CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF ANTRIM AND BOROUGH OF BELFAST.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract; the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Antrim; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Return, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLII., inclusive.

The County of Antrim* comprises 14 Baronies—the Barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 23 Petty Sessions Districts, and 2 parts of Petty Sessions Districts. Quarter Sessions are held in Antrim, Ballymena, Ballymoney, and Belfast.

* The County returns two Members to Parliament, the Borough of Belfast two, and Carrickfergus and Lisburn one each.

The County includes 1 Parliamentary Borough—Carrickfergus—and parts of 2—Belfast and Lishurn; part of 1 Municipal Borough—Belfast; 1 Municipal Town—Carrickfergus; 4 Townships—Antrim, Ballymena, Ballymoney, and Larne; and 1 Town—Legaciel—of more than 2,000 inhabitants, but not under local government.

There are 4 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Antrim, Ballycastle, Ballymena, and Larne—and parts of 5, viz. :—Ballymoney, Belfast, Coleraine, Lishurn, and Lurgan, the remaining portion of which will be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the medical relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 71 civil Parishes and 8 parts of Parishes, and 1,741 Townlands.

Table with 13 columns: In Houses of the, Rural Districts, Urban Districts, Rural and Urban Districts, Total. Sub-headers include Number of Families occupying, 1st Class, 2nd Class, 3rd Class, 4th Class, Families, House.

NOTE.—The plan of classification in the foregoing table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its position, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd, its utility or durability, as shown by the material of the walls and roof. If members be adapted to regulate the position of every house, in a series of such classes, and if the members thus obtained be added together, a NEW SERIES of such lists will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale composed of all the classes, viz., their actual value. Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are assigned houses having only one room and window; in the third a better description of houses, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good farm house, having from five to six rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the first time, on this occasion been divided so as to exhibit the number of small houses in description of dwelling which is rapidly disappearing from the country, or distinguished from small cottage lots of brick or stone. The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, viz.—1st. One class accommodation consisting of one class house, occupied by one family. 2nd. One class accommodation consisting of two class houses, occupied by one family, or of two class houses, occupied by two or three families. 3rd. One class accommodation consisting of two class houses, with one family each, or two class houses, with two or three families, or two class houses occupied by one family. 4th. One class accommodation including all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

OCCUPATIONS OF THE PEOPLE.

TABLE XIX.—OCCUPATIONS of MALES and FEMALES, distinguishing those under Twenty Years of Age from those of Twenty Years and upwards, in CLASSES, ORDERS, and SUB-ORDERS, in the COUNTY OF ANTRIM, and County of the Town of CARRICKFERGUS.

N.B.—All Artisans (including Porters) have been included under the Trade to which they belong, viz.—A person possessed as "Grocery Assistant" has been tabulated under the head of "Cooks."

Table with columns: CLASS, ORDER, and SUB-ORDER; ALL AGES; Under 20 Years of Age; 20 Years of Age and upwards; Acres specified. Rows include ALL PERSONS, PERSONS OF SPECIFIED OCCUPATIONS, CLASSES (I-VI), ORDERS (I-VI), and SUB-ORDERS (I-VI).

NOTE.—The number of persons engaged in a particular occupation, profession, or trade, must not be taken as intended to represent the actual total of persons so enumerated in this class. An individual having a more than one occupation than one, or an occupation distinct from his profession, or having distinct from both, will often, either through inadvertence or of purpose, be included under one head only of occupation or profession. Thus, a person who may be a Carpenter and Professor of Surgery and Land Agent, or Justice and Land Owner, will very probably be found returned in but one of those characters. In this Case Order and Sub Order, are included all persons, aged 15 years and upwards, possessed as "Student" or "Student."

* B.—The number of persons returned in a particular occupation, profession, or rank, need not be taken as intended to represent the actual total of persons so designated in the borough, as a individual being more occupations than one, or an occupational list not from his profession, or income derived from both, will often enter through inadvertence or of accident, several times under one head only of occupation or residence. Thus, a person who may be Clergyman and Professor, or Barrister and Land Agent, or Judge and Land Owner will very generally be found returned in but one of these characters.
 * The remaining portion of the Borough of Belfast is presented in the county of Down. For detailed Tables of the entire borough, see Appendix (d) in this class. Clergy and Public-Officers are included, all persons, aged 15 years and upwards, returned as "Student" or "Student."
 (c) Excludes all children under 15 years of age following no occupation, and of Wives living in stated occupations.

NOTE.—The Census of 1821 is the first that affords a means of comparison with those of subsequent decades, and 1820, however, the area comprised within other than the limits of the Municipal Borough was much smaller than the borough, as here enumerated.

The Survey areas for 1821 are for the "Town" of Belfast, those for 1831, for the "Town and Liberties," and in the subsequent periods, for the "Municipal Borough" in 1841 and 1851 the same were extended beyond the limits of the municipal boundary.

In 1841 the town stood at an area of 3,772 acres, while the borough comprised only 1,742. There were then on the entire town 18,577 houses—21,936 inhabited, 1,184 uninhabited, and 21 building, with a population of 48,006 persons—23,816 males, and 24,190 females.

In 1871 the area of the town and municipal borough were as in 1841, but the houses in the town increased to 18,885—19,181 inhabited, 1,184 uninhabited, and 29 building, and the population to 209,287—97,616 males, and 111,671 females.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF ARMAGH.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract, the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Armagh; and propose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table L of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Return, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steedings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLII., inclusive.

The County of Armagh* comprises 8 Baronies—the barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1831, page x.

There are in the County 15 Petty Sessions Districts, and 1 part of a Petty Sessions District. Quarter Sessions are held in the City of Armagh, and in the Towns of Ballybot (Newry), Lurgan, Markethill and Newtown Hamilton.

*The County returns two Members to Parliament, and the City of Armagh one. Newry is also a Parliamentary Borough, partly in the County of Armagh, and returns one Member.

The County includes 1 Parliamentary Borough—Armagh—and part of another—Newry; 4 Townships—Keady, Lurgan, Portadown, and Tandragee, and 1 Town—Bess Brook—of more than 2,000 inhabitants, but not under Local Government.

There is no Poor Law Union wholly within the County, but Armagh contains parts of 6 Unions, viz. :—Armagh, Banbridge, Castlereaghney, Dundalk, Lurgan, and Newry, the remaining portions of which are to be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the Medical Relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 23 civil Parishes and 6 parts of Parishes, and 963 Townlands

(a) 7,021 of the electors are for the county. These figures do not include the electors of the borough of Newry, the greater portion of which is situated in the county of Down.

(b) Of whom 2 are for the county.

(c) The remainder is in the county of Down. The houses and population for this portion cannot be given for 1861, as the particulars were then published only for the entire borough.

(d) These figures are for the entire borough.

NOTE.—The plan of distribution in the foregoing Table is the most accurate adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st. Its extent, as shown by the number of rooms, 2nd. its quality, as shown by the number of its windows, and 3rd. its solidity or durability, as shown by the material of the walls and roof. Its numbers are adapted to express the position of every house in a scale of such three elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, a new series of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale-composition of all the elements, i. e., that which is given.

Four classes have been selected, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are assigned houses having only one room and window, in the third a better description of houses, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good farm house, having from five to nine rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class is for the first time, as this census has opened up as to the extent of number of small cottages in description of dwelling which is rapidly disappearing from the country, as distinguished from small cottages built of brick or stone.

The accommodations which the houses which has also been arranged under four classes, viz.—

1st. Class accommodations consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family.

2nd. Class accommodations consisting of 2nd class houses, occupied by one family, or of 1st class houses, occupied by two or three families.

3rd. Class accommodations comprising 3rd class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses, with four or five families.

4th. Class accommodations include all 4th class houses, 2nd class houses with more than one family, 1st class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF CAVAN.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract; the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Cavan; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Return, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLI., inclusive.

* The County of Cavan* comprises 8 Baronies—the Barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 13 Petty Sessions Districts, and 5 parts of Petty Sessions Districts. Quarter Sessions are held in Belleborough, Ballyconnell, Cavan, and Cootehill.

* The County returns no Members to Parliament.

The County (which has no Parliamentary Borough) includes 3 Townships—Beltrabet, Cavan, and Cootehill.

There are 2 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Ballieborough and Cavan—and parts of 6, viz. :—Bawaboy, Cootehill, Enniskillen, Granard, Kella, and Oldcastle, the remaining portion of which will be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the medical relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 29 civil Parishes and 7 parts of Parishes, and 1,987 Townlands.

(a) The civic districts comprise all municipal boroughs, townships, and towns of 5,000 inhabitants and upwards.

Notes.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd, its utility or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If windows be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of such of these elements, and if the windows also obtained for every house be added together, a new order of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale composed of all the elements, i.e. their actual state.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window, in the third a better description of house, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good three rooms, having five or six rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has for the first time, as the notes here detailed as to its extent the number of small cottages (a description of dwelling which is rapidly disappearing from the country, or distinguished from small cottages built of brick or stone).

The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, viz.—

First Class accommodation consisting of first class houses, occupied by one family.
Second Class accommodation consisting of first class houses, occupied by one family, or of 2d class houses, occupied by two or three families.
Third Class accommodation comprising 2d class houses, with one family each, or 3rd class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.
Fourth Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 2d class houses with more than one family, 3rd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF DONEGAL.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract, the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Donegal; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science, such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Returns, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLII., inclusive.

The County of Donegal* comprises 8 Baronies—the barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 26 Petty Sessions Districts, and 1 part of a Petty Sessions District. Quarter Sessions are held in Buncrana, Carrdonagh, Glenties, Donegal, Letterkenny, and Lifford.

* The County returns two Members to Parliament.

The County (which has no Parliamentary Borough) includes 2 Townships—Ballyshannon and Letterkenny.

There are 7 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Donegal, Dunfanaghy, Glenties, Inishowen, Letterkenny, Milford, and Stranorlar—and parts of 3, viz.:—Ballyshannon, Londonderry, and Strabane, the remaining portion of which will be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the Medical Relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 49 civil Parishes and 3 parts of Parishes, and 2,538 Townlands.

1st. The 4th class districts comprise all unincorporated boroughs, townships, or towns of 1,000 inhabitants and upwards.

Note.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms, 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows, and 3rd, its stability or durability, as shown by the material of the walls and roof. If numbers be adapted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained be every house be added together, a new series of numbers will be produced giving the position of each house in a scale composed of all the elements, i. e., their actual state.

Four classes have been adopted, and the respective, that in the lowest of the four classes are unoccupied houses having only one room and window, in the third a better description of houses, having three less in two rooms and windows, in the second, what might be considered a good farm house, having four or more rooms and windows, and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the first time, no real occasion been divided so as to exhibit the number of mad cells in description of dwelling which is rapidly disappearing from the country, or distinguished from small cottages built of heath or stone.

The accommodation within the houses offered has also been arranged under four classes, viz.—

First Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family.

Second Class accommodation consisting of 2nd class houses, occupied by one family, or of 3rd class houses, occupied by two or three families.

Third Class accommodation comprising 3rd class houses, with one family each, or 4th class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.

Fourth Class accommodation including all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

NOTE.—The number of persons returned in a particular occupation, profession, or trade, must not be taken as denoting the actual total of persons so enumerated in the County. An individual being more occupations than one, or an occupation being done by his partner, or income derived from both, will often, unless through inadvertence or neglect, return himself under two heads only of occupation or condition. Thus a person who may be a Clergyman and Poet, or a Solicitor and Land Agent, or a Judge and Land Owner, will very generally be found returned in but one of these situations.

(a) In this class, Order and Sub-order, are included all persons, aged 15 years and upwards, returned as "Inkster" or "Scriber."

(b) Refers to Children under 15 years of age following an occupation, and of Wives being no stated occupations.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF DOWN.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract, the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Down; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Returns, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for cart-roads and farm-steadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLII., inclusive.

The County of Down* comprises 14 Baronies—the barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 26 Petty Sessions Districts and 2 parts of Petty Sessions Districts. Quarter Sessions are held in the Borough of Belfast and in the Towns of Banbridge, Downpatrick, Hillsborough, Newtownards, and Newry.

*The County returns two Members to Parliament; the Parliamentary Borough of Belfast two, and those of Downpatrick, Lisburn, and Newry one each.

The County includes 1 Parliamentary Borough—Downpatrick, and parts of 3—Belfast, Lisburn, and Newry; 6 Townships—Banbridge, Bangor, Drumore, Gilford, Holywood, and Newtownards, and part of another—Newry, also 2 Towns—Comber and Donaghadee—of more than 2,000 inhabitants, but not under Local Government.

There are 3 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Downpatrick, Kilkeel, and Newtownards—and parts of 5 Unions, viz. :—Banbridge, Belfast, Lisburn, Lurgan, and Newry, the remaining portions of which are to be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the Medical Relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 64 civil Parishes and 6 parts of Parishes, and 1,258 Townlands.

NOTE.—The areas given for the townships and towns are estimated. For the entire Borough of Belfast see Appendix to the Tables for the County of Antrim, p. 141. The houses and population should be given for the purposes of the Parliamentary Boroughs of Belfast and Drogheda, in the particular case, then published only for the county of these Boroughs. The numbers for 1861, appended to the headings, represent the houses and population of the towns proper, while those for 1871 are for the townships, which comprise as each case a rural District surrounding the town.

- (a) The number of electors given is for the only boroughs each case.
 (b) Includes the electors for the boroughs, portions only of which lie in the county of Dows.
 (c) For the county only.
 (d) The remainder is in the county of Antrim.
 (e) The remainder is in the county of Down.

NOTE.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—
1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows, and 3rd, its solidity or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If a house be adapted to express the position of every house in a scale of such elements, and if the position thus obtained for every house be added together, a new order of ranking will be produced, giving the position of each house on a scale composed of all the elements, i.e. their actual state.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window; in the third a better description of house, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good farm house, having from five to nine rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has for the first time, on this occasion been divided so as to include the number of mud cabins or dwellings which it is rapidly disappearing from the country, or distinguished from mud cottages built of brick or stone.

The second class which the houses of the first class has also been arranged under four orders, viz:—

First Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses occupied by one family;
Second Class accommodation consisting of 2nd class houses occupied by one family, or of 1st class houses occupied by two or three families;
Third Class accommodation comprising 3rd class houses, with one family only, or 2nd class houses with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families;
Fourth Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

Thus, a person who may be a Clergyman and Professor of Mathematics and Latin, or a Judge and Land Owner, will very probably be found returned as but one of these occupations.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF FERMANAGH.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract; the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Fermanagh; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Return, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farmssteadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLI., inclusive.

The County of Fermanagh* comprises 8 Baronies—the Barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1831, page x.

There are in the County 11 Petty Sessions Districts, and 8 parts of Petty Sessions Districts. Quarter Sessions are held in Clogher, Enniskillen, and Newtownbutler.

* The County returns two Members to Parliament.

The County includes 1 Parliamentary Borough—Enniskillen.

There is 1 Poor Law Union wholly within the County—Lismaska—and part of 4, viz. :—Ballyshannon, Clones, Enniskillen, and Irvinestown, the remaining portions of which will be found in the adjoining county.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the medical relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 14 civil Parishes and 9 parts of Parishes, and 2,161 Townlands.

(a) Civic districts comprise all municipal boroughs, townships, and towns of 5,000 inhabitants and upwards.

NOTE.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd, its utility or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, a wide range of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale composed of all the elements, viz., their several rates.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window; in the third a better description of houses, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good farm house, having from five to nine rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the first time, on this occasion been divided so as to exhibit the number of small cottages in description of dwelling which is rapidly disappearing from the country, as distinguished from small cottages built of brick or stone.

The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, viz.—

First Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family.

Second Class accommodation consisting of 2nd class houses, occupied by one family, or of 3rd class houses, occupied by two or three families.

Third Class accommodation comprising 3rd class houses, with one family each, or 4th class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.

Fourth Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by one or more families.

* The designation "Primary" has been applied in Irish Census Publications, since 1861, to schools where the instruction is exclusively English, while those schools in which a foreign language is taught have been denoted as "Superior," upon the ground that the presence of a foreign language in the school course implies a higher standard of general education than is to be found where such an element is wanting.

† These form the correct basis for the classification of the National Board, the Model Schools being the best. See Rules of the Commissioners of National Education.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY AND CITY OF LONDONDERRY.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract, the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County and City of Londonderry; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science, such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Return, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLII., inclusive.

The County of Londonderry* comprises 6 Baronies—the barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 14 Petty Sessions Districts. Quarter Sessions are held in Coleraine, Londonderry, Magherafelt, and Newtown Limavady.

* The County returns two Members to Parliament, and the Boroughs of Londonderry and Coleraine, one each.

The County includes 2 Parliamentary Boroughs—Londonderry and Coleraine—1 Township—Newtown Limavady.

There are 2 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Magherafelt and Newtown Limavady—and parts of 3, viz.:—Ballymossy, Coleraine, and Londonderry, the remaining portions of which will be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the Medical Relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 34 civil Parishes and 12 parts of Parishes, and 1,352 Townlands.

Summary—NUMBER OF FAMILIES WHICH OCCUPY EACH CLASS OF ACCOMMODATION

The table comprises all municipal boroughs, townships and towns of 5,000 inhabitants and upwards, in Londonderry Municipal Districts.

Note.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

- 1st. The rate or rent of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—
 - 1st. Its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd. Its quality, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd. Its solidity or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of such of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained for every house be added together, a new scale of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale compounded of all the elements, i.e. their annual value.
- 2nd. The plan has been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window, in the third a better description of house, varying from two to four rooms and windows, in the second, what might be considered a good class house, having from five to nine rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the first time, as this census has been devised as to include the number of most inferior descriptions of dwellings which rapidly disappearing from the country, or distinguished from rural cottages and of huts or shacks.

- The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, viz.—
 - 1st. Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family.
 - 2nd. Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by two or three families.
 - 3rd. Class accommodation comprising 1st class houses, with one family each, or 2nd class houses, with two or three families, or 3rd class houses occupied by two or three families.
 - 4th. Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 2nd class houses with more than one family, 3rd class houses with two or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF MONAGHAN.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract, the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Monaghan; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Return, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steadings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLI., inclusive.

The County of Monaghan* comprises 5 Baronies—the barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 8 Petty Sessions Districts and 1 part of a Petty Sessions District. Quarter Sessions are held in Castleblayney and Monaghan.

The County (which has no Parliamentary Borough) includes 4 Townships—Ballybay, Carrickmacross, Castloblayney, and Clones, and 1 town—Monaghan—under the Act 9 Geo. IV., cap. 82.

There are 2 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Carrickmacross and Monaghan—and parts of 5; viz :— Castloblayney, Clogher, Clones, Cootehill, and Dundalk, the remaining portions of which will be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the Medical Relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 17 civil Parishes and 6 parts of Parishes, and 1,850 Townlands.

(c) The civic districts comprise all municipal boroughs, townships, and towns of 2,000 inhabitants and upwards.

Note.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

- 1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd, its solidity as durability, as shown by the material of the walls and roof. If numbers be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of rank of these elements, and if the numbers thus obtained be added together, a new series of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale arranged in the descending, &c., then ascending order.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window; in the third a better description of houses, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good three houses, having from five to eight rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the most part, its own cottages, but is divided so as to exhibit the number of most notice of description of dwelling which it implies disappearing from the country, or distinguished from most cottages built of brick or stone.

The accommodations which the houses afford have also been arranged under four classes, viz. —

- First Class accommodations consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family
- Second Class accommodations consisting of 2nd class houses, occupied by one family, or of 3rd class houses, occupied by two or three families
- Third Class accommodations comprising 2nd class houses, with one family each, or 3rd class houses, with two or three families, as 1st class houses occupied by four or five families
- Fourth Class accommodations including all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

Notes.—The number of persons returned to a particular occupation, profession, or rank, must not be taken as intended to represent the actual total of persons so designated in the County. An individual might have occupations in two or, as an apprentice, distant from his profession, or become distant from both, viz. when, either through indolence or of preference, returns himself under no head of any occupation or condition. Thus, a person who may be a Clergyman and Professor, or both the Land Agent, Dealer, and Land Owner, will very probably be found returned as both one of these characters (a). In this item, Dealer and Sub-Dealer, are included all persons, aged 15 years and upwards, returned as "Schooler" or "Student" (b). Excludes of Children under 15 years of age following no occupation, and of Wives having no usual occupation.

CENSUS OF IRELAND, 1871.

COUNTY OF TYRONE.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

It has been considered desirable that those of the public who might not require, or be disposed to purchase the Census Abstracts and Reports in their completeness should have access at a small cost to the statistics of the Territorial Division in which they may have a more immediate interest; and as in Ireland the County appears to be the most convenient and familiar area for which the principal particulars should be afforded in abstract; the Census Commissioners, with the approval of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, present the following Tables for the County of Tyrone; and purpose giving similar Tables from time to time, for each County, at such intervals as the progress of the work will permit. The counties are being published in alphabetical order, beginning with the Province of Leinster, followed by Munster, Ulster, and Connaught.

The Irish Tables are presented in as close conformity of frame and sequence with the corresponding Tables for England and Scotland, as the circumstances of each country will allow; but as information not collected in Great Britain—with reference to the Education and Religion of the People—is included among other matters, in the Returns for Ireland under the Act of Parliament; and as various statistics of local importance not required in the Returns for Great Britain have always been presented in the Irish Census Publications, or are now suggested by the advance of statistical science; such special matter will be found included occasionally in the same Tables with statistics common to all parts of the United Kingdom; but more generally given in distinct Tables, as having reference to wholly independent heads of information.

Thus in Table I. of the following series, there will be found for Ireland, over and above the matter in the English Returns, columns for the subdivision of land under tillage, pasture, plantation, and bog and waste; a column for out-offices and farm-steedings, supplemental to the English column for houses; also a column for the average number of persons to an acre of arable and pasture land, supplemental to the English column for the number of persons to the acre generally; on the other hand, the statistics appertaining to Religion and Education, as also those of Emigration, being given exclusively for Ireland, are in most instances presented apart, as from Tables XXXI. to XLII., inclusive.

The County of Tyrone* comprises 8 Baronies—the Barony being the Territorial Division in Ireland most nearly analogous to the English "Hundred," and recognised as such by the Irish Census Report for 1821, page x.

There are in the County 19 Petty Sessions Districts, and 4 parts of Petty Sessions Districts. Quarter Sessions are held in Clogher, Dungannon, Omagh, and Strabane.

* The County returns two Members to Parliament, and the Borough of Dungannon one.

The County includes 1 Parliamentary Borough—Dungannon—2 Townships, Aughnacloy and Cookstown—and 3 Towns, Omagh and Strabane, under the Act 9, Geo. IV., cap. 82.

There are 5 Poor Law Unions wholly within the County—Castlederg, Cookstown, Dungannon, Gortin, and Omagh—and parts of 5, viz.:—Armagh, Clogher, Enniskillen, Irvinestown, and Strabane, the remaining portions of which will be found in the adjoining counties.

For the purposes of registration of births, deaths, and marriages, the Poor Law Union is termed a "Superintendent Registrar's District," and each Union or Superintendent Registrar's District is divided into Dispensary Districts for the medical relief of the poor under the Poor Law Acts. The Registrar's District, save in a few instances, is identical with the Dispensary District. Each Dispensary District is composed of a certain number of Poor Law Electoral Divisions.

The County contains 30 civil Parishes and 13 parts of Parishes, and 2,161 Townlands.

(1) See note (9).
 (2) That amount includes the valuation of the town of May.
 (3) The town of Beulah stands on the townland of the same name. Its estimated area is 10 acres. In 1861 all the houses on the townland of Beulah were valued as in the town, whereas in 1871 sixteen of them were valued to be so distinct as not to form part of the town, and therefore appears a decrease in the total of 170.
 (4) Coastal not containing 20 houses, its population, as in 1861, was included with that of the township of Tullymore on which it stood. See note at end of Table VII, p. 452.
 (5) The town of May stands on the townland of the same name. Its estimated area is 45 acres.

(a) Civil Districts comprise all municipal boroughs, townships, and towns of 2,000 inhabitants and upwards.

Note.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described—

The value or quality of a house, or its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, its extent, as shown by the number of rooms, and its quality, as shown by the number of its windows, and 2nd, its solidity or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. It is usual to express the position of every house as a scale of rank of these characters, and if the number thus obtained for every house be added together, a new series of statistics will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale compounded of all the elements, i.e. their total value.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window, in the third a better description of houses, varying from two to four rooms and windows, in the second, what might be considered a good town house, having from five to six rooms and windows; and in the first class of houses a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the first time, on the numbers being added on to establish the number of real value in description of dwelling which is rapidly disappearing from the country, or distributed from small cottages built of brick or stone.

The accommodation which the houses afford has also been arranged under four classes, as follows—

First Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family, or 2nd class houses, occupied by two or three families.

Second Class accommodation consisting of 2nd class houses, occupied by one family, or of 1st class houses, occupied by two or three families.

Third Class accommodation comprising 3rd of 4th class houses, with one family each, or 2nd class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.

Fourth Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 2nd class houses with more than one family, 3rd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses occupied by six or more families.

The number in the province of Ulster in 1841 was 1,266, and 1,579 at the date of the present Census in 1871.

(c) The civil districts comprise all municipal boroughs, townships, and towns of 1,000 inhabitants and upwards.

Note.—The plan of classification in the foregoing Table is the same as that adopted in former Censuses, and may be thus described:—

The value or condition of a house, as to its quality, may be considered to depend mainly on—

1st, Its extent, as shown by the number of rooms; 2nd, its quality, as shown by the number of its windows; and 3rd, its utility or durability, as shown by the material of its walls and roof. If windows be adopted to express the position of every house in a scale of each of these elements, and if the number thus obtained for every house be added together, a new scale of numbers will be produced, giving the position of each house in a scale composed of all the elements, &c., their relative value.

Four classes have been adopted, and the result is, that in the lowest of the four classes are comprised houses having only one room and window; in the third a better description of house, varying from two to four rooms and windows; in the second, what might be considered a good three roomed, having from two to four rooms and windows; and in the first class all houses of a better description than the preceding. The fourth class has, for the most part, no claim common here and is divided so as to include the number of good and (a) description of dwelling which is equally disappearing from the country, or distinguished from rural cottages built of brick or stone.

The accommodation in which the houses are here also been arranged under four classes, viz.—

- 1st Class accommodation consisting of 1st class houses, occupied by one family.
- 2nd Class accommodation consisting of 2nd class houses, occupied by one family, or of 3rd class houses, occupied by two or three families.
- 3rd Class accommodation comprising 3rd class houses, with one family each, or 2nd class houses, with two or three families, or 1st class houses occupied by four or five families.
- 4th Class accommodation includes all 4th class houses, 3rd class houses with more than one family, 2nd class houses with four or more families, and 1st class houses inhabited by six or more families.

Notes.—The number of persons referred to a particular occupation, profession, or rank, must not be taken as intended to represent the actual total of persons so designated in the Province. An individual bearing more than one, or an occupation different from his profession, or income derived from both, will often, either through inadvertence or of purpose, return himself under one local only of occupation or condition. Thus, a person who may be a Clergyman and Professor of Divinity and Law Agent, or Judge and Land Owner, will very generally be found returned in but one of those characters.

(a) In this class, Order and Sub-Order, are included all persons, aged 15 years and upwards, held in any office, or as "Scholar" or "Student."

(b) Excludes all children under 15 years of age following as apprentices, and of Wives being an actual occupation.
