As the Camp and Canoeing Capital of Ohio, Mohican's devotion to the great outdoors endures: We always crave adventure and challenge, seek activity and expedition, and demand exploration and experience, every day and every season of the year.

Discover Mohican is delighted to welcome you to another year of four-season fun and open-air adventure for family and friends. Challenge yourself to go out-of-bounds – to trek into the wild, to paddle a little harder, to play a little longer in the snow, to dream bigger, plan with daring, and soar a little higher.

Rediscover diversion and embrace what you love most: Outdoor opportunity and the freedom of knowing you're the only person in sight. Good friends gathered around great food. Long hikes and longer races. Scenic drives and day trips to Amish Country.

This year, we encourage you to get out, get active, and get lost in the beauty of Mohican. Here, at our restaurants and shops, between trails and river, you'll find joy and serenity, serendipity and lasting memories – myriad opportunities to get away from it all, not far from anything and yet wonderfully removed from modern distractions, the everyday, and the masses.

So, whether you're here for a week or a weekend, in summer or in winter, let yourself let loose. Give yourself over to boundless freedom and limitless opportunity. Venture out into Mohican and explore anew in 2024.

HISTORY

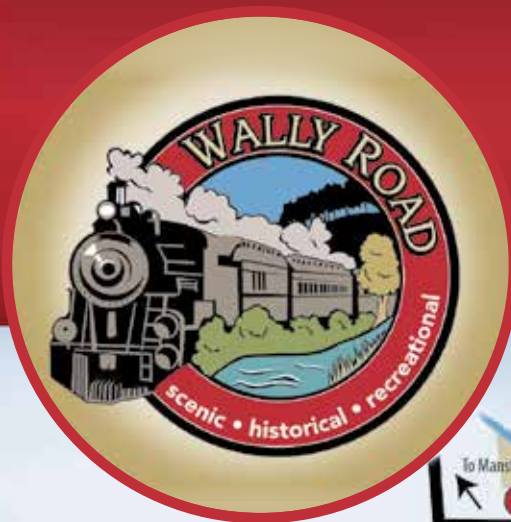

Some say that history is a poem – each event a stanza, every moment a verse.

If that's the case, then consider Mohican Country a sonnet: A long and storied tale that spans from recent memory back to the first European settlers, to our Delaware Native American (Lenape) "Grandfathers," and into the millennia of natural history and the ice age of Ohio, which helped shape Mohican's scenic beauty: the Clear Fork Gorge, the Mohican River and old-growth white pine and hemlock forest.

Indulge your inner history enthusiast on a self-guided tour to the old Ohio Theatre (1909) and the once-home of Phillip J. Black (1865), today both honored on the National Register of Historic Places. Hike into former Native American hunting grounds and walk in the steps of John Chapman, who most of us know now as Johnny Appleseed. Explore a working grist mill and cross the Greenville Treaty line of 1795, which once delineated the border between Native American lands and the United States.

VENTURE OUT TO MOHICAN

The Mohican outdoors – a wild land that bottles magic and decants adventure, that captures imaginations and wins hearts. Here, the journey begins long before you arrive: a dream, a plan, a hope for what awaits. And then, drive, a hike, a forge into the forest, the river, the lake.

As they say, it's not just the destination, but the journey there. Although, in Mohican, the destination is outstanding, too.

Because some things you can only ponder with each strike of your hiking boots upon the trail. Some experiences are reserved for those willing to take up an oar and paddle into the wild. Some moments effervesce only as you trot through the woods or fly into a forest canopy. And some thrills, some panoramas, some encounters are only possible when you venture out into Mohican.

ARCHERY

In a place best known for its opportunities to stretch your legs and find the rhythm of your paddle, Mohican now invites you to polish another skill set:

Grab your bow and arrows, loosen your shoulders, and train your eye because Mohican State Park recently inaugurated a new public archery range, open dawn to dusk and offering targets at 10, 20, 30, 40, and 50 yards.

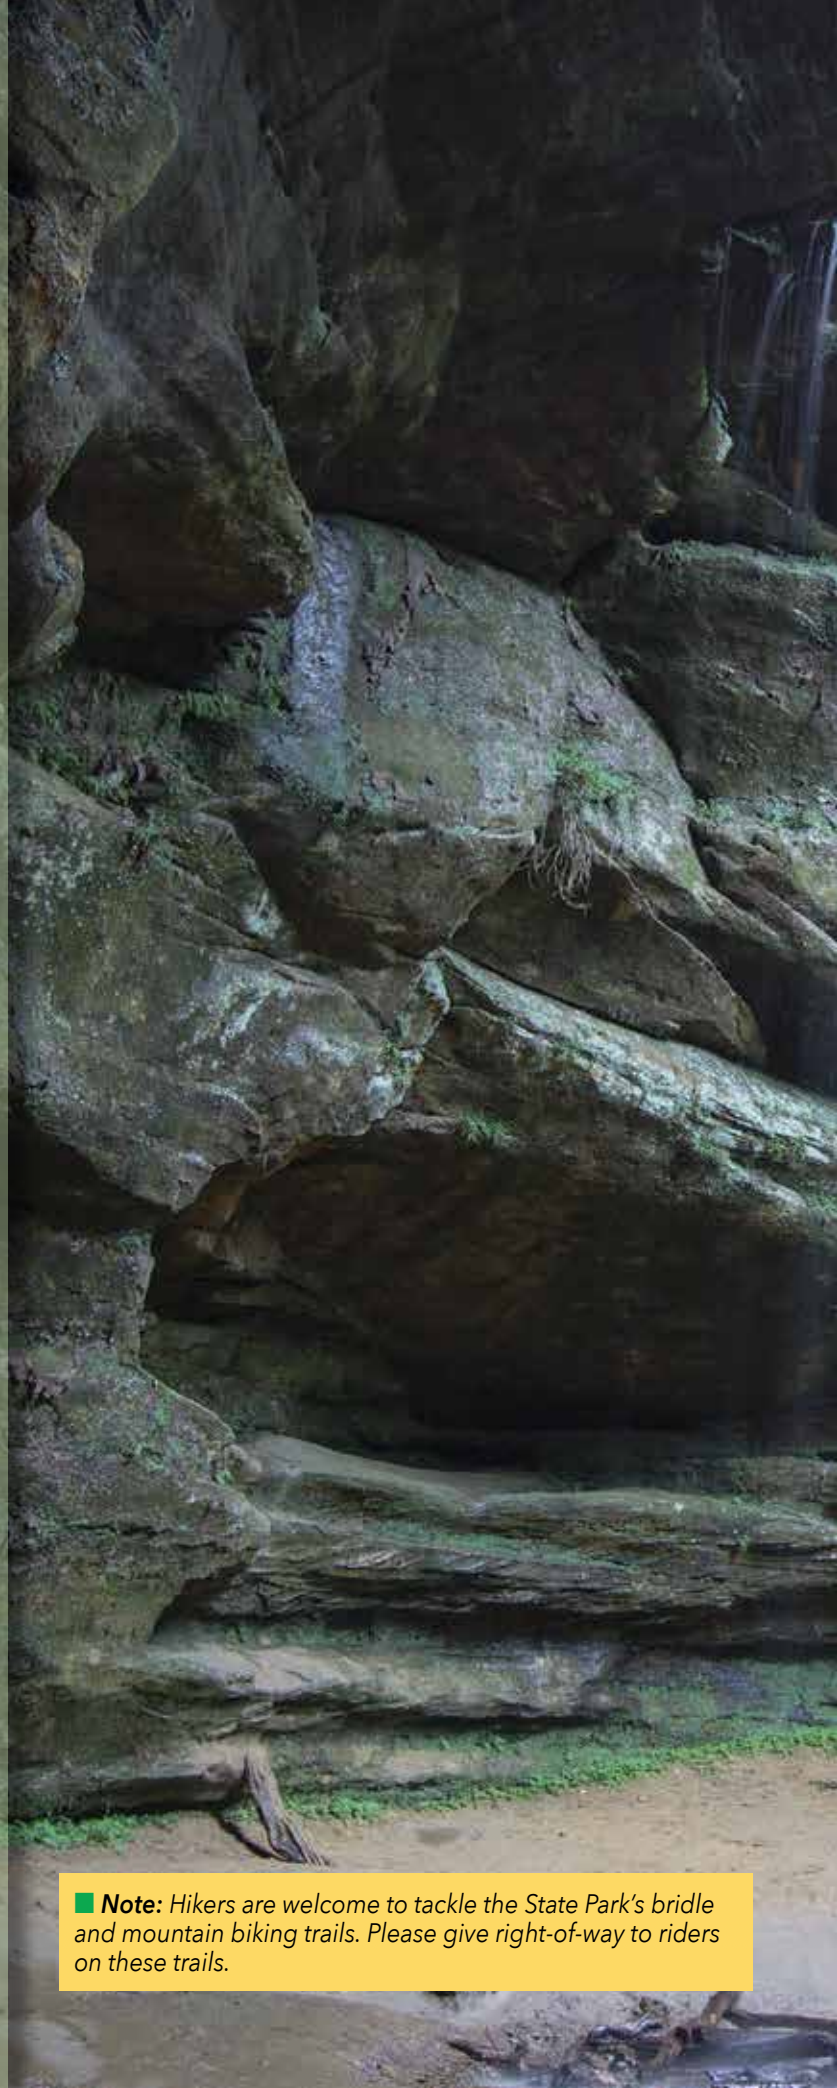

HIKING

An outdoor wonderland of woods and gorges, rivers and overlooks, Mohican is the kind of place labeled as breathtaking, no matter what you do. But, if you want to up the ante and go beyond breathtaking, then you'll have to hit the trails!

Strap on your hiking boots: Mohican is home to over 88 miles of trails that connect Malabar Farm State Park, Mohican State Park and State Forest, and Pleasant Hill Lake Park. Numerous loops, paths, and tracks wend and wind through land and water, climbing to stunning views and unmatched sights, including Mohican's famous Covered Bridge, Clear Fork Gorge, Pleasant Hill Lake, Lyons Falls, Wolf Creek Grist Mill, and the Mohican State Scenic River.

The Mohican Cable Pedestrian Bridge at Mohican State Park, a 120-foot-long thrill and ode to Mother Nature. Promising an exhilarating link between Hemlock Gorge Trail and the Gorge Overlook Trail, the suspension bridge traverses the Clear Fork River, now designated a State Scenic River.

Note: Hikers are welcome to tackle the State Park's bridle and mountain biking trails. Please give right-of-way to riders on these trails.

BIKING

Load up your bikes, grab your helmets! Mohican is a cyclist's paradise, where stunning adventures hide along every stretch of the dedicated mountain bike trails that crisscross our landscapes.

For those seeking the bold and the breathtaking, pedal onto 30 miles of mountain bike trail at Mohican State Park and State Forest, considered the best trail in Ohio. Ride the entire length if you have the lungs; or, ride a portion, if you don't.

Rails to Trails has seen several bike paths created around the Mohican area. A 2-mile, paved bike path connects downtown Loudonville with Mohican State Park and the Wolf Creek Grist Mill, while the B & O Trail is a 26-mile route running connect in Knox County, taking cyclists across the Bridge of Dreams near Brinkhaven.

An all-ages, small mountain bike park is now located across from the Mohican State Park Lodge. The adventurous trail and easy-moderate pump track include several quarter-and half-mile loops to encourage skill progression, and also connect to the Pleasant Hill dam for a fluid biking experience.

HORSEBACK RIDING

Hook up your horse trailer and experience Mohican from the unparalleled perspective of an equestrian: atop a saddle and in rhythm with your mount, as Ohio explorers have done for centuries.

The area offers miles of public-use bridle trails that connect Mohican State Park and State Forest with Pleasant Hill Lake Park and Malabar Farm State Park, cantering from beginner into advanced territory.

SKIING, SNOWBOARDING & MORE

Mohican may be best known for its warm-weather activities, but there's more to our great outdoors than spring-and-summer pursuits.

With intrepid winter escapades in mind, recent years have welcomed a rise in snow-dusted recreation, including crosscountry and down-hill skiing, snowboarding snow tubing, and other coldweather sports.

Today, Mohican Memorial State Forest plays host to an 8-mile snowmobiling trail, while local attractions promise skiing, snowboarding, and snow tubing.

This year, embrace the simple and timeless pleasures of being outdoors: lifting your face to the sun, inhaling the scents of the forest, summiting a path to reveal epic views. Disappear into the wilds, escape from technology, and surround yourself with no one and yet, everything. Get outward bound in Mohican.

A century of applause echoes through the walls of this beautiful, historic theatre in downtown Loudonville. Preserving the past while embracing technology of the future, The Ohio Theatre is an entertainment venue like no other. A must see on your Mohican Vacation Adventure.

CAMPING

A meditation on solitude, serenity, and the rewards of each, RVing and camping offer the chance to get lost in the wild, away from technology, city lights, and the trappings of “progress” – from all those things that distract and detract from ancestral memory and the magic of Mother Nature.

Surrounded by lush scenery, ancient forests, and Ice Age gorges, Mohican promises some of the best RV and camping sites in Ohio. Whether you seek near-complete seclusion or a convenient place to connect your RV, our campgrounds, hook-ups, and campsites offer the chance to pitch your tent on a farm, awoken at the riverfront, and tap in to pristine landscapes with full hook-up amenities.

Experience vacation as you may never have before: surrounded by utter quiet, with only birdsong and the call of the river as soundtrack. Relax beneath an inky blanket of twinkling stars and roast your meal over the fire pit. And, for the rustic-averse: Lest you fear that Mohican camping can only be primitive, our larger campgrounds and RV sites seek to please with swimming pools, beaches, cabins, groomed trails, bike rentals, and even a hot tub. Yes, we said hot tub.

Escape the crowds and travel back to simpler times – or, at least, to a quieter age – when landscapes were larger and the horizon stretched further. Immerse yourself in the bounty and beauty of Mohican and a thoroughly enjoyable camping experience.

CANOEING

Whether it's been a month, a year, or a lifetime – when you pick up that paddle, you know you're home. Because the Mohican is always there: a welcoming stretch of river that wends and winds from Loudonville to Greer, hugging the Wally Road Scenic Byway while carving out a swath of aquatic paradise all its own.

This meandering ribbon is the reason – the genesis, the heart, and the passion – for why Mohican is the reigning Canoe Capital of Ohio. Born of entrepreneurial inspiration and nurtured through an abiding love for paddle sport, Mohican's canoe livery tradition has endured, thrived, and flourished for over 50 years.

Today, the Mohican River – and we, its eponymous region, parks, and places – welcome the state's greatest number of registered canoes and the highest concentration of paddling activities: canoeing and kayaking, rafting and tubing. And for you, that means choice: Choice of how and where to paddle – of how fast the river, how long the challenge, and how exhilarating the adventure. We call it your paddle power.

Don't miss the State Scenic Mohican Water Trail, which flows from Loudonville to Greer and hugs the Wally Road Scenic Byway, serving as Ohio's largest outdoor recreational complex. As you paddle down the river, you'll see remnants of the historic Walhonding – “The Wally” – and may even spot bald eagles or river otters in their natural habitat.

Most canoe and kayaking trips take two to six hours. Liveries typically open April through October. Be sure to reserve your equipment in advance (see sidebar), to guarantee availability.

■ Note: Ohio law forbids operating a watercraft while under the influence of alcohol. As such, open containers are not permitted on the river. And remember - we share the water with boaters of all ages. Courtesy goes a long way!

SPORTING EVENTS

To vacation deliberately is to actively pursue that which you seek: To chase your goals, be they a sunrise on the mountain-top, a 100-mile trek through pristine forest, or a medal around your neck.

The great outdoors is a Mohican tradition – even more so, when paired with physical challenge, endurance, and a bit of friendly competition. Because, while there are a myriad of ways to get outside and push your body to its limits, there's nothing quite like the thrill of a Mohican sporting event: Spring- through-autumn individual and family challenges that summon athletes from around the world, to tackle river, stream, hill, and trail.

In April, lace up your running shoes for the first races of the season, with Forget the PR Mohican 50k and 25k. Then, get off your feet and pedal your way into May's Mohican Mountain Bike 100, a legendary 100-mile /100-kilometer (your choice) ultra-endurance loop with a total elevation gain over 11,000 feet.

Or, challenge your running mettle with June's Mohican 100 Trail Run, a race trifecta that offers tiered options to run 100 miles, 50 miles, or the Mohican Marathon: Ohio's only off-road marathon, this testament to perseverance travels the pristine trails of the 5,000-acre Mohican-Memorial State Forest.

Come fall, take it easy (or, easier) during the Mohican 5K Run/Walk along the Loudonville-Mohican bike path; or, November's Fuzzy Fandango, a family-friendly 5K to 50K, held along scenic park trails.

This year, challenge yourself to chase goals in Mohican.

FESTIVALS & EVENTS

Mohican begs you step outside and make some memories – again and again, year after year. Because, whether this is your first visit or an annual pilgrimage, our schedule of events fills the calendar with long hikes and festive fireworks, live music and family fun.

Stave off cabin fever at the year's first big event: Winterfest, which gathers at Loudonville's Central Park and for 2024, will see frozen creations crafted by award-winning ice sculptors. Come March, indulge your sweet tooth and tap into a Mohican tradition at Malabar Farm State Park's Maple Syrup Festival.

As much as Mohican loves snow-dusted landscapes and winter cheer, our events calendar really kicks into high gear come spring. April welcomes the Mohican Wildlife Weekend, a family-friendly celebration of wildlife habitat, heritage, and natural history. Do more than just get up-close-and-personal with your favorite animals: hike our trails, explore Ohio's natural wonders, and learn a new skill.

Looking forward to the start of summer? There's no better welcome to the season than Memorial Day in Mohican: Beginning with the Mohican Arts and Crafts Festival – an homage to great food, superb craftsmanship, and the joys of a season of outdoor promise – the weekend only improves as downtown Loudonville honors our troops at the traditional Memorial Day Parade.

Come June, Mohican toasts to the International Wine Festival at the Mill Fundraiser, featuring nearly 100 varieties of international and Ohio wines, domestic beers, and great food at the Mill. It's a perfect pairing with July's Fourth of July fireworks and award-winning Loudonville Classic Car Show. Speaking of fireworks, Christmas in July is also in full and festive swing at Pleasant Hill Lake.

As the weather transitions into the crisp winds of autumn, Mohican throws a party – or five! Reserve your tickets for the Mohican Bluegrass Festival, an outdoor celebration featuring the best in bluegrass. Next up, the Mohican Pow-Wow celebrates Native American dance, culture, artisan goods, and food. Soon to follow, Log Cabin Days takes you back to simpler times with exhibits and demonstrations of rustic carving, hand-hewing, peeling and more.

Come late September, Oktoberfest at the Mill delivers an outdoor food-and-music festival. Ohio Heritage Days at Malabar Farm State Park introduce visitors to 18th century living, Civil War re-enactments, wagon rides, music, and much more. Finally, October winds down at the Loudonville Free Street Fair, serving up livestock encounters, rides, and many other iterations of family fun.

Finish out the year during December's Loudonville Christmas Parade, Mohican Castle's Festival of Lights, and Malabar Farm State Park's Candlelight Holiday Tour. Another year on the books, many more memories in your heart.

WHERE TO STAY

What do a majestic castle, cozy lodges, and authentic treehouses have in common?

Answer: They can all be your home-away-from-home in Mohican. Whether you're in town for a day or a week, our diverse accommodations – from log cabins, cottages and bed & breakfasts, to hotels, inns and resorts – play welcoming hosts to fireside evenings and outdoor picnics, expansive porches and solitary walks in the woods.

Embrace period charm at a 19th century Victorian landmark listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Settle into recently renovated, two-bedroom cabins, ensconced in centenarian forest and surrounded by aerial adventures. Get snug at a spacious lodge, local headquarters for twilight hikes and languid canoeing. Escape to vineyard romance or reserve privacy at one of Mohican's distinct vacation homes. (Four-legged friends and horses welcome, at some!)

Because soon, you'll discover – there's more to Mohican than can be seen in a single weekend. Or even a week. So, stay awhile and return often.

The Spellacy Covered Bridge, located just past the Holmes County line, was completed in September 2023. The Spellacy Bridge was named after Matthew Spellacy, who received the contract for this portion of the railroad that ran alongside Wally Road from 1892-1942. This 300-foot bridge features two traffic lanes and pedestrian walkways on either side. Take a drive down Wally Road or float down the Mohican River to take in the beautiful site of the brand new Spellacy Covered Bridge.

SHOPPING

Mohican is an area of makers – of artisans and creatives, of designers and artists. One of entrepreneurs: Hardworking Ohioans who serve our community, create beautiful things, and make your stay more convenient, more delicious, and more adventurous.

A stroll through historic downtown Loudonville is a tour of independent shop owners, unique stores, walk-in convenience, and an array of all things artistic, from galleries to antique stores, jewelry to clothing, art to flowers.

The Mohican area also located at the Gateway to Amish Country and its eponymous Byway, where furniture makers, antique stores, and craft shops line the village streets. Be sure to slice off a snack at a cheese shop and pop into a bakery, where the bakers work their magic on recipes that have been passed down through generations.

HISTORICAL TIMELINE

How it all started
1855

Raby Hardware originally began in Loudonville around 1875 under the name Hartupee & Reed. In March of 1885 a share of the business was sold to George Franklin Raby.

G.F. RABY
CEO & Founder

First Step
1900

George acquired the remaining shares in April of 1900, changed the name to G.F. Raby Hardware, and invited his sons Harry and Harvey to join the business.

$4,500.00
Cost of the new location in 1909

1909

Raby purchased the building at 223 W. Main from Mary Haskell Garlough at a price of $4,500 (worth approximately $200,000 today) and moved Raby Hardware there, where it has remained since.

1991

The business expanded into the adjoining building to the west and the building got a facelift by Third Generation Owners Ed and Gloria Raby.

2010
Celebrating 125 Years

After four generations, the Raby family continues to operate the business. In 2010, Dave Raby and the rest of the family celebrated 125 years of business in Loudonville.

2023
The Present

Loudonville's historic Raby Hardware shows off new looking changes at grand reopening.

DINING

Spoil your palate and fuel your outdoor adventures with the tastes, flavors, and culinary creations of our region's favorite restaurants. From the most casual meal to the finest dining, Mohican pairs your plate with local ambiance, Ohio ingredients, and scenic views.

So, whether you want to grab-and-go for a picnic or prefer a table beside the grand fireplace, whether you're craving stick-to-your-bones pub grub or seeking heritage flavor at a local landmark, Mohican serves up a feast that draws on everything from Dagwood-style sandwiches and piled-high pizzas to locally sourced ingredients and farm-to-table fare.

Because, while you'll love dining on the grounds of a castle and cozying up to a rip-roaring winter fire, we know you also crave casual get-togethers at the trails end, quick fuel-ups by the bike path, and lingering meals with lake and river views. Mohican is the kind of place that aims to please – and where our local chefs are pleased to aim high.

Looking for libations to pair with (or wash down) your meal? Don't miss Mohican Wineries & Breweries (page 34)!

WINERIES & BREWERIES

You heard it through the grapevine: wine, craft beer, and spirits are a Mohican staple!

Distill delight and craft an adventure on the Mohican Beverage Trail, as you explore our budding craft beverage scene: the best wineries and breweries in Northeastern Ohio. Meet the makers and reserve a tasting – the brews, the growlers, the glasses, and the full flights that wet your whistle and quench your thirst.

From playful selections – we're talking jalapeño-laced whites and punny apple infusions – to educational wine tastings, generations of vintner traditions, handcrafted small batches, and vineyards-with-a-view, Mohican wineries pop the cork on the kind of souvenir you just have to take home for yourself.

For the more hops-inclined, our local breweries funnel serious expertise into complex IPAs and stouts, lagers and ales, including dozens of handcrafted brews on tap. Refuel on pub grub and quench your thirst at the bar – a brew-and-bite match made in northeastern Ohio heaven.

Treat yourself to the kind of made-in-Mohican ferments that you can enjoy only here.

VOLUNTEER

With a desire for change and seeking boundless adventure, embrace the volunteer spirit at one of Mohican's incredible organizations! Your time, be it a few hours or a full day, can be the change you wish to see in the world – in our rivers, our trails, and our Ohio heritage.

So, here's your official invitation: Bring your family, your club, your team, your department, or your organization, and help wherever and in whatever most suits your service heart: trail maintenance, outdoor clean-ups, and weekend ambassadorships, among them. You'll leave Mohican knowing you've made more than a difference today: You've made an impact on tomorrow.

WEDDINGS MEETINGS

WEDDINGS

Beneath beamed barn ceilings or beside a scenic lake, under boundless blue sky or on stately castle grounds, Mohican is a picture-perfect, spectacular backdrop for the most important day of your life.

A wedding wonderland magical both outdoors and in, Mohican easily transitions from rustic to regal, from nature's décor to perfectly staged. Gardens in bloom, sunsets ablaze, leaves a riot of fiery color, and landscapes dusted in winter white – for every season and whatever your vision, Mohican's delivers on alfresco beauty and unparalleled ambiance. Celebrate your commitment and cement forever memories, with the talents of our local caterers, florists, photographers and videographers.

MEETINGS

With a mind to the inspirational, to the memorable, and to the innovative, Mohican meetings do more than provide a space for your team: Create a complete meeting experience that pulls on team-building, incentives, and training to strengthen bonds and achieve goals.

Because, while most meetings begin indoors – in castles and lodges, in conference centers and meeting halls – Mohican meetings inevitably migrate outdoors. Book adventures and harness exhilaration to spark conversation, inspire your attendees, and engage your teams. Try something new, embrace something different. Something inspired by nature, fueled by sunshine, and buoyed by fresh air.

REUNIONS

Reunions offer the promise of togetherness, of joy, of making memories to sustain you through years to come. Mohican reunions deliver on all of the above, with stately castles and outdoor pavilions, miles of trails and plenty of riverfront. With so many special places to stay, so much outdoors to explore, and such wonders to experience, your reunion will be the kind to please everyone. The only complaint will be that it ends too soon.
