Memento Mori.

Saturday last seems to have been generally observed throughout the country as memorial day, devoted to decorating the graves of soldiers, particularly with flowers and other mementos appropriate to the occasion.

The decorating with flowers of the graves of the dead was followed in the early history of Rome—before the time of the Caesars—and even the tyrant Nero found some one to adorn his grave with emblems of love and of memory, and none to desecrate the bloody monster's resting place.

All around us, on this Manassas plain, every sod beneath our feet has been a soldier's sepulchre. The Blue and the Gray went down together in the deadly unfortunated strife, that has entailed such incalculable injury upon the land.

Judge S. P. Chase, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the U. S., in reply to an invitation dated 29th of May, to attend the decoration of soldiers' graves at the Magnolia Cemetery, Washington, D. C., uses the following language:

"The nation cannot too tenderly cherish the memory of her dead heroes, or too watchfully guard the well-being of those who survive. And may we not indulge the hope that ere long we who adhered to the national cause will be prompt also to join in commemorating the heroes of our country who fell on the other side."

and that those who now specially mourn their loss, consenting to the arbitration of arms, and resuming all their old love for their country and our country, one and indivisible will join with us in like commemoration of the fallen brave of the army of the Union? The dead are not dead. They have only gone before, and now see eye to eye. Why may not we all borrow from their sacred graves oblivion of past differences, and henceforth unite in noble and generous endeavor to assure the honor and welfare of our whole country, of all her States, and of all her citizens?"

If such conciliation as recommended by Judge Chase be followed in future years, how soon the lacerated wounds of the Nation, will be closed forever, and no politician will dare seek the grave to desecrate and revive old animosities either to make political capital or gratify a morbid feeling unbecoming an American. Let us have peace.

"No more shall the war cry sever, Or the winding rivers be red; They banish our anger forever, When they laurel the graves of our dead, Under the sod and the dew, Waiting the judgment day; Love and tears for the Blue, Tears and love for the Gray."

PHYSICAL SURVEY OF VIRGINIA.

We have received a pamphlet containing a report of the Physical Survey of Virginia under the superintendence of Commodore M. F. Maury, L. L. D., of the Virginia Military Institute.

The object of the work is to develop the physical resources of the State, to make known its geography and to point out the great commercial advantages which naturally arise from its situation with regard to the sea and the interior, to show the natural importance of that situation and the benefits to arise from turning it to account.

REGISTRATION.—It is a duty incumbent upon every citizen of the State of Virginia to take part in the choice of their officers at the coming election on the 6th of July next, and this, in accordance with the law, cannot be done without registering on or before the 16th of June. No man who feels an interest in the future prosperity of the Commonwealth of Virginia, will neglect this important step, that he may have a voice in the coming contest. As far as we are concerned we advise all to exercise the right of election franchise by voting conscientiously and in accordance to his conviction of justice and the well-being of the State at large, that the old ship may sail on in a prosperous voyage with her sisters in the Union.

The Latest News by Mail.

MORE FIGHTING IN CUBA.—Information from Havana to June 2d says, the property confiscated between the 19th of April and the 1st of June, has produced $70,000. The city has been terribly excited since yesterday. Volunteers are arriving, and serious riots are expected. A heavy engagement has taken place between the Bays of Nipe and Baños. The official report announces that the four cannon and all other munitions of war brought by the Fillibusters have been captured.

MURDER OF A WIDOW BY A MARRIED WOMAN.—At Portland, Me., on the 28th inst., Mrs. Baker, a widow, was shot and killed by Mrs. Parker, the wife of a lawyer. The cause of the deed was jealousy. Mrs. Parker has been arrested.

John N. Moffitt commander of the Southern privateer Florida, has instituted legal proceedings to recover some $10,000 worth of property confiscated in the United States District Court at St. Paul, three years ago, and sold by the United States Marshall for about $3,000.

Illinois is said to be the most thoroughly organized Sunday School State in the Union. Every county has its convention, and in fifty counties each township has an organization.

The quarrel between Governor Reid of Florida, and the State Legislature has resulted in a virtual repudiation of the State debt, the Governor having arranged with the State Treasurer to refuse to pay the accruing on a large amount of bonds issued by direction of the Legislature for the purpose of carrying on the State business.

An official statement shows that there has been this year a departure from Canada of about 200 or 300 families by the Grand Trunk for this country, who have no intention of returning; and that in addition there is an excess of usual emigration to the factories and brick yards of about 3,000 beyond those who usually go every spring, returning in the fall with the products of their industry.

A young girl, even years old, named Mary Shane, has been arrested in Syracuse, charged with poisoning a child and setting fire to a dwelling house. She had been taken from the poorhouse against her wishes and put to work in the family of Mr. F. B. Edgerton. She threatened to poison all and set fire to the house, but no notice was taken of her threat. She, however, carried it out in part. The child poisoned has been saved, and the fire set was extinguished before much damage was done.

The Dayton (Ohio) Ledger of the 27th says: "W. Kirkwood shot and killed Samuel Wright yesterday at Fairfield, Greene county, Ohio. From what we could learn, it appears that Kirkwood had spoken disrespectfully of the wife of Mr. Wright. When the latter went to the premises to remonstrate with him, he was met by Kirkwood, with a loaded gun, who, placing the muzzle against Wright's thigh, fired, the contents tearing away the flesh to the bone, severing the femoral artery, and causing death in a few minutes.

The Rockford Register, referring to Mrs. Dixon, who shot her husband dead in that city a few days since says that at the time she fired the fatal shot she was sitting behind him and so near that the muzzle of the pistol almost touched his back. After she fired, and the pistol was wrenched from her by her victim, she fell back unconscious, and has remained in that condition during most of the time that has since elapsed. In her trials of consciousness she seems to have no recollection of what has happened, but appears to be looking forward with dread to the interview with her husband. She calls for her babe frequently, even while it is lying in her arms, and seems to fear some one is coming to take it from her. The day she committed the deed was the first she had risen from her bed since her confinement.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.—An Iowa paper of a recent date gives the particulars of a romantic story which borders somewhat on the marvelous. Years ago a Pennsylvania farmer loved and married a charming young girl that lived near him. After the marriage time passed on, and soon the farmer contracted a taste for liquor, which frequently got the best of him. His wife remonstrated with him which on one occasion ended by the husband stabbing her with a butcher knife. He left precipitately, supposing he had killed her, and hid himself in the West, where in a few years he became a prosperous and wealthy merchant. His wife in the meantime recovered, and after living alone for five years, married again. Her husband, however, died at the expiration of a year, and she also went to the West. Then the incredible part of the story appeared. The parties met again after their long separation, and became acquainted, but neither recognized the other. An engagement was entered into, resulting in marriage, and soon suit was returned in the evening, he notices the scar made by his hand years ago, and suddenly recognizes her as his wife of former years. Here is a chance for story writers.

A LIVE MAN IN A DEAD MAN'S COFFIN.—The latest attempt of a convict to escape from prison occurred at the Joliet penitentiary last Tuesday morning. On the evening previous a colored convict had died, and his dead body was placed in a rough coffin for burial. On Tuesday morning, when the remains were about to be conveyed to the burying ground, which is a short distance from the premises, one of the officers perceived a slight movement of the coffin lid, which had not yet been raised, and he held, instead of a dead black man, a live white convict was found lying in the coffin. He was hustled out summarily and required to give an explanation. It appears that early in the morning, while the other convicts were at breakfast, he smuggled himself into the room where the coffin was, removed the corpse of the colored man, deposited it in an empty barrel, and got into the coffin himself, expecting that he would be carried outside the walls, and thence reaching the burying ground, jump out and escape. Being almost smothered he raised the lid slightly to get a breath of air, and was thus discovered in time to spoil his "little game." If he had remained quiet a minute or two longer the lid would have been screwed down, and he would probably have been smothered to death.

LESSONS OF SORROW.—Sorrow sobsers us and makes the mind genial. And in sorrow we love, and trust our friends more tenderly, and the dead become dearer to us. And just as the stars shine out in the nights, so there are blessed faces that look at us in our grief, though their features were fading from our recollection. Suffering, let no man dread it too much, because it is better for him, and it will help to make him sure of being immortal. It is not in the bright days, but only in the solemn night, that other worlds are to be seen shining in the long, long distances. And it is in sorrow—the night of the soul—that we see the furthest, and know ourselves natives of infinity and sons and daughters of the Most High.

"Buy a trunk, Pat!" said a dealer. "And what for should I buy a trunk?" rejoined Pat. "To put your clothes in," was the reply. "And go naked?" "The devil of it bit it!"

Reverend says the proverb, "is sweet." Different men have different ways of knowing it. Our friend Brown's way is harmless and humorous. Two Joneses live next door to each other, and having to call on one of them, Brown, of course, went to the wrong house. A crabbed servant answered the bell, and on Brown's asking, "Is this Mr. John Jones?" she replied snappishly, as if she had been bothered with many such inquiries, "No, it ain't," and slammed the door in his face. Brown walked on a hundred yards or so when a bright thought struck him. He returned at once and rang the same bell again. Again the crabbed servant appeared. "Who said it was?" asked Brown triumphantly, and instantly walked away.

The Seventh Congressional District.

TO THE Voters of the Seventh Congressional District of Virginia, composed of the Counties of Alexandria, Fairfax, Prince William, Fauquier, Stafford, Bopshamock, Culpeper, Spotsylvania, town of Fredericksburg, Orange, Loudoun, Louisa and Madison: Fellow Citizens: Having been honored by many citizens of the counties of Alexandria, Loudoun and Fairfax, with letters from numerous citizens of other counties, requesting me to announce myself as a candidate for Congress from this District, as constituted by the apportionment made by the last Convention, I followed a scrutiny of the present time, for reasons that will be readily understood by my fellow-citizens. I appreciate the kind manner in which I have been called on to answer their communications. I have not sought to represent this District. The present condition of affairs in Virginia is the reason I have been thought of, probably; but I do not feel at liberty to disregard the marked confidence expressed in me, and, therefore, announce myself as an independent candidate. Should it be the pleasure of the people to elect me, I promise to try and be a faithful representative, not to be swayed by the passions of the moment, but to be guided by the principles of the Constitution, and to be guided by the principles of the Constitution, and to be guided by the principles of the Constitution.

Good Templars—A Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars for the State of Virginia was instituted at Falls Church, Va. on April 25th, by J. H. Orm, R. W. G. T. of North America, assisted by members of the Grand Lodge of Washington, D. C.

The following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year: Job Hawhurst, G. W. C. T., Geo. O. Wunder, G. W. C., S. B. Wilbert, G. W. S., Lubbie C. Bowman, G. W. V. T., Levi H. York, G. W. C., B. W. Clark, G. W. T., Helen Nickerson, G. W. A. S., Geo. W. Hall, G. W. M., A. M. Lewis, G. W. G., Sarah J. Newcomb, C. W. D. M., Geo. D. Smith, G. W. O. G., L. H. York, R. W. G. L. Representative.

Monday at Brentsville.—We are to have quite a lively time at Brentsville on Monday, if report is true. It is said W. D. Wallach and Chas. Whittlesey, two opposing candidates for Congress, will argue their respective claims for the support of the people of the 7th District on that day.

A Seasonable Present.—Mrs. Sumner Fitts, near our village, will please receive our thanks for a very agreeable present.

Land Buyers.—Almost every train from the north brings with it persons seeking southern homes. Quite a number stop at Manassas which seems to be a diverging point for those who wish to purchase in the northern part of Virginia.

THE VIRGINIA NEWS. Persons desiring to be kept posted on the latest news of the State, and on the progress of the Virginia News, published weekly, at Warrenton, Va. Subscription $2 per annum in advance. Single copies sent free of postage on application. Liberal terms to advertisers. CANNON & MEAD, Publishers.

Killed.—A negro man by the name of Thomas, Tancmore was killed on Saturday last, in Orange county, near Germania, by Mr. Benjamin Hall. The facts as we have heard them are, that the wife of Tancmore was living with Mr. Hall, her former owner, and her husband came to Mr. Hall's and whipped her, when she ran into the house for protection, her husband following. The door was closed, and the negro was told not to enter the house; but he persisted and broke in the door, when Mr. Hall shot and killed him almost instantly. Mr. Hall gave himself up to the authorities.

Sales of Lands.—F. J. Cannon & Co., Real Estate Agents at Manassas, have sold this week, forty acres of land belonging to Susan Brenton to Mr. Fichtl of New York, for $550 cash. One hundred acres belonging to Walter Weir to Mr. Serles, of New York, for $950. Fifty acres of wood land belonging to Butler and Cannon to Mr. Green, of Maine, for $15 per acre.

End of a long Litigation.—On Friday last, Judge Purcell, of the Orphans' Court, received a despatch from Richmond notifying him that his suit against the Gibson heirs, that has been pending in the courts for nineteen years, has been decided in his favor. The estate lies in Prince William county, Va., embracing the Fleetwood and Flatbush estates, with thirty years' rents due. The estate is estimated to be worth $200,000.

The Crops.—The wheat crop in this county is looking remarkably well at present; but it is feared by farmers, that if the warm wet weather continues a few days longer the crops will be damaged by rust. Corn is up and standing well. Most of our farmers have put in large crops. Oats is looking remarkably well, and the prospect is good for a heavy crop.

At a meeting held at Salem, Fauquier, on Saturday the 29th of May, Mr. E. Louis Marshall, Esq., was nominated as a candidate for the House of Delegates, from Upper Fauquier.

At the same meeting, a committee was appointed to petition Gen. Canby to extend the stay law until the meeting of the General Assembly.

Monday at Brentsville.—We are to have quite a lively time at Brentsville on Monday, if report is true. It is said W. D. Wallach and Chas. Whittlesey, two opposing candidates for Congress, will argue their respective claims for the support of the people of the 7th District on that day.

THE UNDERWOOD VIRGINIA CONSTITUTION.

4. That all power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the people; that magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at all times amenable to them.

5. That government is, or ought to be, instituted for the common benefit, protection and security of the people, nation or community; of all the various modes and forms of government, that is best which is capable of producing the greatest degree of happiness and safety, and is most effectually secured against the danger of maladministration; and that when any government shall be found inadequate or contrary to these purposes, a majority of the community hath an indubitable, inalienable and indefeasible right to reform, alter or abolish it, in such manner as shall be judged most conducive to the public weal.

6. That no man, or set of men, are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services; which not being descendable, neither ought the offices of magistrate, legislator or judge be hereditary.

7. That the legislative, executive and judicial powers should be separate and distinct, and that the members thereof may be restrained from oppression, by feeling and participating the burthens of the people, they should, at fixed periods, be reduced to a private station, return into that body from which they were originally taken, and the vacancies by frequent, certain and regular elections, in which all or any part of the former members to be again eligible or ineligible, as the laws shall direct.

8. That all elections ought to be free, and that all men, having sufficient evidence of permanent common interest with, and attachment to, the community, have the right of suffrage, and cannot be taxed or deprived of their property for public uses, without their own consent, or that of their representatives so elected, nor bound by any law to which they have not in like manner assented, for the public good.

9. That all power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws by any authority, without consent of the representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights and ought not to be exercised.

10. That in all capital or criminal prosecutions, a man hath a right to demand the cause and nature of his accusations, to be confronted with the accusers and witnesses, to call for evidence in his favor, and to a speedy trial by an impartial jury of his vicinage, without whose unanimous consent he cannot be found guilty; nor can he be compelled to give evidence against himself; that no man be deprived of his liberty, except by the law of the land or the judgment of his peers.

11. That excessive bail ought not to be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted.

12. That general warrants, whereby an officer or messenger may be commanded to search suspected places without evidence of a fact committed, or to seize any person or persons, not named, or whose offence is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are grievous and oppressive, and ought not to be granted.

13. That in controversies respecting property, and in suits between man and man, the trial by jury is preferable to any other, and ought to be held sacred.

14. That the freedom of the press is one of the great bulwarks of liberty, and can never be restrained but by despotic governments, and any citizen may speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty.

15. That a well-regulated militia, composed of the body of the people, trained to arms, is the proper, natural and safe defence of a free State; that standing armies in time of peace, should be kept as little as possible.

16. That the freedom of the military should be under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

17. That the people have a right to uniform government; and, therefore, that no government separate from, or independent of, the Government of Virginia ought to be erected or established within the limits thereof.

18. That no free government, or the blessings of liberty, can be preserved to any people but by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.

19. That religion, or the duty which we owe to our Creator, and the manner of discharging it, should be promoted only by reason and conviction, not by force or violence; and, therefore, all men are equally entitled to the free exercise of religion according to the dictates of conscience; and that it is the mutual duty of all to practice Christian forbearance, love and charity towards each other.

20. That neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, shall exist within this State.

21. That all citizens of the State are hereby declared to possess equal civil and political rights and public privileges.

MANASSAS WEEKLY GAZETTE.

THE GAZETTE will be published every Saturday, and mailed to subscribers at one dollar and fifty cents a year, or ten copies to one post office for 12 dollars, with an additional copy to the geter up of the club. Additional copies will be sent to the same post office at one dollar a copy.

THE COLUMNS OF THE GAZETTE will be filled with local and other news items, and hints to our farmers, merchants and mechanics, and we will take especial pains to give our lady readers any information we can, that is of interest to them. By so doing, we hope to make our little paper a welcome visitor to every fireside.

POLITICS. It is not our intention to take sides with any political party, but publish an independent journal showing justice to all and partiality to none. We do not make this announcement for the purpose of deceiving any one, but make it believing that we can accomplish more good for the State, by taking an independent course than we could possibly do by engaging in party politics.

TO BE ENLARGED. The Publishers of the GAZETTE will not undertake to make an apology for its size as it is apparent to all, that it would not pay at present, to publish a larger sized paper. They promise, however, that as soon as the business will justify it, the GAZETTE will be enlarged and improved in all its departments and made equal to any weekly paper published in the State.

SUBSCRIBE. We hope every citizen in the County will be interested, to subscribe to their county paper, and at once.

OUR INTENTION. It is the intention of the Publishers to print nothing but what is entertaining and of interest to those who read the GAZETTE and as we have stated in another part of the paper, nothing will ever appear in its columns to injure the feelings of any one, if we can avoid it.
