throughout the state."

"The students will travel by bus to the capital. The trip is funded through the school's Band and Orchestra Fund, Bauer added.

North music students schedule paper drive

Members of Grosse Pointe North Bands and Orchestra will hold a paper drive Saturday, May 4, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the student parking lot.

Proceeds will be used to help pay for the students' annual trip to Cedar Point.

Only newsprint can be accepted, however, as paper-collecting agencies will not accept magazines, or even old phone books because of the dyes used in their publication.

Kerby cub scouts aid hospital

Lunch with Darrell Evans is first prize, four box seats to a Tiger home game is second prize and an autographed baseball from the Tigers is third prize in a drawing sponsored by Kerby School Cub Scouts of Pack 481, Den 1, to raise money for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

The fundraiser is the scouts' way of saying thanks to the hospital for the treatment received by their packmate Chris Fox's little sister, Sarah, at the outpatient clinic.

Learning that the clinic needed new toys to occupy children while the wait and during treatment, the Cub Scouts came up with the fundraiser. Evans, a Kerby parent, was happy to donate his time.

The drawing will be held at Kerby May 31. Tickets are available for $1 each or $5 for a book of five by calling 882-5898, 881-2302, 884-3680 or 881-6854.

St. Jude's is a leader in the successful treatment of childhood leukemia and other childhood cancers.

ULS to host College Fair

College-bound students will have an opportunity to attend University Liggett School's College Information Program Thursday, May 9, from 7:30 to 10:15 p.m. at the Cook Road Campus.

Representatives from more than 40 colleges and universities will be on hand to answer questions about programs, courses of study and admissions. In addition, several special interest panels will address the issues of pre-medical and pre-legal study, financial aid, professional study in the arts, architect-ture, communications, engineering, and the options that are available within the state of Michigan.

Among the colleges represented will be Albion, Amherst, Boston College, Boston University, Brown, Cornell, Carnegie-Mellon, Duke, Harvard, Hope, Kalamazoo, Lehigh, MIT, University of Michigan, Michigan State, Northwestern, Oberlin, Princeton, Trinity, Tulane, Williams and a number of others.

The public is invited. For more information, call 884-4444.

Whritner to attend open meeting

All parents are invited to attend the next Grosse Pointe South Mothers' Club meeting on Monday, May 6, at 12:45 p.m. in Cleminson Hall, South High where Dr. John Whritner, the newly arrived school superintendent will be the featured guest.

It will be one of his first parents' meetings since his arrival in St. Clare students honored by DAR

St. Clare of Montefalco students Ann Eckel and Robert Clark were honored at a luncheon recently for their winning essays in a history contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Ann received a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, a medal, certificate and dictionary for her essay of the Statue of Liberty. Robert, who wrote on the Contribution of Black Americans in the Revolutionary War, received a certificate and a book on American history.

The students are in the seventh grade.

Chickens, roosters, geese, ducklings, bunnies, piglets, lambs, goats, a turkey, and a cow and her newborn calf were the stars of Baby Animal Day at the War Memorial April 14.

More than 800 big and little people attended the event which featured Farmer Webster of Upland Hills Farm. While the bunny-hugger at the bottom is unidentified, it's obvious he just loves that little bundle of fur. The small fellow next to him is Brad Shuder. Offering the geese a bit of hay is Caitlin Clyne of the Farms, and giving the calf a big kiss is David Mageski of Detroit.

The lambs romped, the geese and goats mingled politely, and the ducklings were seen, but caged, to keep them from joining their feathered friends in the nearby lake. The turkey strutted and two eggs were laid — a brown one from a chicken and a large white one from a goose.

When an observer asked Farmer Webster how the fowl could lay eggs amid all the commotion, he was heard to say, "When you gotta lay an egg, you gotta lay it."

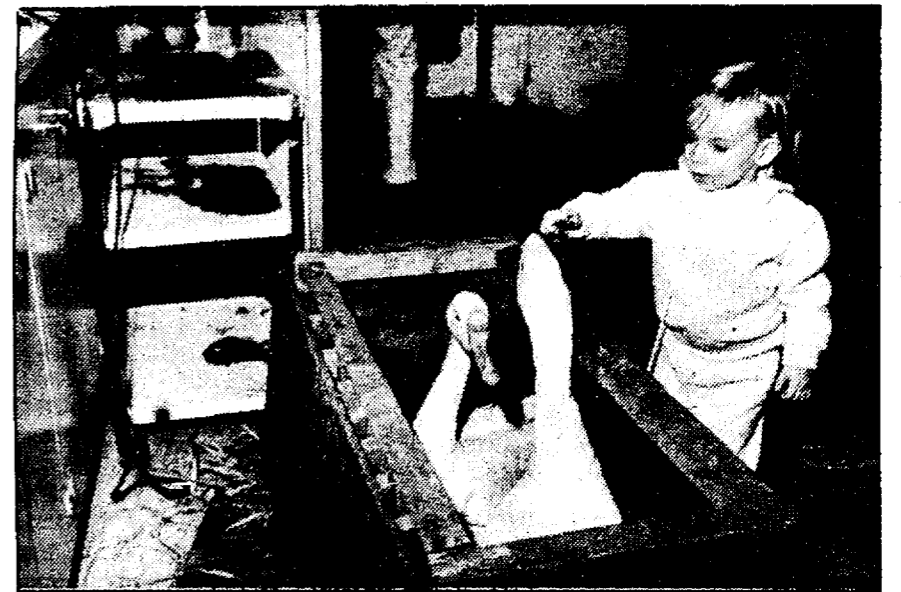

The event was such a success that the War Memorial will sponsor two additional family events this spring. Children's Fun Day, for youngsters up to 8 years old, will be held Sunday, June 9, when the grounds will be transformed into a children's wonderland. Children under 2 and adults will be admitted free; 2 to 8 year olds are $5 each.

Another event, not restricted to children, will be the second annual My Dog's Better Than Your Dog day, an all-breed event to show off family pets, Sunday, June 2.

Entry fee is $1 per dog and no admission for spectators, so people without dogs are welcome to join the fun.

Past recipients have included Grosse Pointe's Frances Carney Tracy, Ruth Harper Vance and Elizabeth S. Kuhlman . . . so when Michigan's First Lady, Paula Blanchard, comes to town next Wednesday to receive the Matilda R. Wilson Award of Honor at the annual luncheon meeting of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Detroit-Women's Association, she'll be joining a very select company.

The award was established "to perpetuate Mrs. Wilson's deep humanitarian principles and high philanthropic standards through the recognition of a person who symbolizes these same fine virtues and qualities."

Jane Warren, the association's social affairs chairperson, says that Paula Blanchard was selected "because of her successful efforts to ensure that thousands of community children will be able to enjoy the annual Thanksgiving Parade." She'll receive the award during the luncheon meeting, which this year will be held at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Beverly Beltaire will receive the Cinderella Award as Michigan Woman of the Year during the 1985 Cinderella Ball sponsored by the Women's Committee of the American Lung Association. The black tie optional party is set for Saturday, May 18, in the Pontchartrain Hotel's Versailles Ballroom.

Rising Stars in the world of fashion will be saluted Thursday, June 27, in the Westin Hotel's fourth level ballroom when fun and culture meet at Fash Bash '85: the 16th annual benefit for the Detroit Institute of Arts, sponsored by the museum's Founders Society Junior Council and the J.L. Hudson Company.

The fun begins at 5 p.m. and will include music, dancing, cocktails, silent auctions and live auctions conducted by DuMouchelle Art Galleries, a fall fashion show by Hudson's and announcement of this year's Rising Fashion Stars. Everyone's welcome.

Tickets, which go on sale this month, are $18 in advance at the DIA ticket office (832-2730 during regular business hours) and Hudson's Ticket World outlets. If you leave it to the last minute, you can still get in at the door — but the price of admission rises to $20. Either way, Fash Bash tickets are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.

Backward, Turn Backward . . .

The year was 1925. The best-selling automobile was the Ford Model T. The Charleston dance craze swept the country. Electric percolators were invented. The College of the City of Detroit (now Wayne State University) graduated its first four-year class; resident tuition was $60 per year.

GP Academy is a tradition of excellence on Lakeshore

By Peggy O'Connor

It was Dads' Day at the Grosse Pointe Academy, and the fathers of Academy students had spent all morning walking the buildings and grounds of the 100-year-old campus with their children. They watched spring play practice, shared the lunch of the day — vegetable soup, fish-on-a-bun and dessert — and somehow managed to wedge themselves into tiny desks to follow the progress of a second grade math class.

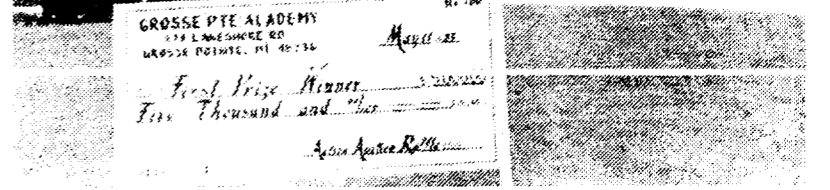

Over in the Early School Building, the fathers had to visit in shifts because they wouldn't all fit into the smaller rooms at the same time. They did so without complaining, just as fathers of more than one Academy student spent more than half the day sharing their time with each of their children.

Ask anyone even remotely connected with the Grosse Pointe Academy and they'll tell you that the spirit of activities like Dads' Day is typical of the atmosphere found at all school events and, indeed, present throughout the school and its constituency.

Early School Principal Camille DeMario discovered that about the Academy on her first day there 15 years ago. "I felt the enthusiasm of the parents, the staff and faculty the first time I walked in the door. Fifteen years later, I have the next set of Academy students and parents and I still feel that neat spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation."

It's a dress rehearsal for "Bye, Bye Birdie," (above) the Academy's spring show and every student will participate, according to music teacher Marian Chrisner. Below, a view of the natural science room, where students can participate in the science of taxidermy.

Planning Children's Center Conference

Spring Salad Sampler date

Colorful flowers and fashions will highlight the festive atmosphere when the women of Kappa Kappa Gamma present their annual Salad Sampler luncheon Thursday, May 16, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

General chairpersons are Suzanne (Mrs. John) Nicholson and Emily (Mrs. Richard) Moellering. Coordinating the parade of fashions from La Sirega Boutique "on-the-Hill" is Mary (Mrs. Thomas) Shafer. The clothes will be modeled by Kappa members Lois Potter, Debbie Verysse, Aletha Smith, Lori Jensen, Judy Guiney and Marion Sandmair.

Ann (Mrs. Edward) Hathaway is the current president of the alumnae group. Others coordinating Salad Sampler committees are Laurie (Mrs. William) Huetteman, Beverly (Mrs. Harry) Sellars, Gail (Mrs. Alan) Hart, Marcia (Mrs. Leonard) Winzer and Betsy (Mrs. Richard) Mertz.

Ticket chairperson Sharon (Mrs. John) Mertz may be reached at 886-2439. Emily Moellering, 886-0324, will also take Salad Sampler reservations — as long as she can, for this is a VERY popular spring event, and space is limited. To avoid disappointment, we suggest you get your tickets as soon as possible.

Among the salads you'll be sampling is one of Emily's own — a MANDARIN SALAD that serves nine and is a perfect addition to a summer menu:

- 1 6-oz pkg. orange jello
- 1 small can mandarin oranges

- 1 pt. orange sherbet
- 1/2 pt. sour cream
- 8 large marshmallows, quartered
- Combine juice of mandarin oranges with 1 1/2 cups water. Bring to a boil and dissolve jello in mixture. Add orange sherbet and drained mandarin oranges. Refrigerate in 8x8-inch Pyrex dish. For dressing, use sour cream blended with marshmallows. Cut salad in squares and serve on lettuce leaf.
- 1/4 cup diced green pepper
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 8-oz. can refrigerated crescent rolls
- 1 egg, beaten

Combine chicken, pineapple, mayonnaise, celery, almonds and green pepper. Add salt and pepper; toss lightly. Set aside. Separate crescent roll dough into eight triangles. On a greased cookie sheet, arrange the triangles in a circle with bases overlapping, narrow tips pointing outward (the open center should be about 3 inches in diameter). Top by spooning chicken salad in a ring around bases of triangles, packing firmly to insure ring shape; then fold dough tips around the filling and tuck them under ring. Brush with beaten egg and bake at 350° for 25 to 30 minutes, until golden. Serve hot.

A heartier but no less delicious dish is Diane Marston's HOT CHICKEN SALAD RINGDING, which will serve four as a main dish, eight as a snack:

- 1 1/2 cups cooked chicken, diced
- 1 8-oz can pineapple tidbits
- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup chopped almonds

Call goes out for volunteers

St. Clair Ambulatory Care Corporation's Home Health Care Services is seeking volunteers for its new Home Care Volunteer Program, one of the first in the metropolitan Detroit area.

"We want to provide socialization and different activities to increase community awareness and a sense of belonging for the frail elderly," explains Deanna McGraw, M.S.W., program coordinator.

Volunteers must be willing to donate four hours of their time a week, have a good driving record and be able to establish warm, caring relationships. They will make weekly visits to Eastern Wayne and southern Macomb county homebound senior citizens, providing in-home services such as friendly visiting, companionship, transportation and errand-running.

The volunteers will be expected to complete a nine-hour training program that focuses on effective listening, communication, social activities and basic body mechanics. The first program runs Wednesday, May 22, through Friday, May 24, at Saint John Hospital.

Silk & sweatshirt classes scheduled

A pair of two-week workshops begin next Wednesday, May 8, at Assumption Cultural Center, located on Marter Road at the border of Grosse Pointe Woods and St. Clair Shores.

"Paint Your Own Sweatshirt II" runs from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. May 8 and 15. It is designed for students who have completed the beginners' class and wish to learn how to do more detailed painting on fabric. Instructor Betty Beebe, of Dec-O-Craft, will have sweatshirts available in a variety of colors.

"Wedding Silks" offers instruction in silk floral arrangements. Each student will finish a bouquet of his/her choice. The class, which runs from 7 to 9 p.m. May 8 and 15, is offered at a fee of $14, plus supplies.

Fee for the sweatshirt workshop is $10, plus supplies. Information on both programs may be obtained by calling 779-6111.

Leone Tribute Night at WSU

Leonard Leone, retiring director of the Wayne State University Theatre, will be honored Sunday evening, May 5, at "A Tribute to Leonard Leone" on the WSU campus, starting at 5 p.m. with a cocktail-buffet at the Faculty Club.

Then it's across the street for a 7 p.m. special performance of the Michigan premiere production of "Chekhov in Yalta" at the Hilberry, followed by a champagne reception in the theatre foyer.

As a continuing acknowledgment of Professor Leone's 47 years of service to Wayne State, the Tribute Committee, chaired by Professor J. Daniel Logan, is establishing a fund to endow a Chair in his name. The Leonard Leone Chair in Theatre will provide for guest scholars and artists to be brought to WSU to lecture, give master classes and/or serve as visiting directors, designers or actors.

Leone, director of the WSU Theatre since 1946, is responsible for renovating and re-opening the Bonstelle Theatre (1952), creating the Hilberry Theatre and its graduate repertory company (1963), establishing a Black Theatre curriculum (1970) and subsequent Black Theatre Touring Company, coordinating the national David Nederlander Playwriting Competition and directing the international Globe Symposium and Globe Reconstruction Project.

Following many years of leadership in the American Theatre Association, he has been elected president of that organization: largest theatrical association in the nation, with over 8,000 members.

Among his many honors are WSU's Distinguished Faculty and Distinguished Alumni Awards, the Michigan Academy of Arts and Science's Gold Medal Award and the American Theatre Association Award of Merit. He has been made a Fellow of the American Theatre Association and a member of WSU's Academy of Scholars.

Further information on "A Tribute to Leonard Leone" and how to make donations to the Leone Chair may be obtained by calling 577-3010 weekdays, between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Find treasures at the Village Antiques Show

The first antiques show hosted by The Edison Institute and its world-renowned complex, Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, will run Thursday through Saturday, May 16 to 18, at Lovett Hall on the Museum/Village grounds.

The event, sponsored by the Institute's President's Society, will feature more than 40 exhibitors from 19 States and the District of Columbia, presenting a selection of antique merchandise reflecting the quality and scope of the Museum/Village collections.

The show opens Wednesday, May 15, with a Preview Night for Patrons ($75 per person) and Sponsors ($50 per person). Black tie is optional. Valet parking will be available. There'll be an opportunity to make purchases during the 6 to 9 p.m. preview, before the show opens to the public, and a cocktail reception in the show area.

Patrons, in addition to the cocktail reception, will be taken by horse-drawn carriage to the Eagle Tavern, where they'll be served an Early American dinner in authentic surroundings, complete with candlelight and interpreters in 19th century dress.

Another special event scheduled in connection with the show is a lecture, "Authenticating American Antique Furniture," by Albert M. Sack, vice-president of Israel Sack, Inc. He is the son of the company founder who played an integral part in assisting Henry Ford to acquire artifacts for display in the Museum and Village.

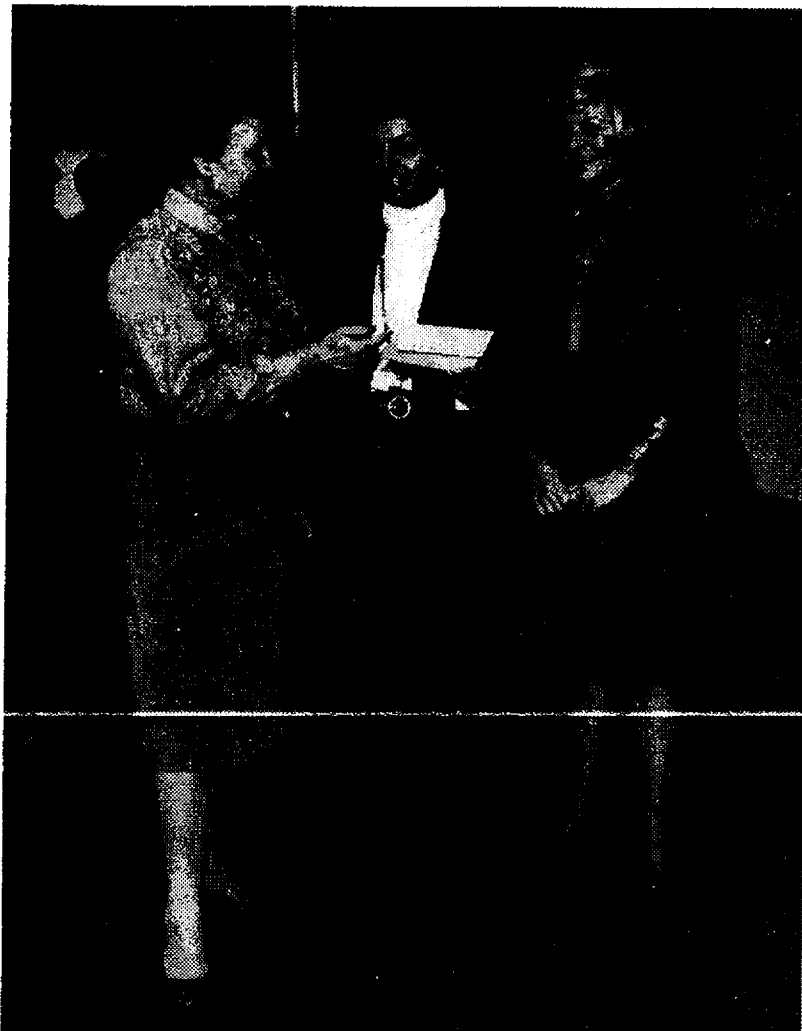

Admission to the lecture, which begins at 2 p.m. Friday, May 17, in the Henry Ford Museum Theater, is $5 per person, including a tea and pastry reception. Admission to the show, open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday, May 16 and 17, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, May 18, is $5 per person.

Information on Preview Party tickets and tickets for the Sack Lecture may be obtained by calling The Edison Institute's Development Office, 271-1620, Extension 214. Tickets for the show will be available at the Museum and Village entrances.

J. Jordan Humberstone is show manager. Among those serving on the honorary board are Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Ford II, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Manogian and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stroth.

Village Antiques Show selections available to the public have been chosen to appeal to the interests and tastes of discerning collectors and investors — and to casual buyers of collectibles.

There'll be 17th, 18th and 19th century furniture and accessories of American and European origin, including French-Canadian furnishings; paintings, prints and maps; hearth accessories and early lighting items; tall case, wall and mantle clocks; watches; folk art paintings, carvings and sculptures; painted furniture and textiles, including oriental rugs, quilts and coverlets.

Courtesy of The Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich.

Grosse Pointe's Mrs. Frank A. Germack (center), Patron chairman for the premiere Village Antiques Show, checks out a Preview Party invitation with Mrs. William S. Mullen (left), general chairman, and Mrs. Donald Austin, also a Pointe resident.

There'll be Chinese export porcelain, English pottery and porcelain, Staffordshire and Early American glass, Majolica, yellow ware, spongeware, Whieldon, Delft and white, decorated ironstone.

There'll be weathervanes, dolls, decoys, jewelry, marine arts and ship models . . . even automotive ephemera. Among other things.

Refreshments will be available on the Lovett Hall balcony, enclosed courtyard and Henry Ford Museum's American Cafe. An authentic 1850s midday meal will be served at the Eagle Tavern in Greenfield Village.

All proceeds from the show help support the operations of Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

An emotional lecture series

Sherwin Fine, director of the Center for New Thinking, will present a new spring lecture series, "Emotions and Human Relations," on Wednesdays at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Each lecture will run from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and will be based on a new book.

The program next Wednesday, May 8, on "The Rage Within: Anger in Everyday Life" by Willard Gaylin will deal with anger and fear as a means to survival.

"Anger," Wine says, "was meant to set the body's machinery into motion for a frontal attack on an enemy. Though we have grown civilized and our biologically-programmed anger mechanism has become obsolete, it persists.

"One has only to walk the streets of our cities to see anger. Gaylin targets the urban dweller as the being with the greatest and most destructive anger."

Francesco Alberoni's "Falling in Love" will be discussed the following Wednesday, May 15. This book on a universal human experience, one that preoccupies and changes us all, was written by one of Europe's most respected sociologists. He gives us a new way of understanding what we go through when we abandon our old self and commit ourselves to another person.

"Sex and Destiny" by Germaine Greer will be the final lecture topic Wednesday, May 22. Greer begins with a comparison between the parent-child relationship in the affluent west and the villages of the Middle East, India and Africa, leading the reader to ask some of the most profound and disturbing questions ever to challenge the nuclear family.

Do we in the west hate our children? If we protest in shock that we do not, why do we segregate, ignore and repress them — until they, in turn, retaliate by rejecting us in our old age? Is the west's obsession with overpopulation part of its rejection of its own fertility?

The series, sponsored by the War Memorial's Council of Sponsors, is offered at $16 for all three programs, $6.50 per lecture. Tickets may be purchased in advance or at the door. Further information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Vows spoken in St. Paul's

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lake was the setting for the wedding of Janet Eileen Audretsch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Audretsch, of Lincoln Road, and David Paul Cornillie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Cornillie, of Grand Circle.

Father Hector Saulino presided at the 6:30 o'clock ceremony Friday, September 28. A reception followed at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation in Bermuda. They are at home in Grosse Pointe Farms.

The bride wore an off-the-shoulder gown of white chiffon over taffeta, its bodice featuring lace appliques trimmed with seed pearls and iridescents. Matching appliques capped her short, puffed tulle sleeves and accented her over-the-elbow gloves.

Her two-tiered, fingertip veil was caught with a pouff falling from two circlets of pearls. She clasped a choker of cut crystal strands twisted to form a knot at the side around her neck, and carried an arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and English ivy.

Honor attendant Donna Marie Dennis and bridesmaids Pamela Rockacy, of Philadelphia, Pa., Clare Rogers, of Ann Arbor, and Margaret Harrison carried bouquets of rose carnations, stephanotis and English ivy.

Their rose taffeta dresses were styled with jewel necklines extending into a deep V in back, finished with a flat bow at the waist. Bows of matching material accented their short, tulip sleeves.

Best man was David Kuhnlein, of Orlando, Fla. Gregory Leinweber, of Aspen, Colo., Thomas Cornillie, of Houston, Tex., cousin of the bridegroom, Emery Audretsch, the bride's brother, and Warren Creamer III, of Chicago, Ill., seated the guests. Reader during the ceremony was Bernard H. Cornillie, the bridegroom's brother.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both selected formal length dresses, the former's of rose silk, with a matching lace overjacket woven of rose, gold and silver threads, the latter's of pale blue chiffon, sashed and cuffed in blue silk. Each mother wore an orchid corsage.

Find a mate via Phase I

Dr. Arnold R. Dreifuss will tell members of Phase I, the single, young adults, ages 25 to 40, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, "How to Find a Mate" this Sunday, May 5, at 7:45 p.m. at the church.

The speaker, a psychologist, teaches at Macomb Community College. He received his Ph.D. in Special Education from Wayne State University. He has a Master of Arts degree in Vocational Rehabilitation and expects to receive his second Master of Arts, in Substance Abuse, next year.

Phase I's spring "Go Fly a Kite" excursion to Metro Park is set for Saturday, May 4. Car pools will leave the church parking lot at 2 p.m. to rendezvous at the park tennis courts at 3 p.m. Each participant should bring his/her own kite, and a picnic lunch.

Elisabeth Fruehauf

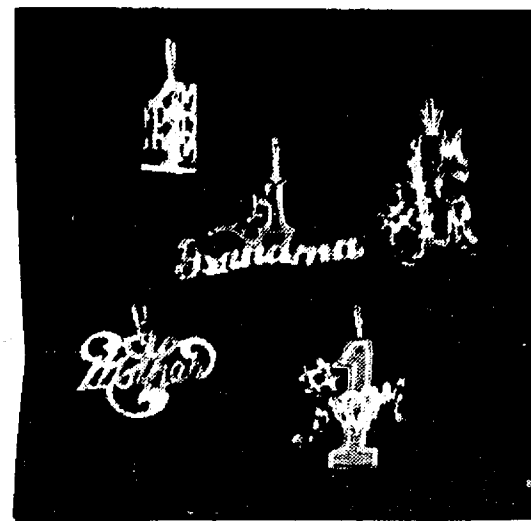

Plan to wed in December

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Charles Fruehauf Jr., of Ridge Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Elisabeth Lee, to Albert Anthony Prast, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Prast, of Willson Road. The wedding is planned for late December.

Miss Fruehauf was graduated from University Liggett School and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Denison University, where she affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She is a member of Tau Beta.

Her fiance, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumnus, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan, where he affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, and expects to receive his Master of Business Administration degree from Rollins College this month. He is employed by IBM in Orlando, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Simon

Mr. and Mrs. Brian H. Boyle

Pair exchange vows in north

A traditional, long-sleeved gown of ivory organza, accented with Chantilly lace and bead-trimmed at the bodice, its multi-layered, ruffled lace skirt sweeping into a full, multi-ruffled cathedral train, was Susan M. Sophiea's choice for her wedding to James M. Simon.

Her veil, two layers of matching lace falling to her waist, fell from a ring of flowers. She carried two dozen pale pink roses, with baby's-breath, greens and pink and ivory ribbons.

The 6 o'clock ceremony Friday, June 15, in Saint Francis Catholic Church, Traverse City, was followed by a reception at the Grand Traverse Area Resort. The newlyweds vacationed at Siesta Key, Fla. They are at home in Atlanta, Ga.

The bride's honor attendant was her sister, Michelle Curtis, of Traverse City, who carried two long-stemmed pink roses. Bridesmaids Theresa McDonald and Bethany, Tricia and Sara Sophiea, also sisters of the bride, Kay Gallagher, their cousin, and Barb and Mary Beth Simon, the bridegroom's sisters, each carried a single pink rose accented, as were the honor attendant's two roses, with matching pink ribbons and baby's-breath.

Their dresses of pink sheer organza were fashioned with petal-covered sleeves, drop-shoulder bodices and full length, ruffled skirts.

The new Mrs. Simon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Sophiea, of Cedar, Mich. Mr. Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Simon, of Shelden Road, asked John DeYonker, of Atlanta, to act as best man.

Ushering were Philip, Brad and Mark Simon, the bridegroom's brothers, Jimmy Simon, the bridegroom's nephew, Thomas Sophiea, the bride's brother, Chuck Cooper and Rob Burns.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of teal Qiana. White carnations and pink roses, accented with baby's-breath and teal ribbons, formed her corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a dress of lilac organza and a wrist corsage of pink roses.

Chicago home for the Boyles

At home in Chicago are Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hugh Boyle, who vacationed in Germany, Switzerland and Austria following their autumn marriage in Saint Michael's Church, Chicago. Presiding at the 11 o'clock rites Saturday, September 29, was Ramon Dompke, C.S.S.R. A reception followed at the Beverly Country Club.

The bride, the former Kathleen Patricia Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Dempsey, of Peoria, Ill., wore her mother's wedding gown, candlelight ivory in color, styled with a long-sleeved, shawl-collared bodice of Chantilly lace, a Chantilly lace apron and a back bustle.

Theresa A. Dempsey, of Peoria, acted as honor maid for her sister. Bridesmaids were Sheila E. Dempsey, another sister, Yolanda Torres, of Galveston, Tex., and Cheryl Rogala, of Plymouth. Their off-the-shoulder dresses of aubergine and lavender taffeta featured back bustle effects. They carried Sterling Silver roses.

Mr. Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin C. Boyle, of Whittier Road, asked former Birmingham resident J. Dana Darnley Jr., who now makes his home in Bloomington, Ind., to act as best man. Groomsmen were Thomas J. McDonald, of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of The Pointe, Richard S. Meller, of Evanston, Ill., and Kevin G. Boyle, of Ann Arbor, the bridegroom's brother.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress, dusty rose in color, with a lace overlay, and a white orchid wrist corsage. The bridegroom's mother also chose a floor length dress, of dusty rose chiffon, and a corsage of white orchids.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Buchanan, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. John Parenteau, of East Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Strickland, of Tonawanda, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Girard Dempsey, of Highland Beach, Fla., Leslie Anderson, of Minneapolis, Minn., John McCartney, of San Francisco, and Douglas Hart, of Cincinnati.

Eileen Mann wed in west

Eileen Marie Mann and Pierre Daniel LaMothe, M.D., exchanged marriage vows Friday, February 15, at a 4:30 o'clock ceremony in Carmel Mission Basilica, Carmel, Calif. Father Edward Belczak, of St. Thomas More Church, Troy, presided at the rites.

A reception followed at The Lodge at Pebble Beach, Calif., and a week later the daughter of Dr. Andrew Mann, who moved recently from Audubon Road, and the late Rita I. Mann, returned to The Pointe with her new husband to be honored at a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

For her marriage, the former Miss Mann selected a gown featuring a bodice and sleeves of re-embroidered Alencon lace over English netting and a full, satin-over-taffeta skirt trimmed at the hem with matching lace.

Her tea length veil was caught by a wreath of satin flowers. Satin ribbons accented her arm bouquet of long-stemmed, red roses and baby's-breath; during the ceremony, she detached one rose and presented it to the bridegroom's mother.

Joyce Erickson, of La Jolla, Calif., who attended the bride, wore a floor-length, full-sleeved, off-the-shoulder style dress of blue taffeta. She pinned baby's-breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of long-stemmed, pink roses.

Dr. LaMothe, son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel LaMothe, of Pebble Beach, is a former Somerset Road resident. He was attended by James Dirickson, of San Francisco, as best man. Ushers were Kimble Cater, of Pebble Beach, and Glenn Zwang, of Lafayette, Calif.

The mother of the bride wore a three-quarter-length dress of blue and black silk. Miniature white orchids formed her corsage.

The officiating priest, a friend of the Mann family, and the bride's father and brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Mann, traveled to California for the ceremony and reception which was followed by a family dinner at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Out-of-state guests at the California reception also included the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Karoubi, and Arizona resident Robert Goodwin.

The reception in Michigan was attended by the bride's three brothers and five sisters, multiple relatives and close friends of the couple. Out-of-state guests included the bride's uncle, Thomas Mann, who lives in Florida, her sister, Dorothy Mann, a Maryland resident, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Mann, Pennsylvania residents.

More were Indiana residents Mr. and Mrs. David Baynon, New Jersey resident Holly Strek and Kentucky residents Dr. and Mrs. David Simpson.

After a skiing vacation in Snowmass, Colo., the newlyweds returned to California to make their home in San Francisco's Sunset District.

Blue Water ABWA will meet in May

Dr. Maureen Otterson, reading teacher at Pleasantview School in East Detroit and a former principal, will speak on "New Trends in Education" at the Tuesday, May 7, meeting of the Blue Water Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association at MaMa Mia's Restaurant on Plymouth Road in Livonia.

Arlene Kraft, formerly of Leon's in Grosse Pointe, will give the vocational talk, reporting on her activities since her retirement. The dinner program begins at 6:30 p.m. All working women are welcome. Virginia Buzzelli, 772-4142, is accepting reservations.

'Understudies' change guard

Mrs. Paul W. Czamanske Jr., of Bloomfield Hills, has succeeded Farms resident Mrs. Wilber Hadley Mack as president of The Understudies Association for Theatre at Wayne State University.

Lois Mack will serve with other past-presidents, among them Farms resident Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker Jr. and Shores resident Mrs. Joseph A. Vance Jr., on Barbara Czamanske's Understudies' executive committee.

Other Pointe residents who are members of the women's organization which aids the WSU theatres via fund raising for Hilberry Graduate Repertory Company fellowships, working to expand the audience and supporting other theatre projects, such as the recent renovation of Hilberry's backstage area, include Mrs. John Balian, Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, Mrs. Michael J. Connor and Mrs. Ronald K. Dalby.

More are Mrs. Peter R. Fink, Mrs. C. Jackson France, Mrs. Carl W. Lohmann, Mrs. Donald R. Mandich, Mrs. A. David Mikesell, Mrs. S.W. Sorensen Jr., Mrs. Edward St. C. Thomas, Mrs. L. Murray Thomas, Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, Mrs. Edward J. Tutag, Mrs. Vollrad J. von Berg, Mrs. Robert Wall, Mrs. G. Mennen Williams and Mrs. Saad Elias Zara.

Cranbrook hosts 'Gala de Cuisine'

More than 45 chefs will participate in Cranbrook School's seventh annual Gala de Cuisine, to be presented Sunday, May 5, from 3 to 7 p.m. in the school's Quadrangle and Great Hall. Tickets at $100 per person ($125 patron; $150 benefactor), covering gourmet dining in classic surroundings, wine, music, entertainment and a Gala Cookbook, may be reserved by calling 645-3134. Proceeds go to Cranbrook School.

Mrs. Czamanske began her term of office with a tea for the Understudies at her home in late April. The kickoff luncheon meeting for the group's 1985-86 fund-raising drive, on Tuesday, June 4, at McGregor Memorial Conference Center, will be followed by a reception hosted by WSU President David Adamany in his apartment.

DSO season ends May 11

Russian pianist Alexander Toradze will replace Ivo Pogorelich in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's final subscription concert of the season Thursday, May 9, at 8 p.m., Friday, May 10, at 10:45 a.m. and Saturday, May 11, at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium, as Pogorelich, due to illness, has been forced to cancel his appearances in Boston, New York and Detroit. Music Director Gunther Herbig will be on the podium.

Toradze, who will also appear with the DSO at Meadow Brook on Thursday, Aug. 1, was silver medalist in the Van Cliburn Competition in 1977, his first year of concerts in the United States. Born in the Soviet Union, he has resided in the States since 1983.

For the final subscription concert of the current season, he will perform the same work Pogorelich was to have played: Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No. 3. The programs open with Weber's Overture to Euryanthe and will close with Strauss' Ein Heldenleben, Op. 40.

Tickets, ranging in price from $10 to $19 for the Thursday and Saturday evening concerts, from $10 to $16 for the Friday morning concert which include complimentary coffee and doughnuts provided by Michigan AAA, are available at the Ford Auditorium box office, 567-1400, Hudson's and all CTC/Ticket World outlets.

To reveal Greek cooking secrets

Assumption Cultural Center's Irene Rousos will conduct a "Discover Greek Cooking" workshop next Thursday, May 9, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Assumption, located on Marter Road at the border of Grosse Pointe Woods and St. Clair Shores.

Preparation of spinach pie (spanakopita) and Greek salad will be covered. Fee is $8. Further information may be obtained by calling 779-6111.

Children of Mary to close season

The Children of Mary gather tomorrow, Friday, May 3, at the Grosse Pointe Academy for their final meeting of the 1984-85 season. The Reverend Arthur McGovern, S.J., will offer mass at 10 a.m., after which new officers will be elected and installed. Sister Helen Healy, R.S.C.J., from the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, will be guest speaker.

'Aida' stars fall on Pointe

Michigan Opera Theatre's grand opera production of "Aida" with Leona Mitchell in the title role was a sellout for its Thursday, April 18, and Saturday, April 20, performances at Masonic Temple, and a capacity crowd of MOT supporters filled the Country Club of Detroit for the Friday, April 19, reception and dinner honoring the "Aida" stars.

It was a glittering evening, celebrating one of the most ambitious projects ever undertaken by MOT: a production that involved an artistic staff and cast of more than 300 singers, dancers, supernumeraries and orchestra musicians.

MOT's Gala 15th Anniversary Season promises to be no less dazzling than the one just concluded with "Aida." Autumn of '85 brings performances of Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi" and Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" in a double bill, Von Flotow's "Martha" and Bernstein and Sondheim's "West Side Story" at the Fisher Theatre.

A cookbook for mother?

Looking for something different to give your mother/mother-in-law this Mother's Day? You can solve that problem, and help fight cancer, with the gift of a Michigan Cancer Foundation cookbook, "Our Best To You," compiled by MCF staff and volunteers.

It's a 225-page cookbook, containing over 200 family favorite recipes and house specialties from more than 20 area restaurants. It costs $7, and may be purchased at the MCF's East Regional Service Center, 13 Mile and Hayes Road in Warren, open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The cookbook is also available at the MCF offices on South Main Street in Romeo, open from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, and the MCF's Mount Clemens Branch on South Gratiot, open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Proceeds from "Our Best to You" sales aid cancer patients and their families. For more information on the cookbooks or other MCF services, contact the East Regional Service Center at 294-4430.

For subscription ticket information, dial the Michigan Opera Theatre Subscription Hotline — 963-0920.

Make special 'spring thing'

Libby Van de Putte will teach basic smocking stitches and heirloom sewing techniques when she presents a "Smocked Spring Bonnet" workshop at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Tuesday, May 14.

The 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. effort will result in an old-fashioned, ruffle-brimmed bonnet with satin ribbon ties. Students should bring a scissors and sewing pins to the $10 class. An additional $5, payable to the instructor on the day of the program, is for supplies.

Marge Pankhurst returns to the War Memorial Saturday, May 18, to teach a 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. "Creative Sweats" workshop. Her students will create an original, one-of-a-kind sweatshirt via fabric applique or their own free-style painting.

Participants should bring a sweatshirt and a sack lunch for their day in the "Sweet Shop." Cost is $20 per person, including supplies.

Additional information on either of the spring special workshops may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Chrysanthemum Society to meet

Marie Gasko, of East Detroit, will present a program on the "Propagation of Mums" at the Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society's free, open-to-the-public meeting this Sunday, May 5, at 2 p.m. in the Community Room of the Tel-Twelve Mall.

The society's annual chrysanthemum plant sale will take place Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 33451 Rayburn, Livonia. Plants may be ordered in advance by contacting sale chairman Edwin M. Slesak at 422-6165.

Woods Garden Club to meet

The Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club gathers next Tuesday, May 7, at Hudson's Eastland for a noon luncheon followed by a brief meeting: a repeat of the club's April luncheon meeting format.

Church circles to meet May 7

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Women's Association Circles meet next Tuesday, May 7, at 9:30 a.m., 1 or 7:30 p.m. according to their regular time schedules.

Serving as hostesses will be Helen Huber, at her Lakepointe Avenue home; Nancy Stevens, in her Ballantyne Road home; Lorine Forster, in her Sunningdale Drive home; Liz Wood, in her Lakeview Road home; and Mary Ernberger, in her Pemberton Road home. Circle One will gather in the church Youth Lounge for a potluck luncheon.

Refreshments and fellowship precede Bible study at these monthly circle meetings. Visitors are welcome. Further information may be obtained by contacting Pauline Dykstra, circles coordinator, at 882-5330.

The State Theater in the Francis Palms Building was built, and Barat House opened its doors.

Return with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear, to a State Theater where extensive renovation has restored the inner lobby, auditorium and stage to its original magnificence, and make very merry on Saturday, May 11, at the Friends of Barat Human Services' First Annual Big Event: The Swashbucklers, a benefit to raise funds ($25,000, hopefully!) to help continue the operation of Barat Respite Care Center for infants who are at risk of being abused or neglected.

The evening includes a wine reception, dueling swordsmen from Wayne State's national championship team, a screening of the Errol Flynn swashbuckler epic "Captain Blood," a dessert buffet, cash bar and dancing to Austin-Moro's music. Information on tickets at $25 per person, tax deductible, may be obtained by calling 833-1525.

In its 60th year, Barat Human Services provides a Residence for Teen-Age Girls, a Family Counseling Center and the Respite Care Center for infants to five-year-olds in danger of abuse or neglect. There is a desperate need to expand the latter facility, which currently can provide for only four children at a time, but increasing expenses and a critical shortage of funds may force Respite Care's closing, eliminating infant care from the Barat program. Hence The Swashbucklers, the Barat Friends' First Annual Big Event. Plan on participating in it — you couldn't make merrier in a better cause.

The Biggest Show in Town

The entire Center for Creative Studies-College of Art and Design campus on East Kirby Street in Detroit's University/Cultural Center will become a visual arts display of more than 2,000 works, advertising design to printmaking, ceramics to jewelry, for Michigan's oldest and largest student art exhibit and sale. It's the 59th Annual Student Exhibition, running May 18 through June 12, open Thursday through Sunday (except Memorial Day weekend, May 25 and 26) from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Group tours are available by special arrangement. Art-Vue Concerts featuring Detroit jazz musicians are scheduled for noon May 21, 22 and 23, outdoors in the college's courtyard. Admission to the concerts, co-sponsored by the Detroit Community Music School, funding provided by a grant from the Detroit Council for the Arts, is free.

The event's justly-celebrated Preview Party is not free. But at $40 per person, $75 per couple, it's a great buy, offering music, dancing, an array of gourmet delicacies, cocktails, glassblowing demonstrations and on-the-spot portraits by caricature artists. Tickets for the 5:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday, May 16, preview may be obtained through the college's Public Relations office, 872-3118.

Last Call for 'Clear View'

If you haven't called in your reservations for "A Clear View," the cabaret-style revue, focusing on the needs of unsighted people, to be presented next Thursday, May 9, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, you'd better get to a phone right away!

Admission to the 7 to 10 p.m. program sponsored by the Friends of Vision and the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology is free... but reservations are required, and the deadline is 5 p.m. Thursday, May 2. That's 5 p.m. TODAY. Once you have phone in hand, the number to dial is 824-4710.

Tell-ing time for Pettipointe

Pettipointe Questers gather at the home of Mrs. Haig Tarpinian at 11:30 a.m. this morning, Thursday, May 2, for a luncheon meeting. Each member has been asked to bring an antique, involving flowers, for a show-and-tell program. The Pettipointers were entertained, royally, by the Gateway Heirlooms Quester Chapter of Windsor in April, at a meeting in the Windsor home of former Pointer Mrs. Donald Cyr. The program topic was "Smocks and Smocking."

Make a date for pap test

Screening for cervical cancer will be conducted by specially-trained nurses on Monday, May 20, at the Michigan Cancer Foundation's East Regional Service Center, located at 13 Mile and Hayes Roads in Warren. The pap test is quick and painless. It is recommended for all women, especially those over 40, and costs $8. Further information may be obtained and test appointments made by calling 294-4430 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A symphony of Pointe salads

The Shores home of MARIANNE ENDICOTT (left) will be the setting for the Eighth Annual Spring Salad Luncheon sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association. The concept originated with Duall Martin, then-president of the Pointe Symphony Women, as a way to reward the association's volunteers. This year's party, on Wednesday, May 8, will especially honor the people who have opened their homes for the event: Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Denise (1978), Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie (1979), Mr. and Mrs. George Simon (1980), Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drettman (1981), Mr. and Mrs. Frank Germack Jr. (1982), Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jacques (1983) and Mr. and Mrs. William Yates (1984). General chairman of the affair is PAT YOUNG (right). Mailing chairman is MAHIE SKAFF (center), who opened her home in early April for an addressing session. Pat hosted a pre-luncheon "salad sampling" at her home later in the month. Reservations for the luncheon, at $15 per person tax deductible, are limited; information may be obtained by calling 886-6970 or 886-6244. Marge Fahim is in charge of reservations. Duall Martin of hostesses, who will be past-party chairman. Alice Reisig serves as consultant. Katherine Wasserfallen is in charge of the raffle. Mary Evelyn Self is the Pointe Symphony Women's current president.

Pay mid-May church visits

Visitors are welcome to join the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church for an historic church tour Tuesday, May 14, arranged by Mrs. Frank Turpin and Mrs. Edward Price, the association's program co-chairmen. The group will visit Fort Street Presbyterian Church, where they will have lunch and enjoy a service. They will also tour the 140-year-old First Congregational Church and hear its organ.

Reservations may be made and further information obtained by calling the church office, 884-3075.

Offer needlecraft demonstrations

Proceeds from donations and 10 percent of purchases made in conjunction with three free needlecraft demonstrations to be held this Saturday, May 4, at the Park home of Mrs. Ronald Carpenter will be collected for the American Heart Association.

The needlecraft party runs from 1 to 6 p.m. Interested persons may come for all three demonstrations or for a single lesson. Counted Cross Stitch will be demonstrated at 1:30 p.m., Candlewicking at 3 p.m. and Crewel/Needlepoint at 4:30 p.m. Individual project samples will be handed out at each demonstration. Prize drawings will be held immediately following each lesson. Refreshments will be served. Reservations for the lessons are requested; they may be made, and further information obtained, by calling 884-1537 or 823-3703.

Creative Circle needlecraft representatives are hosting the party. They will be available to take individual needlecraft kit orders from the Creative Circle Catalogue, and will present a display of completed kits.

Annual brunch for Fontbonne

All members of the Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital and guests are welcome at the auxiliary's general meeting and annual brunch on Wednesday, May 15. The day begins at 10 a.m., with mass in the hospital's Saint Edward Chapel.

Then it's on to the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for cocktails, served at 11 a.m., followed by brunch, presentation of awards to Fontbonne members for their services during the year, presentation of Fontbonne's annual check to the hospital and installation of new officers.

Co-chairing the day are Janet (Mrs. Robert E.) Birk and Pam (Mrs. Roger) Stanton. Reservation information may be obtained by calling the Fontbonne office, 343-3675.

AWC schedules annual meeting

The Detroit Metropolitan Chapter of the Association for Women in Computing will hold its annual meeting next Wednesday, May 8, at 6:30 p.m. at the Somerset Inn-Troy. Officers will be elected. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling 588-5404 or 456-7166. Cost is $18 for non-members, $13 for members.

PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK APRIL 28-MAY 4

For the 29th year, realtors throughout the nation have set aside this week to remind citizens of their right to home ownership. These rights are precious and should never be taken for granted. Rather, they must be protected and preserved for future generations. We invite you to join us and all other members of the National Association of Realtors in the observance of Private Property Week.

"The strength of a nation lies in the homes of its people."

— Abraham Lincoln

WHAT'S YOUR HOME REALLY WORTH. At Schweitzer Real Estate/Better Homes and Gardens we don't just guess and give you a figure. We examine up-to-date information about your neighborhood, compare recent sales and current comparable homes for sale. The result is a quantitative no-guess estimate of your home's market value.

The Academy's child-centered approach is part of what impressed Mrs. Walter B. (Toni) Robinson about the school. Her Academy-educated children (two in college, one a college graduate) benefitted from it, and as a long-time member of the Academy's Board of Trustees she is one of the group of people responsible for seeing that approach maintained.

The current 22.5-acre campus encompasses seven buildings, 88,000 square feet, three tennis courts, a skating rink and fields for baseball, field hockey and soccer. It was designated a Michigan Historical Site in 1977, and in honor of the school's Centennial Celebration this fall will undergo landscaping and access-design changes.

The present coeducational day school serves 387 students from Early School (2-5) through Middle School (grades 6-8) who come from Detroit, Fraser, the Grosse Pointes, Hamtramck, Harper Woods, Harrison, Mount Clemens, New Baltimore, St. Clair Shores, Sterling Heights and Warren.

They are exposed to a curriculum offered by a school which describes itself as "Catholic by tradition and ecumenical in outlook" as well as to a full range of extracurricular and athletic activities.

While the Academy has evolved in appearance and educational offerings in the past 100 years (students who attended the school in 1885 didn't enjoy the use of computers or video tapes, nor could they participate in an Academy Adventure, a series of outdoor adventure trips the school offers each summer), much of what the Academy is differs very little from what the Religious Order of the Sacred Heart set out to make it.

"This school is a forerunner in its category — it was one of the first private schools in Michigan run by a religious order which, although it was reorganized into an independent, coeducational school, has retained its original philosophy," says Mrs. Robinson.

"We have what very few other schools have: a continuation of the same philosophy written in 1885, as well as operation under the same charter and in the same location."

She explains that the Academy's primary goal since 1969 has been to provide a unique educational service for the communities surrounding Grosse Pointe. Often, though, those unfamiliar to the school are unaware of its purpose.

"Lots of times, people think we are affiliated with St. Paul's Church, or run by a religious order. That's a misunderstanding we deal with quite often," Mrs. Robinson says. While the Academy enjoys its relationship with St. Paul's, its nearest neighbor, it is an independent school which has as its main goal the desire to serve a heterogeneous mix of students from surrounding areas.

"We're an independent school without walls. That's been our whole direction since 1969 — to build those bridges of understanding between people and communities. We are a school with a fine tradition of Judeo-Christian ethics which wants to provide a quality education to our students."

"Our most important goals are making sure that our students learn what they must to achieve their goals in life and seeing that they are the kind of people who believe in themselves enough to succeed in those goals," she added.

In plain English, a Grosse Pointe Academy education is not an inexpensive proposition . . . for either the school or the individual student. The Academy does not award full scholarships, but allots a substantial amount of its operating budget for financial and scholarship aid.

The Academy is a non-profit organization which receives its support the annual giving from tuition, alumni and friends of the school and its annual fundraiser, the Action Auction. "We have always made a concerted effort to provide assistance for children who otherwise may not afford to attend the Academy," Mrs. Robinson says. "We want this school to be a place for our children to learn together and to live together in a sense of community . . . it can't be that if there are members of the community who can't get here."

The Academy's Action Auction was created 18 years ago to help make sure that those members of the community got to the Academy. Organizers say the Auction is the most successful of its kind in the nation, last year raising over $200,000. It is the school's main source of revenue, as well as its main social event. It is also the most tangible embodiment of the spirit of the Grosse Pointe Academy.

Marjean (Mrs. Luis H.) Toledo and her husband are the general chairmen of this year's Action Auction. She first got involved in the Auction five years ago, working on various jobs. "The nice thing about participating in the Action Auction is that I am working for my children."

Nearly every Academy parent would say the same thing, Mrs. Toledo says. Action committee members who gathered at the home of acquisitions coordinators Dr. and Mrs. J. Desmond (Susan) Davies one day last week agreed.

"It's the family atmosphere I've found at the Academy that attracts me. My children have been at other schools and nowhere have I found the spirit of cooperation that I have found here. You get a large number of parents together, and the first thing everyone wants to know is how they can help," says Mrs. Edward B. (Jamie) Wallace Jr., who with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. (Kay) Van Til are serving as Action Auction advertising chairmen.

Even the Academy students get involved, selling drawing tickets at $1 each. "By keeping it at $1, any child can participate . . . even those who don't have as many contacts as some children. The kids can feel they are participating as much as their parents are," adds raffle chairman Mrs. Douglas (Cheryl) Busbey.

Action Auction has, like the Academy itself, undergone many outward changes while remaining essentially the same. Acquisitions chairmen, under the guidance of the Davies' and acquisitions coordinators Mr. and Mrs. William (Christie) Zoufal, solicit donations from corporations, resorts, retail stores, celebrities, artists and individuals. For $35 per person parents, friends, alumni and local residents enjoy hors d'oeuvres supper, a cash bar, wine and valet parking at the Academy, where they get a chance to bid on many items.

That part of the Auction hasn't changed, but now, unlike 18 years ago, all the Auction information is computerized, the items are bigger and better, and the Silent Auction is conducted by computer.

"I've been impressed by the people I've contacted whom I don't know, but who go to such great lengths to help out just because they've heard good things about the Academy," says Mrs. Wallace. "People familiar with the Auction know it's a stellar event. Those who aren't familiar with it . . . well, when we tell them about the revenue and publicity it generates from all over the country in terms of advertising, and who donates, they are impressed."

"Parents express their thanks to the retailers when they go into the stores, and that helps, too. You can see what a cooperative effort the Action Auction is," Mrs. Toledo says.

DuMouchelle Galleries has been very supportive of the Action Auction, the organizers say. "That says something about the Auction: that a professional group of people like the DuMouchelles want to come back year after year and assist us," Mrs. Davies says.

Among the items to be auctioned by Lawrence and Ernest J. DuMouchelle at the May 11 event are a weekend in San Francisco for two, a balloon trip for four people, a week in a castle in Italy for 10, an oriental rug, a computer system, and 95 others. The silent auction, which takes place from 5 to 6:30 p.m. preceding the Live Auction, includes nearly 400 items.

"It'll be a wonderful party, a good way to celebrate the Academy's Centennial and there'll be some terrific items for purchase," Mrs. Toledo says.

"If this action is a success — and we think it will be — the key to that success will have been Marjean Toledo. She's the most unflappable, unfailingly friendly person I've ever met. And she had to be that way while working every day for nearly a year on this Auction," Mrs. Wallace says.

"Well, I've had a wonderful committee and gotten lots of cooperation, and that helps," Mrs. Toledo adds.

Which isn't surprising. Typical of the cooperation when it comes to Action Auction was last year, when the Auction site, the Detroit Athletic Club, went on strike and Auction organizers had 24 hours to find a new one. It was an opportunity to see the Academy community in action, the women say. Volunteers came out of the woodwork, new arrangements were made, the Auction was moved to the Academy itself — and the result was one of the most successful events in the school's history.

And perfect proof that where the Academy is concerned, the more things change, the more they remain the same.

The 18th annual Grosse Pointe Academy Action Auction will take place on Saturday, May 11, at 5 p.m. at the Academy, 171 Lakeshore Road. Tickets are $35 per person; reservations may be made by calling 886-1802.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — collection of Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth continuing, this week, a series of the benefits of SEEDS/GRAINS.

Try serving a small portion of protein food in rice, with a serving of corn or carrots. Add shredded carrots or shelled peas to a low-calorie salad dressing. Toss some nuts in your salad. Nibble on peanut butter-covered crackers: peanut butter furnishes six important nutrients. Red kidney beans contain seven important nutrients, and also are a great source of Vitamin on the benefits of SEEDS/GRAINS.

STIR-FRIED CORN, CHINESE STYLE

1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced
1 pkg. (10-oz.) frozen snow peas
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/4 tsp. salt
1 bunch green onions, cut into 1/2-inch slices
1/4 cup safflower oil
4 ears cooked corn
1 tsp. ground ginger
1 Tbsp. soy sauce
Saute celery, mushrooms, snow peas, crushed garlic, salt and green onions in oil in large skillet until tender, about 3 minutes. Cut corn from cobs; add with ginger and soy sauce to mixture in skillet. Cook, stirring, just until thoroughly hot. Makes 6 servings.
Calories per serving about 168.

SUMMER SUNSHINE SALAD

4 cups mixed greens
1 cup celery, thinly sliced
1 cup zucchini, cut lengthwise in half, then thinly sliced
1 cup cucumber, cut lengthwise in half, seeds removed, then thinly sliced
1/4 lb. mushrooms, thinly sliced
1 large tomato, diced
1/2 cup parsley, coarsely chopped
2 Tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
2 Tbsp. pumpkin seeds
1 Tbsp. sunflower seeds
1 Tbsp. slivered almonds
4 radishes, thinly sliced
1/2 cup Creamy Yogurt Dressing
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup grated raw beets
1 cup grated carrots
1 cup alfalfa sprouts
Toss together all ingredients except cottage cheese, beets, carrots and sprouts. Mound mixture in lettuce cups. Top each serving with 1/4 cup cottage cheese and sprouts. Garnish with lemon wedge and parsley sprigs. Makes 4 servings.
Calories per serving about 250.
Cholesterol about 7 mgs.

VEGETARIAN RICE CASSEROLE

1 Tbsp. margarine
1 onion, finely minced
1 large carrot, diced
1 cup Chinese cabbage, shredded
1 cup snow peas
1 cup spinach leaves, shredded
1 cup romaine or escarole, shredded
1 1/2 cups bean sprouts
1/2 cup English walnuts, chopped
2 Tbsp. sesame seeds
Soy sauce to taste
4 cups cooked brown rice
1/2 cup Egg Beaters, well beaten
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
Heat margarine in large skillet and saute onion and carrot until onion is translucent. Add Chinese cabbage, snow peas, spinach leaves and lettuce; cover pan and cook, without added liquid, until wilted. Add bean sprouts, walnuts, sesame seeds and soy sauce. Cover and steam 3 minutes. Mix in rice and reheat.
Make a well in the middle of the vegetable mixture and add the well beaten "eggs" into which the stiffly beaten egg white has been folded. Cook, stirring, until "eggs" are cooked. Check seasonings. Transfer to a casserole and keep warm for serving. Garnish with tomato wedges. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

"Contestant No. 1, remember that we're in the Double Jeopardy round now. What's your category?"

"Art. I'll take 'Questions and answers' for $50."

"Okay, the answer is 'Some silly Grosse Pointe News sportswriter/columnist, that's who.'"

"Gee Art, that's tough. I'll say the question is 'Who is famous for running her little sports lists more times than the reading public can count?'"

"Contestant No. 1, you are correct. Don Pardo, tell him what he's won."

"Art, Contestant No. 1 has won $100 in Double Jeopardy, a case of Turtle Wax Car Polish and a fur from Giorgio's, plus the opportunity to read that aforementioned list..."

What's great ... and what ain't

What's great is that South High's varsity softball team went up against the "big girls" in the 16-team, double-elimination Sterling Heights Invitational Tournament last Saturday. And won it. South's pitching marvel Lynn Vismara performed her usual mound magic and wound up being the tournament MVP.

What ain't is that I missed the whole thing. I was over at North High watching a boys' baseball doubleheader and wasn't able to watch South beat No. 2-ranked Sterling Heights.

What's great is that South's girls are playing so well this season.

What ain't is that they aren't ranked ... at least they weren't by press time.

What's great is that, while I couldn't watch South's girls play softball, I did get a chance to catch the North-South boys' baseball doubleheader. They played a couple of fascinating, if not flawless, games. And they managed to make my life easier by splitting and not sweeping.

What ain't is that a controversial play at the plate put a damper on the whole thing. Watching an injured catcher roll around in pain isn't my idea of fun and I'll bet he wasn't too choked up about it, either.

What's great is that North High junior Bill Hoover, who takes sports photos and writes North game summaries for this section, took home a first place in photography in the recent Michigan Interscholastic Art Awards contest. Hoover's basketball photo of North cager Dan Kopitzke taking a jump shot was entered into competition by North athletic director Tom Gauerke and Hoover ended up with the top prize.

What ain't is that once or twice this past winter sports season, some joker forgot to include a photo credit for Hoover's getting-better-all-the-time photo work. She shall remain nameless, but promises never to do it again.

What's great is that South's boys' beat North in track for the first time in 16 years and that South's girls' soccer team didn't give up a single goal in its first four games.

What ain't is that it's too bad that can't happen to all the teams.

What's great is that I was foresighted enough to turn off the TV and go to sleep long before the Detroit Tigers gave up 10 runs in two innings to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory after leading 7-1 in Milwaukee last week.

What ain't is that all we heard about for four days after that is what a "tragedy" that game was and "how will the Tigers bounce back from such a horrible defeat." Lighten up, folks, this isn't D-Day, you know?

What's great is that this past weekend afforded out staff photographer with an opportunity to shoot some fantastic sports shots of action in sailing, track and baseball.

What's great are the sweatshirts worn by the North High girls' track team: they say "It's performance that counts" on the front.

What ain't is trying to identify the athletes who are performing in a track and field meet. They don't wear numbers and everybody tends to look alike when they're out there sweating their heads off.

What's great is this Sunday's annual "We're Up for Health" Fun Run/Walk sponsored by Cottage Hospital and the Meade Group.

What ain't? Nothing. This is an excellent opportunity for racewalkers, walkers, runners and even temporarily-motivated professional loungers to hit the streets of Grosse Pointe in this 3.1 mile event. Since I am a seldom-motivated professional loungeur, I have to rely on the word of previous participants who tell me that the event is fun, affords a great "tour" of Grosse Pointe neighborhoods and the monies raised go to benefit the Cottage Hospital on behalf of its Auxiliary.

Battle for bragging rights ends in draw

North on target in league South faces tough week

By Bill Hoover
North High

North High's varsity baseball team started out its Bi-County title quest on the right foot with two league wins last week ... but a Saturday doubleheader split with rival South left some doubt as to the No. 1 high school baseball team in Grosse Pointe.

North beat Clintondale, 12-4, on April 22 behind a strong pitching performance by Dan Kopitzke. He allowed five hits and one earned run while striking out eight in a complete game. Offensively, North was led by Steve Pochmara, who had three hits and a solo home run; Tim Rice, with two hits and three RBI; Ken Straske, two hits and four stolen bases; and Dennis D'Agnese, two doubles and four RBI.

On Friday, the Norsemen came from three runs down after one inning to bomb L'Anse Creuse, 17-4, behind the pitching of D'Agnese and Bill Miller. D'Agnese, who pitched four innings, was awarded the win, allowing only two hits as did Miller.

Offensively, seven players had two hits for North. Kopitzke knocked in five runs with his solo home run and grand slam; Rice collected three RBI with a single and a homer; Weidenbach drove in two runs with a single and a triple; Straske drove in another with a double and a triple. D'Agnese scored three runs with his two hits while Steve Pochmara was credited with one RBI and two hits.

Frank Vento also had two hits for North.

In the first game of Saturday's pair with South High, North started well, getting a two-run homer from Kopitzke and another run in the fifth. As Coach Frank Sumner stated, "things seemed very much in hand" — until the sixth inning, when the Norsemen fell apart. With one out, North dropped a routine pop fly to put two Blue Devils on base. A triple scored the two runners and another error allowed the tying run to score. A poor throw from the rightfielder moved the runner into scoring position, and yet another error scored him.

South's final run was scored on a sacrifice fly and a throw to the plate where Blue Devil Bill Adlhoeh kicked the ball out of catcher Bryan Ulatowski's hand and was allowed to score. When the dust cleared, the Blue Devils held a 6-3 lead and went on to win.

"Craig Engel pitched a great game but got little support," Sumner said. Engel allowed only four hits and one earned run.

In the second game, the Norsemen came from behind twice to defeat the Blue Devils, 9-8.

Craig Como started for the Norsemen and was relieved by Straske who earned the win before leaving in the fifth. Kopitzke, stepping in for Straske, earned the save and "closed the door," according to Coach Sumner.

Big sticks for North were Joe Weidenbach, two hits and three

"North was rated in the top 10 ... which shows we can play with anybody." — South coach Dan Griesbaum

South High

If you had asked South varsity baseball coach Dan Griesbaum before last Saturday who he would want at the plate if his team had loaded the bases with two out and one run down against North High in the seventh inning, he undoubtedly would have said "Rick Waugaman." He still will.

But Waugaman's bouncer up the middle couldn't find its way to the outfield in the real-life situation in game two of last Saturday's doubleheader. The Norsemen got the force out and a split in the doubleheader, 9-8, after they dropped the first game, 6-3.

What South did gain was a whole lot of confidence. The Devils took game one and gave North all it could handle in the second contest. "North was rated in the top 10, which shows we can play with anybody," Griesbaum said. He said that the win over North, where he was once JV baseball coach, had "added meaning."

It was also the first varsity baseball victory for South over North in eight years, which "made it a particularly big win," he added.

It was a particularly big inning — the sixth — in the first game which gave the Devils the victory. All six South runs crossed the plate in that inning, which Griesbaum called the most exciting frame he's coached in his stint at South. Rico

Cordova started the barrage with a two-run triple that tied the score at 2-2. Anthony Eugenio singled him home, then scored himself when a Tom Fellows single was misplayed in right. Bill Adlhoeh singled and eventually scored on a Jason Colegrove sacrifice.

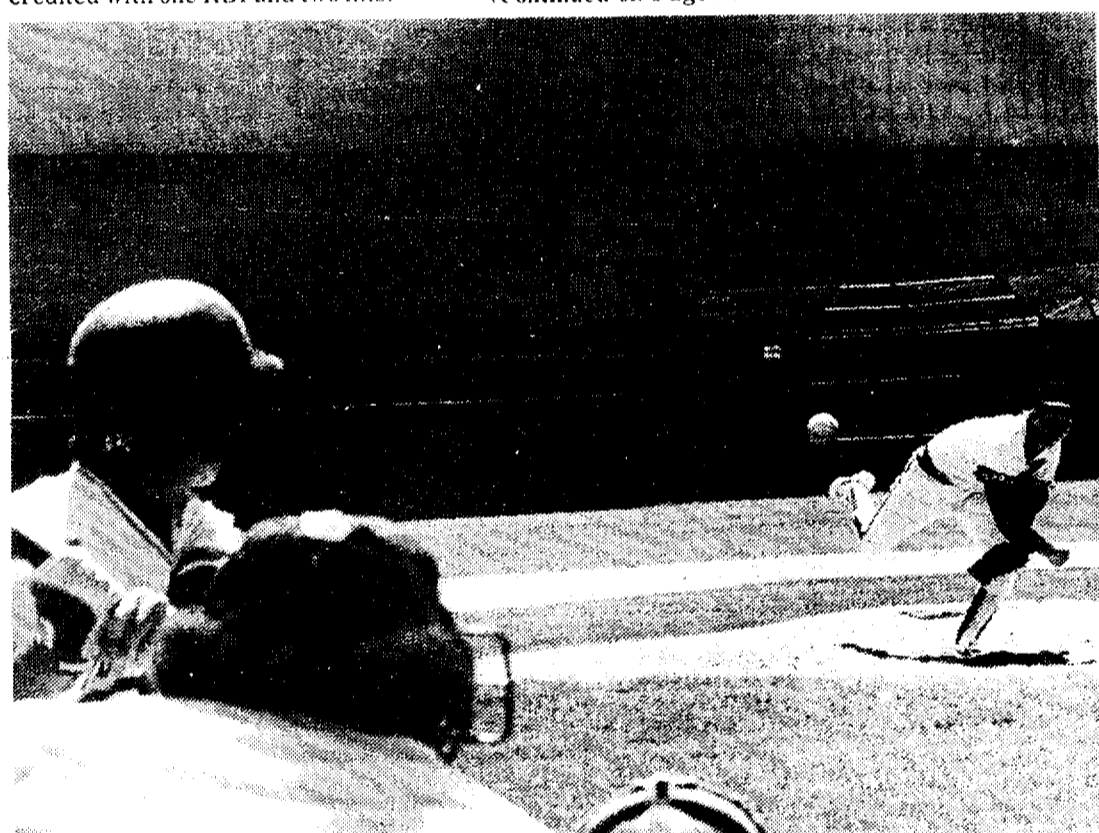

Jerry Joliet went the first five innings for South and got the win on the mound. He gave up three hits, struck out five and walked one. Rick Leonard worked the last two innings for the Devils.

Adlhoeh was the big gun in South's losing cause in game two. His two home runs were as surprising as they were important. Griesbaum said, "I've never seen him hit two balls further than that," he added. Eugenio was 2-for-3 with two RBI in the game and Waugaman added a couple of hits and one RBI. South led the second game, 6-2, until the third inning, when North tallied five runs to take the lead for good.

Steve Goodrich started and went the first two and two-thirds innings, giving up seven runs. He was replaced by George Ghazal, who gave up one hit and two runs in his two and one-third inning stint, but took the loss. Cordova pitched the sixth inning and didn't surrender a run.

"We definitely should have won the second game," Griesbaum said. "We made a few mistakes, a

Busy week for North High sports teams

North High's girls' varsity soccer team saw its five-game winning streak come to an end last week. The girls met their match against a triumphant Livonia Bentley team after handily beating both Novi and Fitzgerald.

North's next game is at 4 p.m., May 3, at Lake Shore.

Heartbreaker

North's boys' varsity track team lost a heartbreaker to South, 69-68, on April 25.

Bright spots for North were Brian Bergeron, who finished first in the discus (149 feet); Baik Hur, first in the high hurdles (16.25); and Mike Wujek, first in the long jump (20 feet, 5 inches).

The boys' next meet is the Port Huron Invationals on May 4. Starting time is 9 a.m.

North's ninth grade track team defeated both South and L'Anse Creuse 76-63-29 on April 24.

Leading the way for the Norsemen were Hwan Hur, who finished first in the low and the high hurdles and helping earn first places in the 440 and 880 relays; and Dan MacDougall, who finished first in the 440 run and participated in the two relay victories.

North suffered its first loss of the season Saturday at the Troy Invitational, losing to Livonia Bentley, 3-2. Armstrong and Smith were the scorers for the Lady Norsemen.

The ninth-graders' next meet is May 4, at the Holly Invationals.

Girls run well

North's girls' varsity track team turned in two excellent performances last week. North finished third in Class "A" and fifth overall out of 21 teams at the Husky Relays. Outstanding performances were turned in by the high jump relay team, the sprint medley team, and the 800-meter relay team, all of which took third places. North finished with 54 points in the meet.

North swept the 300 hurdles, finishing first in three of the four field events to defeat South High, 67-61. Jill Dornbrock and Barb Labadie had four first-place honors each.

The girls' next meet is the Port Huron Northern Invationals this Saturday at 9 a.m.

Softball win

North's girls' varsity softball team bounced back from a 4-2 loss to Clintondale to defeat L'Anse Creuse 1-0 on April 26.

Versus Clintondale, North let a 2-1 lead in the sixth inning slip away. Highlights were Linda Rayos' two hits and Missy Preston's excellent defensive play at third base.

The Lady Norsemen capitalized on a sixth inning error by L'Anse Creuse to score that game's only run and even their record at 3-3. Paula Harms pitched a two-hitter, striking out nine.

North's hosts Lake Shore at 4 p.m. May 3.

Team captain Lisa VanHollebeke led North with three hits and two RBI. Jenny Czerniakowski, striking out nine.

North's next matches are on May 3 and 4 at the Liggett Invitational. Starting time is 3:30 p.m. on Friday and 8:30 a.m. on Saturday.

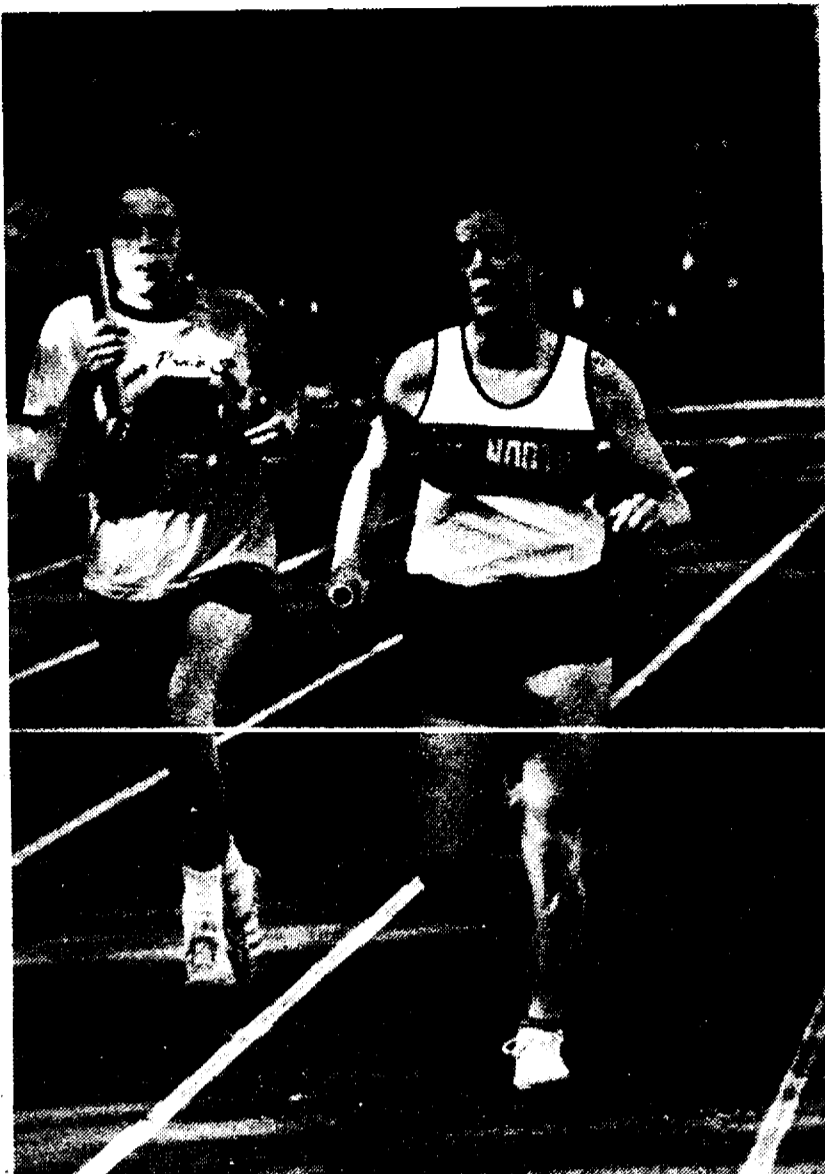

Netters win

North's boys' tennis team finished a successful week, defeating all three of their opponents, including crosstown rival South.

North stretched its win streak against league teams to 36 by defeating L'Anse Creuse, 8-0, and Lakeview, 8-0. Fred Kaleal and Drew McSkimming's doubles victory against last year's regional finalist highlighted the wins.

In the matches against South, North walked away a 5-2 winner. Todd Kilgus and Joe Karle won at No. 3 and 4 singles; Fred Kaleal and Drew McSkimming at No. 1 doubles; Ralph Barbier and Brad Cookey at No. 2 doubles; and Chris Colfer and Dave Colfer at No. 3 doubles.

North's next matches are on May 3 and 4 at the Liggett Invitational. Starting time is 3:30 p.m. on Friday and 8:30 a.m. on Saturday.

When South meets North in ANYTHING, the contest is usually never decided until the last moment. That was the case again last week as South's boys beat North in track for the first time in 16 years and North's girls took a narrow victory over South's runners. At left (above) South's Ellen Mayer and North's Patty Loeher were neck-and-neck in this relay. At right (above) is South's Nancy Solterisch and her patented victory grin. And at left, the boys — with South's Bob Owens looking on — at the start of the 100 dash. (Photos by Tom Greenwood).

North-South track meet a squeaker

By David Loffredo

One-third of a point. That's all that separated South and North when the Blue Devil boys' track team defeated the Norsemen for the first time ever (16 years), 68.66-68.33, last week.

"Going into the meet, I didn't think we had a shot," said coach Tom Wise. "Jon Roberts was supposed to be in South Carolina as part of the domestic student exchange, but as a result of his staying home, there was a 16-point swing in the final score."

Roberts and junior Chris Asfalk dominated the distance events, finishing one-two in both the mile and the two mile runs (Asfalk won the one mile).

But according to Wise, the star of the meet was junior Joel Ridgeway. Ridgeway won the 400 (.53) and ran the fastest leg on the 1600m relay, running a .52 400 meters.

"The biggest surprise of the day had to be sophomore Brian Stratton's determination," Wise continued. Stratton finished second in the 200 run (22.88), breaking the sophomore record.

Another key event was the second place finish by junior Jeff Van Tassle in the shot put. Van Tassle threw a career high 44 feet, 1 inch. "We knew we couldn't win because North is extremely strong in both the shot put and the discus events, but Jeff's points were very important."

The win, which ended North's domination, rises the Blue Devil season record to 3-0 and gives them a bright outlook.

"Beating North is the most important victory for this program in a while. The momentum could carry us to a 7-0 record," Wise added.

G.P. Ski Club welcomes spring

The Grosse Pointe Ski Club will welcome spring with an evening of fun at the Eastpointe Racquet Club for Ski Club members and their guests on Saturday, May 18. Participants can play tennis, racquetball, squash or wallyball; there will also be card games and trips to the sauna, whirlpool and exercises room available.

Reservations are necessary. Tickets are $12 each. A buffet with coffee, wine and champagne punch will be served. Further information or reservations may be obtained by calling Bett or Don Spencer at 882-1207 or Nels at 881-7381.

Soccer clinic at Assumption

Guido Regelbrugge, long-time soccer player and head soccer coach at North High, will lead a two-week scorer clinic June 17-27 at Assumption Cultural Center, 21800 Marter Rd. The clinic is geared for boys and girls 6-8, 9-10 and 11-13; emphasis will be placed on the basics of the game, including kicking, passing and controlling the ball.

Soccer clinic hours are Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Fee is $25. Call 779-6111 to register.

North still on track in league

RBI, Frank Vento doubled to score two runs and Dennis D'Agnese, who had two hits and one RBI.

North's next games are Friday and Saturday, at the Alpena Tournament. Game times are 4 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m. on Saturday.

On April 26, North's junior varsity baseball team fell to L'Anse Creuse, 7-5.

Rick Regalado pitched very well, striking out seven and allowing eight hits, three of which, according to Coach Dick Grammatico, "should have been caught." The bright spot for North, offensively, was Steve Nieman who hit a solo home run.

North's next game is May 7, at home, against L'Anse Creuse North. Game time is 4 p.m.

few costly errors, and it hurt us. Naturally, if you score eight runs, you expect to win. Giving up nine was a little disappointing. We're still leaving too many men on base," he added.

The Devils left the bases loaded in the fourth inning as well as the seventh; and did so twice in a game with Mount Clemens last week. South still managed to bury the Bathers, 7-0, for a big road victory. Goodrich went all the way and took the win. The senior southpaw gave up just four hits and struck out four en route to the victory.

Sean Bruce collected three RBI on two hits to lead South, which was aided by several Mount Clemens errors. Rob Wood also had two RBI for the Devils.

South's match-up with EML pre-season favorite Port Huron Northern was rained out last Wednesday and the Devils had to settle for a 10-4 win at Roseville on Friday. Waugaman was 3-for-3 with a home run and three RBI before Roseville got wise and twice walked him intentionally. Cordova worked the first four innings and was credited with the victory. Leonard came on for the last three innings and earned the save while fanning four. He also helped his own cause with a two-run double.

The Blue Devils can by no means sit on these victories. They were to meet L'Anse Creuse North and No. 2-ranked Bishop Gallagher in a day-night series on Wednesday, before traveling to Anchor Bay (5-1 in the EML and in second place) on May 2.

"That's a big game," Griesbaum said. "We could end up being tied with Anchor Bay if we lose it."

North's Alexa Parmentier (with ball) and Amelia Dugan in action against Livonia Bentley in the Troy Invitational last weekend. Bentley handed North its first loss of the season.

For a little while last Saturday, a Flying Scot wasn't the only type boat that was "flying." Saturday was launch day at Bayview Yacht Club. At left, that's Ralph Richards, of Troy, making sure that what went up — his Crescent 24 "Still Crazy," — came down in the right place. Above, the Park's Jim Gillis, his friend Allison Hooker and dad Phillip Gillis (far left) made sure the bottom of their 24-foot O'Day Tempest was looking good before a crane lifted it out of dry-dock and into the water. The elder Gillis, a long-time Park resident who docks his boat in the Windmill Pointe marina in the summer, joked that "all he'd ever done is buy the boat . . . and maybe washed a window on it once or twice." ULS runners on winning track

The University Liggett School boys' and girls' track teams continued their winning ways last week. The boys are 5-1 and the girls sport a 9-1 mark going into action this week.

On April 19, the ULS boys' team won its third straight track meet. ULS scored 92½ points, South Lake, 50 and Lutheran Northwest, 31½.

Captain Jack Ferris won the high jump (5 feet, 6 inches), the pole vault (10 feet), and anchored the winning 400 and 800 meter relay teams.

Howard Fauntroy won the long jump (16 feet, 7 inches) and the 200 meter dash (25.5), and was also a member of the 400 and 800 meter relay teams. The other members of the 800 meter relay team were Bob Tumacder and Mark Kozlowski. The other members of the 400 meter relay team were Tumacder and Charles Fauntroy. Bob Williams placed first in the 800 meter run (2:21.5).

The ULS team of Peter Hardy, Matt Schwartz, Kevin Darby and Chip Davis won the 3200 meter relay (9:59.0) and the team of Lars Knudson, Bob Williams, Kevin Darby and Chip Davis won the 3200 meter relay (4:05.66).

On Friday, April 26, the Knights suffered their first defeat, losing to Southfield Christian, 100-43, as ULS managed three first place finishes. Davis won the 400 meter dash (58.7), Blasko Ristic won the 110 meter high hurdles (18.7) and Tumacder won the pole vault (9 feet, 6 inches).

On Saturday, May 4, ULS will participate in Bethesda Christian's Blue-Gold Classic C-D Track Invitational at Macomb County Community College.

Last week, the ULS girls' track and field team surprised itself, its coaches and the opposition by posting 34 additional "personal best" performances and picking up four more wins.

On April 23, ULS hosted and defeated South Lake High School and Lutheran Northwest High School: 93-48-23. Top Knight scorer, Lydia Alexander, picked up 13½ points with first places in the 100 meter hurdles and long jump, a tie for second in the high jump and a portion of the 400 meter relay team's win.

Other first place winners were Samantha DeSmet (high jump), Paula Rodriguez (1600 and 3200 meters), Miriam Mueller (400 meters), and Judy Go (300 meter hurdles). Additional points were tallied by Rebecca Boone, Charu Nautiyal, Carol Ling, Sophia Park, Pam Hickey, Laura Rizzo, Catrin Winter, Jennifer Van De Graaf, Nora Staebler and Lisa Beizai.

On April 26, Coaches Cathy Schmidt and Sue Frederick took their team to Southfield to topple two Michigan Independent Athletic Conference teams, Southfield Christian and Bethesda Christian: 72-47-42. Boone was high scorer with a first in shotput, and two third place finishes in long jump and discus. Nora Staebler won the discus, while Carol Ling posted a first in long jump.

"The key to this win was team cooperation," said Schmidt. "Every one of our 34 girls is very important. We support and value each other's contributions."

At Southfield, additional points were picked up by DeSmet, Go, Alexander, Mueller, Rodriguez, Winter, Nautiyal, Kelly Bailer, Carolyn Seydel, Van De Graaf, Beizai, Scarlet Parris, Kavita Sood, and Rizzo.

Other contributing team members are Danne Bullock, Lisa Cipriano, Liz Hader, Phan Lam, Barb Herzig, Elizabeth Mannino, Vara Samudrala and Wendy Willett. Stellar performances are consistently turned in by managers Jennifer Barnhart, Jennifer Davies and Liz Gilbert.

ULS travels to Macomb County Community College on Saturday for the Bethesda Christian Blue-Gold Classic Invitational Track meet.

ULS hosts match

The ULS varsity boys' tennis team will host its 18th annual tennis invitational on Friday and Saturday, May 3 and 4. Schools participating will be Ann Arbor Pioneer, Dearborn, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Greenhills, North, South, South Lake and ULS. Play begins at 3:30 p.m., Friday; the semi-finals are at 10:30 a.m., Saturday and the consolation finals set for 12:30. The championship finals should begin around 2 p.m.

Last week, the Knights lost to Cranbrook, 8-0, and Brother Rice, 6-2, and finished fifth in the East Grand Rapids Invitational.

It was a week of "character" building as the ULS JV tennis team dropped three matches and struggled to an eighth place finish in the Simon Kosnak Memorial Tournament.

"I am not at all disappointed in this team," declared Coach Chuck Wright. "We played against superior talent this week, but not once did anyone on this team hang his head or give anything but his best effort. We will be better tennis players because of this week."

The Knights dropped contests against Cranbrook, Brother Rice, and Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, 5-3, 8-0, and 6-2. Individual winners against Cranbrook were David Kim, John Shanle and Michael Baks. Against Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, the doubles teams of Jeff Buhl and Baks, and Peter Sripinyo and Mike Africa managed victories.

Lacrosse victory

The ULS girls' varsity lacrosse team opened its season with a 3-1 win over Wallaceburg April 24. Amy Otaway scored two goals and Angela Navarro had one.

On April 26, ULS tied Kingswood, 7-7. Goals were scored by Fay Howenstein (two), Andra Hirt (one), Amy Otaway (three), and Kathy Bianchi.

On May 2, Coach Melinda Reuter's team travels to Detroit Country Day School. Their next home game is Tuesday, May 7, at 4 p.m. against Academy of the Sacred Heart.

Sports people

Pointe residents Kenneth Davies and Matt Mullins are in training these days. They're among members of the St. Mary's Prep "Crew" preparing for spring regattas on Orchard Lake.

Beth Grindler, whose parents are Park residents, won first place in the Ladies Amateur Division of the Ann Marston Memorial Archery Tournament April 13 and 14 at the Yaak Recreational Center in Wyandotte.

Renee Krickstein, of the Woods, recently received three athletic honors from her school, Tulane University. A Tulane sophomore who recorded a 24-1 record in women's tennis, Krickstein was named Tulane's most valuable player and most improved player. She also was awarded the coveted "Woman Athlete of the Year" by a vote of the nine intercollegiate sports coaches at Tulane University.

University of Michigan junior Cathy Schmidt, of the Woods, was honored as co-athlete of the month for March by the U of M women's athletic department. She finished second in the 800 meter run (2:10.40) in the Big Ten track meet, setting a new Michigan indoor record. She also competed on the fourth place 4x800 meter relay team. The North High alumna then finished fifth in the 1000-meter run at the NCAA indoor championships; where her time of 2:44.15 set another Michigan indoor record and earned her All-American honors.

1984 South High graduate John Williamson, who quarterbacked the Blue Devils' league championship football team and led the baseball squad in hitting, wound up his first college baseball season April 30 as a walk-on JV outfielder for Columbia University, New York. Williamson was recruited as a quarterback by Columbia and played on last year's Columbia freshman team. He is one of 10 candidates for the varsity quarterback position this fall. Columbia's JV baseball schedule included games with Army, Rutgers, Seton Hall and Yale. Spring football drills began April 28.

Senior captain Kris Robbins, of Grosse Pointe, has won three matches in his last four outings as the No. 1 singles player of the Dartmouth College men's tennis team. Robbins, a University Liggett School graduate, beat the top singles players from Brown, Penn. and Columbia. He also plays at No. 2 doubles, where he had won four of the last five matches. Robbins moved into the No. 1 singles slot as a sophomore. That year, he received the Occum Bowl, an award presented annually to the most improved men's tennis player at Dartmouth.

South kickers stay unbeaten

South High's girls' varsity soccer team extended its unbeaten string to four games with two shutout victories last week. South's goaltending and defense has not allowed a goal in any of the four games it has played this season while running its record to 3-0-1.

The Blue Devils found an end to their scoring frustration in a 10-0 win over University Liggett School on April 23. "Liggett played a good game, despite what the score indicated," said South coach John Case. "Our shots have just started going in. The first two games (1-0 win and a 0-0 tie) we came up against very hot goaltending. We were taking the shots in those first games, but they just weren't going in."

Basketball school

Lutheran East will host the 19th annual Lutheran East Basketball School for boys and girls in grades 6 through 11, June 17-28. The boys' sessions are scheduled for the morning time slot and the girls' in the afternoon.

Sessions will be conducted by Dick Block and Bob Voelz, varsity coaches at Lutheran East.

The cost of the two-week school will be $30, which includes instruction, use of facilities, instructional materials, and a camp T-shirt. Enrollment in both sessions is limited. Application forms and additional information can be obtained in person or by writing Lutheran High School East, 20100 Kelly Rd., Harper Woods, 48225 or by calling 371-8750.

Sarah Dow, Kim Wood, Claire Busse and Suzanne Saad each scored twice for South against ULS: Becky Steffes and Renee Stoyka added single goals. Dow and Busse scored once each off headers. On defense, June Langs played well.

On Thursday, South faced Dearborn, a team laden with top players, including an All-Stater and some members of the State Select Team. But with the All-Stater on the bench with an injury and Helen Markus and Langs holding State Select player Cindy Simmons off the board, South rode a balanced attack to a 5-0 victory.

"We're playing very well and getting scoring from everyone. Against Dearborn we passed well and that's very important to our game. . . . Yes, I'm pleased with the way we're playing," Case said.

Claire Busse had two goals — including one on a good pass from Bucky Steffes — and Sarah Dow (two) and Kim Wood scored South's other goals. Joey Johnston also played a strong game at her left-halfback position.

South's next game is at Edsel Ford at 4 p.m. today, May 2.

That's South's Helen Markus controlling the ball in South's victory over Dearborn last week. Jennifer Smith is at the left and June Langs, just behind Markus.

"So, I want a solid, medically-oriented program designed just for me — at a place where I'm comfortable. I want Nautilus machines, an indoor running track and a professional staff that knows what a healthy lifestyle is all about."

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who make me see everything and who shows me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and who who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Amen.

Pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish, after third day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this prayer as soon as your favor has been granted. Thank you for favors received. H.W.M.

Vanden Plas

From a heritage of coachbuilders to kings and the sporting aristocracy of Europe comes the most exclusive Jaguar sedan you can own.

Frankly created for the few, the Vanden Plas is a limited edition based on the classic Jaguar XJ6 Series III sedan. It shares the XJ6's superb racebred double overhead cam six. Its athletic handling equipment, its uncanny smoothness and silence in motion.

Inside, however, the Vanden Plas is unique even among Jaguars. It coosers you with soft leather, exotic curled walnut panels and individually contoured front and rear seats. Custom throw rugs have been fitted into passenger footwells. Twin swivel-based reading lamps illuminate rear passenger seats. On the outside special striping and a discreet Vanden Plas badge identify this as the most exclusive edition of the best Jaguar ever built. Come in today and indulge yourself in Vanden Plas.
