Dr Nicolás Gambetta

A International Sustainability Expert

Small businesses account for a large share of world economic activity and are key players in sustainable development. How can regional small businesses articulate their sustainability credentials and use these to gain access to global markets?

International sustainable business expert Dr Nicolás Gambetta will be visiting the North West Coast to explore Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) with local business and regional development organisations.

This discussion is one not to be missed by small business and those wanting to develop opportunities in global value chains. It's FREE so register now!
