MARISSA SCALZO WINS MOUNTED ARCHERY COMPETITION

Last year was both a winning year and the start of a new athletic career for Kenilworth resident Marissa Scalzo. She competed in The Mason-Dixon Challenge, a two-day mounted archery competition held in Pennsylvania and Virginia in September and December. Scalzo won all three courses in her division over the two days and was named her division's overall High Point Mounted Archer.

"I went into my first mounted archery tournament with one goal: be competitive," says Scalzo "I'm elated to have walked away the high point archer in my division, and I think it's safe to say I'm hooked!"

Scalzo began her archery career while in high school and has ridden horses off-and-on since she was 10. Mounted archery seemed like a natural progression for her athletically. "When I found out about mounted archery as a competitive sport, I just had to try it. Fusing two of my favorite sports and passions into one- it was a perfect fit." Scalzo began training for mounted archery at the end of 2017, and 2018 was her first year competing.

WHAT, WHERE, AND WHEN IN OLD KENILWORTH – THE BARRICADES

If you take a trip to the ends of Columbia Ave., Locust Dr., and Arbor St. you'll be confronted by sets of barricades, with a narrow passageway at the center. They block motor vehicles from crossing the border between Kenilworth and Cranford while permitting pedestrian access through the center. Why are the barricades there? How long have they been there?

A border war of sorts broke out between the two towns in 1940. That's when 350 houses in Kenilworth's Blue Ridge section began to be built from S. 17th St. to Columbia Ave.

Cranford residents on Columbia Ave. petitioned their government to block off their street at the border in fear of traffic from the Boulevard taking short cuts to get to Orange Ave. The concern spread to Cranford residents on Locust Dr. and Arbor St. As a result, Cranford officials authorized the barricades to go up. Once up, Kenilworth residents demanded that they come down. The mini-border war was on.

Kenilworth residents were jubilant when the borough took down the barricades when it was discovered that a Cranford contractor had erected them on the Kenilworth side of the border. Cranford remedied this to their residents' delight by reinstalling them on the Cranford side.

In time, Kenilworth residents realized that they, too, benefited from not having their streets become short cuts and asked their mayor and council to install barricades in case Cranford took theirs down. Over time there was sporadic debate as to whether or not to keep the barricades in place, but now, 79 years later, they're still in place, although rebuilt several times.

When I was a young boy, Mrs. Katherine

Hogaboom of Columbia Ave., had a small Crosley mini-subcompact car – 4 ft. wide, 12 ft. long. When her and other kids wanted to go to the Cranford movies or her daughters and friends to the Cranford Girl Scout House, she would pack us into her teeny car, and drive it straight through the narrow pedestrian break in the center of the barricade. Eventually the passageway was made narrower and the Crosley no longer fit. We then walked or took the old Beviano red bus to get to our Cranford destinations.

Research provided by Walter E. Boright, Ed. D., historian, and Historic Signs, Inc. Persons with inquiries about this or other aspects of Kenilworth history may contact Dr. Boright at drbori@aol.com or 908-256-5200.

'STITCHES IN TIME' AFTERNOON TEA BENEFIT FOR NITSCHKE HOUSE TO FEATURE THE FASCINATING HISTORY, EVOLUTION AND ART OF QUILTING

Members of the Harvest Quilters of Central New Jersey will discuss the fascinating history, evolution and art of quilting as portrayed by a colorful selection of quilts to be shown during "Stitches in Time," an elegant afternoon Tea being presented by the Kenilworth Historical Society on Sat., April 27, 2019.

During the program, the quilters will explain how and why each quilt was made and share insight into the story that it tells, reflecting the group's long-held view that "quilts are the homespun art of women's history." Participants will have an opportunity to ask questions following the presentation.

The "Stitches in Time" Tea will begin at noon at the Kenilworth Gospel Chapel hall, 557 Newark Avenue, Kenilworth, where the ambience of a lovely tearoom, creatively accented with quilting decor, is being created for the event. An array of assorted teas, tea sandwiches, scones and desserts will be served. The event also will feature a gift auction and door prizes.

Admission is $30. Advance reservations (by April 17) are requested, as seating is limited. For reservations/tickets, please call 908-709-0434 or visit Especially Yours Florist at 13 North 20th Street, Kenilworth.

Proceeds from the April 27, 2019 Tea and Gift Auction will benefit the Kenilworth Historical Society's Oswald J. Nitschke House (c. 1880) "living history" museum and cultural arts center by helping defray the cost of an elevator that makes all levels of the site ("living history" museum, exhibition center and cultural arts center) fully accessible to everyone.

Based in Scotch Plains, N.J., the Harvest Quilters of Central New Jersey comprises more than 50 quilters who are dedicated to creating and celebrating quilts as art and functional design with an emphasis on education and bringing traditional needle arts to all generations. The group's feeling that quilting reaches beyond the expertise of stitches, pattern and color into the heart of the community is reflected in the range of educational and charitable projects that it has undertaken over the past 36 years. Annual quilt shows presented by the Harvest Quilters of Central New Jersey help raise funds for such worthy causes as food banks, museums, cancer foundations, scholarship funds, wounded veterans organizations, hospice groups and victims of natural disasters.

The Kenilworth Historical Society (www.kenilworthhistoricalsociety.org) is a volunteer-based, independent, non-profit, tax-exempt, 501(c) (3) organization dedicated to the research, preservation and interpretation of the Oswald J. Nitschke House, local history and culture.

The Kenilworth Gospel Chapel is an independent community Bible church with a congregation of approximately 165 adults and children. The chapel was constructed in 1936 by a number of chapel members, including the family of local pioneer James Arthur, Sr., who built many homes in the area in the late 19th/early 20th centuries and who founded the New Orange Park project.

GALLERY-ON-THE-BOULEVARD PRESENTS "IRELAND REVISITED"

The Gallery-on-the-Boulevard will host a fine art photography exhibit, "Ireland Revisited" by Carol Martin, from April 1 through June 2019.

Carol Martin is an amateur photographer whose mission in life is traveling through Ireland taking photographs of the magnificent countryside. She has made at least 29 trips to Ireland since her first trip in 1985, traveling through all 32 counties. Besides her photography, she also organizes group trips to Ireland.

Her first camera was given to her by her father as a Confirmation gift. With no formal training, she has gone on to capture hundreds of stunning images of Ireland. This is her first solo exhibit.

"It has really given me such joy to think that a photograph I took will bring happiness to someone else," stated Martin. "I am grateful that my father gave me that little camera so many years ago."

All artwork is available for purchase by contacting the artist.

The Gallery is located in the Kenilworth Library, 548 Boulevard. The exhibit is free and open to the public during regular library hours. For further information call 908-276-2451 or visit kenilwothlibrary.org.

A SAFETY REMINDER FROM THE KENILWORTH VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT

Submitted by Shawn Kelly

Let's all remember to check in on our elderly neighbors.

Often it's a next door neighbor, Meals on Wheels delivery volunteer or even a postal carrier who first discovers a senior may need more help. As a neighbor, you've probably noticed that seniors tend to have regular routines. Does the elderly gentleman next door always pick up his newspaper from the front stoop by 8 a.m.? Why is it still outside at noon? If lights-out is usually at 9 p.m., why are the lights still on at 11 p.m.? Could someone be sick or hurt? If your dog is uncharacteristically barking, has someone fallen out in the yard? When something seems a little off, it may be time to take a careful look outside, call your neighbor or knock on the door.

Here are some tips for staying vigilant, but not intrusive, when looking out for your neighbor's well-being:

1. Write down his or her full name and phone number. You can always call the house to check on your neighbor, and if everything is fine, just say hello.

2. Get a phone number for your neighbor's closest friend or family member. This can be as easy as introducing yourself to her as she gets out of the car on a regular visit and saying, "If I'm ever concerned about your mom (or dad or aunt), it would be nice to have your number." Offer your name and number, too.

3. If you are able, offer to help unload groceries, cook a meal, pick up prescriptions, shovel snow or mow the lawn. This is a great opportunity for young people to pitch in and help an elder. Your kids will puff up with pride when they do a good job, and a short visit from a polite young person has the potential to make your neighbor's day.

4. Set boundaries. Remember you are not completely responsible for your neighbor's health and well-being, but your observations and helpful interactions can be an additional layer of safety. Contact family members, Police or Fire if you have concerns. Always call 911 if there is an emergency.

Registration is required. Please call the library at 908-276-2451 or visit 548 Boulevard to register for this event.

ABOUT SALEM ROADHOUSE CAFÉ

Dedication best defines the Salem Roadhouse Café: dedication to excellent music and dedication to the community. In its tenth year, The Salem Roadhouse Café reaffirms its commitment to both. Started in 2008 by members of Townley Presbyterian Church with a grant from the Presbytery of Elizabeth, the Roadhouse Café continues to operate as a non-profit that raises funds for several carefully chosen local charities. That may be its social mission... but the Roadhouse Café is and has been a solid performance venue beloved by the musicians who play there because of its special intimacy with the audience.

CHURCH MUSIC, IT'S NOT

The Roadhouse Café has always offered its stage to local and independent mainstream musicians. It's a clean, safe place for people who enjoy listening to live music, in a world of clubs and bars. Jazz, rock, folk and other groups have performed. During the past ten years well over 100 different entertainers have appeared. Local fine artists also display their works. The musicians who play the Roadhouse often ask to return as soon as possible. The Roadhouse has given them a place with a beautiful stage, good acoustics, a live, attentive audience, and a sound system that is first class.

COMMUNITY ORIENTATION

The Salem Roadhouse Café has raised funds for many carefully chosen charities. They include: The Presbytery of Elizabeth E-port Center, Center For Hope Hospice, Community Food Bank, Monarch Housing, Angel Paws Animal Rescue, National MS Society, Haiti Disaster Relief, Hurricane Sandy Disaster Relief, The Union County YWCA Domestic Violence Program, Making It Possible To End Homelessness, Camp Johnsonburg, The Music Institute, Groundwork Elizabeth, Union Twp. Police "Santa In Blue" toy campaign and others. Thousands of dollars have been raised for these deserving charities.

The current season will benefit Family Promise.

DISNEY'S NEWSIES COMING TO CDC THEATRE IN MAY

CDC Theatre in Cranford will finish out its 100th Season in spectacular fashion! Disney's Newsies will come dancing into the theatre, at 78 Winans Ave., in Cranford on May 3rd and run until May 18th. Based on the 1992 motion picture and inspired by a true story, Newsies features a Tony Award-winning score by Alan Menken (Little Shop of Horrors, The Little Mermaid, Aladdin) and Jack Feldman and a book by Tony Award winner Harvey Fierstein (Kinky Boots).

Set in turn-of-the century New York City, Newsies is the rousing tale of Jack Kelly, a charismatic newsboy and leader of a band of teenaged "newsies." When titans of publishing raise distribution prices at the newsboys' expense, Jack rallies newsies from across the city to strike against the unfair conditions and fight for what's right! Director John Menter recently talked about the show. "Newsies is a family friendly musical about the "little guys" taking a stand for what's right. It's based on a true story and perfect for CDC's 100th Anniversary Season. CDC is a great theater to work at. It's a beautiful space to create in and the creative process is supported by a dedicated production team and crew. The cast includes some of the most talented performers that I have had the pleasure of working with. Singers, actors and dancers that give you 110% all the time. The audiences will be amazed by this talented cast. Beautiful singing voices combined with powerhouse choreography and dancing that will blow you away!"

The large, intergenerational cast will take the stage on May 3-18, 2019, Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. with a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday, May 12. Additional information about the show and how to get tickets can be found by visiting cdctheatre.org. For best prices and selection, tickets can be purchased on line at Brown Paper Tickets.

Michael Pilla, Pilla Creative Marketing
Michael has built his career on achieving business objectives by combining the best of art and technology, creating "Micro Celebrities" — helping clients to build a targeted, loyal, online community of fans and followers, customers and clients.
After working for several online agencies, Mr. Pilla founded Pilla Creative Marketing in 2003 to bring the power of online marketing to businesses and organizations — creating branding, websites, social and email marketing for companies in Arts & Entertainment, Food and Beverage, and Professional Services.
Participants will learn how to start and build a strong permission-based customer list, get their audience to open, read and act on their email, and leave with real-world insights and knowledge they can put to work immediately to help their business succeed.
