PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, DEC. 4, 1893.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

One aspect of the situation as it is in the "now you see it and now you don't" of the three-card monte men of the Provisional Government. One day here they are all American citizens and as such pray the U. S. Government to annex us so as to tender American interests and property secure. Then they masquerade as Hawaiians when over on a trip to the U. S. as witness to the Emersons, the Castles, the Thurstons, the Carters, etc. Then here they and their motley crew of followers of all nationalities and degrees of crime, anarchy, and poverty get up and sign petitions protesting against the interference by the U. S. forces as damaging to their property and rights as American citizens while at the same time Vice President Hatch is publicly denouncing Mr. T. H. Davies as a foreigner and as publicly announcing himself as a Hawaiian. When we reflect that for years Mr. Hatch took no stand in politics here as he claimed to be afraid of losing his American citizenship and that in every group of statistics his property is classified as American this last statement almost paralyzes us by its cool audacity.

But we opine this very Jack-in-the-box style of action will present some difficulties which the P. G. have not calculated on when considered logically by them. If they really are American citizens they must obey the orders of their Chief Executive as given through his lawful officials or stand the treatment of rebels or rioters. And if they are not American but are Hawaiian citizens, then they stand in the position of rebels to their lawful and constitutional sovereign and as such by all rights of international law liable to be handed over—like pirates and such other felon and bloodthirsty vermin to Her tender mercies by Her sovereign friend and ally the Government of the U. S., and if they are neither they must then be classed as freebooting filibusters against whom every man's hand is raised and to put down whom every nation exerts its forces. Now there are the horns of your dilemma. Ye compound hybrid facing-both-ways! Which reminds us of the German soldier on out post duty in the early part of the Franco-Prussian war, who found himself suddenly surrounded by three French soldiers with fixed bayonets uncommonly close to his lower extremity and was startled to see one of them politely remove his Kept and say "Vich of ze tree vill n' sieu be pleased to sit on?" The moral is obvious.

The Star undertook to dictate to Minister Damon in the matter of the removal of certain Hawaiians in the Finance office and the custom house, but at the present writing these young men are still holding their positions and what is more Minister Damon has told the Star man in unmistakable language, that he does not want any advise from that paper, the annexation club, or any one else. What has become of the Star man's threats anyhow? He seems to have taken the back-track, for Saturday's issue did not contain a single reference to the matter, nor is it likely that it will be pursued any further. In the meantime we would like to ask Mr. Editor Smith how it feels to be a fool? Call off your dogs my hearty! You are barking up the wrong tree.

Mr. Collector of the Customs "Jimmy" Castle was in a high state of Jubilation upon hearing the news of the Spreckels family fight over the affairs of the Hawaiian Commercial Sugar Company, and in the exuberance of his glee he was thrown into a violent state of snorting and catharral paroxysm which threatened to cut short his bright and interesting career. Before this young offender shoots off his mouth in condemnation of other people's misdeeds, let him look back on his own record. Does he think that the public have forgotten the story of his shameless mismanagement of the Kahuku Plantation Agency? He had better sing low before he charges fraud upon others, and remember the old adage that "people who live in glass houses, etc." Come off! snorting Jimmy!

Colonel Spaulding, in his speech at the mass-meeting the other night indulged in some fine sarcasm at the expense of Colonel Claus Spreckels, to the effect that, if that gentleman could not make money in his sugar estates under the McKinley bill, there were others that could. But the Colonel ought to remember that he had unusual opportunities in the acquisition of his magnificent estate, as to make him comparatively insensible to such little contingencies as the tariff etc.

The Colonel is undoubtedly a good manager, and in matters of this kind there is every thing in the "management, you know!" Of course, we are not alluding to the cancelling of notes nor to the coloring of sugar.

The Wundenberg Case.

The charges which the Attorney General have seen fit to prefer against Mr. F. Wundenberg the Deputy Clerk of the Supreme Court, were presented this morning to the three Judges of the Supreme Court. The Attorney General further illustrated his incapacity as a lawyer, and was sat on by the Court who demanded that the averments in the charges against Mr. Wundenberg be made specific. The Attorney-general got a few days to substantiate his absurd charges, and on Wednesday the fun will commence again. When will S. O. W. (turn him over) stop making a horse's tail of himself.

Between two Fires.—"It seems to me," said Uncle Silas as he read the rules and regulations tacked on the door of his room at the hotel, "that these hotel people just systematically bleed people. One of these dinged rules says 'Don't blow out the gas,' and another says, 'Gas burned all night will be charged extree.'"

THE P. G. ARMY

The Patriotic "Americans" to be Protected by Minister Willis.

The Men P. C. Jones prays For.

We have received an authentic list of the men who are enlisted in the regular army of the Provisional Government, and we publish the different nationalities of the alleged soldiers for the purpose of showing the American people who their compatriots are whose blood is to flow in the streets of Honolulu together with the "gore" of the men from the war vessels, which carry the Stars and Stripes and obey the orders of the chief executive of the great republic.

There are at present 250 men in the army and they owe allegiance as follow:

Germans	54
Portuguese	49
Americans	32
Norwegians	27
British	19
Swedes	17
Italians	15
Russians	7
Danes	5
Russian Fins	3
Polish Jews	2
Greeks	2
Dutch	1
Native Hawaiian	1
Assorted (Don't know them selves)	16
Total	250

We can add that our informant further states that the length of residence of the above remarkable assortment who take up arms in the defense of the Provisional Government, is as follows:

1 (a Hawaiian) has lived here	19 years.
3 have lived here	12 "
2 " " "	10 "
2 " " "	5 "
10 " " "	2 "
15 " " "	1 year.
75 " " "	11 months.
34 " " "	8 "
12 " " "	5 "
46 " " "	2 "
40 " " "	1 month.
10 " " "	2 weeks.

R. R. R.

It is currently reported that Mr. P. C. Jones will be the bearer of dispatches containing the Citizens Petition to President Cleveland by the steamer Oceanic to-morrow in the interests of the P. G. and the Annexation Club. Just fancy Mr. Jones going to present his credentials to President Cleveland, who only a few nights ago at a mass meeting strongly denounced him as being elected by drunkards, vagrants, and rebels, whom he termed as "rum, riot and rebellion."

SENATOR VOORHEES.

Views Relative to the Hawaiian Question.

"If the evidence is true with reference to ex-United States Minister Stevens' action, the action of Secretary Gresham has placed the present Administration on solid ground, and this Government could not rightfully do other than it has done."

Everything Goes.

Tom De Witt.—No; how the deuce can a man kiss the wrong girl, any how?

THAT PETITION FOR MERCY.

A COMEDY IN ONE ACT.

City of Washington D. C.

Scene:—A reception room, in the White House.

Present:—President Grover Cleveland, Secretary of War Lamont, and other members of the Cabinet. (waiting the arrival of a visitor.)

Enters Secretary of State Gresham (accompanied by a gentleman with a copious stomach), who presents the gentleman, as follows:

"Mr. President, allow me to present to your Excellency Mr. — from the Hawaiian Islands."

Mr. — (holding a sealed document in his hands, immediately drops on the floor to a kneeling posture, and in a whining and squeaky tone,) addresses the President as follows:

"Mr. President, I have come all the way from Honolulu, by the quickest transportation possible, to present to your Excellency the enclosed petition." (rises and hands the sealed document with great reverence to the President, and returns to a kneeling posture); "and on behalf of my fellow revolutionists, may I be permitted to say further; that we have not done anything wrong which should cause us the loss of protection due to our lives and our property, as citizens of the United States." "I know and conscientiously feel, that we are placed in an awkward position through the action of ex-Minister Stevens—he would land the naval forces against our wishes—but, for such action, we would not have been made revolutionists, nor would there now exist a "Provisional Government" But, if we insist on holding the "fort,"—against your now EXPRESSED POLICY, and against the request that we revolutionists retire from the Government, so that the rightful Sovereign of Hawaii may be restored—, and endeavor, and by our own actions succeed in making trouble in Honolulu, (as no one else will do so) we beg of your Excellency, that, under those circumstances protection to our life and property should not be denied us."

"Mr. President, and now with a prayer to the Almighty—who is on our side—to give you strength, so that you may consider the petition from my fellow revolutionists in an unbiased manner and without the assistance of your Excellency's Secretary of State, I leave our petition for 'mercy' in your hands."

The President (standing erect, and with a look first of scorn and then one of pity) tells the gentleman to rise from his humiliating position, and asks him, "have your life and property been in danger all the years that you have lived in the Hawaiian Islands, under the monarchy?"

The gentleman answers (hesitatingly), "N—o."

The President, proceeds, "Is it not also, true, that on Sunday the 25th day of December of the year 1892, the occasion being a Sunday School gathering or anniversary held at Kawaiahao Church, that you in the presence of Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani and Suite, and before a large concourse of people, made a lengthy address speaking of your experiences as a Sunday School teacher? Did you not say, that you had had the honor of teaching the "word" of Jesus to several of the Hawaiian chiefs and rulers in their younger days? Did you not point out to the assemblage present, where the different kings, their consorts, and the chiefs were accustomed to sit?"

Did you not say that you recollected so plainly Lydia Kamakaeha Kapaeha, (now Queen Liliuokalani) coming to her seat in the Sunday School Class? And that you now did hold the honored position of a Cabinet officer in Her service, and also, that, you esteemed it an honor to have been appointed to that position?

The gentleman answers, "Such is the truth, Mr. President."

The President then replies: "Peter! Peter!! Oh, thou of little faith, wherefore doth thou doubt?" "Thou art an offence unto me; for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men." "Get thee back to your deluded fellow co-operators, and tell them, 'that their lives and property will be safer under the Monarchical rule, than that of any other.' "That Queen Liliuokalani is of a charitable and forgiving disposition, and that their necks and property are safe in Her hands." Now return to your Island home, and when you reach it—do not forget to offer a prayer to the Almighty, who is evidently on your side, by permitting you to make such a dangerous trip, without an accident—"inform your fellow churchmen and women of my views; and tell them that it is My desire, that in future they should truly lead and live respectable and Christian lives, as now the only profess to be doing." You may also further state, "that my Minister at Hawaii, has full instructions, what to do, and how to act; and in conjunction with Admiral Frwin will treat with filibusters and rebels whether they be of American or any other descent, in an appropriate manner."

Exit Peter, a sad, but wiser man.

Mr. Lewis J. Levey is holding a sale of the large stock of Japanese goods, at the store of Silva on Hotel street. The sale will continue for three days, and also evenings.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

Two persons, one in the columns of your paper, Mr. Editor signing himself Loyalist and the other signing himself T. H. Davies in the columns of the Bulletin have advocated a compromise to end "the situation as it is" and make up some kind of a mixture that will be "the situation" not "as it will be," but but as those two trimming Janus-headed milk-and-watery individuals "would like it to be." Now Mr. Editor "the situation as it is" has been made "bitter" not only by the talk, but by the actions of the P. G. and its adherents. To talk of them forming, assisting to form, or upholding a good and stable government unless they have the full sole and whole control of it, and the make-up of its personnel is like averring, that the hog is solely a graminivorous brute or that the dog will not swallow its own vomit. It will be found impossible to arrange any compromise with those bitter adherents of the revolutionary party. They have everything to lose and nothing to gain by any such action. The moderate men of their own side would throw them over as soon as coalition was effected and this they know. They have tasted of the fleshpots and the loaves and fishes, and they don't desire to eat opposition funeral baked meats again. And even supposing such were possible, Mr. Editor, are those who have "borne the heat and burden of the day" to be thrown over to pacify a lot of rebels who have done nothing but vilify and defame the loyal supporters of the crown and constitution and injure their business and social prospects? Is this to be done to please Mr. Loyalist and Mr. Davies? Or would even that absurdly idiotic idea of the latter's, to appeal to a board of philanthropists, would even that produce such a suicidal result? No, better that we (?) should be styled and treated as a den of outlaws. Or perhaps the anxiety on Mr. Davies' part is to save the scalps official and otherwise of those who have publicly and privately decried him and proclaimed him as every kind of villain, swindler, and impious vulgar shop keeping meddler they could think of. Which may be very well for Mr. Davies' Christian spirit but doesn't go far as as common sense. No, Mr. Editor, No Surrender! No Compromise!! Turn the Rascals Out! A TRUE LOYALIST.

OFFICIAL VISIT.

His Excellency, the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America, paid an official visit to H. P. M. S. Champion this forenoon. He was accorded the usual salute upon leaving the vessel.

Rear Admiral John Irwin U. S. N., visited the Japanese war ship Naniwa this forenoon. Upon leaving the ship, he was accorded the usual salute.

That "citizens Protest," handed to Minister Willis by so called Americans, is very interesting. Some people have got gall.

An Impudent Night Hawk.

Last Saturday evening at about nine o'clock, one of the present "magnificent" government's night prowlers, took it upon himself to enter the premises of a resident—who is a loyalist—living on Nuuanu Avenue. What shows out the audacity of the man, is the fact, that the lady of the house was conversing with two friends, a lady and a gentleman, at the gate, when he deliberately passed by them through the gate into the yard. He was allowed to proceed several feet, before being hailed.

The man did not pay any attention, and it was not, until the gentleman followed him that he halted. When asked his business and what he was doing on the premises, his reply was "That's my business, not yours." The man was otherwise very impudent and insulting. Later in the evening, the master of the house on returning home found his wife in an excited state of mind at the gateway talking of the matter to some friends. Who after receiving a description of the man, which tallied with that of a spy who he had just seen standing on the corner of Kukui and Nuuanu streets; he walked down the Avenue and met the spy walking up. The spy was stopped and given a good reprimanding, also fair warning not to be seen on those premises again. The man was evidently a German, and could not speak English properly.

Since the above was written, we have heard further complaints about spies entering private premises. Last evening one of them walked into the yard of a gentleman living on King street, went up on to the verandah of the house, and peeped through the blinds of the door. Two of the occupants—ladies—of the house were sitting in the shade in the corner of the verandah, so of course were not seen by the spy.

A Royalist Ram!

The Reverend (?) Sereno was out surveying the other day. He wanted the meets and boundaries of some taro patches on which he presumably desired to lend some money. As his head is getting weak and the remnants of his brains will melt if exposed to the sun, he hired a kanaka to carry an umbrella over him to protect him from the rays of the sun as well as from the odium of the Loyalists.

Grasing around the taro-patches was a well-developed ram—evidently with royalist tendencies. Seeing that Father Bis. was taking in a little too much land from the neighboring kanaka the ram made a right royal attack and landed its horns on the principal part of the reverend surveyor (his resting pillows) with the effect that the journalistic surveyor capsized with an oath, the kanaka with the umbrella and the ram with a jump into the taro-patch. And still the Friend comes out—and so did the ram—out of the mud.

Cleveland Endorsed.

The indications are that the Hawaiian episode is in its final chapters with the denouement—the restoration of the queen of the unpronounceable name—foreshadowed. The democratic administration of this country, by its course in this affair, so markedly different from that of its predecessor, has but followed out the American national policy of neutrality and non-interference in the affairs of other governments. In the present case is the conduct of President Cleveland and his official associates the more commendable because they preserved the dignity of the republic and came just in time to prevent its being made a cat's paw by unscrupulous speculators, who would from mercenary motives deprive the Sandwich islands of a government which, it seems, is satisfactory and suitable to the majority of their inhabitants.—Cahkosh Times.

THE BEGGAR-MAID.

"I like it not, my lord," she said:
 "That you should say with brow serene:
 "This beggar-maid shall be my queen."
 I am a woman, and as one,
 Like other maids, I would be wooed and won."

The king bowed down his crested head
 "My fair one have your way," he said:
 "Wilt be our bride?" The court grew still,
 While with orbs'neath fringed lashes gazing up, she said:
 "My lord, you bet your life I will."

What He Escaped.

When Columbus landed on our shores,
 A reporter, with bold effrontery,
 Did not accost the Italian with:
 "Say, Chris., how do you like our Country?"

My son, be conservative It is better to be a good dry-goods clerk than to plunge into literature, for the law compels people to wear clothes, but does not compel them to read poetry.
