

Foreword

My commitment to Pangasinan State University as its prime leader is to usher the organization towards the realization of the new vision and to ensure that strategic directions are employed in meeting set targets in its four-fold functions of Instruction, Research, Extension and Production.

A significant focus is observed during our first year of management when limitations of the University has turned into possibilities. The challenge which beset the organization is to overcome numerous constraints that may impede the realization of its vision of becoming an ASEAN Premier State University in 2020, and to pursue change, development and transformation in the multi-faceted dimensions of providing world-class higher education and advanced studies.

With more than a year to date, several changes and transformations have cropped up and are made noticeable and felt by everyone in the University. The eight strategic goals which serve as the compass in achieving the vision of the University were crafted; the University logo which serves as the official emblem of PSU was also recreated to reflect the new aspirations enshrined in the key elements of the VMGO and to demonstrate the readiness of the organization to embrace the modern era being ushered in by the new leadership; the core values exemplifying a vibrant culture of integrity, competence, transparency and excellence were formulated to guide every student and personnel in the University.

Significant gains in terms of assets and finances has been realized by practicing prudence and honesty in the utilization of funds. Truth to tell, the present administration in its effort and desire to curb corruption in the implementation of various infrastructure projects of the University has employed workable and feasible control systems and mechanisms which resulted to a record high of 1,799.8% increase in its income from that of last year. Admittedly, such increase is a living testament that this Administration strongly advocates good governance, transparency and accountability in the daily operations and transactions of the University.

Moreover, the increasing number of buildings in the different Campuses of the University bespeak of new prospects and perspectives of a new Pangasinan State University. Again, my commitment of enhancing the learning experiences of every student by affording e-laboratories and facilities are in the offing.

Further, the pioneering spirit of the new leadership brought innovations in various aspects such as the “Abaray na Dayew,” “Parangal sa mga Natatanging Mag-aaral ng PSU,” “President’s Hour,” “Brigada Unibersidad,” “Parade of Stars,” “One PSU Christmas Celebration,” to name a few. Several trainings were conducted to capacitate the workforce and to level up the quality of performance and services and to motivate each unit to produce outcomes geared towards the attainment of ISO 9001: 2015 Certification.

The abovementioned achievements during my first year of administration are products of the concerted and willful efforts and support of every member of the PSU family.

May I therefore be allowed to acknowledge with sincerity the exceptional commitment and dedicated service that everyone has shared me during my first year of administration and I do hope that the same trust and confidence you’ve entrusted me continue till the end of my term.

Truly, I am very grateful and indebted to all of you, particularly the members of the Board of Regents led by its Chair, Hon. Alex B. Brillantes, Jr. for the opportunity, support and respect you have afforded me which continuously motivates and challenges me to carry out the noble mission of effecting transformation and growth in this University.

Along this light, may I say THANK YOU to my PSU family - the University Officials, faculty, non-teaching staff and personnel for being one with me in realizing our bold strategic agenda.

With the ever-changing academic landscape, undoubtedly, we will be faced with yet another challenging year ahead, but we will do so with the resilience, competence, commitment and confidence that have become the hallmarks of the administration.

PSU’s new battlecry...ALL FIRED UP and READY TO SOAR HIGH!

DR. DEXTER R. BUTED
President

PSU Logo

INTRODUCTION

By virtue of PSU BOR Resolution No. 38 series 2015, the new PSU Logo has been approved. The new logo's interpretation emphasize on the major elements and icons that are made to signify meaningful symbolisms. These include: (a) Colors and (b) Icons or graphic figures embedded in the overall design.

The logo was designed so as to maximize its iconic and symbolic features to reflect as comprehensively as possible the key elements and ideas in the University's Vision and Mission, Institutional Philosophy, Core Values, and Four-fold Functions.

COLORS

The logo features two colors that are distinct in hue. These are "Royal Blue" and "Golden Yellow". These represent the two official colors of the University.

The logo image contains icons that are not set on an opaque panel, so that the icons are afloat and are separated from each other by a void space. Thereby, the spaces in between the inner icons of the logo assume no definite color and is entirely transparent to whatever surface the logo is printed or impressed.

The interpretation of either the "colors" or the "icons" also takes into consideration their socially or culturally associated meanings or symbolisms as relatively recognized in local and international conventions.

a. ROYAL BLUE

- Represents quality education which the University continuously provides the youth of Pangasinan and its neighboring places in the undergraduate education and the professionals in the graduate level education
- Bespeaks the pristine and fish-rich water surrounding the province and the entire archipelago

b. GOLDEN YELLOW

- Represents the bountiful harvest of palay, corn and other agricultural produce of Pangasinan
- Signifies the presence of academic freedom within the University
- Stands for the dynamic transformation of the University toward excellence and the bright flame that keeps on burning

ICONS

The created logo highlights simplicity and aesthetic harmony of only a few icons that are made to encompass a broad spectrum of symbolic references and interpretation. Encasing the entire logo is a crust of circular band which bears in bold letters the name of the University and the year that indicates its commencement of institutional operation (1979) after its chartering in 1978 by virtue of PD 1497. At the logo's center is a harmoniously aligned constellation of stars overlooking the regal figure of a lion. At the base of the lion spells out the word PILIPINAS representing the state's governance over the institution carefully cradled in a gracefully draped banner.

a. CIRCULAR BAND

- The blue circular band as the outermost part of the logo represents the endless, borderless and infinite learning opportunities that Pangasinan State University delivers to its constituents
- It also symbolizes the integrity and credibility of the University as knowledge provider.
- It also links the University's core values of accountability and transparency, credibility and integrity, competence and commitment to achieve, excellence in service delivery, social and environmental responsiveness and spirituality.
- It depicts the dynamic evolution and transformation towards quality, productivity and excellence

b. NINE STARS

- Symbolize the nine (9) campuses of the University
- The stars are also designed to assume a three-dimensional appearance to connote the authentic and realistic schemes of the University in its progressive pace and readiness for modernization through quality education, competent faculty and state of the art facilities afforded to its clientele, and the other facets of its services rendered.

c. LAUREL LEAVES

- Symbolize wisdom
- The nodes represent the ever-growing areas for expansion that connote continuous growth and development

d. RECESSED AREAS IN BETWEEN ICONS

- Signifies the educational landscape, a plain canvass that awaits for breakthroughs, discoveries and other historical milestones for the University to lead relative to its four-pronged function

e. GOLDEN LION

- The prestigious symbolism of the Lion that dates back to even the archaic annals of history is conventionally associated to "might", and which is enunciated in its biblical reference as the "Mightiest among the beasts and does not turn back before any; (Proverbs 30:30)
- The Golden Lion roars ferociously that can be heard for miles summoning the power of the sun to be unleashed at his will and proclaims his power as a message and a warning
- His roar transcends from one place to another and like his thunderous roar, Pangasinan State University excels from one campus to the others, from the region to the whole country, from the Philippines to the ASEAN countries creating the essence of totem power that lingers. The lion roars and proclaims... BE BOLD, BE WISE, BE FIERCE.
- The lion's tail pointing upward symbolizes the torch of education that the University keeps aflame all through the years

- Its foot which aims forward and raises above the ground depicts advancement in motion and dynamism and bespeaks of the University's readiness to leap high with calculating precision and strength to be at par with its ASEAN counterparts.
- The lion is quadruped with its kingly stature supported by four hardy and strong legs as its instrument for locomotion. These symbolize the four-fold functions of PSU wherein its accounts of accomplishments and victorious feats along these functions serve as the University's vehicle to propel itself towards advancement.
- Corollary to the characteristics of the lion- strong, agile, brave and undaunted, Pangasinan State University in its quest to deliver education at its best is not afraid to face the challenges of the times and treads on paths seldom traversed by discerning minds. Like the lion, PSU is ready for excellence, supremacy and power!

Executive Summary

The Year of the Sheep brought in a lot of quintessence to the PSU leadership transforming each unit into a more vibrant, purposely relevant and highly productive organization with the strong resolve to deliver its mandate in the field of higher and advance education which contribute to national growth and development.

The year 2015 boasts of milestones for the Pangasinan State University under the leadership of its 6th PSU President, Dr. Dexter R. Buted. The year in review saw the differentiation of the various priority programs of the University and set the strategic direction in consonance with the PSU BOR - approved new vision of Pangasinan State University --- to become an ASEAN premier state university in 2020.

To jumpstart the first half of the year, the revisit of the University's Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives through the conduct of a seminar workshop was initiated paving the way for the crafting of the PSU Vision, Mission, Core Values, Guiding Philosophy, Strategic Goals and the new organizational structure. The university logo also went through a radical transformation to embody the distinct attributes of the modern era which the present administration aims to tread on adopting the powerful lion as the new University icon --- brave, unstoppable, superior.

In implementing the new organizational structure, certain innovations were introduced. The Research Division was fused with the Academic Affairs Division in efforts to intensify a research culture across the quadric functions of the University. The Support Services, Extension and Training Division had been created to give more focus in the delivery of student services. The establishment of the Center for English Language, the Directorate for Culture, Arts and Pangasinan Heritage Studies and the Sentro ng Wikang Filipino were undertaken as the University endeavors to promote social responsiveness and the preservation of our culture particularly Pangasinan heritage while acclimatizing to internationalization. The centralization of all financial transactions was carried out to curb fraud and fortify the practice of good governance and transparency in University operations. An internal audit office was put in place to provide check and balance. The need to qualify for ISO 9001 certification is a priority of the present administration leading to the creation of the Quality Assurance Office.

In research, PSU was privileged to host the ISSAAS National Research Congress, was able to get patent approval for an invention and forged a MOA for the establishment of the Regional Food Innovation Center in PSU. The opening of classes for this academic year was moved in August to facilitate the completion of the infrastructure projects being done in most of the campuses in its aim of providing conducive learning environment for students through newly repaired and rehabilitated classrooms and other facilities which flaunted the colors and the new face of PSU. Moreover, the new University calendar is being implemented in anticipation of the imminent ASEAN integration.

Towards the enrichment of the learning experience of the major stakeholders, the students, - the President is untiring in reaching out to them via the Parents and Students Orientation Program, President's Hour and Press Conferences to tackle and address pressing issues that concern them. A first for PSU, the President initiated the "Gawad Parangal Para sa mga Natatanging Mag-aaral ng PSU" to recognize the victories the students achieved despite the numerous challenges they have to hurdle. Board Topnotchers this year received not just acknowledgement but a windfall too, as they are the first recipients of the cash incentives of up to One Hundred Fifty Thousand Pesos for occupying a slot in the Top 10 posts. Another innovation introduced is the use of the "Abaray na Dayew" instead of the common toga to bestow a distinctive pride for every PSUnian graduate. A new set of uniform was also prescribed to create an identity that is unique for a student of Pangasinan State University.

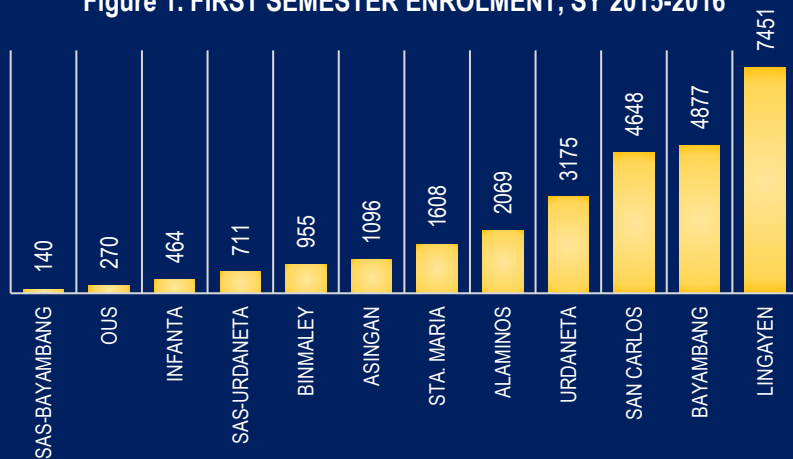

Stepping up initiatives in building a bigger network of partnerships, PSU endeavored to forge linkages, sisterhoods and collaborations with other institutions. Some universities and colleges also visited the University for benchmarking allowing PSU's best practices to be shared with other entities the same way as PSU learned from other institutions as well.

The University, this year, had beefed up its revenues by accumulating a net income of 7.2M during the first half of the year alone compared to the annual income of 1.8M in 2014. The increase is reflective of the effective processes put in place by the new administration, prudent and cost-effective budgeting, effective collection of various fees from the campuses and investing in highly-viable projects. The University was also able to finance from its income the CNA incentive of each employee in the amount of eleven thousand pesos - the amount of which doubled this year.

Much work is still waiting to be done and many plans await execution still. With the concerted efforts of every single unit of the University and with the decisive and forceful leadership of the new administration, more accomplishments and triumphs will soon be realized.

UNIVERSITY-WIDE STUDENT-PARENT ORIENTATION

Pres. Buted speaks before the incoming first-year students of Lingayen during the first-ever University-wide Student-Parent Orientation Program conducted on June 29, 2015 to ensure more effective and broader means of disseminating relevant information that students need to know as neophyte entrants of PSU. Topics discussed included the new PSU VMGO, uniform policy, academic policies, start of academic year and others.

OPENING OF CLASSES FROM JUNE TO AUGUST

Another "first" and innovation introduced by the new University administration is the moving of the start of academic year from June to August 10. This transfer of schedule was done, according to Pres. Buted to give way for the University - in all its nine campuses to prepare for the opening of classes. Activities like clean-up where premises of campuses need cleaning and tidying-up, repainting of buildings and classrooms and repair/refurbishment of furnitures and fixtures were conducted for a more conducive and healthy learning. Also, in preparation for the ASEAN 2020 as an initiative, Pres. Buted deemed it proper to adopt the international academic schedule of August as the opening of classes, thus the transfer of class schedule.

NEW UNIFORMS

A few set of University uniform was introduced by the present administration for purposes of uniqueness and distinction. The material has special markings that has been exclusively made for PSU alone and its design authentic and original that when worn by the student, differentiates him/her from that of the others and can easily be recognized as a true-blue PSUian.

GRADUATES

Drilon, Fabia addressed 4,230 PSU graduates

The 36th Commencement Exercises of the Pangasinan State University yielded 4,317 graduates of Doctoral, Masteral and undergraduate programs of whom Senator Franklin M. Drilon and Commissioner Jose A. Fabia addressed on April 14, 2015 at the CSI Stadia, Lucao District, Dagupan City.

Sen. Drilon was the Commencement Speaker for the morning batch of graduates from the campuses of Alaminos, Asingan, Bayambang, Infanta, San Carlos and Sta Maria. Drilon was named the longest serving Senate President since congress was re-established in 1987 having led the 11th, 12th and 13th Congresses. He was also re-elected as Senate President in the 16th Congress. Sen. Drilon was a product of the public school system having graduated in public schools from elementary to college. He finished Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws at the University of the Philippines-Diliman and placed 3rd in the 1969 Bar examination. He was a recipient of the Philippine Legion of Honor in 1992 and the Most Outstanding Alumnus in Government Service by the UP Law Alumni Association in 1994.

The afternoon batch of graduates from Binmaley, Lingayen and Urdaneta City campus, the Open University Systems (OUS), Graduate School (PSU-GS) and Expanded Tertiary Education Equivalency and Accreditation Program (ETEEAP) were addressed by COA Commissioner Jose A. Fabia. Comm. Fabia was the former Municipal Mayor of Binmaley from 1992 to 1995. He was also the first President and CEO of the Philippine Health Insurance Corporation which he transformed from a P150-million company to a P20-billion corporation in 1998. Prior to being appointed as a Commissioner of the Commission on Audit, he also served as the Director General of the Philippine Information Agency from 2010 to 2012. He is an alumnus of the University of the Philippines where he took Bachelor of Laws.

The graduating class of 2015 produced sixty students with latin honors. The elite group of class top performers are graduating students with a grade point average not lower than 1.75. Three extraordinary graduating students made the grade as Magna Cum Laude. They were Daryl John C. Bungay (San Carlos City/1.325), Menard P. Nava (Lingayen/1.401), and Jebra Maris M. Branzuela (San Carlos/1.447). Also, there were six Cum Laudes each from the campuses of Alaminos City and Asingan, thirty two from Bayambang, nine from Lingayen, two from San Carlos City and one from Sta. Maria. This year's graduation rites also featured the wearing of the "Abaray na Dayew (Sash of Honor)" for the first time instead of the classic black academic gown and cap. The official graduation sash worn over a Filipiniana dress for ladies and long sleeves cream barong for gentlemen served as the official academic attire for graduation and other formal University occasions. It symbolizes the graduates' attributes of being highly principled and morally upright. The sash includes a "bolo" (kind of bamboo) design which represents "Caboloan", the old name of Pangasinan. The bolo's pliancy is reflective of the University's adaptability yet sturdiness to respond to changes and transformations which evolve and affect the local and global educational landscape. Congratulations Batch 2015!

ENROLMENT

Enrolment surges by 13.1%

The new PSU leadership wanted to serve a greater number of youth in Pangasinan, thus the aggressive marketing campaign to reach more students of national and private secondary schools in the province who could access quality education and avail of more affordable tuition fees through enrollment in the nine strategically located campuses in the province. The efforts have paid off as evidenced by the 16 % growth in student population.

Comparing data of first semester in school year 2014-2015, a total of 24,275 students enrolled in PSU while for school year 2015-2016 a total of 27,458 students enrolled translating that to a 13.1% increase in student population. PSU-Infanta and PSU-Sta. Maria registered the highest percent increase of 23%. PSU-Binmaley recorded a 21% increase while PSU-Bayambang achieved 17% increase in student population. Enrolment in PSU-San Carlos swelled by 16% while PSU-Urdaneta and PSU-Alaminos obtained 13% growth. PSU-Asingan attained 11% increase and PSU-Lingayen registered the smallest increase at 6%.

Although PSU-Lingayen Campus registered the least percent increase in enrolment, it still registered the biggest number of student population at 7,451 followed by PSU-San Carlos at 4,648 and PSU Bayambang at 4,382.

With enrolment continually growing, the Pangasinan State University still is the largest state university in Region 1 in terms of student population.

STUDENT SERVICES

Guingona, Padaca graced 1st PSU Awards

Congruent to one of the strategic goals of the present administration, that is to provide excellent student learning and career development, PSU launched on February 4, 2015 the 1st Parangal para sa mga Natatanging Mag-aaral ng PSU.

The former COMELEC Commissioner and Governor of Isabela and co-founder of Kaya Natin Movement for Good Governance and Ethical Leadership, Hon. Maria Gracia Cielo M. Padaca was the esteemed Guest Speaker during the awarding ceremonies on March 12, 2015 at the Sison Auditorium in Lingayen.

On the other hand, Senator TG Guingona, together with other dignitaries including former Congressman Mark Cojuangco, Abono Representatives Conrad M. Estrella III and Rosendo So, Calasiao Mayor Mark Macanlalay and PSU Board of Regents Member Ramon Bautista also graced the prestigious awarding ceremonies as special guests.

The University-wide search for exemplary students who have strong standing in academics and extra-curricular activities aimed to honor and give recognition to the perseverance and resiliency of students in realizing their dreams for their family and for themselves as well. Nine outstanding students, each representing a campus, received a specially designed trophy, Certificate of Recognition, Cash Incentives from the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) and from the PSU administration. The Outstanding Student and the other eight awardees including all 25 finalists received Five Thousand Pesos each from the DSWD which was made possible through the efforts of the above-mentioned distinguished guests. Likewise, an additional Five Thousand from the administration was given to the Outstanding Student and Three Thousand Pesos to the other eight awardees.

Chosen from among the thousands of students from the nine campuses of the University, Mr. Menard Pascua Nava of Lingayen Campus stood out and was named the first recipient of the Outstanding Student award. He was an AB Public Administration student from Aguilar, Pangasinan who graduated Magna Cum Laude in this year's graduation rites. An only son among five children, his father earns a living by farming and his mother manages a sari-sari store. He believed that poverty should not be a hindrance in aiming for success, rather a challenge that would motivate someone to persevere and work harder for his dreams.

Likewise, Jebra Mariz Branzuela, a BS Business Administration student majoring in Human Resource Management of PSU-San Carlos ranked Top 2. She was raised by her single mother who earns a living by being a Barangay Secretary. Branzuela was all tears while delivering her short message of thanks as she reminisced going to class with only Twenty Pesos in her pocket and is now on centerstage accepting an award for being an outstanding student despite the adversities she hurdled. She reminded everyone not to forget being a good person as they aspire for excellence.

An eloquent speaker who gave such a heartfelt tribute to his parents for the award he received as the Top 3 Outstanding Student, Nick Caiga of Alaminos Campus is a graduating student in BS Secondary Education major in Mathematics. His father supports the needs of the family by being a tricycle driver alongside mat weaving. He offered this achievement to his mother who always believed in his ability to rise above the intricacies that poverty brings.

The other awardees were Julie Palaganas (PSU-Asingan), Brian Adams Bugarin (PSU-Bayambang), Michelle Grace Aquino (PSU-Binmaley), Novelyn Madarang (PSU-Infanta), Benjie Banaga (PSU-Sta. Maria) and Alessa Nicolas (PSU-Urdaneta).

Deciding to run if she cannot walk was the most inspiring pronouncement of Padaca as she motivated everyone in the crowd that incapacities should not hinder anyone to dream big. She commended PSU for recognizing excellent work through the said student awards.

On the other hand, Senator TG during his speech asked the audience “Anong kulay ang ribbon ninyo?” He explained further that whatever color of the ribbon you wear represents what someone stands for. He advised the awardees to aspire to be the best in everything they do and not to allow anything to stand in the way for their dreams to be realized.

Moreover, former Congressman Cojuangco in his message, articulated his observation that he sees bright possibilities for PSU in the future. He reiterated the role of the teachers as the second parents of the students who are influential in shaping them into future leaders in particular fields of specialization which they chose to delve into. He also persuaded the parents to be the inspiration of their children because the confidence of the children come from the approval of the parents.

Likewise, Abono Representative Estrella emphasized the hope to be liberated from poverty through education. He inspired everyone by retelling the stories of Filipinos who made it big as entrepreneurs like Tony Tan Caktiong of Jollibee, Manny Villar of Vistaland and Alfredo Yao of Zest-O and Zest Airlines. “We need to put premium in winning. Let us help each other and give everybody a chance to grow and shine”, he remarked in closing.

PSU President, Dr. Dexter R. Buted underscored that the Gawad Parangal sa mga Natatanging Mag-aaral ng PSU is an initiative to honor the exemplary performance of the students and give them a chance to reap the fruits of their labor. Buted enthused that one of the key factors to success is to set priorities and dream big.

The first ever PSU student award was such a huge success! Kudos to the leadership of President Dexter R. Buted, VP for Academic Affairs, Dr. Gloria Domantay, other PSU Officials, and the student leaders who brought about the said innovation for PSU and worked hand in hand for the fruition of the said event.

Rhomir S. Yanquiling received Twenty Thousand Pesos (P20,000.00) for placing 7th in the CESO and 9th in the Real Estate Appraiser Licensure Examinations.

PSU- Bayambang and PSU-Binmaley each received a total of Forty Thousand Pesos (P40,000.00) for the Elementary and Secondary Education and Fisheries and Criminology programs, respectively. PSU-Alaminos got Twenty Thousand (P20,000.00) pesos while PSU-Infanta also received Twenty Thousand Pesos (P20,000.00).

The awarding of cash incentives intend to inspire both the students and the curricular program heads to perform better and excel further in licensure examinations.

PSU athletes prepare for Regional Meet

University athletes in the different sporting events prepared for the regional SCUAA Meet 2015 via the conduct of a Sportsmanship, Values and Team Building Seminar on November 28, 2015 at the Audio Visual Room in Lingayen, Pangasinan.

To motivate the athletes and strengthen esprit de corps among the teams, Director for Sports, Dr. Robert Sison, carried out the said activity. Subject matters discussed during the seminar include “Sports Etiquette”, “Human Relations and Team Building” as discussed by Ms. Marinuelle T. Aquino, Guidance Counsellor of PSU-Lingayen and “Being an Inspiration to Others” by Mr. Jufri Jan M. Narvas, faculty of PSU-Lingayen Campus.

Athletes were taught appropriate, polite and fair behavior while participating in an athletic game. Further, they were reminded that team building is a collective term for various types of activities used to enhance social relations and define roles within teams, often involving collaborative tasks. It is designed to improve the efficiency, rather than interpersonal relations. With the said initiative, the Golden Lions Team were hopeful that they will perform better this year than the previous years and will bring in more golds.

PSU Launched Center for English Language

One of the highlights to the agenda of the new PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted is a major transformation of the University's organizational structure and which was approved by the PSU Board of Regents in their meeting last May 2015. Among the features of the new organizational structure is the creation of several new work units which included the Center for English Language (CEL).

Although a Center for English Language is already a common unit in the structure of other educational institutions, its launching at PSU marks significance as it coincides with the current progress of PSU's effort to usher its English academic programs to qualify as Center of Development or Excellence. The establishment of the CEL in PSU will significantly assist in facilitating these endeavors.

The approved functions of the CEL from the previous proposal peddled by its Director, Dr. Galahad Randall S. Unciano on May 25, 2015 highlight the unit's comprehensive program to oversee the concerns in the management and operation of PSU's English language programs in both the Undergraduate and the Graduate level. Accordingly, the PSU CEL will serve as the University's center for education and development in English language teaching by assisting in the operation and management of the University's varied English language programs and forming professionally competent managers, teachers and trainers involved in these academic programs.

The PSU CEL will also assist in the promotion of high quality English language and literature instruction and the overall thrust to raise the University's English language programs as centers of development and excellence. It will also carry out training and development programs for the University's English language program managers, teachers and trainers. It will facilitate the review and needed revision of the University's English language academic programs along operation and curricular concerns, and assist in monitoring and sustaining its implementation. Likewise, it will engage in research and publication that impact on the University's English language curricula, instructional materials development and classroom teaching practices.

Moreover, the PSU CEL is tasked to formulate policies and recommend for the approval thereof that promote instructional and research capability development of the University's pool of English language teachers. It will also initiate and supervise the conduct of conferences, trainings and workshops relevant to the enterprise English language teaching and learning for the benefit of the University's students and faculty. It spearheads initiative in designing and developing English language programs and instructional materials.

Furthermore, the PSU CEL shall coordinate with other units / departments / offices of the University on relevant projects and concerns related to the promotion of globally competitive English language literacy in both written and oral communication. It is expected to establish linkages and collaborate with national and international agencies involved in the enterprise of English language and literature teaching.

The Live Band competition, Short and Sweet Play and Radio Drama were new categories being introduced in this year's competition. Contestants who won first place will represent the University and the Region in the National PASUC competition in the Bicol region in December

PSU CEL pursues partnership with FLC, ADMU, BSU

The University's Center for English Language (CEL) is currently working out the pursuit and terms of its prospective partnership with FLC Group, with its Central Office located at Lippo Center, Queensway, Admiralty, Hong Kong.

The conceived partnership is relative to PSU CEL's desire to access one of the major services offered by FLC which is their "Language Center Accreditation". CEL Director Dr. Galahad Randall S. Unciano thinks that if a specific English Program of the University is subjected to an international accrediting center such as the FLC, then this will be a good preparation and documentary support to the University's application to qualify English programs as Center of Development or Excellence (COD / COE).

Dr. Unciano made a series of correspondence with FLC concerning this and has peddled for the approval of the University President the subscription of PSU to lend its AB English Language program for FLC Accreditation.

Dr. Unciano's connection with FLC started when he submitted his English language research entitled "Localization Strategies in Teaching English Phonology" to FLC which in turn was successfully accepted for Poster Presentation in the forthcoming FLC Conference this coming September 2015 at De la Salle University in Manila. The FLC's counterpart host in the Philippines is the Linguistic Society of the Philippines. Through this endeavor, Dr. Unciano seeks to explore greater possibilities to exact optimal benefits from its link with FLC more than mere consideration as venue for English language research presentation and conference participation.

The PSU CEL has also paved for its initial correspondence with the Ateneo Center for English language Teaching (ACELT) under the supervision of the Ateneo De Manila University (ADMU) School of Humanities. Dr. Unciano said that with the multi-faceted services provided by ACELT, the latter can be tapped for much needed consultancy for the benefit of the University's operation of its English Programs along teacher and trainer development, program management, research, publication and instructional materials development.

The PSU CEL Director has also extended invitation to Benguet State University (BSU) for a potential consortium with them between the PSU Graduate School and the BSU College of Arts and Sciences (CAS). In the structure of BSU, their English language Graduate programs are relegated under the supervision of their CAS. The proposed consortium is relative to Dr. Unciano's previous proposal with the PSU Graduate School Dean Dr. Nelia C. Resultay who also previously approved the proposal for the Graduate School to offer Master of Arts in English as a Second Language (MAESL). If eventually worked out, Dr. Unciano said that this will be a presentiment to the subsequent offering of our Ph.D. in Language Education-English. The latter and MAESL are among the programs offered by BSU. These programs will provide a vertical alignment to our already existing undergraduate program AB English Language. With the realization of the consortium, it will allow for easier corresponding and sharing of expertise, exchange fellowship opportunities and others. between PSU and BSU in their respective English language programs. Moreover, in connection to the current pursuits of PSU to qualify its Undergraduate English Program as a Center of Development or Excellence, the offering of programs in our Graduate School that will vertically align with our existing AB English language program is indeed one of the requirements for our program to be qualified for COD / COE as per guidelines provided under CHED Memorandum Order (CMO) No. 07, S. 2015.

Sen. Alan consulted with PSU studes

Senator Alan Cayetano, together with his wife, Taguig City Mayor Lani Cayetano visited Pangasinan State University-Lingayen campus on January 22, 2015.

PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted introduced Sen. Alan to the students and was pleased to inform the huge crowd that their partnership began from the south (Batangas) and extends now even to the north (Pangasinan). The president stressed that the University is lucky to have been visited by a person who truly cares for the people and who promotes student concerns through accessible student loans.

The consultation is an initiative of the senator to inform the youth, particularly students, of their rights and privileges and what he intends to do as a servant leader. He stressed that education should be a right and not a privilege and with better education, Filipinos will have more choices and more opportunities for work. He narrated his experiences in visiting Singapore and spoke on the contrasts between the two countries. Singapore does not have much in terms of natural resources but what they have are people whom they invested in a lot, and that is what the Philippines forgot, to invest in the education and training of its people.

An advocate of free education in the Philippines, Sen. Alan authored the Iskolar ng Bayan bill which provides free tuition fee in any state university and college for the Top Ten high school graduates. He was happy to announce that the government has allocated 1.9B pesos for the said program. He also underscored the importance of weeding out corruption in the government and acting on the plans of development and producing outcomes that redound to national economic growth.

Sen. Alan was asked by a student leader during the consultation on his thoughts regarding the calendar shift being implemented by some universities. He replied that the calendar shift has its advantages and disadvantages and added that among his greatest contributions as a statesman will be the passing of bills aiming to curb graft and corruption in the bureaucracy.

PSU Lingayen students submitted a resolution to Sen. Alan requesting for improvements of the campus library. He promised that instead of books, he will give ten (10) android and ten (10) iPad loaded with e-books including some cash. He will also see what he can do in assisting the University in establishing state-of-the-art Audio Visual Rooms and Audio Laboratories.

PSU signed partnership agreement with LGU

Pangasinan State University sealed its partnership with the Local Government of Laoac during the Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) Signing held on April 21, 2015 at the Laoac Municipal Hall for the establishment of a Graduate Learning Center.

PSU President, Dr. Dexter R. Buted and Laoac Municipal Mayor, (Ret) General Silverio D. Alarcio, Jr. concurred on the proposal to offer access and learning opportunities for its post-graduate degree programs, clientele groups and individuals of the said municipality.

According to Dr. Artemio M. Rebugio, the Graduate School Dean during the time of signing and presently the Director for Research, the collaboration aims to improve quality of local government and client institution's human resource through advance education. Rebugio explained that in Pangasinan, the quality of municipal chief executives had now leveled up. With the present and traditional group of employees working with the new breed of executives, a development management gap inevitably results, hence a slower development pace. In order to close the development management gap, advance education could be a solution.

President Buted, during his short talk at the MOA Signing, thanked Mayor Alarcio for the opportunity to partner with LGU-Laoac and be instrumental in the development of their work force to be able to give better services to the constituents. According to Pres. Buted human resource is an imperative input in development. The quality of people determines the momentum in which development could be attained. The University can also customize specialized short term courses for the members of the Sangguniang Bayan in areas of governance, leadership management among others or even technical vocational courses and livelihood and skills development programs as part of community outreach.

With the said collaboration, the University has strengthened its network of linkages and broadened access for quality instruction.

Strong Research Culture and Technology Transfer

PSU hosted national research congress

The Pangasinan State University hosted the 2015 International Society for Southeast Asian Agricultural Sciences-Philippine Chapter (ISSAAS) National Congress and General Meeting on March 17-19, 2015 in Lingayen.

Anchored on the theme “Disaster Mitigation Agenda for Agri-Fishery, Science Education and Health”, the 3-day activity gathered together close to a hundred researchers, educators, scientists and agriculture advocates from various parts of the Philippines.

PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted welcomed the participants to the University and expressed his appreciation that PSU is able to host a prestigious event which supports research since one of his priorities is to strengthen the research division of the University.

ISSAAS-Philippines Vice President and University of the Philippines - Los Baños Chancellor, Dr. Fernando C. Sanchez, Jr. stressed during his talk that Pangasinan is one of the identified provinces in the country which is under the high-risk area category in terms of disaster and calamities because of its proximity to the West Philippine Sea.

Further, Sanchez divulged that the ISSAAS was tasked to prepare the country’s disaster mitigation agenda by virtue of RA 1021 also known as the Philippine Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Act of 2010. The organization aims to promote safer, adaptive and resilient Filipino communities. He also extended his gratefulness to the present administration of PSU for accepting the challenge to host the said event which espouses the advancement of research.

According to PSU Vice President for Research Extension and Training, Dr. Manolito C. Manuel, the conduct of the national congress strengthens the platform of governance of the country to respond to the pressing challenges of the society, particularly disaster mitigation for agri-fishery, science education and health. This also serves as an opportunity for PSU to connect and establish partnership with ISSAAS since agriculture is one of the priority mandate of the University.

Meanwhile the provincial government of Pangasinan extended its support to the said endeavor by making available the Pangasinan Training Center and Sison Auditorium as venues for the lined up activities. Also, Vice Governor Ferdinand Z. Calimlim attended the occasion to represent Governor Amado T. Espino, Jr. during the Opening Program and General Assembly. Calimlim expressed his delight for the conduct of the congress as he himself is into agriculture. His interest in agriculture was awakened when he realized that agriculture is connected to everything in this world. He welcomed all the participants in the land where salt is made --- the province of Pangasinan.

Moreover, a representative from the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) discussed Project NOAH (Nationwide Operational Assessment of Hazards), a system that harnesses technologies and management services for disaster risk reduction activities offered by DOST through PAGASA, PHILVOLCS and the DOST-Advanced Science and Technology Institute (ASTI), in partnership with the UP National Institute of Geological Sciences and the UP College of Engineering. He also informed the assembly that the DOST is the over-all response agency for mitigation in the Philippines.

Similarly, Col. Fernando De Guzman, OIC and Executive Officer of the Pangasinan Disaster Risk Reduction Management Center (PDRRMC) in Lingayen discussed the initiatives of the provincial government through their unit in terms of responding to disasters.

During the plenary sessions, five speakers presented their researches. Weenalei T. Fajardo of Pangasinan State University discussed "Diversity and Adaptive Features of Corticolouslichens in the Hundred Islands National Park, Alaminos City Pangasinan, Philippines." Likewise, Dinah E. Abugho of Ramon Magsaysay Technological University presented "Disaster Science and Management of Three Southern Coastal Barangays of Botolan, Zambales. Marita Galinato presented "Development of Organic Seed Production Systems of Lowland Vegetables and Field Legumes at BPI-LBNCRDC and Strengthening Partnership in Calabarzon, Mimaropa and Bicol Region (Phase 1). Also, Flordeliza Valensuela of Central Bicol State University of Agriculture discussed "Fishing for Life: An Ecosystem-Based Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation in Fishery" while Rudy C. Flores of Bataan Peninsula State University presented "BFAR-CHED-BPSU Mangrove Resources Rehabilitation Strategy in Bataan".

Scientific presentations were also simultaneously undertaken by the participants in the different venues. They also attended a Fellowship and Farewell Night which they enjoyed including a Hundred Island Tours during the last day of the congress.

PSU faculty gained patent approval for invention

The Intellectual Property Philippines Bureau of Patents has granted the registration of Dr. Catalina C. Platon's Utility Model for her Instructional Multiple Binaural Acoustic Stethoscope invention after having complied with the provisions of Republic Act No. 8293.

Dr. Platon, currently the Deputy Director for Gender and Development, has applied for the registration of her invention sometime August in 2014 and finally the Certificate of Registration was released early this year. The registration grants unto Dr. Platon the exclusive right throughout the Philippines to make, use, sell or import the utility model. The registration shall be valid for seven years from the date of filing.

In an interview with Dr. Platon, she revealed that her requirement for a stethoscope as an instructional material for her nursing students prompted her to exercise her ingenuity and invent something that would fully satisfy her requisites for the course.

Dr. Catalina C. Platon, Deputy Director for Gender and Development and faculty member of the University proudly shows her Certificate of Registration granted by the Intellectual Property, Philippines, Bureau of Patents for her Instructional Multiple Binaural Acoustic Stethoscope Invention after having complied with the provisions of RA 8293.

Dr. Platon explained that the Instructional Multiple Binaural Acoustic Stethoscope provides simultaneous auscultation of physiologic sounds for students and the instructor. It has three headsets that allow an instructor and two other students to perform the auscultation activities simultaneously to save time which is the primary intent of the said invention. She added that it will also reduce problems associated with performing the auscultation activity repeatedly such as causing bruises or skin marks to clients when taking the blood pressure measurements with the use of sphygmomanometer performed in the skills laboratory and even in the hospital. The use of the device facilitates learning by way of discussion as a point of reference.

Technically, the stethoscope consists of multiple binaural and a plurality of colors for identification of user and with an adapter attached to it. The said adapter is a tubular body made of suitable metal material having a three-way port with an angle of separation at about 45 degrees being connected to a common vertex and an extension of flexible tubing attached to a tunable chest piece. The adapter suits all brands of available acoustic stethoscopes in the market.

Asked regarding her future plans, Dr. Platon enthused that she plans to have the stethoscope pilot-tested in campuses offering animal science because it could also be used to examine the sound of animal heartbeat and later on introduced to some medical schools for possible commercial reproduction. Always pregnant with great, useful and sometimes crazy ideas, she divulged that other invention projects are in the works that has something to do with survival during calamities.

Possessing a perfect mix of character that is substance and great sense of humor, Dr. Platon is one of the rare faculty members of PSU who has an invention which acquired the approval and obtained a registration to her name from the Intellectual Property Philippines Bureau of Patents.

PSU, DOST forged MOA for Food Innovation Center

The Department of Science and Technology Region 1 (DOST-RO1) and the Pangasinan State University (PSU) sealed a Memorandum of Agreement for the establishment of the Food Innovation Center (FIC) in Bayambang Campus on April 20, 2015.

Dr. Armando Q. Ganal, DOST Director for RO1 and PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted, together with VP for Research and Extension, Dr. Manolito C. Manuel and Bayambang Campus Executive Director Dr. Lita A. Saygo, signed the agreement for the said project and conducted an ocular inspection of the identified location.

A hub of innovation and technical support services for the processed food industry, the FIC to be built in PSU-Bayambang within the year is a support facility for Region 1 which caters to the various needs of micro, small and medium enterprises and researchers as well. It will feature a processing and packaging equipment, research and testing laboratory and technology information system. The facility will also provide training, consultancy and packaging and labeling services for food enterprises to conform to local and international standards to be able to reach a sizeable share of the local and national markets.

PSU will provide the center location and manpower while DOST will make available various equipment used in food enterprises such as the immersion freezer, vacuum-packaging machine, water retort, vacuum fryer, spray dryer, vacuum evaporator and freeze dryer. The FIC in Bayambang Campus is one of the seven FICs planned to be established nationwide.

The FIC is an economic development accelerator program that will spur the growth of the agricultural sector specifically the food industry by assisting farmers, entrepreneurs and even cooperatives to add more value to crops and livestock products through processing and product development. Services such as shelf-life testing, nutritional labeling and food quality. Safety testing will also be made available.

PSU hosts ILAARDEC 2015 Symposium

Pangasinan State University hosted this year's 27th Regional Symposium on R&D Highlights (RSRDH) of the Ilocos Agriculture, Aquatic and Resources Research and Development Consortium (ILAARDEC) on November 19-20, 2015 at the Sison Auditorium in Lingayen, Pangasinan.

This prestigious event in the region is a gathering of all researchers, scientists, technological workers, extensionists, LGU representatives, Magsasaka Siyentista, farmers, students and other stakeholders interested to listen and see the latest agricultural developments in Region 1. Consortium partners from local government units (LGUs) in the region particularly those that operate a Farmers Information and Technology Services (FITS) Center also joined the symposium. The theme for this year's symposium is "S&T Challenges Beyond the New Normal".

PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted welcomed around 200 representatives from the consortium member agencies (CMAs) from various parts of Region 1. Dr. Prima Fe R. Franco, ILAARDEC Consortium Director and OIC President of Mariano Marcos State University introduced the honorable Keynote Speaker, Dr. Reynaldo V. Ebor, Executive Director of PCAARRD.

Moreover, Johnny A. Khonghun, President and CEO of the Pacific Farms Inc. served as a Plenary Speaker during the forum. He talked about their 500 hectare salt farm located in Bolinao, Pangasinan where various kinds of salt products are being produced. The company uses the technical expertise of its industry-focused research and developmental services department to match and meet the specialized needs of their clients nationwide. They also accommodate On-the-Job Training students from various Colleges and Universities including Pangasinan State University and encourage students to pursue research and harness their ingenuity through inventions which could address certain needs of industries. According to Khonghun, they are giving financial assistance and grants to students whose research or thesis proposals were approved by their company just like the salt harvester machine invented by a group of Electronics and Communications Engineering students.

According to Mr. Gerard Khonghun, son of the owner, about 35,000 metric tons of industrial and commercial salts are being produced by the largest salt producer in the Philippines.

Through leadership, quality and innovation, the company is able to weather and adapt to the challenges of climate change, scarcity of resources and rapid technological advancement and use these new normal as an opportunity to improve their systems, products and services.

Also, Mr. Arsenio Barcelona, President and CEO of Harbest Agribusiness, Inc. introduced the wide range of agricultural products which include plastic materials like mulching film, seedling tray, irrigation and greenhouse systems, hand tractors, power sprayers, testing tools and a lot more. Harbest advocates the protection of the environment. The company provides high quality horticultural cultivars and tested agricultural technologies for short-term, high-value commercial crop production and assist clientele in market development.

According to Dr. Artemio M. Rebugio, PSU Director for Research who spearheaded the said event, the consortium is a good avenue for research outputs from various agencies to be disseminated to the stakeholders. It also showcased the ingenuity and pioneering spirit of researchers and paved the way for generation of new knowledge and technologies.

Moreover, the presentation and selection of the best scientific papers and posters from contending entries in the research, development and undergraduate categories were one of the highlights of the said activity. Pangasinan State University won 2nd Place Best Paper in Research Category for the research "Population Dynamics of the Mud Clam, Polymesodaerosa (Solander 1786) in Santiago Creek, Dagupan City, Pangasinan by Mr. Albert Francis T. Argente, et. al. A Fellowship Night followed shortly after the paper presentations with the Amado T. Espino (ATE) Band providing the lively music while the Pangasinan Danguan Cultural Group showcased Pangasinan culture and heritage at its best through a revelry of dances and songs.

Research Management and Publication Re-echo Seminar Workshop Conducted

The Directorate for Research conducted a re-echo seminar workshop on Research Management and Publication on August 6-7, 2015 in Lingayen, Pangasinan.

Director for Research Services, Dr. Artemio M. Rebugio, emphasized the importance of the emerging discipline of research management. Research projects should be managed with an increasing level of professionalism, transparency and accountability making research management function crucial for universities across the world.

During the lecture proper on the first day, Dr. Shella Parreno, Research and Extension Coordinator of PSU-Binmaley talked on "Research Ethics"; Dr. Renato Salcedo, faculty member of PSU-Lingayen discussed "Technical/Scientific Writing"; Mr. Oliver Caasi, Research Coordinator of PSU-Sta. Maria discussed "Publication (APA Style)" and Dr. Paulo V. Cenas, Campus Executive Director of PSU-Urdaneta, talked about "Identification/Selection of Appropriate Statistical Tools".

The second day was spent on Group Dynamics and Synthesis of Day 1 Activities including a workshop on writing Technical Paper for Publication (APA style). The participants were grouped into three categories such as Socio-Economic, Agriculture-Fishery and Technology. The outputs of the group were presented and critiqued for paper publication.

DOST partnered with PSU for CEST program

The Department of Science and Technology (DOST) has chosen Pangasinan State University, particularly the Extension Services Division, as its partner in the implementation of its Community Empowerment through Science and Technology (CEST) program.

DOST Regional Director and CEST Project Leader, Dr. Armando Q. Ganal explained during the core group meeting on January 28, 2015 in PSU-Lingayen that the CEST program gives priority in enhancing potential resources to overcome chronic hunger and poverty. Investments in both people and productivity are implemented through technology trainings and other capability building activities to uplift the living conditions of the families.

Moreover, PSU Director for Extension Services, Dr. Ruby Rosa V. Cruz, divulged that for the Province of Pangasinan, the five beneficiary barangays chosen were San Jose, Booboc East, Booboc West, Panacol and Mapita in Aguilar town. Based on data gathered, although Pangasinan is a first class province, there is a wide gap between the poor and the rich and Aguilar was identified as the town with the highest number of poor families.

The program evaluates, according to DOST Project Assistant Jennifer C. Fernandez, five areas of concern which include health and nutrition, water and sanitation, sustainable livelihood, education and disaster risk reduction and climate change adaptation. Result of the Rapid Appraisal reflects that all five barangays recorded the deep well as the main source of drinking water, practice burning for their waste management and disposal, and all experience flooding during typhoon due to the overflowing Agno river. Two out of the five barangays have elementary schools which are equipped with e-classroom having one server with six terminals but all lack a library facility. Bamboo craft making is the major livelihood of the barangays and camansi is abundant in the area.

PSU Extension Program wins Top Prize in RAFEN

The “PSU Best Practices in Extension” entry of the University won 1st Prize for the Poster Presentation category during the 2nd Regional Agriculture and Fishery Extension Network 1 (RAFEN 1) Symposium and 1st Regional Techno Gabay Program (TGP) Summit on July 2-3, 2015 at the Oasis Country Resort in San Fernando City, La Union.

The poster of PSU as presented by Director for Extension Rene Cacho and Deputy Director for Extension Benica S. Briones bested more than 25 contestants from various agencies in the region. This year’s symposium spearheaded by the Agricultural Training Institute , Regional Training Center 1 in Sta. Barbara, Pangasinan banners the theme “RAFEN I and TGP towards ASEAN Economic Integration.” Last year, the University won 2nd Place for the same category.

New PSU Organizational Structure

The new approved organizational structure of Pangasinan State University per BOR Resolution No. 36, series 2015.

Old PSU Organizational Structure

2015 Stratplan Seminar yielded new PSU VMGO

Gearing up for the next five years, PSU officials spearheaded by President Dexter R. Buted, convened for the 2015 Strategic Development Planning Seminar on January 23-24, 2015 at the HRMTC in Lingayen campus.

Notable lecturers were invited to give meaningful insights on how to come up with a University plan that clearly defines how PSU can achieve its strategic goals and objectives leading to the realization of the new vision and soar in terms of performance in its quadric functions of instruction, research, extension and production.

Dr. Conrado E. Iñigo, Jr., Vice President of Academic Affairs of the Lyceum of the Philippines University (LPU-Manila) and recipient of the Juran Award of Japan, gave a lecture on “Revisiting the VMGO” on the first day of the seminar. Likewise, Dr. Flora V. Javier, Executive Vice President of LPU-Laguna and PACUCOA Accreditor talked on Crafting the Development and Strategic Plan” on the second day.

Revisiting the Vision, Mission, Goals and Objectives of the University is always essential because the University Development Plan points to the realization of the VMGO. During his lecture, Dr. Iñigo noted that PSU is a part of a bureaucratic set up wherein there is a culture and tradition that is being practiced which cannot be really changed but can be neutralized with effective planning. In crafting the vision, the core competencies and unique strengths of the University should be considered and the vision statement is specific, descriptive and concise.

Further, Dr. Inigo tackled Total Quality Management (TQM) and Outcomes-Based Education Process (OBE). The overview of the Malcolm Baldrige Systems Perspective Framework (PQA) was also discussed.

In the workshop, the participants were grouped into four and proposed vision and mission statements. Dr. Iñigo selected the proposal of the research group as the best one since they have written the missions of the four-fold functions separately to emphasize focus.

On the second day, Dr. Javier underscored that the organizational objectives serve as guideposts in defining the standards of what an organization should achieve in areas of profitability, growth, customer service, and social responsibility. Hence, objectives relate to the results and not to the activities to be performed. Strategic planning establishes the priorities of what the University wants to achieve in a specified period and ensures that everyone is working towards the realization of the same goals.

After much critiquing and mental sparring, the new PSU Vision, Mission, Core Values and Strategic Goals were given birth and to which will be submitted to the Board of Regents for approval.

IPPDO released interpretation of new PSU Seal

The PSU Institutional Planning and Policy Development Office (IPPDO) has recently released an advisory disseminating information on the officially approved symbolical interpretation of the new PSU Seal. Marking the highlights of PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted's first months in the office was the change introduced on the official insignia of PSU, which serves the purpose of a Seal and a Logo of the University. The new PSU Seal was approved by the University's Board of Regents (BOR) in May 2016, and has since then used in the official stationeries and instrument of the University.

IPPDO Director, Dr. Galahad Randall S. Unciano was commissioned by the University President to conduct the oral presentation that lobbied for the approval of the new PSU Seal before the honorable members of the PSU BOR on May 15, 2015 at the CHED Main Office in Quezon City which was then the venue of their regular meeting. Significant to the need for changing the University Seal are the consequent changes made on the PSU Vision and Mission and its newly established institutional guiding philosophy, core values and strategic goals. These novelties in the institutional image justified the restructuring of the PSU Seal which in fact functions to provide a symbolically graphic representation of the University thrusts.

The PSU BOR has accepted the premises cited to justify the need to change the Seal, as well as the design of its proposed replacement and the symbolic interpretation of the new Seal's colors and component icons. Prominently central to the new PSU Seal is the figure of the lion, which stroke controversy to many onlookers. As the official Seal interpretation so states, the lion's figure was analogously drawn from the appearance of Pangasinan's geographic map and the lion's four feet symbolizing the fourfold functions of the University. The lion's tail is a twist of the artistic rendition of the "torch of education". The nine stars hovering above the lion are symbolic of PSU's nine geographic satellite campuses. The graphic design of the new PSU Seal is courtesy of Prof. Robert Sison, PSU Director for Sports Development who was commissioned by the President.

The new PSU Seal, which should always be placed on the right side with the lion facing the prints PANGASINAN STATE UNIVERSITY, sustains enough semblance to the old Seal from which it evolved. The Official colors of PSU, i.e. Royal Blue and Golden Yellow had been retained including the overall circular framing which was already in place in the old Seal.

DRB launched Brigada Universidad 2015

New start. Clean start.

The new year began in Pangasinan State University differently this year with sounds of broomsticks sweeping the grounds, rags slithering on windows and chairs and employees and students chatting with enthusiasm about a clean start for 2015 as the new PSU President, Dr. Dexter R. Buted, launched Brigada Universidad on Saturday, January 03, 2015.

Aimed at preparing the campuses for the resumption of classes on the fifth of June, the university-wide campus clean-up activity was participated in by the respective faculty members and non-teaching staff of the campuses headed by their campus executive directors. Even the Vice Presidents were seen doing their share by sweeping the dried leaves along the covered pathwalk of Lingayen campus.

On the other hand, the different offices in the Main administration experienced restructuring as the organization goes through the consequent initial transformation. The offices that were transferred to the legacy building were the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, Office of the Vice President for Research Extension and Training, Institutional Planning and Public Relations Office, Offices of the University Directors such as Student Services, Cultural Affairs, Sports, Gender and Development, International Affairs, Research, Extension and Auxiliary Services.

The Main Administration building will house all the offices under the Office of the Vice President for Administration and Finance which includes the Accounting Office, Human Resource Management Office, Records Office, Engineering Office, Procurement Office, Bids and Awards Committee (BAC) Office, and the Office of the Business and Resource Generation. The system will be centralized, thus, the campus accountants, budget officers and administrative officers will be reporting to the main administration twice a week.

As the promise of a better and globally relevant PSU is dawning, hope beams in the heart of every single unit of the administration that in collectively pursuing the vision, its realization is not a remote possibility.

PSU Quests for ISO Certification

Consonant to the PSU strategic goals (SGs) launched by the newly installed President of PSU Dr. Dexter R. Buted, the University shall engage in measures to instill good governance (SG-3), quality human resource management and development (SG-5), responsive to globalization (SG-8), and customer-focused (SG-8), the University has signed a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) with Rosehall Management Consultants, Inc. last June 1, 2015.

Rosehall was the identified service provider to assist in the deployment of PSU's project on the "Establishment of Quality Management System (QMS) Certifiable to ISO 9001:2008 Standard".

The pursuit for ISO Certification is in line with the more advanced requirements for SUCs' eligibility for the grant of PBB (Performance-Based Bonus) and thereby mandatory for institutional compliance.

In anticipation of this project, the modifications made in the PSU Organizational Structure has already paved for the integration of a special work unit to oversee the activities related to ISO Certification. This is the newly installed Office of Institutional Quality Assurance and Governance (OIQAG), with its designated Director Dr. Galahad Randall S. Unciano.

In the OIQAG Advisory released on June 11, 2015, the project schedule negotiated between PSU and Rosehall was disseminated to all campuses informing all University Officials of the different project activities to be facilitated by Rosehall and which are expected to stretch from July 2105 to January 2016. Until then, if the PSU QMS was found to be competent enough and ready for evaluation, then it will be subjected for accreditation by an appropriate certifying body for its grant of an ISO certification.

Quality Human Resource Management and Development

PSU Employees undergo QA and Customer-Focused Service Training

High school students are now assured of scholarships in 112 state universities and colleges (SUCs) nationwide now that the Iskolar ng Bayan Program also known as Republic Act No. 10648 has been signed into law.

This is the good news that Representative Roman T. Romulo, chairperson of Higher and Technical Education, member of the PSU Board of Regents and one of the sponsors of the said bill, announced during the Orientation Seminar on Quality Assurance and Customer-Focused Services on June 19, 2015 at the Pangasinan Training and Development Center in Lingayen, Pangasinan where he is the distinguished Guest of Honor and Keynote Speaker.

With the said bill every member of the Top Ten graduating class of public high schools will automatically enter state universities as a scholar. Since the country has 8,000 public high schools, this means that a total of 80,000 high school students can avail of the scholarship. The student will be entitled admission to the SUC of his or her choice within his or her province without having to pay for first-year tuition and miscellaneous fees. A year after the student beneficiary avails of the college scholarship offered by the government, he or she will be covered by financial assistance from the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) if qualified, upon meeting a certain criteria.

He added that those who did not make the grade to the elite list should not be dismayed because another law will soon be passed, the Unified Financial Assistance to Students in Tertiary (UNIFAST) Bill which will cater to all students who wanted to pursue college education. The UNIFAST is for all students in college who cannot be sent by their parents because of financial incapacity. The bill, whose funding will come from the national government, will provide scholarships and grants-in-aid loans for qualified students. The SUCs have a total budget of 3.5 Billion pesos allotted for scholarships apart from the 2.2 billion pesos apportioned for student financial aid.

Moreover, he also authored the Ladderized Education Act which would enable those who took vocational courses to take the National Competency Assessment Examination which will be credited to their college education. He also revealed that a total of 15,000 plantilla items for teachers in SUCs is already available come 2016 to beef up the human resource requirements of the education sector.

Another law Congressman Romulo espoused is the Open Distance Learning Act which gives students access to education regardless of their age, geographical location, time constraint and economic condition. The said laws are proof of the national government's efforts to give quality education service to its constituents.

On the other hand, other resource speakers during the said event were Mr. Paul B. Bagatsing, Vice President and General Manager of AJA Registrars, Inc.; Mr. Joseph L. Deligero, Director of External Affairs of the Lyceum of the Philippines University; Ms. Annalie D. Patena, Researcher of the Lyceum of the Philippines University and Ms. Ida Miranda-Castro, Marketing and Client Operations Manager of the Cross Property Management, Inc.

Bagatsing, during his talk, discussed about Quality Assurance and Standardization in Institutional Operations. He emphasized that customers, clients or stakeholders dictate the standard which an institution should pursue and that the product of the university is the quality of the total learning experience that is being provided.

Likewise, Deligero talked on the Best Institutional Practices in Customer Services and Quality Assurance. He stressed that in aiming for quality assurance, the role of every unit and every single personnel is important. He liberally shared to the PSU community the journey of the Lyceum of the Philippines University as they went on to be awarded the Philippine Quality Awards by President Benigno Simeon C. Aquino III.

A Primer on Competitive Customer Services and Personality Development was the topic discussed by Ms. Castro. The crowd became engrossed in the subject matter as the speaker engaged the audience in some question and answer moments which stirred interests with some answers earning bursts of laughter. She added that in the corporate world, first impressions are not just an important thing, rather is the only thing. Her talk also touched on subjects such as good grooming, etiquette and appropriate clothing, among others.

Similarly, Pateña shared her expertise regarding technical writing and publication using the American Psychological Association (APA) format which is one of the most preferred author-date referencing or bibliographic citation in varied international research publications. Pateña discussed the different referencing guidelines from different sources including electronic databases, websites, proceedings of meetings, symposia and conference papers, audio recordings and even podcast. A workshop on technical writing using of the said format was also facilitated the following day by Pateña.

The event, participated in by more than 800 employees of the Pangasinan State University, form part of the series of activities the University will conduct in line with the initiatives on faculty and staff development.

PSU faculty members get OBEdized

More than six hundred faculty members convened at the Pangasinan Development Training Center in Lingayen for the conduct of the Outcomes-based Education (OBE) Seminar-Workshop on June 22 to 23, 2015.

OBE is an educational theory that focuses on each unit of an educational system around goals which are defined as outcomes. The Commission on Higher Education is committed to developing competency-based learning standards that comply with existing international standards when applicable to achieve quality and enable an effective implication of the intellectual discipline, ethos and values associated with liberal education. One way to achieve such is the development and implementation of an outcomes-based approach to QA monitoring and evaluation for it has the potential to greatly increase both the effectiveness of the QA system and the quality, efficiency and effectiveness of higher education.

In support and compliance to CHED requirements, PSU conducted the 2-day seminar with Ma. Christina G. Aquino, Executive Director of the Planning and Development Office of the Lyceum of the Philippines University and Dr. Lilibeth C. Aragon, Dean of the College of International Tourism and Hospitality Management of the same University.

According to Aquino, OBE is an approach that focuses and organizes an educational system about what is essential for all learners to know, to value and be able to do to achieve a desired level of competence. During her discussion, Aquino tackled the OBE pyramid and its five elements namely paradigm, purposes, premises, principles and practices.

Moreover, Aquino also presented the Mutual Recognition Arrangements (MRAs) of the ASEAN on programs such as engineering, electronics, nursing, architecture, dental and medical courses, accountancy and tourism. The MRAs aim to facilitate the mobility of professionals in the mentioned fields of specialization and deal with the recognition of these professionals through a certification process. Competencies are based on qualification, education, training and experiences and are the principal elements to be considered in granting mutual recognition of foreign professionals. In the case of the tourism industry there are already toolboxes. The said toolboxes will be used by tourism training and education institutions of the ASEAN member states like PSU as a reference to deliver a standardized competency-based training system and also for the conduct of professional certification programs.

On the other hand, Aragon talked about the formulation of Institutional and Program Outcomes and the Identification of Outcomes and Performance Indicators. Aragon explained that learning outcomes focus on what the learner has achieved rather than the intention of the teacher. OBE learning centers on the student and not on the teacher. Student involvement in various class activities is a key part of OBE and are expected to do their own learning so they can gain full understanding of the lessons.

Further, the institutional learning outcomes is defined as the knowledge, skills, abilities and attitudes that students are expected to develop as a result of their over-all experiences with the many aspects of the University including course, programs and student services. The ILO serves as a guide to develop the student learning outcomes and also aids in the decision-making processes of the University.

PSU President, Dr. Dexter R. Buted presented the PSU Institutional Learning Outcome which is anchored on the vision, mission and core values of the University. He said that the picture of a true PSUian is someone who possesses the characteristics spelled out in the core values --- someone who is accountable and transparent, credible and with integrity, competent with the commitment to achieve, excellent in delivering services, responsive to social and environmental concerns and most of all, spiritually prepared.

At the forefront of the faculty development programs particularly training is the Office of the Vice President for Student Services, Extension, Training and External Services headed by Dr. Manolito C.

Manuel and Director for Training, Dr. Ruby Rosa V. Cruz. Manuel elucidated that the ultimate yardstick of the University is simply not to produce graduates but to ascertain their competitiveness in the international arena and to face lifelong responsibilities. It is for every PSU student to become innovative workers, complex thinkers and active contributors to nation building for this modern society.

The implementation of the OBE in PSU will build the competencies of the faculty members and will also promote the standardization of all the syllabi, course books and other instructional materials of the nine campuses including the Graduate School and the Open University Systems.

Seminar on Archival Management conducted

The Training Institute led by its Director, Dr. Ruby Rosa V. Cruz, spearheaded the conduct of a Seminar on Archival Management on August 19, 2015 at the De Venecia Building in PSU Lingayen.

The seminar conducted for the very first time in the University was intended for librarians and registrars. The goals of the activity is to identify and differentiate archival collection from library materials; advocate the value of archival collection in meeting the information needs of students, faculty and researchers and adopt/practice the principles and techniques in archival management.

The grand prize (refrigerator) went to Jomar Pabona, a staff at the HRD. Each of the employees also received a gift from the president.

PSU conducted University-wide Student Orientation

In the context and interest of “Transparency” as one of PSU’s institutional core values lobbied by the University President, Dr. Dexter R. Buted, the latter recently introduced a twist in the mechanism for conducting the annual student orientation intended for the incoming freshman students usually done prior to the commencement of the first semester. During this year’s orientation held last June 25 to July 3, 2015, Dr. Buted reinvigorated the usual activities and practices in conducting the orientation to ensure more effective and broader means in disseminating all relevant information about the University that students, especially the incoming freshmen need to know in order to guide them as neophyte entrants to the University. The nine campuses of the University took turns to be visited by a delegation of University officials who lectured on the different aspects of the Student Manual.

In the usual student orientation practiced in the previous years and prior to Dr. Buted’s administration, the individual campuses were simply relegated the accountability to conduct their respective orientation programs. Conversely, the President wanted the orientation to be administered by a pool of lecturers from the members of the University Officialdom. Moreover, the more salient features of the reformatted student orientation is that the parents and guardians of the first year college students were also invited to the program. As part of the University stakeholders, the parents were also addressed as to their specific concerns by informing them about the future life of their children in their formative years of stay in the University. Dr. Buted emphasized that it matters to ensure parents that their children are in safe hands and are assured to receive the highest quality of education and services they deserve from the University they have chosen to enroll in.

The topics to where the students were oriented on were comprehensive, which included their guidance and information as to why the start of the Academic Year in PSU was moved to August 10. They were also oriented on the details of the new PSU VMGO, uniform policy, academic policies, guidance and counseling services, library services, scholarship and financial grants and a briefing on the anti-hazing law. PSU San Carlos was the first campus to be visited on June 25, followed by Infanta and Alaminos on June 26, Lingayen (June 29), Binmaley (June 30), Bayambang (July 1), Urdaneta City (July 2), and finally Asingan and Sta. Maria last July 3.

Buted demonstrates transparency in PressCon

PSU President Dr. Dexter R. Buted called for a Press Conference on December 9, 2015 at the Audio Visual Room in Lingayen Campus to answer queries and shed light on some issues and concerns being broadcast over the local radio.

Advocating good governance and transparency in his form of leadership, Buted initiated the conduct of a press conference to provide an avenue for an open forum wherein he can answer questions and certain allegations being hurled at his administration by some opposing groups.

During the press conference attended by various media personalities in the province, he was asked by a local tv reporter regarding the alleged selling of books as a requirement for the subjects. Buted explained that the sale of books was one of the interventions being done by the University to raise the quality of instruction within the University since data showed that for the last three years, the University has experienced a decline in the passing rate in board performance of some PRC-administered licensure examinations. He wants nothing but the best quality education for every PSUnian that is why the administration is doing its best to lift the quality standard of learning in the University. He also showed in his presentation that the prices of books were even reduced contrary to the claims of some that it was over-priced. Another intervention was the provision of incentives to Board Topnotchers and the curricular programs which obtained a passing rate above the national passing percentage. The Top One will be receiving P150,000.00 Pesos while the Top Two and Top Three will be receiving P100,000.00 Pesos each. Top Four to Top Ten passers will also be given P80,000.00 Pesos each.

A parent, likewise, asked the President regarding the uniforms which were already paid by the students but still has not been delivered to them. The President rationalized that it was the desire of PSU students to have a uniform that is unique only for PSU unlike the old uniform which can also be seen being worn by cashiers in the department stores that is why the University came up with a new uniform. Further, the cloth being used in fabricating the uniforms was specifically designed solely for the use of Pangasinan State University having markings that is exclusive for PSU and that the cloth cannot be bought anywhere except in PSU to protect the authenticity of the PSU brand. The production has taken quite a longer time than expected because of the series of government procedures that it needs to go through like the bidding process, the uploading in PhilGeps, among others. The President assured everyone that the uniforms will soon be delivered.

The increase in tuition fee for the elementary and high school levels in Bayambang Campus was also raised. Dr. Buted clarified that PSU is not mandated to offer elementary and high school education and that the existence of the elementary and high school serves as an extension program of the University to its stakeholders. The budget for its operation was being subsidized by the University and it was eating up quite a large chunk of the budget intended for the operations of the campus so the administration informed the parents of its plan of closing the elementary and high school if it cannot sustain operation on its own. The University then resorted to converting it into an Integrated School and increased the tuition fee for it to support its own operations. The tuition and other fees, however, are still lower compared to that of the private elementary and high schools located in Bayambang.

President Buted reiterated during the press conference that the University is running on an open door policy wherein students, faculty members or anybody can talk to the President in his office without having to set a prior appointment about certain issues and concerns. He also assured everyone that the best interest of the students and of Pangasinan State University as a whole remains to be his top priority.

Phil Red Cross joins Brigada Universidad

The Philippine National Red Cross-Dagupan City Chapter took part in the recently-held Brigada Universidad on June 5, 2015 which gathered University officials, faculty members, non-teaching staff and some students for the semestral conduct of the said activity.

Dr. Manolito C. Manuel, VP for Student Services, Extension and Training and External Affairs, spearheaded the clean-up activity intended to give a face-lift to the various classrooms, beautify and tidy up the surroundings of the campuses and refurbish chairs and tables.

Also, President Dexter R. Buted, who introduced the idea of conducting Brigada Universidad as part of the maintenance initiatives of the University, was very much engaged in its implementation. The Campus Executive Directors were also present to receive their cleaning supplies and materials for their respective campuses. Dr. Buted expressed his gratitude that everyone is open in embracing the innovation and doing their share in making PSU a much improved and better institution by providing the best learning environment it could possibly offer. He also thanked Philippine Red Cross for their relentless support in partnering with PSU for the huge success of the said activity. After stretching some muscles and getting drenched in sweat, it was time for the much needed rest and a gastronomic surprise followed through a luncheon boodle fight which was enjoyed by everyone.

PSU now a World Book Online Subscriber

The PSU community has another reason to celebrate with the offering of the World Book Online library service which is now available in all the nine campuses of the University including the Graduate School and the Open University Systems.

The online subscription gives an opportunity to its faculty members, non-teaching staff and students for free access to an extensive collection of digital library resources comprising e-books, journals, encyclopedia, dramatic learnings, inventions and discoveries, among others.

Access credentials can be availed at the Office of the Campus Librarian, campus registrar or send requests to the MIS email at mis@psu.edu.ph.
