Welcome to the 2010 NCFR Conference

Objectives of the NCFR Annual Conference

- To provide a forum to disseminate family research
- To share effective and evidence-based practice applications for direct family service
- To promote the CFLE credential and its educational and preventive approach to working with families
- To discuss policy implications of family research and how to inform decision-makers
- To promote the professional development of its membership, through participation in NCFR governance and by offering opportunities for continuing education units (CEUs) for credentialing

The NCFR Mission

To provide an educational forum for family researchers, educators, and practitioners to share in the development and dissemination of knowledge about families and family relationships, establish professional standards, and work to promote family well-being.

2010 Conference Theme:

“Families and Innovation”

Innovation is the creation of new objects or ideas—it is the process by which people introduce, re-think, adapt, surprise, generate, transform, and otherwise move some part of the world in a new direction. Innovation brings attention to human agency and creativity, and the importance of recognizing our capacity to think, act, and react beyond “the norm” or what is expected.

The 2010 NCFR annual conference theme is “Families and Innovation.” Plenary sessions will highlight new research on family issues that push against conventional ideas and/or illustrate the gaps between what we know and what we could know if we did things differently. The intention behind this theme is to invigorate the work of family researchers, teachers, policy makers, and practitioners by creating a forum for intellectually rigorous exploration, conversation, and debate.

NCFR thanks the following sponsors for their contributions to the 2010 Annual Conference

Wiley-Blackwell Publishing (President’s Reception)

Winthrop & Weinstine (reception support)

Johnson Printing (program booklet)

University of Illinois (plenary sponsor)

University of Georgia (plenary sponsor)

University of Minnesota (plenary sponsor)

Kansas State University (CFLE dinner)

University of Central Oklahoma (FLE event)

Thyme, Inc (health/beauty aids)

2010 Proposal Reviewers

One of the strengths of the NCFR Annual Conference is the Concurrent Sessions sponsored by sections. Proposals are blind reviewed by three peer reviewers from the section to which the proposal was submitted. The reviewers' role is key to ensuring that conference presentations are of the highest quality for a rich, rewarding, and stimulating conference experience.

THEORY CONSTRUCTION/RESEARCH METHODOLOGY PARTICIPATORY WORKSHOP

9am-12:30pm, Marquette Room 2

Constructing Social Theory, David Bell

Every theory consists of both a description of some causal logic (the theoretical orientation) and an application of that logic to some class of empirical situations (the theory itself). This workshop will show ways to make this distinction so as to heighten the clarity of theory discourse. Using Bell's Constructing Social Theory, the workshop will examine a sample of theoretical logics (in particular, exchange, power, and connection logics). The workshop will also present pedagogical suggestions for teaching theory construction.

Why I attend the NCFR Annual Conference

NCFR has been my professional home for over three decades. The annual conference quickly became central in my professional development and continues to be so.

The conferences expose the most current research, allow opportunities to meet colleagues, mentor new professionals, and just as important, allow renewing friendships over long leisurely dinners.

*Robert M. Milardo, Ph.D., Editor,
Journal of Family Theory & Review*

#124 OPENING PLENARY SESSION

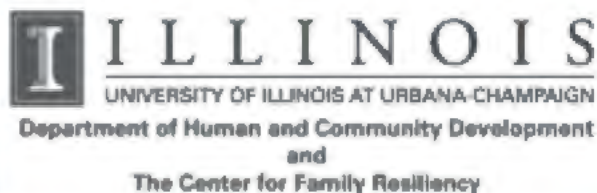

1:45-3:30pm, Salons A/B

Plenary Sponsor: University of Illinois, Department of Human and Community Development and The Family Resiliency Center

Innovations in Family Policy

Maria Cancian, Ph.D., University of Wisconsin-Madison
Approximately 40 percent of children are now born to unmarried parents, and our estimates suggest that most of these parents will go on to have children with other partners. The resulting complex families, together with changing employment patterns lead most mothers, as well as fathers, to work outside the home, raises challenges for research and policy. Dr. Cancian will address key related questions: What are the key recent and long-term changes in family formation? What are the implications for the wellbeing of families and children, especially in the current economic context? What policy innovations are needed to support parents and children given increasingly complex family situations?

Maria Cancian, Ph.D., Professor of Public Affairs and Social Work, and an affiliate of the Institute for Research on Poverty and the Center for Demography and Ecology, La Follette School of Public Affairs, School of Social Work, University of Wisconsin-Madison

CFLE Dinner

7:30-9:30pm, Minneapolis Grand Ballroom Salon G

Presider: Sharon Ballard, Chair, CFLE Advisory Council

This year marks the 25th Anniversary of the Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE) program. Join us in celebrating the success of the CFLE program. There are currently over 1550 active Certified Family Life Educators, and nearly 120 university and colleges with NCFR-approved degree programs that include the CFLE content. The profession of family life education has grown in recognition and value due to the existence of the CFLE program.

The CFLE program would not be the success it is today without the dedication and effort of those involved in developing and maintaining the program throughout the years. We plan to provide special recognition to all those who have contributed to the success of the program. Cost of the dinner is $35. Because of this special celebration, you don't have to be a CFLE to attend the dinner. You can register for the CFLE Dinner when you register for the conference.

Meditation Time

7:45-8:15am, Salon G

The time will be spent developing our moment-by-moment awareness using meditation techniques from the empirically tested Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) program developed by Dr. Jon Kabat-Zinn at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center. Researchers have documented several beneficial outcomes from mindfulness practice such as alleviating daily stress, chronic pain, depression, as well as lowering blood pressure, strengthening the immune system, and increasing attention span. Additionally, the meditation practices used in MBSR resonate with a spirituality common to many religious traditions.

Do Children Need Both a Mother and a Father?

The Relationship Between Science and Politics

Presenters: Timothy Biblarz, Ph.D., University of Southern California, and Judith Stacey, Ph.D., New York University, lead this signature plenary session.

In their JMF article in February, Timothy Biblarz and Judith Stacey challenged the idea that “fatherless” children are necessarily at a disadvantage or that men provide a different, indispensable set of parenting skills than women. The article is based on their analysis of relevant studies about parenting, including available research on single-mother and single-father households, gay male parents and lesbian parents.

Special Arts/Cultural Session at the Walker Art Center

6:30-9:30pm (guided tour/art activity); 7-9:30pm (self tours)

The 2010 Annual Conference includes an evening at the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis, a cultural activity idea from Conference Chair Ramona Faith Oswald. Attendees can visit the Walker 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and participate in a guided tour and/or art lab project (each takes about an hour); cost is $15 and registration is required (limit 50 participants). Or you have the option of a self-tour of the exhibits (7 p.m., free admission; no registration required). Bus transportation provided (last return at 9:30).

Why I attend the NCFR Annual Conference

"The first NCFR session I attended was the "Impassioned Teaching" Symposium in Baltimore, 1993. The room was packed; I sat on the floor wondering what to expect. By the end of the session, I had identified NCFR as my 'home,' a place where I could be mentored as a researcher and a teacher . . . I like the fact that NCFR members want not only the best research but they also want to engage how this research can inform policy and practice."

Session #301 Meditation Time

7:45-8:15am, Salon C

The time will be spent developing our moment-by-moment awareness using meditation techniques from the empirically tested Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) program developed by Dr. Jon Kabat-Zinn at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center. Researchers have documented several beneficial outcomes from mindfulness practice such as alleviating daily stress, chronic pain, depression, as well as lowering blood pressure, strengthening the immune system, and increasing attention span. Additionally, the meditation practices used in MBSR resonate with a spirituality common to many religious traditions.

Margaret Arcus Award Address

Getting Beyond Skills in Family Life Education.

H. Wallace Goddard, Ph.D., University of Arkansas Extension, 2010 Arcus Award Winner

Skills, although the focus of much FLE, are only a small part of what enables people to sustain healthy relationships. Among other things, there are perceptual systems and interpretive biases. (Think "rose-colored glasses.") There are also cultural norms that may support or challenge strong relationships. What are some of the processes that family life educators can encourage to help people get beyond skills, to manage bias, ferret out cultural nonsense, and build strong family relationships?

Spiritual Experiences of Young Adults: Do
They Vary by Levels of Parental Conflict?*

Research has shown that parental divorce can have a lasting influence on the religious and spiritual lives of young adults. In particular, children of divorce tend to be more disengaged from institutional religion than their counterparts from two-parent families, even with controls for many potentially confounding factors. But do all types of divorces, or all types of marriages, have the same effects on religiousness and spirituality? Christopher Ellison, Ph.D., University of Texas at San Antonio.

First Comes Marriage. Data from the General Social Survey, indicate that the deep and enduring ties between religion and family have characterized much of the nation's history continue up to the present. This study also suggests that family change has played a particularly important role in recent declines in religious attendance among specific groups in American society. W. Bradford Wilcox, Ph.D., University of Virginia.

#343 Qualitative Family Research Network

6:45-7:45 pm, Marquette Room 3

Workshop: Do's and Don'ts for Writing an Interpretive Analysis of Qualitative Interview Data. Presenter: Karen Pyke

Qualitative interview methods are particularly useful for examining the underlying meanings and assumptions that inform how individuals understand the lived world. This workshop will focus on the subtle analytic process of extracting these underlying meanings from interviews, without committing the common error of reading too much into the data. We will also discuss how to present empirical data to support such an analysis. Examples will be provided and participants are encouraged to bring empirical examples and questions from their own interview research to the workshop. This workshop is particularly suited for those who already know how to conduct qualitative interviews and want to hone their analytic skills.

7:45-8:15am, Salon C

The time will be spent developing our moment-by-moment awareness using meditation techniques from the empirically tested Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) program developed by Dr. Jon Kabat-Zinn at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center. Researchers have documented several beneficial outcomes from mindfulness practice such as alleviating daily stress, chronic pain, depression, as well as lowering blood pressure, strengthening the immune system, and increasing attention span. Additionally, the meditation practices used in MBSR resonate with a spirituality common to many religious traditions.

#403 SPECIAL SESSION

8:30-10am, Salon E

Leadership Training Seminar

Leader: Patricia Hyjer Dyk, Ph.D., Director of the Center for Leadership Development at the University of Kentucky

Many of us became family professionals because we wanted to be change agents – to help families and organizations better meet needs through our practice, teaching and/or research. However, becoming an effective change agent (leader) takes more than knowledge or desire; it takes sustained development. This session is designed to provide participants the opportunity to gain new insights about their personal development as a leader and their role in leadership development within a variety of settings. This fast-paced workshop will incorporate theoretically based information, experiential learning activities and personal reflection. Come prepared to:

- Enhance your communication and collaboration skills
- Identify strategies for becoming an effective change agent in various settings, and
- Develop a "next steps" plan for personal and/or organizational leadership development

Treating Traumatic Stress Injuries: Improved Paradigm for Family Practitioners

Leader: Charles R. Figley, Ph.D., Tulane University

Couple/family therapy techniques for use with veterans with PTSD; assessment, treatment planning, treatment delivery, follow up.

Charles Figley is Kurzweg Chair (distinguished professorship) in Disaster Mental Health, Professor and Co-Director for Graduate Programs in the Disaster Resilience Leadership Academy, Director of the Traumatology Institute, and Senior Professor in the Tulane University Graduate School of Social Work. He is a pioneer in the field of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). As a returning veteran from Viet Nam, he saw the connections between the traumas of both rape and war and out of this, came new and more general theory. This theory and diagnostic guidelines now guide many professionals in working with people debilitated by various kinds of trauma.

Presider: Jeffry Larson

TASTE OF THE TWIN CITIES

5pm, Hotel Lobby

If you are staying in the Twin Cities on Saturday night, end your conference experience on a great note by joining your colleagues and relaxing in a no-host evening at a local restaurant.

Why I attend the NCFR Annual Conference

There are so many reasons why I have attended the NCFR conference over the last 35 years. I find the experience “energizing” as it brings me into contact with people who share my research, teaching and service interests. I gain knowledge from the presentations I attend and, as importantly, I am inspired by the “informal learning opportunities” with colleagues from around the world. As my professional roles have changed, the conference has provided me with opportunities to recruit job candidates for faculty positions and to learn about the cutting edge research being done by scholars for possible inclusion in Family Relations.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
+ HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

The Department of Family Social Science (FSoS) provides undergraduate, masters, and doctoral-level education focused on all aspects of family life in the U.S. and around the world using a family systems approach to examine families as they interact with their environments. Our daily scholarship seeks to understand and find effective solutions to the problems families face. Departmental faculty are leaders in family research, family theory, family therapy, family education, and consultation on family issues.

FSoS faculty are involved in a number of interdisciplinary ventures, including collaborations within the university and a significant number of community partnerships as well as inter-university collaborations. Examples include the Academic Health Center, the Department of Family Medicine and Community Health, University of Minnesota Extension, Psychiatry, Social Work, Curriculum and Instruction, Post Secondary Teaching and Learning, the Minnesota Department of Human Services, the Institute on Domestic Violence, and St. Mary's University.

Nationally, faculty collaborate with partners at the Oregon Social Learning Center and participate in multi-state research projects with scholars from more than 35 states. Internationally, faculty work with colleagues in Israel, Mexico, Thailand, Korea, Uganda, and Iraq. These relationships enrich FSoS scholarship across research, teaching, and engagement and student's formal and informal learning experiences.

WE OFFER:

Nationally recognized, land-grant mission of teaching, research, and extension/outreach, with three signature areas:

- Family policy and practice
- Life span development
- Early development, care and education

PH.D., MASTERS PROGRAMS

Check out our outstanding multidisciplinary Ph.D. and masters programs covering a range of human sciences and services related to children, adults, and families.

WE INVITE:

Applications from dynamic, innovative, and enthusiastic colleagues who will enhance existing synergy, demonstrate dedication to high quality research and teaching, and bring a strong commitment to obtaining external funding.

Two 9-month tenured/tenure track assistant/associate professor positions (area open).

Responsibilities include conducting research in human development and family studies, seeking external funding, teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, and advising masters and doctoral students. Successful candidates will possess an earned doctorate in Human Development and Family Studies or a related field.

Appointments begin August 2011. Review of applications will begin December 1, 2010 and continue until the positions are filled. For details or to apply, visit web site below. For more information, contact Dr. Mary Jane Brotherson, mjbrothe@iastate.edu, or Dr. Peter Martin, pxmartin@iastate.edu.

One 12-month tenured/tenure track Extension/research assistant/associate professor. Work with faculty with cross-curricular interests related to personal and family finance, financial education and literacy, family policy, and consumer economics including housing. Increase outreach excellence, external funding, and diversity of faculty and students.

Extension (75% appointment) responsibilities include leading projects in financial education and literacy with an interdisciplinary team of faculty and extension program specialists, and seeking external funding. Devote 25 percent of effort to developing an independent, externally funded research program that supports Extension activities. Mentor graduate students and publish peer-reviewed manuscripts. The successful candidate will possess an earned doctorate in personal finance, family and consumer economics, agricultural economics or a closely related field.

Appointment begins July 2011. Review of applications will begin December 1, 2010. For more information, contact Dr. Christine Cook, cccocok@iastate.edu.

Appointment at the rank of associate professor for any of the listed positions will require an established record of scholarly publications and external funding appropriate for a research university dedicated to its land-grant mission.

CFLE 25th Anniversary Celebration

7:30-9:30pm, Salon G

Facilitator/President: Sharon Ballard, CFLE Advisory Board Chair; Dawn Cassidy, NCFR Director of Education
This year marks the 25th Anniversary of the Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE) program. Join us in celebrating the success of the CFLE program. There are currently over 1550 active Certified Family Life Educators, and nearly 120 university and colleges with NCFR-approved degree programs that include the CFLE content. The profession of family life education has grown in recognition and value due to the existence of the CFLE program.

The CFLE program would not be the success it is today without the dedication and effort of those involved in developing and maintaining the program throughout the years. We plan to provide special recognition to all those who have contributed to the success of the program. Cost of the dinner is $35. Because of this special celebration, you don't have to be a CFLE to attend the dinner. You can register for the CFLE Dinner when you register for the conference.

Why I attend the annual conference

NCFR has embraced the changing culture of family science. What I value most about the annual conference is the openness and enthusiasm for new and collaborative ways of thinking. You'll find leading experts and practitioners head-to-head with students and new professionals sharing experiences and ideas with an energy I have not felt at any other professional gathering.

2011 Conference Theme

Families and the Shifting Economy

Program Chair: Leonor Boulin Johnson,
Arizona State University

The conference theme is “Families and the Shifting Economy.” If it is true that an economic crisis is like war in that it affects everything it touches, then the arsenal of expertise available to each section and focus group is essential for equipping families to transverse the ebbs and flows of the economic storm. Our theme allows us to highlight the national and international factors blocking families’ access to health, housing, and employment as well as to examine the consequences for individuals and their relationships.

MAJOR SESSIONS

The following speakers are confirmed.

Frank F. Furstenburg, Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania
Rebecca M. Blank, Ph.D., U.S. Under Secretary for Economic Affairs
Isabell Sawhill, Ph.D., Brookings Institution
David Williams, Harvard University, School of Public Health

Their presentations are in planning; watch for titles and details early in 2011. Topics will focus on research and policy issues such as family behavioral patterns among disadvantaged populations; public policy and measuring the well-being of families; disparities in personal health that arise from housing segregation, immigration, and other challenges; and intergenerational equity—balancing the needs of young and old.

Submit a proposal...

Information about the 2011 Call for Proposals will be available on the NCFR website approximately November 15, 2010. All submissions will be submitted electronically. Visit this web page later in November:

General information

Welcome to the 72nd NCFR Annual Conference. The theme “Families and Innovation” is the focus of a stimulating and relevant program that fits perfectly with the changing social times in which we live.

This year’s offerings of plenaries, special sessions, research and practitioner updates are outstanding. NCFR Sections have planned stimulating special topic workshops, symposia and posters covering a wide range of topics in family sciences.

In addition to over 350 presentations, you can network with colleagues, meet NCFR Board members and Section Chairs, and learn from several of NCFR’s Fellows at “Fellows Round Tables.”

Contacting you

Please leave your cell phone number or hotel room number with family and workplaces. Locating you in an emergency can be difficult. You can add emergency contacts to your conference registration record if you did not do that earlier.

Accommodations for special needs

The Minneapolis Hilton and NCFR want to insure that all may fully participate in the conference. If you have questions or accommodation requests, notify staff at the conference registration desk or the hotel front desk.

Other questions about the conference or logistics

Stop at the NCFR Conference Registration desk in the Red Wing Room adjacent to the Grand Ballroom Foyer.

Learn about NCFR

Feel free to ask questions of the Board members and other committee officers who are wearing colored ribbons on their name badges. Visit the NCFR Booth in the Exhibits on Thursday and Friday. Be sure to attend sessions and business meetings sponsored by sections and focus groups that interest you. See the list of Special Events and Committee Meetings following the session listings in this booklet.

Wear your conference badge!

Badges must be worn at all times and are required for all educational sessions, receptions, and activities.

Your conference registration fee covers admission to the following events:

- Plenaries, symposia/workshops, papers, round tables, posters
- Special sessions, section and focus group business meetings
- All receptions and events except the following which are invitation only or require pre-registration: all pre-conference workshops on Tuesday, Nov. 2; CFLE Reception; Legacy Circle; Affiliate Councils Workshop; Student Affiliates Breakfast
- Exhibits
- Newcomers’ Reception, open to first and second time attendees

Continuing Education Hours

NCFR is approved for continuing education hours by the National Board of Certified Counselors, the National Association of Social Workers, the California Board of Behavioral Sciences, and for NCFR Certified Family Life Educators.

These continuing education opportunities are provided to therapists and counselors, social workers, and NCFR Certified Family Life Educators, as well as other family professionals.

If you registered for Continuing Education Hour certificates, use the form that is in your registration packet. If you didn’t sign up for CEUs initially, you can go to the conference registration booth and sign up. There is a $25 fee (does not apply to CFLE CEUs). Certificates of attendance will be mailed by January 15, 2011. One hour attendance verification is given for each clock hour in content sessions. (Breaks and introductions are excluded.) Up to 40 hours are eligible for CFLE credit.

Refund Policy

Refund deadline was October 15, 2010. For exceptions related to medical emergency (only), contact NCFR staff.

Downtown Minneapolis is pedestrian friendly and includes miles of interconnected skyways and buildings.

Getting around

Best options from MSP International Airport are taxi or the Hiawatha Line light rail, which also runs to the Mall of America. A taxi ride is about $20 to $25. Some commercial hotel shuttles are available but the Hilton does not provide a complimentary shuttle.

Conference tips

- Plan your conference events with your Personal Program Scheduler (inserted into this program).
- Make appointments with colleagues in advance.
- Hand out your business cards, vitae, and resumes!
- Use the message board near the registration center.
- Stay healthy! The fitness room is available on the 2nd floor.
- Remember personal safety. Call the hotel front desk or see NCFR staff with concerns.
- Networking opportunities abound! Don't miss the Newcomers Reception, the University Receptions, many sessions for Students/New Professionals (S/NP) including job market discussion, applying to graduate school, and "Speed Networking."

Why become a member?

We are NCFR

...the premier professional association for the multidisciplinary study of families. NCFR attracts professionals from all areas of research, teaching, practice, policy analysis, and human services.

Our members' interests—as diverse as their careers and backgrounds—are focused on topics and efforts that yield a common benefit: strengthening families.

Our organization

The National Council on Family Relations, established in 1938, is a nonpartisan, nonprofit professional organization focused solely on family research, policy and practice. Our 3300 members represent the nation's leading family researchers, educators, and practitioners.

Our journals

Journal of Marriage and Family . . . JMF, for 70 years the premier journal in the area of marriage and family. Editor: David Demo

Family Relations: Interdisciplinary Journal of Applied Family Studies . . . FR provides an applied focus for practitioners, educators, and policy professionals. Editor: Ronald Sabatelli

Journal of Family Theory & Review . . . New in 2009, JFTR provides a new option for exploring family and relationship theory; complimentary distribution to all journal-subscribing members in 2010. Editor: Robert Milardo

Our CFLE credential...the standard for family life educators

Certification is provided to family life educators through the Certified Family Life Educator designation. The NCFR CFLE curricular requirements have been incorporated into degree programs at more than 110 colleges and universities.

Stay informed

NCFR Report, the member magazine is published quarterly and features a "Family Focus" section with contributed articles on key topics. Network is the CFLE newsletter that includes book reviews, best practices, and news from CFLEs around the world. The "Zippy News" e-newsletter provides weekly updates and announcements on family matters.

Local connections

A dozen state affiliate councils gives NCFR a local flavor. Stay in touch with members in your area through conferences, events, and communications. Plus, 20 student affiliates offer a great option to build your resume and connect your academic experience to real-world opportunities. The Affiliate Councils provide communication options and conference program events to share information with other local affiliate members.

Shared interests...NCFR sections make it happen for you

There are ten sections within NCFR, each with a particular area of emphasis. Section members communicate through listservs and web page announcements. Many presentations at the Annual Conference are determined by section submission, review, and sponsorship.

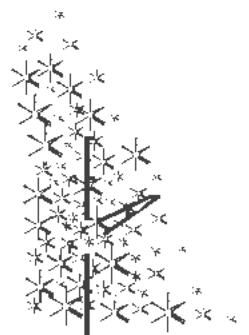

Annual Conference...professional development plus

Stimulating and enlightening...that describes the NCFR annual conference. You'll find major presentations by leading professionals, break-out sessions of all kinds, and informal networking. Grow professionally, establish new contacts, and build lasting relationships.

We are NCFR

... the premier professional association for the multidisciplinary understanding of families. The NCFR Annual Conference attracts professionals from all areas of research, teaching, practice, policy analysis, and human services.

Our members' interests—as diverse as their careers and backgrounds—are focused on topics and efforts that yield a common benefit: strengthening families.

Our organization

The National Council on Family Relations, established in 1938, is a nonpartisan, nonprofit professional organization focused solely on family research, policy and practice. Our 3300 members represent the nation's leading family researchers, educators, and practitioners.

Our journals

Journal of Marriage and Family

JMF, for 70 years the premier journal in the area of marriage and family. Editor: David Demo

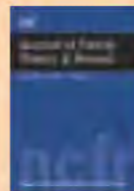

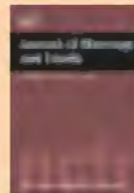

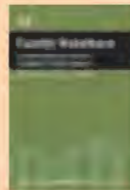

Family Relations: Interdisciplinary

Journal of Applied Family Studies

FR provides an applied focus for practitioners, educators, and policy professionals. Editor: Ronald Sabatelli

Journal of Family Theory & Review

New in 2009, JFTR provides a new option for exploring family and relationship theory; complimentary distribution to all journal-subscribing members in 2010. Editor: Robert Milardo

Our CFLE credential...the standard for family life educators

Certification is provided to family life educators through the Certified Family Life Educator credential. The NCFR CFLE curricular requirements have been incorporated into degree programs at more than 115 colleges and universities.

Stay informed

NCFR Report, the member magazine is published quarterly and features a "Family Focus" section with contributed articles on key topics. Network is the CFLE newsletter that includes book reviews, best practices, and news from CFLEs around the world. The "Zippy News" e-newsletter provides weekly updates and announcements on family matters.

Local connections

A dozen state affiliate councils gives NCFR a local flavor. Stay in touch with members in your area through conferences, events, and communications. Plus, 20 student affiliates offer a great option to build your resume and connect your academic experience to real-world opportunities. The Affiliate Councils provide communication options and conference program events to share information with other local affiliate members.

Shared interests...NCFR sections make it happen for you

There are ten sections within NCFR, each with a particular area of emphasis. Section members communicate through listservs and web page announcements. Many presentations at the Annual Conference are determined by section submission, review, and sponsorship.

Annual Conference...professional development plus

Stimulating and enlightening...that describes the NCFR annual conference. You'll find major presentations by leading professionals, break-out sessions of all kinds, and informal networking. Grow professionally, establish new contacts, and build lasting relationships.
