

Self-assessment of fire safety

The emergency department advise you to carry out a fire safety self-assessment on your property and to return the self-assessment form within 30 days of the receipt of this letter. Self-assessment is part of the supervision of small houses carried out by the Rescue Services of Eastern Uusimaa.

According to Section 78 of the Rescue Act, the rescue services must supervise the obligations of Chapters 2 and 3 of the Rescue Act and carry out fire inspections and other control measures in order to conduct the supervision. In addition, the rescue authority supervises, for example, the storage of chemicals on the basis of Section 115 of the Act on the Safety of The Handling of Hazardous Chemicals and Explosives. In the area of the Rescue Services of Eastern Uusimaa, the supervision of small houses is carried out as a self-assessment method for fire safety. On the basis of self-assessment, the rescue authority may subject the property to supervision in the form of a fire inspection, document control or other control measures, if deficiencies are found in the self-assessment. The rescue authority may also carry out fire inspections at all self-assessment sites on a randomly selected sampling.

This letter is accompanied by the Homeowner's handbook on fire safety in the home, the contents of which are referred to in the self-assessment form. The Fire Safety Guide facilitates self-assessment and provides advice on housing safety and its development. The rescue authority hopes that the guide will help you ensure the safety of your home.

It is hoped that the self-assessment form will primarily be returned via the online service or QR code.
