Army General Presents Purple Hearts At USNH

Purple Heart Medals were presented to 53 Army wounded here Monday afternoon by Maj. Gen. John W. Leonard, Commanding General of the Army's Fifth Corps and Fort Bragg, N. C.

The medals were awarded at the U. S. Naval Hospital, where scores of soldiers are recovering from wounds received in the Korean fighting.
Most of the men decorated were natives of the Carolinas, Virginia, or the District of Columbia. They were sent here under the Armed Forces policy of hospitalizing wounded as near their homes as possible.

All who were able to walk gathered in the hospital auditorium to receive their medals.

"I can't say that I am happy to give you this medal," the General told them, "but I can wish you all a speedy recovery."

General Leonard chatted with each man, questioned him about his former unit and where and how he had been wounded. The answers sounded like a roll call of the Army's Korea units and the battles they have fought.

4,781 Officers Selected For Promotion To Capt.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Marine Corps Headquarters yesterday announced that 4,781 Reserve officers had been selected for promotion to captain. This is the largest such list in Marine Corps history.

Actual promotion depends upon the officers' selected passing their physical examinations and upon promotion of their "running mates" in the regular Marine Corps.

Reserve officers selected should receive orders from their reserve district directors in a few weeks to take their physical examinations. All notification concerning promotions of officers on inactive duty will come from reserve district headquarters.

The selection board which recommended the 4,781 officers for promotion convened August 28.

President of the Board was Col. Edwin P. Pennebaker. Reserve members were: Lieutenant Colonels Ira J. Erwin, Ralph W. Bohne; Majors Henry S. Faus, William L. Gaffney, Herbert C. Bumgarner, Phillip C. Roettinger, Everett P. Pope, Anton G. Pigott, William H. Cuenin, John F. Doyle. Regulars: Col. Kermit C. Zieg; Majors Noel C. Gregory, Robert R. Baker and Margaret M. Henderson. Second Lt. John Gnaill, USMCR was recorder.

"First Cavalry Division, sir. I was hit near Waegan."
"Twenty-fourth Division. Got a piece of shrapnel in my left thigh just outside Seoul, General."
"Fifth Regimental Combat Team. I got it at Taegu."
Speaking from his own experience, General Leonard contrasted the rapid air evacuation methods used in Korea with the slow, bumpy ambulance ride and poor hospital food he had known when wounded in World War I.
"I'm sure you fared a lot better than that," he told the Korea veterans.

The general reminded them that the Purple Heart was originated during the American Revolution by General George Washington. In the years that followed, the decoration lapsed into disuse until General Douglas MacArthur revived it as a wound medal while Chief of Staff in the early '30s, he said.

After awarding decorations to ambulatory patients, the General toured the wards to present medals to men unable to leave their beds. In addition to the Purple Heart, the General left each man his best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Christmas Message

To all Marines of Camp Lejeune, their dependents, and civilian employees, I extend warmest personal greetings for the Christmas season.

The year that has just passed has been a difficult one for most of us. The pendulum of events has swung back and forth from high hopes of Peace to low degrees of uncertainty.

It is my fervent hope that the coming year will bring with it the blessings of Peace, and that each of you will enjoy the security that attends it.

I also take this occasion to express my appreciation to All Hands for the loyalty and diligence displayed, and the willingness with which difficult tasks have been performed.

Gridders Honored At Banquet As Climax To Excellent Season

BY TSGT. EARL H. WILSON

King Football descended from his throne at Camp Lejeune amidst the cheers and applause of over 150 guests who gathered to celebrate the highly successful season with a banquet in honor of the Marine varsity at Marston Pavilion Friday evening.

The affair was highlighted by the presentation of three trophies by Head Coach Major Bruno J. Andruska to Brig. Gen. William J. Whaling. General Whaling proudly accepted the awards in behalf of Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson who was unable to attend the ceremonies.

Individual awards were presented to the players by General Whaling along with congratulations for "a job well done." The presentations culminated with a long round of applause as General Whaling walked to the rear of the banquet hall and presented Fred Tallai an individual trophy. Tallai was on crutches resulting from an injury received in the Bowl game at Biloxi, Miss., and was unable to make his way to the post of honor to receive his award.

Lt. Col. F. X. Beamer, master of ceremonies, introduced the honored guests and speakers. Seated at the speakers' table were General Whaling, Lt. Col. W. R. Williams, Camp Special Services Officer; Col. J. M. Ranck, CO, H&S Bn., MB; Col. L. B. Cresswell, Chief of Staff, 2d Marine Division; Head Coach Maj. B. J. Andruska; Line Coach Maj. R. D. Opp; Lester Gould of WJNC; Billy Arthur of the Jacksonville News and Views, and Ed O'Connor, played representative of the varsity.

Coach Andruska spoke in a serious vein as he told of his "businesslike, driving tactics" all season in order to get the team in shape to win ball games. "Andy," as his boys know him, has given the Marines two very successful seasons. The varsity has lost but four games in two years, and two of the four have been to the powerhouse of Quantico.

General Whaling told a couple of lively stories, ending on the theme that "some may not be here next season" but he hoped that future candidates would have more time and a better opportunity to "make a team than was afforded you men this year."

Colonel Williams, through whose efforts the banquet was made possible, stated that he was "very proud to have been associated with each and every man, and that under any conditions, all were great Marines."

The banquet was further highlighted by extemporaneous speeches by Lt. Wayne Steele, varsity guard, Capt. Wally Williams, player-coach, and Cpl. Tony Scapperotta, assistant varsity manager. Scapperotta further entertained the gathering with his singing and piano-playing as the party, like the coming holiday season, went on "far into the night." It was further attested by all who attended that a grand time was had by all.

RESUME OF THE 1950 SEASON
Head Football Coach Maj. Bruno J. Andruska announced that Camp Lejeune would begin the 1950 season by staging initial practice on August 7, at 1:30 p.m.

Twenty-three lettermen were returning from the power-laden 1949 edition which was runner-up for the East Coast All-Navy Crown. Over 150 eager hopefuls answered the call. All of the 1949 Coaching Staff was returning and things looked mighty nifty for '50.

One week later, the question arose as to whether Lejeune would have a football team for the current season.

10th Marines Lauded By Commandant MCS

A commendation from Maj. Gen. Franklin A. Hart, Commandant of the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, has been received by the Tenth Marine Artillery Regiment for its outstanding artillery demonstration held at Quantico on November 21.

The demonstration, climaxing five weeks of training at near-by Camp Barrett, Va., was put on for the benefit of the Marine Corps Schools by members of the regiment. 75 percent of whom were reserves called to active duty recently.

The commendation read:

"1. In response to a request initiated by the Marine Corps Schools, the 10th Marines, 2d Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, has spent the last month at Quantico, and on 21 November fired the annual artillery demonstration for students and staff of these schools. The Commandant, Marine Corps Schools takes this opportunity to express his appreciation for the splendid firing which the 10th Marines conducted at that demonstration. The excellence of the Regiment's performance, and the cooperation rendered by all hands, combined to make the demonstration one of the best ever presented to students at the Marine Corps Schools. Colonel Brown and his officers and men have every reason to be proud of their outstanding gunnery.

"2. It was a pleasure to have the 10th Marines at Marine Corps Schools during their service practice and for the demonstration. It is hoped that the 10th Marines may return to these Schools in the near future to participate in other artillery demonstrations presented for student officers."

Woman Marine Director Visits Camp Lejeune

Colonel Katherine A. Towle, Director of the Woman Marines, visited Camp Lejeune for two days last week and inspected the Woman Marines Companies here and at Cherry Point.

Although her stay was an official inspection, the Colonel spent a large part of her time personally checking on working and recreational problems and commented, "I am very, very pleased with conditions here but must admit I expected everything to be this excellent before coming down."

Enthusiastic about Lejeune as an ideal place for Woman Marines, Colonel Towle explained that she was on the Commanding General's staff here for a year and a half in 1943-44 and considered herself an "old-timer" on the base.

At that time Lejeune had 3600 WR's in training here and another 1800 as permanent personnel and this large number made it necessary for a women's adviser on the general staff.

After inspecting the women's barracks, Colonel Towle said she was very pleased with the living quarters and said she did not think there could be much improvement made in recreational facilities for the enlisted personnel.

Before leaving for her offices in Washington, Colonel Towle spoke before the Lejeune women's company at Marston Pavilion. She has been head of the WM's since 1948.

No Scrooges In The Sixth Marines

Proving that the 6th Marines have that Yuletide feeling, Sgt. Howard V. Velsey makes like a Rembrandt as he puts the finishing touches on this gay display outside Building 123. The sign was erected by the regiment's special service, CWO Dennis Wird, Officer-in-Charge.

Father And Son Join 10th Marines

The postman always rings twice! This thought has been the title of a novel and motion picture and now tells the tale of two reserve Marines on active duty.

M. Sgt. Fred A. Cheek, personnel sergeant major of the First Battalion, 10th Marines, looked up from his desk last week and accepted joining orders from a familiar-looking Private First Class. The top-kick had been waiting for the younger Marine, for the 17-year-old lad was his son, Fred A. Cheek, Jr.

Sergeant Cheek, a postman in Augusta, Ga., for many years, and Private Cheek, a future postman in that Southern city, came on active duty the past summer when mobilization began. It is the father's second active duty tour.

The older Cheek enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve in 1937 and was called to active duty in 1940. He served at several naval establishments and spent 16 months in the Pacific with artillery units before returning to an inactive status as a sergeant major in 1945.

Young Cheek enlisted in the Marine Corps' Organized Reserve last February and underwent recruit training at Parris Island upon assignment to active duty.

Clerk-Typist Complete Div Clerical School

Capt. George H. Goss, Second Marine Division Adjutant's Office, was principal speaker Friday at 10 a.m. at ceremonies for 19 graduates of the Division's Clerk-Typist School.

The course includes typing, personnel administration and naval correspondence.

In commending the work of the graduates, Captain Goss said, "The difference between a good job and a great job is attention to detail." He added that more than 2000 men have attended Division schools in the past three months.

Honor graduate of the six-week course is Pfc Louis D. Bensinger, 22. He led the class in typing, with 63 words per minute.

Private Bensinger, currently assigned to Headquarters and Service Company, Sixth Marines, was called to active duty in August.

Other graduates were: Pfc Nestor Llamas; Cpl. John R. Carrella; Pfc Joseph R. Leach; Pfc John W. Swisowski; Charles D. Bell; Pfc Michael Mudri; Cpl. Hugh N. Johnson, Jr.; Pfc Herbert R. Brown; and Pfc Richard P. Phillips.

Also, Pfc John C. Madden; Cpl. Robert W. Brown; Col. Floyd M. Thomas; Col. Richard G. Burtlett; Cpl. Joseph T. E. Crosby; Pfc Wal-

Do Unto Others

BY CPL. SEYMOUR KATZ

The Leathernecks of the Second Motor Transport Battalion are avid believers that above all else a Marine is a gentleman. Especially on Christmas.

That large green box outside building 404 with "Give to the Poor" printed in bold yellow letters on it is silent testimony to this statement.

More than two months ago the enlisted men of the outfit had a barn dance scheduled for Oct. 21 in the Area 4 theater.

They planned to cover the deck with leaves and other boondockery and the Second Division orchestra was to be on hand to supply the notes.

There would be cokes and other refreshments.

The place would be decorated to the rafters.

Everything was all set—except one thing: Girls.

The first thing to do was invite the local Woman Marines who promised to attend but couldn't hope to provide enough partners for the whole battalion.

This was the problem that Lt. Robert K. Maslin, S-4 officer of the battalion who at that time was the special service head, had to face.

The solution: Go Get 'em.

So, a few days before the dance Lieutenant Maslin loaded some of his Lotharios on a few trucks and sent them off to Wilmington on Operation Wolf.

The Truckers headed straight off to Wilmington's churches where they asked the clergy to provide names of girls belonging to their congregations.

The gamble paid off and the Port City ministers joined in the operation and supplied enough of the lovelies to make the dance a slightly terrific success.

Several days later when the spell wore off the Transporters decided it was time to show a little gratitude. They offered the churches money and food for the poor but they were turned down on the grounds that the boys couldn't afford spending their salaries.

They someone had the fine idea that the churches might like some used clothing to distribute to the needy. The clergy said "okay" and as a result the green box sprouted almost simultaneously.

The box has already been filled and will be delivered in a few days.

According to Lieutenant Maslin, the poor may enjoy this Christmas but they won't be as happy as his boys.

2 Former Junior Files Now Serving In Corps

PARRIS ISLAND—Two Marine Recruits, whose parents live at Camp Lejeune, completed their boot train here this month at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

They are Pfc Richard L. Frucci, son of CWO and Mrs. L. Frucci, 112 Sherwood Rd., Jacksonville, and Pfc Alvin B. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton B. Clark, 1413 S. Butler Dr., Midway Park.

Private Frucci, 18, is a graduate of Camp Lejeune High School where he played football, basketball and baseball.

Private Clark, who is a veteran of two years in the U. S. Coast Guard, was a civil service employe at Camp Lejeune before enlisting in the Marine Corps.

After 10 days' leave, the two Marines will report for duty at a regular Marine station.

"Open House"

"Open House" for members of the Marine Corps and their families will be held all day Christmas Day at the First Presbyterian Church, Third and Orange Streets, Wilmington. It was announced by Dr. Wm. Crowe Jr., Pastor. Light refreshments will be served. Young people of the Church will be hosts and hostesses.

"Open House" will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the social rooms of the historic Church, with festive decorations, large log fires, and a cordial welcome in the hope of providing some Christmas happiness for the Marines.

The Church will also be open for members of the Marine Corps Sunday afternoon, Christmas Eve, from 3:00 to 7:00 o'clock. Marines are invited to attend services Sunday. The Sunday School is at 10 a.m. with departments for all ages. The morning Church Service is at 11:15 and a Christmas Eve candle lighting carol service is at 5:00 o'clock.

The regular weekly supper, when a large number of the congregation gathered for supper and a brief devotional service, was held Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. and the annual Christmas custom of "the Hanging of the Greens" followed. Members of the Marine Corps and their families are invited to all the Christmas festivities of the Church. (Episcopal) will be celebrated.

Cherokee Mother's Letter Sends Son Back On Warpath

LEWOD, Calif. Dec. 16—A Cherokee Indian mother today received the letter that will put her sergeant son back where he belongs—in the thick of the fight leading his "dirty, and loyal platoon."

Sgt. Robert J. Ward, 25, a decorated Cherokee, was in the fighting until recently. His mother wrote Gen. Cliff Gates, Commandant of the 1st Marine Corps, that her son was one of her boys—the other two killed in World War II. She has the right to have her last son put in a noncombat to noncombatant duty were sent to him. But he tucked them in his hip pocket and continued leading his platoon up one bloody hill after another.

It took follow-up orders to get him on a desk job in Tokyo.

From there he wrote his mother this letter:

"I'm no hero, but I also have responsibilities to Little Squaw (his daughter) and Bettye (his wife) and you.

"If these people aren't stopped here on their own ground, we will have to share the thing so many have died to prevent their loved ones from sharing—the sight of death in our own backyard; of women and children being victims of these people.

"I went on the warpath for the right to do my bit to keep our people free and proud and now I'm shackled to a useless job.

"I ask you, my mother, to free me so I can once again be free to help my boys.

"They placed their faith in me and I brought them all back and now someone else leads them and I know they need me.

"Maybe in a sense I need them, my dirty, stinking and loyal platoon.

"So, I ask you the one thing which your heart does not want to do, release me to fight.

"Write to the Commandant and release me — explain to them as only you can that I have a job to do and that you understand."

mother is Mrs. Glenn Peterfe of an aircraft machinist. He is not immediately available for verification, but Sergeant father is believed dead. The 1st Marine Corps is releasing Sergeant Ward.

Combat Service Group Has Christmas Party

Approximately 2,000 men from the Combat Service Group at the Group Christmas Program last Friday afternoon in the 4th Area Gym. Content to a theater for the occasion helped the men get the holiday spirit with its decorations of Christmas trees and lights.

The show, the only one of its kind presented on the base for the benefit of the enlisted men, was put together by Group Special Services with Group talent, under the direction of the Special Services Officer, 1st Lt. C. C. Cate. Among the features of the afternoon were the 12-piece swing band themselves the "Band Blazers"; a comedy trio consisting of Fred and Paul Simpson, L. Butler, trumpet soloist Patterson; vocalists Al Mcand H. Rhode; weightlifter Krstein, and acrobat Dick rger. A 10-man choral group which sang the "Lord's Prayer" and "All Through the Night" and the jiving, calypso "Variety Barons" rounded off the two hour show.

According to Lieutenant Cate the entire presentation was well received, and he said that if time permits are available more shows of the same type will be presented in the future.

Gold Bars Replace Three Chevrons

Former Staff Sgt. Irwin H. Gold, 25, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve Thursday afternoon in ceremonies at the Rifle Range.

A veteran of Peleliu, the Philippines and Okinawa, Lieutenant Gold received his commission through the meritorious NCO program, after being recalled to active duty October 6.

The bars were pinned on the lieutenant's battle jacket by Col. R. W. Hayden, Commanding Officer, Second Marines.

A native of Brooklyn, N. Y., Lieutenant Gold first joined the Marine Corps in February, 1943. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in education at New York University in 1949.

At present the lieutenant is acting platoon leader in A Company, 1st Battalion, Second Marines.

Around The Camp Two Marine Pilots Crash In Mid-Air But 'Walk Away'

BY PFC. LEO HAMEL

The Christmas spirit is much in evidence these days, what with decorations sprouting out in the most improbable places. Noticed the 2d Tank Battalion's tongue-in-cheek display. They have a tableau showing a tank all-dolled up with holly and Christmas trills and a large sign "Season's Greetings from the 2d Tank Battalion." Seems strange to see a tank gun shoving its snout out of such a display.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—Two Marine Corps F8F Bearcat fighters crashed yesterday near Patuxent, Md., and the pilots of both walked—or swam—away from the crash.

"Rudolph, the Red-nosed Reindeer" is prominently featured in the Training Aids Library display on the front of Building 318. He's off to starboard of the group watching a life-sized Santa do a second-story job on the building. The other reindeer are where they're supposed to be: hauling Old Saint Nick's chariot.

More than two hours after the wreck, at 4:14 p.m., the pilot of one plane, which crashed into Chesapeake Bay after hitting the other, called in from the only store on Smith Island, near the scene of the accident, and reported he was alive, unharmed but soaking wet and cold.

Object of much interest these days is the intricate formations being worked out by the Second Marine Division's band on Varsity Field. They're preparing for their trip to the Miami, Florida, Orange Bowl where they will be featured in pre-game ceremonies. The bandmen will spend a busy ten days in Florida with two large parades, concerts, and other public appearances on their schedule.

He was First Lt. U. A. Knight, 29, who, officials of the Naval Air Station at Anacostia feared, had died in the crash of his plane.

Appropos the band: The "Moon over Miami" number, to be played at the Orange Bowl, is Pfc Frank Mathew's brain-child. He's well-known in musical circles for his original musical comedy scores at the University of North Carolina.

The second lucky Marine was First Lt. George Byers, 26, who made an emergency landing at Webster Field, near Patuxent, after the crash.

The Camp Parade Ground is getting a workout lately. Platoons of men can be seen "trooping and stomping" at almost any hour of the working day. They're watched with interest by gals visiting the Hostess House, who probably are getting their first glance at the famed Marine Corps close order drill.

The pilots, all Marine Reservists, were joining up for formation near Patuxent when Knight's plane rammed into Byers' plane.

While two hairy boxers slugged it out in the ring, we noticed some of the comments being thrown out for their benefit. "Which one has the Tom?" or "Who's the guy in the fur coat?"

GI Rail Tax Exemption Signed By President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—President Truman today signed into law a bill granting members of the armed services exemption from federal transportation taxes when traveling on leave or furlough.

Some railroads, in addition, have also voluntarily put into effect special furlough rates over the Christmas holidays.

In Case Of Fire Dial 7070

A Christmas tree is traditionally a thing of beauty. It can also be a thing of horror. A few seconds is all it takes to transform its tinsel loveliness into a roaring holocaust. The National Board of Fire Underwriters stated: "Few people realize that the Christmas tree can be one of the most flammable objects known. It is filled with pitch and resin. Once ignited it is very difficult to extinguish."

And always, remember, some human agency is responsible. A tiny spark from an electric train speeding along the miniature right of way, might ignite tinder-dry decorations into a blazing inferno. Neglecting to check faulty electric wiring could cause that.

It has been recorded that fires have been started by the heat of small light globes resting against over-dry branches of the tree.

There is no known manner in which the hazard of fire can be completely eliminated. But it can be reduced. Fire prevention officials offer a few suggestions to minimize the danger:

Pick out a fresh, green tree. Leave it outside, standing in a pail of water until you are ready to use it. When you bring it in, select a stand capable of containing water or wet sand.

Cut the base of the tree diagonally. If it has already been cut in that manner, trim it again. The old cut may have sealed somewhat, reducing the ability of the tree to suck up moisture.

Don't place the tree near an open fireplace, where popping sparks might fly into it, or into which the tree itself might fall.

Don't fail to check all wiring, and eliminate worn wire and faulty connections.

Do not leave the tree lights burning when you go to bed or when you leave the house.

Caution should be exercised while smoking near a tree, especially if the decorations are combustible.

Finally, get rid of the tree by New Year's Day, or earlier if it shows signs of excessive drying.

Remember, it is the humans who are responsible for fires, the tree is just the destroying element. The NBFU records the burning to death of 115 persons in Christmas tree fires during the past two holiday seasons. But there is no report that a Christmas tree, itself, ever blazed up without human assistance somewhere along the line.

Chaplain's Corner

Hope is one of the most important virtues in life. On it depends much of life's success and happiness. It is the spring of humanitarianism, the stimulus of successful effort.

Supernatural hope may be defined as an ardent longing for eternal salvation with a firm expectation of obtaining it.

It is based on the power of God who can help us. "With God things are possible" (Matt. 19). And it is assumed us because His fidelity. "The Lord is faithful in all His words" (Ps. 144.1).

Consequently, the man who is himself despairing or depressed because he has been recalled to military service may find in supernatural hope a measure of comfort in his distress.

For with hope we can see beyond the barrier of physical existence beyond this vale of tears and the joys that have been prepared for us from all eternity. Separated from home and family, the orphans of the military so removed in peace, become, in the light of supernatural hope a kind of molation. They may even be viewed correctly, the sacrifice which we are intimately joined with God; a communion so essential to our continued existence with Him for all eternity.

May, then, this virtue, which we receive from our Creator and our server, who over looks not the sparrows and the lilies of the field, be for all a spiritual antidote for our physical, mental and our pains and sufferings.

Reservations will be necessary and on a first come basis for the dinner in the Main Dining Room. Reservation requests will be closed at 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, December 28.

Uniform will be Blues or Greens; Black Ties; and Formals for the ladies. All Reservations must be paid for in advance.

The Globe Sports

Sports At A Glance . . .

BY CPL. HAL FREEMAN

In high school, college or even in the pro game, it's always the varsity that gets the breaks. At school, the varsity gets the letters, banquets and publicity. In the play-for-pay game, the first stringers get the healthiest portion of the payroll.

Camp Lejeune's fine varsity football team has received its share of the accolades. The squad's successful 8-2-1 season made the unit good copy for the writers, announcers and drumbeaters.

Over in the Second Tank Battalion, the men are as proud of their championship touch football team as all of us are of the Base club. The Tankmen compiled an impressive 11-2 record in the intramural six-man National League, then whipped the Second Signal Battalion, American League titlist, 38-0, in the "Tackle-less World Series."

Second Lt. Kenneth R. Steele, Tankmen coach, had the difficult task of molding a formidable squad from an all-age group of men eager for recreation and with only 40 minutes practice a day before darkness. Hard work, cooperation and plenty of fun paid off.

Offensive mainstay of the aerial-minded Tankmen was Bill Matthews, a Cape May (N.J.) policeman in civilian life. Matthews threw the pigskin as through it were a baseball. He participated in more than 75 per cent of the team's scoring plays, throwing five touchdown passes in the championship game.

Ends Paul Callaghan and Bob Mungyer rate classification with the top Tankmen in service football—tackle and touch. Callaghan, who scored at least once in every game, was a varsity candidate here until unit duties interfered. Mungyer played on the Quantico varsity in 1943.

Rus Haines and Glynn Rae shared the center position, the former sparking on offense and the latter a "whale of a defensive pivot-man." First Lt. John Stevens, Virginia Military Institute captain and center in 1946, also took a turn at center but spent most of his time as a stand-out blocking back.

Co-captains Dick Mathias and Whitey Liljestrand handled the ground maneuver—Mathias doing most of the rugged plunging and linebacking and agile Liljestrand skirting the ends and weaving off tackle. Coach Steele calls Liljestrand the league's "best all-around player." Whitey handled running, kicking and some passing on offense and was defensive safety.

Second Lt. Ken Schiweck, a three-year varsity footballer at the Naval Academy, helped the Tankmen to some early triumphs but was transferred. Red Benson, Gene Egan, Pete Zuccaro, Fred Hassenfuss, Larry Desjarden and Frank Engman were others on the title-winning squad. Engman, who played high school ball with Matthews, did most of the extra-point booting.

It's hats off to Lieutenant Steele and his champions. By the way, titles are getting to be a habit with Mr. Steele, for he played on Quantico's championship touch team last year.

The successful boxing smoker last week points to an interesting season for coach Joe Karlage's squad. Two All-Navy champions, a pair of finalists from that tourney, a former National AAU king and a National scholastic titlist will represent Camp Lejeune this winter. In addition, a two-time champion of New York's Golden Gloves will be on the squad that opens here, January 26, against Parris Island.

Red Davis and Dorsey Fears are the titleholders. Davis took the flyweight crown last year, Fears is defending bantamweight titlist. Dick Williams, National AAU bantam champion in 1947 who dropped a decision to Davis at the smoker, will be Fears' weight mate.

Look for some outstanding boxing by Warren Roseberry. National scholastic middleweight champion from Fairfax, Va. His glove work and school grades earned him a scholarship to the University of Virginia which is waiting for him.

Middleweight John Jones and light-heavyweight Willie McClendon reached the All-Navy finals last year. The face cut suffered by Jones against Roseberry last Thursday shouldn't keep the former out of action long. McClendon should not find many difficult opponents through the season.

Eppie Alonzo, the Golden Gloves and Police Athletic champion of New York City, is among service boxing's top-notch performers. His ability is quite crowd-pleasing.

Here's luck to Commissioned Warrant Officer Karlage and the gang.

The varsity wrestling team opens its campaign at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, January 6. The matmen lost an ace last week when John Garlinghaus suffered a shoulder separation which will keep him out of action for the season. He's a corporal in the Sixth Marines. Minor injuries have been frequent, but this shows the squad's seriousness and desire for perfection.

Marine reserve lieutenant Ted Williams, whose 216 total bases in 334 trips to the plate gave him a .647 "slugging" percentage and the American League's championship in that department the past season, recently became the nation's first "fish pro."

Lieutenant Williams, wartime Marine pilot and aviation instructor who makes baseball's fattest pay with the Boston Red Sox, has been signed to a long-term contract as a consultant to a Connecticut fishing equipment company. The job won't interfere with his baseball playing and will become a full-time task when the San Diego-born slugger leaves baseball.

Williams is a proficient fly and bait caster and a technical expert in the design of equipment. He will design tackle and help promote the company's conservation and youth programs.

Here's a sports tale that should bring a laugh. At a recent football game at Toulouse, France, the referee called the two captains to the center of the field.

Up spun the franc to see which team would kick. The captain of the home team watched the spinning coin with his mouth open.

In fell the coin, and the surprised captain swallowed it. He is recovering after an operation.

Tank Battalion Captures 1950 Football Crown

Five touchdown passes by Bill Matthews led Second Tank Battalion to a 38-0 rout of Second Signal Battalion and the six-man touch football championship of Camp Lejeune last Thursday on Varsity Field.

Matthews threw three to Paul Callaghan and one each to Whitey Liljestrand and Russ Haines. Liljestrand accounted for the other touchdown on a two-yard, right-end dash. Callaghan booted an extra point from placement.

Liljestrand began the scoring by culminating a 50-yard march in the opening quarter. Early in the second session, Matthews tossed 26 yards to Bob Mungyer on the 14 then followed with a peg over the goal to Liljestrand. A Matthews-Haines 10-yard scoring peg, just before the half ended, closed a 30-yard drive.

Just after Dick Mathias' 15-yard run early in the third quarter, Matthews hit Callaghan with a touchdown pass from the 15. In the final period, Callaghan grabbed a deflected 27-yarder from Matthews on the three, then took a pass from the latter for a tally. Callaghan followed this score with the conversion. Liljestrand set up the last six-pointer by recovering a Signal fumble on the loser's one. The Tankmen went over (Matthews to Callaghan) on the succeeding play.

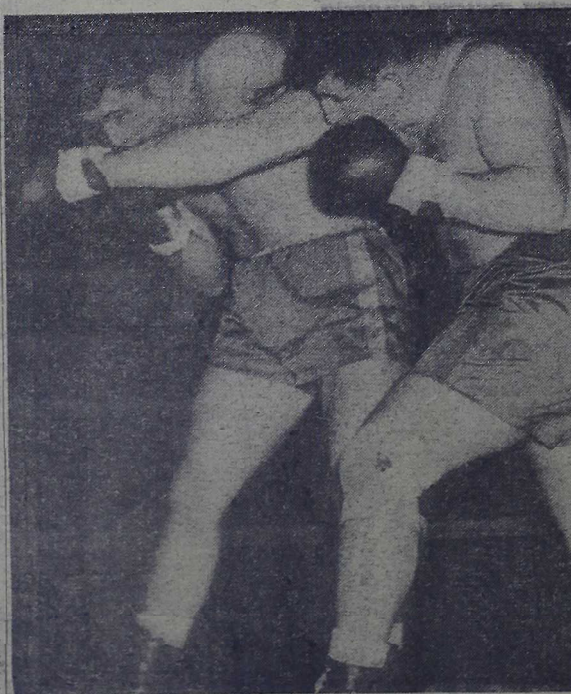

The Tankmen, National League champions, won 11 of 13 league games. The Signalmen, who took the American League crown, had a 12-3 slate.

Field House Boxing Debut Featured By Four TKO's

BY CPL. JAMES GRIFFITH

Goettge Memorial Field House echoed with the thuds of padded fists for the first time last Thursday night when 24 Marine fighters matched punches to vie for berths on the Camp Lejeune Varsity Boxing Team. Some 3000 spectators witnessed the contest.

Appropriately initiating the new Field House to the fistie sport, CWO Joe Karlage, varsity boxing coach, arranged a 12-bout card studded with Golden Gloves, AAU, and Service champions from beginning to end. Boxing enthusiasts were well pleased to see again such recent favorites of Marine rings as Myrven "Red" Davis, Willie McClendon, Bill Mickeluckey, Johnny Jones and Frank Jackson who wore Lejeune's colors in the ring during 1947, '48, and '49, and Frankie Soave, former Parris Island heavyweight champion.

The crowd-pleaser of the evening was provided by welterweights

Frank Jackson and O. W. Taylor. The opening round saw Taylor answer the bell with a whirlwind attack, throwing punches even where, with Jackson fighting skillful defensive battle for the most part. Both fighters had the turn as the aggressor during the second round, but the final card was all Jackson's. Taylor was felled by a right cross early in the round, took the count, and came back fighting, but was no match for Jackson the remainder of the bout.

Lightweights Joe Fagan and L. Garcia also kept the crowd cheering, both boys throwing a lot of leather and fighting aggressively from start to finish, with Fagan getting the final nod.

Former New York Police Athletic League champion, Pep Alonzo was impressive in the welterweight class, scoring a convincing TKO over Jim Forte, New York AAU finalist, in 26 seconds of the second round, as was heavyweight T. Ross who outpunched Bill Samp for three rounds in a well-contested bout.

Lejeune Defeats Amphibs 84-61

By SGT. BOB SUHOSKY

Playing their best ball thus far this season, the Camp Lejeune basketball squad overwhelmed a highly-rated Naval Amphibious Base five from Little Creek, Va., by a 84-61 count before a crowd of nearly 1,100 here last Saturday night.

The victory extended Lejeune's winning streak to seven triumphs in as many starts and closed down the varsity cage until after the holidays.

Lejeune held a 15-point margin at half-time, leading the Amphibs, 45-30. Jimmy Smith, Lejeune guard, was high man on the court, with a total of 19 points, while team-mate Seb Sebring rang up 16 for second honors. Harry Guthmuller led the Navy scoring with 15.

Coach Phil Cohen's Marines scored first as Frank Januszewski took the opening tap from Sebring and passed to Smith who drove in with a lay-up. Gene Weber looked a goal for the Amphibs and the score teetered, with Januszewski dropping a bucket for the locals and Ronnie Benbow retaliated for the Sailors.

Smoky Stovall put the home club ahead on a charity throw and Lejeune vaulted into a 9-4 lead.

Al Leitner aided the Amphibs' cause with a pair of baskets that brought the visitors within one point of Lejeune and Weber sunk a free throw to knot the count at 13 all.

Sebring tapped a rebound for the locals but the Amphibs hit with a foul shot and a goal to take the only lead they held in the game.

Their moment of glory vanished quickly, however, as lanky Bob Coyle sunk a long set shot for Lejeune, and Weber dropped a foul toss to tie the score again.

Lejeune took it from there and busted the contest wide open with their speedy fast break and racked up seven rapid goals to climb out in front and take a lead which they never released.

The second frame proved to be much like the first as Lejeune increased their lead and were never pressed. Unable to break through the Lejeune defense, the Amphibs were forced to score on long set shots, mainly by Guthmuller and Leitner, but they went for naught as Ken Turek, Coyle and Stovall headed the Marine attack with three goals each.

season. The exodus to the West, due to the Korean crisis, had Lejeune of over 75 per cent its returning lettermen, and reduced the varsity to 28 men. Four of the five assistant coaches also veiled "Westward."

There now remained of the squad, four returning lettermen, by Bill Minahan, quarterback; Bob Donley, Rufe Williams, Don Smith, tackles; Maj. Dick P. Line Coach, was the only remaining assistant.

September found the sports picture taking on a brighter hue as influx of Reserves, recalled to active duty, bolstered the number candidates and provided Major Andruska with two additions to his coaching staff. They were Capt. Harry Williams and First Lt. Harry Stafford.

With the opening game of the season but one week away, the coaching staff was really "laying on" to separate the men from boys in hard, driving, body-slugging scrimmages. The team was doing better, day by day, as more reserves were reporting in.

Lou Darnell, ace offensive end and pass receiver, was called away from the University of North Carolina. Harry Agganis, stellar signal-caller for Boston University was likewise called to active duty. The team was finally taking shape with such standouts as Jerry Combs and Wayne Steele at guard, Ken Schoff and Tony Scapperotta at center and Ed Tom Lavery and Ray Potts, the backfield looked good with Bill Minahan, Red Martin, Bob Wagner, Ed Ahonen, John Kitman, Gabby Bostian and Rog Beattie holding the key positions.

Lejeune opened the season as they rolled over the Eglin Air Force Base, 41-7 at Varsity Field September 23. Sparked by quarterback Bill Minahan and the next impossible catches by ends Lou Darnell and Tom Lavery, the Marines led, 20-7 at halftime. Ed Ahonen and Lou Darnell shared scorers' honors as they racked up two touchdowns.

Varsity Field was the scene of the next fray as Frankie Sinkwich, former Georgia All-American, fought his University of Tampa, "Spartans" to Camp Lejeune in a three-touchdown favorite, 7-0. Screaming fans watched the Marines bow to Tampa, 13-7, one of the most thrilling and best fought games ever witnessed.

Darnell, Minahan, Buddy Bickhart, Martin, Pawlowski, and Beattie. Red Martin made 11 conversions. Two safeties completed the final scoring. A trophy was awarded Lejeune as Champions of the Second Annual "Little Army-Navy" football classic.

The following week saw Lejeune scrapping the Cherry Point Marines to a 0-0 tie. Hampered by intermittent showers and a soggy pigskin, the local's offensive just couldn't get rolling.

The Cherry Point line, classed as impenetrable by their many opponents, could not be opened and Lejeune was forced to stick to a ground attack. The nip and tuck contest was highlighted by the fact that Cherry Point was picked by the Williamson National Football Rating System to beat Lejeune by 21 points, and the locals did more than hold their own by also holding the Flyers scoreless.

Football Award

Looking on in well-deserved pride at some of Camp Lejeune's football trophies last Friday night at the annual football banquet at Marston Pavillion are Colonel Francis X. Beamer, Brig. Gen. William J. Whaling and Bruno J. Andruska, head coach. Among the awards are the 6th Naval District Championship trophy won in 1949 and the trophy won this year at the Electronics Bowl in Biloxi, Miss.

Smith Leads Locals To Belvoir Victory

By SGT. BOB SUHOSKY

The Camp Lejeune cage crew traveled to the snow-covered hills of Virginia on December 17 and took the return match with Fort Belvoir, 62-50 to run their unbroken string of victories to six.

Bob Coyle again played an important part in the Leathernecks' win with his rebound work and put the locals off to their fast break early in the first period.

Jimmy Smith continued to pace the Lejeunemen, racking up 15 points for the evening's work, although the Engineers' Norvell Smith was high man on the floor with a total of 18.

At the half-way mark, Lejeune led, 33-21.

Frank Januszewski sunk the first goal to put the Marines ahead, 7-0, but Pete Franks popped a gift throw and Norvell Smith followed with a two-pointer to give Belvoir a short-lived lead. Respected Januszewski arched a clarity toss to tie the score and Coyle raced through with a driving lay-up.

Norvell Smith hit with a jump shot and Smoky Stoval pushed one in to knot the count again.

Lejeune's Jimmy Smith droyed in with a lay-up and earned a free throw on the way. Coyle and Stoval combined to break the game open, with Coyle grabbing the ball off the backboard and Stoval parting the cords on three straight baskets to start the Marines off to their half-time lead.

The second period saw Lejeune hold their 12-point margin all the way, despite the efforts of the Belvoir cagers to come from behind on set shots by Smith and Bill DeVenzio.

Johnny Druzbiek, who totaled nine points for Lejeune in the last stanza, was of considerable help with three quick goals that halted the Engineer's spree.

Lejeune came through with their longest scoring streak mid-way in the closing period as Big Jim Teehey countered with a foul shot and tapped in a rebound.

School Basketballers

Floyd Propst's 20 points led Camp Lejeune High School's basketball team to a 49-41 triumph over Kinston Monday in the preliminary to the North Carolina State-Michigan game at Reynolds Coliseum, Raleigh. NCS beat the Wolverines, 65-62, in overtime to remain unbeaten in seven games. Propst, the team's top scorer last season and an All-State selection, powered Lejeune into the lead just before halftime, and the victor never relinquished the advantage. It was Lejeune's fourth triumph in five starts. Lejeune is defending the state Class B title, while Kinston took the Class A crown last year.

Movie Review As It Appears This Week

COUNTERSPY MEETS SCOTLAND YARD
 Drama—Howard St. John and Amanda Blake star in this picture led on the Phillips H. Lord radio program "Counterspy." This is a story of Anglo-American counter-espionage activities concerned with taking down the agents of a hostile power who are out to steal guided missile secrets. . . . Adults . . . Two Bells.

ARIZONA RANGER
 Western—We have no available information on this oldie except it stars Tim Holt and Nancy Leslie. . . . Family . . . Two Bells.

MARCH OF THE WOODEN SOLDIERS
 Comedy—Another show on which we have no available information. cast is headed by Laurel and Hardy. Judging from this, the picture will appeal to those who like slap stick comedy. . . . Family . . . Two Bells.

ONE MINUTE TO TWELVE
 There is no information available on this picture except that it stars Lars Hanson and Ginnel Brostrom. . . . Family . . . Two Bells.

CINDERELLA
 Cartoon—Here is Walt Disney's adaptation of a well known fairy tale. . . . Family . . . Three Bells.

ANNIE GET YOUR GUN
 Tech Musical—This is one grand sweep of familiar tunes, magnificent costumes, enjoyable and exciting sequences and splendid performances all blended together by a love story. Betty Hutton is a knock-out as Annie Oakley and Howard Keel is ideal for the romantic role opposite Miss Hutton. . . . Family . . . Four Bells.

SOUND OF FURY
 Action Drama—A powerful story that carries all the details of an urban crime and an even more inhuman lynching. Frank Lovejoy and Kathleen Ryan are co-stars. . . . Adult . . . Four Bells.

President's Message

The following is the text of the President's Christmas message to members of the Armed Forces:

"This Christmas finds many thousands of you abroad, far from loved ones and the close ties and relationships which add to the spirit and warmth of the Holiday Season. Wherever you serve, your response to heavy duties and responsibilities is proof that your mission, as representatives of a free Nation, is to strengthen and to give hope to all who seek peace on earth.

"May the real spirit of Christmas abide with you, and may all of us, in concert with all free peoples, come nearer in the New Year to realizing man's ultimate dream of liberty, justice and freedom."

Holiday Notice

The following notices were received from the Servicemen's Center in Wilmington, N. C.

Student nurses of the Community Hospital in Wilmington will sponsor a Christmas Dance for Negro service personnel Saturday, Dec. 23, at 8 p.m., in the Robert R. Taylor Homes Gymnasium.

Service personnel attending Christmas Eve services at the Negro Church in Wilmington will be invited to the homes of members for Sunday dinner. For further information stop by the Service Man's Information Center, 410 North 7th St., Wilmington.

LOST—Double strand of pearls either on Stratford Road; Camp Lejeune bus, or between Staff NCO Club and Camp Theater. Reward if returned to Mrs. Zotara, 301 Stratford Road. Call Jacksonville 3658. These pearls were lost November 28.

SecNavy Message

The following Christmas message from Secretary of Navy Francis P. Matthews has been sent to all hands via a recent Alnav:

Despite the violence of conflict in which many of you have been playing a heroic role, your actions are in harmony with the fundamental spirit of Christmas because your mission is the establishment of Peace on Earth.

I send you the Season's Greetings with thanks for your loyal service to your country and the fervent hope that with God's will, the New Year will be one of great promise to those united in their aspirations for a new, better and happier era for all men.

Christmas Mail Rush

Civilian employees of the Camp Post Office are shown busily sorting the huge volume of mail which arrives at the Post Office each day. Mr. K. L. Guthrie, superintendent, stated that since the Christmas rush started that the incoming and outgoing mail at Camp Lejeune has almost doubled. (Photo by Pfc. R. Cote).
